WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Sept. 24.—The Germans, attempting to retake the posts east of Ephy today, lost 500 men and 21 machine guns, besides leaving a hundred dead within the British lines.

Further north, five fresh divisions, including one of Alpine troops, have arrived since Sunday. Two of the divisions are entirely fresh. Captured enemy documents show that the ground taken by the British was intended as an essential part of the Hindenburg defense system, which their troops were ordered to hold, regardless of the cost.

British Capture Doiran; Serbians Approach Prilip; Turks in Flight

The scope of the British advances in Palestine and Macedonia is increasing rapidly.

British troops have captured Acre and Haifa, two important seaports and railway terminals on the Mediterranean coast, representing a total advance of 75 miles since the drive began.

The British also have progressed ten miles east of the Jordan, occupying Es Salt, and striking directly toward Amman, on the Yabes railway. Arab forces are driving scattered Turkish elements northward along the railway toward that town.

Palestine Forces Launch Big Offensive in Face of Heavy Odds — Arabs and Indian Units Help

FOURTH ARMY IS LAST DEFENDING PALESTINE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Having annihilated two of the three Turkish armies in Palestine, General Allenby is preparing to bag the fourth Turkish army to make his already momentous work in Palestine complete, according to a statement issued today by the British military attaché.

Faced Heavy Odds Facing originally an enemy force of 100,000 men, General Allenby, with a much smaller contingent of British troops, assisted by Arabs and Indian units, has started cutting communications of the last remaining Turkish army which is charged with defense of the Hejaz railway.

The overwhelming defeat of Turks in Palestine is pointed to as another of a long series of reverses for which the young Turks and their allies will be blamed by the Turkish people.

The Palestine forces of the Turks have been under command of General von Sanders, who had the defense of the Dardanelles.

Acre Occupied by British Forces

LONDON, Sept. 24.—British forces have occupied the important seaport of Acre, Palestine.

Acre is on the Mediterranean, 20 miles northwest of Nazareth, where British cavalry did great work. The railroad runs from Dera to the coast. It has a population of about 10,000.

In the north-south cavalry occupied Haifa (an important seaport and railway town 10 miles south of Acre) and Tiberias following night operations.

The number of prisoners has been increased and the total will exceed largely the 25,000 already mentioned.

"Arab forces, under King Hussein, have occupied Meaan and are harassing bodies of the enemy northward toward Haifa."

LONDON, Sept. 24.—British troops have captured the important town of Doiran on the southern shore of Lake Doiran, in Macedonia, according to dispatches received here today.

Allied successes in Macedonia and Palestine continue to grow. Control of Siberia also is being rapidly completed by the allies.

The operations in the Balkans are taking on the aspect of a major defeat for the Bulgarians. Their armies in southern Serbia and northeastern Greece have been virtually split by cutting of the Ubbuk-Salonika and Prilip railway.

The allies are advancing in the whole region between Monastir and Lake Doiran and the front of about seventy-five miles has been stretched to nearly 100 miles by the growth of the big wedge being driven northward.

Through the seizure of Kalyani allied troops are now only five miles southeast of the important city of Prilip, which is one of their immediate objectives.

To the eastward, they have penetrated much farther north and are paralleling the Vardar from the Doiran region to its junction with the Corna. West of Doiran the allies are within reach of Haghighy six miles west and north of the village of Doiran, while their left wing has passed Mogila, five miles north of Monastir.

Capture of Haifa and Acre by British Gives Splendid Base for Landing of Necessary Supplies

By J. W. T. MASON

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—General Allenby is continuing his advance northward in Palestine along the Mediterranean coast road at about as rapid a pace as has marked his constant progress since the present offensive began.

The capture of Haifa and Acre, by the British, gives to the Allies, the use of the excellent harbor of Acre for the landing of supplies and reinforcements. Haifa for this reason probably will become the principal base of operations for the immediate future in the development of General Allenby's strategy.

The removal of the British General Allenby has recently had the cavalry must now begin to be curtailed and for that reason the progress of operations hereafter cannot be expected to continue the unprecedented record of the last few days.

Getting Into Mountains

Fifteen miles north of Acre, the plains of Acre terminate in the mountains of Phoenicia. The plains of Tyre, somewhat farther to the north, are available for cavalry operations, but only to a very limited extent.

Hereafter the British must move their artillery and supplies through the mountainous territory of Phoenicia and Galilee. The cavalry cannot conduct pursuits of the enemy and must be used principally as transport animals.

Fighting for the most part will occur on foot. The extent of the opposition which the Turks will be able to bring against the British, north of Acre, however, must be very limited, at least for the time being.

Occasional Raids Sole Diversion of American Forces—Artillery is Active Intermittently on Both Sides

By FRED S. FERGUSON WITH THE AMERICANS ON THE MEZZ FRONT, Sept. 24.—Aside from artillery bombardment of important German centers, with counter-shelling of American positions, the Woever front is quiet.

An American raid on the left center yesterday netted some points. The enemy laid down a barrage on the adjoining sectors, but their infantry failed to come over to face our counter fire.

Near St. Hubert another American raid resulted in the taking of 14 prisoners. Scarcely an airplane or balloon was seen in the sky all day yesterday, the rain stopping airplanes. The entire front is largely mud-locked.

HINDENBURG LINE BLOCKS FURTHER GAINS

Wide Canal Fifty Feet Deep in Places Forms Part of Barrier in Path to Berlin—Huns Making Desperate Stand

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Sept. 24.—The British front seems about to lose for one of the trench warfare again. If the British succeed in their general advance, it will reflect greater credit than any of their remarkable successes in the past several weeks.

Canal Blocks Advance

These masses are from a mile to two miles deep. Part of the way there is a canal very wide and fifty feet deep in some places, with deep arched trenches before and behind it. Social Democrats of Germany Declare Lack of Confidence—Want Parliamentary Ministry

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 24.—German newspapers are voluminously discussing the assertion of the Leipzig Tagblatt that a government crisis is approaching due to the majority party's determination to form forthwith a parliamentary government that is independent of domination by military headquarters. The Berliner Tagblatt says the people are gradually realizing that only a parliamentary ministry can bring peace nearer. The social democrats no longer have any confidence in Chancellor von Hertling. Even the progressives believe he is unable to make peace. Development of the situation depends upon the attitude of the cabinet, which it is understood will be decided Monday.

How Your Questionnaire Is To Be Met and Answered

Helpful Information Is Given to Registrants Now or Soon to Be Faced With Requirement for Explaining to Government Where They Can Best Serve in Winning the War and Why.

Men of 18 to 45 who registered September 12 and who are now receiving or soon will receive their draft questionnaires will do well to study the following important points, which will aid him in filling in his papers correctly.

Interpreting Your Questionnaire

Read over your questionnaire the first day it is received. Put it away carefully for the time being. Read it over again, taking up each phase of the dependent classes. Get out a pad and pencil and do some figuring. Compute your total income from all sources during the last 12 months. How much of this was the fruit of your labor, mental or physical. Give a full statement of all property owned by or held in trust for you, whether income producing or not. State the character of the property. State truthfully whether you own the house you live in, or whether any member of your family or dependent owns it.

You must state, not in round numbers, but in exact figures, the amount of taxes on real estate, personal property and your income tax. Don't forget to mention it if there is an encumbrance on it.

State the earning capacity of each member dependent during the next 12 months. Name the exact amounts you have contributed to each dependent in the last year.

If you are married and your wife is dependent on your support, don't permit you to enjoy deferred classification in any calling; give the condition of her health. If you and your wife live with her parents, say so.

If you are single, yet engaged to be married, and possibly paying installments on household goods, it does not permit you to enjoy deferred classification if there are no other dependents.

Any man who believes he can accept an active military service through the "dependent" route had better hold himself ready to answer 33 questions on this one phase alone. He must submit a supporting affidavit, and every one of the 33 answers he gives. Unless he obtains such affidavit his claim for deferred classification will not be recognized by either the local district board.

There are five divisions of classification in the questionnaire, ranging from four to twelve subdivisions.

To Tell Your Draft "Class"

Class 1 includes all men, either with or without dependents or married, who have habitually failed to support their labor or industrial works are placed in this class. Those who fail to submit their questionnaires will come in this class.

Class 2 or the first class of deferred classification, is subdivided into four parts: Married men with children, or father of minor children, whose wife or children or such motherless children are not mainly dependent on their labor or support for reasons that there are other reasonably certain sources of adequate support (including labor of wife) available; and those who are not mainly dependent, but the removal of registrant will not deprive such dependents of support.

Married men without children whose wife, although registrant is engaged in a useful occupation, is not mainly dependent upon his labor for support for the reason that the wife is skilled in some class of work, which she is physically able to perform and in which she is employed, or in which there is an immediate opening for her under conditions that will enable her to support herself decently and without suffering or hardship.

All necessary skilled farm labor as well as skilled industrial labor comes under class 2.

Class 3 has five subdivisions: A man with dependent children (not his own) but toward whom he stands in the relation of a parent; a man with dependent or aged or infirm parents; a man with dependent helpless brothers or sisters; or a man who is the sole support of his dependent children, or aged or infirm parents, or helpless brothers or sisters, and who is physically able to perform and in which he is employed, or in which there is an immediate opening for him under conditions that will enable him to support himself decently and without suffering or hardship.

During the services a number of messages from high officials were read, among them one from President Wilson and from Pope Benedict.

BURIAN SAYS AMERICANS INCONSISTENT

Wilson's Fourteen Points Have Not Always Been Shining Stars in America's History, Declares Austrian Minister

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 24.—Baron Burian, Austrian foreign minister, in a statement to the Berlin newspaper, declared he was not surprised at the Allies' rejection of the Austrian proposal but that nothing should be left undone to bring peace nearer.

"I feel no surprise at the entente's rejection of the Austrian proposal, which was an effort to bring out things clearly, which is occasionally necessary," Burian said. "The rapidly with which President Wilson replied is reasonable. He clearly wanted to participate the other members of the entente. He always wanted to be arbitrary. Even his neutrality was an assumed role, and he is now striving to keep up the role. I do not say he is insincere, but there are cases in American history in which America herself disregarded the fourteen points he formulated."

Says Allies Fear Own Pacifists

"Proof that the entente fears the effects of the proposal of the pacifists is shown by the speed with which Premier L. Clemenceau, and Secretary Ballou, and other spokes. It would serve no purpose to reply to their speeches."

"There was complete agreement between Germany and Austria-Hungary in regard to the dispatch of the note. The Hindenburg note will hold, but we must leave nothing undone that will bring peace nearer."

county or municipal officers and highly trained firemen or policemen of municipality; necessary custom house clerk; necessary employees of the United States in the administration of the mails; necessary officer or policeman in a United States arsenal or armory; necessary employees in the service of the United States; necessary assistant, associate or third manager of, necessary agricultural or industrial or highly specialized technical or mechanical experts of necessary industrial enterprise; necessary assistant or associate manager of necessary industrial enterprise.

Practically "Exempt" Classes

In class 4 a man whose wife or children are mainly dependent on his labor for support; a mariner, actually employed in sea service of citizen or merchant in the United States; necessary sole managing, controlling or directing head of necessary agricultural enterprise; necessary sole or managing controlling director of necessary industrial enterprise.

Class 5 consists of officers—legislative, executive, judicial or of the United States or of the state, territory or the District of Columbia; regularly or duly ordained minister of religion; student who on May 19, 1917, or on May 20, 1918, or since May 20, 1918, was regularly attending a recognized theological or divinity school or who on May 19, 1917, or since May 20, 1918, was preparing for practice of medicine and surgery in recognized medical schools; persons in the military or naval service of the United States; alien enemies; resident alien (not an enemy) who claims exemption; persons totally and permanently physically or mentally unfit for military service; persons mostly unfit for service with the United States Army as a soldier; licensed pilot actually employed in the pursuit of his vocation; persons discharged from the army on the ground of allegiance or diplomatic respect; subject or citizen of non-belligerent countries who has enlisted or enrolled in the forces of such country under the terms of a treaty between such country and the United States, and providing for reciprocal military service; subjects or citizens of non-belligerent countries who have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States and have without any conditions under the provisions of act of Congress, approved July 9, 1918, and selective service regulations.

The questionnaire must be made out and mailed to the local board within seven days after receipt by the registrant.

"Deferred Classification"

In order that prospective registrants may understand the interpretation of the word "classification," it means the names of all men liable to selection for military service shall be arranged in five classes in order in which they can be best spared from the civil, family, industrial and agricultural institutions of the nation. The term "deferred classification" includes the second, third, fourth and fifth classes of the five classes in which the registrants shall be placed. All registrants placed in class 4 have been exempted or discharged. Registrants placed in classes 3, 4 and 5 have been temporarily discharged. The

WOMEN MOTOR DRIVERS ARE NEEDED IN FRANCE

Division headquarters of the American Red Cross at Seattle has asked the Twin Falls chapter to arrange training classes for women who wish to assist in the overseas motor service. For this service the Red Cross pays all transportation and $120.00 per month while in Paris and $90.00 when out of the city.

The Twin Falls chapter is now forming a class to take courses in motor mechanics, first aid and sanitary troop drill. While only 25 drivers have been asked from this division during the next six months, there is every reason to believe that constantly increasing demands for this service will be made as time goes on, so that applicants taking the time and making the effort to become fit may feel quite sure of being called at an instant date. The nominal charges for these classes will have to be met by the applicant. Those interested in this work should telephone to Mrs. Edward Johnson at 204 for detailed information and enrollment.

WHAT GROWING AND PATRIOTISM

Contrasting the experience of the farmer in north central Kansas who 'crushed on' a five hundred acre farm and banded his whole crop this year...

The Kansas farmer's home newspaper, views the situation from another standpoint, revealing, in the following paragraph, the motive that is actuating the Kansas farmer in 'letting to their guns'...

It is surprising to a town man who rarely takes a drive through the country, to see the hundreds and thousands of acres of wheat that will be put in this fall. One would naturally think the failure of two years ago and this season's light crop coupled with the high priced seed, etc., would discourage the farmers from making another big investment...

Growing wheat at the price fixed by the Government is not an alluring prospect of patriotism in the Twin Falls country. It comes nearer being that in Kansas.

It is gratifying to note in the same issue of the newspaper from which the above quotation is taken, that a splendid rain, making seedling conditions most favorable, has just fallen.

HOW CONSERVATION HELPS

Last year Twin Falls county sent out of the county $225,000 for canned fruits and vegetables, while fruit and vegetables here rotted on the ground. This is a conservative estimate made by a man who spent $10,000 of it himself.

It serves to make definite the importance of the war time conservation work in progress now in the homes of the country.

Almost a quarter of a million dollars kept in circulation here would make a difference, and a beneficial change, here at any time.

With authorities telling us, however, that food will win the war, the home canning, on a basis strictly of food conservation, is a vital matter in the present crisis.

A quarter of a million dollars worth of canned fruit and vegetables, too, would be enough to fill a good many cars. There are other and more important uses for cars just now than in carrying canned fruit and vegetables into a country where fresh fruits and vegetables are allowed to go to waste.

There is, however, a disappointing feature of the new questionnaire in the fact that the answers of the men department that exemption would be granted without a claim clause have been disregarded...

WORK ON POTATO FLOOR

'WHILEY'—Work is progressing on the plant of the Hurley Potato Products Manufacturing company on its four-acre site on the Oakley branch of the O. S. L. just west of this city, says the Hurley Bulletin. The contractors are employing about 20 men on the job at this time, and have completed the excavation for the first potato storage cellar, about 210 feet long by 40 feet wide.

The excavation and concrete work for the main factory building, about 60 by 150 feet, is now being put in, and the drainage channels are ready for the pipe. Some of the machinery has already been shipped and the remainder has been ordered and is expected to be here by the time the buildings are completed and ready for installation. The grading for the sidetrack is completed and the track will be laid within a short time.

"Lore will find a way, Josiah." "Not in this case, unless I am the pilot and guide. I have brought up my dead cousin's daughter, Winnie, since she was ten. I've seen her education. She's a smart girl, though sometimes whimsical. I want to see her start in life right."

Josiah Leggett's neighbor smiled secretly. He knew, as did all the town, the old schemer handled a small income that he wanted to see Winnie indirectly benefited by the same. Furthermore, Winnie was an apt little housekeeper.

"I have tried to bring Winnie and the clerk in my brother's store, Len Dyer, together, because he is a serious, respectable young fellow. Winnie has had a notion about Rodney Blake—I've nipped his young affections in the bud."

"Blake is a pretty fine young man all the same," observed the neighbor, and the speaker went his way mentally comparing young Blake with the earnestly interested, underbred Len Dyer.

"You are a highly trained fisherman or jockeyman?" "Yes, my profession essential to the conduct of the war, and why?"

"Certainly to result in registration who get deferred classification decline to ask it by answering 'No' to the question, 'Do you claim exemption or deferred classification?'"

"In the gigantic progress of sorting out 12,000,000 conscientious to determine which are class I men and which belong to deferred classes the government will have to be guided to a large extent by the answer, 'Yes,' or 'No,'" on the first page of each questionnaire. The answer, no doubt, will be taken to mean that the registrant has no ground of whatsoever description for deferred classification, and consequently is a class I man."

Dependants or employers may file claims for exemption or deferred classification on behalf of the registrant, and the protest marshal general, expects them to do so if the status of the registrant warrants it.

"Why not?" "They are driving us to that as the only outcome, aren't they?" "We are watched so closely," said Rodney, "that if Leggett saw us together we'd be up to the hills with us," but Rodney slipped past a hedge with the hurried parting words:

"Be sure to swing tomorrow. I have a great idea for you." The plan was the outcome of a suggestion made by an old boyhood friend of Rodney, one Bob West. They had not met for five years until the day that Rodney came to the city across West on the street. They had a pleasant chat, and West divulged the fact that he was advance agent of a circus which was to pitch its tent in the city during the town festival. Rodney told him what he had on his mind: Winnie, always Winnie, and West showed a sympathetic interest.

"Why, say," he remarked with friendly interest, "let me help you out in a big way—the balloon."

"I don't quite understand," said Rodney vaguely. "We have one. It goes up a thousand feet every afternoon. We advertise with it, and it helps out any circus who will make the ascent with a circusman and consent to be married way up in the clouds."

Rodney left his ingenious friend, filled with improved excitement. Winnie was to get a lengthy note to Winnie. He was around the circus before the Saturday afternoon performance.

Winnie had induced her guardian to allow her to attend the entertainment. The letter, however, indicated that he accompany her.

"Here's your ticket," he said; "I've served Len, and as soon as he arrives we'll come in and make a regular family group—be it!"

And then he strolled about, and Winnie disappeared past the ticket taker, but as soon as her guardian was out of sight, she and Len again, and two minutes later entered the tent before which the giant balloon was awaiting. Inside was Rodney, and she fluttered to his side and was introduced to the balloon, and the man in charge of the balloon.

"Don't get scared, little one," spoke the letter, a good-natured, fatherly looking man. "Everything is arranged for you. Now, then, Mr. Blake, just go up to that tall box and wig. And you, young lady, cover your pretty face with this flowing birdie veil. When I speak the word come out quickly, and hustle into the balloon basket before anybody recognizes you."

Josiah Leggett spent half an hour looking for Dyzart. He came across him, with several hundred others, starting aloft the balloon, which was descending from its aerial ascent.

"I say, why wasn't you on time?" ceurred Josiah. "Here Winnie has been on in the tent half an hour, but she isn't up, or they'll fill up seats."

"Just a minute," spoke Dyzart, continuing to gaze aloft. "This is lots of rope. Let's have a slumpee of the happy couple when they alight."

The wedding party was being borne gracefully to the ground. There was the man engineering the balloon. The bridegroom had removed his false beard and wig and was smiling into the face of the bride, her eyes shining well now drawn aside. The clergyman, all smiles, held his hands over their heads, delivering his blessing.

"Now hear the crowd go by," began the crowd, and then he struck the arm of his companion and nearly fell over—"Thunder!"

GIVES OPINION BEST METHOD SELLING WHEAT

Grain Corporation Vice President Takes Into Consideration Conditions in Intermountain Region

Outlining what he considers the best and most feasible way for the market for the intermountain wheat crop, H. M. House, second vice president of the food administration grain corporation, in a letter to the state council of defense, says:

Difficulties Remain We all realize the difficulties that confront the producer on account of the geographical location of southern Idaho and the fact that the wheat, as yet, has not as well as all our other products over and above local requirements must be freighted many miles to reach their final marketing points and it is safe to say that no other section of our country is so well supplied with railroads.

Realizing these problems the grain corporation has made a price for the wheat raised in this intermountain section that will reflect $2.00 per bushel, in cash, when delivered at certain terminal markets. Unfortunately these wheat seem to have been some misinterpretation placed upon this guarantee through some parts of the intermountain territory, that the wheat was to be received and paid for at 75 cents per bushel.

Unhappily this would make an ideal marketing situation at these intermountain points but under these same conditions, this would add to the already heavy burden carried by the government during this trying period.

It would necessitate the employment of a large force that would be largely a duplication of the facilities already created at the terminals and that have and now exist in the great tract throughout the intermountain territory.

The grain corporation is endeavoring to do the fullest extent possible. The grain corporation can pay for wheat only after it is placed in store at designated terminals, thereby making it impossible for the grain corporation to pay for wheat until it is in the hands of the grain corporation.

For the grower to deliver his wheat in store at one of these designated points, which for south Idaho is Chicago, in order to market the wheat, he can guarantee price. He of course has the privilege of shipping to any other market that he may wish but he will then not get the guaranteed price.

This leaves the marketing in practically the hands of the grower and under the same conditions as in pre-war times but with the government added guarantee and our best assistance in securing shipping facilities. Needless to say, without these, the growers through this territory would be facing a rather serious situation.

Our Supply We have been doing all in our power to get an adequate allotment of cars for the prompt movement of the crop from this territory. I am sure we will realize the many calls and demands made upon the railroads for cars during the fall crop movement and on account of pressing demands and calls from other sections those undoubtedly will be times when it will be impossible for us to railroads to furnish grain to meet the needs of the intermountain points, but you may rest assured that the best attention will be given that it is possible under the circumstances, to give.

Selling of Wheat The grower can make his shipment and deliver it if he chooses, direct to the grain corporation and receive the full $2.00 per bushel, c. o. b. It is necessary to say that not many growers are in position to entirely avail themselves of this opportunity and undoubtedly most of them will elect to use the marketing facilities that were established and created before the war throughout this territory and which undoubtedly they will want to again use when we are ready to market the wheat under the successful termination of the war.

The grain corporation and the state food administration through this section, after careful consideration, hold the view that their conception of a fair price for the wheat is being paid, and that adequate car supply for reasonable prompt shipment, seven (7) cents per bushel, this to include warehousing, elevator and general forwarding charges and final delivery to the grain corporation.

As stated before, the grower or shipper can make delivery direct to the grain corporation either by direct shipment and billing, or by having their own representatives at Chicago, thereby avoiding any terminal commission charges, using their bills of lading to get advances if necessary, from their local banks, who in turn can forward their bills of lading correspondent with the town, auditor, and Rodney, their pride favorite, they realized the situation fully, and amid enthusiastic cheers the happy train stepped to terra firma, man and wife.

CITY CAFE

files and functions of the federal reserve bank are open and ready to be of assistance for general crop movements, which is generally understood by all bankers.

I have been led to believe that the commission on Chicago wheat charges one (1c) cent per bushel and also make fair and liberal advances at the current rate of interest, against bills of lading, so that the grower or the dealer could receive advances against the resources for further purchases, but they decided later on, account the war conditions, they could not do this business for less than one (1) per cent.

Premium on Sacked Wheat The premium on sacked wheat as per our bulletins of July 28 applied only to shipments to the Pacific coast and does not apply on eastern shipments, or the $2.00 guaranteed price, but on any shipments coming from that section to the Pacific coast we will of course pay the nine (9c) cent premium on basis of the $2.00 per bushel, c. o. b. can guaranteed price. He of course has the privilege of shipping to any other market that he may wish but he will then not get the guaranteed price.

This leaves the marketing in practically the hands of the grower and under the same conditions as in pre-war times but with the government added guarantee and our best assistance in securing shipping facilities. Needless to say, without these, the growers through this territory would be facing a rather serious situation.

On wheat shipped to Chicago for account of the Grain Corporation, to fully reflect the $2.00, c. o. b. price, it is necessary and essential that the wheat be billed as follows, either direct to the Grain Corporation, or if for reason of marketing draft, or for other delivery reasons, may bill to "order of the Grain Corporation," notify whoever will be returned or looking after the wheat, as illustration: If I were to make draft or was having John Smith look after final delivery, I would bill as follows: "To Order Grain Corporation, Chicago, Notify John Smith."

Why Does Idaho Wait?
 By EARL WATLAND BOWMAN
 There is one state and only one in the Pacific Northwest that has not yet accounted for its quota by pledge or purchase of War Savings Stamps.—That state is Idaho, your state and mine.
 We are proud of the First Idaho record in the Philippines; we are proud of the record of the Second Idaho on the Mexican border; we are proud of the heroism of our Idaho boys awaiting the blood-sweat of the supreme sacrifice in France.
 Are we proud of our own record here at home?
 Eight million five hundred thousand dollars of the cost of the war in this year of 1918 must be paid for with $2,500,000 Idaho has been asked to invest in War Savings Stamps; a specific and definite part of this war's expense department upon the money YOU must spend and I must spend for War Savings Stamps just as a specific and definite part of the war must be fought with the bayonet in the hands of each Idaho boy "over there."
 Suppose that boy does not fight his part? The war cannot be won.
 No more can it unless you do YOUR part and I do MY part at home.
 When Vershing calls for volunteers for the hazardous, the "sore death" bit of work that MUST be done out there in No-Man's-Land what do the soldiers do?
 Do they have to be teased, nagged, argued with—
 They fight for a chance to respond.
 "Shall we be more tender with our dollars than our sons are with their lives?"
 Idaho, Idaho, why do you wait?

 "These changes for special connection apply whether for installation of new service connection or removal from one address to another. Where an inside change, which is moving the telephone instrument on the same premises, is made, the charge is 43."

IDAHO FARMERS POOL WOOL SHIPPERS GETTING RESULTS
 Two hundred and thirty thousand pounds of wool were handled by a farmers' wool pool organized with the help of the farm bureaus of Ada and Canyon counties, Idaho, and the United States department of agriculture, says the current war week report issued by the federal government. The wool sold at 60 cents a pound, and the total amount received by the farmers was $15,400. The cost of handling was practically found to be three-tenths of a cent a pound. The farmers feel that the pool saved them several thousand dollars. Members of this year's pool are planning for next year. They are learning something of the difference grades of wool, so that next year they can grade and classify to better advantage. Through the help of the Lewis county farm bureau a similar pool was organized which shipped 190,000 pounds of wool to Salem, Oregon. The organization of this farm bureau, however, a great interest has been developed in sheep raising, and this wool pool indicates what measure of success has already been obtained. Ninety-five thousand pounds of wool were sold by the Lewis-Wool-Growers' association, developed with the help of the farm bureau in Lincoln county.

MINIDOKA PARTIES FUSE TO BEAT NON PARTISANS
 Democrats and Republicans Join Forces for Success of Union Ticket Labeled Republican
 "RUPERT"—Fusion to defeat the Non-Partisan Democratic ticket at the coming election seems to be an accomplished fact in Minidoka county, where old-line Democrats and Republicans are working together for the success of the ticket officially labeled Republican, but which is a combination of Democrats and Republicans.
 A meeting of the Republican county central committee was held Friday in Rupert to consider plans for the coming campaign and elect officers for the committee, Guy W. Shillington was elected chairman of the committee, with L. B. Redford as secretary and L. B. Shaw as secretary of the committee.
 The plan is to have in each precinct an "advisory committee," who will be a Democrat, and who will work with the regular Republican committee man during the campaign.
 The ticket is unofficially called the "ABAM" ticket and the managers of the campaign expect to elect a large part, if not all, of their candidates.

 General Orders, No. 53, recently issued by the War Department in Washington, provides:
 "A gold chevron . . . to be worn on the lower half of the left sleeve by each officer, field clerk and enlisted man who has served six months in a theatre of operations during the present war . . .
 "A war service badge—bequeathing active participation in the conflict abroad. What pride the wearer will feel in this little piece of adornment, of standard material and design!"
 To the onlookers, what honors will it suggest; what endurance and valor!
 War service badges are not to be confined to the Army and Navy alone. The great numbers of those who stay at home may have a badge of service and distinction. With the issuing of the Fourth Liberty Loan button there becomes available for every loyal American a mark of war service, badge of honor for war work well done.

FIGHT ON ROBERT PESTS SAVES FIVE PER CENT GROUP
 Five per cent of Idaho's grass crops are still ruined by the army and our allies through the campaign against squirrels carried on by the farm bureau and biological survey of the United States department of agriculture in 29 counties in the southeastern part of the state, says the current war week report of the department of agriculture. At an original output of $170,000 member of the farm bureau in Blagburn county brought to the farm bureau office 2,487 squirrel tails. He received $17.74 as a bounty for this piece of war work in Deer Lake county. 150,000 squirrel tails were presented for bounty claims the spring, following the farm bureau campaign. In Bonanza county a farmer covered his field with the poison, walked back over it in less than an hour from the time he started, and counted 278 squirrels, 6 rabbits, 10 rock chucks, and a good many field mice which had already been killed. Control work carried on one to two farms is of little avail, because the squirrels from neighboring farms soon fill up the depleted ranks of their comrades. It is only when the undertaking is county wide and state wide that it is successful. Such campaigns have been made possible by farmer's cooperation secured by the farm bureau.

WORK OR FIGHT OR BE BRANDED Most Drastic Order Yet Issued Announced by Iowa State Council of Defense

DES MOINES, Sept. 24.—The most drastic order yet issued in connection with the work or fight order in Iowa is that announced today by the state council of defense. This order will force every man in a non-essential industry to secure other work or be listed publicly as a slacker.

Ruin In Its Wake "Five-Million Men in France" If the Americans at Cantigny, at Chateau Thierry, along the Marne and around Soissons, has proved a whirlwind which won Hindenburg could not withstand this year, what will be the German terror when "Forward to Victory" rings out next year to armies that hide the plains.

The rich blood of sacrifice already strengthens the soil of American resolution from which will spring the flower of triumph. The sacrifice abroad must be met by sacrifice at home. No effort we at home can make will approach the price paid willingly by those who do not return from the battle for Democracy. ILLNESS TAKES HIM FROM FRONT

Private James G. Moore of Twin Falls Reentering at French Hospital James G. Moore, junior, of Twin Falls, a member of the Twin Falls unit of the Second Idaho regiment, who has been detailed largely to duty as an automobile mechanic and driver of an officer's car in France, is at Orleans, France, in a base hospital, recovering from illness that has necessitated his withdrawal from the front, according to word received from him Monday by the parents of Private Moore. Moore recalls in his letter that Orleans is the place where the French armies, led by Joan of Arc, met and defeated the English. He says that he attended there recent entertainment given by American minstrels. In regard to his work at the front, Private Moore says that he has been under fire "most of the time." He was driving a car recently which was wrecked in a German shell. French soldiers, he says, are harvesting wheat and other crops grown close up to the zone of action.

THRESHERMAN IS HURT IN HIS OWN MACHINE

A. Dodd, 10 miles southwest of Twin Falls, Leonard Walcott, 21, of Amsterdam, was drawn partly into the cylinder before the machine could be brought to a stop. His left leg was fractured by a tooth of the cylinder about five inches above the ankle, and was lacerated up to the knee. Nearly an hour's labor was occasioned in loosening him from the grip of the machine. Mr. Walcott was brought to the Twin Falls county general hospital, where he is recovering from his injuries.

THE TRUTH ABOUT CANDY

How Much Candy Should We Eat?

"Where Shall We Stop to Stay Within the Bounds of Patriotism?" That's a question which puzzles many of us. We all know that we must "go easy" on sugar, as it is our duty to conserve. And candy contains some sugar. So how can we know how much to eat? In the first place, we must not forget that our system needs some sugar, and this the Food Administration recognizes. We must remember, too, that some people like their sugar in coffee, some in fruit, and some in other ways. If you like yours in the form of candy, eat some candy—no more than the Food Administration permits; a certain share is yours—no more per month. The Food Administration is keeping in close touch with the sugar situation and allotting the candy manufacturers as much as it can see fit way clear to allow. Everyone is being asked to save on sugar; the candy manufacturers have been asked to save half of all they formerly used. But that which is being given them is being given them because the Food Administration recognizes candy as a food and is willing to permit it to be made and sold. It also knows that the candy-making industry is a big national industry, and that it is the duty of everyone to help keep industries going at home at the same time that we are winning the war.

So the candy manufacturers are permitted to make a certain amount of candy and offer it for sale to you. But the Food Administration says how much that shall be. When the sugar allotted the manufacturers is used up no more can be had. So you may know that the candy you see on sale is there with the permission and the sanction of the Food Administration. And you can enjoy that candy to the fullest. While you eat it or send it away to a soldier (if you prefer), you will know that every pound is high in food value—good, wholesome food, supplying the system with carbohydrates (fuel for the body).

In normal times the candy industry now uses only 8% of the sugar consumed per capita in this country. Right now this amount has been cut severely in two.

Just a Little Housewife Chat on the Side

EVERYBODY except Old Man Science knows that the very first aviator was the broomstick witch. And those in the secret are equally aware that she has always been jealous of that cow that jumped over the moon—for why? The greatest altitude she has ever been able to attain is the cobweb district this side the sky, where the sweeping hand is to be done, but—there are starting times and the first thing that witch knows she will be topping the cow record, because that is where the price of brooms is soaring today. A woman bought one and paid a dollar for it without one word of complaint because the ground is paid for when. Another woman, an ancient soul with a skin the brown of tobacco, well cured, offered the affable statement that it "wasn't worth a quail." She had bought one "for seven or eight cents" and it was so chuffy that before she could tanner run't anything but a nibble—and "always" at that—that's the Lawd's wife.

"Did you not overlook it a bucket of salted water to toughen the straw? That makes a broom last three times as long. And maybe it was sideways because you left it stand on its own weight instead of hanging it by the handle." "Lawds, you know 'buff' 'bout brooms to be their own word, don't you? Huh, huh! Now, 'leed, child. I hearh there's the 'us' word about 'nussik' brooms like that, an' I'm o'er 'nuff to rec'de' when Shuman come 'marching' down our road. Bid, lemme tell you, we ain't nait one of us too old or up'ly to 'use good advice, an' I'm galter s'ak do not' broom do good. Lawd sees it to get 'em—yes, hee, dat's me. But I do not' know 'war' I'm ever gwine to aint' money to throw away on a broom. They's a dollah extra an' putty soon they'll be gittin' 'high enough to jump oveh the moon, huh, huh." So that is how you know what is coming to the broomstick witch.

HELP ITALY'S MESSAGE FROM INVESTIGATOR

Moral and Material Support Badly Needed by People of That Nation—Coal Must Be Had in Quantities

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Ten divisions of American troops in Italy could win the war for Italy, says a message from an investigator.

Russell was a member of the Social Democracy league association which went abroad to study war conditions. "I have seen the Italian soldiers in Italy, the war could be ended by Christmas, or before," he said. "This is not a rash assertion of a civilian that has seen only a few battle fronts, but it is the deliberate opinion of military observers who have studied the exact situation in Italy."

"Even if the Americans never fired a shot on the battle line nor never went to a training camp, the effect of their presence in Italy would be so tremendous that in all probability the Italians would break the Austrian line and inflict a blow that would practically end Austria out of the war. With twelve American legs on the battle line this result is regarded as absolutely certain."

Should Send More Aid

"Italy ought to have the most liberal and practical support from the United States. She is at present in very sore need of coal, steel and in some extent of lubricating oil. Last winter, she was practically without coal, and the hardships of the people, especially in northern Italy, was very real and very great. She ought not to be compelled to go through another such winter. The normal coal supply of Italy in peacetime, comes from Great Britain. Great Britain, this winter, for certain reasons, will be unable to supply Italy with even as much coal as she used last year."

Send Every Effort

"It is of the gravest importance that the people of Italy, who have endured with wonderful fortitude far more and far worse things than we in America have ever imagined, should not be compelled to go through another such winter. With the proper effort in this country, with only a little of this spirit of sacrifice of which the people in the other allied countries have shown so much, we ought to be able to spare far for certain reasons, will be unable to supply Italy with even as much coal as she used last year."
