CLAIMS GRAFT IN CONNECTION WITH REPAIRS

Witness Alleges Ten Per Cent of Repair Bills Were "Graft"

DECLARES INSPECTORS DID NOT CHECK WORK

Probe of Shipping Board Affairs Continued by Walsh Congressional Committee

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Testimony that ten per cent of the $7,000,000 shipping board repair bills in the south Atlantic district was "graft" was given here today to the Walsh congressional committee examining into shipping board affairs. The allegation was made by Charles Benz, a traveling auditor of the board out of New York. It was contained in a letter written by the witness to the general controller of the board last July, and today by Chairman Walsh and identify by the witness.

Means by Which the "graft" was made possible the witness testified, included lack of inspections, failure to check repair work, overcharges for materials and labor and unnecessary repairs. He cited an instance of a repair engineer who, he said, had set in a pilot house and approved repair bills amounting to "thousands of dollars" without ever looking at the work. He declared inspectors had been told that "costs every one of their jobs" and that there was a spirit of "make rather than cut down, repair work."

German Ships Sold
Two of the former German ships were brought into the inquiry for the first time by Benz. He asserted he had been instructed to give bills for the reconditioning of the former German liner Hamburg, now the New Rochelle. This ship was sold on a charter-purchase contract to the Baltic sea, corporation. The sale price, he understood, was approximately $181,000. The discrepancy between the cost of the ship and the cost of reconditioning, he said, he could not explain without the bill of contract which he did not have with him.

The contract for the reconditioning, he said, was awarded to the Morgan Engineering company of New York City. He also testified the steamer, Mercury, formerly the Barbados, was taken to the same yard for reconditioning, but after $175,000 had been expended, work was stopped because of lack of funds.

In the six or seven months ago, he continued, repair work in New York yards, generally speaking, showed many irregularities including charging of hundreds of hours that were not tendered excesses of class labor and excess in materials.

UNION LEADERS ISSUE WARNING TO LABOR BOARD

Declare Men Will Take Settlement Wage Dispute Into Own Hands Unless Adjustment Is Made

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Representatives of the 18 railway labor unions today asked the railway labor board to find some plan through which differences between the unions and the employers, other than wage disputes, could be settled. The union leaders declared that unless some satisfactory plan was forthcoming immediately, the men would take the settlement of such disputes into their own hands.

The board, it was said, of the railroad disputes which did not involve wage agreements, were settled by boards of adjustment known as No. 1, 2 and 3. These boards went out of existence when the roads were required to private ownership and the employees went from "forced" to "free."

The roads contended when the matter came up in recent wage hearings before the board that the board had power only to deal with wage questions and that consequently it could not rule on other deficiencies.

QUESTION OF MANDATES IS CONSIDERED

Council Would Remove All Governmental Influence From Commission

MEMBERS OF BODY TO BE APPOINTED ON MERITS

One Member Will be Named by Labor Organizations

Who Will Act as Advisor

GENEVA, Nov. 29.—Removal of the council from commission, as far as possible from governmental influence was the task undertaken by the council of the league of nations today. It was decided that the members of this commission shall be appointed by the council on personal merits and competency and that they shall not occupy any position involving dependency upon their government.

Occupies Entire Session
The mandate question occupied almost the entire session and necessarily postponed the election of a successor to Sir Reginald Tower. M. Visschers, representative of France, instead of M. Bourgeois, who was obliged to make a trip to Paris and Bismarck Thonio, also was replaced as his return to Rome for a few days was imperative.

The French government will be involved to arrange for the transportation and sustenance of the league military expedition to Vilna.

Will Include Labor Member
The mandate commission will include one member named by the international labor organization who will attend to all questions in an advisory capacity only when questions of interest to labor are discussed.

The sub-committee on blockades today passed a resolution proposed by Lord Robert Cecil, delegate for South Africa that the council be asked to name an international commission on blockades whose duty it shall be to report to the assembly the measures it finds necessary to put an economic blockade into effect. This is regarded as quite likely to put off a definite solution of the blockade question until the next meeting of the assembly.

Hullin of Brooklyn who had claimed a voice in the proceedings by her claim as a first member of the church, the governing body that presided over the board of directors. Mrs. Dawson of New York, her counsel, says that she believed that all her rights were fully protected in the position of Attorney General Allen.

BURGLARS MAKE GETAWAY WITH MERCHANDISE

Wright's Store Robbed Sunday Night
City and County Officers Squabble Over Jurisdiction.

Some time between eight and ten o'clock Sunday night, Wright's store was burglarized of goods totalling over $100 in value, the thief making a clean getaway. Access to the establishment was gained through a small, tag-a-window light in a rear door, breaking a padlock and prying loose an iron bar which secured the door.

Among the articles pilfered were furs valued at almost $50, two suits, six skirts, four plush coats worth over $250, wool scarves and silk waists and petticoats. No check has been made on the valuation of the latter two items, but the records show that the loss of the other articles alone totals over $100.

The robbery was discovered by the night watchman while making his rounds, who immediately reported to an employe of the firm, and the authorities were notified.

C. B. Wright, who returned yesterday from Oden, is much incensed over the attitude of indifference which he said was assumed by the police and the sheriff's office, stating that the police declared that the matter did not come within their jurisdiction and referring him to the sheriff's office, that establishment again referring him back to the city's property custodian. Mr. Wright said he appealed to Mayor Eldridge, who sustained the plea of the city police and declared that the matter was one for the sheriff to handle. An opinion by prosecuting Frank Stephan, however, declared that any crime committed within the corporate limits of the city requires the initiation of the local police, and that the sheriff should step in only when requested to do so or when the situation is more than they are able to cope with.

Sheriff J. N. Sprague, in commenting on the tangle, made the statement that members of his force had been to the robbed establishment early in the morning and that they were unable to find anyone, about, and that when he was able to secure some one in authority, there was nothing definite for him to work on, not even a list of the stolen articles. He asserted that the matter, having been perpetrated within the corporate city limits, should come under the jurisdiction of the city police and that they should take the initiative in handling the case.

Mr. Wright and others of Twin Falls were of the opinion last night that the matter should be handled jointly by both city and county officers. The controversy between the county and city attorney aroused considerable comment because of the fact that while the two attorneys were in a discussion as to who should handle the case, the police officers were apparently doing nothing and the thieves making their escape with their capture less likely every hour. One prominent citizen last night declared that the matter was a disgrace to the community. "If we are to have law and order," said he, "then the county and city officers must work together in the raising the community of undesirable citizens and the capturing of wrong doers."

MOVE HEADQUARTERS
Hereafter the headquarters of the Twin Falls County farm bureau will be in the new Woods building at the corner of Main avenue and Second. Mr. Wright and others of Twin Falls were of the opinion last night that the matter should be handled jointly by both city and county officers.

STOLEN CARS RECOVERED BY FORCES OF SHERIFF

All of the stolen cars which disappeared on Thursday and the following day have been recovered by the sheriff's forces.

A Ford touring car, the property of O. E. Olson, former county commissioner was found one mile south of Reed Creek, while the Chevrolet belonging to A. C. Ward was also found abandoned near that place.

It is thought by the authorities that the same parties who pilfered the car of D. Sigler, which was found Sunday in the locality of Kimberly, also made away with the machine belonging to J. D. Chubbuck, the latter being discovered stolen in front of a local apartment just opposite to the court house.

CONCLUDE TESTIMONY IN LENGTHY WATER HEARING

The hearing of evidence in the district court in the case of the Utah Construction company against the Twin Falls Salmon River Land and Water company, the Shoshone Canal company and the water users on Shoshone and Big creeks was completed Saturday, and Judge W. A. Babcock took the matter under advisement. It is stated that it will be a considerable time before any decision in the case can be given, as it will take several days to transcribe the voluminous evidence taken in the hearing.

The case was brought by the plaintiff for the purpose of establishing priority of water rights to the water of the two streams. In question, by virtue of certain alleged improvements and development.

This hearing occupied five days of the court's time for the taking of testimony. Plaintiff was represented by George P. Harriet and Edwin Snow of Boise, counsel for defendants, both Walters, Todman and Bailey, and Martin and W. H. E. Morrell, of the firm of Biehler and Hiza, represented certain of the intervenors in the case.

REAL ESTATE MEN FORM ORGANIZATION

With the end in view of urging legislation providing for state licensing of real estate dealers, local men in that profession met last night in the chamber of commerce rooms and perfected a tentative organization. Another meeting to go more fully into the matter and to consider the text of the bill which will be presented to the law making body of the state will be called later, when final action is expected.

The plan comprehends a law which will limit the handling of realty on commission to those who pay a fee and hold license from the state.

IDAHO FALLS OWES SUCCESS TO COACHING

Kanselmeier Turned Out Champion
Trio of Blackfoot Last Year
Responsible for Success.

Although there is no definite basis upon which the relative strength of the Twin Falls and Idaho Falls elevators can be computed, all available information indicates that the latter has a particularly powerful aggregation this year.

Idaho Falls owes most of its success to the coaching of Harry Kanselmeier, and entered a plea of not guilty, or just as Twin Falls is indebted to Brennan who was held under a bond of $200 for trial this morning. The Kanselmeier is a former star player from the University of Wisconsin and has had the assistance of several former stellar collegiate performers now residing at Idaho Falls. In his first year as coach at Blackfoot last year, Kanselmeier turned out a championship eleven, and taking over the Idaho Falls directorship this fall, welded together a machine which has twice defeated his champions of last year, in spite of the fact that Blackfoot has practically their entire old team back. The defeat handed out to Blackfoot this year, the first that Idaho Falls has gained over their ancient rivals in 12 years of constant battle.

The Vikings are expected to arrive here sometime, Thursday evening, which will place them at a great disadvantage in the battle which follows the next day, taking the long trip, the lack of practice and of sleep, under consideration.

Charged with obtaining board under false pretenses, James Brennan yesterday appeared in the probate court and entered a plea of not guilty. Brennan was held under a bond of $200 for trial this morning. The complaint, which specifies $116 as the amount in question, was preferred by the Pacific hotel.

In the prosecution, a firm of insanity in which the afflicted person rests under the delusion that he is being persecuted and subjected to needless and heartless humiliations. The experts declared that it was evident from the history of this particular case that Weidenman had been afflicted since about February, 1920, also stating that since they last examined him; directly after the commission of the slaying crime, he had grown much worse. They expressed the opinion that he could not live for any great length of time. Dr. W. H. Clouche also appeared for the defendant, testifying that he had attended him sometimes during the past year.

Testimony showed that the particular form of insanity under which Weidenman was laboring the most was that of "delusional insanity," which he imagined was very obvious to other people and which made him the object of ridicule, and it was for this that he was treated by Dr. Clouche. Weidenman also imagined that he was being treated by the local labor unions for adoption by the merchants of the city of the American plan. It is declared that his mental disease was the cause of all the imagined slurs which he alleged were thrown in his face by his victim but which were found to be absolutely untrue and to possess no substantiation.

His son, George Weidenman, also testified to many peculiar actions on the part of his father during the past year. Weidenman was shot and almost instantly killed at his home in the Golden Rule addition on Sunday November 7, the bullets which ended his life being fired with any warning whatsoever. The slain man was briefly examined at the Hotel Brown garage, where he was employed, both by his employers and his fellow men. Weidenman was represented by Attorney W. P. Guthrie, who success fully defended him in the first plea of insanity which he has ever entered in a murder case, according to his own declaration. The jurors were W. E. Wallace, H. C. Kennedy, Claud Brown, E. D. Kellogg, A. M. Eitzen, J. A. Steelman, Charles K. Costello, M. C. Quidowald, E. D. King, J. J. Long, Jesse L. Dall and Ira Fuller.

EASTERN GRID CHAMPIONSHIP STILL IN DOUBT

Task of Selecting Championship Eleven More Complicated Than Usual; Six Teams Undecided

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The close of the eastern college football season finds the task of selecting a championship eleven more complicated than usual. In past years it has frequently been the case that one or two teams, with a remarkable record stood out so prominently that it was the choice for titular honors among a large majority of the eastern experts. Such a situation does not exist this year. Six colleges or university eleven teams played through the season without defeat, but in the case of five of these teams the record was marred by one or more to games. Boston college is the only one which has an absolutely clean slate to date and that team still has one game to play being scheduled to meet Holy Cross next Saturday.

Harvard, Princeton, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania state and Stevens all closed their seasons undefeated, but the tie between Princeton and Harvard left the question of supremacy unsolved. Pennsylvania state played to games with Pittsburgh and Lehigh, Pittsburgh was tied by Syracuse and Pennsylvania, state while Middlebury held Stevens to a scoreless tie.

A second group, but thinly represented from the first division, would naturally include Dartmouth, Rutgers, Navy, Army, Brown, Holy Cross, Lehigh, Williams and Yale. An analysis of the record of the various college eleven of the east develops some interesting and confusing data. The West Point cadet team although defeated by the navy and Notre Dame, managed to roll up an impressive record of 314 points, which is no feat, in scoring. In concerned giving the Army first place in the section totals. Williams, with Benny Boynton, the star individual scorer of the cadet, is next in line with 312 points, although defeated in three out of the eight games played. Penn state and Cornell are third and fourth respectively with 255 and 231.

From a defensive standpoint Boston college appears to hold the palm as the team held its opponents to 14 points of which Yale made 13 and Marietta three. Syracuse was next with a low opponent score of 27, while Harvard was a close third with 28 points. Holy Cross was fourth with 30, but it still has the Boston college team to stand off. Eight games was the average on the eastern college schedule and the maximum 10.

ANCIENT VILLAGE ONCE LIVED ON COLUMBIA

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 29.—That a race corresponding to the cliff dwellers of Arizona, or the Aztecs of Mexico, lived so lately civilized as the latter, once lived in the region along the Columbia river, is the opinion of George H. Himes, assistant secretary of the Oregon Historical society, who recently returned from the scene of excavations at Big Lost, Ore., where skeletons and implements of various kinds were unearthed by a state road construction crew.

Copper utensils which were uncovered along with stone implements and a stone image of the sun correspond to other relics dug up at other points according to Mr. Himes, though some of the objects uncovered in the latest find were of finer workmanship than any in the possession of the historical society.

Mr. Himes expressed the opinion that these articles had been left by a race of people preceding the Indians inhabiting this section at the time of the coming of the white man.

C. B. Hall, who lives at Big Eddy, uncovered what can nearest be described in modern terms as a vase. It is made of stone and is slightly larger than a teacup, with handles projecting about four inches on each side. It is made of solid stone and is decorated with a symmetrical design formed by a capital "V" standing

On the cliffs back of Big Eddy many hieroglyphics suggestive of those found in ancient Egypt are to be seen. These are all painted in red, yellow and black colors. In all these the sun predominates. Images of it appearing in virtually all designs. At one place high on the cliffs crude figures of what were evidently intended to represent two men may be seen. At another place an excellently designed human face with a hideous grimace is painted upon the rocks. The extreme age of these paintings is shown by the fact that many of them have been obliterated by the elements, and relief comes instantly when a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness and stiffness. Don't suffer! Better awaits you. "St. Jacobs Oil" is just as good for sciatica, neuritis, lumbago, backache, sprains, etc.

TRUTH ABOUT IRELAND

The foreign question of most interest in this country today is the Irish question. It is therefore highly desirable that the truth should be known about it.

At present it is almost impossible to get the truth regarding conditions in Ireland. The best information the newspapers can obtain is offered before it reaches this country. Each side plays up one set of facts and suppresses another. Statements made in behalf of Ireland or Great Britain are nearly always biased, no matter how sincerely their representatives may try to present the truth. Every controversialist is under suspicion of being misled by excess of zeal.

Americans are almost unanimous in sympathizing with Ireland, and in declaring that Ireland shall obtain freedom, even to the extent of complete independence, if that is what Ireland wants. Nearly all Americans are convinced that the British government has treated Ireland oppressively, and that the present repression and violent reprisals perpetrated by the British army are execrable.

But Americans want to know the whole situation. They want to know not merely what the English have done to Ireland, but also what the Irish have done to the English, and what the original incitements were, and how the wrongs and murders on both sides balance up what proportion for moderate home rule, what proportion for continued union with England, and all the rest.

There are two organizations in this country that profess to give the public the facts. One is the "Committee of One Hundred," which has been holding hearings lately, and the other is the newly formed "Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic." It may be doubted whether either, or both together, will provide the full information desired.

"EUROPE ON THE MOVE"

An editor unusually familiar with the immigration situation, when asked whether it was true that 14,000,000 Europeans were trying to get into the United States, replied: "It is not true. They are all trying to get here. Europe is on the move."

There is a great deal of emigration from European countries which, though it affects the United States only indirectly, adds to the menace. Thus Germans and other nationalities from Central Europe are said to be moving in great numbers into Scandinavian and other border countries, crowding the natives there so that more of them are influenced to come to America.

The rate at which immigrants have been arriving lately is more than 1,000,000 a year. Recently 16,000 reached New York in one day. Many of the newcomers are sent back for destitution or other disqualifications.

There is a prospect now of a new system being adopted, whereby most of the inspection work will be done on the other side, and the obviously ineligible stopped before they start. This would be an admirable reform. But it would not solve the whole problem.

Apparently, the present immigration laws, even if perfectly enforced, would leave the doors open dangerously wide. There is a growing demand for a policy of greater restriction. It may be found advisable, for a while at least, to adopt the plan favored by Albert Johnson, chairman of the congressional immigration committee, and "limit immigration to the close blood relations of naturalized citizens."

PAYING FOR PREPAREDNESS

It is probable that section 69 of the army reorganization bill, which was killed in the last session of congress, will be brought up again as a "rider" to the army appropriation bill. Section 69 would automatically put the draft act into effect whenever the president or congress declared a "national emergency."

There has not been as yet any very definitely formed national opinion in regard to compulsory military service. Most citizens, including the service men of the recent war, divide on this question as on others. Many who oppose compulsory military service as savoring of Prussianism, favor the less-militaristic but equally compulsory universal physical training.

It is a problem to which the nation should give grave consideration. Granting that military preparedness is essential to the nation's safety, are there not other things equally essential which have been even more grossly neglected? Figures compiled by Dr. E. B. Ross of the United States Bureau of Standards show that 95 cents out of every dollar of the national budget this year has been spent for "wars, past, present and to come."

A little hard thinking on the part of the public should lead to the conclusion that there is something wrong in those proportions. If it is true that we can not get along with less military and naval expenditure, is it not equally true that we can not afford to get along without greater expenditure for mental and physical safety?

BEER IN MUSEUMS.

Two bottles of 6-per cent beer have been formally accepted and added to the list of curios in the Milwaukee Public Museum. They are now said to be among the most attractive exhibits in the institution. The curator, we hope, has salvaged a few beer mugs to keep them company.

And this in Milwaukee! The Metropolitan Museum in New York might take the hint, and acquire a bottle or two of champagne for exhibition purposes, while there is yet time. It might add a few champagne glasses and that champagne cooler recently auctioned off in a sale of old senate furniture in Washington.

Kentucky whisky and California and Catwba wines likewise merit a place on the museum shelves. All these things may be priceless antiquities hereafter. To such uses does liquor come at last.

Why not, while the materials are still at hand, preserve a whole barroom?

To make the picture complete, the museum could file away, along with the bottles and things, some moving pictures of people under the influence of strong beverages, and phonographic records of their conversations. All of these things are calculated to arouse wonder in later ages.

GERMANY UNCHANGED.

There can be no doubt in the minds of the thoughtful as to the increasing independence of the German attitude as concerns the fulfilling of the treaty terms.

Moreover, it is evident that Germany has the Scandinavian nations at a point, whether through fear or hope of profit would be hard to say, where they are anxious to see matters decided and treaty terms abrogated in accordance with German desires. Certain Scandinavian delegates to the assembly of the league at Geneva have even gone so far as to criticize the determination of France that Germany shall be held to the fulfillment of the letter of all her war obligations and defied admission to the league until such time as her repentant spirit toward her allies is in keeping with the magnitude of her sins.

It is increasingly difficult to say definitely who won that war over whose ending the allied nations rejoiced so vociferously, and whether it may not yet be necessary to prosecute it further. So long as Germany is in a position to speak loudly and aggressively of the "shameful peace of Versailles" and so long as her own representatives admit that "the Germans do not sufficiently realize that the league is destined to put an end to one European nation dominating over another," much remains to be accomplished.

According to the present outlook Tommy in Ireland will soon be asking, "Where do we go from here?"

YOUNG MAN GIVES UP ALL RIGHTS TO MILLION DOLLARS

Charles Garland, Left Legacy by Father Renounces Claim to Money; Explains Reasons

BUZZARDS BAY, Mass., Nov. 20.—Charles Garland, the young man who has renounced his right to a million dollar legacy left him by his father, James A. Garland, who was a wealthy club man and yacht man of Boston, today made a formal statement of his reasons for rejecting the money. His statement, he said, was due to the fact that the money reports of his failure to accept the legacy had failed properly to present his position.

"I refuse to accept the money because it is not mine," he said. "A system which starves thousands while a hundred are stuffed continues itself. A system which leaves a sick woman helpless and offers its services to a healthy man condemns itself. It is such a system that offers me a million dollars."

"It is piled to the simplest truth known to every child, the truth that the hungry should be fed and the naked clothed. I have had to choose between the loss of private property and the law which is written in every human heart. I choose the one which I believe to be true."

Garland, who has stated that he renounced his claim to the million dollars because he thought Christ would have done the same continued: "I believe I could do no good with the money. It is the man who gives food to the hungry that does good, not the dollar given in exchange for the good. I would be happy to be the man if I had the food to give, but I cannot lend myself to handling the money that is the mine even though the good that might be done is possibly great."

Many people have written to tell him what could be done with the money, he said. "They seem almost proud to point out the power that I have in my hands but it is the most painful thing they could point to me. I cannot serve God and Mammon." So many people ready to serve the dollar means so many less to serve God. There are great opportunities to do good but they are in men's hearts, not in my check book. A question in the name of Christ said that this million should have been turned to gold. He thinks that God's work is paid in dollars. God's work will never be done until men see that this theory is untrue."

Mr. Garland's statement was made from his home here, a former inn of stage coach days. The young man, who is 22 years of age, is living at the house with his wife and infant daughter as the guest of his mother, Mrs. Marie Tudor Green, who supplies them with a maid and housekeeper. He plans to go to work eventually, he said, but a year at Harvard college which he left to get married and preparatory schooling in this country and in England fitted him for no work ready at hand, and he said he thought it would be better for him to find anything. His wife joined with him in his renunciation of the million.

His mother, although not holding the same views, has told him to do what he thought was right. In another house on the estate lives James A. Garland 3rd, a brother of Charles Garland, who has accepted his share of his father's estate, made large by the fact that the mother of the boys abandoned her rights in order to marry Francis C. Greene after the death of her first husband. At Harvard college is Hamilton Garland, a third son, who has several months of right to his majority. His brother Charles said today that he understands Hamilton will refuse his share of the estate also when he becomes of age.

DISTRIBUTE SUPPLIES TO NEEDY CHILDREN

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—One hundred thousand pairs of shoes, 100,000 pairs of stockings to go with them, and 310,000 suits of boys' and girls' underwear will be distributed to needy American children this winter by the American Relief Administration, European Children's Fund, this organization announces.

Without this clothing, more than 100,000 children who come to the kitchens of the fund for a daily meal will not be able to appear as such in winter begins in earnest. In Vienna alone, 100,000 children are fed at the American kitchens; in all Austria, 200,000. Agents of the Relief administration say these children face death by starvation if the work of the relief stations does not continue through the winter. Herbert Hoover, chairman of the fund, estimates that 225,000,000 will insure the child welfare work in Austria, Poland, the Baltic states and Czechoslovakia until next August, when the countries can depend upon their harvests.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair which has faded or turned gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. Compound. You will not need a large bottle of the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you have used your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application, or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Adv.

EAST HOLDS NO CORNER ON ALL-STAR TEAM

1920 ALL-AMERICAN

DEAN SNYDER'S CHOICE OF SEASON'S BEST

SMALLER COLLEGES ARE REPRESENTED ON TEAM

Eastern Sporting Authority Picks Men for Mythical Championship Football Eleven; Western Men Find Place on Team; Centre College Star-Declared Most Remarkable Player of Season

By DEAN SNYDER.

Modern football has come into full blossom during the season of 1920, now drawn to a close.

It has been the biggest year the game has ever known. Record crowds have filled the stadiums throughout the country. Increased enthusiasm has been shown everywhere and many great players have come to light by their spectacular and thrilling performances on the gridiron.

Picking an All-American eleven is at best but a hazardous attempt to include men representative of what an ideal eleven should be composed of.

All over America sporting writers are engaged in the fantastic and more or less futile pastime. The practice of proclaiming that any one of two players are best in their respective positions is nearly as time-honored, however, as the criticism quite itself. And it seldom leads to anything more definite than promoting endless argument by football enthusiasts all over the country as to the superior merits of their favorites over those selected by the nifty pickers of All-American teams.

In a season replete with surprises and international clashes the football loving public has had its conception of the great American college sport broadened as never before.

All-American teams used to be picked for the most part from among members of the Yale, Harvard and Princeton eleven. Gradually and tardily smaller colleges in the east produced football players who by sheer power and individual brilliancy challenged recognition on this purely theatrical eleven.

War brought together almost all the star football players of high school and college and it was not unusual for high school stars to play alongside college heroes without discredit to the former. Service teams abounded and did much to promote morale for players and soldier spectators alike. Thus it was possible for followers of the game to see by actual demonstration that a tackle like Tolbert of Oklahoma was as good or better than the best in the army from any of the big three teams of the east. In fact, it was the superb ability of Tolbert on the champion service team in France that led to his abandonment of Oklahoma for Harvard, where he has become an outstanding player on one of the most powerful teams ever developed at that institution.

With this discovery, made entirely through army football during the war, that the cream of football material of the land was not confined to the big three, came a liberalization in the picking of mythical All-American teams.

It is with a firm belief that the east has no corner on the best material and that the middle and far west and the south have every cause to be proud of their individual gridiron heroes, we present an All-American team that we feel is thoroughly representative of the country as a whole and is composed of players who, as individuals, possess the ability to play together and do all that an ideal football team is supposed to do.

Good Backs Few.

If any one position can be said to have lacked a generous crop of stars it is the wing department. The great ones have shown in the west where the forward pass has been more successfully used. The improvement in the defense against the aerial attack is perhaps the cause of the dearth.

Carney of Illinois and Muller of California are a pair who have shown exceptional ability to do the work assigned to them. They are rangy, fast, effective on defense as well as offense and blessed with the necessary dash for the position. Weston of Wisconsin, E. Anderson of Notre Dame, Hefling of Iowa and Robertson of Dartmouth are other great wing-men.

Star Tackles.

Flashy tacklers, who dominate their positions, are Keck of Princeton and Sonnenberg of Dartmouth. Keck, who can also kick in a convincing manner, appears to be almost in a class by himself, while Dartmouth's chief source of strength has been in Sonnenberg. Smoot of Oklahoma is another luminary who has filled the shoes that Tolbert left vacant when he went to Cambridge. Scott of Yale's coach has performed his duties brilliantly, while Huffman of Ohio State, Griffith of Penn. State, Tolbert, the giant Oklahoma man, has paved the way for the Crimson attack that has exhausted opponents in nearly every game. Griffith has been a brilliant star on a brilliant team for Coach Haskel. Acosta of Yale, Woods of Harvard, Dickinson of Princeton, Trot of Ohio State, and Bungo of Wisconsin have also stood out.

Pivot Men.

Center play has come into its own for full recognition of its importance. It must pass intricately and accurately to fast moving back if his team is to go with due precision. He is required to diagnose the enemy's play and quickly do a lion's share of the attack. Captain Dopler of Illinois is, perhaps, the best big center in the country, as Weaver is the choice light pivot man in the game. Dopler has been a big factor in the Huskers' success, besides carrying the additional duty of team leader. Alexander is next in line as a big center. His also should make him outrank the doughy Weaver. However, of Harvard, Mike Callahan of Princeton, and Tim, his older brother, at Yale, are powers to their teams. Captain Stahn of Pitt has given some great exhibition of what a center should do.

McMillin's Worth.

The great and heroic McMILLIN, of the Centre college, was a great player in 1919, but it can truthfully be said after his showing at Harvard that he is better than ever. All that an ideal quarterback should be McMILLIN seems to be able to do perfectly. If he could pass over and run through and around the Harvard eleven with a weak line behind him, he would be little short of marvelous in the background of the mythical eleven.

Louis Next.

Don Louis of Princeton has run McMILLIN a close race for the honor of being the best quarter. Perhaps only in experience does he fall short of McMILLIN's level. Beynton of Williams is the greatest individual quarter of the year. Aubrey Devine of Iowa is an excellent field general. "Hog" Workman of Ohio State is the star passer of the year. Bob Fletcher of Illinois is one of the best kicking quarters.

However Backs.

However of Harvard and Gipp of Notre Dame are two backs about whom there should be little argument. Powerful, experienced, fast and possessed of unusual ability as in dividual and team players they are entitled to their well-earned honors on the All-American team. Gipp's drop kicking ability is always a threat to

Livestock.
CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Active export demand had a bullish reference today on the wheat market but the effect was partly counterbalanced later by announcement of a big increase of the United States yield supply total. Prices closed unsettled 5-4 to 1-4 cents not higher with December $15.42-4 to 1.53.
Corn gained 1-4 to 5.8 and only 3-4 to 3-4. In provisions, the outcome varied from 17 cents decline to 7 cents advance.
The fact that export bids today for wheat were high together with the unusually large amount of wheat for Europe last week led to considerable change of sentiment among traders here. In particular there was comment that wheat in this country was lower than in other exporting countries, and that there was danger of overselling the surplus. Further more, opinions were current that the majority of rural holders who had been able to carry wheat up to the present time in hope and grain lending to its provisions. On the other hand, however, buyers sold.

Grain

Grain.
CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Active export demand had a bullish reference today on the wheat market but the effect was partly counterbalanced later by announcement of a big increase of the United States yield supply total. Prices closed unsettled 5-4 to 1-4 cents not higher with December $15.42-4 to 1.53.
Corn gained 1-4 to 5.8 and only 3-4 to 3-4. In provisions, the outcome varied from 17 cents decline to 7 cents advance.
The fact that export bids today for wheat were high together with the unusually large amount of wheat for Europe last week led to considerable change of sentiment among traders here. In particular there was comment that wheat in this country was lower than in other exporting countries, and that there was danger of overselling the surplus. Further more, opinions were current that the majority of rural holders who had been able to carry wheat up to the present time in hope and grain lending to its provisions. On the other hand, however, buyers sold.

Small Colleges

Small Colleges Are Represented
The opposing team in addition to his other accomplishments. Harwood can hit the line, tear through any team on foot tackle plays and clear the way with his center. He is as well as a team inspiring.
Sooner Kicker.
Phil White of Oklahoma, while he has never exhibited his start in the east, is one of the 1920 super-players. White has plucked, run, kicked and passed the Sooner eleven into a championship to first year it became a member of the Valley Conference. No east or western punter has surpassed his record.
Grange of Illinois has been the wonder back of Zuppke's machine. Other backfield brilliancy are machine of the West of Pennsylvania, Kentucky of Ohio State, who is hailed as perhaps the smartest player of the day. Davies of Pitt, Spott of California, Templeton of Stanford, who is the greatest of all punters. Owen of Harvard, French of the Army and Mitchell of Wisconsin. Many other selections could be chosen from those for the backfield of any great team.

OLD ARMY TRANSPORTS ARE ORDERED SOLD
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29.—A client with the delivery from the Hog Island shipyard of three of the eleven army transports came the announcement from the army transport service of the proposed sale of the old-time transports. Meade, Crook, Kilpatrick and Warren, which have been served the navy with excellent records for thirty years or more. Bids are being received for their sale.
The Hog Island News, the official organ of the Hog Island shipyard, says: "While no official announcement has been made, it is understood the transports being built for the government by the American International Shipbuilding corporation, will replace the craft offered for sale, and also several others that have been operating in the Pacific and Atlantic transport service."
Of the four ships to be sold the Meade, built at Greenock, Scotland, is best known from its work during the Spanish-American war. The ship, while not doing army duty during the later war, served as a training ship for the shipping service, and is now berthed here. The Meade, forty-five years ago, was one of the crack British passenger ships sailing the Atlantic under the name City of Berlin. The Crook, Kilpatrick and Warren each made notable trips in the service of the transport service, the former being built in 1852, the Kilpatrick in 1860 and the Warren in 1869.
GERMANY RAFTS LOAN.
THE HAGUE, Nov. 29.—The Dutch government is ready to ratify the 200,000,000 guilder Dutch loan, which has been beset with difficulties.
