COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE NEW CHARGE

Editor Lockwood Insinuates Governor Cox Received Concealed Contribution

DEMOCRATIC MEMBERS ASK FOR INVESTIGATION

Witness Gives Lead Which He Believes Might Enable Committee to Get Facts of Transaction

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—An implied charge that Governor Cox had received in 1918 a concealed campaign contribution of $5,000 from the Dayton (Ohio) Metal Products company today sent the senate campaign investigating committee off on a wholly new tack.

On demand of democratic members of the committee immediate inquiry was ordered, although the Ohio State campaign, it was agreed was outside the committee's jurisdiction. Officials of the Metals Products company and of the City National Bank of Dayton were called to appear tomorrow with any papers relating to the transaction involved.

No Direct Charge
No direct charge was made. Citing as his authority an examiner for a house aircraft investigating committee, however, George B. Lockwood, editor of the National Republican, volunteered the statement as a "lead which the committee might follow that a certain check drawn by the Metal Products company June 29, 1918, was to 'pay a personal note of James M. Cox'."

"The effort was to make it appear that this was an obligation that Mr. Cox had entered into with the City National Bank of Dayton some time before," Lockwood said. "But it appears to me, from all the circumstances that it must have been a contribution from this corporation to Mr. Cox's campaign fund."

Sent for Talbot
Lockwood named H. E. Talbot, president of the Metal Products company and of the bank as the witnesses who should be called and a message to Talbot was sent immediately. "It does not come within the purview of this committee's business," Senator Reed said, "but I am going to insist that this matter be immediately investigated and that we go out of the realm of deduction into that of fact."

The committee ranged over a wide field of inquiry today. It heard volunteered statements from assistants to Attorney General Palmer who were in San Francisco during the democratic national convention that they had travelled on official business which they said justified the expense accounts submitted and approved. It failed to find any similar accounts in the post office department, the disbursing officer testifying that there were no trips to San Francisco at government expense reported for the convention period. It heard something of the Industrial Group organization plan of soliciting campaign funds employed by New York City workers for the republican national committee. It explored the financing of the soldier publication "Stars and Stripes," developing a possible connection between the paper and the democratic national committee. It heard the charge made that the "American Legion Weekly" was controlled by the republican national committee. It listened to a charge that Senator Edge, New Jersey, republican member of the committee, was in some way connected in a campaign against the Stars and Stripes, and then to an admission that the charge had no basis but speculation and rumor. It heard in detail from Lockwood of the financing of the Republican National Weekly and of the "bulky" circulation methods of which the paper reaches employees at the expense of employers but without knowledge of the recipients of the employer's share in the matter; and it went deeply into the financing and activities of the League to Enforce Peace.

BOLSHEVIKI ANNOUNCE TERMS OF ARMISTICE TO POLISH DELEGATION

RIGA, Sept. 24.—Adolph Joffe, head of the Bolshevik peace mission which is treating with the Poles, electrified a dull session of the peace conference today and lent real interest to the occasion when he presented to the Poles the Russian government's armistice terms, which carried with them an ultimatum that soviet Russia would inaugurate a winter campaign if an armistice was not arranged within ten days.

ATTEMPT IS MADE ON LIFE OF STRICKLAND

CORK, Ireland, Sept. 24.—An attempt was made on the life of Major General Strickland, commander in southern Ireland, as he was motoring to the docks en route to England tonight. Six shots were fired at his automobile. The general was not injured but the driver was slightly wounded.

It was understood General Strickland intended to sail tonight when the attackers began firing, occupants of the machine returned the fire as the car sped on.

A sixteen year old boy, a bystander, received a flesh wound in the arm. The attackers partly fled.

While en route to file this dispatch The Associated Press correspondent was halted by soldiers and taken to Bridewell prison. Arriving there, however, he was released.

An epidemic of typhoid fever has broken out in Cork.

PRESIDENT WILSON DECLINES TO ACT

Executive Will Not Terminate Commercial Treaties As Directed in Merchant Marine Act

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—President Wilson has declined to take steps toward termination of certain commercial treaties as directed by congress in the merchant marine act, holding that "such a course would be wholly irreconcilable with the historical respect which the United States has shown for its international engagements."

Formal announcement of the president's decision was made today at the state department. The merchant marine act as approved by the president on the closing day of the last session of congress directed the executive within 90 days to give notice to foreign nations of the intentions of the United States to terminate any sections of existing commercial treaties which restrict the right of the American government to impose discriminatory charges on shipping in foreign bottoms.

The president, in declining to comply with the directions of the act, the state department's announcement said, also held that Colby is quoted as supporting the president on this point, citing as a precedent the action of President Hayes in 1879 in refusing the demand of congress that a treaty with China be abrogated. The power of modifying treaties, President Hayes held, is not lodged by the constitution in congress.

Termination of the 32 treaties, affected by the act, the president was said to have held "would amount to nothing less than the breach of violation of said treaties which cover every point of contact and mutual dependence which constitutes the modern relations between friendly states."

The announcement said that "to have vetoed the act would have sacrificed the great number of sound and enlightened provisions, which it undoubtedly contains."

AMERICANS FAIL TO INTERVIEW MACSWINEY

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Mary MacSwiney, after visiting her brother, Lord Mayor MacSwiney, at Brixton prison today, stated he was much weaker.

Two Americans, Rev. James H. Cotter of Ironton, Ohio, and Mrs. W. H. King of the national board of the Catholic press in the United States and Canada, tried to see the lord mayor but were unable to get permission.

The report from the home office said the lord mayor's condition was virtually unchanged.

Tonight's bulletin by the Irish Self-Determination League said the lord mayor was extremely exhausted and suffering from severe pains in the head. He was still conscious.

WILTON LACKAYE IS ATTACKED BY MCGRAW

Baseball Manager Suddenly Struck Lackaye on Jaw Knocking Him Down

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Wilton Lackaye, the actor, is in a hospital suffering from a fractured ankle, he explained today, when John McGraw manager and part owner of the New York Giants, hit him as he was leaving McGraw's home last Saturday night supposedly good friends. The actor declared that when he was bidding McGraw "good night" the Giants manager put out his right hand as if to shake hands, but instead suddenly shot his left to Lackaye's jaw. Lackaye fell to the floor and fractured his ankle.

"I had been away most of the summer," Lackaye said, "and did not know much about the 'nasty' McGraw was mixed up in at the Lamb's club when he got into a fight with William Boyd. When I returned, a mutual friend told me McGraw had been suspended from the Lamb and had lost most of his friends and felt very bad. I sent McGraw a message and told him that I would like to see him, as I was always a friend. Later I telephoned him. He invited me to his house—that last Saturday night. I went to his house and in the interest of friendship I told him the best thing to do was to forget about the Lamb's fair."

He Became Suspicious
"McGraw suddenly became suspicious and demanded to know who I sent me there. I told him no one had sent me and I was acting on my own initiative. I also told him that I felt any suspicion towards my relatives, I would have to leave. It was then that I put out my hand to shake hands with McGraw and he attacked me without warning."

"When I put out my hand McGraw put out his right hand, but suddenly drew back with his left and hit me on the jaw. I crumpled up in a ball by my side with my right ankle fractured. I got up then and almost fell wallows at McGraw, but he was stopped by others in the room. I went to the street without assistance and called a cab and it was not until the next day when I saw a physician that I learned that my ankle was fractured."

Mr. McGraw could not be reached tonight for his version.

BRYAN SAYS GOVERNMENT MAY BECOME DISPENSARY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Wm. Bryan tonight told the International Congress Against Alcoholism he believed the time was not far distant when, to prevent "jabs" in enforcement of the 18th amendment, government would have to take of all alcohol and declare a monopoly alcohol manufacture.

Declaring against any "discrimination" in favor of beer and wine, said:

"We are no more in favor of beer and wine than alcohol in any form. The men who have been a greater corrupting influence in this country than the men who make whiskey. Now that they are to be we shall not separate them in death. Permanency of prohibition, America is assured, Mr. Bryan declared, by the fact that it was a story of the nation."

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally; else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatism twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must get your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidneys region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says: he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

COOK COUNTY GRAND JURY IS INTERESTED

Special Session Will Be Called To Probe Alleged Crookedness in League Ball.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—The Cook county grand jury investigating alleged "fixing" of games in the last year's world series and charges of gambling by major league players has found such convincing evidence of crooked work that it will not disband when its term expires September 30, but will continue its investigation in a special session. It was announced tonight after the jury had adjourned next Tuesday.

The jury has received evidence which indicates an attempt by a nationwide ring of gamblers to "pollute baseball and ruin the great national game in the same way boxing was killed and horse racing crucified," Henry H. Brisham, foreman, said in a statement.

Comparatively few players are implicated, however, said Mr. Brisham, only a "few moraled and weak characterized men being preyed upon by the professional gamblers."

A statement also came from President Charles A. Comiskey of the Chicago Americans, saying he had not had the full support of President D. B. Johnson of the American League in his attempts to run down charges of crooked work by some players on his team. After seeing this statement, President August Herrmann of the Cincinnati club, Chicago's opponents in the world's series, said "he knew positively" President Johnson made an error investigation.

President Johnson, when he testified before the grand jury Wednesday told reporters he had "given the jury evidence which he believed proved that star players had attempted to throw games last year but had no evidence of such actions this year."

A statement attributed to President Johnson yesterday quoted him as saying he had received reports that the gamblers who were to have "fixed" last year's series had threatened Chicago players implicated with exposure if they won the pennant this year and had told them they must lose in the present series with Cleveland. Chicago won yesterday but was defeated today, 2 to 3. Members of the team in Cleveland today characterized this report as foolish.

Jacob (Rube) Benton, New York National pitcher, in his testimony to day reiterated statements that a Pittsburgh gambling syndicate had raised $100,000 which was paid to Chicago American players to "throw" games in the world series.

It became known tonight that the players whose world series checks were held up last year were Eddie Cicotte, Claude Williams, "Happy" Felsch, "Buck" Weaver, Charles (Lefty) Williams, Chick Gandil and Fred McMullin. Gandil no longer is in the major leagues. Benton in his testimony said he understood Cicotte, Williams, Felsch and Gandil had been approached by gamblers, mentioning a man named Hahn in Cincinnati and that he "felt sure Cicotte could tell the names of the gamblers."

District Attorney Clyne took a hand in the inquiry today by starting an investigation to find out whether baseball pool tickets were being sent through the mails in violation of the lottery laws.

The findings in the Wilson case were to the effect that the plaintiffs were entitled to a reduction of 70 per cent on part of their assessment making their tax $623.46 instead of $1,025.50.

USE FOR EMPTY BARRACKS

The regents of the University of Michigan have purchased from the government the army barracks at Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich. The buildings are now being taken down and shipped at Ann Arbor where the university is situated, and where they will be set up again as dormitories for the students.

The housing situation at Ann Arbor presented just as serious a problem as it has in many college towns this year. Rooms were at a minimum, rents at a premium, hence the decision of the college authorities.

Other institutions of learning confronted by a shortage of accommodations might do well to look into this matter. These abandoned army training camps are widely scattered through the country. Most of the buildings are of the "knock down" type which permits of their being taken apart, shipped and reconstructed easily. Cities as well as colleges might find in this suggestion a way out of their housing and rental difficulties.

Investigation and co-operation between government and civic or private bodies might work to the advantage of all concerned. All unsuspected source of supply may be discovered, and what threatened to be a serious waste turned to productivity instead.

DANCING CHILDREN

Five hundred youngsters who live in the neighborhood around the University Settlement in New York City are having joy put into their lives by means of rhythmic dancing. The settlement workers who decided to add dancing classes to their work believed that the sense of rhythm and color, which every child possesses was choked and stunted in these little folks of the settlement district, and that their proper exercise would help them to develop grace and natural poise as well as simple happiness of spirit.

Dancing classes meet in the big assembly hall five afternoons each week. Each little child changes from the coarse, heavy clothing of everyday custom to light, flowing robes of artistic colors and soft material. Thus transformed into potential fairies they are taught simple, graceful, rhythmic exercises which in time replace their awkward movements, and soon they are dancing with music and loving it.

Friends who have been watching the children have observed many definite changes for good. Unconsciously, they are acquiring the grace and poise which are the rightful gifts of every happy, normal child, but which environment and crude care have denied them.

COMMON HONESTY

At a time when the papers are full of crimes and thievery of various kinds, from banditry to embezzlement, it is comforting to hear of the return of the organ securities to the Morgan offices after the explosion. Nearly $400,000 was missed immediately after the bomb went off. During the afternoon one by one the finders came into the offices, men, women and children, handing over as a matter of course the parcels they had found along the streets. By evening nine-tenths of the securities had been returned. The office people believe that the ones still missing were probably destroyed.

There is such a thing as common honesty, and most people have it. Which proves beyond peradventure that there is no excuse for the toleration in any community for the uncommon dishonesty which has been prevalent for the past few years.

MR. ROOT'S CREDENTIALS

Mr. Elihu Root, contrary to the opinion of many, including apparently Senator Harding is not officially representing the United States on the Organization Committee of the International Court of Justice.

The United States, having been kept out of the league by the Republican Senate, is not entitled to representation on this committee. Mr. Root's appointment comes solely from the Council of the League of Nations to which his own nation does not belong.

By accepting and acting under this appointment, it would seem that he recognizes the League of Nations as a functioning organization, although Senator Johnson says it is dead and Senator Harding that it has been abandoned by Europe.

HARDING ASSAULTS WILSON'S POLICY

Charges Shipping Board Has Been Continual Plague; Declares for Efficient Merchant Marine

MARION, O., Sept. 21.—The administration's merchant marine policy was assailed by Senator Harding today, in a front porch speech in which he declared that this and other issues of the campaign were too big to be "observed by any sort of a mediocre performance on the part of any one."

Charging that the shipping board had been a "continual plague" he said that with efficient management the nation's marine resources should have permitted the establishment of shipping lines to all parts of the world as soon as the war was over. One of his first acts as chief executive, he said, would be to inaugurate a policy that would "unfurl the flag again on every sea."

He also reiterated his charges of extravagance and blundering by the democrats and declared his purpose to establish an economical and efficient business administration. Touching on the high cost of living, he said that while no cure-all had been found, governmental and individual thrift and a protective tariff were a long way to lower prices.

SUPPLY VARIETY IN FAMILY DIET

Eggs Are More Plentiful and Comparatively Reasonable in Price.

SOME NEW DISHES OUTLINED

They Furnish as Many Possibilities for Delicately Food for Lunch or Supper as They Do for the Morning Meal.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Now that eggs are a little more plentiful and comparatively reasonable in price they can provide a welcome variation in the family diet. In many families eggs are seldom served except at breakfast, but they furnish just as many possibilities for delectable dishes for luncheon or supper as they do for breakfast. They can well take the place of a meat dish, for, like meat they furnish protein, fat, and mineral matter and the yolk is also a good source of vitamin A. A few recipes for attractive dishes suitable to serve in place of meat for the midday or evening meal follow. These recipes were tested in the experimental kitchen of the United States department of agriculture.

Combinations of eggs with bread, crumbs, rice, or some starchy cereal, to give body to the dish are always good.

Shirred Eggs With Rice.

Put a baking-dish half full of hot boiled rice. Break six eggs and carefully drop them in the rice, taking care not to break the yolks. Pour a cupful of cheese sauce over the eggs and rice and bake in a moderate oven until the whites of the eggs are set. To make the cheese sauce: Melt one tablespoonful of butter and stir into it one tablespoonful of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, and an eighth of a teaspoonful of white pepper. Add one cupful of cold milk, and stir over the flame until thick and creamy. Add four tablespoonfuls of grated cheese and stir until melted.

Creamed Eggs.

Cook half cupful of washed rice, in two quarts of boiling water containing one teaspoonful of salt.

Make a sauce in the following way: Melt one tablespoonful of butter in a skillet and add four tablespoonfuls of chopped onions. Cook until the onion is soft, but not brown. Add one and a half cupfuls of canned tomatoes and two finely-chopped green peppers, and half teaspoonful of salt. Cook for 15 minutes. Place a layer of boiled rice in a baking dish, cover with slices of hard-boiled eggs and cover the sliced eggs with cream sauce. Repeat until baking dish is full. Grate cheese over the top and bake for 20 minutes in a moderate oven.

Eggs in Tomato Cups.

When fresh tomatoes are in season no more attractive way of serving eggs can be found than this.

Select the desired number of good-sized tomatoes, allowing one to each person. Cut off the blossom end, scoop out the seeds, and stand the tomatoes in a baking pan in the oven until they are nearly cooked. Put a half teaspoonful of butter and a dusting of salt and pepper into the bottom of each and break in one egg. Place in the oven until the eggs are "set" in the desired hardness. Bake twenty-four round of toasted bread well buttered, and place each tomato in the center of a round of toast. Serve hot.

Eggs Coddled in Tomato Sauce.

Make a tomato sauce by melting two tablespoonfuls of butter and stirring into it three tablespoonfuls of flour, half teaspoonful of celery salt, quarter teaspoonful of pepper, and two teaspoonfuls of salt. Boil two cupfuls of tomato pulp and juice through a sieve and add to the butter and flour. Cook until thickened. Place one-half of the tomato sauce in a baking dish, break six eggs, one at a time, and carefully slide each egg into the sauce, taking care not to break the yolks. Cover with the remaining sauce, sprinkle with grated cheese, and bake in the oven until the egg is set. It is well to serve each egg on a round of toasted bread, or each may be baked in an individual ramekin if preferred.

Eggs Coddled in Tomato Sauce Are Very Good and So Are Eggs in Tomato Cups.

PROPER WAY TO MIX INEXPENSIVE CAKES

Plenty of Eggs and Butter Are Chief Requisites.

Specialists in Home Economics Kitchen Have Been Making Extensive Experiments—How Best Results Are Obtained.

If your experience has been that cheap cakes have a poor flavor and a coarse texture it is because you have not been putting them together in the right way. "An inexpensive cake requires careful mixing. No difficulty should be experienced in compounding a cake which is excellent in texture and has a delicious flavor when plenty of eggs and butter are available. It is when it is necessary to economize on these expensive materials that the one who is not skillful has his trouble."

Food specialists in the home economics kitchen of the United States department of agriculture have been making extensive investigations in cake baking, especially in the baking of one-egg cakes. Their experiments with cheap cakes show that the best results are obtained when the batter is beaten very little after the baking powder is added and when the cake is baked in a very slow oven.

The recipe which was used in the experiments follows:

One-Egg Cake.
1 level tablespoonful 1/4 cup flour
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup cream fat and sugar together, add beaten egg and beat thoroughly. Then add flour and liquid alternately, about one-third of each at a time. Beat the batter thoroughly after all flour and liquid have been added. Vanilla may be added during this beating. Last of all scatter the baking powder over the surface of the batter and fold it in lightly with six or eight motions of the spoon so as to get it thoroughly mixed with every part of the batter. Do not beat the batter after adding the baking powder but turn it at once into a cake pan and bake.

This cake may be baked as cup cakes in muffin pans, or in layers, or in loaf. If it is baked as a loaf of the size given above it should be put into a very slow oven, which is allowed to warm up gradually (250 to 375 degrees F. for one hour, is sufficient even temperature). At the first trial one is more sure of success in baking the small cakes than the loaf.

The cake can be put together by other methods than the one described above. Any approved method may be selected, but the two points which give the most difficulty are the too vigorous beating of the batter after the baking powder has been added, and baking the loaf in too hot an oven.

If directions in the above recipe are carefully followed the resulting cake should be light, of even texture and uniform grain, tender and moist. It should not be coarse and muffin-like in texture, nor dry and compact.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

Handsome curtains can be made easily of good material.

Soak handkerchiefs in a pail of salt and water, before putting them into the ordinary wash water.

If you need to keep cheese any length of time, you may prevent mold from appearing on the cut surface by coating it with butter.

When making an egg, be sure the salt, knife, etc., are perfectly dry and then you will have no difficulty in getting it to froth.

COAL IN CAPITOL BURNS.
OHYEPENNE, Wyo., Sept. 23.—Coal in the bunkers of the state capitol here has been burning for 17 hours and tonight laborers are removing hundreds of tons of coal from the storage chambers just outside the capitol's walls. Grain

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Shipping in prices extended to wheat today and resulted in a spectacular flurry. The market closed wild, 10 3/4 to 12 1/4 not lower with December 2.25 to 2.25 1/2 and March 2.15 to 2.16 1/4. Corn lost one cent to 2 1/2c; Oats finished 2 1/2c off to 1-3c up, and provisions down 1-2 to 20c.

Heavy selling with which the wheat market opened gave evidence that sentiment had at last been influenced by the sharp reduction of prices for other commodities. In addition, for the first time of late an important part of the selling was ascribed to European sources. Lib. export business was noted here.

Besides, domestic millers were said to be holding off. It was said also that farmers both southwest and north, west were selling more freely. Under such circumstances, the market gave way rapidly at the last and finished at the lowest point of the day.

Liberal receipts and fine weather as well as the fall of wheat made corn decline to the lowest figure yet for new crop deliveries. Oats followed suit. Provisions were depressed by grain weakness.

PRESIDENT WILSON SENDS MESSAGE TO LEGION

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 24.—President Wilson through the Legionnaire weekly publication of the post in Cuyahoga county, today sent a message of greeting to the American Legion, which will open its three days Convention Monday.

He congratulated members of the legion on the blood exemplified by their service during the war and by their efforts since the war as an organization devoted to public welfare. The message said: "The nation sent you as its representative and its champions; the fidelity with which you fought faithfully represented the faithfulness with which those at home labored and sacrificed in the same cause. The result of it all was a military victory in France and a moral victory in the world; the deeds of valor, the deeds of high thinking, the deeds of righteous impulses together make a great tradition, and it will be good for all future generations to continue your practice of cherishing these memories and keeping them bright as an example and inspiration."
