Open Antagonism Expressed Following Presentation Yesterday

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Presenting the Federal emergency tariff bill in the house and decision of its supporters to call it up for consideration Wednesday was open antagonism both in the house and senate.

As finally approved and reported to the house, the bill carries import duties on commodities, which together with the rates agreed to it and the estimated revenue to come therefrom follow in table.

EXPECT NO ACTION UNTIL TODAY AT FREIGHT HEARING

Pocastello Meeting on Reduction of Rates Ends First Day in Discussion of Question

Reports from Pocastello last night indicated that no decision would be reached in the hearing now in progress there on the reduction of freight rates on grain products and potatoes until today. Practically the entire day was taken up with a general discussion of the present business and financial situation and in appointing various committees which will make their reports today.

There were more than 100 representatives of the various agricultural interests, bankers and business men present at the hearing yesterday, the railroads being represented by F. W. Robinson, general traffic manager of the Union Pacific system, and J. C. Reese, general freight agent of the Oregon Short Line Railroad company. Delegations were in attendance from Salt Lake, Ordron, Tremont, Utah; Idaho Falls, Blackfoot, Piler, Buhl, Kimberly, Jerome, Burley, Rupert, Twin Falls and other cities and towns throughout the state. John W. Graham an attorney of this city and formerly a member of the public utilities commission of Idaho, was selected as chairman of the conference, and A. Y. Satterfield, of Pocastello, was chosen to act as secretary.

The delegates went over the financial situation thoroughly and explained in detail the attitude of the farmers and stockmen, and it was the general sentiment of the gathering that Idaho business men are not to blame for the critical business condition, but that it was due to a combination of circumstances, partially beyond their control. The statement was made that the situation might be somewhat helped if there was an increase in the amount of feeding at home, and one of the delegates declared that entirely too much money had been sent out of this country.

All of the representatives of banking and financial institutions united in defending the attitude of the Federal Reserve system. Feeding at home to yield to the demands of the farmers, would be to institute an unsound and unwise policy which could only act as a boomerang and bring further misfortunes upon the heads of the agriculturists.

John Maxwell, of this city, expressed his opinion that although the situation is indubitably critical, it is not nearly so dark as it seems. He advocated forbearance on the part of creditors as an element which would greatly assist in a return to normalcy.

Much of the blame for the farmers' present financial condition was placed upon the widespread "wildcat" promotion scheme. One representative even went so far as to say that a law should be introduced in the next Idaho state legislature which "will absolutely hang any 'wildcat' promoter who sells worthless stock to farmers." He declared that more than $2,000,000 of these valueless securities have been sold broadcast over the country and that they have been a large factor in bringing about the stringent condition now prevailing.

One of the officials of the Amalgamated Sugar company made the statement that the company would be willing to lose money on 10 per cent of its sugar, provided that it could loosen up money by so doing. Several of the delegates voiced their opinions that an embargo on Canadian wheat would not materially assist the grain grower in this country. They pointed out as substantiation the fact that there is a surplus across the border just as there is here and that any embargo would be merely an artificial wall which could not be effective for long.

The hearing will be resumed today, when it is thought that some definite conclusion will be reached. Figures will be produced by the farmers to show that with present production costs and high freight rates they cannot avoid substantial losses. If the proper showing can be made, the railroad officials have expressed themselves as willing to make the requested cut in the transportation charges and will take the matter up with the Interstate Commerce commission.

EXTERNAL WATER USED FOR SHEEP CLAIM RESIDENTS

Strenuous Objection Made to County Health Officer by Water Users

Investigation by H. G. Jackson, County Health Officer, Following Strenuous Complaints from Residents Along Lateral No. 36, Concerning the Small and Taste of the Water with Which They Fill their Cisterns, has Disclosed the Fact that a Portion of the Lateral has been Fenced off so that it Runs Directly through the Center of a Large Sheep Corral.

It is reported that instead of troughing the water to the pens which are on the south side of the lateral, a fence has been constructed on both sides and the sheep run through the ditch at will. The fenced in tract, which consists of something more than 25 acres, contains about 17,000 head of sheep, one of the neighbors stated, which are the property of Jack Franco.

Lateral No. 36 runs from just north of the sugar factory to the edge of town. Many persons living along the ditch and other families whose homes adjoin the city, use this water for drinking purposes and maintain that it is rather an unsanitary condition to which they are being subjected. Not only do they object to the sheep themselves, but also to the beet pulp on which the animals are being fed. The county health officer is planning immediate steps to see that this state of affairs is corrected.

HAY IS LISTED

As a direct result of strenuous efforts on the part of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, the ban on alfalfa hay has been lifted, according to a telegram received yesterday by Miles Cambo, state commissioner of agriculture.

According to Ashby B. Wilson, president of the chamber of commerce, stated yesterday that alfalfa hay may now be shipped out from Twin Falls, Gooding and Elmore counties, but that the embargo is still in force against all other of the divisions of the state. This fact is due, he adds, to the conclusive proof adduced that there is not, nor has there ever been, any prevalence of alfalfa woev in any of the three counties named above.

DYER PLEADS GUILTY.

William J. Dyer yesterday pleaded guilty to the charge of illegally possessing intoxicating liquors and was ordered held for the district court without bond by Judge O. P. Duval at the probate court. Dyer now faces in the county jail until such time as his case shall come before the higher court.

PLYMOUTH ROCK BROKEN WHILE BEING MOVED

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Dec. 20.—Plymouth Rock was moved today and broken in the process. The split was an old one caused originally when the rock on which the Mayflower passed, gets landed was separated from its granite base in 1775 and hauled by a yoke of oxen to Town square. Unfortunately the broken parts were joined with cement and replaced under a monumental canopy which has since been the scene of thousands of visitors to old Plymouth.

In connection with the Pilgrim centenary committee's work the shoreline is being restored as early as possible in its aspect at the time of the Pilgrims' arrival 300 years ago and a new monumental canopy is to be built. While it was in chains the ancient cement gave way and the two parts separated so that light could be seen between them. By tomorrow it is expected that the old base will be fully exposed and the divided rock replaced on it in its old position.

THAT HEALTHY SLUMP.

"Nothing could be healthier for American business than the very condition through which we are passing," said Charles M. Schwab in a recent address. "The severer the storm now, the quicker it will be over, and the sooner we can emerge into clear weather and shape our course upon the sea of prosperity."

The existing slump, he added, is only the natural transition in industries returning to a normal basis from the speeding up of production made necessary by the war.

The hearing of any unwholesome condition is painful. Nature, in throwing off poisons, usually makes the body uncomfortable. In industry there has been heavy production, but of an unbalanced variety. In cleaning out the old stuff and making way for the new there is bound to be some discomfort. What is needed is to throw off the depression incidental to the process, discarding it for the hope of speedy recovery.

The whole nation has been suffering from a period of inflated and gaudy ideas. People who never before paid more than $25 for a suit or coat hypnotized themselves into thinking they would always be buying $150 garments, and that the requisite money would mysteriously pour in.

But there is no magic in these things. An object bought for $100 must be paid for in $100 worth of labor, sooner or later. And the people who so airily dragged the big figures into their conversation were the very people who did not want to do the necessary work for which the luxuries stood.

Coming down from this financial high horse to common ground, coming out of this spree of the imagination to a solemn sobering up in the white light of common sense, is bound to have its unpleasant features.

But it is well to remember that this nation became rich and prosperous by good, hard work and sacrifice. Only by work and sacrifice can our present station be maintained. The slump which bumps up into that reality is indeed healthy.

TO HOUSECLEAN CITIES

Women will not sit idle waiting for another presidential election before renewing strenuous activities, but will turn their attention immediately to municipal affairs. Mrs. Harriet Tamm Upton, of Warren, O., member of the Republican national committee, is authority for this statement.

"It is generally conceded," says Mrs. Upton, "that the worse governments and the worse institutions of government are in the cities. There is no better place to start cleanup proceedings. In fact, it is the very best place. This is right at home."

"Women are going to take a leading part and start this job with enthusiasm and determination. The conditions they will help to make right affect their everyday life and that of their families. This work has, therefore, a closer and more personal interest than national affairs. Women are well qualified for it. City government is but a larger housekeeping, and that is one thing women understand."

"Some men think women like a housecleaning job, but the truth is they don't. What they do like is a clean house, and they are willing to go through a house-cleaning business to get it."

"Isn't it about time housecleaning started in many of our cities?"

One of the old arguments against full suffrage was that many women did not use the votes they had in city or state matters. For this reason many persons believed that when full suffrage was attained women would concentrate upon national affairs. It is becoming evident daily that this is incorrect.

Women are in politics to stay, and to stay busy. They will find plenty of problems awaiting their efforts, especially in the large cities. They will also find the better male element glad to co-operate in a work which it has had little time to set in motion, though conscious of the need. We in the old suffrage states know these things.

RACIAL EQUALITY WILL WAIT

Japan tried hard at Versailles to get a "racial equality" provision into the Covenant of the League of Nations. She was bitterly disappointed when the other powers sidetracked the proposal. It was expected that the delegation to the Assembly at Geneva would bring up the matter again, and insist upon it. The delegates intended to, but changed their minds: The reason, as given by Viscount Ishii in a speech before the Assembly, commands praise even from critical Americans.

"Japan," he said, "is strongly persuaded that the league is yet in a stage when consolidation of its organization and its actual working, based on the present Covenant, should be accorded greater attention and deeper deliberation than questions relating to fundamental principles which might make for revision of the Covenant, and deliberation of which should be deferred for some time. From this point of view Japan is refraining from making any concrete proposal to this assembly as to the question of equal opportunity and treatment and will patiently bide her time until an opportune moment shall present itself."

Several other nations, eager to change some of the Covenant provisions, have likewise agreed to bide their time until the League shall be definitely established as a going concern. The result is a greater degree of harmony in the proceedings at Geneva than most observers expected.

There is another reason for this generosity in addition to the desire not to imperil the League at the start by throwing the Covenant open to revision. That is a frankly expressed desire to make no changes until America can be consulted about them. That is a wise policy for the other powers, and a reassuring one for the United States, guaranteeing as it does that if this country enters the League hereafter it will not find the cards stacked against it.

THE SOAP BOX SCHOOL

The Constitutional Defense League, with headquarters at Racine, Wis., has opened a school for "soap box" orators. It has also inaugurated a correspondence course which will be widely advertised throughout the country, to train speakers in the same art.

The object of the league is to combat Socialism. The course of study includes fundamentals of economics and the policy and tactics of Socialists, I. W. W.'s and Bolsheviks. It also includes training in public speaking, and especially the art of conducting curb or "soap box" meetings.

This is meeting Socialism and Anarchism on their own ground, and should be more effective than many a campaign waged from a greater distance. The Socialists discovered the soap box, and found that it isn't nearly so far from the ears of the poor and discontented as are the pulpit and the platform. They have utilized the box and cultivated the fertile field thus far almost undisputed. It is to the credit of the Racine League that it has seen the possibilities in carrying on counter propaganda in the same way and on the same scale. May it win disciples as many and as fluent as have the agencies it is fighting against.

Commissioner of Education Claxton says 300,000 children in this country went without schooling last year because of the teacher shortage. The kids didn't seem to mind, but maybe that was because they had not education to develop the mind.

The "Society for the Suppression of Useless Giving" is resuming its annual activities. The fellow that started the idea that giving is useless gave the most useless gift the world has ever received.

Americans "want what they want when they want it," and that's all right. The trouble is that when they get what they want, they don't want it any more.

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE.

on prohibitory tariff rates meant eventually a lowering of production in America.

"Of course Europe can pay only in gold or goods," he continued, "they can't pay in gold and they are not manufacturing at the present time enough goods. Even if they were, we proposed in this bill to make imports less and less.

"It might be possible to report out a more highly proposed, ill-considered measure than this but up to the present time it never has been accomplished."

Mr. Rainey concluded his expression of laws by predicting that the report submitted by Chairman Forney "would not venture far from shore" and that the republican supporters of the bill would merely demand that "everybody vote for this, action whether he believed right in principle or not."

NEW TARIFF BILL MEETS OPPOSITION

The republican committee members were said to have opposed the bill on the ground that if tariff legislation was to be enacted it should include protection for manufacturers' articles few of which were allowed to remain in the final draft. This contention appeared to have gained some strength among representatives from textile and other manufacturing districts and is expected to precipitate heated debate.

Representative Knutson, republican, Minn., chairman of the recently organized conference of representatives from farming districts, said he was sure there would be bitter opposition from the urban representatives but added:

Prepared for "Battle Royal."

"We members who see the need of the farmers for help are prepared for a battle royal. We think we can stand up to the bill and I personally serve notice on those people who seek to defeat this bill that they will sweat blood before they get anything for their industries when it comes to a 'permanent tariff' unless they do the fair thing now."

Against this came the statement of the senate democratic steering committee that they did not regard the measure as an emergency proposal and would demand that it be considered by the finance committee in regular order when it reaches the senate. Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, dem., served notice from the floor of the senate that he would oppose the bill.

"The democratic party," he declared, "cannot afford to stultify itself at this time upon so important a question as that which the tariff proposals involve."

"Let me say to my friend from Mississippi," Senator Thomas, dem., Colorado, interjected "that I sympathize with his view and between us we may be able to keep some part of the measure in line."

"Warms of Response."

Representative Rainey, in presenting the minority views warned of dangers which he said would beset the business of the country should the emergency measure pass. He said the measure amounted to an embargo and that it would inevitably lead to retaliatory tariffs.

The Rainey report also charged that the bill had been framed without hearings and that no experts had been examined. It asserted that the majority in congress proposed protection on every economic article, adding that "this bill is protection mad." The republican plan of protection in this instance, the report declared, offered a remedy worse than the all it sought to carry it.

For reviewing the trade figures in exports and imports, the minority statement asserted that assessment

To put the program into effect an increased appropriation of $500,000 annually is necessary. Dr. Estabrook said. Last year's appropriation for the bureau amounted to $17,100.

The accuracy of their forecasts have been found to be remarkably close to actual production, the report said. Cotton production has shown an under-estimate 1.5 per cent the average for the last 20 years shown. In seven of those years the crop was over-estimated, once to the extent of 6.1 per cent; once 3.7 per cent and the other five times less than one per cent.

"BEST MINDS" OF COUNTRY ASSIST NEXT PRESIDENT

Harding's Conference on Policies of Administration Hango Far and Wide.

MARION, Ohio, Dec. 20.—President-elect Harding's conference on the policies of his administration regarded far and wide today among the nation's foreign and domestic problems and gave him the benefit of advice from upwards of the "best minds" he has invited into consultation.

Two of those with whom he has talked about the domestic question, have been persistently mentioned for cabinet positions and their coming stimulated speculation about the possibility of their appointment to the next president's official family. They were Charles G. Dawes, Chicago banker, and Henry Wallace of Des Moines, Iowa, an editor of Farmer publications. With the former Mr. Harding talked of financial conditions and six reforms and with the latter discussed farmer relief.

Senator J. K. Shields of Tennessee, a democratic member of the foreign relations committee and an irrefragable opponent of the Versailles treaty, conferred with the president-elect about the plans for an extension of national and gave his approval of the general principles proposed by Mr. Harding for an international court. The espousal question also was discussed by the president-elect with Samuel McChesney Lindsey, professor of social legislation at Columbia, who said, he was confident the foreign policies of the new administration were being laid on a sound foundation.

The question of Mr. Harding's early resignation from the senate was the subject between him and Senator-elect Frank B. Willis, whom Governor Cox has agreed to appoint to the vacancy. It was said afterward that no decision was reached and the friends of the president-elect took his delay as meaning that he probably would not retire until the new republican governor of Ohio takes office early in January.

Amongst their callers during the day were Governor William C. Bruff of Pennsylvania, W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, and Michael Gallagher of Cleveland, an official of the Hanna interests, all of whom talked about financial and railway conditions. Mr. Atterbury was in charge of the American railways in France during the war and has been regarded as one of the world's leading experts on transportation. He said he viewed American railway conditions hopefully and felt that Mr. Harding had a competent understanding of the problem. Representative C. B. Sloop, republican national committeeman from Virginia also saw the president-elect but said he came merely to make a delayed report on the conduct of the campaign in the south. In addition, he invited Mr. and Mrs. Harding to spend January and February at White Sulphur Springs or some other Virginia resort.

After his talk with Mr. Harding, Senator Shields said he did not gather that a very concrete plan had been formulated for a peace league, but was confident Mr. Harding had chosen wisely in working toward a coalition of international law and a world court rather than toward any sort of military alliance.

RAISE FLAG ON SHIP SUNK BENEATH SEA

VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 20.—Great Britain's flag has been raised under many unusual circumstances but probably conditions never were stranger than those recently at Swanson bay, north of here, when two divers, nearly 100 feet below the surface of the sea, hoisted the ship's ensign on the fragment of the sunken steamer Prince Rupert, now being salvaged.

One diver, finding the coors in a box at the foot of the finstaff, bent them to the bayards and slowly hoisted them, while his mate stood at the surface of the sea, holding the national anthem. The diver's tender, working on the surface, heard the song through the telephone to the man's headpiece.

Marine men have remarked that many fine ships have gone down with the British color flying, but the Prince Rupert probably will be the first to come to the surface with the flag at its masthead.

DALLAS WOMAN KILLED BY SHOT FROM GUN

DALLAS, Ore., Dec. 20.—Flora West, for the past several months housekeeper for J. G. Brown of this city, is dead today with a bullet in her head, and her husband, George P. West, is detained under care of physicians following his drinking the contents of a bottle of poison.

The county officers were summoned by Frank Savage, an automobile driver of Salem, who said West had hired him to drive to various places in the country, apparently on a search for his wife. West, he said, told him he and his wife had separated and that he had been living at Fellows, California.

Sunday the husband located Mrs. West at the Brown home and today and Savage drive him there. They arrived during the absence of Brown, the chauffeur said, and after West and his wife had some words he heard a shot. Then West, he said, came out on the porch and drank poison. The physician who is treating West says he has a chance for recovery.

RAID REPORTED ON IRISH MAIL TRAIN

DUBLIN, Dec. 20.—A big raid on a mail train was reported today from Charleville, county Cork. Fifty armed and disguised men held up the crew of the train at the station and removed twelve mail bags, which later were recovered in a hedge nearby. Two of the bags had been emptied.

The sergeant commanding the force which recently succeeded in preventing an attack upon Ballinacree, county Longford, police barracks, was said to have received today the following anonymous communication:

THIS TOWN READY FOR ANY BANDITS

JACKSON, O., Dec. 20.—With the wide variety of deputies Sheriff William G. Davis of Jackson county, has just appointed, bank robbers or other bandits have no chance in this county. There's the mayor, a doctor, a preacher or two, two business men, and they carry riot guns, too.

The deputies are Earl C. Horton, mayor, Dr. W. C. Hays, Rev. Mont R. White, Charles Booth and Andrew J. Cochran. These were sworn in besides the regular officials serving under the sheriff.

UNDERGROUND WATERS MAY REVIVE CITIES

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 20.—Underground waters, brought to the surface for irrigation purposes, soon may restore life to the "ghost cities" of Nevada, which have been practically deserted since their gold was taken from them. Already government engineers are surveying land expected to become part of a big irrigation project on the Amargosa desert, not far from Bullfrog, Beatty, Rhyolite and Gold Center, all one time famed western mining camps.

Because these towns were not far from Death Valley, the land surrounding them was thought to be desert soil worthless for agriculture and fit only for cactus and horned loads. In the gold days, "desert rats" carried water for miles on the backs of their burros to supply their claims. Now it develops that these hardy men were treating only a few feet above a strong flow of water.

G. D. Kirkpatrick, assistant supervisor of government surveys for Utah and Nevada, reports that two survey crews have started work on two townships along the California-Nevada line with orders to survey 40,000 acres. Underground waters have been discovered on the Amargosa desert and it is proposed to develop them.

Big crops will grow in the subtropical Nevada climate if the water can be brought to the soil engineers have reported. Later the land may be opened for entry according to present plans.

The Amargosa desert is not the only portion of Southern Nevada that may bloom. The Big Smokey valley, north of Tonopah, may in the near future bring to the big silver camp a new population of farmers. The presence of underground water in this valley has been demonstrated, and it is only a question of a short time when it will be developed, according to Mr. Kirkpatrick. The survey work will go forward in Southern Nevada all winter.

"FOR BETTER CLOTHES"

COAST TRIP PUTS SPOT LIGHT ON BUCKEYE SCHOOL

By DEAN SNYDER.

Winning three western conference football titles, Ohio State University a little "add" of publicity in its neck of the woods.

But when Coach Jack Wilce drew the assignment to take this gridiron team to Pasadena as a representative of eastern football to battle the Golden California Bears on New Year day he spread the fame of the Buckeye institutions across the limitless seas.

The Pacific coast tour, which will cover a period of three weeks, is the biggest thing that ever happened to the school.

Route Card.

And when it is over the Ohio delegation of athletes will have traveled a total of nearly 6000 miles. The route will take them over half a dozen different railroads. Most of them will have eaten their first Christmas and New Year dinners in California. The return trip will be made by way of the Grand Canyon with a stopover for sightseeing.

That's a great jaunt, but the trip is only a small part of the glory that will have been centered in the Ohio school.

The university is all set to build a magnificent athletic stadium. President W. O. Thompson has just announced that 90 acres of land have been secured by the school for athletic purposes. The Olentangy river is to be dredged and remodeled so as to furnish inland rowing races.

Winning athletic teams have given the school a bigger vision than it ever had before.

Coach Wilce.

Much of the credit for Ohio's athletic enterprise is due to Coach Wilce—the man who has built the super-football machine. Wilce is a very quiet fellow. He is in the thinking and not the talking kind.

He is not going west over-confident.

"We'll play our best football, we or lose."

That is the only prediction he is making as to the outcome of the inter-sectional battle.

No Superlayers.

His team is not made up of superstars, although Stinchcomb and "Hoop" Workman stand out as luminaries on account of their dramatic effectiveness, with the forward pass. Low scores show that all his players are of high class caliber; offensively and defensively.

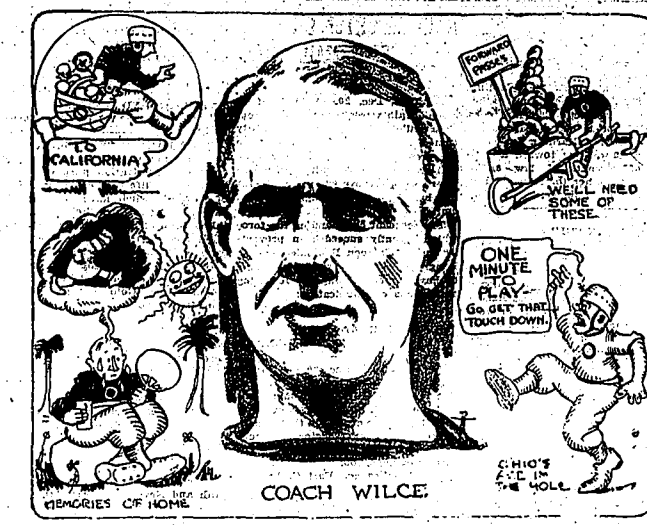

While the Buckeyes are reputed as being a forward passing eleven almost entirely it is not the case. They play all kinds of football.

If the California fans are expecting to see the Wilce eleven work down to forward passes on New Year day they will be fooled. The Buckeyes don't cut loose with the over-the-top style unless hard pressed.

The Ohioans are not what you call a wonder machine in any sense. They are just a well balanced machine, one that never gives up until the last whistle has blown—and they know football, from fundamentals to tricks.

DECLARATION BY JOHNSON "DISHEITED" LANDIS REGIME

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Failure of the American league to elect New York, Boston and Chicago representatives to its board of directors at the annual meeting last Friday "indicated clearly" that President Johnson and the clubs which supported in the league war, "are desertors from the new Landis regime in baseball," Colonel F. L. Houston, part owner of the Yankees, said tonight. "During the last year Johnson has fought the appointment of Judge Landis as chairman of the national commission," Colonel Houston said, "and successfully resisted the judge's best effort to compel to consent to the recent Chicago meeting. His show of ac-quies is the veriest hypocrisy. He had to surrender at the recent Chicago meeting because the "wifely" deserted him in the fear that the proposed twelve club league would injure their property investments."

Charging that the recent move is aimed to "dispute and discourage Landis at the start" Colonel Houston expressed the opinion "that Judge Landis will quickly find means to curb Johnson and his puppets." "Johnson and his five clubs," he added, "are handed together by two other, than true sportsmanship. The strength of this unholy alliance has made Johnson exceedingly arrogant and has been the cause of all the recent trouble in the American league and in baseball, and until it is broken there can be no peace. The combination of Johnson's wealth automatically restore tranquility."

ON THE HUNT.

WIFE OF ALLEGED BANDIT HELPS HUNT FOR BONDS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 20.—Mrs. Charles Morris, 17, in helping the government officers recover $5000 of the bundles of liberty bonds stolen from banks and trains by one of the boldest bandit gangs in police history. Her husband, Charles Morris, alleged to be a member of the gang, was in jail in Colorado Springs, following a gun battle with detectives, in which he was wounded and captured.

Fred Tate, head of the Kansas City secret service, says Mrs. Morris has given valuable information in the search for missing bonds. He quotes her as saying: "I'm glad it's all over. I don't like being a train robber's wife. I was often threatened with death if I told what I knew."

The girl married Morris in May, 1918. She eloped with him from Wichita, Kansas. They have a baby, 18 months old.

She had left Morris and was living in Oklahoma at the time of her arrest. When she heard of it she went to authorities, said she wanted to clear her mind of "the whole miserable business—especially for baby's sake" and offered to help find any missing bonds she could.

NEW YEAR'S TRIP WILL BE SECOND FOR COACH

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 20.—Dr. John Wilce, coach of the Ohio State University football team, will be in Pasadena for the second time this year when he arrives next week with his team which is to play the University of California eleven in the Tournament of Roses game here New Year's day. The Ohio coach attended the last New Year's day game here between the University of Oregon and Harvard university.

At the Oregon-Harvard game, Dr. Wilce had an opportunity to observe football as it is played in the west. It is said that he does not undervalue western football but, at the same time, is not worrying over the chances of his team in the coming game against California.

During the last four years, Coach Wilce's Ohio State eleven has been defeated but once. That was last year when the University of Illinois snatched victory from the Columbus team in the last minute of play.

Before going to Ohio State, Wilce played fullback for Wisconsin university for three years. Last spring he taught football at the coaches school at Columbia University and is considered a deep student of the American game.

COUNCIL HEARS FIRST ECHO OF WATER MEETING

Frank Nye, Appearing Before Aldermen, Opposes Installation of Meters—Ordinance Passed.

Council at their regular weekly meeting last night listened to the first echo of the water users meeting in Parish hall on Saturday night and passed an ordinance for reassessing the abutting property taxes in improvement district No. 34.

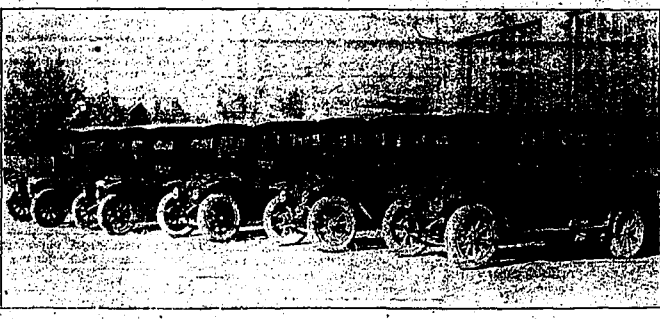

Frank Nye, who appeared in opposition to the installation of the water meters, said "the public looks at this proposition in a different light from you gentlemen. There is going to be a fight if this thing is not stopped. And it's going to be a good one."

The largest of the deficiencies existing in the improvement district, that in No. 34, was made up by the passage of an ordinance reassessing the abutting property taxes in that district.

Burley School District Buys Fleet of Trucks

Shown is a fleet of five White Automobile trucks sold by the Gooding Motor company to the Burley school district. The picture was taken in front of the school building at Burley and illustrates impressively the modern method now used in this portion of the state in transporting pupils to the rural districts to the city schools.

The differences arose over an action at law. Mr. Hackman represented those Mexicans for whom he had filed mechanic's liens.

Mr. Wilson represented the defendant and gasaholes. Upon his motion the court reduced the judgment to $25, dissolved the orders and quashed the execution.

The altercation drew a crowd to the court house in the day. Mr. Wilson satisfied the judgment of the district court for his client.

COMMITTEE OF TEN HOLDS SECRET MEETING

There was a meeting last night of the committee of ten appointed by the mass meeting Saturday night to take action to stop the installation by city officials of the water meters.

ARMED BANDITS ROB COMPANY OF SALES

TOLFINO, O., Dec. 20.—Six men armed with shotguns and with the lower part of their faces covered with bandanna handkerchiefs, overpowered the guards of the American Railway Express company early today and escaped with a safe containing about $16,000 in cash and jewelry.

The holdup took place on Summit street, the city's main business thoroughfare, less than four blocks from police headquarters. The express company guards were conveying the safe on a wheelbarrow to a truck in the rear of the store preparatory to taking it to the Union station, a mile away, for shipment east.

When the guards stepped outside the store the six bandits drove up in two automobiles, beat two of the guards senseless, loaded the safe into one of the machines, and escaped.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—A 14-year-old boy was arraigned in a Brooklyn court today in connection with the shooting and wounding of a 15-year-old companion during a poker game yesterday.

"There was a big pot and heavy betting. William called Salvatore and Salvatore laid down four aces and reached for the money."

Fill an empty stocking

As Christmas approaches, memberships in The Chronicle Green Stocking club continue to increase but there are still many stockings left and a great many opportunities to make this a real Merry Christmas for some little child of Twin Falls.

All that is necessary to insure a Christmas stocking for every child in Twin Falls is for the residents of this town to secure a Green Stocking, fill it with candies, nuts, fruits and a little gift, either for a boy or girl and return to this office. The Salvation Army will deliver up their filled stockings and on Wednesday night, December 23, they will be contributed from a gorgeous Christmas tree to be erected in Parish hall. The reason the gift giving will be delayed some, what this year is the inability of the Salvation Army to secure a suitable place at an earlier date.

Salvation Army officials have announced that Santa Claus himself will be present to give away the stockings. Naturally he will be unable to carry a load large enough to supply every child so it up to citizens of Twin Falls to take care of the extra ones. And by joining a Christmas Stocking club, you can help.

REMARKS AT MEETING ATTRIBUTED ERRONEOUSLY

Statements published in Twin Falls papers, including The Chronicle, erroneously attributed certain remarks to the meeting of water users of the community at Parish hall on Saturday night to Dr. E. B. Van Cott. Those remarks were made by Dr. Dean.

OFFICERS TAKE CHARGE

DENVER, Col., Dec. 20.—Federal authorities today took charge of the Industrial Utilities company.
