ALLIED troops today smashed forward on three sectors of the Soissons-Rheims salient, tearing into the German lines for maximum gains of more than two miles at some points.

The town of Cramoiselle, the important Hill 205, were captured and the Meuniere wood, which had held up the allied advance in the center for days, was entirely cleared of the enemy.

At the same time the Germans showed unusual activity on widely scattered sectors of the French front, feeling out the allied positions by attempted surprise attacks near Rheims, in the neighborhood of Montdidier and in the Verdun sector.

Clear Two Woods

At the southwestern edge of the salient the allies attacked on a front of about ten miles between Plesier-Hioux and Serignes, occupying Cramoiselle and Hill 205 and penetrating D'Arcy wood, northeast of Cramoiselle.

AUGUST DRAFTS 300,000

REGULATES THE MARKETING OF BIG GRAIN CROP

COUNCIL OF DEFENSE PASSES IMPORTANT RESOLUTIONS BEARING ON LOCAL HARVEST

Declaring for limitation of marketing to one-third of the crop of each grower until all growers have been given reasonable opportunity to market their crops and inviting the investigation of state and county directors of commercial economy into the grain storage problem with a view to securing the betterment of conditions in the Twin Falls county council of defense at its meeting here Tuesday evening passed two important resolutions bearing upon the marketing of the 4,000,000 bushel wheat crop produced in the county this year.

The resolutions were drafted by a committee appointed at a prior meeting of the council of defense, and composed of the following members of the council: W. F. Alworth, Twin Falls, president; A. J. Johnson, state director of commercial economy; C. M. Hall, Hollister, manager of the Salmon River Canal company; C. H. McCowen, and Capt. Stuart Browne, Cannon, and County Agent Albert Mallen.

Following is the resolution relative to limitation upon marketing of wheat crops:

Equalizes Opportunity

WHEREAS, this county will produce some four million bushels of wheat this year, an increase of 100 per cent over 1917-1918, and

Whereas, the storage facilities were not 50 per cent adequate last year, and no such facilities are planned for this year, and it is not at all an assured fact that even that storage will be available:

Be it resolved that until such time as the ex-service is relieved from some of its duties the farmer contribute themselves to marketing 75 to 80 per cent of their grain in order that the farmer who lives at a distance from the elevator have an equal chance to market his crop and liquidate his indebtedness.

Be it further resolved that in each instance threshers receipts should be filed at the various elevators before the crop is threshed.

It is further the opinion of the council that this matter of checking this delivery of 75 to 80 per cent can safely be left to the honor of the American farmer. All instances to the contrary only will be subject to investigation on the part of the council of defense.

It is distinctly understood that this rule will not apply to the ex-service of the army in the event of a failure to deliver on the part of those entitled to the privilege within the time specified.

It is urged by the council that all farmers give this matter their earnest consideration.

Asks Officials to Act

The resolution in regard to storage problems is as follows:

Whereas, this county will produce some four million bushels of wheat this year, an increase of 100 per cent or more over 1917, and

Whereas, the storage facilities were not 50 per cent adequate last year, and have increased practically none this year, and it is not at all an assured fact that even that storage will be available:

Be it resolved that it is the sense of this council that the situation is very serious in this county, and that looking towards a bettering of conditions it is further resolved that:

We request and invite O. C. Hagen, state director of commercial economy, to spend a day or two in conjunction with C. H. Cannon, the county director of commercial economy, in going into the situation on this tract so that conditions can be bettered.

GARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deep gratitude to all those who so generously gave of their sympathy and assistance in the burial of our Soldier Boy, Private John J. Jones. We especially feel under deep obligations to the officers and members of the I. O. O. F. church and to President W. P. Jack for his kind words of encouragement and patriotism, also to the officers of the U. S. recruiting station for their unflinching efforts in making the funeral one befitting a soldier who had done his duty, and to those grand old veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic and of the Spanish American war for showing their respect and esteem in which they hold the honor of the uniform and respect due to the flag.

URGES MEN OVER AGE TO DO DUTY

LOCAL ARMY RECRUITING OFFICERS SAY MAJORITY OF ENLISTMENTS ARE AMONG BOYS

It has come to the attention of the local army recruiting officers that few men between the ages of 31 and 40 years are volunteering their services.

In the past the enlistments have been, to a large majority, from the younger class, boys from 18 to 21.

There are a great number of men between the ages of 31 and 41 who could very easily arrange their affairs and join the colors. The war department does not strongly urge the enlistment of married men, but should there be cases where a man with dependents desires to enlist, the government has made a liberal allowance for wife and children, dependent parents, relatives, etc. The opportunity to take out insurance at a very liberal rate of premium is also offered, consequently a man can go into the service with no concern as to the welfare of his family or dependents.

Men over the draft age, do your duty, the recruiting officers urge. Men will not be in the ranks unless they volunteer; your services are needed. All branches of the service are open to you with excellent opportunities for advancement, especially experienced men. Information gladly furnished. A man can go into the service with no concern as to the welfare of his family or dependents.

GOVERNMENT IN LABOR CONTROL

INAUGURATES MOST DRASTIC ACTION SINCE SELECTIVE DRAFT LAW

Effective August 1, a plan of the department of labor for the mobilization through the United States employment service of common labor in essential war industries, which is probably the most drastic action that the government has taken since putting the national army draft into effect, it is to apply throughout the country.

On this date the supplying of war industries with common labor will be centralized in the United States employment service of the department of labor, and the selective recruiting of common labor by manufacturers having a payroll of more than 100 men will be diverted into the United States employment service. This is in accordance with the decision of the war labor policies board, approved by the President on June 17.

Shortage is Cause

This action was found necessary, according to a letter addressed to F. B. Johnson, president of the First National bank, by J. B. Donmore, director general of the United States employment service, to overcome a serious shortage of unskilled labor in war industries. This shortage was aggravated by an almost universal practice of labor stealin' gaud poaching, the director general states. Other portions of his letter are as follows:

While the restrictions against the private employment of labor apply only to common labor at the present time, these restrictions will, as soon as possible, be extended to include skilled labor. In the meantime, recruiting of skilled labor for war production will be subject to federal regulations now being prepared.

This drastic change in the nation's labor program has been found necessary in order to protect the employer and the employed, to conserve the labor supply of the communities and to cut down unnecessary and expensive turnover, which is in some cases as high as 100 per cent a week, and to increase the production of essential goods.

Protects Communities

A survey of the labor requirements is being made and, in order that communities may be properly protected, will be issued that no labor may be transported out of any community by the United States employment service without the approval of the state director, who shall any labor be removed by the service from one state to another without the approval of the service at Washington. Every effort will be made to discourage any movement from community to community or state to state by any other service.

Only Five Classes Not Affected

The requirement that unskilled labor must be recruited through the agency of the United States employment service does not apply at present in the following five cases: 1. Labor which is not directly or indirectly affected by the selective law. 2. Farm labor—is recruited in accordance with existing arrangements with the department of agriculture; 3. Labor for non-war work; 4. Labor for establishments whose maximum force does not exceed 100.

Cattle and Sheep Like Trees

In Australia cattle and sheep are fond of grazing on the foliage of the weeping she-oak or beef-wood, Casuarina quadrivalvis, and some farmers grow it for that purpose. It thrives in California on poor, sandy soil and is a decidedly ornamental tree.

RECRUITERS REQUIRE SWORN BIRTH DATE

MEN UNDER DRAFT AGE MUST FURNISH CERTIFICATE OR AFFIDAVIT WHEN ENLISTING

Under recent orders received from the adjutant general of the army, the local army recruiting officers require, in the case of all young men between the ages of 18 and 21, desiring enlistment in the army, an affidavit, sworn to before a notary, or a birth certificate, showing when the applicant was born and his present age. Owing to the fact that many boys have been entering the service under the age limit, thereby causing trouble later on, the war department has seen fit to issue these orders, and this birth certificate or affidavit is now required from all men desiring enlistment in the army, who are under the draft age.

It is the patriotic duty of the parents of boys who have passed their eighteenth birthday and who express their desire to enlist voluntarily, the recruiting officers point out, to gladly give them this birth certificate or affidavit, thereby facilitating enlistment.

How The Bayonet Lost a Great Battle

BAYONETS, first made at Bayonne, France, whence they get their name, to begin, were almost as dangerous to the army with them as to its foe.

Fashioned with a solid butt, to be jammed into the muzzle, it rendered a gun useless for firing.

The butt was soon changed to a socket, but not before the now famed bayonet brought the English army to grief at Killikrankie.

The English soldier found the bayonet a poor fit, hard to get into his gun; and when he got it in, hard to get out. When he had to bayonet, he couldn't bayonet; when he had to shoot, he couldn't shoot.

GOODRICH SERVICE VALUE TIRES

The bayonet experiment gave the Scots the battle. To safeguard tire users against the chance of experiment, Goodrich Test Car Flicits put the road test to Goodrich Tire, to make them in word and deed SERVICE VALUE TIRES.

Goodrich sees but one tire value, SERVICE VALUE—That is, what a tire proves it is worth to the motorist on his car and on the road, in comfort, economy, dependability, and durability.

All Goodrich skill and sincerity build up SERVICE VALUE, whether you get SILVERTOWN CORD TIRES, or DLACK SAFETY TREADS, you get SERVICE VALUE TIRES.

WAR NEWS

For several years now, in fact ever since the proposition of peace with Germany has been under discussion, there has been no slackening in the attitude of strict accountability to which the Hun will be held when the day of settlement comes.

As evidence of the fact that the determination to exact reparation in full is merely strengthened by the passing days, here are the views as to what crushing Prussian Militarism means of M. Millerand, former Minister of War to France, announced in Washington yesterday:

- 1- Restoration of Alsace-Lorraine.
2- Renouncing of Italian irredentia.
3- Freedom of Bessarabia and Transylvania from Hungarian domination.
4- Restoration of Belgium and Serbia.
5- Establishment of an independent Czechoslovak state and free Poland.

CONSERVATION OF MAN POWER IS FOCH'S PLAN

ADVANCE BEING MADE BY TROOPS IN LINE—FOCH HOLDS HIS RESERVES INTACT

By FRED B. FERGUSON. (United Press Staff Correspondent) WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN FRANCE, July 31 (Night).—Paying high tribute to the Americans fighting between the Oureq and the Marne, General de Frutte, commander of the French army in this region, declared that the offensive is being carried out in such a manner as to spare allied reserves.

tried to command such troops. He said he used the Americans the same as he did the best French troops, a fact of highest importance to the allies. The Germans, he said, are endeavoring to destroy allied reserves before America is able to throw a serious weight into the battle, but with American assistance movements which have completely upset Hindenburg's plans for a drive on Paris are being carried out solely with troops already in the line.

Enemy Reserves Used. In the meantime, Hindenburg is being forced to throw German reserve divisions into the line to check the Franco-American push. It is estimated that at least nine divisions (108,000 men) have been withdrawn from other parts of the front and thrown in between Solomons and Rheims. Standing before a great map, General DeGoulet explained the apparent German plan for the last Marne attack, which was to widen the line south of the river, thus preparing a wider avenue for the advance upon Paris. French and American reserves prevented a serious advance beyond the Marne, then completely scrambled Hindenburg's plans by counter-attacking between Solomons and Chateau-Thierry. German resistance has stiffened north of the Oureq and bitter fighting is under way on the plateau in that region. In Meuniers wood (southeast of Georges) the Boches held strong positions, which were difficult to take by direct attack. The effort being made by the Oureq has been sufficient to destroy allied reserves by flanking movements.

The Franco-American troops have advanced thirty kilometers (18 1/2 miles) since the start of the counter offensive.

Save Charred Documents. Documents that have been charred by fire are rendered readable if collodium is poured over the charred paper. In a few minutes this dries, and a tough, transparent coating is produced through which the printing can be seen. Ink and other papers thus charred have been treated in this way with success.

The Cat. A Japanese schoolboy was told to write a short composition on the cat. After deep thought he handed this in: "The cat is little cat. When first she sees a rat she illuminate her eye."

To Remove Paint. To remove paint from cypresswooden chairs, scrub them with a strong solution of washing soda.

RUSSIAN AID PROGRAM PUT INTO ACTION

WITHOUT PRIOR ANNOUNCEMENT ALLIES HAVE SENT FORCES TO VLADIVOSTOK—AMERICAN PLAN HAS ENDORSEMENT OF JAPAN

By ROBERT J. BENDER (United Press Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, August 1.—The great program for allied aid for Russia—definitely under way. Quietly, without any official announcement to date, the United States, Japan and England have dispatched troops to Vladivostok and more will arrive soon from Colonial possessions near by. Japan has agreed to the American plan for economic aid supported by a force to protect the allied interests while the program is being put into effect. Official announcement of the whole project was only final word from Japan on several minor points.

URGES WORKERS TO BE FAITHFUL TO THEIR TRUST

DIRECTOR GENERAL MADDO REPORTS ON ADJUSTMENTS IN SHOPMEN'S DEMANDS

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Every railroad employee must devote himself with new energy to his work and by faithful and efficient service justify the large increases in pay and improvement in working conditions granted by the government. Director General Maddox has advised shop employees on federal controlled roads. The director general's message was included in a pamphlet setting forth the findings of the railroad board of adjustments in the shopmen's demands for increased pay. Copies of the decision were mailed to every employee. "The loyal and patriotic employees who constitute the great majority of the army of railroad workers have yielded, be it said to their credit and honor, to any disturbing elements," the message continued. "The loyal and patriotic employees can render a new and powerful service to this country by using their influence to discourage slackers in the work and by cooperating with their officers in the enforcement of discipline, and by increasing the utmost limits of their capacity the output of locomotives and cars which are so essential to the efficiency operation of the railroads of the country and to the success of our arms in the field. I know I can count on the patriotism and devotion to duty of every true American citizen engaged in railway service of the United States. "It is a genuine pleasure to make this acknowledgment but I shall not fail to point out at any time where agitation and disturbances have been or may become harmful to our country."

HUN REVERSES SAP SPIRIT OF CONTEMPTUOUS PRISONERS

ADMIT SUPPLIES LOW AND HUMANS GUN FODDER GROWING SHORTER—EVIDENCE FEAR THAT BRITISH MIGHT TAKE OFFENSIVE—FLANDEBB FRONT "QUIET AS G BAYVEARD"

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES still in the midst of a smashing victory, August 1.—The "Heart Bowed Down" is the German tune now, says today.

German officers and men taken prisoners near Merria, Morlancourt and east of Amiens are extremely depressed as a result of the crown prince's failure and General Foch's staggering reply to Ludendorff.

After the first few weeks of the German defensive I declared the German morale to be high—higher than at any time. They flustered around the prison camp as if they already owned the world. They replied once to kindly treatment with contemptuous and condescending smiles. They sneered at American fighters.

Has Spirit Changed. Today I believe it is equally true that the German soldier afield is more depressed than at any period. Prisoners admit supplies are low and that ammunition is not plentiful. They say it is very difficult to get recruits to fill the ranks of war-torn divisions. Food, they report, is getting low and regretted publicly in the water, he said, until a statement made by his former wife was read to him: "They might have waited until the ink was dry on the divorce papers," said the first Mrs. Bushman. "I should have obtained a divorce three years ago," was Bushman's reply to this.

HUBBY MIGHT HAVE WAITED UNTIL INK DRIED ON DIVORCE DECREE, THINKS FIRST WIFE

BALTIMORE, Md., August 1.—Francis X. Bushman, movie star, and his costar, Beverly Bayne, were married at New York Monday. Bushman smilingly admitted here today. The marriage quickly followed granting of a divorce to the first Mrs. Bushman at Towson, Md., last Friday. Bushman quietly discussed the marriage to Miss Bayne and regretted publicly in the water, he said, until a statement made by his former wife was read to him: "They might have waited until the ink was dry on the divorce papers," said the first Mrs. Bushman. "I should have obtained a divorce three years ago," was Bushman's reply to this.

LANDSDOWNE PEACE TALK IS RIDICULED

LONDON NEWSPAPER DECLARES PRESENT IS TIME TO TALK WITH SWORD

LONDON, August 1.—Foreign Minister Von Kuhlmann and former Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg are named to have appeared in Holland, the Mail announced today.

The newspaper pointed out this may possibly make a renewal of the German peace offensive in connection with the new open letter of Lord Lansdowne.

The morning papers are unanimously unsympathetic with Lansdowne's attitude. "The Daily Mail," anti-government, said the "Times" meant, but the Northcliffe press severely denounces the letter.

"Lansdowne's new epistle will do nothing but mischief," The News said. "When Lansdowne has persuaded the Kaiser and Hindenburg to return to Germany and pay for the damage they have done, then peace can be talked about. The allies and the British stand firmly by Wilson, saying 'the enemy must not be gone through again.'"

The other newspaper comment included: "Sketch: 'He ought to have addressed his letter to the Kaiser.'"

"Lansdowne declares the present is an opportune moment to negotiate peace. He is mistaken. It is opportune to negotiate with the sword."

"Graphic: 'The present, his utterances will lead to, nothing.'"

"Chronicle: 'He wants us to state bedrock terms. We doubt that Lansdowne, if, buying a house, would tell the absolute top price he would give.'"

The Orpheum Theatre

LAST SHOWING TODAY

LAST CALL—BE SURE AND SEE IT

OVER THE TOP

The marvelous fotoplay from Sergeant Empey's world-famous book. Complete new show tomorrow—a message to you from the Orpheum Theatre on the most important subject in all the world.

THERE IS A NEW FLAG AFOAT IN THE WORLD TODAY. It is not the flag of our country that brings millions to their feet with an emotional clutch to their throats.

It is not the flag of the Red Cross—the badge of the Armies of Mercy that floats over the fields of pain.

It is an insignia and emblem of the heart: The new honor decoration of the American home: The pennant of millions of doorways and windows that betoken to humanity that "this house has given a son or a husband, this house has given a MAN, to the world-wide league of humanity."

The flag of a single star—THE SERVICE STAR of the warm-blooded, nation-loving millions who have made this the greatest country the world has ever known.

The star of the negro cabin in Alabama, where a black boy has gone from the Cotton Belt. The star of a Columbia river salmon fisherman.

The star of the waiter in a Chinese restaurant in New York's submerged civilization. The star of the millionaire or the millinaire's son rubbing elbows with the son of his mother's laundress.

The honor token of a Great Lakes dock-hand and a California fruit-packer. One hundred million people are today thinking of these assorted products of our American civilization who are being re-made in the crucible of war.

We are tomorrow showing in THIS THEATRE a Goldwyn motion picture that will reach the heart of every man, woman and child who sees it. This picture is a drama of the American home and of mothers', daughters' and lovers' hearts. Not one scene of it is laid in Europe. Not one scene reveals a battle, or preparation for battle. There are no spins, no struggles, no tense unhappy moments to bring grief or pain to the womanhood of the nation.

But there is a WONDERFUL STORY and all the way through it you see A WONDERFUL GIRL, who, through the power that God puts into the soul of woman, makes WAY A WONDERFUL BOY to make THIS A WONDERFUL WORLD TO LIVE IN.

Whether you are hard or soft of heart, whether you think you wish to or not, THERE IS NOTHING IN THE WORLD THAT CAN KEEP YOU FROM COMING TO SEE THIS FOTOPLAY.

CHAPTER XIII

Lions, Anzacs and Poles... One night, while we were expecting an attack, the word was passed down the line to have the wire cutters ready and to use bayonets only for the first part of the attack... As we turned and started back the Turks rushed out to counter-attack us... I picked Him Up and Started Back... When I thought the shells were coming pretty thick again I got into a shell hole and it was the same one I had left not long before... The worst of all was that he kept growling for water, and it made me think that I had been seen... I was so tired and nervous that I did not care much whether I got back or not, and the wounded gary was growling all the time...

I picked Him Up and Started Back... When I thought the shells were coming pretty thick again I got into a shell hole and it was the same one I had left not long before... going to die too. It made me mad to think that I had not been of any use in carrying these two men around, but if I had gone on with either of them it would have been just the same as if I had never had any gun with me. I would have got it, too. When I figured it out this way I quit worrying about it, only I wished the fire would let up.

So the other man died, and there were two of them in the hole. I read the numbers on their identification disks when shells burst near enough so that I could see them, and after a while got back to our lines and rolled over my shoulder to remember the numbers or the names by that time, but a working party got them, along with others, so it was all right.

My clothes were a mess, as I have said, and I was so tired that I could not sleep for a week, but I could not stand it in my clothes any longer. It was absolutely against regulations, but I took off all my clothes—the blouse had soaked into the skin and wrapped myself in nothing but silk and went right to sleep. I did not sleep very well, but woke up every once in a while and thought I was in the hole once again. I thought I was going to die, but I was not.

During the night they brought up water, but I was asleep and did not know it. They did not wake me, but two men saved by sharing their water with me. There was enough water in a canteen that it was everybody for himself and for the last man going. You could not blame them, either, so I thought it was pretty decent of these two to save my share for me. I believe they were afraid of a hard time keeping the others out of it, to say nothing of themselves, for there really was not more than enough for one good drink all around. It tasted better than anything I have ever drunk. So dry for 24 hours in the hottest weather you can find, do a night's work like that, and come to in the morning with a tin cup full of muddy water being handed to you, and you will know what I mean.

At Ochs Topé there were steep little hills with quarries in between them, and most of the prisoners we took were caught in the quarries. We found lots of dead Turks under piles of rock, where our guns had battered the walls of the quarries down on them.

We were fighting about this part of the canyon one day when we saw three motor trucks disappear over the side of a hill going across country. The detachment from the Cassard was sent over on the run and we came upon the trucks from those tracks and several others just after they had got out and were starting back on foot. We captured that whole bunch—but I do not know how many in all. They were reinforcements on their way to a part of the line that had been broken very hard, and by capturing them we helped the Anzacs a great deal, for they were able to get through for a big gain.

We held that position, though they retched shells on us so hard that that day and night that we thought they were placing a barrage for a raid, and stood to arms with almost none the next day. I was so tired that I had a shell for shell, and pounded the Turkish trenches and broke several other trench until they had all they could do to stay in them.

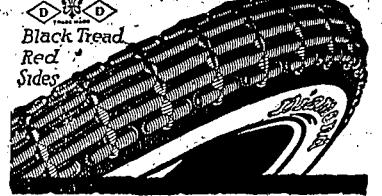

Finally, our guns placed shell after shell on the enemy's communication trenches, and they could neither bring up reinforcements nor retire. So we went over and cleaned them out and took the trench. But then our guns did to stop because we were in range and the Turks brought up reinforcements from other parts of the line and we were driven back after holding their trench all afternoon. It was about five days, though for which that reinforced one part of the line some of our troops would break through in another part.

That night there was a terrible rainstorm. It was really a cloud-burster. We had all the water we wanted then, and more, too. A great many men and mules were drowned, both of our troops and the Turks. Trenches were washed in and most of the works ruined. There were several Turkish bodies washed into our trench, and two mules came over together, though whether they were Turkish or French or British I do not know.

One Diamond For Every Three Cars in America

MOTORISTS are buying Diamond Tires—such numbers that over 2,000,000 are now in service—easily, one for every three cars in America.

This patronage is significant when you consider that the big demand for Diamonds comes from motorists who have used them in previous years and insist upon Diamond mileage again.

Such demand can be commanded only by tires of super-value.

A Diamond Tube is likely to outwear your car itself. Made in Gray and Red, in sizes to fit any make of tire.

NATION WARNED TO PREPARE FOR BIG CASUALTIES

WHILE NOT OUT OF PROPORTION TO RECENT FIGHTING, THEY PROMISE TO BE LARGEST

By CARL D. GROUT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, August 11.—The nation must steel itself for the shock of the first great casualty list, according to officials today.

These lists, while not disproportionate to the scope of recent fighting, will be far greater than recent totals, and will bring the war home to America as nothing else has, these officers point out.

American casualties for the entire war to the end of July totaled slightly more than 14,000, so far as announced.

Compared with the French and British American losses will be small. Seven divisions and two old regiments are now engaged. Counting replacement units, it is likely that more than 300,000 Americans have been in action.

While casualties normally run only two and three per cent, it is regarded as quite possible the dead, wounded, missing and prisoners in a conflict as serious as the Bolson-Rheims battle will be ten per cent or more.

RECESS MAY END ALMOST ANY DAY

CONGRESSMEN MAY HURRY BACK TO WORK ON ARMY ENLARGEMENT

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Congressmen may hasten back to Washington before the end of their recess to begin work on legislation that will provide an enlarged army.

Many legislators in the senate favor such action Senator Curtis, Kans., Republican ("whip"), proposes issuing a rallying call to senators of his party to return here. Under the recent plan, regular business may be resumed should a quorum give its unanimous consent.

Senators of Washington today believe that the exact date to be fixed by the draft are less important than expediting the necessary legislation promptly.

Variety of Views

Senatorial opinion inclines to agree to 20 to 40 as the proper figure. Some "big army" advocates insist that 50 to 75 would be better. Another class believes that 25 or 30 would be high enough and Secretary Baker, according to the Congressional belief favors the latter view.

An army of five million men at least finds favor with the vast majority. Others gave "the sky as the limit" and quote the president's "why stop at five million?"

Even should the most conservative changes be enacted in the age limit, an army of well over 5,000,000 could be provided easily.

Already, including July quotas, more than 3,500,000 men are enrolled in the armies of the United States. Two million approximately have been drafted. The rest are volunteers.

Under the present draft law 641,128 men may be added to these figures bringing the total to approximately 3,875,000. To these may be added the volunteers of the regular army.

To increase the total armed force to 5,000,000 would require in round figures 1,125,000 men to be obtained from the new draft.
