AUSTRIAN PRISONERS POUR DOWN SLOPES OF MOUNTAINS IN FLOCKS

Wedge Driven Into Enemy's Mountain Positions While Allied Forces Over-run Venetian Plains—Italians Enter Belluno—Enemy Evacuating Udine—Austrian Officers Received Behind Italian Lines to Discuss Armistice

By HENRY WOOD

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMS IN THE FIELD, Nov. 1.—The Italians continue to drive a wedge into the Austrian mountain positions on the northern portion of the front, which constitutes an ever-increasing menace to their communications in the Trentino region. This operation is being carried out by the fourth army.

Italian troops have entered Belluno. The Austrians are evacuating.

Austrian forces have evacuated Udine, abandoning vast quantities of war materials and supplies in their hasty flight. It had been used since last November as the headquarters of the enemy government in the occupied Italian territory. Udine is 45 miles from the Piave and only 12 miles from the Austro-Italian border.

ITALIANS CROWD BETWEEN MAIN ENEMY ARMIES

Advancing Armies Release Six Thousand Italian Prisoners—Progress Continues, Unchecked on 125 Mile Front

By HENRY WOOD

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMS IN THE FIELD, Nov. 1.—The Italians have completely severed communications between the Austrian armies in the Piave and Trentino regions.

Following the brilliant operation which resulted in the capture of Mont Corno, the twelfth army, after a night of forced marching, occupied the summit of the entire ridge east of the Piave for 30 kilometers (18 miles) in desperate fighting. This gave them complete domination of the Piave gorge from Feltrino to Belluno.

Prisoners Taken En masse.—The third and fourth armies have reached the Livenza. Advanced guards have entered Motta di Livenza and Torre di Motta.

Prisoners, guns and booty have been taken on all sides.

North of Di Del Bella, troops of the sixth army, in corps de mail, advance fight, collapsed. It is impossible to estimate the number of prisoners which are coming down from the mountains in flocks. The hostile artillery is all captured.

Enemy Front Collapses.—In the Grappa region, under the impetus of the fourth army, the enemy front collapsed. It is impossible to estimate the number of prisoners which are coming down from the mountains in flocks. The hostile artillery is all captured.

Advancing forces have fired 6,000 Italian prisoners of war. Bombs cables today announced. The prisoners had been kept immediately behind the Austrian lines and had been compelled to watch the military fortification of the Italian gun fire, the airfield declared.

The cables state the recapture of occupied Italian cities has verified the reports of Austro-German barbarities. Evidence of wild destruction was seen on every hand.

BOLSHEVICKISM REARS ITS UGLY HEAD ONCE MORE

Austria May Be Scene of Reign of Anarchy Rivaling Russia—Race Hatred Seizes Opportunity to Assert Itself

Railways Demoralized Behind Lines—Discipline in Army Impossible—Continual Disorders and Demonstrations

By RAYMOND OLAPPE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Austria appears to be developing Bolshevism. A reign of anarchy is evident there, which may rival Russia, according to diplomatic advice here today. Race hatred and revolutionary fire already have started their deadly work.

The Austrian army, helpless on the field, is ready to surrender. Railroads are demoralized behind the lines, leaving the soldier without food and ammunition. This, added to the growing hatred of the Hapsburgs, makes it impossible for the Austrian commanders to maintain military order, reports say. Disorder is growing at home. Scores of demonstrations are held daily. Czechs, Jews, Slovaks and Poles are organizing everywhere and in some places have already seized control of the government.

Austria Doomed.—As a result of the collapse predicted for years by historians, diplomats declared that Austria will become an insignificant province—or at best a petty kingdom. But unofficial reports today talk of formation of a workers' and soldiers' council at Vienna, indicating that radicalism is spreading.

DISPATCHES TELL STORY OF RAPID DISINTEGRATION OF AUSTRIA-HUNGARIAN EMPIRE

SOCIALISTS IN CONTROL OF AUSTRIAN PORTLANDS

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 1.—The National council in Vienna, with thousands of soldiers and officers, decided to establish a provisional government and soldiers' council and draw up plans for a new constitutional state, according to a Vienna dispatch received today.

Victor Adler has been named foreign minister, Herr Leutner, war minister, and Herr Benner, minister of social affairs. All are socialists.

The revolutionary government is growing throughout the country. Vienna is reported to be without food.

"DOWN WITH HAPSBERGS" IS CHANT AT VIENNA

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 1.—A provisional workers' and soldiers' council has been formed in Vienna, the Berliner Tageblatt and the Vossische Zeitung declared.

Thousands of workmen are reported to be parading the streets shouting "Down with the Hapsburgs." They are being joined by troops of soldiers returning from the front, bearing red flags.

SMOLDERING SMOKER OF REVOLUTION BURNS

LONDON, Nov. 1.—The initial

ARMIES OF THE DUAL EMPIRE FIND THEMSELVES WITHOUT A COUNTRY

WAR SUMMARY

EMPEROR Karl has practically abandoned his shattered government at Vienna. Meanwhile, the rout of the Austrian armies in Italy continues. Prisoners are being taken so fast it is impossible to estimate the total.

The swiftly moving political events at home and the overwhelming victories of the Allies have reduced the status of the Austrian armies in Italy and the Balkans to that of a disorganized mob.

With armistice negotiations reported to be going on behind the Italian lines, the Austrians' power of resistance appears to be utterly broken and their organization completely demoralized.

After splitting the Austrian armies east of the Piave, the Allies have torn the enemy defenses in the mountain region wide open.

The situation in the Balkans is scarcely less dangerous with the Austrians scrambling across the Hungarian frontier and the Allies on their heels.

At least four independent states are reported to have formed from the wreckage of what was once the Austro-Hungarian empire. The Allies were at war with Austria-Hungary. But there is no longer any Austria-Hungary, save in name.

AUSTRIAN BREAK HAS BIG EFFECT ON WAR OUTLOOK

Armistice if Granted Will Provide for Unhindered Passage of Allied Troops Clear to German's Back Door

LONDON, Nov. 1.—(By British admiralty wireless).—The effect of the Austrian break upon the war will be immense, said the London Daily News today. It is obvious that the allies would consent to an armistice which did not provide, as in the case of Bulgaria, for unhindered passage of their troops and the protection on Austrian soil of war against Germany.

The kaiser's abdication also is considered to be inevitable, the date only being uncertain. Confidential advice to the conference suggested that the German internal situation is momentarily likely to force his abdication.

Two separate states apparently have been formed in Bohemia, one by the German population and the other by the Czechs. The latter constitute about 75 per cent of the population of 6,000,000. They have selected Prague, situated between Vienna and Berlin, as their capital. Bohemia's area is 35,000 sq. miles, located 50 miles southeast of Prague.

HUGHES ADVISES COURT MARTIAL OF FORMER AIRCRAFT BOARD HEAD

Deeds Charged With Tipping Off Former Business Associates With Inside Information—Report Advises Criminal Action Against Army Officers—Huge Sums Wasted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Secretary of War Baker was considering today the recommendation of Charles E. Hughes, that the war department consider the advisability of court martialing Colonel Deeds, aircraft leader. The Hughes report of investigation into the aircraft placed in Baker's hands late yesterday, was studied by the Secretary last night and a decision as to court martial was expected soon.

The report was generally viewed here as milder in its conclusions than the senate air probers expected.

Hughes held Deeds was guilty of nothing criminal, but considered he had done things unbecoming an officer in giving war department data to men with whom he was intimately associated, and that he had advised the committee on public information incorrectly, as to the air program.

At the same time, Hughes recommended criminal action against Lieut. Colonel J. G. Vincent, former Packard motor car company vice president. Lieut. Colonel G. M. Myster and Second Lieutenant Samuel B. Vrooman, Jr. for alleged violation of statutes providing that government officers shall not have interests in concerns with which they have official contacts.

Millions Wasted
About $25,000,000 was found to have been lost through abandoning two types of airplanes and falling to do salvage.

In answer to claims that the original war appropriations had been squandered, Hughes pointed out that the expenditures on contracts for aircraft in 1917 were less than the original grant.

The defective organization of the work of aircraft production and the serious lack of competent direction of that work by the responsible officers of the "signal corps," said he, was largely due to the delays and waste which chiefly due, were matters for administrative correction through unification of effort under competent control.

Corrects Abuse
Hughes corrected the program under John Ryan, who consumed marked improvement in the financial and production program, but who came in bad faith. In 1917, company it was estimated should make over $5,000,000 on contracts up to next March; the Ford Motor company over $5,000,000 on contracts in January; the Curtiss company over $5,000,000 on contracts to January.

Gets Profit Back
Attorney General Gregory's supplemental letter said that more than half of these profits were taken in taxes by the government. Hughes himself pointed out the manufacturing figure on a liberal profit margin and that there was small incentive to economize under the cost accounting system.

Hughes found that there had been some bad organization work and that in some cases contracts were given to poorly equipped plants or to inexperienced ones. The report showed that contracts withdrawn from the Engle Aircraft company, were re-awarded after Secretary of War Baker's brother had resigned from the concern.

Of No Political Value
The political party found much for campaign use in the Hughes report, but the party, which had been expected to be a political party, was disappointed. Gregory's report said that the result of Ford's factory had been fully up to requirements.

YANKS WILL HELP REBUILD COUNTRY

Thousands of American Soldiers Will Start Work for Long Time in Devastated Area

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Whenever the war ends thousands of American soldiers in France and Belgium will be engaged in the reconstruction of the war devastated areas. Wide utilization of the American forces will be used while the troops are there.

Officials today estimated that the American armies abroad could not all be brought back in less than ten months. The maximum monthly return of the men cannot exceed 250,000.

Plans for returning the troops are, of course, tentative as yet, but in a general way, the return first of those who went over first is contemplated.

ARTILLERYMAN DECLARES HUN MUST PAY BILL

"Punk" Wynn of Twin Falls, Writes Entertaining Account of His Experiences at the Front

The views on the war of a Twin Falls artilleryman after spending two months on the front are given interestingly in a letter under date of September 10 from James B. Wynn, better known as "Punk" Wynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Wynn, from which the following excerpts are taken:

"This is the first night since coming up here that I have had any pretense to speak of. Of all the adventures I ever had, this has been all. There are four anti-aircraft guns all located within half a mile from where we are camped, and about 25 machine guns. They are firing on about a dozen 'booby' planes which 'come over' as a bombing party, and I'm telling you it isn't a very pleasant place to stick around; that is, if you haven't a dog-out to hide away in.

Excitement Wears Off

We have been on the front for a little over two months, and so far, I don't know that I look or feel any worse for it. It was all new to me at first but as time went on we got used to it.

Reign of Terror Fails and Fear Is Now in Heart of Huns

Hun Glory

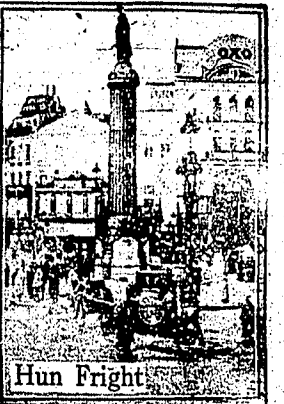

Fear is in the heart of the Hun. Upon his arrogant, conceited and brutal brain the light has suddenly dawned.

The allies' ultimatum by President Wilson that Germany must pay to the utmost for all wanton destruction and that for these acts no armistice other than virtual unconditional surrender of all the Hun military party would be considered, was the light.

Here are two pictures which prove the Hun's fear. On the left, Balzanz, while the town is bottled up, has taken before Wilson's ultimatum, but just after the Kaiser-kian had renounced—but not until he bloody hand had destroyed the town. It was the same with Ham, Rovo, Cambrai, St. Quentin and scores of other French and Belgian towns.

On the right is Lille, entered by British troops since the ultimatum. While the town is bottled up, it is the first town not to be razed by retreating Huns.

So fear returns supreme to his heart.

COMPLETE SURRENDER OF ARMIES OF CENTRAL POWERS IS IN SIGHT

Austria's Capitulation Expected Hourly—Will Open East Frontier of Enemy to Allied Forces—Question of Short Time Only Before Germany Can Be Entirely Crushed—Debauch of Associates Means Quick Downfall

By ROBERT J. BENDER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Complete surrender of the central powers to the forces of the allies is drawing nearer, official Washington believed today.

Already military autocracy has been crushed by the allied arms. Austria's capitulation is expected momentarily in the wake of her frantic appeal for an armistice on the field of battle.

When this comes, Germany will face the world alone. How long she will hold out is a matter of conjecture, but authorities here believe not more than six months.

Germany, these authorities say, must be weighing thoughtfully the consequences of the debacle of her allies as she awaits the call for surrender from the Versailles conference.

Austria's exit from the war, military authorities point out, will expose the entire western German frontier, where morale is the weakest and where feeling against Prussia is most bitter. Bavaria, Saxony and Silesia would be the first points of contact with allied troops and Munich, Dresden and Breslau, leading south German cities, would be the first cities feeling a drive from the Austrian side.

Face Tremendous Debt

Debts are now haunting the Germans. Already the Hohenzollerns face the probability of having to repudiate the government's debt at home in order to square its debts to the world. This, or vast taxation measures, to meet the outstanding bonds of $40,000,000,000, and payments which the peace table will bring for territories devastated by the Germans, appears certain, officials say.

Government repudiation of its debt to the people, officials here say, would make the peoples' power supreme. The Krupp, for example, with millions of marks invested in government securities, would be reduced suddenly to a position where they no longer would constitute a menace.

One Belgian Hinge Sun

Estimates of the damage done by the Germans in Belgium place a load of approximately $4,000,000,000 on Germany. This has grown up from fines, levies, war contributions, removal of raw and manufactured products to Germany, and wholesale destruction of property. The German invaders levied in fines and contributions upon the Belgians, $40,000,000 in 1914; $90,000,000 in 1915; $115,000,000 in 1916; $100,000,000 in 1917, and to October 1, 1918, they had collected $75,000,000.

Belgium lost approximately $1,500,000,000 worth of raw and manufactured products, machinery and other industrial equipment to the invaders, according to a published German boast in 1917. These figures do not include the deportation of 1,750,000 Belgian men into Germany, whose production was entirely lost to their home land. Billions in plunder and destruction have been charged against the huns to northern France, Serbia and other invaded sections. These debts will demand a reckoning at the peace table.

Armistice Terms Expected Soon

Definitive developments from the Versailles conference are expected soon. It was said today that it was quite possible Germany would get the armistice terms and pass on them before they would be published to the world. Agreement on basic peace principles is imminent, according to reports.

TOO MUCH POLITICS?

The News has many columns of political news of various kinds on hand these days and more comes with every mail. To publish any considerable part of it all would be a task beyond the capacity of the ordinary newspaper, added to which the sum total of the effect would probably be to enhance still further the very grave possibility that the right of franchise will be neglected, this year by altogether too many people.

This is a very real danger. In order that a true expression of the will of the people in the matter of choosing the men for office shall be registered, it is necessary that all vote.

The registration to date indicates an unusual interest in the election and yet this year's election from many standpoints is one of the most important in the history of the nation.

PEACE

Peace grows hourly nearer. An armistice with Germany may be signed at any time now, and the kind of an armistice which will be accepted by the Allies will be the kind which will practically preclude Germany re-entering the war.

The defection of Austria and the surrender of Turkey mean that Germany stands alone. If there ever was a chance that Germany would side-step an opportunity to quit, that chance is today practically eliminated.

If Germany accepts the Allies' armistice terms, there is not a two per cent chance that Germany will ever fight again during this war.

WE'RE SOBBY!

The News is in receipt of an official request from the Secretary of the State Board of Health that no election bulletins be posted on election night and that every effort be made to prevent the gathering of crowds interested in election returns. This is in the interests of the public health.

The News will do exactly as it is asked to do. The request brings with it a feeling of very natural disappointment, but under the circumstances we have no choice but to suggest that election night be allowed to pass like any other night. No bulletins will be posted at the News office nor will any information be given out to groups assembled for the purpose of receiving it.

THE COUNTY'S BUSINESS

The News is not interested in the political fortunes of any individual or any particular group of individuals. It is, however, vitally interested in the economic development of nation, state and county and the upholding of principles which make for such development. It is not opposed to the election of Republican or Democratic office-holders in state and county as such.

But for radical Socialism, the kind of Socialism espoused by Towley, advocated by Mann and LeBeuer, the News has no earthly say, and the question which is pointedly up to the voters of Idaho in this election is as to just what extent the theories of these men obtain in the case of endorsed candidates, and to what extent the application of such theories, should, upon holding them in varying degrees be desired, would be likely to work an evil when applied to the operator of State and County business. There are men today on the Republican and the Democratic tickets who have endorsed by the League's politicians, who did not seek the endorsement and who don't care two cents whether the endorsement is withdrawn or allowed to stand. If elected they will perform the duties of their offices for the benefit of all the people. At least, it is confidently expected that they will. These men are not affected by that endorsement one way or the other. Probably this is not true of all those candidates holding such endorsement, but the singling out process is up to the voter. The News does not propose to dictate to anyone how he shall mark his ballot.

But there are certain offices in Twin Falls county where the public as a whole cannot afford to take a chance. Offices, the duties of which are of a nature so vital to the whole fabric of the county's welfare that the election of men whose records and whose present attitude is not one hundred per cent clear of any and all entangling alliances of every nature, might prove a calamity, the result of which is not pleasant to contemplate.

The business of Twin Falls county, that is to say the handling and disbursing of all the funds of the county, constitutes perhaps the most important business in the county. Certainly it is of more vital interest to more people than is any other single business in the same section. For this reason every voter should scan his ballot with minute attention when it comes to the selection of the men to be entrusted with these offices.

The News has abundant faith in the ability of its voters to make these distinctions for themselves.

THE VOTERS OF TWIN FALLS COUNTY

I am asking you to vote for me for COUNTY ASSESSOR. I have been and will be unable to make any canvass of the voters of the county, my work on the farm preventing. I am a farmer, and have lived closely on the farm with my mother since coming to Twin Falls county in 1904. The only time I am sure to be absent from the farm is on the day when the Canal company holds its election. I have always attended these meetings of the stockholders of the Canal company since the organization of the company, and have been chosen teller for each meeting.

I may with modesty state that I have been admitted to practice law; that I am a graduate of the National University Law School, Washington, D. C., that I am a graduate accountant, and that I served two years in the United States Census office, Washington, D. C.

I am a Democrat on national questions, but believe the county should elect the best men for county offices, regardless of their party affiliation.

I have neither sought nor received the endorsement of the Nonpartisan League, nor any other organization or clique. If elected, I will discharge the duties of the office without fear or favor and to the best of my ability, assessing all property within the county on an equitable basis.

—Advt.

JAMES E. BARNES.

The War Today J.W.T. Mason.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The annexation of Austria to the German empire because of its tautonic racial predominance, is beginning to appear a possibility to the statesmen of Europe.

The break up of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy may thus become the most important feature at the peace conference through encouraging the Germans to intrigue for territorial expansion. The subtle hand of German state craft is already apparent in the creation of an independent republic by the German element mingled with the Czech-Slovak population of Bohemia.

It is presumably Germany's intention to use the phrase "self-determination" for the purpose of throwing confusion into the peace plans of the democratic nations and thereby winning a Hohenzollern victory at the peace table. If Austro-Hungary crumbles and the different nationalities form independent states, one of the new states will be Austria, which is as Germanic as any of the kingdoms and dukedoms in the German empire.

Austria standing alone would be weak and disgruntled. If, by the terms of peace, Italian ambitions are so realized as to deprive Austria of parts on the Adriatic, the Italian Republic would become an island state. Under these conditions a movement to unite with the German empire under encouragement from Berlin, might spread rapidly among the Austrian people.

If Austria were to be annexed to her northern neighbor, the German empire would emerge from the war more powerful than at the beginning. The Germans will not abandon the hope of a triumph outcome of the negotiations until the parchment is signed.

Great skill by the democratic negotiators will be necessary and in particular, full co-operation among them. Germany will be on the watch to drive the allies at the slightest sign of discord; as Talleyrand did so successfully on behalf of beaten France at the Vienna peace conference after the Napoleonic wars.

An interesting letter has been received by Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Holler from their son, Howard, who has been in action with the artillery for several months and who had at the time of writing just returned to a rest billet after expiring a French town which had been held by the Germans for four years.

The letter was written with a pencil taken from a German prisoner on his way to the rear and a prison camp. The ink is not yet eighteen and has been in the service for over a year.

DESCRIBES FIGHT AGAINST DISEASE ONE MEN OF 1917

Mrs. Lela Brassfield of Twin Falls, Gives Account of Work as Camp Nurse

Mrs. Lela Brassfield of Twin Falls, a graduate nurse who entered Red Cross work last summer and who was called into the service about a month ago at Camp McClellan, Annapolis, Md., has written to Mrs. W. A. Patrick a letter in which she describes the part of the nurse in caring for the many victims of the influenza epidemic in that cantonment. Following are excerpts from her letter:

I have been here about three weeks and so much has been crowded into that short time it seems nearer three months. There has been a very bad epidemic of influenza here as, I suppose, there has been every other place. The base hospital here can accommodate about 3000 patients, but we have had 4000 here, how we have had to double up in space as well as in work. There are about 100 graduates nurses here besides quints and aids, and we certainly have had lots of work to do, but I am happy in it. I wouldn't leave it for anything and certainly am glad I came.

NURSE IS VICTIM

There have been about 40 nurses with the influenza. Several had pneumonia, and one died. She was buried in her white uniform and Red Cross cap, and army and Red Cross pins. I didn't see her, but it certainly made everybody feel badly.

I am on a pneumonia ward now, and have some such sick patients. Have lost a good many, and that certainly breaks you up. But pneumonia is so treacherous.

Camp Resembles a City

I can hardly describe the camp to you unless you have seen one. There are about 60,000 people here, so you see it is some city. We are about seven miles from Annapolis, situated in a small valley with the Blue Ridge mountains around the camp. The hills are covered with trees and they are pretty and green. Some of the leaves are just now coloring.

There is an aviation field here, and we see airplanes in flight every day. We also hear the big guns firing.
