GREAT SQUEEZE TIGHTENING ON AMERICAN LINE

Capture of Chatel-Chehery in Argonne Pocket Intensifies Pressure on Boche West of the Aire

IMPORTANT HILLS ARE CAPTURED BY STORM

American Attack Results in Decisive Victory Within Few Hours After Start—Many Hun Guns Taken

By FRED S. FERGUSON WITH THE AMERICAN FIRST ARMY, Oct. 8.—The Germans are squeezed tighter in the Argonne pocket, as the result of the capture of Chatel-Chehery and the heights west of the Aire yesterday's furious all-day battle.

Hills 180 and 244 were stormed, robbing the boche of dominating positions overlooking the Aire, and simultaneously closing in tighter the east flank of the Argonne salient.

The enemy artillery on the heights west of the Aire was captured in less than five and a half hours after the American attack started. One division in the last couple of days, captured eight 77's and 75 machine guns, in addition to a Belgian field piece which was used by the Boche.

A considerable movement northward of artillery and supplies has been observed back of Cunel and Sommerance. Cunel is three miles west of Brienne. Sommerance is six miles west of Cunel. Both are strong points in the Kriemhilde line.

Enemy Continues Evacuation

WITH THE AMERICAN FIRST ARMY, Oct. 8.—The Germans continue evacuating the Champagne territory opposite the Americans and northwest of Rheims.

The lines are temporarily stationary, however, as the enemy is evidently holding its front positions in an effort to delay the allies long enough permit moving of guns and supplies from the townlands dominated by American artillery.

AMERICANS AND BRITISH HIT ENEMY LINES AT WEAK SPOT—EASTERN MENACE GROWS

WAR SUMMARY

AMERICANS and British attacked today at the very point on the west front where the German prepared defenses are the thinnest.

Haig announced that the assault was between St. Quentin and Cambrai in the midst of a rainstorm, and that "satisfactory progress" had been made. The battle front between those two cities is about 25 miles long. Americans are operating in the vicinity of Beaurevoir and Montbrehain, where a breach was recently made in the Beaurevoir-Fonsomme line, the last subsidiary defense behind the Hindenburg line. The gap was closed at that time by a terrific enemy counter-attack, which threw the British back more than a mile.

Haig's Anglo-American attack this morning may well be another effort to pierce the Beaurevoir-Fonsomme line and menace the great German supply base of LeCateau, eleven miles to the northeast. Success of such an operation also would open the way for a flanking movement against Valenciennes, 17 miles north of LeCateau, which intended to be the chief bastion of the next great enemy defense system.

While this attack is under way, the Americans are continuing their pressure against the Germans in the Argonne pocket, west of the Aire river and the French are driving northward on the Suippe river line, where they were last reported within a mile of Neufachetel. The French drive is also deepening the salient which contains Craonne, Laon and the St. Gobain massif.

Unofficial reports have been received that the Serbians are before Nish, that the Austrians are evacuating Belgrade and that Mackensen has arrived in Northern Serbia to save the remnants of the Austro-German armies, which the Allies are pursuing northward.

The Austrians in Albania are in danger of being cut off by the Allies in Serbia, who have pushed well northward of the main Austrian armies in the later retreat northward before the Italians. A sudden drive westward from Serbia to the Adriatic would completely encircle the Austrians.

The Allies, advancing northward of Aleppo from Damascus, may have an important marine base through seizure of the Mediterranean seaport of Beirut by French naval forces.

GERMAN U-BOATS MAY BE LOOSED AGAINST COAST

American Naval Officials Anticipate Possible Resumption of Submarine Raids on Atlantic Seaboard

By RAYMOND CLAFFER WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Realizing that Germany is likely to start a desperate U-boat drive against transports and troop ships if her peace offensive fails, American naval officials and British first lord of the admiralty, Fisher, began conferring here today over combative measures.

Indications point to the loosening of practically every U-boat in the Teuton service against the allied supply lines. However, authorities believe that this effort, like its predecessor, is doomed to failure on the whole, because of reduced U-boat efficiency.

Factors making the forthcoming campaign less dangerous than previous operations were pointed out today as:

- 1.—Personnel of U-boats is disrupted, so much so that submarines are now rated as only one-fiftieth as effective as at the start of the war.
2.—Submarines have been driven from the coast and must operate far out at sea, where their prey is more scattered.
3.—They have been forced to leave the channel bases and operate around the North Sea reducing their effectiveness.

40-MILE RETREAT PENDING

Military Command Strains Every Nerve to Hold Back Allied Armies Until New Defense System Can Be Completed

By LOWELL MELLETT

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Oct. 8.—The German high command is definitely preparing to retire its armies at most points as a result of shattering of the Hindenburg line and continued allied pressure from the North Sea to Verdun.

The enemy is expected to take up new positions, roughly 20 to 40 miles farther back. The latest information shows the Valenciennes-Olive line is not ready and that the retirement must be delayed as long as possible. But the allied armies are seriously interrupting the German plans and may force the backward movement before the enemy is willing.

French Advance North Of Rheims

PARIS, Oct. 8.—French troops advanced about a mile in the region north of Rheims yesterday, reaching the village of Coude, at the junction of the Suippe, a mile east of Banancourt, was fire announced today.

Banancourt, eight miles northeast of Rheims, was captured, and Isles-Sur-Suippe, a mile east of Banancourt, was penetrated.

"By the region of St. Quentin, there was artillery activity last night," the communique said.

"On the Suippe front, we reached the borders of Coude. We also penetrated Isles-Sur-Suippe and took Banancourt despite violent defense, and German counter-attacks.

British and Yanks In New Attack

LONDON, Oct. 8.—British and American troops attacked between St. Quentin and Cambrai before dawn this morning, Field Marshal Haig announced.

Despite a heavy rain, "satisfactory progress" was made. The battle front between St. Quentin and Cambrai is about 25 miles long. Recent dispatches showed the Americans operating in the Beaurevoir-Montbrehain region, at the farthest point of the allied advance.

"In successful local operations yesterday in the neighborhood of Montbrehain and north of Beaurevoir, American and English troops took 250 prisoners," the statement said.

"Shortly before dawn, we attacked between St. Quentin and Cambrai. In spite of a heavy rain, which commenced last night, and is still continuing, fighting indicates satisfactory progress was made."

ARGONNE SCENE OF DESPERATE YANK ADVANCE

American Progress Now Approaching Grandpre Road, Important Means of Inter-Allied Communication

ELIMINATE HUNS FROM MAJORITY OF POSITIONS

Major Offensive Standstill Avoided But Nibbling Process Meeting With Splendid Success Near the Meuse

By J. W. T. MASON

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The American progress between the Argonne Forest and the Meuse river is now approaching the Grandpre road, which serves as a connecting line, when captured, for the Americans on the west and east flanks of the forest.

It is apparently General Pershing's present purpose to move his front between the Argonne and the Meuse to Grandpre, and by effecting a junction with the French and the Americans to the west, squeeze the Germans out of the southern half of the forest area. The Franco-Americans, who are operating on the west side of the Meuse, have recently halted their advance at the western entrance to the Grandpre passage. Their drive toward Vouziers, which is the base for a main movement against the whole of the Argonne, has come to a temporary rest because of the immense reserve force which Von Hindenburg has thrown into this sector.

No Major Offensives

Marshal Foch will not countenance a major offensive by the Allies at present; anywhere along the west front. Hence, the French and Americans are continuing on the west side of the Argonne, and clean out the Argonne of its insupportable machine gun nests and concealed artillery positions by a single movement.

But while waiting for a more favorable opportunity to resume the advance to the west of Argonne, General Pershing has undertaken his very arduous work of forging ahead on the east border. The Americans are little more than five miles north of Grandpre, but they are subjected to a constant flank attack all the way by the enemy concealed in the Argonne.

On Narrow Front

The fact that the American front between the Argonne and the Meuse measures no more than a dozen miles, is also a handicap.

Nevertheless, the creeping advance continues as the Americans are following the course of the Aire river, which borders the Argonne on the east and runs through the Grandpre pass into the Alsace on the western side.

When the Americans reach Grandpre, their right wing on the Meuse can be advanced very considerably toward St. Enay, to cut off Luxembourg, which continues to be General Pershing's main objective.

THE TRUTH ABOUT CANDY

There's a Certain Amount of Candy Coming to You If You Wish to Forego Taking it, Then Send it to a Soldier.

The Food Administration finds it can set aside a certain amount of sugar for candy making and this amount (now about 4% of the total yearly production) is being given to the candy makers.

When you use candy offered for sale, you know that it is made with sugar which the Food Administration has set aside for that purpose.

Part of that candy is yours—your system will find it good food. But don't on wish to forego it, you can show your patriotism by sending it to some soldier boy.

Ask any soldier why he eats candy so eagerly, and he will tell you it is because candy is of tremendous value as a food. A pound of candy is much more nourishing than a pound of beefsteak. During violent exertions and heavy work (according to scientists), the system draws very heavily on its natural heat or "body fuel". This body fuel is composed of carbohydrates. These carbohydrates are supplied to the system largely through the sugar which is eaten. Some people take sugar with coffee; others eat it heavily on fruit; others like them made up into candy and mixed with fruits and nuts and other ingredients used in candy making. It is much a matter of individual taste.

Blindfold General L. W. Waller of the United States Marines, referring to the food value of chocolate, says: "I never went into a campaign without chocolate. I always have a few cakes of it in my kit when I go into service. Much as I like the stuff on chocolate, it is particularly good in hot weather. Second soldiers take it on the march with them."

(Chocolate is made up mainly of cocoa, sugar and sometimes milk.) Soldiers in all armies are eating more and more candy. The British army officers say that their men have eaten five times the amount of candy first estimated.

Candy, which went into this war was considered a luxury for many people but now firmly established (as a necessary food for men who work hard).

Every pound of candy represents tremendous food value. It will supply you with body fuel—if you don't require it, send your share to some soldier. The designer can't work the more the system needs the high percentage of carbohydrates contained in your pound of candy.

In normal times the candy industry uses only 1% of the sugar consumed per capita in this country. Right now this amount has been cut sharply in two.

JURY RETURNS VERDICT ON WOMAN'S DEATH

Finds Morphine Poison Fatal
Drug in Case of Mrs. May Young

That Mrs. May Young, 25, of Meridian, who was discovered fatally drugged Friday night in a barn on the country fair grounds at Tiler, came to her death as a result of morphine poisoning was the verdict returned Monday afternoon by the jury empaneled by Coroner C. J. Crosby at an inquest to inquire into the circumstances surrounding her death. The remains were taken Monday evening to Meridian by W. L. Young, husband of the dead woman, who had left her there two weeks before to go to Kenyon, Idaho, where, he said, he was to take charge of a store owned by his father, and where he expected to be joined by his wife and their five year old daughter.

Companion Testifies
The testimony of Frank Pierce, a cook employed on the fair grounds at Tiler, who had made the acquaintance of Mrs. Young in Boise in 1905 and who had been in her company on the day she was found drugged, and who had drunk from the bottle containing the drugged liquor, was introduced at the inquest. He was unable to shed any light on where Mrs. Young might have obtained the liquor or poison. He appeared to be deeply moved by the tragedy.

Sheriff F. M. Kendall also related his official connection with the case and told of unsuccessful efforts on the part of his office to trace the source of the poison. E. R. Dooley, graduate chemist, gave the results of his analysis of the contents of the dead woman's stomach. Dr. T. A. Bright of Filer, who attended Mrs. Young, and Dr. W. F. Pike of Twin Falls, were called upon to explain the effect of various kinds of poison, and both gave it as their opinion that the inquest had caused the death of Mrs. Young.

The jury at the inquest was composed of W. W. Humphrey, Don Mackay, Phil Lovelass, J. E. Melton, Alfred O'Brien and B. A. Graham.

QUIT, THEN

It is not singular that there should be a complete unanimity of views as to the proper reply to be made to the German peace overtures. It would be singular if there wasn't.

If Germany wants to quit, let her quit. If she desires to retire from Belgium, then discuss the conditions under which she would be willing to quit, why, she fought her way into Belgium, let her fight her way out.

Chiefly, this is about the consensus of public judgment. There is little question what it will be in line with the President's judgment.

Germany, defeated, may have peace; Germany, without, should be compelled to fight on, clear to the bitter end.

The civilized world is not going to forget Belgium in the excitement of a howl for mercy in the guise of a move for peace.

FALSE REPORTS HIT BOND DRIVE

State Chairman Calls On Citizens to Answer Kaiser's Peace Overture

(Special to The News) BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 8.—Chairman Monte B. Gwinn, in charge of Idaho's fourth Liberty Loan drive, today made the following statement: "The false report that the war is over has spread over the state and has had a bad effect on the fourth Liberty Loan drive in Idaho."

He said that he is about the consensus of public judgment. There is little question what it will be in line with the President's judgment.

Germany, defeated, may have peace; Germany, without, should be compelled to fight on, clear to the bitter end.

LOVE'S WITCHERY

By LEE VERONE ALLAN. (Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.) "You have done me a great favor," said Dudley North, shaking hands with a companion in a passenger coach.

"Don't speak of it. I'm only glad that the people at Hillside were so disappointed. Remember, though, you are Robert Wade."

"You got my leave by heart," laughed the other. "I'm really drifting, leaving it to chance where he would land. Dudley North had entered into a casual conversation with his seat mate on the train. The latter had told him that he was bound for Weston, but he had intended going to Hillside up to that morning."

"You see," he explained, "some people at Hillside sent to an agency in the city for a chauffeur. I agreed to take the position. Only this morning, though, an old employer sent for me. Merry to disappoint the agency and the Worthingtons. They expect me on this train tomorrow."

"So here," interpolated North, "I want work. Wonder if I couldn't get in?" And an hour later, fully posted, he arrived at the station of the Little town in the distance.

"You're a good fellow," chattered on Miss Gladys Worthington. "I'll call out 'night' or 'left,' just before we reach a turn."

"I'll certainly be obliged," said North. "I'm sure the sense of emotion the very human Gladys had indicated, became congealed as her queenly maid appeared and with chilling hauteur spoke the mandatory word: "Home."

"The very first thing you will see on this junction thoroughfare," "Right," directed a sly reply; another turn, and "Left."

"You say annoy me," spoke the haughty Miss Gladys. "You'd be worse annoyed if Mr. Wade than in my name I believe—look you out of your way."

"Your chauffeur can be instructed by the house," planned Miss Hortense frigidly.

After that North was always glad when Gladys was the solo passenger in the car.

"Mr. Wade," she said one day, when he had halted the machine at the side of a lonely country road while some little children, guests of Gladys, were gathering flowers, "would you feel better if I put you some kind of hat, being trying to whip into shape for a club party a group of us have started?"

"I should be greatly pleased," avowed North, and the pure, clear sentiments manifested by the maiden showed the true innocence and ingenuousness of this unspooled daughter of the rich. North forgot himself in suggesting correction, in perfecting the rhythm of the little phrase.

Flag Made for Tuscania Burial Placed in Museum

FRANCIS WILSON has deposited in the United States National museum a flag which will excite in the hearts of the people feelings of the deepest gratitude toward our allies. It is the United States flag used at the burial of American soldiers who were lost with the sinking of the Lusitania.

It is hand made. It was transmitted to the president by McVillie B. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, and has been placed on exhibition in the entrance hall of the older museum building, where are displayed many priceless relics of American heroes of former wars. It is accompanied by three photographs, one of the group of five makers of the flag, one of Hugh Morrison, and one of Collis Campbell of Fort Ellen, who provided clothing and necessities for the American survivors from the Tuscania who landed at Port Ellen on the Mull of Oa.

A AMERICAN pluck and perseverance beats German brute force and Yankee ingenuity humbles sinister Boche intrigue.

PRESBYTERIANS TO HOLD SYNOD IN TWIN FALLS

Pastors and Leading Members From Many Sections of State to Take Part in Historical Gathering Here

Presbyterians of southern Idaho have their annual rally when the synod of Idaho holds its tenth meeting at Twin Falls on Thursday night. This tenth meeting, and the fact that it is held in Twin Falls, recalls the coincidence that the first meeting of synod, appointed for organization, was held in the same city, with Dr. J. H. Barton of Boise as convener. The same Dr. Barton who was at that time pastor of the First Presbyterian church in this city, was elected the first moderator.

The synod has grown until it now includes in its membership 60 ministers and 51 churches, who are distributed through three presbyteries. These churches enroll 4619 members.

An historical celebration has been arranged for Thursday evening, in view of the arrival of the synod at its tenth meeting. Rev. J. H. Barton, D. D., is to give an address on "Laying the Foundations of Presbyterianism in Idaho"; Rev. Hugh W. Rankin of Pocatello is to speak on "Gospel Planning Through Sabbath School Missions"; and President W. J. Boone of the College of Religious Education in "Our State." This program is to be presided over by Rev. Edward N. Murphy of Boise, who has been a pastor for many years in the synod.

Big Speakers From Abroad.
The speakers from away abroad are the following: Rev. George T. Scott of New York, associate secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, who was for some years a member of the faculty of the Syrian Protestant college in Beirut, Turkey; Rev. W. J. Boone of San Francisco, western district secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, who was for 16 years a missionary in Tokyo, Japan, and Mrs. J. W. Aldrich of Oakland, Cal., field secretary of the Woman's Board of Home Missions.

They will take part in the meeting as follows: Robert M. Dogaldson, D. D., is one of the synod's committee on church extension. As he is in Ohio part in the prohibition campaign, cannot attend the meeting of the synod, but will send his report as chairman, and also a report in his capacity as representative in the Home Mission council, which meets once a year in connection with the general assembly.

Dr. Barton of Report.
Rev. J. H. Barton, D. D., will report as synodal superintendent of home missions, an office which he has held since the organization of the synod and also as chairman of the committee on comedy and historical materials.

STATE GRADING BENEFIT TO GROWERS AND DEALERS

Grain Inspector Gives Rules for Obtaining Service for Official Grade

BOISE.—State Grain Inspector R. J. Leth is responsible for the statement that there are very few grain firms in the state who have the necessary equipment for properly grading wheat. In most cases neither the farmer nor the dealer is assured of the correct grade. The farmer is not the only loser in this game, however. Much wheat is purchased on too high a grade and the dealer stands the loss. Possibly such losses and gains may compensate for each other to the dealer, but not so to the individual farmer. State grading is the only recourse.

Mr. Leth further stated that better service could be given if the rules for submitting wheat samples were always followed. A common difficulty is the submission of too small a sample. Three plants is the smallest sample it is possible to grade.

The grade determined by the state grain inspector becomes binding on both buyer and seller when the sample is justly selected by them.

The law demands that a sample be submitted for the official state grade upon demand of either party concerned. Failure of the proper party on his wheat if he so desires. Likewise it protects the dealer from unknowingly buying wheat at a higher grade than is justified.

Why the "Von."
"Von" before a name in German denotes a privilege title, either inherited or bestowed by a monarch upon his subject for meritorious services. While formally this prefix was found in military or feudal families only, many comedians, capitalists and artists were so honored by their monarchs. The title is either hereditary or ceases with the death of the distinguished person.

RED CROSS ADDS TO HOSPITAL FACILITIES

Three New Buildings Meeting Completion in England to Care for American Patients

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Brigading the Americans with the British in the present offensive and the number of Yankee soldiers in England has resulted in the American Red Cross expending money at the rate of almost $50,000,000 in England. The large number of American soldiers in Great Britain has caused the Red Cross to establish many new hospitals and relief stations, the report says.

Soldiers who are transferred to England for rest and treatment, will be cared for in an American Red Cross hospital by American doctors and American nurses. Three new hospitals are nearing completion. One of these, situated near Southampton, with a capacity of 5000 beds, will be the largest American military hospital in the country.

COUNTY GOES OVER THE TOP IN BOND DRIVE

Chairman C. D. Thomas Reports Oversubscription of Liberty Loan Quota—Place on Honor Roll Promised

Twin Falls county is the tenth county in Idaho to report its fourth Liberty Loan quota subscribed and should be near the top of the honor roll in the twelfth district. This is the statement made by State Chairman M. O. Gwin, this morning, replying to the report of County Chairman C. D. Thomas to the effect that the county's quota had been oversubscribed Monday night. The state chairman also expressed thanks to all citizens and workers who made possible the subscription of the full quota in record time.

Chairman C. D. Thomas this morning reported total subscriptions in this county in the sum of $1,039,600. The county's quota was $1,000,000.

The Twin Falls district has not yet subscribed its proportion of $400,000, but is expected to do so before nightfall. The Dahl district reports its quota of $229,000 subscribed and promises to oversubscribe by 10 per cent.

Subscription by Districts

HEAVY INCREASE IN BOND SALES

Peace Talk Has No Effect, Except for Good, on Loan Subscriptions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Against a handicap of Spanish influenza and peace talk the fourth Liberty Loan today showed an overnight increase of $81,000,000. This brings the total subscription today to $1,400,051,000.

Liberty loan campaigns have been torn to tatters by the Spanish influenza. It has spread to Kansas City and Atlanta, federal reserve district, where schools, theaters and all public meetings have been abandoned. Despite ravages of the epidemic in the south, the Atlanta district made encouraging reports today. The district chairman declared the district had subscribed more than 25 per cent of its quota. Official figures show only 10 per cent subscription, however. Well organized home-to-home canvasses are in regular progress throughout the south. Reports from Nashville, Chattanooga, Birmingham and Jacksonville, indicate that their quotas will be attained by the end of the week. Philadelphian campaigners have adopted herculean measures to do the influenza handicap. Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be gala days in Philadelphia with a three-day program to put the loan over in that city.

All Fight Peace Talk

In every section of the country, committees are making strenuous efforts to combat the effect of the peace talk. While for the most part the average citizen apparently is aware of the efforts of the propaganda, the situation admittedly is serious, according to reports from the treasury.

GERMAN U-BOATS MAY BE LOOSED AGAINST COAST

—Defensive adjustment and convey system have made successful attack more difficult.

A larger number of German submarines are now in operation than at any time during the war and the armistice is believed to be advancing steadily.

Effectiveness is Reduced

Because of the heavy protection given to troop ships and supplies from America the work of hunting down the submarines has been interfered with to some extent and the actual destruction of U-boats has probably decreased, although the effectiveness of the submarines has been reduced at the same time.

Elimination of the Flanders submarine flotilla is one of the biggest forward steps in the anti-submarine campaign, members of the British naval mission declared today. Blocking of the Ostend and Zeebrugge repeat bases by sinking of British war vessels destroyed these havens completely for some time.

British airmen dropping an average of seven tons of explosives daily over these forces their abandonment.

U-boats are now operating out of Wilhelmshaven, near Heligoland, but they were forced to go out through the North Sea, cutting over 30 per cent from their traveling radius.

PEACE RESTS ON HUNS' GOOD FAITH

upon the practical details of their application.

"The president feels bound to say with regard to the suggestion of an armistice that he would not feel at liberty to propose a cessation of arms to the governments with which the government of the United States is associated against the central powers so long as the armies of those powers are upon their soil. The good faith of any discussion would manifestly depend upon the consent of the central powers immediately to withdraw their forces everywhere from invaded territory.

"The president also feels that he is justified in asking whether the imperial chancellor speaking merely for the constituted authorities of the empire who have so far conducted the war. He demands the answer to these questions vital from every point of view."

German Peace Note

The translation of the German note as presented by Swiss chargé d'affaires Octetia said:

"The German government requests the president of the United States of America to take steps for the restoration of peace, to notify all belligerents of this request and to invite them to delegate plenipotentiaries for the purpose of taking up negotiations.

"The German government requests the president of the United States in his message to congresses of January 8, 1918, and in his subsequent announcements, particularly in his address of September 27, 1918.

"In order to avoid further bloodshed the German government requests the president to give about the immediate conclusion of a general armistice on land, on water and in the air."

Would Talk to German People

The president also made a subtle maneuver when in his message he inquired whether Prince Max spoke for Germany's war lords or was the people's mouthpiece as well. If, as generally believed here, Germany's peace offer was hypocritical, the president's answer is designed to put the masters of Germany into a diplomatic hole. They must now accept President Wilson's peace terms as a whole in good faith or stand before the world convicted of deceit.

His query as to the exact meaning of Prince Max's proposal was interpreted here as the result of Allied pressure for leaving the way open to further Teutonic concessions.

Next Out of Belgium

His next paragraph—the projected refusal to deal with the Germans while still on Allied soil—was the distinctly American response to the German offer.

Authorities here believe that Germany can not answer the queries satisfactorily, and hence there will be no peace negotiations at this time.

The president's reply was taken as fully squaring with advance predictions of a refusal to accept the Teutons' offer.

But the fact that the president left an opening for further dealings came as more or less of a surprise. It was generally hailed, however, as an ingenious means of discrediting the Kaiser and his associates.

May Have Trouble at Home

If they refuse now to make peace clearly on the president's terms, they will be in trouble with their own people, it was held. At the same time, the note by indirect reference to the president's previous position as not dealing with the High Seas fleet, but instead with men actually representing the German people.

The state department had nothing to say as to the disposition of the American peace offer and the English offer reported to be en route.

Delightful aroma and taste, and freedom from the discomforts that go with coffee.

Nourishing healthful, economical.

No WASTE at all—an important item these days. Give INSTANT POSTUM a trial.

Shoulders All Baking Cares

When CALUMET comes in, all baking troubles take quick leave. You go right ahead and mix up baking materials, for biscuits—cakes—anything you desire with impunity. Calumet makes you forget failure.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

is the most popular because it does give more perfect results. It has the big advantage because it is the most economical. The fact that it is the most popular is further proof that it is the best. A little Calumet makes your breads and cakes just as good. Buy Calumet if you are a home baker. You can't afford to lose your money back.

Calumet contains only such ingredients as have been approved officially by the U. S. Food authorities.

See how you can get it. You save when you get it.

SIREN SIGNALS FOR DAILY VICTORY PRAYER

"Washington has a 'victory whistle' and Washington prays daily for victory. This monument from White House at noon from the top of the Evans Building and it is the signal for a military prayer for our boys overseas." Here is the picture at the unveiling of the siren.

Wetproof Steel Lined Shot Shells

DOUBLE your duck hunting luck in rough weather with the right shotshell—Remington UMC Smokeless "Arrow" or "Nitro Club" Wetproof Steel Lined "Speed Shells," made to stay dry and firm as a bullet no matter how wet the pocket that contains them, and shoot right.

With the right shells in your Remington UMC Pump Gun or Autoloading Shotgun there will be no hitch at the critical moment—no gun jammed with a water-soaked and swelled shell—no fixated shots from mushy turn-overs of the shell ends.

Remington UMC Smokeless "Arrow" and "Nitro Club" Wetproof Steel Lined "Speed Shells" are completely proof against wet by a wonderful shooting method which took three years to perfect. This improvement costs you nothing.

Just buy the same favorite "Arrow" or "Nitro Club" brand, as usual, at the regular price. You will get the Wetproof improvement extra.

In black powder shells, buy the old reliable "New Club," now Wetproof sealed at turnover and top wad.

Sold by Sporting Goods Dealers in Your Community. Check and all over you with R.D.I. Co., the exclusive New Powder Seller, Lubbers and Case Providers.
