HUNS CLAIM ELEVEN-MILE GAIN ON THE SOISSONS-RHEIMS SECTOR

FOCH GIVES GROUND FOR HEAVY GERMAN LOSSES

Battle Rages Furiously with Fismes, an Important Railway Center, as Immediate German Objective—Allies Throw in Reserves to Check Advance

(By United Press) PARIS, May 29.—THE GERMAN ADVANCE AT CERTAIN POINTS ON THE ALENS FRONT, HAS REACHED A DEPTH OF FIFTEEN AND A HALF MILES, THE ECHO DE PARIS DECLARED TODAY.

CONFIDENCE IN FOCH AS HUNS PUSH AHEAD

WASHINGTON BELIEVES ENEMY WILL BE CHECKED AT FISMES, IMPORTANT RAILWAY CENTER

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, May 29.—West front fighting reached a new crisis today. The boche advance to the vicinity of Fismes, important railway center, provided a new menace comparable to his smash-up at Amiens and Apreles in the earlier thrust.

However, it now appears likely that the Germans are about to receive a sharp check.

Reinforcements Arriving

Reinforcement of the allies is promised. That their lines between Soissons and Rheims were rather lightly held appears the case from the fact of the boche's rapid advance. Twenty to twenty-five divisions were employed to make the push. This was superior to all the allies, who gave ground as in the earlier thrust.

Military men, however, believe that as in past instances, the German thrust must turn soon to strengthening out the flanks, repairing his losses and improving his communications. Meantime the allied reinforcement will be such, it is believed, that the boche cannot make any considerable further headway.

German Changed Plans

Army officers, who doubted that the Soissons push was the main new offensive, are still unconvinced the German's so intended it. They say that the progress was so meagre that it would be probable that the allies would have decided to develop it further.

Allied tactics in this thrust are similar to their previous lines. General Foch is understood to believe it yielding of terrain is unimportant, provided the most important strategic points are held. He is willing that the boche should have this gain if it costs the Germans sufficiently. This, when the time is ripe, reinforcements are hurried in and the boche is cheated of what he had planned for a victory.

TELLS MILWAUKEE TO THROW OUT GERMAN

Colonel Roosevelt in Big Drive on the Speaking Tour

(By United Press)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 29.—In a letter surrounded by business houses carrying names of Germanic origin and introduced by a man with a German name, Colonel Roosevelt today preached the doctrine of a one-language policy. "There is room for but one language," he told 300 Milwaukeeans, "and the language should be the language of the declaration of independence. It should be the language of the government, the home and the school, public and private."

Epigrams Cheered

"This country eventually will produce an American of the first type. This government will be great—only to take offense but ready and willing to defend itself," said the colonel. "Don't hit a weaker man but if attacked by a stronger one—pin him down." Every Roosevelt epigram was cheered, but his declaration for one language resulted in a demonstration. "We cannot afford to divide along lines of race and language any more than we could," asserted the colonel.

YANKS MAKE PROGRESS IN MARCH TO BERLIN

GO OVER TOP AND TAKE CANTIGNY FROM GERMANS. SECURING MANY PRISONERS—HAND TO HAND FIGHTING WITH BAYONETS AND GRENADES—HUNS PAY FOR DECEPTION WITH THEIR LIVES

WITH THE AMERICANS IN FICARDY, May 29.—An instance of the boche's strategy in the Cantigny battle was furnished when a group of twenty tried to be captured by an unarmed corporal, "Ummie" Hopper, famous magazine writer, was over the top with the Americans. As he was entering Cantigny, a crowd of Germans rushed at him, begging earnestly to be taken prisoner.

Hopper was unamused, but called to an officer: "Come and get 'em."

By FRED R. FERGUSON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICANS IN FICARDY, May 29.—American troops charged to the capture of Cantigny yesterday. "Now, we're in Germany. Let's hold 'em up to them and go on to Berlin."

Back at headquarters when the boys went over, officers waited anxiously for news of the attack. After forty-five minutes of fierce fighting, a voice came over the field telephone: "Hello! This is Cantigny!"

And headquarters knew the Americans had taken one of the most important towns on the Amiens front and had won their biggest victory of the war to date.

Field Firms on Job

The report came from a signal corps captain. "We certainly know the German counter battery, followed American infantry and French tanks in the attack. When Cantigny fell, the field telephone station was ready for business."

The wounded seem to be the happiest Americans in Picardy. I saw three in a tent field hospital this afternoon, laughing and chattering like magpies. Three in another tent had laughed and talked until they were tired and were sleeping like babies.

"Among the talkers, such expressions as the following are illustrative of their spirit: "It was the candy." "Best jam I've had since the football game."

"I'd like to do it every day."

"That trench was a masterpiece. Think war was a foolish game, but this is real sport."

The attack took place over a front of more than a mile. Within 45 minutes after the infantry had gone over, Cantigny, the chateau and several hundred yards of German second line trenches were American territory. The regiment sent back 125 prisoners, including five officers.

Crash of Hiss and Book

After crossing the enemy trenches, it was a game of hurling the boche machine guns. A corporal attacked an enemy machine gun crew of four men. The corporal was wounded five times, but killed the boche and captured the fourth. He carried off the machine gun on his shoulder until his wounds forced him to lay it down.

United Press War Summary

ALLENS FRONT

Aided by fresh divisions, the Germans last night continued their advance on the wings of the 40-mile Soissons-Rheims front, but were held in the center, the French were officially stated today. Fierce fighting is going on all along this front.

On the left the French apparently have withdrawn to the outskirts of Soissons, about nine miles from the original line.

On the right, the French have retired about three miles, midway between Rheims and the Aisne.

In the center, the French and British apparently are holding the Germans along the south bank of the Vesle although the Echo de Paris declared today that at some points the French have attained a maximum penetration of 15 1/2 miles.

WEST FRONT OFFICIAL

Allied military officials, according to United Press staff dispatches, declare the Rheims attack is part of the Germans' general offensive strategy. Before the start of the 15th offensive March 21, the Germans concentrated huge forces at a point behind the line where they could strike equally well at

METAL WORKERS GIVE UP HALF-HOLIDAY

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, May 29.—President Wilson today telegraphed the Senate, Oregon, metal trades council commending workers there on their willingness to sacrifice their half holiday to boost war production. The telegram says: "May I not say how sincerely I admire and applaud the patriotic action taken by the metal trades council of Oregon with regard to half-holidays. It sets up a high and admirable standard for patriotism."

WOOD'S REMOVAL PERSHING SUGGESTION

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, May 29.—Major General Leonard Wood was relieved from command of the division and relegated to command of the western department upon recommendation of General Pershing, it was learned on reliable authority today.

It was stated flatly that the only hand the administration had in the matter was accepting the recommendation of Pershing, upon whom this country is now relying to win its share of victory in the war.

MYSTERIOUS PLAGUE IN SPAIN SPREADING

LOBBAIN FRONT

The heavy German gas attack against the American positions in the Lobrain sector Monday morning was a complete failure. The fighting around Ypres has died down, and only minor raids and artillery activity was mentioned in Field Marshal Haig report today.

STRATEGY OF DRIVE STILL IS IN DOUBT

POSSIBLE THAT PLAN IS TO MASS ALLIED RESERVES IN SOUTH AND SHIFT TO CHANNELE

By HENRY WOOD (United Press Staff Correspondent) WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, May 29.—The German attack in the Soissons-Rheims sector extended the offensive front from Rheims to the Flanders mountains. With new "constituted" a base area 300 kilometers (188 miles) across.

There is every indication that the present attack is an integral part of the original German offensive plan. It is positively known that during the war Ludendorff prepared two great attacks, one against Amiens and the other against Rheims. He concentrated the necessary reserves a hundred kilometers (62.1 miles) behind the lines, at a central point from where they could be sent at a moment's notice to either point.

Chose Amiens Sector

Ludendorff left the choice of which sector he would attack first until the last moment, for the purpose of concealing the plan. The final choice fell on Amiens. This being checked, he still had the Rheims attack to fall back on. This is now being carried out in precisely the same manner as the drive against Amiens. The command apparently had been trained for either attack.

The reserves concentrated a hundred kilometers north of Rheims were moved to the front Sunday night in French tanks. Following a brief but costly night bombardment on Monday morning, including gas, picked and specialized assaulting troops, including the Fourth and Fifth divisions of Prussians, which led the Amiens attack, stepped to the assault.

Up to Reserves

The British and French retired in perfect order, without permitting a single break in their lines and suffering the heaviest losses on the enemy.

If the present attack is merely secondary, the principal objective is the tying up of the French reserves to prevent their intervention in the final great offensive to the northwest.

The German press recently charged that the German high command made a mistake in not tying up the French reserves before the Amiens attack.

WRECK IN IOWA KILLS FIVE AND INJURES DOZEN

TRACK WEAKENED BY WASHOUT CAUSES ILLINOIS CENTRAL TRAIN TO LEAVE TRACK

WATERLOO, Iowa, May 29.—Five persons were killed and a dozen injured when Illinois Central passenger train No. 1 westbound was wrecked at Appleton, 90 miles west of here, early this morning.

The wreck occurred at the approach to a bridge over Beaver creek. The track was weakened by the high water. The train was wrecked as it plunged onto the bank, and the combination express and passenger train was wrecked.

The killed dead are: W. A. Alderman, engineer, of Waterloo; F. Golliver, fireman, of Waterloo; J. J. Rao, postal mail clerk, at Dubuque.

Two other railway mail clerks, as yet unidentified, are dead. The train was wrecked as it plunged onto the bank, and the combination express and passenger train was wrecked.

Eleven injured were brought to the hospital here by a relief train that was rushed to the scene of the wreck. The train was running only at a moderate rate of speed, when it hit the washed out track. The train was wrecked at a higher speed, it is probable the loss of life would have been heavier.

Danger of Overconfidence
No human attributes are so dangerous to its possessor and to others as overconfidence. Inefficiency, even, isn't so apt to provoke disaster. My patience is small with those who claim success merely depends on a man's confidence in his own ability. Confidence alone never won any of the battles of life.—Exchange

OIL AND CATTLE MEN REGISTER FIGHT KICK ON INCREASED RATES

(By United Press)
CHICAGO, May 29.—The first open criticism of increased railroad passenger and freight tariffs ordered by Director General McAdoo was voiced by Clifford Thorne, counsel for oil and cattle shippers.
"The railroad men are trying to stampede authorities into granting sweeping advances in order that rates may be as high as possible when they return to private ownership," said Thorne.
"The whole transportation could have been covered for with a twenty per cent advance in passenger rates and five per cent in freight."

TIME IS SHORT FOR ENLISTMENT

ARMY ANNOUNCES CLOSING DATE FOR PROSPECTIVE REGISTRANTS

Men who have reached the age of 21 years since June 5, 1917, and who are therefore required to register under the provisions of the military draft law, must apply at the local recruiting station on or before Monday next if they desire to avail themselves of the opportunity of voluntary enlistment through the local army recruiting station. According to statement made this morning by the officers in charge, this requirement is made necessary by reason of the fact that all applicants for enlistment, coming under the provisions of the new draft law, must have completed their enlistments by midnight, June 5.
Enlistments of men transferred through the local recruiting station are made at the central station in Salt Lake.

All Americans Needed
The following letter is being sent out by the local recruiting station with the result that the number of enlistments made through it have increased largely within the past few days:

The object of this letter is to bring to your attention the fact that every able-bodied American's services are now urgently needed in the U. S. Army, and that those who VOLUNTEER their services may select the department they desire to serve with, if found physically and otherwise qualified.
Every department of the Army, which consists of the following branches and sections, is now accepting VOLUNTEER APPLICANTS:
Quartermaster Corps, Coast Artillery Corps, Medical Department, Veterinary Corps, Field Artillery, Aviation, Motor Transport Corps, Signal Corps, Infantry, Cavalry.

If you desire to enlist it is requested that you apply at this office, presenting this letter to the Officer in Charge, who will explain all the departments, and the one you are most interested in, and inform you what department you are best fitted for, also explain to you the pay you receive, insurance and allotment laws, opportunities for advancement, etc., etc.
If you are unable to apply in person, please apply by letter, stating your age, qualifications, and what department you prefer to enter, also any questions you may wish to ask. Your letter will be answered promptly with the desired information and full particulars given. REMEMBER—No matter what your occupation is, there is a place for you and an urgent need of your services in the United States Army. Volunteer and enlist for the duration of the war only.

Excuse and Failure Synonymous.
An excuse is an admission of failure. It is a plea for leniency, for mitigation of sentence. It is a step toward loss of self-confidence. It is the beginning of life failure. And that man or woman who expects success to crown his or her old age should go to any length to prevent the possibility of having to offer excuses for failure in execution. Excuses are the allies of bankrupt lives. Achievement is difficult, but profitable in its large and abiding returns.—Milwaukee Journal.

ANNOUNCES TWO IMPORTANT MEETS

PRESBYTERIANS TO RESPOND TO PRESIDENT'S CALL FOR PRAYER SERVICE

Two meetings of special significance to members of the Presbyterian church are to hold this week.
The Presbyterian War Savings society meets on Wednesday evening at nine o'clock, immediately following the mid-week meeting. C. J. McCormick, president, and J. W. Jesse, secretary, are desirous of meeting with a large representation of the membership at the meeting this week.
The second meeting of importance is held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock pursuant to the call of the president of the United States, Commander-in-Chief of our national army. Our national leader calls all people to their houses of worship for a special time of prayer for our country, our leaders, our army, our navy, our boys overseas, for us. The least we can do is to respond heartily to this call for prayer. Members of the Presbyterian church will gather in this meeting Thursday night, under the leadership of the pastor of the church.

"FOR LIBERTY" AT AMERIBOIA

A new William Fox photoplay is announced for tonight and Thursday at the America Theatre. It is called "For Liberty" and it deals with events of today.
Gladys Brockwell is the star, and that in itself insures a brilliant performance, for it is declared that in spite of all the fine work this star has done, her performance in the new play which is to appear here shows her in a different and in a greater light.
"This story tells of the conditions that immediately preceded the war in Berlin, and of the terror and alarm that came when the declaration was made. It is, however, a story of the life of a brilliant woman who goes through all the ordeals that best American women who were in Germany at the time, and who is true to her country and to her love. The love element predominates and arrives war and tribulation. "For Liberty" is a story of a woman's life that is wonderful and inspiring. It is set in the midst of war, and this makes it intensely real to us who know that such conditions prevailed, but who have only a glimmering of the real truth!
It is understood that the play is quite new in its treatment of the questions with which it deals, and is beautifully set and finely cast.

SLACKERS AND PAUPERS

Here is a little story which was repeated many times in American history as white men pushed across the continent from east to west.

The settler received warning, perhaps from the solo survivor of the next settlement—that Indians were on the warpath.

But say there had been one able-bodied man who refused to take part in the proceedings. Suppose, when brought thereto, he said: "I have conscientious scruples. Can't you teach 'em to love their enemies; do good unto them. If your enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink."

When the Indians were driven off several weary men would have found time to kick him over the fence, and to the end of the day he would have complained that he had been persecuted for his conscientious scruples.

They are gruffers—expecting sustenance and protection from the community, but refusing to help defend it. As for their Scripture, any device in casuality knows that no great ingenuity in distortion is necessary in order to make a Biblical text in support of almost any proposition.

HAPPENINGS in the BIG CITIES

Here's Prize, Scheme to Raise Money for War

SAN FRANCISCO—"I admit," the reporter ardently said, as he interviewed himself for publication, "I admit that in volunteering to enter through his menu what products that he can't get anyway, the restaurant man is performing a patriotic service."

"In proof of which the reporter dictated to the typewriter the following: "I went into a restaurant and copied this from the menu: Potatoes, French fried, 15 cents; American fried, 15 cents; Saratoga chips, 15 cents; Julienne, 15 cents; hash brown, 15 cents; lyonnaise, 20 cents; cottage fried, 20 cents; au gratin, 25 cents; O'Brien, 25 cents; O'Brien au gratin, 30 cents. I ordered American fried, removed them carefully on these papers, brought them to the office and weighed them. The order originally 1.53 ounces. At 640 ounces to a bushel of potatoes the price to the diner was $90 a bushel, or $250 a pound. I can buy potatoes in a cash store at a cent and a half a pound."

"Somebody said the country has a $9,000,000 potato crop going to rot because people won't eat them. Now, if the restaurants would put in and buy this crop and deal it out at 15 cents an ounce, the proceeds would be $8,000,000,000. The excess profits and income taxes from the restaurants would be enough to run the war three months and the potato crop would be absorbed."

"No justice to this restaurant! I must hasten to add that they did not mutilate some patriotic hotels and charge me ten cents for two ounces of bread and a pat of butter."

DIRECTS BRITISH SHIPPING

The man who has upon his shoulders in these days the vast problem of the management of British shipping, that of its steady increase in the tremendous race which Britain's shipyards are running with the German U-boats, the co-ordination of it with the shipping and shipbuilding of the other allies, his proper use and all the other mighty details in the great puzzle of its management, Sir Joseph Maclay, is in this Scotchman, wiry, energetic, a little past his middle age, enough like an American to pass for one on a New York street, an intense patriot, famous for his clear-headed common sense and lack of all flabberg.

He is one of the plain people of the British empire who by reason of their great achievements have been honored by their king and government with baronetries, but he values business efficiency and earnestness above any title in the gift of any king. He is a democrat, a practical man, a citizen of the whole deep-sea world and well informed regarding it.

"But, work as she may, Britain cannot perform the task alone. Remember that. She cannot. "In America's shipyards lies her greatest opportunity to be of service to the allies."

Learning by Experience. Experience keeps a dear school, but fools will learn in no other. And so it is that, for it is true, we may give advice, but we cannot give conduct. However, that that will not be consorted cannot be helped, and if you will not learn reason, she will surely rap your knuckles.—Franklin.

THE DANGERS OF A PREMATURE PEACE

By THEODORE ROOSEVELT

Theodore Roosevelt sounds the following forecast warning on the dangers of a premature peace in the Kantian City "Star." Permission for publication here was granted by the "Star" through the National Security League.

If, as now seems likely, the great German drive fails, it is at least possible that, directly or indirectly, the Germans will then start a Peace drive. In such case they will probably endeavor to make such seeming concessions as to put a premium upon pacific agitation for peace in the free countries of the West against which they are fighting. To yield to such peace proposals for the Allies, and especially to our own country in the future. Let us never forget that no promise Germany makes can be trusted. The Kultur developed under the Hohenzollern rests upon shameless treachery and duplicity far more than upon ruthless violence and barbarity.

For example, there are strong indications that Germany may be prepared, if she now falls on the Western front, to abandon all that for which she has fought on her Western front, provided that in Middle Europe and in the East there is no interference with her. In other words, she would be prepared to give back Alsace and Lorraine to France, to give Italian Austria to Italy, to give Luxembourg to Belgium, and to let the Allies have the colonies they have conquered, on condition that her dominance in Russia and in the Balkans, her dominance of the subject peoples of Austria through the Austrian Hapsburgs, and her dominance of Western Asia through her vassal state, Turkey, should be left undisturbed. To the average American, and probably to the average Englishman and Frenchman, there is much that is alluring in such a program. It might be urged as a method of stopping the frightful slaughter of war, while securing every purpose for which the free peoples who still fight are fighting. Yet it would be infinitely better that this war were carried on to the point of exhaustion than that we yield to such terms.

Such terms would mean the definite establishment of Germany's military ascendancy on a scale never hitherto approached in the civilized world. It would mean that perhaps within a dozen years, certainly within the lifetime of the very men now fighting this life and death struggle, the other free countries would have to choose between bowing their necks to the German yoke or else going into another war under conditions far more disadvantageous to them. A premature and inconclusive peace now would spell ruin for the free peoples of mankind.

On the face of it, Germany would not become a giant power, just exactly as on the face of it at present, Germany, Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria call themselves simply four allied nations, standing on equal terms. But in reality those four powers are merely Germany and her three vassal states, whose military and economic and political power are all disposed of by the Hohenzollerns. A peace such as that above outlined would leave those as really one huge empire. The population of these four countries plus the populations of Russian regions recently annexed by Germany is over two hundred millions. This population would be directed and dominated by the able, powerful and utterly brutal and unscrupulous German governing class, which the very fact of the peace would put in the saddle; and this huge empire would be a greater menace to the free peoples than anything known for the last thousand years.

Short-sighted people will say that this power would only menace Asia, and therefore that we need feel no concern for the East. But that is not so. For there are more than twenty years hence by mere mass and growth Germany would dominate the Western European powers that have now fought her. This would mean that the United States would be left as her victim.

In the first place she would at once invade the Monroe Doctrine under foot, and treat Tropical and South Temperate America as her fields for exploitation, domination and conquest. In the next place she would surely trample this country under foot and bleed us white, doing to us on a gigantic scale what she has done to Belgium. If such a peace as is above described were at this time made, the United States could by no possibility escape the fate of Belgium and of the Russian territories annexed by Germany, unless we ourselves became a powerful militarist state with every democratic principle subordinated to the one necessity of turning this nation into a huge armed camp—I do not mean an armed nation, as Switzerland is armed, and as I believe this country ought to be armed, I mean a nation whose sons, every one of them, would have to serve from three to five years in the army, and whose military activities, external and internal, would be conditioned by the one fact of the necessity of making head, single-handed, against Germany. I very strongly believe that never again should we be caught unprepared as we have been caught unprepared this year. I believe that all our young men should be trained to arms as the Greeks are trained. But I would regard it as an unresponsible calamity for this nation to have to turn its whole energies into the kind of exaggerated militarism which under such circumstances would seem all for itself to retreat.

The military power of Germany must be brought low. The subject nations of Austria, the Balkans, and Western Asia must be freed. We ought not to refrain an hour longer from going to war with Turkey and Bulgaria. They are part of Germany's military strength. They represent some of the most cruel tyrannies over subject peoples for which Germany stands. It is idle for us to pretend sympathy with the Armenians unless we war on Turkey, which, with Germany's assent, has well nigh crushed the Armenians out of existence.

When President Wilson stated that this war was waged to make democracy safe throughout the world, he properly and definitely committed the American people to the principles above enumerated, and for the American people to accept less than their President has thus announced that he would insist upon would be unworthy. The President has also said that "there is therefore, but one response possible from us: 'Force—force to the utmost—force without stint or limit—the righteous and triumphant force which shall make right the law of the world and cast every selfish domination down in the dust.'"

The American people must support President Wilson unflinchingly in the stand to which he is thus committed, and must resolutely refuse to accept any other position. We must guard against any slackening of effort. We must refuse to accept any premature peace or any peace other than the peace of overwhelming victory.

We must secure such complete freedom for the peoples of Central Europe and Western Asia as will shatter forever the threat of German world domination. Our honorable obligations to our Allies, our loyalty to our own national principles, the need to protect our American neighbors, the need to defend our own land and people, and our hopes for the peace and happiness of our children's children, all forbid us to accept an ignoble and insensate peace.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

"Land of Lantana."

Among the Chinese there has existed for ages a passion for fireworks and lanterns. In every city, at every port and on every river and canal, as soon as night comes on, the lanterns make their appearance. They are hung out at the door of every dwelling; they swing as pendulums to the angles of the pagoda; they form the fiery crown of every shop front; they cluster round the houses of the rich and light up the barges of the traveler, and they swing from the yards and masts of his vessel.

Cremona Violins. Small splinters of the wood of old Cremona violins, when vibrated, with a bow, have been found to give invariably the same note, and that note is always a tone higher when the wood is taken from the belly of the instrument than when it comes from the back.

First Dahlia Crown in Mexico. The dahlia first appeared in the botanical gardens in the City of Mexico. It was in 1784 that the director of the Mexican gardens sent to the director of the botanical gardens in Madrid the first specimen of the plant botanists had ever seen.

RICHARD ALDRICH

Richard Aldrich, well-known musical critic of the New York Times, was commissioned a captain in the United States army. His work is of a kind which the war department does not desire. But it is illustrative of the fact that the arts and letters are contributing men who are helping the conduct of the war in unusual ways.

"If the country had been as wide awake three years ago as it is now, there would have been no war. If it had been as wide awake a year ago there would have been a million men in the front line trenches today," Roosevelt said in summarizing his observations on his present speaking tour under auspices of the National Security League.

Relax If You Would Sleep.

The philosopher Epicurus finished his principal work on the eve of the battle of Jena, amidst the thunder of cannon. Noise, instead of interfering with conscious thinking, produced an invigorating attention on your ideas, after you compose yourself for sleep; if you maintain an emotional element or any feelings with them, you will lie awake or have only fitful sleep.

Only About Half the Steer is Beef. Live Weight 1200 pounds. 100%. Dressed Weight 672 pounds of Beef. 56%. When Swift & Company buys a steer weighing 1200 pounds, only about 672 pounds goes to market as beef; the other 528 pounds consists of hide, fats, other by-products, and waste. When the packer pays 15 cents a pound for a steer, he sells the meat to the retailer for about 24 cents. But the packer gets only about 6 cents a pound for the other 528 pounds. This means that the packer gets about 16 cents a pound for all the products from a steer for which he pays 15 cents. The difference of 1 cent per pound covers the cost of dressing, preparation of by-products, freight on beef to all parts of the United States, operation of distributing houses, and leaves a net profit of only about 1/4 of a cent per pound on all dressed beef sold. Large volume of business and utilization of parts that were formerly wasted, make this achievement possible. Year Book of interesting and instructive facts sent on request. BALL PLAYERS GOOD FIGHTERS BEHIND DESKS

MANY OF THE DIAMOND HEROES WOULD GO TO WAR WITH PENS IN THE PLACE OF GUNS

By H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 29.—The Charleston and Newport navy yards are intensely interested in the recent announcement from Washington that ball players who are holding "commodore" jobs are to be investigated.

Each of these players, with particular emphasis on the Charleston yard, harbors a number of former big leaguers and former-class AA players. In fact it is probable that the baseball club set up in the Charleston yard would make a stiff fight for the pennant in either of the big leagues. They are going through the war with pens for guns and desks for bathtubs.

Only two Boston big league ball players have enlisted to fight. One of them is Hank Gowdy, Braves catcher, first of the big leaguers to go into service. The other is Dick Hoblitzel, former first baseman of the Red Sox. Hoblitzel, a dealer, will go to the front with the famous pitcher next to the military away with the information that, as he had been drafted into the army, he considered it his duty to fight in the army, and that he was looking for no favors in order to avoid being exposed to the battles in Europe.

Specialist Neil Andrews, one of General Pershing's returned heroes, who was in one of the Pullman cars, reports that the railroad service was for the injured. Ground in the vicinity of the wreck was a miniature lake, due to the overflowing of Beaver creek, and most of the passengers remained in the coaches until assistance arrived.

GERMANS PICKING BOW WITH DENMARK
Denmark Withdrawal of Ships Engaged in Allied Trade

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Germany has demanded—in virtual ultimatum—that Denmark withdraw immediately from allied trade the 400,000 tons of Danish bottom oil offered for needed products from Great Britain and the United States.

News of the serious situation now confronting Denmark leaked out today with the arrival here of a Danish ship which had been ordered to leave. Negotiations are now under way between Denmark and Germany in an effort to reach an agreement.

Lived in Poverty, Though Rich.
Albeit poverty in the midst of riches was the affliction of Athanasius, Warwickshire, England, a short time ago. When an aged widow who had been living alone was removed to the local workhouse, more than $500 in gold and silver was discovered concealed in her house. In one case a caddy hidden under the bed was found nearly $250, while another had included 70 sovereigns.

To Put in Her Coffin.
A physician in a Southern state received the following note: "My wife has just been recommended for the gas. She is giving her distributions to another man. I want you to send me something to put in her coffin and make her maintain herself to me again. If you please." This is a clear case of putting up a hard job to the doctor—New Orleans States.

Teacher's Rebuke.
"What time do you get up?" asked the teacher. "It was watching the pedals of this rose unfold," said the child. "Don't you know you ought to be in the house studying your botany lesson?" said the teacher.

Better to Go Slow.
If you try to live two days at once, you will get off by the lungs of persons in the horse, and give off pure oxygen to the air. Second, the evaporation of moisture from the foliage and from the porous flower pots is one of the ways in which air artificially warmed by you can't have too many plants or too many children in the house.

To Be Remembered.
Frugality is good, if liberality be joined with it. The first is leaving out things that are the least begun to need. The first without the last begins to be covetous; the last without the first begins to be prodigal; both together make an excellent temper.—William Penn.

MOUNTAIN LOOKOUT POSTS OF ITALIANS

High on the sides of the mountains where they are battling the Austrians and Germans above the clouds in the land of mountains, the Italian troops have built these unusual structures stuck out of sight and reach of the German gunners. Ladders of wood lead up the cliffs from the shelters on the very top. The huts themselves are built on stilts wherever the ledges of rock permit sufficient space for the foundations. The ones shown here are used by a lookout post.

AMERICAN ARTILLERY STOPS GAS ATTACKS

GERMAN PATROL LOOKING FOR PRISONERS MEET HAIL OF BULLETS AND RETREAT—FUMES OF GAS WILT FOLIAGE—BOYS ANXIOUS FOR FRAY

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN LORRAINE, May 29.—The terrific German gas attack which began at one o'clock Monday morning was broken up by American artillery fire after two batches of gas had been thrown into our positions. The gun began pounding the projector launch as soon as the first flock of "the gas" was set over, and soon had possessed the outfit to pieces.

Patrol Driven Back.
During the attack the Germans dispatched a patrol of sixty men against American outposts in the gas area, expecting to take some prisoners and the result of the anticipated neutralization of the defenders. The American outposts were very much on the job, however, and met the Germans with a stiff fight and grenade fire. In a two-hour fight the bodies failed to penetrate the American wire and finally retired. Their losses were considerable.

I was the guest yesterday afternoon and last night of the clean-cut middle-westerner against whom this attack was directed. Yesterday afternoon I returned to this position which had been the scene of the most concentrated gas attack yet attempted by the Germans in his area. I found the boys still cheerful, despite their weariness and the strain of the attack of yesterday.

Two Things Worth Having.
Growing plants are healthful in two ways. First, they absorb carbon dioxide gas off by the lungs of persons in the house, and give off pure oxygen to the air. Second, the evaporation of moisture from the foliage and from the porous flower pots is one of the ways in which air artificially warmed by you can't have too many plants or too many children in the house.

Airplane Developed by War.
The war began the history of the use of airplane could not be depended upon to do much more than 50 miles an hour. Today the speeder war planes make 120 miles an hour in long flights. Where the best machines formerly carried two men, or their equivalent in weight, the larger machines of the present will safely carry a ton or more of cargo.

Harp Long In Use.
Jubal, is credited with the invention of the harp, 8,775 years before Christ. The Germans are telling of David playing the harp before Saul 1003 B. C. It is related in ancient manuscript that the harp was in use in Ireland during the time of Geite, monarch of Ireland, about 650 B. C.

Coquette's Bad Ending.
The life of a coquette is very like that of a drunkard or opium-eater, and so ends in the same—the utter extinction of the self. The coquette, of generous feeling, and of self-respect.

VIVID FIRE SCENES IN "THE HIRED MAN"

CHARLES RAY PICTURE SHOWING AT IDAHO A MARVEL OF REALISM AND CHARACTERIZATION

SELDOM IN THE HISTORY OF MOTION PICTURE PHOTOGRAPHY HAS SO STARTLINGLY VIVID A REPRODUCTION OF A FIRE SCENE OCCURRED AS IN "THE HIRED MAN," WHICH IS CHARLES RAY'S LATEST PARAMOUNT PICTURE PRESENTING THE SUPERVISION OF THOMAS H. INCE AND DIRECTED BY VICTOR L. BOBERTAGNER. NO PAINS WERE SPARED AND AN ENTIRE HOUSE WAS BURNED TO THE GROUND. LEAVING NOTHING BUT THE REMAINS OF A CHIMNEY. CHARLES RAY, AS A FARM HAND, PERFORMS DEEDS OF REAL HEROISM. THE CAST INCLUDES DOBS REE, IT IS ONE OF THE MOST APPEALINGLY "HUMAN" OF THE RECENT PICTURES.

Bret Haris has joined the Aircraft staff. Mary Pickford is soon to appear in "Miles," which affords her a part even more versatile than in "Stella Maris."

Marshall Nolan, the young wizard of the screen, whose artistic work has won unbounded praise from the public and press, has been chosen as director for Elsie Ferguson's next Aircraft picture, to follow "The Danger," which she recently finished. This director and star form a combination of youth, vigor and talent which bodeports gratifying results on the screen.

Short Stories of Plays and Players

A story of the age-old call of youth to youth will be found at the Idaho theatre next week when the J. Stuart Blackman photograph, "Wild Youth," will be shown. "Wild Youth" is an adaptation of St. Gilbert Parker's famous book by that name and has been pictured and personally directed by Mr. Blackman himself. The story deals with the love of a young teacher for the girl wife of a crusty old neighbor, the latter role being taken by the imitable Theodore Roberts. The old husband is murdered and for a time the dark shadow of suspicion points to the girl wife and her young admirer—but events prove that another agent brought about his end. Use Mixed Gas
The gas used in the projector attack was evidently phosgene, mixed with mustard gas. It affects the lungs, making breathing almost impossible. It was thrown over in two separate batches. The first crashed through the tree of the little wood and fell within a small area less than six hundred yards in diameter. The other fell on the front trenches, where the boys saw the gas there over in two separate batches. The Germans also gassed the American artillery positions with their cannon, without getting a single victim. It is practically impossible for the Germans to surprise American outposts, as the result of the wireless signal system, which the Americans use. The nature of this device may not be divulged.
