

NORTH DAKOTA EXECUTIVE SAYS STATE IS LOYAL

Governor Lynn J. Frazier, at Filer Nonpartisan Rally, Voices Resentment at Disloyalty Charges

SAMUELS WOULD PAY WAR DEBT DURING WAR

Candidate for Idaho Democratic gubernatorial nomination Pays Respect to Profitter—Traces His Lineage

Police of the Non-Partisan league as carried out in the state of North Dakota and as proposed in the state of Idaho were presented at a gathering of about 500 persons assembled Thursday afternoon in the grand stand at the county fair grounds in Filer, by Governor Lynn J. Frazier, republican, elected governor of North Dakota by the Non-Partisan voters two years ago, and H. E. Samuels, Non-Partisan candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Idaho.

Candidates Make Statements

Brief statements also were made by O. G. Zuck of Kimberly, Non-Partisan candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, and Edgar A. Litter, Bush, and Fred W. Berger, Berger, Non-Partisan candidates for Democratic nominations for representatives. Elmer Aman of Filer, chairman of the league organization in Twin Falls county and candidate of that organization for the Democratic nomination for senator, presided at the meeting, introducing the other speakers and speaking briefly in respect to his own candidacy.

Says Organization Doctrinaire

Professing an account of the Non-Partisan administration in the state of North Dakota, with the statements that it is the duty of every citizen to back the men in France and the government to the best of their ability to the end that the war may be brought to an early and successful close; that charges of disloyalty made against the Non-Partisan league are unjustified; that it is desirable especially in war time for farmers as well as every other industry, to organize for the advancement of interests, and that the great majority of the citizens of North Dakota are patriotic and loyal, biased reports to the contrary notwithstanding, Governor Frazier declared that under the Non-Partisan regime the state of North Dakota had been given an efficient and honest administration, strict enforcement of the laws and a measure of progressive legislation limited only by the presence of a reactionary majority in the state senate.

Points Out Achievements

Governor Frazier pointed out as achievements of the Non-Partisan legislature, the appropriation made at a special session to provide seed for farmers in straitened circumstances following two successive crop failures in that state with the result that a larger acreage of wheat than ever before in the history of the state was grown this year, and the passage of a moratorium act guaranteeing to soldiers immunity against lawsuits while in the service. He pointed out also the action of the North Dakota council of defense in conscripting idle lands for the cultivation of flax required for war purposes.

Says State is Loyal

Governor Frazier did not mince words in his defense of the loyalty of the people of his state. "We recent being called pro-German and slackers," he declared. "I defy anyone to show where the people of North Dakota have been disloyal or failed to do their best

Fritz Finds Bark of Yank Machine Gun Has Bite

The boche and his machine gun has at last met a worthy foe—in fact, his master. It is the free-thinking Yank, his love of fire and the machine gun, and a real machine gunner. Here is a new picture just received from the western front showing a Yank unit—and with guns in action. The Yanks virtually pour bullets across No Man's Land, the machine gun being one of his favorite weapons. Two machines were backing away when this picture was taken.

in backing the boys at the front and the government in the winning of the war. The false reports in this regard have been started in our own state by a few newspapers and some disgruntled politicians who have been dispossessed of office.

North Dakota over-subscribed her quota in the second Red Cross drive 200 per cent, and has gone over the top in every war fund campaign," Governor Frazier declared.

German Good American

"Three or four counties in North Dakota in which the residents are mostly Russian-Germans, have been black-slendered," Governor Frazier asserted.

"In the month of May, during seedling time, I had occasion to visit some of these counties and I saw women at work in the fields sowing the larger crops the government requires. The women were doing this work because their sons and brothers had gone to war. A large proportion of the men from these counties volunteered. There is no question about the loyalty of the great majority of the German citizens of our state," he stated.

Says Distribution System Faulty

"We are told that food will win the war. Here and everywhere throughout our nation we are engaged in producing and saving food. It is just as necessary to eliminate waste in handling food. There is something wrong when it costs more to distribute than to produce products. That is why there is need for organization among producers," he argued.

"The Non-Partisan league is a political movement," he said. "There are several reasons why its members will stick together. One of the reasons is that its platform embodies policies which the people want, and which, when carried into execution, benefit not only the farmer but every legitimate business in the community. The farmer is the only producer of any product who has nothing to say about what he shall receive for it. The farmer under existing conditions who is able to make both ends meet, I consider a business man of the first order."

Governor Frazier argued that the farmer should be in position to market his product as a finished produce—his what-as flour and his livestock as dressed meats.

Where the $10 Goes

In the course of his remarks, Governor Frazier explained the purpose of the $10 membership fee collected from each member of the league. "A part of it goes to organization work; we can't get members unless we visit prospective members personally," he said. "A part of the fee is expended for office expenses and for the publication of the state and national organs of the league, and the balance is used to defray the campaign expenses of the candidates for offices named by the league," he said.

"Under the old regime, big corporations contributed most heavily to the campaign funds and candidates felt under obligations to these corporations. The league proposes to relieve its candidates of any obligation to any one except the common people who make up its membership," Governor Frazier said.

Says Farmers Good Lawmakers

He declared it the experience in North Dakota that farmers made good legislators and explained the caucus plan under which laws were written in easily understood English.

Referring again to the winning of the war as the essential issue, Governor Frazier said in conclusion: "Lay aside your political prejudices, and when it comes to war work, forget what church you belong to and get behind the boys and the president with the best measure of support within your ability."

Would Pay War Cost Now

The remarks of Candidate Samuels were confined almost wholly to a castigation of war profitters, against whom he declared, "The whole cost of the war should be assessed."

This opinion he stated repeatedly, using the following phraseology: "We should take the war profits and apply them as far as they will go and then have an adjustment whereby we should pay the war debt as we go, whereby the boys at the front won't have to pay it when they come back, or as soon thereafter as possible."

"If the proceeds of the government to the soldier is a bad good, we are going to pay the expenses of the war as we go and not ask the soldiers to come back and pay for their guns after the war."

"We should pay that bill now and not allow it to pile up whereby the soldiers would have to pay their own salaries and for their clothing and guns and ammunition after they get home."

"This is the statement that I am making wherever I go in this campaign and which I will continue to make until after the war is over."

Tells Story of Investigation

After witnessing the leave-taking of a soldier from his wife and children at Spokane last January, the question occurred to Candidate Samuels, he said, that those remaining at home were not fulfilling their duty when they allowed the price of their oats to advance from $50 to $55 and other articles in proportion. "I had heard about the organization of farmers in North Dakota for the purpose of cleaning out the profitters," he declared, "and I went to Great Falls to hear Frazier and Tomney speak. I went on further to St. Paul to investigate the administration of Frazier and went on to Washington, and arrived there during the airplane investigation. That matter was a disgrace which the profitters are responsible for. If congress had regulated the price on everything as requested to do by Governor Frazier, there would have been no profiteering, and if the farmers had been organized everywhere in the United States as they were in North Dakota there would have been no profiteering; the war debt would have been about one-half paid and most of the labor troubles would have been eliminated," he declared.

Defines Profitters' Profit

He defined the profitters' profit as "the price added to products since the United States entered the war."

"Russia is out of the war because of profiteering," he argued. "Four millions of Americans are needed in Europe today because the profitters put Russia out of the war," he said. Candidate Samuels said that he was a natural non-partisan. He quoted the statement of his wife after he had received the endorsement for the nomination for governor by the league, that his father was a Republican, his mother was a Democrat and consequently he was a non-partisan.

Meaning of Non-Partisan

"Non-partisan means the desire to better the condition of one's self and family," he asserted. "The trusts are successful because they are non-partisan. That is the condition the farmer has started out to attain, and he will be successful because he is paying the campaign expenses of his candidates," he argued.

He stated that the delegates to the Non-Partisan convention in Boise had applied the acid test to all their candidates to prove them "one hundred per cent Americans."

He closed his remarks after discussing some of the planks of the Non-Partisan platform and endorsing eggs, fruit, and grain handling machinery, with tribute to the American soldiers and Red Cross nurses, both of whom should be given farms after the war.

German-Born Candidate Talks

The remarks of Fred W. Berger, Non-Partisan candidate for nomination for representative, in respect to his German origin, caused the interest of the audience. "I have lived through conditions in Germany for this war," he said, "and that is one of the reasons why I am here. I was getting tired of Kaiserism, and I left Germany as soon as I got my discharge from the army, where conditions are next to slavery."

Might Overlook Atrocities

"You might accuse the German soldiers for their part in atrocities they are committing, but if you were there you might overlook some things, because they are driven in and have to go. If they don't, they get shot in the back," he said in conclusion.

Elmer Aman, candidate for the nomination for senator, denied that the Non-Partisan league movement is pro-German. And he argued that it is built from the bottom up where all progress originates.

Politics and Views Coincide

E. A. Litter, candidate for nomination for representative, said that in his study of economic problems, in 1901 after his arrival in Twin Falls county, his "mind was directed along right lines," and that the policies of the Non-Partisan league coincided with his views. He stated that, if elected to the legislature, he would be guided by the will of the majority as he knew it "they deserve," he declared, "and when they assert themselves through organization they can best improve their condition."

The Allied Sugar Bowl

The burden of keeping the Allied sugar bowl full, falls on America or rather on the individual citizens of America.

No sugar comes from Central Europe, none from Java; from Hawaii and West Indies less than usual.

French sugar territory is overrun by German armies; French sugar mills are taken and destroyed.

Submarine sinkings and losses by battle have cost us great stores; shortage of labor impedes production.

For England the allowance is two pounds per person a month; for France, one pound; for Italy, one pound; for America, two pounds.

America seeks to share equally with all who sit at the common table, joined in the common defense.

OUR SOLDIERS must have SUGAR—it is not a luxury, but a necessity. Their sugar bowls must be filled and kept full through the savings each American citizen makes in his daily consumption of sugar.

SAVE A TEASPOONFUL A DAY FOR A FIGHTER

Eat less pastry and other sweets made of sugar.

Use more corn syrups and honey.

Use as little as possible now in canning—add more later when the sugar situation improves.

THE FOOD ADMINISTRATION PLACES YOU ON YOUR HONOR NOT TO USE MORE THAN TWO POUNDS PER PERSON A MONTH AND LESS IF POSSIBLE.

FOCH PLANS TO KEEP HUMS ON RUN ALL WINTER

Aggressive Winter Warfare Washington - Military Expert's Ideas as to Foch's Strategy

PREPARE FOR BIG SPRING CAMPAIGN

Don't let Germans Gain Enough Strength to Attempt Offensive - Falling Back to Prepared Positions

By CARL D. GREAT (United Press Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, August 23.—That Foch intends to pound the Boche hard all winter is the view of high military experts here today. Several prominent officers on duty here have openly favored a strenuous winter campaign. They are of the school who complained at the absence of open warfare, and who have cheered loudly since this system came into play.

"Keep 'em Going" Is Hope

Now they believe that their hopes are coming true, for the French military wizard gives every indication of hammering on and on, giving the Boche as little opportunity as possible to recuperate his ranks.

"We ought to keep on giving them hell," said one authority. "Only in that way can we get a speedy finish. A winter campaign of large proportions is a tough proposition, but it would be worse for the enemy than for us."

Want Open Fighting

He expressed the view that by keeping on the campaign instead of permitting the fight to dwindle to trench activities the way would be prepared for a mammoth spring campaign.

Just at present there is some doubt in military circles here as to the exact intentions of the Boche is falling back rather easily and suggest that he is striving now only to save his men and material until he can establish a new line behind the Somme.

It is believed that a retirement from the Lassigny region will soon be forced. However, it is considered doubtful that the Germans can find up their divisions and undertake another of feative now.

OBUSING THE VIPER'S HEAD

One cannot help but admire the thoroughness with which the work of cleaning up the I. W. W. menace was accomplished. For weary months apparently, the depredations were unchecked and the villainous brood allowed undisputed sway. Then suddenly, with the speed of a thunderbolt, the iron hand of the law descended and over a hundred of the leaders and organizers were behind prison bars.

In this manner the government works. It never moves impulsively, nor goes off half cocked. The hand of justice is slow but inexorable, and always certain of result. Perhaps there are times when the wheels seem to move too slowly, when it would look as though the Federal machinery of justice needed speeding up, but results are certain the time taken is of no consequence whatever.

America heaved a sigh of satisfaction when the verdict in the Chicago trial was announced.

HEARST, BEHNSTORFF, BOLO

Att. Gen. Norton Lewis of New York produces affidavits disputing the recent assertion of William Randolph Hearst that he never saw the traitor Bolo Pasha but three times. Hearst employs and various taxicab drivers swear to Bolo's having been a caller at Hearst's residence on fairly numerous occasions in 1916. They also declare that Ambassador Behnstorff was a frequent visitor there. In fact, according to one employe, the two were so well known to the "help" that Behnstorff was known among them as "Duke de la Brew," and Bolo as "Duke de la Car," which could scarcely have been the case if they were mere casual visitors.

Mr. Hearst would of course argue that this happened before the United States was in the war. But it did not happen before patriotic Americans were regarding Behnstorff and his aide as snakes in the grass; as men to be avoided rather than cultivated. As for Bolo, who has since faced a firing squad, his association with an enemy of his avowed country, France, was enough to stamp him as a villain even then—though evidently that mattered not to the Hearsts.

SECRET REPORT SENT BAKER BY AIRCRAFT BOARD

Senate Committee Supplements Its Public Report With Confidential Information as to Improvements

BAKER SAYS SUGGESTIONS WILL BE CARRIED OUT

Col. Deeds Connection With Program Bobs Up Again—Baker Denies Knowledge of That Phase of Situation

WASHINGTON, August 23.—Supplementing its public report on shortcomings of the aircraft program, the senate air probers will make a second secret report to Secretary of War Baker. This will contain important discoveries, concerning chiefly a type of airplane now used by American flyers at the front.

Inasmuch as Secretary Baker has promised to study carefully and profit by the senate's investigation, it is assumed that this second message, even more than the first, will result in improving the airplane situation.

As much as Secretary Baker has promised to study carefully and profit by the senate's investigation, it is assumed that this second message, even more than the first, will result in improving the airplane situation.

Profits by Investigation

Baker made a statement to the press that the substantial progress now being made would gratify the public. One of the most interesting phases of the whole airplane inquiry is Colonel Deeds' connection therewith.

Guizun Borglum, whose charges put the house committee on the aircraft matter to rest, announced against Deeds and the committee, without making charges, pointed out Deeds' former interest in property recommended for air purposes.

The house committee's probe is said to have unearthed some important details in connection with the Deeds' end of the situation.

WARNS PEOPLE OF HUN EFFORT ON NEW ANGLE MANY WITNESS PERFORMANCE OF HUMAN FLY

America's Great Shipbuilding Program to Be Used as Basis for Arousing Allied Distrust, Says Chairman Hurley

WASHINGTON, August 23.—Warning that enemy propaganda will endeavor to use America's great shipbuilding effort "as a basis for arousing distrust among the allies," Chairman Hurley of the United States Shipping Board today expressed confidence that the entente nations "will discount the German effort and maintain the solid line for democracy all the end."

"Today," Hurley said, "America is building a large fleet of transport and food ships to carry out her great military program. After the war this merchant marine will be used in America's enormous ocean carrying trade."

WILL STUCK BY ALLIES

"It is unthinkable that a nation fighting shoulder to shoulder with other great democracies should after the war turn its resources against them for trade conquest of the very kinds which were largely instrumental in bringing on the war."

First Object to Win War

"America's plans, first of all, to win the war, and after that to overcome her own neglect in providing ocean transportation for her own needs and that of the people of the United States are preparing to develop transportation on their own trade route, without disturbing the trade or rights of other nations."

BLINDERS GAIN Overtone

The British are attacking on practically the whole twenty mile front from the Cojuel river to the vicinity of Chancel, and are making progress at a number of points.

Slight additional advances were made on three widely separated sectors of the Flanders front, Field Marshal Haig reported today.

German counter attacks north of Albert and northwest of Bailleul were repulsed.

Fighting is continuing on practically the whole front between Lyons, south of the Somme, to the coast

"On the Ypres front we advanced slightly east of Louvain, northwest of Nor-Berquin and east of Outterweire. A local hostile attack northwest of Bailleul broke down before our positions."

CLOSE VOTE ON DRAFT MEASURE IS LOOKED FOR

Considerable Opposition to the Minimum Age Clause, But Congress Likely to Be Given Free Hand to Dispose of Bill

PRESIDENT FAVORS PRESENT PROVISION

Failure to Back Up Men in Franco Is Pointed Out to Those Against Measure as Drawn

By L. C. MARTIN (United Press Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, August 23.—There is little doubt that congress will give the war department a free hand in calling into service the boys of 18 and under 10 under the new man power bill. Convicted that these men are imperatively needed to win the war in the shortest possible time, congress will refuse to heed those who insist that the younger men be kept out of the fight until the last.

Close Vote Looked For

In the house the vote on this question will be close. Representative Kahn, leading advocate of the no-objective policy, said today he believes the amendment deferring service of 18 and 19 years olds will be defeated. Chairman Dent of the military affairs committee, who favored the amendment, hopes it will be adopted.

President Wilson has been working quietly with house members favoring the amendment in an effort to convince them by voting for it they will be falling to back up the men "over there" who are depending on congress to provide the additional forces necessary to crush the German line.

Won't Limit Army

Whatever the house does, the senate will refuse to accept any amendment tending to limit the size of the army. If possible the senate would empower the president to get more men. If the bill goes into conference with the house amendment in it, senate members will insist never to accept it. Desire to get the bill through with the least delay makes it appear likely the house will vote on the measure tonight or early Saturday.

TWIN FALLS MEN ON BATTLE LINE FOR 5 MONTHS

James Wynni Says Members Separated from Headquarters Company Have Records of Real Veterans of War

That members of the Twin Falls unit of the Second Idaho Regiment which was converted into headquarters company of the One Hundred Forty-Sixth field artillery regiment, including Thomas and Harry McGraw, sons of the late J. B. McGraw, have been at the front in France for five months past, is the statement of James ("Punk") Wynni, a member of that company, in the following letter, in which reference is made to his participation in recent fighting, received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Wynni.

Innocent Fighting

France, July 24.
Dear Folks—
It has been some time since I have tried to write a letter. Talk about work, we have been going night and day for very nearly two weeks, so there wasn't much time for letters.
Some of our boys haven't had their clothes off for six days.
We got relief yesterday so from now on it won't be so busy.
There is great fun up here—and more interesting than it was. And say Pa, don't you think we have been slipping those Germans the lemon lately!

Pleasant Return

We met up with the boys who went to the hospital when we first landed in France. They have been on the front for five months. Don't think I would have been more glad to see anyone in the world than I was to see the McGraw boys and a kid by the name of McGwin.
We are going to move pretty quick, so will close. I'd like to write about lots of things I've seen lately, and will some other time.
Tell 'em hello for me. JAMES.

Congressman's Son Is Anxious to Serve

Walter S. Smith Enlists Aid of Father in Appeal to Local Board

Walter S. Smith, younger son of Representative Allison T. Smith, who has been disqualified on account of visual defect, from enlistment or induction into the military service, is more than anxious to find a place in the service where he can be of assistance.

In this regard Representative Smith on Tuesday telegraphed to the local board, stating that he was anxious to secure for his son this privilege, and asked if he could not be reclassified and placed in class one for limited service. "He is equipped for non-combatant service in various branches and could relieve a man for service overseas," Mr. Smith points out in his telegram.

Members of the local board have agreed to do whatever is permitted under the regulations to grant this request. Walter S. Smith enlisted in March, 1917, in the Twin Falls unit of the Second Idaho regiment, but was rejected at Boise. He attended school last winter at Ames, Iowa, and has been spending his vacation as a farm laborer at Castleford. He is 21 years of age.

TWIN FALLS TEACHERS WED AT NEW PLYMOUTH

Miss Nellie Hinchliff Becomes Bride of Macy S. Hoover at Parents' Home

Announcement has been received here of the marriage on Tuesday, August 20, of Miss Nellie Hinchliff to Macy S. Hoover of Twin Falls. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hinchliff, of New Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will return to make their home in Twin Falls after September 16. The bride was a teacher or last year in the Nickel school and is well known here. Hoover last year attended the third year of the commercial department of the Twin Falls high school and this spring opened here the Gregg Business college.

Grain Men Would Eliminate Sacking

Investigation of Government Man Explodes False Report to Contrary

That grain dealers of southern Idaho are urging growers to handle and ship wheat without the use of bags, which are rotted here at a narrow margin of profit at 30 cents each, is the fact made known as the result of an investigation made here Wednesday by J. E. McAlpine, representative of the grain corporation at Food Cattle Complaint, received. Mr. McAlpine through the grain corporation headquarters from a non-resident Twin Falls land-owner that grain dealers were charging exorbitant prices for grain bags and refusing to accept grain for shipment except in bags. Mr. McAlpine, in company with County Food Administrator C. E. Munson and County Agent Donald McLean, on Wednesday visited the several mills, elevators and grain dealers of this county and adjoining counties and ascertained that the reverse is the fact.

JEFFERSON CLUB TO ELIMINATE CANDIDATES

Organization of Simon-Pure Democrats Endorses One Man for Each Office

Idaho Democrats who classify themselves as "Simon pure" have organized the Jefferson club, the object of which is to "preserve the integrity" of the party which can best be brought about through the nomination and election of Frank Martin for governor, T. Wilson, lieutenant governor, W. T. Dougherty, secretary of state, Clarence Van Dusen, auditor, T. A. Walker, attorney general, and E. L. Parker, state treasurer. Harvey Allen, state director of the Jones market, is president of the club and M. C. Scott, registrar of the state land board, is secretary. Those two officers, together with C. O. Bronson, state insurance manager, W. B. Hyatt, state insurance commissioner, James R. Booth, former judge of the Fourth Judicial District court, S. O. Tannabill of Lewiston, and Thomas Brueker of Caldwell, form the executive committee.

NEW FALL APPAREL IN WONDERFUL ARRAY

A Complete Showing Revealing the Most Attractive Outer Garments of the New Season

Come and see how well all the promises of beauty, distinctiveness and originality in Fall Fashions have been carried out—see, in the garments we have, the finest and most skillfully developed style features! In short, come and see a complete display of the best the new season has to offer!

We Never Have Shown So Large an Assortment Nor So Early

NEVER WAS AN EARLY SELECTION SO IMPERATIVE AS NOW

With the shortage of merchandise and the advances in price, together with the stability of styles and the impending revenue bill. These all help the "early bird" to catch the worm.

A Wonderful Selection of Coats and Suits

Never were the styles so pretty and so becoming to all figures. Some with the tailored lines that are neat and trim and others fur trimmed and furbelowed, but not overmuch—that wouldn't be in good taste just now. The prices are not what one would expect under present conditions, either.

Such Pretty Dresses in Silk and Wool

And you will say as much and more. They are so pretty. The black satin is most rich and handsome and the serges and wool jerseys are more classy than ever. Dozens and dozens to choose from.

Where Do the Pretty Hats Come From?

Miss Hill has just brought them home from the Eastern markets, and we won't hold an opening this fall, so they are on display and selling as fast as we can show them. It's really wonderful that at this time we can show such wonderful styles and such handsome trimmings and all. Don't delay—this is the store to buy your hat from.

have the opportunity to govern themselves in independent states. For the sanctity and observance of treaties. A general disarmament of nations. "How are these things to be secured. The details are really more important than the general principles in which we all agree. Broadly speaking, there is only one way to obtain this security of the nations, this safety of democracy, this preservation of freedom and civilization, and that is by reducing Germany to a condition where by no possibility can she precipitate another war of universal conquest with all its attendant horrors, upon an unoffending world."

No Concessions for Turkey

He then outlined the details of the terms and added: "We must not be beguiled into concessions to Turkey in the hope of separating her from Germany. It would be a miserable outcome to have Turkey retained in Europe, a curse to her subjects and neighbors, a plague spot and a breeder of war. Her massacre must not under any pretense be condoned nor her intrigues rewarded. Let Turkey and Bulgaria share the fate of their master and be so treated that they will not be able to again trouble the world. "These are the principal conditions which alone will give us a victory worth having and when we talk about a complete peace and a just and righteous peace, let it be known to all the world that this is what we mean.

Mr. Farmer—

One Problem Confronting You Is How to Obtain and Keep Satisfactory

FARM LABOR

In normal times this question gives you considerable trouble. Under present war conditions, it becomes really serious. The supply from which you usually draw your irrigators, hay hands, and harvest hands, the younger unmarried men of the community, has been greatly reduced by additions to the army.

WHY NOT BUILD A NEAT, COMFORTABLE TENANT HOUSE

and set aside one-acre or so of ground for a garden, chicken run, and so forth. This will help you secure the services of a reliable married man, and will go a long way towards solving your labor problem. You would then have a man right on the farm to work whenever you needed help. The tenant's wife could help your wife on busy days, during the canning season, and during the haying and threshing seasons. If at certain times, you did not need help, your tenant would probably be willing to pay you a small rental and continue to live in the house and be free to secure work somewhere else in the neighborhood.

The big industrial companies of the country are fast learning that a little attention given to the housing of their employees, is securing for them a supply of labor that is reliable, contented, and constantly increasing in efficiency. The farmers of this tract can secure the same benefit by adopting a similar policy towards their help.

We have plans of three and four-room houses, suitable for farm tenant houses, which we would be glad to show you.
