ROAD DISTRICT COMMISSIONERS ARE APPOINTED

Transfer of Administration from Twin Falls County to Be Effected Upon Organization of New Board

Certificates of appointment of the commissioners of the Twin Falls highway district, created as a result of a recent election to include all of the territory of Twin Falls county outside the Buhl and proposed Elmer highway districts, have been received here from the governor's office.

The men appointed commissioners of the new highway district are G. B. Chandel, secretary-treasurer of the Nibley-Chandel Lumber company, member of the Twin Falls city council and formerly Nebraska state engineer; J. S. Bissell, cashier of the Bank of Rogerson, and J. M. Biedemann, farmer and director of the Farmers and Merchants National Bank of Elmhurst.

Hold Office Four Years

The term of office for the highway district commissioners is four years and the appointments are for four years beginning January 1, 1920. Successors to the commissioners appointed will be chosen at elections in the district.

Subsequent to the acceptance by the appointees of the commissions, their organization meeting will be held at which time they will elect a president from among their own numbers and appoint a secretary-treasurer, who may or may not be one of the commissioners.

May Name Highway Director

The commissioners also may appoint a director of highways a person who is skilled and experienced in road building, maintenance and repair, who shall oversee this work and have immediate control of the highways in the district. The term of office for the director of highways is not to exceed four years, and his salary is to be fixed by the commissioners.

Within ten days after the organization meeting it is the duty of the county commissioners to turn over to the treasurer of the highway district the proper share of the district in the state and highway fund of the county. This share, under provision of the statute, is declared to be 25 per cent of the amount contributed to the road and bridge fund to the net fund.

Power of District

The highway district organization, the law provides, is a body politic and corporate. Its powers, in addition to the right of eminent domain, include the power to sue and be sued, to purchase and hold lands and make such contracts and purchases and hold such personal property as is necessary or convenient, and to levy and apply such taxes for the purposes under its exclusive jurisdiction as authorized by law.

Japanese Extend Credit of Ten Millions to China

Casualties Less Than Number of Prisoners

LONDON, August 15.—The total casualties since the start of the Picardy drive August 8th are less than the number of German prisoners, it was learned this afternoon. The count of prisoners on Haig's front shows that 34,000 have been taken since August 8. The excess of German losses over those of the allies is greater than in any previous battle, it is reported, and the percentage of killed is enormously greater.

FRENCH WAR OFFICE REPORTS OCCUPATION OF RIBECOURT

LONDON, August 15.—(3:37 p. m.)—The Germans have withdrawn one to two miles on a mile front, at the western edge of the Flanders salient, according to information received here this afternoon. Vieux-Berquin, three miles north of Merville was evacuated during the withdrawal.

The French are reported to have captured the entire Lassigny Massif, the important heights which have formed the principal enemy defense in this region. The French are continuing their infiltration of the German positions in the Oise valley, north and east of Ribecourt.

Their outposts are established in the borders of Pimprez, a mile west of Ribecourt, and Bresinecourt, a mile north. They have also reached the southern part of Ourcamp forest, extending from Pimprez to within two miles of Noyon. German artillery is heavily gassing Lassigny grove, a mile southwest of the village.

German withdrawal from forward positions north of the Amencourt toward Bapaume presages a retirement of considerable magnitude, in the opinion of military writers today. The withdrawal is still under way this afternoon.

Retreat on 5 Mile Front

"Recent authorities believe the enemy will retire as far as the new Somme line, while others believe he will fall back even to the old Oise-Whisper line. They recall the retirement of 1917 ranged in similar manner. The retreat reported is last night's official statement was made on the five mile sector between Beaumont and Baccourt.

Beaumont-Hamel is five miles directly north of Albert. The boches now have their backs toward the Amiens cathedral, which today was redoubtable. It had been once, locked up and protected with sand bags, since the civilian evacuation of Amiens in March. The reopening coincides with the great feat of the assembly.

French Progress

Meanwhile the French are progressing in their apparent flank movement northeastward along the Oise valley. The French commander last night announced the capture of Ribecourt, and reported a further advance between the Metz and the Oise.

Severe local fighting last night resulted in the allies' advantage especially east of Ribecourt, six miles northeast of Chaulnes, where the British advanced slightly. Patrol and raiding activity was reported in various sectors of the front, as far northward as Flanders.

Balds Regained

"Severe local fighting last night was to our advantage," the British war statement said. "East of Ribecourt the line was advanced slightly. One of our patrols made a heroic push north of Albert, capturing a machine gun. Between Albert and Ayesse our patrols were active throughout the night and maintained close touch with the enemy."

"Further progress has been made at a number of points and several prisoners and a few machine guns have been taken. "Heavily raining parties were repulsed south of Arras and near Merville.

Surprises Enemy

While General Rawlinson and General Deboney were opening the new Picardy campaign, Humbert withold operations and continued quiet for two days. But on Friday night the Germans, realizing the situation was unlikely to tempt an attack from his quarter, started withdrawing guns and material from before his front. They took him into consideration too late, however. On Saturday Humbert's operations went with a great burst of fire. Simultaneously, infantry and tanks moved forward. They found few boches and these were paralyzed by the suddenness and fury of the attack.

TURKS FIRING OF GERMAN DOMINATION

Grand Vizier Has Heated Argument With German Ambassador --- British Bomb Constantinople With Paper

LONDON, August 15. (British admiralty wireless)—Differences between the Germans and the Turks are becoming more frequent and bitter according to information received from Constantinople. During a quarrel with Talaat Pasha recently the German ambassador is reported to have threatened to bombard the city.

Rush With Pamphlets Advice from Constantinople that leaflets dropped by British aviators are read by the population with sympathetic interest. Posters recently found on the walls of mosques and government buildings declaring that the Germans are the real enemies of Turkey called for the strong protest from the German ambassador and a demand for an inquiry.

Head Heated Argument

Talat replied it was impossible to discuss the subject. The ambassador then announced that German military police would take charge of the interior. On the following day he informed the grand vizier that the majority of the offenders were in government service and therefore punishment should be exceptionally severe. Talat retorted that before punishment he would institute his own investigation. Violent discussion followed, and a conference in the evening was called to discuss the case with regard to bombardment of Constantinople with guns of the battle cruiser Goeben.

HUNS REPLACE ARTILLERY WITH AIRPLANES ON VESLE

WITH THE AMERICAN AIRPLANES IN FRANCE, August 15.—More enemy bombs than artillery shells have been thrown into the Vesle river sector by the Germans during the last 48 hours. The boche heavily bombed American front lines and rear areas, from great fleets of airplanes. There was little infantry activity. A few patrol encounters occurred, but no big operation has been attempted since the fighting quieted down. Artillery on both sides of the front was active last night.

"How long it will take will depend exactly upon what we do.

"If we drag with this bill we will be making Germany's game."

"That heavy infantry will be made in the ranks of young men below the age of 21, is indicated by March's testimony.

YAVIS Young Men

"My opinion is unequivocally in favor of the young men," he said, replying to a query by Senator Chamberlain.

"The young men between 18 and 30 are usually not married, they have not settled down in life, they have not any encumbrances and they are better off physically."

"The president has finally announced that the American military policy from this time on is centered on the western front and he has declined to be diverted from that one thing. The war department is convinced."

AIRPLANES PLAY IMPORTANT ROLE IN OFFENSIVE

Fifty-Eight Tons of Bombs Are Dropped Within Twenty-four Hours on Somme Communication Lines

LONDON, August 15.—British aviators, in addition to rendering material aid to the other military branches in the offensives, are conducting numerous raids into Germany. According to the air ministry 90 incursions into enemy territory were made during July.

"Fifty-eight tons of bombs have been dropped within the last forty-four hours on the able objective. 31 by day and 57 by night. A raid was also carried out on a hostile airfield from a low height by British and American squadrons which resulted in the burning of machines on the ground being destroyed and hangars set on fire.

"In fighting 31 enemy machines were brought down and ten driven out of control. Six of our machines are missing."

LEAVES FOR CONFERENCE WITH HOUSE

After Long Session With Secretary, President Departs Hurriedly on Special Train for Massachusetts

WASHINGTON, August 15.—With out the necessary tangible evidence for conviction, there nevertheless was a distinct feeling in official quarters here today that diplomatic hints of first magnitude are brewing.

President Wilson, after a long conference with Secretary of State Lansing yesterday afternoon suddenly decided to visit his personal official and confidential adviser, Colonel E. M. House, at Magnolia, Mass. He left last evening on a special train and is there today.

Three Plausible Pretects

It was officially stated that the president was off "for a rest." At the same time there have been most significant—and in some cases extremely delicate international problems breaking out of the world situation during the last week any one of which might prove a "poser" for the United States at this juncture.

They include:

- 1.—The threat of Mexico to practically double her tax on oil and enforce other measures against foreign oil interests there, despite objections from Great Britain and the United States.
- 2.—The distinct hostile attitude of the Bolshevik leaders in Russia to the allies, their arrest of allied consuls and vigorous hostilities against the Czech-Slovak troops in Siberia.
- 3.—The increasing gap between Bulgarian and her Russian allies and the growing possibility of an armistice between that nation and her enemies.

Confers With Lansing First

Were it not for this chain of circumstances, coupled with the extended conference the president had with Lansing before leaving, and the suddenness of the trip, it might well be and possibly is true, that his visit to Colonel House is merely for rest.

With him are Mrs. Wilson and Dr. Carey T. Grayson, his private physician.

Regarding the possibility of diplomatic developments, there is much to be said.

Most oil producers in Mexico declare that the government's proposed steps, expected to become effective within a few days amount to confiscation, will endanger the supply of oil upon which allied naval forces are dependent. Tampico was seized liberally drawn on for this purpose, although oil experts here say that the vast natural supply of that region is barely tapped.

Claim Confiscation

Mexico has seized the chance to fill her coffers with revenue from oil. The fact that it is one of the war necessities makes it an ideal subject of heavy exche by the Mexican government.

Mexico is understood to have informed Great Britain from the latter's protest of Carranza's proposed action that she will permit no diplomatic interference in this question. The note is taken to be a broad hint that the United States also is not to interfere. American interests have already registered protest and similar action has been negotiating with the Mexican government for settlement.

Russia Presents Problems

Pertaining to Russia, the Bolshevik outrages against allied representatives in Moscow have astounded official Washington.

Arrest of British and French consular staffs at Moscow, and invasion of the consulates, is related in official cables to the state department.

American affairs there have been turned over to the Swedish consulate. Although no Americans have been seized, according to the latest reports, British and French citizens have been imprisoned. The Bolsheviks announced they would hold these as hostages because of the attack on the soviet government by the landing of French and British troops at Archangel.

Germany is working under cover of the disorder to lighten her grip of affairs in Russia. She is conscripting Russian men, according to unofficial reports from London, and mingling them with German and Hungarian soldiers.

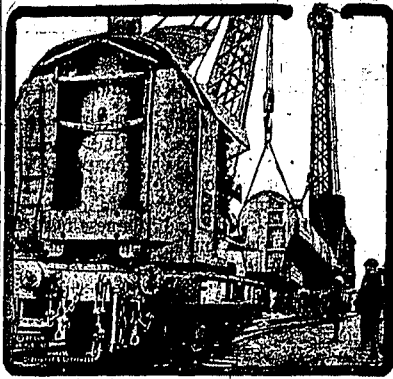

Touton's Allies Quarrel

Bulgaria's threat against Turkey and Germany over territorial disputes has almost completely undermined her morale as far as aggressive fighting for the central powers is concerned.

"Warm" words against German and Turkish intentions are freely expressed at public meetings, on the streets of Bulgarian cities and, in the press, according to advices received in extensive diplomatic quarters.

Touton wants to recover territory ceded to Bulgaria in 1913 which includes the fertile Maritza valley. She also wants Dobruja in payment for her part in the Balkan campaign.

German Governor Told About Yanks

By WEEH MILLER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS.—The latest issue of the mysterious patriotic newspaper, "La Libre Belgique," contains a sarcastic personal open letter addressed to German von Falkenhause, the military governor of occupied Belgium, informing him of the "whalloping" that the Americans are preparing for Germany. The letter gives Falkenhause the details of the wonderful growth of the American army recently announced in Washington.

As a result of the circulation of the letter, several Belgians have been arrested under suspicion of having aided in the publication and circulation of the little "underground" sheet. Falkenhause ordered the military authorities to intensify their efforts to unearth the publishers of the newspaper. For three years the German authorities have sought the source of the mysterious little journal, which appears irregularly throughout the invaded district with fiery denunciations and cutting satirical directness against the foe. At least three persons have been shot to death upon suspicion within the last two years, but "La Libre Belgique" still is published.

Easy-Going People

Any time is good enough for easy-going people. Any way is well enough. They are inclined to be sorry for the young man who sets his alarm clock for an early hour, and takes off his coat when he goes to work. But the road to success of any sort is never easy. Easy-going people go along comfortably, knowing nothing of tension and strained muscles, but when the day is over, the goal is still far in the distance.

CLEARs IDENTITY OF NEW LEADERS

Tchaikovsky, 'the Nationally Known Liberal Leader, Is President

WASHINGTON, August 15.—Russian news items are rapidly awakening and will soon renew the war, in the belief of leading Germans here, in the belief of Alexis Stahl, prominent in the Russian government, who has just escaped to America after months in hiding from the Bolsheviks in Russia.

M. Staal brings first detailed information of the new provisional government, to which allied leaders are looking as the means of saving Russia.

Russians Awaken

"The Russian people are being awakened as to the purposes of the Germans in making the Brest-Litovsk treaty," Staal told the United Press today.

"They were misled by the Bolsheviks at the time the treaty was signed, and did not realize that it was against their interest. But they are now beginning to see the truth and realize the danger of German domination."

"When they are fully awakened, as they probably will be by the new government, they will be glad to renew the fight against Germany if it seems technically practicable from a military point of view."

Leaders, Representatives

Mystery surrounding the personnel of the provisional government in the northern provinces was cleared by Staal.

N. Y. Tchaikovsky, a liberal leader nationally known in Russia, is president. Other members of the government are former delegates to the constituent assembly, who were elected last November under universal suffrage, and therefore, according to Staal, represent practically all classes of the Russian people.

Tchaikovsky, who is nearly 70, has been a lifelong leader of the Russian people and was one of the fathers of the revolution. He helped organize the labor party from the old labor group of the duma and he is active in the peasants' co-operation societies in Russia, being a member of the national committee. Tchaikovsky spent his childhood, under the czarist regime, in England, where he met many English liberals, who, according to Staal, hold him in high regard. He is a friend of Kropotkin, the famous Russian nihilist, and also of Kerenky, who is soon to go to Archangel and help organize the new government.

Was High Official

Russians here expect Tchaikovsky's new government to spread throughout Russia. Kerenky is expected to lend his support.

Staal was chief attorney of the court of appeals in the Moscow district under the Kerenky regime.

WILL SACRIFICE FIFTY POUNDS FOR COUNTRY

SAN FRANCISCO, August 15.—A pound of flesh a day for fifteen days will be the sacrifice made to his country by Jack Charles Bend of this city.

Bend attempted to enlist in the United States marine here, but was told that he was fifteen pounds overweight. He immediately declared that he would remove the fifteen pounds of fat substance within fifteen days by taking a special course in dieting and exercises prescribed by his physician and would then re-appear at the marine corps recruiting station.

"Silly-lookin' ain't havin' a thing on the matter," declared Bend. "I only wanted one pound of flesh—these fellows want fifteen. Gee, its tough to be a fat man."

ENGLISH KING VISITS YANKEES ON WEST FRONT

Doughboys Cheer Ruler of Great Britain as He Passes—Decorates Number of Yankee Troops

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE.—Americans here are strong for King George, who left for London yesterday afternoon after eight days in the field, during which Marshal Foch began his battle. Several times the king met and talked with them in the "front-line" manner. He talked with General Pershing and Ellig and Major General O'Ryan of the 97th division and decorated a number of our troops who participated in the fighting along the Somme on July fourth.

Visits Americans

On Friday night the king reviewed O'Ryan's and Lewis' divisions and later Major General Cronkhitte's 80th division. The king spent one morning with American troops. Doughboys, lining the roads, cheered the king. Major General Peade, McRae and Simmons of the United States army were received by the king, who visited the "front-line" position of Amiens and decorated General Church, commander of the Canadian corps. He also knighted General Debony of the French army, visited all the British commanders and touched with the king and queen of Belgium.

Receives Correspondents

He averaged a hundred miles a day in motorizing, visiting hospitals, depots, etc., and received the newspaper correspondents before leaving.

"I am greatly pleased that so many Americans are here," he said. "They are looking fit and their spirit is admirable. They are determined to go forward or die fighting. They are very fine troops. One of my greatest pleasures in my visit here was that I was able to talk with General Pershing and some of your other generals and men."

"They certainly never thought of any Bolshevik peace in the country they came from."

SHOOTING UP A GERMAN BATTERY

A Canadian gun firing on a German trench mortar battery.

BEST IN THE LONG RUN

The First Infantry Guns Weighed 75 Pounds

FOOT soldiers began to carry firearms about 1350, huge, clumsy guns weighing from 25 to 75 pounds.

— Mere hand cannon, iron or copper tubes, they were leveled by a forked support, and fired at a touch hole.

— With the invention of the wheel-lock apparatus, in 1517, the first self-firing gun, the musket, was a quick step.

— Like the first guns, automobile tires, when Goodrich began to develop them, were crude, clumsy affairs, and it's a long, long road of improvement to the symmetrical—

GOODRICH SERVICE VALUE TIRES

The history of the last twenty-two years of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company is pretty much the history of pneumatic automobile tire.

But whether Goodrich was bringing forth America's first clincher tire, or America's first cord tire—

Goodrich built tires to but one end—SERVICE VALUE to the user—the worth of the tire to the motorist on his car and on the road in comfort, economy, dependability and durability, and mileage.

That is why the tire user to-day gets the utmost SERVICE VALUE in GOODRICH SILVERTOWN CORDS, and BLACK SAFETY TREADS.

MAETERLINCK'S "THE BLUE BIRD"

Directed by MAURICE TOURNEUR An Aircraft Picture

A Mighty Spectacle of Happiness

A Thousand Smiles!

A Thousand Sobs!

A Thousand Beautiful Scenes!

Maeterlinck's "THE BLUE BIRD" An Aircraft Picture

A spectacle of Happiness, a pictorial adventure of beauty inconceivable; an endless image of beating hearts thrown upon the sun-screen of Heaven

A photodrama that will put new courage into America's hearts—the sort of a play that lifts dark thoughts into the sunshine

HERE'S A RECOMMENDATION THAT MEANS A LOT : : By Margaret E. Sangster, in the Christian Herald

Some people—many people, know the story of Maeterlinck's "The Blue Bird." Everybody should know it. And now that the producers of Aircraft Pictures have put the story into a perfect picture, there is no reason why everyone should not know it.

The Christian Herald does not often feel that it can heartily endorse a film, for many film stories are, regrettably, not the sort of thing that one could take one's small, or older, son or daughter to see. But "The Blue Bird" is the sort of film that holds a lesson worth learning. It is the kind of a film few people have dreamed of producing—a beautiful picture made real by splendid acting and remarkable photography.

Several points stand out from the story—stand out by sheer beauty of word and action. When the children go at twelve o'clock to the graveyard to see the dead mother when they dipso fearfully in through the door and walk in frightened silence, past the yawning tomb, one can perfectly understand why talk fear death. But, when suddenly the graves burst forth into blossoms and the roses and lilies grow fragrantly all about, one sees the Easter story retold in a marvelous way. For the little boy, stuporously, asks—"Where are the dead?" and the girl-child, with a triumphant smile, upon her face answers—"There are no dead!"

The moving picture has come to stay—come to stay with its unlimited possibilities for good or for evil. And "The Blue Bird" is the sort of picture that cannot fail to do unlimited good. It will be a delight to children, but only the grown-ups can read their lives into the search for Happiness. It will be a dream, a fairy-tale come true, to your boy or girl; but to you it will be the meaning of life, told poetically, but none the less truly.

"The Blue Bird" is a milestone in the production of motion pictures. We hope for more pictures of the same sort.

GERMAN DEFEATS CAUSE OF GRAVE HOME CONDITION

Berlin Newspapers Held Up While Government Appeals to People "to Sustain Morale of the Rear"

WASHINGTON, August 15.—Germany is attempting to conceal the grave conditions brought with the weakening of the morale of her working classes by the allied victories, diplomatic advisers declare.

Yesterday's Berlin newspapers for Switzerland were held up, but reports reached here that a crisis was at hand. The German government is said to have requested the Socialist organs to intervene and "put the proletariat on its guard against catastrophe which might involve an undermining of the morale of the rear."

Diplomats point out that the Russian chiefs see the coming collapse of the German industrial fabric in the evident paucity of the working classes.

Trial Has Occupied Federal Court Since April 1—Defendants Cut Down to 9

CHICAGO, August 15.—The big I. W. W. trial in federal court here will go to the jury next Thursday. President Judge Landis made this announcement today following conference with attorneys.

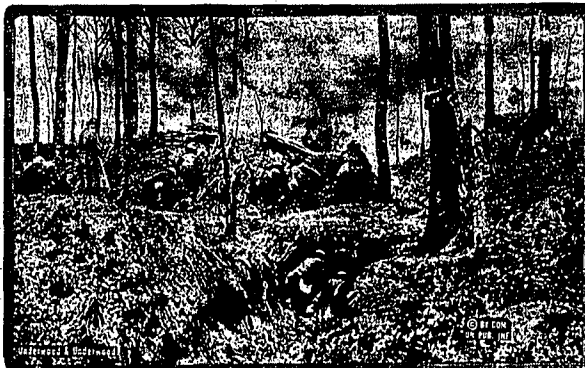

Since April 1, when the trial opened, the list of defendants has been cut from 118 to 9.

The defense virtually closed its evidence with secretary "Big Bill" Hayward on the stand refuting charges of war and draft opposition.

Lucid English. A recent advertisement contains the following: "If the gentleman who keeps the boot shop with the red head will return the umbrella of a young lady with whitebone ribs and an iron handle to the plate-roofed grocer's shop he will bear of something to his advantage, as the same is the gift of a deceased mother now no more with the name engraved upon it."

PASSENGERS FROM EUROPE SUFFER STRANGE DISEASE

Of 738 Aboard, Five Are Dead and Eight Seriously Ill—Similar to Spanish Influenza

NEW YORK, August 15.—Since the arrival here several days ago of a liner from Europe with 738 aboard, five of the passengers have died and eight more are ill today of a strange disease. It was reported the ailment was Spanish influenza, which has been epidemic in parts of Europe for some time. Dr. Edward E. Curnig, however, declared today that Mrs. Jeanine Olson of Flint, Mich., one of those who died, suffered from bronchial pneumonia.

Health officials at quarantine asserted the disease was not Spanish influenza.

PHOTOGRAPHERS CHANGE GRAVE RISKS IN WORK

Without Protection and in the Face of Hun Attacks American Aviators Fly to Rear of German Lines

By FRED S. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY
IN FRANCE, August 14.—As an example of bravery and self-sacrifice, observers in photographing planes, have gone over the German lines without protection, knowing the chances are against their return.

The staff found it now photographs of the enemy's rear areas were absolutely necessary. No American

CHASSE' PLANE WAS AVAILABLE TO GUARD THE AVIATOR AND SLOWER OBSERVATION MACHINES.

A staff officer put it up to the observers. The latter said they appreciated the importance and were willing to make any sacrifice.

As soon as the photographers appeared over the German line, Boche aircraft swooped at them, sometimes ten or twelve Hun attacking a single American. The latter would dodge, turn and escape, then return.

The unequal struggle continued for hours without cessation. The Americans persisted in their job, knowing it must be completed. Despite the handicap, the Americans shot down two Boche planes.

CONTROLLED TORPEDO SUGGESTS HAMMOND

Wireless Expert Says Germans May Have Developed It—Has Been Solved Here

GLoucester, Mass., August 15.—John Hays Hammond, wireless expert, disclosed in an interview with the United Press today, that he would not be surprised to learn that Germany has perfected a torpedo which can be controlled from a distance.

He was speaking in connection with the sinking of the steamer Comerstad, which, according to the captain, was destroyed by a torpedo that after passing the vessel circled with uncanny accuracy and struck amidships. Hammond said that a year ago a French patent granted to Constantin Polignac alleged a mechanism that caused a torpedo to describe circles when it had passed the spot where a submarine commander had estimated the target to be. This patent, however, was controlled by a mechanical device and not from a distance.

"Such a torpedo," said Hammond, "is a step between the ordinary torpedo and the wireless controlled torpedo, which we have solved. I would not be surprised to learn that a torpedo of this type had been perfected by the Germans."

OPPOSES CHANGE OF BILL

President Not in Favor of, Paying More for Water Power Proper- ties Than They Are Worth

WASHINGTON, August 15.—President Wilson today let it be known through Representative Ferris, Oklahoma, that he is opposed to the change in the present water bill that would force the public to pay an exorbitant price to gain control of water power leased to private concerns by the government. "The president feels as I do, that the public should be forced to pay only actual value and not the original investment," said Ferris.

FOOD ADMINISTRATOR DENIES HOARDING CHARGE

Quotes Findings of Defense Council to Prove No Interest in Black Ranch

(Special to The News)

BOISE, Idaho, August 15.—R. F. Dickel, state food administrator, has given out the following statement: "A number of newspapers in Idaho have republished a misleading report from a Boise newspaper giving the impression that I had been guilty of hoarding flour and sugar on a ranch in Gooding county. Personally I care nothing about this, but I feel that circulation of such reports has a tendency to weaken confidence in the government's war work as applying to food and to interfere with public co-operation in that direction. I, therefore, have requested the press of the state to publish the following from the findings of the Hoarding county council of defense: "The evidence submitted is conclusive that R. F. Dickel has no interest in the ownership or control, directly or indirectly of the Black ranch, Gooding county, Idaho, and is not responsible for any violation of the food regulations in connection with this ranch."

LOCAL BOARD IS INSTRUCTED ON DRAFT LISTING

Adjutant General Transmits Orders for Preparation to Regular Men When Liability Is Extended

The local board for Twin Falls county Wednesday received from Adjutant General C. S. Moody a copy of the circular letter sent out to all Idaho local boards in explanation of preliminary arrangements to be made for the registration of men to be included within the military draft age by legislation now pending. Following are extracts from the letter:

Anticipate Many Registrants

It is confidently anticipated that legislation extending the present draft ages will be enacted by congress in the near future. At this time it cannot be stated with exactness what ages will be subject to draft, but it is safe to assume that a very large number of men will be required to register and that the date of registration will be early in September.

The registration of such large numbers requires detailed and extensive preparation and there will not be sufficient time for such preparation after the passage of the legislation by congress, and the purpose of this communication is to perfect the machinery of registration so that it will be ready to put in operation.

You will have immediate jurisdiction and supervision of the registration within your respective jurisdictions. The actual registration will be made by the customary voting precincts within the jurisdiction of each local board. You are requested and directed to appoint a registrar or registrars for every precinct within your jurisdiction.

Officials to Tend Aid

Your mayors, city clerks, and county authorities will be called upon by the President in any emergency, to assist local boards in providing suitable places for registration and to obtain the cooperation of the proper election commissioners and custodians or officers in charge of election machinery and public buildings.

The President's proclamation to be issued upon the passage of the act by congress will fix the date for registration and you will be furnished in advance with the necessary blanks and forms upon which to conduct the registration.

Expect Capable Fulfillment

You are assured by the provost marshal general that the task confronting you is known to be a great one, but that it is confidently expected that you will respond to the call and make necessary arrangements for the registration in order that there may be no delay in registering the persons to be subject to the draft upon the passage of the necessary legislation and the issuance of the President's proclamation.

SHOWS FEES EXCEED DEPARTMENT EXPENSE

J. E. White, State Sanitary Inspector, Reports Satisfactory Progress in 18 Months Work

(Special to The News)

BOISE.—J. E. White, state food, dairy and sanitary inspector, in his report to Dr. Edward T. Biever, secretary of the state board of health, for the 18 months period ending June 30, 1918, calls attention to the fact that while the expenditures of his department have been $12,982.42, collections in license fees, etc., amount to $17,538.00, which fact makes the department net $4,555.58 more than self-sustained. This record has not been equaled heretofore.

GERMANS WITHDRAW TWO MILES

Germans are prepared to put up a stiff fight anywhere between Albert and Noyon. Crown Prince Rupprecht had clashed between thirty and forty divisions there (probably from 300,000 to 350,000 men).

Drive Huns From Air

The Germans are still on the defensive in the air as well as on the ground. This is due largely to their inability to replace losses.

Only a few German planes in the rear areas, compared with the large numbers of our machines seen crossing the enemy's lines, headed east. The weather for the past few days has been superb in the battle zone. Although the German fighters seem to be making time, the aircraft seem to be either at rest or asleep. They are giving the Germans a very this time.

Reserves Low

The number of German infantry is said to be far below normal strength and their total man power is rapidly diminishing.

Thirty-five enemy divisions (650,000) are now employed in the Hainz region with only 15 reserve divisions remaining. It is reported that doubt if the Germans can undertake another offensive this year.

HUMBERT GOES UP

For a retreat with the usual machine gun emplacements. As a consequence Humbert's army reached its first objective—Cuvilly, Reims—St. Matis and Cleveinourt—within an hour. This represents an advance of a mile to two miles and a half.

Capture Strongholds

They proceeded, taking Boulogne-La-Grasse, Conchy-lez-Tours and Brequeux, a further advance of one to four miles. Instead of continuing toward Roye they swung eastward on Sunday, advancing four kilometers, two and a half miles, and gaining strong reinforcements, particularly the capture of the advance, but Humbert had obtained the hold of "Little Switzerland" with the desired strongholds of the Ste. Cloud and on Montigny farms. On Tuesday night in a small building, getting the dominating line along the Massif heights.

Just that afternoon his extreme right bent "Little Switzerland" took Albeville, which was a corner point in the French line before the advance of 1915, and is still extremely well organized.

Positions Favor French

The situation still favors the French, although fresh German divisions have been identified. Only a slight of this rough ravine and trench-ridden country can enable one to appreciate the speed of the French movement. At the same time it tells why the men are momentarily tired, although in the best of spirits on account of their accomplishments being made at the slightest possible cost.

ONLY WEEK REMAINS FOR QUOTA FULFILLMENT

Murtough Branch Is First to Report All Yarn Given Out—Chap-ter Aims Aid

Calling for further assistance in the fulfillment of its quota of knitted articles, the Twin Falls County Red Cross chapter this morning issued the following statement:

Only one week remains in which to finish the large knitting allotment given to the Twin Falls County Chapter by Division Headquarters. Murtough branch is the first to report all yarn given out. They have taken an entire two pounds of yarn and that means eight pairs of socks over and above their quota. This branch is also making twelve extra sweaters. While it is true that many are very busy, particularly those living in the country, it is also true that by a little extra effort the remaining yarn can be knitted and turned into the different branches by September 10. This will permit two weeks late in completing the work.

The yarn that has already been given out is to be returned on August 25, but the time will be extended to September 10 on the yarn that is still on hand.

Persons who are interested in the work of sock yarn, and everyone who knits is asked to help fill this quota as soon as possible. There is a knitting chairman in every branch and some of our volunteer knitters have their headquarters to give any assistance that may be needed.

GUNNER DEFEW

Albert N. Defew

EX-GUNNER AND CHIEF PETTY OFFICER U. S. NAVY MEMBER OF THE FOREIGN LEGION OF FRANCE CAPTAIN GUN TURRET, FRENCH BATTLESHIP CASSARD WINNER OF THE CROIX DE GUERRE

Copyright, 1918, by Kelly and Blum Co., Through Special Arrangements With the Copyright Holder.

The Russian prisoners at Dulmen were certainly a miserable looking bunch. They spent most of their time wandering around the Russian barracks, hunting for rotten potato peels and other garbage, which they would eat. When they saw Fritz they would spit, they would dive right through the barbed wire to get another and their hands and face and clothes were always torn from it. It was unbecomingly to stand before the Russians and their garbage prey—they were so needy that nothing stopped them.

One morning, just after barley-coffee time, I came out of the barracks and saw an Australian grinning with the sentry. I was not content but anxious to be a good citizen, as they say, so I went up and sang an ear at them. The Australian had asked Fritz what had been done with the flag that the Hills were going to try from the Eiffel tower in Paris.

That was too deep for Fritz, so the Australian answered it himself. "Don't you know, Fritz? Well, we have no blankets, you know." Bill the sentry did not get it. So the Australian carefully explained to me—so the German had heard that the Germans had no blankets and were using the flag to wrap their cold feet in.

This started a fight, of course—the German idea of a light, that is. The sentry, being a very brave man for a German, blew his whistle very loudly, and sentries came from all directions. So we best it to the Australian's barracks, and there I found the second American in the camp. He was a barber named Gutman, from one of the Western states. He had heard I was there as well as the Boston man in the Canadian service, but he had been too sick to look us up, and in fact did not care what happened, he was so miserable. He had been wounded several times, and died in a day or two. I never knew how he came to be in the Australian service.

Those two had myself were the only Americans I knew of in this prison camp—either in Canadian, Australian or French service. The other two had been captured in uniform, so there was no chance of their being released.

Dulmen was very near the Dutch border and it was quite easy to get out of the camp attempts at escape were frequent. Most of those who ran away were brought back, though. The Germans were so easy on those who tried to run away that almost those who were recaptured there. One chap was doing his ten days in the guardhouse for the sixth time while I was at Dulmen. He had just about completed his period of detention. He claimed that the sixth time he had nearly got across the border and was arrested in a little town by the Dutch authorities and handed over to the Germans. That is against the law in most countries, but he swore it was the truth. I am not so sure, myself. He got away for the seventh time while I was at Dulmen and was not returned.

thing to do. I found what I wanted, all right. I had quite a talk with a sentry in front of a barracks. It must have lasted three-quarters of an hour. He said he had never seen me before, and I did not know what he was calling me. I could have handled him all right, but another sentry came up on my blind side and grabbed me and the talk was over.

They dragged me to the commander of the camp and he instructed them to give me a bath. So they took me to the bathroom, where I was stripped and lashed. All the time they were whipping me I was thinking what a joke it was on me, because I had been looking for excitement and had got more than I wanted, so I laughed and the men thought I was crazy. I was dumped into a vat of hot water and at the same time my clothes were given a boiling, which was good for them.

Then I was forced into my wet clothes and marched back to the barracks and the Dutch and sentries and the slaking of the German and four German prison camps and a few other things—I shall probably trip over a hole in a church carpet and break my neck. That would be my luck, because there were all the diseases you can think of in this camp, including black cholera and typhus and somebody was always dying. We had to make coffins from any wood we could find. So it was not long before we were using the dividing boards from our bunks, pieces of flooring and, in fact, the walls of the barracks. The officers were quarantined in corrugated iron barracks, so they had to borrow their wood from us for their coffins. We would make the box and put the body in it, give it as much service as we could, in the way of prayers and hymns, and put it away in a hole in the barracks. There was a much of it that a single death passed unnoted.

One morning the German sentries came to our barracks—they never came singly—and told us that an officer had been picked out for a dressing and ordered to muster up, which we did. I was the last man out of the barracks and on account of my wounds I was slower than the rest.

You understand I had had no medical treatment, except crop-keeper bandages and water; my wounds had been opened by swimming from the Georgie to the Moewe and they had been put in terrible shape in the coal bunkers. I was slow to recover, my wounds were so treated they had not even started to heal. Incidentally, the only cloth bandages that any of us had were what we would tear from our clothes and I have seen men pick an old dirty rag that someone else had used around his wound for a long time and bandage his own wounds with it.

So it was all I could do to drag myself so it along. The officer noticed that I was out of the line and immediately asked my name and nationality. Who he heard "American" he could not say enough things about us and called me all the swine names he could think of. I was pretty thin at this time and getting thinner, so I figured I might just as well have it cut before I started. Besides, I thought, he ought to know that we are not used to being bawled out by German swine in this country.

So I told him so. And he said that he should not bowl Americans out, because America was neutral. He then said that as America supplied food and munitions to the allies she was no better than the rest.

Then I said: "Do you remember the Deutschland? When she entered Baltimore and New London she got all the cargo she wanted, didn't she?" "Well, if you send over your merchant marine they will get the same." For that answer he gave me ten days to the guardhouse. He did not like to be reminded that their merchant ma-

I admit I was pretty flip to this officer, but who would not be when a slick German swine officer bawled him out?

And always, from the slim waist on his mantle, there dropped a Fresh rose.

HEADS UNITED EXPRESS LINES

Thirty-two years ago a freckled faced youngster hanging around the depot at Ripon, Wis., asked the station agent for the privilege of driving the delivery wagon.

He looked like an ambitious kid and the agent told him he might if he would be careful and not let the home run away. However, the agent discovered that the boy did his work so well that the second week he paid him 50 cents.

The boy's name was George C. Taylor. Today Mr. Taylor is president of the American Railway Express company, which has assumed control of all express lines in the United States, with headquarters in New York.

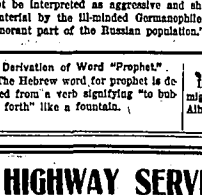

Mr. Taylor relinquishes the presidency of the American Express company, whose head he has been for several years. From delivery boy he advanced to station agent, to division superintendent, to district chief, to officer in vice president and finally to the presidency. He just passed fifty-one.

Mr. Taylor's agent of the American Express company (no relation of President Taylor), said the new chief of the allied express companies is a man of splendid health and robust constitution.

"I know Mr. Taylor very well," said Charles W. Taylor. "I have worked with him and I know there is not a task in the United States that is too big for him to master. He is a man of clear vision, big heart and high judgment. Of him it can be truly said he began at the bottom of the ladder and has climbed all the way to the top."

The American Railway Express company has signed a contract with Director General McAdoo of the American railroads to handle all the express business of the United States.

URGES HELP FOR RUSSIA

Gen. K. M. Obrochouff, formerly a prominent Russian commander, is urging that the allies send an armed expedition to Russia to restore the east front and push back the Russians. General Obrochouff was for 20 years a Russian revolutionist. He was arrested in 1899 and again in March, 1917. After the revolution he was a member of the council of ministers and commander of the troops in that (the Ukraine) army district. He resigned that post in October, 1917, when elected by the council of peasants' delegates a representative at the Copenhagen conference. While he was there the bolshevik insurrection closed Russia to him.

Says the general: "It is not only possible, but imperative, that an international allied army be sent into Russia for the purpose of forming with the Russian army in the east a united front against the Teutonic armies."

We Suppose This Is So. In place of most of our troubles we might easily have much worse ones—Albany Journal.

away were brought back, though. The Germans were so easy on those who tried to run away that almost those who were recaptured there. One chap was doing his ten days in the guardhouse for the sixth time while I was at Dulmen. He had just about completed his period of detention. He claimed that the sixth time he had nearly got across the border and was arrested in a little town by the Dutch authorities and handed over to the Germans. That is against the law in most countries, but he swore it was the truth. I am not so sure, myself. He got away for the seventh time while I was at Dulmen and was not returned.

Notable Men Epileptic

John Bunyan's epileptic character-istics were well marked. John Casar, Peter the Great, Wellington and Alexander the Great were sufferers, and the strong assertion is made that Napoleon was also subject to its mental control. Lord Byron was a notable epileptic, as was Balzac and the composers Mozart and Mendelssohn. Jean Jacques Rousseau was condemned as one of the class, and even claim is lodged that Thackeray was a victim of the disease. There are but few of hundreds of noteworthy instances in the annals of the human race.

Child in Leading Role

The central figure in the big spectacle, "The Blue Bird," now being produced by Maurice Tourneur for Artcraft, is Tula Belle, the child prodigy of the screen, whose work is well known to the patrons of motion picture houses and who is, perhaps, the youngest director in the cinema world. Though Tula is but eight years old, she has been playing in pictures for several years, and has assumed important roles. She is a daring youngster, and in one picture rode a horse which leaped from a cliff into the water, a distance of thirty-five feet. She has, like a mermaid, and is an accomplished dancer.

Tula was born in Norway, and came to the country which a mere baby. Her parents resided in New Rochelle, and her precociousness and beauty attracted the attention of a local producer, who tried her out in pictures. It was discovered that she possessed great dramatic ability and extraordinary intelligence, and from that time on her services have been in demand for picture work.

In "The Blue Bird" she and Robert Mandouglis, aged ten, are the children who go in quest of the Blue Bird and experience wonderful adventures. Theoretically, Tula is the star of the production, in which about a thousand actors appear, for, according to the story, it is for the benefit of the little girl and her brother that the Fairy Bermyla causes the events to take place that constitute the big spectacle.
