FOUCH IS READY FOR ANY MOVE HUNSLIKELY TO MAKE

IDEA GAINS GROUND THAT NEXT ENEMY OFFENSIVE WILL BE IN DIRECTION OF PARIS--AISNE-MARNE FRONT ACTIVE

By J. W. T. MASON (United Press War Expert)
NEW YORK, July 12.—Persistent French attacks between the Aisne and the Marne strongly suggest that General Foch believes Von Hindenburg's next offensive, if it materializes at all, will be directed against Paris.

The Aisne-Marne front is the best jumping off place for an advance on Paris. This is especially true of the northern sector. It is here, east of the Villers-Cotterets forest that General Foch has lately concentrated his efforts to improve his local positions. Today's official French report announces still another victory in this district which may well be regarded as the good defensive area.

OBJECTIVE NOT ENTIRELY CLEAR

ITALIAN OPERATIONS IN ALBANIA MAY HAVE ONE OF MANY OBJECTS

By J. W. T. MASON (United Press War Expert)
NEW YORK, July 12.—Italian operations in Albania are puzzling for the moment as to the objectives which are being sought. The new offensive has come without any warning and it is difficult to determine what the Italian general staff has in mind.

More Than One Reason
Very likely, the first three reasons are being cooperatively. Whether the first and by far the most important possibility, is being seriously considered must be regarded doubtfully until there is more evidence. For the allies to attempt a major advance in the Balkans at this time would be a serious drain on their strength. Greek aid would be necessary to a very large extent and it is not known as yet whether the Greek army is supplied with munitions of war sufficient for this purpose.

LONGPONT FALLS TO FRENCH ARMS TROOPS ADVANCE ON FRONT OF FIVE MILES

IMPORTANT GAINS BETWEEN AISNE AND MARNE ANNOUNCED BY WAFF OFFICE WITH CAPTURE OF SEVERAL MINOR STRONGHOLDS--GERMAN ARTILLERY ACTIVE BUT VICTORIOUS ARMIES ARE MOVING STEADILY FORWARD--PRISONERS TAKEN

PARIS, July 12.—Driving forward on a five mile front, the French again made important gains between the Aisne and the Marne, capturing the village of Longpont and several adjacent strongholds, the French war office announced today.

The French operations between the Aisne and the Marne are becoming increasingly important. Capture of Longpont and several other villages and castles of Corey was reported only yesterday in this same neighborhood, while Chavigny farm also has been taken.

Longpont is a strategically important village on the eastern edge of Villers-Cotterets forest, 13 miles south and west of Soissons and about the same distance directly north of the American position at Dinant. Corey is a mile directly south of Longpont and is one of three miles southwest of Corey. Chavigny farm is a mile northwest of Longpont.

MANY PRISONERS AND GUNS TAKEN

LONDON, July 12.—More than 120 prisoners and ten machine guns were captured in a minor action southwest of Meris, on the Flanders front, Field Marshal Haig reported today.

FIVE AIRPLANES AMONG MISSING

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Five missing airplanes are missing as the result of a bombing expedition, General Pershing reported today in Thursday's communique. An enemy raid in the Voges was repulsed with losses without reaching the American lines, he added.

HAND OF GERMANY AMERICAN PRESS

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Disclosures showing useful huge sums of German money to influence and control the press in the United States, have attracted attention in congress for thorough investigation of the whole foreign language press.

"Fear that German money may be keeping alive many papers printed in the German and Austrian languages is felt by members of congress. Several of them have evidence that German money did help keep some of these papers going for a while after America's entrance into the war. This evidence has been in the hands of the justice department some time."

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and Saturday is the forecast of the department of agriculture weather bureau for the Twin Falls district as transmitted this morning through the local telephone exchange.

PROFITEERS TO BEAR BULK OF TAX BURDENS

BILL TO RAISE $8,000,000. 000 WILL BE DRAWN TO TAKE FROM SWOLLEN EARNINGS

WASHINGTON, July 12.—War profiteers will bear the heaviest taxes under provisions of the new war tax bill to raise $8,000,000,000, taxes on luxury goods to be used by the government in a special consideration. Such is the intention of the house ways and means committee, which is drafting the measure.

The schedule for taxes on luxuries, submitted by the treasury department, is regarded to be an excellent basis for that kind of levies when they become necessary, in the opinion of congressional leaders, who maintain that it need not be raised.

WIRE CONTROLS ALMOST CERTAIN

QUESTION OF RIGHTS OF PRESS ASSOCIATIONS IS ONLY STUMBLING BLOCK

By J. C. MARTIN (United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, July 12.—President Wilson will forbid censorship of newspapers under government control of wires.

He assured congressional leaders today that press associations and press bureau business will be left undisturbed and asked that the senate be informed to quiet expressed fears that Postmaster General Burleson would establish a censorship if given control of wires.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The battle over wire control legislation—probably the last hot skirmish before the measure passes—centered today in the senate about the right of press associations to distribute news independent of government control.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, was prepared to speak on his amendment exempting telephones and wires leased by news associations from the scope of the resolution. Desire for a recess now overclouds everything in congress, however, and it appears likely today the measure will pass before tomorrow virtually unattended.

HUNS FIRE ON RESCUE PARTY

MOTOR LAUNCH SUNK BY SHORE BATTERIES WHILE ASSISTING A FRENCH DESTROYER TO TOW AN AMERICAN SCREENER

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The motor launch No. 3425, was fired upon and sunk by German shore batteries while assisting a French destroyer to tow an American screener to shore, the navy department announced today.

Some of the crew with life belts began swimming toward the shore. Assistant Surgeon Albert M. Stone, U. S. N. R. P., New York, and Philip Goldman, quartermaster, New York, were only able to make the German shore and were taken to have been taken prisoner.

The missing are Charles J. Tatullino, seaman, 6215 Fullerton ave., Cleveland, and John P. Vogt, Seaman, New Orleans.

GREEL RAKED FOR ATTITUDE TOWARD PRESS

LIVELY DEBATE ON SUBJECT OF EFFECT OF WIRE CONTROL ON DISSEMINATION OF NEWS INDULGED IN BY SENATORS

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Senator Smith, today declared, permanent censorship of telegraph and telephone systems had long been a hobby of Postmaster General Burleson, who now saw an opportunity to bring the project about.

Fear of censorship today continued to be the burden of special in opposition. Senator Sherman, Illinois, shared all newspaper wire would immediately come under censorship if the resolution is adopted and from that launched into a discussion of George Creel's action in the senate.

Creel Public Censor
"Who is the public censor now?" asked Sherman. "His name is Creel. If he got charge of the wires he'd be doing something 10,000 times a day, as he used to do in 1917 when he was in his normal condition."

Creel's Yellow in Demand
Speaking of the film department, Sherman said Creel "has noted the danger of the proletariat's taste. He says they demand cheap yellow movies. They were taken down after the war. This troubles Mr. Creel greatly."

TURKS MURDER HUN OFFICERS

KENDALL OFFERS SUPPORT TO ANY GOOD CANDIDATE

PREFERS NOT TO RUN AGAIN FOR SHERIFF—SAYS DUTIES DOUBLY IMPORTANT NOW

Provided there shall be among the candidates for the office of sheriff of Twin Falls county one who, in the estimation of Sheriff Frank M. Kendall, is thoroughly qualified for the position, Mr. Kendall will not be a candidate for reelection in this morning. In the event of the appearance of such a candidate on either party, it is likely that Mr. Kendall will make the race with the reasonable assurance of success on the basis of his record as sheriff.

"I would not make the race against Mr. Thompson nor against any one whom I consider thoroughly competent for the position, but I would my active support to the candidate regardless of political affiliation who I believe best capable of filling the office," Mr. Kendall stated when it was mentioned that Assistant Postmaster W. G. Thompson, formerly a deputy sheriff and former chief of police in Twin Falls, is being urged to accept the nomination for sheriff.

War Ads to Duties

"The office of sheriff, which is always an important one and one best filled by a man of experience in the duties devolving upon it, is an especially important position at this time because of the part it has to take in war work, not only in participation in the activities of the local board, but in enforcing the most important public defense laws," Mr. Kendall declared. "Unusual care should be exercised by the voters in selecting a man for this position at this time," he added.

Mr. Thompson, who is being urged to make the race for sheriff on the Democratic ticket, resigned as deputy sheriff January 1, to become a clerk in the Twin Falls postoffice. He declared he has declined his resignation and would not again accept election in the court house, and it is understood that his attitude in this regard has not changed. It is asserted by those who are urging him to enter the lists that his nomination, subject to the primary election, will be fitted regardless of whether he accepts or not.

Beck's Hat in Ring

John M. Beck of Twin Falls, a deputy sheriff for one year past, as the only man who has announced his willingness to make the race for sheriff so far. He has announced his candidacy subject to the Democratic primaries.

No potential candidate on the Republican slip has yet put in an appearance.

Among others mentioned as candidates before the Democratic primaries, a most prominent possible aspirant for the sheriff's office is Joe Fitzsimmons of Minnetonka, chief deputy state game warden. He has not as yet made formal announcement of his candidacy.

Not Partisan

Mr. Kendall, who has twice been sheriff of Twin Falls county on the Democratic ticket, has never conducted his office as a partisan institution. It is pointed out that P. O. Herzman, who has twice defeated in elections for the position, has served for nearly two years as deputy sheriff. Mr. Kendall, and that there has been a Republican deputy in the sheriff's office continuously under Mr. Kendall's administration.

The young people are both well known in the community and have a host of friends here. They will make their home on Mr. Wolgast's ranch east of town.

HUNDREDS DIE FROM CHOLERA

LONDON, July 12.—Hundreds of persons are dying daily of cholera in Petrograd, a wireless dispatch from the city today reported.

It is impossible to check the epidemic, which is said to be the result of the grave food shortage. The broad rural averages less than a quarter of a pound a person each day.

Help Red Cross—The younger set on Second avenue north, assisting the Red Cross activities of their parents, have raised six dollars for the Red Cross by the sale of candy, fruit and flowers at a booth on the corner of Second avenue and Sixth street north. The children who contributed to the success of the enterprise are Clara Maud Phipps, Max Franklin, Auna Baker, June Morgan and Daryl Beckwith.

COMMENCES TOMORROW

WARFARE CARRIED BEHIND GERMAN LINES BY INTERRUPTED FLIES

ALLIED AVIATORS IN FULL CONTROL

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, July 12.—Allied aviators apparently have attained absolute mastery of the air.

They are carrying the aerial warfare behind the German lines. Although given the best weather of the whole war there is comparatively little battling, due to the extreme caution of the German airmen. Their activities are confined to night bombing, while the British bomb all night and fight all day, when anything can be seen.

The British conduct their bombing operations from an altitude of about ten thousand feet, owing to the halting fire from our aeroplanes.

The British bombers drop down to a height of 500 feet before they lose their high explosives. This makes for extreme accuracy.

A prisoner relates the tremendous havoc wrought on the Behaume railway station, where a British plane swooped low and dropped a bomb in the midst of troops, waiting to board a train.

The British airmen are not allowing co-bombs to cover their machines. One well known aviator has brought down 25 bombs in the last thirty days, his last now nearly equaling Baron von Richthofen's. Another has more than fifty Germans in his credit, a plane which were downed during the past week.

deburg could penetrate through the forest he would have overcome the chief obstacle to this runway to Paris.

Many Problems Offered

Therefore the French would have no natural defenses to their capital. They would have to rely largely on threatening the two German flanks near Compiegne and Chateau-Thierry. These threats certainly would develop new complications for Von Hindenburg. But with the Villers-Cotterets forest in the enemy's possession, the allies' task would be seriously increased. General Foch, therefore, intends to make sure that Von Hindenburg's line remains to the east of the forest and such is the purpose of his present activities.

OLAIM CAPTURE OF AMERICAN AIRMEN

Huns Say They Headed Off Yankee Bombing Expedition on Way to Coblenz

When the war profits tax schedules have been drawn, careful estimates will be made by treasury experts working with the house and senate committees to determine how much they will yield. The remainder of the necessary $3,000,000,000 will come from luxury. The taxes will be based on the department's suggestions, greatly modified.

Segregate Business and Pleasure

TO AGREE UPON PRICE FOR HAY

FARMERS AND STOCKMEN WILL MEET WITH FARM MARKETS DIRECTOR

Agreement upon a uniform price for hay which will be equitable to all parties concerned is the problem which will confront a gathering of farmers and livestock men meeting with Harvey Alfred, of Boise, director of the state farm markets bureau, in the farm bureau offices here at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Alfred will bring to the meeting a comprehensive report on prospects for hay production in the state and nation this year.

To Provide Local Market
The action of this meeting is expected to bring about a situation where farmers will cooperate with producers to the end that the bulk of the hay crop this year will be consumed within the local district.

At the present time the local hay market is in a chaotic condition. Hay can be bought from some growers, it is reported, at 40 per ton, while others are asking $13.50 and $10 per ton, and it is reported to the office of the farm bureau that some growers in the vicinity of Buhl are holding out for 450 per ton.

Production Falls Off
Figures compiled by County Assessor George W. Wilson in his report to the state farm markets bureau, show that production of hay of all kinds in this county which reached 1,017,276 tons in 1917, will be 352,105 tons this year.

Plowing up of hay land for the purpose of growing wheat is regarded as the principal cause for the decreased hay production in this county this year.

WENT GOODS IN THE WARE

Government Is Taking 50 Per Cent of the Output and Seeking More
In an address delivered before the First Good Manufacturers' association at Philadelphia, Lincoln Cromwell, chief of the knit goods division of the quarter-master-general's department, made public some statistics that proved surprising to the trade, showing the immense volume of goods now going to the government for war purposes.

Last year the government paid knit goods manufacturers $75,000,000, and now has unfilled orders placed amounting to $200,000,000.

Goods delivered to the government last year 25,000,000 pieces of summer underwear, 25,000,000 pieces of winter underwear, 25,000,000 pieces of heavy cotton underwear, 25,000,000 pairs of light weight wool hosiery, and 30,000,000 pairs of heavy weight half hose, the last named being nearly double the normal year's business. The glove manufacturers delivered 14,000,000 pairs of gloves and mittens.

For the current year the government has bought 14,000,000 pairs of woolen pajamas, 20,000,000 pairs of 40,000,000 pairs of shirts and drawers, 20,000,000 pairs of gloves, 30,000,000 pairs of light weight wool half-hose, and 45,000,000 pairs of heavy weight wool half-hose.

Mr. Cromwell stated that there has been no over-buying, and that not only is all the machinery engaged on government business assured of steady work for the duration of the war, but no shortage of supply is constantly being sought. Already more than half the product of men's two-piece underwear has been taken, as well as large lots made on machines formerly devoted to women's wear, and it is likely that for the winter 1918-19 the government must have every piece of woolen underwear that can be made in America.

DROUGHT AND FROST. DAMAGE SOME CROPS

Government Bureau Summarizes Weather and Crop Conditions in Idaho for Week

The summary of weather and crop conditions in Idaho for the week ending Tuesday, July 9, just issued by United States meteorologist for the weather bureau at Boise, is as follows:

Moderate temperatures prevailed but there was practically no rain and the drought situation is becoming very serious in many sections, especially in the western and northern counties, where pastures and ranges are drying up and crop yields are being materially reduced by lack of moisture. In the higher valleys wheat, potatoes, and alfalfa suffered some frost damage.

Rabbits Damage Wheat
The harvesting of winter wheat and barley has begun in the early districts of several counties but can not yet be said to be general. In Gem county dry lead grain is very short and poor and much of it is being cut for hay. Thousands of acres of dry farm wheat have been destroyed by rabbits in Missoula county. Growing wheat in the irrigated districts is filling well and ripening slowly. Aphids are damaging the crop some in Twin Falls, Payette, and Canyon counties. Oats are heading and except where the crop is suffering by reason of drought, they look very promising.

The first cutting of alfalfa is mostly the stock, except in the late sections. The crop is generally good, possibly a bit better than anticipated. In the irrigated meadows the second crop is growing fine, and in a few places the second cutting is beginning.

Blockmen Head Rain
The range is deteriorating, except in the more elevated portions, but so far stock continues to hold up well in most sections. However, unless the situation is improved by rains within the next two weeks, farmers in the northern counties will be forced to sell off stock on account of lack of feed.

In Payette valley apricots are ripening and peaches and apples are looking good. In the northern counties apples are dropping badly.

Gardens and truck crops continue to make good progress. Commercial beans and sugar beets are in fair to good condition. Potatoes are growing fast, except in localities affected by frost. Aphids are playing havoc with the melon crop in Payette county.

How Uniform Wage Scale Helps War Labor Situation

BUHL MAN OUTLINES MEASURES ADOPTED TO PREVENT WANTON WASTE AND INEFFICIENT CONDITIONS TO HANDICAP FOOD PRODUCTION

(By LUKE V. BOUNNER, Buhl)

(Written and published by the request of the Buhl Auxiliary Council of Defense.)

"What's now or any you fellows looking for work?"
"Well, say 'Old Straw Stack' we might take on a little if your patch suits us—is your ranch flat?"
"Well, now, since you mention it, 'Straw Stack' as how it is a bit rolling, but we can look it over won't you?"
"Now I calculated you'd be askin' that, and in my neck of the woods I reckon you're right." "But three plunks a day, but now's as how I am a little shy on help, I be willing to pay you four dollars a day and board with chickens dinner."

"Tell you what will do 'Caplain' make it four and a half and we will take you on—for a couple of square any way." (This last in an aside to his opponent of the freeze out group.)

The sequel to the above being that Jones' neighbor called him to five dollars a day and the flatters continue to float.

The incidents as chronicled above may or may not have actually taken place, but it very vividly and realistically depicts the unsettled and chaotic conditions which confronted the employer of farm labor during the harvest of 1917.

Further Effort Required

The weather was pointing a good deal in that direction at the writing of this in the western part of Twin Falls county and parts of the state though labor conditions generally are a great deal better than last year because of the powerful influences and cooperation of the western and the organized efforts to secure the recognition of the employers of farm labor to prevent a repetition of last year's inefficient conditions.

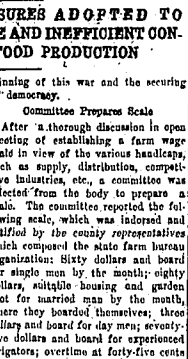

In order to understand what has been done and what will be done to prevent such wasteful and utterly inefficient conditions to handicap food production during the balance of 1918, and the means used to supply and distribute farm labor, the following summary will not be out of place.

By February of this year under instructions from the United States government, farm bureaus had been organized in nearly every county in the state and in that same year a survey was made for the presidents of the county farm bureaus of Idaho to organize a state farm bureau which was done in January at Idaho Falls, Idaho.

First January of this state farm bureau after organizing was the considering the possibility and advisability of establishing a universal farm labor scale. For this a meeting was called at Gooding February 11. It was attended by representatives from 25 to a popular scale because of the wide representation of territory which was represented by such a body. The advisability of such a scale was obvious from the pulse of the farmers well supported by two reasons, first, it would be productive of contentment among the laborers in so far as no community would be a better place to work as the wages would be the same. It is an unquestionable fact that the desire to find a place where more wages are paid causes more floating of farm labor than all other reasons combined. Thus if a universal scale was adopted and enforced by the farmers, the farmers would probably be content to remain till the wage was finished, because he would have no qualms as to his pal of the box car jump over in the next county making higher wages than he.

Obviously when a man is rambling all over the country trying to find higher wages, he is not producing much food, which brings us to the second reason why a universal wage scale is advisable. That is, efficiency of farm labor the very first principle of farmers would explain there is any efficiency in breaking in a new crew every morning, but most of us do realize that high efficiency means toward this winning of this war and the securing of democracy.

Committee Prepares Scale
After a thorough discussion in open meeting of establishing a farm wage scale in view of the various handicaps, such as supply, distribution, competitive industries, etc., a committee was selected from the body to prepare a scale. The committee reported the following scale, which was indorsed and ratified by the county representatives which composed the state farm bureau organization: Sixty dollars and board for single men by the month; eighty dollars, multiple housing and garden spot for married men by the month, where they boarded themselves; three dollars and board for day men; twenty-five dollars and board for experienced irrigators; overtime at forty-five cents per hour and deductions allowable for lost time. (This scale has since been amended to permit the payment of three and a half dollars to stackers.)

This scale was considered by that body to be absolutely fair and practical to both employer and laborer and was arrived at after an unbiased consideration of present conditions, wages paid during the last several years to farm labor both in Idaho and the northwest states, and many years' experience of the laborers and employers of labor.

Later this scale was ratified by the executive boards of the various county farm bureaus.

Since then the northwest states have all adopted scales of wages identical with that in Idaho. In many cases, however, some say the scale in Idaho will drive the laborers out of the state, but pray tell me where they will better their wages or conditions when other states are paying the same wages.

Seventy-Five Per Cent Stick

Since February every effort has been made to secure the farmers' agreement to this scale, and I think I can safely say that in Idaho fully seventy-five per cent of the farmers have endorsed this scale and in some communities nearly one cent of the farmers have signed a pledge to abide thereto, which fact surely must redound to prove the advisability and justness of such a scale.

The objection has been raised that labor is not consulted in the adjustment of this scale. In a way that is true, but as farm labor was not in any way organized they had no accredited representatives with whom we could communicate. However, at the Gooding meeting there were a number of laborers present and they did have an opportunity to participate in the deliberations.

Farmer A says the scale is too low.

MICKIE SAYS
"BUN-LEAVE ME! IF WHO GET UP SOME OF THIS COPY JUST LIKE IT COMES BY, WITHOUT MAKING UP COULDNESS NEED NUTHIN', SOME OF THE INTELLECTUAL LIGHTS AROUND 'THERE HERE NECK OF THE WOODS' LOSE THEIR REPUTATIONS FOR BEIN' EDUCATED!"

him is an officer who demands if he is looking for work. He has an aversion to being run in, and being about broke of course wants work. He reports to the bandicut labor agency, which is the Farm Bureau office, and is told he can be placed at once at Farm Bureau wages. As he has probably just left a logging camp, where, as construction camp, where after deducting for board, hospital fees, etc., he was only netting three dollars or less, he makes no kick on the wages. If he refuses to work for them of course he is dealt with as a stinker by the defense council, so of course he goes to work. In a day or so he hears Farmer A is paying three dollars and a half, so he pulls up stakes and moves. Of course Farmer A is outbidding Farmer A to the tune of a half dollar for the same work, so "Easy Larry" keeps on moving and losing time and production every move. By this time his first employer, although he may have signed a pledge to stick to the scale, finds his neighbors are using him for an employment bureau, so in order to outdistance them entirely, as he thinks, he raises his wages to five dollars a day and board. And so it goes from bad to worse and from worse to the Kaiser. Discontent, inefficiency, wastefulness, foolishness and waste disregard for the principles of common sense in time of urgent re-cooperation. "Easy Larry" isn't to blame. He is simply complying with the rules of the game. He has something to sell (his labor) and is using better and trade tactics to secure the highest market price available.

Obviously then a solution would be the universal adoption of a right and just scale, and I will say right here that it is impractical to change a scale in the middle of the season. If the scale isn't fair as now adopted then next season we must get together and make it fair. Then why do you fire your neighbor's man away from him? Is it selfishness, delay, indifference, or just bad judgment?

You can't make two four-dollar men out of one three-dollar man. In fact the reverse is nearer the case. If there are one hundred working men (with no amount of wages) with only two hundred dollars to divide, you can't make a uniform scale in war times without tribute labor more evenly and make it more efficient with a net result to farmer B says it is just right and along come farmer C saying you are both wrong and the scale is too high. It is then self-evident, if efficiency is to be promoted by co-operation, then an average must be agreed upon.

In the meantime various urgency laws and ordinances have been enacted to prevent idleness and to help speed up production. Also the defense council has constituted advisory boards are seeing to it that these urgency laws are enforced and that every able-bodied man is either working or wearing a uniform for Uncle Sam's. They stand only to deal harshly with the idlers, the stackers, or those who give aid and comfort to the enemy.

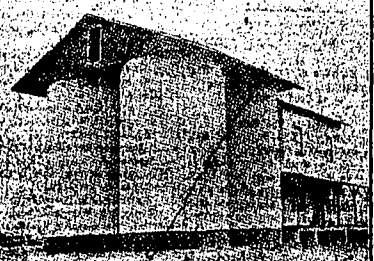

On Trail of "Easy Larry"
Now let us follow "Easy Larry" from the time he unspools himself from the running gear of a box car. About the first thing which confronts

American Fighting Record Will Go Down In History

STORY OF BATTLE OF BELLEAU WOOD REPLET WITH INSTANCES OF CONSPICUOUS DARING BY MEMBERS OF EXPEDITIONARY FORCE—SPIRIT OF MEN NEVER VARIES WHETHER THE JOB IN HAND BE MARCHING OR FIGHTING

(Continued from yesterday) By LOWELL MELLERTY (United Press Staff Correspondent) THE AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE (MAINE) (Passed by the General)—They did so, moving down toward Lucy and advancing on Belleau wood. (Lucy is just west of the southern point of Belleau Wood—now the Belleau Amphitheatre—which extends about a mile and a half northward, nearly to the village of Dolens.) They combed the ravine on the right of the road as they went and collected 140 prisoners. The movement was made in a double wave, the first line in skirmish formation; the second, organized in squads carrying grenades, rifles and automatic rifles. The skirmishers fired from the hip—something new for the Germans—they fired accurately, as the battle showed. Most of the enemy machine guns, however, were taken in hand-to-hand fights. The German machine gunners shot like hell till our bayonets were close by," said one member of the battalion, "then—kamorah!"

Picks and Shovels Win Thirty-five German infantrymen on the other hand, surrendered to a pick and shovel gang of fifteen men.

In the afternoon the Germans started shelling the advancing Americans. "I said one member of the battalion was uncomfited. Reaching their designated objective they found the battalion with which they were expected to connect on the right was not there. This apparently was due to a fault in the maps on which the advance was ordered. To make the position safe it was necessary after extending the line on the right to occupy the ground previously shown by the map to be in the possession of other Americans, to attack again on the left.

More prisoners and machine guns were taken in this attack. The battalion was then ordered to withdraw on the left. This apparently was due to a fault in the maps on which the advance was ordered. To make the position safe it was necessary after extending the line on the right to occupy the ground previously shown by the map to be in the possession of other Americans, to attack again on the left.

THE CONSOLER

By AGNES G. BROGAN. (Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.) The youth in sailor uniform paced gloomily up and down. At length, with a despondent posture, he stood looking out to where the water rippled in the sunlight. How he had dreaded a short time ago the sailing of that great vessel which should carry him to fight for his country! Not that Ned Seaton was a coward! His very being drilled at the privilege of service, but there was the sorrow of leaving Honor behind; Honor, whose name had proved a bitter mockery.

Always she had seemed to belong to him, back from kindergarten days, and each transforming year had but made her more desirable. How proud she had been when he had called in the navy! What plans they had made together for his triumphant return! Honor was to be the guiding star of his absent existence, the reward of war's toil. And now—only last night unexpectedly and cruelly, he had read of her death.

She had hastily married a soldier departing for France. Ned knew the fellow well, but no one had suspected attachment between "Beaton's sweetheart" and Jack Toward.

"Good-bye, thank you," he murmured, discouragement tugging at his heart. If only he might be called to fierce, all-absorbing battle; instead of this unbearable silent waiting. "Remember me to the young man," he was unaware of a girl at the wheel until her voice challenged him.

"Of duty," she called pleasantly. "Would you like a spin down the river?" The invitation was an unusual, yet familiar one. It had become an established custom for passing automobilists to pick up soldiers or sailors along the route, carrying them for an hour. But it was not often that a solitary girl driver gave the invitation.

"I just dropped a grateful soldier a few miles below," she said. Ned Seaton shook his disconsolate head. "No, thank you," he answered. But the girl persisted.

"It will do you good," she suggested, "and I was going to ask afterward, to be shown through the barracks."

"I have been awaiting you," she continued, "for some time, waiting for you to appear. You had the appearance of being about to commit suicide."

"Ned stared. "You know me, then?" she questioned. "It is strange that I should have forgotten meeting you."

"You haven't forgotten," the girl replied, "we have never met, yet I am more in your confidence perhaps than your nearest friend. If you ever, please, would accept of my company, I should be glad to see you."

"Ned stared. "You know me, then?" she questioned. "It is strange that I should have forgotten meeting you."

THE MOST AMAZING STORY OF THE WAR By the Fighting, Laughing American Sailor Boy ALBERT N. DEPEW

GUNNER DEPEW, a sailor of the Legion, tells a thrilling story of what he did—what he saw—what he endured—in two years packed solid with fighting and adventure on land and sea. His description of the Yarmoude with its cargo of human wretchedness is the first complete account written by an American who lived through the indescribable horrors of that now famous voyage. Gunner Depew writes of the German Prison Camps as only a man can who has lived and suffered in them—who has been face to face with the misery of the half-starved men—who has himself been the victim of the inhuman cruelties which the Huns heap on their prisoners of war.

Little Sam of an increase in production. Defense Council's Part. Luckily the exigencies of the times have caused to be created defense councils to enforce laws of justice even though the statutes do not cover the case exactly. These defense councils should public opinion, direct public sentiment and administer public scorn, which has proven to be mighty severe punishment. So we propose that the recalcitrant farmer, the farmer who deliberately hires his neighbor's help because he pays more, be dealt with in the same manner and spirit as they deal with the dishonest, the liar and the slacker. The farmer who inadvertently injures the machinery of progress or disrupts an efficient system, causing the loss of a pound of food production, is on a par with the slacker or liar and is most assuredly giving aid and comfort to the enemy. We intend that the farmer who fails, neglects or refuses to conform to this popular demand for a uniform wage payment will be brought before the defense councils and dealt with summarily.

Nothing in this scale is construed to mean that contracts of wages previously made must be retracted, but henceforth it is your duty to pay the same as your neighbor, which in this case will be the scale as set forth.

T. T. Rutledge of Artesian City Has Suggestion for Utilizing Source of Food Supply

Rutledge of this place, who with his family, has returned after spending several days in the neighboring foothills. Mr. Rutledge states that the number of sage hens in the foothills has increased very largely. To avert his suggestion were carried out, Mr. Rutledge advises that the authority of a deputy game warden should be conferred upon each citizen to guard against unauthorized slaughter of the birds. Mr. Rutledge reports excellent catches of trout on his trip, and states that the range country is traversed in good condition and that stock feeding on it is fat.

BANK PRESIDENT IS UNDER ARREST

FORMER HEAD OF BIG INSTITUTION HELD AS ENEMY ALIEN—PREDICTED SUBMARINE VISIT

NEW YORK, July 12—Julius Piratizer, Hungarian, former president of the Trans-Atlantic Trust company of this city, today is under arrest, together with three other enemy aliens believed to have had connection with dissemination of German propaganda in this country. The others are Andrew Gomany, who was private secretary to Piratizer; Guila van Eler, said to have been a secretary in the cabinet of the late Emperor Franz Josef; and Dr. Isadore Stekely, advertising manager of the trust company.

Piratizer, it was recalled by government agents, predicted in June, 1916, that a cargo submarine would visit the United States, and the Deutschland arrived shortly thereafter.

Simultaneously with the arrests it was disclosed that the Trans-Atlantic Trust company had been in the hands of A. Mitchell Palmer, federal censor after properly custodian, for several days, and that he reorganized the directorate, forcing Piratizer out.

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

CHICAGO, July 12—Strong demand for cash corn had a bullish effect on grain futures on the Chicago Board of Trade today. A persistent rumor that the $2.40 wheat bill would be signed affected buying. Covering by shorts helped prices along. Oats moved in sympathy with corn, as did provisions. Higher hog prices also affected provisions.

July corn, up 1 cent at the opening, had advanced to $1.02 by noon. August corn opened at $1.00, up 1/4c, later gained 2 1/8c. September corn was up 1/4c at the opening, $1.6904, and later gained 1 1/4c additional.

PRESIDENT WILSON HONORED ABROAD

LONDON, July 12—London news papers today honored Herbert Asquith's eulogistic praise of President Wilson during the national liberal club dinner last night in honor of Admiral Sims; General Bidle and other American officers.

Asquith compared Wilson with Washington and Lincoln, declaring: "President Wilson has carried his people with him in the greatest decision of the world. He has laid before the world the grounds for that decision, in state papers worthy to live side-by-side of the most sagacious and inspiring utterances of the most famous of his predecessors."

Urging a league of nations, Asquith said: "Wilson has done more than any colonic statesman to concentrate the minds of Americans, allies and neutrals upon this, our dominating world-wide aim."

NORSE STEAMER IS TAKEN BACK

COPENHAGEN, July 12—A Norwegian destroyer captured a Norwegian steamer which was being taken into port by a prize crew from a German submarine, according to dispatches received here.
