

U. S. OFFICER AT ASSEMBLY OF LEAGUE

Arrival of American Major at Geneva Causes
Sensation

FIGHT ENTRANCE OF FORMER ENEMY STATES

Admission of Bulgaria and Austria Into Pact Not Settled by Sub-Committee

GENEVA, Nov. 27.—Arrival today of Major MacBarrack, assistant chief of the military intelligence division of the general staff of the American army, which so far as appears now, has no real significance except to himself and his department, has created a mild sensation in the league of nations circle. The United States has been on the lips of almost every spokesman in the assembly and probably in the minds of every citizen.

Hope U. S. Will Join League.
The hope that the United States will some day join the league is unmistakable. The work of the assembly has been directed so far as to predetermine the most important questions at issue regarding the covenant, and so as to leave the way open for the United States to have her say in its eventual revision.

Appearance during this assembly of any official or unofficial representative of the American government was the "hot" thing hoped for. Major Churchill, consequently, was all the more an object of attention when his presence became known.

Unable to Complete Work.
The sub-committee considering the admission of new members has been unable to complete its work on account of objection to both Bulgaria and Austria by neighboring states, Rumania, Greece and Yugoslavia are still standing out against Bulgaria, while Czechoslovakia has not yet consented to the admission of Austria. Rumania gives no objection and much the same as those made by France against Germany. It has been pointed out to them however, that both Bulgaria and Austria in their applications promised to fulfill their international obligations and thus make themselves eligible. Suggestions were made to the representatives of the objecting states that in view of the advantages they derive from the peace treaties, such obstruction on their part would be likely to attract unfavorable attention.

Continue Hearing.
The sub-committee on arrangements today continued hearing arguments in favor of the resolution introduced by Gaston De Gunzburg, French minister of arms and munitions, a monopoly.

Work of the league committee has progressed enough to warrant announcement that a plenary session of the assembly will be held some time between December 5 and 10.

Admission of new members to the league will be taken up by the assembly by the end of next week.

The "little entente" will propose that Czechoslovakia replace Greece as a permanent member of the council, while the Scandinavian group favors Sweden.

POLES AND RUSSIANS NOT NEAR SETTLEMENT

RIGA, Nov. 27.—Poles and Russians are not near settlement of the "east" peace delegates do not expect negotiations and new differences have appeared. The uneasy commission, which seemed about to reach a decision, disagreed in the last hour before the voting. The Soviet delegation insists on amnesty for all persons suspected for political offense, as opposed to the view of the Poles who consider such amnesty would be intervention in the home affairs of the other party.

The differences are growing to such extent that a conference between the two presidents, Poles and Russians, is being held, and the committee for the exchange of war prisoners is being organized.

UTAH IDAHO SUGAR COMPANY INDICTED BY COURT AT BUTTE

By the Associated Press.
BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 27.—The Utah-Idaho Sugar company was indicted here today by a federal judge on six counts which allege selling of sugar at an excess profit of 13.42 cents a pound, in violation of the Lever act.

Three separate indictments were returned by the grand jury, the first against the corporation, the second against the members of the corporation, directors and officers, and the third against the directors. The charge is conspiracy to evade the provisions of the Lever act.

According to S. W. Kelly, chief special agent of the department of justice the excess profits of the company in Montana alone during the period covered by the indictments are estimated at $20,000. The indictments charge that the distribution cost of the sugar totaled approximately $10.44 a sack, which was sold to wholesalers at $23.86 a hundred.

Direct conspiracy to evade provisions of the Lever act in charged in the first indictment. It is alleged that between February 1 and April the company sold its sugar at $13.32 a hundred pounds to wholesalers and jobbers. This price was based on a cost of production of $20.44 a hundred, with about one dollar additional for sales and deliveries.

Butte is the sixth city from which this company and its branches have been indicted, similar charges being brought against it in Sioux Falls, S. D., Milwaukee, Wis., Medford, Oregon, Pocatello, Idaho and Salt Lake City.

ODGEN JEWELER KILLS BANDIT IN GUN FIGHT

ODGEN, Utah, Nov. 27.—Beth Thomas, an Odgen jeweler, tonight shot and killed one of two bandits who entered his store just as he was preparing to close for the night. The other robber escaped with a tray filled with diamonds. The dead bandit has not been identified.

Thomas said the two men came in while he was closing up. One man pointed a pistol at him. He then seized a box containing diamonds that had just been taken from the window. He was nervous and spilled some of the stones. The man with the gun turned as if to advise his partner to pick up the diamonds. He then shot and killed him. He drew his own pistol and shot the bandit.

Thomas said the missing diamonds were worth $5000.

EASTERN TEACHERS WOULD JOIN UNION

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A resolution urging affiliation with organized labor was adopted today by the second annual conference of teachers' unions of eastern states. The resolution declared "teachers cannot serve society well without adequate pay and democratic working conditions" and that "it was inevitable that teachers should form organized labor."

A recommendation was made by the committee on education that steps be taken to educate communities to the need of a $2,000 minimum salary for teachers and as near as possible a uniform method of compensation.

RELIEF VESSELS FAIL TO FIND LOST BARGE

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 27.—Relief vessels searching the rocky coast of Washington in the vicinity of James Island for the lost barge W. J. Pirie, early tonight, combining the sea in the neighborhood of Glacis Grayswand, and the fog, failed to find the barge.

A radio station at North Bend, Washington, reported the barge was seen by a fisherman today as the carriage was leaving the barge. The general however was not in the carriage. The driver escaped injury and the men who lived the shots fired.

WILL NOT ATTEMPT TO STOP CAMPAIGN TO WITHHOLD CROPS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Because farmers cooperative organizations are exempt from application of anti-trust laws, the department of justice has given no consideration to the campaign to withhold crops from the markets until prices advance, it was said tonight by D. F. Nebeker, special assistant to the attorney general.

Mr. Nebeker's explanation of the department's attitude followed a statement by C. S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers union, that he understood federal agents were attempting to obtain evidence for prosecutions in Kansas, Iowa and other states.

The Clayton anti-trust act, Mr. Nebeker said, provides that agricultural organizations not having capital stock or conducted for profit, can not be construed as conspiracies, in restraint of trade. Withholding of crops for personal profit he asserted, probably would not be held as organization profits.

Mr. Nebeker also explained that the limitations on the appropriation of the law enforcement of the anti-trust law would seem to preclude action against farmers, inasmuch as the act "writes no part of the appropriations shall be exempted for the prosecution of farmers who cooperate to obtain a fair and reasonable price for their products."

MORE SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

To Protect the Public

The streets of Twin Falls are growing more congested with traffic. Folk crowd the thoroughfares during the afternoons and evenings in pursuit of business.

In such circumstances, anything which tends to block the streets is a menace to public convenience and often endangers life.

Street fakirs, invading peddlers and others who pay no taxes in the community, when licensed to use the streets, not only annoy the public but seriously interfere with traffic.

Such annoyances could be avoided by the simple remedy of a police regulation forbidding the use of the streets in the down town sections for any merchandising of any kind. Medicine fakirs, peddlers, quacks and all similar impositions upon the public credulity would thus be forced to pass up Twin Falls. The public would be safeguarded by such a traffic regulation, business integrity would be preserved and many a dollar saved to the untwary buyer. Let's have done with this nuisance. We're a city, not a village.

"LITTLE ENTENTE" LOOKS TO AMERICA TO PROVIDE AID

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The "little entente" composed of Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania looks to the United States to restore the financial and economic stability of central Europe, asserted D. Beorick, first minister from Czechoslovakia to the United States on his arrival here today. He explained that the "little entente" will not conflict with the league of nations and that it was formed to combat radical elements of the Magyar and to effect reestablishment of the financial system of central Europe. He said it would not deal with matters of international import.

England, France and Italy are powerless to cope with the problems of financial and industrial readjustment and it devolves upon the United States as the world's largest creditor to extend her influence in normalizing conditions, he declared.

WILL INTRODUCE LAWS TO "CURB RED TAPE"

Would do Away With "Long-
Winded Talk About
Cooperation and Coordination"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Representatives of the American Legion informed officials of the war risk insurance bureau, the federal board for vocational education and the public health service today that the Legion proposed to urge measures designed to curb the "long talk" in the bureau and "to compel the government to function" in its dealings with discharged and disabled service men.

Meet With Bureau Heads

The Legion representatives who met here with the heads of the three bureaus to discuss plans to combine the work of the bureaus declared that the Legion proposed to press forward legislation consolidating functions of the government agencies and doing away with "long winded talk about cooperation and coordination." John Sherborn of Boston, member of the Legion committee, declared the government officers "that if the proposed consolidation destroyed their present organizations it would simply have to go ahead and destroy."

Dr. W. L. Laverne, representing the public health service, pleaded for the continuation of "other work in the health service outside of that done for the veterans of the world war" saying his bureau had many other functions.

Soldiers' Fund in Large

"I have read every one of your appropriation bills," Mr. Sherborn declared, "and I find that the money you have to spend for the veterans' fund is much greater than for all other purposes. Now we don't want to be rough and we don't want to impair or handicap governmental agency unnecessarily, but we are faced with the problem of government agencies that function and we do not propose to permit any single agency to stand in the way."

World Create Assistant

The consolidation plan as outlined by the legion representatives provided for the creation of an assistant secretary in one of the legislative departments to have direct charge of the work of the three bureaus. "The government representatives," Mr. Sherborn declared, "are not in the vocational education board, and Dr. Laverne approved by the committee were informed of the 'advantage' of actually combining the three bureaus."

Several members of the Legion committee will remain here to complete drafting of the bill.

It was decided to request the authorities of the six states now maintaining "quarantines" against Idaho hay, at a meeting of the agricultural bureau of the chamber of commerce yesterday, provided that this state puts the quarantine in effect within its boundaries against the infected areas. The meeting was attended by Mr. Wicks of the state department of agriculture.

A telegram was also sent to the general freight agent, of the Union Pacific system at Omaha, requesting a 95 per cent reduction emergency rate on all Idaho hay going to eastern points, the base rate on consignments originating in southern Idaho being placed at $10. This communication declared that there are now over 100,000 tons of hay on the Twin Falls track which must be disposed of to prevent financial disaster.

According to Nowell S. Wright, secretary of the chamber of commerce, which is taking this action in conjunction with local banks, declared yesterday that hay dealers in the east are confident that the reduction may be received under the present stringency.

EVIDENCE HEARD IN SUIT AGAINST CITY OFFICIALS

Case of John Bevercomb vs. Mayor and City Council Still Under Advisement by Judge

The suit in which John A. Bevercomb, to force city authorities to grant him a building permit was heard in the district court yesterday morning, and after hearing the evidence, Judge W. A. Babcock took the matter under advisement.

This action arises out of an application for permission to construct an oil filling station at the junction of Blue Lakes Boulevard, Shoshone street and Elmore avenue, presented at the council meeting of November 8, by F. A. Webb on behalf of the Continental Oil company and Mr. Bevercomb.

Council refused the application upon the grounds that the construction of such a station at the point specified would be an added danger to the life and limb of children attending the Washington school, through the creation of cross currents in the traffic on the streets in question. A few days later, Mr. Bevercomb made formal application for a building permit, authorizing him to construct a building not to exceed $5000 in value. City Clerk W. A. Minnick, who received the application, neither refused nor granted it, but again put the matter before council and at the following meeting an ordinance was adopted declaring the existence of an emergency and prohibiting the construction of any oil or gas filling station within 500 feet of a school building or school grounds, where it is necessary for a car to cross a sidewalk in order to be served.

PREVENT ENGLISH WOMAN FROM MAKING ADDRESS

DUBLIN, Nov. 27.—Mrs. Annan Dryden, wife of the former member of parliament for Liverpool and sister-in-law of Lord Dryden, former British ambassador to the United States, recently was prevented by British authorities from landing in Wales to deliver an address. She was sent back to Ireland and soon released.

She had been staying in Glengariff, County Cork, with her husband and received an invitation to address meetings in Tonypandy, South Wales. She crossed to Holyhead to fulfill this engagement, when the next morning reached Holyhead pier, a military officer ordered her down to the cabin to be searched. Nothing was taken except the notes of the speech she had meant to deliver in Tonypandy.

She was refused permission to land at Holyhead and was taken back to Kingstown where she was put on a military motor lorry and taken to the Bridewell where she was detained for a few hours. A military officer arrived and informed her that there was no charge against her and she was then released.

RELIEF WORKER TELLS OF TURKISH ADVANCE

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The terror of the Armenians that has greeted the continued advance of Turkish Nationalists into their little republic, is described by Dr. Barton W. Brush, an American relief worker, of Elmhurst, N. Y., in a letter just received at headquarters of the Near East Relief here. It was written in the city of Kars some days before the capitulation of the city to the Turks, which was announced Nov. 27.

"During the night," writes Dr. Brush, "word came to us to hurry down to the orphan, that the town (Kars) was in a panic and the Turks only 20 miles away. We jumped into our clothes, I got my horse and rode into town. Kars had been ordered evacuated. Refugees lined the roads, thousands of them, men, women, children, the old, the bedridden, cattle, sheep, pigs and horses. A wonderful sight. 'If stopped at Hospital No. 2—not a nurse or doctor to be found. Same at Hospital No. 4 and No. 6. Many of the children were sleeping, but the wounded soldiers were awake. Everything was in a panic, children crying and refugees forcing their way into our hospitals for protection. Our guards threw the refugees out and I loaded the wounded soldiers on wagons and conveyed them, under our flag, to the railroad station, dumping them half dressed on a 'wood' pile. Think! Should the Turks have come and found us attending wounded Armenian soldiers, they would have slaughtered our children, the orphans."

"We had 100 wagons transferring food to points of safety. Every one worked like beavers. All this transferring you understand was done under the American flag, otherwise the soldiers would have taken the wagons away from us. Flags had to be held at once, both Red Cross and ours. By afternoon I had immense flags flying from all the hospitals."

"By nightfall word was sent that the Armenians had passed the Turks out of Salum (50 miles away) and that things were running fairly smoothly. But we feel now, if the Turks want to capture Kars, they will get it."

"You would laugh at my hospital arrangements. I had all the little Turkish children gathered in the beds nearest the doorways. Then the Turks and their stars would see their paws as they came in."

FIREMAN IS HELD WHEN FREIGHT TRAINS CRASH

SALEM, ORE., Nov. 27.—A story of heroism has come to light in the inquiry being conducted here into the cause of the wreck of two freight trains Wednesday on the Southern Pacific near Chemawa. Fireman W. E. McIver, according to stories told when he saw the crash was inevitable, realized that after the smash the greatest danger would be from fire. He remained in the cab, shut off the flow of oil and began to quench the fire in his engine. When the engine went into the ditch, McIver was still in the cab, but when he was not aware of fire in the box. The flames that started from a stove in the cab of the train that was hit, quickly built up and with the bones in the engine room, McIver dragged himself from the wrecked engine.

THE CALIFORNIA PROBLEM

Census figures just published do not reveal an actual situation that is very oppressive so far as the Japanese settlement of Coast states is concerned. It develops that there are only a little over 40,000 Japanese in a population of 5,566,000. In Washington and Oregon, which have not had a great deal to say about the yellow invasion, the figures seem almost negligible. In California, the real seat of trouble there are only 70,000 Japanese out of 3,425,000.

But as any Californian will instantly point out, it is the tendency more or less of the Japanese.

than the actual situation that is alarming. The Japanese in that state are increasing more rapidly than ever before, and this increase is likely to result in a serious problem. The arrival of these yellow women, in considerable numbers, has brought a new moral problem and also the problem of a numerous offspring. And the crowding out of white farmers from choice areas goes on steadily.

California's alien land laws may be unnecessarily drastic. Their defenders maintain, however, that they are no more so than the exclusion laws of Canada and Australia, regarding which Japan makes very little fuss. They also point out that Japan herself has laws forbidding aliens to hold land, and that Americans are limited by these laws just as Japanese are by the California laws.

The most troublesome and unfortunate thing about the whole business is the confusion between state and national jurisdiction. It should never have been permitted to become purely a state problem. It will never be settled in a dignified and permanent manner until it is handled as a national affair. It might help matters if California were a little less humpabout about it. On the other hand, Americans will get nowhere with this problem until the rest of the country makes a serious, sympathetic effort to understand it. Instead of contenting itself with a blanket condemnation of California by point out, it is the tendency more or less of the Japanese.

BOTHWELL SUCCESSFULLY DEFENDS CASE IN JEROME

Judge James K. Bothwell successfully defended the defendant in the case of the state against Emerick at Jerome last Friday. Emerick, being charged with grand larceny and having been convicted on that count at the last term of court. Judge Bothwell was employed in the case following this conviction and filed a motion arising judgment which was sustained by the district court on the grounds that the information filed by the state did not contain sufficient evidence to constitute an offense. In the regular order of procedure, a new complaint was drawn up and filed against him and at the preliminary hearing before the judge of the probate court of Jerome county last Friday, it was determined that the evidence presented against him was not sufficient to warrant holding him for the district court and the case was dismissed. The specific charge against Emerick was that of disposing of some horses which were under a mortgage.

MRS. F. E. ENSIGN DIES AT HER HOME IN HAILEY

Mrs. F. E. Ensign, mother of Judge H. P. Ensign of the fourth judicial district of Idaho, who died during the past week at her home at Hailey, was the widow of F. E. Ensign, one of the early day lawyers of this state. Mrs. Ensign had resided at Hailey since the town was established in 1881 and had been an invalid for more than 10 years, her health failing particularly during the past year. Her death is attributed to acute neuritis. She is survived by three children, Judge F. E. Ensign, A. W. Ensign, cashier of the Hailey National bank, and Miss Edith Ensign. Mrs. Ensign was a very accomplished woman and a most lovable character and had many friends in this section.

NEW YORK CITY BUYS 212 5-TON WHITE TRUCKS

IT is a significant fact that the largest city in America, in placing the largest order for motor equipment ever placed by a municipality, to meet the severest hauling problem ever undertaken by a municipality, awarded the contract to the largest manufacturer of motor trucks in America.

Two hundred and twelve White 5-ton power dumping trucks with Double Reduction Gear Drive (seventy-five of them having flusher equipment) will be used for street cleaning, ashes, garbage and snow removal; a big job the year around and emergency work of the most exacting kind during winter storms.

In awarding the entire contract for heavy duty trucks to the White Company, the City of New York has assured itself the highest quality and design of motor truck, comparable with the great fleets of White Trucks in the service of the country's largest commercial users.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Heavy export of wheat and extensive covering by buyers in corn and oats combined to strengthen the grain market today. Reports that British interests were giving exclusive attention to Canadian wheat and flour because of the condition of sterling exchange on the United States, cutting off Canadian supplies for this country was also a factor. When shorts started to cover an "overnight" condition developed.
In the final 30 minutes wheat prices reacted on heavy offerings by shorts, but when the decline reached two cents from the top, buying power broadened and net gains of 2-1/2 to 3-1/4 cents were realized. December wheat closed at $1.51-1/4 to $1.51-3/4 and March at $1.51-1/4 to $1.51-3/4.
The export situation held attention from the start. Early reports raised to ten million bushels foreign purchase of wheat this week. Italy, Spain and Portugal were given as the principal buyers. At one stage there was an intimation that British interests were buying under cover, but this was discounted by what purported to be official figures showing large British and foreign prices.
Corn showed net advances of 1-1/2 to 2-1/2 cents and oats of around half cent. Covering by shorts became more open when foreign buying dominated wheat and prices were on the upslide. Country offerings were not as large as expected and it was announced shipments for the week receded to 30,000.
Further advances in hogs enhanced provisions prices but trading was dull.

NAMPA SEED SHOW TO BE LIVE EVENT

Annual Session of Idaho Seed Growers to Be Held at Nampa in Fore Part of January

"That the week of Jan. 10-14 exclusive, is going to be a big week for the seed growers of Idaho is clearly evident from the interest being shown in the state seed show in all sections of the state," according to H. P. Sheehan, secretary of the Idaho Seed Growers' association.

"The show is to be held in Nampa and without doubt is going to be the largest affair of the kind ever held west of the Rockies. To date we have more exhibitors than at any previous show. When the time arrives I expect five to ten times as many exhibits as ever before."

"Idaho should be able to put on the greatest seed show in the country. When one stops to think of our vast seed producing state one will find that it is second to none. What brings the buyers from New York, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and many other states into our state each fall? Their aim after Idaho grown seed. Our clover, our alfalfa, our timothy and our peas and beans are in demand in every section of the country. The quality is second to none and this fact is recognized among the whole of the seed trade."

"A feature of the show this year is the fact that the different seed companies are going to have sections of their own. Many of these sections will be in the form of booths and will be open to the public."

"The show is to be held in Nampa and without doubt is going to be the largest affair of the kind ever held west of the Rockies. To date we have more exhibitors than at any previous show. When the time arrives I expect five to ten times as many exhibits as ever before."

Idaho Banks to Help Agriculturalists Install Simple Book Keeping System

Idaho banks are to help provide Idaho farmers with simple but adequate systems of bookkeeping as a first step in putting their farming business on a paying basis, according to a statement by C. C. Taylor, farm management demonstrator of the University of Idaho extension division. Only $741 a year was the 1920 net income of the average farm. This is the lowest of the average farm income in Idaho, says Mr. Taylor's statement. This shows the family only $48 for its year's labor, provided 7 per cent interest is allowed on the money invested in the farm. Since prices, as a whole, have just about doubled since that time, it may be expected, he says, that the 1925 census will show figures about double those given.

"Numerous letters to the farm management demonstrator from bankers in all parts of Idaho," says Mr. Taylor's statement, indicate that the bankers are to help the farmers of the state to put their farming business on a paying basis by providing them with a simple and adequate accounting system. The banks are to install in the hands of the farmers of Idaho a uniform accounting system which has the endorsement of the three great organizations which are interested in perfecting the farmers' accounting and business methods. These are the United States department of agriculture, the American Farm Bureau Federation and the income tax division. The same accounting system is being put into use in practically all the western states and the New England states, and with certain modifications, in the states of the middle west also. The account book is so constituted that the final balance for the year is the net farm income to be reported to the income tax division, and for the convenience of the farmer and the man who helps him make out his income tax report, a ruling has been passed permitting the farmer to detach a duplicate summary from this account book and submit this as the income tax collector in place of the old form 1040-F which was so hard for the farmer or his banker to fill.

Perhaps the greatest benefit which the farmer will receive will be the determination of the paying and the losing factors in their business. The farm account is the farmer's searchlight, which, looking back, finds out where the money goes and whether or not each expenditure returns a profit, and, looking forward, directs the way to greater farm profits. The bankers, in turn, will be directly benefited through the increased prosperity of their depositors.

"Some idea of the great need for larger profits on our farms and of better business methods to bring them about is obtained from a study of the census figures on agriculture. According to Dr. W. J. Spillman, formerly chief of the United States office of farm management, the census data indicates that the average farm family in 1909 received only $724 net earnings, including the value of the food, fuel and house rent obtained for their own use from their own farm. This allowed the average family only 5 per cent on their farm investment and $402 for their labor. Similar estimates made by the farm management demonstrator of the University of Idaho show that for the same year the average farm family in Idaho made $741 net earnings which allowed them 7 per cent on investment and $48 for their year's labor. Is it any wonder that the number of farms in the United States has increased only 1.4 since that time? The farms of the United States cannot be expected to increase in number until the net earnings from their operation provide a higher standard of living for farmers. Farm accounting is a powerful way of bringing this about in a sane, sensible and wholly American manner, and the bankers of the state are to be commended for their helpful co-operation in the advancement of agricultural progress."
