

OVER 800,000 BRITISH DRAFT AMERICANS IN OVER-SEAS SERVICE REGULATIONS REACH OUT FOR MEN

CHIEF OF STAFF MARCH MAKES OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF TROOP MOVEMENTS—FIGURES EXPECTED TO REACH A MILLION BY JULY 1

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Overseas troop shipments have passed the 800,000 mark, according to an official announcement today.

Making his initial weekly talk to the war department correspondents, Chief of Staff March revealed this cheering figure today. He also declared that all four offensive drives by the Germans "have been stopped."

That more than a million Americans will have been sent to France by July 1 was the statement of Senator Kirby Arkansas, following the weekly meeting today between the senate military committee and the war council.

The German advances, General March declared, have stretched the allied line sixty miles. Because of this "the importance of getting Americans over is pre-eminent. We have now passed the 800,000 mark in troop and equipment shipments."

"The number of troops being sent across now, he added, is limited only by capacity of the boats to carry them, and "we intend to keep that up."

He declined to predict when the allied-American forces would have a numerical superiority. This question, he suggested, involved a consideration of how many troops the Germans had at the outset and how many potential divisions might be stemmed from the eastern front.

Reviewing the military situation from March 31 onward, March declared that "the activity now is toward Paris," but that the channel ports first and Paris second constitute the obvious objectives of the heaviest fighting.

"The four drives starting March 21, April 9, May 27 and June 9 are all parts of a common scheme of an offensive," he said.

"You saw a succession of attacks, the first being 30 miles in Flinders, the next 15 miles in Flanders, the third 30 miles to the Marne and the greatest five and a half and six miles.

"One of the striking features of this whole advance is the extent of the front which the allies have had to cover as a result of the German progress. The total stretching of the line from Rheims to the sea is sixty-two miles. In order to hold that entire line the allies had to move more troops than at the start."

"In three drives there were two obvious objects. The first was, to reach the channel ports, thus compell-

INTREPID AUTHOR OF "OUTWITTING THE HUN" HAS ASTONISHING ESCAPE

(By United Press)
—SAN ANTONIO, Texas, June 15.—The fact which saved Lieutenant Pat O'Brien from death on the western front many times and led him to escape from a German prison camp, still held up when yesterday he fell two thousand feet in an airplane at Kelly field, and escaped with a few minor bruises.

RATIFICATION OF PLANS OF BRITISH-AMERICAN MILITARY CONVENTION BY SENATE WILL DEFINITELY SETTLE STATUS OF FOREIGN-BORN (By United Press)

THE BRITISH-AMERICAN DRAFT TREATY
Exempt Irishmen and Australians in the United States from application of the draft.
Makes British and Canadian soldiers in the United States between 20 and 44 years of age subject to draft unless they enlist.
Makes American subjects in Great Britain and Canada between 21 and 31 years of age subject to draft unless they enlist.
Provides that in event of future extension of the draft laws in either country, its new provisions shall be respected by both nations.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Irish and Australians in this country are exempted only-Americans between the ages of 21 and 31 are subjected to draft in Great Britain and Canada under the British-American military convention now awaiting ratification by the United States senate.

Details of the treaty, which became known today, disclosed that it required a formal exchange of notes between the United States and Great Britain to settle questions relating to application of American draft law limits to Americans in Great Britain and Canada.

The British military service acts, which govern the operation of the treaty, would make all Americans in Great Britain or Canada between 18 and 40 liable to draft into the British army. But in the notes exchanged by Lord Reading and Secretary Lansing it is agreed that the United States may claim exemption for its citizens under 21 and over 31.

The Law 11 Detail
The text of Article 1, the principal article in the treaty, reads: "The United States shall exempt from the United States draft all male British subjects in the United States shall, unless before the time limited by this convention they enlist, or enroll in the forces of their own country, or in the United States or in His Majesty's dominions, respectively, for the purpose of military service, be subject to military service and entitled to exemption or discharge therefrom under the laws and regulations in force at the time in force in the country in which they are; Provided, that in respect to British subjects in the United States the ages for military service shall be, for the first year, 20 to 44 years, both inclusive, provided, however, that no citizen of the United States in Great Britain and no British subject in the United States who before proceeding to Great Britain or the United States, respectively, was ordinarily resident in a place of the possessions of the United States or in His Majesty's dominions, respectively, where the law does not impose conscription."

FOURTH PHASE OF HUN OFFENSIVE SOUTH OF MONTDIER AT AN END

THRILLING ACCOUNT OF LONG CHASE BY U-BOAT

BRITISH STEAMER KEEMON MAKES PORT WITH REMARKABLE STORY OF RUNNING FIGHT LASTING HOURS—ENEMY RAIDER USES FIVE-INCH GUNS AND SHOWS SPEED EQUAL TO THAT OF THE SHIP—FIGHT IS HOTTEST OF KIND OCCURRING SINCE SUBMARINES REACHED COAST

AN ATLANTIC PORT, June 15.—Bringing a thrilling story of her fight with a German submarine off the Virginia coast, the British steamer Keemon docked here today. U-ig encounter with the enemy raider Thursday was a running battle in which the German used five-inch guns and showed as much speed as the Keemon. According to the story by the captain of the vessel, the submarine attacked the Keemon at 6:30 o'clock Thursday night off the Virginia coast. With the first shell from the rear porthole gun crew of the Keemon opened fire on the submarine, which apparently one of the largest of Von Tirpitz's undersea fleet. The range then was 7000 yards and with shells from the five-inch gun of the U-boat throwing up fountains of spray around the Keemon, a running fight started which lasted until the Keemon fired her last shot at 11,000 yards, or about seven miles. The Keemon's guns were worked rapidly, returning shell for shell. Both vessels moved through the water at 13 knots an hour. Just how many shots were exchanged could not be accurately learned, but it is said the battle was one of the hottest in these waters between a merchantman and a German U-boat. The Keemon made port quite early this morning and the naval authorities here obtained a lengthy statement from her captain and forwarded it at once to Washington.

NO ENEMY GAINS MADE FOR PAST THREE DAYS

DRIVE IS REGARDED AS ONE OF GERMANY'S MOST COSTLY FAILURES, CONSIDERING MEAGER PROGRESS AND HEAVY LOSSES IN MAN POWER—ENTER SOUTH OF ROYE SHOWS ADVANCE OF FIVE MILES—PROGRESS ON WINGS IS VERY SLIGHT

LONDON, June 15.—The fourth phase of the German offensive, the drive southward from Montdier and Royon, apparently was at an end today. The Germans have made no appreciable gain here for three days. Their greatest gain is in the center, south of Roze, where they are just north of Anthelm, representing an advance of about five miles. Considering the number of men engaged, the heavy losses and the meager progress, this drive is regarded as a costly failure. The French was off after reported activity fighting in Hangard Wood, on the Ansem front and between Villers-Dotzins forest and Chateau-Thierry on the Marne front.

LABOR MISSION TELLS OF HUNS' MEXICAN EFFORTS

(By United Press)
CHICAGO, June 15.—Universal military training today had the endorsement of the American Medical profession. Trainees under arms, as a matter of health, before males are given the suffrage right was proposed by the American Medical Association concluding its thirty-eighth annual convention. Thirty-seven per cent of those in the first draft were ejected for physical defects, General Crowder's assistants told physicians. The second draft will be even more rejected. Army life, it was asserted, was shown to be a cure for some common disabilities. The publication meets next year in Atlantic City.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—With the reaping of the first wheat in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, Food Administrator Hoover announced today that America will continue to skip until the allies' military granaries are filled. Several million bushels already have been harvested and started toward the mills. Although 350,000,000 bushels in excess of last year's crop will be cut, conservation must go on, Hoover said. Harvesting began in California in May. Reapers are moving west along throughout Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas and southern Missouri. Nebraska and Iowa come next.

CANDIDATES ARE FEW AS DATE OF PRIMARY NEARS

ASPIRANTS FOR COUNTY OFFICE ARE BACKWARD IN ANNOUNCING INTENTIONS

With the date of the primary elections less than ninety days off, there is as yet but few indications of activity in Twin Falls county politics. Meetings of the county central committees to those delegates to the state platform convention, might have been expected to bring some aspirations to the forefront, passed off as formal affairs and nothing appears, on the surface, at least, as a result.

Promises Story From Here
The statement of former senator M. J. Swaley, recently elected member of the Republican state central committee from Twin Falls county, when asked to make recently in regard to politics, that there may be a story from his part of the state after the platform convention, may be interpreted with various meanings. He declines to elucidate further.

Situation Abnormal
Under normal conditions, the crop of candidates at this season of a campaign year should be a bounteous one, but with two or three exceptions no new aspirants for political preference have disclosed their ambitions, and no formal announcements have been made.

Officially Certain That the Four Republican County Office Holders Will Be Candidates for Re-election. George W. Wilcox, whose plurality led the Republican ticket two years ago, undoubtedly will run for re-election for a second term as county commissioner. Management also is given Frank K. Stephens, prosecuting attorney; Oliver P. Davall, probate judge, and Miss Britton Wolfe, county superintendent of public instruction, to make the ticket for several terms. No opposition either to their own party or among the ranks of the Democratic party has yet appeared in any of them.

Sheriff Faces Struggle
There are apparently no aspirants for the office of sheriff, among the Republicans, although Frank M. Kendall, who has filled the office in the general satisfaction of the public for five years past, if he declines to be a candidate for re-election, may be opposed in the primary campaign by John M. Beck, a deputy sheriff for several months past, and by Joe Fitzsimmons, deputy state game warden.

Clear Field for Filer Man
E. J. Finch, who is completing his second four-year term as county auditor and clerk of the district court, is emphatic in his denial that he will be a candidate for re-election, and the support of competitors in the general election is declined to A. M. Markel of Filer, the candidacy of P. H. Crow, a former deputy, and at one time assistant general of the state, being abandoned, it is reported, by himself. Mr. Markel is widely acquainted over the county, having been superintendent successively of the Dohi and Maroon schools and being now secretary of the county fair association. No aspirant for this office has appeared among the Republicans.

A Possible Candidate
Harvey Coggins, Democrat, elected treasurer two years ago, probably will be a candidate for re-election, and as yet no opposition to his candidacy in the primaries has developed. There is a possibility, however, that in the general election, he may have to make the contest against the Hon. O. Smith, assistant cashier in the Idaho State bank.

Discount Commissioner's Statement
There appears to be no candidate for county commissioner from the central district. O. E. Carlson, Democrat, who is engineering his term as commissioner from this district, states that under no circumstances will he be a candidate for the position again. In the light of a similar statement made by Mr. Carlson two years ago before the voters, his announcement this year is not as convincing as it might otherwise have been.

T. P. Moore of Filer, Republican, Commissioner, from the west district, now completing his second term is making no statements in regard to whether he will or will not run again. O. H. Taylor of Dohi, a former commissioner, is mentioned as a possible candidate on the Democratic ticket.

F. P. Brewer of Hanson, Democrat, appointed nearly two years ago, as commissioner from the east district to succeed Dr. D. P. Albee of Rock Creek, resigned, probably will be a candidate for re-election to that office, although he has made no public statement to this effect. There has been as yet no one among the Republicans mentioned as a candidate for commissioner from the east end.

SOCIAL BENEFITS BEB CROSS
The Red Cross has been given by Mrs. Otto Johnson at her country home west of town Thursday evening, $25, which will be turned over to the local chapter. About eighty persons enjoyed the affair.

PHILIP RENDAHL EXPLAINS ABSENCE WHICH BROUGHT ANXIETY TO COMMUNITY

TO THE PUBLIC

We take this means of expressing our appreciation and thanks to the Boy Scouts and the citizens of Twin Falls generally, and particularly to those citizens who risked their lives in wading the icy waters of Rock Creek in search of our boy who it was thought had accidentally fallen into the creek while fishing Tuesday morning last.

We also wish to express our thanks to the Sheriff's office for the special patrol that was given in the search which resulted in his being located before his return to Twin Falls of his own accord.

After questioning our son we find that he had no intention of causing the worry and excitement over his departure, but that he made up his mind after having reached the Rock Creek canyon to go fishing, that he would go to Pocatello in an endeavor to obtain work at that point.

MR. AND MRS. R. B. RENDAHL
While scores of citizens and Boy Scouts waded and dived and tramped searching Rock Creek and canyon Tuesday evening till it had been Wednesday and Thursday and people all over the county were concerned over his strange disappearance, Philip Rendahl, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Rendahl of this city was in Minidoka and Pocatello looking for work. His return Thursday afternoon cleared up a mystery that baffled parents, officers and citizens for three days.

He Goes A-Fishing
The lad went from home early Tuesday morning, without his breakfast, to fish in Rock Creek, not far from town and told his parents he would return about noon. When evening came and he had not returned a search was made for him.

On the bank of Rock creek his new bicycle, fishing tackle and a portion of his shirt he had worn from home, were found. A systematic search was begun under direction of Sheriff Kendall. It was stopped Tuesday evening by darkness but taken up again at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning. Men and boys worked and waded in Rock creek searching carefully for more than a mile along the canyon and down the creek. Theories of drowning, kidnapping and murder were advanced.

A Sudden Decision

In the meantime the lad was in Minidoka and Pocatello. When he left home Tuesday morning he had put on an extra shirt as the weather was cool in the morning. He had taken his wheel and fishing tackle and had $10 in his pocket. He states that he had no intention of going away when he had started on his fishing trip. He is a quiet lad and aside from expressing a wish that he might go away and attend an electrical engineering school to get work, he had never mentioned going away. His parents had told him the school he wished to attend would not admit one so young as he, so he had said nothing more about the matter.

That evidently the spirit of restlessness that is troubling many of our soldiers was brooding over him. He wanted to get work somewhere. As he stood fishing, he heard the whistle of the morning passenger train. Remembering that he had $10 in his pocket he decided to go to Minidoka. He thought Minidoka was a railroad town and that he would have no trouble

Battery repairs may be necessary. But they're not an excuse for letting your car lie idle. Because as soon as the battery comes out of your car a Willard Rental Battery can go in, to continue the starting, lighting and ignition service that your own battery provided. So Willard Rental Battery Service means more than just so much wood and lead and acid. It means ability to go into the city, or out to the country. It means ability to tour— to make the fullest possible use of your car. Come in and talk batteries with us. We'll tell you how to take care of your battery, and why your next one should be a Still Better Willard with Threaded Rubber Insulation. The long life more than balances the slight increase in cost over the ordinary battery. It's the only battery with the "Bone Dry" principle that is your absolute assurance of getting a battery as new as the day it left the factory.

KEYBURN MARINE HOME ON FURLOUGH

Walter Prescott, 'One of First From Community to Enlist, Back On Leave of Absence

HEYBURN—Walter Prescott is home on a ten days furlough from Fort Crockett, near Galveston. His brother, Argyle, is expected later. These boys, with others, were some of the first from Heyburn to enlist in the marines. The High School knitting class met with Mrs. E. A. Nash last Thursday to sew for the French child which they have adopted.

Mrs. T. D. Wilson of Burley spent the day Thursday with Mrs. Homer Spidle.

Miss Hilda Sterling of Burley visited the week end with Miss Inez King.

Mrs. R. M. Hopkins of Blackburn, Missouri, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Sam Martin.

Mrs. Ham Dixler of Salt Lake arrived Sunday to visit relatives here.

Misses Gentry and Esther Olsen went to Nampa Saturday to visit relatives.

Mrs. Wheeler and daughter, Inez, of Shoshone visited her sister, Mrs. Campbell, last Thursday.

Messrs. E. A. Nash and Clyde Hardy have opened a picture show in the City theatre. There will be a show on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights in each week and a dance on

HE RETURNS HOME

He had only enough to get a ticket to Kimberly. At Rupert the conductor on the train recognized the boy and reported to the sheriff at Rupert, who sent word to Twin Falls that the boy was returning on the afternoon train.

The parents, intensely relieved, hastened to the train. But their careful search of the crew at the depot and the train and even the baggage compartment revealed no sign of their boy. Disheartened, they appealed to the conductor who told them the boy got off at Kimberly and was walking home. They started in their car to Kimberly and met their boy.

When the parents told the lad of all the worry and trouble his going away had occasioned he was genuinely surprised and did not seem to fully comprehend the situation. Mrs. Rendahl had gone away from home without breakfast and during the time he was away he had had but four sandwiches and an ice cream soda. He had but 11 cents in his pocket when he returned.

Being naturally quiet and reticent he had little to say, but quietly remarked, "It sure is good to be home again."

two Monday nights in the month. Last Saturday night was the opening show which featured Sarah Dorothy in "The Mothers of France" which was greatly enjoyed. The proceeds of the evening went to the Red Cross.

There will be a Children's Day program at the M. E. church next Sunday at 11 o'clock. Everyone is invited.

BOOK OREK TALKS FOURTH
BOOK OREK—Miss Gertrude Dencke met with Rock Creek auxiliary of the Red Cross Wednesday afternoon and gave a very interesting talk on the subject of conversation and substitutes.

Mrs. L. P. Larsen had prepared light refreshments for the occasion, but Miss Dencke's time was limited and she and her companion, Miss McLean, left as soon as the talk was finished. The members held an informal discussion of the preparation for the Fourth of July while refreshments were being served, but no definite action was taken. A business meeting for the purpose of electing a new set of officers will be held at the Red Cross room June 16 and the Fourth of July preparations will be completed.

The Hanson Sunday school held a picnic in the Hansen grove Wednesday afternoon. A large crowd was in attendance, but the rain cut the day short.

JAPAN AND THE EAST FRONT

It is not altogether a far cry to point out the possibility of an early re-establishment of the East front.

Our propaganda in Russia is having its effect. It has been propaganda of a legitimate character.

The hour, indeed, seems to be rapidly approaching when she will welcome an Allied troop movement from the far east to throw off the yoke which Germany has treacherously fastened upon many parts of her country and is rapidly extending to others.

While it may be going too far to say that all signs point to an early re-establishment of the east front, it is not exaggeration to say that the possibility of just that eventually becomes greater and greater every day.

Of course, such a troop movement would of necessity be largely Japanese. It is not impracticable, however, for America to send a substantial though comparatively small army across the Pacific to cooperate with the Japanese, and thus give assurance to the Russian people of the true allied character of such a movement.

It is a beautiful object to hope for—a worthy object to work for—and, if accomplished, the masterstroke in the history of diplomacy for all time.

Readers who are following the narrative of Lieutenant Pat O'Brien's escape from the Hun, after being shot down in an air battle by an enemy plane behind the German lines, may have been amazed, almost to the point of disbelief, by some of his exploits.

Leaders yesterday afternoon the same Pat O'Brien bobbed up again in news dispatches from San Antonio, Texas.

STORIES OF AMERICAN CITIES

Just Why Liberty Loan Fund Was Short $700

CHICAGO.—A great volume of cheers accumulating to William Sasawich have been suppressed for the duration of the war.

Patriotism in its most acute form attacked William. He was pressing trousers in his tailor shop at the time and when he got through checking and applauding as a drum corps passed about the shop and the trousers had gone to their reward.

William announced that he would pay for the trousers and would also invest $700 in Liberty bonds. Adam Herdick, who worked at the next bench, began sewing rapidly without hitting anything with his needle.

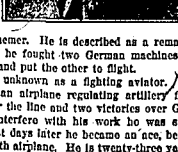

William drew the money from the bank and was proceeding along the street with the helpful Adam when they encountered a friend, whom Adam had known since he first peeked out of his bassinet.

All that the machine needed was one belt, three platinum dial pins and a certain plush ribbon, all of which could be bought for $60.75.

FRENCH HERO OF THE AIR

Sub-Lieut. Rene Fonck of the French aviation service started out the other day to average his friend, Lieutenant Chaput, who had just been killed by the Hun.

Lieutenant Fonck had only just left the region of the airfield when he encountered an enemy aqueduct.

Fonck returned to the airfield to take on more gasoline and to rest before going out for the second patrol.

Funeral services for Ned Stone of Kimberly, who death occurred Wednesday evening shortly after he fell unconscious in the act of stepping from an automobile near his home, will be held at 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the Kimberly Christian church.

Hermine's Neighbors

By EDITH WELLS

The good neighbor rocked back and forth before the crackling bank of embers on Hermine's hearth, and from time to time sipped the cup of steaming chocolate.

'It really does seem a shame, Hermine,' she said, rocking back, 'that you should have no one to share it with, rocking forward and looking through the aperture into Hermine's face.'

'You see, my dear, when I was a child, I used to have my chocolate every day, and really, I must say, Hermine, this is the warmest place I've been in for days.'

'Oh, it isn't poor coal, and most folk haven't the knack you have with wood fire. Why, Mrs. Dairynlow, has not had any coal for a week, and real-ly, it's a shame to see you so comfortable.'

Hermine saw her good neighbor to the door, and then calling through a door that led to the kitchen she summoned her woman of all work and told her to get the fire going.

'The colored woman fumbled in and, taking the chair of the good neighbor had vacated, answered Hermine's questions. Yes, old Moses had been begging a little wood from their pile every morning.'

'The colored woman looked her surprise, but only rocked back and forth. 'Yes, Miss Hermine,' she said, 'I always did think you were too good and long time I've had to hand rollers and things over the fence on account of Mr. Gray. I certainly think you are showing good sense, Miss Hermine.'

'The next day Moses begged for wood in vain, and at ten o'clock the morning after Mr. Gray bellowed and called to Miss Hermine.

'On this momentous morning he called very formally and requested his neighbor to get a little wood, he retreated having to snay her, but he had heard from Moses that she had plenty of wood, owing to the coal shortage, he was actually suffering from the cold.

HAIL IS H

When your crop is devastated and you did not carry hail insurance, what would you do? Would you obligate us to make you whole? Would your crops be wiped out by hail?

You never before had so much insuranced in your crop, and you never had such urgent demands on you for money. Where would it come from if you were haled out? Such a loss this year would mean financial ruin to many.

You can not afford to take the chances. Think it over and then come in and insure your wheat, corn, etc., before it is too late. Landlord or tenant can insure a share of crop and pay insurance only on the part insured.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Neher entertained the two adult Bible classes of the Brethren church at their country home west of town Wednesday evening. Following refreshments a delightful program was given by children of the Sunday school. A W. B. S. committee was organized to carry on the work in the church. About eighty-five persons were present.

On Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Sheridan, their daughter, Miss Mary Scherlock became the bride of Irvin E. Netzger, the Rev. Mr. Caldwell of the Kimberly Baptist church officiating. The home was lively with a profusion of pink and white, which color scheme was used in the luncheon also. Proceeding the ceremony, Miss Lorena Gies sang "I Love You Truly," followed by Mendelssohn's Wedding March. The bride was mainly gown in white tulle and carried an arm bouquet of pink and white. Only the immediate families were present. The young groom will make their home on the green's ranch south of town. The bride is a graduate of this year's H. B. class and both young people have a host of friends here.

CUTS SUGAR SALES FOR FAMILY USE

FOOD ADMINISTRATION PUTS LIMIT ON INDIVIDUAL PURCHASES—GAINING RULE SAME

Limitation in the sale of sugar to two pounds for family use of town consumers and to five pounds to country consumers, is an order issued by County Food Administrator, C. E. Manning, in accordance with telegraphic instructions received Thursday from R. F. Dickson, state food administrator.

Developments in the sugar situation necessitate also the discontinuance of the manufacture and sale of all hard-bits and water test, and manufacturers and dealers in soft drinks are required to limit to ten, and preferably less, the number of syrup flavors used.

One hundred per cent sale of ice cream is permitted but vendors are required to use substitute for sweetening wherever possible.

Sugar regulations for home canned remain the same as heretofore.

CAN'T ENLIST, SO HE DONS OVERALLS

R. G. Linder of Twin Falls High School Faculty, Finds Place to Serve on Illinois Farm

When prevented by reason of his being registered under the selective service regulations, from enlistment in the land of the Twentieth regiment at East St. Louis, Ill., he was determined to do when he left here, he joined Roscoe G. Linder, teacher and orchestra in the Twin Falls high school, decided to return to his home at Channahon, Illinois. The summer months in growing crops on a farm to assist in soldiering until such time as he shall be called into service.

Unless inducted before the beginning of the fall term, Mr. Linder expects to return to his position in the Twin Falls school.

"Crops are looking good here," Mr. Linder says in a letter received here Friday. "Corn showing and clover harvest are well under way. The corn needs rain. We expect good crops next year from most crops," he adds.

YOUNG BRIDEGROOM IN TOWLS OF LAW

Frank Cheney, 19, is charged with passing fictitious checks—Post-pones Plea

Frank Cheney, 19, a bridegroom since June 1, was arrested Thursday evening by a Hobbler by Deputy Sheriff John McEck and arraigned Friday morning before Probate Judge O. P. Durning on a charge of passing a fictitious check. Cheney took the statutory time to enter his plea, postponing in the meantime to secure advice of the state attorney. The check, a complaint filed by the prosecuting attorney at the instance of W. D. Howard, he is accused of passing a check drawn in the sum of $10 on the First National bank on the Twopenny clothing store, Twin Falls. The check, dated June 11, was drawn in the presence of Mr. Howard, and bears the signature of M. L. Anderson, which the prosecuting attorney says, the check believes is a fictitious name. The account of there being no funds deposited to that account.

In the event an individual hearing the name of M. L. Anderson is discovered, the charge of passing a fictitious check will be withdrawn and one of felony will be filed against Cheney.

SALE OF FLAGS RAISES $174 FOR RED CROSS

The sale of the United States flags conducted Friday morning by Mrs. Maude M. Gant, Mrs. J. H. Van Kibbe and Mrs. Neal Clauson, among people in Twin Falls, had an attendance of the Flag Day celebration, resulted in the collection of $174, which has been turned into the treasury of the Twin Falls County Red Cross chapter. No get price was made for the flags, but such purchases were asked to contribute what he desired. The lowest price paid was three cents, and the highest five dollars. The sale stepped at noon in order that the exercises might not be interfered with. There were more calls for the flags than there was time and opportunity to supply.

"OUTWITTING THE HUN"

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Introductory. Pat O'Brien tells of his purpose in writing the story.

CHAPTER II—Tells of the enlistment in the Royal Flying Corps, his training in Canada and his transfer to France for active duty.

CHAPTER III—Describes fights in which he brought down two German airplanes and his final flight in which he was wounded and captured by the Hun.

CHAPTER IV—He is taken to the officers' prison camp at Courcel. There he begins planning his escape. By stratagem he manages to have food taken away two daily rations of bread.

CHAPTER V—Describes how German hospital staff temporarily captured the family returned and saved their escape by returning to the firing line. Witnesses death in that of the best Hun. Last day of his life.

CHAPTER VI—He is confined in a map of Germany and just half an hour later is put in a field bound for a prison camp in Germany. He escapes through a window while the train is traveling at a rate of 30 miles an hour.

CHAPTER VII—For nine days he crawls through a forest, guided by the stars and hidden by the trees. He covers 15 miles before reaching Luxembourg.

CHAPTER VIII—For nine days he struggles on in a weakened condition through a swampy in the direction of Belgium.

CHAPTER 10 (Continued)

About three o'clock (afternoon) therefore, I emerged from my hiding place and hurried into the wood. After proceeding for half a mile or so I came to the railroad. I took a sharp look in both directions and seeing no signs of trains or soldiers, I walked boldly over the tracks and continued on my way.

I soon came upon a clearing and knew that someone must be living in the vicinity. As I turned a group of trees I saw a small house and in the distance an old man working in a garden. I decided to enter the house and ask for food, figuring the woman would probably be old and would be no match for me even if she proved hostile. The old woman who came to the door in response to my knock was older than I expected. If she wasn't close to a hundred, I miss my guess very much.

She could not speak English and I could not speak Flemish, of course, but nevertheless I made her understand that I wanted something to eat. She came out of the door and holed for her husband in a shrill voice that would have done credit to a girl of eighteen. The old man came in from the garden and between the two of them they managed to get the idea of me, and I could feel myself writing as the soldier advanced to the spot where I stood rooted in my tracks.

I had a bottle of water in one pocket and a piece of bread in the other, and as the Hun advanced to search me I held the bottle up in one hand and the piece of bread in the other so that he could see that was all I had.

It occurred to me that he would "frisk" me—that is, feel me over for arms or hidden weapons. He placed me under arrest and marched me off to the guardhouse. I had not the slightest idea but that I was captured and there didn't seem to be much use in resisting, because I was with two other German soldiers within a few feet of us.

Like a flash it suddenly dawned on me, however, that for all this soldier could have known I was only a Belgian peasant and that he would be searching me, which he proceeded to do, was to ascertain whether I had committed the common "crime" of smuggling potatoes.

The Belgians were allowed only a certain amount of potatoes, and it is against the law laid down by the Huns to deal in vegetables of any kind except under the rigid supervision of the authorities. Nevertheless, I was not a peasant, and I was not the average poor Belgian—no buy potatoes out in the country from peasants and then smuggle them into the large cities and sell them clandestinely at a high price.

To stop this traffic in potatoes, the German soldiers were in the habit of subjecting the Belgians to frequent search, and I was being held up by this soldier for no other reason than that he thought I might be a potato smuggler!

He felt of my outside clothes and pockets, and finding no potatoes seemed to be quite satisfied. Had he but known who I was he could have earned an honest crust. Or, perhaps, in view of the fact that I had a heavy water bottle in my upturned hand, it might have turned out to be a wooden cross!

He said something in German, which of course I did not understand, and then some Belgian peasants came along and seemed to distract his attention. Perhaps he had said: "It's all right; you may go on," or he may have been talking in the street with a Flemish, but at any rate, observing that he was more interested in the others than he was in me at the moment, I put the bottle in my pocket and walked on.

After I walked a few steps, I took a furtive glance backward and noticed the soldier who had searched me rejoin his comrades at the curb and then search another fellow who had come along, and then I disappeared in the darkness.

I cannot say that the outcome of this adventure left me in the same confident frame of mind that followed the earlier one. I was sure I had come out of it all right, but I could not help thinking what a terrible cross shave I had.

Suppose the soldier had questioned me! The ruse I had been following in my dealings with the Belgian peasant—pretending I was deaf and dumb—might, possibly, have worked here, too, but a soldier—a German soldier—might not so easily have been fooled. It was more than an even chance that it would have at least aroused his suspicion and resulted in further investigation. A search of my clothing would have revealed a dozen things which would have established my identity and all my availing means of defense would have amounted to nothing.

As I wandered along I knew that I was now approaching the big city which my Belgian friend had spoken

Mark Hyman, who for several years has been special assistant to the attorney general for anti-trust investigations, is now assisting Assistant Attorney General Todd in the Hog Island inquiry.

Uncle Eben.
"It's 'wiltin' to lose my fellowmen," said Uncle Eben; "but I can't get up no no 'ambition to 'sociate wit some of 'em den a rabbit has fob makin' up to a houn' dog."

Effective Thursday morning, May 9, and continuing until the completion of road improvement work now in progress, the Ebansons falls grade will be closed to traffic of all sorts except between the hours of 6 o'clock p. m. Saturdays and 8 o'clock a. m. Mondays. By Order of the County Commission—adv.

Battle Against Dry Rot.
Dry rot is a wood disease that is giving serious trouble in some localities and engineers are prescribing preventive and curative remedies. It is especially urged that every trace of the infection be removed from timber for buildings. The infected spots are to be oiled to retain the spores and are then to be completely removed and burned. The diseased wood is to be kept from contact with other building material, while saws used in cutting it are to be afterward sterilized.

Blit Too Clever.
A pretty good illustration of the way in which cleverness often overreaches itself is provided by the English sparrows, who conclude in their smart and superior way that the piece of zinc, nourishing suet swung to a branch of our cherry tree by a prominent member of the Audubon society is some new kind of trap and won't go within smell of it, with the highly satisfactory result that the less self-sufficient and more trusting cardinals and downy woodpeckers—get all the good of it.—Ohio State Journal.

Everybody Does It.
One form which our national lyrics not infrequently takes is to say, who a prominent friend finally does come around and pay back what he owes you, or part of it: "Why, I'd forgotten all about it."—Ohio State Journal.

Worth While Question.
"Some people seem to take up all the sorrows of the past; to them the old burdens of the present; they they look ahead and anticipate a great many more trials than they will ever experience in the future."

Daily Thought.
We think there are circumstances under which we can deal with men without love, and there are no such circumstances. You can cut down the trees and make bricks, or hammer iron without love, but you cannot deal with human beings without it.—Zolot.

Measure Smoke.
A British committee for investigation of atmospheric pollution maintains smoke measuring apparatus in 16 English and Scotch towns.

Look for Opportunities.
I used to say "Nobody uses me right. Nobody gives me a chance." But if chances had been snakes I would have been bitten a hundred times a day. We need occasions not opportunities.—Ralph Parlette.

The house they lived in consisted of just two rooms—the kitchen and a bedroom. The kitchen was perhaps fourteen feet square, eight-feet of one side being taken up by an enormous fireplace. What was in the bedroom I had no way of telling, as I did not dare to go too inquisitive. I made the old couple understand that I would like to stay in their house all night, but the old man shook his head. I bade them good-by and disappeared into the woods, leaving them to speculate as to the strange fortune they had entertained.

Mr. Reed replied: "Go to the next corner; there you will see two cars; take the first one; the other won't be there."

Odorous Benzine Possible. Benzine is very useful for the removal of grease spots and various other stains. Its odor, however, is very disagreeable to the average housewife. This may be completely removed by repeatedly shaking up the benzine with a plumbeous soda solution and recasting it. The plumbeous soda is made by dissolving litharge in caustic soda. —Popular Science Monthly.

As She Understood It. Mary's mother was buying some changeable silk. After the purchase was made Mary said, "Mamma, do they call that changeable because you can take it back tomorrow if you want to?"

Bless the Child! Bessie went with her mother to the meat market the other day, and, seeing sawdust on the floor, she whispered: "Mamma, does the butcher do that?"—Boston Transcript.

Rattlesnake Skin. The rattle of the rattlesnake is developed from the single conical scale or ornamental spine, which in most snakes forms the intercal segment of the tail. The bone on which the rattle rests consists of the last caudal vertebra and is covered with a skin which is the beginning of the rattle in young rattlesnakes.

Food's Function. Food is the fuel which furnishes the energy for all the bodily activities, as coal furnishes the heat to make the steam which drives the engine; but it does more than this—it also builds the body engine and keeps it in repair.

Daily Thought. To think one's self to be true, and it must follow as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man.—Shakespeare.

Did He Hasten In? She—"Oh, Jack, dear, I'm glad you've come. Father is so excited and disturbed. Do go in and calm him." He—"Very well. But what's the matter with him?" She—"Well—I just told him you wanted to marry me." —Boston Transcript.

Speeding Up! Worthy companion to the celebrated painter who, when the paint got low, hastened to finish the floor before the paint gave out, has been found in the woman knitter who set up late to finish a scarf because she had so little yarn!

Sheet-Metal Work Old. Sheet-metal work is one of the oldest trades known to man. Ancient Egyptians, Babylonians, the Asiatic races and even the American Indians were engaged in this trade.

SERG. FRANK LANCKTON. Sergt. Frank Lanckton, orderly of Gen. John Pershing for the past 25 years, has returned to France after having been temporarily detached from his chief to accompany Secretary Baker back to America. He was the constant attendant of the secretary of war throughout his tour abroad.

Patriotic Week. PRESIDENT WILSON SAYS: "The work that the Chautauqua is doing has not lost importance because of war, but rather has gained new opportunities for service... and that the people will not fail in the support of a patriotic institution that may be said to be an integral part of the national defense." A Few Features of the Week: LINCOLN L. WIRT "With Our Armies in Europe." Noted war correspondent comes to Chautauqua straight from a visit to the front as a member of United States Observation Party. U. S. FOOD DEMONSTRATION New government recipes and methods of conserving food. Demonstrator coming to Chautauqua on the last day from Mr. Hoover's department in Washington. DR. O. J. BUSHNELL Lecturer on government's war problems in this country. Dr. Bushnell is instructor at Pennsylvania Military College and Special Instructor of Officers' Reserve. OLD SOLDIER FIDDLEES A rousing patriotic program by four veterans of the Civil War, fiddling war time and campfire songs. TWIN FALLS June 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26

CHAUTAUQUA Making Our Own Indigo. Indigo is now being made from natural in this country. At Midland, Mich., 1,900 pounds of 20 cent paste are produced daily. All the tariff bills of this nation, commencing with the tariff of March 3, 1883, and including the tariff of October 3, 1913, placed indigo on the free list. Not until September 5, 1914, was it placed putting a duty on it. It was the first schedule that braved the anger of the German dye makers.—Popular Science Monthly. Gone and Forgotten. "And this tumbled-down cottage? "Was the home of a poet. He'd died long ago. "The path to the door is overgrown with weeds." "Yes, it has been some years since the postman called at the door of the poet's door."—Birmingham Age-Herald. Georgian Doctor Human Benefactor. Perhaps the greatest triumph of American medical science was the discovery of anaesthesia, which made modern surgery possible. A number of physicians claimed the priority in this great discovery, but in latter years the credit has usually been given to Dr. Crawford W. Long, a Georgia country doctor, who received his medical education at the University of Pennsylvania. Oath Purposely Made Stringent. The term "iron-clad oath" has significance now. It was the name given to a very stringent oath of office prescribed by congress in 1862 and applied to the issue of the Civil war. The oath is required to give a bond of $100,000, which is insignificant compared with the sums he handles. All Over! Billy and his mother had been to the movies one afternoon to see "Jack, the Giant Killer." During supper a discussion arose between his two older brothers as to whether they should go or not. Billy listened awhile and then spoke up: "There ain't no use yer boys talking 'bout going to that show tonight. Jack killed the giant this afternoon." To Watch Each Other. "It all do laws dat's betw' accused," said Uncle Eben, "kiss put into force, nearly all do folks alive'll have to turn in and be policemen."
