TORPEDO KILLS HALF-HUNDRED U.S. SOLDIERS

NEWS OF SINKING OF THE BRITISH TRANSPORT MOLDAVIA BY KUN SUBMARINE WITH AMERICAN TROOPS ABOARD IS SHOCK TO ALLIES

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, May 25.—Fifty-three men, all members of Company A, fifty-eighth infantry, fourth division, were reported last in the sinking of the British transport Moldavia, the war department reported today.

(By United Press) LONDON, May 25.—Fifty-six American soldiers were still unaccounted for early today in the torpedoing of the British mercantile cruiser Moldavia, sunk in the English channel early on Thursday morning, while transporting American troops.

The missing men were all in one compartment and were said to have been killed by explosion of the torpedo. All officers and members of the crew were saved by British destroyers forming the company.

FINE EXAMPLE OF MANLY COURAGE

(By United Press) AN ENGLISH PORT, May 25.—"I never saw better discipline," declared Captain Johnson of the United States military, a survivor, in describing to the torpedoing of the transport Moldavia in the English channel Thursday morning.

"There was a loud explosion and the ship's wheel went round, and she rolled in perfect order. It was just like the daily boat drill. I never saw better discipline."

"The Moldavia ran under her own steam for a time, for the purpose of avoiding a second torpedo."

The survivors are now at a rest camp. They are enthusiastic over the splendid work of the ship's officers and crew and of the British destroyers.

RED CROSS DRIVE IS COMPLETED

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, May 25.—What the Red Cross asked America has given. The $100,000,000 war fund, according to official estimates, swept over the finish at noon today. Official figures up to an earlier hour showed $97,000,000 already in.

PEOPLE'S COUNCIL TO MOBILIZE SOLDIERS

(By United Press) MOSCOW, May 25.—The people's council at Kuzk (about 275 miles south of Moscow) has declared a defensive mobilization because large German forces are reported moving through that region toward Moscow.

MANY AUSTRIANS IN ITALIAN ARMY

(By United Press) ROME, May 25.—Twenty thousand Czech-Slovak soldiers, who formerly served in the Italian army, are serving in the Russian army, according to a statement by the newspaper Bomb today.

"One of the most significant features of the celebration of the third anniversary of the Italian armistice with the Allies, was the presentation of a flag to the Czech-Slovak battalion," the Bomb said.

"Twenty thousand Czech-Slovaks from the United States, where they left good positions to volunteer, are now serving in the Italian army. The presence of these well organized and numerous corps gives the Austrians in grave embarrassment, not only because of their military value, but because of their moral influence."

KEEP HANDS OFF IN RUSSIAN TROUBLE

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, May 25.—The United States and the allies are agreed on the course to be pursued toward Russia—at least for the present. It will be a "hands off" military policy, while at the same time the Austrians will aid possible in supplies. There will be no intervention now unless requested.

IRISH BITTER AT CLAIM OF DISLOYALTY

REVELATIONS OF BRITISH EVIDENCE OF ALLEGED PLOTTING WITH HUNGARS ARE DENOUNCED BY NATIONALISTS AND SINN FEIN LEADERS

(By United Press) DUBLIN, May 25.—Revelation of the evidence obtained by the British government of a revolutionary movement in Ireland, which culminated last week in wholesale arrests of Sinn Fein leaders, caused wide discussion here today.

Radicals bitterly denounce the statement issued by the official press bureau last night as "one-sided" and declare it is a conspiracy.

"The glaring weakness of the government's case is that it rests largely on the public speech of Sinn Fein leaders. It is a curious sort of a conspiracy that is proclaimed from the hospotes."

"The newspaper declares that whatever concussions the extremists have in America gave another impetus to the British secret service, which would strike from the border of plunging Ireland into blood and anarchy."

"Secretary Long's arrival suggests that the drama is rapidly developing," declared the Freeman's journal.

MEXICO RECALLS AGENT AT HAVANA

NEW TAX BILL SQUARELY UP TO PRESIDENT

CONGRESS '78. MCADOO IS SITUATION, WITH DECIDING VOTE IN HANDS OF EXECUTIVE—LUXURIES AND WAR PROFITS TO BE TRIMMED

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, May 25.—A new move backed by both Democratic and Republican leaders to postpone a revenue bill until after the fall elections was begun in congress today.

Secretary McAdoo declares there must be a revenue bill this session. Congress says there must not. Today the president is expected to decide the question.

"The wealth conservation plan to come in their own. The word has been passed that there must be no limit to the taxes on war profits, swollen incomes and luxuries."

"Every sort of luxury, those enjoyed by the poor as well as the rich, will be taxed to raise the money," Mr. Hoover said.

ROOSEVELT REPLIES IN CHARACTERISTIC STYLE

In a letter to Senator Pendergast, Roosevelt said that as Burleson's attack on him had been given publicity, the reply be printed in the Congressional Record.

BATTLEFIELD IN FLANDERS SEA OF MUD

DRENCHING RAIN AND HIGH WIND ADD TO TRYING HOLES IN TRENCHES OF BRITISH—ARTILLERY AND RAIDING A DIVERSION

(By William Phillip Simons) (United Press Staff Correspondent) FIELD MARSHAL HANIBAL VON IBANON, May 25.—A drenching rain, driven by a high westerly wind, today swamped the battlefield and turned the chinking dirt into mud.

With each day, however, the Kaiser's troops are obtaining more fresh, additional training for their new recruits, all of which tends to give them greater strength for their next push.

"The British are working to perfect their organization to receive the coming attack. Likewise, with each moment, American troops are increasing the number of reserves at Foch's command."

P. E. O. GRAND CHAPTER ENDS SESSION HERE

THE DONATION to the Red Cross amounting to $30.32, given by members of the Idaho grand chapter of the P. E. O. sisterhood held in Twin Falls this week was turned over to the Red Cross committee Friday.

It resolved that this convention extend to our Supreme President our sincere regret at her inability to meet with us, and our appreciation of her inspiring message. To our charming State President, Mrs. Smith, our admiration and praise for the able manner in which she has conducted this convention, assuming in addition to her own, the responsibilities usually falling on a supreme officer. To our beloved organizer, Mrs. Warner, our appreciation of the many thoughtful kindnesses which have added so much to the pleasure of the convention, and like appreciation to every member of the executive board. That we are more than grateful for the true hospitality which has been accorded us by our hostess, Chapter D. For the able ride and flowers and

Washington Youngsters—Abaze With Patriotism

WASHINGTON has its patriotic boys and girls. Because a war requires the activities of grown men and women we are apt to forget all about our boys and girls, and how their young hearts bubble over with a real, although undeveloped, patriotism.

Their patriotism may appear superficial sometimes, and perhaps it is only a reflex of what they have heard their elders say, but it is real, tremendously real, nevertheless.

I know a little boy, so small you feel that you could pick him up and put him in your pocket with ease. But as small as he is, his little brain is concentrated on the war. He is always thinking about it.

He doesn't think of it in terms of men and guns, or ships and aircraft. He doesn't talk of this and that battlefield. He indulges in no speculation. Here is a sample of what he thinks and says.

His mother was talking to another member of the family concerning an article of food which she was cooking. "And do you know," she said, "it was red hot—"

"Mother," chimed in the little boy. "Yes, dear?" said his mother.

"You mustn't say 'red hot' mother," he replied. "You must say Red Cross."

Even when he goes to bed he carries the war with him, evidently. He takes with him, too, the phrases he has heard during the day. "Strangely, with his baby wit, he turns them into telling phrases, more potent than he realizes. "You must go to bed now," his mother said to him one night. "It is time for you to go to sleep."

He looked solemnly at his mother with sleepless eyes. "I won't go to sleep till it's over over there," he said.

Various other courtesies extended us by the loyal B. I. L.

That we are especially grateful to our Baptist friends for the use of their buildings for our meetings.

To Mr. Thomas, for his excellent organization and recital.

To the merchants for the beautiful decorations in our honor.

To the talented friends of the P. E. O. who so well assisted us in our program at our meeting.

To the ladies of the Presbyterian church for the delicious meals we have enjoyed in their beautiful new church as well as music given at the luncheon hour.

Gives Organization's Aims. The objects and aims of the P. E. O. sisterhood was the title of an able address delivered during the convention.

Cost of Thoughtlessness. Much that looks like a lack of charity is but thoughtlessness. Our pass judgment hastily, with no thought of the viewpoint or the conditions under which the person judged was acting. If we could look at the question from both sides, I am sure we would find it easier to understand and condone much that seems unjustifiable to a hasty decision. If we would but hold the thought that there must have been some good reason, or perhaps an entirely different construction placed upon the matter by those whom we are criticizing, there would be fewer misunderstandings, and much less unhappiness.

Hasty Judgment Unintelligent. Unless you are especially qualified to pass judgment, let us be silent. Hasty judgments do not brand the guilty intelligent. I have sometimes thought that we seek to fix our knowledge of affairs by hastily deciding as to the merits or demerits of the case. Instead, we brand ourselves one of the many. Anyone can pass judgment. We have more, or less decided opinions upon any subject, and to withhold them until sober second thought has suggested the other side of the matter is one way to practice charity.

This is the first thing given special mention in our constitution, and probably the hardest thing for us to do upon all occasions.

listed for our attention. Parents and teachers will appreciate the labor expended upon the teaching of the first principles of self-control to children.

Most of us found we had left much to be desired, for self-control cannot be developed unless the individual sees we but had enough faith—faith in God, and faith in each other, there would be no limit to the things we might accomplish, save our own endeavor. For when we are discouraged and about to call ourselves failures our faith in God's help and the inspiration that comes with the thought of the belief of our friends in our ability to succeed would carry us on to success, almost in spite of ourselves. There is nothing more healing to the sick at heart than the faith of his associates.

Exemplifies Christianity. P. E. O., if lived according to our constitution, is an exemplification of the Christian character. We are a band of Christian women, seeking the good in everything. We recognize in P. E. O. something worth while. We think of it as of something uplifting, to one who leads a sheltered life, life that may stray from the path of virtue do not come with the force of didactic principles, there is abundant cause for our existence as an organized body of women.

Some one has said that the tire that is equipped with the knowledge that should have protected her. There is much food for thought in the statistics of the number of young girls that have led astray in the last year, due to over-voiced emotions and to the unequalled conditions of the times.

We must know something of the circumstances before we condemn without qualification. We must protect our girls—give them high ideals, teach them to be modest, dress as well as in actions, and then, let them know that we believe in their earnest desire to live up to the standard of American womanhood, and our faith in them will help them in their time of need.

Let us uphold a single standard of purity, and let us be charitable. Let us do justice to the erring, and uphold righteousness and truth.

Learn From All Sources. Then we are to seek growth in knowledge from every available source. From our reading, by study, by observation, by association. In every way possible we are to seek mental culture. And, not only are we to seek these things, but we are to use them. We are to radiate light by the use of whatever talent we possess, to help others to give pleasure, to uplift, to inspire and to encourage those who are also seeking to better their condition.

If we write, then a poem, a book, or an essay, may prove a great help to some one. Whatever our talent, we are to use it and not hide it under a bushel.

Can Only Be Sure of Today. Today is your day and mine; the day we have; the day that we play our part. What our part may signify in the great whole we may not understand, but we are here to play it, and now is our time. It is a part of love, not cynicism. It is for us to express love in terms of human helpfulness. This we know, for we have learned from sad experience that any other source of life leads toward decay and waste.—David Starr Jordan.

Diamond Hardware Co. "Our Goods Must Please"

Gooding Motor Co. advertisement with text: Why the Trend of the Times Means a Franklin Triumph. Time was when peace and plenty fostered a "Hang-the-expense" attitude in the buyer. But not any more. Concerning the Motor Car, the trend of the times is clearly apparent. The buyer's value-sense is awakened. When he considers a motor car, he asks just two direct, searching questions: "What will the car do and what will it cost to do it?" This corrective change in buying habits finds this Franklin car ready and waiting to meet it. For sixteen years the Franklin has been built on the principles of Direct Air Cooling, of Scientific Light Weight, of Flexible Construction. For sixteen years, the Franklin has been piling up Economy Records as indisputable proof of the correctness of these principles. Thoughtful people all over the country recognized it, bought the Franklin, and experienced ECONOMY-OAL motor car service. Franklin conditions—the vital need of economy—have now concentrated attention on the Franklin. The car has come into its own. No longer has the average motorist a mere academic interest in gasoline-economy. He's hunting for it. No longer is he satisfied with five or even six thousand miles to the set of tires. He's looking for more. —20 miles to the gallon of gasoline—instead of 10. —30,000 miles to the set of tires—instead of 5,000. A high resale value—instead of flimsy price. It is not unusual to own a car of Elegance; not even unusual to own a car of Economy; but to own a car that combines Elegance AND Economy is so unusual that it is possible in only one automobile. That is why the trend of the time means a Franklin triumph.

MISS GREGORY GOT A JOB

A young woman appeared at the offices of the United States food administration in Washington a few days ago and asked for an application blank for a position there. She filled it out, stating she desired employment as a clerk, would accept $30, the minimum for an applicant with a college education, gave as references the names of Col. B. M. Howe, and Thomas Watt Gregory, and said she had three dependents.

The only statement on her application blank which aroused question was that about three dependents.

"Oh, yes, that's all right," said Miss Gregory. "I have 'adopted' three Belgian children, and I am supporting them."

STORIES OF AMERICAN HEROES

Like Scene from Certain Famous "Movie" Picture

NEW YORK.—The Manhattan end of the Brooklyn Bridge one day last week looked very much like a New England breakfast table where the old-fashioned custom of serving pie with the toast and coffee still lingers.

All this happened when a pie wagon belonging to the Consumers' Pie Baking company got tangled up at the emergency runway gate at the Manhattan end of the bridge.

The driver said he did the best he could, but when the horse got about half way across the bridge he changed his trot to a run and never stopped until he ran into the emergency gates at the Manhattan end.

The pie can better be sold by any small boy, and some large ones, who were near the accident. There was pie of every kind everywhere. It took 35 minutes to clean up the street car track and during that time every one who fell like having a piece of pie helped himself.

KNIGHTS PYTHIAS TO MEET HERE

IDAHO GRAND LODGE DEFERS POSTPONEMENT MOVE.

The Idaho Knights of Pythias grand lodge will hold its annual convention in Twin Falls on June 19, 20 and 21, as determined upon at the last year's convention in Nampa, according to word received Friday from Grand Chancellor Thomas H. Jones of Wardner, Idaho, by W. A. Minnick, chairman of the grand lodge entertainment committee appointed by the local lodge suggestion voted down.

Decision held at the convention this year marks the defeat of a movement instituted here to postpone the session and devote the funds that would be expended for this purpose to the purchase of war securities or contribution to war relief funds. The proposal was submitted to referendum vote of several lodges of the state, with the result apparently that it has been voted down.

Preparing Esayr Welcome.

Twin Falls Knights of Pythias are solicited that their motive in submitting the proposition shall not be merely "conventional," and are arranging to extend a cordial welcome and entertainment to the visiting lodges and delegates.

Auxiliary Convention Coming.

The annual convention of the Idaho grand temple of the Pythian sisters, the auxiliary organization to the Knights of Pythias, will be held here simultaneously with the grand lodge sessions.

It is estimated that there will be approximately 100 Knights of Pythias and 50 Pythian Sisters here in attendance at the conventions.

Length of Lobsters.

Whatever may be the object of the bill filed in the Massachusetts legislature reducing the length of lobsters that may be legally taken from 9 to 8 inches, the measure might well be entitled a bill to further the extirpation of the lobster. The lobster is rapidly disappearing, partly, at any rate, because young and immature specimens are permitted by law to be caught. The present 9 inches in this state is shorter than the Massachusetts law allows and that is none too long—Boston Post.

Where Diamonds Come From.

In the great diamond fields of South Africa the stones are found in what are called "pipes" or "conduits" of a peculiar color of rock, several feet in extent at the top and running down to unknown depths. Near the surface this rock, rich in iron, is disintegrated by exposure to the weather and assumes a yellow color. The precious gems are readily extracted from the friable rock.

Great Writers Lazy.

Shelley had an indolent vein. He was very fond of the water, and many of his finest poems were composed as he idled at his ease in a boat. He made the best of his short life, however, and that cannot be said for Coleridge, who seemed to be afflicted with that lack of will to work which some people call laziness. He had one of the greatest minds, but he left even his finest poems mere fragments.

"Nerves" Easily Explained.

What is eccentricity in one stage of experience is natural in another, and many a state the average physician calls "nerves" is really the movement of the individual on a larger orbit of perception, expression, and response, realization—Gertrude Capea Whitney.

HUGE GERMAN SUBMARINE STOPPING SPANISH LINER

The German submarine, one of the largest type employed by the Teutons for long-range cruises, has stopped the Spanish mail steamer Infanta Isabel de Bourbon off Cadix. The submarine is shown circling about the steamer while five officers and 16 men of the crew were busy searching the detained ship. The photograph was made from the upper structure of the Spanish steamer while the search was in progress.

SYSTEMATIC EFFORT TO SPREAD DISEASE

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Systematic and deliberate inoculation of Italian and Serbian prisoners of war in Austria with typhoid fever, cholera and other contagious disease germs is the latest atrocity put into effect by the dual monarchy, according to an official cable received from Corfu by the Serbian legation here.

More than 10,000 Italian and thousands of Serbians, after having been sent back into Serbia to carry the contagion, the cable stated.

WHO IS WHO NOW

DIRECTOR OF MILITARY TRAINING

When a town boasts of ninety-seven odd inhabitants—numerically speaking—it always welcomes a new arrival. Sixty years ago, Dec. 20, the little town of Charlotteville, N. Y., welcomed John P. Morrison to its fold.

Last December Secretary of War Baker observed the Morrison birthday celebration by appointing the party in question to be director of military training for the United States army, with headquarters at the war college in Washington.

Major General John P. Morrison was born in 1857. He grew up in the manner of any small town lad until he became twenty years of age; then he obtained an appointment to the United States military academy where he was given a commission as second lieutenant in the Twentieth Infantry, which he continued to hold for nine years, when he was rewaried with a first lieutenantcy with the First Infantry.

The next year brought him a transfer to the Twentieth Infantry, where he served for seven years, obtaining his commission as captain in 1898. He took this regiment to Cuba in 1898. His stay was not long, as the war department sent him to the Philippines, where he served his country in the islands for three years.

Aside from the actual personal experience he obtained during the Spanish war, he was military attache with the Japanese army during the war in 1904.

He has been noticed that the collar is more frequently broken than any other bone in the body.

HARRY A. WHEELER

Harry A. Wheeler of Chicago has been elected president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. He is food administrator for Illinois and was the first president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Incident Genius.

Indolence has produced a good many works of genius. James Thomson not only wrote his famous "Seasons," but also a very characteristic poem called "The Castle of Indolence." He was himself one of the most indolent of men. It is said that he was too lazy to stretch out a hand to pick a peach from the wall, but simply stopped and pecked at it where it hung. But whether that is a libel or the truth, it is certain that most of his poetry was composed in a recumbent position. He always wrote hot in bed!

Daily Thought.

Honor is the recompense of those who do right without seeking recompense.

HAIL IS H

When your crop is devastated and you did not carry hail insurance, what would you do about those obligations you were up to meet if your crops were wiped out by hail?

You never before had so much invested in your crop and you never had so urgent demands on you for money. Where would it come from if your year would meet financial ruin to many.

You can not afford to take the chances. Think it over and then come in and insure your wheat, corn, etc., before it is too late.

Landlord or tenant can insure a share of crop and pay insurance only on the part insured.

Cause of Apoplexy.

Despite the fact that excellent men look upon apoplexy as a sine-vitae predisposition, the courts and jury have at times regarded it as almost innocuous in its nature. The physician thinks in terms of the blood pressure, hypertrophy of the heart and vascular degeneration, and to a much less extent to muscular effort and emotional stress, for these factors only precipitated an inevitable accident. An exciting cause may be minimal, a long exposure to cold, or absent altogether.—Medical Record.

Bedlam. "Bedlam," another example of the English fashion of teleseeping words, and comes from Bethlehem. The priory of St. Mary of Bethlehem in London was converted into a hospital for the insane in 1402 and in the course of time the name was shortened to Bedlam, a word that came to be a synonym for madness... Miss Irene Melnyre of Mount Vernon, N. Y. (left), and her sister, Miss Gladys (right), are heroines of the American forces on the Seicheprey front. The two girls, members of the Salvation Army unit, braved gas attacks and shell fire during the recent heavy attack on the American lines, to supply our boys with hot coffee and doughnuts. The sisters slept in dugouts for more than a week and only went to the rear when ordered by the commanding officer.

ALLIED NATIONS ARE DEPENDING ON U. S.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The allies are leaning almost on America at this moment to fill the gap of the March drive and to furnish replacements for the coming new smash. American military men placed this interpretation today on Lloyd George's speech wherein he declared America's contribution thus far had not been enough.

NO ADDITIONAL DETAILS TO DATE

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The government was without additional details today regarding destruction of the British transport Moldavia and the probable loss of fifty-six American lives. Information to the government last night was based wholly on the admiralty statement.

Cleaning Silver. A quick way to clean silver that is not tarnished, but merely discolored is to wash it in a weak solution of ammonia water. This removes the black stains. After cleaning them with the solution they should be washed and polished with a cloth. This method works well on silver spoons which have been discolored by eggs.

THE DEAD

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The war department today received a list of identified dead in the torpedoing of the British troop transport, Moldavia. The list was said to be less than the original estimate of fifty-six, though it was not known whether it constituted the full tally.
