

Lloyd George Is Still Able to Laugh.

LONDON.—This picture doesn't need any story, but the writer is a bit of a writer—and, anyhow, you might not notice the ebullient spirit too.

Next to Lloyd George, is Mrs. Lloyd George, holding the big bouquet, which the shy little girl has just presented (and, if you must know, she chewed her finger so hard, it had to be tied up). In spite of the mine strikers, Indian unrest, the Irish question, government beer and the low value of the British pound—(see headline).

HEAR WITNESS IN SHIPPING BOARD PROBE

Deputy Chief of Bureau of Investigation Gives Testimony

TOUCH UPON ALLEGED "POLITICAL ACTIVITY"

Declares Criticism Made on Influence of McAdoo With Members of Board

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Alleged "political activity" previously referred to in testimony and reports before the Walsh commission was again touched upon in testimony presented here today.

Questioner: "Congressman Foster questioning John T. Meahan, deputy chief of the board's bureau of investigation, asked if there had been any loss to the government through political influence."

The witness replied that he could not say that there had.

Asked if there had been any complaints of such influence, the witness said that he had heard some criticism of William G. McAdoo after he had resigned the office of secretary of the treasury. "It was charged—or rather complained of—the witness added, that Mr. McAdoo had appeared before the board on behalf of the Moore interests."

"I do not want to be understood," the witness continued, "as saying that it is even inferred that Mr. McAdoo has interfered with, or has been harmful to the board in any way. He explained he was testifying only as to criticism as he had heard."

Did Not Overlook Official
Meahan also said that while most of the investigations of his department had not overlooked officials, he added there had been very high in the board's personnel. He repeated previous testimony that no irregularities had been discovered among the board's officers. References were made however to department heads—particularly in the southern district ship yards where diamonds had taken place at his recommendation. At one of these diamonds which was brought about, he said, by what he termed undue and unnecessary delay and exorbitant expenses in repairs to a wooden ship. The final repair bill on this ship, he said, amounted to fully $200,000 and the ship could not be sold today for $75,000.

PROBE "SOLUTION" OF EXPLOSION

New York District Attorney Begins Investigation of Bomb Outrage On Wall Street

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Official investigation of the "solution" of the Wall street explosion September 16, put forth by the New York Evening World yesterday was begun today by District Attorney Beaman's examination of men mentioned in the labor "war" attributed by the papers as having furnished the motive for the crime.

William Zaranko, president of the house wreckers union No. 25, which the newspaper charged had been subjected to "bribery" at the hands of the rival organization of Robert P. Brindell, president of the building trades council, and Albert A. Volk, head of a company which had the demolition contract of the New York Stock Exchange annex underwent lengthy examination.

Individual laboring men, "possibly inside the union" or sympathizers, the paper declared, were responsible for the explosions as reprisals against "Brindell workers" employed by Volk.

Much of Volk's statement to the district attorney was devoted to what he said was his own "theory" of the explosion. That it was done to hurt or frighten some of my men and to the statement alleged to have been made by Raymond Clark, former foreman for Volk, that a man reported to him immediately after the explosion that it was his horse that had been killed. Clark, the newspaper asserted, was the victim of an attempted assassination within a month after the explosion.

HARDING AGREES TO MAKE ADDRESS

Will Speak At New Orleans Before Making Trip to Panama—Declines Other Engagements.

POINT ISABEL, Nov. 12.—President-elect Harding, whose outing at Point Isabel ends next Wednesday, has agreed to deliver an address in New Orleans on the following day just before he sails for his voyage to Panama. He will speak at a luncheon of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce and is expected to discuss in particular the economic possibilities and requirements of the new south and the need for a national industrial policy.

Many invitations to speak at other places in the south and southwest have come to the president-elect, but he is declining all of them.

Leaving Brownsville at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning on a special train he will try to avoid ear-photograph speeches on the way northward, along the Gulf coast and by a fast run will reach New Orleans Thursday morning. His steamer sails that afternoon.

Senator Harding's decision to accept the New Orleans speaking invitation means that in consequence of his oft repeated ambition to obliterate sectionalism, his first three formal addresses as president-elect are to be delivered within the territory of the old confederacy and in states that have long been pillars of the democratic solid south. The first of these addresses was delivered in Brownsville yesterday and the third has been scheduled December fifth at Bedford, Virginia.

Asks Observance of Thanksgiving Day

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—President Wilson issued his Thanksgiving proclamation tonight saying that "in plenty, security and peace, our virtuous and self-reliant people face the future, and setting aside Thursday, November 25 for the usual observances. The text follows:

"The season approaches when it behooves us to turn from the distractions and pre-occupations of our daily life, that we may give thanks to the mercies which have been vouchsafed to us and render heartfelt and unfeigned thanks unto God for His manifold goodness."

"This is an old observance of the American people, deeply imbedded in our thoughts and habits. The burdens and the stresses of life have their own insistence."

"We have abundant cause for thanksgiving. The lesson of the war are rapidly healing. The grant of many of free men, which America sent to the defense of liberty, returning to the grateful embrace of the nation, has resumed the useful pursuit of peace, as simply and as profitably as it rushed to arms in obedience to the country's call. The equal justice of our laws has received steady vindication in the support of a law abiding people against various and sinister attacks which have reflected only the basest agitations for war, now happily passing."

"In plenty, security and peace our virtuous and self-reliant people face the future, its duties and its opportunities. A may have vision to discern our duties; the strength, both of hand and resolve, to discharge them; and the soundness of heart to realize that the truest opportunities are those of service."

"In a spirit, then of devotion and stewardship we should give thanks in our hearts and devote ourselves to the service of God's merciful and loving purposes to His children."

"Wherefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-fifth day of November next as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and I call upon my countrymen to cease from their ordinary tasks and devote that day giving it up to the remembrance of God and His blessings and their dutiful and grateful acknowledgments."

CHANGES MADE IN TIMETABLE

Oregon Short Line Announces New Schedule to Go Into Effect Sunday.

Important changes in the time table of the Oregon Short Line which will take effect this Sunday assure Twin Falls of much better service from the railroad than the city has ever received before. Many long waits for connections with the main line at Minidoka are eliminated, both going and coming to the city. Hours for leaving and arriving here are increased with the exception of train number 23, which will now arrive at 12:10 instead of 11:45 as previously.

One of the great benefits which Twin Falls will derive from the change in the schedule is that the train which arrives here at 3:45 p. m., will connect with the fast mail train at Minidoka, leaving there at 1:55. This will prevent a layover of the mail at that place where it was formerly necessary to wait for the morning train, causing a delay of almost 24 hours. This train, however, will not have any passenger connections at all.

The train leaving here at 1:55 a. m. will arrive in Minidoka at 7:50, making connections there with No. 18, going east, at 8:25, and with No. 19, going west, at 9:25. The afternoon train which leaves Twin Falls at 4:45 p. m., connects with No. 17, going west, arriving at Minidoka at 7:15, while the through train is now scheduled to pull out at 7:50 p. m.

The time table of train No. 23 has been so changed that it will arrive at 12:10 instead of 11:45. Passengers enroute to this city will leave Minidoka at 9:40 a. m., those from the east having a wait of only 35 minutes, while passengers from the west will spend about an hour at the junction. These changes in the time table will make Twin Falls much easier to reach, according to the local agent of the railroad company. He states that all of the trains with which the new connections have been established are fast trains and make good time.

All samples must leave here by the 15th day of this month, as the show will be held from November 27 to December 4. BUSINESS TO FIGHT

Business men of the city are undertaking a drastic campaign against the bad check evil with the assistance of the international detective agency which has recently established offices here.

In three days during the past week 276 checks which were drawn on local banks with no funds to cash them were collected by the local representative of the agency. The E. D. A. man states that those "no-fund" checks now outstanding will be given a reasonable time for the depositing of funds to cover, but that after that time has elapsed prompt action for collection will be taken.

Most overdrafts, according to the detective, are due to poor business methods rather than to criminal intent on the part of the man issuing the check for which he has no funds or insufficient funds to cover. A very small proportion of these instruments are put out, he says, with an avowed object of beating the bank, who catches it out of the amount.

The E. D. A. is one of the largest and most efficient organizations of its kind, with offices and correspondents in every large city throughout the country and in a multiplicity of the smaller ones. Its activities embrace every branch of the business from collections to special investigations.

BASEBALL HEADS DECIDE ON PEACE

Major League Magnates Choose Judge Landis as Referee to Control National Game.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 12.—The warring baseball factions in the major leagues today made peace, each side conceding certain points to the other in the battle over the reorganization of professional baseball control.

After a three-hour session the representatives of the sixteen clubs voted unanimously to appoint Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis supreme dictator of the league's destinies, but it did away with the civilian tribunal proposed by the Lasker plan, voting instead that Judge Landis should be a committee of one in charge of the administration of the league affairs.

Judge Landis immediately accepted the position but stipulated he would remain on the Federal district bench and hold both positions. Judge Landis, salary as chairman of baseball will be $42,500 a year and he will receive $7,500 a year as federal judge, giving him an annual stipend of $50,000. Originally he was offered $50,000 as baseball chairman but it was reduced to the amount he receives as judge.

The fundamental principles of the Lasker plan of reorganization were agreed to by President Johnson and the Philadelphia, Washington, Detroit, Cleveland and St. Louis American League clubs—which sided with President Johnson in opposing the Lasker plan.

After the meeting the magnates came out arm in arm and a majority of them proceeded to Judge Landis chambers to inform him of their decision.

"We've made a real peace—one that will last," was the comment of President William Veeck of the Chicago National League club as these meetings broke up. "The full details of the reorganization have not been settled of course but we expect to issue a formal statement soon telling all about it. It is enough to say now that the war is over and everyone of us is mighty glad of it."

Today's meeting was arranged at the minor league convention in Kansas City a few days after the 11 clubs favoring the Lasker plan had formed a new 12 club league—which now automatically is thrown out of existence. It was arranged when the club owners found that they apparently did not differ in their fundamental ideas of reorganization—a fact brought before the minor leagues in addresses by representatives of both sides.

No official record of the proceedings of the meeting today was kept. There were no lawyers, stenographers or clerks present and President John Heydler of the National league and President Johnson of the American league were absent.

NASH FOUR PRICE WITH CORD TIRES IS ANNOUNCED

Announcement has been made that the price of the Nash Four with cord tires equipment will be $1295 f. o. b. Milwaukee. C. W. Nash, president of The Nash Motors company made the announcement at a sales meeting of the Nash distributors at the Kenosha factory. The price applies to the five passenger touring car and two passenger roadster, no selling figure having as yet been set on the five passenger sedan and three passenger coupe. The car, like the Nash Six, has two conspicuous and outstanding features—unusual power, due to its Nash Perfect Valve-In-Head motor and really exceptional beauty of design and finish.

Sample cars are being shipped to Nash distributors throughout the country this week. In outlining the method of distribution to be followed, Mr. C. B. Voorhis, vice president and general sales manager, stated, "It will be our policy after each distributor has had his sample car send sample cars to each one of the 1800 Nash dealers in the country and we will not give any dealer or distributor a second Four cylinder Nash car until all Nash dealers have received their first sample car." The price of the Nash Four is extremely low for a car of its quality," said Mr. Voorhis, "which demonstrates again the ability of this organization to produce a fine product at a moderate cost."

PLAN TO SECURE SPECIAL TRAIN FOR GAME

Plans are under way to secure a special train to transport the football team of the local high school and all those who wish to attend the game to fight when the high school there is played at that place on November 19.

Whether or not the plan will go through is still problematical as only 150 persons have been signed up for the trip. It will be necessary to secure a minimum crowd of 225 in order to secure the train, but the boys are now at work rounding up all those who can make the trip. Anyone who can go and whose name has not yet been listed is requested to inform Jake Lewis or Lawrence Hjer. The fare for the trip will be $1.10. All students at the high school must, however, have the written permission of their parents as school will be held as usual on that day.

JUDGE LANDIS TO HEAD BASEBALL

Popular Member of Bar Accepts Offer of Major Leagues to Govern Professional Ball

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis today accepted the "chairmanship of professional baseball" after it had been tendered him by unanimous votes of the major league clubs and thereby became the final court of appeal in all matters of administration which may come up between the national and American leagues and any minor leagues which voluntarily join in the proposed organization of baseball.

Judge Landis was hearing a case in which $15,000 bribe in connection with the income tax was charged when a committee of eight club owners called on him. As the matter, filed into the court room, hats in their hands, the judge sharply interrupted the speaker and ordered them to make his name. When informed of their mission he had them escorted to his chambers where they were kept in waiting for 45 minutes before the judge would listen to the offer which increased his annual salary from $7,500 a year to $50,000.

While the magnates waited the judge conducted the bribery trial in his usual vigorous fashion and gave vent to some scathing remarks about the men who falsify their income tax.

Waiting on the judge were Charles Comiskey, William Veeck president of the Chicago National, Jacob Ruppert of the New York Americans, Clark Griffith of the Washington club, Charles Ebbetts of Brooklyn, Jerry Herman of Cincinnati, Barney Dreyfus of Pittsburgh and John Breiten of the St. Louis Nationals. Later they were joined by Condo Mack of the Philadelphia Americans, Robert Quinn and James Dunn of Cleveland.

At first the judge refused the offer on the ground that he "loved his position as judge" too much to quit the bench. Finally, however, he agreed to hold both positions, but specified that his baseball salary should be decreased by $7,500—the amount he receives as judge. It was agreed as chairman he would receive $42,500 a year instead of the $50,000 originally offered.

After the meeting, Judge Landis took Clark Griffith, a personal friend over to a window.

"Griff," he said, "I'm going to tell you just why I took this job. See those kids down there on the street? See that airplane propeller on the wall? Well, that explains my acceptance.

"You see that propeller was on the plane in which my son, Major Wood Landis, flew while aviator of Reed and I went to one of the world series games at Brooklyn. Outside the gate were a bunch of little kids playing around. Reed turned to me and said: 'Dad, wouldn't it be a shame to have the name of these little kids broken up? Wouldn't it be awful to take baseball away from them?' Well, while you gentlemen were talking to me, I looked up at this propeller and I thought of Reed. Then I thought of his remark in Brooklyn. Griff, we have got to keep baseball on a high standard for the sake of the youngsters—that's why I took the job; because I want to help.

AMERICAN INTERESTS ACQUIRE BOLIVIA TIN MINES

VALPARAISO, Nov. 12.—According to an announcement here, American interests recently acquired three Bolivian tin mines located about 50 miles from the Encarnacion station of the Bolivian railway between Oruro and La Paz. Preliminary construction work by American engineers already is under way, it is stated.

CANADA'S TRADE BALANCE.

The United States has but one better customer than Canada—that is England. Every year Canadians buy $800,000,000 worth of merchandise in the United States, more than South America, Africa, Asia and Oceania combined.

In the years before the war Canada's grain and live stock, her minerals and lumber and fish kept the balance so nearly level that the rate of exchange between the nations never assumed an importance which affected trade. But things have changed. Enormous Canadian imports, necessitated by the war, have brought the Dominion a troublesome, adverse trade balance. The Canadian dollar as a result, has been at a grievous discount for months. The American exporter suffers, and so does the Canadian who buys his wares.

Before the war Canadian importers of American goods paid an average duty of 35 per cent ad valorem. The war added a 7-1/2 per cent war tariff. When depression of exchange cut from 12 to 20 per cent from the value of the Canadian dollar, the burden became too great. Last spring Canadians who bought in the states, when they calculated the customs duty and the loss in exchange, found themselves compelled to pay the equivalent of a 52 per cent tax on everything bought south of the border. The situation has improved somewhat since, but it is still far from satisfactory.

Because of this condition more than 200 United States manufacturers have built or leased plants in Canada within the year. These firms are building up purely Canadian business. By this means they escape the Canadian tariff and the loss due to exchange rates, and are enabled to take advantage of the preferential tariff treatment given by other countries of the British empire to goods originating in Canada.

Canada has not yet forgiven this country for the tardiness with which we entered the war. Canadians, proud of their country, are naturally embittered by the unfortunate exchange rate and the resulting high prices which they must pay for goods manufactured here. They do not think the thing through and remember the economic law which is to blame.

The most apparent effect of the whole regrettable situation is that Canada shows a disposition to deal less with us and more with the mother country than ever before. The United States can afford to try conciliation, for the bonds which trade weaves are hard to break.

BANDIT-CATCHING.

The bank employes and neighboring shopkeepers of the little town of Bedford, Ohio, covered themselves with glory the other day by catching most of the members of a gang of bandits who attempted to rob the bank. They proved the value of organization, preparedness and courage. The preparedness measures were later described by the vice president of the great institution in whose little country branch the holdup occurred.

"Some time ago, in anticipation of just such an occurrence, we distributed a number of revolvers to customers and friends of the bank, and instructed them to respond prepared for trouble, at the sound of a certain gong. The alarm system is controlled by electric wiring which is entirely concealed. The only part of the apparatus visible is the button, several of which are distributed at strategic points throughout the bank. It is so arranged that once the gong is sounded it rings continuously and cannot be stopped except by electricians who know where the system is located."

One of the bank employes, thrown down on his face in a back room, found himself four feet from the button. Little by little he edged himself to a position where he could reach it. The gong sounded and the neighbors did the rest. Once free, the bank employes joined the chase. Four of the robbers were captured, one of them wanted for two murders and various other crimes. The rest are supposed to have been wounded.

For a time it seemed as if honest folk were helpless at the hands of these robber gangs. But what man can do, man can prevent or undo. Banking people and inventors everywhere have been working on systems which aim to catch the bank robber. One ingenious scheme is the self-closing door. Buttons are located in many places where the touch of finger or foot can close the circuit which shuts the bank doors and keeps the would-be fugitives within, giving the employes a chance to close round and hold him until the police arrive. Some of these doors are so arranged as to trap the bandits in the vestibule. Arming the neighbors outside the bank, preparing them to come to the rescue and to call the police at the sound of the gong is also, as proved at Bedford, an excellent method.

The Bedford case gives hope where hope had given place to apathy. There are always more people on the side of law, order and property rights than on the other side. It is comforting to find, once more, ground for supporting that doctrine. The only problem is to organize the orderly as well as the disorderly or organize themselves.

THE CALIFORNIA JAPS.

The Japanese problem is up again, as seriously as ever, as a result of the California referendum vote approving the new state law which deprives Japanese of the right to own or lease land. The protests of the Japanese government, it is expected, will be pressed now with renewed vigor. Japan will hardly be satisfied with the old explanation that it is purely a state matter, and the federal government can do nothing. Treaties, naturally, are supposed to apply to every part of the country which agrees to them. The Japanese hold that the United States is disobeying the spirit, if not the letter of its treaty.

The United States is evidently in position to bring similar charges against Japan, on another score—that of colonizing California and other western states with "coolies," or at least winking at such colonization. That is a matter which needs straightening out as much as the land problem.

It will be unfortunate if the latter is allowed to stir up trouble and resentment between California and the rest of the country along with its international complication. There is a possible solution that does not appear to have been given the consideration it deserves. The burden of Japan's plaint is that the California prohibition applies to orientals alone, and virtually to Japanese alone. It is this invidious race distinction that hurts most. Now, Japan herself, as well as various other countries, has a law forbidding foreigners to hold land. Why cannot California accomplish the purpose aimed by extending her law to apply to all foreigners and thus remove the racial cause of protest?

BASEBALL JUSTICE WAITS.

The inquiry into the baseball scandal is at a standstill. Assistant District Attorney James E. Smith of New York, admits that his detectives have failed to locate three of the gamblers suspected of fixing last year's world series games. "There is no hurry, as the crime was committed a year ago," says Mr. Smith, and he admits his intention to "sit tight" and wait, confident that the trio will turn up "sooner or later."

No finer example of the average progress of crime investigation and the administration of justice in this country could be found.

There may be unavoidable delays in the prosecution of any case. There may be difficulties involved in the apprehension of any prisoner, though these are too often fictional for the public good, but so long as a crime is known and its perpetrators are uncaptured and unpunished there is need for hurry, while the attitude that fugitives from justice will "show up sooner or later" is a poor commentary on the activities of those responsible for the preservation of law and order.

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

Editor Chronicle:
Just read your editorial on "Friendless Jazz." Permit me to join you in denouncing this damnable music. I like to dance like to see your folks dance, but in my opinion, this is a vice sanctioned by the public which has done more to lower the morals of young people, both single and married, than any other one thing that has taken the country by storm in years. Parents will permit their daughters and sons to indulge in this "Jazz dance" at home and in public, when it can't breed anything but bold familiarity. It is sensual from inception. The music dances of the dark ages have nothing on the "whimsy." I am in favor of stopping it NOW.

WORKERS AND PEASANTS CAN SECURE EDUCATION

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Every partly educated worker and peasant of either sex attaining the age of 18 has the right to be a student of the Sverdlov Communist university in Moscow, says a wireless message from that city. Persons with higher education are not accepted. The students are supplied with rooms, common dormitories, bed linen, writing materials, books, army rations and an allowance of 5000 rubles a month. Boots and clothes are not supplied.

Leave of absence is only given in rare cases, such as severe family conditions, and only when the students are summoned by a letter or telegram dispatched by the local soviet, or the party committee. Students have to take part in the school work such as wood cutting, looking after the cleanliness and hygiene of the buildings, etc.

GOVERNOR COOLIDGE ATTENDS CELEBRATION

BOSTON, Nov. 11.—Governor Coolidge, vice president elect, with Fred Gilbrath of Cincinnati, national commander of the American Legion, Rear Admiral Harold C. Dorn, commander of the first naval district, and Maj. Gen. David C. Shanks, commanding the first army corps area, attended an armistice day meeting on the Commons steps. Wounded soldiers from Greater Boston military hospitals were guests.

The governor asked the assemblage to remember that "we gather here today not for reviewing the events of the war but for renewing our dedication that our instances shall be perpetuated."

Mr. Gilbrath urged the people to prevent the appointment as head of the army and navy of men "who pay political debts at the expense of the nation."

General Shanks presented Mr. Gilbrath with the victory medal. At a meeting of the Boston City club tonight Mr. Gilbrath suggested the formation of the "Great National Council" for the spread of Americanism. Such a council he said could "cover in dozen forms of Americanism."

tion being spread by a dozen patriotic organizations.

"Like bird seed on the horizon that is eaten almost before it falls" with the support of real Americans.

Deadly Weapon of Warfare.

An invention by a French wireless engineer, M. Danoyeur, will completely change the character of naval warfare. If his claims are fulfilled, says the London Mail, it consists of what he calls an "electric safety net." The mechanism to direct the course of a torpedo and secure its explosion against an enemy warship can be worked not only by wireless waves of the right length, but also by a proper sequence of Morse signals. Any error in the right sequence of dots and dashes would render the torpedo harmless. Each torpedo launched would have its own key as sequence of dots and dashes, and so the enemy would be unable to tamper with it.

Books From Washington's Library.

The sale of the library of the late Samuel Riker of this city was concluded at the Anderson Galleries recently. Dr. A. S. Rowenbach paid $4000 for George Washington's copy of "A Collection of All the Treaties of Peace, Alliance, and Commerce Between Great Britain and Other Powers From the Treaty Signed at Münster in 1648 to the Treaty Signed at Paris, in 1763," three volumes, London, 1765. The work contains Washington's autograph on each title page and his book plate on the inside of each front cover. The work was auctioned off at the sale of the library of Lawrence Washington, the great grandson of George Washington, in Philadelphia, in 1870.—New York Times.

Concerning Aerial Flights.

Air Commodore Edward Maitland of H-34 fame, speaking at the Royal Society of Arts, said that while flying the Atlantic he retired about 9 a. m. and he was advised to say he slept until nine the next day. He found that the air not only induced sleep, but sharpened the appetite. Ladies had often asked him, the commodore said, "Is that should we dress when about to take an aerial flight?" He felt tempted to suggest crinolines, which would become very useful as parachutes should the necessity arise.—London Chronicle.

A Big Contract.

"I see where the people at Atlantic City are asking the authorities to make the high winds stop blowing the sand about at Chelsea."

"Next thing the public will be demanding that somebody stop the hot air blowing in congress."

RECEIVE FIRST DIRECT MESSAGE FROM EXPLORER.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 11.—Captain Thord Amundsen, Arctic explorer, has sent the following telegram to the Berlinische Tidende from East Cape, Siberia, bearing date of August 18:

"We sailed from Nome immediately after my wife of August 8 with only three men as the others claimed wages of 300 pounds sterling monthly. The following day we were held by pack ice in Behring sea. All aboard well."

The foregoing is the first direct message from Captain Amundsen since he set out on his polar expedition from Nome, Alaska, in the ship Maude. Five weeks later information reached Nome that the famous explorer's ship had become wedged in the ice ten days after leaving Cape, 225 miles northwest of Nome, on the Siberian coast. The reports said the ice was 10 feet high about the vessel.

That Cape, Siberia the point from which the explorer, last July, telegram to the Copenhagen paper is about 170 miles northwest of Nome and is on the Behring straits.

MAY COMPENSATE HIGH SPEED DIESEL ENGINES.

BERLIN.—The alleged intention to finance high speed Diesel motors in Germany, whether they are in the process of construction, is to be made the subject of a diplomatic inquiry. This action follows the recent visit of an Entente commission to the big Augsburg industrial plant for the purpose of negotiating patents, which are subsequently to be dismantled or destroyed on the ground that they are suitable for submarines and therefore war material.

A message from Munich stated that workers on these motors were coming to Berlin to protest against seizure of the Diesel stationary motors not usable for U-boat purposes. A semi-official statement says that the inhibition of the manufacture of the motors used for legitimate purposes would mean heavy loss to German industry and result in a large number of workers being out of employment.

WANDERER'S FATE SHOCKS CHICAGO

Twenty-Five Years for Murder is Held Too Light; City Shakes Over Verdict

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—The customary record breaking toll of crime ordinarily leaves Chicago cold and unemotional. But just now the city is stirred over the outcome of the murder trial of the notorious Carl Wanderer.

Chicago thinks a monstrous miscarriage of justice took place when the young ex-army lieutenant got only 25 years in the penitentiary for murdering his young wife, their unborn babe and the "ragged stranger" whom he hired to stage a fake hold-up and give him an excuse for the killings.

City Wide, Censure
City-wide censure is pouring down upon the 12 jurymen who returned the "remarkable" verdict that fixed the degree of Wanderer's punishment. "This is the most pronounced since the statement had been made that the jury, in its 23 hours deliberation never once even considered the death penalty."

The Wanderer verdict has been the chief topic of conversation. It overshadowed the election and politics. The instant demand is that Wanderer be tried again, for the specific murder of the "ragged stranger" which was not included in the trial just completed.

Wanderer confessed his triple murder and revealed the plot he hatched to make it look like a hold-up in which he posed as having accidentally shot his wife in trying to kill the "babe." His motive was to rid himself of his family so he could go back into the army.

Chicago Comments
Here are comments you hear everywhere on the Wanderer verdict: "It's discouraging to be decent," said one—without jest. "The worst is he'll go free before the 26 years are up," said another reading that in 13 years and 9 months Wanderer will be eligible for pardon. "They should have had a jury of women to hear that trial," said many.

Portrait of Mrs. Whitlock

MRS. BRAND WHITLOCK

WASHINGTON.—Belgians are flocking to view this portrait of Mrs. Brand Whitlock, wife of the U. S. ambassador to Belgium, at the Brussels Salon du Printemps where it has been hung. The picture was painted by the Belgian artist, Firmin Back.

"What's the use of a trial any way?" asked one. "They just ought to open the doors and let him out and let somebody pick him off."

Critics want to know if "there is a zone of twilight justice for murderers."

Results of Verdict.
The Wanderer verdict, besides stirring the city's wrath, had these results:

Brought this cry of "anarchist" fight from the murderer: "Can you beat it? Twenty-five years that I beat the rope. I knew they'd never crack me."

Gave a million dollars' worth of advertising as skillful lawyers to Benjamin J. Short and George Guenther, appointed by the court to defend Wanderer.

Put a blemish on the conviction record of Assistant State Attorney James C. O'Brien, known as "Cotton" O'Brien and "Red Necktie" O'Brien, because of his previous success in sending murderers to the gallows.

Undid much of the progress by the police homicide squad and the Chicago Crime commission in checking crime.

Judge Hugo Pam excoriated the jury for first sending him word that they believed the wife-murderer insane and then—by the statement of George J. Thorpe, jury foreman—gave him only 25 years instead of the gallows or a life sentence because they were afraid if they found him insane "he would get away with a year or two in the asylum."

The Wanderer crime occurred last June 21. The "ragged stranger," a youth of 20, has never been identified.

INTEREST CENTERS IN YALE-PRINCETON GAME

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Chief interest in the eastern football games tomorrow centers in the outcome of the Yale-Princeton contest. Several other games, including the Pennsylvania-Dartmouth, Pittsburgh-Washington and Jefferson, Cornell-Columbia and Harvard-Brown, conflicts will attract local attention, but the glimmer of the gridiron classic at Princeton is the outstanding feature. This is particularly true this season for the reason that Princeton enters the contest a slight favorite over Yale and with an excellent record of victories. All football form however, is likely to go awry in the Princeton-Yale game as has been demonstrated time and again when these ancient rivals clash.

It has been down as a football axiom that Yale never is worse than an even money wager against either Princeton or Harvard and with an occasional exception this is true. The cause of her impressive early season record and tie with Harvard last week, Princeton has been quoted in certain quarters as a one-sided favorite to defeat Yale. This, however, does not appear to be justified. Under the coaching of Hoper, has undoubtedly developed a fast well drilled machine with an attack built around several players of individual talent and ability. Lourie, Gaudy, Keck and Murray fit well in with the system of quick dashing runs, ball following, blocking and forward passing. The offensive appears to be better developed than the defensive.

Against this machine Yale will have an eleven of great potential football power, but which has shown little ability to take advantage of its full

WHEAT PRICES STILL DECLINE

Quotations on Cereals Lower Yesterday Than Four Years Previous, Says Market Report.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Notwithstanding the severity with which grain prices have been slashed during the last fortnight, new cuts were witnessed today and quotations for all cereals dropped lower than at any time within the last four years. The fresh downturn today was notable chiefly for the fact that they came after a week's decline of more than 20 cents a bushel in wheat and about 10 cents the week before. Today's setback in wheat ranged from 2 3/4 to 5 cents, with December delivery closing at $1.76 to $1.77 1/2.

Opinion on the exchange today was practically unanimous that the unfavorable financial outlook has had a big share in forcing values to shrink to such an extraordinary degree. Under normal conditions grain prices break equal to those which have been witnessed of late would have induced investment buying on a large scale. Little or no business of the kind, however, has apparently developed on the present decline.

Traders who have recently been on the bear side of the grain markets decline any satisfaction in the huge losses with which owners have been confronted. One dealer conspicuous for having repeatedly predicted lower prices said today he thought it would be better for all concerned if prices would steady or even advance, but he added: "Is the weather man to blame for damage occasioned by the storm that he has forecast?"

WILL INVESTIGATE IOWA HOUSING CONDITIONS

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 12.—Senator W. M. Calder of New York and W. S. Kenyon of Iowa, members of the senate committee on reconstruction in Des Moines today to investigate housing and transportation problems, and other related questions in the state of Iowa. They listened during the day to the testimony of about 25 witnesses, most of them local men, but a number of them from other parts of the state. These men represented banks, building loan organizations, contractors, builders, material supply companies, laboring men, an farmers' associations, receivers, coal miners and other industries connected with the construction of houses.

It was sharply stated by witnesses that Des Moines lacked from 1,000 to 4,000 houses; witnesses from Fort Dodge asserted that conditions there could be handled only by the immediate construction of 500 houses. The prevailing opinion among the men who appeared before the committee was that the entire situation was caused by the money stringency which was in turn due largely to the inability of the farmers to obtain for their crops prices equal to the cost of production. It was stated by several of the witnesses that the waterways offered the only solution to the transportation problem.

PLAN "OPEN SHOP"

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Either the American Federation of Labor settles the strike conditions in New York or the building trades employers will inaugurate an "open shop" policy, the president of the Building Trades Union's association intimated today.

MAY HAVE TO PAY FOR IMMIGRANTS

Uncle Sam May Have to Offer Inducements to Persuade Workers to Come to This Country

By M. P. Burton
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Exactly how much in gold dollars is each immigrant who arrives on our shores from Europe worth to the United States?

That is what Uncle Sam may have to figure out in the very near future, and, moreover, he may have to pay that price for every man who steps out of the steerage onto the gangplank at Ellis Island.

The Inter-Racial council of New York, at least, says so, and that organization, composed of some of the country's keenest business men and social workers has just completed an exhaustive study of the new post-war attitude in European governments toward emigration.

See It As Menace
Most of the countries of Europe owing to labor shortage since the war, now look upon emigration as a menace to national prosperity, and even countries like Italy, with a labor surplus are beginning to control and direct emigration, the American experts declare.

Italy has started to make deals with nations in man-power, say the investigators. She recently completed arrangements with France, suite in need of workers, whereby Italy will receive six tons of coal for every Italian miner who emigrates to France.

Other European countries, not so profligate in Italy of man-power, are now taking decisive steps to prevent or restrict emigration. Belgium, particularly, is averse to the citizens leaving and Poland, Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia and Hungary are now hotly debating this question. Altogether a new chapter is about to be written in the history of European emigration.

Government Steps In
The theme of this chapter, the Inter-Racial council says is that from now on European governments are going to impose THEIR will upon their emigrants, compelling them to go where and when they are told and to leave them no longer free decision in the matter.

How is this to affect America?

The answer is, it will cut down enormously the volume of our immigration unless we make it worth while to European countries, to send their men here.

Governments in Europe are not advising their prospective emigrants to choose America as the land of promise. In fact, investigators report the United States a THIRTD, not first, on Italy's list of countries offering the best opportunities for Italian emigrants. France is first on that official list and Argentina is second.

America Positive

Italy has no wish to injure America, but her ministers say the American government is apparently paying also in the matter—and is not inclined to enter upon any deals or offer any premium or guarantee "returns" for Italian immigration, as will other countries "lally interested in inducing man-power to come in.

Europe has lost 35,000,000 persons since the outbreak of the war, including 20,000,000 through the decline in birth-rate. This is the influence back of the discussion now convulsing European capitals. The outcome may be that soon the present flow of immigration will be greatly checked. This move, in turn, affect us so seriously that we may have to pay premiums to encourage European workers to our shores—in fact we may have to buy workers from Europe.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS PLAN PARTY'S FUTURE

PHILADELPHIA, Ind., Nov. 11.—Numerous conferences were held today among democratic leaders on re-construction policies affecting the democratic party's future.

It is said to be the plan of the party leaders to go over the propositions put forward today in an endeavor to arrive upon some definite plan of reconstruction for the party. When a definite plan is formed, it is stated, sentiment will be sounded on in all sections of the country as to the advisability of putting the policy into operation.

Several more republican leaders arrived today for a meeting at West Baden. There was considerable talk

Popocatepetl in Eruption

POPocatepetl, Mex., Nov. 12.—The volcano Popocatepetl, 26 miles west of Mexico, is in eruption with much steam escaping, and deep rumblings. It has the Mexicans worried, according to dispatches. There has been no damage as yet but the population is preparing to flee.

particularly, is averse to the citizens leaving and Poland, Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia and Hungary are now hotly debating this question. Altogether a new chapter is about to be written in the history of European emigration.

When a definite plan is formed, it is stated, sentiment will be sounded on in all sections of the country as to the advisability of putting the policy into operation.

Several more republican leaders arrived today for a meeting at West Baden. There was considerable talk among the republican leaders concerning the possible makeup of the cabinet. Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the republican national committee, said he was of the opinion that Senator Harding will have his mind made up to substantially fill every cabinet position before anything can be accomplished either for or against sections through the efforts of any organization or any group of men.

A CENTURY OF ANTHRACITE

First Ton of Hard Coal Reached the City of Philadelphia Just One Hundred Years Ago.

An area hundred years have elapsed since one William Wurts, a Philadelphia merchant, drove the team of mules with the first ton of anthracite through the spring freshets and lodged in the banks of the Delaware river and floated the new fuel down the river to Philadelphia on a pine log raft.

But he experienced no little difficulty in that first anthracite year of 1820 in overcoming the popular objection that the coal was "extremely slow of lighting." Pine log rafts floated only 355 tons of anthracite that year. But it fetched a price of $12 a ton and was delivered freight-included to Philadelphia at $3—a fact that was freely advertised to attract additional capital, for, of course, there was no profit in these days.

Spring freshets and bog land and slow inflammability no longer worry operators. Silk shirts for miners are a bigger nuisance. But production in a hundred years has jumped to 85,200,000 tons, and could this year surpass the 100 million-ton mark, which was almost reached in 1917.

Reading, Wilkesbarre, Lehigh, Mauch Chunk—these names are spoken one thousand times hourly in the industrial world today, simply because there lay up in the hills of Pennsylvania a hard, black substance, one ton of which 24 old William Wurts steered on a raft down the Delaware to Philadelphia, just one hundred years ago.—Wall Street Journal.

ASTRONOMY STILL AT FAULT

Men of Science Forced to Admit Exact Results From Their Calculations Are Not Possible.

The celebrated observatory at Greenwich, the place from which our longitude, was founded by Charles II in 1675, mainly for the purpose of investigating the movements of the moon in the interests of navigation. Although the intervening two and a half centuries astronomers have worked at the problem, the moon has not yet become entirely amenable to their mathematical. In a recent report of the observatory at Greenwich attention is invited to the increasing deviation between the calculated position of the moon in the sky and the real position shown by the Greenwich observations. The deviation has lately been growing in a serious manner. The error last year was more than twelve times as large as the error twenty years ago, and the average annual increase during the two decades has amounted to half a second of arc in longitude. The reason that astronomers have failed in getting exact results from calculations based on the dynamical laws of gravitation is possibly the existence of some attractive force that they have not yet discovered, although the result may also be affected by the true shape of the earth, which still awaits accurate determination.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take Glass of Salt to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; not sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritations.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of J&B Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. J&B Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and uric acid organs clean, thus avoiding kidney disease. Adv.

Grain

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—All grain smashed down in value today to the lowest record since 1916. Financial and industrial markets were largely responsible. The wheat market closed nervous, 2 3/4 cents not lower with December $1.76 1/2 to 1 1/2 and March $1.49 1/2 to 1 1/2.

Corn lost 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/2¢ and oats 3 1/2¢ to 1 1/2¢. In provisions the outcome varied. Fat pork decline to 15 cents advance.

General selling started wheat down grade right from the outset with the bears making the most out of unfavorable aspects of the business situation. Besides word that the British government would out of the export market counted a good deal as a special depressing factor.

Later there were indications of export business with Italy, but the market insuring did not develop much force. It was not known until after the market had closed that the purchasing for Italy was on a large scale, totaling according to some estimates 3,000,000 bushels; practically all United States grown. Receipts continued light.

Corn and oats gave way in sympathy with wheat.

Provisions that were earlier owing to grain weakness, but subsequently recorded as a result of talk that packers had been bidding forlard.

EXHIBIT OF VISCOUNT GREY IS IMPAIRED

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Viscount Grey's eyesight is so impaired that he is "unable to see men and flowers," according to a letter which he has written to the Berwickshire Naturalists club declining an invitation to participate in one or two field meetings.

He says that although he could see sufficiently well to walk, he was unable to see birds or flowers or even a view and would, therefore, be unable to share the interests of the expedition.

As Sir Edward Grey, the viscount was British secretary of state for foreign affairs at the beginning of the world war and conducted the negotiations with the German government concerning the possibility of evading hostilities. He was for a short time British ambassador in Washington in the latter part of last year. His eyesight has long been failing.

THE SCRAP

Representative Fear interrupted the reading of a report to say:

"Official language is always rather tame. Once I was in the United States government employ had an argument, as a result of which the weaker vessel was laid up for some days.

"An official inquiry was duly held, and the victorious scrubman received a letter which said, among other things:

"It is true, as reported, that said Mrs. Hagan received certain official and naval commissions at your hands."

"The scrubman in official language wrote back:

"I regret to say that the answer is in the affirmative."

NO LONGER SIMPLE PROBLEM

Matter of Food, in These Days of Statistics, Has Become Question of Calculation.

Once upon a time this problem of food was a very simple matter. Then times a day, as a rule, the attention of man was drawn to a hollow feeling located due east of the lower end of the vertebral column. This vacancy he proceeded to fill with a slab of bread, a chunk of beef, a pot of stew, flavored as a rule with butter, fat, garlic, etc., according to race, religion, climate, age, etc. This settled the problem till the next call from the far East.

It pains us to say that this was living to eat and not eating to live. It showed no adjustment of means to end. It was a system of food that made no distinction between a longshoreman and a free-verse poet. It was, in short, a failure.

Happily the truth has been realized. The consumption of food is no longer destructive but constructive. Man no longer eats corned beef and cabbage, but the vitamins in the beet and the polyunsaturates in the cabbage. When he picks up the bill of fare he no longer says, "What will most speedily and cheaply ally the threat in my far East?" but he says, "Where can I find the 12,600 carboxinates that will give me the right outlook on the League of Nations?" And he finds it in unpolished rice. Or he says to himself, "I am now at work on the fourth act of my poetic drama; to make it convincing to Helsinki I must absorb 3,230 polyunsaturates daily for the next 20 days." So he shaves the kernels off the corn and eats the cob. Perhaps with cognac butter, for the added colossal xanthophyllins.

Here we are, my friends, in our great city a couple of arm corps of feeding infants will be killed to rest with 23,175 polyunsaturates warmed up in a bottle.—New York Evening Post.

Hold First Meeting and Organize
Year's Activities

Organizing bureau for the work of the Chamber of Commerce for the coming year, and planning for financing the organization, occupied the time of the board members at the meeting last night. This was the first meeting of the new board, and from the enthusiasm shown and the scope of the ground covered there is evidence that activity will be found in all departments.

The entire membership of the chamber was convened and the bureau heads made tentative selection of members. In addition to the chairman, R. H. Stevenson, the bureau will be composed of C. A. Robinson, John W. Graham, James McMillan and Thomas M. Robertson. This bureau will have charge of all community matters which may come before the legislature. Plans concerning the presence in Boise during much of the session of at least one of the members of the bureau, so that touch may be had with all matters before the law making body which have to do with Twin Falls and Twin Falls interests.

An auxiliary committee will be named from citizens to work with the state relations bureau. This local committee will be kept in close touch with conditions as they come in Boise so that there may be full cooperation at home. This committee and the bureau members will meet with the delegation to the legislature, when the entire situation will be canvassed thoroughly.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO ATTEND GAME

game on Thanksgiving day decorated in the colors of Twin Falls high school.

Plans for this demonstration were made at the meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce last night. Local merchants who are members of the chamber of commerce, will be asked to provide the ribbon, and the Chronicle job department will do the printing without cost. A badge will be mailed to each member of the chamber of commerce, together with request to that it be worn to the game, and that the wearer join in the rooting for the best football team that ever brought honor to a community the size of Twin Falls.

Staid men will lay aside their crutches for the day, when cheeks will take on the pink tone of enthusiasm, and the rah rah of other days will ring from the lips of the men who preside as business dignitaries in the peaceful city.
