AMERICANS PUSH FORWARD ON FIVE-MILE FRONT BETWEEN GRISOLLES AND BEZUSST. GERMAN ON SOISSONS-RHEIMS SALIENT

RUPPELHOFF'S PLAN FOR DRIVE IN NORTH PERFECTED WEEKS AGO BUT POSTPONED BECAUSE OF REVERSES TO SOUTH

By FRED S. FERGUSON United Press Staff Correspondent WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN FRANCE, July 23.—Despite stiffening resistance, the allied advance continues generally in the Soissons-Rheims salient. American troops are pushing forward on the five-mile front between Grisolle and Beuzet, German, north of Chateau-Thierry. French and Americans are making some progress farther eastward, north of the Marne. French, British and Italians are advancing slowly on wider sectors, between the Marne and Rheims. An intense Galley-Le Chateau and Soissons the Germans are making a desperate stand, and the fighting, following unsuccessful counterattacks, has temporarily resolved itself into an artillery duel as this is called. As I went a mong officers and men fresh from the fight early today I heard some of the most thrilling stories of the war.

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS United Press Staff Correspondent WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, July 23.—The situation on the British front is one of prepared waiting. It is an open secret that Crown Prince Rupprecht's plans were perfected weeks ago for a drive against the British. Everything is ready, including great masses of storm-troops, huge concentrations of artillery of all calibers, and airmen crowded with flying craft. Rupprecht is simply waiting for the high command's cue, which doubtless will depend on events on the German crown prince's front. It is believed that Rupprecht actually has set the date several times. The last was timed to follow the expected success on the Champagne, but he was forced to put it off again. His group of armies, (Continued on Page Two)

MORE TOWNS FALL TO ADVANCING AMERICANS

JAULGONNE FALLS TO AMERICAN FORCES LONDON, July 23.—(AP P. M.)—THE AMERICANS HAVE CAPTURED JAULGONNE, ON THE NORTH BANK OF THE MARNE AND ARE CONTINUING THEIR ADVANCE. IT WAS LEARNED AUTHORITATIVELY THIS AFTERNOON. THEY TOOK 500 PRISONERS. A GERMAN COUNTER ATTACK AT VANDIERES (TEN MILES EAST OF JAULGONNE) WAS REPULSED. THE FRENCH HOLD THE ENTIRE MARNE BEND FROM GEAUSINS TO PRELO. BETWEEN THE AISENE AND THE OUBOU, AMERICANS ARE PROGRESSING, AND HAVE RETAKEN ALL THE GROUND LOST YESTERDAY. (AN OFFICIAL REPORT YESTERDAY SAID THE FRENCH WERE DRIVEN BACK HALF A MILE NORTH OF CHATEAU-THIERRY, BY A COUNTER ATTACK.) ALONG THE MARNE VALLEY THE FRENCH ARE EXPERIENCING DIFFICULTY IN CROSSING NEAR VERNEUILLY. THEY CROSSED AT PORT-A-BINSON LAST YESTERDAY.

ALLIED PRESSURE ON SOISSONS SALIENT IS STEADILY INCREASING

UNOFFICIAL REPORTS INDICATE INTENTION OF GERMANS TO WITHDRAW TO VESLE RIVER, VACATING GROUND REPRESENTING AN AVERAGE RETIREMENT OF SEVEN TEEN MILES NORTH OF THE MARNE—SLIGHT SET-BACKS OF YESTERDAY PICKED UP IN TODAY'S ADVANCE (By United Press)

WHILE the allies are pressing in on the Soissons-Rheims salient from all sides, with varying success, unofficial reports indicate the Germans are preparing to withdraw clear to the Vesle river line—midway between Soissons and Rheims and representing an average retirement of about 17 miles north of the Marne.

EIGHTY-TWO YEAR OLD COUNCILMAN IN CHARGE OF WORK OF REBUILDING CITY FROM RUINS OF GERMAN OCCUPATION SAYS PEOPLE WILL NEVER FORGET THE PART PLAYED BY UNITED STATES TROOPS IN WORK OF RESTORATION

By FRANK J. TAYLOR (United Press Staff Correspondent) CHATEAU THIERRY, July 23.—"Ah, les Americains, they are fine boys, brave. When we rebuild our city, it will always be a home to Americans. We will be proud to make them welcome." This spoke aged Leon Tolson, a councilman of Chateau-Thierry who refused to leave the town when the Germans captured. Although Tolson is 82 years old he took charge of the city affairs and assisted in every way possible the work. Not a building left standing was habitable here. We were being a barricade erected by the Germans, which had food, earth, refuse, of all kinds, and cobblestones to reinforce the street.

WILL FIX PRICE FLOUR AND FEED AT THE MILLS

FOOD ADMINISTRATION TO PROVIDE SCHEDULE FOR SALE OF 1918 CROP PRODUCTS

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The food administration expects to have this in the hands of every mill in the country a schedule of prices at which flour and feeds from the 1918 wheat crop may be sold, which it is believed will guard the public against extortionate profits. About five thousand price schedules have been delivered. The prices are for earload lots, bulk at the mill. It is believed that competition in many instances will lower these prices. It is necessary to add to the announced price the cost of packages. This averages 45 cents a barrel when flour is shipped in small packages, such as two-pound cotton sacks.

Desperate Rear-Guard Action The Germans are fighting desperate rear-guard actions north of the Marne and are throwing in new reserves to hold the allies at the wings. Despite this resistance, the Americans have taken Bazancourt, south of Soissons, and Jaulgonne, on the north bank of the Marne, and only to Chateau-Thierry. Many prisoners also have been captured, and local successes have been won by the American, French, British and Italian.

Supprecht Is Ready Reports from the Picardy front indicate that Crown Prince Rupprecht is ready to start a drive against the British, awaiting only some favorable omen from the Champagne battle.

French Troops advanced on a three-mile front north of Montdidier, capturing Malloy-Rouval, Sauvillers and Anville.

The British gained slightly south of Heloulers and in the Hamel sector, north of Albert. British troops improved their positions between Hamel and Metzer.

Every Town in Flames PARIS, July 23 (4:10 P. M.)—Allied aviators have set fire to Feroz-Tardenois and Fismes, the points of enemy concentration within the Soissons-Rheims salient. More than 32,000 pounds of bombs were dropped on the two cities.

The allies are still progressing at several points on the front and the Germans continue to withdraw toward the Vesle.

The operation north of Montdidier this morning is regarded as an effort to improve the French positions in that region.

Report Town Fallen PARIS, July 23.—Ouchy-Chateau, dominating point on the line between Soissons and Chateau-Thierry, is reported to have been captured by the allies this morning.

Additional important gains are said to have been made in the Soissons region. General Mangin is tightening (Continued on Page Two)

Machines in this sector dropped bombs on various targets, including a railway station, where a demolition hit was obtained on a building."

FOCH LIKELY TO CONSERVE MEN IN FACE OF GERMAN RESERVES

By J. W. T. MASON (United Press Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK, July 23.—General Foch is still conducting his attacks along the Aisne-Marne salient warily, giving Von Hindenburg a chance to catch the Franco-American troops in a position where they might be trapped by a sudden and reckless expenditure of German manpower. The present engagement cannot be judged as if it were a major offensive. It is therefore perfectly in accord with every tactical consideration for General Foch to conserve his own armies in ble grip on Mont de Paris, which commands the city of Solsons.

Resistance Is Desperate.

The Germans are fighting desperately to prevent the allies trapping them in the Rheims-Solsons pocket. The best proof of their plight is that they are sending dire appeals for help which have been borrowed from fighting armies, in an effort to ease Foch's grip.

"The allies on both sides of the bulge are slipping at vital points—Forest, Verdun and Flanders. There are plenty of indications that the enemy is attempting further withdrawals of men and material before he is enveloped."

Plan General Retreat

Alman report the Germans hurriedly preparing for the defense of Forest, indicating that the Boches are planning to retreat from the entire western of the salient.

Bombs Do Execution

WASHINGTON, July 23—French airmen last night dropped 1100 pounds of explosives upon enemy communication lines, entrenchments, bivouacs in the valley of the Vesle, French cables stated today. Enemy concentrations on the Ardre were heavily bombed. Stations at Long, Fimes and Berry-ao-Lac were damaged. The Ardre, torpedoed, filled with troops, was heavily bombed, several explosions and an immense fire resulting. Active German batteries in the region of Compiègne and nearby points were silenced. French planes brought down six enemy planes yesterday.

Road Is Narrow

PARIS, July 23 (3:30 a. m.)—As a result of the allies' bombardment from both sides of the Rheims-Solsons pocket the German crown prince has only a narrow escape for withdrawal of his troops. It was reported from the front today.

"The width of the salient on the Peronne-Thierris line is about 25 miles.

BRITISH MAKE SLIGHT ADVANCE

LONDON, July 23—British troops made slight advances in various sectors of the Ploeghe and Flanders fronts yesterday and last night. Field Marshal Haig reported.

The advances improved British positions west of Hebuterne and near Comel, between which are north of Albert and between Merris and Meteren, on the west portion of the Flanders salient.

ONLY ARTILLERY WORK LAST NIGHT

PARIS, July 23—Only artillery fighting was reported on the whole of the front last night, the war office announced today.

French troops advanced on a three-mile front north of Montdidier (Ploeghe front), capturing three villages and three hundred prisoners.

"North of Montdidier," the commandant said, "a sharp local operation enabled the French to take Mailly. Reserve Artillery and Artillery, together with 800 prisoners."

INTERVENTION IN RUSSIA WOULD ESTABLISH PEOPLE'S ARMY

STOCKHOLM, July 23—Intervention by the Allies in Russian affairs was pleaded for by Rosa Knechtshov, former member of the Russian general staff and famous military critic, in a statement to the United Press. The Volga district he declared, is the place to strike to begin the elimination of German influences.

"Intervention by the allies would unquestionably restore the eastern front," he declared.

"Simultaneously with the arrival of allied troops in Siberia must begin the work of creating a new Russian army, which work must start with a proclamation calling for a general mobilization on the basis of universal service, without regard to class. The creation of a people's army is possible within a year with the support of an allied army of 250,000. This must be preceded by the establishment of an efficient and trustworthy democratic national government, giving a program of comprehensive social reform, ending the masses and radicalizing civil war, inspiring confidence and encouraging obedience.

"The government must not hesitate to adopt the most stringent measures to establish authority of officers.

MARNE ADVANCE MERE DIVERSION

GERMAN PRESS SAYS LUDENDORFF HAS ACCOMPLISHED MUCH

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, July 23—General Ludendorff has accomplished a magnificent feat of arms, according to the German press, and the original passage of the Marne was only a diversion, Zurich cables state.

Commenting upon the Franco-American successes, the Berliner Tageblatt declares that the French plan aimed at the destruction of the German army and consequently it has failed.

The passage of the Marne by our troops was only a diversion, in the plans of the German command and in withdrawing these, Ludendorff has accomplished a magnificent feat of arms.

During the past twenty-four hours numerous reports, preparing the German public for the disappointing news, awaiting them, have appeared.

BRITISH AWAIT DEVELOPMENT

however, is still intact. His reserves being only slightly cut down by Frederick Wilhelm's demands.

CONFIDENCE ON WING

It is absolutely certain that recent events have so lessened the confidence of both the army and the folks at home, in Hindenburg and Ludendorff, that some dapper stroke is urgently needed in the quickest possible time. But with barely ordinary luck the allies hereafter would be able to give something of their own to the trend of developments.

UNDOUBTEDLY THERE IS MUCH HEAVY FIGHTING AHEAD.

But without going into details, the allies today have in strategic positions as many, or more, troops than Germany.

QUESTION ONE OF METHOD

"Barring accidents, it is merely a question of the best way to use them. The Kaiser has over 200 divisions (2, 400,000 men) on the west front, but little more than a fourth of these are worthy of the name 'shock divisions.' Their quality and quantity are now on the down grade.

THE ALLIES ARE NOT YET OUT OF THE WOODS, BUT THEY ARE CERTAINLY WARRANTED IN BREATHING EASIER.

The British are very keen and certain of the result.

MANY FEELS AND III

"Many of the older people were feeble and sick. The rest sought to assist them, but could not do much, though having no food. Finally we obtained a little of the German black bread. It was as hard as wood.

IT WAS A MIRACLE THAT ALL OF US LIVED THROUGH THE SIX WEEKS OF GERMAN CONTROL, WITH SHALTS BURSTING EVERYWHERE, BUILDINGS TUMBLING DOWN AND GERMAN OFFICERS AND MEN SITES TAKING OUR FOOD.

"Finally, on Saturday evening the Germans entered all the inhabitants into the cathedral. We crowded there, fearing a big shell might end us all. We were anticipated being shot, since the Germans continually are suspicious of us old folks. We did not fear death, but trembled for the children.

FIRST NEWS OF AMERICANS

"Early Sunday morning our soldiers arrived. We then got the first news of Americans—their fighting, how they forced the Germans backward.

"When the first American soldiers arrived we could not help giving wild and shaking hands with the fine boys. We kissed them, too, for are they not our grandchildren also?"

"These conquered people are being slowly but surely starved. Their loss of life through malnutrition and starvation during the next harvest probably will be larger than all the casualties of the west front."

Hoover sent the following message from President Wilson:

"The American people will gladly and willingly make any sacrifice in their consumption and production of foodstuffs to maintain the health, comfort and the courage of the allied people. We are eating at a common table with them."

Present at the luncheon were Food Controllers of England, France, Italy, Belgium, and other countries.

HOPE OF PEACE UTTERLY GONE

ENTRY OF BATTLE BY GERMANS WAS PART OF PLAN FOR QUICK END

By LOWELL MELLET
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FLECHE JULY 23.—Der Predestinat is not yet.

It was under that name—'offensive for peace'—that the German com manders led their divisions into battle a week ago and from the consequences of which they are now endeavoring to extricate themselves.

This word obtained from prisoners in all parts of the long battle line re veals the ambitious plans with which the Germans entered the battle.

Little Hope Left

Because of the promise of peace that held out to more than fifty divisions (400,000 men) the morale effect of the defeat is incalculable. The mater ial effect is more easily summed up.
Epernay is safer than ever; the forest of the Mountain of Rheims remains an impenetrable barrier north of the Marne; the Germans must contend there with the enemy's army and if they desire to reach the folks at home, then take-up new positions.

Battle of Rheims Unwilling

French soldiers are unwilling—less wise as yet, to call this "second bat tle of the Marne." They prefer to call it the "battle of Rheims moun tains."

As they analyze the German plan and the thoroughness with which it was executed it develops that the enemy did not seek to storm the mountain but sought to turn it, first, by crossing the Marne, then rapidly widening their breadth. Thence since they expected the allies to be strongly entrenched in the valleys of the Marne and the Seine, toward Paris, they would turn their backs on the capital and move toward Epernay.

Meanwhile other German forces went to crush General Gouran's army and seize Chartres. The two German armies then would join and Rheims and Rheims mountain would fall without a fight.

Town Underestimated

It is apparent the Germans under estimated the a valuable allied force and the spirit with which they would meet the assault.

Some insight into the political effect on Germany can be gleaned from the protestations of a pan-Germanist offi cer, who was taken prisoner. He de clared that certain Bavarian elements failed to defend their position, and "practically accused them of treason.

On the other hand, there are many evidences that the crown prince used many of the best German divisions available. Among those identified are the sixth division of the "invincible Brandenburgers," who secured that title when the Kaiser specially recog nized them in February, 1916, for the

RUBBER CONCERN MUST EXPLAIN

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Good Year Tire and Rubber company, Akron, is charged with using unfair business methods, by the federal trade commis sion.

The commission alleges that the com pany has made special agreements with retail dealers for maintaining standard retail prices. It is further charged with the least possible friction and to the best interests of all.

Federal Food Administrator R. F.
Bicknell has been acting as director of commercial economy for the state, but a month ago personally requested that the duties of that office be transferred to another because of the heavy bur den imposed upon him by the food in tervention. The request was made to the state council and that body agreed to safely transfer the duties to the state council.

'AID FOR RUSSIA' EXPEDITION
GETTING READY TO SET FORTH ON MISSION

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The advance guard of the allied "Aid for Russia Expedition," probably will sail from the United States within a month. It will include a group of men who are to furnish information regarding in Siberia, to explain the purposes of the economic mission going there.

Headquarters for this work will be Harbin and Vladivostok. The Allies are rapidly completing the work of selecting a new force for the economic mission and arranging the small army of soldiers to go along as a protective force.

West front developments are expected to make the task of the allies easier when news that the tide appears to have turned against Germany reaches Russia.

Japan's stand on the Siberian project will be announced at Tokio shortly.

The Japanese embassy at St. Paul says that the matter is receiving careful consideration of the Japanese government.

BECOMES COMMERCIAL ECONOMY DIRECTOR

ATLANTA, July 23.—Acting upon the urgent request of the council of national defense through its commercial economy board, the Idaho state council has named O. Hag director of commercial economy for Idaho and his appointment will be confirmed by the national council.

Director Hags has committed the duties of that office to a prominent attorney of Boise and, in taking up the new and important duties attached to this post, will be required to sacrifice much of his time for government work.

The duties of that office be transferred to another because of the heavy burden imposed upon him by the food intervention. The request was made to the state council and that body agreed to safely transfer the duties to the state council.

COUNTY DIVISION

Do the People of the West End of the County Want It?

County Division has been the all absorbing issue in Twin Falls County for the last six years, will be this year, and will continue to be until the county is divided by a Legislative Act.

The county is, in fact, divided along all lines of social, commercial, patriotic, and industrial activities and is so recognized throughout the state. As a result, political lines have been blotted out and representative citizens cannot be prevailed upon to accept nominations for office; business and social relations between the two sections of the county are strained; the county has no standing in the State Legislature; a chaotic state in general exists.

Why then keep up this farce of unity when there is and can be no unity? Would it not be wise for all parties concerned, by caucus or otherwise, to agree upon division, fix the boundary lines, prepare a bill that would be fair and all that would be supported by legislative candidates of the several parties? By such arrangement representative citizens could be sent to the legislature and the county would be represented as it should be.

We, the undersigned, citizens of the proposed county of Buhl, respectfully submit the above proposition to the citizens of the Twin Falls County and suggest that a conference be held.

IN FRANCE

That the major part of the German war-lords is seriously menaced by the turn of events in France is no longer apparent, but that this war is anywhere near over, or that a further general offensive by Germany is not to be expected is by no means a reasonable hypothesis.

To date the work of the American-French forces has been a matter of heart-felt thanksgiving. There has been an example to inspire the Allied world but the end is not yet and there are many varied elements bearing upon the future of the war, many of which should not be lost sight of.

Writing yesterday, J. W. T. Mason, war expert of the United Press offers an analysis of existing conditions which is worthy of the closest thought. As Mr. Mason sees it, General Foch is moderating his drive between the Aisne and the Marne for the apparent purpose of consolidating his gains and preparing for inevitable German counter attacks.

Great caution is now necessary on the part of the allied commanders and General Foch is splendidly demonstrating that he can not be run off his feet. It would serve Von Hindenburg's purpose admirably if General Foch were to extend the battle along the Aisne-Marne into a major offensive.

A forward movement on so gigantic a scale before the Americans are fully ready to participate would be to accept the German terms on which such a battle should be fought.

General Foch is now declining to be involved into playing Germany's game under such conditions. The Aisne-Marne thrust must be considered as a local offensive, which, however, has already had major consequences through safeguarding Paris and driving the Germans south of the Marne.

General Foch above all has demonstrated that he will not sacrifice his own men on the barbarous practice of Von Hindenburg and the Hohenzollerns.

Von Hindenburg is unquestionably piling his reserves into the northern and central areas of the Aisne-Marne salient especially about Soissons and Ypres-Tardenois, which are the most important pivots of the present German resistance. In this respect, General Foch has gravely interrupted Von Hindenburg's future offensive plans. The moral effect in Germany, of a confused offensive strategy at the latter's headquarters will be very great, coming so closely upon the dismissal of Foreign Minister von Kuhlmann for predicting that peace can not be won on the battlefield.

Von Hindenburg, therefore, will resort to desperate expedients in order to try to wrest the initiative from General Foch.

THE OUTLOOK

More than ever the proposition of politics this year is getting down to a point when a choice of candidates will be made on the basis of personality rather than political affiliation. As a matter of fact the situation is so thoroughly mixed up from the standpoint of the two old parties that it is safe to assume that party lines will not be as figure here as ever before, and this in a county which has been notable for the number of split ballots.

The Democrats of Twin Falls county have apparently decided that they will not support the Nonpartisan League candidates on the State ticket where those candidates are not Democrats. The Republican leaders will probably stand pat on their own ticket. The situation presents so many unknown factors that even a wild guess at what may develop is impossible.

The situation is further complicated by the determination of Bull to again bring up the matter of county division, and while it is suggested that a compromise of some sort be reached there is little question but what the issue will again be fought out to a finish. It will quite be sufficient to constitute County divisions, therefore, constitute the second class cut issue which the voters will be called upon to face, which means that there will be no such thing as party or any other kind of ally in connection with this year's election in this county. Naturally the proposition is going to slimmer down into a question of personal fitness for office and various candidates presented, a state of affairs which, as a matter of fact has much to recommend it.

When all is said and done the proposition of electing a man to office simply on the score of his usefulness to one or another of the parties or factions of past or present hasn't got the right ring this year. What Idaho and every county in Idaho needs is the best man available on the job from the governorship down. Men in Congress who will work for the good of the United States, assist actively and aggressively in helping America win the war and play politics not at all. Men in charge of the affairs of the State who are big enough and broad enough to devote their best efforts to the directing of State-affairs along lines calculated to further the best interests of the State and the people within her borders, with due regard to the rights of all. Men in the county offices who will devote the same attention to office as would be the case were the job one of running a bank or a store.

And unless this program can be carried out and the results accomplished, cover precisely this ground, then it becomes a matter of regret that an election is to be held at all.

Benjamin Slatter of Filor, Listed as Army Deserter is Not Sucker

The name of Benjamin Slatter of Filor has been stricken from the list of registrants certified as deserters by the local board to the adjutant general. Although called as one of the members of the contingent which left here June 28 for Camp Lewis, Slatter's induction into the military service was deferred by members of the local board to the adjutant general. He will be of greater service here as a qualified threeherman laborer during the harvest season, than he would have been in the military service. This action on the part of the local board was inadvertently not communicated to the clerk who placed Slatter's name on the list of delinquents. Correction was made, however, before the list was certified to the adjutant general.

In response to the call to report with the registrants leaving June 28, Slatter came here from Nebraska, arriving here on June 23, and reporting immediately to the local board.

CHAPTER I

CHAPTER I—Albert N. Depew, author of the story, writes in the preface of the book, "I have written this book for the purpose of giving a true and accurate account of the life of a gunner in the U.S. Navy." The book is a true and accurate account of the life of a gunner in the U.S. Navy.

CHAPTER II—The great war starts soon after he is honorably discharged from the navy and he sails for France with a determination to make his mark in the great war.

CHAPTER III—He joins the Foreign Legion and is assigned to the dreadnaught "The USS Oregon" where his marksmanship wins him high honors.

CHAPTER IV—Depew is detached from his ship and sent to the front line trenches in Flanders where he soon finds himself in the front line trenches.

CHAPTER V—He is detailed to the artillery and makes the acquaintance of the American and French gunners who have saved the day for the allies on many a battlefield. Before long he is in the front line trenches.

CHAPTER VI—Depew goes "over the top" and gets his first German in a battle.

CHAPTER VII—His company takes part in a smaller raid on the German trenches and shortly afterward assists in stopping the Hun advance. The Hun line is moved down so they cross No. 8's trench.

CHAPTER VIII (Continued) While I was around Dixmude, I saw many living men and women and children who had been mutilated by the Germans, but most of them were women and children. Almost every one of the mutilated men was too old for military service. The others had been killed, I guess.

That the Belgians were not the only ones who had suffered from German Kultur. Many French wounded were tortured by the Hunns, and we were constantly finding the mutilated bodies of our troops. It was thought that the Germans often mutilated a dead body as an example to the living.

The Germans had absolutely no respect whatever for the Red Cross. For instance, they captured a wagon loaded with forty French wounded, and shot every one of them. I saw the dead bodies.

When the Germans came to Dixmude they got all the men and women and children and made them march before them with their hands in the air. Those who did not march knocked down. After a while some of them saw what they were going to get, and being as game sports as I ever heard of, tried to fight. They were finished off at once, of course.

The former bombardier had been shot and finished off with an ax, though he had not resisted, because he wanted to save the lives of his citizens. They told me of one case in Dixmude where a man came out of his house, trying to carry his father, a man of eighty, to the square, where they were ordered to report. The old man could not raise his hands, so they dragged his son away from him and knocked the old man in the head with an ax, and left him there to die. Those who were spared were made to dig the graves for the others.

There was a doctor there in Dixmude, who certainly detested a military cross if any man ever did. He was called from his home by the Germans at 5:30 one morning. He left his wife, who had had a baby two days before, in the house. He was taken to the square, lined up against a wall with three other big men of the town.

Then he saw his wife and baby being carried to the square on a mattress by four Germans. He begged to be allowed to kiss his wife good-by. They granted him permission. As he stepped away, there was a rattle and the other men went West. They shot him, too, but though he was riddled with bullets he lived somewhere, and begged the German officer to let him accompany his wife to the prison where they were taking her. This was granted too, but on the way, they heard the sound of firing. The soldiers yelled, "Die Franzosen!" and dropped the mattress and ran. But it was only some of their own bullets that were issued every day except Sunday.

These were just a very fair of the things that happened at just one place where the Germans got to work with their "kultur." So you can picture the Belgians agreeing on a German peace, while there is a Belgian alive to argue about it. They will remember the Doctor means a long time, I think. But they need not worry; there are a lot of us who will not forget, either.

CHAPTER IX

Laid Up for Repairs. One night, after I had been at Dixmude for about three weeks, we made a charge in the face of a very heavy fire. Our captain always stood at the front.

When daylight came we were going over, and the sign of the cross and shouted, "For God and France." Then we would go over. Our officers always led us, but I have never seen a German officer lead a charge. They always were behind their men, driving instead of leading. I do not believe they are as brave as they are said to be.

"For God and France."

Well, we went over this time, and the machine guns were certainly going it strong. We were very sore about the machine and the Swiss and all that, and we put up an awful fight, but we could not make it and had to come back. Only one company reached the Roche trenches and got a man of it came back who had not been wounded on the way and did not reach the trench. They were just wiped out. The captain was missing, too. We thought he was done for, but about two o'clock in the morning, he came back. He simply fell over the top of the trench, all in. He had been wounded four times, and had lain in a shell crater full of water for several hours. He would not go back for treatment then, and when daylight came, it was too late, because we were practically cut off by artillery fire behind the front line trenches.

When daylight came, the artillery fire opened up right on us, and the Germans had advanced their lines into some trenches formerly held by us and hardly forty days away. We received bombs and shells right in our faces. A Tunisian in our company got crazy, and ran back over the parapet. He ran a few yards, then stopped and looked back at us. I think he was coming to his senses, and would have started back to us. Then the spot where he had been was empty, and a second later his body from the chest down fell not three yards from the parapet. I do not know where the top part went. That same shell cut a German in the low hilltop before it exploded. He had been hit by a big shell, and absolutely cut in two. I have seen this happen to four men, but this was the only one in France.

About seven o'clock, we received reinforcements, and poured fresh troops over and retook the trench. No sooner had we entered it, however, than the Germans turned their artillery on us, not even waiting for their own troops to retire safely. They killed numbers of their own men in this way. But the ere was so heavy that, when they counter-attacked, we had to retire again, and this time they kept after us and drove us beyond the trench we had originally occupied. We left them there, with our artillery taking care of them, and our machine guns trying to enfilade them, and moved to the right. There was a small patch of trees there, about like a small grove, and as we passed the Germans concealed in it opened fire on us, and we retired to some reserve trenches. We were pretty much scattered by this time, and badly cut up. We reformulated there, and were joined by other officers of regiments and platoons and platoon. Our captain had got it a fifth time, meanwhile, but he would not leave us. He was the ranking officer. He had a scalp wound, but the others were in his arms and shoulders. He could not move his hands at all.

But he led our woods when we ran for the woods. We carried some machine guns with us as we went, and the Germans would run a piece set up, and drive we opened up for them, and ran on again. Some troops came out of a trench still farther to the right and helped us, and we drove the Germans out of the woods and occupied it ourselves.

From there, we had the Germans in our old trench almost directly from the rear, and we simply cleaned them out. I think all the boys were kept as close to the men who made them dead.

LAKEVIEW, OREGON

Dear Sirs:
Fruit of all kinds is produced at this place. Apples, peaches, plums, plums, apricots, cherries and berries of all kinds grow and produce well and have a flavor unequalled. Almonds and fruit will be the coming business of the country. I know of no country that excels in either. Cattle, hogs, sheep and all chickens all do well and are healthy; in fact most of the money of the country has been made out of the stock business.

CAPE COD CANAL IS TAKEN OVER

U-BOAT MENACE RESULTS IN ACTION BY RAILROAD ADMINISTRATION

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, July 23—The government today took over the Cape Cod canal. As a direct result of the U-boat menace off the Atlantic coast and also menace to facilitate coast shipments to New England the railroad administration applied for and today secured executive approval of the privilege of operating the canal.

Funding bonds and leases through the canal now operated by the Boston Cape Cod and New York Canal company will have approximately seventy miles between Buzzard's Bay and Sandwich, Mass., as compared with the sea routing between those points. Also the fog and U-boat menace will be removed.

As a result of the order the railroad administration will immediately increase the present channel depths from 19 to 25 feet, which will permit of 10,000,000 tons of water-borne coal now moving to New England ports to pass through the canal.

prices for porkers during the remainder of the summer, and that there is no prospect of the government minimum prices being reached locally.

The demand for livestock has been heavy. The prices for cattle and sheep have remained practically steady for several months. Spring lambs are now bringing $13 with yearlings at $11. Prime bred steers are selling at $12 to $14. Placing of government orders for meat throughout the United States has been a factor of great importance regarding the sales of livestock, and promises to become even more important in the future. In this connection the government is suggesting that while well finished animals are desirable on the market, they should be secured through short feeding. Use of higher protein foods is advised. Available to these farmers are feeders for high protein food, are tanks and the new product Intermont. The output of the Oglethorpe & Provision company is sufficient to supply large quantities of tankage at the present time while Lucerno, which has shown its merit for short feeding, is the output of the Hanson Livestock & Feeding company mills in Ogden. These foods are more easily available to intermontain buyers than cottonseed meal or cottonseed cake, which must be imported from the southern states. By their use, the western men are not only utilizing western-made goods but are assisting the government by the elimination of freight and transportation.

Utah and Idaho will probably produce this year more livestock than ever before. Partially this will be true of hogs. The world conditions are such that further increases should be made next year and in line with that necessity the advice is given all livestock raisers in Ogden and also government officials that special care should be exercised in the selection of breed animals.

FIRST IN RACE FOR OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER

HANS P. LARSEN OF ROCK CREEK ACCEPTS NOMINATION

The nomination of Hans Peter Larsen, a pioneer of Rock Creek, as a candidate for county commissioner from the third district, subject to the Democratic primaries September 3, was filed Monday in the office of the county auditor by Ora McVey of Hansen. Mr. Larsen, later in the day, filed his acceptance of the nomination.

Mr. Larsen is a resident of the third district in the area before the Democratic primaries in the statement of W. F. Brower of Hansen, present commissioner from the third district, that he would file his nomination this week. Mr. Brower was applicant to the official position he holds May 15, 1916, to succeed Dr. D. P. Albee of Rock Creek, resigned.

Third Democrat in Offing

It is commonly predicted that the announcement of Frank Dyer of Rock Creek, also will be filed for the office subject to the Democratic primaries. Mr. Dyer was a candidate for the appointment to the position which was awarded to Mr. Brower.

As a candidate, subject to the Democratic primaries, for commissioner from the second district, the nomination of C. H. Taylor of Buhl, a former county commissioner, is looked for among political circles, within the next few days.

It is rumored also that Low-Hill of Filer who has been active in Non-Partisan league councils, will file his nomination for commissioner from the second district on the Democratic ticket.

T. E. Moore of Filer, Republican, who is completing his second term as commissioner from the second district has not yet indicated whether or not he will be a candidate for re-election.

No Candidate in First

In the first district, there are reported no candidates for commissioner on either the Democratic or Republican sides. O. E. Carlson of Twin Falls, who is completing his second term as chairman of the board, reiterates his declaration that he will not run for the office.

Judge Hansen for Senator

Some interest was occasioned in political circles Monday by the statement, apparently from official sources, that Judge Lawrence Hansen of Hansen is being considered by the Democratic nomination for state senator from Twin Falls county. Judge Hansen is president of the Jefferson club and was representative from this county in the session of the state legislature.

Formal announcement of his candidacy for representative in the state legislature, following her statement that she will make the race on the Republican ticket, was made Monday by Mrs. Carrie Harper White of Twin Falls, wife of Captain John E. White of the army medical department.

Formal announcement of his candidacy for representative in the state legislature, following her statement that she will make the race on the Republican ticket, was made Monday by Mrs. Carrie Harper White of Twin Falls, wife of Captain John E. White of the army medical department.

With but two nominations for county offices filed and four formal announcements made, and with few possible candidates in the offing, the political pot in Twin Falls county is slow to heat.

The meeting of the Democrats here on July 31 for the purpose of electing officers of the county central committee and of naming candidates is expected to result, however, in the placing of full tickets for the field for county officers, and activity on the part of the Republicans toward the nomination of candidates is practically certain, although delayed.

The candidates who have filed nominations for county offices are J. H. Merkel of Filer, for county auditor, and H. P. Larsen of Rock Creek, for county commissioner, both on the Democratic ticket.

Those who have made formal announcements of their candidacies, in addition to the foregoing are P. H. Crow of Twin Falls for county treasurer; John M. Beck of Twin Falls for sheriff; and W. F. Brower of Hansen, for representative on the Republican ticket.

Nominations in Progress

Probate Judge O. P. Duval, Prosecuting Attorney F. L. Stephan, County Assessor George W. Wilcox and Miss Curtis are expected to file their declarations of public instruction, are expected to file nominations for re-election this week on the Republican ticket.

TONIGHT AND WEDNESDAY

TWO BIG FEATURES
"THE BRAVEST WAY"
"LADIES FIRST"

Jessie L. Lassly presents
SESSUE HAYAKAWA
by Edith Kennedy
Directed by George Bellard

"The Bravest Way"

WHEN a man's wife is fast of dress and her man falls becomes too fond of his fair customer, what should the husband do? Will the worn turn? That the neglected, weebagon, stepped-on, ignored little hubby will get the dan-dar up, is a foregone conclusion. As it proved by "Ladies First" the new Paramount-Black Sennett comedy which will be shown at the Idaho Theatre soon.

When Chester Oostkin found that Mary Thurman, his beautiful wife was accepting too much attention at the hands of Harry Gibbon, her tailor, Chester decides to stop her flirtatious conduct. Talk about fun! What happened when Chester went on the war path, it would be unfair to say here. His comedy is filled with surprises and laughs from start to finish, but above all, it has real human and convincing story. Those rendering capable support are Eva Thatcher and Paddy McGuire.

Fascinating Screen Facts

Not the least distinguishing feature of the latest Paramount photoplay, "Rich Man Poor Man," in which Janette Marguerite Clark is the star, is the high quality of her support. Frederick Ward, the veteran financier who has plenty of money, but little love in his life, until sweet Betty Wynne enters his household.

This is a photoplay of the highest artistic merit, and with a dramatic score for the screen, "Rich Man Poor Man" is a motion picture, which is being produced under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince.

TWO LOCAL MEN UNDER ARREST

William George and Wesley Morton face serious charge

William George, farmer, 801 Blue Lakes boulevard, and Wesley Jerome Morton, teamster, residing one mile north of Twin Falls, were arrested here Monday afternoon by Deputy United States Marshal Job on federal warrants charging them with violation of the provisions of the espionage act in that their conversation and actions are alleged to have interfered with the war program.

Complaint, in either case following investigations of the Twin Falls county council of defense, was laid before United States Commissioner C. C. Higgins by E. L. MacVicar, an secretary of the council of defense. The warrants of arrest were issued by Commissioner Higgins upon advice from United States District Attorney J. H. McClain.

George furnished bond in the sum of $500 to acquire his appearance before Commissioner Higgins at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, July 26, to answer to the charge, and Morton gave bond in the sum of $700 to appear for trial before the commissioner at 3 o'clock on the same day.

George, who is a wealthy land-owner and a pioneer of this section, is charged with discouraging the purchase of War Savings Stamps.

Morton is accused of saying that he would as leave live under the rule of the Kaiser as that of President Wilson and that the present conflict is a rich man's war. It has been a resident of Twin Falls since the city was founded, having lived for a time in a tent in the early days on the townsite.
