

NO AMENDMENTS TO LEAGUE COVENANT TO BE MADE AT THIS ASSEMBLY SESSION

Committee Number One Gives Decision on Changes in the Pact

TOO EARLY TO DECIDE DECLARES A. J. BALFOUR

Montenegro Said to Have Made Application For Membership to Council

GENEVA, Nov. 23.—There will be no amendments to the covenant of the league of nations at this session of the assembly if the decision of committee number one—that organization which is here considering amendments—is approved in full session.

Two Early to Decide
Arthur J. Balfour, chairman of the committee, suggested to the committee that it was too early to draw conclusions as to the working of the league or to form an idea as to how the covenant may be improved. He proposed that the committee recommend that appointment of a special committee to consider amendments and to report to the next meeting of the assembly.

The Scandinavian delegates on the committee insisted upon considering immediately amendments they proposed but they were out-voted. The South African delegates accepted Mr. Balfour's suggestion that the committee should have a special committee to consider amendments and to report to the next meeting of the assembly.

The committee on the international code decided to send a letter of thanks and congratulations to Eilhu Root and other delegates to The Hague conference. This is as far as they have got in their work.

Antonio Humeau, head of the Chilean delegation and chairman of the committee on admission of new members, told the Associated Press today that his committee had been working hard and hoped to make an early report.

"News of the application of Montenegro for membership in the league of nations leaked out today. No information whatever was given on the subject by the secretariat of the league. The clearest hint of application necessarily will come upon the floor of the assembly before being referred to the committee.

POLICE TIGHTEN CORDON AROUND IRISH LEADERS

DUBLIN, Nov. 23.—The vigorous activities of the authorities leave little doubt that determined and concerted efforts are being made to round up every republican suspected of being active in outrages. The military forces are tightening the cordon about Dublin and gradually working in toward the center, as was done during the Easter rebellion of 1916. It is believed a number of republican leaders in the province, finding the pursuit too hot have taken refuge in Dublin.

The total arrests to date are undetermined to be high but the government refused to divulge the figures. Dublin Castle authorities, however, admit the prisons are so full that it has become necessary to utilize the castle itself and that it was in a lumber room in the castle that Peter Clancy and two others were shot yesterday.

The police also questioned several hundred persons living in neighborhood tenements, where, vice, was said to prevail.

Judge John Richardson continued to impose fines of $25 and costs on persons charged with being keepers of gambling houses or disorderly places and to commit a majority of those charged with being inmates, ruling that unless the men were caught in the act of gambling there was not sufficient evidence to convict them.

Chief Fitzmorris said the drive "would not end until every crook had been run out of the city."

"Further than that treaties give us the right of a protecting power to prefer well founded advice upon the gravity of an act which might give Germany an occasion to intervene directly or indirectly in oriental affairs. The premier said he wished to consider a definite course in the matter in complete accord with Great Britain."

G. O. P. LEADERS ISSUE AN APPEAL FOR MONEY AID

Republican National Committee Seeks Contributions to Make Up Deficit in Campaign Funds

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—An appeal for contributions to make up a deficit of approximately $1,500,000 in the campaign fund of the republican national committee was sent out tonight by Will H. Hays.

The appeal, addressed to the "republicans of the country and all those who aid them" called attention to the report of the treasurer filed yesterday in Washington, pointing out that although the buying power of the dollar was materially less than in 1916, the 1920 campaign had actually been conducted at less expense than the Hughes campaign four years ago.

Mr. Hays accompanied his plea for further funds by an expression of highest praise for the spirit of republicans during the campaign. More than 50,000 individuals contributed about $2,000,000 to the fund he said.

The presidential campaign, this year cost approximately $3,400,000, exclusive of pre-convention expenditures, he wrote, leaving a net deficit of nearly a million and a half dollars. This he declared he hoped might be promptly made up by popular subscriptions in amounts less than $1,000, the limit set during the campaign.

Addressing the members of republican newspapers, the statement declared that the national committee "would be gratified naturally, had it been possible to raise all the money necessary by the small gift methods. This, however, was hardly to be expected as there has been the first real effort in that direction."

"I know the method is right," Mr. Hays added, "and I am convinced that you and every other republican want us to distribute the expense of campaigning in this manner if it can be done at all. To this end we are going to make a public appeal for funds and in this effort I want your help."

GOODING FOR PROTECTION FOR FARMERS

Senator Elect in Favor of Embargo on All Farm Products

SAYS PRESENT CROPS MUST BE PROTECTED

Declares Deluge of Foreign Grown Grain and Produce Will Break Down Market

"Unless some action is taken and taken quickly for the protection of the farm products markets, the deluge of foreign grown grain, produce and live stock will completely break down the American markets, and disaster will confront our farmers and stockmen," said Senator-elect F. R. Gooding at the Perrier hotel last night.

Would Impose Embargo.

"To my mind, the way out of the difficulty lies through the imposition of an embargo on all farm products of the stockmen," continued the senator-elect. "We cannot expect enactment of a tariff law post haste. Time would be required to frame a law which will be equitable and fair, and the needs of the farmer and stockman is now. Present crops must be protected. They were grown with costs. They were the result of the blood of our government for increased production. The seed beds were made in stress, seed bought at high cost, excessive, and often incompetent labor employed and all that the call of the government for increased production might be met."

"Now we find the foreign grown wheat, potatoes, beans, mutton and wool, as well as other crops, deluging our markets and breaking down our markets. The American farmer is entitled to at least cost this year on his products; and that cost was high under stress. But the demand of official Washington for a reduction in high cost of living has been followed by a reduction in his end, with the result that the crash has come over the head of the farmer, and disaster threatens."

In Conference With Smoot.
The new senator has just returned from Salt Lake City, Utah, for conference with Senator Reed Smoot relative to his proposal for an embargo on the importation of farm and stock products. He has also taken the matter up with members of the senate, and with others in Washington, with a view to inducing early action, if possible. He will go to Washington immediately after the holidays, unless called there sooner, and will devote himself to an effort to bring about the imposition of the proposed embargo. "This is not a party question," he said last night. "It is a question of protecting our farmers and stockmen against the foreigners who are flooding our market."

Discussing the causes which have led to the present condition, the senator-elect pointed out that the American market is at this time the most inviting in the world due to the fact that American money is worth vastly more than the money of any other country. Hence, it is but natural that the products of all countries should be rushed to American markets. And since in many of the farm and stock products there has been an actual over production, with under consumption in starving and impoverished Europe, the American markets must be saved to the American producer. This can only be done quickly by employment of the embargo, which Senator Gooding says can be imposed by the power of the finance board, and it is to bring about this that he is devoting his efforts and will journey to Washington. He would have the embargo endure until the full crop of the year is marketed. He maintains that since this crop was grown in response to demands of the government, it is due to the growers that they have protection in the American market as against foreigners.

Points to Existing Conditions.
Senator Gooding pointed out that

BOISE FOOTBALL MEN REACH HERE TODAY FOR GAME

Boise Teams in Best of Shape for Contest Thanksgiving Day Admiration Expect Best of Season

With the arrival here today of the Boise team, the big game to be staged at Lincoln field tomorrow at 2:30 in the afternoon has come even more into the limelight than ever before and is the main topic of conversation throughout the city.

The crack Boise eleven left the capital yesterday in order to have one practice session on the scene before the start of the game which makes the resumption of athletic relations broken off about six or seven years ago, and which will also have such an important bearing on Twin Falls' championship aspirations as a defeat would definitely eliminate them from further consideration.

Boise is reputed to have a fast, heavy and powerful eleven, and according to their coach is brimful of confidence and pep. Twin Falls supporters, however, do not appear to be depreciablely dismayed by these glowing reports from the camp of the opposition and are backing the local boys to the limit, vocally, financially and in every other conceivable manner.

There is no doubt, however, but that the game will be the best that has been staged here this season, as Boise proved her strength by her overwhelming defeat of Nampa and by the splendid fight which they put up against Caldwell, generally considered to have one of the strongest aggregations in the state.

Employing principally an open game, featured by brilliant use of the forward pass attack developed to a pitch of perfection seldom found in scholastic football, Boise is going to give the locals a stiff fight and it is a foregone conclusion that the battle will be a thriller from start to finish. Speaking of the wonderful record that Twin Falls has compiled by preventing a single point being scored by the opposition in seven games, Coach Clinton W. Evans declares that although he has coached many high school teams, he has never yet been the mentor of one that has managed to scrape through an entire season without a point being tallied upon. Needless to say he will be one proud man if his boys can come through the Boise game with a clean slate.

Balloy, who in all probability be unable to get into the game, but in Ward Carter, Coach Evans has a man who can fill this star-tackle's shoes to perfection. Carter played right tackle during the game at Buhl and put up a sterling exhibition of speed, art and brains, and in the latter respect he is not excelled by any member of the squad. His knowledge of football is thorough and comprehensive and embraces all the finer points of technique.

In the evening there will be a banquet put on for the benefit of the Boise team, probably at Tom's cafe, and from the plans that have been laid, it is going to be "some feed."

Arrangements for the Twin Falls-Idaho Falls game are again up in the air, and very much so. Coach Harry Kannezmeier of the Idaho Falls team declares that he wrote Twin Falls some time ago for a game, but that the reply which he received, was so long delayed and so lukewarm that he does not greatly favor the idea. In addition he has declared his opposition to post-season games played on hard ground. Mr. Kannezmeier also again made the query, "Has Twin Falls met Caldwell?"

Mr. Kannezmeier, however, hoped that the contest could be arranged, provided that Twin Falls is the recognized champion of this section.

CHURCHES PLAN PROGRAMS FOR THANKSGIVING

Residents of Twin Falls to Have Wide Variety of Activities for Holiday

Residents of Twin Falls will have a wide variety of activities from which to choose their method of celebrating Thanksgiving day, with the big turkey dinner, of course, as the main feature of the day for the youngsters and many older people as well.

Special religious services have been arranged by all of the denominations represented in this city, including a united meeting at the Presbyterian church with the Baptists, Methodists, Brethren, Christians and Presbyterians represented. This meeting will start promptly at 10 o'clock, the music being furnished by the choir of the Presbyterian church.

At the Ascension Episcopal church there will be a memorial service and offering of the service flag. Sermons with music by the full choir.

All of the patriotic organizations of the city will attend in a body, including the American Legion. A cordial invitation to be present has been extended to the general public, regardless of profession or creed.

St. Edwards Catholic church and the First Church of Christ Scientist will also hold special services in commemoration of the occasion, the latter starting at 11 o'clock a.m.

The feature which is attracting most comment, however, is the game to be staged at Lincoln field between the high school of Twin Falls and Boise, beginning promptly at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

ALL FORMER PRESIDENTS BUT TWO FROD BRITAIN

All but two American presidents have traveled to Britain in the past, back to the British Isles. The exceptions were Van Buren and Roosevelt, Dutch.

Scotch-Irish presidents were Jackson, Polk, Buchanan, Arthur, McKinley and Wilson.

Fifteen presidents, beginning with Washington and ending with Taft, have English paternal ancestry, and thus give to England a large hand in the race of furnishing presidential timber for the United States.

NOTED AIRCRAFT EXPLORER TO SPEAK HERE SOON

Alfred Steffen, the noted aircraft explorer, will be the speaker at the special luncheon course being offered by the Twentieth Century club, appearing here on Friday, November 25.

He in today acknowledged the foremost scientific explorer of the world, and the scientific data which he brought back after five long years in the Arctic upon his return in 1918 has been of inestimable worth. Among his discoveries was that of a group of new islands, one of which is almost as large as Great Britain and turned upside down all the prevailing ideas of life and vegetation in the far north.

The real romance, however, of Steffen's exploration lies in the great battle for existence in the Polar region. Profusely illustrated with remarkable aeroplane views, his lecture has always aroused the highest enthusiasm.

WITNESS FIGHTS WITH DEFENDENT FOLLOWING TRIAL

Controversy Over Possession of Jersey Cow Ends With Alleged Assault; Both of Murlough District

Following his appearance as a witness at the trial of the case of George Savage and Jesse Savage against W. C. Hall in the probate court yesterday, a man named Summers is alleged to have assaulted the defendant and warrant for his arrest is now out.

The suit, which was caused by a controversy over the possession of a Jersey cow, appears to have been caused through bad feeling between Summers and Hall, both of whom are residents of the Murlough district. It is said that Summers approached Hall with an offer to sell four cows, but that he did not declare that he was an agent, leaving the latter under the impression that he was the sole owner of the stock.

Hall saw a propitious moment to collect an overdue account which Summers owed him and while on his way past the latter's place one day stopped off and took one of the cows thinking that it belonged to the former. Plaintiffs however proved to the satisfaction of the jury that the cow was their property and it was ordered restored to them.

Eye witnesses declare that Hall and Summers had both exhibited bad feeling during the course of the trial and that they mixed in a lively scrap after the adjournment, although Hall did not appear to have been severely damaged.

TURKS ASK REVISION OF TREATY OF SEVRIS

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 23.—The defeat of Venizelos' government in the recent election in Greece, has resulted in the Turkish government formulating demands which are equivalent to a request for a revision of the treaty of Sevriss.

The Stamboul cabinet, through the high command, has requested the allies to suppress the irregular police as being incompatible with Turkish sovereignty. It also has asked for the abolition of the allied control commission and non-interference by the allies in Turkish internal affairs.

THANKSGIVING, THEN AND NOW.

Thanksgiving Day! Yet how many people in America, because the high tide of prosperity is temporarily on the wane, will feel that they have nothing to thank for?

Right now great doings are on foot in New England in celebration of the tercentenary of the Landing of the Pilgrims. Any individual who feels inclined to doubt that he has cause for thankfulness should turn to his history and read once more the story of that historic adventure and the year of hardship which followed before the first harvest was gleaned and the Pilgrims inaugurated the famous day. Let him compare his past year with that of those who held the first celebration, and the difficulties which he now confronts with those confronted by the Pilgrims, facing them, they nevertheless gave thanks to God.

The Pilgrims did not give thanks for an easy year. They gave thanks for a hard one. They did not give thanks because everything was as they wanted it to be, or because they saw nothing ahead to fear from life or fate. They gave thanks because things were as good as they were, and the chances were fair, by reason of their industry and the grace of God, that they could live a while longer, if they continued to work hard and went without pretty much every material thing they needed or wanted. They gave thanks not for plenteousness and luxury, but because for the first time since they left Europe they were free from the immediate prospect of starvation. Most of all, they were thankful just to be in free America, with all the hardships which being here involved.

It throws a new light on the day, and on the spirit of thankfulness which makes any grudging observance seem small.

"Nothing to be thankful for"? Is it the descendants of the Pilgrims or other equally fortunate inheritors of the fruits of their courage from whose lips such words fall in these days of plenty and of ease?

REACTION IN GREECE.

Once more, Greece has demonstrated, as it did so often in antiquity, the fickleness of the public and the ingratitude of democracies.

Modern Greece, as established half a century ago by a friendly group of European powers, has been virtually as much of a democracy as Athens in the time of Pericles, though under the form of a constitutional monarchy. Always liberty has been emphasized and monarchy minimized. Now Greece has turned against her greatest living statesman and benefactor, Eleutherios Venizelos, and seems to favor a return to power of the man who has done her most harm—the exiled King Constantine.

Venizelos had made Greece great through two Balkan wars, before the World War broke Constantine, brother-in-law of Kaiser Wilhelm, of Scandinavian blood and Prussian in training and sympathies, wrecked that work. He betrayed his country into a virtual alliance with Germany. When an election went against him, he over-rode the constitution. Then the allied powers, which had set his dynasty on the throne, stepped in and kicked him out, to the relief of the majority of Greeks.

Venizelos proceeded to save what he could from the wreckage. He succeeded so well, that after the Versailles treaty Greece was greater in extent, population and prestige than she had been at any time since the Turks entered Europe, and had a fair prospect of regaining the old world-capital of Constantinople.

But vision and idealism have slumped somehow in Greece, since the armistice, as they have in other countries. Reaction has set in. The monarchists have grown stronger. The populace evidently has wearied of hearing Venizelos called the just and great. So Constantine may return to Athens, and Venizelos may go into voluntary banishment, as so many of his illustrious predecessors did in olden days, and again the allies may have a troublesome, plotting enemy in the eastern Mediterranean.

THE SELF-SUPPORTING CANAL.

The Canal Record, the official publication of the Canal Zone, announces in its current issue that the canal is now fully self-supporting. Operating expenses during the last fiscal year amounted to $6,548,272. Receipts covering the same period were $8,935,871, leaving a profit of more than $2,000,000.

The total cost of operation since the opening of the canal to the end of the last fiscal year is still a little more than $2,000,000 in excess of the total revenue, but with an annual profit such as that of last year, there will not long be a deficit.

In the comparatively few years since its completion, Americans have come to take the Panama Canal very much for granted, forgetting the years of construction with their temporary defeats and difficulties. All obstacles were surmounted because the vision of what the canal would mean to the world existed, and because that vision was backed by money and brains and technical skill. When other great visions appear and their achievement seems impossible, it is well for the scoffers and the easily discouraged to recall such successes as the Panama Canal.

SENTIMENT AND FACT.

There is a report that Mrs. Terrence MacSwiney, widow of the mayor of Cork, will come to this country shortly. It has not been stated whether her visit is of a private nature or is intended to arouse increased sympathy for the cause for which her husband died, but doubtless the latter purpose enters into her plans.

There can be no reason for questioning the honesty of Terrence MacSwiney and his associates. There should be sincere sympathy for the wife who saw her husband die a lingering death for the sake of a cause he believed in, and for all the Irish now suffering undeservedly. But there is this to be remembered: The Irish question is not to be settled by mere personal sympathy or sentiment; it is one to be adjusted dispassionately as a critical matter of state.

Furthermore, it cannot be too carefully pointed out, in the face of repeated efforts to plunge this country into open support of the Irish Republic, that Ireland is still a country divided against itself, with much to be said in justice to both parties.

Let Ireland come to one mind within her own boundaries. Then, united, let her seek a settlement with Britain, peaceful or otherwise. It will be time then for America to commit itself unreservedly.

THE MOLE THAT PAYS.

"Mole on the neck, money by the peck," says the old rhyme. But according to a bulletin issued by the Bureau of Biological Survey, a mole in the front yard is worth any number on the anatomy. The bulletin urges trapping the common mole and curing his hide for fur. Better still, it tells how to do it.

Catching moles is a familiar outdoor sport in most communities where the pesky little rodents work havoc with lawns and gardens, but the saving of their skins as a valuable by-product of the trapping industry has received comparatively little attention. This is a mistake, says the bulletin. Both the big western variety of mole and his smaller eastern brother have fur of commercial value, equal in beauty to the imported skins which cost prodigious prices.

Enthusiasm is inevitable after reading the bulletin, and moleries in the front yard are likely to supersede henneries in the back yard in popular favor, since the original investment is practically nil and the feed bill entirely eliminated.

Shipping men are never satisfied. Just a little while ago they were hollering for ships for their shipments, and now they're hollering for shipments for their ships.

How charmingly appropriate that England, Italy and France choose the Thanksgiving season to announce which piece of Turkey they prefer!

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

MEXICAN REBELS CAPTURE SMALL BORDER TOWN

BROWNVILLE, Tex., Nov. 23.—General Pedro Guzman, former federal troops, according to Eugene Tennant, colonel in the Mexican army, H. Parker, agent of the United States department of justice, headed a small band of supposed Mexican rebels which, crossing from the American side of the Rio Grande yesterday captured a little Mexican town of Ramirez and afterward fled to the interior pursued by Mexican federal troops, according to Eugene Tennant, colonel in the Mexican army, H. Parker, agent of the United States department of justice, headed a small band of supposed Mexican rebels which, crossing from valuation made by him at the point of crossing 28 miles west of Brownville.

Parker said that Guzman exhibited papers signed by General Lucio Blanco, in which Guzman was commissioned general in the army. General Blanco is said to have recently been in the vicinity of Mission, Texas.

Only nine men were in the band that crossed to Mexico and all were armed when seen at the La Florida ranch, where houses were obtained, and continued inland six miles to the Ramirez station. The federal agents information revealed that at Ramirez they robbed a man named Jose Trevino of $120. They then captured the railroad station, cut the telegraph wires and took the instruments. It is thought that probably a dozen men joined the riders on the Mexican side.

Report of the capture of a telegraph operator at Ramirez was found to be untrue.

under the conditions which exist, with depressed markets and high freight rates, there is not a single product of the great inland west which can be marketed above cost, with the solitary exception of sugar. Such a situation, he says, is more than serious. It is dangerous. Unless relief can be afforded, the results cannot be foretold. Such relief can come from an embargo. The result would be instantaneous; the remedy is at hand. And Senator Gooding is undertaking to employ it.

JUDGE ADVOCATE GENERAL MAKES ANNUAL REPORT

Records Shows Thirty-Two Persons Sentenced to Death by Court Martial.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Thirty-two persons in the army were sentenced to death by courts martial during the last fiscal year, but in no case was the sentence carried into effect, says Major General E. H. Crowder, judge advocate general in his annual report made public today. Twelve of the death sentences were disapproved, 19 reduced to imprisonment ranging from life terms to five years and one case was pending on review when this report was compiled.

Only nine of the cases were for military offenses. Eight were found guilty of malfeasance in the face of the enemy and one was sentenced as a spy.

Trials for desertion were slightly less numerous than the preceding years, but the comparative number was larger. Confinement for life was imposed in 42 cases, 33 of the sentences being approved, two disapproved, eight terms shortened and one pending awaits final action.

In all 286 officers were sentenced to dismissal after court martial. Of these 134 sentences were approved. The total number of general courts for the more serious offenses was 6,769, 87.8 per cent convictions being obtained.

INVESTIGATE ALLEGED FRAUD IN MOONEY TRIAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—District Attorney Matthew Brady tonight asked the San Francisco grand jury to investigate statements of Police Officer Draper Hand and others that Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings were convicted of participating in the preparation of a bomb which exploded in 1916 through fraud. Brady said Hand and others would be called before the grand jury to testify in order to determine the veracity of Hand's statements. Hand was one of the chief investigating officers of the police department in obtaining and offering evidence against Mooney and Billings.

"If the Mooney trial was framed, as Hand alleges," said Brady, "I want the facts before the grand jury. If there is no foundation to Hand's story I also want the facts brought before the public."

Brady said he was powerless to cause a retrial of the cases against Mooney and Billings, but that the jury's findings would be presented to Gov. Stephens.

It was said the grand jury tonight was given a letter which purported to show one witness against Mooney had admitted he gave false testimony.

"TROLLEY LOVE" LATEST THING FOR MOTORMEN.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 23.—Motor men on the Oklahoma City Railway are attached to their cars.

Not chained or nailed to them, you understand, but fond of them.

After a man has operated one for a good while, he gets used to the way it responds when he turns on three, and to the individuality of its brake; and to the rhythm of its trucks on the rail-joints. Switch cases on him, give him one with a contra-loge gear when he has had a motor-soprano, or with a brake that catches hold more suddenly than the old one, or a motor that picks up faster or slower, or pulls differently on a grade, and he will raise a howl that jags the car.

He wants his old Betsy back. She was a cranky old girl, but he had got used to her.

SENATOR RETURNS FROM STUDY OF CONDITIONS

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Senator Sterling of South Dakota, a member of the senate committee on immigration who recently completed a study of conditions in Europe arrived at Ellis Island today to investigate procedure of receiving immigrants there. "I am satisfied that some changes must be made," said the senator, "I firmly believe that it might be well completely to suspend immigration until we can enact laws that will give the right not only to select our immigrants but also to distribute them according to the country's needs."

MILK DELIVERY BY MAIL TO CUT H.C.L. IS URGED

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Advises Use of Parcel Post to Distribute Product

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Save millions of dollars daily to milk consumers by delivering the product by parcel post!

This is the advice of James I. Blakeslee, fourth assistant postmaster general. He says it is feasible to let the postman carry milk bottles from the dairy to the urban consumer. By this plan, Blakeslee says, dairy farmers could receive from one to two cents more per quart for milk, thus encouraging them to produce more of this best of all foods, and that the consumers could buy milk for from three to four cents less than they are now paying.

The Present System.

The present plan in distributing milk in large cities is to concentrate it in a central point in the rural regions, transport it by milk trains to the city terminal station, from whence it is moved by truck to the various creameries and treatment stations. These creameries distribute milk in overlapping territory at enormous expense.

Blakeslee's plan is for rural carriers to move the milk in the production regions to the concentration point, transport it to either a private or public treatment station in the city, the distribution still to be in the hands of the postoffice. It could be shipped in cans and bottled and distributed to a list of customers, or individual bottles could be sent by the farmers direct to their customers.

Blakeslee produced figures showing that in one city the customers pay 21 cents a quart for milk and the farmers get 6 cents maximum!

The present rate in that same city would be one cent a pound, or two cents for a quart of milk. Blakeslee says milk and other foods are an important as mail, and the department could give it especial attention.

How It Is Possible.

Blakeslee points out most of the mail equipment now in use from about 7 a. m. to 3 p. m., and that it could be used from midnight till 7 a. m. to distribute milk with very little additional expense, except for labor.

There are now 60,000 employees of the postal service who traverse 1,400,000 miles of highways, through producing territory in this country, every day. With larger vehicles and better roads each carrier could transport 500 pounds, Blakeslee figures, or a total for all of 30,000,000 pounds of food daily. This would feed 60,000,000 people, or three-fifths of the population.

"It all means let us use our post office to reduce the high cost of living, and thereby really serve the people," pleads Blakeslee.

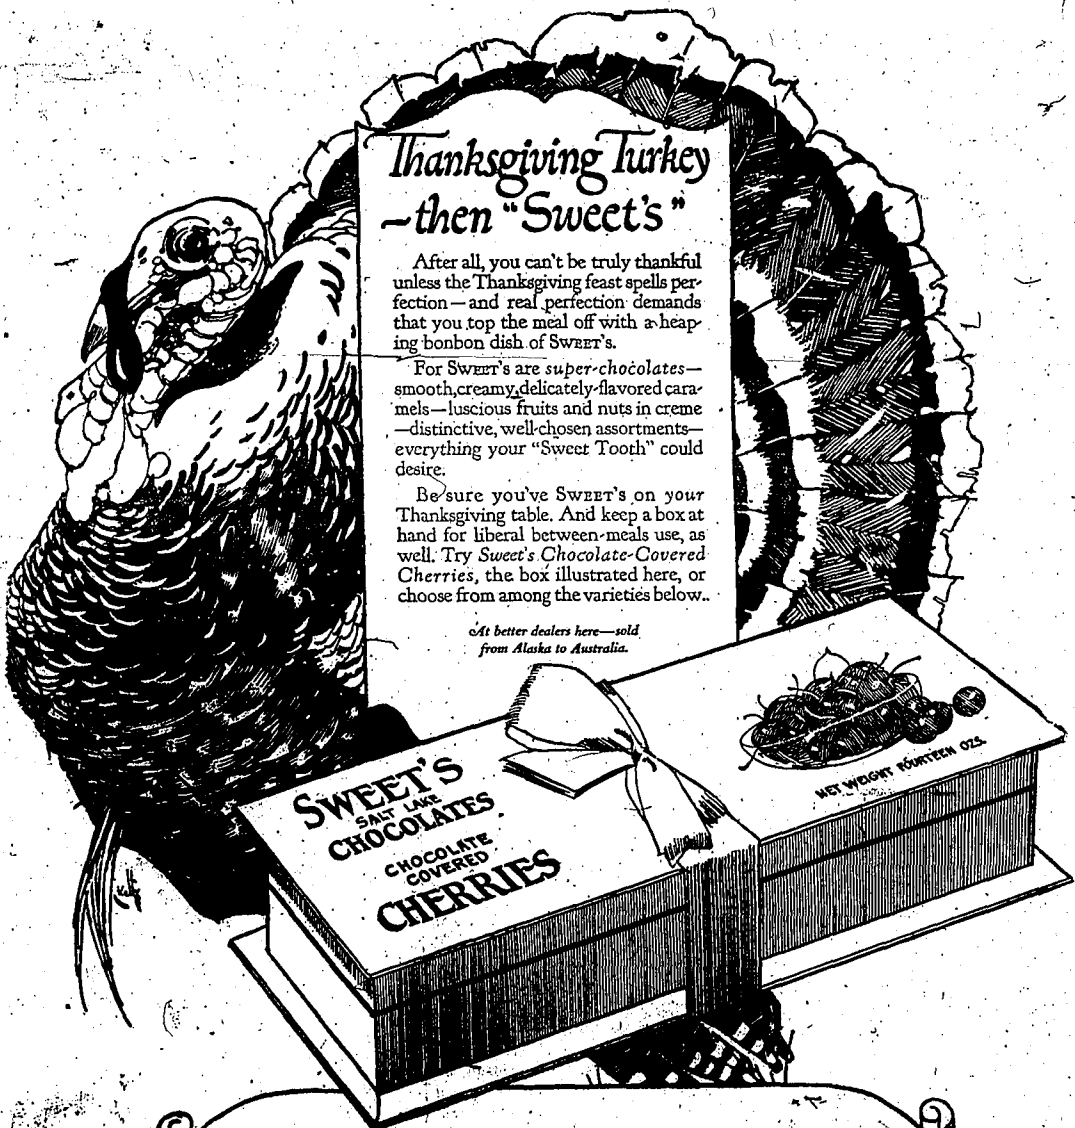

EXPECT ARREST SOON OF MURDER SUSPECTS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Arrest of a man and woman in connection with the killing of Henry T. Pierce, a manufacturer's agent, whose body was found in the rear of his office yesterday, is expected within 24 hours the police said tonight. This man and his woman companion, who is described as a "comely blonde," are said to have been with Pierce when he entered his office Saturday night, the last time he was seen alive, and the authorities declared they are convinced they were his slayers.

When Pierce's body was found, his pockets were turned inside out and several diamonds and other jewelry he was known to have worn were missing. Police have said he believed jealousy prompted the killing and that the slayers sought to cover up the crime by making it appear that robbery was the motive.

SINCERITY AND DEMOCRACY AT LEAGUE OPENING

First Assembly, Resolutions Meeting of American Business Men; No Trappings of Royalty.

By H. N. Riekey.
N. E. A. Staff Correspondent.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 23.—It too soon to venture a guess as to whether the League of Nations will ever partly fulfill the world's hopes and make probable, if not present, another great war.

We shall have a clearer idea as to the feeling of inspiration which comes from witnessing epoch-making events, not to be thrilled by what is happening from day to day in a little hall in this beautiful Swiss city.

Sincerity is Outstanding Feature.
For the first time in the history of the world practically all of the nations of the world are gathered in a sincere effort to establish conditions which will not only make it possible but easier to settle their differences by peaceful rather than helligerent processes.

That the effort as a whole is a sincere one, in spite of the many pessimistic prophecies to the contrary, is the big outstanding factor of the situation after the first three days of the first session of the great assembly.

It would be a mistake to assume that because the great majority of the 122 delegates representing forty nations, and particularly the guiding spirits of the assembly, are animated by sincere motives there are not great difficulties to overcome. But the fact that these difficulties are perfectly understood by everybody connected with the assembly, and that they are grimly determined to overcome them, are the most hopeful signs in the situation.

Pomp and Trappings Absent.
The entire absence of the trappings of royalty and militarism which have hitherto been so conspicuously a part of important old world gatherings, is one of the most notable features of this historic event.

As one views the assembly from the press seats in the gallery, he is reminded of any one of a thousand conventions of business men held every year in America. The hall will not accommodate more than eight hundred delegates, journalists and visitors. There is no decoration whatever; not a flag or piece of bunting. One looks in vain for a soldier's uniform or a bit of gold lace.

It requires a lot of imagination to realize that in this simple way and in these plain surroundings the first steps in what may well be the greatest forward movement of mankind are being taken. Then, as one after another the great figures of the world—Victor Bourgeois, Marleux, Lord Robert Cecil, Nansen, Tilton, Barnes—mount the steps to the tribune to speak, the realization comes.

Democratic Spirit Prevails.
Not the least hopeful, and quite the most impressive thing about this assembly is the simplicity and democracy which prevails.

In such an atmosphere the germ of world co-operation and peace flourishes and grows.

That it has come into being here, naturally is one of the many indications that whatever the future of the League is to be it is at present in a condition of health.

CITY NOISE DRIVES 'EM CRAZY, HE SAYS

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—American people who live in the larger cities are in danger of going to the lunatic asylums in larger numbers or landing in hospitals if they don't stop making so much noise. So says Dr. Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner of New York City.

Dr. Copeland is inaugurating a campaign to stop noise-making in New York City, which he says is the noisiest city in this country, although all of the larger cities are great offenders.

"Noise which constitutes a nuisance to a person or materially interferes with the ordinary comfort of life and to impair the reasonable enjoyment of his home is to him a nuisance," declares Copeland. "If such noise is unusual and disturbing and regularly and persistently made and if it affects the comfort of a man's household or the peace and health of his family, a court of equity may afford him a remedy."

Under the present laws, says Dr. Copeland, the following may be dealt with as public nuisances: street noises and noises resulting from the conduct of trades and businesses or otherwise emanating from private buildings.

"Human constitutions were never made to stand the devastating inroads of nerve-destroying noises that prey on our waking hours and disturb our sleep."

RELATIONSHIPS MIXED

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky.—Sorts of mixed is the relationship of the children of Charles Ray and wife, Abel Ray, 20, has just taken Miss Lucy Overton, 27, as his wife. Abel is the son of Charles Ray and Miss Overton is the daughter of Mrs. Ray, who was Mrs. Overton before her marriage. Charles Ray is now father and father-in-law to his own son, and Mrs. Ray is mother and mother-in-law to her daughter.

HAZED YOUTH GAME

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Although Raymond Hleg, high school freshman, is suffering from pneumonia, and his condition is regarded serious, he refused to squeal on the youths who hazed him. He was taken out in the country in a machine, given a coat of grease and then whipped, after which he had to walk home in a drizzling rain. Police and school authorities have been unable to learn the identity of the hazers.

SHAKE CALVES PANIC

COLUMBUS, O.—Five big snakes—all of 'em dead—threw a neighborhood here into a panic. They didn't know the snakes were dead. Carlyle Richards, who called the cops, says when he looked in the street first there were only two dead snakes. He thinks the others came along and, seeing their dead comrade, died of grief. One of the snakes was six feet long and one a rattler with five rattles.

HAD WHISKERS FIXED

AKRON, O.—Before Judge Pardon here would try Frank Dallas on a charge of drunkenness, he made Dallas fix his whiskers. Dallas appeared in court with one-half of a luxuriant mustache. He explained that mustache clipped off rather while he slept. "It's indecent," opined the magistrate and paged a barber.

SEND 'EM' INVITATION

MOONSHINE, W. Va.—If you are contemplating a trip to the penitentiary soon, try to be here by Thanksgiving, urges "Work and Hope," a magazine published by the inmates of the state prison. Ask from other entertainments, which talent is going to stage three performances of a minstrel show and there's going to be a regular feed, too.

TREES CRY IN MEMPHIS

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—The trees cried here. Not just the weeping willows, but dignified old oaks wept copiously. Memphis folks called up the weather bureau when the oaks cried. "That's rain," said Weatherman J. H. Scott. "It's a sort of heavy dew." "Doggone funny," said the owner of the trees, "we just 'em pretty good."

THE LANTERN ON TAIL

CINCINNATI, O.—The Cincinnati Automobile Club has suggested to the city that mounted patrolmen place lights on their horses, asserting every moving thing at night should be protected. Mounted policeman ride both the right and wrong side of the street and on rainy nights are difficult to see.

OLDEST FAMILY VOTES

LED CAT AND RAT LIFE
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—Mrs. Olga Dunlop led a cat and rat life, so to speak, with William, her husband, she told the court here. Once he threw a live cat on her shoulders and it scratched her, she said. Another time he put a dead rat in her bed. It frightened her, she held. She divorced two husbands before William for cruelty, but she said Bill "did beat all." The judge wished her better luck next time and gave her a divorce.

He had strayed away from the house and going into a hog house had climbed up into the partition from which he slipped and fell in such a manner as to hang himself by the neck. When found by the parents he had been dead probably an hour or more. A doctor was summoned but could do nothing.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—For the first time in more than a week the wheat market today closed at an advance. Brier export demand together with ascriptions that ~~the market was at an~~ end had much to do with the strength shown. The flash was nervous 7-1/2 to 9 cents and higher with December $1.68 to 1.68 3/4 and March 1.61 1/2 to 1.61 3/4.

Corn landed 2 3/8 to 3 1/8 cents, oats 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 to 2 3/8 and provisions 22 to 27 cents near the end of the season.

Haying of wheat at the end was justly accelerated by a report that Julius Barnes, former national wheat director, had expressed an opinion that prices were at the bottom. This report was a diversion of remarks by Mr. Barnes which were along optimistic lines but in which he said explicitly that he was not a bull. He merely aside from the Barnes incident, however, a considerable change in sentiment among wheat men was evident from the outset. It was known that export demand was brisk and that millers were rapidly placing orders for flour. Besides, financial conditions were easier, and sterling exchange rising. September contracts, although short at times, were brief and after the close it was estimated that sales to Europe to total $150,000, about half that amount domestic grown. Shorts including some of the most aggressive recent sales, being few.

Packers buying turned the provisions market upward notwithstanding that at first weakness prevailed owing to big breaks in the value of hogs.

MARINES TIRED OF DOING DUTY ON HAITI ISLE

Hard Life for Youngsters Who Are Sent Into Mountainous Regions; Poorly Equipped Is Claim

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Nov. 23.—There is no doubt of the fact that many of the 1,350 marines on occupation duty in Haiti are sick of the job. They want to go home or some place else. "It's a hard life for the youngsters who are sent into mountain regions," the fourth, about peaks as high as Denver.

Often they are away from posts for weeks and they declare they understand many hardships, the least of which is lack of food in a climate where it is absolutely essential.

Since the first session of the naval board of inquiry at Washington the marines have been hearing from home folk anxious to know if they are taking part in "wilderness" training. This charge, first made by Major General George Harriet, former commander of the marines corps, and then corrected by him, has gone everywhere, marines assert, declaring that the first statement has never been corrected by the command. This week's stenographer brought hundreds of letters all seeking the truth about conditions. The marines contend that they are on rough duty and then are held up at home as rough men with the gun.

Major General Neville, a member of the naval board of inquiry, inspected every part of the fighting plant here and found many things to commend, but declared it was not properly equipped. This he found was particularly true as to hospital facilities. There is not a x-ray man on the island and naval doctors in charge assert they cannot provide adequate service for the sick. Appeals for help are said to have been made for help are said to have been brought the answer that there were no funds. Haiti is not a health resort and there is much disease.

General Neville inspected kitchen built of bits of board from packing boxes.

The brigadier commander and his staff have made every effort to keep things going in the way of liquor from the island.

Marines who have testified to the native drink say it is powerful enough to drive a motorcycle.

BONUS SYSTEM BROUGHT UP AT PACKERS TRIAL

Hearing of Demands of Employees for Wage Increase Brings Up Question of Bonus

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—The effect of a bonus system would have if put into operation by the packing companies was taken up today at the hearing before Federal Judge Samuel Alschuler into the demands of more than 250,000 packing company employees for a wage increase of $1 a day.

S. S. Marquis, director of the educational department of the Ford Motor company, Detroit, detailed the bonus system used by that company but said that "on the basis of the figures for expenditures and receipts presented at the hearing by the packers, such a system could not be put into effect without first increasing the cost of meat or decreasing the price paid for cattle."

Mr. Marquis, using the packers' figures as a basis for comparison, said that if they paid a minimum bonus of $50 annually, as decided the Ford company, there would be a deficit at the end of the year. He said he thought the Ford system impracticable for packing companies "because in the case of an automobile company one man could raise or lower the price of his commodity to meet the bonus, which is taken from the profits, while in the packing industry competition made this inadvisable."

C. J. Harin, Chicago representative of the Iowa Farm bureau and corn belt meat producing association, asked Judge Alschuler not to grant the increase on the grounds that "it would be passed along to the producer and placed an extra burden on the farmer and livestock growers. The packers presented an evidence a quantity of food marked with the price at which it was purchased today. These prices, they said, were an average of 35 per cent lower than the government fair price list for October 1. Cornmeal, tea, sugar, condensed milk, cheese, bread, tomatoes, and corn were included."

The wage hearing was reopened yesterday at the request of the packers who maintained that reductions in living costs, which they said had to be effective since the original tended by the University of California should be considered. The employers' attorneys will make their rebuttal tomorrow.
