DEATH RIDES IN WAKE OF STORM

Property Damage Runs into Hundreds of Thousands--Rivers Overflow Banks and Atmospheric Disturbance Extends Clear to Chicago--Wire and Train Service in Stricken Sections Utterly Demoralized

(By United Press)
CHICAGO, May 10.—At least twelve persons were killed and probably 100 injured in a cyclone which swept points in central Illinois and central and northeastern Iowa, yesterday, according to reports early today. Property loss was heavy. The known death toll today was:

New Hampton, Iowa, four; Nashua, Iowa; two; Franklin, Ill., two; Waverly, Ill., one; Jacksonville, Ill., one; Toulon, Iowa, two.

The main part of the storm failed to strike any large city. The cyclone was fringed by high winds, rain and hail in Chicago and other large cities, which suffered heavy property damage.

At Nashua, Iowa, where two were killed, every building in the town was reported damaged. Near Eldridge, Ia., where six were reported injured, a girl was carried 300 feet by the wind and landed unharmed.

A $50,000 sewage plant at New Hampton, Iowa, where four were killed, was wrecked.

Boy Drowned in River

One boy drowned at Franklin, Ill., when the river overflowed. Mrs. Lucy Hart, 70, and her granddaughter, were killed in their beds when the chimney crashed through the roof.

Six more are reported dead at Calmar, in Winnebago county, where the storm struck with extreme fury.
One tornado struck near Mahan, in Chickasaw county and ripped its way northeast eight miles to Republic. Another struck five miles southwest of New Hampton, destroying forty farmsteads. This storm struck the south side of New Hampton.

Only meager reports have been received here.

ALIED LINES BEND BUT DO NOT GIVE WAY

GROUND CAPTURED BY GERMANS IS RETAKEN AND POSITIONS RE-ESTABLISHED AT EVERY POINT—GERMANS MAKE EXTRAVAGANT CLAIMS

(By United Press)
LONDON, May 10.—British and French troops have completely re-established their positions between La Cloyte and Voormezele, Field Marshal Haig announced in his night report.

Regarding this fighting, the German war office said that "south of Dikobush lake, our local attacks were completely successful."

"On the east bank of the Terebuck (which flows northward into Dikobush lake), we stormed enemy positions on a front of two kilometers (one and a quarter miles)," the Berlin office said. "Six times at least, both sides of the Beaulieu-Kemmel road was captured and we took 675 prisoners."

Two Local Attacks

Haig reported that the Germans launched two local attacks yesterday morning in the neighborhood of Albert and Bapaume. The first was west of Albert. The latter completely broke down, he said, while the former resulted in the capture of British forward positions on a 150-yard front.

"The French war office reported only 'marked activity' in the morning. Field Marshal Haig reported today. Elsewhere there was only artillery activity. "A small portion of a trench which the enemy gained northwest of Albert yesterday morning was recaptured by the evening," the report said. "We took a few prisoners."

Hostile artillery was active last night between the Somme and Arras (in Picardy) and at different points on the Lys battle front (in Flanders)."

COMMUNIST TROOPS

(By United Press)
LONDON, May 10.—Field Marshal Haig today issued a special order of the day, conveying his appreciation of the "splendid service rendered by the royal artillery at all stages of the Somme and Lys battles, despite the difficult conditions of a defensive fight against greatly superior numbers."

BRAZIL WILL FOLLOW LEAD OF AMERICA

PRESIDENT-ELIOT ALVES REFERS TO PRESIDENT WILSON AS RECOGNIZED SPOKESMAN OF ALLIES AND COMMENDS COUNTRY'S COURSE IN WAR

(By ROY W. HOWARD
President of the United Press Association)

SAO PAULO, Brazil, May 10.—"Brazil will follow the course of the United States to the end of the war. The change of administration will not alter our policy of backing-up the leadership of the United States in the most friendly and genuine way."

The speaker was President-elect Rodrigues Alves, who will return to the presidential chair of Brazil for the second time on November 15. In a most convincing manner and without equivocation, the next chief executive in an interview Thursday, the first he has given since his election, outlined his war policy about which speculation has been rife.

Before making his statement, the president-elect read very carefully the original copy of President Wilson's letter of January 10 to the United Press in which he outlined the aims of the United States. Speaking slowly and solemnly, he said:

Worthy of Best Traditions

"The sentiment expressed in this letter is worthy of the best traditions of the United States. It carries the same conviction which has made the recognized spokesman of the allies a man whose genius was not suspected before the war crisis. The situation drawn by his commanding style and unquenchable sincerity, based on extreme prudence and patience before action, has enabled him to carry South American thinkers along with him in sentiment if not always in action. The self-abandoning of the United States in offering themselves as sacrifices in the war, and in abandoning the pursuit of peace without selfish individual ambition, has shown the solidarity of the democrats of the western hemisphere without including the slightest envy or suspicion."

A year ago the unfulfilled tonnage totalled 13,185,693.

BONDS ON EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, May 10.—Bonds of the third liberty loan appeared on the opening of the market for the first time today. The total sale was $1,849,000. They opened at 92.10. Total was $8.60.

CRUISER VINDICTIVE SUNK AT ENTRANCE

British Navy Launches Highly Successful Operation Against Famous Submarine Base—One Launch Lost, Casualties Very Light—May Mean End of Undersea Warfare.

(By United Press)

LONDON, May 10.—British naval forces again raided the German naval base at Ostend, on the Belgian coast, blockading the entrance to the harbor by sinking the old cruiser Vindictive, which participated in the recent raid on Zebruggen, it was announced today.

"The Ostend-Zebruggen operation, designed to close the ports, was completed last night," the admiralty declared.

"The obsolete cruiser Vindictive was sunk between the piers across the entrance to Ostend harbor.

"Since the attack on Zebruggen, April 23, the Vindictive had been filled with concrete.

"Our forces returned to their base with the loss of one motor launch. It was damaged and was then sunk to prevent it falling into the enemy's hands. Our casualties were light."

Port Completely Blockaded
The previous raid, which was carried out early on the morning of April 23, was conducted simultaneously against Ostend and Zebruggen. The latter port is believed to have been completely blocked through the sinking of two concrete-filled cruisers in the channel. The mole also was damaged by the blowing up of an old submarine filled with explosives, and through the planting of bombs by a boarding party.

The raid on Ostend, however, was frustrated when a high wind dispersed the smoke screen projecting the British ships and permitted the German shore batteries to sink the blockade ships before they gained their objective.

Qualitative Are Heavy

One British destroyer, two motor boats and two launches were lost at Zebruggen and the casualties were 200. In last night's attack only one motor launch was sunk, the admiralty said, and the British casualties were light.

French forces assisted in the raid were announced, and from several official sources it was later learned that Americans also had taken part.

In the first surprise of the previous attack, the Germans at Zebruggen believed the raid was conducted by Americans. The defenders of the mole shouting "the Americans! the Americans!"

Ostend is located on the North sea, eight miles east of West End, where the battle lines touch the coast. It is distant 10 miles from Dover and 115 miles from London. Zebruggen is 18 miles east of Ostend.

No Moles at Ostend

Both Ostend and Zebruggen are connected with Bruges, the principal German submarine base in Belgium, by canals. Bruges is 18 miles directly east of Ostend. Zebruggen, however, is not protected by a big, armed mole such as defends the former port from west and south. Short jetties project out on both sides of the entrance to the channel.

The channel is about 100 meters wide and 600 meters long. At the point where it joins the canal there are several rocky basins on each side. The town, which has a population of about 45,000, lies on the west side of the canal.

Vindictive, Old Flagship

The old cruiser Vindictive, which was sunk last night in the Ostend channel, was the "flagship" of the previous raid on Zebruggen, and landed the boarding party on the mole. She was built in 1897 and had a displacement of 8750 tons. She was 320 feet long, had three funnels.

LONDON, May 10.—Lieutenant General Sir Frederick Shaw succeeds General Mahon in command of the forces in Ireland, it was learned here today.

GIVES INSTRUCTIONS IN RAISING MISCHIEF

(By United Press)
CHICAGO, May 10.—Sabotage methods recommended by William Haywood, secretary of the I. W. W. and defendant here with 111 other members, charged in addition, were admitted in evidence today despite protests of the defense. Federal Judge Landis overruled objections when the prosecution showed the documents offered had been indicted before the defendants were indicted.

Recommendations that hotel help gain their demands by introducing "little strangers" into the bedding, staining piles of linen with catsup, sprinkling caustic in the soup or dipping forks in crude oil, were read into the record. The matter was taken from I. W. W. publications, some of them attributed to Haywood.

Stories of successful sabotage in which "nursery agencies" planted young trees upside down, soaked bedding with paraffin, and set off dynamite misdirected arguments were included.

MUST HAVE PEACE OR PEOPLE WILL REVOLT

(By United Press)
OPENBERG, May 10.—"If Germany does not achieve a peace, there will be a revolution," he said.

This statement was made here today by a traveler who has just returned from a tour of the central empire.

The German politician, however, will make an honest effort to bring about a peace founded on President Wilson's program," he continued.

"Anti-Hungary must have peace at any price."

THE CZECHS, DETERMINED UPON A SOUTHERN REPUBLIC OF THE ELBE RACE, ARE MORE THAN EVER OPPOSED TO THE HAPSBURG.

"The one desire of the Poles in the dual monarchy is that the allies will win. Their cry is: 'Long live Wilson!'"

"Strikes are frequent in Vienna and Prague.

"The huge losses on the western front, stated in parliamentary circles to reach 500,000, are carefully concealed."

"The Czechs, determined upon a southern republic of the Elbe race, are more than ever opposed to the Hapsburgs."

CHURCH FALLS AS RESULT OF BOMBARDMENT

AMERICAN ARTILLERY FIRE BRINGS DOWN FAMOUS OLD STRUCTURE AT CANTIGNY—ENTIRE VILLAGE SUFFERS FOR GERMAN OCCUPATION

By FRED A. PERGUSON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICANS IN PICARDY, May 10.—Fierce bombardment of German positions by American artillery has demolished the church at Cantigny, and several adjacent buildings, blown up machine gun emplacements and post command positions at Fontaine-sous-Montdidier and Courtemanche, and started a fire at Meault-St. Georges. The church at Cantigny was being used for observation by the enemy.

The bombardment lasted all night. The concussion of the heavy guns rocked the entire front. At the same time, the 75's poured in a hot, harassing fire.

Want American Prisoners

The Germans are making the strongest efforts to capture American prisoners, but without results. Not a single American prisoner has yet been lost on this front.

Forty of the enemy attempted to rush a section of our trenches, throwing grenades as they advanced. They were repulsed before they penetrated our positions, leaving two dead and the "Mrs." Their other casualties are not known.

Later, another attempt was made to capture one of our advanced posts, but it, too, was repulsed.

An American private who shot a German dog found a note in the German box on the cellar from an enemy officer, asking permission to change his post of command.

GRADUATE SCALE PLEASES OFFICIALS

CHICAGO, May 10.—Western railway officials who apparently agreed today that the railroad wage commission has solved a difficult problem in recommending a graduated scale of increases for employees. Frederick W. Lehman, general counsel of the commission, referring to his home in St. Louis said the main object of that body was to settle the case.

H. E. Byram, vice-president of the C. & N. W. Co., pronounced the proposed schedule a wise adjustment.

"It will take care of the men adequately," he said. "That is something railroad officials have wanted to do when they could, and will do when the national railroads' deficit is made up."

"A very fair scale," said P. S. Dunst, Illinois Central official. "Mr. McAdoo undoubtedly will determine all its possible effects before accepting it."

FOUR EXPRESS CONCERNS WILL MERGE INTERESTS

WASHINGTON, May 10.—A merger of four express and transportation companies—Wells Fargo, United States Express, and Adams—will be sanctioned by the railroad administration for the period of the war.

A tentative agreement has been reached between the administration and the companies on the form of contract which gives the national railroad 50 per cent of the gross earnings and a share in the excess profits. The government will not take over amalgamated companies.

VAUDEVILLE AT THE ORPHEUM

Two entertaining vaudeville numbers are showing at the Orpheum today and tomorrow. Two versatile young men with past experience in musical comedy, present a conglomeration depicting the humorous side of everyday life, which they call "Fun in a Chinese Laundry." One of the members impersonates the almond eyed Mongolian and the other appears in a musical comedy, a jovial carefree negro. Introduce many bits of comedy as they have a natural field to work upon and the comedy situations come fast and furious. They have good singing voices and are so successful in their impersonations that they make them favorites of the audience as they sing songs that one likes to hear and their dancing numbers are so ridiculously funny that laugh follows laugh throughout the number. It will amuse you most highly and make you laugh whether you want to or not.

The other act is also an extraordinary feature—Orphan's cocktails—an offering called "A Trip to Birdland." Much favorable comment has been made about these birds, which really perform and show much talent and are rightly nicknamed "the birds with human intelligence."

REGISTRANTS ENTERING SERVICE AS SKILLED WORKMEN SUMMONED FROM COUNTY

Itinerary of the routes to be traveled in reporting to camps by the men who have been called from Twin Falls county under regulations providing for voluntary induction of registrants as skilled workmen has been received by the local board.

Five men are so called from the county. They are directed to leave on the train leaving Twin Falls at 10 o'clock on the morning of Friday, May 17.

Only three, however, will go from Twin Falls, for the reason that the two mechanics called to report at Camp Benjamin Harrison are already in the east. Wayne B. Lawrence, until recently a partner with his brother, J. B. Lawrence in the Lawrence Machine Shop here, who is one of the mechanics called, is visiting with relatives in Arkansas, while the other one, Charles W. Pfaffner, is employed as a gunmaker in an arsenal at Davenport, Iowa.

The men who will go from here the morning of the 17th are and directed to report for duty at Washington barracks, Washington, D. C.: Raymond E. Lareby, Twin Falls; Walter P. Jost, Twin Falls, and Arthur E. Williams, Murtagh.

The itineraries provided for a day prior to their leaving from 11 o'clock a. m. until 3:15 o'clock p. m. They will travel from Pocatello, with other calls from Idaho, in a special tourist car.

TWO NEWLY WEDS PUT IN CLASS ONE

DISTRICT BOARD MAKES TWO CHANGES IN TOTAL OF 42 FROM TWIN FALLS COUNTY

Because they entered the matrimonial relation after the date of mailing of their questionnaires the district board has placed in class one two registrants whom the local board had given deferred classification.

The cases of 42 registrants of this county who had married subsequent to the declaration of war were approved at the district board upon instructions from the adjutant general by F. J. Stephan, federal appeal agent. The district board made only two changes in the classifications made by the local board. With the exception of the cases of the newly-wed registrants placed in class one, all the others of the 42 retain their places in class two or class four, depending upon whether or not the bride, prior to marriage was self-supporting.

RED CROSS ORGANIZATION TWIN FALLS SOLDIERS HELPED TO FORM, MAKES GOOD RECORD

A report read at the first annual meeting of the Avery, Idaho, Red Cross auxiliary, showed that about $200 worth of yarn had been bought in the last six months. The population of Avery is less than 50 persons. Captain P. W. McRoberts, commanding the Twin Falls unit of the Idaho regiment, stationed at Avery last spring, assisted in the organization of the Avery auxiliary. Officers were elected at the first annual meeting as follows: Chairman, Mrs. J. G. Mackeloid; vice chairman, Mrs. H. Schick; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. J. E. Fours.

BECOMES SECRETARY OF COUNTY WORK

JOHN H. RUDD OF PORTLAND, UNDER TAKES IMPORTANT DUTY AS Y. M. C. A. LEADER

In order that Oregon and Idaho might have the benefit of the experience of other states in the promotion of the Y. M. C. A. county work, John H. Rudd of Portland, recently transferred from his position as boys' work secretary to that of county work secretary for the two states, left early this week for a six weeks' tour of the eastern and middle states, concluding with the attendance at Springfield, Massachusetts, early in June and a special conference of international and state county work secretaries immediately following the Springfield meeting. Upon his return to Portland the latter part of June, Mr. Rudd expects to be in a position to make a definite announcement regarding the policy to be followed in promoting this new work in his territory.

Work New in West

Although many eastern and middle western states have been engaged in the promotion of county work for a number of years it is only within the past month that the executive committee of the Oregon and Idaho Young Men's Christian association has decided to establish this department in response to an appeal from the government which has asked for the immediate organization of 1000 counties in the United States for work among the boys and young men on the farms and in the smaller counties of the nation.

CONGRESS CAN'T CHANGE PAYMENT COAST COY TIME

(By United Press)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 10.—Old Bossie, the family dog, has declared the daylight saving law unconstitutional. Extremely conservative and highly temperamental, Bossie refuses to take judicial notice of the fact that there is a war going on somewhere, and witholds the milk supply when California milkmaids hustle out to do chores an hour earlier than formerly. Hence high school girls in the rural districts have appealed to W. C. Wood, state high school commissioner, to have school time moved back to cover the loss.

Educational authorities are considering the appeal, and old Bossie, her back to the wall, is chewing her cud with deep determination.

GERMAN FIRE IS INCREASING IN ACTIVITY

HUNS OPPOSITE AMERICAN LINES IN LORRAINE SHOW EVIDENCE OF UN-EASINESS—GAS BOMBARDMENTS A CONTINUAL PERFORMANCE

By FRANK H. TAYLOR
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN LORRAINE, May 10.—The Germans opposite the American lines in Lorraine continue to show evidence of uneasiness. They are speeding up their machine gun and artillery fire and increasing their gas bombardments, evidently seeking action by our men.

Despite the fact that officers tell the men that the Americans have only a few in number—according to enemy prisoners—the boches have become absolutely ungrateful also so far as infantry combats are concerned. They retire from their front lines every night or patrol back several German kilometers as continually coming into the American lines.

Kansas Man Decorated
Lieutenant Casady of Wichita, Kansas, has been decorated with the croix de guerre. He took a patrol, under cover of darkness, 400 yds into the German lines. The patrol captured a German position, killing several and bringing back four prisoners. They scrambled all the way back to their trenches on their stomachs, owing to flares sent up by the Germans. The raid was made without assistance from American artillery.

Companies 1 and 2 of the Ninth infantry also received the French war cross. They beat off a German attack April 14, north of St. Mihiel, when enemy troops entered the American trenches under a barrage, dressed in French uniforms, and yelling gas alarms in French and English. Their rifle fire failed and the attackers were driven off, leaving a number of prisoners and 61 dead.

ance stood the world's opposites—Love and Hate, God and the Devil. Every person in the face of danger thinks of his God more or less and it was good to know that He was even here.

Thought of Danger
No! I did not get seasick, neither did very many others, for the simple reason that this ship was of such enormous dimensions that it rode sea waves, or rather cut clear through them. There was very little plunging and rocking. The days passed very rapidly and if anyone was scared it gradually wore off. But in my bunk at night, below enemy lines and within ten feet of those war-mongers' propellers, I often thought of the dangers these men were confiding through, yet such was our confidence in those guns on deck and the American navy that we fell to sleep each night listening to the churning of those propellers which finally got to be a kind of rhythmic lullaby.

Fool's Nerve
Now for that other question. Did we see a submarine? I will have to wait until the censor falls to sleep on the job, but I am afraid that will be in the day of victory.

It was my pleasure one night to be sergeant of the guard—that is you have about 70 men split into shifts who guard the ship for 24 hours without a let up. Your main job is to see that no one smokes on deck, that no lights show any place and eat a 1/2 o'clock and an other time you scold "allies" who cooks into giving you something. Now to a sailor that would be work and "old stuff" but to me a landlubber it was a regular sensation. It was not difficult to duty that brought me on deck in the very early hours of the morning, but pure adventure—and believe me it takes nerve to go on deck at night when it is dark and the ocean is wet, and especially when you stumble over a six inch gun every step and two or three hundred other people are guarding the same ship, and you know there is no chance of anyone killing you—it takes nerve but not the kind that wins battles, but the kind that makes people step on that third rail of the Chicago city car.

Freedom of the Boat
I would start at the stern of this elephant of the Atlantic, take a peep over into the churning phosphorescent water and watch the boat steer a zig-zag course. Roughly a ship changes its course about every five minutes, not much but enough to leave a sailor who is not a sailor well sea sick. Passing along the starboard side, stumbling over bits, hatch steps, lurching into posts, etc., again those silent hooded boys in waterproof jumpers beside their big pet praying as hard that they would slip a submarine as we were that we would not. Further along the deck nestled in a wind broke some more silent figures; this time soldiers, with telephone at hand, field glasses sweeping the water incessantly and a range finder before them, they would stand for hours silent. Further along the deck some more hooded figures behind the side of the ship you get a glimpse of the crew as it cut through high waves. Here I stood, a landlubber watching the waves pile high above me then fall low. Having the freedom of the boat I certainly made use of it—looking up into the stars one could see the fore mast and a hundred feet up on it a crew's nest; in it some more hooded figures with telescopes, field glasses and range finders, looking—looking day and night. A look over my shoulder brought the bridge into view—the bridge, that is a light of any kind behind those windows about 20 yard behind men and boys were gazing that ship with its cargo across the Atlantic—the captain had some responsibility I would think. If you saw many times after and he looked just the man to walk that bridge. Don't ever forget that all the heroes of this war do not wear khaki or march behind bands.

Heroes Without Uniforms

Experiences of Twin Falls Engineer in Foreign Service

One of the most complete and interesting accounts of experiences of members of the American expeditionary force in France that has yet come to Twin Falls is that written by Lieutenant E. J. Abern of the Twenty-fifth regiment of engineers, a brother of J. P. Abern of this city, and formerly employed here as a civil engineer associated with Captain J. M. Borkett.

Two Types of Men
It was on this transport I also proved to my own satisfaction a very deep impression and that is, that will you think it made up of just two classes—non Democrats and Republicans, nor Wets and Drys, but Les Antinuous and Les Hommes. I made acquaintance with them a few minutes after their being the most high blue and have been in immediate contact with some of them ever since. The first thing you notice about them is their work's growth of beard, their hair is long and matted, their coats greasy, their leggings torn, their shoes' soles are low, their eyes dull, their noses flat at the base, their mouths seared with tobacco juice, their lips thick, their teeth black, their receding chins, their jaws heavy, their necks and chest hairy, their head and neck are aligned in the back, they lurch in their walk and drag their feet, they salute the flag in fear and they are in the army because the Canadian and Mexican borders are closed. Their thoughts on the sea were of food and money and women and land.

Life on Transports
They came to me like mice, rats, like mice and left like toads. Animals! Sleeping beside them, eating with them, fighting with them and dying with them are the men you see on Uncle Sam's transports. They had not had a morsel when some brutal fool was compelled. They came from offices, mines, mills, banks and any place where brains are at a premium. Until the year 1914 the United States had no place for them because they had in their being a "strange feeling," something they were at times ashamed to expose, something that made them akin to women, something utterly opposed to "good sound American business" and that something is "sentiment." Today the business world and everyone else is at the knees of those men blubbering and howling, save us! save us from the Hun! Sentiment actually drove these men into the army, sentiment is keeping them there; some are old, some gray but most of them young, and they also think of women, the women they left behind and not those to be met. "Les Hommes," "God bless 'em."

from one coon cabin boy to 15,000 troops and to feed those people three times a day and do it in an hour is some little piece of efficiency. Twenty men sit at a table, their mess kits in their hands, fight in their eyes and starvation in their mouths. "I-walks a rookie (he walks the first mess, walks the second mess and skates in the last) with five or four or three big tin boxes to the stands at the head of the table and starts them down the line, the first five men get all they want, the second five, nearly as much as they can eat, the third five half as much as they want and the last five want to fight. My mother tells a story of my expense in that we were visiting some "swells" one day and the kids ate last. They had beefsteak and the plate started the wrong way around the table and when it got half way around I yelled, "don't take it all now!" much to my mother's disgust—that was long ago. The second man says "save me some," the third "let's have a bit, will you?" the fourth, "dammit go easy with that stuff" and by the time one of the cans gets down to the twentieth man he has said "don't take it all" seven hundred times, and has granted the command fore and aft with a collection of words that were gathered from Texas to Canada, he gets standing on the table and yells. If he gets nothing he will not come the other way but when his turn comes he will get even, which he does. He gets even with his mates but reports on sick call the next morning.

Eats Are Great
But let no one imagine the eats on these transports are not good. They are great! That is great for war time. Real creamery butter twice a day, coffee, tea, cocoa, potatoes, meat, fish, cereals and stew. Good friends, if I ever got out of the army and anyone asks me, if I like chopped mutton, hash or stew, I'll kill him on the spot. But there is one thing every man will remember these transports for and that is the bread—war bread—if what we got was war bread, I will vote to continue this war indefinitely. Right here I am going to say the American soldier is the best fed soldier in the world. We had all we want, and if a full stomach is necessary to good patriotism then every soldier that came over on those transports is a super-patriot.

WHERE CREDIT IS DUE

Report read at the first annual meeting of the Red Cross auxiliary at Avery, Idaho, shows that during the past six months about two hundred thirty dollars has been spent for yarn.

Avery was the headquarters station of the Twin Falls unit of the Idaho regiment when stationed last spring on guard duty along a sector of thirty miles of railway.

Avery's Red Cross auxiliary was formed while the Twin Falls soldiers were stationed there, the tents of their headquarters station being pitched in the dooryard of the woman who has been elected vice-chairman of the local organization.

Realization of its work has been brought close to Avery by reason of the stay there of the Twin Falls men. The work done by the little auxiliary, together with the further fact that the percentage of volunteer enlistments among the men of Avery is probably exceeded by that of no other Idaho town, are evidences of the credit reflected by the Twin Falls men upon themselves, their home community and upon the military service.

Household Waste as Fertilizer. Chemical analyses of the ash of household waste made at the Connecticut agricultural experiment station, show that there is marked fertilizing value in such common refuse as grapefruit skins, orange skins, banana peels, apple peels, apple peels, cantaloupe rinds, tomato peels, pea pods, bean strings and stems, ten leaves, coffee grounds, egg shells, bones, peanut shells, tobacco, fruit stones, etc.

HAPPENINGS in the BIG CITIES

Barrel of Apples Makes One Peck of Trouble

CHICAGO.—The motorman's life is full of vexing problems. After a long, hard winter, full of difficulties, delays, cold hands and feet and gray quarrels with passengers, he looks forward to the hot by spring days. Then the patrons of the street cars are in a joyful mood and the spring sunshine brings out their good nature. They are not harassed by heavy clothing, the green grass peeping through the earth chowers them up and they murmur "This is the life."

With the coming of the warm days the street car chauffeur sees a better world. No more wagons on the tracks, no breakdowns, doors that open easily and everything so happy and gay. But, alas, he has not reckoned with the small boy. That chap, ever full of mischief, ever watchful of a chance to play a trick that will reap him a good laugh and perhaps a "chase" by the unfortunate victim of the trick.

A Streetcar street car was recently bowling along the street. The motorman had a wide grin on his face. The conductor was checking up his books preparatory to a quick leave when the car reached the bar. With the right of way clear the popular automobile of the poor people was loosed a fast voyage.

But alas! A barrel of apples stood innocently in front of a corner guard. Almost every small boy, in an instant the barrel was surrounded and hundreds of apples rolled into the street. The motorman's grin changed to sardonic laughter. Passengers silently cursed and the conductor knew he'd be late at home. There were cold suppers that night. The motorman could not start the car until the apples were gathered.

"In springtime a young boy's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of mischief."

NATIONAL CAPITAL AFFAIRS

Capital City Full of Uniforms Without Glitter

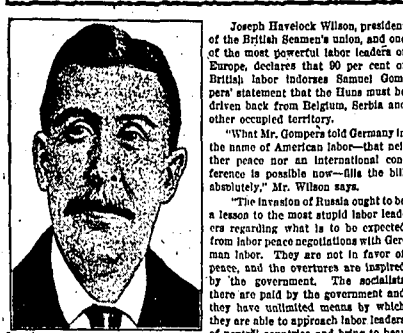

WASHINGTON.—Washington, in a few central respects, must in these days remind a Civil War veteran of the time when the capital swarmed with the soldiers of the Union. There were certainly never more general admirals on the streets in 1861-65 than there are today, writes "Noms" in the Boston Transcript. Uniforms are as numerous on Connecticut avenue as civilian suits. The atmosphere of the place is military. But the Civil War veteran, suddenly dropped down in Washington now, would not know the city for a war city nevertheless.

This drab dress, this intensely neutral cloth, would not represent soldiering to him at all. It would seem to broken some sort of custodianship at a club or a public institution. Not a sword or a man's side—not a gun on a man's shoulder! Gold lace conspicuous by its absence—from soldiers, though to be sure, the admirals are still permitted to wear it. All the people bough madly about like a lot of bank messengers or parcel boys, instead upon nothing but business. Instead of soldiers bivouacked on vacant lots, as in the Civil War, Washington is full of great barracklike, temporary buildings, mostly made of some kind of stucco, though some are of wood, within which hundreds of women are writing in a whirling fashion on typewriters. Mixed up with these women are men in these drab suits, either superintending or interfering with their operations. This was so far as the admirals at Washington can observe, is being fought by a woman with a typewriter.

All the space that was occupied during the Civil War by the war department and all its officers, clerks and servants would scarcely suffice today for one of the numerous bureaus of the department which were entirely uncovered in 1865. And consider that in 1861-65 the typewriter did not exist, and that every letter, order, memorandum, record and reference was written by hand!

IN THE LIMELIGHT

LEADER OF BRITISH SEAMEN

Joseph Havelock Wilson, president of the British Seamen's Union, and one of the most powerful labor leaders of Europe, declares that 90 per cent of British labor indorses Samuel Gompers' statement that the Huns must be driven back from Belgium, Serbia and other occupied territory.

"What Mr. Gompers told Germany in the name of American labor—that neither peace nor an international conference is possible now—fills the bill absolutely," Mr. Wilson says.

"The invasion of Russia ought to be a lesson to the most stupid labor leaders regarding what is to be expected there are paid by the government and they have unlimited means by which they are able to approach labor leaders of neutral countries and bring to bear pressure on the British labor leaders. Without the whole-hearted co-operation of German labor, the war would have been over long ago. Wage cartons there have been for the war from the beginning."

"There is no drawing of the line between the German government and the German people, and until the people control the government of Germany we are for a boycott. Until they acknowledge the wrong they have done, the labor party of Britain is determined to continue the war."

A MOTHER'S PROMISE TO HER SON

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

My Dear One—I'm writing this very, very small and on the thinnest of paper, so that lightly folded it may slip into one of the olive drab pockets of your new uniform without encroaching for the thinnest part of an inch upon all the new things that you must have (through the passports and identification slips and photograph, the knife and pen and writing pad, the list and numbers and names and ciphers, the address book and the thin manual you have been studying so hard and the slim little Bible, for this letter is part of your equipment, too, or at least I like to think that it is.)

I'm going to tell you in it just one or two of the things we've been trying not to say in these last days. You've said to yourself haven't you, that there were possibilities that I, thank God, hadn't seemed to think of. You've marvelled gratefully, haven't you, that I could say goodby with dry eyes and talk about what we should do when the war is over. My dear, there is nothing—nothing—that can happen to you that I haven't foreseen in every detail since May, since the very beginning of it all. I know that some of our men are not going to come back. I know—as I write this in the room you love—that your fingers may fumble for this little piece of paper in some dreadful hour, a month or two months or six months from now, just to read it over once more for the last time, just to feel in your fingers but there in a shell I have touched—something that I have touched—for goodby.

And thinking of all this for almost a year—while you've been getting ready to go—I've been getting ready to stay. Just as you planned I planned, and I said to myself: "When the time comes for us to part I shall make him a promise." Dear child, this is my promise, and I make it for the term of your own—"for the duration of the present war."

WHEN A CUP OF COFFEE TASTES LIKE A MILLION DOLLARS

He Got His Cup and Then Went on—to Death.

Through the establishment of the line of communication canteens in France the American Red Cross is setting records in serving hot coffee, cocoa and sandwiches to the troops. One of these refreshment units made another new record recently, serving more than 60,000 meals in one week. At another a cup of coffee was served every ten seconds for a period of two consecutive hours.

A single week these lines of communication canteens often serve 80,000 American and French soldiers.

Soldiers in Box Cars. Do our soldiers and their allies really want this form of Red Cross service? A letter from a young American aviator, a MIT graduate of Princeton University, is probably typical. It might be added that this man has since been reported killed after bringing down a German Zeppelin. "A 50 mile train ride over here," he said, "instead of taking a few hours may take days. When we stop at a Red Cross canteen you can bet that a cup of coffee tastes like a million dollars."

It is not always possible for a regiment to provide sufficient food and hot coffee on these long journeys, where the men must often be packed standing into unheated box cars ordinarily used for carrying heavy baggage. Imagine for yourself the warmth, the cheer, the comfort that piping hot coffee and good sandwiches bring to our boys after a night on such a journey! You can't just bet that it stiffens a man's courage. You Red Cross in helping out this renewed courage by the piping hot cupful.

ENLARGE SCOPE OF AUTHORITY

SENATE MILITARY COMMITTEE TO HAVE VASTLY INCREASED POWERS

By L. C. MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—The senate military committee is about to become the "committee on the conduct of the war."

Senate leaders, long believing that congress should have a war body to keep in direct touch with the work of executive departments in carrying out programs authorized by the legislative branch of the government, have taken the first step to this end by enlarging the military committee.

Senator Hoke Smith, Georgia, is the new Democratic member, and Senator Knox, Pennsylvania, probably will be the Republican addition.

The second step is pending—in the form of a resolution now before the senate empowering the military committee "for any sub-committee thereof," to investigate every phase of war department activity, to aid while congress is not in session, to spend money, being in witness and expert investigators.

Already at Work
Adoption of the resolution, introduced by Senator Chamberlain, will be followed by appointment of sub-committees on aircraft, quartermaster department, and other divisions. The ordnance sub-committee already has begun its work.

These sub-committees will not adjourn until the war ends. They will keep in constant touch with everything the department does.

PERSONALS

Richard De Woson of Los Angeles, who is visiting at the E. W. Davis home at Berger, is spending some time in Twin Falls.

Mrs. A. Pottier is spending a few days in Boise.

LEADS SONS OF EX-PRESIDENT ON FRONT LINE

HOMER S. YOUNGS, TWIN FALLS, RECENTLY PROMOTED TO CAPTAIN, IS FAMILIAR WITH AREA

Promotion to the rank of captain has been won by Homer S. Youngs, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Youngs of Twin Falls, formerly a first lieutenant assigned to duty with one of the first regiments of United States infantry to arrive in France. Word of the promotion has been received by the parents in a letter received from their younger son, Francis Youngs, who is a member of the One Hundred Forty-sixth field artillery regiment, serving in France.

No Sign of Flinching
Captain Youngs has been for some time an intelligence officer, and in that capacity, he says in a recent letter to his parents, he conducted Captain Archie Roosevelt and Theodore Roosevelt, junior, over a portion of the front line trenches. While in their company, the Germans opened a heavy shell fire upon that section of the trenches, but no one was injured at that time. The former president's sons went through the experience without a sign of flinching, Captain Youngs says. A few days later Captain Archie Roosevelt was wounded while again in this section of the battlefield.

EXPERIENCE OF TWIN FALLS MAN

this. You could look down, down, down and see men stripped going about their work as if no danger whatever was around them. Machinery and more machinery, some of it so far down it seemed that it might be skidding over the bottom of the ocean. Steam, grease and oil, and heat. It was a sight to me. On that boat were hundreds of heroes and plenty of material for epitaphs and they were not in soldier uniforms either. We were snug and safe but here the devil-reached out from every side to get you.

Submarine Destroyers
One very early morning I was leaning over the starboard rail and far off on the dim horizon I saw a dot of smoke. I looked in the opposite direction and there were more dots, like so many ways they fairly flew into view. They, I say it again, they were here. You know we were making full speed into the zone of the Huns and marked out for watery graves for all Americans. The men were not getting scared one bit but the ocean is an awful big place, and for days and days we saw nothing but sky and water. In a word we were getting lonesome. We had been expecting them and here they were at this early hour coming out of the sea, knowing exactly where they were going and what for. Out from the night they had been plowing through, bearing down on us at full speed, asters of the ocean, wasps, stingers, fighting devils. To the final day of every person on that transport who was lucky enough to be on deck will be never forgotten that morning and his afterthoughts will always be, "America can whip the World." They were alongside of us in a whiff, small, trim, proud, a challenge to Germany's submarines, battleships and the Kaiser—THE AMERICAN SUBMARINE DESTROYERS. If I put it in in capitals for they deserve it. They are the gamiest, scrappiest, most efficient piece of mechanism ever put on the ocean. Every man, "Anaximus and Hommes" doffed their hats and gave yells that were answered by a solemn blink of the signal flash. These men were here to work, not play. They were to protect us, not out on a joy ride. They came whizzing by us, look a squint to see that we were what we were supposed to be, and turning in their own length they flow around our big ship like so many mosquitoes. Like a fly looking at an elephant they viewed us. The colors they were painted would make you cross-eyed and what impressed every one of us was their coolness, self assurance and confidence in their own ability to take care of any submarine. Figuratively speaking the Kaiser and the Fritzies ate 400,000 morning. Everyone fairly went wild over them and wanted to get a job on them for the sport of it. We had read so much and swallowed Germany's bluff about America's impotence, had marveled at France's and England's great work that we had begun to imagine our own country was to be the "dupe" in this great show. And here was the second example of America's efficiency, the destroyer. They have been on the job from the drop of the hat. Give the navy enough of these and Germany's submarines will quit. Friends, never let anyone try to choke anything down your throat about the supremacy of Germany or any of the rest of them. I say, truly, give Perking time enough and ships enough and we will go it single handed and wipe the earth with the Huns.

Like Cat With Mouse
After your chest became deflated enough and your dizzy brain steady you began to laugh at these boats—the scarpiness of them. Talk about carrying chips on your shoulder, these fellows carried a whole saw-mill around with them, fight and challenge was written all over them. Were they smart? (Answer later.) But they don't need to be armed. Like a cat plays with a mouse these "birds" don't like to sink with a shot. They first want to give the German a chance, let him take his bearings, oil up his torpedoes and then let it loose. They will first dodge the torpedo, chase it and pick it up, turn around and ram the submarine before it can dive. There are destroyers in our navy that can shoot a torpedo and get up enough speed to catch them after they are shot. So why sink the poor Fritz right off the bat, why not play with him for awhile and let him imagine "Gott Mit Uns" and then hit one of those destroyers really get down to business and Fritz hasn't a chance in the world. If you want to know why there are hundreds of thousands of Americans here, how your brother, your father, your sweetheart, your son got to Europe, and how all men are going to get here safe, the answer is the American destroyer. (late 1.)

They have got "blue hell" scared in to all submarine commanders. They don't run from a fight, they wait and they look for it, pray for it and cry for it, in flotillas or alone, singlehanded. The next time you see a destroyer in a movie just say as a friend of mine used to say in California, "Dod blue-um," and then put down in your memory a little prayer for the boys that run them—they too are heroes. Epitaphs, they don't need any, for every man who has crossed to France will always remember those scrappy little American inventions to his last day. Now then "tout ensemble" (all together) "Olex cheapeaus" (bats off), "Aux les American destructeur des sousmarin. Get Jim Horan to trans-

REGISTRATION OF YOUNG MEN ANTICIPATED

ADJUTANT GENERAL DIRECTS LOCAL BOARDS TO MAKE ACCOMPLISHMENT CERTAIN

In anticipation of the speedy enactment of appropriate legislation for the registration under the selective service act of men who have become 21 years of age since June 5, 1917, Adjutant General C. S. Moody has directed Idaho local boards to recommend to him the number of places of registration required within each county for the proper accomplishment of this duty together with nominations of a sufficient number of registrars to make certain of the correct registration of all persons included within the provisions of the proposed legislation.

Regulations to Follow Directions to this effect were received by the local board for Twin Falls county Thursday. Regulations governing the registration will be forwarded to the board as soon as legislation is passed authorizing it, the adjutant general stated.

Recruiters Point Out Opportunity Army recruiting officers for some time have been urging upon men included within the provisions of the proposed legislation, the advantages and desirability of volunteer enlistment.

Making Pleasing Scents. The magnolia has a pleasing perfume, but the odor is limited to perfection without using the flower at all, because it is too large to succeed with success. So the magnolia perfume is furnished by a mixture of orange flower, rose, tuberose and violet essences, which make a fine "extract of magnolia." Indian lemon grass likewise gives "extract of verbena." With the rose as a foundation and a dash of verbena, the perfume of the delicate and pleasing "sweet-brier" is obtained.

Beginning of Shipbuilding. The first buoy was several logs lashed together and anchored by a stone. Man was just venturing upon the waters. Rafts ready made by nature were bestowed upon him in the jetson of the storm. Man built better and better rafts. His old ones anchored by rattan-lashed boulders came to mark his landing place and home. Whence came the habit of harbor buoys.

DRAFT TAKES TEN MORE MEN FROM COUNTY

DEPARTURE OF PARTY OF PROSPECTIVE SOLDIERS SIGNAL FOR FAREWELL DEMONSTRATION

Ten men, under selective service call, are leaving Twin Falls this evening to enter the military service at Fort McDowell, California. Preparatory to entrainment the men will assemble with the Twin Falls band, members of the local G. A. B. escort to the station, at the intersection of Main avenue and Shoshone street, shortly before 6 o'clock. The march to the station will begin promptly at 6:05 o'clock.

Members of Party
Nathan Walter Walls of Twin Falls is the leader of the party of prospective soldiers leaving here this evening. Other members of the party are Claude Young, Lexington, Kentucky; Ashley Oliver Perry, Twin Falls; Jess Leo Stetson, Kimberly; Clyde Orlando Ballard, Buhl; Ed Edward Sponator, Twin Falls; Halbert Arnold, Cheba, Oklahoma; Jasper F. Rogers, Buhl; Arthur McBroome, Buhl; Adriaan Andries Bouman, Twin Falls.

Eddie Milo Tinker, a registrant in Twin Falls, has been granted permission to leave at this time from Atchison, Kansas.

Nathan W. Walls, leader of the party, has been a resident of Twin Falls county for several years. He was the driver of one of the first stages flying between Twin Falls and Jerome by way of Blue Lake, and is the owner of a homestead in the vicinity of Moe-taugh. He expects to be assigned to duty in the military service in some capacity as a machinist.

Draft Too Slow
One man of the party leaving this evening has been inducted out of order at his own request. He is Adriaan Andre Bouman, a native of Holland, who has been employed for nearly three years past by Frank Canale on his farm near Twin Falls. Operation of the draft was too slow for Bouman. He was determined to get into the light and waived not only his liability order but a possible claim for exemption on the grounds that he is not a naturalized citizen of the United States.

World Fight Brothers
One man who was ready and willing to go with this contingent, although it would have brought him in conflict with two of his brothers serving in the German army, was disqualified for the reason that he is still a citizen of Austria-Hungary, the land of his nativity. He is George Soder, of Kimberly. He has also two brothers serving in the French armies.

NAVAL AVIATORS FINALLY RESCUED

PICKED UP AFTER THIRTY HOURS IN SHARK INFESTED WATERS

(By United Press.)
NEW YORK, May 10.—Two naval aviators who disappeared off the Florida coast May 5 arrived here today aboard an American steamer. They were Lieutenant Arthur Laverentis, of Chicago, Wyoming.

They had been picked up after nearly thirty hours of being in the water on a slimmer sea than they threatened to wreck their hydro-aeroplanes. They were faint from hunger and the knowledge that the water was infested with sharks added to their mental agony. They were nearly sixty miles off shore when rescued.

The towns of Atkinson, Fredericksburg, Osage and Colma are reported to have suffered severe damage.

All Iowa Affected
Severe atmospheric disturbances, of which the tornadoes in Chickawa and Winnesbick counties were a part, were reported all over Iowa Friday.

Here in Des Moines the wind attained a velocity of 44 miles an hour, the highest recorded in several years.

The Iowa Telephone company was unable to get into communication with northeastern-Iowa today. Their wires were all right as far north as Waterloo, but wires into the towns of New Hampton and Decorah, the seats of Chickawa and Winnesbick counties, were out of commission.

DOZENS OF HOMES WRECKED

(By United Press.)
MUSCATINE, Iowa, May 10.—Dozens of homes and farm buildings were wrecked, more than a score of persons were injured and thousands of dollars' worth of property was damaged in a tornado which swept a freakish path perhaps 250 yards from the town of Muscatine this evening, shortly after six o'clock.

The three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Houseman was torn from the grasp of the mother and hurled through space until he struck the top of a house. The child met a fatal end. Several victims are in local hospitals.

Two Known Dead

(By United Press.)
DES MOINES, Iowa, May 10.—Messages reported received over crippled telephone and telegraph wires up to noon Friday showed ten known dead, with a possibility that at least that many more perished, scores injured and property damage of at least $500,000 in the tornado which swept through Chickawa and Winnesbick counties in northeastern Iowa late Thursday.

Four are known to be dead in New Hampton and two at Nashua, Ia.

First dispatches received from Calmar, Iowa, reported at least six killed. Reports showed four dead at that place, including Mr. and Mrs. Peter Anderson and their granddaughter, Alice Burgeson, and Mrs. Frank Sandager.

"The Andersons lived at Calmar. Their house was demolished by the wind. Mrs. Sandager, who lives on a farm near Calmar, was killed when her home was destroyed. Her husband was killed by lightning less than two weeks ago.

The railroad roundhouse at Calmar was destroyed and practically every house in the town was damaged.

One Path a Mile Wide
At Plainfield the tornado cut a path through the country a mile wide and three miles long. Scores of houses were damaged and much live stock killed. At least a score of persons were injured slightly.

The pupils of Jefferson school near there were saved from injury when the teacher, Miss Vera Deistler, led them from the building and forced them to lie in a big ditch. A few minutes after the children were out of the building it was wrecked. This was learned by telephone from Waterloo.

BORGLUM INQUIRY IS FORMALLY OPENED

(By United Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 10.—The investigation President Wilson ordered into the sweeping charges of the sculptor, Gutzon Borglum, against the United States aircraft production board, has formally begun.

William L. Friterson, assistant attorney general, equipped with much data, secret and otherwise, was prepared for a probe which will reach into far corners of the air program.

Maxime the senate military committee pointed out the inquiry it will make on its own hook.

Most members of the committee today apparently favored wide open sessions, which will do away with confining majority and minority reports and leave the country to decide as to where the fault lies.

Senator Chamberlain—this afternoon introduced a resolution authorizing the committee to go into every phase of aircraft production, to summon witnesses, and to publish records of these reports.

Untouched by Pyrenees
The Pyrenees mountains are rich in waterfalls and minerals, but their exploitation is rendered difficult by lack of roads. With the water power there latent the mining possibilities could readily be developed.

Opal Without Color
The opal has no color in the sense of pigmentation. To break open an opal in order to observe its hues would be equivalent to killing the goose that laid the golden eggs. Neither golden eggs nor rainbow hues would be found.

Differences in Trees

In studying a vast collection of growing trees, such as may be found at the Arnold Arboretum of Harvard university, the imaginative mind may see and detect unthought of new laws of nature at work. So strikingly are the likes and dislikes of certain trees for methods of growing that even an amateur soon learns something of their care and the attention and conditions for growth that they require.

Lark's Wondrous Notes
Nowhere but in England and Ireland can the song of the lark be heard at its best. How human beings can kill such beautiful songsters and get them is difficult to understand. The wonderful notes of these birds, never to be forgotten by those who have heard them, should be sufficient to assure their protection, to say nothing of the valuable services they render in destroying insects.—Exchange.

City of Clubs
London has the name of the world's greatest club city, but as a matter of fact, in this respect it is poor second to Havana, Cuba. The clubs of Havana are larger, more numerous and more powerful than the clubs of any other city in the world. Everybody in Havana belongs to a club. There is one club there with 45,000 members. Out of a population of 350,000, it is estimated that the total club membership exceeds 250,000. No other city can even approach this proportion.

Hint Not to Be Misunderstood
"Alice was busy explaining something to her mother and was being constantly annoyed by a little girl friend who was trying to talk at the same time. Her patience finally giving way, she turned to the little girl and remarked: "Say, can't you tell when you're not noticed?"

To Reduce
Diet and exercise are the only "sure cures" for obesity. Reduce the amount of fats and starches in your diet but increase the amount of bulky and less nutritious vegetables. Let your exercises include walking and various gymnastics exercises, especially those putting the abdominal muscles into play.
