STAND NOT POSSIBLE ON HINDENBURG LINE

Belief is General in Military Circles That Both Must Retire Further Still Before Winter Sets in

By CARL D. GROAT
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—America's spirit multiplied by more than 1,000,000 is the real answer to the case where the German has been pressed back since the Marne combat. America's insistence is the answer to the oft repeated question, "Why is it that the German, who had never tasted real disaster, is now being shunted back almost at will?"

As outlined to the correspondent by a prominent general staff officer today, the reasons are three-fold:

1. Numerical superiority of the allies, attained by America's accelerated troop movement program. This pointed out the stopping of the German blow at Chateau-Thierry and follow-up operations which now have developed almost to the point of a German rout and smash-up.
2. American enthusiasm—"let's go." This is characterized by the "let's go" attitude of every soldier in the U. S. army. The American is a sportsman. He loves competition. He not only wants to know that he can beat the German, but he wants to demonstrate that he equals or exceeds the French and British. He is cheerful. All that had an immediate reflex action with the British and French. They accumulated the spirit of invincibility and their enemies took on the irresistible spirit of themselves.

German Are Fed Up

A lowered German morale. The German, as this officer pointed out, is a good fighter when fed of victories, but neither brave or game in a losing fight. Now that he sees the German armies being inexorably pushed back, he is losing confidence in his leaders while the same thing is happening at home.

These three combinations according to the officer are directly responsible for the advances.

Asked as to what he foresaw in the German strategy as to this time, the officer declared that so far as it is now seen the German is retiring against his will without going back to patiate from which he might gain an advantage. It was originally thought he would try to make a stand on the Hindenburg line, but he has been robbed of this opportunity. Where he will try to stop is unknown.

Foch Holds the Cards

General Foch holds the cards, and probably only winter will stem the allied rush.

Someone there is much talk that there will soon be a fresh outburst on a quiet sector of the line and that Americans will be seen in a dash comparable to the recent British and French successes.

CHICAGO POLICE THINK THEY ARE ON RIGHT TRAIL

Federal District Attorney's Office Claims to Have Man Responsible for Bomb Outrage

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Officials at the federal district attorney's office said today they have in custody the man responsible for bombing the federal building Wednesday. The man was arrested 20 minutes after the explosion which killed four and injured 30, they said.

Several members of the I. W. W. organization rounded up after the bombing are still being held. Among them is Thomas W. Wilson, for years secretary and close friend of William D. Haywood.

Many Suspects Arrested

Working on the theory that other I. W. W. arrests and convictions have been followed by reprisals, Chief Phillip J. Barry of the department of justice here, caused the detention of a number of I. W. W.'s. Among those held was John Wilson. Wilson left the federal building shortly before the explosion, officers say, supposedly on an errand for Haywood and did not return. Wilson faced a vigorous questioning.

Reconstruction of the bomb from particles found yesterday showed the engine of destruction was carefully made. Officers believed it might have been under construction weeks ago.

MACHINERY FOR NEW INDUSTRY BEING INSTALLED

Twin Falls Dehydration Plant Will Begin Work on Fruit and Vegetable Crops This Fall, President Says

Within the next 30 days, provided a boiler which is on the road from Chicago, is received before the expiration of that time, the dehydration plant of the Twin Falls Dehydrating company, with a daily capacity of 10 tons of fruits or vegetables, will be in operation in the building which has been completed for it on Third street north next to the Short Line railway tracks.

Investor on Ground

This is the statement of James McMillan, president of the concern, made Thursday when the work of installing the dehydration units was in progress. In connection with the installation of these units, W. M. Luther, of Walla Walla, Washington, the inventor of the dehydration process, was in Twin Falls the first of the week. The installation of the machinery under the direct supervision of William Root, superintendent of the factory at Walla Walla.

In addition to the units now being installed, there is to be installed a mechanical device to convey the products to be dehydrated from the preparation tables through the sulphur room and the rollers into the rolls feeding into the dehydration units.

Orders Special Machinery

The company has ordered and will install this fall machinery for the manufacture of jellies and apple butter.

It will be in the market, as soon as the plant is ready for operation, for potatoes, apples and other fruits and vegetables.

The boiler, upon arrival of which the date of the opening of the plant depends, was shipped from Chicago four months ago. Efforts to trace it so far have been unsuccessful.

SECRETARY BAKER, INCOG., DOES HONORS FOR VISITING ROOKIES
Men From Out West Offered Unique Entertainment Following Personally Conducted Tour of the War Building

By CARL D. GROOT
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—How Secretary of War Baker—Inco—can personally conduct a tour of the war department at midnight a few nights since, with two rookies as his guests, leaked out yesterday.

Baker got a comprehensive view of the ordinary private thinks of the Baker army when he speaks out in meeting; and he sent the men away "with two of the pipes from the remarkable Baker collection."

It was 11 o'clock at night. Baker had been working since 9 a. m. Before the sombre war building he waited for his car that didn't come.

Two rookies from Camp Meade sauntered up.

"Say, mister, that's the war building, ain't it?" they queried with an easy familiarity.

"Yes," replied the little man.

"Baker you see mister, we're from way out west and we wanted to see what the war department looks like, now that we're in the army," said the two rookies.

"But the general up there told us nothing doing at this time of night. Pretty tough luck, don't you think?" the little man agreed.

"But I think I can take you around a bit, for I work in there," he added. So the tour started. The rookies thought it was a bit strange how the general led this man through without any questions and even saluted as he passed.

The little man who hadn't introduced himself to the two fellows from out west, took them all over the endless corridors, showing them the adjutant general's office, the chief of staff's office, the hundred and one other places in the granite structure. At last they passed before the secretarial office.

"This is the secretary of war's office," he said.

The rookies were impressed.

"Would you like to see it?"

"Yes, let us watch."

The secretary opened the door, took them through the outer offices, showed them the flag that draped Lincoln's coat, explained to them about the solemn pictures of the executives and then ushered them into the secretary's private office.

"This man Baker," said the secretary, "has a regular manin for pipes. I guess he'll be all right to open his desk and show you the collection."

The rookies looked on almost in awe, as he paraded meerschaums, briars, cornucopas and clays.

The little man asked if they would sit down and chat a while. They would. What did they think about the army? What did they think of Baker? They told him fully and without reservation. They lauded the army life was great, and guessed "this man Baker" must be all right, for he "certainly had things running right."

They chatted until 12:30 a. m.

But Mr. Baker," said the secretary in parting.

"I wish you'd take these two pipes as souvenirs."

"Well, I'll be darned," gasped one, and the party ended.

Each time he studied the little star more and more carefully and became more and more impressed with her beauty and personality. TRUSTEES ASK FOR MORE ROOM

Say Capacity of County General Hospital Inadequate for Demand

Declaring that popular appreciation of the need fulfilled by the Twin Falls county general hospital within the first ten weeks of its operation is necessitating increased capacity at this institution, members of the board of hospital trustees appeared before the county commissioners Wednesday afternoon with their arguments in behalf of the construction of a nurses home and of an outside laundry which would make available more floor space in the hospital besides affording more desirable accommodations for the nurses.

The trustees stated to the commissioners at this time that the receipts from the operation of the hospital since its opening in July, exclusive of the amounts received from the county for care of county charges and patients, were approximately $4,000, and that the demand for its services was so great that patients had to be turned from its doors.

Members of the board of trustees met with the commissioners Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in the hospital building. Present were L. E. Galtby, L. T. Wright, A. L. Swin and C. J. Hahn.

PRUSSIANISM BARED BY PATRIOTIC PRODUCTION

"To Hell with the Kaiser," the great seven act Screen Classics, Inc. patriotic production, will open a two days' engagement this afternoon and tonight at the America Theatre.

"To Hell with the Kaiser" is the most vital of all the pictures dealing with the world war. It strips bare the vile soul of Wilhelm, of Hohenzollern, and shows the plot by which he and his " Potsdam gang" hoped to get possession not only of Europe, but of America.

Scenes among the American soldiers in the trenches are shown, and a genuine air-battle of two opposing aerial fleets is reproduced. The pages of history are unfolded to show the deeds of Frederick III of Prussia, and the instruction of the present Kaiser in his war policies by Bismark—then the scenes leading up to the present sacrificing of the flower of nations.

"Jingo" is used as a substitute for something else, as in the phrases "By George" and "By Jimmy" in Goldsmith there is the expression, "by the living Jingo." "Jingo" was originally applied in Great Britain to anyone who advocated an aggressive or vigorous policy in foreign affairs, and came into existence as a nickname for a supporter of Lord Beaconsfield's action in sending a fleet to Turkish waters to oppose the Russian advance in 1878.

ASSISTS IN SALE OF RECORD PRICES RAMS AT RECORD PRICES

Earl O. Walter of Filer, Returns From Salt Lake. Where He Served as Auctioneer

Earl O. Walter of Filer returned this week from Salt Lake City where he served as one of the auctioneers at the National Woolgrowers' ram sale held at the Utah state fair grounds.

The sale was distinguished by the fact that price paid established a new record in ram values, some of these being the highest ever paid at public sale over held in the country.

One ram sold for $6,250, this being the highest price ever paid for a single animal of this variety. Among the Idaho men present was B. F. Derwiler of Filer, who paid $1,700 for an imported Hampshire ram, the highest price ever paid at public sale in America for a Hampshire ram.

Mr. Walter recently formed a partnership in the auction business with E. L. Shaker and the two will specialize in the handling of pure bred stock sales. Mr. Walters has engaged in the stock sale business in five states and Mr. Shaker in three.

Gothamites Still Fall for the Bunk of "Magic"

NEW YORK.—"Oom, the omnipotent" has fallen again of the district attorney again. The law seems to have an unkind, materialistic lack of sympathy toward this particular psychic who in flowing purple robes sat in his home in West End avenue and coaxed dollars from the credulous.
 "Oom" has before been in the toils. In appearance he looks like the flapper-ette, alibionite, pomaded parlor cobra of the prewar days. He is a devil with the ladies who go to in the comic urge, the assorted purple vibrations, astral eccentricities, soul humors, business personalities and the rest of the weird staterhood of psychic chat words.
 There are many of these spiritual magicians who are to be prosecuted on credit, impulsive material criminal charges. One in the Bronx collected a $100,000 fine-dollar bill the other a "cryptic name" would protect her son, who is an army aviator, from any harm.
 The arrest of the dapper "Oom" and of several others has shown New York that it has not progressed so very attentively above the cultural level of average magic. The unmet has lost potency than in the days of Alexander Trullianus, yet there is still a good market for it.
 The wonder of the faking psychic is the class of people he attracts. Many of his patrons are high up in the social world, hard-headed business men full and one famous writer was hit by the psychic bug.
 The ravenous or ravenous are in the most select neighborhoods. Doors are opened softly, heavy carpets deaden all footfalls and queer Egyptian odors spill perfectly good atmosphere. Many of the victims fall into stupors after going through the various acts. One actress recently stated at a drug investigation that she became addicted to drugs by visiting these mystic pastors.

WHO IS VON RINTELEN?

Capt. Franz von Rintelen, alias Hansen, alias Ganche, alias Gates, etc., leader of the German bomb plotters in the United States, and for whom the German government is trying to exchange an American prisoner of war, was said, when a captive in England three years ago, to be the Duke Adolph of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, a relative of the German emperor. At the time of his trial in New York there also were persistent reports that he bore a vague resemblance to the emperor, but one which was not officially recognized.
 Von Rintelen and ten other plotters were convicted last February of attempting to blow up American ships and were sentenced to Atlanta penitentiary for a year and a half and fined $2,000 each.
 One of the most prominent members of the German war party, at the head of which was the crown prince, the intimate of the emperor and Prince Henry of Prussia. He was for years a high official of the Deutsches bank. His wife, member of a wealthy Berlin family named Kauffman, is one of the society leaders of Berlin. She has been prominent in the work of the German Red Cross and is said to have been cognizant of her husband's dangerous mission to the United States.

Cummings Nominated for Attorney General and Fife for State Senator

 BOISE, Sept. 6.—Consternation reigns in Democratic circles here as a result of belated returns on state officers. According to the latest figures, Cummings for attorney general has defeated Walters, who concedes his defeat. Fife is claimed as the Nonpartisan headquarters as the winner and figures to start out as the state senator. Doubtless declines to give up his job, but apparently Fife is the nominee. Percell is nominated for Congress in north Idaho and Jeppson in South Idaho.

FELT LIKE MUSCLES WERE TIED IN KNOT

That Is Exactly the Way Tisdall Says His Rheumatism Acted.

"I had never taken a dose of Tanlac in my life till some six weeks ago, but I have received more benefit from three bottles I have just finished than from all the other medicines I have taken put together," said George H. Tisdall, of 6002 18th Ave., South, Seattle, the other day. Mr. Tisdall is employed at the Skinner & Eddy Ship Yards.
 "For several years," he continued, "I suffered terribly from muscular rheumatism and kidney trouble. The muscles of my right arm would draw up at the elbow, and feel like they were tied in a knot. I had no appetite and the little I forced down didn't do me much, if any, good. My kidneys worried me night and day, I had an awful misery up and down my spine, and my back hurt that if I stooped over it would almost kill me to straighten up again. I couldn't rest well at night, and many a time I would wake up at midnight, and never sleep another wink the balance of the night, then my back would start hurting so bad that I could hardly get up out of bed."
 "I've since I have taken most every kind of medicine sold without getting a bit of relief, and I was in mighty bad shape when I decided to see if Tanlac would help me. Well, I can honestly say that I haven't had an ache, or a pain since shortly after I started on Tanlac. I sleep like a log at night, and my wife tells me that I'm able to eat us both out of house and home if I keep on with the appetite Tanlac has given me. I feel well and hearty in every way that I have told the boys down at the ship yard how much good Tanlac has done for me, for I hope that my experience will be the means of helping others who may have had as much trouble as I had."
 Tanlac is sold in Twin Falls by City Pharmacy, in Bogerson by Thompson Drug Co., in Murtagh by Murtagh Drug Co., in Filer by A. B. Word, in Blain by G. D. Doring Brothers Co., and in Kimberly by A. J. Stone.—Adv.

"To Hell With the Kaiser"

A Gorgeous Production That Literally
 Consigns the German Ruler to Purgatory

57 per cent of the people of Ogden, Utah, saw "To Hell With the Kaiser" at the Alhambra Theatre in seven days. 57 per cent of 35,000 people.

"To Hell With the Kaiser" packed the great American Theater at Salt Lake for four days.

Played to 25,000 people the opening day at Kansas City.

STORY.—"To Hell with the Kaiser" shows the way in which Wilhelm II plunged the world into war. The fortunes of an American family are followed in the story, and in revenge for the ghastly fate of her little sister in a Belgian convent, Alice Monroe brings about the downfall and death of the Kaiser, with the aid of an American aviator. A beautiful love-story runs through this powerful narrative.

AUTHOR.—June Mathis supplied the scenario for this feature. In compiling her data, Miss Mathis consulted every available authority on modern Germany. She is one of the best-known writers for the screen. She wrote Nazimova's feature, "Toys of Fate," and in collaboration with other writers has furnished the original stories of "Draft 208," "The Winding Trail," "God's Half Aero," and countless other features, as well as providing the adaptations of famous books and plays for Metro stars.

SCENES.—The scenes in "To Hell with the Kaiser" beggar description. The Kaiser's council-chamber is shown, Belgian villages are burned and ravaged, there are "shots" of the trenches, and a fleet of aeroplanes is shown in battle with rival aircraft. In the realm of fancy, the Kaiser is shown going to his final destination, "the hot place."

PLAYERS.—John Sanderland, who plays the aviator, is also an aviator in real life, having fought more than a hundred air battles at the beginning of the war around Liege, Namur and Ypres. Frank Currier, who plays Prof. Monroe, is a sterling actor who has appeared in countless Metro features. Betty Howe is a charming player who has been seen in "For France," "The Scarlet Runner," and other features. The cast of characters of "To Hell with the Kaiser" is practically a "Who's Who" of the screen.

THE war has taught one important thing to those who are willing to learn. It has made things cost more; and when we pay more for a thing we're apt to be more particular to know what we're getting. The war has taught that good quality pays in economy, though we have to pay more to get it.

Be Patriotic About Buying Clothes

You may not need new clothes this fall; if you can get along with what you have, save the money for Liberty Bonds or War Savings Stamps. If you have to buy, remember this:

You don't buy anything in which quality is more important than clothes; you ought to be very particular about what you get for your money, especially because it's so easy to make poor quality in clothes look very good, and there's plenty of poor quality to be had.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are one of the ways in which we serve—all-wool fabrics, the best tailoring, the most distinguished style; clothes that you can rely on, absolutely. ROOSEVELT SAYS HUNS DON'T GET IN WORLD LEAGUE

Colonel Thinks Germany and Her Associates Would Make Undesirable Members in Any Peace Organization

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt as the principal speaker at the La Fayette day exercises here today, vigorously denounced any idea of a league of nations that includes Germany, Austria-Hungary and Turkey in its membership.

He also branded as silly any assertion that a league of nations plan would guarantee peace to those who have not the will and power to prepare for their own defense.

Wants Universal Training
Support any plan which is honest and reasonable, but support it as an addition to, and never as a substitute for, the policy of preparing our own strength for our defense.

Follow any such course would turn this country into a China of the occident.

I believe preparation should be started by the introduction in this country of the principle of universal training and universal service, as practiced in Switzerland. There will be no faint of Prussian militarism in such a system. It will merely mean to fight for self-defense and a great democracy in which law, order and liberty are to prevail.

SPURS CAPTAINS ON TO ACTION

Council of Defense Calls on W. S. Officers to Secure Pledge Fulfillment

Taking an initial step toward securing the fulfillment of pledges to invest War Savings Stamps made during the campaign in this county during the week ending June 23, the county council of defense is calling upon the captains who have been appointed district captains to visit all pledges at once endeavoring to bring their pledges up to date.

Few Stay on Job

Following is the letter which has been addressed by E. L. MacVicar, secretary of the county council of defense, to all W. S. S. block and section captains in Twin Falls county.

The council of the W. S. S. organization have brought to the attention of the council, that captains, with some few exceptions, are not making monthly reports of pledges to purchase war stamps which were obtained from pledges in the last drive, the week ending June 23, and this is an appeal from the council to each captain, personally, that he make it his business to visit all pledges at once, endeavoring to bring their pledges up to date, and when this is done, to make a report to the colonel under whose jurisdiction he works, so that he, in turn, can make a report to the Government.

The council appeals to you, not only from a patriotic standpoint, but from a standpoint of your personal pledge to the organization that you would perform this work until the quota of the county was sold in its entirety. If, for any reason, it is impossible for you to fulfill your pledge in the manner above, at once, it will be necessary that you so inform your colonel, getting some substitute who will endeavor to do your work for you.

This is your war, and the government is depending upon your cooperation with the same confidence that you will perform your duty, as it expects from the boy who is fighting in the front ranks.
