Enemy Attacked on East Side of New Wedge Beaten Off With Heavy Hun Casualties

FIRST COUNTER ATTACK UPON AMERICANS FAILURE

ENEMY ASSAULT ALONG FOUR-MILE FRONT BETWEEN NESLE AND SERGY IS REPULSED WITH HEAVY LOSSES TO GERMANS

By FRED S. FERDINSON (United Press Staff Correspondent) WITH THE AMERICANS IN FRANCE, July 29 (noon).—The first counter-attack against the Americans in any considerable force since the last German retirement began, was made today between Nesle and Sergy, a front of more than four miles east of Fere-en-Tardenois. It followed a severe bombardment of the whole line, but was completely repulsed. The Boches suffered severe losses along the whole line. More than 200 German dead was found piled in a single narrow ditch. The Americans captured a foothold across the Ourcq, secured by machine guns, in a direct, frontal rush. The retreating Boches were shot down as they scurried up the opposite bank. How They Did It. I asked a wounded dogboy how they cleaned up the Boches. He explained: "When we made 'em we'd yell: 'Over the top, fellows! Get 'em!' Then we'd run, followed, firing. That's all." There are many additional prisoners, but they decide for machine gunners. The Americans killed or wounded practically all of the latter, who were left behind as sacrifices. An intensified war of movement has again set in with renewed momentum. Armored cars are being used in reconnaissance. When the Americans approached the Ourcq they were first held up by artillery and machine gun fire. A sharp fight ensued. Then the artillery came up, behind our infantry, and the resistance was wiped out. The Ourcq is narrow and shallow. The Americans forded it. The first man across was a New Yorker.

AUSTRALIANS TAKE TWO TRENCH LINES

ADVANCE ON TWO-MILE FRONT RESULTS IN HEAVY ENEMY CASUALTIES.

LONDON, July 29.—Australia troops advanced on a two-mile front between the Aisne and Somme rivers, capturing two lines of German trenches and taking 100 prisoners. Field Marshal Haig reported today. The advance was made in the Morlan court sector astride the Bray-Combe highway. Heavy casualties were inflicted on the enemy, while the Australian casualties were light. A number of machine guns were captured. North of Gavrelis and five miles north of Arras the Australians made two successful raids.

STRIKE IN UKRAINE GRADUALLY SPREADING

LONDON, July 29.—The railway strike in Ukraine is extending and assuming the aspect of permanent according to a Petrograd wireless dispatch which quotes a dispatch for Miklett. The only train running in the whole district is one which only once was compelled to operate, under threat of shooting. The strike is the result of economic causes, together with the seizure by German authorities of food reserves for train men.

AMERICAN ADVANCE IS BIGGEST OF OFFENSIVE

RECORD OF OVER SIXTEEN MILES MARCHING AND FIGHTING IN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS ESTABLISHED BY ONE REGIMENT—BOCHES SENT FURTHER IN RETREAT—POCKET SQUEEZED ON RIGHT AND LEFT SIDES, IN SPITE OF DESPERATE DEFENSE

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN THE FIELD, July 29.—The biggest American advance since the start of the Franco-American push was carried out across the Ourcq, near Sergy (three miles east and south of Fere-en-Tardenois) this morning. Squeezing of the pocket on the right and left sides, while thrusting northward in the middle, sent the Boches further in retreat.

The Americans steadily advanced all day yesterday through a heavy rain. They fought through tangled new paths in woods and mud fields, routing out machine gun nests and pushing on as resistance was demolished.

The Americans steadily advanced all day yesterday through a heavy rain. They fought through tangled new paths in woods and mud fields, routing out machine gun nests and pushing on as resistance was demolished.

Two main points of resistance were encountered—the first at Croix Rouge farm, the second at the Ourcq. Both were thick with machine gun defenses. The gunners maintained their fire as long as possible, then withdrew, setting up their guns again and resumed firing until they were wiped out. The Americans swept forward two or three kilometers (a mile and a quarter to a mile and three-quarters) after disposing of one line of machine gun defenses before encountering the next. Then the fight would be repeated.

GERMAN DRIVES THING OF PAST FOR LONG TIME

BARRING ALLIED AGENTS OR HARD LUCK PUNCH IS TAKEN OUT OF HUN MACHINE

By WILLIAM PHILIP SOMMS (United Press Staff Correspondent) WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, July 29.—Barred the word hard luck imaginable for the allies the German armies over again will be able to drive forward with the punch they carried when they opened their series of 1918 drives last March. Today, the starting point of the fifth year of the war, it seems to be merely a question of time before a forced retreat to defensive positions will have to be carried out by the Boches, in the hope that it will be possible to obtain peace before the stress of arriving Americans so awells the force of the allies that an unconditional surrender will be forced.

It is an open secret here that it is becoming increasingly difficult to fill the German field depots. Boys of the younger German classes cannot be counted in the same class with the Americans who are daily arriving in such numbers as to completely nullify Germany's new crop. Fear Slips at Home Documentary evidence in the hands of the British army shows that General

ADVANCE HAS LITTLE SIGN OF LET-UP NOW

HUNS ARE DRIVEN FROM FERE-EN-TARDENOIS BY STUBBORN PERSISTENCE OF FRANCO-AMERICAN TROOPS—OTHER VILLAGES FALL

By LOWELL MELLETT (United Press Staff Correspondent) WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, July 29.—French and American troops have driven the Germans entirely out of the important concentration center of Fere-en-Tardenois and have pushed a short distance to the northwest, crossing the Ourcq.

The Franco-Americans also have taken Roncheres (five and a half miles southeast of Fere-en-Tardenois) and Villers-Agron, nine miles east and south of Fere-en-Tardenois. Hard fighting by the infantry, cavalry and tanks and a terrific artillery bombardment has given the allies complete possession of the lower half of the wide, deep silted bottom between Solsons and Rheims.

Struggle Lasts Hours Fere-en-Tardenois was captured only after a desperate struggle, fought during the night. The French and the Americans co-operating, found many machine guns cleverly concealed in houses and cellars. These nests were wiped out in bitter hand to hand struggles in which the Boches were asked and none given. The Germans had destroyed all the bridges across the Ourcq but the Poles and dogboys forded the shallow stream at several points in the face of a storm of bullets.

The allies also advanced their lines to the left and right of Fere-en-Tardenois, taking the villages of Roncheres and Villers-Agron. Hard fighting anticipated The French and Americans are proceeding cautiously, and are determined to waste no man in the machine gun filled Bois de St. Unire (southwest of Fere-en-Tardenois). Cavalry felt out the German positions there late yesterday. The Boches are expected to put up a strong resistance in that wood, as they are already doing in Ville-en-Francois, less than a mile southwest of Fere-en-Tardenois. The plan so successfully employed in the case of encircling the wood and cleaning out the nests afterward.

The advancing allies are finding their path strewn with remarkable numbers of enemy dead.

Entered Only to Leave I sat on a hill yesterday afternoon and looked across the land which the Boches were permitted to enter, but not to remain in. Around the edge of a similar hill, three

COST OF WAR IS CLIMBING

AMERICA'S BILL FOR FIGHTING NOW RUNS $50,000,000 PER DAY WASHINGTON, July 29.—America's war bill has reached $17,000,000, $17,000,000 a day. With expenditures during July of $1,109,000,000 and estimated expenditures for the whole month of $1,488,000,000, this nation is now paying out approximately $50,000,000 a day or over $2,000,000,000 a month. ZURICH, July 29.—The Pilsener bombardier has announced 227 persons were killed and 48 injured in the recent explosion which destroyed a munitions factory there. Dispatches to this effect were received today from Pilsener.

SWEEP OF BATTLE MOVES TO NORTHEAST BEYOND FERE-EN-TARDENOIS.

NO SIGNS WHATEVER OF LET-UP IN BIG ADVANCE

FISMES, IMPORTANT GERMAN CONCENTRATION CENTER ON THE VESLE RIVER, APPARENT OBJECTIVE OF ALLIED TROOPS—NEW POCKET ESTABLISHED BY ENEMY BETWEEN THE OUROQ AND THE VESLE, WHERE ENEMY IS MAKING DESPERATE EFFORTS TO COVER LINE OF RETREAT

STRIKING northward from Fere-en-Tardenois, Franco-American forces apparently are driving a sharp wedge in the direction of Fismes.

Battle-front dispatches early today showed a thin salient, the apex of which was at Nesle and the bases at Cergy and a point north of Fere-en-Tardenois. The Germans, evidently realizing the danger of this maneuver, made a fierce counter attack today on the east side of this wedge—a two-mile front between Nesle and Sergy. This was completely repulsed, with heavy enemy losses.

Later Paris dispatches announcing the French and Americans are within eight miles of Fismes show the allies probably have widened this wedge and pushed farther northeastward toward the main Dornelles-Fismes highway, which runs along the valley of the D'Oillon river.

If this maneuver can be extended successfully there is a possibility of splitting the crown of the crown square through the middle.

THREE KILLED IN NEGRO RACE RIOT

ENTIRE SCENE OF BATTLE NOW UNDER MARTIAL LAW PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—Three men are dead, six are in hospitals and sixty, largely negroes, are in custody as a result of a race war beginning in South Philadelphia yesterday. Riley Beckett, negro, was shot and killed today en route to the police station in charge of officers.

The trouble, said to have begun when Miss Elsie Reed, negro, probation officer, moved into the district, had been quelled today with South Philadelphia virtually under martial law. Sixty men, 300 policemen and home guards are patrolling the district. The dead include a policeman and two negroes.

HUNS ASK FOR PEACE SESSION

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The Spanish government has been asked by the German government to act as intermediary in peace conferences, according to a formal announcement made by M. Diaz, president of the council, in Madrid dispatches today stated.

PLANNING FOR WAR TO LAST INDEFINITELY

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Herbert Hoover's declaration in London that victory would come to the allies within two years was the first official expression of a determination and confidence long held here. The goal for victory has been set in 1920 and this effort is being made to reach it on schedule. President Wilson believes that this is the crucial year of the war in that its development will determine the outcome next year. Nevertheless this nation's plan is built upon the possibility of the war lasting indefinitely.

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and Tuesday in the forecast for the Twin Falls district of the weather bureau as transmitted this morning through the local telephone exchange.

Fighting Is Desperate

PARIS, July 29 (4:30 p. m.)—Sweeping northward from the Ourcq, French and American troops are now within eight miles of Fismes, the important German concentration center on the Vesle river. Desperate fighting is under way in the new pocket between the Ourcq and the Vesle, where the Germans are strongly covering their retreat to the latter line. In some places the Americans and French have pushed several kilometers beyond the Ourcq.

Huns Defend Stubbornly

LONDON, July 29 (4:30 p. m.)—The Germans are defending Ville-en-Tardenois strongly, resisting on the line from Chambray southward. It was learned authoritatively this afternoon (Chambray is only a mile east of Ville-en-Tardenois).

The Boches attacked allied positions strongly, resisting on the line from Chambray southward. It was learned authoritatively this afternoon (Chambray is only a mile east of Ville-en-Tardenois).

The French took Buzancy yesterday, capturing 20 prisoners, but were unable to hold it. Penetrating Bois La Colette, allied troops today took 100 prisoners, and four cannon.

The battle line is now reported as follows: From Rheims to Beilly (no change) westward through the southern outskirts of Chambray to the southern outskirts of Ville-en-Tardenois, southward to Hill 205 (northwest of Oisy), Hill 203 to Villers-Agron, southward to Roncheres, northward to Cergy, northward to Sergy, northward to Nesle, eastward through a point north of Fere-en-Tardenois to Ghybray, northward to a point north of Grand Four, westward to a point east of La Flesche-Tolles, thence northward without change to the Aisne.

Changes Made Four Times

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, July 29 (3:25 p. m.)—The Germans are fighting desperately to retard the Franco-German advance northward from Ourcq. Repeated enemy counter attacks on Cergy last night and early today resulted in the village changing hands four times, remaining in the possession of the French.

South of Sergy a German guard division, attacking the Americans who firmly held their lines and justified enormous losses. Newly won French positions north (Continued on Page Two)

WAR CONDUCTED WITH MINIMUM LOSS TO ALLIES

PRESENT METHOD IS NOT SPECTACULAR, BUT IT GETS RESULTS WITH A SMALL TOLL OF LIVES

By J. W. T. MASON (United Press War Expert) NEW YORK, July 29.—General Foch is continuing his strategic pressure against the Aisne-Ouroq salient with the same firm refusal to be compelled into a general engagement that has marked his course since the Germans started to retreat from the Marne. Full justification for this policy of caution has been provided by the renewed German retreats during the last forty-eight hours. Foch is fighting with brain power as well as with man power. This combination does not profile the quick, spectacular results that Von Hindenburg has accomplished by the use of man power alone; but it will win the war with a minimum loss of American lives. Conserving Lives It is not necessary for the allies' purpose to digger away lives by the thousands in order to gain the final victory a little more quickly. The allies' money can hold out to whatever extent is necessary to save the lives of the allied troops. This is the principle on which the German was forced to retreating after our German morale of Von Hindenburg's retreat from the Marne will be the same regardless of the method by which it has been brought about. This is encouraging evidence that the German was forced to retreating after our German morale of Von Hindenburg's retreat from the Marne will be the same regardless of the method by which it has been brought about. PAINT COMPANY PLANNI IN ASHES

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 29.—One negro is dead, three workmen are missing and the plant of the Babcock Paint Company is in ashes, the result of an oil barrel explosion today. Damage is estimated at thousands of dollars. The explosion shattered the walls of the fire-storage plant and burning oil fed the flames. President W. O. Bab, of the Babcock company, is said to have been fatally injured.

HOSPITAL BOARD ASKS PROVISION OF MORE ROOM

TRUSTEES CALL ON COMMISSIONERS FOR HOMES FOR NURSES AND COUNTY CHARGES

The trustees of the Twin Falls county general hospital, in a resolution passed at a recent meeting, have asked the county commissioners to provide additional buildings of the hospital grounds for the reception of the nursing staff and of the county charges. The request of the trustees, the commissioners say, provides them with the necessary buildings for the reception of the nursing staff and of the county charges. The trustees, which was thrown open to the public July 11, is now filled to capacity with patients and others, and are waiting for accommodations in its World Increase Workload.

The construction of additional buildings at the hospital is desirable, according to L. E. Balladay, chairman of the board of trustees, for the reason that the nurses at the end of their day's work ought to have a home apart from the hospital, and the county charges can be better cared for in a separate building. Besides fulfilling these purposes, the new buildings at the hospital and county charges into homes provided for the purpose will make available room that is required for patients, and will extend the scope of usefulness of the institution.

From all parts of the first two weeks of the hospital's operation, Miss Olive Thompson, superintendent, has turned in to the commissioners the sum of $400.

ADVANCE HAS LIFTED SIGN

millions away. I saw through my glasses the miniature houses of Fern-Bu-Tardensis the prised high and railway center where French and Americans were engaged in cutting the German.

From somewhere beyond, the Boches were pitching their big shells in near barrage this side of Fern-Bu-Tardensis, only the Chinese and English could be seen.

From all parts of the rolling mass of French—a hand lifted in the sun—told the "Z's" bully almost away. High above the horizon shrapnel burst unceasingly, forming an official barrier against the air.

In this manner the French "counter proposals" were being carried out, according to lives and teaching the Americans to do the same. The same purpose is partly responsible for the splendid use of small tanks during the past several days. Their value has been proven in nearly every section. They have destroyed 25 machine gun nests, allowing the infantry to come up and take the guns without loss. All tanks have made at least two or three positions daily, some as many as five and some being in action continuously for thirty hours.

RAISE QUESTION OF PLANE'S SUCCESS

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Success of the aircraft program was again called into question today when it was made known that the "de Havilland Goshawk" backbone of the whole program is not yet wholly successful.

Gen. Pershing, it became known today, in a cable to the war department recently recommended that further shipments of the De Havilland plane be halted until a number of defects were corrected.

Some of these have been corrected and the shipment of planes has been going forward. Members of the senate aircraft investigating committee are thoroughly investigating construction of the De Havilland and a large part of the forthcoming report will probably be devoted to it.

MANY WARSHIPS IN EUROPEAN WATERS

LONDON, July 29.—More than 250 American warships now have permanent stations in European waters. Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, announced during a speech at the American Yacht club today.

Roosevelt paid tribute to the British for their aid in transporting American troops.

Sir Erick Geddes, first lord of the admiralty, responded with enthusiastic reciprocity for America.

Velvet-Making.

Velvet was discovered and originated from in China. Thence velvet-making was introduced into India, and in the fourteenth century into Italy, where that sort of fabric especially appealed, and where the art of velvet-making reached its height.

TODAY'S CASUALTIES

WASHINGTON, July 29.—General Pershing's casualty list today contained 129 names, divided as follows:

Killed in action, 47; died of wounds, 17; died of disease, 4; died of accident, 11; wounded otherwise, 11; wounded severely, 33; wounded, degree undetermined, 7; missing in action, 20.

MISSING MAN IS NOT YET LOCATED

ALBANY, N. Y., July 29.—Unsuccessful quest continued today for Edward Quinn of Minneapolis, who disappeared from the river steamship Berkshire Thursday night while enroute here from New York. Levinson, who was suffering from a nervous breakdown, next to him, he told his wife, and is believed to have fallen overboard.

Strange Contradiction.

"Do man did don't see de bright side of life," said Uncle Eben. "Is generally some feller that afraid of his shadow."

Doughboys and Artillerymen Match Wits With the Flyers

LONDON.—Units Sam's airman have been getting ahead with the girls in a manner which aroused the envy of their infantry and artillery colleagues.

However, the doughboys and the artillerymen had their revenge. English girls are not aware that the American airman wear white bands on their caps and hats to distinguish them from the other branches of the service. That is where the doughboys came in. They told all the girls that the airman wore the white bands to indicate they were in "walking quarantine"—owing to an outbreak of mononucleosis at the camp. That means now the airman have been trying to live down their "splendid isolation."

HITCH LIKELY TO BE STRAIGHTENED OUT

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The hitch in negotiations between the United States and Japan over the Siberian problem is not expected to be straightened out soon.

Japan is not clear in her mind regarding the number and distribution of troops and it is not believed great difficulty will be experienced in settling this point.

Mentoring the food situation between Russia and Germany is rapidly becoming acute.

GERMAN DRIVE

Ludendorff fears political results at home from too quickly abolishing boys into battle. The German people who reluctantly consented in battle by an outlook of moment at the moment that was foreseen in the hope of bringing about an early peace are beginning to feel they have been betrayed. Opposition is growing to the giving up of remaining sons for cannon food.

SWEET OF BATTLE

Both armies are engaged in a terrific artillery duel along the southern end of the salient. In addition, the Germans are dropping huge quantities of gas into the Marne and Andre valleys.

Confusion exists behind the German lines. There is indecision everywhere. Manifestly, there is a question of whether Germany is not getting up a colonial bluff while trying to hide her real conditions behind a wall of imitation steel.

SIGNS RULES FOR ALL STOCK YARDS

WASHINGTON, July 29.—President Wilson has signed the general regulations under which stock yards will operate. They provide against extortionate or excessive charges for yardage or commission; require stock yards to maintain adequate facilities for the handling livestock offered for sale; prohibit illegal dealing, cognation or deceptive practices in buying and selling livestock; and prohibit the circulating of misleading market information.

Stock yards and all those engaged in connection with the buying or selling of livestock in stock yards are required to secure licenses. The chief of the bureau of markets has been designated by the secretary of agriculture to look after the enforcement of all regulations. Market supervisors may be placed at the principal markets and in regional offices at a later date.

FIRST COUNTER ATTACK

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The first night and Saturday, German artillery fire began to increase in volume apparently because of the movement of the batteries to the north side of the Hurtig.

The Americans captured thousands of rounds of machine gun ammunition and many very large dumps of large and small caliber shells in Fere forest. Numerous machine guns also were taken, but they have not yet been counted.

Wounded men returning from the fight are in the highest spirit. Most of their wounds are machine gun bullets in the arm or leg. All of them expressed regret at leaving the hospital. They said that wherever the ambulances broke the boches turned and ran in an effort to escape.

Shot Out of Trees

Prisoners include members of the Prussian Guard, who were shot out of trees where they were operating machine guns.

American headquarters are kept jumping forward. One general this evening was asked by an aide where his new headquarters was.

The general replied: "I'm sorry, but I don't know. I haven't had a chance to look."

A letter taken from a prisoner indicates that the German's hope for a victory this summer has passed and that they already are being equipped for another winter campaign. Other letters tell of the violence of the American fire.

"When they fire it is like hell. We think every first is our last," said one.

Can't Trust Letter

A letter received by a soldier from a relative in Madagaskar said: "It is clear we are being trampled down. If the end does not come soon, we have sent an outbreak cannot be avoided. I can't trust all my thoughts to a letter."

The excellence of our artillery fire is further illustrated by the capture of great numbers of smashed helmets, bayonets and other equipment the boches needed to facilitate their retirement. All railroads and roads are under constant artillery fire and airplanes bombing.

LAUNCHING RECORD OF ONE WEEK

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Launching of American ships during the week ending July 25 totaled 15 vessels, 7,458 tons. Eight ships were completed during the same week, bringing the total number of completed ships since the shipping board was created to 250 of an aggregate capacity of more than 1,500,000 tons.

A SPRING MEETING

By HILDA MORRIS

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

It was Saturday afternoon, a warm spring Saturday. Most of the other girls from Sally's office were planning gaily excursions of some sort, shopping for new summer clothes, rowing in the park or going to the movies with John or Gerald. Some of them, carefully powdered and with their hair arranged modestly to conceal the curls, stepped out to meet young men who were reported engaged to Evelyn Carey, the banker's daughter, and rumor had it that even now he was courting the daughter of the governor of the state. What use could he have for plain little Sally Graham?

If he thought she was that kind of girl? So Sally concluded that she would simply have to put him out of her mind and resolve never to see him again.

This however, was easier said than done. He had not called her up that Saturday, so there had been no occasion for putting her resolve into icy tones. One couldn't think over on a busy street, so she looked across car and road to the edge of town, to strike off briskly down a country road.

Country roads in springtime are more delightful than the main avenues of a city, and the most interesting of shops. There is something about a springtime road that seems to declare that it is a settling happiness, for youth, for hope and health and romance.

"It's funny, my few people are out here on a day like this!" she said to herself. "I should think every one would be, and especially people with cars. I haven't met a soul."

But as she spoke there was the sound of a motor in the distance, and Sally stepped aside to wait until it had passed. It was a big gray car, and it had a girl alone in the seat. She looked at her a little vaguely, for she was a pretty, well-dressed girl. Her bright eyes met Sally's with something like a friendly smile as she swept by, leaving a faint trail of dust.

"I suppose the governor's daughter looks like that," Sally thought.

The afternoon went all too swiftly. Sally walked and walked, following the road as it led, and wondering that always had some surprise waiting for her around the next turn. But at last it was time to start back, and she found that she was unexpectedly alone. She had come farther than she thought.

And then, once more there came the sound of a motor. It was the big gray car with the pretty girl in it again. It came on smoothly and swiftly.

"Arn't you going back to town?" the girl called to Sally. "Don't you want to ride?"

Almost before she knew it Sally was seated beside her, spinning swiftly over the road that she had walked.

They chatted amiably, of the weather, outdoor sports, the pleasures of walking. The strange girl was very friendly. Sally felt a little shy at first, but no shyness could remain unbroken before the frank of the other's manner. She was utterly charming, with the sort of frank, sincere manner that reminded Sally so much of John Strong. Of course the girl belonged to his kind of people. No wonder he should love a girl like that! The wonder was that he had ever seen anything attractive about Sally. In her plain little self with her shy, unpolished manner. At least so Sally thought.

Suddenly the big car slowed down at a curb.

"There's my brother," said its owner. "He's waving me to stop. No, don't get out, please. I'll drive you on down as far as the square; there's plenty of room."

Sally sat still with her heart beating wildly. He was coming through the crowd, his tall khaki figure conspicuous among all the others. He came straight toward them and got to Sally.

"Why, Sally Graham!" he exclaimed. "I've been looking for you all the afternoon! I didn't know you knew my sister. I've been telling her all about you, but—"

"And I didn't know this was Sally Graham," the sister broke in smiling. "I've been dying to meet you. Miss Graham, and I'm glad we did it in this way. The more it couldn't have happened more pleasantly. John has told me so much about you—"

"I wonder," broke in John Strong, "whether you would drive us around to the house, Edith? It is Sally who's been looking for me. I want mother to meet Sally, because—"

His hand beneath the lap-robe tightened on Sally's.

Sally felt her voice to be a little hoarse, but she smiled as she answered.

"I shouldn't mind in the least," she said.

WOMEN INVITED TO MEMBERSHIP IN FARM BUREAU

CONSOLIDATION OF INTERESTS OF RURAL MEN AND WOMEN IS PLAN OF COUNTY ORGANIZATION

The affiliation of the women of the rural communities with the county farm bureau was one of the matters discussed Saturday at the regular monthly meeting of the farm bureau board of directors.

The subject was presented and explained by H. W. Hochbaum, state leader of county agents, and was heartily endorsed by the board members.

"The tendency in the past," Mr. Hochbaum stated, "has been to divide the program of the county into the rural communities into two classes—the men's problems and the women's—when as a matter of fact the men's problems belong to the women, too, and vice versa, and they should be handled jointly."

Mr. Hochbaum cited other states as examples in which the men and women worked together to far better advantage than where they worked separately.

The subject was accepted by the board and where the number of board members, taking in several women of the county and electing them for their fitness for the work to be handled, rather than for their geographical division in the county, then endeavor to enlist every woman as well as every man from each community as a member of the farm bureau, to work together for their mutual benefit and the general welfare of community, state and nation.

Mr. Hochbaum's remarks were preceded by talks from M. G. Mitchell, recently elected principal of the local high school, and G. C. Morrow, head book of the department of labor, who spoke interestingly on the labor situation.

LABOR REPORT In connection with talks on the labor situation the following report was given by the farm bureau, showing what it had done in this matter of employment, all the labor being sent out at the regular state farm bureau wages:

Table with 2 columns: Labor Report for Week Ending July 27, 1918. Single Married, Help applied for, Applications for positions, Labor Report for Weeks Up to July 27, 1918.

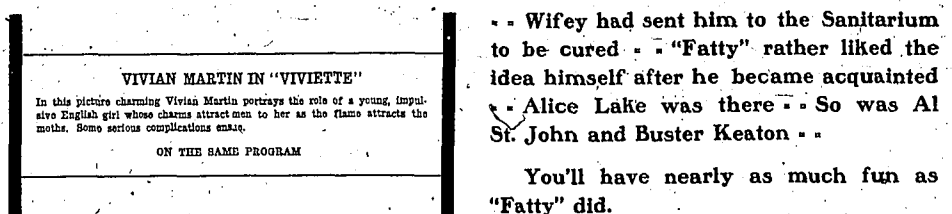

RESOLUTION PASSED BY FEDERATED CLUBS Resolved, That the women of the Twin Falls Federation of Rural Clubs and community leaders recommend the adoption of the following suggestions as suitable to the needs of the individual community:

- That the breadwinners go home for their evening meal; That sugar be rationed in order to properly conserve it; That pie and cake be eliminated and other suitable dessert requiring less sugar take their place; That paper plates and cloth table cloths be used to eliminate labor; That each leader take those suggestions back to her community to be presented there.

Fascinating Screen Facts

The Man on the Cover Long before Maurice Tourneur directed Mary Pickford in "A Poor Little Rich Girl," he was recognized as one of the really great producers of the screen.

Probably no other director could have so clearly caught the spirit of beauty which is so prominent in the great Belgian poet's play. The writer had the good fortune to be present at a preliminary showing of "The Blue Bird."

The slave market for Paramount's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was staged in front of the old St. Louis Hotel in New Orleans, which is a historical landmark, and during slavery days was one of the most famous slave auctions in the South.

Moose characters of fiction, wrote "Viviette" in his happiest and most whimsical vein. When the story was pictureized by Julia-Crawford Irons, the producers of Paramount Pictures decided that the character of the poetry, irresponsible but lovable Viviette could best be portrayed by Vivian Martin.

WOMEN DECIDE TO ELIMINATE PIE AND CAKE

CONSERVATION OF FOOD AND TIME DURING THE HARVEST SEASON IS PLANNED

Ther-meeting was called by the federation president, Mrs. John R. White, who, after briefly explaining the object of the gathering, introduced Miss Amy Kelly of Boise, head of the home economics department of the state university.

Miss Kelly spoke earnestly of the great importance at this time of the federation, organization and cooperation of all women, especially of the rural women, quoting President Wilson, who stated that "the farm home is the unit upon which this democracy is founded."

In her address following that given by Miss Kelly, Mrs. H. W. Church indicated the statements made by Miss Kelly in the matter of the importance of organization and cooperation of the women of the county, citing as example the coming campaign for the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. and the work that will be necessary for a successful campaign.

both food and time, a meeting of the Twin Falls Federation of Rural Clubs and country women not affiliated with the federation, was held in the city park Saturday afternoon for the purpose of discussing ways and means of cooperating for the solution of the problems at hand, at which time the above resolutions were passed.

State Worker Present The meeting was called by the federation president, Mrs. John R. White, who, after briefly explaining the object of the gathering, introduced Miss Amy Kelly of Boise, head of the home economics department of the state university.

Miss Kelly spoke earnestly of the great importance at this time of the federation, organization and cooperation of all women, especially of the rural women, quoting President Wilson, who stated that "the farm home is the unit upon which this democracy is founded."

to arrange for the big campaign for 1918 that is to open soon. The sum of $115,000,000 is to be raised during the campaign for war work for the two organizations.

The Y. W. C. A. has been commended by the government, Mrs. Clouchek stated, to care for the girls and women as the Y. M. C. A. is caring for the men. The real assistance from this organization to care for women and girls doing war work in this country was presented by various speakers from over the country and the work in Europe was presented by Miss Ella Schooley, Mrs. Clouchek said, who has returned recently from work in France and England and brought interesting information first hand.

Harvest Problems Discussed At the conclusion of Mrs. Clouchek's talk, Miss Gertrude Dencker, county home demonstration agent, was introduced by Mrs. White. Miss Dencker briefly presented again the matter of the harvest problems and called upon the women present to give their views and suggestions.

The consensus of the meeting resolved itself into the suggestions embodied in the resolutions which were adopted by the meeting, regarding more or less standardized meals, the use of paper plates and oil cloth table cloths, rationing of sugar, etc. Other suggestions not directly embodied in the resolutions included the use of foot milk instead of red tea for the purpose of conserving sugar. Much discussion centered on the suggestion that pie and cake be eliminated from the regular harvest-time menu.

LANDS HARD ON BOOZE PEDDLERS

SHERIFF KENDALL PROMISES SUMMARY PROSECUTION

There will be no more instances of drunkenness among the men called under selective service on the day of their departure for the continent, if county officials can prevent it.

Cases in which liquor was sold or given to men attending June 28 were brought to the attention of the officers, and on Friday when a repetition of the offense was reported on the occasion of the departure of another contingent to Camp Lewis, the officers instituted an investigation as a result of which one of the men who was to have been granted time is held on a charge of drunkenness, a prisoner in the county jail, alongside another man who is suspected of having given or sold liquor to the men.

Gift or sale of liquor to enlisted men is an offense punishable by federal law. From the date they are called to report for entrainment to the continent, according to a recent decision of the supreme court, selective service registrants are as truly in the military service of the United States as though they had been soldiers for a period of years.

Jail Instead of Camp "There will be no more men leaving this county for the training camp in an intoxicated condition," Sheriff Frank M. Kendall said Saturday. "Registrants will be required to report in a sober condition and maintain that condition, or else they will go to jail instead of to the army cantonment."

"Consider the man who is low enough to sell liquor to a boy who is going into the service of his country, charging from $5 to $15 a pint for the stuff, lower than a highway robber. In my estimation he is a dirty, yellow dog, not fit to associate with decent men."

"I propose to prosecute such offenders to the bitter end, regardless of who the guilty persons are."

COURT DELIBERATES ON CLAIM FOR TRIAL

The motion of the attorneys for the Orlows for a new trial in the case of Orlow E. Fetter, administrator of the estate of the late John Allen, against John H. Kelley and Laura B. Kelley, was taken under advisement by District Judge W. A. Babcock, after he had heard arguments on the motion in chambers here Friday. In this case the administrator, brought suit against the Kelleys to recover possession of 40 acres of land in the vicinity of Bull valued at about $50,000, which was deced by Allen to the Kelleys in consideration of one dollar. The verdict of a jury at the trial was in favor of the administrator. In their claim for a new trial the attorneys for the Kelleys argue that the evidence at the trial was insufficient to show that Allen was of unsound mind when the deed was executed or that undue influence had been used by the Kelleys in securing the instrument.

RESIGNS POSITION ON COUNTY BOARDS

Pursuant to her announcement as a candidate for nomination for state representative for this county, at the coming election, Mrs. Harry Carrhart, wife of Capt. John E. White, resigned from membership upon the board of directors of the county farm bureau and from the executive board of the Twin Falls County Red Cross chapter.

"While I exceedingly regret that I must resign these county positions," says Mrs. White, "I feel that my holding such a position, either upon the Red Cross executive board, the board of directors of the farm bureau, or on any other organization, should resign whenever or where she becomes a candidate for a public office that is subject to party politics."

"Only the fact that I feel that I can do a greater work for both the Red Cross and the farm bureau as a representative in the state legislature leads me to give up the county work that is so close to my heart. One great branch of work which the Red Cross has taken up and which will make heavy demands upon it in the near future is the tuberculous situation. My years of work as Dr. White's assistant in a tuberculous sanitarium have familiarized me with the work to such an extent that I have been urged to take up the legislative work that I may lend valuable assistance to the state tuberculous association in its fight for a state sanitarium and for the 'great work ahead of it.' Were it not for the fact that a greater work seems to call me in this direction I could not bear to resign from these offices on the Red Cross and Farm Bureau in which I have been so deeply interested."

Mrs. White presented her resignation to the County Farm Bureau at her meeting Saturday afternoon. After some discussion in which Mrs. White set forth her views that candidates for political offices should not be members of the board, her resignation was accepted by the board. Her resignation from the executive board of the County Red Cross chapter will be filed this week.

PAYING FOR IT

Here is a story received over the wires at The News office Saturday too late for publication as a news dispatch but reproduced herewith because of its heart-grIPPING pathos and in order that the lesson contained in the few brief words shall not be wasted.

The item follows:

NEW YORK, July 27.—O. G. Lyon, Ohio war correspondent with the American army in France, who was in New York ready to return to the battle front after a brief furlough in this country, had in his trunk a dozen homemade cookies in a little package addressed as follows:

"To: Lieutenant Colonel Clark R. Elliott, Somewhere in France. From Mamma and Gertrude, with much love."

Last week Colonel Elliott's wife and six year old daughter Gertrude made a trip from Chicago to Columbus, Ohio, Lyon's home, to have Lyon tell them all about the Colonel and to ask Lyon to give the Colonel the package of cookies. Lyon received word today that Lieutenant Colonel Elliott had been killed in the big battle on the western front.

In March when the big German offensive started, Lyon was attached to Lieutenant Colonel Elliott's regiment. "Our mess consisted of several officers and two war correspondents," said Lyon today. "Every one of the officers, except one, has been killed in action since I left France several weeks ago."

Over all this fair land women and children are giving up those nearest and dearest to them in order that the rest of us may continue to enjoy the blessings of peace and uninterrupted security. They do these things willingly and cheerfully, as a part of the simple duty of citizenship.

And yet there are some people who refuse to buy a fifty dollar Liberty Bond or a five dollar War Savings Stamp.

ONE BOOMLET DEAD Heart is by way of telling his. that man to get a straight snort at us, but we almost rained ourselves doing it. It was a case of clus-tel-tal for every ship in the fleet.

But the sub did not show itself again that day, and we anchored again. That night, while the destroyers were around the ships, we slipped our cables and pulled the coast along the Australian position at Gabu Tepe, but we did not anchor.

The following day the Albion went ashore in the fog south of Gabu Tepe, and as soon as the fog lifted the Turks let loose and gave it to her. A Turkish ship came up and, with any kind of gunfire, came across the water and shot at us.

But the Turks must have been pretty shy of gun fire, for they only got in one hit before they were driven off by H. M. S. Canopus, which has made such a fine record in this war.

Then the Canopus pulled in close to the Albion; got a wire hawser aboard, and attempted to tow her out under a heavy fire, but as soon as she started pulling, the cable snapped. The crew of the Albion were ordered to jump up on the quarter deck to try and shift the bow off the bank.

At the same time the fore turret and the four six-inch guns opened up with a hot fire on the Turkish positions to hinder the ship and shift her by the confusion of the guns. For a long time they could not judge her, but the Canopus got another hawser aboard and, with gun going and the new hawser and the Canopus pulling, the old Albion finally slid off and both ships backed into deep water with little harm done to either. Then they returned to their old anchorages.

At Cape Helles every one was wide-awake. We were all on the lookout for subs and you could not find one man napping. Anything at all passed for a periscope—line, barrels, spars. Dead horses generally float in the water with one foot sticking up, and we gave the alarm many a time when it was only some old dog of his way to Davy's locker.

On the Cassard the Old Man posted a reward of 50 francs for the first man who sighted a periscope. This was a good idea, but believe me he would have had trouble making the award, for every man on the ship would be sure to see it at the same time. Each man felt sure he would be the man to get the reward. The 14-pounders were loaded and ready for action on a second's notice. But the reward was never claimed.

During our eighth trick off Cape Helles I was anchoring in the gutter when I heard our two 14-pounders go off almost at the same time. Every body ran for his station. Going up the main deck to my turret a man told me it was a sub on the port bow, but I only caught a glimpse of the little whirlpool where her periscope submerged. I do not know who she did not let loose a torpedo at us. The officers and men was trying to make the entrance to the Dardanelles and came up blind among our ships and was scared off by our guns, but I thought we had just escaped by the skin of our teeth. Later on our destroyers claimed to have sighted her off Gabu Tepe.

At noon we were at sea when one of the boys yelled, "Here's a sub," and the old rusted on deck. There was the British ship, Triumph, torpedoed and listing away over to starboard. She was ready to turn over in a few minutes. One battleship is not supposed to go to the assistance of another one that has been torpedoed, because the chances are the sub is still in the neighborhood laying for the second ship with another torpedo. But one of the British travelers went to the assistance of the Triumph to pick up the crew.

We could see the crew jumping into the water. Then we breasted out toward the horizon, full speed ahead. About the Triumph was a cloud of blue smoke, but when we looked through the glass we could see she was going down. Then our guns began to pound the Turkish positions and I had to get busy. When I saw the Triumph had been torpedoed, I knew she must have floated upside down for almost half an hour, then she went down as though there was somebody on the bottom pulling her.

When she went our Old Man banged his telephone on the bridge rail and swore at the Huns and Turks and broke his telescope lens to bits. About fifty from the Triumph were lost.

It was decided that the place was too hot for us with that sub coming loose, and when they reported that afternoon that she was making her way south from Gabu Tepe to Cape Helles all of the fleet but the Majestic got under way, and the Majestic was the only ship left of the cap.

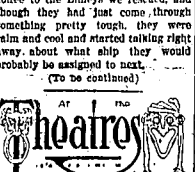

They said the Majestic was then the oldest of the ships in that campaign, but she was the pride of the British fleet just the same. She was torpedoed off Cape Helles when she was carrying a number of men-of-war of the cap. The sea was crowded with men swimming and drowning. I saw a lifeboat crowded with men and other men in the water hanging onto her, and there were many hands hanging out when they started to pull her under. Of their own accord the men in the water let go to save those in the boat. Most of them were drowned.

We were so sure that the men could not stand on deck, and the sides were covered with men hanging on to ropes and not knowing whether to jump into the sea or not. We lowered one of our lifeboats and steam launch and sent her to pick up the crew. We picked up a number of the crew and were pretty close to the Majestic when she went down like a rock. As she went down she turned over and a man ran along side of the ship at her bow and got on it without even being wet. A man picked him up off the ram, which stuck out of the water after the ship had ceased to scittle.

The sub torpedoed us on her side, and she went down very quickly, but got clear of the nets and went down with her. Quite a lot were caught between decks and had no possible chance to escape. There was a big explosion at the end under the water, the bellers bursting. Thousands of troops on shore and thousands of sailors on the ships saw the final plunging, and it was a sight to remember. When the ship started to go the Old Man raked back to the cabin got the signal lock and destroyed it. Also, he saved the lives of two of his men.

We gave dry clothes and brandy and coffee by the dozens we received, and though they had just come through something pretty tough they were calm and cool and started talking right away about what ship they would probably be assigned to next.

Sergeant Arthur Guy Dempsey went to Vologda recently on a mission connected with his recruiting activities and a government pilot took him along thinking to have fun with the trench warfare of "Over the Top" by showing him a few stunts he had never seen before the fighting line in France. Several thousand feet over the Capital, he looped, dove and turned in a mad way, but he was not disturbing the impartiality of the war, who as they were descending, shouted to the pilot to know when he was going to begin with his stunts.

Dempsey is too tough a proposition for me," admitted the pilot, talking of his experience, as any person will learn who tries to pull anything on him. Sergeant Dempsey will be seen in a special airplane scene in Vitagraph's picture of his famous book, "Over the Top," which has been the first line trenches. In one scene he captures a German flier behind his own lines and forces him to fly with Dempsey and an American pilot to safety in the hands of the British.

Make-Believe Drama in "Viviette" A make-believe duelling scene almost dead in death in "Viviette," the new Paramount Picture starring Vivian Martin, which will be shown at the Idaho Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Because of jealousy between two brothers who love-pristy Viviette, the duel, which is started in secret, becomes a duel in earnest. But the tragedy is averted at the last moment and the nervous causes Viviette to realize that she really loves one of the men. The new picture affords Vivian Martin the best acting opportunities she has had for some time.

"Patty" Arbuckle's "Good Night, Nurse," is shown on the same program.

FOOD SAVING CAMPAIGN ON

TWIN FALLS WOMEN LEND ENTHUSIASTIC SUPPORT TO MOVE

The organization movement among women to bring about cooperation and unification of plans for food conservation and other measures of war work is proceeding in Twin Falls under direction of district leaders named by Mrs. H. W. Clouch, county chairman for the national council of defense women's division, who, in turn has named leaders in the campaign in each block. Mrs. Dorothy Dencke, county home demonstration agent, is assisting in the work in the city as well as in the rural district and other cities of the county.

Mrs. George D. Alken, leader for the north Twin Falls district, has named the following block leaders: Mrs. W. H. Dewitz, Mrs. W. F. Guthrie, Mrs. A. N. Sprague, Mrs. Andrew Degerman, Mrs. A. G. Gibbes, Mrs. C. W. Cronse, Mrs. John Vasser, Mrs. G. E. Duke, Mrs. E. V. Berg, Mrs. C. F. Parsons, Mrs. David Jenkins.

Mrs. S. H. Bolton, leader for the west Twin Falls district, has named the following block leaders: Mrs. B. Reynolds, Mrs. H. N. Fry, Mrs. Frank Lytle, Mrs. C. R. Burkholder, Mrs. W. H. Burkholder, Mrs. O. Boone, Mrs. E. H. Rinehart, Mrs. C. O. Markle, Mrs. Martha A. Hayes, Mrs. H. Heartfield, Mrs. Don Lyman, Mrs. George D. Hayward, Mrs. P. J. Costello, Miss Zola Ballinger, Mrs. John Bolton, Mrs. W. Young.

"Twin Falls has been very loyal and enthusiastic in assisting in following the government plan to perfect an organization to carry the responsibility of conservation work and also in cooperative effort to increase efficiency in solving the home problems that confront the local keeper," says Mrs. Dencke.

"Mrs. H. W. Clouch's committee, Mrs. G. D. Alken, Mrs. B. H. Bolton, Mrs. Ernest White, Mrs. B. N. Randall and Mrs. C. Iran Price, are all very much pleased at the loyal support they have found in their districts."

Kimberly's Organization Mrs. Dencke also reports the personnel of the conservation organization at Kimberly as follows: Mrs. Harry Willson, Mrs. Roy Wood, Mrs. J. A. Stambly, Mrs. William Van Houten, Mrs. J. J. Dunn, Mrs. C. E. Koke, Mrs. W. Montouth.

Dear Sirs:

Fruit of all kinds is produced at this place. Apples, peaches, pears, plums, prunes, apricots, cherries and berries of all kinds grow and produce well and have a flavor unequalled. Alfalfa and fruit will be the coming business of the country. I know of no country that excels in either. Cattle, hogs, sheep and chickens all do well and are healthy. In fact most of the money of the country has been made out of the stock business.

BURLEY IN LINE FOR SPUD FLOUR MILL

POTATO MANUFACTURING COMPANY IS INCORPORATED TO ESTABLISH NEW INDUSTRY

BURLEY-The plans for a plant for the manufacture of potato flour and other potato products here in Burley have taken definite form, with the assurance that the factory will be established here, provided $25,000 worth of the stock can be placed with our people, says the Burley Bulletin. The company has been incorporated under the name of the Burley Potato Manufacturing company, an option has been taken on a site for the plant on the J. T. Spencer farm west of the city and a contract has been entered into for the completion of the factory for operation by November 1, this year, provided the $25,000 block of stock can be sold here.

J. C. Wenter, a capitalist and builder well known to the people of this section is one of the leading men behind the enterprise which is capitalized at approximately $10,000. W. L. Burton, C. M. Oberholzer and a number of other local men are already interested, and it is hoped to create a closer relationship between the factory and the farmers by the sale of additional stock among them. The manufacture of potato flour is not an experiment. There are thousands of factories operating in Europe, and man in this country, two of which are in this state.

Plan Biggest Factory

The plant proposed for Burley will be the largest one in the United States, having a capacity of sixty tons to start out with, that is, will handle sixty tons of potatoes per day from the first, and will be increased to one hundred thirty tons in a short time. The factory will be built upon the opening of the regular potato-digging season and during the fall will run from two to four months each year. Storage will be provided at the plant, and the farmers will be able to deliver potatoes as they are taken out of the ground, and without stacking them.

If the plant is erected here, the potato crop for this season will be bought

In the open market at prevailing prices. For later years, however, it is the intention of the company to enter into contract with the farmers for their potatoes for a period of time. This project is especially adapted to the growing of potatoes and as the crop is comparatively easy to handle, a stable market in all that is needed to stimulate potato farming.

PAY HONORS TO YOUNG SOLDIER

PRIVATE JOHN JOSEPH JONES, ACCIDENT VICTIM, BURIED HERE

One of the largest assemblages at a funeral here attended the first military funeral in Twin Falls for a man killed in the present war. On Sunday afternoon in the Lavering theatre for John Joseph Jones, son of Moses Jones of Conant, a member of the Four Hundred, forty-eight year sergeant, who died Monday last at Fort Stevens, Oregon, from complications following the accidental fracture of his leg.

The services were conducted under the auspices of the latter Day Saints church. Practically the entire audience at the quarterly stake conference of that denomination, held here Sunday, and others paying tribute to one who had given his life in the service of his country, gathered at the funeral, bringing the attendance close up to 1,000 persons. W. T. Jack of Oakley, president of Cassia stake, was the principal speaker. Bishop L. G. Kirkman of Twin Falls presided, and offered the dedicatory prayer at the grave. Vocal selections were made from the hall and at the cemetery by George Ward, George W. Hammond, Edward Gust and Leo Kirkman.

Military Escort

Fall-bearers chosen from among those twenty veterans of the Spanish American war in attendance were the following: J. C. Robinson, K. E. Glaser, R. P. Pihlala, Carl Forsell, M. P. Sears and W. D. Dodd. Veterans of the Civil war were prominently on the list, and of more recently on the military service, was made up of the following under command of Elmer Class Private C. D. Smith; Sergeant O. McGehee, Mel Taylor, Shirley E. Pennington and John C. Harvey. Corporal Leonard Whitley sounded taps over the grave.

Floral Tributes Many

The floral tributes were many and magnificent. Private John Joseph Jones was born April 10, 1861, at Park City, Utah. He lived with his family for a number of years in the town of Oakley, before removing with them to Conant. His father located in Conant 20 years ago. He leaves, besides his parents, four brothers and two sisters. One brother, Herbert Harold O. Jones, is a member of the Three Hundred Oakley fourth bakery company at Camp Lewis. The others are Robert M., Robert B. and Paul J. Jones. The sisters are Misses Anna and Lucy Jones, of Conant.

VETERAN'S TRIBUTE TO PRIVATE JONES

To one who remembers the time comfortless hospital of fifty-old years ago, where "there was lack of woman's nursing, there was death of woman's tears," who recalls the frequent marches which returned them to the front, the beat of the muffled drum—to such an attendance upon the first military funeral of the present world-war brings a flood of somber reminiscence. And to each and every resident of this community was that tribute, was brought nearer and made more real when the flag-covered casket of Private John J. Jones was carried through our streets yesterday afternoon in the ceremonial that befell the body of a soldier.

We may well hope that this first grave guest may not be the precursor of many similar ones, or that even of far-away fatalities may not throw shadows over almost every household, as in the long ago. "God's in His heaven," said it, or will be, "with you with the world!"

Private Jones, it is true, met death in a training camp in his own country and from the home of battle. He had unquestionably given his life to his country, and when it was taken, by illness or accident, or in whatever way or place where he was serving in the best of his belief, he had no orders, the sacrifice could have been no more supreme upon his part had it gone out in the forefront of the bloody fight. Thus

"Close his eyes; his work is done; What to him is friend or foe man, His bed is made of earth and stone."

Hand of man or kiss of woman? Lay him low, lay him low, Under the clover or the snow! What care he, he does not know! Lay him low!

COMMITTEE TO PROBE CHARGE

CALLS FOR HEARING ON DISLOYALTY ACCUSATION AGAINST DEFENSE COUNCIL MEMBER

A committee, composed of James H. Bothwell, Twin Falls, Charles A. Sunderlin, Burley, and W. F. Alworth, Twin Falls, has been named by the state council of defense to investigate charges of disloyalty against a member of the county council of defense preferred in a resolution adopted at a meeting here on July 10 of members of the Non-Partisan league and of local labor organizations.

The notice of a hearing in the matter to be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, August 1, in the Twin Falls court house, is addressed by the committee to Elmer Aman, of Filer, Non-Partisan candidate for state senator, who presided as chairman at the meeting, to J. O. Noggle and 40 other members of the resolution, to the county council of defense and to others "whom it may concern."

The resolution was passed after charges against an unnamed member of the county council of defense had been preferred verbally at the meeting by O. G. Zueck of Kimberly, Non-Partisan candidate for lieutenant-governor.

GETS JUDGMENT AGAINST MAKERS

INVENTOR'S CONTRACT IS SET ASIDE BY COURT ORDER AT HIS INSTANCES

In default of the appearance of the defendant, District Judge W. A. Babcock, in chambers here Friday, rendered judgment in the case of J. W. Nance against the Franklin Gas and Turbine company, wherein suit was brought for the price of a contract under which the company is manufacturing certain gas engine appliances, and improvements invented by Nance.

Nance sets forth in his complaint that his contract with the company provided that he was to receive a certain salary for his services in its employment and that shops were to be equipped for his use. He declares that these provisions were not complied with.

Nance perfected the device in question while employed in local garages. The Franklin Gas and Turbine company was organized here to manufacture and market the inventions of Nance and to give him a share of the profits. Investors are stockholders in the company. Its office now is at Detroit, Michigan.

SAYS SUBSTITUTE PRICE SHOULD BE CONTROLLED

W. H. HARVEY SUGGESTS PLAY WHARFERY MERCHANDISE MAY MAKE FAIR PROFITS AND STOP WHOLESALER PROFITS

Wholesale prices of commodities are being fixed by the government, and the price of substitutes for the first of each week to govern the price during the ensuing week, according to the opinion of W. H. Harvey. He also believes that the state food administrator should cooperate with the price fixing administration to see that the wholesalers get no profit.

"Washington has adopted such a plan," continued Mr. Harvey, "and it has worked out successfully, and it is no reason why it cannot be worked out here."

"The local grocers are not to blame for they are at the mercy of Mr. Wholesale, for they are jumping the price from one hundred to five hundred percent right along, and the merchant must come up with them."

Mr. Harvey cited an incident of the local grocery store selling olive oil for $1.50 a bottle, which used to sell for a few cents ago for 75 cents a bottle. He said that the article had jumped from $1.50 a bottle retail, to $3.00 a bottle wholesale within the brief space of one week. This, Mr. Harvey thinks, is due to profiteering by the wholesaler and the wholesaler being controlled by the state food administrator.

Mr. Harvey said that the grocers and merchants should then be checked up on the local price fixing body each week.

Mr. Harvey said that the merchants and the wholesaler should make a profit, but not jump the price three hundred percent in a week.

HARVESTING BEGINS AT BULL HILLS

The harvesting season has opened in the Bull hills, and with the cutting of the barley crop, and in one or two fields the wheat has already been out. Next week will find many of the farmers busy harvesting, says the Bull Herald, and it will probably be just about August 8.

The crop will be one of the largest ever harvested on the tract, and some record yields may be expected. This year's crop of the past few weeks has been ideal weather for what will, the farmers say.

SCOUTS LEAVE FOR OUTING

THIRTY-THREE MEMBERS OF TWIN FALLS TROOPS TO SPEND WEEK ON WOOD RIVER

Thirty-three Twin Falls Boy Scouts, under supervision of Scoutmaster W. H. Decker and C. E. Munson, assembled at the high school building at 7 o'clock Sunday morning and a few moments later left in autos for their camp site on Bull creek, two miles east of Ketchikan, where they will spend a week's outing.

Scout discipline is to be enforced during the outing, but there will be plenty of time and opportunity for recreation. The Scouts were permitted to take along no firearms, but there were plenty of fishing outfits included in the camp equipment.

Bugler Beggs Day

The day for the Scouts on this occasion begins at 6 o'clock in the morning, when a bugler sounds first call and reveille. After going through setting up exercises, airing their bedding and "polling" the camp, the Scouts hike two miles to Ketchikan for breakfast. After breakfast they hike to Geyer springs where they spend some time in the swimming pool as the guests of the Geyer hotel management. At 10 o'clock they set out again on a hike to the swimming pool, where they spend in patrol hikes and in going through exercises of the Scouts nature, becoming proficient in the principles of woodcraft, first aid, etc.

PERSONALS

W. H. Decker, Scoutmaster Decker, expects to have the Scouts construct a bridge across Trail creek at the camp site. The stream at this point is shallow but about 20 feet wide.

A corral invitation is extended by the Scoutmaster to the relatives and friends of the Scouts, while the Scouts are in camp, to pay them a visit and see for themselves what the boys are doing.

A list of the Scouts on the excursion follows: Forest, Jackson, Paul Decker, Russell Ingham, Conrad Nagel, W. Murray, Ross Kreamer, Craven, Scott, Murray, Ayers, Leonard and Scott, Marshall Summersville, Dugan, Edwin, Walter, Gerwin, John, Purdy, Ed Higgins, Daniel Frost, Arthur, Puckey, Lowell Mickelwait, Clifford Dick, Elsworth Melchior, Edward Graham, Harold Decker, John Ford, Stanley Whitmore, Lindsey Holman, F. H. Wierwille, C. E. Dyer, R. W. Duke, Charles Koeh, Paul Lantz, "Red" Phil, Alton Denton, Fred Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Watkins of Eden spent Saturday and Sunday here.

Miss Ruth A. Clement of Rupert was a Twin Falls visitor over the week end.

F. O. Peterson of Oakley spent the last of the week here.

A. E. Wilson of St. Anthony, Idaho, is spending several days here on business.

Wilbur Owenby of Buhl is a patient in the Boyd hospital suffering with typhoid fever.

Miss Ruth Bailey of Buhl is spending the week end in Twin Falls.

Miss Anna Hawkins spent several days here the last of the week, taking the teachers' examination.

Raul H. Clark of Oakley spent Saturday and Sunday here.

Miss Eleanor Fletcher of Buhl spent the week end in Twin Falls.

Frank Chandler of Buhl is a patient in the Twin Falls general hospital suffering from typhoid fever.
