Former State Senator Willett of Montana Refuses Help; Prefers Divine Healer.

HELENA, Mont.—Montana's only known leper, former State Senator G. NO EARLY ACTION EXPECTED IN TAX REVISION, CLAIM

Representative Longworth: Problem Is Difficult of Solution Will Delay Action.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Tariff revision to restore the principle of protection for American industry is a task hedged about with so many new problems difficult of solution that no early action by congress is to be expected, Representative Nicholas Longworth, Ohio member of the House ways and means committee, declared yesterday in addressing the academy of political sciences.

"I sincerely hope that I am wrong," Mr. Longworth declared. "But in the existing tariff revision, 'and that during the extra session we will be able to accomplish,'—though scientific revision of the tariff lists, but I am bound to confess that so far as I can now see into the future, the prospect is decidedly hazy."

"Chief among the problems he confronted in such a revision, the speaker placed determination of the attitude of the United States toward assisting in the economic rehabilitation of the power associated with it in the world war. Such aid should be turned over to the League of Nations," he said, but "not now" at the sacrifice of American industrial independence," through throwing down the tariff bars to foreign products.

Citing President Wilson's proposal to congress in this regard a year ago, Mr. Longworth said the enactment in force of such a doctrine would bring absolute disaster to American business and industry."

It was true, he said, that the war had changed conditions, and that a favorable trade balance, formerly a "feather in our cap," was now perhaps the "darling of the nation" as asset since it represented an aggregate of nearly nine billion dollars for the years 1918, 1919 and 1920, up to September.

"But have they changed?" he asked. "To such an extent that we ought to abandon all the standards and policies of the past and, forgetting our home market, enter into a mad scramble for the world's markets?"

Mr. Longworth added that it was doubtful whether throwing open American markets to all Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium rehabilitate themselves "so quickly" their debt to the United States would accomplish its purpose. Those nations, he said, had high labor costs compared to some other foreign powers, and the latter probably would capture American markets if barriers were removed.

"If it should be found wise to extend preferences to the debtor nations," Mr. Longworth said, "so far as tariffs are concerned, it seems to me that there is but one practical way to bring it about, and that is through the medium of separate reciprocal trade agreements."

"As to whether this would be a wise policy, I am not prepared to say."

TEACHER SHORTAGE DEPRIVES CHILDREN OF SCHOOLING

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Between 200,000 and 400,000 children were deprived of schooling last year as a direct result of the shortage of teachers, according to estimates made by F. P. Claxton, federal commissioner of education, in his annual report made public tonight. No relief for the situation is seen by the commissioner who added that while from 110,000 to possibly 160,000 new teachers would be needed during the coming year, "we shall have at the outside 30,000 prepared teachers to fill vacancies or a deficit of at least 80,000."

One-fifth of the approximately 84,000 high school teachers in the country, the report said, are intending to seek other employment. To fill such vacancies approximately 8,000 places created by the normal growth not more than 9,000 eligibles will be available, the report estimated. The result will be, the report said, that in high schools alone "15,000 to 24,000" of the positions cannot be filled by adequately prepared teachers."

UNKNOWN WOMAN RECEIVED HAMON MAIL

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 8.—That a mysterious woman, giving a name similar to that of Clara Hayes and that the authorities have received communications here intended for her, Clara Smith, alleged slayer of Lake L. Hamon, left San Antonio Monday morning for an unknown destination, has been discovered by police. It became known tonight.

Presence of the woman here, the authorities believe, has led to many of the reports that May Smith was in San Antonio.

Policemen investigation has revealed that the woman who came here November 27, saw Denver, Colo., as her address and registered under a name with the same letters as "Hamon" but slightly transposed, according to the detective.

December 8 she received a telegram from Tulsa, Okla., saying money was being sent her through the post office, police said. Monday morning, she checked out of a prominent hotel, leaving at an hour at which no train leaves the city. At noon Monday, a large automobile which had been in the city since Thursday and had been kept in an automobile garage also left town, with a local chauffeur-driving.

"Want ad statesman" was running for office.

On election day her little ad read:

"Nov. 2—We find very busy due to the mailing sending out literature for the 1920 precincts in Muskogee City. Tomorrow we shall have much to do. We are glad that people like our brand of food whether they vote for us or not."

But whether they liked her food or not, folks turned out and voted for Miss Robertson. And now she is quite proud of her campaigning bunch.

She rode to congress on a series of spurts meeting at the conference.

She got a lot of information received today from Fred Bohler, director of athletics at Washington State college.

WILL RATIFY SCHEDULE.

SPokane, Wash., Dec. 9.—To satisfy a 1920 formal schedule of the Pacific coast inter-collegiate conference as proposed at the recent conference meeting at Berkeley, Calif., a spurs meeting on the conference will be held here tomorrow, according to information received today from Fred Bohler, director of athletics at Washington State college.

HISTORIC JUG NOW IN HANDS OF OLD OWNERS

Pieces of Crockery Have Made Two Round Trips Between Ann Arbor and Minneapolis.

By DEAN SNYDOR.

Traditions play a big part in the athletic activities of all schools. And the schools, representing these, are the most highly prized assets of any institution.

At the University of Michigan much of the Wolverines' football enthusiasm centers in the "Little Brown Jug."

The famous "Little Brown Jug"—the trophy that has figured in the gridiron battles between Michigan and Minnesota dating back to 1902—once more rests in Ann Arbor. The Yostmen retrieved it from the Gophers on Nov. 20 by the low score of 2 to 0.

Few cups mean more or are contested for more strenuously by any college or university than this historic bit of crockery.

Story of the Jug. In 1902 the Wolverines met the Gophers at Northrup Field and were conceded to be the bigger team of the football year. The previous year Michigan had beaten Minnesota 23 to 6. Hence the Gophers players was out to wipe out the stigma of defeat.

Michigan had her famous "point-a-minute" eleven then and Coach Will ham's men had been running up large scores.

Eastern critics spoke of Western football as being too much an offensive game and that it was weak on defense. They prophesied a large score by both teams. But their forecast were wrong.

Days of Heiston.

The longest run during the historic clash was only for 11 yards, made by Heiston of Michigan, that famous player who is still talked-of.

Neither team scored until the last minute of play. Michigan counted first, getting but one point. With two minutes left to play Minnesota did the same with a touchdown, but it was disallowed. Gopher supporters cheered the fad so rapidly that the officials were powerless to have the game continue.

Jubilation!

After a great jubilation one of the Gopher trainees appeared on the athletic director's office with the Jug he had taken from the Wolverine gymnasium. The Jug was inscribed "The Michigan Jug" and the score had been painted on it. A big six represented the Minnesota score and much smaller six marked up Michigan's score.

That's how the rivalry began. They christened the bit of homely crockery the "Little Brown Jug," with the agreement that the winner of each year's football game should carry off the trophy.

Jug Comes Home.

Intense feeling between the schools had reached such a pitch that no game was scheduled between them until 1909. When the Wolverines won 15 to 6 and brought the Jug back to Ann Arbor, where it remained until 1919.

Last year the Gophers beat the Yostmen 24 to 7 and for the second time took the "Little Brown Jug" back to Minneapolis.

But the Michiganders brought it home with them a few weeks ago after a torrid game.

The old paintings on the Jug will be removed and large "M's" in the colors of the two schools will be painted on opposite sides, making room for the scores of the past and future.

The "Little Brown Jug" is now on exhibition in Ann Arbor and is probably the most coveted and well-known trophy in the Michigan gymnasium.

NEW PRESIDENT OF CUBA, BRYAN OF WEST INDIES

Alfredo Zayas Is One of the Most Eminent Figures in Cuban Public Life.

WASHINGTON.—Cuba has just elected a president, probably the little Republic's greatest and most far-seeing statesman, and certainly one of the most pre-eminent figures in Cuban public life.

The new president of Cuba is Dr. Alfredo Zayas, the W. J. Bryan of the West Indies, the dyed-in-the-wool Liberal leader, the father of the seat and the founder of the Liberal creed in Cuba.

But the funny part about Zayas' election is he didn't run on the Liberal party ticket, the party he founded, but was the National League Party candidate. Jose Miguel Gomez, who twice headed a revolution against the established Cuban government, ran on the Liberal ticket. Dr. Zayas had been defeated by him in 1917 and 1916.

But Zayas, now president, fears Gomez would be elected, so he recalled Zayas, whom he beat for the office four years ago, to run against Gomez. Many of the Liberals followed Dr. Zayas into the Conservative ranks, forming a coalition party, which was called the National League.

Cuba held her election Nov. 1 and the new president will take office May 20. It is believed Dr. Zayas will bring about reforms in Cuba that will make the little island's government a more thorough-going republic.

However, his election was about as big a surprise in Cuba as was the republican abnormal individual in the United States, as everybody was predicting that Cubans wanted a chance and that Gomez would sweep the ball.

The new president was born in Havana Feb. 21, 1861. At the age of 22 he had already the degree of doctor of philosophy. The son of a prominent lawyer, Dr. Zayas became a lawyer. During Cuba's second war for independence, the one that America won for her, Dr. Zayas served as a delegate of the revolutionary party in Havana; was imprisoned by Spain and sent to Costa Rica, a Spanish fortress on the African coast.

Orator and Writer.

He is a noted orator and writer. He is also a poet, and has published many books, including a history of Cuba.

When independence was declared Dr. Zayas was named lieutenant-mayor of Havana, he was elected delegate to the constitutional convention in 1901, later became senator from Havana and served as president of the senate, and for two years prior to 1911 he was vice president of the republic. He resigned to run for president in 1912.

Dr. Zayas has been married twice and has four children.

Mrs. Goya Francisco, Cuban has just been elected vice president.

CUP IN MABEL'S ROOM COMING TO LAVERING

One of the brilliant theatrical events of the season is promised in A. H. Woods' forthcoming production of "Up In Mabel's Room," the sensational New York farce comedy which comes to the Lavering theater Dec. 15. For an engagement of one night only.

It is long and giddy-ropey, with all the thrills of Broadway's New York, where it was one of the most successful hits of last season. "Up In Mabel's Room" is in three acts and is considered as a frivolous farce, or feministic follies. The production is an elaborate one, and it will be interpreted by a notable cast of Broadway favorites.

Important to All Women

Readers of This Paper:

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of nutrition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one ill.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Syrup-Root by restoring health to the kidneys, proves to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send us ample bottles to prove what Syrup-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine will do for them. By sending ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores—Adv.

COURT DENIES RE-HEARING OF CASE OF I. W. W.

Circuit Court of Appeals Refuses Re-Trial; Defendants Secured, Stay of Sentence.

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Rehearing was denied by the circuit court of appeals today to William "Big Bill" Haywood, leader of the I. W. W., and 22 co-defendants, convicted sometime ago for violation of the espionage act and conspiracy to obstruct the selective draft.

Afterwards Clarence S. Carroll and Otto Christensen asked a stay of parts of the sentence to give them time to present the case before the supreme court.

"The sentence ranges from 10 days to 20 years."

The men were convicted in Judge Landis' court in August, 1918, and immediately a legal battle was started to prevent the carrying out of the sentences. Of the 97 convicted, all but three joined in the effort to have themselves from prison.

An appeal was taken on the grounds that documents seized by the government were erroneously admitted in evidence. Government attorneys at the trial undertook to show the character of the I. W. W. organization and that it had a fully duplicated government that was applied when the war came. It also was claimed by the appellants that documents admitted in evidence were not shown to be the case.

Haywood, former general secretary treasurer of the organization, was looked upon as the leader among the defendants. It was shown at the trial that the Industrial Workers of the World, maintained separate headquarters in different cities for various industrial unions. The defendants were arraigned in Washington, California, Arizona, Utah, Pennsylvania, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Illinois, New York and other states according to a cable report received today at the headquarters of the near east relief. Eleven American women and six American men workers are detained with him.

NAMPA FOLLOWS LEAD IN BANNING PEDDLERS

The Nampa city council has followed the lead of the local body in banning peddlers and transient merchants from that place, modeling their ordinance upon the one passed here two weeks ago. Practically the only difference in the two instruments is that while Nampa imposes a license of only $20 per day, Twin Falls fixes the hawker $100 per day rate.
