Rumored That Austrian Foreign Minister Burian Will Resign — Von Hertling's Position Critical

HUNS CONCURRED FULLY IN SENDING OF NOTE

German Newspapers Frooly Admit Note Was Result of Agreement Between Central Powers

ZURICH, Sept. 15.—Vienna newspapers are greatly excited over British and American press comment on the Austrian peace proposal. It is rumored that Foreign Minister Burian will resign.

A Berlin dispatch declared that the same excitement is evident in political circles and that the position of Chancellor von Hertling and Foreign Minister von Hintz appears critical. The resignation of Hungarian Premier Wekerle also is imminent, according to Budapest advice.

Admit Concurrence In Proffer

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 15.—The German press, throwing off its first official restraint, is now openly admitting that the Austrian peace note was the result of lengthy Austro-German negotiations.

The Budapest correspondent of the Berlin Tagblatt says the step was agreed upon by Baron Burian, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, and Admiral Von Hintz, the German foreign secretary, during the latter's visit to Vienna.

Rejection-Merited Rebuke

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 15.—Copies of British West Friesland Zeitung received here today declare American opinion of the Austrian peace conference proposal is a merited rebuke for Baron Burian, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister.

Dissatisfied With Von Hertling

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 15.—The German centrists have expressed dissatisfaction with Chancellor von Hertling because they were not informed of the Austrian peace move negotiations. Hertling's statement that Germany was fully aware of the move, the Mittele Zeitung declared.

Belgium Will Not Agree to Peace

Boys at Front Strong In Approval

By FRED S. PERGUSON
WITH THE AMERICANS ON THE METZ FRONT, Sept. 15.—President Wilson's sharp reply to Austria clearly reflects the sentiments of the American army toward peace negotiations. From the highest general to the lowest doughboy, the determination is to whip the boches soundly. The only fear expressed since July is that the Germans may escape a bygone trick.

The Austrian proposal is regarded as such a trick—the first signal from the central powers' diplomats, the same as the boche squeals when he faces a bayonet.

The American soldier is determined to get on German soil. In other words,

British Make Material Gains on 12 Mile Front

By LOWELL MELLETT

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES (AP) Sept. 15 (Noon)—Groups of British troops attacked on a front of twelve miles northwest of St. Quentin this morning. They drove forward spiritedly after a heavy bombardment of only three minutes. They were preceded by the usual barrage.

The British are reported to have reached Fresnoy-Le-Petit, two and three quarters miles northwest of St. Quentin.

Stiff enemy resistance has been encountered 12 miles northwest of St. Quentin and at Fresnoy, three miles southeast of Epehy.

Vermard, five miles west of St. Quentin, and Polonow, three miles southeast of Vermard, are under heavy gas bombardment.

The attack was made against positions where the Germans have been conducting vigorous rear guard actions against Haig's nibbling tactics during the past fortnight. It may bring the British into actual contact with the main German defenses along the Hindenburg line.

WEIRD STORY OF RUNAWAY LADS BADLY TWISTED

Evidence Gathered on Details of Flight Show Kidnapping Tale to Be Figment of Boy's Imagination

A boy's wild story in explanation of his two weeks' absence from home, replete with sensational details as to an alleged kidnapping and mistreatment at the hands of a "gang" of juvenile outlaws, not only deceived his parents but was the basis for the filing of a criminal complaint by the prosecuting attorney's office Monday against the crippled companion of the young runaway, who was charged with being both by force and intimidation of the boy's father's pony, which he rode when he disappeared.

Don Young, 16-year-old son of J. L. Young, toll-house keeper at Blue Lakes, disappeared from home on September 2. Late last week his parents received a telegram from Corlath, Nevada, stating that the lad was there and that he had been hurt. He returned here on Sunday.

He told his parents that he had been forced at a pistol point on the evening of September 2, by one William Goodman, a 17-year-old boy son of J. Goodman, an employe of the Twin Falls Feed & Ice Co., and other boys to accompany them so far from Twin Falls into Nevada that they had stolen his horse from him and that his injuries had resulted from his compliance with the demand of Goodman that he jump into a "spring" at a "good" place, which he had inadvertently slipped into the spring while bathing.

Sold Cart and Harness
He declared that the other boys had stolen a cart and harness south of Twin Falls and that they had forced him to ride with them to Rogerson, where they sold the cart and harness for five dollars.

On the strength of this story the father of the Young boy swore to a complaint issued Monday charging the Goodman boy with the robbery of his father's horse.

MAKE SUBSTANTIAL PROGRESS ALONG RUPT DE MAD VALLEY

British Take Holion, Two and Three Quarters Miles From St. Quentin—Launch Sudden Attack Northwest of City—French Advance on Ten Mile Front Northeast and East of Verdun

HAIG'S FORCES ADVANCE THREE MILES ON LONG FRONT; TAKE 1,500 PRISONERS

LONDON, Sept. 15 (6:15 p. m.)—Latest advices from the Pivard front say the British have advanced an average distance of two to three miles on a front of nearly fifteen miles, extending northward from the village of Holion, and had taken 1,500 prisoners.

The British are within a mile of the Hindenburg line on a wide front, the dispatch stated.

American, French and British forces are gradually exerting greater pressure against the Germans in the Woerre and Pivard sectors.

Unofficial reports from Paris declare the Americans have made substantial progress northeastward along the valley of the Rupt de Mad, and apparently are striking at the important towns of Chambley and Gorze. The latter is in German territory, only seven miles southwest of Metz.

At the same time the French advanced on a front of about ten miles northeast and east of Verdun, driving a sharp salient into the German lines in the direction of Etain, which is one of the bastions in the new Hindenburg line in the Woerre region. The French are reported to be within three miles of Etain.

Near St. Quentin
British troops, after capturing the little village of Holion, two and three quarters miles west of St. Quentin, yesterday evening suddenly attacked northwest of St. Quentin today. The scope of his attack was not officially announced.

British and French Smash Hun Lines

By LOWELL MELLETT
WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Sept. 15.—(Noon)—British and French troops swept forward in a simultaneous smash against the Hindenburg line defenses centering about St. Quentin this morning.

The British attacked on a front of about 12 miles extending from Sary wood, two and a half miles directly west of St. Quentin northward to Pliester, 12 miles southwest of Ombal.

At the same time the French supported the British right flank advancing southwest of St. Quentin.

Despite a heavy rain the attack was going well at the hour of calling. The attack began at 5:30, followed by a brief "crash" bombardment.

Defenses of Metz In Action

PARIS, Sept. 15.—3:25 p. m.—The advanced defenses of Metz have entered the action against the Americans, according to L'Etour.

American forces are continuing their progress along the left bank of the Moselle. The Germans are slowly withdrawing toward their prepared line covering the Conflans junction of the Metz-Ombal-Montmedy railway.

At certain points the Americans have advanced about 27 kilometers, nearly 17 miles, since the start of their offensive. Our infantry has reached a point less than ten miles from Conflans, 12 miles east of Metz, while patrols have advanced from 20 to five kilometers, and a quarter to more than three miles, farther north.

The Americans are nearing Fagry-sur-Moselle, nine and a half miles east and west of Metz. The important Ombal des Dames gave in near its fall, as a result of a later push by the French, who have reached Le Malmaison fort and ridge, three miles directly north of Vally, forcing open the way into the Finon region of the Alsace valley.

STOP BULGARIA FROM SENDING AID TO GERMANS

Promise of Offensive Believed to Be Aimed at King Ferdinand—Would Force Him to Keep Troops at Home

ALLIES MAY STRIKE AT SOFIA IN SPRING

No Major Action Probably This Year as Winter Is Too Near—Take Points of Vantage for Next Season's Operations

By J. W. G. MASON
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The French, Serbian and Greek operations along the Balkan front give promise of a major offensive being conducted against Bulgaria next spring in strategic conformity with the operations which America and the allies will then start against Germany in the west.

The present movement, Haig in Macedonia, and the plan to have been planned to preserve for any length of time into the winter season, which soon begins in the Balkans. It would be hazardous if not impossible to prolong an offensive during the severe snows of mountainous southeastern Europe. A Balkan offensive has always been associated with the spring.

Seize Points of Vantage

The purpose of the present drive is doubtless to secure possession of local points of vantage from which a spring advance can successfully be undertaken. This, of course, implies the capture of the Balkan passes that they will be attacked next year. There is good strategy in giving the bottle. Germany is desperately trying to persuade Bulgaria to send troops to the west front to help Von Hindenburg defend German territory. The Bulgars have been reluctant to agree but there have lately been some signs of wavering at Sofia. Now, however, it would positively be dangerous for the Bulgarian government to permit any large number of troops to go to the west front. If this were done, Bulgaria's own defensive position would become weakened to an extent that would be high encouragement to the allies to strike for Sofia.

Hard on Oxar's Nerve

Gen. Frimont, of Bulgaria, is a timid nervous, who is not exclusively for optics. The changing conditions of the war situation are already reported to have sent him to health resorts where broken down nerves are treated. The Bulgarian retreat along the Macedonian front is making Gen. Frimont still more timorous and to cause him to think of the safety of his own throne before considering the plight of the Hohenollerns. This means the Kaiser will be unable to play an serious Bulgarian military support when the Americans start for the Rhine.

DAVIS SELECTED SUCCESSOR TO WALTER PAIGE

Solicitor-General Is President Wilson's Choice for Ambassador to Great Britain—On Way Abroad Now

By ROBERT J. BENDER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—John W. Davis, solicitor-general of the United States, has been selected by President Wilson as American ambassador to Great Britain. It was officially announced today. Davis, who is now en route to Bern, Switzerland, to confer with German representatives on questions involving disposition and exchange of prisoners, is one of the less widely known, but most popular officials of the government.

Confirmation Expected Soon

Official confirmation of his selection for the post of ambassador to the court of St. James, succeeding Walter Hines Paige, resigned, is expected soon.

In view of the delicate positions which are bound to come out of the war and with the need for judicious handling of these questions between the United States and Great Britain, Davis' selection would carry with it the knowledge that he is held in extremely high esteem by President Wilson.

Many times he has been mentioned for important cabinet posts but at the time when his selection was deemed likely, he was involved in important government cases before the United States supreme court. His selection for an ambassadorship now would be timely because the justice department has decided to drop trust prosecutions for the war period and Davis' duties as solicitor-general have been lightened.

Native of West Virginia

John William Davis was born at Clarkburg, W. Va., April 18, 1878. He was graduated from Washington law school and later was assistant professor of law in the institution. He has been prominent in Democratic politics all his life, being a former member of the West Virginia house of delegates, delegate to Democratic conventions and member of the 62nd and 63rd congresses from which he resigned August 30, 1913, to become solicitor-general at the request of President Wilson. He is a 32nd degree Mason, an Elk and a prominent club man here. Davis is married and has a daughter.

"No Compromise Between Crime and Right" Declares Clemenceau

Seek Such Peace as Will Spare Future Generations the Thominations of Past—Liberalize People From Force

PARIS, Sept. 13.—Premier Clemenceau, speaking in the senate last night, declared that the allies must keep on fighting until Germany understands there can be no compromise between crime and right.

"France desires the honor of expressing her gratitude to the splendid soldiers of the entente whose efforts are about to free the populations from the subjugation of barbarism," the premier said.

Criminals Must Pay Price

Referring to German atrocities, he said: "There will be no victory until such criminals are made to pay in full."

"A reversal of fortune has brought about a falling back of the Kaiser's empire before the people of free conscience," he continued. "What do they want and what do you want? You must keep on fighting until the moment when the enemy can understand there is to be no compromise between crime and right."

"I have heard it said that peace can not be brought about by a military decision. That was not what Germany said when she let loose the war with all its horrors. Therefore, let it be as Germany has willed, and as Germany has done."

Seek Permanent Peace

"We only seek peace so that future generations may be spared the abominations of the past.

"Forward, then to the liberation of people from the last fury of foul force. Forward to victory. The whole of France and all of thinking humanity are with you."

CARDINAL FARLEY ANSWERS CALL

Body Will Lie in State at St. Patrick's Cathedral Monday—Funeral Tuesday

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The body of John Cardinal Farley, who died at his home in Mamaroneck, N. Y., will be brought to this city tomorrow and will lie in state at St. Patrick's Cathedral over Monday. Interment will be made Tuesday.

The body will remain at Greenacres, the Cardinal's summer home today and tomorrow, the cortege will start for New York, entering Manhattan over the bridge at 145th street from where it will proceed to 27th Avenue and down that street to the late residence of the Cardinal. The late Cardinal's committee of laymen and the Knights of St. Gregory will form a guard of honor for the cortege during its trip from the summer home in Westchester county.

Educated Self

Cardinal Farley died shortly after 9 o'clock while priests in his official household were chanting Mass. Children in parochial schools yesterday chanted these prayers. Cardinal Farley was 76 years old. He was born April 20, 1842, in Hamilton, Newton county, Armagh, Ireland. His parents died when he was seven years old, but he attained his education through his own efforts, being schooled at St. Marcam's in Ireland, St. John's at Fordham and St. Joseph's seminary at Troy, N. Y.

Later he finished a four year's course at the American College and was ordained a priest in 1870, in Rome.

The first charge of Father Farley was at New Brighton, Mass., after which he progressed rapidly, through the Catholic church until he became cardinal, November 27, 1911, the same date on which Cardinal Falconio and Cardinal Connell were appointed. Cardinal Farley's most important work was an author probably was his "Life of Archbishop McCloskey," with whom he was closely associated for many years.

LABOR MEETING ENDORSES WAR AIMS OF ALLIES

London Conference Agrees on Fourteen Points Made by President Wilson — Will Fight to Bitter End

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, presenting the proposals of that organization at the inter-allied labor conference today, said the delegation is unprejudiced and open-minded but that it is bound by the principles expressed in the proposals.

The following, he said, are the essential fundamental principles for a peace treaty:

- A league of free peoples; no political, economic or discriminatory restrictions, no indemnities or reprisals for vindictive or injurious purposes but to right manifest wrongs; recognition of the rights of small nations; no territorial exchanges, except for the welfare of the people affected.

Submit Proposals
The American Federation of Labor delegation submitted the following proposals to the conference:

That the conference is unanimously determined to assist the allied in bringing the Central Powers' armies from the invaded nations. Thus it is determined to oppose the Central Powers' armies so long as they are under control of the autocratic governments; that the conference President Wilson's fourteen points; that the workers should officially be represented on each belligerent delegation at the peace conference and that it favors a world labor conference to be held simultaneously.

E. L. Heine, American delegate, presided at the morning session. He said he hoped the conference would be able to arrive at unanimous conclusions regarding war aims, which he said are so clear that neither friends nor enemies should misunderstand them.

A Marvelous Fotoplay of Sergt. Arthur Guy Empey's World-Famous Book—A Picture That Has Stirred America—The Famous Fighter Empey Appears Personally in This Play

ELISTED in the Royal Fusiliers of London in December, 1915, to avenge the sinking of the Lusitania, went to France and served eighteen months in the front line trenches, became a Bomber and Machine gunner, was promoted to a Sergeant, for bravery and was wounded seven times going "over the top."

MADE his start as an adventurer and soldier of fortune at the age of seventeen when he joined a schoolmate in "a trip to South America," on a tramp steamer, which evolved into a "Shanghai" expedition that took them around Cape Horn and into many perilous experiences.

PUT in three years in the U. S. Navy, six years in the regular U. S. Cavalry, saw active service on the Mexican border in 1911, quit with the rank of Sergeant-Major and returned to civil pursuits in the East, later serving for seven years as a National Guardsman in New York and New Jersey.

EMPEY entered the world at Ogden, Utah, December 11, 1883, spent his childhood on a ranch near Cheyenne, Wyo., lived for a time in Richmond, Va. and Chicago, and was educated in the public schools of Brooklyn, N. Y., where he was recognized as a football and baseball player.

YEARNED for America to enter the war on the side of civilization and when she did, came back with his wounds, wrote "Over the Top," an epic of the trenches, recruited thousands of men, sold $1,011,000 in Liberty Bonds, raised over $20,000 for "smoke" funds and went into motion pictures to show through the Vitagraph production of "Over the Top," just "what we are up against over there."

KING OF ITALY SAYS AUSTRIANS STILL POWERFUL

Soldiers Are Still Well Fed and Clothed if People of Interior Are Deprived of Necessities of Life

PARIS, Sept. 18.—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy in an interview with a correspondent of the Matin, declared that while the civilian population of Austria-Hungary may be suffering, his army is still "a very strong force."

"It can not be said that the front and rear have the same solidarity in Austria-Hungary as in our own united democratic nations," the king is quoted as saying: "There is a real barrier between the front and the country which the soldiers do not know about. How can they be expected to share in the political passions of the interior?"

"If Austria suffers hunger, her troops are well fed. The country may be short of leather, but the troops have good boots, while their armaments are being constantly improved. The Austrian army is still a very strong force."

DEMANDS DAMAGES FOR CANAL BREAK INJURY

S. O. Kline Sues Canal Company for $1000—Says Flood Impaired Value of Land

Claiming damages in the sum of $1,500 as a result of injury to his lands, situated six miles southeast of Twin Falls, as a result of the breaking on August 6, 1917, of a canal above his farm, S. O. Kline, through his attorney, T. H. Harkman, has brought an action in district court here for the recovery of this amount from the Twin Falls Canal company. The complaint sets out that the land alleged to have been damaged had been prepared for growing crops this year, and that the injury resulted from the washing away of soil and depositing of foreign matter. The canal at the point where the break occurred had been prepared for defective in construction or insufficient for the purpose for which it was built.

SPUD CROP IN IDAHO DECLINES 35 PER CENT

State University Horticulturist Reports 30,268 Acres in Potatoes This Year—Less Than Previous Years

MOSCOW—A recent survey of the crop planting prospects in Idaho made by the agricultural extension farm specialist of the University of Idaho, gives some interesting—not to say startling—light on the potato planting situation in Idaho says E. H. Bennett, field horticulturist of the University of Idaho.

Inquiries have been sent out to ascertain the acreage of different crops being put in this spring. Reports have been received from 60 per cent of the cultivated area of the state and from these we can fairly accurately determine the acreages of the different crops being planted. These reports show last year's acreage of potatoes in the state to have been 47,941 acres. The decrease this year, as indicated by the reports, is 35 per cent from last year's planting, which will give us 30,268 acres of potatoes in Idaho, approximately the same as that of 1910.

Some Tears and a Little Laughter on the Side

MILWAUKEE.—The large square room at the Detention home where the fragrances of domestic life and childhood are felt is not the place where one would generally look for comedy. But Friday afternoon the golden glow of laughter beamed upon the place and more than once the judge's gavel fell when the snickers became too audible.

Matrimonial problems are many, but the most unique was that of the man who, not able to support in comfort his five fatherless children, had the courage to just court a widow with four children. He did not speak English.

In Polish the interpreter put at the court's suggestion that he had enough money to buy the girl elsewhere. Quietly came the response that he was quite willing to call quits at the game of love making but for the fact that he held the widow in fear. (In the bench four little "low heads"—"Innocents," the judge termed them—all under six years, regarded the proceedings gravely, while the older sister, Mary, sobbed convulsively.

But a new life is in open for the children, as the court will take care of them until the father provides a new home and a housekeeper to care for them. And the housekeeper will not be a widow and mother of four.

Another cause of mirth was Elmer, aged thirteen. Elmer is not a bad boy in the court's terminology, but he is possessed of a boyish mischievous frank. His father is dead and his mother in the hospital, so Elmer has been living with a family beyond the limits of the city. Now there was a neighbor, a physician, who, not being able to countenance boyish misbehavior, one day delivered a "crashing" to his own protégé and to Elmer. So Elmer ran away to the city, where the new-found freedom kept him out to the wee small hours.

Elmer submitted to the court that he wanted to be a good boy, but the remedy of the "crashing" will remain for he had "not been comfortable for three days." The boy loves baseball and when he heard that he could be captain of the home team, his tears were dried and even the memory of the thrashing faded as he promised to be a model boy until his mother's return to the home.

leaving of potato growing off the farm program.

Eastern Acreage Not Large But few reports have been received as to the probable planting in the eastern potato producing states, but those that have been received indicate that the same condition prevails there as in Idaho. In fact the probabilities are that the decrease in acreage in the eastern states will be even greater than in Idaho, for there are more material reasons for such a tendency than there are here. The farm labor shortage in the east is more acute than in the west. Fertilizers which are necessary for the growing of the crop are hard to get and almost prohibitive in price! Spray materials which are required there for the potato crop are also high priced. If fields correspond to acreage this season as they did last, and the decrease per cent of planting in the other states is as great as in Idaho, we can look forward to a production of potatoes in the United States within about 3,000,000,000 bushels of our 1910 crop. We are wanting potatoes now. A year ago potatoes were valued from three to four dollars per hundred. The world needs food, and while we probably cannot export potatoes to our allies next winter, we should have enough potatoes in the United States this coming season so that we will not be forced to use wheat as a substitute for potatoes.

Should Get Down Production Costs Grovers complain—and justly so—that the cost of growing potatoes last year was excessive. Good was valued at from twenty-five to forty dollars per acre. Labor was high. But one of the heaviest items in the total cost of growing and placing the potato crop on the market was the cost of sacks with which to handle the crop. Where profitable yields were obtained this amounted to from twenty-five dollars to as high as forty-five dollars per acre. This season sacks will cost probably not less than twenty-five dollars per hundred, or, for a profitable yielding field, from thirty-seven and one-half dollars to seventy-five dollars per acre. Even at these prices we have no assurance that sacks in sufficient quantity can be obtained.

The writer has discussed this situation with many prominent growers and dealers and all are agreed that our present system of handling potatoes should be changed so that at least for the duration of the war, the potato crop of Idaho can be shipped in bulk. If this can be done—and we see no legitimate reason why it cannot—the heavy single item in the cost of producing potatoes in Idaho will have been eliminated. It is not too early now to make arrangements for such a change.

A serious shortage of potatoes in the United States this year would be a calamity, but growers should not be expected to produce potatoes at a loss; hence, every possible step should be taken to increase the yield of potatoes and at the same time to decrease the cost of putting the crop on the market.

Saving Expensive Ink

An economy in expensive drawing ink, ordinarily used with a ruling pen, is effected by substituting common white ink for the drawing ink on many kinds of work in which permanence is not a special factor, such as Popular Mechanics Magazine. A convenience in using this substitute ink is in respect ordinary matters, to insert a pen point by the pointed end into the bottle cork. This provides a handy ruling pen ink, similar to the usual quill stopper.

The first steamer, we believe, that was ever launched on Lake Erie was named the Walk-in-the-Water, and was built just 100 years ago, near Black Rock and Buffalo. Telltale Drink.

"I know I was not drunk," said a woman charged at Brentford, who was over-landed on the police boat named the Walk-in-the-Water, and was built just 100 years ago, near Black Rock and Buffalo. NEW REGISTERED MEN TO RECEIVE QUESTIONNAIRES

Local Board Today Begins Task of Collecting Data for Classification of Material for Uncle Sam's Fighting Forces

Pursuant to orders received Tuesday from the adjutant general's office, the local board for Twin Falls county is today mailing out the first lot of questionnaires to certain of the men who registered under selective military service regulations in this county on September 12. At least 10 per cent of the total number of questionnaires must be mailed out each day, according to the order. Seven days' time from the date of mailing is allowed each registrant to return his questionnaire.

Pass Up Certain Ages

There were registered in this county on September 12, 4,001 men between the ages of 18 and 40 years, exclusive of those previously registered. Under the order from the adjutant general, questionnaires are to be mailed at this time only to those registrants who are above the age of 19 years and under the age of 36. Subjects of Great Britain, including Canadians, also are to receive no questionnaires at this time.

Orders From Outrigger

Following is the order in respect to the mailing of questionnaires received from the adjutant general: "The proper marshal general directs that the following be communicated to all local boards: "Beginning on Wednesday, September 18, and continuing for five days thereafter, questionnaires of the third class shall be sent by mail to ten per cent of the registrants who were on September 12, 1918, or who were between the ages of 19 and 36 years, both inclusive. Questionnaires shall be sent to all registrants within such ages who registered on September 12, 1918, or who have registered thereafter except British subjects, including Canadians. "In mailing questionnaires, local boards shall proceed according to serial numbers of such registrants and shall deferring making any entries on the classification list until after the order numbers have been assigned in accordance with the regulations subsequently to be promulgated.

"Space for the order numbers on the questionnaires shall be left blank, their order numbers to be filled in after they have been determined and the order numbers have been determined the names shall be entered on the classification list in the order of their liability for service, as will be prescribed on which the questionnaires are mailed, and later questionnaires to be mailed to each registrant shall then be entered. For such purpose a tentative list of the date on which the questionnaires were mailed must be kept by each local board. "If in the opinion of the local board, with due regard for the convenience of the registrants and the work of the local advisory boards, questionnaires can be mailed at the rate of more than 10 per cent per day, the local board may mail more expeditiously but, however, not more than 10 per cent per day."

LOCAL BOY RECOUNTS EXPERIENCE IN FRANCE

Maynard Stokes, With Medical Department, Tells of Hearing the Big Gun Booms

Maynard Stokes of Twin Falls, a member of the army medical department stationed now at Roye, France, says in a letter recently received by his mother, Mrs. Florence Stokes: "An enjoyable time. Have lots of liking to do, but that does not bother me at all, as I am used to it and it makes a man out of a soldier. "As I was waking this morning would hear the big guns roar somewhere ahead of us, and they are still roaring. I never saw so many airplanes in my life as I have seen since we landed in Europe—dozens and dozens of them. "When we landed on shore and were marching up the streets in England and in France you should have seen the little kids beg for money. They would come up and say 'Have you got a cent?' 'Have you got a little cent?' They kept that up until we were out of town. "We have leaved the front again tomorrow. On the way we stop at rest camps and then on again. We have stopped at three rest camps now. Every camp has a 'Y. M. C. A.'"

SIGNS POINT TO HUN WITHDRAWAL IN THE BALKANS

Large Quantities of War Materials and Booty Being Intended to Pull Out Entirely

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Germany gives some indications of wanting a future withdrawal from the Baltic provinces. State department advisers today reported that the "Teutons had begun removal of all useful materials from the provinces, probably chiefly Estonia and Livonia, with the apparent intent of getting out later.

Hunger and Disorder in Russia

The advisers came from Moscow, via Yankton. They said hunger and disorder are everywhere in Russia. A new light was shed on the recent Bolshevik treaty according to this message. It showed the Germans had tried to form an alliance with some strong coalition against the Bolsheviks. The effort having failed, the Germans took the only other available course and made a treaty with the Bolsheviks whereby the latter was to attempt to hold the allies in the north. Lenin's coalition was reported improved.

New East Front Soon

All the department information coupled with the anti-Bolshevik movement and the allied advances are beginning to bear "fruit" and that the Germans apparently will have a new eastern front—at least a big eastern problem to cope with before long.

CONGRESS ASKED TO AMEND BILL

Food Administration Seeks Repeal of Four-Cent Tax on Mixed Flour

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Congress today was asked to amend the revenue bill to all the food administration's new wheat conservation program.

In a letter to Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, Food Administrator Hoover, suggested that the bill be amended to repeal a tax of four cents a barrel on mixed flour which has been in force since the Spanish-American war.

Permanent Substitute Plan

The food administration, Hoover points out, is planning to practically do away with pure wheat flour for the duration of the war, and put in its place a flour consisting of 80 per cent wheat and 20 per cent substitutes.

"Unless the present tax on mixed flour is repealed, it will stand as a tax on every loaf of bread eaten within the United States, whether baked in the home or purchased at a bakery.

Note Sent Following Exchange of Views

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 18.—The Austrian peace note was dispatched after the fullest consultation with Germany and with the latter's approval, according to the Vienna Telegraph.

Message to Pope Not Received

ROME, Sept. 18.—The Vatican chancery had not received the Austrian note to the pope up to a late hour last night. It was considered possible that the message was sent directly to the pope, not passing through the chancery.

"We hope that the estate's answer to Austria will be prompt, precise and effective," the Corriere Dell'Europa said.

"They know what is behind the action of Vienna. Let them respond immediately. Delays are too dangerous."

"None of the 'moral objects' which the Central Empire propose can be achieved," said the Corriere.

"The enemy will not sustain more defeats before their peace program approaches that of the entente sufficiently to make possible the opening of negotiations," declared the Popoverano.

RED CROSS TEA GRAND SUCCESS

Large Sum Realized Through Efforts of Workers of Association Shop

Twin Falls never likes to be a step behind any other city in popular moves, and the tea held by the Red Cross Shop people on Saturday was the launching of a venture already in its most successful quarters in all cities where there is a Red Cross Shop.

The first tea netted over forty dollars for the Red Cross. Monthly, the shop returns in the county chapter a cash deposit, and is ambitious to make such a showing as will be a credit to this in charge.

Much salvage handled at a profit in other places is impossible to take in hand here on account of location and prohibitive freight rates.

J. B. White of the Perrine, conferred a great and appreciated favor, by offering the use of one side of the lobby, which proved a popular location, as well as a convenient one.

Mrs. Wanson, Mrs. Harsted, and Mrs. J. R. White, were the committee in charge, and proved able hostesses. Several guests in the hotel lent their aid during the afternoon and every assistance was extended by the hotel management in every way.

Several traveling men, who had enjoyed the hospitality of Red Cross teas in Salt Lake and Portland, were entertained and gave very encouraging comments.

The special tea room, connected with the shop, is open every day in the week in the larger cities.

ITALIAN CASUALTIES ARE OVER A MILLION

Minister of Treasury However Declares Nation Will Be Stronger Than Ever When the War Is Over

ROME, Sept. 18.—The losses in the Italian armies since Italy entered the war amount to 1,250,000 killed and permanently disabled, according to a statement by Francesco Silli, minister of the treasury here today. In an interview, however, he declared: "After the war, Italy will be stronger than ever in men, due to the cessation of emigration. Our difficulties today are in the labor field, for no fewer than 5,000,000 men have been called to arms since the beginning of the war."

WIERD STORY OF RUNAWAY LAD

that his son had left home September 2, taking with him his own pony. He was unable to explain the acquisition of the cart and harness, having traced it to the place where the Young boy said it was taken and finding that person there denied ownership. He offered to have the boy return to Twin Falls. The sheriff's office telegraphed this morning to the officers at Alturas this morning, asking them to release the Goodman boy, for the purpose of returning here.

Stories Fall to Zero

Investigation of the sheriff's so far shows the Young boy's story controverted at nearly every angle. Deputy Sheriff H. G. Jackson, in company with the Young boy yesterday, traced the trail of the runaways as far as Hillstart, and reports from Contact and Wells, Nevada, brought here by Moses Jones, local agent for the Utah Construction company, account for the trip as far as Wells.

At Hillstart, Deputy Jackson found that the Young boy had traded his father's horse there with W. Ashby for another animal, and that he had sold a cart and harness to William McDonald for five dollars. The Young boy was faced with the men with whom he is alleged to have traded the horse and sold the cart and harness, dated having any dealings with them.

Boys Acted Surprisingly

Mr. Jones says that he advised John McCombs, constable at Wells, to observe the activities of the boys, inasmuch as he and others suspected that the horses were stolen. The purchaser of the horses, he says, expected the owner of them to appear and claim them but staked the investment of the small amount on the possibility that the property would not be claimed.
