

WITHDRAWAL OF ARGENTINA DELEGATES FROM ASSEMBLY IS UNEXPECTED BY MEMBERS

First Reef Struck During Deliberations Lasting Three Weeks

REVISION OF PACT CAUSE OF DISPUTE

Independence Shown by South Americans Regarded as Ominous of Stormy Session

GENEVA, Dec. 4.—The Argentine delegation's withdrawal from the League assembly today was the first reef struck during the three-week deliberation which had been going on with reassuring smoothness until it got into a fog in the discussion on amendment.

Withdrawal Unexpected Independence shown by Honorio Pueyrredon, in voting against postponement of consideration of the amendments, and his breaking of the assembly's unanimity, with Senor Velazquez of Paraguay supporting him, were regarded as ominous of a stormy session, but the Argentine delegation's withdrawal in withdrawing was unexpected.

There were two currents of opinion this evening. One is that the directing minds have too much neglected the feelings of the smaller powers and have erred in opposing discussion of the amendments, other is that the Argentine delegation has been too precipitous in its action.

There is no indication that the other South American delegations will follow the example of Argentine—most of them favor Pueyrredon's amendments but will not go to the extent of withdrawing if they are not taken into consideration.

Dr. Octavio de Brazil said today he regretted that the Argentine delegation had found it necessary to take such radical action. He hoped the withdrawal would be only temporary.

From another Latin American delegation it was learned that there is much feeling over the manner in which the South and Central American delegations have been treated. The attitudes characteristic of the Latin people, it is declared, have not been taken into consideration in applying rules of the assembly, which are still, illy defined and imperfectly understood by the delegates. Several South Americans have considered themselves "roughly" treated.

There is, however, a marked sentiment among smaller powers that they are not expected to take any conspicuous part.

M. Hymans, president, has been in consultation with Viviani of France and other delegates regarding the situation arising out of Pueyrredon's letter announcing withdrawal. M. Hymans declined to make any statement before he placed the matter before the assembly.

EXPECT PEACE SOON WITH FIGHTING POET

ROME, Dec. 4.—Premier Giolitti and Minister of War Bonomi are confident that a speedy and peaceful accord will be reached with D'Annunzio. BELIEVE GREEKS FAVOR RETURN OF KING CONSTANTINE

LUCERNE, Dec. 4.—The belief was expressed today by persons high in the councils of former King Constantine that the Greek people want the King back and will show their resentment of the allied attack by an overwhelming vote. It is said Constantine is the only man who can control the Greek army should the allies attempt to deprive Greece of territory through revision of the treaty of Sevres.

RESIDENTS OF FIUME IN STATE OF SUSPENSE

TRIESTE, Dec. 4.—The peace which has marked the state of war declared by D'Annunzio continues. All Fiumer's now live in a state of suspense. Arms have been put aside as D'Annunzio's legionnaires and the civilian population await the arrival of the commission appointed by the Italian chamber of deputies, which is expected tomorrow. The most optimistic feeling prevails that some solution will be found which will meet the approval of D'Annunzio. The idea persists that the chamber of deputies in Rome will take account of D'Annunzio's surprise in some formal recognition.

DEATH OF HAMON STILL UNSOLVED BY AUTHORITIES

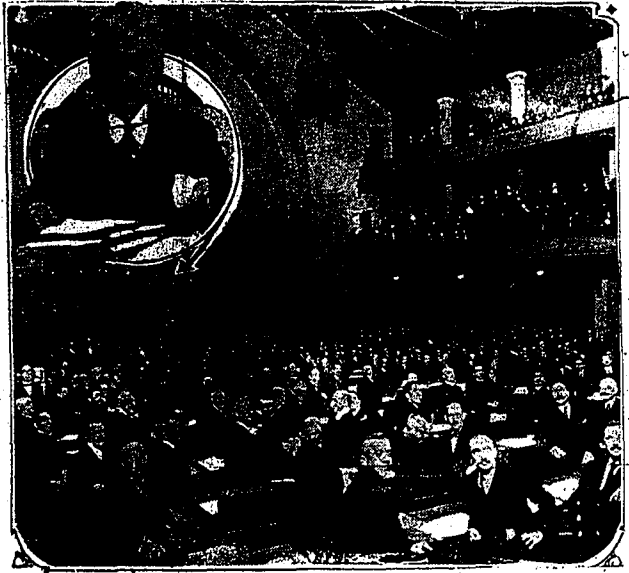

Killing of Republican National Committee Chairman, Remains Mystery; Police Seek Clues.

ARDMORE, Okla., Dec. 4.—Mystery surrounding the shooting of Jake L. Hamon, republican senator, at Muskogee, Okla., tonight was no nearer public solution. Three events marked resumption today of the investigation of the death, which occurred November 26, after he was shot November 21.

Russel R. Brown, county attorney of Carter county, announced a warrant would be taken out for any person that evidence showed was instrumental in splitting from Ardmore Clara Smith, against whom a charge of assault with intent to kill has been placed.

A statement was made by Mrs. Hamon the widow, that she did not believe Miss Smith fired the fatal shot and that she would not prosecute Miss Smith should she be apprehended. In another statement, Mrs. Hamon said she would gladly become a witness against her husband's national committee successor as national committee member if the honor were offered her.

DEMAND ACTION TO RESTORE LAW AND ORDER IN IRELAND

Londoners Adopt Resolution Demanding "Repealists" Policy of Government.

LONDON, Dec. 4.—A resolution regarding detention of the murders of police and soldiers in Ireland, deploring failure of the government to secure conviction of the perpetrators and provide protection of its servants and condemnation as "immoral and ineffective the policy of reprisals which has involved revenge upon them for the guilty" was adopted in a demonstration at Albert Hall today. Former Premier Asquith was the principal speaker.

The resolution also calls on the government to "abandon all attempts to repress crime, by crime, and to demand immediate action to restore the supremacy of law and order and to secure reconciliation of Ireland with England."

Mr. Asquith spoke strongly against the murdering of policemen and soldiers and the "wisest excesses which were allowed to be perpetrated by officers."

He declared police and soldiers had reason to believe the methods of indiscriminate retaliation was regarded in highest quarters as a thing to be repudiated by officers.

His declared police and soldiers had reason to believe the methods of indiscriminate retaliation was regarded in highest quarters as a thing to be looked on without undue disfavor, pointing out that it not a single case had there been exemplary punishment.

Mr. Horace Plunkett, another speaker said the whole trouble was that the only people listened to happened to be the section which did not represent more than one-fifth of the Irish population.

"President Obregon has pledged himself to the principle of honesty in government," he said, "and the whole civilized world stands ready to uphold his hands and we are confident of the success of his government."

"We have come here with the hope that as a result it will be impossible for any misunderstanding or ill-natured event that concerns us mutually ever to occur again."

GIVE PLAN OF FIRST MOVE TO HELP FARMERS

Resolution to Be Introduced in Congress Asking Restoration of War Finance Corporation.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—First steps toward remedial legislation for farmers by congress will take the form of a concurrent resolution directing restoration of the war finance corporation. This was made clear today in statements by Senator Harrison, Mississippi, and Heflin, of Alabama, and Representative Byrnes, South Carolina.

Necessity of action by the president would be avoided, it was contended, by making the resolution concurrent in form and it would become effective on adoption.

"We intend during the first week of congress," Senator Harrison declared, "to pass a resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to revive the war finance corporation so our agricultural products may be marketed."

GREAT THRONGS WELCOME WIDOW OF IRISH MAYOR

Mrs. Mabel MacSwiney Escorted Through Streets to Hotel By Crowds of Sympathizers.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Dec.—Welcome by throngs of a crowd who after her landing formed a parade and escorted her through the streets to her hotel, Mrs. Mabel MacSwiney, widow of Terence MacSwiney, former lord mayor of Cork, arrived today to join other of her countrymen working in America for the cause of Irish independence.

Scenes which marked the reception of the widow of MacSwiney who died in Dublin prison, London, after a hunger strike, were colorful and dramatic.

At earliest dawn hundreds began making their way to the pier where the liner Celtic was to dock while harbor craft streamed out to quarantine for a first glimpse of the pale and dignified appearing young woman.

Greeted by a committee of five women, including the wives of the senator and the mayor, who were permitted to board the vessel, Mrs. MacSwiney and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary MacSwiney, stepped onto the dock to be received by Harry Boland, secretary of the Home Rule League, president of the "Irish republic" and other prominent Irish.

The party then made its way to the street, accepted the homage of the crowd who waved flags and sang American and Irish songs and then in a taxi headed the procession up Fifth avenue to the hotel.

Premier Giolitti observed that occupation of the islands is not an incident between Italy and Jugo-Slavia but one between Italy and the allies, as Italy occupied Ventusa and Arbe as a mandatory of the allies.

WOULD HAVE NATION LEAD IN COMMERCE

Senator Harding Strong For Pre-eminent Merchant Marine

PRESIDENT-ELECT DELIVERS SPEECH

Makes Address Upon Return From Pleasure Trip at Home Coming Celebration

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 4.—An American pre-eminence in maritime commerce culminating in friendly relations but jealously determined to defend its rights as declared by President-elect Harding today as he ended his vacation and turned to the task of formulating policies of his administration.

In a half dozen short speeches, he asked for a government aided marine that would make the United States "the greatest maritime nation on earth" and for a navy fit to be the first line of defense for a people "ever, lastingly determined to defend its commerce and its rights."

He also declared that the international peace understanding that should not sacrifice American nationality and took note of his presence in the south by forecasting a national unity that would "have the people of the old colonies understand that that's only a memory."

The program of entertainment and speech making arranged by Norfolk and Newport News to celebrate the home coming gave Mr. and Mrs. Harding one of their busiest days. After they stepped off the Eastern which had brought them back from the Caval zone, they were kept on the move until late at night when they left for Bedford, Virginia, where Mr. Harding speaks tomorrow. In addition to numerous functions they visited the shipyard at Newport News, the Norfolk naval base and army base and the navy yard at Portsmouth and reviewed a special drill of 10,000 bluejackets at Norfolk.

It was a short talk to the blue jackets that Mr. Harding voiced his belief in adequate naval preparedness and in a nation "everlastingly determined to protect American interests."

He expressed however a hope that they never would have to fire a gun for their country.

His stand for a pre-eminent merchant marine was expressed in speeches at Newport News and at Norfolk. Stress also was laid on the nation's commercial expansion and opportunity, the Hampton Roads in an address here tonight.

Mr. Harding emphasized said auxiliary military importance of strong merchant marine and charged that the chief opponents of an American ship building program "day were" agents of German steamship lines.

The senator and Mrs. Harding, absent since November 18, came ashore at Newport News at 10:30 a. m. after a sparkling naval and commercial craft. As they were received with similar acclaim, crowds cheering them said officials extending them all courtesies.

DENOUNCE AGITATION OVER HOSPITAL SITES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Denunciation of agitation in various localities against locations of hospitals for ex-service men, particularly tuberculosis sanitariums, was made tonight by the American Legion's national executive committee. The legion came down to the lowest level private down to the lowest level private in the ranks is going to bail against "mercenary meddlers whose patriotism died when the bands quit playing," the statement said. "If the legion has a hospital of at least 200 beds, which this public health service has leased," it continued. "Powerful local influences object to the treatment of tuberculous there and prefer a remote location for a hospital. Things have come to pass when hospitals are to be built in the most remote and isolated parts of the country."

VISITORS MAKE MORE YARDAGE THAN LOCALS

Figures Compiled by Chronicle Show Idaho Falls Advanced 235 Yards Against 232 for Twin.

There has been much excitement in the last two days as to which of the two teams gained the greatest number of yards in the big game here Friday with Idaho Falls, many of the local followers contending that the visitors put up a higher total of yards than did the local aggregation.

The record of the game, play by play, compiled by the Chronicle shows that the 31 number of yards gained by the Twin Falls backs, not including the numbers of kickoffs and punts, was 232, the Idaho Falls outfit forcing their way forward for a total of 235 yards.

This slight margin of three points, however, is offset by the fact that the local champions lost only four yards during the course of the encounter, while Idaho Falls was set back for at least 24 six different occasions, the total deductions amounting to 32 yards.

On the line plunges and off tackle blocks, Idaho Falls excelled the Twin Falls backfield men, many bursts of superior weight both back of the line and in it, these plays acting then 143 yards, or 20 more than Twin was able to make in the manner. The absence of Newman from the lineup is practically responsible for this slight disadvantage, in the totals, as this player is the most powerful man inside or off tackle on the entire eleven.

As far as end runs are concerned, however, Twin Falls showed a decided superiority, running off 84 yards, while the best that the champions of the southeastern section were able to do was to total 30 yards, ground the play, as the Chronicle shows that the 31 number of yards gained by the Twin Falls backs, not including the numbers of kickoffs and punts, was 232, the Idaho Falls outfit forcing their way forward for a total of 235 yards.

This slight margin of three points, however, is offset by the fact that the local champions lost only four yards during the course of the encounter, while Idaho Falls was set back for at least 24 six different occasions, the total deductions amounting to 32 yards.

All of those completed by the visitors were received by Bucklin, their star end, while Newman caught the only pass completed by the locals.

In the matter of penalties assessed against them, Twin Falls has a large advantage, being set back only 25 yards, all for offside plays, while Idaho Falls was punished to the extent of 55 yards for being offside, roughing, kneeing and slugging.

Rec of Idaho Falls proved to be the biggest ground gainer of the day, his advance totaling 44 yards, most of which was made on plays into the line. Fix running him a close second with yardage amounting to 75. This local star sadly missed the great ability of Newman in running history for him. The gains by the other Twin Falls backs were Yochum, 30 yards, Newman 31, Herz, 49, and Philipp 22, while the records of the Idaho Falls backfield men placed Payne next to Reid with 66 yards, Coogan 17, and Gowan 17.

LOWER PRICES SEEN IN HIGH FUEL SUPPLY

Motorists are expecting a national reduction in gasoline prices to follow the action of the Standard Oil companies of New Jersey and Louisiana which announced a drop of one per cent per gallon recently.

Official government reports and figures of the oil authorities show that fuel production will break all records in 1920. The American Petroleum Institute predicts a domestic oil output of 450,000,000 barrels, besides a Mexican production of 125,000,000 barrels. This means a gain of 19 per cent in the United States fields.

In addition to the gain in production much of the fuel formerly wasted can be saved. The bureau of mines pointed out how 300,000,000 gallons of gasoline can be saved annually by reducing evaporation of the fuel that delivered through pipe lines to refineries.

Refining companies have augmented the general production due to greater oil output by introducing better "cracking" processes to get gas, line from petroleum. As a result, in some fields the gasoline output from the same amount of oil is now doubled.

Heavy investments are being made by the oil companies not only in new machinery, but also in exploration, drilling and research. Faced by a possible shortage early in the present year, the petroleum has achieved a degree of growth never before experienced within so short a period.

One of the largest oil contracts on record has been closed between the Mexican Petroleum company and the Standard Oil company of New York under which the former is to deliver Stardard Oil of New York 150,000,000 barrels of gasoline during 1921.

Added to the possibilities of the North American fields are those in the East Indies. Russia is also a great potential source of oil.

LAYTON WINS FIRST IN PRELIMINARIES

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—John Layton of St. Paul finished in first place in the preliminary to the national three cushion billiard championship tournament, his defeat of Pierre Maupone of Milwaukee by a 50 to 42 score, giving him a record of ten victories and one defeat. Clarence Jackson of Kansas City finished second with nine and two, while Augie Kleckhefer of Chicago, Maupone, John Daly of New York and Alfredo De Oro, of New York, were thrown into a four-cornered tie for third place. The three highest men will go into the final Tuesday against Robert Cananfax of New York, present champion. The tie for third place will be played tomorrow and Monday, each man meeting the other once.

Layton will receive the prize of $1,000 for finishing first and Jackson will get $800. The third place winner will receive $700.

"BOB" ROPER WINS

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 4.—"Bob" Roper won his bout with K. O. Samson in the first round at the Fifth regiment armory last night. Samson was felled for the second time, a minute after the fight had begun. On the second knockdown he was on his feet at the count of nine, but his seconds tossed the towel into the ring.

WHITE TRUCKS

100,000 Miles and More

The ultimate mileage of White Trucks is still unmeasured. Some have rounded out 300,000 miles. Many have run 200,000 miles. Hundreds, probably thousands, have passed the 100,000 mark—a very common White performance. They roll up mileage years after the best ordinary truck is worn out.

In the long run, White Trucks involve less investment. Fewer units are required to do the work. They put off the day when new trucks replace them. Operating and maintenance costs are also lowered by the steady volume of performance which makes possible these high mileage records.

Write for booklet "100,000 Miles and More," giving owners' records of 100,000, 200,000, 300,000 miles made by White Trucks

THE LEAGUE AS POLICEMAN.

Little by little it becomes apparent how the League of Nations operates, or will operate, when it has really settled down to business. Things that the assembly has done already at Geneva show more clearly than any amount of previous argument could have done what may be expected of the league in the way of direct efforts to prevent war. The first act of that sort is the sending of troops to Vilna.

Some 1,800 soldiers, British, French, Spanish and Belgian, are being dispatched; under a French commander, to keep order in Vilna while that city and district vote on whether they shall be permanently joined to Poland or Lithuania. The plebiscite was arranged for in the Versailles treaty. The most striking feature of it, from an American standpoint, is that the League of Nations is acting as umpire, with a club in its hand to enforce fair play.

It is a small club. Either the Lithuanian or the Polish army could easily wipe out that handful of international troops. But the troops will hardly be molested, for all that. A policeman's club is always small, but usually effective at sight, because it is a symbol of greater power.

No less interesting to Americans is the process by which that polyglot police force was enlisted. It was requested by the league assembly, voting unanimously, and contributed voluntarily by the countries of whom the request was made. They could have refused if they had wanted to. Thus it is demonstrated that in the matter of military expeditions, there is no apportionment except in the conscience of a nation that would be ashamed not to grant such a request.

RAILROADS AND AUTOMOBILES.

The railroad used to be the great slaughterer in this country. It has lost that distinction. Its place is taken by the automobile.

Railroads not only kill fewer people per million than they used to, but in the cities their victims are now actually fewer than they were ten or fifteen years ago, in spite of the increase in population and trackage. For the whole country, railroad deaths are now increasing annually at the rate of about 125 per million, while automobile deaths are increasing eight times as fast.

Two years ago automobiles killed, in the registration area which includes four-fifths of the national population, 7,525 people, and the railroads 8,610. The increase undoubtedly will make the automobile fatalities this year greater than those of the railroads.

The automobile is not only killing more people than the locomotive, but more than industrial machinery.

The great improvement in prevention of accident and death on railroads and in factories came about when the nation became horrified by the bloody records and turned its attention to the matter in earnest. There is hope that similar forces will now be set in operation to make motor cars less deadly. Safety campaigns have been undertaken in some cities, with excellent results. The effort should be universal.

If exhortation, advice and compulsory training of drivers will not stop the slaughter, more drastic means must be adopted. If it were as expensive to kill a person with an automobile as to do it with a railroad train, there would be a sudden shrinkage in the death list.

A JOB FOR THE LEGION.

One of the first actions which will be urged upon congress when it convenes is proper provision for the war disabled, including the assurance of vocational training as they are able to take it up. Members of the American Legion will be on hand to present a program which it is believed will speed the work. It has been proved by investigation that the method of taking care of these claims are unwieldy, and it is undoubtedly true that the work is far behind the point which it should have reached. It has also been shown that either through misunderstanding on the part of the applicants or for some less excusable reason many claims have been pressed which should not have been.

The work of untangling these problems should go forward swiftly, and if the Legion has worked out a plan which will facilitate matters the congressional committee will be glad to incorporate it in their proceedings. No deserving person should be kept waiting or denied the aid which he has rightly earned by service to his country.

It will be to the advantage of those whose claims are just and most deserving that no demands of the other kind receive consideration. The suggestion has been made that the Legion, with its chapters extending to all sections of the country, can be of invaluable service in securing such data as shall insure that every honest case wins the attention which is its due, and that any mistaken attempts to get aid are eliminated.

WHEAT STRIKE BREAKS BANKS.

As a result of the farmers' strike in North Dakota, thirteen banks have been forced to close their doors.

The farmers decided to hold their wheat for a fixed price. The price was slow in coming. There is plenty of grain moving at lower prices, and grain buyers are purchasing elsewhere. As a result, when the wheat strikers' notes and mortgages fall due at the banks, they have no money to meet their payments, and the banks, bereft of their chief source of income, have had to close. Some of them will be able to re-open when they have realized on the securities they hold, but that is always a slow process.

As matters stand now, the wheat strikers in trying to force profits in one line have merely lost out in another and perhaps more crucial place, and have demoralized other business and private interests as well.

The farmers' strike to keep up grain prices has been urged in all parts of the country by certain elements which believe that economic facts can be disregarded. It will be well for any farmer or group of farmers leaning toward such action to investigate the Dakota situation thoroughly.

At least one of the "conscientious objectors" freed by the government was sincere. Benjamin Salmon had gone on a hunger strike, and fasted for more than three months. What a soldier such a man would make, if he ever took a notion to fight!

Why wonder about that proposal to enact a national blue law? Aren't we celebrating the tercenariety of the Puritans? Every Mayflower Pilgrim would vote "aye" on that question.

A new way has been found for an obscure person to become famous. Just refuse a million dollars! Still, on second thought, that's just as hard as any other way.

The worst thing about mild weather is that it is so hard on the clothes you were expecting to save for next spring.

It would be easy enough to find a country willing to accept a mandate for Armenia if there was oil there.

No use trying any "secret diplomacy" at Geneva—not while American correspondents are hanging around.

If this thing of refusing fortunes goes much further, the poor old dollar will soon be cheaper than ever.

The most wholesome sign of the times is the way the bottom has fallen out of the silk shirt business.

The ultimate consumer is going to be the ultimate beneficiary of falling prices, if he doesn't weaken.

A good many people are wishing right now that they had done their Christmas earning early.

BILL GIVES CHAMP HIS NEXT WARMUP

By DEAN SNYDER.

Around the vicinity of Madison Square Garden where Tex Rickard is introducing champions to the ring...

It is figured to be another one of those short fights on which Dempsey holds the copyright.

But for all that the Dec. 14 will be billed for 15 rounds to decision and the heavyweight crown is at stake.

Slim Chance

That gives Bill Brennan the same chance to enter Postuma hall of fame that Billy Blake had at Benton Harbor last July.

Don't think for a moment that Bill hasn't been making the most of the delay by finally getting the equipment. He has been in hard training for three months at Joe Thomas' gym in Providence, R. I.

Likewise Dempsey hasn't wasted his days in idleness because he is a champion and so apparently outclasses all contenders in the division.

Nothing Sure

"Nothing is ever absolutely sure in boxing," says Jack. With this in mind and his great chance to clean-up a fortune in a fight with Carpenter, the champion regulates his life by the clock and the advice of his wise little trainer, Ben Smith.

His training camp, pitched in the heart of New York on 97th and Broadway, as it is, might just as well be located in the wilds of the Maine woods. The champion makes business and his business is fighting while he is still at the peak of his powers.

Tate Is Plenty

And Bill Tate—the giant colored boxer, who has been a Dempsey sparring partner and a member of the family household since he joined out with the circus at Toledo before Jack won the title, fulfills the duty of at least half dozen sparring partners. He's all Jack needs.

Brennan has boxed Dempsey a couple of times, both before Jack had hit his championship stride.

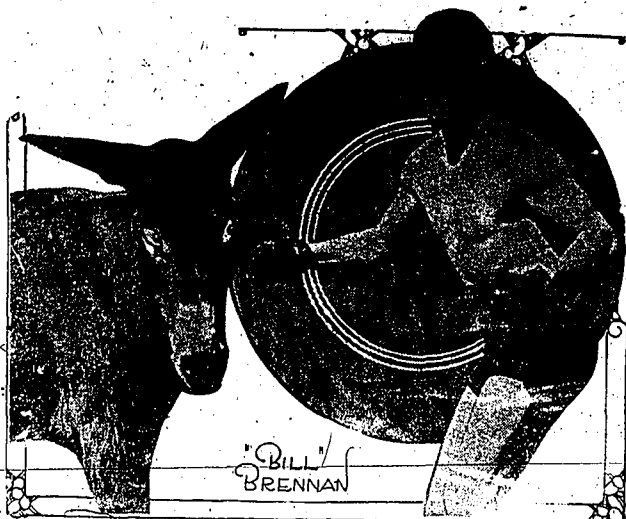

On their second meeting Dempsey was credited with a technical knockout in the sixth round when Brennan was unable to continue after spraining his ankle in falling. He is physically the equal of the champion, but that is all.

Concerning Wallops

Bill lacks the wallops which Dempsey possesses in quantities too numerous to mention.

The field of heavies is scarce pickin' in a town where Harry Wills and Tate are about the two most formidable fellows they could stack up against Jack.

One Jack that Brennan Isn't Afraid to Fight

Heavyweight Bill Brennan is just wondering whether Jack Dempsey can work as hard as this jack in the picture can kick. Anyway, Bill isn't afraid to play with this one. How ever, he isn't so optimistic about his fight with Dempsey, scheduled for the Garden in New York on December 14.

But both are colored. Tate, of course, being a sparring partner, is out of the question just now and Wills will never get a shot at the title until Dempsey has played all white contenders off the boards again just to prove he didn't win the title on a fluke.

Job Martin and Captain Bob Toper aren't graduated up to the class yet as was shown in their recent Boston fight which Captain Bob again had his say to Private Bob. Martin still has it, it wasn't quite the proper thing to do for him to kick his superior officer.

The fight will be Dempsey's first appearance in New York since he won the title. That is sufficient to make the match a success from a financial standpoint.

Leonard and Wolling drew nearly $100,000 the other night.

Well, Tex should cash more coupons than that for his heavyweight party in the Big Town.

STILL IN POLICE STATION.

RENEWED—Sergeant Ustiek found a 25-cent sign in the basement of the South Hunter police station. Nobody knows how it got there. Probe is following confiscation.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—In a typically well-ordered market the grain markets today were generally unexcited. They bucked early on high prices, but pulled to lower levels as prices or the week, only to sink when traders took profits or opened up their trucks.

Wheat advances on wheat futures at Winnipeg had much to do with the strength in that grain. Canadian bulls sent prices more than five cents higher on their exchange and the rice was reflected here. It was helped along by reports of seaboard buying although definite figures were absent. This condition drove shorts to cover and the bulge was continued until December which touched $1.75 1/2. The March options put being 5 cents under that. Then came news of increased output in Nebraska and Kansas, and the sales of 75,000 bushels to go to store, insuring deliveries to December, and of weekly shipments of 1,240,000 bushels into India. These factors induced late selling and brought the close down to within fractions of yesterday's final. The northern finished at $1.71 to $1.70 1/4 and March $1.67 to $1.66 3/4.

Whenever corn gains showed decided tendencies toward following week's price, profit taking was in evidence. December corn continued to lead other options and increased its recent gradual gain on the May option.

There was a strange undertone, however, in both corn and oats and at 7:15 a. m. the price of 1.50 to 1.52 and July 7.3 to 7.4. In oats May finished at 61 7/8 to 62, which was four cents above December and fraction higher than the last bid on July.

Provisions were moderately higher.

HARDING MAY APPOINT DEMOCRAT TO BENCH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Four of the judges of the supreme court are expected to retire. At least one of them will most likely leave the bench during President-elect Harding's administration. Who will be his successors?

It is believed President Harding will appoint one democrat, two republicans and one independent. The names of the candidates are Charles Evans Hughes and William H. Taft. Why Hughes and Taft are expected to be appointed is plain to every American. Hughes because of his same reputation that elected Harding pulled Mr. Hughes off the supreme bench to run for president in 1916, and Taft, because he is the most eminent republican, a former president, always a republican, more fitted for the judiciary than for the executive, and last, but not by means least, because it is now the greatest ambition of Taft to sit on the supreme bench.

Reasons for Hughes' republican appointment, a democrat? For the following reasons:

To appear non-partisan in naming the judiciary.

To reward Shields for his aid in Tennessee.

Because the minds of Shields and Harding "run along together" on the League of Nations.

To favor Tennessee over letting Harding carry the state, and with hope of keeping Tennessee in the democratic column.

But why shouldn't Harding appoint a republican from Tennessee to help keep Tennessee O. D. P.? Because a republican could not do so in Tennessee it is a republican. It has been the policy of the republican party to appoint Shields to the supreme bench, while Shields did not actively support Harding, he kept silent on Cox and it is attributed largely to Shields' influence that Tennessee broke with the south. Shields was a bitter enemy of the League of Nations, and it was anti-League democrats voting with Harding that lost the state for Cox.

Shields' work in Tennessee in the past also qualifies him to reward by the republicans. He broke with former Governor Patterson in 1910 and led the ticket for a "free and untrammeled judiciary" and, as a result, became chief justice of the supreme court of Tennessee. He also supported Ben Hooper on a fusion ticket.

FARMERS OPEN FIGHT TO ABOLISH EXCHANGES

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—The battle between grain brokers in Chicago and wheat growers in the Mississippi valley and the northwest is now at its hottest.

When wheat prices tumbled a shout went up for the "grain" exchanges and speculators.

It was the old cry against manipulation—that prices had been pushed down so farmers would sell, and when they had sold the speculators would raise the price and sell to the farmer.

In the past farmers cursed the system, but did nothing. Now they are doing something. A committee of 17 was appointed last spring by delegates from thirty states to the convention of the American Farmer Republic Federation, which represents 6,000,000 farmers of all classes of product, to devise a co-operative selling plan whereby grain and other commodities could be marketed as the legitimate demands of the trade required the price determined by a price-fixing committee, on which consumers would be represented, based on the cost of production plus a fair profit.

The committee of 17 met in Chicago early in November at the headquarters of the wheat slump. It is to meet here again early in January and adopt the much-disked-of plan to eliminate exchanges, speculators and middlemen.

The final report will be submitted by national referendum to the farmers for approval.

Considering such charges, here is a comment significant and important because it comes from neither the farmer nor the grain speculator. It is an editorial by Stanley E. Mitchell in the current issue of the American Miller:

"The only speculator" that has forced down the price of wheat is the foreign buyer, who has taken advantage of the fact that the American grain market has been opened up to the world. Grain marketing through open exchanges has worked to the best advantage of both producer and consumer," says Julius Barnes, former head of the United States Grain Corporation.

When the farmers escaped the full force of the blow of deflation by the cushion of future trading.

Dr. Scott has moved his office from the Central building to the Saugh building.

SON OF SLAIN MAN TELLS OF FATHER'S DEATH

Hildrey Abel, Eye Witness to Shooting, Testifies at Hearing of Ramseyer Case

With the completion of the selection of a jury yesterday morning the taking of testimony in the case of the state against H. P. Ramseyer was commenced before Judge W. A. Babcock of the district court. In the picking of a jury, one point of testimony was especially noteworthy and the court was forced to direct the drawing of a new venire.

The most important witness of the day was Hildrey Abel, son of the man whom Ramseyer is alleged to have killed, and who was an eye-witness to the shooting. He testified that he and his father had been working on an irrigation headgate adjoining the Ramseyer property when the defendant and one of his hired men came up. When questioned as to the action of the father by counsel for the defense, Abel replied that he did not appear to be excited, nor did he make any comment whatever on the approach of the man who shot him, but just stood still looking at the water without saying a word.

He testified that Ramseyer had a gun and that he stepped over the ditch which divided their lands, he would "drop him". The two men then crossed the line, according to the witness and when he had come about two feet beyond the ditch, he struck him in the back of the head.

Abel also testified that his father threatened to "knock his head off," referring to Ramseyer, accompanying his threat with most abusive language, following a threat by defendant that he would "put the water off". Much was consumed by counsel for the defense in attempting to establish the fact that the slain gave no warning to Ramseyer as to his intentions when he crossed the ditch.

K. P. Abel, another son, also took the stand to testify concerning the location of the headgate, ditch and fence with regard to the respective property of the two men.

W. A. Flower was also called and his testimony followed the same line as that of K. P. Abel. Flower photographer and declared that he had taken some pictures near the scene of the tragedy.

Dr. Dwight of Filer, who attended the murdered man, declared on the stand that Abel's death was undoubtedly due to the gun shot wound in his leg, although he lived some time after the shooting took place. Court adjourned at 3:30, the trial to be resumed again Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Ramseyer was previously tried for this crime and was convicted of second degree murder and sentenced to from 10 to 20 years. The judge, however, set the verdict aside on the grounds that it did not find him guilty of the offense charged in the information. Martin and Wade, and Hazel Bennett conducted the defense at the first trial. Ramseyer being represented by Attorney W. P. Guthrie at this hearing.

The jury as finally picked consists of W. E. Wallace, S. D. King, W. R. Gwinn, C. M. Lloyd, Jesse S. Ball, E. D. Kellogg, C. R. Davenport, J. N. Clear, J. P. Johnston, Hilding Johnson, G. G. Jenkins and Henry Olson.

KAWAI IS SENTENCED.
J. Kawai, convicted of forgery, was sentenced to from one to 14 years, by Judge W. A. Babcock of the district court. Kawai was found guilty of having forged the name of C. J. Hahn to a check for $100, and the receipt of a certificate of deposit for 1000 yen from the same person was also brought out during the trial.

MANY SHOPPERS NOW AT WORK IN CITY
The local stores are suffering heavily from the activities of shoplifters, according to several of the merchants who declare that although this is not an unusual expedient at this season of the year, it has never before reached such tremendous proportions.

Many of the establishments have had articles pilfered ranging all the way from fur and dresses to brushes and combs, and the situation has developed into such a bad one, that they have found it necessary to put detectives on the trail to put an end to the epidemic. The authorities have served notice on all who plan to "reconnoiter" on the Christmas shopping that they will be prosecuted to the limit of the law.

Several people are now under suspicion and their every movement is being closely and diligently followed by the special officers hired by the merchants to protect their interests from the insidious practice. Out of the great mass of evidence, there is no doubt that a number of these men have been arrested and only a matter of time, several more are expected in the next few days.

The table was centered with a huge high-top cage with seven tiny white candles in rosehol-d holders. The favors were kept in little for the girls and boys pulled for the boys. up before the board of county commissioners yesterday. Mr. Moevann appearing in person before the board.

After hearing the evidence, the board of commissioners announced that they would hand down their decision in the case on January 3, 1921.

Provided that the proposition is approved, the new irrigation district will take over all of the lands and property of the Murtaugh Canal company, including flood water rights in the Snake river, a contract for the supply annually of 20,000 acre feet of water from the proposed American Falls reservoir, the power plant and more than 15 miles of main canal. The price to the farmers is set at $60 per acre for each share of capital stock, of which there are 10,000, making the total cost $600,000. The petitioners are represented by Attorney James H. Wise.

Gifts That Last

A Christmas present means much to a woman of maturity or to a young lady. By them it is appreciated to the fullest extent. But it is doubtful if any gift is quite as appealing to them as an appropriate piece of jewelry or silverware.
