

WOULD MAKE AGREEMENT WITH SENATE

Governor Cox Would Sit With Lawmakers and Reach Settlement

DECLARES EXECUTIVE SHOULD NOT CONTROL

"Unthinkable," He States That America Should Stay Out of League of Nations

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 25.—Governor Cox of Ohio announced today that he elected president, he would sit down with the senate and make an "agreement" upon the league of nations and that his agreement should be determined by the senatorial elections.

"The executive will," the democrat presidential nominee said, "should not control and it is 'unthinkable,' he declared, that American membership in the league should be postponed two years, when the next senatorial elections will be held.

"The situation is this: I favor going into the existing league with clarifying reservations which Senator Harding said he was not interested in clarification, but in rejection. I have every expectation that after November 2, much of the partisan spirit that has been vitiated upon discussion of the league will have subsided.

"The important thing is to get a start and help to stabilize world conditions which vitally affect the interest and welfare of America. For us to remain out of the league for two years or until another election could be held would be unthinkable. If too much has to be given in compromise now, in order to insure our entrance into the league, the people themselves will have an opportunity to modify and correct later. It cannot be a matter of the exercise of merely the executive will. The popular will, as voiced at the polls, must control the government, which I shall be enabled to obtain will be determined by senatorial elections."

The governor's announcement followed on the heels of his statement in his Madison Square Garden speech last Saturday in New York, in which he would "compromise this reservation controversy." Attention also was called to the circumstances that it followed Elihu Root's statement that Governor Cox was an "unyielding" regarding "various" ten as President Wilson.

DRY FORCES WIN IN CANADIAN ELECTIONS

OTTAWA, Oct. 25.—Dry forces today won four Canadian provinces—Alberta, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Nova Scotia—in which a general plebiscite on the question of prohibiting importation of liquor from other provinces, was submitted. In only one province, Quebec, were there indications tonight that the result was close.

More About Our Taxes

Comparison of the present Board of County Commissioners with its predecessors will be helpful to the taxpayer in reaching a conclusion as to what is best to do on election day.

The membership of the present board is clear. The men as individuals are all courteous, affable and in dollars and cents are honest. They are good neighbors.

But as commissioners they are WASTEFUL. Tax money comes too easily to the public till. They do not realize how difficult it is for the taxpayer to raise the money. They only know that it comes because they make the levy; so they spend.

In defense of them, the two republican newspapers are printing reams of figures in fastidious array, and are clamoring that after all is said and done the present board has not spent so very much more than its predecessor. Not so very much. Just a bundle of thousands of dollars.

But look here— During the time the preceding board was in control of affairs, there was war between this country and Germany. The old board financed all the drives during that war. Every bond drive was cared for by that board, the Red Cross work was helped in a material way financially, and a small army of deputies was hired and paid by that board for the purpose of guarding the irrigation dams and vital water way points.

The old board bore the expense of road repair, building and maintenance, thousands upon thousands of dollars. And the auto license was not nearly so large as it is now. The present board does not have this expense. The highway district bears it.

Yet— The present board has spent by thousands more money than the old board, and a glance at YOUR TAX RECEIPT WILL SHOW THIS.

The Chronicle does not charge dishonesty on the part of the board members. But it does say that good business judgment demands that we change boards.

The present board finds it too easy to say yes and too hard to say no. Shall we submit instances?

GOMPERS URGES LABOR TO SUPPORT GOV. COX

By the Associated Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 25.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, urged organized labor to support Governor Cox, the democratic presidential candidate, for election in an address tonight at a labor political rally here. He attacked Senator Harding, the republican nominee, at an opponent of legislation to benefit labor.

Joined with his appeal for the election of Governor Cox, Mr. Gompers urged the defeat of United States Senator Watson of Indiana, who he accused of being a "twin" brother of Senator Harding. William Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers, another speaker, made a similar plea.

"What is to be decided on November 2," said Mr. Gompers, "is not only whether the American people stand for progress and freedom in the United States but also for universal peace for all nations."

Governor Cox, stands for progress and freedom, while Senator Harding is characterized as the representative of reaction and tyranny. Attacking the republican candidate, Mr. Gompers declared he daily changed his position on important questions and had "never uttered an original, constructive thought."

Both sides continued secretive regarding the nature of the government's proposal, which, however, is believed to be framed along some similar lines as those suggested by William Bruce, president of the South Wales Miners' Administration in the house of commons last week. This was to the effect that the two shillings granted by the miners should be granted temporarily, pending the passage of a permanent wage bill, and the whole matter reviewed by the end of the year.

was characterized as the representative of reaction and tyranny. Attacking the republican candidate, Mr. Gompers declared he daily changed his position on important questions and had "never uttered an original, constructive thought."

Further attack on Senator Harding was based on Mr. Gompers on the league of nations covenant which was endorsed by the speaker, largely because of its labor clauses. In this connection Mr. Gompers referred to former President Taft saying that "no one was more active than Mr. Taft in favor of ratifying the Versailles treaty" when it was first presented to the senate.

"Somehow Mr. Taft has turned out more of a partisan than an American," declared Mr. Gompers.

ALLEN GIVES REASONS FOR DROP IN WHEAT

TOPEKA, Kas., Oct. 25.—Governor Henry J. Allen tonight turned over material he had gathered showing the alleged cause for the drop in the wheat market to G. A. Stephens, special agent of the federal trade commission, who came here to consult the governor in relation to the investigation of the Chicago board of trade.

The governor turned over considerable material that has been collected showing that the drop in wheat was unnatural and doubtful, the result of manipulation in wheat futures, together with the use made of the free wheat from Canada.

An investigation of the stocks of wheat on hand at Chicago, Minneapolis and Kansas City, the controlling wheat markets, shows that there has been a gradual reduction in the amount of wheat at these terminal markets during the months of July, August and September, and, while the statements for October show a slight increase over September,

Protest Ends In Death

TERRENCE MACSWINEY

Terrence MacSwiney died early yesterday morning as the result of a hunger strike which he entered upon in a protest against imprisonment. He had just entered the 74th day of his fast when death occurred.

COAL OPERATORS WILL CONSIDER LOWER PRICES

By the Associated Press. CLEVELAND, Oct. 25.—Hundreds of bituminous coal operators from various producing fields throughout the country reached Cleveland tonight for a general meeting here tomorrow, at which a communication from Attorney General Palmer, urging action toward a lowering of prices for soft coal will be taken up.

It is anticipated that upwards of a thousand of the seven thousand soft coal producers of the country who have been invited to attend, will participate in tomorrow's meeting and it is assured that the attorney general's communication will be the basis for a free and open discussion of the whole soft coal situation as it affects prices. Colonel Wentz called the meeting at the request of Attorney General Palmer so that the attorney general's proposal might be put before all of the representative soft coal operators. It was explained today that the National Coal association whose membership embraces 2500 operators with more than three-fourths of the aggregate soft coal output, which will this year reach nearly 550,000,000 tons, cannot, because of the nature of its charter, take any action relating to price fixing. Because of this, Colonel Wentz decided to put the matter before the general body of coal operators as individual representatives of the various fields.

MARKS NEW RECORD. SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 25.—Alder Hewitt, linotype operator on the Tribune, on Sunday night, established what is said to be the world's record for linotype composition, finishing 82,500 ems in six hours and 35 minutes, an average of 12,440 ems an hour.

GIVES PARTY STAND

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Senator Harding in a pre-election statement to the American people made public here tonight, declared the republican party "goes to the people assured that they will recognize its superiority as an instrumentality of administration and that in the election, now impending they will give it the certificate of their confidence and trust."

The republican party nominee criticized democratic administration of governmental affairs, declaring "the nation is determined to be done with democracy under the mere rule of democratic forms." The republican party, he asserted, "has proposed in its platform and developed in the utterances of its leaders a program which contemplates equal opportunity for all and recognizes the vice of exploitation and profiteering."

As to the league of nations issue, Senator Harding summarized his party's position as follows: "The republican party purposes such an amendment of the constitution as will most effectively further the aspiration for world wide and permanent peace without sacrificing any part of the independence of American nation. It believes American and must bear its full part in the responsibilities of the world but it always believes that America alone must decide what that part shall be."

BITE OF MONKEY RESULTS IN DEATH OF GREEK KING

ATHENS, Oct. 25.—King Alexander of Greece, died at 5:20 p.m. today. His death was due to wounds received when a pet monkey attacked him early in October, the king being badly mutilated.

Throughout last night the heart action grew weaker, his general debility became more pronounced and pulmonary symptoms were intense. Breathing at times was most difficult and alarming and at noon today it was announced that the king's condition was hopeless.

The death of King Alexander gives rise to the question of succession to the Greek throne. Former King Constantine was reported, according to Swiss dispatches of October 17, as intending to take advantage of the situation created by his son's grave illness by returning to Greece and claim the throne.

About the same time a regency was suggested and Constantino gave his opinion as follows: "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." I will not think of a regency. My plans are those of my people."

Premier Venizelos Sunday expressed himself as confident that Prince Paul, Constantino's third son, would not be prevented from taking the throne by his father.

Both Prince Arthur of Connaught and Prince Charles of Belgium have been mentioned as possible candidates for the Greek throne. Premier Venizelos has said that foreign candidates were not being considered. It is probable that the old chamber will be reconvened to the king's death to consider what steps are to be taken before the new chamber meets.

DEATH ENDS STRIKE OF LORD MAYOR

Terrence MacSwiney, Famous Irish Leader Completes Long Fast

WAS IN PROTEST TO LONG IMPRISONMENT

Hunger Striker Was Entering Upon 74th Day of Food Abstinence When End Came

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Oct. 25.—Terrence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, the most prominent of the Irish hunger strikers and said to have been the brains of the republican army in Ireland, died early today in Drixton prison. The end was not unexpected, for the lord mayor had been "unconscious" for several days. He was entering upon his 74th day of his hunger strike as a protest against a sentence of two years' imprisonment on several charges, including one of having sedulous documents in his possession. Only his father, John MacSwiney, and his private chaplain, Father Dominic, were with him when he died. Mrs. MacSwiney and the prisoner's two sisters, Annie and Mary, were at a nearby hotel.

Terrificly Emaciated. The lord mayor, who was terribly emaciated as a result of his long abstinence from food and had been unconscious for many hours and was unconscious when death came.

It was several hours after the lord mayor died before his brother was permitted to tell Mrs. MacSwiney the sad news. She immediately went to the prison, accompanied by her parents and the Misses MacSwiney, and the family group, dry-eyed, prayed over the body as it lay on the cot. "There were no outward demonstrations outside the prison after the news of MacSwiney's death because generally known. A large force of police had been concentrated to put down any disorder which might occur. It was said at the prison that the reason for withholding permission to John MacSwiney to inform the dying man's relatives of his condition was that it was in the prisoner's interests.

It is well within the possibilities that the body will be taken to Cork secretly in order to avoid unpleasant results from whatever demonstrations that might be made in England and Ireland along the line traversed by a train carrying the body. There is no intimation that any official advocates refusal to send it to Cork.

THIRD STRIKER DIES. CORK, Oct. 25.—Joseph Murphy, one of the hunger strikers in Cork jail, died tonight. The death of Murphy occurred at 8:35 p. m. He was 25 years old and unmarried. Murphy was a member of the Irish Volunteers and was well known as an athlete.

HEMIPAL, OCCURS. BANTON, Orindan, Oct. 25.—Another "re-appear" occurred here last evening when men said to be soldiers burned a large holiday factory. Hundreds of terrified townspeople remained throughout the night in the outlying country.

CALL FOR "MANIFESTATIONS." NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Diarmuid Lynch, national secretary of the Friends of Irish Freedom, tonight telegraphed all state and local branches of the organization calling for grandiose "manifestation of indignation and sorrow" next Sunday over the "murder of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork," and Michael Fitzgerald, who died recently after a hunger strike in Cork jail.

HOLD MASS MEETINGS. NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Thousands of Irish sympathizers attended mass meetings tonight, protesting against what they termed the "murder" by the imperialist government of Great Britain of Lord Mayor Terrence MacSwiney.

PLAN DEFENSES FOR WEST COAST

Chances of Trouble in Pacific Less—Chances of Trouble in Pacific Less—of Fleet During East Year

WASHINGTON.—Prior to a year ago, Japan could have started trouble with the United States and got away with it much better than she could today. She could kick up trouble now and get away with it better than she can a year hence.

The reasons for these statements are, the Pacific fleet has been established and partially trained the last year.

Japs Talk War

Of course, America doesn't intend to have a war with Japan, but the Japs are talking about it, and it doesn't hurt to discuss it in America. If it happens, Japan will not come to America but America will send her troops to Japan, or to the Philippines or Alouatta Islands. In this case, the war would have been started by Japan's seizing those islands that are possessions of Uncle Sam. Then, if Japan defeated the American navy in her own back yard, she could land troops on the Pacific coast and the next move would be for America to whip Japan on land. But if our navy whipped Japan's navy, Japan's power at sea would be broken and America would have another war on land—and her own land—and the talk of a Japanese-American conflict would forever be hushed.

This is what makes it interesting to consider American naval bases in the Pacific.

List of U. S. Bases

At present on the west coast Uncle Sam has bases at San Diego, San Pedro, Mare Island, Astoria, Bremerton and out in the ocean at Pearl Harbor, Honolulu, Hawaii; Tutuila, Samoa; in Agaña Bay at the City of Guam, Island of Agaña, and at Cavite in the Philippines.

There are all, and none of them are developed to the extent that they should be, and will be, when the Pacific fleet in a little while. Navy men say if the Pacific fleet hadn't been created as a separate organization, that naval bases would not have been provided for the same reason that no man builds a garage until he has a car. Look into it, and without doubt, bases American ships would be powerful in the Pacific.

Perhaps the most interesting piece of work contemplated in the development of Honolulu Harbor, Pearl Harbor and Kaula Bay, all in Hawaii, so they will accommodate not only the Pacific fleet but the whole American navy if necessary. This was recommended late in 1919 by a "Special Board of Inspection of Naval Bases" and plans are being prepared here for the project. The cost at that time was estimated around $27,000,000. This would be a first class naval base and would be used as a strategic necessity.

Pinn Frisco Base

The next big project of coast defense for naval operations will be the development of a deepwater base on the San Francisco Bay, the recommendations being for both destroyer and submarine bases. Navy officials are now trying to decide between Alameda on the east side of the bay, and Hunters Point, on the San Francisco side, as the site for the base. The estimated cost of this is around $42,500,000.

Another of the big projects recommended for the development in Puget Sound, Washington. The expenditure on this would be around $44,000,000.

Development of Bremerton navy yard for use of capital ships, development of Pacific torpedo station on submarine base and the development of a submarine, destroyer and aviation operating base at Ediz Hook, Wash.

Los Angeles Interested

The other recommendations are that the government spend about $200,000 at San Pedro, Cal., on a submarine base on a jetty offered by Los Angeles, and to spend $27,000,000 at

San Diego, Cal., developing the present aviation base, the fuel station, the marine base, the training station, hospital, supply and repair base.

Another recommendation is that there should be an operating base for submarines, destroyers and aircraft on Panama bay, and that battleships should be developed for docking and repair facilities.

Getting further into the Pacific, a first class naval base is recommended for the Island of Guam, and going still further, a second class naval base is recommended for Manila Bay, Philippines. This is Uncle Sam's furthest west possession and is at the back door of Japan.

PLAN AMERICANIZATION OF IMMIGRANT MEMBERS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Plans for Americanization of immigrants were emphasized today at the biennial session of the United Lutheran church. Reports of mission boards told of the work being done to familiarize such Lutherans with the English language.

Delegates from the northwestern synod, which includes parts of Canada, asked authorization to raise $50,000 for their educational institutions under the control of the education board.

The convention referred the matter to a special committee.

"The Germans brethren of the northwest," H. B. Robb of Milwaukee, declared, "are looking to see what kind of control we are going to try to exercise over their institutions."

The Germans, another said, thought efforts "were being made to Americanize them" too fast.

Medals were presented to the Lutheran ministers who served as chaplains in the army and navy during the war.

Dr. F. B. Knobel, in presenting the medals, declared that more than 200,000 men of the Lutheran faith served during the war.

GIVE FINANCIAL REPORT

ROME, Oct. 25.—Official figures are now published showing that from August 1, 1914, to June 30, 1920, Italy spent 110,702,000,000 lire in connection with the war, while the income during the same period was only 59,000,000,000 lire. These expenditures included the normal sums for running the state, which before the war amounted to 2,500,000,000 lire yearly.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre At Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm, makes or mars the face. When it falls, turns gray, and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it does not irritate and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two the hair is restored, and it becomes thick, strong and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Adv.

RED CROSS WORKERS PLAN ANNUAL DRIVE

A meeting of the Red Cross workers committee was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Clouche, chairman of the committee to make plans for the drive which will start November 2nd. The members each pledged themselves to get behind the Fourth of July call and boost. It is the desire of all the members to make this one of the best years of the Roll Call in Twin Falls. One dollar gives you a membership of a year.

SUPPLY OF BONDED GRAIN SHOWS CHANGE

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The visible supply of American and bonded grain shows the following changes: Wheat, increased 2,280,000 bushels. Corn decreased 552,000 bushels. Oats increased 2,184,000 bushels. Rye decreased 756,000 bushels. Barley increased 21,000 bushels.

WRESTLERS TO MEET HERE ELECTION DAY

On election day, Tuesday, November 2, Cliff Lewis, Pacific coast middleweight champion, and Ira Bern, champion of the world's middleweight championship, will clash here at the Lavering theater. These men are both topnotchers in their class and they have never met before, but fans in Twin Falls may look forward to a lively evening.

Lewis has for some time been the class of grapplers of his weight on the Pacific coast and is always "clever" artist. Bern claims the middleweight title of the world by virtue of his defeat of Wiliano Ketonen at Boston last spring. The men will meet at catch weight, it has been decided, but the referee has not yet been picked.

There will also be a fast preliminary bout between the two local boys, Bill Lueto and Tom Harris. They are nanamweights and this will be the first time that they have ever appeared such other. Arrangements have been completed for the announcement of election returns during the course of the matches.

WILL ENFORCE TIME LIMIT ON UNIFORMS

The department of Justice, it was learned through the local army recruiting station yesterday, has been ordered to enforce the three months limit restriction as to the wearing of army uniforms by discharged men and others.

It is not thought that there are any operatives in the field yet, but they will get into action soon, and every person who is still wearing any article of army equipment is warned to either have it dyed or to have it altered. Under the three months regulation it is, however, permitted that ex-servicemen may wear uniforms on special occasions.

DIGEST OF AUDITOR'S REPORT

The Twin Falls Rochdale Co-Operative Association Period May 15th, 1920 to September 30th, 1920

AUDITOR—John Wolfenden, Twin Falls, Idaho. The complete report is on file at the office of the association and may be inspected by interested stockholders.

PROGRESS OF BUSINESS The stockholders on the whole have reason to be satisfied with the result of the first four and one-half months of business of the association.

While without a doubt the profits shown will not be up to the expectations of a good many, yet in all fairness it must be remembered that had the Association broken even this period under audit, no legitimate reason would exist that appear for adverse criticism.

In the first place the Association commenced its labors in troublesome times, what with the financial stringency, high cost of labor and of merchandise, etc., and indeed it is doubtful if a more inauspicious time, financially speaking, could have been selected for the opening out of the store and experiment in co-operation.

Again, heavy expenses have been incurred during this period that will very probably not occur again during the remaining months to complete the first year of business, and these expenses were unavoidable and have been kept within bounds.

Stockholders will be gratified to learn that nothing has been bought that was not discounted. The small amount owing on accounts payable was liquidated in the first days of October. The Association's credit ranks high with wholesale houses.

Many will question the small amount shown as profit on the Grocery Department, in view of the heavy sales, $79,227.54, and large purchases, $74,567.45. Net profit on the Grocery Department is $2,650.88.

This fact should be strongly pointed out to the members of the association, who in turn should endeavor to spend as much of the money received from the sale of butter and eggs in their own store. Were this done the association would without a doubt break even on the above transactions, which would be real co-operation.

The Main Avenue store has been completely fitted up as a Grocery Department, and the organization is now ready and large enough to handle comfortably twice as many stockholders.

It is the wish of the Directors, I am given to understand, to open out Shoes, Clothing and Implement Departments in the Main Avenue store, and to go into lumber in a much larger scale than at present in the terminal. I would point out that if these departments are to be opened out at the expense of the Association getting into debt, or getting off a discount basis, that such would not be recommended. Once the Association gets off the discount basis it will be a matter of extreme difficulty to get back to same, and this discount basis is a sine qua non for success. The only practical solution is for stockholders to take out more stock. To do this an extensive campaign should be started for the purpose of obtaining new stockholders, and getting present stockholders to subscribe for the maximum number of shares. If a stock campaign could realize $25,000 it would be sufficient to start the new departments, and also practically pay off the remaining indebtedness on your real estate.

A terminal has been opened out and financed by the Main Avenue store handling coal, sacks, and a limited amount of lumber. A slight profit has been made on this department, to a little over $1,000.

The net profit made on the whole Association for period under review was $3,570.48.

This will allow a dividend of 5 per cent on stockholders' purchases over $10.00, and a dividend of 2 1/2 per cent on non-stockholders' purchases over $10. The remainder would pass to reserve, as laid down in your articles, and also be set aside as this portion share of the 6 per cent due on partial stock.

Of a total sales of $115,410.85, the sum of $56,145.86 is subject to dividends, made up as follows:

OUR GREAT STOCK REDUCING SALE

The lowered prices indicated in our advertising this week ought to be good news to you, coming as it does just at a season when stocks are complete and assortments practically unbroken. During the war when prices advanced rapidly we were successful in protecting you by marking up your goods as the last resort only. Today when prices are returning downward, we are now endeavoring to anticipate the market and lower our prices to fit reductions that will be made months ahead.

In this way we are protecting your FUTURE PURCHASES and making it secure for you to BUY TODAY at this STORE'S LOW PRICE. We are taking our losses QUICKLY and GOOD NATUREDLY and unlike most stores are not trying to PROLONG the AGONY by holding off marking goods down. Our advertising, therefore, carried with it these days some mighty interesting news for you. Of course space in ads is limited and your best opportunity lies in coming to the store where YOU will find PRICE REDUCTIONS on every hand. Our ads deal with price reductions of wanted merchandise and they set the pace in reduced prices by many months. Read the adv. Visit the store. Let us prove that the quality is up, the price is DOWN. THE BARGE FREIGHT LINES

Two years ago, as an emergency war measure, the government inaugurated a barge freight service on the navigable waterways of the Mississippi valley. When the war need passed the barge line was continued as an experiment for the purpose of determining whether boats can carry freight on inland waters with profit at lower rates than the railroads. If Congress finds the experiment successful it will probably make the necessary appropriations for placing adequate barge fleets upon the trunk waterways of that region. If the experiment does not seem to justify such action it will probably mean that these river highways will be practically abandoned for another generation as far as freight traffic is concerned, and the valley cities will lose their large trade opportunities along with their cheap egress to the ocean.

The experiment was handicapped from the start by the use of 20-year-old towboats which were unable to stand the 2200 mile round trip. Lack of power, break-downs and tie-ups due to defective equipment interrupted the service frequently. As a result the barge line lost money right along and has to show an apparent failure. Another costly weak spot was the lack of terminal facilities adequate for handling the freight. Terminals are proposed for St. Louis, East St. Louis, Memphis and New Orleans. Without them the cost of loading and handling cargoes will be prohibitive.

The chief hopeful facts proved by the experiment are that dependable channels for such traffic exist and that there is a huge volume of freight sufficient to justify the equipment of a good-sized fleet of larger, modern towboats. In a way the experiment may be said to have both failed and succeeded. Yet even in its failure it seems to point the way to a greater success under proper conditions with good equipment and wise management.

STAND FOR PRINCIPLE

It is gratifying to realize that the American citizen still retains his absolute independence as shown by the number of really big men who have openly stated that they intend to stand for the League of Nations and vote for Governor Cox because of his stand for it. There have been defections from the Republican party of men who have for years been its stalwart adherents. They have hesitated before taking this step. They have waited to learn from Senator Harding's lips that he is definitely opposed to the League and that he will reject it.

Senator Harding took this stand in his Des Moines speech. He came out openly and flatly against the League and from that moment friends of the League knew that there was no hope for its ratification through him. It was not until they were assured in this unmistakable manner that they made their decision.

Every day greater numbers are leaving the ranks of the Republican party because of the reactionary stand of its candidate. Governor Cox has stated repeatedly that he will make it one of the first acts of his administration to send the peace treaty back to the senate for ratification with any reservations that may appear necessary. "I am for the League of Nations," says Governor Cox. Nothing could be more definite.

WHERE ARE THE TOOLS?

Where are the gardening tools, now that the gardening season is over? Are they strewn around the yard in thriftless and unsightly fashion? Are they thrown in a heap in some shed or box, scantily protected from thievery or the weather? Is the wheelbarrow muddaked; are hoe and spade covered with corroding rust; the little tools buried under old baskets and rubbish? And the lawn mower, most expensive and often most abused of the home lot equipment, what of its fate and its chances for practically unimpaired usefulness next summer?

All of these things cost money, all of them will be needed again, next spring, yet how many of them will be ruined or lost when a few minutes time would save them?

Why not clean them up, rub them over with a little grease, oil any parts which should be oiled, attend to small repairs, put them away safely until needed?

And now that we are on the subject, why not treat the more expensive farm machinery to the same common sense methods, giving it the care and protection from the weather which its cost and usefulness would indicate? The saving in money would be considerable, and the added convenience in having things to hand and in good shape next spring would more than compensate for the trouble.

OUTWITTING THE FOG

Fog makes it equally difficult for either the great steamship or the towing tug to make or leave its dock in safety. Some method for defeating this age-long enemy has been sought by navigators, for centuries. The navy has been experimenting with a sound guide which seems to indicate the search is ended.

The guide consists of a cable laid in the middle of the ship channel and highly charged with electricity. Ear-like receivers on the ship's sides take up the sounds made by the electric current in the cable and convey them to the navigating officer listening at his station. When the sounds come with equal clearness from both sides he knows his ship is directly over the cable. A weakening in either direction tells him the ship is veering and she can be straightened up. The destroyer Semmes came into New York harbor the other day with all her pilot windows shrouded, relying only upon this device for her direction. She made her dock without difficulty or accident.

Should the sound guide prove wholly successful under further tests its elimination of the delays and dangers which fog has precipitated hitherto will be of the greatest importance to all navigation.

THE EXISTING LEAGUE

How futile it is for Republican supporters of Senator Harding to talk about a "concert of nations" or a "world association." Senator Harding and his friends know that no such thing is possible. They know that the League of Nations is in existence, that forty nations have joined it, that it is operating.

These friends of the republican candidate know that all his talk about forming a new association is pure bunk, that the nations which have become members of the League of Nations will not desert it for something that is not in existence but is only in the mind of a candidate who is wobbling on a great world issue.

The people of this country who vote for Harding in the belief that he will be able to bring about such an association are voting for him under a misapprehension. He cannot do so. The only honorable thing to do is to join the nations of the world in the League of Nations, to take our part in world peace and add our influence to this great existing body.

This can only be accomplished through the election of Governor Cox who stands squarely for the League and this country's entry into it. Senator Harding has stated that he is opposed to the League and will turn his back upon it.

A British society proposes to fix the language of flying. And considering the language we have heard father use to the automobile, perhaps it is just as well.

"The highest office in the gift of the American people," they used to call it. Even gifts come high now.

MODERN ROBINSON CRUSOE RETURNS TO HOMELAND

CHRISTFIELD. Md.—Self-banished from society, cut off from mankind, on Watts Island, 15 miles from here, Charles H. Hardenburg spent twelve years of his life.

Hardenburg is truly a modern Robinson Crusoe. Like Crusoe, he has found deliverance from his "Island of Despair," and returned to civilization. "Watts Island" is a tiny "jewel" of pine forest and virgin beach, set in the beautiful and turquoise waters of Chesapeake bay. It is two miles long and of 200 acres, a third of which is high ground.

The nearest inhabited land is Tucker Island, six miles away, where a fisherman set long ago shot a boy who broke the "zo-in-church" law. Crisfield is fifteen miles to the north. Though Watts lies nearest Maryland, it is a part of Virginia. There is a light-house and a frigate dwelling built by Hardenburg's ancestors in 1784. His uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Doremus, lived 30 years on Watts, and four of his ancestors are buried there.

Hardenburg, Princeton graduate and wealthy attorney of Jersey City, was sick, and his physicians told him that unless he "went back to nature" he would die. Dr. Daniel S. Hardenburg, Charles' brother, and an eminent Jersey physician, was so sure that his brother's death was near, that he bought Watts Island from their aunt and gave it to Charles.

Then came the exile and the long sojourn on the tiny "continent" alone with the scrubby and a frigate dwelling built by Hardenburg's ancestors in 1784. The constant booming of the surf and the creaky creaks of the sea gulls are the only sound to break the silence.

Fate kept Crusoe to his island, and he longed constantly for the life of the shoreward he had left. So it was with Hardenburg, yet his indomitable will to health kept him on the island.

"I hadn't been there long until I knew that life on the island was my way to health," he told me. "I truly believe I would have been in my grave today had I not gone to Watts. So, when people say they think I wasted twelve years of my life, I disagree."

At times fate too, held Hardenburg's captives. Two years ago the sea to shoreward was frozen over and Hardenburg's supplies grew low. He lived on unseasoned bread, the fat of a goose he killed and coffee. When the sea broke pentecost's banishment, Van sent relief supplies.

Life was pretty much "one thing after another" to Hardenburg.

He rose at sunrise, cooked his meal and cleaned his island. Then he rowed his boats to his fish traps and in the afternoon hunted geese, brant and swan. There was an inexhaustible supply of shell fish at his door.

In the summer Hardenburg kept a garden and in the winter spent most of his time with books.

"However," he did, lived seven years. The loss of his toes by a gun shot and a fight with a muskrat hastened his end. Hardenburg missed "water."

Hardenburg brought a "tabby cat" to his island and a year later a fisherman from Tangier left him in "Tom cat." Now there are "wild cats" all over the island. And they are wild!

Re-Adaptation Hard Year followed year, and, while Hardenburg never quite gave up his longing for the gentler things of life, he found interest in his solitude.

Now Hardenburg finds it a little hard to readapt himself to the ways of civilization.

"I have an indescribable feeling that I cannot find enough excitement to offset the solitude of the island life," he told me at Titton, Ga., where he has accepted a position with his brother, R. P. Bentley, of the The Guaranty Company.

Crusoe married on his return. Maybe Hardenburg won't—but I found him the center of society in Titton.

FARM BUREAU TO MARKET POULTRY

From Moore of Extension Department, Here to Aid in Disposing of 3000 Culls Gathered on This Tract.

From Moore, of the poultry department of the state university, will be here this week to help market the 3,000 culls which have been reported from Buhl, Ellor and Twin Falls after the culling campaign conducted last week by the farm bureau. These culls will be gathered up in Buhl, Tuesday, October 26, Ellor, Wednesday, October 27, and Twin Falls, Thursday, October 28, and crates will be shipped in to the various railroad stations to receive them.

The price obtained for the lot in 22 cents per pound, inquiry into local marketing conditions revealing the fact that dealers were not able to handle so large a quantity or to offer as good a price. Farmers who have poultry to sell should not be influenced by the temporary increase in Twin Falls, according to Mr. Moore, for if they will review market conditions in Twin Falls county they will find that last year when fowls were selling up to 28 and 30 cents per pound at Boise and Nampa, they were from 10 to 13 cents here.

Mr. Moore calls attention to the fact that the market this year, in the face of a lower market generally, has been much better in Twin Falls. Poultry is on the decline, the same as butter, lamb, hay and other farm products, and according to Mr. Moore the figures that will be secured for fowls during the coming weeks will be the highest possible market price. Mr. Moore states that while local dealers may say that they will give as high rates as the one offered from the outside market, they cannot and will not absorb the offer.

The farm bureau officials direct that the fowls should be brought in to the shipping points with empty crops and a little feed brought along to put into the coops later, stating that there is no shortage when fowls are shipped fairly light of crop and fat content, and that they reach their destination in much better physical condition than when they are shipped heavy of crop.

This work is the result of the efforts of the local project leaders who were interested and willing to help make the campaign a success. Special mention is made by Mr. Moore of Mrs. Rachael Butler, Mrs. E. J. Williams and Bill Holmes. The poultry specialist says that the putting over of a marketing campaign of this character means the building up of a permanent, fair market price for poultry and poultry products in Twin Falls county.

Society

Mrs. George Stettler, Mrs. Thomas Robbery and Mrs. F. R. Cox were hostesses yesterday afternoon at the home of the latter with a shower complimentary to Mrs. Leo Graybeal, nee Dorothy Adams, a bride of a week. Mrs. Graybeal was presented early in the afternoon with many beautiful gifts, the remainder of the afternoon being spent with cards, the winner pledging herself to a can of fruit for the guest of honor. Mrs. Thomas Robbery and Mrs. Cox tied for high score. The hostess served a two-course luncheon at the close of the afternoon. There were twenty-five guests present. The Cox home was most attractive with its masses of roses and asters, used profusely throughout the house.

Mrs. A. J. Knight will entertain the R. N. A. club at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Harriman Contract With Germans May Tie Up Merchant Marine; New Board May Help

WASHINGTON.—The whole future of the American merchant marine and of this nation's maritime relationship with the rest of the world, may be bound up in contracts entered into between the American Ship & Commerce Corporation of New York, headed by young W. Averill Harriman, son of the railroad wizard, E. H. Harriman, and the Hamburg-American line.

Whether these contracts and the plan they involve to develop America's ocean commerce, not as a purely American undertaking, but simultaneously with and as a part of the rehabilitation of Germany's merchant marine, will be permitted to stand, depends upon five members of the United States shipping board, as yet unnamed.

The Community Spirit

Twentieth century progress has given us thousands of things our forefathers lived without. Such things make it possible for us to support an ever-growing population in increasing comfort and plentifulness.

Modern progress is based upon cooperation. Each of us does those things we are best fitted to do well, and each of us is dependent in turn upon the others for everything else.

Only by all working together, the farmers and the city people, the merchants and the buying public, the manufacturers and their employees can we ever develop that true community spirit which will give all maximum prosperity.

APPOINT SPENCER CITY ENGINEER

City Council Accepts Designation of E. V. Berg as Regular Session of Aldermen

The city council last night accepted the resignation of E. V. Berg as city engineer and appointed Spencer as his successor. Council then consumed about a half hour in giving Mr. Spencer his instructions, but no general discussion of anything but conditions that efficiency is all that is required.

Dr. W. A. Brown appeared before council with a complaint against the drainage committee, claiming that through the city paving engineer he had entered into a verbal understanding with that committee for the putting in of a driveway on his property. Dr. Brown declared that not only had the road never been completed, but that the sidewalk had been torn up and a heap of rubbish left on the driveway directly in front of his residence. He asked the help of the city in forcing the construction company to remove the same and to have the same replaced as to whether council had the authority to order such removal.

A. D. Stafford presented an argument against the installation by the city of water meters, claiming that it has been the general experience in other cities completed, but that such action results in a cessation of the watering of lawns and spoils the scenic effect of the town. Council, after much discussion, refused to reopen the subject and decreed that the installation go on.

During the course of this discussion attention was called several times to the enormous water waste in this city. Mayor Edridge stating that an engineer had told him that the water consumption here was the same as that of the city of Detroit, Mich., which has a population of 46,000. Much of this waste was attributed to the excessive use of water on lawns.

Mr. Stafford proposed that the money which would have been devoted to the purchase and maintenance of water meters be used for the enlargement of the filtration plant. It was brought out that the average daily amount of water used in the city is about 9,000,000 gallons and that the cost of purifying runs about $12 per million gallons. The meters will cost a piece with out the cost of installation.

Asher H. Wilson and Newell S. Wicht again appeared with the proposition to purchase the Loeving avenue property for use as a permanent automobile park. Citizens which they created showed that the Twin Falls Canal company would undertake to cure the seepage of the land under consideration at the cost to the city of $15 per acre. The matter was put off until the next meeting when the Councilmen have promised that the company might claim that the curing of the land had benefited some other parties with land adjoining and charge it to the city.

W. A. Minnick, city clerk, was instructed to forward the proceedings on the coming bond election to W. O. Oakley and company, bond attorneys of Chicago, for the legal opinion.

SENATOR NUGENT DELIVERS ADDRESS

Citizens Fill Theater to Hear Democratic Candidate for Re-election to United States Senate.

United States Senator John F. Nugent last night spoke to an audience which filled Laverne theater, following an address to an afternoon meeting in Dubu.

The speaker last night was introduced by W. Orr Chapman, who occupies the position of his party in the campaign to the effect that a vote for Cox is a vote for a league of nations and a vote for Harding is a vote against the league.

In opening his address Senator Nugent paid high tribute to the Democratic party, who is one of the four democratic candidates for presidential election, and predicted that the Hoover majority would be larger than that of any man on the ticket in the state.

Senator Nugent, prior to discussion of the league of nations, outlined briefly the history of the work of the Wilson administration, as written on the statute books by the congress prior to its overturn in the election two years ago. He recounted the federal reserve banking law, the income tax law, the federal farm loan act and the act exempting farmers organizations from the penalties of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Opening discussion of the tariff in and out of the statement that this is a false issue, he said that if there had been failure to enact tariff legislation, that failure falls upon the republicans, since they are in power in both branches of congress. But it is not tariff schedules which are the issue of the low price of wheat, said the speaker.
