MAY PRESSAGE FRESH ATTACK IN THE SOUTH

Renewed Activity on Part of French and American Troops in Region of Metz Taken to Indicate Possible Offensive

By J. W. T. MASON NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Renewal of American and French patrol activity along the Metz front and in Alsace may be the forerunner of new attacks by General Pershing's command in these areas.

The progress of the Americans south of Verdun toward the Luxembourg border is impeded by the large number of new German divisions that are being thrown into that sector to hold open Von Hindenburg's sole way of retreat from eastern France. It is probable that along the twenty mile front occupied by the Americans, Von Hindenburg has concentrated 20 per cent of his active fighting units.

One reason why the Germans are able to maintain so strong a defensive north of Verdun is the absence of any large activity disturbing them in Alsace or along the Lorraine border. The Rhine is not for the moment threatened by direct assault. Therefore it is not immediately necessary for the Germans to scatter their troops through Alsace-Lorraine.

Shortening Process Helps The troops saved by the shortening of the Picardy and Flanders lines can be hurled into the combat to keep the Americans from cutting off Luxembourg.

A new attack toward the Rhine by the Germans would change the situation very quickly. The Germans therefore, would be unable to concentrate so important a part of their field forces north of Verdun. They would have to spread their waning reserves over an extra hundred miles of threatened front. The possibility of a break through by the Allies would be much increased.

Marshal Foch has doubtless not had the necessary number of fully trained Americans up to the present to undertake this new extension of the campaign. The major offensive efforts hitherto have been centered on keeping the German retreat from eastern France and Belgium and inflicting unprecedently heavy casualties.

Now that the Germans are moving well back toward their own border, a change in the Allies' strategic plans must soon occur.

Unless the winter interferes, the Rhine's turn to become a major objective is probably not far off.

JUGO-SLAVS IN SESSION ASK FOR REPRESENTATION

—WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Jugo-Slavs, meeting at Agrum, Croatia, have declared for representation at the peace conference and in a manifesto reject Emperor Charles' offer of autonomy. They go on record for a sovereign state on democratic principles.

The central committee, which issued the manifesto, was elected by Serbia, Croatia and Slavonia of southern Austria provinces and met at Agrum five days ago.

Must Submit or Fight, Says Former Premier

PARIS, Oct. 23.—Germany must submit or fight. If she desires an armistice, Foch will dictate it, Louis Lathou, former French premier declared today, speaking at the Sorbonne, at a ceremony in honor of the Americans.

ENGLAND WILL NOT PASS ON HUN PEACE EFFORTS UNTIL REQUESTED

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The British foreign office today issued the following statement regarding the latest German note to President Wilson: "The reply was addressed to President Wilson. He must deal with it and determine whether it shall be communicated to the Allies. Until then it is not desirable to make a statement officially."

Yanks Attack Between LeCateau and Solesmes

Last of Great Cities Held By Germans in Northern France Freed By Advance of Haig's Forces—Tournai Outflanked on North and South—Italians in Albania Are Within 40 Miles of Austrian Soil—Advancing Rapidly

British and Americans began an attack today which may be regarded as the initial drive against the great fortress city of Maubeuge. The assault, which started on a front of five or six miles between LeCateau and Solesmes, resulted in an advance of a mile, according to early reports, and was still progressing well.

An advance of three miles will carry the Anglo-Americans into the Mormal forest, which is the western defense of Maubeuge. The front is about five miles across. Seventeen miles to the northeast is Maubeuge.

Just north of this new attack British troops are unofficially reported to have penetrated, well into Valenciennes, which lies 18 miles northwest of Maubeuge. This is the last sizable city in Northern France to remain in German hands.

At the extreme right of the long battle line, the Americans won an important victory today by recapturing Brioulles, 14 miles northwest of Verdun, on the Meuse. By holding this village, the Germans have held up the American advance on a wide front astride this river. The next village of consequence is Dun, three miles north, which is only eight miles from the Meuse gap, through which the Germans must pass in retreating through Luxembourg.

The Americans are thus only 11 miles from a point, which in their possession, would permit them to cut off the enemy retreat in this direction and practically split the German armies.

A campaign movement to this operation is the French attack east of Vionville, where they are seeking to encircle the northern extension of the Argonne forest and open the way for an American advance on the whole front between the forest and the Meuse.

In the Laon region, the French have made further advances in the Serre valley, clearing the south bank of the river as far east as Mortieres.

The allies in Flanders, continue to advance upon Ghent, Antwerp and Tournai. The latter place has been practically surrounded by the British.

NEED $2.46 FOR WHEAT IS CLAIM OF GROWERS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The national Wheat Growers' Association in its appeal to President Wilson for $2.46 wheat contends that even this price will not permit the wheat growers to reach the profit now being made by the growers of corn and cotton.

In its brief to the president, the association declares that "on the basis of the ratio of the price fixtures between crops the price of wheat would be over $3, as the pre-war price of cotton was about 11 cents and is now 35 to 40 cents a pound. Corn also brings nearly three times the pre-war price."

Influenza Will Not Hold Up Campaign

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Dr. John Mott, director general of the United War Work Council, announced today that the nation-wide campaign to raise funds through seven organizations will be conducted from November 11 to 18, in spite of the influenza epidemic. This decision was reached after conferences with President Wilson and members of the war department.

Will Go Strong For Navy Until End Is in Sight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—War and peace developments to date fail to give any indication of the war. This was taken to be one of the meanings behind Secretary Daniels' remark that for a new three-year navy building program—10 super-dreadnaughts, 6 battle cruisers and 140 smaller craft at an estimated cost of $600,000,000.

TALK PEACE BUT MAKE WAR," ADVISES BARUCH

Making of Peace Can Be Safely Left to President Says Chairman of War Industries Board

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Declaring that peace talk is hampering the labor and production problems of the government, Chairman Baruch of the War Industries Board, today called upon the nation to "think war, talk war, and make war."

Peace, he said, "may be left to the president."

PROHIBITION STATUTE IS HELD UNCONSTITUTIONAL

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 23.—The Texas state wide statutory prohibition law was held unconstitutional in a decision handed down here today by the state court of criminal appeals.

ALLIED FORCES CUT AUSTRIANS TO PIECES IN BALKAN RETREAT

WAR SUMMARY VALENCIENNES, the great communication center which forms the principal western defense of the Maubeuge portion of the next German line of resistance, has been penetrated by British troops. Announcement of its complete occupation is expected hourly.

(Maubeuge lies just 20 miles east of Valenciennes. Mons, which became a historic spot in the great British retreat through Flanders in the early days of the war, is 11 miles north of Maubeuge. A great part of the intervening territory between these two cities and Valenciennes is difficult wooded country.)

North of Valenciennes, the British penetrated deeply into the great Raimes forest. They also drew close to Tournai and advanced north and south of that city, practically surrounding it from the south by reaching the Scheldt at Brussels.

Progress was made by the Belgians and French on practically the whole front between the Dutch border and Tournai. The Belgians cleared the entire west bank of the Rarobroek canal, except at Doverbroeck. The French advanced nearly two miles south of Deynze, crossing the Lys near Vive-St. Bavon.

French troops pushed the Germans back again in the Serre valley, clearing the south bank of the river as far east as Mortieres.

Fierce fighting was resumed in the region east of Vouziers. In the face of German counter attacks, Czech-Slovaks, cooperating with the French, recaptured the village of Terron-Sur-Anse, four miles north of Vouziers.

In the Balkans, the French have reached the Danube, at Loin Palanka, and now hold the south bank of that river on a front of nearly 20 miles, in Bulgarian territory, facing the Rumanian frontier. Serbian, Montenegrin and French detachments continue to cut the rear guards of the retreating Austro-Germans to pieces, taking numbers of prisoners and great quantities of material.

NAVY ASKS BIG APPROPRIATION FOR GUNBOATS

Limitation of Armament After War Favored But Uncle Sam Will Go Strong For Navy Until End Is in Sight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—War and peace developments to date fail to give any indication of the war.

This was taken to be one of the meanings behind Secretary Daniels' remark that for a new three-year navy building program—10 super-dreadnaughts, 6 battle cruisers and 140 smaller craft at an estimated cost of $600,000,000.

Overlooking Nothing While Daniels is a strong advocate of limitation of armament after the war, he holds that while the war proceeds it is well to look out for the future. He pointed out in asking the new appropriations that they would tend to alleviate fears that the major ships were being overruled in pressing haste for destroyers and other anti-submarine craft. The new battle craft will be the last word in big ship construction with new ideas in drive, fire control and other phases.

HUN NOTES ARE BEING REVIEWED BY THE ALLIES

President Now Taking Up Questions Involved in Recent German Reply to Statement Terms of Cessation of War

By ROBERT J. BENDER WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—While President Wilson conferred today with Chief of Staff March, Secretary of State Lansing, Secretary of Navy Daniels, and by cable, with the Allied governments, the content of the response to be made to Germany's latest peace advances.

The conversations proceeding with the Allies led to the belief expressed at the state department, that "it is to be expected that there will be no reply to Germany today."

As explained by a cabinet member today the situation has now reached the stage where it is not only necessary but an act of courtesy, to discuss with our associates in the war, questions relative to the next step in the negotiations.

This official stated that the country could depend upon it that "no fruits of our sacrifices in this war will ever be claimed by President Wilson."

When he determines upon a course of action—expected to be without much more delay—it will be in close cooperation with our associates in the war. The official text of the German peace note was delivered at 10 o'clock this morning by Swiss chargé Oederlin.

A cursory reading of the official text showed that it was substantially the same as that sent out by German wireless.

And these facts were the only things certain in a more or less puzzling situation in officialdom.

Hinges on German Reform The main point of discussion in official and congressional quarters hinged on Germany's alleged constitutional reforms which the president stressed as of prime importance in his last reply to the Kaiser.

While widely at variance on the question of Germany's sincerity in her latest peace note, officials and leaders are practically unanimous upon one point—that Germany must go much further than she has so far promised in amending her constitution before she can satisfy the world that autocracy has been short of its power.

The proposed amendment to the German constitution now before the Reichstag, regarding declaration of war, is "The content of the federal constitution (Bundesrat) and the diet (Reichstag) is required for a declaration of war in the empire's name, except in cases where imperial territory, already has been invaded or its coast attacked."

Must Go Further The amendment regarding peace treaties says: "Treaties of peace and treaties with foreign states which deal with affairs coming under the competence of the imperial law giving bodies require the consent of the Reichstag."

Czech bonds were the only securities to rise.

THREE DAYS ARE FULLY OCCUPIED IN BIG BATTLE

Half Day's Journey Into Wrecked Country Beyond Hindenburg Line Shows Intensity of American Fighting

YANKEES—MAN TANKS WITH GOOD RESULTS

Engagement Begun in Thicket of Fog Culminates in Magnificent Victory After Protracted and Vicious Resistance

By LOWELL MELLETT

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Oct. 23.—The story of the part the Americans played in the recent fighting has been obtained by a half day's journey into the wrecked country beyond the Hindenburg line.

The battle in which the Americans participated lasted three days, beginning at 5:30 Thursday morning when with the British on either side of them, the yankies from the St. Souplet line (south of Le Cateau) on a front of 5,000 yards (nearly three miles), with cut artillery preparations. Tanks manned by Americans were important factors.

The position from which they attacked was on a ridge west of the La Selle river. Their objective was the ridge beyond, including a valley more than a mile wide. The river was from six to twenty feet wide and three feet deep. There were Germans behind the first ridges. Beyond the river were new trenches.

Nearly Lost Tanks

A heavy morning fog, Thursday, hid the German machine guns and almost caused the tanks to lose their way.

The German resistance was bitter. It began simultaneously, when the attack which was a heavy rain, that lasted 30 minutes. It included gas and was directed at St. Couple and the line of villages on either side.

Five German divisions, including the famous third, and elements of six others, participated in the fighting along the American second corps front, of which the New Yorkers had the left wing under the Carolinas and Tennessee troops the right.

The first day, the German naval division attacked from the left and another division from the right. Fighting continued by moonlight.

When one battalion established headquarters at L'Arbre de Guise (a mile east of St. Couple), the major used a tank for an office.

Two Miles First Day

Moloy, St. Martin-Riviere and L'Arbre de Guise were captured the first day in a 2-mile drive. The river was waded in some places, and in others were crossed on bridges built by the engineers.

At 7 o'clock on the first day, the engineers engaged in building bridges for the artillery and the soldiers, were embarrassed by prisoners who had surrendered to the tanks, which had plunged ahead.

On the second day, the Germans held strongly until the middle of the afternoon when they broke and gave ground. The British, in the meantime, had passed Le Cateau on the northward.

The Americans took Ribesville (two miles southeast of St. Souplet) and proceeded as far as Mazinghen (a mile west of Ribesville), which an officer entered by moonlight and found unoccupied. He reported back, whereupon a regiment marched in behind its headquarters as though on parade. This gave the Americans the third ridge.

Heavy German Casualties

The three-day fighting resulted in heavy German casualties from rifle fire, as well as from the artillery.

In a period of thirteen days, only six of which were spent in actual fighting, these Americans advanced a total depth of thirteen miles.

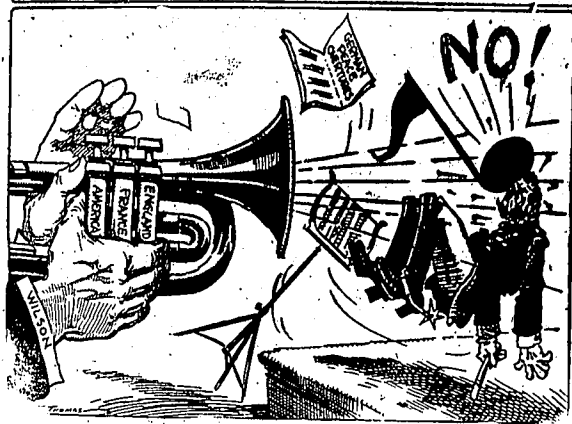

The entire second corps includes the fourth division of the regular army; the thirtieth (wild cat) division of Tennessees; the 28th, 29th, 30th and 31st Divisions of Columbia national guard; the thirty-sixth division of Missouri and Kansas national guard, and the seventy-seventh New York and eighty-second Georgia, Alabama and Florida national army men.

The state committee in a letter to county committee says, "Generally speaking, the state committee believes that any building that is reasonably essential and that does not involve any large amount of steel or iron will be approved."

DRYS MAKE LAST STAND TO SAVE PROHIBITION LAW

Fight to Prevent Measure Being Carried Over Until Next Session

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—One final effort is to be made by senate drys to save wartime prohibition, from being delayed until the next session of congress.

Within a few days Senator Gera will again present to the senate the food stimulation bill, to which the prohibition amendment is a rider and will ask the senate to give in to the house on the Provenance rent profiteering amendment, the only point in the bill now in dispute.

Senator Sheppard, dry leader, said today he hopes to convince wets by that time that there is no possibility of the house and senate agreeing on rent profiteering legislation and that it is unfair to kill the food stimulation bill, an administration agricultural measure, because of a minor difference.

If wets then refuse to give in by voting to accept the house rent profiteering plan, Sheppard will try to have the whole subject of profiteering excluded from the bill, so that the rest of it, which has already been accepted by both houses, may go to the president.

LUXEMBURG WILL CUT LOOSE FROM HUN DOMINATION

Grand Duchy Tires of State of Vassalage—Source of Iron For Krupp Works—Imposes Economic Dependence

By RAYMOND CLAPPER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Luxemburg, from which Germany is drawing iron for munitions, will cut itself free from German domination and join the Allies after the war, according to diplomats here today. Allied military successes may make this possible earlier.

Information leading to this conclusion has been received in official quarters here it is stated.

After the war Luxemburg will be either:

- 1—An independent state under protection of the League of Nations or
- 2—A province of Belgium adjoining Belgium Luxemburg.

Imposes Vassalage

Nominally an independent grand duchy, Luxemburg has been held vassal by Germany for years because of her excessive iron mines which have fed the Krupp munitions factories and made possible Germany's super-preparedness program.

The people of Luxemburg have now appealed to President Wilson for protection and have demanded that the German armies evacuate their territory which was overrun at the outbreak of the war in violation of a neutrality treaty.

Leaders Press for Break

Popular resentment was long held in check by the Grand Duchies.

But dispatches here indicate the parliament is striving to cut loose from Germany and join the Allies.

Luxemburg contains a percentage of French and Belgian population and French and Belgian spokesmen have always spoken and dominates the peasant electorate, experts say.

Germany signed treaties in 1903 and 1905, guaranteeing neutrality of Luxemburg and promising not to use her railways for troop movements.

But without a seaport, Luxemburg was forced into the German customs union and German tariffs were exacted on all goods coming into her borders.

She was thus forced into economic dependence on Germany, having few manufactures and being obliged to take German goods in exchange for iron, coal and farm products.

Events Encourage Optimism

Allied military successes have encouraged parliamentary leaders in Luxemburg to protest against German exactions.

The tiny country is without a large military force and will be helpless to defend herself against Germany until Allied successes push the Kaiser's borders from her borders.

Her vast mineral resources and agricultural products will be of great value to Allied peoples nearby and she would in turn have better access to the sea by obtaining free passage through Belgium and France, diplomats point out.

EXTRA! "I AM RIPPING OFF THE MASK"---MR. FARMER, I AM MAKING YOUR FIGHT."---FRANK R. GOODING

FELLOW CITIZENS OF IDAHO
 This is a page of The Signal, of Pierpont, South Dakota. South Dakota as well as North Dakota is fighting the same gang that we are fighting in Idaho. Read all these letters with care and see how the I. W. W. do things in South Dakota. See how they are tied up with the Nonpartisan League. The Nonpartisans have a ticket hand-picked by Townley in that state as well as in Idaho. Bill Haywood and his gang are defending a murderer who killed a union brakeman in South Dakota.
Don't miss a word on this page, Mr. Farmer. These letters bring back to my memory the trials of Bill Haywood in Idaho—the same things were done here under the direction of Bill Haywood.

 Fate seems to have decreed that I shall be one to make the fight against treason, anarchy and rebellion in Idaho. Not a pleasant duty, but I shall not shirk any part of it.
 Their organizers are telling the people that LeSueur is not their executive secretary and are offering to bet money. Read what they say about Arthur LeSueur in South Dakota.
 McKaig and Scholtz say he is a great lawyer—Americanism, his love of country.
 They say he is on the way from the Nonpartisan headquarters in St. Paul, coming to Idaho to have me arrested. Let him come on. The courts are open.

 They say that I employed Mann. If that is true, what right had McKaig to discharge him?
 I will show you other Manns before I am through with the agents of Townley and his gang.
 Watch for the sayings of Kate O'Hare:
THE LETTERS ON THIS PAGE WERE ALL INTRODUCED IN EVIDENCE AT THE TRIAL OF BILL HAYWOOD AND 100 OTHER I. W. W. IN CHICAGO, WHICH RESULTED IN THEIR CONVICTION AND HEAVY SENTENCES.

N. P. LEAGUE CANDIDATE FOR STATE TREASURER IN NORTH DAKOTA CAUGHT RED-HANDED I. W. W.

A Few More Connecting Links in the Already Strong Chain of Evidence Connecting the Nonpartisan League Leaders and Some of the Would-be State Officials, With Men Proven in U. S. Courts, to Be Traitors to the Government and Now Under Sentence of Serving Time.

A SERIES OF LETTERS which have recently appeared in the Aberdeen Daily News, are reproduced below. Read them and see if they do not sustain our contention that the Nonpartisan League leaders are outlaws and do not deserve the support or confidence of the farmers of South Dakota.
 The letters are reproduced to show the close connection between Townley, the president of the National Nonpartisan League; Arthur LeSueur, its secretary; "Big Bill" Haywood, king of the I. W. W.; Eugene V. Debs, head of the National Socialists, and other of the bon ton of the criminal and unparliamentary elements of the nation, state and county.
 We have published the records of Duncan, the state manager of the Nonpartisan League and deposed mayor of Jutte, Mont., of LeSueur, secretary of the National Nonpartisan League and of numerous other socialists connected with the Townley organization. Have you ever seen an explanation or denial of one of the charges made against those men by Townley or any of the league leaders in the Townley "kept press"? We haven't. Do you suppose for one minute they would let these statements go unchallenged if not true and they could refute them?
 Does not their silence on the subject leave them guilty as charged? We rather think it does. No, they do not deny the charges but simply how "kept press" and "big biz" to throw the honest farmer and labor members of the league out of a single sentence that could be considered as a reflection on the farmers of this community, whether members of the league or any other organization. We reiterate here and now, in our judgment, there is no more patriotic, loyal, honest and progressive body of men on earth than the farmers of Day county and South Dakota, and when they see the evidence produced by these letters, they will turn down the whole grafting, dilapidated bunch of Townley hand-picked leaders, so that they will never again be heard from in this county and state.

The following letters, which are copies of the Government's exhibits introduced in evidence at the recent trial in Chicago of 100 members of the I. W. W., were written by "Big Bill" Haywood and Jack Law and show the close connection of Charles E. Ware, deposed state treasurer of South Dakota, with "Big Bill" Haywood and the I. W. W.
 Haywood, with 92 of his associates, was convicted of violating the espionage act, interfering with conscription, hampering the government of the United States in the prosecution of the war, and was sentenced to 20 years' imprisonment and fined $20,000. The fellow Law was convicted and sentenced at the same time and is now serving time at Leavenworth. In his testimony Haywood identified the following communications as genuine.
READ IN MIND THAT CHARLES E. WARE IS THE TOWNELEY HAND-PICKED NONPARTISAN LEAGUE CANDIDATE FOR TREASURER OF SOUTH DAKOTA.

 "Of course we will expect some outside help and I feel sure that we will get it, as the membership all through the middle west realize we are going to make a fight that will establish a precedent, for this is the first case that has come up where a man has tried to defend himself against the brakeman and the hold up guys that infest the harvest fields, on account of this men will donate liberally for the defence.
 "What we are trying to get in to the heads of the members is that they must not get in any kind of a row here at the present time, either with the officials or the farmers as the jury will be most farmers as this "Bill, I note what is going to happen to Hill, and that should be a lesson to the membership to not be so slow in coming to the assistance of their fellow workers. If at the start of that case every one on the ground would get busy and hired the best state attorney and paid him the price I feel sure that Joe would be free now and we would be going to play the game different here in this case, we will try the case purely on its merits and want stand for the Org to be put on trial, for if we do will lose as sure as fate. IN FACT WE WILL TRY AND WIN THE CASE OUT OF COURT AND GO TO COURT MERELY TO MAKE IT LOOK DIGNIFIED.

 "NEXT WEEK I AM GOING ON A HUNTING TRIP WITH WARE AND WE WILL MAKE ALL THE JOUBONS ON THE WAY. DO YOU GET ME?
 "So far some little money has come in and we expect more later.
 "The Socialists here have raised one hundred so far that is fine and I think if you write to Ware occasionally he will do more. We are stopping at his house, that is Riley and no room there.
 "Say I put your name on the defence committee for I know that it will have some effect and didn't think you would have any objections. In fact I put all the names in with out asking the consent of the owner of them as there is nothing else to do as I don't get the best I can and if we don't get to many irons in the fire at the same time I think we will win and if any one comes knocking in on this case and starts to butt we will sure hand them a package.
 "One fellow worker was arrested with a gun in his pocket the other day and we told him before it happened not to carry it in this town, he finked and got pulled in the jungle, but they won't get his case and told him to deny that he was a member, we will try and get him off with a light sentence but we can't afford to put a mans life in danger by having him arrested with a gun at this time.
 "Hoping you agree with the policy outlined.
 "I remain yours to the finish.

don't think you could get in touch with the people for they are very suspicious of anyone that can't prove that they know the boy. And we think it will slack the case for us.

And the man I want to know how it is that I am drawing ten a week from the org and not doing any work. AND I CAN'T TELL THEM WHAT I AM DOING FOR IT MAY GET ME AND OTHER PEOPLE IN BAD.

 "Jack, it will be noticed he had some trouble in getting funds enough to supply the financial needs for the defence of "Fellow Worker" Schmidt. He hadn't thought at that time of charging members $10 a head.

 "I have been in the country one day and had good results. We have seen several of the prospective jurors and feel fine at the success we have had so far.
 "Sentiment seems good for the fellow worker and we don't anticipate much trouble in winning the case. Funds are coming in fairly good and expect them to get better.
 "Our success depends on personal letters that we write to every one that we know and get them busy with a list. We give a list to anyone that thinks they can get a dollar or two and in that way we get the members to assume the responsibility and not depend on me or "Fellow Worker."
 "BILLY, THE WINNEBESAW HAVEN'T COME HERE AS YET AND THAT LEAVES US IN A BAD HOLE AS WE WILL HAVE TO MAKE SOME AS SOON AS WE CAN. nothing like knowing the men before they go into the trial of the case. I do not think a member could be found who would be so narrow minded as to question your work or to ask for an explanation. THIS IS A SERIOUS CASE AND PREPARATIONS HAD TO BE MADE.
 "You have met with splendid success in raising money. I think from reports that you will have enough for a good defence. Some funds have been received at headquarters and will be forwarded to Billy within a few days.
 "About seeing the mother of Schmidt, that is a matter that you will have to determine.

Here you will perceive that "Fellow Worker" Law, who stayed at the home of "Fellow Worker" Ware while in Aberdeen attempting to work through a plan for freeing "Fellow Worker" Schmidt from the consequences of killing a railroad brakeman, is given his due credit for his good work, and the plot to bring Schmidt's "good old mother" out from Chicago to affect the jury is foreshadowed.
 By the way, may one be permitted to pause a moment to wonder how the reduced men of Aberdeen feel toward the efforts of "Fellow Worker" Ware, candidate of the Townley Nonpartisan League for state treasurer of South Dakota, to secure the liberty of a member of Haywood's "hellfire gang," who killed an honest, decent, hardworking railroad brakeman, merely because the brakeman tried to obey the rules of the railroad company and the laws of South Dakota forbidding men riding on railroad trains without paying their fare?
 It is well to recollect, also, that the address to which "Big Bill" Haywood sent his letters to Law and Riley was 427 South Washington street, the home of Charles E. Ware, Law and Riley put up at the home of "Fellow Worker" Ware while they were in town for the purpose of saving Schmidt, the man with the "pro-gerian name, member of the "hellfire gang" Haywood sent into South Dakota to burn farmers' crops and barns.

The above represents a facsimile of the blue card returned against L. J. Duncan, in connection with the Third Liberty Loan. It will be remembered that L. J. Duncan was for nearly one year and a half secretary and manager of the Nonpartisan League for this state. He came here from Montana, where he had been deposed as Mayor of Butte. He was elected as a Socialist, and for years past has been and now is a Socialist. He was elected as Mayor of Butte, by reason of the fact that he permitted the American flag to be desecrated, and because he refused to protect the persons and the property of the people of Butte against the I. W. W. riots.
 During the time that he was secretary and manager of the League for this state he was drawing a salary of $200.00 per month. In the letter writ-

PUPPETS OR LEGISLATORS?

The News, in the past few days, has been moving fairly and squarely the various points raised by the Nonpartisan Journal in its editorial talking exception to the endorsements of the News of candidates for the legislature.

No single pertinent question raised has been intentionally evaded. The News has not sought to answer by counter-charges or generalities backed up by sweeping assertions.

Within the next few days the platform of the Nonpartisan league will be discussed in these columns. We agree with the Journal, to some extent, that "It's the platform that counts."

However, the men who are sent to Boise to translate any platform into law, effective legislation are immensely vital factors, from our point of view. The men who are sent to Boise from this county must pass upon numerous questions not raised by any platform. They should be men of the proper caliber. The men who represent Twin Falls county in the coming legislature must be men who do represent, in fact as well as in name, the thought and character of the people of this county, farmers, laborers, business, professional men—all.

They should be legislators—not puppets. We take exception to the Journal's estimate of a legislator, as gained from the following carried in its columns of last week:

These men (referring to the League's candidates for the legislature) are not left a single loophole for a change of heart after election. There are no "ifs" and "ands" to it. Our candidates will stand after the election just as they do now—holding that the great issue is the legislation proposed by their supporters. BEFORE BECOMING A CANDIDATE EACH OF THESE MEN WAS SOLEMNLY OBLIGATED IN THE PRESENCE OF WITNESSES THAT THEY WOULD WORK TO PUT INTO EFFECT THE PROGRAM OF THE LEAGUE AND ORGANIZED LABOR.

The capital, in this instance, are ours. It is a poor recommendation for any candidate, to say the least, that he should have to be "solemnly obligated in the presence of witnesses" to do what his honor as a man and his honor as an elected representative of the county should, of itself, direct him to do without question.

This is what is known as the "hamstringing" process. It is what makes for a legislature of puppets, instead of Legislators.

Platforms, principles, are one thing; laws, another. Laws have been known to contain jokers. Laws, intended to put into effect principles of unquestioned merit, have been rendered positively vicious by their designers.

The News has repeatedly stated that it wants to see the next legislature enact legislation that will remedy, or at least mitigate the economic ills which oppress the farming classes.

For this reason it does not want the next legislature to be a French and Judy show.

It does not want a legislature of Puppets responding to the pull of the string.

But if such HAS to be the case, The News and the voters of this county, and consequently in other lobbies and camps, should be discouraged as much as possible.

HIS NEW JOB

By VINCENT G. PERRY.

Promotion! Assistant manager of that large departmental store! Almost seemed too good to be true.

Robert Campbell, and for 15 minutes after he had received notification of his advancement he could do nothing but sit and wonder at his good luck.

"Wouldn't you be proud and glad. He hurried to the telephone booth and stopped as he heard Carrie's voice.

"I care for you only. Meet me to-night. I love you, dearie, and I want you for my own," she was saying over the wire.

"Bob put his hand to his head. He could hardly believe his ears until she repeated the same words, and then as she caught sight of him, said: "That is all, thank you," as curtly as she could and hung up the receiver.

"Did you want to see me, Bobbie," she said in the same old way.

"No thank you," he gulped. "You had better finish your telephone conversation."

"I had finished," she answered, without showing any embarrassment.

"I don't think you had." He turned about and left her. Carrie looked after him in wonder. She made her way back to the desk that she had occupied for the first time that day.

"Were you heard about Mr. Campbell's promotion, Miss Alderson?" the girl who had charge of Carrie's old counter, asked. "He is to be assistant manager. Promotions seem to have gone the rounds."

"I had a splendid time," Carrie exclaimed in delight. "I am so glad, for he has worked hard for promotion."

When she was left alone Carrie began to make excuses for Bob's coldness. He was filling his role as assistant manager.

When noon hour arrived, no Bob appeared. Carrie waited for nearly half an hour with her coat and hat on before the realization that he was not coming came to her.

She was not good enough for an assistant manager's wife. It was hard to credit Bob with such an ungrateful spirit, for he had always been so kind and considerate.

By the time the lunch hour was over she had decided to go home. She had planned to build, with the garden and rose hedge had been almost real but apparently Bob had forgotten.

An assistant manager would be able to afford more of a little home, and could figure in society. The manager was past middle age and in time Bob would probably step into his place.

Then he could marry an heiress—the president's pretty daughter or someone else equally impressive. Bob was handsome, ambitious and progressive.

He would be a big man some day and their little love affair could really mean nothing to him. That she was pretty, ambitious and progressive as well did not enter Carrie's mind.

Whatever she had done was to increase her savings in order to help Bob when the time came for the little home. As Carrie realized that all her dreams were shattered she burst into tears.

By the time the lunch hour was over she had decided to go home. She had planned to build, with the garden and rose hedge had been almost real but apparently Bob had forgotten.

"I will make the first report, Mr. Campbell," she said icily, "but you must speak to my successor about the monthly report for I am to give my notice tomorrow night."

"You are to be married, I presume, Miss Alderson." Bob felt his heart sinking.

"How dare you insult me," Carrie flashed. "It is not enough to slight me at you have, because you have been promoted and consider yourself above your old friends, without insulting me. No; I am not going to be married because I have been silly enough to waste my affections upon a man that was not worthy of them. I am leaving because I refuse to work under an assistant manager who is not a gentleman."

Registrants Leaving Here for California Camp Grateful for Send-off Given

The Twin Falls county men who trained here Tuesday evening to enter the military service at Fort Rosecrans, California, in a telegram dispatched from Newcastle to The News by Paul H. Taber, leader of the party, express their appreciation of the farewell demonstration and of the contributions made to their comfort enroute. Following is the text of the message:

Please express through your paper to the people of Twin Falls, our sincere appreciation of the send-off given us and to the Red Cross for the good eats furnished by them. The collection noted us $128, for which we wish to express our thanks.

VOTE FOR EMMA LONGLEY WARREN

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

The present County Treasurers in several counties in Idaho are women.

It is generally recognized that women can perform the duties of such office with singular ability.

Such a course, likewise, assists in relieving men for war work.

EMMA LONGLEY WARREN has been a resident of Twin Falls County for six years past, and for such time has been engaged as a teacher in the public schools of Twin Falls City. She has had an extensive business experience and is entirely capable and highly efficient, and will bring to the performance of the duties of such office, rare ability and entire fidelity.

Twin Falls should follow the example of several other Idaho Counties and elect a well qualified woman as County Treasurer.

COUNTY SENDS MORE FIGHTERS FOR TRAINING

Citizens Join With Relatives in Farewell Demonstration for Contingent Entraining for Fort Rosecrans, California

Citizens of Twin Falls joined with relatives of the men leaving in a farewell demonstration marking the departure from here Tuesday evening of 24 registrants of this county entering the military service at Fort Rosecrans, California. The registrants assembled at 5 o'clock and marched from the intersection of Main avenue and Shoshone street to the railway station, where a procession led by Sergeant Robert K. Logan, carrying the Elks' big United States flag, and accompanied by William Wagner and Eugene Hart, members of the navy, at home on furlough.

Behind the colors came the Twin Falls band playing martial airs, and Adjutant J. M. Bire of Dan McCook post, Grand Army of the Republic, bearing the post flag.

Contributions Liberal

Contributions to a comfort fund for the benefit of the men enroute was taken, as usual, at the station, and a big lunch prepared for them by the women of the Twin Falls Red Cross branch, was handed on board the car. Under the impression that an order of the state board of health prohibited any gathering in a church building, the Red Cross branch, which has heretofore served dinner to men leaving to enter the military service, did not serve this meal on this occasion.

Two of the registrants, Roy M. Beauchamp and Roy M. Spargur, who were members of the party which entrained here Tuesday, were registrants of the class of September 12, 1918. However, however, waived deferred classification to be inducted at this time, among them being Paul R. Taylor, who was placed in command of the party, and Charles U. Browne and Hinely Butler, who with Roy M. Beauchamp, were designated as assistant leaders.

The Cinque Ports

"The cinque ports" of England are the "five ports": Dover, Sandwich, Hythe, Romney and Hastings. In Saxons and succeeding times they were bound to furnish ships for the purpose of repelling invasion, and in return were granted special privileges. Hops and Wuchelone were afterward added to them. To be appointed warden of the cinque ports is still considered a very high honor.

HUNGARIAN INFLUENCE GRIPS HUNGARY

German Strangle-hold on Dual Monarchy Manifested in New Way

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Hungary, "essentially Germanized," is working hand in hand with Austria to prevent disruption of the dual monarchy and the military defeat of the central powers, according to advices from Rome today.

The belief was expressed in Rome that the recent manifesto announcing the actual separation of the Hungarian government—including its army and its diplomatic corps—from Austria was but a link in an extended plan of the Germanized Hungarians to derive the estate would-be oppressed nationalities of the conglomerate empire.

It was pointed out in the Italian cable that the Hapsburg grip on Hungary is firm.

Many Landowners German.

Many of the land owners, the ruling class, are Germans and Magyars, and the Hungarian land owners must rely solely upon the maintenance of the Austro-Hungarian union to hold their feudal privileges. Diplomats contend that this was the real reason why the broader evidence of freedom and independence still remain in absolute economic and political control.

The chief advocate of the Vienna declaration from the Hapsburg viewpoint, is believed to be the opposition which aims to get Hungary out from the dual monarchy and set to its peace place. In addition there is the probable effect on the Bohemians, Moravians and South Slavs.

THEY'VE GOT 'EM WHIPPED!!

Here are the two world heroes of the hour: General Foch, supreme military commander of all allied armies and President Wilson, proclaimed diplomat-tycoon through the world. They have won the war. Both have scored crushing victories over Germany and her allies within the last few weeks. Foch in all our military strategy and our war president in brilliant stands for right—expressed in short terse terms that could be perverted. Wilson's latest fanning movement in forcing the Huns to stop sincerely in peace bids. Is the diplomatic knockout of the war. It's all-up with the Kaiser.

Italians Nearing Austrian Soil

ROME, Oct. 22.—Austrian rear guards and Albanian insurgents have been driven north of the Matya river, thirty miles north of Durazzo and within forty miles of Austrian territory. The Italian war office announced today.

Heavy artillery fighting and successful fighting were reported on the Italian front.

"Hard pressed by Italian cavalry, Albanian insurgent bands and Austrian rear guards have retired north of the Matya river," the statement said.

"On the mountain front, also along the Piave, there was desultory artillery fighting. South of Col Del Rosso, surprised detachments penetrated a hostile advanced post, destroyed the defenses and took eleven prisoners. On the Asia ridges, enemy patrols were dispersed."

NEW TWIN FALLS BANK IS TO BE OPENED SOON

Application for Charter Is Granted By Comptroller of Treasury

Twin Falls' fourth bank, the Twin Falls National bank, organized by Twin Falls and Shoshone capitalists, will be in operation within the next few days, according to a statement made by Judge James H. Rothwell, who, with W. Or Chapman, is acting as attorney for the organizers. Negotiations are under way for securing a centrally located building and fixtures for the new institution have been ordered.

Advice from the comptroller of the treasury received here Tuesday is that a charter has been granted for the new institution. The stockholders for organization purposes, who are at present in Salt Lake on business in connection with the undertaking, will return to hold a meeting here in the near future.

The new bank is organized with an initial capital stock of $100,000. The officers and directors of the institution, who are also stockholders for organization purposes, are the following: President, Joseph Kiefer, Shoshone; vice president, R. D. Berman, Twin Falls; cashier, Gilbert J. White, Shoshone; Conrad Magel and J. S. Johnson, both of Twin Falls.

Mr. Kiefer is at present president of the Lincoln County National bank at Shoshone, and Mr. White is president of the Jerome National bank at Jerome. The local men who are officers and directors, are for the most part heavily interested in the sheep grazing industry.

THE TRUTH ABOUT CANDY

How Does Candy Compare in Food Value With Other Well Known Foods?

The amount of food value in things we eat is best expressed in calories.

Taking a pound of good, standard quality chocolate creams, such as you buy in all first-class stores, we find that

Chocolate Creams Have 2092 Calories Per Pound

As against this we find:

Whole Milk	1115 calories
Cream	891 calories
Whole Eggs	1815 calories
Hen's feet	1000 calories
Butter	1530 calories
Rice	1620 calories
White Bread	1170 calories
Corn Bread	1170 calories

The world war has put everything in the acid test, and only that which is nutritive, candy is recognized as one of the best and most essential foods for soldiers.

There was a time when rum and whiskey were thought to supply the ideal body fuel. But war has proven beyond a doubt that alcohol can no longer be classed as a food product.

On the other hand, candy, which went into the war practically unrecognized, has come to the front as a food of tremendous value—something which is very, very essential to the soldier.

The British army reports that its soldiers in France have required five times the amount of candy first estimated for their use.

A constant stream of candy, aggregating many tons, is going regularly to our own soldiers in France—white, thousands of pounds are used weekly by the boys in training camps in this country.

This is because candy supplies a natural craving for something sweet to supply the carbohydrates (fuel for the body). That's why candy is recognized as a food instead of just a luxury. It happens to be the source through which most people like best to supply their system with the fuel it needs.

In normal times the candy industry uses only 8% of the sugar consumed per capita in this country. Right here the amount has been cut severely in two.

HUN NOTES BEING REVIEWED

The constitution now provides that "the emperor shall declare war and conclude peace."

These amendments, officials agree, mark a step towards German decentralization, but they declare that the constitution contains other things which must be eliminated or amended before the kaiser will be shown of his autocratic war making power. Among other changes which officials today declare vital are:

Removal of the German army from the kaiser's personal control. Abrogation of his power to dissolve the reichstag at will.

Curtailing of the power of the federal council of bundestag.

Redeclarifying of the German empire to eliminate the "rotten borough" evil and reduce the junkers' power in the reichstag.

With regard to the first of these, it was pointed out today that the German constitution specifically provides that every German soldier is sworn to obey orders after issued by the emperor, that any officers are named and promoted by the kaiser without review by the bundestag or reichstag, and that the kaiser therefore has power to build up a personal military machine, which swings allegiance directly to him, but not to the German government or nation, except through him.

The constitution also allows the kaiser to dissolve the reichstag at will, thus causing a general election. Should the kaiser, head of a great personal army, desire to sack war, he could prorogue the reichstag and before it could meet again could declare war of some pretext involving the safety of the empire, it was pointed out today.

The power of the bundestag must be curtailed, it was declared. This council is named by the kaiser and the kings of the various states making up the German confederation. Under the present constitution, all bills must either originate in or be reviewed by the bundestag, which really represents only the sovereign and the ruling classes of the various states.

Upper House Must O. K.

Germany cannot amend its constitution, for instance, if 14 of the 68 members of the bundestag disapprove of the proposed amendment. Prussia has 13 votes in the bundestag, hence Prussia can still dictate how far the democratization of Germany shall go—and the kaiser is the king of Prussia. Upon the re-districting of Germany, for the purpose of electing the reichstag, depends whether the reichstag really is representative of all the people.

The original districts have not been changed, since they were laid out in 1871. There are 30 times as large as others so far as population is concerned, but the large ones have the same representation as the original districts.

That the vote of a junker landholder is really 10 times as powerful as the vote of a man from a large city, where progressive thought centers.

TWIN FALLS WOMAN DIES AT WASHINGTON

Elizabeth, Wife of Hugh Smith, Passes Away After an Illness of Some Weeks

A brief telegram received today contains the news of the death in Washington of Elizabeth Smith, wife of Hugh Smith, son of Addison T. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Smith made many friends during their residence in Twin Falls, which terminated about two years ago, and the news of Mrs. Smith's demise comes as a shock in the many friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Smith, who died on Tuesday evening.

ENEMY AT GATES

open the way for peace. There is no doubt we are now equal to the task of either war or peace by carrying out our government's program and definitely breaking away from the old system.

"The legal question will not step at our boundaries, which will sever open for violence of our own accord. The principles upon which we have agreed as our rule of conduct will still be observed. Thanks to the parties' acquiescence in the government's proposal for electoral reform, Prussia now has advanced so far that equal direct suffrage has been secured."

Change of Policies

"Bills now pending before the reichstag make it possible for members of that body to enter the cabinet without resigning their seats. There is also a change in the law regarding the chancellor's representation. Hitherto, only the highest imperial authorities were able to represent the chancellor. In the future, any member participating in the direction of the imperial policy, being responsible in the chancellor's name, without actually being minister. We are convinced the government and parliament thereby may supply precursors' force from the people which will solve the long existing question."

"I hope soon to reveal to the reichstag the results of the preliminary labors regarding legal extension of the chancellor's political responsibilities, which will be secured by formation of a state government."

The new system of imperial government involves a new government for Alsace-Lorraine. Alsations appointed by the governor and secretary of state from leaders of the second chamber of the diet, will be members of the representative assembly.

"Political Authority Promised

"The aim of myself and my colleagues is political authority for the German people. The people long have been in the middle. Now they are to ride. Political development at the end of September changed everything, guaranteeing continuance of the growth of this new system."

"The enemy is at our gates! Our first and last thought must be for the brave defenders whom we must defend against unjust charges. There are bad elements in every army. With the fundamental will of the people, the army will do their duty."

"In retrospect, the recent political harvest creates different feelings, some regarding it as a reckless descent in the direction of the destruction of existing orders; others believe the times are uncertain and are groping for reform. Both opinions should be expressed. Opposition insures parliamentary independence."

MASKED BANDIT GETS BIG HAUL

TORONTO, Oct. 22.—A lone armed bandit held up George Williamson and William Williamson, Canadian express messengers, in a car of the Grand Trunk Buffalo-Niagara express near here today and stole $20,000 in money. He jumped from the train, commandeered an automobile and escaped under military escort, to Hansen at noon today. The young widow and infant child of Private Tunks arrived here the first of the week from Colorado, to attend the services.
