

PASS FARMERS' RELIEF BILL

RESOLUTIONS DIRECTING REVIVAL OF WAR FINANCE CORPORATION VOTED UPON

Measure Now Goes to House to Secure Approval of Representatives

AMENDMENTS MADE IN SECOND SECTION

Change Portion to Read That
Extension of Liberal Credit Desired by Congress

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The senate today passed the agriculture committee resolution directing the revival of the war finance corporation as a measure of affording relief to farmers.

Liberal Relief Desired.
The second section of the resolution which would have directed the extension of liberal credit to farmers by the federal reserve system was amended by Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, and was accepted by a vote of 47 to 15.

Another change made in the resolution on the suggestion of Senator Smith, democrat, Georgia, broadened the duties of the finance corporation to include the financing of exportation of products other than those produced on the farm. Amendments submitted by Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, to make the rate of discount on loans to farmers five per cent, and by Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, to make cotton factors paper eligible for discount, were rejected by overwhelming votes. A substitute for the resolution presented by Senator Spencer, republican, Missouri, met a similar fate.

Measure Goes to House.
Final action on the resolution was without a record vote. The measure now goes to the house where a number of similar bills have been passed.

The resolution directing the revival of the war finance corporation, as adopted, reads:
"The secretary of the treasury and the members of the war finance corporation are hereby directed to revive the activities of the war finance corporation and that said corporation be so reestablished with the view of assisting in the financing of the exportation of agricultural and other products to foreign markets."
The resolution as adopted refers to the extension of credit as follows:
"It is the opinion of congress that the federal reserve board should take such action as may be necessary to permit the members of the federal reserve system to grant liberal extensions of credit to the farmers of the country on the security of the agricultural products now held by them, by permitting the rediscounting of such notes of extension at a fair and reasonable rate of interest."
The senate agriculture committee during the day continued its hearings with a view to framing other measures looking to the relief of the farmers from the conditions brought about by the war.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Dec. 13.—The good ship Alice Howard swallowed an eel today and ferry service between Kittery, Maine, and this city, was stopped until her throat could be cleared. All the marine doctors of this port were called into consultation before the trouble that kept her at her pier was diagnosed as digestive, and traced directly to the injector. There it was found the pipes were clogged.

SINN FEIN WILL NOT RESPOND TO OFFER OF PREMIER

DUBLIN, Dec. 13.—It is not regarded here that any response will be forthcoming from Sinn Fein to the offer embodied in Premier Lloyd George's speech in the house of commons last Friday from which he stated that safe conducts would be given Sinn Fein members of parliament for discussions of the Irish question with the government. So far as can be learned from Sinn Fein circles, his speech is not regarded there as containing any terms which can be considered. The Sinn Fein members of parliament, it is declared, will not take advantage of the safe conduct offer, as they consider it an attempt to induce them to sacrifice their leaders. It is suggested that the Irish Republican parliament might meet again to answer the premier's speech, but the disposition is to ignore what he said.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION WITH DUBLIN CEASES

LONDON, Dec. 14.—The daily mail says prominently in its second edition this morning that telephone communication between England and Dublin ceased early this morning. The London officials said they were unable to communicate beyond Belfast. The Belfast postoffice reported that it was unable to get in connection with Dublin.

MINISTERS TO JOIN TRIUMPHANT ENTRY

Before Landing Constantine
Will Don Uniform of Generalissimo of Army

LUCERNE, Switzerland, Dec. 13.—The members of Constantine's suite, with their families and servants will leave tomorrow for Brindisi from which port they will depart for Athens. The departure of Constantine himself will be informal. Constantine will arrive at Phaleron four miles from Athens at one o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Will Meet Council

The party will pick up the Greek council of ministers and Crown Prince George at the Island of Melos and they will join in the triumphant entry into Greece. Before landing at Phaleron, Constantine will don the uniform of a generalissimo in the Greek army. There is an absence of excitement here in connection with the preparations for Constantine's departure. To the casual observer it would hardly have been apparent today that the royal family were in their hotel. The various members of the family go in and out without a word of ceremony. Little Princess Catherine continues to play through the corridors and in the lobby with her English governess close at hand.

Spends Time in Study

Constantine is spending most of his time in his study, going over the minutiae of the Greek government and answering his personal correspondence. The return to Athens is viewed by the people of Lucerne with mingled feelings of regret and pleasure; the former feeling because Constantine's return would have ended the Greek government and answering his personal correspondence. The return to Athens is viewed by the people of Lucerne with mingled feelings of regret and pleasure; the former feeling because Constantine's return would have ended the Greek government and answering his personal correspondence.

Tells of Many Incidents

Many incidents are told here concerning contact between the royal family and the people of Lucerne, but the one they like most to tell is how soup kitchens were necessary, the queen who is in none too good health, and her daughters stood many hours daily serving food to the poor. Again Constantine's friends as he stroled through the streets, and his generally democratic bearing has appealed to the town folks. They say of him that his conduct has been irreproachable under difficult and trying circumstances.

WARTIME LAWS ARE REPEALED BY HOUSE VOTE

Lever Food Control Act Included in Resolution—Identical Bill Once
Voted by Wilson.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Repeal of most of the war time laws was voted today by the house which adopted the Volstead resolution. The house accepted an amendment approving for inclusion of the Lever food control act among the laws which the resolution would repeal. The amendment which covers all provisions of the food control act with the exception of the section relating to rents in the District of Columbia was offered was Representative Bland, republican, of Indiana. It was carried 179 to 157.

The resolution which now goes to the senate, exempts from repeal only the trading with the enemy act, the war finance corporation act and its amendments, and measures dealing with the issuance of liberty and victory bonds. The resolution declares "any act of congress that by its terms is in force only during the existence of a state of war and limited time thereafter shall be construed and administered as if the present war terminated on the date when this resolution becomes effective."

The measure, as adopted, is a resolution identical with that voted by President Wilson.

JOHNSON BILL PASSES HOUSE BY LARGE VOTE

Immigration Statute Prohibiting Influx of Foreigners for Period of One Year is Passed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The house today transmitted to the senate the Johnson bill prohibiting virtually all immigration to the United States for a period of one year. The vote in the house on the measure, 293 to 41, brought to an end more than three days of heated debate on immigration affairs. It also followed futile attempts by the bill's opponents to lengthen the prohibition period to two years as originally proposed. The first of these attempts brought a rising vote in favor of the two year expulsion but a second call showed 181 in favor of the one year period and only 165 opposed.

The senate bill will be referred to the immigration committee and action will be deferred until the committee has concluded hearings and investigated thoroughly all phases of the immigration and naturalization question. A number of measures are pending in the senate and it is regarded as likely that they will be incorporated in the Johnson bill when it is finally reported to the senate for consideration. The attitude of senate leaders today was that no delay should be taken by their body in dealing with immigration legislation.

BURNING CITY LOOTED DECLARE EYE WITNESSES

Masked Men Enter Shops and Carry Away Large Bags Filled With Plunder.

CORK, Dec. 13.—Eye witnesses of the burning of Cork graphically relate how men, masked with scarfs, removed loot from the flames enveloped shops. Some of them had leather bags overflowing with plunder and additional plunder slung over their shoulders. It is reported that a large number of the employees of the destroyed establishments, anticipating their destruction, insured their salaries with English companies. It is said that looters removed from a jewelry store several large costly cups which, being too heavy for them to carry off, were thrown into a blazing street car standing in a thoroughfare.

Mrs. Wren, the proprietress of Flanagan's hotel, said that at nine o'clock Saturday night she was ordered to clear her hotel of its guests, but that she remained inside the building. Shortly afterward the front door lock was blown away by a revolver bullet and a crowd of men, some of them in uniform, entered and broke bottles until she stood ankle deep in champagne and whiskey. She was then permitted to leave the hotel with her four children before the place was set on fire.

GOLDBERG FOUND GUILTY BY JURY IN COURT TRIAL

Defendant Declared to Have Practiced Medicine Without Necessary License.

Taking the stand at his own trial in the district court yesterday afternoon, B. Goldberg, found guilty of the charge of practicing medicine without a license, gave the impression before he was declared that he would sell the court a bottle of his wonderful remedy, a cure for each, every and all ills. Goldberg will be sentenced Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Mrs. Ella C. Brown appeared for the state, testifying that Goldberg had been recommended by one of her neighbors and that she had gotten in touch with him, following which he made a call. On this occasion, she declared, he brought with him some medicine and gave her a treatment for the neuritis from which she was suffering.

What Does a Millionaire Keep on His Desk? Look!

The witness also stated that Goldberg charged her $30 for the medicine and $10 for treating her, which latter statement defendant denied. Upon this question the whole case hinged, Goldberg claiming that he charged the $10 not for treatment, but to cover his loss of time from advertising his marvelous cure and infallible panacea, which he alleged is a remedy for practically all the ills to which the flesh is heir.

In his rebuttal of the argument of counsel for the defense, Prosecuting Attorney Frank L. Stephens brought out the fact that the best way in which the defendant could possibly advertise his wares was through selling them. As a consequence Goldberg's argument did not carry much weight with the jury. The prosecuting attorney also pointed out that Goldberg made what he termed a "limited diagnosis" of Mrs. Brown's case, thus violating the statute regulating the securing of licenses, saying that a man made what may be termed a limited diagnosis of the case, insofar as he is competent to diagnose.

COMMUNITY SINGERS TO RENDER HANDEL'S "MESSIAH"

Handel's "Messiah," the greatest and most popular of all choruses, will be given in Parish hall Christmas eve by a chorus of community singers. Rehearsals for this work have been going on for several weeks and the progress which has been made is very gratifying. The next rehearsal will be held tonight at the home of Mrs. F. R. Dell, 504 Seventh avenue east, and as it is one of the classic practices, all of the members are urged to participate.

It is the plan of the Singers club to open the singing at about 10:15 on the eve of Christmas. The rendition choruses, arias, recitatives and preludes will consume about one hour and forty-five minutes. The Hallelujah chorus will be sung promptly at midnight.

GYPSY KING NOT IN DANGER OF LOSING CROWN

Other Thrumes, May Totter, But "Old Bill" Stanley Still Retains Firm Hold on Title.

By ZOE BECKLEY.

LYNN, Mass.—Kings and crowns have been going fast in recent years. Yet "Old Bill" Stanley, 33, wears more firmly than ever the invisible crown of Gypsy majesty.

"Old Bill" is patriarch of the Stanley clan of English gypsies who roam New England from May Day till early November. Like the circus, Bill has sold his tent and gone into winter quarters—a pretty white cottage on Lynnfield street in the outskirts of Lynn.

Many Grandchildren.

When I called there was quite a flutter. A half dozen babies, Bill's grand children, tumbled from the kitchen door to greet me. And the old king's son, James, a handsome fellow of 40, went amiably in search of his aged parent.

He found him in the cellar, stowing wood. Old Bill emerged, a little bent old figure, thin and wiry, with piercing eyes.

He chuckled toothlessly when I asked him how the king business was doing.

"Well, now, perhaps I'm like the king of England—more democratic than I am a king," he said. "It always makes me mad for folks to give gypsies a bad name. It ain't right to think because we're wanderers we're shiftless or dishonest."

Proud of Family.

"The Stanley's," He drew himself up with a regal pride that blinded one to his tattered clothes—"The Stanley's have family, lady. My mother was a noble's daughter from the north of England. "They cast her off because she married one of a wandering clan. But why? We dealt in horses. We loved the woods and the open road and rode's pure air and the simple life. Is that any disgrace? No, lady? I tell you that is the best life."

Old Bill and his wife, Marilla, came from England here nearly 60 years ago. They lived—in a gay-faded wagon—and often in a tent. Papa Stanley kept up his horse trading.

"Times Have Changed."

Mamma Stanley wove beautiful baskets and told fortunes and sometimes danced. The healthy Stanley babies grew up and married and had children of their own. The Stanley clan increased. There are close to 200 now.

"Times have changed," says the little bent king. "My wife has gone—Yes, I suppose you may call her queen if you want it. She was a queen in brain and heart."

"The Stanley's have never been the same since. We don't go far away now. Nothing is like it used to be. Everything costs so much. People hurry so. And they don't buy horses. Why, one of my sons even travels—in a nut!"

Too Much Worry.

"That's the trouble with living nowadays—everything's hurry. Folks wear themselves out. They ought to copy us gypsies. Look how long we live! And our kind have survived from the time of the first wandering tribes of Egyptians. That how the name 'Gypsy' come. "I'll probably live years yet, there ain't nothing much the matter with me. I've always ate and drank what I wanted and smoked. It ain't food and drink and smoking that hurts a man. It's worry. We don't worry." Old Bill stopped talking and puffed slowly at his pipe.

There are certain barbarian embellishments that would improve him. But sound in heart and clear in mind is this sovereign Stanley in a world of tottering thrums.

DISMISS ACTION AGAINST JONES AND GONZALES

The actions brought in the district court by the state against Oliver Jones and Joie Gonzales were yesterday dismissed by Judge W. A. Halesch. Due to the absence of several witnesses whose testimony was indispensable. The former was held in the county jail for 75 days on a charge of bootlegging, having been arrested at the instance of Porter Harrison, who is now out of town. Gonzales was accused of stealing a set of harness from Jack France, and after having been released because of the insufficiency of the state to introduce evidence sufficient to constitute an offense.

STRANGLER LEWIS WINS WRESTLING TITLE OF WORLD

Throws Joe Stecher After Hour and 41 Minutes With Head and Hip Lock

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Ed Strangler Lewis of San Jose, Cal., won the world heavyweight catch as catch can wrestling championship here tonight by throwing Joe Stecher of Dodge, Neb., in one hour and 41 minutes of 56 seconds, with a hip and head lock.

Lewis weighed 225 pounds 20 more than his opponent.

The finish was a spectacular one. Stecher was worn down to a weak condition by right head locks in the moment. He squirmed out of the first of these in 35 seconds but as he arose to straighten up Lewis got at him other on a flying hold, which he maintained for 40 seconds. Stecher squirmed out and obtained a body scissors, his famous hold, but by sheer strength Lewis broke away and clamped on another headlock which lasted 40 seconds.

The next three were of short duration but Stecher appeared weak and groggy as he got to his feet and in another minute Lewis got a vice-like grip around his opponent's head. Stecher staggered to the ropes after freeing himself and Lewis got the final finishing headlock and as he closed his left arm over Stecher's head, turned him with a hiplock, threw him heavily and pinned his shoulders to the mat almost immediately.

Stecher had the better of the first hour's struggle and was the aggressor for most of the contest, winding his legs around Lewis for scissors hold frequently. On three occasions he made Lewis wince from pain on toe holds. Lewis limped after one of these and both appeared tired from their exertions.

Lewis had a total of 12 headlocks while Stecher obtained the scissors a dozen times, four of which were not complete. He had Lewis in jeopardy several times but was not able to follow up the scissors with an arm or wrist lock to force Lewis's shoulders to the mat. Stecher tried the reverse arm hold several times, three of which tipped Lewis.

At the hour mark, the men tripped and bumped heads. Wrestling was forgotten for a moment by both while they rubbed the bumps. Stanislas Zborsky challenged the winner, Nathaniel Pendleton, of the New York A. C. who held the national title. A. A. U. title, and member of the American Olympic team engaged in his first professional match and threw Frank Yorko of Finland in nine minutes and 53 seconds with an arm scissors and wrist lock.

The message was not read by Commander Kenworthy, but when Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, rose to defend the government's position, he requested the message from Kenworthy which the secretary read to the house. It charged that women were held up and gibbeted in the streets and that persons were publicly whipped and shot, and "it was believed, in some instances burned alive in their houses."

ASSEMBLY ADOPTS PERMANENT COURT OF JUSTICE PLAN

First Important Constructive Act in Work of League of Nations is Passed

GENEVA, Dec. 13.—The assembly completed today the first important constructive act in the work of the league of nations, in adopting a statute for a permanent international court of justice. The organization as planned still lacks the obligatory appearance of both parties to a dispute and provides no penalty for non-compliance with the decisions of the court.

The advocates of the project, however, believe that it is the most complete plan that could be accepted by the different governments and are confident that the good will of the nations will remedy its defects. The plan will now go on to the different states for ratification.

If 22, or a majority of the league approve the plan before the next meeting of the assembly, the judges will be elected and the court will come into existence in September. Adoption of the plan came after an oratorical duel with Latin-American on one side and Europe on the other, over the question as to whether the jurisdiction of the international court ought to be obligatory or voluntary.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Luster With Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, you can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home, is messy and troublesome. At little cost, you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and lustrous.

Gray faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, and look years younger.—Adv.

QUICK AND ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION

Oil wells are seldom at points where road conditions are good. Supplies, however, must be delivered promptly to prevent loss of time and money. The Nash Quad with its traction on all four wheels and its ability to carry its load where other trucks cannot follow simplifies oil field hauling.

Because it drives and brakes on all four wheels instead of two the Nash Quad has proved itself exceptionally reliable and economical for extra difficult hauling.

Great Indian Is Still a Star; Wants Professional Football

By DEAN SNYDER.

The halo with which athletes surround themselves is usually a short-lived thing. But the case of Jim Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian, is an exception.

His greatness refuses to pass with the years. Thorpe is the great physical machine still. True, he has lost some of his dash and sturdiness, but he is wiser and more mature.

Time has chiseled lines in his face and grayed his hair, but his greatness remains a part of him.

He had a big year in baseball as an outfielder for the Akron club of the International league. His batting average was well over the .300 mark and he ran wild on the bases.

Brilliant Lives.

Changing his spikes for his cleats was a mere difference of setting for his athletic prowess. For on the gridiron Thorpe is even more superlative.

As captain of the Canton (O.) Bulldogs, a professional football team made up of the college stars of a few years ago, mostly, his brilliancy continued to assert itself.

When Thorpe exhibited his stuff at the Polo grounds recently against the Buffalo All-American eleven he was a good 25 per cent of the Bulldogs' attack.

Effortless Football.

Referee Tiny Maxwell called that gridiron exhibition the "errorless game in football."

The man made a few fumbles and missed passes but they didn't trouble him with their heads.

"It was played by 22 perfectists," he said. "It was the perfect game, the game that fitted them individually," says Maxwell. "It wasn't spectacular football either, because each team played by the book and neither could get away with anything."

Individual Play.

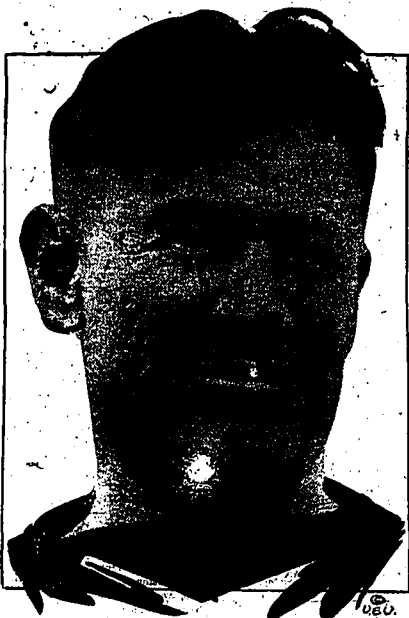

Those who expected to see Thorpe get away for long runs were disappointed. He doesn't do it any more. The defense in the professional game is much harder to break through.

Players are all individual stars in their own rights. Their play depends on what they can do.

The men seem to sense the play. Thorpe is considered one of the hardest men in the game to tackle. He sides his strength and power, the big Indian appears to "feel" which way the tackler is coming and gives ground with him so as to keep out of reach.

Books Pro Game.

Thorpe is championing the cause of professional football. He says he has never seen time pass so fast as it is passing now. He has seen it in the past, but it is now that he is alone with other, big league sports. Next year he may put a team of pro-

JIM THORPE

Though age is marking deep lines in Jim Thorpe's face, he defies time to rob him of his athletic prowess. He is still a star on the big ball diamond and a super-player on the gridiron. Thorpe is now championing the cause of professional football.

Seasonals in New York. In fact, the Canton-Buffalo game was a sort of trial for this idea.

But it didn't draw the crowd the promoters expected. Notwithstanding the fact that both teams were made up mainly of former All-American players, but 6,000 people came out to watch them. Just a few weeks previous Rutgers and Nebraska had drawn 20,000.

Lacks Enthusiasm.

So Thorpe's vision doesn't seem so rosy. Most of the spectators saw in it only a mechanical game. There was no loud cheering. The spirit which great American indoor pastime, penny ante poker. They were arraigned in the police court yesterday and their trial was set for Tuesday evening. Those taken into custody were Richard Roe, Sam Jones, Jim Brown, John Roe and Ole Olson.

BACK OF ALCOHOL MAY RUIN SPIDER COLLECTION

CHICAGO.—Add this to the horrors of prohibition.

Mrs. W. S. Moffatt, of Wheaton, Ill., needs 1,300 quinces of alcohol. Unless she gets it right away one of the finest collections of spiders in the world is doomed.

While other women have preserving tomatoes, peaches and pears, Mrs. Moffatt has been putting up spiders. She's been doing it ten years and she now has 1,300 preserved in alcohol.

But the alcohol evaporates and has to be replenished periodically. Now the Volstead act has put the ban on ethyl alcohol.

"The injustice of it!" exclaimed Mrs. Moffatt indignantly. "Just because the government is afraid some dipsomaniac will put alcohol in his grape juice, I am denied the drug for scientific purposes."

"Naturally, alcohol in seven different forms is permitted by the government. Three of them seemed to have possibilities. I tried the formalin mixture, but it hardened the specimens so that they became brittle. The carbolic acid and corrosive sublimate blighted them so that the brilliant colors entirely disappeared. What am I to do?"

Mrs. Moffatt, who is no relation to little Miss Moffatt, nevertheless has a pet spider that sits down beside her. It's a fat spotted garden spider and she calls it Angelina, because its scientific name is Angolena naevia. It's so tame it eats flies out of her hand and comes when called.

GIFF NEAR DEATH.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 13.—George Giff, football star, who is confined to a local hospital with a throat infection, is near death, according to reports from the hospital tonight. Giff suffered his third relapse today and fear is expressed he may not survive the night.

THREE COMPLAINTS FILED.

Three complaints were filed yesterday by Dr. W. A. Fulton, city meat inspector, against C. B. Janks, proprietor of the Star market. The instruments charged the defendant with slaughtering animals without having submitted them to the meat inspection department for ante mortem examination.

-CHALLENGE-

Come, now I'm Treadwell, a wrestler, so he says, of seven years' experience who is out to meet any man in the world at 160 pounds. He should know, so he says, he has never touched the mat by the efforts of any man his weight and he is desirous of meeting some good wrestler, either in Twin Falls or any other place the match can be arranged. He closes his challenge with the statement that he would like the people of Twin Falls to know what a good man he is.

OUCH! LUMBAGO! RUB PAINS FROM SORE, LAME BACK

Hub Backache Away With Small Trial Bottle of Oil "St. Jacobs Oil."

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back and out comes the pain. It is harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Lumber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.—Adv.
