BROOKLYN, Sept. 17.—Brooklyn continued to advance toward the pennant today by taking the second game of the series with Cincinnati, 3 to 2. For six innings the game was a pretty pitching duel, between Eiler and Cadore, neither allowing more than one hit an inning up to that time.

The Superbas got a run in the first inning when Olsen got on first through a bad throw by Kopf. Olsen advanced when Johnston was hit by a pitched ball and completed the hit, but on Griffith's drive to center, Chismatt got the lead in the fifth, scoring two runs. Duncan reached first on Griffith's error, and Kopf walked. Neal got credit for a hit when he beat an attempted sacrifice. Duncan and Kopf crossed the plate while Wilson and Eiler were left retired at first base.

Olsen led off for Brooklyn in the seventh with a double, took third on Johnston's sacrifice, and scored on Griffith's hit to left. Griffith went around to third on Wilson's error to center and tallied when Myers duplicated Wheat's hit.

Cincinnati 2 5 1
Brooklyn 3 8 1
Batteries: Eiler, Lague and Wilson; Cadore and Miller.

After Honanby led to block in the fourth, the visitors made five hits in a row off Watson and also five straight hits off McQuillan who relieved him. McHenry was out trying to stretch a double into a triple, retiring the side. In the fifth Lavan and Henthorne hit safely. The streak was broken when Clemens tied to Maraville.

CLEVELAND IS IN BETTER POSITION

Has One Full Game Over Second-Stringers and Has Eleven Points Advantage.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Cleveland increased its lead in the American league pennant race to one full game today by defeating Washington while Chicago was winning from New York. Brooklyn maintained its six game lead in the National league race by defeating Cincinnati, the world's champions slipping to third place as a result of the New York Giants victory over Pittsburgh.

Although Cleveland has a lead of 11 points in the American league, the first three clubs are so closely bunched as regards games won and lost that one day's result has little effect upon the chances of any one of three winning the pennant. At present it is a mathematical impossibility to figure out a certain winner.

The situation in the National league however is different and although Brooklyn has not yet clinched the pennant, it will take almost a superhuman effort to nose out the Superbas. The latter have ten games to play and if they win seven it would be impossible for New York or Cincinnati to tie them if the Giants and Reds win all their remaining games, 14 and 17, respectively.

COMMISSION IS APPOINTED TO CONSIDER SETTLEMENT

HOME, Sept. 16.—Premier Glavin has decided to attempt the solution of the metal workers' complication by appointing a commission of manufacturers and workmen to prepare a settlement plan. It was stated today.

The premier, according to Turin advice, reached this decision after hearing representatives of both workers and manufacturers. The project for the conduct of the workers, to be formulated by the commission, it is added, will be presented by the government to the house of parliament.

SPAIN HAS FORMED LIKING FOR SPORTS

War Stopped the Movement, and Its Popularity Does Not Seem to Have Greatly Abated With Advent of Peace.

While the war was absorbing the attention of the English, sport in general and polo and horse racing in particular took refuge in Spain under the protection of King Alfonso. It seems that the coming of peace and the return of the sport to England and France has not found the Spaniards willing to let go of their new outdoor accomplishments. Rather, they have gone on to develop them. A writer in the London Daily Mail, writing as correspondent in Madrid, says:

"The diuina is doomed. Also, the sentimental system she represented, when the soldiers of Madrid took to playing tennis and golf, to skiing in the Sierra and to traveling in a sidecar. Hence also the collapse of the carabao and the death of the bull. It is the quiet survival of the days when had quite lost without the diuina at only one short season in the year, and the mask was finally supposed to conceal identity."

"In addition to taking up more and more all the sports familiar elsewhere, the Madrileños have had of their own a sort of racquet played in a Jai-alai game (pelota) court, but without the hardwearing results. They use tennis rackets and the courts are always full."

"Lately they have begun to store their own cars, too, though that sport is not encouraged, for them by the reckless speeds permitted in big Spanish cities. "A glance at any leading Madrid paper will show whether young male Spain is toying. Not only are golf courses being opened all over the country, but other exotic like polo are increasingly popular with the privileged youth. Madrid, Barcelona and other centers 'burn with motor traffic, and big sleeker outfits are all over the place."

"One thing young Spain appears not to be changing—the modesty of her daughters and the modestness of her sons. A few days ago I made a round of all the amusement places in Seville, beginning with a sort of musical costume play that was a 'Song of Forgetfulness' at a theater at 5:30 p. m. and ending at 1 a. m. in a woman's dance hall. The play was described 'Veracruz' but the refreshments sold were chocolate and cold water."

"After dinner I went to a popular music hall where Spanish dances are exhibited, then to a cheaper ball room for about 2 hours, and finally to the dance hall. The only alcoholic refreshment I saw consumed was a glass which I ordered myself in order, to see if one could get it in. I have probably played the workman's game of Madrid, Barcelona and Seville, and at night about the Alhambra of Granada, but I have yet to see a drunken man, still less an intoxicated woman."

"I know that a great deal of wine is consumed on occasions, such as baptisms, but the 'hot crawl' is as little an amusement of young Spain as is the beer-drinking which characterized prewar Germany."

Why We Yawn.

There are two unfailing signs of fatigue, says Dr. Haldor Ross, the home office factory inspector for London, England. When the mind is tired people yawn, and when the body is tired they yawn. There is an idea that yawning is "catching," but this is only true if many people are tired together. Doctor Ross has watched children in London schools, and he finds that during the morning if one yawns the others do not follow suit, but towards the end of the afternoon, when one yawns the others do the same. When in India Doctor Ross stood one morning on the staircase of the viceregal palace at Calcutta and watched men and women going up and down past a statue of a yawning man. Nobody yawned. That night there was a ball at the palace; and at five o'clock in the morning Doctor Ross again stood by the statue and watched the people going home. Everyone yawned, and this was simply because they were fatigued; when they were fresh, they could pass the yawning figure with impunity.

This From a School Teacher.

There were striding along the banks of White river toward Barnswood, two girls from southern Indiana, who are attending a local preparatory school for teachers. They were admiring the row of odd little cottages and the morning if one yawns the others do not follow suit, but towards the end of the afternoon, when one yawns the others do the same. When in India Doctor Ross stood one morning on the staircase of the viceregal palace at Calcutta and watched men and women going up and down past a statue of a yawning man. Nobody yawned. That night there was a ball at the palace; and at five o'clock in the morning Doctor Ross again stood by the statue and watched the people going home. Everyone yawned, and this was simply because they were fatigued; when they were fresh, they could pass the yawning figure with impunity.

Sweden Given Prison Ref.

The general's collar was by Gustaf Adolf, king of Sweden, when he was killed at the battle of Lutzen in 1632. It has been given to the Swedish government by the American government in recognition of charity to America. The insignia was taken from his body by soldiers of the American guard and has been in a military museum ever since.

NEW HAVEN.—Chief Bender, for, now big league star, has proven that Indian blood stands the test of time. His pitching was the passport for the New Haven club in the eastern league, this summer.

BENGAL RECRUITS.

DETROIT.—Two recruits from the Birmingham club in the Tri-State league have come to the Tigers. They are Fothergill, an outfielder, and Cowherk, a pitcher.

STOCKING UP.

DETROIT.—The Detroit managers have bought so many uniforms that most of them will be left out this fall. Taking them from all south next spring would lighten the club's expenses too heavily.

While Babe Ruth was not on a picnic location the other day he came across a man saying that looked good to him. He promptly borrowed a butcher from the property clerk, cut down the sapling, trimmed it up and sent it to the factory to be made into a "Babe Ruth" model bluecross. The company's moving picture ambitions while the Yanks are in the thick of the fight for the pennant. Since Babe's picture work started he hasn't been clipping out his usual quota of garden wall scraps.

Then came along a skeeter or some insect of the timber wilds and lunched on one of Babe's valuable wrists. His arm had to be lanced and he's out of the game temporarily. The company's claim that it's Ruth's job to hit the Yanks into a nonstop and not to make celluloid films.

The title of Ruth's movie thriller is "Heaven Home." Hutton and Ruppert would rather see the Babe "Heaven Home" from third than in the pictures.

COAL MINE MANAGER IS SHOT FORM AMBUSH

JASPER, Ala., Sept. 16.—L. M. Adler, general manager of the Corona coal company was shot and killed today and Deputy Sheriff Edgewood Brown, traveling with him in an automobile, was wounded so seriously that both died later.

The shooting is considered the outgrowth of the coal mine strike which has been in progress in Alabama ten days and after the killing Sheriff Clark Guthrie, of Walker county, called upon Governor Kirby for troops. Late tonight the sheriff announced that he had been informed that the state forces would begin arriving at the mine's camp tomorrow. Adler and his party were shot from ambush, authorities say.

Sheriff Guthrie reported to the governor that armed bands were gathering at Corona, Townley and other mining camps in the district and that the situation was out of his control.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Pitting up 13 hits, including six triples, Chicago made it two straight over New York in the second game of the series in the American league tonight.

In the first inning, triples by E. Collins, Jackson and Fisher off pitcher Thornburgh, after two men were out, scored two runs. Eidersen started the second with a triple and scored on Fisher's single. Mays attempted to check the Sox, and was successful until the sixth when a back-swing opened up with a triple and Eidersen walked. After a double by Eidersen, Eidersen and Collins scored. Jackson, Schalk shot a swift grounder through Ward's legs for an error and Eidersen and Fisher scored. Both faced Fisher four times and failed to get a hit. On his first trip, he rolled an easy grounder. In the third inning both were purposely passed. His next two attempts were high flies.

New York scored two runs in the third on Ward's single and Hanahan's double. A belated error in the ninth, however, kept the Yankees from tying the score. New York scored 4 to 2. Batteries: Thornburgh, Mays and Hanahan; Fisher and Schalk.

THE BRAKES ARE OFF

American railroads are rapidly getting into good running-order.
 They have made wonderful gains since Uncle Sam turned rails and cars back to their owners. Out of the fearfully costly conjection has come order. The roar of railway chaos has given place to the hum of industry.

The brakes are off, and American railroads are responding. These ribbons of steel again are rushing, throbbing arteries of trade. For which the nation may give credit to private initiative.

"Increases in railway operating efficiency have been effected so rapidly within recent weeks, says the Railway Age, "that the railroads are now moving more freight than they ever moved before at this time of the year." During the first week of August, 70,077 more cars were moved than during the same week of 1919. The movement of freight cars during that first August week exceeded that first week of June by 20 per cent.

Up to August 24, the roads moved 52,000, 000 tons more of coal than were handled in the same time last year. September same in to find the roads dumping more than 4,000 cars of coal at Lake Erie ports every day, enough coal to guarantee the Northwest its winter fuel supply.

Since the government quit railroad the car mileage has been increased from 23 to 26 miles, and now the private owners have set the goal at 30 miles. Each mile added is equivalent to putting into operation 90,000 new cars.

Yes, the removal of government operation has had the same effect as taking off the brakes. Railroad wheels now are turning more easily, faster, and to better purpose.

THE GREAT BOOK

Not only is The Bible the world's best seller. But it has proven the deepest mine for research of any book in the world. Beyond the great truths and interpretations there are those curious folk whom one might be called, as a type. Old Figures that have searched out even the last letter in the grand total of words in The Book.

Take Dr. Horne for instance. In his introduction to the study of the scriptures, he presents figures that occupied three years of his time to assemble. They are curious, perhaps, but of what value any reader may judge. Dr. Horne found that in the authorized version of the Bible there are 66 books, 1189 chapters, 41,173 words—and—mark you—3,568, 480 LETTERS. That includes the figures of both the Old and New Testaments. Of what value? For along comes another fellow and says: "Doctor, you are wrong, for there are 3,586,489 letters." Who's right? Who's going to count 'em all over again! And in the 14 books of the apocrypha there are 1,063,876 letters.

But that isn't all the curious things these students have discovered. No, far from it.

Because they have found that the 19th chapter of the Second Kings and the 37th Chapter of Isaiah are alike; that the longest verse is the ninth verse of the eighth chapter of Esther; the shortest the 35th verse, 11th chapter of St. John "Jesus wept."

Nothing to read? Nothing to read? Why, how wonderfully interesting this big Book can become if one searches out the romance the tragedy, the comedy and the wonderfully curious things it contains.

REAL LITERATURE

What has become of the old-fashioned boy who liked his literature raw? Who read his Captain Collier behind the dog-eared geography because it was the biggest book in school? Who knew his Deadwood Dick almost by heart and was ready to swap a dime novel anytime for a couple of half-dime Beadles?

What's become of him? He's president of the big railway company; the chief engineer of the locomotive works; the "main squeeze" of the great firm of architects; he's the head of the founder legal firm in town. That's what's become of him. And his son would be following in his footsteps if he had half a chance.

And what's become of the little lady of the pigtails, who ran away to the garret or locked herself in a room and devoured whole or piecemeal, "Kidnapped at the Altar," and "A Bride for a Day," and "Aleta's Terrible Secret," and "A Handsome Engineer's Flirtation," and "Was She Sweetheart or Wife," and "Della's Handsome Lover," and "Flora Garland's Courtship," and "A Working Girl's Honor," and "Sold for Gold," and "Her Passionate Love?"

What's become of her? She's the wife of the president of the big locomotive works, or of the railway president, or of the star of the local architects. Human nature is the same now as it was then. Give 'em a chance and they'll like red-blooded stories today.

PARTIES AND SONGS

Always at a certain stage in a political campaign, a burst of song is heard. This year is no exception and popular songs are being parodied. Here are the most popular the Democrats are singing:

Tune: There's a Long, Long Trail.
 There's a long, long trail awinding,
 Tho' the land of wild dreams,
 Where Republicans are raving
 And their big boss schemes;
 There's a long, long night of waiting
 Until those dreams all come true,
 And the day will be a cold one
 When we take that trail with you.

Tune: Bubbles.
 Hardin's always blowing bubbles,
 Pretty bubbles in the air;
 He flies so high; that he makes us sigh,
 He'll let the League of Nations die.
 Democrats are growing, growing everywhere,
 While Republicans are blowing
 Pretty bubbles in the air.

Tune: Katy
 J-J-J-Jimmy, Governor Jimmy,
 You are sure the b-b-b-best Ohio son;
 When the m-m-m-moon shines along in November,
 We will send you down to W-W-W-Washington.

OBEEDIENCE

"Let your child learn first to obey, and afterwards to command." This sounds unanswerable but like many other maxims it may mislead.

No child should be the tyrant of the household, and much is gained when little children learn to fall into the routine of a well-ordered home. A time to go to bed, a time to rise, a time for work, for play, for meals and a time for cleaning up. The more this seems to the child like a part of the very nature of things, the more smoothly life will run for everybody, the less occasion there will be for a clash of wills, and the better kind of conscience the child will carry through the rest of his life.

But obedience to the mere whim of teachers, parents or older children; is not a thing to be valued highly. It makes for despotism.

The ultimate problem of life is the problem of living fully, getting the most out of nature, instead of falling a victim to her inexorable laws. One must obey the laws of Nature and if he is to live with others he must respect the conventions of society. But outside of an army—perhaps even in it—the less people think of giving and taking orders, the better chance they have of working together; and the parent who insists on obedience for its own sake does less for his child than the one who shows and cultivates a spirit of sympathy and mutual understanding.

During one week recently, the railroads say, they moved 964,836 freight cars. But where did they move 'em to? And from?

An astrologer says the weather next winter is going to be "unseasonable." Meaning it will be summer? We've noticed the seasons were all mixed up lately.

JAPANESE SEEK INFORMATION
 TOKIO, Sept. 17.—Subsequent to the vote of a committee of the opposition to Viscount Uchida, the foreign minister, to inquire as to the question at issue with America, Representative Shimidzu, a member of the committee, called on Edward Bell, American ambassador in Tokyo, to seek further information on the Californian question. Mr. Bell told Representative Shimidzu that the negotiations were proceeding in Washington and not in Tokyo, and that Viscount Uchida probably was better informed as to the developments.
 M. Shimidzu, Mr. Bell continued could rest assured that the negotiations were being conducted in an atmosphere of good will and amity.

ATTENTION, READERS!

Now is the time, if ever, to help your favorite in this wonderful race for the richest prizes that will ever be offered in Idaho.

As close as the race stands, your subscription may be the very one that will bring a small fortune to your choice in the list. Don't wait to be asked, for, in their frantic efforts these last few days, the candidates you want to help may not be able to reach you. Pay your subscriptions direct to the Chronicle office, if you wish, and the votes will be credited to anyone whom you choose. Here is an opportunity to do a real kindness to a friend—a kindness that may mean a $2,100.00 motor car in the end—without costing you one cent more than you would pay for the paper otherwise.

The six-year subscriptions help the most. In fact a very few such subscriptions separate the one furthest down the list from the ones who are now among the leaders. One or two such subscriptions may prove to be the deciding votes as to who wins the big motor cars.

DO IT NOW BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE

The Present Vote Schedule
Is Again Reduced
Next Saturday Night

Here's an example of how easy it is to secure over a million votes in the next few days.

Up until one week from Saturday night (just eight more days) every six-year subscription to The Chronicle counts a total of 410,000 VOTES. Just three of these would count 1,230,000 VOTES.

Subscriptions count fast these days—but the vote schedule will be reduced again one week from Saturday night.

The attention of contestants is again called to the big vote-value of SECOND PAYMENTS on subscriptions—that is, extensions of subscriptions received earlier in the campaign. In securing these, contestants should be certain that the receipt stub is plainly marked "second subscription," and the amount of the first subscription shown.

COMING SEVEN DAYS ARE MOST VITAL OF CAMPAIGN

Last Big Opportunity is Given Contestants to Accumulate Votes on the Double Quick—Entire Election Closes in a Few Weeks. Leading Position Won by Mrs. McLain—Mrs. Quigley Second and Miss Marshall Still Leads No. 2—Rest are Coming Strong, Closely Epilowing the Leaders.

As the struggle for the lead in the Chronicle's automobile election continues, and as public interest and enthusiasm and earnest support of candidates' friends grows to the point where the contest is becoming a veritable war, the contestants have the best chance at the big final vote.

Every section has its hard workers, some making their efforts known by heavy display of votes, others working diligently and quietly but getting there just the same.

Quiet work sometimes does wonders, yet there are arguments against work under cover. One of the most forcible points in favor of the candidates who do their work as that their friends will be more eager to support them in the campaign for the prizes is that they see the candidate is hustling hard in person.

Seeing the end of the campaign—just now when everyone is working to put his or her competitor away back in the last row, under the "baloney" line—is liable to be an epidemic among some of the candidates. There is a sort of germ or microbe of some kind that gets into people's systems and makes them blue and pessimistic. That microbe is a mighty dangerous bug and the way to keep it from being loose is to keep it from being loose. Bug large amounts of real energy. Hustle and energy are sure cures for this disease.

Don't Get Discouraged. Some contestants become discouraged when they see their own big vote—and often that is the purpose of your competitor in getting up an extra amount of speed—to discourage his or her rival. Then, sometimes included in the body of some of the contestants of fragments removed in surgical operations on the injured has added weight to the belief that the explosion came from an internal machine and was not accidental.

An official conclusion to the case will be filed Monday by Dr. Otto A. Schultz, assistant medical examiner attached to the district attorney's office, he said tonight.

Dr. Schultz examined the bodies of several dead and operated upon some of the injured. Much in many cases he said, was due to perforating wounds from pieces of metal, "directly associated with explosive matter."

He insisted they were not parts of automobiles or wagons. As his operations, he said, he observed fragments of metal buried in the flesh of the wounds. Many of the shrapnel were about the size of a walnut, he asserted.

The city today offered $10,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the explosion, and $500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the explosion.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT FAIR IS DECLARED GREAT EVENT

Youngsters Take Possession and Enjoy Everything; Attendance Less Than Day Before But Total for Week is Considered Fine by Fair Officials.

Hundreds and hundreds of youngsters filled the county fair grounds yesterday. They were everywhere, in the exhibition building, around the concert grounds, the merry-go-round and the racetrack; and they were enjoying every minute of the day, or yesterday was their day at the fair and every youngster in the count that could possibly attend was there.

The attendance at the fair yesterday was not as large as the previous day but for the last day of the fair it was exceptional. There were nearly one passed through the gates from early morning until the middle of the afternoon when the doors were again wide open to allow any one who cared, to enter. The program for the day was of the best. The fact that it was the last day apparently made no difference to those in charge and until the gates closed late last night there was something doing every minute.

Attendance for the four days of the fair was estimated yesterday by Secretary Market at 15,000. There were probably a greater number than this in attendance as many admittance by means of passes in that no record should be secured. "The fair was an absolute success," said Mr. Market, "not only from an attendance standpoint but also from the quality and quantity of prize stock and produce exhibited. It was without doubt the greatest fair in the history of Twin Falls county."

The races yesterday were exceptionally good and held the large crowds until the last horse had run. The Salt Lake Quinlet was again well received as was the band from Pocatello.

Following are the awards in the swine departments and the breeders' association.
