FRENCH SWEEP FORWARD TO WITHIN TWO HUNDRED MILES OF NOYON

HUNS WILL BE COMPELLED TO VACATE LINES

German Positions Along Vesle Rapidly Becoming Untenable as French Continue to Make Steady Progress

NEXT STAND WILL BE ALONG OISE RIVER

American Patrols in Close Contact With Enemy in Expectation of Early Signs of Extended Retirement

By FRED S. FERGUSON (United Press Staff Correspondent) WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN FRANCE, August 21.—The French advance between the Oise and the Aisne is rendering the German line on the Vesle more difficult. As the boche line is swung back east and south of Noyon the enemy positions east of Soissons will become so pinched that there is every possibility of their being forced to retire before the Americans from the Vesle to the Aisne. American patrols are in close contact with the boches, to detect the first signs of a withdrawal.

Found Barroches The American artillery heavily pounded Barroches, three miles west of Fismes, yesterday. High explosives and gas shells were used by the Germans in great quantities. There is a peculiar state of warfare along the Vesle, having the artillery characteristics of trench sectors, but is seen as regards infantry operations. Both sides have extensively dug in their front lines. There are no real trenches, or communication trenches, however, the front line being merely a series of shallow ditches.

CANADIAN SHIP CAPTURED AND USED BY HUNS

Steam Trawler Triumph, Victim of German Submarine, is Now Employed Against American Shipping

A CANADIAN PORT, August 21.—The steam trawler Triumph, reported seized by a German submarine yesterday, has been armed with guns and manned by a German crew of 10 and is raiding fishing vessels on the North Atlantic fishing banks, according to crewers reaching here today. Three schooners are already said to have been destroyed by the new raider. Crews of the destroyed schooners, which were sunk with bombs, have reached shore. By using the Triumph, the Germans were able to approach unsuspecting vessels without arousing suspicion. In an interview today the captain of the captured Triumph stated that the commander of the U-boat which had captured his schooner had told him there were six U-boats now operating off the Atlantic coast and that

ENEMY POURS IN FRESH TROOPS TO SAVE DAY

Carlepont, Cuts, Pontoise, La Pomerelle, Camelin, Blerancourt, St. Aubin, Laval and Courtril All Taken in Advance

SIX-MILE GAIN REPEATED BY POSITIONS NOW HELD BY FRENCH

PARIS, August 21.—General Mangin is continuing his advance between the Oise and Aisne and has made additional important gains at some points. Several more villages have been occupied, including Carlepont and Cuts. He is gradually extending his fighting front eastward until now it reaches from the Oise almost to Soissons over an irregular line nearly 25 miles long. French troops also advanced west of Lassigny.

French Reach Point 2 Miles from Noyon

By JOHN DEGANDT (United Press Staff Correspondent) PARIS, August 21 (3:15 p. m.).—French troops outflanking Ourscamp forest have reached a point near Fentelle, slightly more than two miles southeast of Noyon. Pressure is being methodically exerted toward Lassigny and Noyon. The latter is now more threatened from the southeast than from the southwest. Onzelle, seven miles southeast of Noyon, and Blerancourt, a mile southeast of Camelin, have been passed, representing a total advance of six miles by Mangin's army.

OBJECTIONS MAY BLOCK PROGRAM OF DEPARTMENT

Unwillingness of Some Congressmen to Draft Men Under Twenty Years May Prove Stumbling Block

WASHINGTON, August 21.—Unwillingness of some members of congress to draft men under twenty-three today to block temporarily the army program of getting eighty divisions of American troops in France by next June. This is the program Chief of Staff March has declared will beat Germany during 1918. The man power bill, as it will be reported to the house today by the military affairs committee, carries an amendment picking boys of 18 and 19 in special classes to be called after all older men in class 1 are summoned. The amendment threatens to impede the army program in two ways. First to delay its passage through the house and senate and in all probability force prolonged conferences between the two houses; second, to force General Crowder to do over again much of the work already completed in preparation for the new draft.

President May Take Hand As a result, President Wilson, if necessary, will appeal personally to congress to strike out the objectionable provisions. Unless the man power bill is enacted within the next month, the war department will be forced to call troop shipments to France or take the chance of an industrial upsurge by invading deferred classes, according to Secretary of War Baker, General March and Provost Marshal General Crowder. Opponents of the measure, however, still hold out hope that it can be defeated on the floor. Every committee man who voted against the measure reserved the right to fight it. They will point out that the country already has the promise of Secretary of War Baker that boys of 18 will be the last called and that calling of those men can not be deferred in any event

DUAL DRIVE OPENED IN PICARDY

Launch Thrusts On Bapaume and Noyon

A double allied drive is under way in Picardy. The British opened a new attack on a wide front north of the Ancre river today. The French are still smashing forward between the Oise and the Aisne, increasing the menace to the German armies from the Noyon and Soissons regions.

Penetrate Enemy Lines

At the same time other French forces are attacking from the Oise northwest to Reys, pressing upon that city and Lassigny. The British troops continue to progress in Flanders, perforating the enemy lines seemingly at will and advancing at other points as the Boches retire reluctantly. Halig's men also are showing unusual activity in the Ancre sector, on both sides of the Scarpe river.

Bapaume Probable Objective

The extent of the new British drive was not announced in Halig's communication today. It is possible, however, that it may extend from the neighborhood of Albert northeast to the active sector south of the Scarpe, thus forming a fighting front of about 80 miles. Such an attack evidently would have as a geographical objective the city of Bapaume, 13 miles northeast of Albert and 18 miles south and east of Arras. To reach this city would require an advance of between five and six miles.

Estimate Prisoners at 50,000

The great haul of prisoners taken by General Mangin between the Oise and the Aisne, together with those in Flanders and elsewhere on the front, apparently has brought the total of German taken in the Picardy offensive to about 50,000.

SAYS SUGAR MAY BE TAKEN FROM TABLES

County Food Administrator G. B. Munson Discusses Situation Regarding Serious The sugar situation in Twin Falls county promises to become a serious one if the production of C. E. Munson, county food administrator, is fulfilled. Mr. Munson stated: "There is already a shortage of sugar in the county, averaging less than two pounds per capita. This supply must not last until September 1, and if the beet harvest on other states can be expected to fall short of the amount required to make up for this loss the amount per capita has been cut from one-half to one-third the amount per person per meal and before the end of the fall month may be eliminated from the diet of more than twenty million people." "Twenty eight million pounds of sugar have been made by German U-boats in the last sixty days, and in order to make up for this loss the amount per capita has been cut from one-half to one-third the amount per person per meal and before the end of the fall month may be eliminated from the diet of more than twenty million people."

REVIEWS APPEAL OF CANAL CASES

Attorneys' Move Indicates Determination to Push Issues to Decision

Indicative of the unswerving purpose of certain individuals to secure from the supreme court a decision as to the validity of the proceedings of meetings of the stockholders of the Twin Falls Canal company in 1917 at which amendments to the Canal company's articles of incorporation were adopted is the filing in district court here Monday by Attorneys E. M. Wolfe and J. F. Martin, of notices of appeal from the judgment of the district court entered June 18 in the case of T. F. Wanser and others against the Twin Falls Canal company and John Frank, Intervenor, and of J. A. Cron, E. R. Hoobas, A. D. Houghton and D. D. Moorman against the Twin Falls Canal company and John Frank, Intervenor. Bonds in the sum of $5000 on making an appeal in each case were assigned by Frank DeLoets and J. O. Noggle, of Filer. The questions involved were approved by the supreme court on application from a temporary restraining order issued by the district court. Questions Involved The amendments to the Canal company's articles of incorporation at stake upon this decision were adopted under provisions of state statute known as senate bill number 84, which was drafted by a committee named by the stockholders at their annual meet-

BYNG'S ARMY MAKES 3-MILE ADVANCE ON 10-MILE FRONT

British Take Advantage of Fog to Drive Lines Ahead Between Albert and Attack Made Without Artillery Preparation

BEAUCOURT-SUR-ANCRE, MOYENVILLE AND COURCELLES IN HANDS OF ALLIES

By LOWELL MELLETT (United Press Staff Correspondent) WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, August 21.—General Byng's army struck the Germans on a ten-mile front between Arras and Albert during a heavy fog this morning. At 1:15 p. m. the British in their new advance are reported to have progressed three miles in the center, reaching Achiet-Le-Grand, three miles northwest of Bapaume. At other points in the line Byng's men have gone ahead two miles. Information is indefinite, but Beaucourt-Sur-Ancre, Achiet-Le-Petit, Moyenneville and Courcelles are reported to have been occupied. The attack is reported to have been a complete surprise and to have been made without any artillery preparation.

Advance Rapid

It began shortly before 6 a. m. At 6:50 the big guns which had been concealed in readiness for several days fell loose in a great salvo, and the troops swung into action. By 6:10 parts of the old line were passed. Moyenneville, where resistance was weak, was captured at 6:05. Prisoners taken there said they had expected the British for the past week. Two hundred prisoners were reported taken at 7:05. Some machine guns had been captured. Only a few casualties were suffered by the British. At 7:05 Courcelles was captured. By 8:00 o'clock the British had captured Moyenneville, Odeilles, Hucquer, Abbeville, Achiet-Le-Petit and Beaucourt-Sur-Ancre.

Tanks in Thick of Fight

The attacks which the Germans are known to have been expecting last week, burst upon them through a camouflage of mist which lay thickly over the ragged and worn battlefield, and clinging to the ground, while tanks, (Continued on page five)

Fleet Board Catching Up

The emergency fleet corporation is doing "splendidly" to catch up, March said, but hiring and chartering of other ships will be necessary to meet the increased effort.

Explains Divisional Plan

In answer to questions he reported thus on several divisions: The Seventy-seventh last reported in the Vogeys; Thirty-sixth reached France between July 30 and August 10 and is being retrained. Ninety-third training somewhere in France; Eighty-sixth went into the front line with the British in Flanders as part of its training and at the close there of all elements were withdrawn; Seventy-sixth, a depot division in the rear area; Twenty-sixth was in the Chateau; Thirty-fourth, took part in the capture of Torcy and Belleau and advanced to Bourches and was relieved on the Marne about July 22.

Discusses Ship Building

Discussing the ship situation, the chief of staff showed that the success of the present plan depends upon

Enemy Claims to Be Dropping Back to Stronger Positions and Shortening Lines, But Facts Do Not Bear It Out

BRITISH TAKE SEVERAL MORE TOWNS IN FLANDERS

Boch Regiment Refuses to Counter-Attack — Men's Fighting Spirit Believed to Be Waning

By LOWELL BELLETT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN
FRANCE, August 20 (Night)—Whether it is because the men's fighting spirit is waning, or because the higher command is deliberately following a program involving retirement whenever they are rushed, the British are finding that, on various parts of their line the Germans give way with an unexpected readiness that is like shadow fighting at times.

All withdrawals so far have been explained by the Germans as a desire to shorten their line, inasmuch as this has been the actual effect. In some instances, though, it has left the Germans in less satisfactory positions than those abandoned.

Von Bernard's Army Retreats
An interesting feature of the advance today in the Meurville region, where the German officers seem imbued with the idea of getting their forces safely out of the path of the British, is that these boches are part of the army of General Von Bernard, who, as a writer, was a proponent of the idea that the only way to fight is to advance.

Duty Commander
Some light on the boches' spirit or lack of it, was gained night before last when a certain German regiment, having retired too far was ordered to attack Palesieux, north of Albert. The regiment refused, presenting a written protest and sending it to the commander. The latter telegraphed back, repeating his order. The regiment attacked halfheartedly and lost heavily. Some twenty-five men of this regiment are all that remain.

Advance in Flanders
The advance in Flanders was along a front of more than 8 miles extending north and south of the Lys. The British occupied D'Espinet, Vierhoek and La Couronne and progressed east of Meurville.

In the Arras region there was local fighting on both sides of the Scarpe, the British pushing forward a short distance east of Fampoux.

GERMAN TRICKS ARE OPEN BOOK TO ALLIES NOW

Hill Barriers Projecting Hindenburg's Southern Picardy Front Make Good Observation Stations for Foch's Men

LASSIGNY PLATEAU IS IDEAL VANTAGE POINT

Element of Scoury of Hun Concentration Before Noyon Removed by Recent Advance of Allied Troops

By J. W. T. MASON
(United Press War Expert)

NEW YORK, August 21.—Marshall Foch's steady encroachment upon the hill barriers protecting Von Hindenburg's southern Picardy front has reached the point where the allies are able to observe practically all the German movements far back of the lines toward Noyon, the main German concentration point marked for capture.

This important advantage has been secured by the seizure of the Lassigny plateau and the virtual occupation of the town itself. The difficulty of fully observing the activity of the Germans north of the Lassigny region has hindered Marshal Foch's disposition of his own troops. Now that all secrecy of concentration before Noyon has been removed, Von Hindenburg must conduct his defense of this area with new difficulties.

More Reserves Needed

A further call upon the German reserves to protect the Noyon line will be necessary if Von Hindenburg resolves upon the doubtful course of trying to dislodge Marshal Foch's new position in a position to hammer away from its approaches to Noyon from three directions—west, southwest and southeast. Von Hindenburg can find men to hold these getaways only by further diverting his reserves.

The triple advance toward Noyon is now only a tactical move, in the development of Marshal Foch's local offensive. His strategic purpose is to compel Von Hindenburg to use up as many of his troops as possible in a first line fighting over the widest possible front. In this manner Von Hindenburg's plans are seriously disarranged, for he cannot count on maintaining behind the lines a stabilized reserve force. Territorial gain is not Marshal Foch's sole objective at present. Even more important than the immediate recovery of French terrain is the confusion and uncertainty which surrounds Von Hindenburg's greatest problem—the building up of a new reserve army to oppose the eventual offensive of America's millions.

MOREHEAD LEADS FOR SENATOR IN NEBRASKA

Governor Keith Neville Outdistances Bryan for Democratic Nomination for August

LINCOLN, Neb., August 21.—Returns in yesterday's state-wide primaries from about one-fourth of the precincts show John J. Morehead, former governor, leading Richard J. McFadden by twice the number of votes for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator. Senator George W. Norris is in the lead in the race for nomination on the Republican ticket, being closely followed by Congressman Charles L. Steen and Ross E. Hammond. Governor Keith Neville has a long lead on Charles W. Bryan for the Democratic nomination for governor. In the Republican race for governor there was no contest, Samuel B. McKelvie getting the nomination.

Sergeant Arthur E. Wenzel Tells of Part Taken by Idaho Artillerymen in Allied Offensive in France

Occupy Town They Shelled Three Days Before—Are Billeted in Quarters from Which Count Fled in Haste

The experiences and impressions of a Twin Falls man in action on a battlefield in France are effectively given in a letter from Sergeant Arthur E. Wenzel of Twin Falls, a member of the headquarters company of the One Hundred Forty-sixth Field Artillery Regiment, to his brother, Nicholas Wenzel, who left here last week to report for active service as an electrician in the United States navy. Sergeant Wenzel's letter follows:

Somewhere in France, July 25, 1918.

Dear Nick—

Just a few lines to let you know that I am still O. K. and everything is fine.

Follow American Shells

We have been moving pretty fast in the last few days, pushing the boches into the sewer, and have not stopped yet. Last night we pulled into this town, and it is the same one that we shelled three days ago! We can see the effect of our "babies" on the map all around us. Where we are billeted a German count stayed up to a few hours before we Amex boys got into this town, and I saw a few German newspapers here.

In the paper dated July 3, 1918,

Liquor Dealers Are Granted a Reprieve

WASHINGTON, August 21.—A three-months reprieve for the drink family has been gained regardless of what action the senate takes, on the "bone dry" amendment.

Under the original amendment the sale of all liquor would have ceased January 1. The new plan postpones the day until April 1, with a similar disposition for the manufacture of beer and wine, which was to cease November 1.

No action can be taken until the senate reconvenes. There is likely to be considerable discussion and it may be held in September before final action is taken. But dry leaders have agreed that the old dates should be moved ahead three months, giving the same time of grace as was originally planned.

Beyond that there is little hope for the drinker, unless the war should end before the first of the year.

When the test vote was taken shortly before the recess on sustaining a ruling of the chair on the amendment, the boys had a majority of three votes.

they say that the United States has about 15,000 men over here, and that they are not equipped yet! Well, if we can advance from two to four kilometers each day with that, it's pretty good. I guess they forgot to add two ciphers to the number.

Take German Guns

There is plenty of German junk here. The boys keep things pretty busy firing the different arms they pick up. One of our batteries has six German machine guns, all in fine shape and oodles of ammunition. I was out this morning firing a carbine. It sure is a pippin. I wish I could send some of this stuff home.

The regiment billeted here must have been one of the Prussian Guard, as the doors have chalk marks on them of the "2nd Garde Regt. Zu Fuss."

Scams at Front

I've taken a look at the first line trenches, and it is not a very nice sight. A few Germans are still lying around in the barbed wire entanglements rotting away—and of all the stuff lying around!

Hans Losing Nerve

They left in such a hurry around here that our troops captured a whole battery of howitzers before they could hook up and skin out. We got tons of ammunition for heavy guns, besides all the other junk.

I guess they are losing their nerve pretty fast.

I guess they are losing their nerve pretty fast. Lots of airplanes come over, and the woods around here are still full of them hiding out. They pin their faith on the famous Hindenburg line, but I think we will swallow that line, hook, sinker and all in short order.

French Guns in Action

Saw a pretty sight the other day. A regiment of French 75's were already behind us, hub to hub, and were firing battery salvo from left to right. It sounded like machine gun firing.

It keeps us on the jump, keeping up with the war.

Every time we move up to the zone of action, our boys go over the top, and we are as far back as we were before. Half the time we can hear nothing of the firing except our own big "babies."

Chance for Best

Well, I have to can the chatter and take some of the best tank battalions. The looks-like I am going to loaf through the war the same as the Mexican troops.

GRAIN DEALERS CALL FOR MORE FREIGHT CARS

Direct Appeal to Government Grain and Railway Corporations—Uninterrupted Movement Key to Situation

FIRST TEN DAYS TAKES OUT 300,000 BUSHELS

Kimberly Elevator Receives in Six Days Time One-Third of Last Year's Whole Volume of Business

The supply of freight cars, which local grain dealers agree, is the essential factor in marketing Twin Falls county's 4,000,000 wheat crop, this fall, has been sufficient to handle the first few days' shipping, but demand upon the government grain and railway corporation officials for more cars was deemed necessary Tuesday.

Daily Receipts 100 Loads

It is estimated that about 300 carloads, or about 300,000 bushels of this season's wheat crop have been shipped from this county since threshing began. During the past 10 days the receipts at the Twin Falls Milling & Elevator Company have averaged 100 loads daily. Practically all of the wheat that has been shipped out from this county so far this season has been consigned from points near Twin Falls. Chicago is the terminal to which this wheat is being sent.

American women and girls who are now going to work in the munition factories in the United States may know that their allied army includes royalty in its ranks.

It is Lady Moya Mellescent Campbell, daughter of the Marquis of Sifco, who lost her husband, Lieutenant A. W. George Campbell in 1914 and since has given all her time and labor in a munition factory in England.

Edward Cooper, manager of the Twin Falls Milling & Elevator company, said Tuesday that his company had purchased already this season between $2 and $9 carloads of wheat. The approximate total purchase of wheat here last year was $50 carloads.

FIT TO FIGHT

Somewhere, traveling about the country on its mission of education, there is a film, the title of which is "Fit to Fight." Its exhibition is authorized and endorsed by the United States Government and its mission is to teach people that a clean and healthy body is a wholesome and a Christian thing.

There is all too great a tendency to regard as disgraceful, and therefore unmentionable, certain diseases which as a result of an ignorance amounting almost to superstition, have gained frightful headway in America during the past decade or two.

Possibly the public viewpoint has been strengthened by the fact that young men and women have been taught for years by well intentioned but shortsighted teachers in every walk of life to be ashamed of their bodies.

"Fit to Fight" would teach wholesome things which should be taught individually in the privacy of the home, yet this method capitalizes the only way. In the years to come it may not always be necessary for the Government to step in to perform for the people the things which they should do for themselves.

There must be more light and a better understanding of man's life and man's mission on earth. A truer knowledge of sex hygiene and a perfect willingness to under proper conditions, impart that knowledge to others.

THE OUTLOOK

There is no question but what the thousands of the Allied workers' offensive during the past few weeks has had a cheering effect upon business of all kinds in the larger money and industrial centers of the East. A similar effect has resulted from the decrease of American ship sinkings by submarines. In connection with this last, the figures for June were the lowest in any month since last September, almost a year ago, while for the quarter ending June 30 they were the lightest since the third quarter of 1916.

These points help in the matter of maintaining the morale of the Nation. They teach the fact that things are going easier in a way some, and money being naturally sensitive, quickly responds.

Says the Wells Fargo Nevada National Bank in its current weekly review of business:

The Federal Government is taking out of the banks each month from $1,000,000,000 to $1,500,000,000 through the sale of Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness. Appropriation of these receipts is based roughly on an amount equal to five per cent monthly of the gross resources of each bank and trust company until $6,000,000,000 has been provided.

Advices from the great wheat producing states suggest that the third largest winter wheat crop on record will be produced this year. A bumper production of corn, barley, rye, and sweet potatoes is apparently assured. In addition large crops of tobacco, hay, white potatoes, and other crops are also indicated.

COUNTY DIVISION

Reb. Aug. 27.

Editor The News: I read the account of the "mass meeting" to oppose county division, in my copy of the News with a great deal of interest. I warm the cockles of our cold hearts by their words. Why, they are willing to play the "Blind Brother," to keep us from plunging headlong into debt and consequent ruin and despair.

When the estimate of the cost of the county division was made, it was found that the cost would be $1,000,000. This was not really entitled to anything, but they got that for quite a while. Then this was a bill to divide into the county offices. So many were elected from this end that it really drained the population. There were not we cannot remember how many, but they must have been scarce of them.

We are rather sorry that our patriot-is assailed. So far we have kept up our end of the work. Y. M. C. A. and Liberty loans. Rather than that we will continue and that what is spent to obtain division will be fruitless. We have made some success with our Independent road district. Independent school district and aforesaid war activities, are even waging over our lines now, why shouldn't we manage a new county, with a little coaching? Practically all we probably will worry along in cheap quarters until after the war.

Perhaps we had better work to change the constitution. You see if it wasn't for that, we would not be so persistent. But it provides that when a certain area has so much population and a certain amount of wealth, they shall be entitled to a separate organization. Foolish idea, isn't it, but it doesn't even provide that the other fellows shall have anything to say, if they have a larger and better than you. Then there is that other statement that maybe ought to be changed. It says that all men are free born and equal and have certain inherent rights, among them life, liberty and pursuit of happiness. In a new county, why check us? To be sure we are a mighty big and very nice county now, and Twin naturally shudders at the prospect of being divided. As long as we have part of her anatomy, but its just like appendicitis. The wound will heal, and if time don't cure the headache and longing for a big county, why Twin can't understand get back into Cassin, and be bigger and better than even.

In talking with a resident of Twin Falls some few weeks ago, he remarked, "Twin has only herself to blame if you want and get county division. She has always hogged everything, and always will. As long as she is in, she is absolutely no unity of spirit, they may as well let you go."

Except opposed the going of the children of Israel. In time the plagues fell upon them and they repented. King George hated to lose the Americans, and it took a few less people to convince him of the error of his ways. At the meeting here, a very prominent member of the Non-Parian League said, "You know I am a member of the organization. I believe in it, and will do all I can for it. But if it ever comes to the point that I must give up the league or county division, why I am going to give up the league. The feeling like unto this has been steadily growing. The same efforts of our would-be moulters of public opinion, to try and make the farmers believe that county division is an effort to divide the league, when county division was born four years before the league was, is helping the cause along. The separation will be much less painful now than later. Why not now while the going is good? And please, what ever you do don't ever again spring the threadbare gag that "a few let us out in Buhl want it." You might as well try waving the bloody shirt at the south. In fact, practically all the speculatively held lots are owned in Twin Falls and very few are held by Buhl people that are not occupied. Respectfully, W. S. HYDE.

SPECTACLE GREAT
"Polly of the Circus," at the Orpheum today, starting Mae Marsh, the famous little heroine of "The Birth of a Nation" and "Intolerance," with which the Goldwyn Pictures Corporation makes its formal bow to the public, sets a new high water mark for elaborate and spectacular production. It is the biggest drama of its kind that has ever been attempted in motion pictures.

The picturization of Margaret Mayo's famous play, which was such a big success in both America and Europe, and which is being shown today at the Orpheum Theatre, is the final accomplishment of a stupendous undertaking which required not only a staff of specialists and artists, but also the population of an average American town and the equipment of a complete circuit to produce.

All through it runs the romantic story of the little orphan circus girl. It is full of spectacular features, the race track, with Polly riding the winner; the circus parade, with its bands, wagons, horses and animals, the arrival and tearing down of the show, the performance under the big top; the ring show; the village built especially for the picture; the big climax, with the escape of the wild animals and its panic stricken operators.

BYNG'S ARMY MAKES

cavalry and infantry pushed their way over and around the trenches and now were entangled.

The British had made good progress before the sun suddenly broke through the mist at 9 o'clock, revealing the Boches had been cleared out of most points on this side of the high embankment of the Arras-Albert railway. A single crash of artillery preceded the advance.

Gen. Byng in Charge of British Advance

LONDON, August 21.—The British advance north of Amiens this morning was made by the third army under General Byng, according to dispatches received here.

General Byng's third army held the line between Arras and a point near St. Quentin at the opening of the German offensive, March 21. He understood the enemy's assaults successfully until August's fifth army on the right suddenly gave way, when he was compelled to retire in order to maintain the alignment.

Byng, in his attack at Cambrai last year, was the first general ever to employ tanks successfully. He is recognized as one of the greatest field commanders developed in the war.

Activity Reported on Several Fronts

LONDON, August 21.—The British attacked on a wide front north of the Amiens morning, Field Marshal Haig reported today. Satisfactory progress is being made.

The attack was made at 4:45 o'clock this morning. Further progress was made last night and this morning, on widely separated sectors of the Flanders front.

"We attacked at 4:45 this morning on a wide front north of the Amiens," the statement said. "Satisfactory progress was made."

"Yesterday afternoon strong hostile attacks accompanied by heavy bombardments were made against our new positions south and north of the Scarpe. They were completely repulsed."

"We improved our positions slightly in the neighborhood of Fampoux, taking a few prisoners."
"We advanced our line last night and are in possession of Le Tourai."
"Early this morning the English carried out a successful local operation in the Locre sector on a front of over a mile. All objectives were taken and a number of prisoners captured."

they intended wiping out the fishing fleet along the coast.

Relief Ship Sunk and Crew Murdered

CHRISTIANIA, August 21.—The plainly marked British relief steamer Gasconier of Dutch registry, was sunk by a submarine yesterday off Haugesund. The ship was bound from Brooklyn with a cargo of grain.

After forcing the crew into the boats the submarine's guns were turned on these little craft and one boat was destroyed, six of its occupants perishing in the water. Twenty-one survivors have been landed several of them wounded. They declared the submarine disappeared after its shots without making any attempt at a rescue.

Heavy Cannoning Reported Off Coast

AN ATLANTIC PORT, August 21.—Reports of heavy firing 85 miles off the Atlantic coast which may indicate a battle between a steamer and a submarine were brought here by captains of several fishing vessels.

Captain Perry of the schooner Goodspeed, reported seeing a large steamer firing at an object in the water early yesterday morning. The steamer was running at good speed and the flash of her guns was plainly seen according to Captain Perry.

Other captains also reported the firing.

Captain Perry declared he heard one shot which was followed a few seconds later by four more shots. Later a naval vessel was seen making full steam in the direction from which the firing came.

The captain of the schooner Hortense reported a suspicious tramp steamer, which apparently carried no flags, cruising about the locality where other captains reported they heard the firing.

"That the firing was naval gun practice was not considered likely by the fishing captains."

troops of 18 must be finished in ten or twelve weeks. Such an order means one of two things: Either the Germans are still planning for a tremendous, desperate drive, this autumn, or the man power crisis is even more serious than appearances indicate.

Offensive or Collapse
Military writers are inclined toward the former belief. They expect the Germans to attempt a big drive this fall unless Foch meanwhile keeps them too busy. The action of the Germans in the last few weeks since the failure of the Marne operation shows their desire to save their man-power even at the expense of losing territory. Also they are putting up a stiff fight at vital points, but on the whole they are surrendering territory more freely than heretofore. Likewise they are reducing salients and shortening their fronts whenever it is possible. There are other indications that the enemy intends to nurse along as many of their reserves as possible and then will harry in every ounce of his power in a gigantic gamble.

GRAVEL UNDER BAN IN NEW PRIORITY ORDER

Listed as Non-Essential Except Where Intended for War Purposes

WASHINGTON, August 20.—Sand and gravel today were placed on the railroads list as non-essentials except where improvements were for war industries purposes. The cars will not be available for the transportation of such commodities, it was learned.

Coal requirements of war industries, army, navy and merchant marine are such as to forestall the use of the open cars for other than commercial traffic. By employing coal cars to the maximum at this time, the fullest production of the mines can be handled once completely during the winter, it was explained.

While there is no evidence of a coal shortage, now, the open car curtailment orders will remove it farther into the future, officials said.

GIRLS TAKE JOBS WITH RECLAMATION SERVICE

Miss Beva Moore and Miss Luella Wilson Start Work at Minidoka Powerhouse

(Special to The News)
BUREAU—An innovation has been introduced by the reclamation service, which is now using girls for operators at the power-house at the Minidoka dam. Two girls, Miss Beva Moore and Miss Luella Wilson, started work as operators in the power house on August 12, and from all reports are making good in their new work. The service is also planning to try a party of girls on survey work on the North Side pumping unit. If these plans go through it opens a big opportunity to girls to do active war work, relieving men for military service. Doubtless another year there will be even more openings for women than there are this season. At the present time the civil service board of the reclamation service at Burley is receiving applications in considerable numbers. The girls who are fortunate enough to get into this work early will be in line for rapid advancement as the men of the community continue to be drafted into the army.

AMENDMENT IS AN INSULT SAYS FRANK MORRISON

Work or Fight Clause in Man Power Bill Draws Down Wrath of Federation's Secretary

TOO MUCH POWER IN HANDS OF EMPLOYERS

No Objection to Men Going into Army to Fight, But No Occasion to Give Say-So to Their Bosses

WASHINGTON, August 21.—The Thomas work or fight amendment to the man power bill is an insult to labor, Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor charged before the house military affairs committee.

He do not protest against men going into the army to fight, but we do protest against putting this weapon in the hands of unfair employers to brand the workers as slackers," Morrison said.

Morrison declares the amendment was nothing less than labor conscription and that it would be mandatory on the president to enforce it to prevent strikes, citing the opinion of several attorneys who differed with Secretary of War Baker on this score.

"Senator Thomas, the author of this amendment, admits it is aimed at strikers," Morrison said. "The government is not exercised over the industrial situation but some one is who is hidden in the dark," Morrison continued.

Who's Back of It?

"In the Colorado fuel company and the steel trust behind the legislation? The man who urge this amendment, urge it as a punishment, but the men know they would be better off in the trenches than if they are over worked and under paid in a steel mill.

"Organized labor has kept faith and does not want the odium of slackering cast upon it. Drag out the influence behind labor conscription and you'll find the most profitable profiteers in the nation."

Morrison denied Senator Thomas' charges that he work had been held up by strikes and the statement that miners were being off two and three days a week, introducing statements from the fuel administration showing that fewer miners had produced more coal this year than last.

Employers Accused

Morrison emphasized throughout his statement the charge that employers had asked defense classification for employees and were now trying to hold military service over them to prevent agitation for better wages.

Dr. C. R. Mann, chairman of the educational advisory board of the war department told the committee that drafting men below 21 would not wipe out education in the country because it is planned to put these young men through an intensive course of instruction before and after they are in the army.

Several members of the committee pointed out that since boys of 18 would be the last to be drafted that they would in all probability make up the 18 divisions which are to be in this country on June 30, next year.

FAMOUS TENOR MARRIED

Eric Caruso Marries Daughter of Wall Street Lawyer

NEW YORK, August 21.—Eric Caruso, world-famous tenor, today was a bridegroom. His bride was Miss Dorothy Park Benjamin, 28, she is a daughter of Park Benjamin, a Wall Street lawyer. Caruso made the news of the marriage public through his secretary, but kept to the seclusion of his apartment with his bride, declining to see newspaper men. He declared he was too excited to trust his seat English to interviewers.

War Makes Collar and Cuff Popular

Collar and cuff is fast becoming a war-time art. From the wealthy war worker to everyday business girl—woman has found that immaculate and correct stock wear is refreshing to the extreme. A really helpful to lighten any irksome toll. Although the more wealthy can create and afford the more elaborate sets, the business girl—or the regular in the ranks—can achieve the same effect at a less cost. The two sets here shows the range of material and design. On the left is shown stitching as a finish—which is elaborated until it is almost a trademark. Poplin lends itself to the stitching design. On the right is shown an especially dainty set in organdy, both collar and cuffs being scalloped. They are attached to a not gutturo.

"The Human Fly" and One of His Stunts for the Marines

Jack Williams, who scaled the Woolworth Building, New York; Walker Bank Building, Salt Lake; and who comes to Twin Falls Thursday to climb the county house wall.

"HUMAN FLY" TO SCALE COURT HOUSE WALLS

Jack Williamson to Give Exhibition in Twin Falls in Interests of Marine Corps Recruiting—Has Great Record

Without the assistance of any apparatus whatever, Jack Williams, otherwise "the human fly," whose performance in scaling the Walker bank building at Salt Lake and other tall buildings in Idaho Falls, Pocatello, and several Utah cities, in the interests of Marine Corps recruiting, have attracted wide attention, will be in Twin Falls Thursday and has completed arrangements through his advance agent, Tom L. Calloway, to climb the county court house to the top of the flag pole at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Is Former "Devildog"

Mr. Williams is a former member of the marine corps. He was for a time in successful performing an aerial act. He is touring the different recruiting offices of the marine corps until September, when he will again enter the service and shoulder a gun. He has scaled the Woolworth building in New York and the Washington monument.

Before beginning his performance here, Mr. Williams will make a short talk to the marine corps in an effort to interest young men in enlisting in that branch of the service. While enroute, Washington, he will be taking of the local marine corps recruiting station, his instructions for enlisting as soon as the restriction is removed.

Mr. Williams will take up a collection from those witnessing his performance, the proceeds of which will be turned over to the chairman of the county council of defense to be donated to a war charity.

Per's Great Museum
Per's capital is the home of a national museum, one of the world's most interesting institutions of this nature. It shares with that of Cairo in displaying to modern peoples various incidents of the past and activity of bygone races. Also the gallery of paintings of Peruvian history is particularly noteworthy. The remains of the first airplane to cross the Alps in which the Peruvian almanac, Don Jorge Chavez, lost his life, is another interesting exhibit.

BUSINESS MEN CONTRIBUTE TO FAIR FOR CLUBS

Awards of About $160 in War Savings Stamps to Be Made to Prize Winners Among Vocational Workers

WORK OF 800 BOYS AND GIRLS ON EXHIBIT

Display to Include Products of Farm, Garden and Kitchen—Red Cross Articles to Be Shown at Earlier Date

Approximately $160 in War Savings Certificates and Thrift Stamps have been contributed by Twin Falls business men as awards to premium winners among the exhibitors at the Twin Falls vocational fair for boys' and girls' agricultural and domestic work to be held on Tuesday, September 10, in the Twin Falls high school building. The building is to be open all day as well as in the evening on this occasion. State Club Leader W. T. McCall is expected to be present and the public is invited to attend.

General Support Given

About 800 boys and girls enrolled in the Twin Falls vocational clubs this year and fully 80 per cent of them are expected to complete their work according to the state and national plan. The school board, superintendent and teachers, and the Parents Teachers' association have given hearty support to the work which in this district has been conducted directly under the supervision of George E. Deman, formerly high school teacher in agriculture who is now teaching from Camp Funston, Kansas, and of Miss Lucille Crossland.

The girls' clubs are doing Red Cross work, drying and canning fruits and vegetables and learning to make breads as well as doing other kinds of cooking. The boys are raising the various kinds of crops and livestock. Both boys and girls are raising poultry and making gardens.

It is the product of this work that is to be exhibited for premium awards at the vocational fair. Everything except the Red Cross work will be exhibited at the fair. Because of the unusual need of the Red Cross for the work done by the boys and girls, the work done by the boys and girls will be exhibited for premium awards on Friday and Saturday in the windows of the Skeels-Villy drug store at the corner of Shoshone street and Main avenue north.

Plan and Results

Respecting the organization and work of the local club members, Mr. Deman has issued the following statement: "By an agreement between the local school district and the extension division of the University of Idaho, the club work or just the club work at the school district is being conducted in cooperation with and according to the plan of the United States department of agriculture. The boys and girls throughout the United States are organized into county or district work and food saving team. They are directed and instructed in their efforts by a corps of trained adult leaders in every important agricultural section of the country. Food production and food conservation has been the slogan of the club leaders since the beginning of the war. Our local boys and girls are a part of this great team and are adding their organized efforts to those of the boys and girls throughout the land to help win the war.

Rules and Regulations

1. Any boy or girl may exhibit products raised by themselves but only club members who complete the required work will be awarded prizes.
2. Each club member in order to complete his work, shall fill out an application to the local or state club leader on membership card and one or more monthly report cards; exhibit his products at the local, county or state fairs; and send a final report and story to the local or county club leader before October 10.
3. Each club member should make his exhibit conform with the standards as given in the exhibit and prize list.
4. All sheep, pigs, calves, poultry, and pets/wholes should be taken to the high school building on Tuesday morning—the morning of the fair. All other exhibits should be taken to the high school building on Monday.
5. Pigs, poultry, and pets should be crated in substantial crates of the size commonly used for exhibition purposes. Every club member should make an effort to have his exhibit in the best possible shape for exhibition.
6. Sheep, pigs, calves, poultry, and pets should be taken home on the evening of the fair. All other products should be removed the day after the fair.
7. The fair management will not be responsible in case tags of exhibits

Representative Addison T. Smith—Introduces Marianni Revenue Measure in House After Joint Conference

That there is every likelihood of the adoption of a part at least of the plan for raising war revenues through the sale of war purchase stamps proposed by C. A. Mariani of Twin Falls, who has been elected by local business men to Washington, D. C., in the interests of this measure, is the statement of Representative Addison T. Smith in a telegram sent Monday to John M. Maxwell, chairman of the First National bank. Following is the text of the telegram:

I have introduced a revenue measure embodying the views of Mr. Mariani which was drawn by Representative Horton E. French after a joint conference with Senator Borah and Representative Claude Kitchin, chairman of the committee on ways and means. It will be considered by the house committee tomorrow. Senator Borah will introduce the bill when the senate convenes on Thursday for the consideration of the finance committee. Mr. Maxwell had a conference today with the commissioner of Internal Revenue and George A. Crowl, chairman of the public bureau. I feel very hopeful that Mr. Mariani's plan will be adopted in part at least.

America had none when the accelerated troop movement program started. Hence it is necessary to use the German interned vessels, to requisition Dutch ships and to charter and hire all that could be obtained from other nations. That has taken a large portion of money, but with one single exception—Brazilian ships—two sets of two trips—these vessels have proven expensive.

Change Means Work

General Crowder's statement that such a plan would force amendment of regulations and re-printing of questionnaires resulting in long delay and confusion, will also be used to battle the amendment.

Amendment pressure may be called into the fight, if it becomes necessary. Another amendment offered by Baker, which will likely go into the bill, provided for the drafting of the so-called marriage slacks. Baker has asked that this be left to regulations. Hence it is necessary to use the German interned vessels, to requisition Dutch ships and to charter and hire all that could be obtained from other nations. That has taken a large portion of money, but with one single exception—Brazilian ships—two sets of two trips—these vessels have proven expensive.
