Disorders Result in State of Siege Being Declared--Ten German Sailors Slain at Kieff--Trouble at Odessa

ROUMANIA TOO MOVED BY SPIRIT OF REBELLION

Five Hundred Persons Arrested as Possible Accomplices in Von Eichenor Murder--Many Are Cadets

BOME, August 3.—A state of siege has been declared in Ukraine, because of disorders following the assassination of German Dictator von Eichenor, according to dispatches from Zurich today. In Rounania Field Marshal von Mackensen has also declared a state of siege, the Zurich dispatches reported, following a rebellion of workmen and peasants.

Slay German Estors

Special measures to hold down rebellions have been instituted at Kieff and in Odessa, the important Ukrainian Black Sea port.

Orderly clamorers received via Zurich declared that in consequence of the Von Eichenor murder 600 persons had been arrested, including ex-Provost Wineschensky's secretary, M. Mikoloff, and many members of the cadet party.

Stories of attacks on Germans come from Ukraine. Ten German soldiers were found slain in the outskirts of Kieff last Thursday.

Arrest Causes Sensation

Revolts of the peasants is reported at several places. German reinforcements are continually arriving at Warsaw.

The arrest of Ex-Minister Pellera caused a great sensation. It confirms the belief that the Germans had discovered a plot to overthrow Eastman Sheropolski, who minister for the Germans, and make Archduke William, son of Archduke Charles Stephen, king or hetman. German official circles are most perturbed.

PERSHING SAYS COST WILL BE 12,000 OR MORE

Chief of Staff March Tells the Senate Military Committee Casualties Will Be Twenty per Thousand

YANKES IN FRANCE EXCEED 1,300,000

Question of Draft Age Change Informally Discussed--May Put Top Limit at 38, According to Senator Fletcher

WASHINGTON, August 3.—General Pershing has estimated American casualties in the present drive at 12,000, members of the senate military committee were told today by General March, chief of staff.

Casualties Increase

March made it clear, however, that this was only an estimate. Pershing estimated that casualties have increased recently from 12 per thousand men to 20 per thousand men. March also informed members of the committee that American troops and in France number over 1,300,000. The committee discussed in general with March and Secretary Baker the question of changing the draft age. March did not make his proposal to the committee as a whole, but discussed it privately with Senator Chamberlain later.

Senator Fletcher indicated the belief that 38 would be the maximum in the bill to be presented to congress early next week.

Discusses Manpower

The officer said, too, that the twenty-eighth division had made rapid progress and had advanced a considerable distance from its rear line. The Railway division, it was stated, was the organization which a week ago distinguished itself against the crack fourth British division.

Food Administration Escapes Bomb Raid

PRESIDENT MAY TAKE POWER CONCERNS OVER

Indications Are That Authority for Move Will Be Asked of Congress Soon

WASHINGTON, August 3.—Authority for the president to take over and operate power transmission lines and water power sites will be asked of congress directly after the recess.

Judge Thelus Sims, chairman of the house interstate committee was to meet with officials of the war industries board today to draw an amendment to the water power bill, granting the president this power. A serious shortage of power in the great munitions and ordnance centers particularly in the east makes the step necessary of officials said.

Two plans to furnish these centers more power through long distance transmission have already been worked out. The first is to build electric generating plants at the mouth of Pennsylvania coal mines to make power which would be carried two hundred miles or more on high tension lines to the great munition centers of Pittsburgh and the small areas factories in Connecticut. These plants would use mountains of refuse coal which has been piling up for years because it is unprofitable to transport it.

The second plan is to take over existing water power sites or build dams and create new ones to generate long distance power. There are sites which can be taken over in Ohio, Minnesota and Arkansas, but if it doubtful if sites could be built in time to be of use in the present war.

Shooting of Draft Evader by Policeman Leads to Protest by Organized Labor

(By United Press)

VANCOUVER, B. C., August 3.—Organized labor called a general strike in Vancouver at noon yesterday to protest against the shooting of Albert Goodwin, a draft evader, in the forest on Vancouver Island last Saturday.

Goodwin was 32 years of age and a Socialist member of married ability. When called in the draft early this year, he took to the woods at the head of a party of six evaders and gave the police a long chase. Saturday he was shot and instantly killed by Police Constable Dan Campbell. Campbell says he fired in self defense; that he simply beat Goodwin to the trigger. Goodwin's friends say that the dead man's rifle was a small weapon designed to keep him in food in the woods and that Goodwin would not have shot the policeman.

Fired to Save His Life

Immediately after the shooting, Campbell exclaimed, "I am sorry but I did it only to save my own life." Laborites claim that the shooting was unnecessary and are demanding a rigid investigation. Labor leaders in Vancouver decided on a one day's strike of protest and this went into effect at noon. Street cars stopped, gas yards closed and some other industries were tied up.

Glad Tidings of Hope

TO THOSE WHO HAVE SUFFERED FOR YEARS-- THERE IS HOPE AND HEALTH FOR YOU

DR. WYLY THE CHIROPRACTOR

WHO HAS PROBABLY BROUGHT HEALTH AND CHEER TO MORE SUFFERERS THAN ANY MAN IN THE STATE, IN THE SAME LENGTH OF TIME--ASKS YOU, TOO, TO JOIN THE HAPPY HOST OF SATISFIED PATIENTS AND GET WELL. YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE SICK.

Second

The nerves often being subject to that pressure for months and sometimes years are stretched and deadened. They must be stimulated back to life and normal action. This he does with the Violet Ray electricity and vibration.

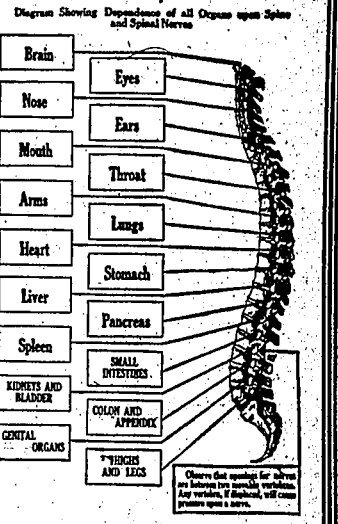

Third

Owing to the long pressure on the nerves, the three great organs of elimination, viz. the skin, bowels and kidneys, have not thrown off the poisons from the system. The system is truly a poison-house and you will not be relieved until the poisons are removed from the body. This he does with his mineral vapor and electric light baths.

Now

When these three things are done, no matter what your trouble was nor of how long standing—the chances are 9 to 1 that nature will assert herself and you will be well. I repeat, it matters not what your trouble is, nor of how long standing, if there is vitality enough left within you to respond to nature's process of rebuilding, you will get well.

Don't give up—just because other things have failed is no reason

GOD intended that all of the organs of the body should functionate normally, and each organ has a special work to do. Dr. Wily follows out and works exclusively with that great principle ever before him. He goes RIGHT to the CAUSE of your trouble, which is usually a subluxation (partial displacement) of the vertebrae of the spine.

He does not believe in strong, poisonous medicines, neither does he believe it necessary to CUT OUT (remove) the organs which God in His wisdom has placed within us. But he DOES believe in relieving the pressure on the nerves which lead to and control these organs and then (and ONLY then) can NATURE, the great healer, do her work unhindered. There is ABSOLUTELY nothing strange or mysterious about the art of "making sick folks well." To do this, Dr. Wily contends that THREE (three) things are absolutely necessary:

First We must release the pressure on the nerves which control the organs of the body (this he does by his system of adjustments).

Chiropactor can't make you well. Come on and give ME a chance. If I can't help you I will tell you so. I am one of the very best and most careful graduate Chiropactors in the state. Dr. Miller, my assistant and we have two lady nurses in charge of the baths, who know and perform their duties perfectly. So don't give up—see us at once and be put on the road to health and happiness.

REMEMBER, consultation and spinal analysis are FREE, I say free—ABSOLUTELY FREE. It costs you nothing to know your real trouble and whether or not we can help you. You are under no obligations whatever.

Just a word in conclusion, we NOW have a daily average of 55 patients who can accommodate 50—only 15 more than we now have. Come on in at ONCE and be one of that 15 and get well and make room for some other sufferer.

If you are not sick yourself, help a sick friend by referring them to us. They will appreciate it more than anything you can possibly do for them.

IMPORTANCE OF UNITY
Ephemeral and impractical as may be the scheme for the world's social and industrial life through the adoption of world unity sponsored at Nohby by C. B. Brannon, credit at least must be given Brannon for the ability to discern the danger to the cause of humanity resulting from discord at his time and for readiness to express his views.

The less susceptible they are to discordant, the more effective are the poisons used by the laborer's agents employed not only against life and limb as exemplified in the adulteration of foods, the spread of disease germs and in the use of dynamite, but against the morale of a people that must stand united and in harmony against a common foe.

The position by which the laborer faces the greater evil and to help the supreme issue with consideration of other affairs is one which the laborer might well seek to produce to suit his ends, if he has not already done so.

It may be that respect to his passions for the alleviation of the world's ill, Brannon is indulging in an irrisolute dream. That is a question open to debate. Brannon without a hard-headed business man. He is one of those who recognize the menace of discord in the present crisis, and he has carried the thought of the desirability unity a step farther to make it apply to times of peace.

Time enough after the world shall have emerged from the present peril to debate the advisability of universal unity. The prime consideration now, and one also to his best work, is the unification of the American people and their allies for the winning of the war.

LAWSUIT WILL TEST COMPENSATION ACT

Insurance Manager Takes Action Against Merchant Refusing to Comply

BOISE—A suit which will determine the liability of an employer to comply with the workmen's compensation act in carrying compensation insurance for his employes has been instituted before Judge Isaac F. Smith at Boise against Sam C. Pines, a coal merchant, says the Idaho Statesman. The suit was instituted by C. O. Bruzon, state insurance manager. Arguments on an order to Oris to show cause why he should be permitted to continue in business without having complied with the law will be heard Monday by Judge Smith.

IN THE LIMELIGHT

ANOTHER BIG MAN ENLISTED

When James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation was selected for the position of director of operations of the shipping board, the steel industry felt a man had been chosen who is pre-eminently fitted to handle a job involving a knowledge of the foreign trade of the steel corporation he has acquired information and experience which will be of great benefit in increasing the government's capacity for transporting men and supplies to the European war front.

Born at New Haven, on February 12, 1883, Mr. Farrell started his steel career in a wire mill while he was yet in his teens. While his work in the shops was considered satisfactory he gained an early reputation as a salesmen with the Pittsburgh Wire company. Soon after that concern was taken over by the American Steel and Wire company, Mr. Farrell was made general sales manager. He filled this position with such success that when the company decided to enter the foreign field he was offered and accepted the post of foreign sales agent.

TALES FROM BIG CITIES

Just One of Those Who Heard the Country's Call

IF YOU shut your eyes and keep on for three squares you will come to a shop. You'll notice it because outside the window there is a sign on which some amateur line artist has drawn a pair of shoes that no foot on earth could wear and angels wouldn't want to— and above the door is lettered a grand opera name that only genius could spell.

Actually glimpsed, the shop stands for a very small public with which some strange Dave is holding a big, strange-looking Goliath whom he calls the New Yorker, but you can't always depend on glimpses.

If you had seen David, the other day, say, standing in his open door with one foot resting over the other as if it didn't have to work and wouldn't, with his shirt-sleeved arms folded in the official attitude of one who has done his job, and in his midnight eyes something that would have been a smirk except that it was honest pride—you would have known right there that Goliath was as dead as the stored cat in the alley—that's the time you should have come across young David!

There was a reason, of course. A photographer on the pavement was taking a postcard snap for the folks back in Italy, where the crossed feet and folded arms with smug attached will mean success, and where, through the alchemy of affection, the youngster's desire to show off will be interpreted into loyalty and memory and love.

F. S.—All that was until a month ago. Now the skies are gone and the door is locked and the dust has been blown right on the shutter.

You cannot be contented to sit at a bench and peek and sew and sing "Santa Lucia" when you have a country to fight for.

FIVE MORE MEN ENTER THE RACE FOR NOMINATION

Aspirants for the State Legislature File Papers Friday ---Three Have Endorsement of Nonpartisan League

MILLER OF CASTLEFORD FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Woodruff, Berger and Littler Come Out as Organized Farmers' Choice--Judge Hansen Would Be Senator

The nominations of three candidates for the state legislature endorsed by the Nonpartisan League on the Democratic ticket, of Lawrence Hansen for state senator on the Democratic ticket, and of Carl J. Miller of Castleford representative on the Republican ticket, together with their acceptances, were filed Friday in the office of the county clerk.

Miller is the only one among the five who had not previously figured in political gossip. He is the owner of extensive farm property and is regarded as one of the substantial citizens of the west end of the county. The announcement of his candidacy is received with general satisfaction among members of the Republican party. His nomination was filed by J. E. White of Twin Falls.

Judge Hansen, who was a member of the fourteenth session of the state legislature as a representative from this county, has been endorsed for state senator by the Twin Falls County Jefferson club, of which he was president for two years. He is a pioneer of Idaho, having resided in the vicinity of his present home for about 42 years. He served as justice of the peace in this precinct for nearly a quarter of a century. He is president of the Bank of Hansen. His acquaintanceship over the county is large and his numbers a large number of friends and admirers.

The candidates endorsed by the Nonpartisan League whose nominations were filed Friday on the Democratic ticket were Frank L. Woodruff, of Twin Falls, Fred W. Berger of Dorego and Edgar A. Littler of Castleford, all being candidates for representative from this county.

COMPLETE OVERHAULING

MANY motorists are fast learning the value of having their cars thoroughly overhauled at regular intervals. Fewer repair bills, better mileage and longer service repay you many times the price of proper overhauling.

Give Your Car New Life Don't wait until your car stops running before putting it in the shop. The more you run it after it commences to get "balky" the more harm you are doing it, and the more it will cost to have it put in good condition again.

They begin their life as tiny cell-like creatures and have a short, free life in the sea, after which they fasten themselves to a rock and begin to develop. They are sponges that form "cans" and "pots" and are called by the fishermen "sea cans," because they look like birds' nests.

Bybee Is Sponsor. The nomination of Edgar A. Littler was filed by James A. Bybee of Twin Falls, present county surveyor and candidate for the Democratic nomination for re-election to that office. Littler is now engaged in farming in the vicinity of Castleford. Will, a resident of Dubi he was manager of a cooperative milling and elevator company, and served several years as city treasurer. PRESIDENT IS AFTER REPUBLICAN SUPPORT

Asks Senator Baird of New Jersey to Help on Woman Suffrage.

WASHINGTON, August 3.--President Wilson extended his drive for suffrage votes into the Republican camp today when he wrote a letter to Senator Baird, New Jersey, urging the latter to support the suffrage amendment in the senate.

The president's action followed two earnest appeals to Senator Shulze, Democrat, Tennessee, along similar lines.

The letter to Senator Baird follows: "The whole subject of woman suffrage has been very much in my mind of late and has come to seem to me part of the international situation as well as a question of capital importance to the United States. I believe that our present position as champions of Democracy throughout the world would be greatly strengthened if the senate would follow the example of the house of representatives in passing the pending amendment."

"I therefore take the liberty of writing to call the matter to your serious attention in this light and to express the hope that you will deem it wise to show your vote and influence on the side of this great and now critical reform."

OUTLINES NEWS ON DUTIES OF SENATORSHIP

Frank R. Gooding Issues a Statement as to Policies in the Event of Election to Vacant Place

In a general statement issued to the people of Idaho, Frank R. Gooding formally announces his determination to be a candidate on the Republican ticket for the unexpired term of the late Senator Hiram. Mr. Gooding calls attention to his record in the state both politically and personally, promises unqualified support of the government in the work of winning the war by force of arms, and pledges support of all legislation for the relief of the people. He also recognizes the rights of the man who is now engaged on the firing line in the defense of the great principles of democracy.

He also expresses the views of Mr. Gooding concerning a number of other public questions. He says that he is not a proponent of any party, but that he is a proponent of the principles of the Republican party. He says that he is a proponent of the principles of the Republican party.

Woman Suffrage Amendment.
"To the mothers of Idaho and of the rest of the world, I am glad to see the passage of the Susan B. Anthony amendment to the constitution of the United States."

The history of the past twenty-two years in Idaho, during which time woman has enjoyed the franchise, has proven beyond a doubt the wisdom of our early suffrage.

I have always been a strong advocate of national prohibition. A law of this kind will always have my active support.

I am in favor of a law that will bring about an intelligent distribution and marketing of our farm products. At the present time this government is giving the farmer a disadvantage that is given by other countries to the farmer. This matter should be given serious consideration at the earliest possible moment both in the interest of the producer and consumer.

I believe in the principle of government that places a tax on incomes, and believe that those making profits even in times of peace or war, should in a large measure share the expenses of the government.

Fourteen years of my life were spent working for day's pay. Of late years I have been the employer of labor in a large way on farms and in the handling of stock, and I understand fully the necessity of a close and friendly relationship between labor and employer. If I am elected to the United States Senate the labor of this country will have my sympathy and aid in all matters that are just and right.

Should Fix Price of Products
If the farmer's price are to be regulated and the price fixed by law, I know of no good reason why the price of those things that the farmer must also be regulated. If it is right that the price of the farmer's products should be fixed, then the same principle holds good to us as all other products of our country are concerned. To fix the price of wheat is to fix the price of flour, to fix the price of cotton is to fix the price of cloth, to fix the price of iron is to fix the price of steel, to fix the price of coal is to fix the price of power, to fix the price of oil is to fix the price of fuel, to fix the price of sugar is to fix the price of candy, to fix the price of meat is to fix the price of food, to fix the price of clothing is to fix the price of life, to fix the price of education is to fix the price of the future, to fix the price of the world is to fix the price of the universe.

Reclamation of Arid Lands
This war has demonstrated to the whole world the importance of agriculture. I believe the time has arrived when our government should take up the great work of reclaiming our arid lands. During my two terms as governor of Idaho, I have been a strong advocate of the great Carey Act projects of this state, and I am familiar with every part of Idaho. I shall urge with all my force and energy, if elected to the United States Senate, that the government should immediately to secure reservoir sites in every part of our state and their construction for the purpose of storing all of the flood waters.

A reservoir system could be so extensive as to permit the storing of flood waters in excessive high water years, so as to carry over from year to year an ample supply that will guarantee to the people of Idaho a full water supply in those years when there is a light snowfall in our mountains. If this work is done it will bring about the reclamation of all of our arid lands, will practically double the population of Idaho, and make this state a mighty factor in furnishing the food supply for the nation.

I shall be glad to work for a law that will give to our boys who are giving their services for the cause of their country a preference right to

West Discriminated Against
I have protested against the war representatives in congress against what I feel is a discrimination against the west in the fixing of the price of farm products and forcing the farmer to bear the burden of an excessive freight rate. I believe that when this government commends the labor of the farmer and his soil, the price of farm products should be the same in every part of our country, and the government should bear the expense of marketing the farmer's products. I do not believe the principle is right where the government pays one man a premium over another for the same service and the same use of his soil.

Tax on Freight Bills
I am protesting against the war tax that is levied on freight bills. This is a discrimination against the west that is unjust and unfair. I do not believe that freight bills are a fair or just basis for levying a tax. Idaho's freight rates are excessive and under the present rate the farmer who ships a hundred thousand pound carload of wheat to Chicago, pays a war tax of $15.00, while the farmer who ships a hundred thousand pound carload of wheat to live close to our great markets only pays a war tax of $3 or less for the same car. Under the present ruling of the food administration the farmer of Idaho is forced to pay the full 50 cent war tax on all wheat that is grown in Idaho and sold to the government, whether it is milled into flour and sold in the vicinity where grown, or sold back to the farmer who grows it, for seed and purposes of winter wheat over shipped on a railroad or not. This regulation in my mind is unfair and unjust to the farmers of the whole country.

Freight Rates Excessive
Idaho pays the highest freight rates of any state for millions of bushels of wheat to the United States coast and pledges my untiring efforts to the end that the people of Idaho may enjoy the same freight rates that are given to other states in the union.

Agriculture Appreciated
Not only has this war demonstrated the importance of agriculture to the whole world, but it has also made clear the importance of the live stock industry to the people. At the present time the live stock industry of Idaho is confronted with a serious condition, and unless there is some intelligent disposition made of our unutilized public range, this great industry will be broken down and destroyed.

Lengthens Life of Chain
It has been discovered that a hemp rope twisted in and out of the links of an iron chain will make the chain last 70 per cent longer by reducing friction, and save from one-fifth to one-third of the price of a new chain.

New Hydraulic Air Compressor
A novel hydraulic air compressor, designed for operating a water meter under a head of 200 or 300 feet, has two large vertical cylinders, from which the air is forced by the direct pressure of the water. When the air of one cylinder has been driven into the horizontal tank, a two-way valve automatically releases the water and turns the pressure into the other cylinder, making action continuous.

ROYAL BAKERY

I did not say anything to the sergeant or the other men—just went out of the dugout. The sergeant and another man went with me and looked up over the back wall of the hole. I lay flat on the ground for a minute to get my bearings, and then started off.

I set my course for where I thought the communication trenches were, to the right, and I just stood up and ran. I figured that as the shells were falling so thick and it was open ground I would not have any better chance if I crawled.

I turned several times and went down, and each time thought I was hit, because when I got it in the thigh at Dixmude it felt a good deal as though I had writhed over a rope, then one time when I felt a shell exploded near me and I began to retreat, and I could not go for a long time. All this time I did not think I would get through, but finally when I reached what had been the communication trench I felt I had done the worst part of it, and I began to wish very hard that I would get through—I was not at all crazy about going west.

The mouth of the communication trench had been battered in and the trenches it joined with were all filled up. There were ridges sticking out in them in several places, and I thought probably the men had been hurled alive in them. But it was too late then, if they had been caught, so I climbed over the blocked entrance to the communication trench and started back along it. It felt up through a sort of hole, and I thought it was a place to dig a communication trench in, because it gave the Turks, some advantage like the side of a hill to shoot at.

Every once in a while I would have to climb in and out of a shell hole, and parts of them were blocked, so a shell had caved in the wall. In one place I saw corpses all torn to pieces, so I knew the Turks had found the range and had got to this trench in great shape. At another place I found lots of blood and equipment but no bodies, and I figured that reinforcements had been caught at this spot and that they had retreated, taking their equipment with them.

The Turks still had the range, and they were sending a shell into the trench every once in a while, and I was knocked down again, though the shell was so far away that it knocked me down without hitting me, but that was anything else. I felt dirty and shivered a lot, and kept trying to think of Murray or anything else but myself. So finally I got to the top of the little hill over which the gully ran, and on the other side was the trench safe. Just down from the crest of the hill was one of our artillery positions, with the good old "75" giving it to the Turks as fast as they could. I told the artillery officer what had happened, and he told me to stay there and be ready. I thought sure he would send me back to where I came from and I knew I never could make it again, but I did not say anything.

When I looked around I saw that our real position was the right of where the artillery was, and that there were three lines of trenches with French infantry in them. So the trenches I had come from were more like outposts than anything else, and were cut off. I felt pretty sure, but that the boys in them would never come back alive, because as soon as their fire got the Turks would advance, and to keep them back our guns would have to wipe out our men, and if they did not, the Turks would, but at first I was glad I had come out, but then I remembered what the artillery officer had said and I figured I would have to go back and stay with them and get through somehow. I was not one chance in a hundred that any of us would make it. Because when I got through it was really just a miracle and nobody would have thought it could happen.

When I got into the dugout again the man was coming to me. He was just about as near shell shock as I had been—by this time I was shivering only once in a while, when I did not watch myself. He said four men had been sliced up trying to get to us before we came; that they had lost 11 men out of their 25, including the sergeant-major in command and two corporals; that they were almost out of ammunition; that the trenches on both sides of them had been blown in and that they were likely to be blown in any moment. He said they all thought the Turks would attack behind their barrage, for he said the curtain of fire did not extend more than a hundred yards in front of their trench. What they wanted us to do was to relay a man back with the news and either get the word to advance or retire or await reinforcements, they did not care which—only to be ordered to do something. There was not a commissioned officer left with either of the detachments, you see, and you might say we were up in the air—we were really as far off pieces as any moment. The men of our line not far behind us, but we knew better; so then he said he did not see how any one could get back from there to our nearest lines. I did not know either. Then we all figured we were forgotten and would not come out of there alive, and you can believe me or not, but I did not much care. Anything would be better than just staying there in that awful noise with nothing to do, and no water. Our sergeant said he would not ask any man to attempt to carry the message, because he said it was not only very hard, but absolutely useless, and he began to show that he was near shell shock himself.

There have been recorded many cases of deafness and speechlessness being cured by accidental means, such as a sudden noise or an unexpected visitor, or a startling question, and in one case at least a midnight fall out of bed. Finally, in despair, the doctors ordered the lappages to be played near the patient's bed. That did the work.

Many Kinds of Breadstuffs.
Almost everything that grows has been called upon to make bread for man. In remote ages the Egyptians of the Nile valley prepared bread from the seeds of lotus flowers. These flowers were sown abundantly in the mud of the river bottom, and when the annual overflow receded there was a harvest of lotus flowers, just as we harvest wheat today.

Cement for Mending China Dishes.
Valuable china may be mended with the following mixture, and when dry it will resist hot water and ordinary usage. Mix a teaspoonful of alum and a tablespoonful of water. Place in a hot oven until it is quite transparent. Wash the broken pieces in hot water, dry and put them into the oven until they are warm; and while still warm coat the broken edges with the mixture thinly and quickly as it sticks instantly.—Popular Science Monthly.

Innocence No Guard.
A southern newspaper contains the following item: "Joe Odum was acquitted of violating the prohibition law, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or serve three months at hard labor; the balance of the fine to be suspended during good behavior on payment of $50." We should think of what might have been inflicted upon Joe had he been convicted instead of acquitted.—Case and Comment.

Cost of Writing Letters.
Have you ever figured out the cost per letter of your business correspondence? Taking into consideration the cost of stationery and stamps, the salary of the stenographer, cost of all accessories to the typewriter, all overhead charges, and last, but not least, cost of time of the man who dictates the letter, it works out at 40 cents per letter, and that is an absolute minimum.—Popular Science Monthly.

Is Lightest Wood.
Silks spruce, which takes from 70 to 80 years to mature, is light, compact, nearly odorless, light yellow and has scarcely distinguishable grain-work. It has long been used for ship-building, and is used and by musical instrument makers for sounding boards. Douglas fir or spruce, great forests of which are found on the coast is also a favorite wood, but is somewhat heavier than the Silks spruce.

Dressing for Dinner.
The custom of dressing for dinner was handed down to us from the Romans who put on a loose robe of light texture, and generally white, before going to the most important meal of the day. Instances occur where it was kept in readiness for guests who came from a distance and had had no opportunity of dressing before arrival.
