

COMMITTEE IN DISPUTE OVER ARMY EXPENSE

House Sub-Committee Meets to Draft New Bill For Appropriations

ADVOCATE REDUCTION IN SIZE OF FORCES

Secretary Baker Estimates War Department Deficit of Sixty Million Dollars

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Sharp conflict between the army and the war department over the amount of money to be appropriated this year for the military establishment developed today at the fifth meeting of the house sub-committee to draft the 1922 army appropriation bill.

Advocate Reduction.
Representative Anthony of Kansas, chairman of the sub-committee, predicted that the army appropriation for the coming fiscal year would be cut approximately to $100,000,000. He advocated restriction of the size of the army to 176,000 enlisted men, abandonment of half of the camps maintained by the war department, and immediate sale of the army's surplus supplies.

Secretary Baker Estimates.
Secretary Baker, and Major General Macpherson, chief of the staff, appearing before the committee, urged the appropriation this year of approximately $750,000,000 for army expenses. The war department was allowed $750,000,000 for the present year.

Estimate Big Deficit.
Secretary Baker estimated that the war department would incur a deficit of sixty million dollars during the present year. This amount, he said, $50,000,000 will be needed for the pay of enlisted men. Chairman Anthony, however, said members of the committee were convinced the war department's deficiency would total at least $100,000,000.

The war department secretary was asked to submit a report showing what camps were being maintained and for what purpose they were being used.

"We must close at least half of our camps, particularly those in more remote districts which cannot be kept up as cheaply as those closer to supply," Mr. Anthony said. "It has been shown that it cost much more to maintain troops on the Mexican border than at 'neutralized' army camps. The committee, for the sake of economy intends to provide for the withdrawal of many of the troops now on the border."

Another policy of the committee, Mr. Anthony indicated, would be to provide for the full strength maintenance of only two divisions instead of nine as the war department favors. The remaining divisions would be maintained in skeletonized form and would be increased to full strength only in emergencies.

RECOMMEND SYSTEM OF HANDLING GRAIN CROPS OF COUNTRY

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—The farmers' committee of advisors, appointed by the American Farm Bureau federation to investigate agricultural marketing conditions today announced a series of recommendations which it urged be adopted on any system used in handling the country's grain crop. It also adopted a resolution condemning short selling and urging congress to enact laws to stop it.

The committee's recommendation in regard to handling the grain crop follows:

Farmer owned elevator companies and sales agencies to operate on the local and terminal markets of the United States.

Farmer's export companies and sales agencies to operate on foreign markets for the purpose of handling exportable surplus.

The grain growers of the United States should act as soon as possible by mutual contract or otherwise arrange for the sale of all grain on the basis of cooperative bargaining.

That the foregoing shall be carried into effect with the ultimate view of the protection of producers and the orderly marketing of farm products.

TWO PRIESTS ARE VICTIMS OF RIOTS

CORK, Dec. 14.—Among the victims of Saturday night's terrorism preceding the fires here are two priests, the Rev. Patrick MacSwiney, closely related to the late lord mayor of Cork, and Father McCarthy, who are reported to have been severely hurt by armed uniformed men. Father McCarthy's injuries were so severe that he was unconscious yesterday still unable to leave his bed, while Father MacSwiney is scarcely able to move owing to lacerations and bruises.

The two priests were told the corresponding how they, with other passengers, including women, were held up in a tram car Saturday night, by men wearing long coats over police uniforms. These men fired into the car and severely injured all the passengers. The car was stopped at the point of a rifle and searched then.

HARDING IS PLEASED AT CONFERENCES

President-Elect Encouraged Over Results of Recent Conferences

DECLARES IT NOT HARD TO REACH AGREEMENT

Has Already Gathered Much Information Concerning Plan of Association of Nations

By the Associated Press.
MARION, Ohio, Dec. 14.—While his conference here on an association of nations only barely begun, President-elect Harding let it be known today that he already had gathered information and advice which greatly encouraged him.

Makes First Comment.
Making his first comment on the progress of the consultations, he said they had been "very interesting and gratifying."

"It apparently will not be so difficult as some people had supposed," he added, "to find a common ground for agreement."

The senator would not discuss specific conferences of detailed suggestions of an association plan. He indicated that he had given considerable thought to the proposal for a world agreement, not to decide an offensive war, but to decide a defensive war.

"I am sure," he said, "that I could express no opinion on the subject."

Pleased With Information.
It is understood that Mr. Harding has felt particularly pleased with the information regarding conditions and opinions abroad as described to him by Herbert Hoover, Edith Robt and others who have seen him here. Still more detailed surveys are to be given him in conferences yet to come, it has been reported for granted that among others, Senator McCormick of Illinois will bring a representative from the conference with European statesmen.

The president-elect said he had "no agents in Europe, in the United States or in any other part of the world."

Today Mr. Harding saw few callers and held no conference on the association plan. Governor Wm. C. Sprunt of Pennsylvania and Wm. C. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, were on his engagement list, but requested that their appointments be put over until a later date.

Tomorrow he will see Raymond Nelson, a former leader of the progressive party and a member of the republican executive campaign committee. How long the president-elect will remain in Marion still is undetermined and published reports of a definite plan to move to some southern resort in the near future all were dropped today at Harding headquarters. Officials said many invitations had been received but no definite action taken. The general understanding has been that a southern trip probably will be taken some time in January.

LIMITATION OF ARMAMENTS ACTED UPON BY ASSEMBLY

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Dec. 14.—The limitation of armaments by the powers for the next two years by agreement among them was acted upon forcibly today by the assembly of the league of nations. This matter came up in the form of a report of the disarmament committee, the limitations clause in which was amended to merely a recommendation before the report is adopted.

With respect to the limitation clause, Leon Bourgeois made the reservation that France was obliged to restore her armaments that had been worn out by the war. The Belgian and Spanish delegations at the afternoon session, made similar reservations regarding the limitation of their armaments during the next two years.

Notwithstanding the reservations, France together with Brazil, Chile, Greece, Poland, Rumania and Uruguay voted against the limitations clause.

H. Branting, Sweden, pointed out that the reservations did not change the situation since a resolution on that subject was only and could only be a recommendation by the delegates voting therefore, who are not understood as committing their governments.

The important subject of an international, credits organization came before the league, which has approved the plan of the Brussels financial conference. Two principles dealing with the plan were adopted by the council one relating to the creation of a committee to deal with credits for raw materials and agricultural products and the other providing for a international commission to examine the securities offered.

BORAH SEEKS REDUCTION IN NAVY PROGRAM

Idaho Senator Introduces Resolution to Limit Ship Building

DANIELS STRONGLY OBJECTS TO PLAN

Declares It Would be Blunder For U. S. to Enter Into Alliance to Curtail Navy

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Humored intentions of Great Britain and Japan to seek a tri-partite agreement with the United States for limitation of warship building programs came up today in congress.

Borah Offers Resolution.
In the senate, a resolution was offered by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, requesting the president to seek an agreement with those powers for a five year naval building truce, with construction programs cut in half during that period. It would, he said, "develop whether Great Britain and the Japanese are sincere in their desire to limit armaments."

Before the House.
Secretary Daniels presented his recommendations for naval construction with this comment:

"I profoundly believe that the United States cannot afford to make a five year 'naval holiday' as it has been rumored England and Japan would suggest to this country.

"It would be a blunder, almost a crime, for the United States to enter into an alliance with any two of these nations either to suspend or curtail naval building for any other purpose. It would certainly make for suspicion among the other nations."

Will Urge Action.
Senator Borah's resolution went to the foreign relations committee with, he debated. The Idaho senator said he would urge prompt action.

The house naval committee prepared to take up the relative strength of the navies of the three powers. It was informed by Admiral Coint, chief of naval operations, who accompanied Secretary Daniels, that if all building were suspended today, the comparative tonnage of the three navies would be: England 864,000; United States 488,000; Japan 224,000.

The officer was instructed to be ready tomorrow to discuss in detail at an executive session, the question of relative strength of the navies of the three powers. Secretary Daniels told the committee he agreed entirely with Senator Harding's recent statement at Norfolk that the navy should be commensurate with the nation's interests, relating his opinion that it should be "equal to any in the world."

CONSIDER METHODS OF RAISING TAX REVENUE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Methods of raising sufficient revenue to offset losses through the prospective repeal of the excess-profit tax, were considered today by the house ways and means committee as the second step toward tax revision. The committee at previous sessions has considered changes in the taxes on income.

The day's hearings brought from the treasury an estimate that "more than a billion dollars" would be lost through the cancellation of the tax on which the treasury spokesman, Dr. Thomas S. Adams said, was calculated on the basis of the 1919 season, surrendered himself to the authorities here today.

MAGGERT SURRENDERS.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 14.—Hart Maggert, former outfielder for the Salt Lake City club of the Pacific Coast Baseball league, was charged with criminal conspiracy to "throw" games in the 1919 season, surrendered himself to the authorities here today.

VALUES OF FARM CROPS SHOW BIG DECLINE IN VALUE

Estimate of Department of Agriculture Shows Shrinkage of Value Five Million Less This Year.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Shrinkage of values of the country's farm crops has placed their total worth this year at almost 5,000,000 less than last year, although the 1920 harvest was one of the most abundant in the nation's history with half a dozen crop breaking records.

The important farm crops, which comprise about 90 per cent of the value of all farm crops, were valued this year at 9,148,619,000 by the department of agriculture today in its final estimates.

Last year these crops were valued at 14,148,619,000. Acreage devoted to the important crops also decreased, the total being 351,062,409 this year, as compared with 356,162,112 last year.

"The extraordinary character of the harvest, which have proven to be among the most abundant in the country's history, notwithstanding beginning about as unpromising as ever known, is emphasized by the December revisions of estimates," the department said in a statement commenting on today's report. "The final outcome of the 1920 wheat harvest, winter and spring combined, is now estimated at 75,875,000 bushels, compared with 93,426,000 bushels in 1919, this being an increase over the earlier estimates for 1920 of 39,230,000 bushels. The 1920 acreage abandoned from winter killing, was less than expected and indicated by the very bad and unpromising conditions on May 1, and the increasingly favorable character of the later season, maintained much wheat than considered hopeless to develop and come to harvest. The reports of increase over earlier expectations of winter wheat produced came from almost every important winter wheat state. The greatest gain 15,000,000, is in Kansas, the leading producer of winter wheat. It is that state the increase was helped by an area of over 1,000,000 acres of volunteer wheat sprouted from shattered grain in the autumn of 1919 which despite its unpromising beginning and doubtful prospects in the spring of 1920, came the final harvest.

In general, it appears that the reduction in crop acreage by 120,000 in 1919 is less in production and reported the beginning of the crop season. Notwithstanding the early unfavorable conditions for the efforts of the farmers to fully seed their fields, assisted by favoring days that came late in the planting period, resulted in plantings greater than anticipated.

Increases in almost every crop were reported in the revised production figures, as compared with the primary estimates announced in November.

Corn, with a record crop, shows an increase of almost 70,000,000 bushels, winter wheat an increase of almost 4,000,000 bushels, spring wheat a decrease of 9,000,000 bushels; oats an increase of almost 70,000,000 bushels, barley increase almost 11,000,000 bushels; potatoes increase 32,000,000 pounds.

The yield of corn per acre set a record with an average production of 30.9 bushels. Only once before has the average yield per acre exceeded 30 bushels and that was in 1905 when 30.3 bushels was made.

While the corn crop is a record one, its value this year is $1,662,000 less than last year's crop, which was smaller by 374,000 bushels. The price being paid to farmers for corn on December 1 was announced by the department as 67.7 cents a bushel as compared with $1.24 a year ago.

Production of the various crops are estimated in the following terms: Bushels corn, winter wheat, spring wheat, oats, barley, rye, buckwheat, flax seed, rice, potatoes, sweet potatoes, peanuts, beans and peaches; tons, hay and cotton seed, pounds, tobacco, beet sugar and cane sugar; gallons, sorghum syrup, bales, cotton; boxes, oranges, and barrels, apples.

DRY LINERS

American citizens may go to foreign countries in search of alcohol relief, but they cannot quench their thirst on the way, if they travel on American vessels. Even the ocean has gone dry. It is declared by the prohibition enforcement commissioner that the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act apply to American ships, inasmuch as a ship under the American flag is considered legally a portion of the territory of the United States.

States, and those aboard it are under American jurisdiction. There does not seem to be any good reason for questioning this ruling. It will be a sad blow, however, to a large proportion of American tourists. Many people who would never think of indulging in strong drink in their own communities have a tendency to turn more liberal and venturesome when they get away from home. The ban on ocean liners has been generally patronized during the past year. It is feared that a good many tourists hereafter will find their thirst stronger than their patriotism, and will be constrained to divert their patronage to foreign ships.

U. OF W. WANTS NEW COACH FOR FOOTBALL

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 14.—University of Washington is looking around for a new athletic coach, following the recent resignation of "Stu" Allison, who handled the 1920 football team which finished at the bottom of the Pacific Coast Conference percentage ladder.

Among the men mentioned for the job are E. O. "Jojo" Stueben, University of Indiana coach, Knott Ingleshaw, who has turned out championship teams at The Everett, Wash., high school for nine years, Vincent Horslake, coach at Whitman college, Walla Walla, Wash., and Coach Henderson of the University of Southern California.

MEMPHIS GIVES UP FAMOUS "DOPE LINE"

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—The "dope line" established by the city of Memphis and Jan. 1.

"There is a tower among Memphis drug dealers.

For three years the Memphis health and police departments have sold confined drug users pure drugs at 5 cents a grain against 25 cents a grain played by underground "dope runners" for drugs adulterated with chalk, talcum or acetate.

The city only sold each addict enough morphine, heroin or cocaine to supply the cigarette habit of drug hunger. The money found both from the city and the peddlers, hence, the system designed to keep them under treatment for their habit failed.

Health Superintendent J. J. Durrett has instructed Dr. J. H. Drake, chief of the "dope line," to cut down drug allotments from now until Jan. 1 and after that time to dispense none.

Three hundred men and women who stand each morning in line at the four dispensaries are in pain. They are pleadingly begging Memphis to continue to give them drugs.

There are white men and negroes and white women in the line. There are more women than men and most of the women are white. Beside beggars in rags are well-dressed women. And all of them are trembling now that the city's supply of "joy powder" is to be cut off. They beg and cry and curse and rail alternately.

Dispensary attendants are watching their drug supplies because what slaves of "dope" cannot purchase they will steal.

"We have failed," said Dr. Drake, "because the drug addicts lacked will power. As soon as we cut their doses here, striving to free them from their bondage to drugs, they flock to the peddlers."

YOUNG AMERICAN TENOR, ALBERT LINQUEST, WINS WITH HIS "VOICE OF GOLD"

Albert Lindquest, the noted tenor, who is to appear here soon, is a young American singer of rare attainment, who has come to the front fast during the last few years.

His work first attracted the attention of Alessandro Bonci, the great lyric tenor of the Chicago Opera company. He referred to Lindquest as a tenor with a "voice of gold." It was the inspiration of Bonci's criticism that caused Mr. Lindquest to forsake the calling of law, as he was a law student in Chicago university at the time. While still a student in the university, Mr. Lindquest made several tours with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra as soloist. Later on he appeared with the New York Symphony, Philadelphia Symphony and St. Louis Symphony, and in fact practically all of the leading organizations of this kind in the east.

Mr. Lindquest truly possesses a "voice of gold" if ever there was one. It is a voice of intrinsic sweetness and purity, a voice of sympathy and flexibility; in fact a wonderful golden lyric voice which always captivates his audience. Different from the usual lyric tenor, Mr. Lindquest possesses unusual power and strength, particularly in his upper register, and this, of course, adds to the charm of his amazing vocal organ. Mr. Lindquest has been called one of ten great American artists by Leslie's Magazine. The leading New York and Chicago papers have been lavish in their praise of his work and pronounced him a star of the first magnitude. He sings exclusively for the Edison company and his records may be heard at any Edison shop.

RE-ESTABLISH "DEAD LINE" IN N. Y. JEWEL MARKETS

NEW YORK.—Gotham's famous "dead line" has been re-established and a new one created to guard the city's famous gem, "dope" and bond markets.

With the approach of the Christmas season and the increase in the millions of dollars worth of gems in jewelry stores, Chief Inspector William Lahey has announced the line, placed squadrons of men to patrol them and passed the word in the underworld that they must be respected.

No one knows where the term, "dead line" originated, but Chief Byrnes, famous detective, first established it in New York. He drew an imaginary line from river to river through lower Manhattan so that it cut off the financial center and the Maiden Lane diamond center. Then he announced that all those with criminal records who ventured across the line would be arrested on suspicion. Crooks were gradually frightened away.

The line has been more or less forgotten of late, but Lahey now announces it revived with a bang, together with a new one to guard Fifth avenue.

HEADQUARTERS OF IDAHO INDUSTRIES MAY COME HERE

Successor to Southern Idaho Employers' Association, Executive Officers and Adoptive By-Laws.

That the state headquarters of the Associated Industries of Idaho will be located in Twin Falls is practically assured following a meeting Monday night at Coalinga at which officers were elected and a constitution adopted. This organization is the successor to the Southern Idaho Employers' association which at present comprises three districts, with headquarters at Boise, Idaho Falls and Twin Falls. The Employers' association was launched in Idaho Falls a year ago and commenced to branch out and take in other cities and towns about the first of the year.

A big expansion campaign is planned, particularly in the northern section of the state which has not yet been touched, but which has for many years been subsidiary to the Spokane organization. Other divisions are also planned for this section of the state.

The establishment of a legislative bureau at Boise is also anticipated, in order that the membership of the association may be kept advised as to pending legislation affecting labor and industry. A legislative committee, to consist of three members, one from each division is to be selected in the near future. Free employment agencies will be maintained at the three division headquarters.

At the Coalinga meeting, George I. Martin, manager of the organization, gave a brief talk on present unemployment and the possibilities of rectifying this deplorable situation through increased activity in building and efforts to keep all factories and plants running to their full capacity. He advocated giving preference to local men in the matter of employment rather than hiring transient or floating labor and also touched on the immigration problem. In this connection he expressed his belief that the growing influx of foreigners should be absolutely prohibited for the time being, stating that although he was unilaterally opposed to the closed shop, he was also opposed to breaking it through forcing American citizens to go hungry.

Mr. Martin said that he did not deny to the laboring man the right of collective bargaining, but expressed his conviction that the closed shop inevitably reacted to the disadvantage of the unions. This, he declared, is stockholders.

due to the fact that it creates inefficiency because the employee knows that another man cannot step in and take his job whether he works or not. Those selected as officers at the meeting Monday are: J. E. Pike, Idaho Falls, president; Ernest White, Twin Falls, vice president; Stuart Taylor, Twin Falls, secretary; With E. H. Peasley of Boise and George H. Scott of Idaho Falls, these officers form the executive committee. An advisory board was also elected, consisting of J. E. Keel, R. E. Bowler and J. A. Keefe, of Twin Falls; Leo J. Falk, C. A. Barton and R. N. Netzel, of Boise; and G. G. Wright, C. E. Spath and C. J. Carlson, of Idaho Falls. George I. Martin was picked as executive secretary or manager.

The Twin Falls delegates were Ernest White, P. R. Thompson, C. N. Boutly, L. T. Wright, Frank Murphy and Elmar Olsen.

EXPERIMENT WITH LARGE SCALE STOCK FEEDING

MOSCOW, Idaho.—Large scale experimental live stock feeding has been started by the University of Idaho college of agriculture on the Caldwell experiment station with the selection for feeding of 110 steers and 477 lambs, according to announcement by E. J. Tidling, dean of the college of agriculture. Experimental feeding was conducted by the university last year with satisfactory results.

The experiment has been planned by C. W. Hickman, professor of the department of animal husbandry, and E. V. Rainshurst, of the extension division. The actual work at the Caldwell station will be in charge of A. W. Johnson, an Idaho graduate.

Experimentation on feeding is designed to furnish the sheep owners and cattlemen of the state with accurate and practical statistics on the value of various combinations of feed. From 90 to 100 days of tests on sheep feeding and 100 days of experimentation on cattle feeding will be conducted through the fall and winter months.

AGREE ON WHISKY PRICE. REGINA, Sask.—Scotch whisky, as sold under the provisions of the Saskatchewan Temperance Act, 1920, will cost the consumer two dollars for an eight-ounce bottle. Wholesale prices have also been agreed upon and it is estimated that the price will sell on a margin of 50 per cent profit.

URGENT RAILROAD RETURN WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The British government is reported in advices received here today to have made representations to the Mexican government, urging the prompt return of the inter-oceanic railroad and other properties in which British are stockholders.

COOLIES FLEE FAMINE AND LAND IN PANIC

WASHINGTON.—To flee from famine in China, only to find themselves jobless a few weeks later in the cane fields. The Chinese famine, caused by a bad crop and floods, threatens to wipe out 30,000,000 souls in Chihli, Honan and Shantung provinces. So the coolies were glad to sail for Cuba to work in the cane fields.

The misfortune that overtook the coolies was caused by the drop in sugar prices.

The price of sugar f. o. b. New York has gone as low as 5 3/4 cents a pound, it reached its maximum price in May, 22 1/2 cents a pound.

Chinese made millions out of sugar while prices were high, but spent it for luxuries and enlarging their sugar plantations. They expected prices to stay up.

The Banco Internacional at Havana and some 70 of its branch banks, located heavily on sugar stocks. Plantation owners expected to finance their crop on borrowed money. Two months ago a check for $1,000,000 was presented at the Banco Internacional and it couldn't pay it. This caused a run on the bank, and President Menocal declared a moratorium until December 1, making it so depositors could draw but 10 per cent of their deposits.

PIONEER COMMITTS SUICIDE. DILLON, Mont.—Xavier Renola, one of the first gold seekers in Montana, ended his own life here recently. Renola had lived in Montana for years and is said to have made and lost a fortune, like many other miners of the early gold days of the state.

DEMPSEY BEATS BRENNAN

HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION SUCCESSFULLY DEFENDS TITLE AGAINST OPPONENT

End Comes in Twelfth Round When Following Terrific Blows to Heart and Body Victor Lands Left to Head and Brennan Takes Count of Ten

MADISON SQUARE, NEW YORK,

Dec. 14.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, knocked out Bill Brennan of Chicago tonight in the twelfth round of the first heavyweight championship fight staged in New York since the Walker loss became operative.

There were many opinions expressed by those present as to Dempsey's inability to finish his opponent quickly. When Dempsey did cut loose, however, he certainly made a quick job of it. It was not until after Brennan had shown that he was absolutely unafraid of the champion's punches and had left Dempsey's left ear with a right hook.

The champion proved to be Brennan's master in nearly every stage of the bout but the challenger withstood many hard blows in the wind and rain through the champion's physical condition.

Two negroes, Bill Tate of New York and "Kid" Norfolk, from the rival training camps of Dempsey and Brennan were the principals in the 10 round bout which preceded the main bout. Tate was six inches taller and 42 pounds heavier than his opponent, who weighed 185 pounds. Tate had some difficulty in landing on the smaller man while the little fellow scored frequently with lefts and rights to stomach and face to the evident amusement of the spectators who cheered the "Norfolk kid's" untiring efforts. A hard blow drew blood from Tate's nose in the seventh and the only points Tate scored were earned by an occasional jab to the Negro's nose.

The judges decided that "Kid" Norfolk had won. While half a dozen photographers got into the ring to be ready to snap the principals in the big event when they arrived, the motion picture men on both sides of the garden were busy grinding out yards of film.

Four powerful lights suspended from the roof of the garden over the ring made the roped enclosure almost as bright as daylight.

Brennan entered the ring at 10:23 his green trunks peeping out from under a crimson sweater. Dempsey came through the ropes in Brennan's corner a moment later. The champion stopped for a moment to shake hands with his challenger and then each of them examined the bandages on the other's hands.

Dempsey wore white trunks, topped with red, white and blue belt and only wore a towel over his shoulders.

Announcer Humphrey introduced Dempsey as the greatest heavyweight champion the world has ever known. Brennan was introduced as from Chicago and the best heavyweight in the middle west.

The weights were Dempsey, 188; Brennan, 197.

John Hauck of Brooklyn was the referee and the judges were Thomas Shortell, Brooklyn, and Joe Ruddy of the New York A. C.

The fight by rounds:

Round 1.—The men got into the center of the ring. Brennan landed first, a right chop to the head. They exchanged lefts and rights to the body at close quarters and clinched frequently. Brennan worked left hooks to the head while Dempsey sent two rights to the head, one of which narrowly missed Brennan's chin. Both worked fast at close quarters, and Dempsey scratched Brennan's right eye with a left hook. Dempsey's round by a shade.

Round 2.—Dempsey landed a close right on the head. Brennan replied with a similar blow on the neck. Then they got into a short arm exchange. Dempsey missed a left hook for the head. Brennan hooked a left to the stomach. Short lefts and rights were exchanged at close quarters and Dempsey sent a half arm left to the body and brought it up to the face with a great deal of steam behind it. Dempsey was short with rights to the head and Brennan got in two half arm uppercuts over the heart. They came in a lively mixup at the bell. Brennan had a shade in the round.

Round 3.—They rushed into a clinch and then exchanged blows. Both landed short right uppercuts. Dempsey ducked into a right hook which was followed by a left and right to the head. Dempsey then jabbed Brennan's man with right and left hooks, but he did not put much power into the blows. Dempsey showed a slight "sweat" over his nose. There were a few rapid exchanges with honors fairly even. Dempsey crossed his right hand to the ear, the hardest blow so far. In the fight, the champion, whether intentionally or not, missed a couple right hooks for the head and then brought his left to Brennan's mouth, which was bleeding at the close of the round. Dempsey's round.

Brennan sent his right twice to the head. The champion came back with a stiff left to the face and right to the face. Then Dempsey met Brennan with a left hook and sent two vicious rights to the head. Dempsey was nothing more than a steam into his blow at this stage and hooked left and right to the face and head. Brennan was bleeding from the mouth when he went to his corner. Dempsey's round.

Round 5.—After some short arm exchanges in a clinch Dempsey was cautioned for touching his man lightly on the face in the breakaway. Dempsey dodged from a right hook and sent three hard rights to stomach and ribs, forcing Bill into a neutral corner; he hooked his right twice to the stomach and when they came to the center of the ring again drove a hard right into Brennan's mid-section. Brennan sent two rights to the body just before the gong rang but it was Dempsey's round by a good margin.

Round 6.—They flitted for a half minute, tapping each other lightly. Then Dempsey hooked his right to the head and Brennan landed with two right body blows. They exchanged hard body blows with both hands and Dempsey hooked a stiff left over the heart. In a mixup Dempsey hooked his right to the wind and blocked many attempts by Brennan with short arm uppercuts. Dempsey's round.

Round 12.—Dempsey laced considerably from the mouth and ear while in his corner.

Dempsey led a right to the head of Brennan landed a similar blow. They exchanged rights to the head and Dempsey jabbed a left to face and put a hard right to body. Brennan landed a left to the head but Dempsey stepped in with left and right to wind and drove a hard right over the heart and hooked his left to the stomach. Brennan crumpled and almost doubled from the effects of these blows, and as he tottered toward the floor Dempsey sent him sprawling on the ropes with a right smash on the head. "The blow over the heart had done its work," and Brennan, while he tried his utmost to regain his feet, only rolled about on the floor of the ring while referee Hauck counted off the ten seconds. Brennan's corner then jumped in and carried their man to his corner. The champion showed no other outward effects of the battle than a split left ear, which bled profusely. The time of the twelfth round was 1:57.

A steady stream of ticket holders poured in each entrance of Madison Square garden as soon as the doors were opened at 7 o'clock, and one hour later every seat was filled. It was estimated that 14,000 persons were present and that the receipts would reach $200,000.

The management announced that Dempsey's share of the purse was $100,000. It was understood that Brennan will receive $35,000.

The crowd was representative of the city's cosmopolitan and professional life, a large sprinkling of women being noted in the reserved floor and arena seats.

Mary Farrell, local middleweight, defeated Frank McGuire of Williamsport, Pa., in the first preliminary contest, which went six rounds. McGuire was on the defensive from the start, bleeding from the nose and mouth after the opening round. Farrell weighed 165 pounds and McGuire 157 1/2.

Charles Weinert, the Newark, N. J. heavyweight, and Harry Madden of this city, furnished the second bout. Weinert weighed 185, three pounds more than Madden. The Newark man was the aggressor throughout and gave Madden a sound beating. The judges agreed on Weinert as the winner at the end of the tenth round.

URBAN MODEST.

BOSTON.—Captain "Luke" Urban is a modest chap. "He never knows there's a grandstand when he's playing," declares Coach Cunningham. The judges agreed on Weinert as the winner at the end of the tenth round.

OSTEOPATH CASE BEING HEARD IN DISTRICT COURT

Trial of W. A. Sawyer, Charged With Practicing Medicine Without License Is Opened

One of the most interesting cases that has been before the district court for some time and one which is attracting much attention from the medical profession throughout the county was taken up yesterday when the trial of Dr. W. A. Sawyer on a charge of practicing medicine without a license was commenced. The specific charge against Dr. Sawyer is removing the appendix of Miss Jennie Parrott.

The crux of the matter and the point of law about which the guilt or innocence of the defendant revolves, according to attorneys for both the prosecution and the defense, is whether or not under the present state statute, a licensed osteopath has the authority or the right to perform a major operation. It is said that this is a question which has never been passed upon in any state having a law similar to that enacted by the legislature in 1915 and now in effect in Idaho.

A lengthy battle between the opposing counsel upon this question followed an objection by the state Attorney E. M. Wolfe asked a witness whether he had studied surgery while attending a school of osteopathy. This objection was sustained by the court and the jury was excused until 10 o'clock this morning when counsel for the defense asked that the matter of admitting this testimony be taken up at once.

In his argument for the admission of this evidence, counsel for the defense challenged the county attorney to point to a single word in the statute which limits in any way the field of practice of an osteopath. Counsel for the defense then read from the law as follows: "Osteopathic physicians shall observe and be subject to all state and municipal regulations relative to the control of contagious diseases and reporting and certifying births and deaths and all matters pertaining to public health the same as all other schools of medicine, and such reports shall be accepted by the officers of the district to whom the same are made."

Wolfe laid particular emphasis upon the fact that although osteopaths are authorized to report births, chiropractors in another section of the act are given the authority only to record deaths, showing that while the latter are limited in their field, no restriction is taken to restrict or curb the activities of members of the former school. He stressed the reporting of births especially as this is considered a major operation.

The law passed in 1915, counsel for the defense declared, made no mention of the licensing of osteopaths and drew no distinction between eclectics, allopaths or any of the other schools of medicine. He declared that the reason for the licensing of osteopaths being provided for under a separate act was that the act was taken as the basis for the new and that in 1915 the osteopathic school was practically unheard of in this state.

Especially emphasis was laid upon the fact that the statute did not limit the field of the osteopath and that the act was declared "I submit, your honor, that any American citizen has the right and the privilege to do anything he wants to do so long as it is not prohibited by a statute. This is true particularly in the state of Idaho where common law is not recognized."

Counsel for the defense stated that under the provisions of the present law, an osteopath must have finished a complete high school course or a collegiate course equivalent before he is permitted to enter an osteopathic school, while there is no provision made for any such qualifications in other schools of medicine. He also stated that a higher standard of education prevails amongst the osteopaths than amongst the other schools of medicine. Attention was also called to the fact that the examining board is not composed of six men who pass upon the applications of eclectic, homeopathic and allopaths, while five men are required for the examination of osteopaths alone. Counsel for the defense further laid that if an osteopath were treating a case and found that an operation would be necessary and yet refused to take advantage of his knowledge and education, he would be liable to suit for malpractice and could be forced to pay a judgment.

Prosecuting Attorney Stephen in his rebuttal stated that the fact that there are two separate statutes plainly shows that the intention of the lawmakers was to define the difference between the regular school of medicine and the osteopathic school and to limit their respective fields of practice. The county attorney also took exception to the statement for the defense that higher standards prevailed amongst the osteopaths or that higher standards were required of them, pointing out that the provision of the statute that the applicant must be a graduate of a recognized medical school and that these institutions require not only a high school education, but from six to seven years of study.

The right of an osteopath to perform a serious operation in an emergency case was not questioned by the state but it maintained that he did not have the right to make any charge for this service.

Judge Hitchcock took the matter under advisement until 10 o'clock this morning, declaring that it was a most perplexing one to the court, the difficulty arising from the failure of the legislature to define what small constitute the practice of an osteopath.

Miss Jennie Parrott was the first witness called by the state, testifying as to the operation which Dr. Sawyer had performed upon her, and Miss Georgia Maxwell, superintendent of nursing at the county hospital also took the stand to identify several exhibits offered in evidence by the state.

Several local doctors were called to the stand to testify as to whether or not the removal of the appendix was a major operation, all but one declaring that it was. Those who testified were Dr. D. L. Alexander, Dr. W. P. Pike, Dr. H. W. Wilson, Dr. T. O. Boyd and Dr. J. V. Couching. Dr. Pike stated that in some cases this operation might be considered a minor one and that it was not now as dangerous as it had once been thought. Upon cross-examination none of these witnesses were able to draw the line between a major and a minor operation, saying that there was no authority which defined the distinction but that their testimony was their own personal opinion.

Paul Davis, head of the state license bureau also took the stand and in answer to a question by counsel for the defense said that he was not a doctor. He gave evidence that Dr. Sawyer has been issued a license to practice osteopathy on July 2, 1912.

The trial will be resumed this morning at nine o'clock.

Call at the Chronicle office: Ask for a Green Stocking; then fill it with toys, candies, nuts, fruit and return it. The Salvation Army will then gather them in and at Christmas time distribute them to the children. (Is an easy thing to do and will help make this Christmas time one long to be remembered. Do it today.)
