ABDICATION OF KAISER IS DENIED

Berlin Issues Official Denial of Startling Rumor—Unrest in Germany Evidenced by Wild Character of Stories

KAISER'S POWER SAID TO HAVE BEEN LIMITED

Lasting Predicts That a Little More Pressure Will Break Up German Empire—Events Taking New Form Daily

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 17.—Official denial that the Kaiser has abdicated is contained in a dispatch from Berlin, received here today.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Through a maze of rumors, unofficial reports and some official data today, diplomats and government officials read the signs of important events transpiring in Germany.

Without direct word on the subject Washington was expecting that a new move toward peace would mark the immediate future. All agree that the internal situation in the central powers is increasingly serious and that the liberal-conservative elements contemplate some action to prevent a Bolshevik movement within the empire.

Information, not regarded as official, reached the state department that the Bundesrat—the federal council of Germany—has approved a constitutional amendment restricting the Kaiser's power to declare war and make treaties, indicating a radical change in the German political system.

But officials said they would form no judgment until the information was (Continued on page eight)

MUD AND RAIN FAIL TO STOP YANK ADVANCE

Allies Threaten to Force Germans Out of What is Left of Famous Kriemhilde Line

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN FRANCE, OCT. 17—Fighting in the mud and rain, the Americans are threatening to force the Germans out of the remainder of the Kriemhilde line.

The Yanks, advancing northward from Grandpre, have practically cleared the enemy from Loges wood, and are approaching Beffry (two miles north of Grandpre). They have passed La Madeleine farm.

In the region of Landres and St. Georges, the Americans have consolidated the first line trenches of the Kriemhilde line.

The Airs has now been crossed in force in the region of Grandpre; the engineers pushing ahead of the Infantry are constructing foot bridges under artillery and machine gun fire.

New German divisions from the Champagne and Metz regions, thrown into the line here, show greatly reduced strength. Many boys of the class of 1920 are included in these new units.

BOLSHEVISM THE GHOST THAT HAUNTS THE KAISER AND HIS LORDS OF WAR

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Unless peace is effected immediately a Bolshevik revolution will break out in Germany, according to dispatches received here today from sources said to be authoritative.

The dispatches were received by the Express from Amsterdam, by the Daily News from Stockholm, and by the Chronicle from Ge-

BELGIANS MARCHING ON OSTEND, CHIEF GERMAN SUBMARINE BASE

PARIS, Oct. 17.—A complete break through has been effected by the Allies in the German's second defense line in Belgium, according to battle-front dispatches received here today.

Dense masses of cavalry are pouring through the breach and are reported to have advanced nine miles.

The enemy is said to be retiring so rapidly that at some points the Allied forces have lost contact.

The Belgians are marching on Ostend, the former German submarine base. The nearest point in the battle line to Ostend is in the region of Nieuport, about eight miles distant.

British troops are unofficially reported to be in Lille and Courtrai, while Tourcoing and Roubaix are in imminent danger of capture.

French cavalry is approaching Thielt, increasing the isolation of Bruges, Ostend and Zeebrugge.

The Belgians are advancing northward from Thourout along the roads to Ostend and Bruges.

The break through probably was in the region of Thielt, where Belgian cavalry is reported to have entered that city after a sudden advance of more than three miles.

An additional advance of nine miles in this vicinity would carry the Allied cavalry to Nevele, only six miles southwest of Ghent.

If the breach were made farther south, it would bring the Allies within two miles of Audenarde, while if it were to the northward, the Allies will have reached the outskirts of Bruges.

BRITISH OCCUPY OSTEND

LONDON, Oct. 17 (4:22 p. m.)—British naval forces have occupied Ostend, it was officially announced by the Royal Air force this afternoon.

Aviators reported Ostend clear of the enemy this morning and Vice Admiral Keyes, commander of the British channel fleet, landed in the former German submarine base at 12:55 p. m.

COMPLETE COLLAPSE OF ENTIRE WEST FRONT IS MENACE HUNS CONFRONT

Belgian Front Caved In—British Advancing Rapidly in Direction of Hiron on Front Between LeCateau and Bohain

—Initial Progress Two Miles on Wide Front

LONDON, Oct. 17 (3:17 p. m.)—The British attack begun between Bohain and Le Cateau this morning, already has resulted in advance of two miles, battlefront dispatches reported this afternoon.

The German front in Flanders has collapsed. Lille, Ostend, Courtrai and Thielt have been occupied and a complete break-through is reported to have been accomplished in Belgium. British naval forces landed in Ostend, the former German naval base, this afternoon, after aviators had reported the city clear of the enemy.

British troops previously had taken Lille and Courtrai, while Belgian cavalry was reported to have entered Thielt.

Unofficial reports stated that the German second line of defense had been broken on a wide front, and that dense masses of Allied cavalry have poured through the gap, advancing nine miles. The breach is believed to have been made in the vicinity of Thiel. If this is the case, the Allied forces (Continued on page eight)

ALLIES STUBBORN IN PROGRAM UNDERTAKEN

Even Opposition Flattened Out All Along the Line—French Await Calmly for Unconditional Surrender

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS

PARIS, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Tourcoing and Roubaix are in precisely the same fix as Laon was a week ago on the verge of falling.

King Albert's troops, composed of stubborn Belgians, French and British, are breasting Ostend and the entire coast in that region.

The British are practically held Douai, while in the Champagne, French and Americans are steadily marching northward in the direction of Metz.

The Allies are flattening out the Hun opposition all along the line.

President Wilson's last note to Berlin still dominates the press here. There is no word of disapprobation. Paris is calmly awaiting the next move with full knowledge that Germany must break off negotiations or capitulate.

France is perfectly prepared.

Never have I seen France more regal. From staring disaster in the face, the people with steady dignity are accepting the prospects of victory and an early peace.

After years of the soul-trying monotony of trench warfare, they are now living in days when at any minute, anything may happen. Yet their serenity is unshaken.

After all, they are not surprised. They have been expecting just this thing all along.

While they believe the Huns will shortly disappear, and look for an early surrender of the Hun, they seem perfectly prepared to keep up the struggle as long as necessary. Their confidence, unshakably expressed:

"Germany is beaten. If she does not admit it now, we will keep on fighting until she does."

REVOLUTIONS UNDER WAY SAY NEUTRAL PRESS

Constantinople Turns Against Enver Pasha and Young Turks—Germany Sends Warships

GENEVA, Oct. 17.—A revolution has broken out in Constantinople against the Young Turk government, the Tribune de Geneve reported today. The German ambassador to the city has been ordered to leave the city to protect the interests of his country.

Turkey's friendship with Germany dates from the time the Young Turk came into power. Enver Pasha, who came into power, was a Germanophile. He faithfully served the Kaiser's interests in Constantinople.

The German warships in the Black Sea and principally vessels taken from Russia. It has been reported in this country that the Germans determined to hold the Turk in the central alliance, announced they were ready to bombard Constantinople if necessary to halt any move against Germany.

FULL ADMINISTRATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The plan for the reorganization of the government was unconditionally lifted today and effective immediately. Fuel Administrator Garfield said that no restriction will be placed on the use of automobile tires gasoline stocks again. Gasoline charges in law. He added that delivery orders will be issued for 100,000 gallons of gasoline.

ALLIES DRIVE AT HIRON FROM WEST AND SOUTH IN ATTEMPT TO DIVIDE GERMAN ARMIES

BRITISH and Americans suddenly launched a new attack on a 10-mile front between Le Cateau and Bohain this morning.

This drive is aimed directly at Hiron, less than 25 miles eastward, which guards the western tip of the impassable Ardennes.

Capture of Hiron will definitely split the German armies and leave the divided forces no choice of exit from Belgium and northern France.

Every mile gained toward Hiron will narrow the maneuvering area left to the enemy, and at the same time extend the southern face of the salient which contains Lille, Tourcoing, Roubaix and Valenciennes.

Directly in the path of the Anglo-American assault, which was officially reported to be "progressing satisfactorily," is the important railway center of Wassigny, less than four miles from the advancing Allies.

The Allied drive in Belgium is progressing well. Belgian cavalry is reported to have entered Thielt, only 15 miles from Ghent and the same distance southeast of Bruges.

British troops are reported to have completed the capture of Courtrai and to have entered the outskirts of Lille.

Field Marshal Haig announced that the Belgians, French and British gained nearly four miles on a 30-mile front yesterday. He confirmed capture of Thourout, Menin and several other towns.

The French war office reported continued contact with the retreating Germans between the Oise and the Serre.

United Press staff dispatches report important gains by the Americans between the Argoonne and the Meuse, resulting from the capture of Grandpre.

Serbian troops have advanced 20 miles north of Nish, capturing the town of Aleksinat. French cavalry occupied Pierot, 35 miles southeast of Nish, near the Bulgarian frontier.

GERMAN WRITER SAYS END NEAR

Republic at Last at Hand, is Belief of Julius Koettgen, Socialist Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—"The German republic is at last at hand, thanks to Wilson."

Julius Koettgen, director of the "Friends of German Democracy" in America, and for twenty years past writer of the socialist newspaper of Berlin, "Vorwaerts," made this statement today as his "conservative estimate of the effect of President Wilson's note on the German public." He is considered to understand accurately the political pulse of Germany.

"The German people will read and digest this note," said Koettgen, "and then the upshot will be that they will get rid of the kaiser, because they intend to have peace. And they will not count the cost a huge one, either, for they do not love the kaiser the way the American public thinks they do."

Kaiser Deposits on Arms.

"The kaiser's influence in Germany for 30 years has rested on arms."

"There are three ways the Germans may use to rid themselves of Wilhelm."

"They may compel the reichstag to reform, especially the legislation, which will be highly against a revolution."

"The civilian population may demand a real revolution and overthrow the government."

"The army now being beaten, may turn and send the government into exile, as the czar was sent."

"The German people are logical, once they get started to work on a problem. President Wilson's adroit notes have shown them now that to gain peace, they must establish a decent government."

"The fruits of Wilson's diplomacy are at hand—the German republic is being born."

The appalling devastation of crops and the enforced neglect of European farms places upon the American farmer the grave responsibility of supplying to our allies and to our boys in Europe the sustenance that is absolutely indispensable to the winning of the war.

And with this responsibility comes an opportunity, the like of which our farmers never knew before—an opportunity—not merely to profit by high market prices and by appealing demand—but an opportunity to serve humanity and the cause of Democracy.

Our ordinary farm production is entirely inadequate to meet the demands upon us. We must put every productive acre to work and we must apply our farming genius where largest crops will reward our efforts.

THEY KNOW THEMSELVES

No one at this stage of the game pretends to believe that any single country outside of Germany had anything whatever to do with starting the war. For a long time now the proof has been piling up, if, indeed, any proof were ever necessary. A good many Germans themselves have come forward with the exact truth as to the matter, the last of this class perhaps being Director Muhlon of the great Krupp works.

Muhlon's confession not only convicts Germany, it convicts the German. Muhlon's estimate of his own people is not a pleasant one, yet it is almost identical with that of Goethe and other past and present German men of note.

two months the tide of war has definitely set against them. The Rhine cities are crying for relief from the air raiding they cheered over when France and England were the victims. The Hindenburg line is gone. The conquest of Russia has not been remunerative. Bulgaria has quit. How Turkey can hold out is beyond divination. The Balkans are fast being cleared for an attack on Austria from the south, with Italy ready to spring across around the Adriatic. The subject races of Austria are ripe for rebellion. The entry of the allies into Germany and Herin is only a matter of time. So Prince Max of Baden has been called to the chancellorship by William the Worst, to stage a peace that will save William's face and leave him armed. Whether the Germans as a whole know enough about the situation to give in all the way now and bring Muhlon's prophecy to quick fulfillment, or whether the German government, which knows all about it, reads a right the handwriting on the wall and seeks to avoid the reckoning with its own people that must come with an ultimate debacle, or whether the German government is merely making a bluff at peace in the hope of proving to its people that the allies are determined to destroy them root and branch and so persuade them to believe the militaristic lie that this is, and has been all along, a purely defensive war for Germany, is something we do not pretend to guess. An American views such questions through an American mind, and since few Americans have been able to fathom the folly of the Hun in foreing this mighty republic into the ranks of his enemies, few Americans will assume to interpret this latest German move with any degree of certitude.

But this much is sure—the Hun wants peace, and he wants it more than he ever did before. He has gone further to get it than he ever did before. And this much is equally certain—that if the Hun is trying to save himself by bluffing, his bluff has been called.

PREDICTS TWO MORE LIBERTY LOAN DRIVES

Secretary McAdoo Warns People to Prepare for Further Burdens

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The American people must be prepared to subscribe to one and probably two more Liberty loans. This was revealed today by Secretary McAdoo, who said that the financial plans of the government will require a much heavier burden than has yet been placed on the nation. Anticipations by congress now aggregate $27,000,000,000 for the current fiscal year, McAdoo said.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 17.—Denial of reports of German capitulation caused grain futures on the Chicago Board of Trade to rule higher today. Talk of putting a minimum on corn also influenced the market. Pitt offerings were small. Provisions were steady. October corn, up 3/8 at the late opening of 155 1/2, was 1-3 higher. November corn, up 2 1/8 at 150, the opening, gained 5/8 in later trading. December corn, up 5/8 at the opening, 116 1/2, gained an additional 5/8. October oats, 1/2 lower at 67 1/8, the late opening, was 5/8 higher. November oats, unchanged at the opening at 66 5/8, lost 1/2. December oats, up 3/4 at the opening, 66 1/2, lost 1 cent in later trading. The price argument, in selling merchandise, has not lost its force. You'll find it in the ads now, as always.

HISTORY IS IN CRUCIAL PERIOD

Events of Next Few Weeks Will Shape Future of World—End May Come Speedily

By ROBERT J. BENDER
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The fate of the war and the fate of the world will be vitally shaped in the next few days.

Impending events that will do much to formulate history include:

First: Completion of the fourth Liberty loan.

Second: Smashing of the German armies in Belgium, and farther south along the western battle-line.

Third: Germany may send a new reply in the peace situation after or before the reichstag meets tomorrow.

Fourth: Austria-Hungary and Turkey will probably go through new phases of political turmoil, which perhaps will have a tremendous effect on Germany's position. Reports are reported in Bohemia and at Constantinople.

Fifth: The United States shipping board has ordered an increase in the number of vessels that it may keep pace with an enlarged construction program of sending "Liberty" ships troops over here.

To Put Loan Over
 The Liberty loan still has a long way to go. But the nation is beginning to make an eleven-hour response under the realization that the war must go on.

The developments in Belgium are hastening evacuation of the Lille region, and will render less difficult for the Allies their advance on Valenciennes and Maastricht. Indications are that Germany intends to evacuate all or virtually all of that over-extended region, with as small a loss as possible. While the armies hammer on, Germany is evidently trying to keep alive the peace talk, she started with her recent overtures. Reports that she had capitulated and that the Kaiser had abdicated appear to have had little inspiration in Amsterdam. But the fact is that to be that the reichstag before the week end will discuss the Wilsons "decision" in this connection, officialdom was interested today in press reports that the Kaiser's war making and treaty power had been limited by Reichsrath approval of constitutional amendments and that franchise reform had been undertaken. These reports, like the rumors of capitulation, may be part of the German propaganda system, but probably have some basis in fact, according to information here.

Germany Not at Least one point of it—appears from press comment, however, to have been stirred to a new fighting spirit by the Wilson note. If that spirit becomes general—which is doubted here—it means that the war will go on at least through another summer campaign.

In any event America is proceeding at new speed with its war work, realizing that victory may have to be achieved solely by arms. In this connection it became known today that the monthly troop shipment rate will be increased, and that demands have been made upon the shipping board for greater and faster production. Destroyer construction is being speeded both to meet an expected accelerated output and to furnish protection for the enlarged troop shipments.

Starting with next March, draft calls will be at the rate of 344,000 a month. In the winter months, these figures will be smaller and will fluctuate, but the total program is such that troop shipments will be kept up to 1,000,000 to 4,000,000 a month before long, if necessary.

HOG CHOLERA APPEARS AGAIN

Bureau of Animal Industry Inspectors Are Called to Vaccinate Herd of J. D. Kautz

The first outbreak of hog cholera in the Twin Falls district since October 9, and the second case of the malady in this district since June of last year, was reported Tuesday by Dr. W. A. Sullivan, inspector in charge of the bureau of animal industry hog cholera control investigations in Idaho, by J. D. Kautz, residing two miles west of Twin Falls. One animal had died when the outbreak was reported, and three others were found to have contracted the disease when the veterinarians arrived. Dr. W. S. Decker, deputy state veterinarian, with the inspector of the bureau of animal industry, vaccinated the 26 animals remaining in this herd. The premises have been placed under quarantine, and neighbors have been warned against the possibility of spread of the disease from this source.

POSTPONING HEARING OF BERGERE UNTIL MONDAY
 CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—The preliminary hearing of Victor L. Berger, former congressman, under the Espionage act charge of violating the espionage act, was postponed today in the federal court until Monday. Similar action was taken in the case of W. J. Bruce, Adolph Germer, Irving St. John Tucker and T. L. English, other socialists indicted with Berger.

Essential Rule Cheats in Fashions

The hardest was this for woman evidently to judge only in the really beautiful lines for fashion. A new style for the cold season may be judged. On the left is shown a gown of blue serge with panels of gray cutwoven down the trunk; belted tightly in the back but flowing loosely at the bottom. On the right is a black satin suit with a square front and back but buttoned together at the bottom. The coat is embroidered in black with a striking collar and red but with gray to match sets of the model with just the right touch.

CAPITALIZING NATURAL WEALTH OF FORAGE ALONG CANAL BANKS

PASTURAGE of the 750 miles of canals and laterals that go to make up the Twin Falls Irrigation system of a vast forage crop that is now lost to a vast forage crop now generally wasted and sustain thousands of dollars' worth of live stock, but it will go far toward the eradication of noxious weeds and driving out rodent pests.

It is with this end in view that the manager of the directors of the Twin Falls Canal company has made arrangements whereby the Canal company will enter into agreements with the owners of lands through which the laterals and canals of this system pass, covering the details of the joint use of the right-of-way.

This means about 12 ewes per acre. Each ewe will earn $16 this year, and maintain her portion of the flock, so that, at 120 per acre, for the cost of good feed, it should be one of the most profitable departments on the irrigation farm.

Experience at Rupert
 From data secured by County Agent Donald McLean from E. F. Binehart, field animal husbandman for the state university, other instances showing the profit of pasturing on ditch banks are given as follows:

C. B. Phillips, of Rupert, has an 80-acre farm through which there is a lateral, 1264 feet in length. The ditch is 10 feet wide. In 1917 this ditch bank of waste was fenced off and pastured. Included in the enclosure was a strip of alfalfa, embracing 1.47 acres. The actual pasture area of the ditch bank and alfalfa patch was 4.33 acres. The result of the first year showed that this pasture would carry 120 head of registered Friesian cows and family calves alternate two weeks, equivalent to 64 ewes and lambs continuously, or an average of 14 to the acre.

Sheep Return $37.93 per Acre
 On August 7 a band of 43 bum lambs, weighing a total of 2178.5 pounds, or an average of 60.7 pounds per head, were turned onto a ditch bank pasture, and held by means of a temporary fence. The ditch bank pasture consisted of a rank growth of blue grass, white clover, willows and weeds. The area enclosed by the temporary fence consisted of 37 acres. As 43 lambs were held for 35 days on a little over the third of an acre, this is to be regarded as harvesting the growth, rather than pasturing. It was found that in counting one acre of this growth the 43 lambs gained 2645 pounds. At 14 cents a pound this amounted to a return of $37.03 per acre.

The lambs were handled by N. F. Hodson, a range sheep man, of Rupert. They were of the cross-bred breeding of the range, with the long wool predominating. The pasture was owned and fenced by C. W. Brannon, of Rupert. Both Mr. Hodson and Mr. Brannon had had the weighing and keeping of the records.

No more labor was required in building the temporary fence than it would have taken to cut the willows and weeds. In addition to the profit returned, the land had an excellent job in cleaning up the ditch banks.

Cows Make Gains
 With ordinary cows, not above the average, on a mixed grass pasture, 4831 pounds of milk were produced to the acre. During this time the cows gained a total of 118 pounds in weight.

At Goeding, in one season, on mixed pasture, beef steers gained 600 pounds to the acre. Counting the gain at 10c a pound, the gross return from one acre of this pasture were $60.

On the farm of C. W. Brannon, of Rupert, accurate records were kept of 43 bum lambs on an irrigated pasture. The season's return per acre, in terms of gain in weight of the lambs, were 73.50.

Today's Markets

Something Better Than "Rooze" in This Suitcase

DETROIT.—The conductor on a street car bound for the railroad depot watched a small man, apparently from a rural district, struggle valiantly aboard with a heavy suitcase. The new passenger put his fare. The crowd moved forward, forcing him to push his suitcase under the conductor's guard rail. A kind-hearted individual, seeing the little man fight his way back through the crowd, anticipated his object and reached for the handle of the suitcase. But the owner seized it first. His apparent discourtesy caused him little discomfort.

"Rooze," the conductor said, "get a nickel he gets off at the Union station."

He did. Also the kind-hearted individual, who trailed him to the ticket window, where he purchased a ticket. The kind-hearted individual turned to another person, who looked also as if he could smoo. Something passed between the two, for as the little man left the ticket booth both did likewise. For some time the owner of the suitcase wandered about the station with the two men at his heels.

"Wait till he sets it down," one said, "and I'll tick it."

The Red Cross booth was in the path of the carrier, who made a U-turn for it. "We've been looking for this place ten minutes," he told the women in charge. As he loosened the straps of the suitcase a display of current magazines was disclosed. He piled them on the crowded counter.

"I was on the way to my farm and my sister asked me to bring these. She saw something in the newspapers about the Red Cross desiring books for the soldiers."

"Come on," the kind-hearted individual said to his companion, "What do you smook?"

BIG ENEMY BASE OF COURTRAI IN BRITISH HANDS

English Troops Reported in Outskirts of Lille, But News Has Not Been Officially Confirmed

MEN AND BOYS TAKEN; ONLY WOMEN REMAIN

Thousands of Dollars' Worth of American Stores for Relief of Belgians Shipped Home by Germans

By LOWELL MELLETT
WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FLANDERS, Oct. 17.—British troops are in Courtrai, the great enemy base southwest of Ghent.
At the campsite it is reported that the British are in the outskirts of Lille. This has not yet been officially confirmed.
In the Lille region the British were last officially reported to have broken through the line which the Germans built about the city and were nearing the ancient defensive moat, which was the principal protection in medieval times.
The centuries old moat has been fortified, but there are no indications that the Germans intend to use those defenses.
It is understood that the Germans have taken away all the men and boys in Lille between 15 and 60, leaving only the women.
Enemy Removing Stores
General Flueter's men have captured the hill positions which dominated Courtrai and Roubaix. The enemy is removing military stores from Lille, Courtrai and Roubaix. Flueter has been observed in Lille, but it is not certain yet whether the Germans are seeking to destroy the city.
Pressure is continuing on all sides of the salient which contains the three important French industrial cities. Evacuation of this region seems imminent, and in a way that will not please the Germans.
In most places pursuers and pursued have moved out of the devastated mud flats into fair, green country.
The Belgians, for the first time in long years, are getting a glimpse of their country as they know it before the war. Few buildings have been destroyed and none of the trees are harmed.
Wine. Boulers was occupied, 1,500 civilians ran about at the periphery of their own necks, pointing out hidden mines and shouting "here's one; there's one."
A captured German engineer was compelled to restore the mines. American relief stores valued at $20,000 were taken to Germany before the evacuation.
President Wilson's reply is contained in newspapers which arrived from the coast last night. Many soldiers said it expressed their exact views. Others suggested it might have been "harder," but said they recognized the necessity of diplomatic language to gain diplomatic ends. Regarding an armistice they all agreed with Wilson.

COMPLETE COLLAPSE OF ENEMY WEST FRONT

are now bearing down upon Ghent, 16 miles east of Thielit.

The Anglo-American attack launched on a 10-mile front between Le Cateau and Bohain, this morning, was reported to have progressed two miles this afternoon and to be still going well. The British and Americans advancing toward Hirson, apparently are on the outskirts of the important mid-way center of Wassignay.

To the southward, the British, French and American pressure continues east of Cambrai and St. Quentin.
The French and Italian advance in the Leon region has become slower, but the capture of Grandpre by the Americans has permitted enlargement of the operations in the Argonne-Meuse region. Continued advance is also being made by the French and Americans in the Champagne.

The Allies are rapidly extending their victories in the Balkans, marching northward in Serbia and pouring westward into Northern Albania.
Captures of Homs, in Asia Minor, had brought the British to within 100 miles of the great center of Aleppo, which is one of the principal defenses of Constantinople from the south.

Lively artillery fire has broken out along the whole 15-mile front between Antico and the Brenta rivers, on the Italian front, the Italian war office announced today. This region contains the Asiago plateau.
Serbian troops have captured the town of Aleksandrac, 20 miles northwest of Nish, the Serbian war office announced today.
The French occupied Pinar, 35 miles southeast of Yum.

"On Tuesday, we occupied Mount Kraso Baba, the town of Aleksandrac, Mount Krasobrig and the village of Zlatitsa," the statement said.
"The French cavalry captured Piarot."

British Drive At Hirson

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The British began a new attack on the 10-mile front between Louvain and Bohain at 5:30 this morning, Field Marshal Haig reported. They are making satisfactory progress.
A strong enemy counter-attack against Haussy, north of Solesmes, pushed the British back to the western edge of the town yesterday afternoon.

ENEMY DEFENSES FALL TO PIEDS

sharp wedge into the enemy lines in the direction of Buzancy, six miles northeast of Grandpre.

Additional progress has also been made on both sides of the Meuse.
Had Hour Fixed
According to prisoners, the Germans expected an armistice to go into effect at 3:30 Monday afternoon. They were amazed when the artillery fire increased and the infantry attacked. Many, who expected to be fraternizing with Americans, are now prisoners.
One American division has taken prisoners from four boche divisions in the past few days, and the capture of the best enemy outfits on the whole west front.
There seems to be no end to the machine gun defenses. As fast as a series of these are wiped out, others are encountered and the artillery's work starts all over again.
It may now be stated that the Rainbow division participated in the recent fighting in the Aire valley, and that the eighth division from Pennsylvania was engaged with Major General Bullard's corps north of Septevres.

The Meuse was advanced in the Bois de Le Grand Montagne and held the summit. To the west the Belgians' troops have advanced on and hold the Cite de Chailillon. They are south of Bois de Loges and at nightfall were fighting in Champigneulle and Grandpre.
"Along the front of the second army the day was quiet. During the night enemy raids were repulsed."

Haig Reports Progress in Flanders

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The Belgians have captured Thourout and Schorbalke. Field Marshal Haig reported today. French troops have taken Ardoye and Lichtervelde, southeast of Thourout.
"Wednesday, between Dixmude and the Lys, despite the storm, Belgians, British and French captured their attacks on a front of over 50 kilometers (31 miles) and advanced an average depth of over six kilometers (three and three-quarter miles)," the statement said.
"North of Dinant the Belgians crossed the Yser and occupied Schorbalke. The British crossed the Lys and pushed beyond Menin to the depth of several kilometers along the right bank."
"The Belgians captured Thourout, and the French captured Lichtervelde, Ardoye. The British occupied Menin and, according to the latest reports, entered Courtrai."
"A total of over 20 villages have been delivered from the enemy. No figures are available regarding prisoners and booty."
"Yesterday afternoon the enemy made a strong counter attack upon Haussy, accompanied by heavy shelling," the statement said. "They pressed as hard to the eastern edge of the village, where fighting is still going on."
"We made further progress last night southwest of Lille and took a few prisoners. At 5:20 this morning we attacked on the Bois-Le-Cateau front. Our troops are reported to be making progress."

SHEEP RAISERS GIVEN RELIEF

Railroad Administration Announces New Rule for Feeding While in Transit

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The railroad administration today extended relief to the sheep raisers west of the Mississippi. Hereafter they will be permitted to unload and feed their shipments of sheep at the Chicago public yards. They will be allowed to "store" the sheep there for a period of six months, which is the average time for feeding western sheep.
The extension of this privilege, officials say, is to permit the movement of sheep from the drought stricken areas of the southwest and northern states. In some regions, according to reports reaching the railroad administration, only the early transfer of the herds will save heavy losses. The move will conserve much feedstuff which otherwise might be lost, according to officials.
No additional charge is made for the stopping-in-transit privilege. There is, however, a provision that additional weight taken on as a result of feeding in the terminal will be charged for at the regular local rate from Chicago to the final destination.
