INTERVENTION ONE MEANS OF SAVING RUSS FROM HUNS

DEMOCRATIC REGIME MUST FALL UNLESS IMMEDIATE ACTION TAKEN DECLARES HIGH OFFICIAL OF SOCIAL REVOLUTIONARIES

(By United Press) STOCKHOLM, July 11.—Allied intervention is the only means of saving the Democratic regime in Russia, according to M. Lavrensky, special representative of the Social revolutionaries of the Right, who just arrived here from Petrograd. Lavrensky declared that his party had definitely decided on this policy and that all the members of the central executive committee had gone to Tomsk to join the new Siberian government, preparatory to co-operating with the allies in Siberian intervention. Germany is not concurring that her chief aim is to restore the old regimes throughout Russia; Lavrensky asserted, Bull Barreled.

AMSTERDAM, July 11.—The social-revolutionary committee is still barred in the municipal theater at Moscow and is desperately defending the place, a Berlin dispatch said today. The social-revolutionaries, many of whom were arrested immediately after the assassination of German Ambassador Mirbach, started a revolution in Moscow against the Bolsheviks. The latter recently issued a statement saying the social-revolutionaries had been defeated, that hundreds were under arrest and that the remainder had fled from the city.

MURDER BOMBERS PERISHED COPENHAGEN, July 11.—News reports were received here today that Grand Duke Alexis, the former Russian czarovich, has been murdered. These reports said he was killed by a bomb thrown by a Bolshevik soldier.

STERN CHASE TO SAVE MAN FRENCHER WHO TRAMPLED AMERICAN FLAG PUNISHED BY ANOTHER MOB

(By United Press) WEST HOLE, Ohio, July 11.—After having been held in the home of friends near here for three hours yesterday the Rev. E. P. Peters, who trampled an American flag in the dust beneath his feet, was whisked into an automobile and driven off toward Napoleon, fifteen miles away. A mob of more than 200 persons—mostly members of the League of American Patriots—pursued in automobiles. At Napoleon they were met by a mob, which awaited the arrival of the minister.

CLOSE HAIR CUT MOST POPULAR WITH TROOPS BY FRANK J. TAYLOR (United Press Staff Correspondent) WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE—Short hair-cut are all the rage with the boys in France now. "Shorter the better," is the rule. Everywhere you see company barbers working the clippers overtime. "Cut it" in trenches or behind ruins, out of sight-shaft.

There are three general styles in vogue. They are: The "anti-emancipation" haircut. It involves removal of every hair on the head with close cutting clippers. It is "euro-rout the cooties," for no cooties will stand out in the open and fight the way the longhairs do. This haircut exposed what a man has in the way of a dome. Then there's "strong point" hair cut. The company barber runs the close cutting clippers over the top of your head. It makes a man look like a French pig, when his hat is off, but the boys say, "There's no girls around to see you, anyway, so why care about locks?"

Last, there is a sort of "rah rah" type of haircut, clipping the hair short around the edges and leaving it long on top. Fellows who sport this haircut are a little looked down upon by the rest. "They're not regular soldiers," explained one chap with a head as clean as a billiard ball.

FIXES HOURS OF BUSINESS

STATE FOOD ADMINISTRATOR WOULD CONSERVE ENERGY OF BUSINESS MEN AND EMPLOYEES

EFFECTIVE July 10, all merchants and storekeepers of Idaho with the exception of drug stores, soda fountains and other soft drink stands, will open for business at 8 o'clock a. m. and close at 6 o'clock p. m., except Saturdays when they may remain open until 9 o'clock p. m. This is a measure promulgated by the state food administration. A copy of the order was received Thursday morning from State Food Administrator R. F. Bicknell by County Food Administrator C. E. Munson, with instructions to request the cooperation of citizens and of officers of the defense council with a view to enforcing these regulations.

A Conservation Measure The purpose of the order, Mr. Bicknell says, is not only to conserve food but to conserve time and energy thereby promoting greater efficiency in the man and woman power of Idaho. Under the order, drug stores, soda fountains and other soft drink stands will open at 8 o'clock a. m. and close at 6 o'clock p. m. daily except Sunday, when their hours of doing business will be confined between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 9 o'clock p. m. All restaurants, hotels and other serving meals or lunches of any description, shall be required to keep their places of business closed from 9 o'clock p. m. until 5 o'clock a. m., and they must confine the service of their meals and lunches to business hours.

CORCY AGAIN IN HANDS OF FOSCH'S MEN

FRENCH TROOPS ENLARGE GAINS BETWEEN AISNE AND MARNE, CAPTURING ONE VILLAGE—CLUDING ONE OFFICER

(By United Press) PARIS, July 11.—French troops enlarged their gains between the Aisne and the Marne, taking the village of Corcy, of the war office announced today. "On the borders of the Rettz forest the French enlarged their gains, taking the village of Corcy, the station and castle and St. Paul farm," the communiqué said. "We captured fifty prisoners, including one officer."

SUCCESSFUL RAIDS BY HAIG'S ARMIES

LONDON, July 11.—British troops advanced south of the Somme, improving their positions east of Villers-Bretonneux last night, Field Marshal Haig announced today. (It was here that Australian and American advanced on the 4th of July.) "We improved our positions slightly during the night east of Villers-Bretonneux," the statement said. "Our artillery fire was directed at our positions on both sides of the Somme." "Our troops made successful raids yesterday noon and during the night near Metz and Festubert (in France) capturing some prisoners and a machine gun."

THE WEATHER Fair tonight and Friday is the forecast of the department of agriculture weather bureau for the week ending July 13. It has been called into service for at least six months. Three hundred Serbian and Italian officers have been arrested at Archangel upon order of Premier Lenin, it is reported. American Consul Pease and British Consul Lockard visited Foreign Minister Tchetichin at Moscow and denied they had published a secret statement urging intervention.

ITALIAN FORCES SWEEPING NORTH ACROSS ALBANIA WITHOUT CHECK

SAYS SUBMARINES CONTROLLED

LONDON, July 11.—"The submarines are now controlled," Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the admiralty declared today in opening the official exhibition of naval photographs. "Fewer are operating now than for some time past. The depth charge has changed the hunters into the hunted."

MIRBACH'S END IN SIGHT DAYS BEFORE HIS DEATH

ASSASSINATED AMBASSADOR OF GERMANY FORCED TO SIT THROUGH SCENES OF TURBULENCE AND DISORDER DURING PAN-SOVIET CONGRESS AT MOSCOW AND LISTEN TO OPEN STATEMENTS OF DESTRUCTION OF GERMAN PROPERTY

STOCKHOLM, July 11.—Sitting scenes were enacted during the pan-Soviet congress at Moscow, according to Petrograd newspapers which have just been received here. With German Ambassador Mirbach sitting in one box and with representatives of the entente allies in another section, a delegate from the Ukraine, M. Alexanderoff, precipitated a lively scene by denouncing German imperialism and its influence in the Ukraine. "I greet the pan-Soviet in the name of the secret peasant congress in the Ukraine whose regents a German dictatorship and where the Bolshevik continue negotiations with the Menshevik Skhorpalitsky, simultaneously tolerating the presence of German imperialism in the person of Count Mirbach." Two hundred and fifty members of the left chanted his statements wildly, while Mirbach and his suite sat stiffly.

"The Germans are employing imprisonments and executions without trials to suppress a revolt of workmen and peasants, but we know how to fight even if you don't," the speaker concluded. "The Germans have come to the Ukraine to obtain their bread, but they won't get it. Whatever the Germans have landed gains we have blown them up and have treated likewise all military and magazines in the Ukraine." "The Germans sought to transfer machine machinery from Odessa and Nikoloff to the Krupp works, but we blew it up."

"The Germans will be wiped out in the Ukraine. They already have blood thousands of lives for their tyranny. We have had enough of the Bread-Litovsk paper at the price of the Leon Trotsky. We now call upon you to aid us."

Members of the left and of the right rang crying "Down with the Bolshevik treaty!" Mirbach excitedly whispered to a German officer. Members of the left again began shouting: "Down with Mirbach! Down with the lackers of Mirbach! Down with the lackers of Mirbach!" Trotsky then told the delegates that the government was opposed to the offensive of the red guard.

BOLSHEVIKI TO PREPARE ARMY PREPARATIONS BEGUN TO OPPOSE ALLIED INTERVENTION

STOCKHOLM, July 11.—The Bolshevik war commissariat of the northern region of Russia, following the landing of allied troops on the Murman coast, ordered hurried war preparations, it was learned here today. Military units have been ordered formed and the workmen and peasants of the class of 1906 have been called into service for at least six months. Three hundred Serbian and Italian officers have been arrested at Archangel upon order of Premier Lenin, it is reported. American Consul Pease and British Consul Lockard visited Foreign Minister Tchetichin at Moscow and denied they had published a secret statement urging intervention.

EAGLE NUMBER ONE TAKES WATER TODAY DETROIT, July 11.—Eagle No. 1—Henry Ford's submarine gator—probably will skip into the waters of the river Rouge today. The exact time of the launching is not the new type of boat is ready to be sent on its mission. No program has been arranged.

BULGARIAN RIGHT WING THREATENED BY TROOPS

FRENCH, ALBANIANS AND BRITISH NAVAL UNIT LEND AID IN WHAT IS REGARDED AS ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT MILITARY AND POLITICAL MOVES OF WAR—LINE OF COMMUNICATION INTO SOUTHERN SERBIA IS NOW OBJECTIVE

(United Press Staff Correspondent) LONDON, July 11.—Italian forces, aided by French and Albanians, together with British naval units, are sweeping northward across practically the entire width of Albania in what may be one of the most important military and political offensives of the war. According to the latest dispatches received here the allied troops in addition to making important gains on the sixty mile front between the Adriatic and the Devoli river, are threatening the Bulgarian right wing in the vicinity of Monastir, 115 miles from the sea. Objective in Sight The main military objective of the allies evidently is the old Roman road connecting Monastir with the sea, at Durazzo, possession of which would permit free movement of troops and supplies directly from the Adriatic into southern Serbia and would seriously threaten the enemy's hold on a great portion of the occupied areas of that country. Starting at the Vojuzta river, the Italians, with the aid of British monitors, have advanced to the Semeni river, a maximum gain of 15 miles. The nearest portion of the old Roman highway lies just the same distance northward along the Skumbri river, west of El Basan. Has Political Aspect But the offensive also has far-reaching political aspects. Already considerable forces of Albanians, under Saad Pasha, are fighting with the allies and are rendering valuable assistance. A considerable advance by the French in the Monastir region will have its effects on Bulgaria, which is reported to be low in morale. The allies and eventually the most significant angle, however, is the probable effect on the southern Slav nations of Austria, already on the verge of active revolt. A decisive allied victory in Albania may prove the torch that will ignite the whole of the decenterated elements of the dual monarchy. Austria Austria Reverses One of the significant phases of the Italian advance is the frank admission of reverses by the Austrian war office. Officially the statement from Vienna says the Austrians "in the face of pressure from strong enemy forces" had withdrawn across the Bora-Pieri line. Fieri is already in the hands of the Italians, and Berat, the most important city in southern Albania, appears about to fall.

POSTMASTER GENERAL SO ADVISES CONGRESS—PLAN IS CONDEMNED WITHOUT RESERVATION BY SENATOR SMITH IN SPEECH

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, July 11.—There will be no censorship of newspaper dispatches under government control of telegraph lines, Postmaster General Burdick assured congress today. The four expressed by many members of the senate that Burdick, if given control of the wires, would censor all press messages, caused Burdick to tell Senator Lewis, Illinois, that as soon as the wires are taken over, newspaper men will be called in and asked to name one of their members to supervise transmission of press messages. Condemning reservation any plan which would give Postmaster General Burdick censorship over telegraph messages, Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, today launched a withering attack on the secret plan of curtailing empowering the president to take over the telegraphs and telephones. Smith's attack was the opening gun of the opposition. It was the first time Burdick had been mentioned openly in such strong terms on the floor of the senate in connection with the telegraph resolution.

THOUSANDS MOURN AS CORTEGE PASSES NEW YORK, July 11.—The body of Major John Purroy Mitchell, former mayor of New York, was borne to its grave today as lines of silent thousands stood uncovered along the route of the imposing procession which escorted the bronze coffin. "The bell in the tower of the city hall, silent since the memorable day when Mitchell, as chief executive of the city, walked his last steps on the parapet, tolled slowly as the parade wound past. The subway hummed underneath, an airplane dived overhead, the scuff of marching feet sounded, sparrows twittered, but there was no sound from the throng which stood until the last moment of that long procession had passed the coffin which rested on its black gun carriage at the entrance to the historic coliseum."

SIX SOLDIERS ARE INJURED FOUR COACHES OF TROOP TRAIN OVERTURN WHEN RAILS SPREAD (By United Press) SHREVEPORT, La., July 11.—Six soldiers were injured when four coaches of a Vicksburg, Shreveport and Pacific train, carrying troops from Camp Bienville, Texas, overturned 17 miles from here and the Austrians "in the face of pressure from strong enemy forces" had withdrawn across the Bora-Pieri line. Fieri is already in the hands of the Italians, and Berat, the most important city in southern Albania, appears about to fall.

STEAMER SINKS STEAM TRAWLER BOSTON, Mass., July 11.—The steam trawler Georgia of Boston was sunk off this harbor today in a collision with the steamship Bristol, bound from Norfolk for this port. The Georgia's crew was saved and landed here. The collision occurred during a heavy fog.

CONDITIONS BACK OF FIGHTING AREA DESCRIBED AS DEAFENING SILENCE

By LOWELL MELLETT (United Press Staff Correspondent) WITH THE AMERICANS ON THE MARNE—I spent a day among the American heroes of the Marne in a quiet village where even the buildings are scarcely audible. The contrast to the recent fighting was so great that one lieutenant complained the "dramatic silence" prevented him from sleeping.

STORY OF BATTLE OF BELLEAU WOOD REPLETE WITH INSTANCES OF CONSPICUOUS DARING BY MEMBERS OF EXPEDITIONARY FORCE—SPIRIT OF MEN NEVER VARIES WHETHER THE JOB IN HAND BE MARCHING OR FIGHTING

By LOWELL MELLETT (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICANS ON THE MARNE, (Passed by censor)—Here's the story of a thousand American boys in the battle of Belleau wood (Belles Bois Americanis). They composed a Battalion, whose number cannot be given because of the censorship; part of a brigade which cannot be named for the same reason.

May 30, they were ordered to leave Combleux (six miles southeast of Neu-Chateau) and at 5 a. m., the next day, they were on the road in motor trucks. An all-day ride took them to Gandelu (two miles northwest of Neuilly-Poissin) where they arrived at 8:30 p. m.

They were ordered to hike back to May, reaching that town tired enough to sleep in a field, despite frequent airplane bombing. At daybreak they took the road to Froyssin forest and spent the night there.

Next morning they were ordered to Marigny (a mile and a half south and east of Neuilly-Poissin) for third line support, and by afternoon were established in the third line from Neuilly (two to four miles from a front of about a mile, extending from a mile southeast of Neuilly-Poissin eastward).

Bluck to His Post The night was comparatively quiet, but the next day the French, under orders, started pulling behind the German advance. A column of French chasseurs ordered the American battalion commander to fall back. This he did not do.

The French infantry, the chasseurs and a company of Mangab (Colonial) passed through the American line that day. About 1,500 men in all went through.

The third line held by the Americans then became a first line, without immediate support. Through the night the Germans sought to feel their out and daylight revealed that the Germans had crept through the wheat field which the line faced.

A machine gun and ninety men were discovered in a "demonstration" formation, the gun at the point of its damaged barrel toward the Americans. Half a platoon—thirty Americans—attacked and captured the gun. The Germans attacked several times in small groups, always losing men and gaining nothing.

Heavy Shelling Begins That evening the Germans started heavy shelling, compelling the abandonment of three command posts successively. The next day, June 6, the line was kept intact despite heavy shelling. At 2 o'clock the next morning the One Hundred Sixty-first French infantry came in and relieved the Americans, who withdrew to the woods north of Voie-du-Chatel (a mile south of hill 142).

They spent the day and part of the night there, under orders to proceed to point near hill 142 (a mile east and slightly north of hill 142) northeast of the Lucy-Torcy road.

The situation in the big ravine and wheat fields facing them looked suspicious and a reconnoitering platoon led by the colonel himself went out to investigate. They got within five-eighths of a mile of the town of Torcy (half a mile northwest of hill 133) when a blast of rifle and machine gun bullets was turned loose on them from the left. Some dead and wounded was the result. They dropped flat upon the road and immediately heard bullets flying overhead and plowing up the ground.

They came from hill 142 (a mile west) where the Germans were suspected of being, but the first shower from the left could only have come from American troops. A member of the reconnoitering platoon ran straight across to the American position and stopped.

MISS GERTRUDE DENECKE, COUNTY HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT, SENDS OUT NEW STYLE QUESTIONNAIRE

With a view to collecting data upon which plans for the solution of the food situation in Twin Falls county may be worked out, and incidentally as a means of securing definite and general information in support of her assertion that the women of this county are adhering strictly for the most part to the regulations of the food administration, Miss Gertrude Denecke, county home demonstration agent, is sending out a form of questionnaire with blanks for answers to the following questions:

- How many people do you feed?
How many pounds of wheat flour do you use per month?
How many pounds of substitute do you use per month?
Are you having difficulty in using substitutes?
How many pounds of sugar do you use per month?
Have you a garden?
Will there be a surplus supply of vegetables in your garden?
Are you planning on preserving by storing, canning, drying or salting enough fruit and vegetables?
Will this supply your family for the year?
What conservation suggestion can you offer that will help?

WAR IS CENTRAL TOPIC AT PICNIC OF DAIRYMEN

CONFLICT COLORS TECHNICAL DISCUSSIONS AS WELL AS FORMING SUBJECT TO SPEAKERS

The war not only figured in itself as a topic for consideration but it colored purely technical discussions at a gathering of about 50 dairymen and members of their families...

Close attention to the remarks of all the speakers was paid by the audience. It was a notable feature that practiced by all of the women present were engaged in Red Cross knitting and plied their needles...

"Russia has never surrendered to Germany, but the Russian people have been betrayed into the hands of the Germans by the Bolsheviks, who in this country would correspond to the I. W. W.," was an assertion made by Mr. Goldman...

"Soldiers in a good man up to his neck," Mr. Goldman declared. "He needs a head, and it is the business of the United States to supply him with a head to make him a good soldier. The Russian soldier fights not for his country, but for his car."

Miss Malvina Hoffman, sculptor, has largely given up her art work for work in connection with the war.

two years the Russian soldiers fought with one gun for every three men in the army," he declared.

That the United States will find it necessary to assist Russia not only industrially but by allaying American feelings with Russian soldiers is the opinion expressed by Mr. Goldman.

"Perhaps early in the year 1919, after the United States has sufficiently strengthened the allies on the west front, she will send forces across to Russia by way of Vladivostok, and the British and French of the west and the Americans and Russians on the east will start the success. And about Christmas time, I think, we may expect a beautiful big pancake in the vicinity of Berlin," he stated.

Americans must steel themselves for continuance of the war for a long time, Secretary Hays declared, delivering the message of the committee of war workers of the nation in Washington, last April. "Germany is not bankrupt, it is not starved and it is not 'killed,'" he asserted, "but no power will stand the attack or halt of the stand the power of the American people, organized, as they are, for the great task in hand."

The purpose of the national council of defense to supplement its organization by the formation of a community council of defense in each school district or election precinct was announced by Secretary Hanson, with the statement that the organization already had been begun in Idaho and more would be brought to the Twin Falls country.

The intention of the state council of defense to secure men who have returned from the European battle-fronts as speakers at public gatherings under the auspices of the department also was announced by Secretary Hanson, with the promise that such a meeting would be arranged for Twin Falls in the near future.

With the war-time demand for conservation of resources in every industry there has come a realization of the need for utilization of the by-products of the dairy industry. Mr. Frevort asserted. He emphasized the points of requirements for economical production, efficient marketing of dairy products.

As a result of the campaign instituted by the food administration and dairy division co-operating, Mr. Frevort said, the consumption of cottage cheese has increased wonderfully in this country recently. When a cottage cheese demonstration began work in Spokane a few months ago, dealers sold only 75 pounds of cottage cheese daily and thousands of pounds of skim milk were fed to live stock or dumped into the sewer. At the present time the demand for cottage cheese in Spokane has increased to about 2000 pounds daily, he stated.

At the final order of business, the speakers elected a vote chairman for the speakers and to the Sterling Dairy Products company and the Lincolta Produce and Refrigerating company for donation of ice cream for the picnic dinner.

ROBINSON'S

Still Going Strong

I AM WONDERING whether it is the prices on the goods, or the quality of the goods, or local conditions, or newspaper advertising that is bringing business to this store. Perhaps all of these combined. ONE THING SURE, the trade of the store is growing "not a little but a lot." As soon as winter was over the sales began to increase to a surprising degree, but now that "spring trade" is over it still keeps growing with last week one of the best that the store has had—not the kind usual to the dull month of July, but equal to a good week during a busy fall month.

I REALLY BELIEVE that the principal reason for the splendid trade that this store is having is due to the remarkable values that I am giving at a time when many merchants are forgetting values. This, taken in connection with the fact that the merchandise sold is of the dependable kind, and that absolutely fair dealing is the custom of the store, seems to me to be the causes that have resulted in the splendid trade that is coming to the store.

TO ILLUSTRATE THE ABOVE FACTS:

LADIES' BLACK COTTON HOSE Full seamless, good black, medium weight, elastic top, double sole, high spliced heel, fine yarn and durable. I doubt if you can match under 40 cents, certainly not less than 35 cents, but here for 30 cents.

MEN'S LISLE FINISH HOSE Extra strong heels and toes, wonderfully durable. In black, tan, slate and Palm Beach color. Wholesale houses are selling this number at $3.00 doz., but you can buy them here for 25 cents a pair.

WOMEN'S NAINSOOK GOWNS Soft flannel, good quality, lace and embroidery trimmed, full cut, very dainty, in plain pink and white with Dresden figures. Remarkable value at $1.50 each.

CHILDREN'S BLACK COTTON HOSE Full seamless, good black, made from two-ply yarn with four-ply heels and toes and triple knee. Sizes 5 to 7 1-2, 20 cents a pair; sizes 8 to 9 1-2, 25 cents a pair.

The sale of Hosiery and Underwear of this store has grown to such proportions that it seems almost incredible, but these values will perhaps tell you the cause.

SELLING SHIRTS The announcement of good quality Shirts at 50 cents each was expected to produce results, but no such results as followed were looked for; but there was, some selling of Shirts. Fortunately for those who wanted Shirts, there was a goodly quantity, but there are only a few left, and they are just as good as any. There are still sizes 14, 14 1-2 and 15. Come soon if you want any.

A LADY was in the store a couple of days since and said to me: "Mr. Robinson, my husband and I looked in the store window one evening after business hours and noticed some of the shoes that were displayed and saw the last mentioning a price of $3, but he said that cannot be for any of them, I have come to be assured." I will only add that she found it to be true and bought, and a lady with her also bought.

SHOES SHOES Men's and women's white canvas Oxfords. Men's and women's tan ventilated Oxfords. Men's and boys' tan elk skin Work Shoes. Boys' smoked elk skin Scout Shoes. Women's black gun metal button Shoes. Women's black cloth top button Shoes. Any of the above at $2.00 a pair.

WOMEN'S AND BIG GIRLS' OUTING SHOES Brown canyas, brown soles. Good height, low heels. Good looking. Strong and durable, but here for only $2.25 a pair.

SEVEN LADIES IN DOUGHBOY PARTY

AMATEUR SHOW JUST BACK OF LINES MAKES HIT 'ALL DOWN THE LINE.

WITH THE UNITED ARMY IN FRANCE, June 18. (By Mail.)—All along that part of the line they're still talking about the "party at the front with women to it" which the boys of the —th staged. Two—th figures it up, but one over on all the other regiments in a social way, and what's more the other regiments have to admit it.

The boys appreciated the doughnuts the Salvation Army sisters had been making for them when all the fellows were in the trenches, and what's more they were doing to put on a "show" back in the woods to entertain the women. The other company wanted to join in, and another, until pretty soon five companies had brought forth "talent," and they called it "candlelight."

Back in a certain thick woods they found an open space about as large as a big theater, and about the same shape. At one end they put up a stage under some trees, and there's made good enough curtains, when moved back

The flowers and branches made fine scenery, and the ground was as good an orchestra pit as you ever saw when the regimental band took the place in it.

No Dressed Gals Doughboys from the front who could be spared were allowed to come back to the woods the night before, so the bodies wouldn't see any troop movement, and before the show began they sprang from over the back of the trees and filled their legs under them on Nature's unsolicited seat, the ground.

The committee in charge had detailed one group to "secure up" a piano. They got one, no one knows where, except they had a German name on it, and it turned out tip-top American music when the ragtime kid from O. Company sat down to "acceptance."

No everyone was happy, and akeed no questions, but just wished he could write up to one of the "ladies" and say, "This is our chance, isn't it?" Which would have started a riot, sure, if anyone had done it, because there were only seven girls to fifteen hundred boys. Anyway, there wasn't any ball room.

And just before the program started with Hawaiian songs by the stringed quartet, somebody looked up and saw an American "sambo" balloon directly overhead. The observer wasn't invited, he says, but he was looking down half the time and toward Germany the other half, and it's a safe bet he didn't miss much of the program.

Quite a Program They had skits, and boxing, and songs, and band music, and, as the star the Halo-Halo Dancer. Everybody thought "Lady Evelyn" really was a lady—with her mincing steps and pullet movements, until some one pulled off the wig and the boys recognized the table cook in B. Company.

Somebody said they couldn't stage a Doughboy show to which women could come and still have it funny. But they showed skeptical ones, and everybody had to laugh with the fun and the antics with the "homiecky sngs," which were popular and there wasn't a single "unsuitable" feature to the program. As the chaplain said, after they's called on the "Holy Joe" for a talk, everything passed the censor. Nobody "censored" a single "cus" word, and the colonel said in the bulky speech he made at the end of the performance, he couldn't tell 'em how proud he was of them because they'd been in the trenches a long time and every doughboy was absolutely clean.

A Good Finale Along toward the end of the "show" they heard machine gun firing, and everyone looked up through the branches to see a Yankee plane driving into a cautiously fleeing German plane. It was almost to appreciate to be real, this American aviator hovering over to ward off prying bodies.

The American artillerymen somewhere in the woods turned loose with their evening salvo for the boches, and with a patriotic song from the regimental band, it was a finish that left everyone fit and cheerful. Then the officers entertained their feminine guests with a dinner, topped by strawberry short-cakes, first over cast in the front, is said. Reports have it, three officers pulled 16 miles and back to get those strawberries in a billage behind the lines—which goes to show that officers as well as doughboys appreciate doughnuts and pies and kind-sness.

After that they had a band concert until dark, after which it was safe to go home to dug-outs and bunkers without snoring boches seeing things, and everyone did so with the feeling that the chap who sang was right when he declared as a grand finale to the picnic, that old "homiecky song," "The End of a Perfect Day."

PATRIOTISM AT THE TABLE

An evidence of the sincere purpose of the women of the nation to abide by the regulations of the Food Administration is the report that nearly 20,000,000 United States Food Leaflets, carrying the message of war-time food saving, briefly told, have been distributed by the United States Department of Agriculture during the past six months.

Before the war a government "cook book" was rarely to be found in an American home. War-time economies and the regulations of the Food Administration have brought new problems to be solved by the housewife, and the specialists of the Department of Agriculture have been quick to spring to her assistance with the results of their experiments and experience.

The leaflets have been distributed chiefly through organizations and by demonstrators who came in direct contact with individuals and communities where practical demonstrations, carrying out the suggestions made in the leaflets have been given in homes, schools, war kitchens and before women's and girls' clubs in rural and urban districts, farm bureaus, and so on.

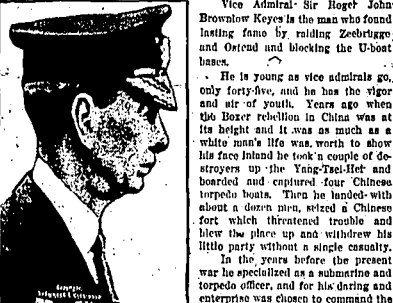

They have been translated in foreign languages and distributed among foreign speaking persons in many states. The results of this campaign undoubtedly will be apparent long after the close of the war, and a more really beneficial menu from a dietetic point of view is likely to become an established institution in the American home.

"Mr. Valentine's fate," announced Esther, as Mattie came in with her hands full of ribbons. "Did you see him anywhere? I'm anxious to have that blue gingham."

Esther caught but a part of her words. She was at the window, looking after a great automobile that was thundering madly down the narrow country road, scattering peas and dust impartially.

Old Mr. Valentine was a relic of the past. Before the days of automobiles, drimmers and motor cars, he and his peddler's cart had been a regular, if not as frequent, on these country roads, as the mule stage.

"Broken hip," said the doctor. "I thought it might be when Mattie pulled up, so I brought Allick along with her to save him. Run ahead and get the room ready, girls. This is no woman's job here—Allick, rip a picket of Miss Esther's hair."

And it was. Everywhere she drove the queer-looking old box of a cart, all incumbered with drawers and closets, packed full of good reliable merchandise, she met with welcome.

CONQUEST OF APHIS PEST IS NEAR AT HAND

NATURAL ENEMIES AND WEATHER CONDITIONS COMBINE TO DRIVE OUT DAMAGING INSECTS

As a result of the propagation of white fungus consequent upon recent rainfall, the aphis pest has been practically eradicated from clover crops in the Twin Falls district, and only bugs, and a sort of parasite are cooperating in allies to drive the aphis from wheat crops of this district, according to Ralph H. Smith of the state university biological department, who is here as an investigator of the clover aphis pest.

The parasite now operating against the aphids has the effect of turning them yellow, which is readily discernible upon investigation. When this condition is discovered, Mr. Smith states, the farmer may be assured that the end of the insect pest in his field is in sight.

—Lives Through Winter—

The aphis pest which probably has existed in the Twin Falls district for several years past, is more prevalent this year than it has ever been heretofore. Dr. J. E. Wodasdale, head of the state university department of zoology and biology, who preceded Mr. Smith as an investigator here of the pest, announced on finding specimens of aphids early this spring that the insects undoubtedly had survived the mild winter.

The pest not only attacks clover crops and other legumes such as peas and beans, but has made an extensive stand this year in wheat, fields and orchard and shade trees are susceptible to its ravages, according to some investigators.

Investigation of the aphis pest is practically an untouched field, and investigators have been able to point to but little in the way of remedial measures. The natural enemies of the pest, including lady bugs, fungus and the parasites discovered here, seem to be the most formidable foe:

—Little Damage to Wheat—

Both Mr. Smith and County Agent Donald McLean are of the opinion that the damage done by the aphis pest to wheat crops in this district has been inconsiderable. In some fields where aphids are suspected of stripping the leaves from wheat stalks for a distance of several yards from the edges of the fields, it will be found that the real offender is the grasshopper, Mr. McLean says. Little has been done this year toward combating the grasshopper pest.

—How to Get Grasshoppers—

As directions for destruction of grasshoppers in hay and grain, Mr. McLean repeats the bran mash formula which is issued upon assuming his duties as county agent here last year and which is as follows:

—Twenty-five pounds coarse bran, one pound white arsenic or Paris green, six finely grated lemons or oranges, two quarts of cheap, strong-smelling molasses. Mix bran and poison while dry, then stir in the other ingredients well mixed with four gallons of water. This should be a crumbly mash. Two or

WIFE DEFEATS SUICIDE THREAT

MRS. J. T. WHITEAKER HER BURNED AVERTING HIS HUSBAND'S PURPOSE

James T. Whiteaker, 241 Second avenue south, proprietor of the Home Dining Room, on Main avenue south, is a prisoner in the county jail and his wife is painfully burned on both hands and arms as results of his attempt at about a o'clock Wednesday evening to commit suicide by drinking carbolic acid, which was prevented by interference of his wife. In the struggle for possession of the bottle of poison, which took place in the family home, the cork came out of the bottle and the acid was spilled on Mrs. Whiteaker's hands and arms. A physician was called to dress her injuries and Whiteaker was taken in custody by Chief of Police William Taylor.

Temporary insanity is the explanation given by Mrs. Whiteaker for her husband's act. "We have had trouble before," she said, this morning. "I believe that my husband is sometimes temporarily insane. I cannot account for his act otherwise."

Whiteaker's statement to the officers corroborated his wife's account of the occurrence.

The Whiteakers came to Twin Falls three months ago from Little Rock, Arkansas.

CHANGED FIRM NAMES

Instances of the unconscious influence of the wonderful secreted scientific philosophy, "The Kaiser, the Beast of Berlin," which comes to the American theatre on July 28, 19 and 20, are constantly multiplying. Here is an instance where a manufacturer was so impressed with the picture that he stuck the knife deep into the German sounding name of his firm.

M. Wicker, senior member of the firm of Wicker & Company, proprietors of the Berlin Chemical Cleaning and Dyeing company of Kansas City, was present in Convention Hall during the remarkable showing of "The Kaiser, the Beast of Berlin," in connection with the tremendously successful Liberty Loan drive. The next morning he went down to court and petitioned to have the name of his business changed to Mid-west Cleaners and Dyers.

"I had been thinking of changing the name for a long time," he said, "if I came from Russia, as did the manufacturer, and we thoroughly dislike the Germans. We don't want to have anything to remind us of the Beast of Berlin, and for that reason we are changing the name of our establishment at East Tenth street."

"Every American should see this picture which I saw last night. It would make every one more determined to crush the Hun."

THE INTERNATIONAL TRUCK

There is an urgent need of rural motor express lines. This is the statement of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. The statement is backed by the following statement of the condition and its remedy, to whose careful study all readers are invited:

The Condition The safety of our country depends on transportation. Railroads are so congested they cannot carry all our food and other supplies. Farmers hesitate to produce to capacity, fearing their products cannot be marketed. About 20 per cent of farm help has been lost by draft and other causes. Farmers cannot haul crops on the road and work on the farms at the same time. Therefore transportation must be provided if our country, our army and our allies are to be fed. It has become a patriotic duty to help.

The Remedy Partial solution of the problem lies in the extension of Motor-Express Lines now in operation and the organization of new ones. Farmers, truck gardeners and dairymen find that motor truck lines assure quick daily transportation to market and enable them to devote all their time to their farms. This encourages them to increase production and compensates for loss of farm labor. Motor express lines afford opportunity for profitable enterprise. Truck drivers should use their influence and knowledge to encourage and assist the formation of such service.

How Motor Trucks Will Help Win the War

First—Relief of railroad and terminal congestion by transferring short-haul shipments to the highways; Second—Quicker and better service to the shipper, including means of making war shipments when railroad embargoes are in effect or cars are unobtainable; Third—Stimulation of food production by giving farmers direct daily communication with city markets.

It is to the accomplishment of these purposes that the International Motor Truck is dedicated. Those who have use for short haul transportation—and practically every farmer is in this category—should call on us and inspect an International Truck.

NO EFFORT BEING SPARED TO ROUND UP MEN WHO HELD UP TRAIN

(By United Press)

PAULI, Kan., July 11.—A second posse started today on the trail of thirteen bandits who held up the "Texas special" of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad, shot three persons, robbed several passengers and looted the mail and express cars.

Fireman R. E. Carter, Train Auditor, E. C. Wither and Mrs. L. D. Williams, a passenger, were shot. All will recover.

The hold-up occurred at Koch, Kansas. The bandits escaped in automobiles. A posse that followed them had not overtaken them today.

Woman Is Wounded

The bandits boarded the train when it stopped on a siding. They dashed through the coaches, firing through the windows and into the ceiling. The trainmen and Mrs. Williams were wounded when they shot into the floor of a day coach and compelled the passengers to climb on the seats.

Lacking the doors of the coach, the robbers rumbled the engine and compelled the crew to dismount. They uncoiled the mail and express cars and ran them a few feet from the siding, where they seized the registered mail and opened the express safe. The extent of their loot was undetermined.

Officers and citizens who pursued them in automobiles believe they took refuge in a wood. Scores of armed officers were hurried toward the place.

The realities of war have never been portrayed so graphically and vividly as in the gripping narrative,

PLAY ONE PROBLEM AGAINST THE OTHER

SENATE "WETS" WOULD STAVE OFF PROHIBITION WITH WIRE CONTROL

By I. C. MARTIN (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—In a final desperate effort to stave off war-time prohibition, senate wets today planned to call up the wire control resolution. By keeping this before the senate continuously until disposed of they hope to persuade senate leaders to recess for the summer, leaving prohibition undisturbed.

A second move, counted on as more effective, is the sounding of a warning that war-time prohibition, unduly imposed, will ruin back holding liquor obligations and seriously interfere with the raising of war revenues under the new tax bill.

Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, as to present figures showing that more than half a billion dollars would be required to get out of bond the 170,000,000 gallons of whisky now on hand. The tax on this is $12.50 a gallon.

IS ARRESTED FOR OBTRUSIVE LOAN

CEGAR RAPIDS, July 11.—Because he is alleged to have said that the war was for the rich man and that the Liberty loans and Red Cross funds were "grats," Wallace Stout from Belleplaine is held by federal authorities here.

He is charged with violation of the Espionage law. It is said that when a citizen took him to task for his remarks Stout beat him up.

Australian Slang

The term, a "bosker time," which the Australians use to describe a cheerful leave home to their birthplace, is altered "bosky" with a similar meaning that was an English colloquialism in the eighteenth century. And "bosky" is still current slang in England, but implying a too generous use of the vine crop. There is one phrase in the book of slang which is decidedly pleasing, "Australian grip." It stands for the best of greetings, the honest, hearty handshake.

Has Long Been With Us

The term "highbrow," used by the frivolous to denote the serious mind, is not, as you imagine, a recent importation from America. It is to be found in the pages of a volume published in 1247—burgh to 1720, entitled "The Rules of Good Deportment." One of the profound utterances of the author of this work runs as follows: "Use high brow or proud behavior whether in gesture or speech, is insupportable clownishness."

WAGE INCREASE TO STREET CAR MEN

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The national labor board is preparing to hand down wage increases in the case of twenty-four street car companies, whose employes appealed for higher scales.

The board is expected to set a basic rate of living wage, probably fifty cents an hour. In addition higher rates will be allowed for experienced car men.

Truly Useful Tree

In Australia cattle and sheep are fond of grazing on the foliage of the wattlebark or beefwood, Cannula ovularis, and some farmers grow it for that purpose. It thrives in California on poor sandy soil and is a decidedly ornamental tree.

Keep Mind on Work

One must make up one's mind to engage the casual work which leads to idle conversation, the most deadly of time destroyers. One must fix the mind on the work in hand, seek to forget that there is anyone else in the world, or any other task that must be done. And only practice can make this possible. But, once gained, concentration will be found to be the most valuable asset that any young woman can possibly bring to any kind of work to which she sets her hand and mind.

Saint George in Bad Light

According to Gilson, St. George owes his position in the Christian calendar to no merit of his own. Born in a fuller's shop in Ephraim, Cilicia, George contrived to associate himself with those above him by assiduously flattering them, and so gradually rose from his original obscurity. Gilson says that a lucrative contract for supplying the army with bacon, proved under his unscrupulous management a mine of wealth, but that he was, on the discovery of his dishonest practices, compelled to fly the country.

Worth Remembering

We speak of our intimate relationships as "dear," but often we make them fatter by our unscrupulous demands. "Love the gift," is sweet, but "love the debt," may become a fretting source of exchange.

MISS EVA ZAINZ

Miss Eva Zainz, twenty-three years of age, a powerfully built young woman who served with the "Battalion of Death," the Russian regiment of women who fought so gallantly for the Kerensky government, is now in this country. Shortly after the fall of Kerensky this brave Russian fighter fled from the country and made her way to the United States. She is now in Brooklyn with a relative.

What We Earn

Few things are impossible to those who are ready to pay the price of labor. No man has a right to an ability which has not been secured by training, and it is certain that such ability will be imperfect and conducive to disappointment in its failure if it has not been acquired by hard work and preparation. There is no royal road to anything, the things we covet in others can be ours if we do what is necessary to get them—what those we envy have done, through their labor was not advertised.

Wrong Action Mitigated

Labille had been taught that when visiting he must never ask for anything to eat. One afternoon he was invited by a neighbor to visit her. He went alone, and on his return home his mother asked him if he had enjoyed the afternoon and said she hoped he had not asked for cookies. He replied: "Yes, I did, mamma, but I was very polite."

Boiler Corrosion

As a preventive of boiler corrosion petroleum kerosene is quite effective, provided the feed water is free from salt. If, however, a small quantity of the latter be present, free by dichroic acid is generated.

Your Awnings

Serve two purposes—they shade your windows and add or detract from your store's appearance. Awnings that fit properly and are in good condition are an asset. Soiled, torn awnings are a detriment. We can fit your windows attractively at low cost.
