AN ATLANTIC PORT, Oct. 15.—The transport America sank at her pier in 26 minutes today. All soldiers aboard escaped. It was reported that some members of the crew were missing, but later it was stated all hands had been accounted for.

The sinking is believed to have been caused by water pouring in through an open portlock as the ship was loaded. Preparations are being made to raise the vessel.

"DON'T SLACKEN PACE" IS SIR GEDDES' ADVICE

First Lord of British Admiralty Does Not Anticipate Easy Peace

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—"We must not relax the muscles of our fighting arm, nor our war effort in any anticipation of early peace," Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the British admiralty, declared last night at a dinner of the Pilgrim society in the course of an appeal to the United States to speed its construction of the U-boat.

SIX-MILE GAIN ON 35-MILE FRONT AND 10,000 PRISONERS RESULT OF ONE DAY'S FIGHTING IN FLANDERS

WAR SUMMARY

ATTACKED by land and sea, the Germans in Flanders of about 35 miles.

Have been thrown back more than six miles on a front of about 35 miles. Belgians, British and French participated in the assault, which began yesterday morning between Dixmude and Werwecq. More than 10,000 prisoners already have been taken.

Roulers was captured early in the fighting, and the Belgians pushed four miles to the eastward, occupying Ickhem. At the same time the British reached the northern outskirts of Menin, less than four miles north of Twercoing.

A British monitor entered Ostend harbor about five miles to the eastward of the point where the battle line touches the North Sea and bombarded the defenses of that enemy submarine base. It is rumored the warship was feeling out the German positions, preparatory to a major naval action against both Ostend and Zeebrugge.

The Belgian communique last night stated that the Belgians and French attacked on a front of about twelve miles, between the Handzewe canal and the Roulers-Menin road. It announced liberation of the villages of Handzewe, Cortemarek, Cite, St. Joseph, Hoogdele, Beveret, Rumbek, Beythme, Quekene and Winkel St. Elot.

At noon the French took Roulers by assault. The Belgians then advanced a total depth of ten kilometers, more than six miles, reaching the outskirts of Lendelede and capturing Iseghem.

A great number of civilians were released. The Germans set fire to Roulers, Hoogdele and Gits. (Continued on Page Eight)

ESCAPED HUN OFFICER UNDER ARREST AGAIN

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 5.—After aiding the government for six months, Fred Seiguer, petty officer in the German navy, who escaped from Mare Island, Calif., was today under arrest here. J. Herbert Cole, agent for the department of justice, said the man had been living in Detroit under the assumed name since his escape.

By JOHN DE GANDT

PARIS, Oct. 15 (5:05 p. m.)—Beyond La Fere and Leen the advance of the French armies continued today, according to advices from the front received in Paris. In the sector northeast of La Fere they are making progress toward Grey-Sun-Barre. This thrust is greatly impeding the German advance in the line that has been sticking in the line between Gules and a point north of La Fere.

These enemy forces are in a salient and are liable to be caught in the rear by the French advance toward Grey, American and French forces in the Champagne are pushing on toward Duzy, northeast of Grandpre. The Germans in this region have the difficult Ardennes country at their backs.

French troops have taken Barometon Oct. six miles north of Leen, and have crossed the Aisne river west of Grandpre in the Champagne, taking the towns of Clisy and Termes, the war office stated this morning.

While the Allies are driving in both flanks on the western front, salient, already badly battered, a political strike is reported to have broken out in Bohemia and Moravia, attended by big demonstrations in the western provinces of the empire, whose independence has been recognized by the Allies.

These provinces are in the northern part of Austria, on the German border. Should the revolt there prove successful, it may mark the beginning of the splitting up of the central empire, with the overthrow of the autocratic Hapsburgs and Hohenzollerns.

French forces, driving northward in the Champagne, west of Grandpre, have taken Clisy and Termes. These towns are in the western fringe of the Argonne forest, north of the Argonne pass. Directly north of them is the last stretch of the famous wooded country, but it is believed to be not so strongly defended as the main forest, which was conquered by French and American.

Drive In Wedges To the eastward, between the Argonne and the Meuse, the American first army is pushing its way through the German strong points and the American second army is also in action. The whole operation is showing in the southern flank of the huge salient sticking into northern France, while the French armies above Leen are battering in the nose of the wedge and the Americans and British in Picardy have started its western side.

Above Leen the French have touched Stenay Oct. six miles north. Two parallel highways running from Leen make the progress easier in this region.

Third Phase of Argonne-Meuse Battle Results in Capture of Romagne and Cunel, Beyond Aire River

By FRANK J. TAYLOR

WITH THE AMERICAN FIRST ARMY, Oct. 15.—Swinging into the third phase of the Argonne-Meuse battle, the Americans have crossed the Aire river, captured Romagne and Cunel, and reached Champagneuil, St. George and Landreux.

The infantry attacked yesterday morning after a terrific all-night bombardment which blasted the Germans out of their forward positions. After the first jump the doughboys encountered deadly machine gun resistance and their advance was also made more difficult by the nature of the terrain. They were last reported on the outskirts of St. Juvin, into which they were pushing.

Make Rapid Gains In their advance with the French in the Champagne the Americans gained more than 20 miles in the three days ending Sunday night. They now menace Bethel. General Gouraud has given high praise to the speed and efficiency of the American fighting units. Germany's acceptance of President Wilson's 14 points failed to excite the soldiers. "They were skeptical about accepting Germany's word. The doughboys are not willing to quit unless victory is assured. They manifested absolute confidence in the Allies' ability to handle the situation."

Under the regulation it will be possible to purchase only a half month's supply of sugar between the first and fifteenth day of the month and between the sixteenth and last day of a month.

HOW GERMANY MAY DEMOCRATIZE

Elimination or emasculation of military autocracy in Germany—the prime requisite of peace, according to President Wilson—means a radical amendment to the German constitution placing the war and peace making powers in the hands of the people. This amendment can be secured by legislative act by a bill passed through the bundsrat or the federal council, which is the upper house of the German parliament, and then through the reichstag, which is now in session.

The bundsrat is composed of 61 members, appointed by the individual kingdoms, duchies, etc., of the empire, and the people have no voice in their selection. The reichstag, however, is supposed to be selected by popular method outside, and this body, which is growing in democratic strength, and boldness, can pass a constitutional amendment provided fourteen members of the bundsrat do not vote against that.

Since the reichstag has been assiduously opposed to military autocracy in recent weeks, it is held likely it will soon begin a fight for the legislative enactment necessary to rid Germany of Kaiser powers and clear the path for peace.

FOCH OCCUPIES CENTRAL PLACE IN FRENCH EYE

Generalissimo Represents All General Staffs and All Entente Belligerents, Declares Paris Newspaper

PARIS, Oct. 15.—France stands firm on the Berlin proposition. The people showed practically no excitement during the crisis of the correspondence with President Wilson. They went about their business precisely the same as usual. Newspapers were unanimous in the declaration that the Allies must obtain the advantage, unconditional surrender of Germany, Austria and Turkey and the fullest guarantees.

"We are living in the most tragic moment of the history of all centuries," Deputy Paul Menadier said. In Eyes of World "One lone man can now decide the fate of the world. This man is worthy of his unprecedented role. All humanity has its eyes fixed upon him." Le Paris declares, after referring to President Wilson's diplomatic victory, "The floor no longer belongs to Foch. It belongs to Generalissimo Wilson, by virtue of his office represents all the general staffs and all the political belligerents. One of two things is true—either Germany must recognize that she is vanquished and accept the situation or else she will not recognize this but will attempt to retreat by means of an armistice."

Kaiser and Ruthlessness Must Go Together Before Allied Armies Will Be Called Off—Other Assurances Demanded

By ROBERT J. BEYNDER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Kaiser Wilhelm must step down or else his powers must be curtailed so that he is the merest figurehead before Germany can have peace. That is the basic meaning behind President Wilson's "action" with respect to a peace with the German people.

He can remove himself, as the Czar of Russia did, long before the war, and as other monarchs have done since. Or, he can be removed by the German people themselves—tired of his "God-given" exercise of power to kill them as will. Or the German people can quietly have an internal political reform which will wholly emasculate his power to do what he wishes as peace.

That summarizes the way out for Germany, as seen here today. Previous to such momentous steps, however, it is exceedingly vital that sufficient guarantees be given that [treachery will not cheat the Allies of supremacy, should an armistice come. These guarantees may include cessation of such strategic strongholds as Metz, the relinquishment of flinton submarines and lifting of German mine fields. Franco-Lorraine must be returned to France. It is added semi-officially.

GREAT BRITAIN WELL PLEASED WITH PROSPECT

President's Reply to Germany Eminent Satisfactory to English Civil and Military Officials

LONDON, Oct. 15.—President Wilson's reply to Germany is known to be eminently satisfactory to the British. The conditions he outlined coincide not only with the views of the British but of the other Allies as well. Lord Northcliffe's Evening News was the first paper to appear with Wilson's answer, which it printed in a splash of the biggest type, covering half a page. "We greatly rejoice to see an essential matter thus handled. We must stand resolutely behind Wilson."

Eliminate Ruthlessness

Germany must also eliminate the breed of extreme ruthlessness that has marked her military program more than usually in the past few weeks. There will be no spirit for revenge if President Wilson's program succeeds. He holds that only the spirit of justice must prevail at the peace table.

As most authorities here saw the situation today, the German leaders have so impeded the idea of peace in the German people that it will not be long before the demand for peace crystallizes to the point where those people will take matters into their own hands. That President Wilson expects for the discussion is evident from his 14-point peace appeal last night, when in the words Americans to subscribe fully at the same time saying:

Expect Further Discussion "I earnestly expect every patriotic American to leave to the governments of the United States and the Allies,

"AUTOCRACY MUST GO FIRST" IS ANSWER OF THE PRESIDENT

Continuance of Outrages on Land and Sea Moves Wilson to Tell Germany Peace. Discussions Are Unavailing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Autoocracy must go before a peace can be arranged with Germany.

This condition was laid down by President Wilson today in a note to the German government which also bore the plain notice that no armistice could be considered while Germany continued her illegal inhumane practices on land and sea.

The note to Germany was a "decision"; it did not permit of discussion as such.

"Satisfactory safeguards and guarantees of the maintenance of the present military supremacy" of the American-Allied armies must be given as a preliminary to any armistice arrangement, and the military advisers would be responsible for its arrangement.

The note announced by Secretary Lansing today and submitted to the Swiss minister said:

"Sir: In reply to the communication of the German government dated the twelfth instant, which you handed me today; I have the honor to request you to transmit the answer:

TEXT OF REPLY

"The unqualified acceptance by the present German government and by a large majority of the German reichstag of the terms laid down by the President of the United States of America in his address to the congress of the United States on the eighth of January, 1918, and in his subsequent addresses justifies the President in making a frank and direct statement of his decision with regard to the communications of the German government of the eighth and twelfth of October, 1918.

"It must be clearly understood that the process of evacuation and the conditions of an armistice are matters which must be left to the judgment and advice of the military advisers of the government of the United States and the Allied governments, and the President feels it his duty to say that no arrangement can be accepted by the government of the United States which does not provide absolutely satisfactory safeguards and guarantees of the maintenance of the present military supremacy of the armies of the United States and of the Allies in the field. He feels confident that he can safely assume that this will also be the judgment and decision of the Allied governments.

"The President feels that it is also his duty to add that neither the government of the United States nor, he is quite sure, the governments with which the government of the United States is associated as a belligerent, will consent to consider an armistice so long as the armed forces of Germany continue the illegal and inhuman practices which they still persist in.

"At the very time that the German government approaches the United States with proposals of peace its submarines are engaged in sinking passenger ships at sea, and not the ships alone, but the very boats in which their passengers and crews seek to make their way to safety.

"And in their present enforced withdrawal from Flanders and France the German armies are pursuing a course of wanton destruction which has always been regarded as in direct violation of the rules and practices of civilized warfare.

"Cities and villages, if not destroyed, are being stripped of all they contain, not only that but often of their very inhabitants.

The nations associated against Germany can not be expected to agree to a cessation of arms, while acts of inhumanity, spoliation and desolation are being continued, which they justly look upon with horror and with burning hearts.

"It is necessary, also, in order that there may be no possibility of misunderstanding, that the President should very solemnly call the attention of the government of Germany to the language and plain intent of one of the terms of peace which the government has now accepted. It is contained in the address of the President delivered at Mount Vernon on the fourth of July, last. It is as follows: "The destruction of every arbitrary power anywhere

Our Yankee Knight Proves Mettle

Thrilling moments are coming so fast in the life of America's military leader in France, "Black Jack" Pershing, that it is hard to imagine what Europe can do for him when he heads our Yanks into Berlin. The lower picture when King George of England at the battle front, congratulates Sir Black Jack—the king recently having knighted Pershing—"Knight of the Bath." The upper picture shows President Edouard of France, assisted by General de Tergue, pinning the Legion d'Honneur decoration on Pershing's coat.

TROOP SHIPMENTS WILL CONTINUE AT RATE OF QUARTER MILLION A MONTH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The United States government "will continue to send to Europe 250,000 men every month and there will be no relaxation of any kind," was the statement of Secretary Tumulty at the White House late today regarding the peace situation.

NEUTRALS BELIEVE HINDENBURG WAR MACHINE HAS BROKEN DOWN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The German military machine has broken down, according to the belief prevalent in Switzerland, diplomatic dispatches declared today.

The report says establishment of a parliamentary cabinet was not so much from pressure by the German people as from acknowledgment of the military leaders that they are unable to escape defeat on the field, it is said. German newspapers are quoted in support of this contention.

BUY A FOURTH LIBERTY BOND

By H. V. Neal.
Hark, a voice to you appealing.
Not of Sweden, thought and feeling,
innocent explore you kneeling.
"Buy a Bond."

Hoops of hell are flight crying,
Broken hearts to you are dying.
"Buy a Bond."

For our boys who in the fight,
Stand for U.S. for God and Right,
Keep their hearts free burning bright,
"Buy a Bond."

In the name of Liberty,
Strike the blow to make men free,
Help to win the victory.
"Buy a Bond."

In Flanders fields the Poppies Bloom—But if we are going to back up our fighting men by putting over the Fourth Liberty Loan with an over-subscription we will have no time to pause and worship those poppies, nor to admire the poppies in our own fields.

"We were shelled without warning at 1 o'clock in the morning in our rest billets, and three of my lieutenants were killed, instantly in the inky darkness." This is the simple letter of a captain on the battle line in France.

Do you count the dollars of your Fourth Liberty Loan subscription when every rotatory shell from a 155 millimeter howitzer costs nearly $100?

"Your limit is your duty in the Fourth Liberty Loan."

"Back up Pershing and he will back the Kaiser over the Rhine." Buy Fourth Liberty Bonds.

"If you can't work, buy; if you can't fight, buy; if you have bought—Buy." Fourth Liberty Bonds.

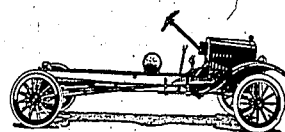

"Liberty Bonds speak a language the Kaiser understands. Talk to him today." Put your dollars in uniform.

that can separately, secretly and of its single choice, disturb the peace of the world; or if it can not be presently destroyed, at least its reduction to virtual impotency.

"The power which has hitherto controlled the German nation is of the sort here described. It is within the choice of the German nation to allow it."

"The President's words just quoted naturally constitute a condition precedent to peace, if peace is to come by the action of the German people themselves. The President feels bound to say that the whole process of peace will in his judgment depend upon the definiteness and the satisfactory character of the guarantees which can be given in this fundamental matter. It is indispensable that the Governments associated against Germany should know beyond peradventure with whom they are dealing.

"The President will make a separate reply to the Royal and Imperial government of Austria-Hungary."

NAVY NEEDS TRAINED MEN AS ENGINEERING OFFICERS

Perfected Plans for Training a Considerable Number of Qualified Men

BOISE, Oct. 15.—The United States navy has perfected plans for the training of a considerable number of engineering officers, C. F. Marks, state federal director of the United States public service reserve, headquarters Boise, has been advised. A school for this training known as the United States navy steam engineering school has been established at Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, New Jersey. Particularly desirable opportunities are presented to the training engineer in that he is enabled to supplement his schooling and practical experience along technical lines by an intensive applied course of engineering which gives him an opportunity for service during the war as well as fitting him for post-war employment.

The course consists of five months of training as follows: One month of training of naval station, Polham Bay Park, New York; one month of technical work in the navy steam engineering school, Hoboken, New Jersey; two months of practical training on board ships in the vicinity of New York; one month finishing course of instruction at the navy steam engineering school.

A graduate of the school will be commissioned as ensign in the United States naval reserve force, pay $1700 per annum, plus allowances for sea duty and dependents. The duty to which a graduate of this school will be assigned will be that of engineer officer in the auxiliary service of the navy.

The school is open to men between the ages of 21 and 40, who meet the physical requirements of the navy for line officers and who have completed the engineering course, mechanical, electrical, civil, mining or chemical, at certain recognized technical schools or who possess an education and experience adjudged to be an equivalent thereof. They must be September 12 registrants, classified or registrants of prior drafts who have been granted deferred classification.

Application may be made to the United States Navy Engineering School, San Francisco, California, 742 Market street; Seattle, Washington, Seattle National Bank building; Salt Lake, Utah, Keith Emporium.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS
"In Flanders fields" written by Lieutenant Colonel John McCrea of Montreal, Canada, during the second battle of Ypres in April, 1915, has been printed and reprinted, and all of us have read it many times. "America's Answer," written by R. W. Lillard of

for the death of Lieutenant Colonel McCrea, who was killed on duty in Flanders on January 28, 1918, is probably not so well known. Both poems ought to be as incentive to us, every time we see them, to do all we are capable of to help win the war.

In Flanders fields the poppies blow Between the crosses, now on row. That mark our place; and in the sky The larks, still bravely singing fly, Scarce heard amidst the guns below. We are the dead. Short days ago We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, Loved and were loved, and we lie In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe! To you, from falling hands, we throw The torch. Be yours to hold it high! If you break faith with us who die We shall not sleep, though poppies grow In Flanders fields.

AMERICA'S ANSWER
Rest ye in peace, ye Flanders' dead. The fight that ye so bravely led We've taken up. And we will keep Perseverance along technical lines by an intensive applied course of engineering which gives him an opportunity for service during the war as well as fitting him for post-war employment.

Where once his own life blood ran red. So let your rest be sweet and deep In Flanders fields.

Remember that ye have died for naught. The torch ye threw to us we caught, Ten million hands will hold it high, And Freedom's light shall never die! We've learned the lesson that ye taught. In Flanders fields.

What Laboring Men Say About the Claim of Nonpartisan League Leaders That Labor Is Tied Up to Their Candidates

For many years I worked for day's pay. I have always had confidence in labor and laboring men. I am familiar with their conditions as only a man can be who has been a laborer himself.

I commenced to work as a boy of seven years and at nine I began my real life work on the farm.

Recently my attention was called to an advertisement signed by the executive committee of the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy of Boise, which took a position in favor of the Nonpartisan league.

I could not believe in view of the evidence that had been adduced showing how the activities of the leaders of the Nonpartisan league were directed toward creation of class hatred and division of the public in such a manner as to interfere with the war, as well as evidence of disloyalty, that any organization pretending to represent the honest laboring men would be upheld by laboring men in such a position, so I got into touch with the various labor organizations and laboring men and have obtained their views, which appear on this page. Others are coming in and will be printed later.

I presume this is the work of such men as Ray McKaig. Tell me, McKaig, are you attempting to prostitute labor as you are attempting to prostitute the farmers of Idaho? I am tearing off the mask.

Union Man Denounces Action of League Leaders

Boise, Idaho, October 8, 1918.

F. R. Gooding,
Boise, Idaho.

Dear Sir:

The thought came to my mind a few days ago that there was some misrepresentation being made during this campaign, and I take this method of explaining to you what I think of this matter. I am a member of the Carpenters' union and attend the meetings quite regularly. At no time can I remember that any resolutions were passed in favor of the Nonpartisan league. I wish to denounce the action of the leaders of the Nonpartisan league. I think by making an investigation you will find that the minutes and the books of our organization will show that we are not affiliated with the Nonpartisan league. While my two boys are serving our country along with all the thousands of other boys from this state, I think it is our duty to stand by those boys who are giving their life's blood for us. And we can do it in no better way than standing together in blotting out such an organization that is trying to fasten its grip on this state. It is the duty of every mother, father, sister and brother to stand together stronger than we have ever stood before. I am glad that you have the conviction to make the splendid fight that you are making for us.
MICHAEL MURRAY.

Boise, Idaho, October 10, 1918.

Frank R. Gooding,

My Dear Sir:

The impression has been sent out of Boise that the labor unions of Boise City are standing squarely behind the Nonpartisan league.

We desire to inform you that the Blacksmiths' Union is in no way connected with the Nonpartisan league. Our members vote as private citizens and in no way is our union affiliated with the Nonpartisan league.

Yours very truly,

JOHN KENT,
Secretary.

Common Laborers' Union Deny They Are Tied to Nonpartisan League

Boise, Idaho, October 10, 1918.

Hon. Frank R. Gooding,
Boise, Idaho.

Dear Sir:

This is to certify that I am the Secretary of the Common Labor Union of Boise City, Idaho, and, because of the fact that a rumor is being circulated to the effect that the labor unions of this city are affiliated with the Nonpartisan league, I am authorized to state that this is not true of our union. Each member of this union votes independently.
Very truly yours,
WILLIAM GREENBURG,
Secretary.

Frank R. Gooding,
Boise, Idaho.

Dear Mr. Gooding:

Let me express my gratitude to you for the splendid fight you are making against the leaders of the N. P. league. Like many others I believe those leaders are deceiving and have deceived many honest farmers. I believe the patriotic people of Idaho fully realize the danger that confronts them during our nation's peril. While our boys are fighting and struggling for humanity with life and death, it is gratifying to them an able loyal people of not only Idaho but throughout this nation that you are exposing the real motives of these men.
Yours very truly,
ALBERT J. TOMPKINS.

Communication Issued Refutes Story that Organization Is Aligned With Any Party
(From the Statesman, Aug. 4, 1918)

At a meeting of Boise Typographical Union No. 271 Sunday afternoon a communication was formulated and addressed to the local newspapers denying that the organization has entered state politics.

After the meeting none of the officers or members would discuss the communication further, saying that it said all they wanted to say on the subject.

H. H. Park, president of State Federation of Labor, also refused to discuss it. He is a member of the typographical union and was present at the meeting when the matter was discussed and the demand was prepared.

The communication follows:

Editor Statesman: Because the impression prevails generally that organized labor, as such, has entered state politics, I have been instructed by the Boise Typographical Union to publicly deny that there is any allegiance or working political agreement between that body and the Nonpartisan league, the Democratic or Republican party, or any other political organization.

Tribute from Printers' Union Man

A former president of the Boise Typographical Union pays the following tribute to Governor Gooding:

"Having known Governor Gooding from my boyhood, when he was just starting his upward climb, I have always admired his qualities as a man of great force. The fight he is making for Americanism today is typical of the man—fearless in all his acts, broad in his views. His name will ever be in the forefront in Idaho history. As an employer of labor during the past twenty-five years and having been a farmer for a good many years, he has a clear knowledge of the needs of labor and agriculture and is their friend."

My Dear Sir:

In order to correct the impression that has been sent broadcast to the effect that the Carpenters' Union of Boise City is affiliating with the Nonpartisan league, I desire to say that this is not true and that if any member of the Carpenters' Union desires to vote the Nonpartisan ticket he does so as a citizen and not as a member of the union. Yours very truly,
F. ROSENE, Secretary.

Hoping success to you in the future and that you may be rewarded for which you are doing so splendidly.

CLOSING IN

It will be strange indeed if Germany is able to find an excuse for a continuation of her war-writing policy following her receipt of yesterday's communication. It would be odd if even Prince Max were enabled to think up any new point upon which his government might require enlightenment touching upon the matter of ending the war.

The reported resignation of the Imperial German chancellor is perfectly logical, whether true or not. Max was placed in the saddle to perform certain work. He performed the work but the results were such as to reflect upon the methods employed. Today Max is blocked, and the only way in which Germany can continue the correspondence which means so much to her in the matter of gaining time, will be by securing a new correspondence clerk. It's all very interesting. Some day it will dawn upon Germany that the way to secure peace is through the employment of just two words—unconditional surrender.

APPLE CONSERVATION

A peculiar state of affairs exists with regard to the fruit crop in these parts. Today fruit is plentiful, apples especially. Tons of apples lie on the ground beneath the trees, some with small wormholes or other imperfections, many without them of any kind. Under the law, these windfalls may not be sold for shipping or manufacture except to a canning company. Twin Falls has a drying plant, which is not yet ready for operation and through an interpretation of the law by the state board of horticulture, the apples must be allowed to lie on the ground and rot. They cannot be sold for preserving, eating, or any other purpose, notwithstanding the fact that hundreds of families need them and want them. To say that apples, almost as good for eating and preserving purposes as the highest quality of fruit obtainable, must go to waste because of a technicality of the law is the sort of thing which is apt to make the average man impatient of the law.

The food value of the apples on the ground in Twin Falls county today—and which must remain on the ground—is more than considerable. It's the difference between fruit and no fruit for hundreds of families. The whole proposition is out of tune with the food conservation program of the nation.

A GOOD MAN

Within a short time now, Twin Falls' new post office will be complete. All of the construction is finished, the interior finishing is proceeding rapidly.

The building is a credit to Twin Falls and to Twin Falls county. It is also a credit to the man mainly responsible for its being here, the man who, more than any other man, gave freely of his time and drew freely upon his knowledge and experience of governmental procedure with relation to public buildings—Congressman Addison T. Smith.

In a sense, the Twin Falls post office will always stand as a monument of which neither he nor Twin Falls has reason to be ashamed. It is to be hoped that Mr. Smith may be permitted to continue to serve the people of Idaho in Congress. The point comes up for settlement in the forthcoming election. Mr. Smith has been

Meets Her Baby Under Exceptional Circumstances

Detroit—This introduces you to William Anderson. William is thirteen months old and he met his mother, Mrs. Hazel Anderson, for the first time Friday. It was an unaccountable sort of meeting, too, because William was in the night and John O'Brien, a deputy sheriff, had charge of the introduction. It was at the county building. Mrs. Anderson snatched the baby in an eye wink. She cried over him a bit as women will, and William cooed and gurgled and seemed to understand just what it was all about. Then Mrs. Anderson told how it happened: that she hadn't seen her own baby until after his first birthday. She said that she was a nervous wreck before her baby was born, through treatment alleged to have been accorded her by her husband. She was in the hospital for several weeks after William came. The baby was placed in the home of her husband's mother. Now Mrs. Anderson always has yearned for her baby. She told Judge Webster so. The judge gave her a decree and the custody of the child. But despite these legal aids she couldn't get possession of William until Deputy John O'Brien stepped in the breach. "I didn't want to desert him," said the perpetrating officer. "I was afraid to take time. That's why he's only got those little things on." "Bless his precious heart," said Mrs. Anderson.

They were eating the Van Winkles; in fact, they had never known a time when they had not been rich. In order to give her every advantage they lived almost entirely at their beautiful country home, where she could spend her entire time in the fresh air.

TELLS OF INFLUENZA TOLL IN ILLINOIS CANTONMENT

Ernest H. Sauer Describes 'Present Work of Caring for Epidemic Victims at Camp Grant'

How the Spanish influenza epidemic is taking toll of enlisted men at Camp Grant, Illinois, is told in a letter under date of October 9, received here from Ernest H. Sauer, formerly lieutenant appt.

The company of which I am a member is composed of western men sent here from Camp Lewis. There are 205 in the company, and so far no one has had the "flu."

There have been from 75 to 100 deaths in this camp each day from the influenza epidemic. Part of our company, it is at the base hospital and part at the morgue in town.

The disease, however, is on the decline here. About six per cent of all cases die. Yesterday there were 600 discharged from the hospital and 200 new cases. There are at present about 3,000 in the base hospital, 600 of which are pneumonia cases.

All drill has been suspended on account of the epidemic, so I have lots of time to kill. I am going to try to get a furlough to go to my old home, which is only about a hundred miles from here, after my wife arrives whom I am expecting in a few days.

I am personally here to be trained as a non-commissioned officer. Then I will get a chance to train recruits, and if I make good, I will have an opportunity for a commission.

Private Sauer was a member of the national guard organizations of Illinois and Utah, serving with the Twelfth regiment on the Mexican border in 1916 with the rank of corporal. He remained at Camp Lewis, after waiting deferred classification and being inducted into the service in September, only a few days before being transferred to the Great West. His wife was Miss Pauline Evans, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Evans of Twin Falls.

CONSERVATION IS MOTIF FOR FAIR EXHIBIT.

Twin Falls County Women Win Premiums with Displays of Made-Over Clothing and Substitute Cookery

The conservation booth at the county fair was a success—thanks to the splendid team-work of farm bureau women. They sent in a most interesting exhibit of made-over clothing—

There were several and practical uses shown for old stockings, and a number of aprons, blouses for boys, dresses for girls, and one very handsome blouse for a woman made out of hopelessly worn-out shirts.

There were also dresses and coats for children cleverly and well made out of worn-out clothing of their elders.

There were new and handsome stockings and rag rugs.

Groups of people—both men and women—were attracted by the unusual display, and stood in interested groups of from three to thirty people while the farm bureau women explained the exhibit.

There were also substitute foods, entered for premiums and a number of home conveniences were on exhibit.

More than 1,000 people stopped, looked and listened. Many women turned away saying something like this: "Why, do you know, I believe I could make Johnny a suit out of that old worn-out suit of his Dad's," or "Don't you suppose that old coat of mine would make over into a good coat for Mary?"

It was a farm bureau thrift campaign.

Extremes Even in Conservation

Conservation is the key word of the hour. And that it is a greatly misused word is shown in these two fashion models for fall—being taken up from widely different sources of design.

THE TRUTH ABOUT CANDY. What is in a Chocolate Cream? Is it a Food or is it a Non-Essential Luxury?

It depends entirely on what is in it and what the food value of the contents is. In the first place, what is a chocolate cream made of? The principal ingredients are: Cocoa, milk and sugar, which mixed, make the chocolate. Milk, sugar and some corn syrup make the filling.

—In recent times the candy industry has only 5% of the sugar consumed per capita in this country. Right here this amount has been cut severely in two.

HOLLISTER MOURNS LOSS OF HER FIRST SOLDIER
University of Idaho Announces Session of School of Forestry
for Current Year

HOLLISTER—Hollister, lost her first soldier in the death of Charles
B. Dudley at Camp Lewis, Wednesday morning last, of pneumonia. The remains will be returned, and will be interred at Twin Falls Tuesday afternoon. He was 25 years of age at his death, was a member of the local Woodman lodge, and a friend of everyone. His parents and brother and sisters have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

Mr. Peter Conak and children went to Bull Tuesday for a visit with her mother.

Mr. Edward Gerlar, Townsend and Berrett are enjoying a visit of their mother, who came from Pasco, Washington, Tuesday last.
B. R. Carse and wife and baby of Caldwell, Idaho, were in Hollister and Amsterdam visiting several days this week. While prospering in his new home he still has a warm spot in his heart for the Salmon tract.
Our elevator is loading its twentieth car of wheat, and would have doubted that number but for bereavement of Al. That, about half the farmers have not threshed, and only about half the wheat is ready to come to market, but a bad outlook for 1909 cars this year.
Owing to the regulations of the state board of health, the Red Cross dinner is indefinitely postponed, and there will be no church or Sunday school until further notice.
Mrs. Keth Jones has a Twin Falls visitor Tuesday.
Walter Conven of Twin Falls was in Hollister on business Thursday and Friday.

Among those on the sick list this week are Mrs. C. C. Noble, Effie King and the Harrison children.
Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lomborg and family of Buhl were visiting friends in Hollister Wednesday.

MGEWSON, Idaho—the Idaho school of forestry is announcing the 1918-19
session of its ranger course.
The course is especially planned for rangers and guards, or for those who wish to enter such service. It prepares the civil service examination for the position of forest ranger. The course is of high school grade and covers three years of five months each. The work is so laid out, however, that even one year will prove highly profitable.
There is no entrance examination. The session this year opens on November 4 and closes March 27. For particulars

HAND OF KAISER IS VERY PLAIN IN PROGRAM

Acceptance of Wilson Plan Believed to Have Come Straight from War Lords Rather Than People

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Cables from neutral cities operating on the real origin of Germany's latest peace note, accepting President Wilson's terms, indicate the belief that the acceptance came from the Kaiser and the military leaders rather than from the radicals.

Rottterdam advisers declare the pan-Germans were most defiant until General Ludendorff arrived in Berlin from the recent conference at general headquarters, when they suddenly changed their tune. It is believed that the German high command admitted the impossibility of a successful defensive war and suggested the peace drive.

Amsterdam messages report the German reply to Wilson was hailed with enthusiasm by all except the pan-Germans, who alone showed displeasure. The pan-Germans, these dispatches add, are trying to re-establish the old system.

INFLUENZA

How to Avoid It---How to Care for Those Who Have It

The following suggestions of the Massachusetts State Department of Health may prove of immeasurable value to any man or woman who will read, remember and act upon them in the present great emergency. The counsel here set forth has been prepared after consultation with some of the ablest medical men in America. If you will follow the dictates of this official bulletin you will be doing your duty to your fellow man and to yourself.

What to Do Until the Doctor Comes

If you feel a sudden chill, followed by muscular pain, headache, backache, unusual tiredness and fever, go to bed at once.

See that there is enough bed clothing to keep you warm.

Open all windows in your bedroom and keep them open at all times, except in rainy weather.

Take medicine to open the bowels freely.

Take some nourishing food such as milk, egg-and-milk or broth every four hours.

Stay in bed until a physician tells you that it is safe to get up.

Allow no one else to sleep in the same room.

Protect others by sneezing and coughing into handkerchiefs or cloths, which should be boiled or burned.

Insist that whoever gives you water or food or enters the sick room for any other purpose shall wear a gauze mask, which may be obtained from the Red Cross or may be made at home of four to six folds of gauze and which should cover the nose and mouth and be tied behind the head.

Remember that these masks must be kept clean, must be put on outside the sick room, must not be handled after they are tied on and must be boiled thirty minutes and thoroughly dried every time they are taken off.

To Householders	To Workers	To Nurses
Keep out of the sick-room unless attendance is necessary.	Walk to work if possible.	Keep clean. Isolate your patients.
Do not handle articles coming from the sick-room until they are boiled.	Avoid the person who coughs or sneezes.	When in attendance upon patients, wear a mask which will cover both the nose and the mouth. When the mask is once in place do not handle it.
Allow no visitors, and do not go visiting.	Wash your hands before eating.	Change the mask every two hours. Owing to the scarcity of gauze, boil for 1-2 hour and reuse, then use the gauze again.
Call a doctor for all inmates who show signs of beginning sickness.	Make full use of all available umbrellas.	Wash your hands each time you come in contact with the patient. Use bicarbonate of mercury, 1-1000, or Iguor-Oreol compound, 1-100, for hand disinfection.
The usual symptoms are: Inflamed and watery eyes, discharging nose, backache, headache, muscular pains, and fever.	Do not use a common towel. It spreads disease.	Wash your hands each time you come in contact with the patient. Use bicarbonate of mercury, 1-1000, or Iguor-Oreol compound, 1-100, for hand disinfection.
Keep away from crowded places, such as "movies," theatres, street cars.	Should you cough or sneeze, cover nose and mouth with a handkerchief.	Obtain at least seven hours' sleep in each twenty-four hours. Bath plenty of good, clean food.
See to it that your children are kept warm and dry, both night and day.	Keep out of crowded places. Walk in the open air rather than go to crowded places of amusement.	Walk in the fresh air daily.
Have sufficient fire in your home to dispense the dampness.	Sleep is necessary for well-being—avoid over-exertion. Eat good, clean food.	Sleep with your windows open.
Open your windows at night. If cool weather prevails, add extra bed clothing.	Keep away from houses where there are cases of influenza.	Insist that the patient cough, sneeze or expectorate into cloths that may be disinfected or burned.
	If sick, no matter how slightly, see a physician.	Roll all dishes.
	If you have had influenza, stay in bed until your doctor says you can safely get up.	Keep patients warm.

Between Five and Six Hundred Bodies Already Recovered and Total Loss May Reach Eight Hundred

DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 15.—Reports today from relief workers who are penetrating the area devastated by Sunday's forest fire, indicate that the death toll may reach 800.

Between 500 and 600 bodies have been recovered. It is deemed certain that many others will be found.

Refugees continue to arrive at Duluth. Hospitals remain full of injured. Thousands are homeless in the 29 towns and villages that were wiped out or virtually destroyed. Other thousands of settlers in the forest district are without shelter and food.

Approximately half a million acres were fire swept, according to information available today. The fire zone centered in Carlton, Lake, St. Louis and Itasca counties. Fires that sprang up late yesterday with a shift of wind died when they were forced back over the burned areas.

the momentous discussion initiated by Germany."

Relaxation at this time, he said, would be fatal to victory. Military men believe the peace discussion has shaken morale to its foundations in Germany and that plotting through France and Belgium from now on will be simplified.

One of President Wilson's official circles, who has carefully studied the peace problem, outlined the situation to the United Press thusly: "German autocracy is better, knows it, and throws itself on the mercy of President Wilson."

But no chance will be taken with Prussian treachery. Before there is any armistice, such terms must be arranged by the military and naval advisers as will render Allied supremacy safe.

WAR SUMMARY

Numerous explosions occurred in Roulers. The Belgians and French took more than 6,000 prisoners, six batteries of artillery and a large amount of materials.

In an attack, the British officers announced the capture of Rolleghecapelle, Leigthem and Moorcella. British troops reached the northern outskirts of Menin.

The French and Italians continue to advance on a wide front between the Oise and the Aisne, and have reached the Serre river, nine miles northwest of Laon, and captured Sissonne, ten miles east of Laon. The Aisne was crossed at several places north of Hazanoy.

An important advance was scored by the Americans between the Argonne and the Meuse, where Romagne and Cuneel were captured.

From the region of Donni, southeastward to the area east of St. Quentin, the lines remain comparatively stabilized.

Notes In War Council

The card has probably been written already through the Versailles war council in which, it is now revealed, President Wilson has a vote by cable.

Foch, Pershing and other army and naval commanders will see to it that Germany has absolutely no opportunity to gain any advantage through treachery.

The army and navy commanders must be satisfied, Wilson holds.

The war has now reached the third stage in the Wilsonian program.

The first was the determination that Germany could not beat us and that we could beat Germany. Germany now knows that we can beat her.

The second stage was to lay the law governing the meaning to the world of Germany's defeat. President Wilson has laid the law in his January 8, and subsequent addresses. Germany has accepted the law thus laid down. The third stage, now reached, is application of the law.
