AIRPLANES WHEEL AND SKIM LIKE SWALLOWS

ABOVE GROUND FIGHTING IS MOST SPECTACULAR FEATURE OF THE WAR—AIR LITERALLY FILLED WITH WINGED DEATH AND DESTRUCTION OF MACHINES AND OCCUPANTS OCCURS CONSTANTLY—HARD TO DISTINGUISH FRIEND FROM ENEMY

By FRED B. FERGUSON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICANS IN PICARDY, May 16.—Americans holding the Meuse river sector viewed a descending cloud of fighting machines as air fighting occurred repeatedly over their lines. The day was ideal for aerial operations, the sun beaming from a cloudless sky, flocks of long lines of aircraft streaked the sky.

The bochs airplanes took the air first. As they crossed the lines, they were met by the anti-aircraft guns. Then the battle planes dashed towards each other and a thrilling fight was on, high up between the lines.

From an observation post at the front I counted 35 French and bochs planes, flanking like silver as they whirled in battle formation. Soon they were diving, darting and diving like swallows. Their machine guns rattled and their trails of smoke from the guns streaked the sky.

Three planes mounted to a position high above the others, then dived straight into the melee, their machine guns spurring fire.

Two Planes Go Down
Two planes apparently were hit and fell like leaves through space. Not tucking the enemy, they suddenly righted and dashed against three planes that had been pursuing them.

In the mix-up it was impossible to distinguish bochs from French, as all were looping and diving in a confused whirl.

After 15 minutes of fighting, two machines separated from the bunch and started a dead heat duel on the side lines. One faltered, then a streak of smoke and flames marked its fall over the ground. A minute later the victor burst into flames, its smoke mingling with that of the vanquished as it fell.

Air Full of Planes
At one time more than fifty machines were visible over the front and the air was filled with the sound of motors and machine guns.

While the battles were on far overhead all other fighters, except anti-aircraft gun crews, dropped their work to watch and cheer the aviators. Bochs and American machine guns alike were silent. Sniping on both sides covered the front and a slight stir was fired by either artillery. The war for the moment was transferred entirely to the sky.

They New Shell
The Germans established a new method of gasping last night, firing a shell that burst in the air. The ordinary gas shell bursts upon contact. American artillery pounds all the villages and roads behind the German lines every night. There has been great activity behind the bochs positions during the past 48 hours. The American fire undoubtedly has caused heavy losses to the enemy.

NEW YORK TOWN MAY BAR HEARST PAPERS

SUPERIOR COURT INTERVIEWS EX-JUDGING OFFICIALS FROM ENFORCING NEW ORDINANCE

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, May 16.—Justice Greenbaum, in the supreme court, has issued an injunction against the mayor, aldermen and chief of police of New York, N. Y., restraining them from enforcing an ordinance prohibiting sale of the New York Journal and the New York Evening American in Moscow.

James W. Gerard represented the Hearst papers in court. The order is retroactive last week. The Mount Vernon ordinance forbids sale of the American and Journal during the war. It is effective next Saturday and was passed because of a charge that President Wilson's statement regarding a victorious peace did not appear in Wilson's Memorial Day proclamation, as it was printed in the American.

PRESIDENT OPPOSES SENATE AIR PROBE

WASHINGTON, May 16.—President Wilson today renewed his emphatic protest against a senate aircraft investigation. He told Senate members that Kansas, that is view of the appointment of Charles E. Hughes to assist in the department of justice inquiry, he considered a senate probe unnecessary and asked him to do all he could to defeat it.

THREE ENEMY PLANES FALL TO YANKEES

SUPERIORITY OF AMERICAN WAR IN AIR SHOWN TO ADVANTAGE IN COMBAT IN LORRAINE—NO AMERICANS LOST—FLYERS ARE HONORED

By FRANK J. TAYLOR (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN LORRAINE, May 16.—During a heavy German air raid yesterday morning, American aviators shot down three enemy planes. They engaged and drove off a number of others. There were no American losses.

The first victory came quickly. Captain Kenneth Marr of California spotted a bochs plane north of Fontenoy, France, on the stream of the Tonj sector, 24 miles east of St. Mihiel. Having the altitude and an in his favor, Marr descended on the bochs, firing his machine gun. The German machine crashed to the ground.

Squadron Landing
A second time, Major Captain David Peterson, "squirrel hunting," sighted two German fighting monoplane north of Tonj. Peterson attacked one, the enemy plane falling in flames. The other attacked Peterson, who reversed and shot down the bochs. The advantage of position and breaking one of the German plane's wings by machine gun fire. The enemy machine fell 4500 meters.

Both these encounters were behind the German lines. Later, two American fighters, a Curtiss and a Sperry, shot down a bochs monoplane and one biplane, above the clouds. The Americans attacked their machine guns stuck, then retired.

American Flyers Decried
Five American aviators were awarded the croix de guerre, with palms, this afternoon. The ceremony took place at a field near Tonj with a band playing and airplanes maneuvering overhead. The Americans who received the war crosses were:

Captain Norman Hall of Colfax, Iowa, and Lieutenant Charles W. Chapman of Waterloo, Iowa, both of whom are missing; Captain David Peterson and Lieutenant James Melanzer of Brookings and Eddie Rickenbacker of Columbus, Ohio.

The American plane which fell yesterday is now believed to have been shot down by a German plane hidden in the clouds.

SOCIALISTS TO MAKE STRONG WAR STATEMENT

PROBABLE ENDORSEMENT OF AMERICA'S ENTRY INTO THE WORLD WAR IS FORECASTED

(By United Press)
TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 16.—A statement of the war attitude of the Socialist American party, following the prosecution of the war by the United States, will be formulated at a meeting of Eugene V. Debs, national Socialist leader, announced today.

Debs would not indicate just what tone this new war statement will sound. However, he said, he hoped that a reunited party now split on the war issue, would result from the meeting. Complete presidential and congressional tickets will be placed in the field at the coming elections, Debs said.

"ALL'S WELL" IN MOVIE FAMILY AGAIN

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, May 16.—Further evidence that the reported breach between Douglas Fairbanks, movie actor, and his wife, involving another screen favorite, has been healed, was given today when Mrs. Fairbanks, returning from the east, took charge of the Fairbanks home again. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Fairbanks would make any statement.

HUN ARTILLERY FIRE IS GROWING MORE ACTIVE

Increased Intensity of Big Gun Fire Along Parts of German Front Indicate Early Resumption of Fighting—Kaiser's War Machine Gaining Strength

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, May 16.—Nearly 100 rosted or fresh German infantry divisions (1,200,000 men) are on the west front, ready for immediate battle. Hindenburg has slowly patched up his badly battered war machine, which is reported to be again in something like running condition.

About 125 German divisions (1,500,000 men) are facing the British, French, Belgians, and Americans in the actual line. About 80 divisions (950,000 men) are in reserve. Of these latter, a dozen are quite fresh, not having participated in the present campaign. Between fifty and sixty German divisions have not fought for so long that they must be counted as among the available troops for the coming thrust.

From Moderately Active
The battle front today was moderately quiet. There was some fighting north of Kemmel, where the French, in a snappy counter-attack, regained Hill 64, which previously had been captured by Von Arnim's storm troops.

Southwest of Moresnet on the Austrians steadily pushed out the Germans who had previously captured a position. The artillery is backing louder during the past 24 hours in the Corbach, Montcornet and Arrea regions. The French and the hill country thereabouts is being garrisoned by German troops.

The general situation is one of pooling for position. The Germans are desperately eager to win certain advantageous jumping off places before the big attack.

Today's skies were clear and blue, and German patrols warmed up and down the lines, striving to drive off the allies' planes, which were constantly breaking through to watch the enemy's preparations for the coming attack, charged and fired point-blank.

Soldiers admit the mastery of the air was never so important as now. An American who has served here since the beginning of the war told me:

"Whenever I hear the drone of a motor, I always look up, hoping to see a plane with stars on the wings. Say, lol me why they don't come!"

He was compelled to relinquish his post because of ill health. "Everything is in great shape over there," he said, "and there is no question about the result."

PERISHING ISSUES HIS FIRST COMMUNIQUE

MARCH TO LINE WITH SONG ON LIPS OF EACH

TROOPS LEAVE FOR THE TRENCHES WITH LIGHT HEART—LEARN FRENCH ON THE ROAD

By FRED S. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN THE FIELD, May 15.—The march of marches, insofar as America is concerned, was under way today.

There have been other marches in France and there will be more. But yesterday the first Americans to throw their weight into the line of battle where the fate of free nations is at stake, were tramping over the winding roads of Picardy.

The march began at daybreak. There were no bands. There were no brilliant uniforms, men, or flying flags. There were no wives or sweethearts to wave good-bye.

As the men swung away toward the battle line to the music of their own songs, they were putting their hands to the turning of a new page in American history. A movie camera filmed them here and there on the road. But the French peasants and laughing children who turned from their play to wave them good-bye, were the principal witnesses.

LIEUT. GEORGES FLACHAIRE

Lieut. Georges Flachaire (left), a French "ace" with seven German planes to his credit, and Maj. Gen. George C. Squier in Potomac park, Washington. Lieutenant Flachaire, who has had experience of two and a half years at the front, has been showing the capital the pace of a one-passenger battleplane, whose normal speed is 150 miles an hour.

Off to Battle Line

This was the march from the area in Picardy into the line of battle. After the journey from Lorraine on foot there was a period of rest for three days in villages. They drilled now and then, but for the most part straightened up equipment—and played. They made friends among the villagers, picked up a few French words from the children and staged a crap game or a poker session. After more than a month in the trenches it was a big picnic.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

(By United Press)

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 15.—Coughlin's shipyard, the largest ship-building industry in British Columbia, was devastated by fire starting at 2:30 yesterday morning. The loss will run from a million and a half to two million dollars. One fireman, Duggan Cameron, was crushed by a falling wall and instantly killed.

Two eight-thousand ton steel steamers were on the ways. The War Charley, nearly completed, was not seriously damaged. The War Charlot, on which work worth three quarters of a million dollars had been done, was almost a total loss. The blaze burned away the foundations and fell into the main shafts, where blasting cranes and gantries and other heavy timbers fell on top of her and completed the ruin. Boiler shops which contained machinery for the steamer Alaska and all of the outfitting of the month's department of the place were destroyed.

The fire was under control at 4 o'clock. The blaze started in the boiler room and was almost out when an acetone tank exploded and the flames then spread rapidly.

ASKED EXEMPTION ON INDUSTRIAL GROUNDS

Considering his claim for exemption insufficient, the Seattle board put him on the list of selected men for Camp Lewis. He refused to heed the call, was in due time listed as a deserter, and later arrested on that charge.

How Was the Last War Fund Spent?

[I]t is a fair question—and it is fairly answered in the detailed and itemized reports that have been published in the newspapers of every town and city of the land.

You never saw it? Then ask at the nearest Red Cross Chapter, or write, for the Red Cross wants you to know where your money went.

They say that Red Cross supplies have a way of coming through on time.

Italy surely has found us not wanting in promptness when her great trial came.

And Roumania—they said no allied nation could get through to help her dire need.

But the Red Cross found a way.

It's not always a cheap way—"Needs must" costs money. But did you give that money to be saved—or to save lives? Are you not willing to pay five dollars or fifty to bring something of comfort to a war-racked, tortured mortal who but for you would surely die?

And of one thing you may be sure. Not one penny of that Hundred Million has gone for anything but War Relief.

In the Red Cross there is no high salaried bureaucracy, no extravagant administration expense. All of the higher officials and nine-tenths of the workers are unpaid volunteers.

The cost of raising and collecting the last War Fund was about one-half of one per cent., more than covered by the banking interest on the money.

Your Red Cross needs another hundred million to lighten just a little of the awful load of misery "over there." Your share is all that you can give—and then a little more.

Will you hold up your end?

OUR SIMPLE DUTY

Three hundred thousand dollars for the Red Cross. This state will give it cheerfully and promptly and generously. If there is any activity in connection with the war that entails the earnest support of the public it is that of this most worthy organization. We will do much in other directions, but it requires less effort to secure funds that go directly to the aid and comfort of our soldier boys when they most need them.

E. H. Dewey, chairman of the Idaho Red Cross campaign, told the whole story when he said in an interview: "The soldier boy who is in France, or who is being prepared to go, wants to know not only about food and munitions but about the care he will receive should he be wounded or become ill in the performance of his duties."

There is no question about the answer. We send for him a gift of love and tenderness. We send to him the nearest thing to his home it is possible to send.

As was expected, certain agencies have undertaken for one reason or another to interfere with the Red Cross work in Idaho. They are doing it all over the country for that matter. It was hoped this state would exempt, but the obstructionists and pro-Germans have been at it trying to arouse suspicion against the Red Cross and interfere with the success of the drive now on. Their efforts will fail, as they should.

The best way to emphasize public disgust for such methods is to contribute the allotment to the Red Cross in short time and send the news as a smashing answer to all those who are so unparliamentary as to undertake to interfere with this great agency of mercy from any motives.

NOT YET

Governor Alexander is off on a new tack. This time he would contribute to the general enthusiasm of the hour by closing the picture show business. He reasons that if the public sets the stamp of its approval upon the closing of pool halls it naturally follows that the closing up process should be carried still farther. He has not yet precisely made up his mind about it but he has hinted at something of the sort.

There was abundant reason for the closing of pool halls. They were all pool halls make looking pleasant for the men who ought to be working, and likewise profitable for the fellow who never works unless he has to, but because some of them do those things and there was no way of making a rule which would apply only to a part. In some cases, hardship resulted but in a majority the end fully justified the means.

But to reason from this that there is any parallel between the pool halls and the picture shows is absurd. It is true that picture shows are but a form of entertainment but it is also true that no single line of enterprise in existence, except the newspapers, gives as freely or as largely of its wares for the general good without thought of payment. The Government itself depends largely on the picture shows, just as it does on the newspapers, for the dissemination of information which the public must have, and if the ordinary rules of value were applied it would be found that hundreds of dollars' worth of publicity a month is actually given.

Picture shows take at most an hour or two of an afternoon. These matinees appeal largely to women and children in search of harmless recreation as a rest from the cares and worries of the day. They do not attract a class of persons of any interest from a labor standpoint and their closing would simply tend to cut off for many people the only source of amusement open to them.

STATE CHAIRMAN CALLS ON IDAHO PEOPLE TO MANIFEST LOYALTY IN RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

(Special to The News.)
BOISE, May 16.—"Every agency in Idaho that is pro-German in tendency will attempt to interfere in one way or another with the Red Cross drive in this state next week," said E. H. Dewey, state chairman for Idaho. "German sympathizers realize that if they could keep the order of the Americans as to the Red Cross they would have started the process of disrupting the morale of the American soldiers, for if those brave boys could be led to believe that their own people were not spontaneously and unselfishly behind them, they would naturally become discouraged."

"When we subscribe for war bonds, we make a good investment and a patriotic one. It is necessary that we take our share to help finance the war. There is no question as to the disposition of the American people to subscribe or over-subscribe these Liberty Loan issues, and to keep a stream of supplies and equipment going across to France. That is commendable. It is most necessary. It is a great message to send to our boys over there."

No Investment Here
"But we get closer to them and stimulate them really more when we really give. There is no investment about the Red Cross subscriptions, in the usual acceptance of the term, yet it is one of the best investments we can make—an investment in mercy. The soldier boy who is in France, or who is being prepared to go, wants to know not only about food and munitions, but about the care he will receive if he should be wounded and become ill in the performance of his duties."

If the German propaganda being circulated in various guises over the country, and as I am informed also in Idaho, should affect adversely the coming Red Cross drive, it would cause a serious injury to the American heart and please the war lords of Germany to whom they would be quick to follow. It up with other propaganda with the view of demoralizing the American soldiers and that the American people were not sincerely behind them.

There are numerous ways in which German propaganda against the Red Cross is circulated. Every year recalls the false sweater yarn. It was shown conclusively to be without any foundation whatever, yet circulation of the story hurt this great cause.

"Now certain people are circulating reports that salaries are being paid Red Cross workers. The truth is that all over the United States these workers give their services. That is the case in the Idaho state Red Cross headquarters. No official receives a cent for services. Rent is furnished free. There is nothing taken from the Red Cross contributions. In sending out supplies, women volunteer their services."

"Of course, this propaganda will fail. The people of Idaho, and of the entire nation, will respond so generously and so promptly to this call for financial aid, that it will be an entirely different message sent across the Atlantic to our boys than the Hun helpers in America expect will be sent."

Drawing Figures
"Idaho is asked to subscribe $300,000 of the one hundred million dollars desired to raise for the war. One hundred million dollars seems like a large sum when we see it in print, but it dwindles when we realize that the American people spend two million dollars a year for candy and fifty million dollars a year for chewing gum. And it is further America's war we contemplate the fact that it is to be used to care for our soldiers and sailors wherever and whenever they are in need of aid, to help and encourage our allies and maintain their spirit, to create and maintain morale among American soldiers, by the knowledge brought to them through practical acts that we are close up behind them as they fight in the trenches."

The Idaho drive will start Monday, May 20, and continue on through the state's quota of $300,000 has been distributed among the counties and the share of this county is $31,000.

LINED UP WITH WRONG ELEMENT IN NEW YORK FIGHT, THEY CONTEND

DETROIT, Mich., May 16.—William Jennings Bryan was barred today from taking part in the prohibition "baking party" in New York City.

The Anti-Saloon League, in a public explanation, declared Bryan's "usefulness to the cause of prohibition here" had been destroyed by "his recent affiliations with William Randolph Hearst in New York politics and by his former pro-German leanings."

The league objected because "for party reasons" Bryan had joined Hearst, a "wet" candidate, against Whitman, a "dry" leader, in the gubernatorial contest.

SENIOR MEMBER OF SENATE

When the Republican party passed from power in congress there was one Republican who still maintained his power. This was none other than Jacob Harold Gallinger, the senior member of the senate and the minority floor leader. Although his party is in the minority, Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire may be reckoned as one of the strongest driving forces in the war senate. This is due largely to the fact that he knows how to fight.

Serving in the senate since 1891, Gallinger has learned all of the legislative tricks in the bag. When danger seems imminent for measures which he favors he generally reaches down into history and brings up a precedent of days gone by which rescues the situation.

Foggy and heavy, Senator Gallinger does not appear from the gallery to be an active member of the war senate, despite the fact that he is generally in his seat. But he has a constant eye on the situation and always at the right moment he is on his feet and offers some suggestion which turns the tide in his favor.

Perhaps the greatest exponent of the dignity of the senate is the minority leader. He has great reverence for the serious work that the senate has before it and never allows this to be forgotten by some of the younger members.

Senator Gallinger was born on a farm in New Hampshire, eighty-one years ago. He did not stay on the farm for long and when he went out into the world it was as a physician. But in 1872 he was sent to the house of representatives and from that time on he has spent most of his time doctoring laws. He has been in continuous service in the senate since 1891.

MAILED PIST OF KAISER IS GRADUALLY CLOSING OVER DUAL MONARCHY

By CARL D. GREAT (United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, May 16.—Germany, seeking to gobble up Russia, is also still clinging to the old Mittel Europa idea.

The thought that she has abandoned that scheme of running a list of Teuton domination across the middle of Europe was disproved today by official diplomatic dispatches received here about the recent Hohenkollern-Hapsburg conference at the German great headquarters.

The conference resulted in arrangements for putting Austria more under German jurisdiction than ever before.

It was significant from the fact that Austria has been going through a period of serious war stress.

Now, she and Germany will work more in unison—that is, German warlords will force her to do their bidding, ruthlessly, according to official interpretation here.

Not All Harmony
The action was not, however, the most harmonious that brothers in arms have ever had. On the contrary, injection of the German and Austrian kings into the meeting proved disconcerting and the official dispatches showed that the German-Austrian murder-an-business-bund had not yet been formally re-

MASONS GATHER FOR IMPORTANT MEET

POCATELLO IS MECCA FOR IDAHO MEMBERS OF HIGHER BRANCHES OF ORDER

One of the most important meetings of Masons ever held in Idaho convenes in Pocatello on Friday morning when the tenth annual convention of the Idaho grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons, which is to be followed by the fifteenth annual convolve of Idaho Knights Templar and a ceremonial session of El Korah temple Shrine, will begin its sessions.

Many Going From Here

In attendance at these sessions there will be Masons from widely scattered points throughout the Intermountain region. More than 50 Masons of Twin Falls, including a class of 30 candidates for the Shrine degree, expect to attend. The vanguard, leaving here Wednesday evening, included George D. Aiken, E. L. Winkler, E. C. G. transfer, W. M. Lambing, C. F. Greene and Dr. R. A. Parrott.

Effort is being made to secure a special Pullman car to carry the delegation which will include most of the prospective Shriners, leaving here Saturday morning.

Word has come here through official channels that the sands over which the candidates will pass are extra hot, having been heated astoundingly for four weeks past; that the candles are extra ordinarily fierce and that a cloud of rope has been received in Pocatello, for use in connection with the Shriners' ceremonial session, which begins Saturday afternoon.

Tiny cupid and hearts further added to the attractive scene. Many beautiful individual gifts were presented the brides-elect and as a gift from the whole group an exquisite piece of cut glass was given.

GERMAN PRESS TRIES HARD TO FOOL PEOPLE

CAMPAIGN OF PUBLICITY NOW GOING ON IN EFFORT TO MAKE NATION BELIEVE THAT NEXT OFFENSIVE WILL BE SUCCESSFUL

(United Press Correspondent) WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, May 16.—German newspapers arriving at the French front via Switzerland, together with German radio picked up by the French wireless, shows the German imperial command is conducting a press campaign for the benefit of the German people preparatory to resuming the offensive. It is analogous to the press campaign which preceded the assault March 21. In the present campaign the Germans are assured that when the offensive is resumed it will continue without stopping until the war is ended. This, coupled with numerous other indications along the allied front and information from prisoners, indicates that Germany plans a repetition of the original offensive, hoping to separate the main French and British armies by another offensive on Flanders' massed attacks such as was carried on at Rigbt. This probably will be directed against a supposed weak point in the allied lines.

Preparations Take Time
Detailed preparations necessary to launch such an attack explain the present lull. The German staff has been forced to work out its plans to the minutest detail, release the German troops until they are better prepared, and re-assess men and material behind the line from where they can make an attack during the night for a surprise attack in the morning.

Despite the fact it is established that the Germans have lost half a million men since March 21, it is known positively they still have another half a million in reserve depots, with which they can fill up their first losses.

With the present unity of command, coupled with their defensive preparations, the allies are awaiting the shock with supreme confidence.

PRESIDENT ASKS FOR VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

OUTLINES HIS IDEAS OF PROPOSITION COVERED BY CHAMBERLAIN RESOLUTION AND ADVISES CONGRESS THAT PASSAGE OF SAME WOULD AMOUNT TO DECLARATION THAT WAR WOULD BE BETTER EXECUTED BY OTHERS

(By United Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 16.—President Wilson has issued a challenge for an expression of confidence from congress. In a letter to Senator Martin, Democratic floor leader, he assailed the Chamberlain resolution calling for the creation of a powerful investigating committee amounting virtually to a "committee on the conduct of the war."

"The purpose which it undoubtedly expresses," wrote the president, have been expressed again and again during the present session and have always seemed to originate in a rooted distrust of those in charge of the executive functions of the government."

The president declared a vote in favor of the resolution would discredit him, and called upon those back of the administration in its war work to defeat the proposal.

Senator Martin read the letter to a hastily summoned conference of Democratic leaders and it was later presented by Senator Thompson to the senate committee on audit and control, which is authorized to act on the Chamberlain resolution.

Text of Letter

There was radical disagreement from the president's views both in the conference of Democratic leaders and in the committee meeting.

The president's letter follows:

"My Dear Senator:—I am sincerely obliged to you for calling my attention to senate resolution 241 which in effect proposes to constitute the military affairs committee of the senate a committee on the conduct of the war."

"I deem it my duty to say that I should regard the passage of this resolution as a direct vote of want of confidence in the administration. The purpose which it undoubtedly expresses has been expressed again and again in various forms during the present session, and has always seemed to originate in a rooted distrust of those who are at present in charge of the executive functions of the government. Those executive functions are very clearly understood. They have been defined both by the constitution and by long experience, and no one can doubt where the responsibility for these lies or what the methods are by which those who are responsible can be held to their duty. Such activities on the part of the particular committee of the senate as this resolution would look forward to would constitute nothing less than an attempt to take over the conduct of the war or at least so superintend and direct and participate in the executive conduct of it as to interfere in the most serious way with the action of the constituted executive. I protest most earnestly against the adoption of any such action and shall hope that every senator who intends to support the present administration in the conduct of the war will vote against it. These are serious times and it is absolutely necessary that the lines should be clearly drawn between friends and opponents."

Cordially and sincerely yours,
"WOODROW WILSON."

The president's demand for a show-down clearly indicates that he plans to fight-out with congress now the question of further attempts by the legislative branch of the government to have more of a hand in the direction of the war.

Against All Such Action
The same idea to Martin embodies much the same idea expressed by the president last session when he killed a plan to have a congressional committee to war expenditures. At that time he expressed most strongly his distaste for such measures.

Conflict in Thompson's committee prevented the committee reaching any decision on the resolution by the time the senate met. Senator Jones, now Mexico, led the administration's fight to limit the resolution so the military committee cannot make a general investigation. Senators McKellar and Smead opposed Jones strongly. McKellar is a member of the military committee.

The president's letter set the senate seething. Some members of both parties indignantly declared the president has no right to characterize as foes "those who seek to do what they think proper and necessary for the effective conduct of the war."

Senator Thompson also read to his committee a letter from Secretary Baker, which follows:

"My Dear Senator:—I have received your letter of May tenth enclosing a copy of senate resolution 241 introduced by Senator Chamberlain, providing for the investigation by the military affairs committee of the senate of the progress of aircraft production and into any other matters relating to the conduct of the war by or through the war department. I do not know how far additional powers are needed by the military affairs committee of the senate, and clearly the war department could have no wish adverse to the most complete inquiry by the senate military affairs committee. I point out, however, that every facility which the war department has is freely at the disposal of the senate military affairs committee, whether any additional authority is conferred by resolution or not."

Committee members declared, the president cannot prevent the committee investigating, even though he does succeed, in preventing the conferring of additional powers.

MORE LIGHT SHED ON BRIGADING OF THE AMERICANS

BAKER SAYS PERSHING WILL CONTROL WHEN THE DIVISIONS BECOME MAINLY AMERICAN

(By United Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 16.—When brigaded divisions of American and British forces become mainly American, they will be under General Pershing's control. Secretary of War Baker declared this "undoubtedly true" today, but declined to amplify until he has studied the problem thoroughly.

In army circles it was suggested the allies are now striving to displace any American impression that the brigading arrangement sidetracks American Pershing's command, it was hinted, will come when the divisions are practically American divisions. For the present, however, the dilution process is understood to be such that the American forces predominate in no brigaded divisions.

(By United Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 16.—The last obstacle in the way of registration of men 21 years old on June 5 was removed today when the house adopted the conference report on the 21-year-old bill.

Quincy Crowder has already sent out the forms for the registration and definitely fixed the date as June 6. The bill as it stands exempts students now in medical and theological schools.
