RETURN OF KERENSKY TURNS EYES TO RUSSIA

PROBABILITY OF ALLIED AID TO RE-ESTABLISH EAST FRONT LOOMS LARGE—SIBERIAN NEGOTIAT- ING WITH JAPAN AND CHINA WHILE ALLIES EX- CHANGE IDEAS—WASHINGTON TO DECIDE SOON

ALLIES EXCHANGE IDEAS

LONDON, June 27.—Lord Cecil, minister of blockades, announced in the House of Commons today that there is "constant discussion between America and the allies regarding Russia," but that he was unable to make any statement regarding intervention.

TO DECIDE SOON

WASHINGTON, June 27.—American action as to Russia will occur soon.

The first step will probably be dispatch of a commission to Russia to check up on Russian needs and desires, with power to act thereon.

SIBERIA CONFERRING WITH JAPAN AND CHINA

STOCKHOLM, June 27.—Conferences are proceeding between representatives of the Siberian government and of Japan and China for the latter's aid in overthrowing the Bolsheviks and making war on Germany, it was learned here today.

Japan is said to be asking certain privileges of Siberia, such as exploitation of her gold and other resources. It is believed an agreement will be reached.

KERENSKY FAVORS ALLIED INTERVENTION

LONDON, June 27.—The dramatic and unexpected appearance of Alexander Kerensky at the labor party conference yesterday raised many questions concerning his future actions and his connection with the allied policy toward Russia, which may be explained in a day's speech before the conference today.

The news that the government did not invite Kerensky to England, but that he asked the right of asylum as a private citizen.

"However," continues the Mail, "it is wondered whether Kerensky holds a position for allied intervention from the Russian moderate Socialists."

It is reliably reported that Kerensky favors intervention by all the allies—even though one country furnishes most of the troops—under the slogan "fighting Germany," which will later, forgoing with Russia's internal affairs, Kerensky is said to believe that allied intervention will unite the present warring factions opposed to the Bolsheviks and is reported to have indicated that Russia might assist, as is possible, if it is used only in a defensive way.

LONDON, June 27.—Alexander Kerensky, Russia's "man of destiny," told friends today there are definite indications that he will accept the recall by Russia with the aid of the allies and America, resulting in the creation of a "great front" again.

He said it is positive that Russia is ready to join the allies, as soon as the yoke of the Bolsheviks is thrown off.

CEAR DEAD OR ALIVE?

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Rumors that the czar has been assassinated reached the state department, through Swedish news today. The department requested the soviet government as saying that the reports "need" confirmation.

PARIS, June 27.—An agency dispatch from "Ritz" via Baku, today purported to confirm the assassination of the former czar in Ekaterinburg.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM VICTORY IN DAKOTA

Republican Candidate Ahead, But League Claim Friendly Results Yet to Be Heard From

BIRMINGHAM, N. D., June 27.—With John Sloan leading Governor Lynn Frazier, Republican League was defeated, by 4,500 votes late today. The Republican gubernatorial nomination was in doubt and both sides claimed victory.

Returned from 650 precincts out of 1078 gave Sloan 20,755 and Frazier 17,726.

Nonpartisan League officers declared the precincts yet to be heard from are strong league territory and said Frazier has won by 10,000 votes. The Birmingham Tribune, opposed to the Nonpartisan League, conceded Frazier's nomination.

Congressman J. M. Baer, league, has been defeated for re-nomination by Judge G. G. Wick.

MARINES DISTINGUISH THEMSELVES IN FRANCE

With great satisfaction the American public has read of the valorous conduct of the United States marines in the fighting in France. A large detachment of the men of the corps is here shown on its way to the fighting front.

AUSTRIANS DEFEATED AT EVERY POINT OF BATTLE

AMERICANS ARE HIGHLY HONORED FOR GOOD WORK

UNIT WHICH STOPPED GERMAN RUSH TOWARD PARIS CONGRATULATED BY CLEMENCEAU

By LOWELL MELLETT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICANS ON THE MARCH, June 27 (4 p. m.)—Premier Clemenceau today personally congratulated the American unit which stopped the German rush toward Paris. He arrived at headquarters in an ancient farm-yard early this morning, following a long motor trip. After he was introduced to the officers he said: "I admire very much the work of this unit. I cannot express to felicitate it."

Admires Institutions

"The French general tells me these operations were peculiarly American in conception, planning and execution; that they have been extremely successful, and that they resulted in important gains, with only slight losses."

The American general remarked on Clemenceau's sympathy and knowledge of America.

"Yes, I have long admired United States institutions," the premier replied. "I entered Richmond five months after General Grant did, in 1863. The Americans showed great fighting qualities in that war."

Take More Prisoners

The total number of prisoners in Tuesday night's fight is now officially placed at 300. Ten heavy and five light machine guns were captured, and after General Grant did, in 1863.

BLOW UP STATION

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN FRANCE, June 28 (night)—An American bombing squadron blew up the railroad station and yards at Conflans (20 miles east of Verdun) this morning and returned safely.

Major Harold E. Hartley of Saratoga, Kansas (Saskatoon, Canada) became an ace last night when he brought down a German plane. He had brought down four while serving with the royal flying corps.

ROME, June 27.—Italian forces made further gains on the lower Piave, taking 600 prisoners, it was semi-officially announced today.

"At the junction of the Piave branches (near San Dona di Piave) we crossed the river and took 100 prisoners," it was stated.

"Elsewhere we crossed the river and raided enemy outposts."

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMIES IN THE FIELD, June 27.—Most of the fighting today was confined to the mountain sector, on both sides of the Brenta river.

The Italians are improving their positions there, for so long as the Austrians hold their present line in that sector, an Italian advance across the Piave would leave their flank and rear communications exposed to the bulk of the enemy's reserves in the upper Brenta and upper Piave valleys.

It is reported that Emperor Karl presided at the final council of war and decided on the Austrian withdrawal across the Piave.

ITALIANS CONTINUE ACTIVE

LONDON, June 27.—Italian activity continues on the whole front. It was learned authoritatively today, General Diaz is consolidating positions and re-grouping his forces.

The Italians buried 14,000 Austrians in two salients on the west bank of the Piave.

AMERICAN REGIMENT GOING TO ITALY

WASHINGTON, June 27.—General Pershing has selected a regiment now in France for service in Italy. This regiment, which has been training in France, will be replaced by one from the United States.

KUEHLMANN STARTS FINE ARGUMENT

Kaiser Furious and Press Demands Resignation of Minister

AMSTERDAM, June 27.—Chancellor von Hertling's speech, explaining that of Foreign Minister Kuehlmann, was the result of a demand from the Kaiser, it was reported here today. The Kaiser is said to be furious at von Kuehlmann.

GOETTERBILDUNG

BERLIN, June 27.—The general opinion prevailing among members of the German Reichstag that Foreign Minister von Kuehlmann will be compelled to resign, according to advices received here today. The conservative press is attacking him "violently and asking his removal."

Chancellor von Hertling's speech is received by the press with satisfaction.

TALKED TOO PLAINLY

WASHINGTON, June 27.—German diplomats are now blaming their "ill-luck for prolonging the war."

Senatorial excerpts from Foreign Minister von Kuehlmann's address in the Reichstag Tuesday explaining his remarks of Monday show that he literally attacked the junkers between the eyes. He declared that "Ludendorff should be made a manure for lack of German success in the war, not the German chancellor. He scored Von Capelle for saying the U-boats would keep American soldiers from France." "and there are 700,000 of these troops now there."

He derided those militarists who said America wouldn't enter the war, and said German domination of Estonia and Livonia, "pompously called liberation of smaller peoples," is "deplorable and hopeless."

GIVES HIS O. K.

AMSTERDAM, June 27.—Speaking in the Reichstag, Tuesday, regarding Foreign Minister von Kuehlmann's assertion that peace is militarily impossible, Herr Naumann said that "Thousands of soldiers think the same," according to a Berlin dispatch.

LOTTERY FIXES REGISTRANTS' ORDER OF CALL

WAYNE KING, OF TWIN FALLS, IS FIRST AMONG 192 YOUNG MEN OF THE COUNTY IN LIABILITY FOR MILITARY SERVICE UNDER SECOND DRAFT

As determined by the drawing of numbers in the second draft lottery in Washington this morning, Wayne King, of Twin Falls, is the first in order of liability for military service among the 192 young men who registered under the selective service regulations in Twin Falls county on June 5 last.

Seven numbers were drawn from the big bowl in Washington before a registration number assigned to a Twin Falls county man was reached. Following is a complete list of the registrants of June 5, 1918, in Twin Falls county in the order of their liability for military service as established by the drawing this morning:

154. Wayne King, Twin Falls.
10. Richard Henry Cramond, Twin Falls.
20. Samuel Alva Barnes, Twin Falls.
17. William Maxwell Ready, Arden, N. M.
74. Paul Daum, Filer.
130. Le Roy Larsen, Spanish Fork, Utah.
145. Anton Cochran, Dubl.
27. Earl G. Campbell; Hansen.
70. Verne Winters Combs, Filer.
78. Lester Carl Candill, Filer.

SUBSTITUTE FOR BONE DRY BILL

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The senate agriculture committee today agreed on a prohibition amendment offered by Senator Norris as a substitute for the Jones bone dry amendment.

It provides that the manufacture of beer shall cease three months after the act becomes effective, and that the sale of whiskey and the manufacture of wines shall stop June 30, 1919. The vote was 6-2, two yeas being purchased by submarines, which will probably be reported to the senate tomorrow.

SUBMARINES ACTIVE OFF ATLANTIC COAST

Confirmation Comes of Attacks on Steamers—Canadian Steamer Picks Up 8 O. S. Gals

AN ATLANTIC PORT, June 27.—Passengers arriving here today on a Canadian steamer reported that their vessel picked up 8 O. S. Gals from two vessels being pursued by submarines, while 250 to 300 miles off the American coast Tuesday.

The first message was sent by an unidentified steamer early in the morning, which report it was being shelled. The second came from a steamer giving its name as the Beaver, which declared it was raiding the U-boat's line.

RAID IN VOEGES REGION

PARIS, June 27.—Fairly active artillery fighting north of the Aisne and three successful raids in the Voeges region, resulting in the capture of prisoners, was reported by the French war office today.

SEEK TO MASK MANEUVERS ON WESTERN LINE

RESERVES ARE BEING MAILED FOR NEW LOW AL-LIES' LINES

LONDON, June 27.—"Important events are developing on the western front," the Chronicle declared today.

"German reserves are cunningly maneuvering into position for a resumption of the offensive. It is impossible to say, however, in what sector the new blow will be struck."

SOLDIER WOULD HAVE BOUNTY ON PACIFIST SCALPS

EDGAR WARRINGTON, WITH CANADIAN FORCES, AIRS DECIDED VIEWS IN LETTER

The following optimistic letter was received this week by Jenko Warrington from her brother, who has been with the Canadians in France for nearly two years:

Dear Sister: Your handy letter received today. Am glad to hear you are taking a rest. Orel! But I should like to be down there at Blue Lakes with you now. I am not played out, you know, and do not want to quit it, but my all day foot that sort of thing. Rest, quiet, home-cooked grub, and Oh, Lord, that trout stream you told about!

Home on Battle Line Say, let me tell you about "out home." (There are three of us.) It is a hole dug into the bank. There are pieces of steel (rod with nuts) from the albat and roof. Over the top is about two feet of earth. The front is closed by laying sandbags filled with chalk. The interior decorations are: one shelf, one home-made stove, one table made of three ammunition boxes and one bench. The walls are artistically hung with a various lot of equipment such as rifles, packs, gas masks, haversacks, etc. The size of this pretentious mansion is eight feet long, eight feet wide and six feet high. It is one that says "I'm a soldier, but if we were building a raft, we do not have electric lights or a telephone, but, believe me, we have a lot of faith in The Big Gun up yonder, and in the Allied Armies. So what more youth is a man wants?

Time Bested Would Treat

When do you think of "Fritz" bombing those hospitals a few days ago? And now he is squealing because we are bombing — and some more of his towns. He wants to sign a treaty not to bomb such places. Why? Because we are dropping bombs on his one. I expect some of those "peace mongers" will want to sign a treaty with him. They should line up every pacifist and shoot him. There should be a bounty for their scalps the same as there is for coyotes and other animals of the same species.

While I was in Paris recently I went down to the U. S. Soldiers and Sailors' club. I certainly had a grand reception and had a fine time. Had two nice raffles while I was there. People did not seem to mind it much. Also was down to Nice. It is the most beautiful place I ever saw. Was away 17 days. When I came back up here I felt like a new man. Fritz sure gave me a good reception the night I reported back for duty. I was at the hospital 27 days. Have been back only a short time now. Am all right again. He has not bothered us very much at this place yet.

I have not been stationed where there were many U. S. troops yet, but hope to see some in the near future. I would be the best-protected man in the world if I could get into the U. S. army.

Love to all. Your brother Edgar.

P. S.—If you come to France let me know when you get to the Canadian Corps Headquarters and I can arrange to meet you if you can fix a certain date.

We Set Tire Standards

Why is it that United States Tires are setting new records for mileage and serviceability?

Why is it that the sales of these tires are constantly increasing by leaps and bounds?

The answer is found in the factories where United States Tires are made.

Standards of construction for these tires are higher than ever before known in the tire industry.

Makers of tire fabrics tell us that the standards we have given them for United States Tire fabrics are higher than any previously known.

Likewise through every process of construction from crude rubber to finished tires—we have set new and higher standards everywhere.

These standards work out on your car in the practical economy demanded by war-times.

United States Tires will raise any car to higher efficiency.

There is a type to suit every condition of service.

The nearest United States Sales and Service Dept. dealer will cheerfully aid in selecting right tires for your requirements.

United States Tires are Good Tires

BOHEMIAN CAFÉ
IN "REVELATION"
An ultra-Bohemian, Parisian cafe of the Latin Quarter was built in the Metro studios for the staging of scenes in "Revelation," the great Natimova's initial starring vehicle under the Metro banner, which is the attraction of the American Theatre today only. The splendid setting representing "The Osharet of the Three Delights"—wine, women and song—brought the exotic Bohemian atmosphere of a gay Parisian cafe to the Metro studio. The jolly "frequenters" drank and smoked at scenes of tables in carefree revelry, while waiters scurried about disposing drinks. At the bar, in the rear, were gathered apaches and other denizens of the unconventional Latin quarter.

To meet the demand for farm labor in the Twin Falls district, George B. McGraw, district inspector for the United States employment service, with headquarters in the Haugh building, Twin Falls, has placed a call for six men daily with the federal employment service station at Pocatello. His office also has secured 40 farm laborers for work in the vicinity of Gooding, and 30 for Rupert; besides numerous others for various other points in this district.

MARRIAGES

Fletcher-Adams
The marriage of Mrs. Josie Adams and H. F. Fletcher took place in the presence of a large number of friends at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at their home, 236 Sixth, avenue. The ceremony was performed by Dr. A. H. Brand, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Dickerson, and proceeded to the altar which was beautifully lighted by flowers sent from the vicinity of Gooding. The bride wore a beautiful gown of early blue hand-embroidered charmeuse. The matron of honor wore white messaline. The bride served light refreshments following the ceremony. Mrs. Fletcher has been a resident of Twin Falls for eight years past and is held in high esteem by all who have made her acquaintance. Mr. Fletcher is a valued employe of the Rogerson hotel.

JURY AWARDS PART OF JUDGMENT ASKED

Verdict Grows Damage of $200 and Restitution of Premises to T. J. Walters
Damages in the sum of $200 and restitution of the premises in controversy were awarded to the plaintiff by a jury in the trial of the case of T. J. Walters against Ira Brackett and his wife, S. E. Brackett, in district court here Tuesday. Mr. Walters claimed damages in the sum of $500 for injury done to the property by livestock of the defendants, and claimed further damages in the sum of $1320 on account of alleged prevention on the part of the defendants of the use of these premises and of hay stacks on them. The parties involved in the litigation are premises owner and livestock growers of the Roseworth district in Twin Falls county. H. C. Hazel represented Mr. Walters in this action, and the defendants were represented by S. T. Hamilton.

The Final Word
Of Approval
It took a good many years for the Motor Truck to secure a place in the confidence of those interested in the transportation problems of business of all kinds. Recognition of the superiority of the Truck over the horse as a means of transport had to be won handily. Finally, however, right of way of streets and highways has been secured.
It has remained for the force of public opinion to compel recognition of merit from business men and farmers. Sentimental attachment for old ways and temperamental opposition to change were the principal forces that to the end were arrayed against it.
Since the beginning of the war the motor truck has won, in a few months, standing and prestige in the commercial and farming world which without a universal catastrophe and a sudden striding across ages and decades of times would have required years of steady upbuilding.
The INTERNATIONAL MOTOR TRUCK, since the war, has won almost universal acknowledgment and applause. All it needed to establish itself in a position of impregnable firmness was governmental sanction and approval. Now even that has come, as witness:
Resolved, That the Council of National Defense approves the widest possible use of the motor truck as a transportation agency, and requests the State Councils of Defense and other State authorities to take all necessary steps to facilitate such means of transportation, removing any regulations that tend to restrict and discourage such use.

HUN MEDICINE Von Kuehlmann seems to have made what is known in American baseball parlance as a home-run play. At least he was forthwith hustled back to the Reichstag to put a new construction on what he said, and then Chancellor Von Hertling took a hand again and explained the German Foreign Minister meant by certain things he had said.

What Von Kuehlmann did not say, according to Von Hertling, was that Germany would be unable to realize her ambitions by force of arms, which apparently is exactly what Von Kuehlmann wanted the Reichstag to understand.

Taking Von Kuehlmann's speech for what it is, rather than for what Von Hertling would make of it, there is no escaping the conclusion that it is a pointed admission that Von Hindenburg cannot win the war for the Central Empire. The effect of this declaration upon the morale of the German people is obvious—and was obvious to Von Hertling and other members of the Potsdam gang.

The German people have been led to believe that the slaughter of German manhood during the four western offensives this spring would speedily terminate the war in Germany favor. Von Kuehlmann's "active" admission that peace must come—by negotiation and not from the battlefield—is bound to create a profound reaction in Germany, sooner or later.

The next offensive which Hindenburg is arranging and the need of which is so pressing just at this hour to offset, if possible, the discouraging effect of the Austrian rout, is going to be a tough proposition to justify before the German people. And if the German people are forced to accept it whether they would or no, Hindenburg must deliver something mighty tangible in the way of a victory to satisfy his people. A hollow victory is apt to finish what Von Kuehlmann started. For further calls upon the German people to make sacrifices on the battlefield must inevitably be associated with Von Kuehlmann's tacit admission that peace cannot be won in that manner.

Incidentally, though not naming the United States, the German Foreign Minister points out that the American constitutes the barrier on the western front in so far as a decisive German victory is concerned. He attributes the impossibility of a military decision to the number of powers engaged, "including the one from overseas."

It would probably not do to admit openly that Germany contributed to her own downfall by forcing reluctant America into the struggle, but he feels compelled to indirectly admit the Reichstag how matters stand.

Germany would apparently enter into negotiations now on a basis quite different from any she has proposed in the past.

Germany would, before it is too late, play the game of diplomacy, trusting to wring from a war-tired world, a substantial slice of Russia in return for a retirement from her conquests in the west.

GAS ATTACKS AT HOME

So often that it would seem that further deception were impossible, the mask has been torn off German duplicity, but so laudible and so persistent is the Hun propaganda that many well-meaning persons, themselves opposed heart and soul to the role of the killer, are caught in its coils and become innocent tools and agents of the powers of darkness. It behooves us all to be on guard constantly against this diabolically clever snakebite that springs forth from German sources, and to scorn every act and utterance these days with a view to discerning the devil that may lurk behind.

There are few who will be deceived or fall to desecry the wolf in sheep's skin in the peace offensive drive opened by Von Kuehlmann, the German foreign secretary, in a speech before the German Reichstag. The proposal itself is of too great magnitude for the motive behind it to be concealed.

It is in a thousand similar affairs that the greatest danger lurks—in the idea, for instance, that there is a possibility for an uprising among the German people that will unseat the war lords, or in the palpable lies, which may be traced readily to their unsubtle origin upon investigation, about the propitious measures of the United States, the care of her soldiers, and the work of the Red Cross and other war organizations. These are the points that must be watched carefully. The attainment of the end of any of these features of the Hun propaganda entails a sapping of the morale both of the army in the field and the army behind the lines, that is more important to the cause of Pan-Germanism than the most far reaching military success.

Every American must constitute himself a censor in these affairs, and, if not advised as to the real facts, he must at least keep his silence in respect to reports that circulate of which might be capillary to the success of the German aims.

Fighting Under Two Flags

By J. W. PEGLER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second installment of Pegler's story of the heroic American Legion of the Ontario, with particular reference to two leading spirits of the legion, Lieut. Col. Richard H. Griffin and Maj. Alexander Rasmussen. The third installment will appear Friday.

The crowding disgrace awaited the soldiers of the American-Canadian Legion in England. Soon after they arrived in a finishing-camp their colonel, formerly an American officer, was arrested on charges of embezzlement. Then the legion was pooled in a big military reservoir and thereby lost all chance ever to fight in the line as an American unit. Drafts went out to reinforce the Princess Patricia's, the Thirty-eight battalion and the R. C. E.'s.

Rasmussen and other brave men who have since been killed were willing to stake anything on the honor of the accused colonel. He was their friend—they believed in him, respected him and were sure that his fall was due to the political jobbery and jealousy of another American-Canadian officer of high rank who had led the American army many years before.

To this day that other officer never has been to the front except for an occasional "Cooks Tour" of inspection. Rasmussen was bitter when I told him innocently one day last winter that the other was still safe in his dog's den in London, but claiming he had been wounded.

"Wounded hell!" exploded Rasmussen. "Do you know where he got that wound? That old liar!" "I'll tell you. He was wounded in the Battle of London—showing off his top pistol to another embezzler."

His Chaplin moustache bristled out like a brunette tooth-brush. Rasmussen finally got out to France—

"OUTWITTING THE HUN" BY LIEUTENANT PAT O'BRIEN

(Chapter XVIII continued) Of course, there was only one thing to do and that was to obey orders. I was an officer in the army and the king was my commander in chief. I had to go, and so I sat down and sent off the following answer: "Earl Cromer, Buckingham Palace, London: "I will attend Buckingham palace as directed, Friday, December 27, at 10:30.

"LIBERTY PAT O'BRIEN." In the interval that elapsed, I must confess the ordeal of calling on the King of England seemed to me dreadfully every day, and really believed I would rather have spent another day in the empty house in the big city in Belgium or, say, two more days at Courtville, than to go through what I believe to be the most ghastly of Orders were orders, however, and there was no way of getting out of it. As it turned out, it wasn't half as bad as I had feared—on the contrary, it was one of the most agreeable experiences of my life.

CHAPTER XIX. I Am Presented to the King. When the dreary 7th of December arrived, I had to taxi and in as much as I could, I would have driven me to Buckingham palace, as though I was paying my regular morning call on the king. My friend's version of this incident, I have since heard, is that I scented myself in the taxi and leaning through the window said: "Buckingham palace" whereupon the taxi driver got down, opened the door and exclaimed threateningly: "If you do get out quietly and check your drunken talk, I'll follow you call a bully, bill me, or I won't!"

But I can only give my word that nothing of the kind occurred. "When I arrived at the palace gate, the sentry on guard asked me who I was and then let me pass at once up to the front entrance of the palace. There I was met by an elaborately uniformed and equally elaborately decorated officer, who, after a long row of medals he wore, must have seen long and distinguished service for the king.

I was relieved of my overcoat, but I sick and conducted up a long staircase where I was turned over to another functionary, who led me to the reception room of Earl Cromer, the king's secretary.

There I was introduced to another earl and a duke, whose name I do not remember, but who was becoming better known in fact, that it is a wonder that I remember as much as I do of this eventful day.

I had heard many times that before being presented to the king a man is to be cradled carefully as to just how he is to act and what he is to say and do, and all this time I was wondering when this drilling would commence. I certainly had no idea that it was to be such a simple thing. Perhaps the king did it only to give me confidence and as a sort of rehearsal for the main performance, which was scheduled to take place much sooner than I expected.

I had barely completed my story when the door opened and an attendant entered and announced: "The king will receive Lieutenant O'Brien."

It had announced that the king was to be met back to Courtville, my heart could have sunk deeper. Earl Cromer beckoned me to follow him and we went into a large room, where I supposed I was at last to receive my coaching. But I observed that the earl boy to a man standing there and realized that I was standing in the presence of the king of England.

"Your majesty, Lieutenant O'Brien," the earl announced, and then immediately backed from the room. I believed I would have followed right behind him, but by that time the king had by the hand and he spoke so that he put me at my ease at once.

"He then asked me how I felt and whether I was in a condition to converse, and when I told him I was, he said he would be very much pleased that he put me at my ease at once.

"I have heard that you had been captured by the Germans," he said, "and I was very glad to hear that you were an American." I heard that the Germans had threatened to shoot Americans serving in the British army if they captured them, classing them as murderers, because America was a neutral country and Americans had no right to mix in the war. Did you find that to be the case?"

I told him that I had heard similar reports but that I did not notice any appreciable difference in my treatment from that accorded Britishers. The king declared that he believed my escape was due to my pluck and will power and that it was one of the most remarkable escapes he had ever heard of, which I thought was quite a compliment, coming as it did from the king of England. "I hope that all the Americans will give as good an account of themselves as you have, lieutenant," he said, "and I feel quite sure they will. I fully appreciate all the services rendered us by Americans before the States entered the war." At this moment I asked him if I was taking too much time. "Not at all, lieutenant, not at all," he replied, most cordially. "I was extremely interested in the brief report that came to me of your wonderful escape and I sent for you because I wanted to hear the whole story firsthand, and I'm very glad you were able to come."

I had not expected to remain more than a few minutes, as I understood that four minutes is considered a long audience with the king. Fifty-two minutes elapsed before I finally left there.

During all this time I had done most of the talking in response to the king's request to tell my story. Occasionally I was interrupted to ask a question about a point he wanted me to explain clearly, but for the most part he was content to play the part of a listener.

He seemed to be very kind on everything and when I described some of the tight holes I got into during my escape he evinced his sympathy. Occasionally he asked questions of the few humorous incidents of my adventures and in every instance he laughed heartily.

Altogether the impression I got of him was that he is a very genial, generous and alert sovereign. I have felt more ill at ease when talking to a monarch than when speaking to the king—but perhaps I had more cause to.

During the whole interview it was left entirely silent, which I perceived to be significant of the democratic manner of the present king of England, and I certainly came away with the utmost respect for him.

In all my conversation, I recalled several times I never addressed the king as "Your Majesty," but used the military "sir." As I was a British officer and he was the head of the army, he probably appreciated this manner of address more than if I had used the usual "Your Majesty." Perhaps he attributed it to the fact that I was not an American. At any rate, he didn't evince any displeasure at my departure from what I understood to be the usual form of address.

Before I left he asked me what my plans for the future were. "I'm sorry, sir," I hastie to reply my squadron at the earliest possible moment," I replied.

MAY MEET THRESHERS OF OTHER COUNTIES

Captain R. M. White, Conducting School Here, Applies for Permission to Stay Logger in Idaho

Captain R. M. White, representative of the threshers school in grain corporation, United States food administration, who is conducting sessions of the threshers' school in Twin Falls county this week, to the end that the grain crop of this county may be handled with the maximum of efficiency and economy, has asked for permission to conduct similar schools in adjoining counties as soon as the sessions here be completed.

The opening session at Elmer Wednesday afternoon was attended by 44 persons, mostly threshers, who were completely won to the plan and methods of instruction employed by the government in these schools.

Captain White, who is a veteran of the Spanish American war and former commander of a National Guard company retired on account of physical disability, is a practical farmer owning and operating a large ranch in the state of Texas and he has operated threshing machinery for more than 20 years past.

Canning Clubs

A conservative estimate by the highest authority is that 700,000 cans of vegetables were shipped into Twin Falls county last year. Think for a moment what this startling fact means. It means that many thousands of dollars of good Twin Falls money is being sent to other states and localities. It means that many tons of shipping are being used needlessly in bringing into this county products that grow and waste in unlimited quantities on the Twin Falls tract. It means that the people of this county are not doing their share in conserving this vast store of food stuff and that they are paying an army of workers who might just as well be employed in other work.

In a view of the facts that the world faces a food shortage, that every live acre is needed for patriotic service, that every ton of shipping is needed, can you let this waste go on? Serve your government in your spare hours.

W. T. McCall, State Club Leader, has spent several days in the county this week in the interest of club work. He expresses much satisfaction in the growth and development of club activities throughout the state.

How The Bayonet Lost a Great Battle

BAYONETS, first made at Bayonne, France, whence they get their name, to begin, were almost as dangerous to the army with them as to its foe.

Fashioned with a solid butt, to be jammed into the muzzle, it rendered a gun useless for firing.

The butt was soon changed to a socket, but not before the new fashioned bayonet brought the English army to grief at Killcrankie.

The English soldier found the bayonet a poor fit, hard to get into his gun; and when he got it in, hard to get out. When he had to bayonet, he couldn't bayonet; when he had to shoot, he couldn't shoot.

GOODRICH SERVICE VALUE TIRES

The bayonet experiment gave the Scots the battle. To safeguard tire users against the chance of experiment, Goodrich Test Car Fleets put the road test to Goodrich Tire, to make them in word and deed SERVICE VALUE TIRES.

Goodriches both one tire value, SERVICE VALUE—That is, what a tire proves it is worth to the motorist on his car and on the road, in comfort, economy, dependability, and durability.

All Goodrich skill and sincerity build up SERVICE VALUE, whether you get SILVERTOWN CORD TIRES, or BLACK SAFETY TREADS, you get SERVICE VALUE TIRES.

Gain mileage, and the security of knowing your tires will not fail, by demanding SERVICE VALUE TIRES.

RECIPES AND SUGGESTIONS FOR WAR TIME COOKERY

- Following are recipes and suggestions furnished by Mrs. Mittie Wilson Roberts, who spoke on Wednesday morning at the Chautauque on Food Conservation:
- WHOLESALES RECIPIES
- (1) Corn Flour Biscuit
 One cup liquid; 2.5 cups corn flour; 3 tablespoons fat; 6 (level) teaspoons baking powder; 1 teaspoon salt. If willing to make as Drop Biscuit, the texture will be stiff better. The recipe will then read: 1 1/4 cups liquid; 2.5 cups corn flour; 3 tablespoons fat; 6 (level) teaspoons baking powder; 1 teaspoon salt.
- Suggestion: In mixing any kind of breads, use milk, or water, or whey, or the water in which rice, or macaroni, or (4 level) teaspoons baking powder; 1 teaspoon salt.
- (2) Steamed Brown Bread
 One and one-half cups corn meal; 1 1/2 cups barley flour; 2 teaspoons baking powder; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 2 cups sour milk; 3/4 cup molasses. Sift the dry ingredients together and combine with the liquid. Beat well, and steam in well-greased tin or baking powder cans 4 to 5 hours; or, better still, bake in the fireless cooker.
- (3) Milk Malt Bread
 One quart mashed potato; 1 cup potato water; 1 cup scalded milk; 2 tablespoons syrup; 1 cup molasses; 2 teaspoons yeast; 1 1/2 cups milk; 2 cups flour. Sift the dry ingredients together and combine with the liquid. Beat well, and steam in well-greased tin or baking powder cans 4 to 5 hours; or, better still, bake in the fireless cooker.
- (4) Potato Balls (3 dozen)
 Three cups mashed potato; 6 1/4 cups barley flour; 3 teaspoons salt; 2 tablespoons corn syrup; 2 tablespoons fat; 1 cake compressed yeast softened in milk; cup of water; 3/4 cup scalded milk; add the hot milk to the potato. When cooled to lukewarm, add the yeast and other ingredients. Allow the dough to rise to double its bulk. Work it down and let it rise until increased in size about one-half. Shape into rolls and bake in a hot oven.

Urgent Plea for Aid.
 Eddie was visiting in the county, and some other children, thinking to entertain him, put him on the back of a small pony called Billy. The pony started off at a good pace around the lot, frightening the little visitor, who wasn't used to riding. Holding tight as he could to the pony, he shrieked out to the older ones: "Oh, come quick and help me let loose to Billy!"

Words Frequently Misspelled.
 Note from the Outlook: "What words are most frequently misspelled in the papers? Two candidates for the honor have good claims. 'Identity'—'led into court'—often appears as 'talled.' 'Identity', for some curious reason, is frequently printed 'identidy.' 'Supereeded', 'ceacity' and 'devoled' might receive honorable mention in the list."

RED CROSS CALLS FOR VOLUNTEERS
 The Twin Falls County Red Cross chapter has been given a quota of 225 comfort bags to be made and returned by July 6. Because of the branches being busy with their regular work, it is hoped that the women's club and the high school girls will volunteer to do this work. Material for these bags may be had at the supply room on Shoshone street or from Miss Crossland at the high school.

SAYS WAR END IS IN SIGHT IF ALLIES HOLD

"If the allies can hold the land between Mosines ridge and the channel ports for the next two or three months I believe the end will be in sight. My guess is 18 months. Otherwise the war may last five or ten years longer. Germany has been preparing for this war for 40 years. We have been preparing one year. Give us two more years—three at the most—and we'll make Germany's preparations look like 10 cents. All criticism of our administration falls when we go over there! and see what has been done in one year's time."

This is the statement of Dr. Lincoln L. Wirt, who lectured Tuesday night at the Chautauque. His subject, "With Our Allies in Europe," had a depth and breadth and height that held his audience tense from first to last. Dr. Wirt, who was one of a party of twelve sent to Europe this spring by the United States, returned to this country just eight weeks ago.

In the afternoon Dr. Wirt attended an informal meeting of members of the local Red Cross executive board in their office rooms in the Power building. There he gave a splendid talk on Red Cross work, presenting many facts that he is unable to give from the public platform. From the office rooms he was taken to the surgical dressing rooms in the Elks hall, and the Red Cross rooms on South Shoshone street. He expressed keenest sympathy of the generosity of the Elks lodge in donating their splendid assembly room for Red Cross work.

"Germany Lied for Forty Years" "Germany has been preparing for this war for forty years," said Dr. Wirt, "forty years of lying and false propaganda. They said they had 20 million to 25 million population when they have 60 million or more. They have some 15 million in their army. The allies have nine or ten million. When we have five million more over there the end will come. France is tired; England is tired; Germany is strong and fresh and strong in the fight. But Germany is far from licked. A fine crop of wheat is coming on and they can keep going a long time. Our greatest ally is within Germany. The German people are being fed on shell cases. When they have suffered doleful and have no more resources on which to feed, they Germany will fall."

In speaking of the work of the Red Cross Dr. Wirt stated that General Pershing has strengthened the morale of the French army that it was equal to a million and a half men.

What Soldiers Drink
Dr. Wirt told of the splendid care which is given the soldiers through the work of the Red Cross; of the magnificent work of the surgeons and nurses for the wounded; for those who were left with frightful scars and disfigured faces as well as the wonderful work of the canteens and other places of comfort and entertainment for the fighting soldiers, to strengthen and encourage them both physically and morally. He called attention to the story or German propaganda being spread about that wine is given the boys instead of water. "This is absolutely false," he said, "it was worried, too, when I heard it. In France, in every county, rainfall has made possible at least a But this is true: filtration plants have been established and the water which had been threatened with boys drink over there—" he paused and picked up a glass of Twin Falls water.

city water. The audience laughed and applauded. "Well," he resumed, with the glass in his hand, "they are drinking, better, clearer water than their parents are here."

"Another piece of German propaganda is that you good women have doubtless received your hair as the women have had elsewhere, that it is immediate and really almost indecent for you to put notes and letters into their care—their hair and other supplies you send over there to soldiers you do not know. Do not believe this. Your cheery little messages do wonders for those boys, the French soldiers as well as our own boys. The Germans know that these little acts strengthen the morale of the ally soldiers, hence the silly propaganda. Brand all such things as German propaganda and ignore them.

Aristocracy of the Future
"When this war is over," he said in closing, "there will be but one aristocracy—the aristocracy of character and service. There will be the sovereignty of God and the democracy of man."

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

CHICAGO, June 27.—Reports of high temperatures in the southwest caused some buying at the opening on the Chicago Board of Trade, with a consequent slight bulge. This was offset by later weather and crop reports showing fair condition. Provisions again were influenced by a rise in hogs.
June corn was nominal. July corn, opening 1-8c up at 1.14 1/2, dropped to that figure after a brief rise. August corn opened at 1.13 1/2, unchanged, and gained 1/4c by noon.
June oats was 1-8c down on opening at 78c and continued at that price. July oats rose slightly after opening at 72 1/2-8c, but dropped back to that figure later. August oats opened at 69 1/2-8c, subsequently gaining another 1-8c up.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The stock market opened with a rush today and the issues generally held up well until the second hour, when trading was confined to those selling below $25 a share. Toward noon Steel common made a high for the week at 110 1/4 and Republic Steel sold up 7-8c to 92 3/4. Railroad stocks also were strong with the exception of New Haven.

RAIN SAVES DRY WHEAT CROPS

R. J. Leth of Boise, field agronomist of the state university extension department and state seed commissioner, is in Twin Falls county in attendance at the sessions of the threshermen's school and inspecting local crop conditions. Mr. Leth has recently completed a trip of inspection through Bingham, Blaine, Pocatello and Gooding. He has made a positive statement that the crops in this county, recent rainfall has made possible at least a But this is true: filtration plants have been established and the water which had been threatened with boys drink over there—" he paused and picked up a glass of Twin Falls water.

POINTERS SWING ROUND AS THE DRIVE PROCEEDS

W. S. S. INVESTMENTS AND PLEDGES REACH $240,000 MARK ON SECOND DAY OF CAMPAIGN

The indicators on the big dials at the intersection of Main avenue and Shoshone street this morning swung to the mark showing at the close of the second day of the War Savings Stamp campaign that $240,000 had been subscribed or pledged in Twin Falls county since January 1. Only reports of district and block captains who had completed the canvases in their territories are being figured in the reports given on the dials.

Goal of Drive
The campaign, which is to close Friday, has for one of its leading objects the pledging of subscription to the county's quota of $400,000 worth of the War Savings Stamps. Prior to the beginning of the present campaign the subscriptions for the county amounted to approximately $100,000.

Results So Far
The block district with a quota of $45,000, at the close of the first day of the campaign Tuesday, reported subscriptions in the sum of $4,750, and the drive in that district is still in progress. This district is the first "over the top" in the county. Other districts are turning in favorable reports on the progress of the drive in their territories. In Twin Falls, eight block captains who have completed their canvases, out of 195 engaged in the work, report a total of pledges and subscriptions amounting to $9,900, or an average of $1,237.50 per block. The quota for the city is $125,100.

More Must Pledge Limit
It is necessary, the drive executive committee states, in order that the campaign may be brought to a successful close that there shall be enlisted at least 100 members of the "Limit Club," composed of those who have pledged themselves to the purchase of $1000 worth of the War Savings Stamps. It is not necessary that payment for the full amount of the subscription should be made at the present time, but the pledge should be made now and payment may be made later. The "Limit Club" has several members at the present time, and the list of members will be announced at the closing of the drive.

Pledging to Block Captain
Transmitting the orders of the government, the executive committee this morning made the following announcement: "No matter to what church or society you belong, pledge yourself definitely to the captain of your block."
Those who have made yet been approached by a block captain are advised to make their subscriptions or pledges at headquarters in the Twin Falls Bank & Trust company building.

Director Makes Statement

A. Gilbert, War Savings Stamps director in Twin Falls county, this morning gave out the following statement: On June 28 there will be a nationwide campaign to pledge millions of Americans to save to the utmost of their ability in every way possible through investment of the maximum amount in War Savings Stamps until the end of the year. On that day everybody will have a big chance to make our fighting forces effective, and to really help win the war. As President Wilson asks, "May there be none unlisted on that day." Therefore, work for liberty.
