LIBERTY MOTOR GREAT SUCCESS

Aircraft Director Ryan Declares Allied Governments Clamoring for It

WASHINGTON, August 29.—The Liberty motor is a real success, according to Aircraft Director Ryan. To prove his claims he has pointed out that the allied governments are clamoring for this type of engine in quantities beyond America's present power of production.

However, Ryan says that engine production is now booming and that construction for this type of engine in quantities beyond America's present power of production.

Eighty-twelve Liberties and Hispano engines are being constructed also. The Dolevian type of improved motor has come several months earlier than it has been found necessary to scrap the Bristol as unsafe and of small military advantage. French aid in making it possible to have three types of plane using the Liberty 12. Italian aid is devising new models.

BAPAUME, HAM AND NOYON OCCUPIED ACCORDING TO UNCONFIRMED REPORTS

OUR SHARE OF HUN PRISONERS OVER 20,000

Total of German Troops Captured Since July First Estimated One Hundred and Twelve Thousand

By CARL D. ORSAT (United Press Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, August 29.—Twenty thousand to twenty-five thousand German prisoners constitute America's portion of the great total haul of 112,000 captives since July 1.

These figures are based on careful estimates of important war department officials today. The last official figures on American totals were 17,000 towards the end of the Soissons-Rheims struggle. After that time several sizable bags were taken, and the Americans have continued to take prisoners ever since the main fighting died down.

What ratio the prisoners bear to the dead and wounded is somewhat doubtful. One high officer estimated to the United Press that the French dead and wounded certainly run more than three times the captured.

Huns Lose Heavily Of the whole there is an inclination to believe that the Germans captured, including prisoners, run a half million or more since July 1.

Germany was reported in March ready to sacrifice a million or more men to accomplish her aims. The German morale now is at a lower ebb than ever. Officers say this is proved by the increasingly large number of prisoners the British have taken.

Many of these have shown a remarkable willingness to be taken. Whether some plan will be made for bringing German prisoners to America is a subject war department authorities decline to discuss. It is known, however, that the matter has been under serious discussion.

COST OF FIGHT IS CLIMBING UP

War Bills This Month Estimated at Nearly Twice That of a Year Ago

WASHINGTON, August 29.—War bills this month will approximate $1,201,000,000, nearly twice the amount—$570,000,000—expended during August of a year ago.

This year's war toll is now running about $2,000,000 a day or over $2,000,000,000 a month, a slight increase over July.

August figures bring the total cost to America of the war to date to over $15,700,000,000 and the cost since January 1 this year to over $10,000,000,000.

If August's appropriation proves fully accurate, this will be the most expensive month since America got into the struggle, the next largest being June, which $1,513,000,000 was poured into the war now. The same figures show that the cost today is just double that of a year ago.

ALLIES CONTINUE TO PRESS GERMANS BACK

Comblès, Important Railway Center, Outflanked by British—Juvigny, Where Americans Are Fighting, Reported Captured—Entire German Line Endangered

ALLIES PRESS FORWARD RAPIDLY AT ALL POINTS ON LONG FRONT

PARIS, August 29. (4:10 p. m.)—The Journal Des Debats declares it understands that both Noyon and Ham have been definitely vanquished.

Previous reports state the French were fighting in the streets of Noyon, but the French were last reported five miles west of Ham, which is the most important railway center within the Hindenburg salient.

The allies are known to be within 100 miles of Peronne, while the British are on the outskirts of Bapaume. The four large towns thus remaining within the big pocket are thus apparently doomed. Albert, Montdidier, Chaulnes, Nesle, Roye and Lassigny have all been reconquered.

Back to New Somme Line The Germans already have been "repacked" in the greater part of their new Somme defensive line between Peronne and Noyon. Nearly two-thirds of the original Picardy salient has been eliminated.

The only important truck line railways still remaining in German hands are those from Noyon to Laferre and Ham, from Ham to Peronne and St. Quentin and from Comblès to Peronne, St. Quentin and Arras.

The Germans are now fighting with their backs to the Gommiers.

Advance Six Miles In their advance yesterday the French swept forward an additional six miles on a front of about 25 miles, capturing forty villages and reaching the new German defenses on the north of Cizecourt, five miles south of Peronne to the vicinity of Noyon. Part of this line is formed by the Somme and the remainder by the north canal.

Joining this operation on the north the British made an appreciable advance on both sides of the Salme, where it flows in a westerly direction—capturing Coris, four miles west of Peronne and Fresnoy, five miles south of Herbecourt and south of the river.

Canadians Near Hullocourt The Canadians are within about a mile of Hullocourt (a mile and a half southeast of Croisilles and Hincourt) (two miles east of Troyon).

They spent the night cleaning out a mass of dugouts and pockets filled by the Germans, including the famous 2,000 yard concrete tunnel running west from Bullecourt to the Senese river.

French troops are fighting in Noyon, according to reports received from the battle front early today. The town which now forms the apex of a sharp salient is heavily defended by machine guns. It is already outflanked from the northwest.

Noyon is enveloped from the northeast and southeast, in addition to the pressure from the south and northwest. Fighting is going on in the northwestern suburbs. A triplet barrage and gas bombardment on the attacking French but General Humbert's army is carrying out its flanking movement toward Gopigny, two miles north of Noyon, accentuating the enemy retreat toward Chaulnes, five miles northeast of Noyon, or Chamy, ten miles east of Noyon.

The Germans are raising fiercely along the dry bed of the north canal, which they have transferred into a veritable dike with numerous machine guns.

Between the Ailette and the Obie, General Mangin's army is vigorously cleaning out the area east of Maricamp, four miles east of Chaulnes.

French Tighten Grip Speeding up their advance the French have enlarged their hold on the

MEXICANS TOLD TO QUIT THEIR FOOLISHNESS

General Cabell Informs Consul at Nogales that Unless They Behave He Will Take Everything He Has Across the Line

NOGALES, Ariz., August 29.—One round of 18 shots from an American machine gun was fired across the border about 10 o'clock last night as the American answer to Mexican shots. It was announced here today. During the night a total of about 100 shots were fired. The Americans did not reply until about 11 o'clock had come across the line from the Mexican side.

This morning entire quiet prevailed during the hours immediately following the dryback due to General Cabell's ultimatum. The Mexicans did not cross their "foolishness" he would "take everything I have" across the line and "take everything you have over there."

That ultimatum was delivered last night to the Mexican consul from Nogales, Sonora.

Mexican troops have entrenched themselves in the hills south of Nogales and at daylight this morning the indications were that a considerable force was accumulating.

Additional Mexican troops have arrived from the interior of Mexico, apparently under Carranza's orders to preserve the peace. There is uncertainty, however, in Nogales.

What the Mexicans propose to do was a puzzle to the people of Nogales. At almost the moment the Mexicans were withdrawing across the border their representatives were in Nogales conferring with American military and civil authorities.

Talk It Over As a result of this conference, it was promised that there should be no more hostilities and the civilian authorities agreed to the sending of orders sufficiently to permit thousands of Mexican workmen to cross to the American side, where they are employed each day.

While the conference apparently was devoid of any hostilities, it was said that last night's negotiators "leaving the people early in doubt as to the next development.

Many believe that the closing of the border is playing the big part in the outbreak.

Mexican Civilians to Blame Indications today were that Mexican civilians will be mainly blamed for the Nogales skirmish. While representations may be made to President Carranza, it now appears unlikely that the incident will become a grave one.

Many believe that the closing of the border is playing the big part in the outbreak.

Report of Further Outbreaks Denied

NOGALES, Ariz., August 29.—Reports that there had been renewed outbreaks at Nogales and that a negro trooper had killed a Mexican were denied by military authorities here this afternoon.

There was entire quiet along the border throughout the day and no shots had been fired.

Yankees Smash Huns Near Chavigny

By FRED R. FERGUSON (United Press Staff Correspondent) WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, August 29.—The American holding the important sector northwest of Chavigny, cooperating with the French troops under General Mangin, delivered a smashing attack on the Germans supported by tanks.

The first troops were recalled within a few minutes after the tanks were operated through a number of prisoners were taken but these have not yet been counted. The Germans effected a slight machine gun resistance during the attack and also in the ravine running through the enemy lines, but the tanks rushed forward and quickly overcame them, the accompanying infantry rapidly cleaning them up.

Comblès Outflanked By British

LONDON, August 29. — 6:25 p. m.—Comblès, the important railway town northwest of Peronne has been captured by the British, according to reports received this evening. The town is practically surrounded. British troops are on the outskirts of Maunpas, a mile and a half southeast of Comblès, while patrols have entered Les Boites, two miles north of Comblès, and Marval, a mile and a half northeast of Comblès.

The French are reported to have captured Juvigny, where Americans are fighting.

RESTORATION OF MONARCHY PLAN OF HUN LEADERS

Investigator Confident that the Kaiser Has Already Chosen Successor to Nicholas

NEW YORK, August 29.—James Keeley, former editor of the Chicago Herald, believes Germany will attempt to restore a monarchy in Russia and that the Kaiser has already chosen the successor to Nicholas II. Keeley was just returned from a trip to Europe made at the request of the committee on public information.

Keeley also declared it to be his belief that from one quarter to a third of the Russian working people are doomed to death from starvation and disease before next summer, due to the terrible conditions in that nation. There is no industry and no food. The nation's gold reserve has been stolen.

Down Twenty Planes in Two Weeks' Time

PARIS, August 29.—German aviators brought down 20 American planes during the first two weeks of August. The aviators were shot down and probably accounted for during the attack on the United States aircraft carrier. During the same period they made 904 flights, engaged in 84 fights and dropped 10,000 pounds of bombs.

ONLY ONE POINT STANDS IN WAY OF ITS PASSAGE

Congress Practically Ready to Send Man-Power Bill to the President for His Signature

PENROSE AMENDMENT REMAINS FOR DISPOSAL

House and Senate Conferences Take Up Matter Today and Quick Action Is Anticipated

By L. C. MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, August 29.—Congress prepared to send the man power bill to President Wilson today.

The sole point to smooth out in conference was the Penrose amendment regarding registration of the need for "including exceptions." The house and senate conferees announced last night they had agreed, but later, amended this statement by saying the Penrose amendment had to be threshed out this morning.

House and Senate Conferences were to take up this question with the conference this forenoon.

His office explained objections to it to the United Press in conference and the argument he used to the conferees was practically that:

The present draft is an emergency rush order for men. They must be released rapidly, if the 4,000,000 army program by June is to be accomplished and victory is to be achieved next year. And if the government has to examine into all questionnaires and determine exemption itself the 1919 victory is likely to be delayed. In the first place Crowder's plan is simplified and it is certain that a vast number of men for class 1, that is men not claiming exemption, and not in vital industries will be immediately available for service.

For those who claim exemption it will be necessary only to examine one phase of the questionnaire, the registrant's grounds for exemption claim.

On the other hand, if the government had to determine the exemption it would amount to examining all the statements of all the registrants, a task of "unusually vast proportions that would necessarily defeat the speed of movement in the bill.

Want Amendment Killed

Crowder and his friends worked hard all day yesterday to have the amendment killed. Today he took the fight into the conference and it appears likely that the amendment would die. In any case, there is no danger that this question would delay presentation of the bill to the house and senate men after they meet today.

The work of fight amendment is not in the bill. House conferees absolutely refused to accept. Senate conferees refused for two reasons: because they did not want to delay the army program and because they agreed to a provision that contains a provision that the man's exemption shall continue after the cause for which it was granted no longer exists. That conferees agreed is clearly a work of fight provision.

The amendment was agreed to providing that the government must provide officers uniforms at cost, if officers request it. The Treasury amendment providing for reworking of deferred classes was stricken out on the ground that it might embarrass General Crowder's plan.

The house amendment on vocational training was substituted for the senate provision. The difference is that the house amendment makes the training effective now while the senate plan was to begin it when the men below 31 who are drafted return to this country.

ENGLISH SEE IN GOMPERS STRONG WAR ADVOCATE

"Believe American Labor Leader Will Help to Solidify Conditions in This Country"

LONDON, August 29.—From public statements of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, since he arrived in London, it is regarded as certain that he intends to continue a strong support of the allied governments' attitude toward the war and peace. He will, it is believed, establish the personal relations with the orthodox pro-war union leaders in this country.

It is expected, however, that Gompers will have some conferences with the socialist and more extreme labor groups, with the effect of converting them to a stronger war spirit. But it is certain that his emphasis is to be made, that is will be at the request of the latter, and not Gompers.

It is expected the American labor leader will declare his detailed policy when he speaks at the Derby trade

GEN. K. M. OBERCROUCHEFF

Gen. K. M. Obercroucheff, formerly a prominent Russian commander, is urging that the allies send an armed expedition to Russia to restore the east front and push back the "Tzents" General Obercroucheff was for 30 years a Russian revolutionist.

Prosperity awaits you at Capay Rancho

With Normal Crops the Land Should Pay for Itself in Two or Three Years

Capay Rancho, though located in the very heart of one of the most highly developed agricultural and fruit-growing sections in California, was held off the market until about a year and a half ago.

Since then practically all of this great grant has been sold to industrious farmers and now presents an intensive state of development.

Prosperity is running at high pitch here, for crops are bountiful and prices are high. The land is ready for immediate cropping. The wonderful fields of alfalfa, barley and other grains on all sides tell you what you have good reason to expect in the way of crops on your land.

And this is a marvelous fruit country. Some of the finest orange and lemon groves in the state are near by. Olives, almonds, peaches, pears, almost all varieties of fruits produce record crops here.

The water situation is unusually attractive. Every 80 acres has its own well, with superabundance of water included in the price of the land, $175.00 an acre, and an electrically operated pumping plant, all of which

$175 An Acre
Including Electrically Operated Pumping Plant on Every 80 Acres

The land is priced way under what land with similar advantages can be bought for elsewhere in California.

It is a delightful place for a home, agreeable year round climate; good scenery, good roads, thriving near-by towns, schools, splendid class of neighbors, attractive modern homes, electricity.

The Sacramento river bounds the property and furnishes delightful boating, swimming and bathing.

We will gladly refer you to successful farmers right in your community who have bought at Capay Rancho.

There is very little of the land left. We suggest you act at once.

CZECH UNION MAY FOLLOW RECOGNITION

Uprisings in Bohemia Probable Outcome of England's Action—Must Prepare for Outbreak, Warns German Paper

AMSTERDAM, August 29.—As a result of British recognition of the Czechs, something like general mobilization is proceeding in the Polish, Czech and southern Slav districts, according to a Vienna dispatch to the Wasser Zeitung.

Hostilities between these people and the government are expected shortly. It is believed British recognition made possible the coordination of these elements.

Looking for Trouble
"We must reckon with an organization comprising all the southern Slav districts," declared the Wasser Zeitung.

"Serious things are being prepared in Bohemia. It is significant that simultaneously with British recognition the Czech national council appealed to the population that it was time they should pass from words to deeds. The meetings at Labach can be interpreted as a manifestation of Slav community interests."

Every Effort to Be Made to Weld Conflicting Factions Together in Siberia and Assist Army Program

HOWARTH'S FORCES TO JOIN ALLIED TROOPS

Penetration Regarded as Not Difficult Upon Establishment of Communication from Vladivostok

WASHINGTON, August 29.—Allied diplomatic pressure at Vladivostok will be exerted to weld together the conflicting factions in Siberia and expedite the active penetration from the east, diplomats here declared today. Establishment of a central government for Siberia by the Czech-Slovaks with headquarters at Irkutsk was reported in semi-official cables. It is held that the possible incorporation of General Howarth's forces into the allied movement will give the untraced Czech-Slovaks the most immediate aid from Annerburn. When the lines of communication from Vladivostok have been firmly established, military experts declare, the penetration will not be difficult.

Prepare for Active Warfare
The action of the Czech-Slovaks in setting up the government at Irkutsk is held by diplomats to indicate that the Czech-Slovaks are organizing for an extended siege in the wide territory they occupy. The reports named Former War Minister Gouckhoff of the Siberian government as the prospective president of the government.

Encouragement for the eastern's plan to Burma and Siberia also is seen in the uprising against the Germans and the Bolsheviks in the Petrograd and the Riga districts to join legions to fight the Czech-Slovaks.

WHY GERMAN'S STICK

Daily reports of the successes of the Allied arms which bring reassurance to all them who treasure the cause of human rights, do not distract the attention of thoughtful people from the fact that the war is not yet won and that it cannot be won successfully and in the world made "safe for democracy" until the German is practically exterminated.

The German is fighting, stubbornly for what he believes is right. People will fight equally hard for their beliefs whether those beliefs are right or wrong.

The German is fighting not only for his belief but for his job.

In all countries, to a greater or less extent, only the few care to assume the burden of the matter of earning a living. The many prefer a sure thing.

The German believes this to be the proper order of things, and he has conceived a good many people in other countries that his is the zenith of economic efficiency.

As an exponent of what he regards as the highest in human development and efficiency, the German feels sincerely that he is of the one race worthy of ruling the world, and he has set out deliberately to attain that end.

The teachings which have knitted the German people into a fanatic unit under the rule of the war mad Prussians were never better expressed than in the letter of a German schoolgirl, which has been reprinted widely in Europe. Here is the letter.

"My Dear Ludwig: The contents of your last letter would have hurt me had I not known that your thoughts of our glorious war resulted from sheer ignorance."

"You are in a country rendered affectionate by the influence of old-fashioned ideas of liberty, a country which is at least two centuries behind ours. You are in need of a good dose of Prussian culture."

"It is evident that you, a Swiss girl, with your French sympathies, cannot understand how my heart, the heart of a young German girl, passionately desired this war. Speaking of it some years ago, my father said to us: 'Children, Germany is getting too small for us. We shall have to go to France again to find more room.' It is our fault that France will not understand that more money and land is necessary for us."

"And you reproach us that our soldiers have been very cruel to the Belgian people, and you speak also of the destruction of Brno and of the buring of villages and towns. Well, that is war. As in every other undertaking, there are past masters of war.

You have a great deal to learn before you can come up to our standards, and I can assure you that what has been done so far is a mere hodgepodge compared with what will follow.

As a matter of fact there is but one race worthy of ruling the world, and which has already attained the highest degree of civilization. That race is ours, the Prussians; for although we Germans in general are lords of the world, the Prussians are undoubtedly the pre-eminence among the Germans.

All other nations, and among them, unfortunately, the Swiss, are degenerate and of inferior worth. That is why I have always been so proud of being a true Prussian.

Yesterday, again, our pastor explained to us, convincingly that our first parents, Adam and Eve, were also Prussians. That is quite easy to understand, because the Bible tells us that the Germans God created us all after his own image. If then all men are descended from Adam and his wife, it follows that only Prussians, or at least, only Germans, ought to exist in the world. And that all who push on and prosper ought to belong to us. You must admit that this is logic, and that is why our motto is 'God with us; Germany above everything.'

You know now why we wished this war. It is not shameful that other nations, who have no right to existence on the earth, wish to diminish our heritage. We are the divine fruit and the others are only weeds. That is why our great emperor has decided to put an end to all these injustices and to exterminate the weeds. Do you understand that now?

"I remain your school friend, KATIE HAMEL, Daughter of the State Councilor of Architecture."

HEMP CULTIVATION TO ERADICATE WEEDS

County Agent Offers New Suggestion to Farmers in Meeting Series on Problem

That the growing of hemp is an effective means of eradicating weeds is the suggestion of the county agent, who quotes the following from a department of agriculture bulletin for the information of Twin Falls county farmers: "Very few of the common weeds that flourish on the farm can survive the dense shade of a good crop of hemp. If the hemp makes a short, weak growth, owing to unprofitable soil, drought, or other causes, it will have little effect in checking the growth of weeds, but a good, dense crop, 6 feet or more in height, will leave the ground practically free from weeds at harvest time. In Wisconsin, Canada and Idaho it has been completely checked by one crop of hemp. In one 4-acre field in Vernon county, Wis., where Canada thistles were very thick, fully 95 per cent of the thistles were killed where the hemp attained a height of 6 feet or more, but on a dry, gravelly hill-

west bank of the Somme canal over a wide front south of Peronne. The German retreat is reported to have been precipitate at some points last night. There is every indication that the enemy retreat will not halt before it reaches the entire front line in the trough the heaves are resisting tenaciously in the vicinity of Noyon. Fall of that town, expected hourly, will remove the last strong defense, before Guiscard, five miles to the north, it is believed. Along the canal east of the Nepe the fighting was extremely heavy. A huge amount of material was captured in that region.

North of Soissons the Germans are obliging to relinquishing positions at Cuffes and Juvry (where American troops are operating).

The Germans are reported to be greatly strengthening their position in the Oise-Golde forest (between the Oise and the Aisne) which are reported as already among the best defenses on the west front.

British Forge Ahead
British troops also continued their program between Bapaume and the Scarpe, capturing Croiselles and advancing to Vaux-Vraucourt, five miles west of Arras. More than 200 miles of the Hindenburg line is now in their hands.

The French operation along the Oise, captured Stuyon Pon l'Évêque, Buchelles and Forprecourt, approaching to within a scanty mile of Noyon on the west.

Between the Oise and the Aisne, American troops repulsed several counter attacks, near Juvry, four miles north of Soissons.

Americans Break Up Attacks
The series of local operations initiated by both sides on the famous Aisne battle field has resulted in violent fighting along the Ypres.

More than a hundred Germans have been captured.

A counter attack against the Americans late yesterday afternoon broke down completely in the face of heavy artillery and machine gun fire.

Apparently, there was little fighting on a great portion of the battle front last night, possibly because of the recent heavy rains.

Fighting in the Somme area last night was limited to artillery engagements, the French war office announced today. Halting operations were reported in other fronts.

"On the Somme front last night there were violent bombardments," the communiqué said. "In Loreaine, German raids were unsuccessful. In the Champagne, two French raids resulted in fifteen prisoners. It was calm elsewhere."

British War Statement
Strong German counter attacks along the Scarpe were repulsed yesterday evening and last night, the British war office announced today.

"South of the Somme we maintained pressure against the enemy during the

FRANK R. GOODING

Idaho Fuel Administrator who resigned position to enter race for United States Senator on the Republican ticket.

GOODING RESIGNS AS FUEL ADMINISTRATOR

Creates Chance for Criticism in Connection with Candidacy for the Senate

In tendering to Dr. Garfield his resignation as federal fuel administrator for the state of Idaho, to be effective September 1, ex-Governor Frank R. Gooding, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator, makes the following statement:

My candidacy for United States Senator has impelled me to take this course, as I have feared that the feeling might be aroused in some minds that I was endeavoring to make political capital of my connection with the administration of the fuel problem.

I cannot leave the work without extending my heartfelt thanks and praise to those who have been associated with me in the work, and to the newspaper fraternity. Whatever success has been attained should be credited to the real administrators and the newspapers.

During a long public life I have never had a public duty to perform in which I took greater interest and satisfaction than in the fuel administration. One of the principal factors that has brought about this feeling is the better understanding and appreciation of the newspapermen of my state.

I have the feeling that during this time of crisis, millions of lives are being offered their lives on the battlefields and elsewhere for the safety of the world, that no class of citizens in the United States have been and are doing as much for the cause of liberty as those belonging to the newspaper fraternity. More than any other one class they have made successful progress in this struggle.

I do not feel that it would be right for me to retire from the work of the fuel administration without expressing in the most public manner my sense of obligation to yourself and the other gentlemen of the press.

WELCOMES MEN FROM TWIN FALLS

Captain John T. Henderson Has 125 from Here in Company at Camp Fremont

Expressing pleasure over the assignment to his company at Camp Fremont of 125 of the Twin Falls county men who entrained here entering the military service on July 25, Captain John T. Henderson, commanding Company A, Sixty-second infantry regiment, pays a high tribute to the Idaho men. Captain Henderson was a civilian, a civil engineer, and resided at Twin Falls and Arco, Idaho. He was an officer of the machine gun company of the Idaho regiment on the Mexican border in 1915, and transferred at that time to the regular army.

His letter in regard to the Twin Falls soldiers in regard to the Twin Falls Co. "A," 62d Infantry, Camp Fremont, California, August 21, 1918. The Editor, Twin Falls News, Twin Falls, Idaho.

Dear Sir: It was with great pleasure when I heard there were a large number of Idaho men assigned to Camp Fremont, and it was more pleasure when I heard they were coming to fill up my regiment when I heard I had 125 men, practically all of whom were from Twin Falls County. I really was pleased. However, I only got 125 of these men, the others being assigned elsewhere.

It has been the talk of this camp, the appearance of these men. They are so far superior in every way, than any other bunch of recruits ever received here. Every one spoke and understood English perfectly, which is very unusual as draft recruits go. While the work is new to practically all, I can now see that they are taking it up twice as fast as any other recruits I have ever handled.

As I used to live in Twin Falls, you can understand the pleasure it gives me in being able to say the above. My only regret being that I will soon be relieved here and sent elsewhere. Very truly,

JOHN HENDERSON, Captain 62d Infantry, Command Co. "A."

BRITISH STYLE OF FIGHTING IS HARD ON HUNS

Hit and Run Tactics of English Armies Keep the Germans Guessing and, Guesses Are Generally Wrong

SCENES ARE CHANGED FROM HOUR TO HOUR

Steady Forward Movement of Line as a Whole Continues at Every Point Along the Entire Line

By LOWELL MELBY.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, August 29. (Night)—It is easy to understand why the German staff is confounded by the kaleidoscopic events in the constantly changing battlefronts which today's new attack north of the Scarpe makes close to fifty miles long.

The British method of "hit and run" with modifications—that is to say, to hit the enemy in the front, to hit left or drop back and hit some where else—is bound to keep the Hun guessing. He often guesses wrong while the steady forward movement of his line as a whole continues. Reports of today's battle are interesting enough when told to civil priests, where things usually seem much simpler than they actually are. These reports included the fact that the Canadians had reached the St. Robert sugar factory, the farthest point eastward along the Cambrai road since the German invasion.

Get Five Officers

The German defense is stiffening in the region of Orvalles. Our troops got into Valenciennes—four miles southeast of Cambrai—and captured the distant-northeast of (Bapaume) and grabbed 100 prisoners, including five officers, before they were forced to withdraw. Others had the same experience south of Bapaume, taking 80 prisoners in other words. "The Hun's fight has been pulled and its machine guns suppressed. Delville road (two miles northwest of Cambrai) captured last night with a number of prisoners, was lost and then recaptured. Five hundred divisions were identified opposite the wood and machine guns were discovered all over the field. The Germans raised reinforcements by train yesterday to the defense of Chérisy (two miles south and east of Cambrai). Two reports of an action against the Canadians were and were almost wiped out. Elements of five German divisions were found in Tennes wood (two miles west of Cambrai), while elements of sixteen battalions were found on a three-mile front elsewhere. Bandages, laborers and other miscellaneous troops were found in the front line.

Run Practice Escaping

It is rumored that orders were found on members of the 87th division, directing them to practice both gas and actions. I also read and state that Germans were concealing waving handkerchiefs and surrendering in the vicinity of St. Léger (a mile and a half southwest of Orvalles).

The Austrians are reported to have peacefully evacuated a little hamlet south of the Somme.

Malvern farm, near (three 1/2 miles and a half northwest of Cambrai) was taken and the capture of Marquet (four miles southwest of Cambrai) was easy.

Stories of great stores of German munitions captured at Miraumont (on the Aisne) being turned against the German line are now also true. British munitions which were captured by the British last spring. These were recovered at Verdun and at Moyon Hill.

Situation Growing Worse

The Germans are still endeavoring to stiffen the defense about Bapaume, where their situation is steadily growing worse.

It is apparent that the Germans are fighting harder, although it seems to me they are only fighting for time. One of the amazing exploits reported today probably equals anything the soldiers have done since they have yet won. A youthful aviator attacked twelve planes which were not disposed to return his fire and did not. He then fought an inconclusive engagement with a Fokker triplane. To wind up his war in this manner, he shot up his plane in turn, attacked by the Fokker, twice around and eight below. He hoisted his machine into the first, setting it on fire. He was wounded, but his observer brought the machine back safely.

CONVALESCING AT SOUTHPORT, ENGLAND

Southport, England, has inaugurated a scheme to provide holidays and recreation for the convalescing American soldiers. The first contingent of Americans who had been wounded and were sent to Southport to convalesce are having good times and at no expense, for everything is free to them. A pair of them is shown riding horses on the sands.

STRIKES MAN HE THINKS PRO-HUN

Statement Attributed to W. E. Savage Results in Attack by E. Salsberry Here

Understanding W. E. Savage, famed among 60, reading near Twin Falls, to say in a crowd here Wednesday afternoon that he had $1000 with which to buy German war bonds, E. Salsberry, 30, carpenter's assistant and laborer, residing in Twin Falls for two years past, choked Savage and struck him twice, gashing his eye and inflicting bruises about the face. Savage denies making the statement attributed to him by Salsberry.

Salsberry is unable to give Savage's remarks preliminary to his alleged utterance of the statement that he was willing to buy German bonds with, and he had made that bonds with, and I grafted him," Salsberry said immediately after the occurrence. "I let him go a minute and he repeated the statement. Then I hit him. I would have hit my own father or brother if he had made that statement, and even if I am a persecutor, my conscience is clear," he added.

Stenographers who have had legal training and who are qualified only for limited or special military service have an opportunity to volunteer for service in the departments of the judge advocate general and of the provost marshal general, according to a telegram by Provost Marshal General Samuel C. W. Griffith's new special "Intolerance," which ran over six months in New York, is coming to the Orpheum theatre soon.

"Intolerance" tells the story of how's struggle through the ages by means of four contrasting activities, the scenes of which are laid in ancient Babylon, Judea when Christ was on earth, medieval Paris and a modern American city.

BRINGS MESSAGE FROM YOUTHS AT FIGHTING FRONT

Corporal Turlock Wake, of Burley, Tells of Surroundings of Comrades of 148th Artillery in France

IDAHO GUNNERS ARE WELL AND COMFORTABLE

Is Detached After Eight Days in Action at Chateau-Thierry to Return to United States as Instructor

Bringing home messages of encouragement from the Idaho men at the battlefield in France, Corporal Turlock Wake of Burley, a member of the One Hundred Forty-sixth field artillery regiment, who has been detailed as an instructor of heavy artillery at Chateau-Thierry, formerly a German vessel, and completed the voyage in seven days. There were aboard this vessel on that trip 350 wounded American soldiers returning to the United States.

Are Still "Barricade" to Go

Corporal Wake is well acquainted with many of the Twin Falls men who are members of headquarters company of his regiment, which unit was formerly D company of the Second Idaho regiment. He brings from them the word that they are comfortable in their positions at the front, and that their food and living conditions are all that could be desired. They are all in excellent health and "train to go," he says.

The Winning Combination

He declares that the combination of the French gun and the American gunner is the one which is now and will continue to prove disastrous to the Hun ambitions.

Idaho Band Wins Laurels

The band of the One Hundred Forty-sixth regiment, known as the Idaho band, under the direction of Jack Thrapp of Twin Falls, is regarded in France as one of the best military bands in that country, Corporal Wake says. The Idaho band, he says, has had an opportunity to give concerts in France as well as the American band, which enjoys a great reputation, but the Idaho organization is regarded by both the civilian and military population, wherever it has appeared, as fully the equal of any of the American bands.

ROTARIANS HERE CONDEMN CUT

Club Goes on Record in Resolution Against County Division

In a resolution adopted Wednesday, the Twin Falls Rotary club goes on record against county division which it condemns as unnecessary and unwarranted by existing conditions. Following is the text of the resolution: WHEREAS, county division is again on the Twin Falls County, and WHEREAS, a certain group of residents of the city of Buhl and of the West end of the county have announced the promulgation of a definite policy designed to bring about a division of Twin Falls County, and WHEREAS, within the best judgment of the membership of this body, individually and collectively, any movement looking to the furtherance of this design is inimical to the best interests of a majority of the residents of Twin Falls County.

WHEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That the Rotary Club of Twin Falls hereby condemns as unnecessary and unwarranted by existing conditions any movement having for its object a division of the area now embraced within Twin Falls County and regards any and all agitation in favor of such movement as ill-advised and contrary to the best interests of Twin Falls County as a whole; and that it urges its views in the premises on the fact that at a time when the American Nation is engaged in a struggle of which the economic side is not the least important side, the doubtful benefits to the residents of the West end of the county are not sufficient to outweigh the disadvantages to the people of the balance of the county, and the extra expense of establishing and maintaining the two counties where there is now but one.

In Advance of His Age.
The name of Bacon has been surrounded in England by legendary tales of black magic and witchcraft. There are songs about him, and he has always been a figure of mystery, even to his modern interpreters. "Frits Wizard" as he was called, knew too much for his age. He wrote extensive studies on the construction of telescopes. The first invention of gunpowder is found in his books, and it was he who suggested its use for purposes of warfare.
Garrison Flag.
The garrison flag of the United States army is made of bunting, with 86 feet fly and 20 feet hoist, 13 stripes, and in the upper quarter next the staff is the field or "union" of stars, equal to the number of states, on blue field, over one-eighth length of flag, extending to the lower edge of the fourth red stripe from the top.

BEST IN THE LONG RUN

The Password for Tires

CHALLENGE every tire before you buy. Make it give the watchword of tire quality, Tested. Make it show the counterclaim of tire supremacy, the Goodrich trademark. If a tire answers "Goodrich Tested," buy it. It is a friend.

It will give you full and lasting service because in service, put to the nation-wide road test of Goodrich Test Car Fleets, has measured up to the Goodrich standard of tires, the Tested—

GOODRICH TESTED TIRES

There is no risk with the tire that can give the password "TESTED" for no weakness, no structural failing, could hide itself during the month to month, season to season, testing of the Test Car Fleets.

SILVERTOWN CORDS, and BLACK SAFETY TREADS, challenged America's roads, and under light and heavy cars, fought sand, gravel, and rock, in rain, mud, snow, and slush, and defied them. The spiral-wrapped, cable-core tire body stood staunch against the hammering of mountain trails. The close-clutch, cross-barred, non-skid black safety tread, baffled the teeth of desert and prairie paths.

Demand this password of all tires before you buy, and you will get the durability, dependability, and economy of the tires with the records of every region of our land proclaim, "America's Tested Tires."
