

ALL FRANCE MAY BE FREED FROM GERMAN HORDES

Plans of Hindenburg and Ludendorff Shattered as Defenses Crumble Before Advance

NEXT STOPPING PLACE MANY MILES DISTANT

German Leaders Brought Face to Face With Possibility of Biggest Retreat of the Whole War

By WILLIAM PHILIP GEMM United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Sept. 5.—The German general staff is today facing the possibility of a vast new withdrawal which would entail giving up practically the entire province of France under the Tenthic belt.

It is practically certain that the plans of Hindenburg and Ludendorff must undergo important revisions, owing to the British blow in the Seneca valley, which has brought the Allies to within seven miles of Cambrai and within six miles of Douai or less than the distance from the battery to the Central Park lake in New York, while important railway communications between Douai and Cambrai, as well as the highways and communications generally between these two cities, are themselves generally dominated.

Unless the Germans can stop the advance of General Horns, the whole system of the Hindenburg defenses must crumble, and beyond that point there is nothing until the line is reached running from Nieport on the Belgian coast past Lille and Mons from there to Mouscron and Charleville, through the valley of the Meuse, joining up with the old line of Fort-Atreux.

Cannot Face People

Such a retreat, would open the eyes of the German home folk to an extent that the higher command will not dare to face it unless forced to do so by Allied blows. The Germans will undoubtedly sacrifice additional divisions before they begin such a crawl. They must not let it seem to them that they are retreating from the Hindenburg line as they did of old.

There is reason to believe that the Germans hope to smother the initiative from the Allies before the end of the present campaign by rapidly withdrawing the bulk of their armies to the Hindenburg line, leaving their picked troops and a screen of machine guns and heavy artillery to prevent the rapid advance of the allies.

To Slow Down Advance

It is argued that they might have sufficient divisions ready to form a reserve for use as soon as they are attacked at the precise moment when the allies come into contact with the Hindenburg line, when the Germans might believe them tired and disorganized.

But instead of stopping when they reached the Hindenburg defenses, they are the British tearing through them completely smashing any plans the Germans had. Whatever fresh reserves were being saved for offensive purposes were swept to fill the breach in the line.

Huns Continue Retreat

With the reported cessation of Lens by all save news of machine guns and with the great possibilities opened up by the threat against Cambrai and Douai, the focus of interest is in this part of the line. However, to the north in Flanders, the British are at the doors of Arras in which region the Germans are continuing to retreat while around Soissons and in the vicinity of Noyon the French troops are successively hitting into the enemy's flanks, making further withdrawal there by the enemy imminent.

Kaiser Dedicates People's Strength to Finish Fight

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 5.—Telegraphing the municipality of Dreden, the Kaiser said, according to advices received here today: "The German people understand our difficulty in the present decisive battle against an enemy filled with hatred, jealousy and a dis-destructive will and they have manfully decided to devote all their strength to defend their sacred soil and Kultur."

BASEBALL FANS WILL GET TODAY'S GAME PLAY FOR PLAY

PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT ISSUES ASSEMBLY CALL

Proposes to Reestablish Constitutional Government Earliest Possible Date

ARCHANGEL, Sept. 5.—The provisional government of Northern Russia announced today that a Russian constituent assembly, will meet in Archangel shortly. Archangel since its occupation by the allies is the rallying place for anti-Bolshevik Russians. From the above it appears that a Russian government, in opposition to that of the Bolsheviks is about to be launched under protection of the allies.

Hun Garrison Killed By Revolutionaries

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 25.—Ukrainian revolutionaries on August 11, took Pecherskoff and killed the German garrison of 1,600, according to the newspaper Izvestia. Later the revolutionaries withdrew. Spontaneous fighting was reported in many provinces. The revolutionaries have taken a number of important cities.

VICTORY IS IN THE AIR AROUND SOMME SECTOR

Bands Play Along Road to Battlefield and Whole Army Is Animated by Highest Spirits

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Sept. 5.—An unmistakable atmosphere of victory pervades the Somme battlefield. It was not necessary today to hear the triumphant band music along the roads to catch the spirit animating the army. The exultant squeal of the bagpipes seemed to epitomize all the unexpressed feelings of the men. Contravening with this, authenticated instances of a reverse spirit among the enemy troops accented daily.

Hun Officers Powerless

Prisoners taken at Mount St. Quentin since one battalion refused to attack there when ordered to, and that the officers were unable to control their men. The company of the 156th Infantry reserve had one officer and 52 men last week, now it has only 10 men, prisoners declared. Another company which has been had one officer and 60 men has now been reduced to 6 men. Letters from men dated the latter part of August said troops climbed a train, refusing to go to the front, looting and destroying the railway station and surrounding houses. The Landsturm was called out and after a day's delay the rebellious troops returned to their train. Officers were unable to control them.

Scene Beyond Description

A private of the 100th Grenadier regiment of the 1st division, is a letter to his wife, said: "Things are beyond description. If it goes too hot I will let myself be taken prisoner. Otherwise I may never get up. Almost all the others are shaking up. A good many are deserting though. I don't blame them."

American and French troops are advancing northward from the Vesle toward the Aisne and already have covered half the distance in certain places. The Germans appear to be abandoning the whole Vesle line. At Vanuxemere the allies are about three miles south of the Aisne. The Paris war office reported French and Americans had reached the edge of the heights which dominate the Aisne.

ENGLISH DEMAND REPARATION FOR BLOODY MURDER

Killing of Naval Attache in British Embassy at Petrograd Subject of Drastic Action

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Threatening to denounce members of the Bolshevik government international outlaws, Great Britain has demanded instant redress for the attack on the British embassy in Petrograd, according to an official statement made public here today. Punishment for all involved in the assault is also demanded. "The statement said: 'If the government fails to give satisfaction or if there are further outrages against British subjects, his majesty's government will hold members of the soviet government individually responsible and will endeavor that they be treated as outlaws by the governments of all civilized nations and no place of refuge will be afforded them.'

"We have now learned that the soviet on August 29 ordered the arrest of all British and French subjects between the ages of 18 and 40. British officials have been arrested on trumped up charges of conspiring against the soviet."

Naval Attache Murdered

Bolshevik troops on August 31 attacked and forced an entry into the British embassy, murdering the naval attaché, Captain Cromie, the naval attaché himself until three of his assassins had been killed, and the statement related.

His corpse was outraged. A clergyman was forbidden to say prayers over the body. The embassy was sacked and all papers destroyed. Similar attacks, it is feared are imminent. The French embassy and French military mission building had already been entered, but the papers had been removed previously. Word of the British cabinet's decision has been sent to the soviet commissary for foreign affairs. Captain Cromie, the naval attaché, who was killed, commanded the British submarine B-19, which operated in the Baltic in 1915, sinking a cruiser, a destroyer and 10 merchantmen.

110,000 PRISONERS TAKEN SINCE AUG. 1

LONDON, Sept. 5.—Prisoners taken on the western front since August 1, total 110,000. It was estimated here today. The British captured approximately 10,000 and the Americans and French 40,000. The British total losses were not much greater than the number of prisoners they took.

NEW FEATURES IN FAREWELL TO FIGHTING MEN

County Council of Defense Presents Written Statement of Appreciation and New Liberty Chorus Sings

Presentations to the men leaving written statements of appreciation from the Twin Falls county council of defense, and the part taken by the newly organized Liberty chorus under direction of Miss Florence Almeninger, were new and impressive features of the farewell demonstration given here Tuesday evening for 38 more young men continuing here at that time to enter the military service at Camp Lewis, Washington.

Of the 38 men in the contingent, 24 were registrants of Twin Falls, and four were registrants of other districts. At the same time 12 other registrants of this county entrained from other points to fulfill the county's quota of men under this call.

Spend Day With Friends

The members of the party, after reporting at the office of the local board at 10 o'clock in the morning and being inducted into the military service, spent the day visiting here with relatives and friends. At 12:30 o'clock dinner was served to them by women of the Twin Falls Red Cross branch in the basement of the Presbyterian church.

The messages from the council of defense were presented to the men immediately following the 4 o'clock call at the court house by Captain O. L. Longley. In his talk to the men on that occasion, Captain Longley reminded them that they would be loans in the hearts and hopes of those who remained.

QUESTION AUTHORITY FOR RECENT ROUNDUP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Senatorial investigation of the draft board roundup in New York is likely as the result of failure of various government departments in Washington to accept responsibility for the roundup. Demands for an investigation followed hours of stormy discussion of the raid in the senate. Senator Lodge, Republican leader, finally urged the senate to withhold its vote until the facts could be learned. "The department of justice disclaims responsibility for the raid," said Lodge. General Crowder disavows it, saying he knew nothing of it. The judges admit the general's office disavowed it. What would should find out now is who, and by what authority, ordered the roundup?"

GERMANS FORCED TO RETREAT FOR OWN PROTECTION

Withdrawal Will Permit of Added Reserves for Flanders Fighting and Prevent Flanking of Armies

ALLIED TROOPS ARE IN DOMINATING POSITION

Heavy Pressure Brought to Bear on Flanders—Belgium Suffering from Causing Heavy Enemy Losses

By J. W. T. MASON (United Press War Expert)

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Retreat of the German retreat from the Vesle river has been forced on Von Hindenburg at this time by the double necessity for finding reserves for the operations in Flanders and preventing the Americans and French outflanking the southern German line by an attack along the Chemin des Dames. The retreat now started has for the most been confined to the western sector of the Vesle front. This is a dangerous position.

The German line between Flanders and the Chemin des Dames has not yet begun to move backward to conform to the retirement west of Flanders, has already started to fall into a wedge formation, with its apex at Flanders. The British and French therefore are now in a position to bring heavy pressure to bear on the Flanders-Rheims sector, while pushing the line west of Flanders, still further northward.

Must Rectify Position

Von Hindenburg must quickly rectify this condition or suffer exceptionally severe losses. The partial retreat of the Chemin des Dames has given full notice to Marshal Foch that the rest of this front will eventually be moved back in keeping with the retreat west of Flanders. The Americans and French therefore are facing the possibility of knocking the German line back to the point when the new retirement begins. It is for the purpose of pressing home this advantage that the Franco-Americans today are crossing the Vesle in the direction of the German midway between Flanders and Rheims.

Cannot Stop Retreat

The Germans will increase their peril if they attempt to stop their retreat temporarily north of the Aisne. The area between Aisne and the Chemin des Dames, which parallels the Aisne ten miles to the northward is a very hazardous one. This Americans and the French are now at the western entrance to the Chemin-des Dames.

From that position they are in a better position to outflank the Germans than when the German line clung to the Vesle.

CROWN PRINCE TRIES HARD TO CHEER 'EM UP

Says Elastic Defense of Germany Must Necessarily Give at Points But Fatherland Is Bound to Win

WOULD PREPARE PEOPLE FOR FURTHER REVERSES

Urges All to Remember That This Is a War of Defense Both Militarily and Politically

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 5.—The war is one of annihilation but by the enemy alone. We do not want to annihilate our enemies," the German crown prince is quoted as saying in an interview, according to a dispatch from Berlin.

"But we mean to hold our own and not let ourselves be vanquished," he added. "We are fighting for existence."

"The enemy must continue and our elastic defense in this war of movement is withdrawing at several points."

"Some of our people have become accustomed to our continuous advance that they misinterpreted our withdrawal. In judging the military and political situation, we must not forget that we are conducting a war of defense both militarily and politically."

Not a Fire Eater
The crown prince denied that he was a fire eater although he seemed to realize that that opinion was prevalent in foreign countries.

"I expect the war to end when the enemy perceives it can not win as much as it is bound to lose," he said. "This enemy assault will doubtless continue for some time. We are fighting splendidly, due to our courage. The enemy's colossal superiority in strength does not crush us."

ROAD EMPLOYEES GET BIG RAISES

Railway Administration Grants Increases of Practically $25 Per Month

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Nearly million road employees of the lower paid class not covered by the first big increase were granted raises in pay today by the railway administration. In substance the increases are $25 a month over the January rate for those on monthly time and 12 cents an hour for those on the hourly basis.

The increase affects mainly clerks, station employees, stationary engineers, boiler washers, power transfer and turntable operators, common laborers, painters, masons, concrete workers, water supply men, plumbers and other maintenance of way employees.

Freight Promotion Plan
Director General McArdoo's general order, the subject provided for a system of promotion based on ability and seniority, the latter applying when cases of equal ability presents. He also offered a method whereby grievances could be adjusted.

How much added expense this system will entail has not yet been figured.

Office Employees Advanced

A basic minimum of $37.50 a month is given chief clerks, foremen, subforemen and other supervisory workers; boys receive a minimum of $45 a month; switchboard operators, janitors, watchmen and elevator men, station engineers, $10; stationary firemen and power house clerks, $9; boiler washers, 38 cents an hour, with a cent maximum; power transfer and turntable operators, 33 to 45 cents an hour. Shop station and warehouse employees, 31 to 43 cents an hour. General labor 28 to 40 cents. Building, bridge, painting, mason, concrete, water supply and kindred workers get a basic minimum of $15 per month. Assistant workers of the same class, together with coal wharves, coal chute, fence gang, pile driver, ditching and hoisting engineers and bridge inspectors, $1.05; track foremen, $100; assistant track foremen, five cents an hour more than their laborers; mechanics in maintenance of ways and building branches, 53 cents an hour; helpers to these men 43 cents; track laborers, 28 to 40 cents.

None of the employees in the classes noted above has a monthly rate in excess of $250 a month. An eight hour day is established with a proportion of time and a half for overtime.

Submarine Results On American Ships At Low Water Mark

Sinkings of Last Three Months Fall Below One Per Cent Total Tonnage Country.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—American shipping losses from submarine raids in American waters were less than seven-tenths of one per cent in the last three months.

Germany's effort at strangulation of America's transatlantic shipping has not exceeded its bottom since May 24. These represent a total net in excess of 100,000 deadweight tons, according to figures compiled here today. While the submarines were sending 100,000 tons to the bottom, American ship yards were adding 900,000 tons to the service. Breaking all records, the ship yards turned out 310,000 deadweight tons in August, which is 60,000 tons more than the best previous record of 250,000 tons in June. The August figures represent an increase of 114,000 tons over the July production of 236,000 tons.

Alfalfa and Grain are Big Money Makers at CAPAY RANCHO

Rich Land with plenty of water, fine climate and close to Markets, $175 an acre

Here's the place for the farmer who is ambitious. From grain crops alone it should be easily possible to completely pay for your land at Capay Rancho in two or three years at the outside.

INDIVIDUAL Electrically Operated Pumping Plant on every 80 acres included in the price of the land.

Electric Light on Every Farm Good Roads Close to Markets

Experienced, successful farmers from all sections of the Pacific Coast, including the Dakotas, say they never saw such marvelous growth of alfalfa and grain.

The peculiar richness of the soil, the climatic conditions and constant abundance of water combine to make this one of the most remarkable alfalfa producing sections in all California. The yields average from six to ten tons an acre per year.

A good deal of the barley on the ranch will go thirty sacks to the acre this year... without irrigation. Wheat crops are looking splendid. Even volunteer barley, oats and burr clover hay cut this year run about two tons to the acre. This hay is bringing now $10 and more per ton and will probably bring more than twice that this fall.

The way this land has been snapped up by thrifty farmers from older sections of the Pacific Coast is the best evidence of the unusualness of the opportunity that awaits you here.

Some of the finest orange, lemon, almond and prune orchards in the state are in this immediate district. A good many of the farmers are going in for fruit. Some for dairying and some for hogs and chickens. Almost any crops you mention will make money for you here.

We will be glad to refer you to farmers from your locality who have bought at Capay Rancho

BY MISADVENTURE

By GERTRUDE L. TUNELIUS.

Constantly, the Western Newspaper Union. "A plain nobody," modest Rufus Dow designated himself, but Ada Pearce considered him the best of men and was not far from being right.

Mr. Pearce had been too ill for a year to do much more than assume the direction of affairs. He owned a large, clumsy, old, and safe for close coast service only. He lived a few leagues down the Australian coast from Melbourne, and for twenty years had followed the customs of merchandise from port to port, especially bulk stuff, cutting steamer rates.

"I've got a cargo—ice," repeated Pearce one day. "The consignors with load and all care taken of your hands at the other end. Pick out a spell of ice-cream for the go, Rufus, for I hardly think the craft will stand many more voyages."

Rufus started on his voyage a week later. Above the hold, crated, were two hundred five cream freezers and several boxes of coarse rock salt, for the cargo was designated for a firm engaged in the manufacture of ice cream.

"I think, myself, the old tin is at its best gape," Rufus told Ada. "If fall down her on this trip, my mate, it will be a good thing, for we make no little, I would like to strike out into some new field. It's this wretched plucking and scripping to get a dollar ahead that is the worst of the business."

Everything advanced as easy, pleasant voyage. The old barge behaved admirably for two days. The third night, however, fifty miles from any port, Rufus found himself in the grasp of a fierce storm. With dismay he let the unwieldy craft drift, the pluything of the waves, for there was nothing else to do.

"But it don't wear out our love, dear," retorted Ada sweetly. "Everything advanced as easy, pleasant voyage. The old barge behaved admirably for two days. The third night, however, fifty miles from any port, Rufus found himself in the grasp of a fierce storm."

"It's a corn reef and an island beyond," he calculated, as morning showed him a coastline fringed with trees. He had made up a package of food and, strapping half a dozen of the freezers fast together, uttered them as a float to get ashore.

Rufus sat down and rested when he reached the beach. The tropical air told him that he must have voyaged many hundred miles. He was blocking out a blind course along the coast when a blaring trumpet blast, followed by the clash of cymbals, caused him to observe a procession at a short distance.

The king, alighting, studied Rufus with curiosity. They had just, apparently, parted to the ice cream pluck.

A bright thought struck Rufus. Through gestures he imparted to the dusky monarch that he would swim to the barge and return with something that would improve the situation. The king nodded and Rufus struck out for the wreck. He returned, floating a great cake of ice ahead of him, and tied to his shoulders the cannister that held the craft's supply of sugar.

One hour later Rufus was at a stage of wild jubilation. He had made of the king a real friend and the latter not only rewarded him richly but indicated that he should be conveyed to the mainland.

"Yes, I'm here and the barge and its cargo demolished or devoured," reported Rufus to Ada, and her father one month later, and he told of the wreck.

"And then," he related, "I treated them. They had cows and three cows milk. I had sugar and ice. I made them a freezer full of ice cream. The effect was magical. They had never tasted the quality before and were entranced. They talked right there, up-loading ice and freezers from the barge. They sent to their camp and a whole army flocked to the spot. There was such an ice cream festival as was never heard of before."

"And now, Ada," he elaborated, "we can get married."

A Union of Hearts and Hands. Society Brand Clothes. Labor and Capital, soldier and civilian, are united in one cause, with but one object in view—the winning of the war.

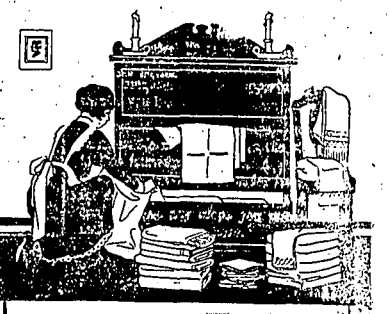

"Work—don't waste" is the motto of every patriotic American. And it is well to remember that the false economy of buying cheap clothes is among the most hurtful varieties of waste.

It is wasted labor that goes into the making of clothes from inferior fabric, fabric which soon wears out and causes the clothes to lose their shape.

There is no waste or extravagance in buying SOCIETY BRAND CLOTHES. They represent the true economy—the getting of a dollar's value for every dollar you spend.

Pledges support at Home

Following is the text of the message of the council of defense which was presented to each man leaving Tuesday and which will be presented to each man leaving in the future and to the parents of relatives of those who have preceded them:

THE COUNTY COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

GREETING

In recognition of your induction into the service of our country in the great war for human rights against autocracy and tyranny, we wish you to understand that your patriotic services are fully appreciated by this council and by your fellow citizens of this county and state, who hereby surround you with their gratitude and good wishes and who pray for you henceforth to stand behind us all the time and in every possible manner. Members of the Liberty chorus formed in line behind the Twin Falls band and members of the local post, Grand Army of the Republic, at the intersection of Main avenue and Shoshone street, where the men leaving to enter the service assembled preparatory to their march to the railway station. The chorus led here in the singing of American, and at the station sang a number of patriotic songs. The crowd which assembled to bid the men farewell on this occasion was as large as gathered here on any previous similar occasion.

Farmers in Majority

The men who left Tuesday from among the registrants of this county, with three exceptions were men of the class of 1918, who had attained to their majority during the year ending June 5, 1918. The numerical representation of civilian occupations among their numbers was as follows: Farmers, 29; laborers, 5; shepherds, 2; one each of the following: Linotype operator, miller, mechanic, electrician, bookkeeper and stenographer, salesman, truck driver, cook and chauffeur, unclassified.

Ernest H. Suehr of Twin Falls, who was placed in charge of the party en route to Camp Lewis, had been since 1912 linotype operator for the Twin Falls News. He served as a corporal with the Second Idaho regiment on the Mexican border in 1916, and had been prior to that time a member of the Illinois national guard. He waived deferred classification, in entering the service at this time having been married in February, 1917, to Miss Pauline Evans, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Evans.

Physical examinations of the men Tuesday afternoon was responsible for the detention here of Herbert Lewis Duncan of Cattlettsburg, Kentucky, who had been appointed previously a squad leader. His place in this capacity was taken by Earl William Kimbrough of Buhl. The other squad leaders were: A. E. Dickie, Buhl; Robert L. McCracken, Twin Falls; Howard Leproy, Buhl.

Twin Falls County Men

In addition to those named as registrants of the party on route, the following are a list of the Twin Falls county registrants who entered here Tuesday evening:

FOUR KILLED IN BOMB EXPLOSION

Chicago Federal Building Object of Attack—Police Claim Arrest Criminal

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—The federal building here, scene of an explosion yesterday which cost four lives, was under heavy military guard today. With hundreds of suspects passing through their bands, police, aided by naval and military intelligence men and secret service workers, claimed the arrest of the bomber would follow shortly. The bomb, evidently planted, exploded at 3:30 yesterday afternoon. The north corridor of the lower floor was partially wrecked, while debris was blown into the street, where three were caught and killed. Window glass in all nearby buildings were shattered by the detonation. A score of persons were injured by the falling fragments. The dead are:

- The Dead
- Joseph R. Ladd, 41, S. Sailer, Salina, Kansas.
 - Edward H. Kolkow, 75, postal employe.
 - Eller Mehike, 19, Chicago.
 - William H. Wheeler, mail carrier.
- A column of police was thrown across the square at once. The explosion occurred as the building for suspects, taking several into custody. Then began a general round up. Among the first places visited were L. W. V. headquarters.

I. W. V. Head Suspected

The fact that I. W. V. members were sentenced to prison last week directed suspicion of some officers to that organization. The explosion occurred with a roar, jarring big loop buildings. Debris was blown from their feet, but only those in front of the post-office entrance on Adams street were endangered by flying bombs. The center of the building contained a number of persons. Most of these were protected by heavy pillars or were some distance from the bomb. Their faces were blackened but none sustained serious injuries.

Coroner's Jury Called

A jury comprising six of Chicago's most prominent men will be empanelled at once Coroner Peter Hoffman said. After viewing the four bodies, the jury will be held in readiness for an inquest to determine the outcome of police investigations.

Attling Chief Philip J. Barry of the department of justice here announced that explosives experts had been able to partly reconstruct the bomb. It was composed of two cylinders, each about six inches in diameter, but said, and probably charged with gland powder and dynamite.

The hunt for the bomber, or bombers is developing favorably he said.

German Batteries Bombard Frapelle With Gas and High Explosives

By FRANK J. TAYLOR (United Press Staff Correspondent) WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN FRANCE, Sept. 5.—German batteries at daylight yesterday, bombarded Frapelle, firing 5,000 shells during the action, and using gas. No infantry action followed a barrage of several hours. Yesterday morning a German capital battalion was shot down north of Toul. American bombers on Tuesday destroyed the Conflans-Briey railroad bridge and blew up the junction of the Metz Conflans and Briey railroad and the yards, round-house and buildings at Donny and Barou court. All American planes returned. Ten German planes attacked the American formation without success. The American bombing planes shot down one of the German attackers which crashed to the ground.

IN THE COURSE OF OTHER AIR FIGHTS AMERICAN PLANES BROUGHT DOWN TWO OTHER GERMAN PLANES YESTERDAY.

HUNS FORCED BACK

crossing in force, when large bodies of allied fighters marched over the stream at a number of different places. At last reports, the Americans were beyond Yauxeres, Blancy and Basleux.

Work Flanking Movement Essoches and Fometo fell into American hands through a flanking movement. Yauxeres is nearly three miles north of the Vesle. Blancy is about two miles north of Fismes and Basleux is southeast of Blancy, about a mile north of the Vesle.

Fry Huns Loose Allied troops continue prying loose the Germans from their strongholds, according to over night official statements of the war offices.

The Paris official communique told of success in the double flanking operations above Soissons, where steady advances threaten enemy positions both in Fienroy and along the Vesle and Aisne fronts. It was announced that the French had established new lines as far north as Guiseard. The statement announcing that the French had crossed the Vesle on an 18-mile front and had advanced northward.

Attack Canal Defenses On the Piracy front the British war office communique indicated that the Canal Du Nord defenses of the Germans were disintegrating. Field Marshal Haig reported his troops had crossed both the canal and the Terillie river which it parallels for some distance on a wide front north of Moislans, four miles north of Peronne.

Take Many Prisoners "During the past four days British troops have taken over 16,000 prisoners and over 100 guns."

Destroys Stores Before Retirement

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Sept. 5.—General Debeney and Humbert were forcing the Germans back between the Somme and the Oise today. Advanced cavalry detachments pushed on up the Ham-Noyon road above Guiseard.

On the Ailette front the French advance continued. Along and above the Vesle, signs multiplied that the enemy is preparing for a general retreat, probably to its old fortified line beyond the Aisne. From Rheims to Juvenoust, fires are increasing behind the German front, indicating destruction of stores.

Samuel Gompers Declares Military Machine Must Be Put Out of Business

DEBRY, England, Sept. 5.—American labor is as united as labor anywhere in the world, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor told the labor congress here today. There is complete agreement between the American government and labor he declared. "America says to the allies: 'We're coming, 5,000,000,' but why wait at 5,000,000?" Gompers said, amid prolonged and loud cheering. "We have not always agreed with the governments of Great Britain," Gompers asserted. "We sympathized with the Boers, and today we sympathize with Ireland, but we realize that the old Britain is not like the Britain of today."

"How anyone can not entertain the old ideas of international peace is beyond my ken. Labor is in the war, not because of a love of war. We won't prolong the war a minute longer than necessary but we are unwilling to shorten it by an hour if that means that the military machine can continue in existence."

Tremendous cheering greeted this.

Aha! Fall Hats Are in Velvet

Velvet teamed with any elusive material is coming to the fore in early fall millinery, as these two new models indicate in their chic eccentricities. On the left is a hat the brim of which is made of alternate panels and tulle, ostrich and silver ribbon being used as trimming. On the right is a rakish hat for early fall street wear, the brim being much wider at the front than at the back. Silk and velvet are the materials, the slanting wing being the only trimming.
