GERMANS TO PUNISH POTSDAM WAR LORDS

Commission in Session at Berlin Reported to Be Considering Cases of Kaiser and Military Leaders of Germany

DECLARES KAISER HAS ABDICATED

PARIS, Nov. 2.—(AP) 2:50 p. m.—The abdication of the Kaiser is considered to be a fact, according to a Geneva dispatch to the Times. The dispatch said that official publication is being delayed awaiting favorable opportunity.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Punishment for the Kaiser and the President war lords guilty of German crimes of the past four years, will be noted out in summary manner by the German people, diplomatic advisers today indicated. An Amsterdam dispatch stated that a commission, including members of all the warring parties, is now in session at Berlin to place responsibility for various misdeeds of German politicians and military leaders since the outbreak of the world conflict.

Investigate Peace Efforts

Bethmann-Hollweg's failure to obtain peace at the end of 1918 is being rigidly investigated, according to advisers. Other neutral reports mentioned the spread of the belief in Germany that the Kaiser should abdicate and the possibility of the discussion of the matter in the Reichstag was suggested. The Strasburger Post is quoted in a dispatch as stating that the war cabinet has under advisement the matter of the abdication of the emperor. Reports have been received of a great rally at Munich, which adopted resolutions declaring the loyalty of Bavaria to the empire but demanding the Kaiser's immediate abdication.

ITALIAN HUN HUNT CONTINUES WHILE FOCH RUNS THREE DISTINCT DRIVES ON WEST FRONT; SERBIANS BUSY TOO

WAR SUMMARY

WITH Austria-Hungary split up into at least five independent states and Germany also in a serious political situation, the Allies are conducting major offensives on three fronts—in France and Belgium, in Italy and in the Balkans.

Three distinct drives are under way in the west. The French and Americans are attacking along a front of nearly 40 miles, from the Aisne to the Meuse. They have advanced four miles, capturing more than a dozen villages and several important woods and taking over 3,000 prisoners.

The French and Americans also are advancing on a front of more than twelve miles along the Scheldt on both sides of Audenarde. In an advance of three miles, they have taken Audenarde, Deynze, Nazareth and other important villages, together with more than 1,000 prisoners.

South of Valenciennes, the British, attacking on a front of six miles, have entered the southern outskirts of the city, captured two villages and taken between 2,000 and 3,000 prisoners.

Italians, British, French and Americans on the Italian front, are advancing in the entire region from the Asiago plateau to the Adriatic. The Asiago plateau has been entirely cleared. Italian patrols are reported to have reached the Tagliamento. Thousands of additional prisoners and hundreds of guns have been taken.

In the Balkans, Serbian troops have reached the outer defenses of Belgrade. The Austrian war office reiterated that Austrian troops are completely across the Danube.

EVACUATION BY AUSTRIA PROCEEDING STEADILY

VIENNA, via London, Nov. 2.—"The evacuation of Vienna (Italian front) is continuing," the Austrian war office announced last night. "On the southeastern front (Balkans) we have reached the north bank of the Danube."

Brisk Fighting Around Valenciennes, Haig Reports—Enemy Cleared From Outskirts of City

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Valenciennes is wholly in the hands of the British, Field Marshal Haig announced today. The city was taken this morning after hard fighting. The battle continued on a 6-mile front south of the city until this morning. Several counter attacks were repulsed. Four thousand additional prisoners were taken. "The fighting yesterday south of Valenciennes, which was very severe, was continued until this morning on a battle front of six miles," the statement said.

Four Thousand Prisoners—Large numbers of the enemy were killed. Many hostile counter attacks were repulsed. Four thousand prisoners were taken. "The seventeenth corps under General Ferguson and the twenty-second corps under General Godley, gained the high ground southeast of Valenciennes and went forward, took the village of Jrezu.

A Canadian corps under General Currie, after hard fighting in the outskirts of Valenciennes, has now passed through the town, which is wholly in our possession. During October, the British in France (Continued on Page Eight)

Lose 80,000 in Prisoners and 1,600 Guns—Retreat of Army Along Tagliamento Blocked By Allied Advance—Landing of Americans and Italians Near Pola, Great Base of Enemy, Shuts Off Another Army—Enemy Forces in Trentino Must Cross Alps to Escape

ROME, Nov. 2.—Italy's closing days of struggle with her Austro-German enemy are being crowned with great victories.

General Diaz will begin a march on Vienna if Austria hesitates in accepting the entente terms of unconditional surrender. The inter-Allied council at Versailles has forwarded to General Diaz, commanding the Italian armies, the terms of the armistice to be granted the Austrians. The council unanimously agreed upon every clause in the terms, which, it was stated, were based on President Wilson's principles, according to reports today. An answer is not expected immediately, as the Austro-Hungarian representatives probably will refer it to their superiors. More than 80,000 Austrian prisoners and 1,600 guns have been captured up to the present, the Italian war office announced today. The Italians crossed the frontier into Austrian territory in the Suga valley yesterday.

The Italians have advanced over 100 kilometers beyond the Piave front. The whole mountain group of Odoro is expected to fall immediately, while the Austrian army of the Inn, is completely surrounded and trying desperately to cross the Tagliamento at Latisana.

By sending to the Italian command a request for an armistice, Austria admits her complete defeat. She has hoisted the white flag to try to avoid irreparable destruction through the complete political ruin of her armies. The conditions fixed by all the Allies in their answer to the Austrian requests are necessarily such as to give the strictest military and naval guarantees that the war aims of the Allies will be completely gained and the wonderful and tenacious Italian effort will be crowned with the reward it deserves.

Yankees Land Near Pola, Naval Base

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The Allies have landed Austria, Italian and American forces, according to diplomatic dispatches received in Washington today, have landed near the great Austrian naval base of Pola.

This gives the Allies a foothold on Austrian soil between the enemy army retreating from Italy and the Balkans. (Continued on page eight)

NAVAL SECTION OF TERMS HERE

Disposition of Germany's Fleet Provided for in Good Shape

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The naval section of the armistice terms to be given Germany today is in possession of this government today. No announcement of their contents was made, but assurance was given by high officials that every safeguard had been taken in the terms and that they would meet the requirements of "every prudent man," so that travel will be safe on all the seas.

Whether occupation of the German fleet was made a temporary or permanent condition was not stated. It was suggested that a question such as final possession of the submarine marine or grand fleet would rest with the peace conference. High authorities today explained the terms on "Espionage" would be declaring that the Allied governments, equally interested with the United States, ask complete secrecy until the terms are finally determined.

It is explained further that to give the terms on "Espionage" would prepare the Germans for what was coming and enable them to profit materially thereby.

FRENCH-YANKEE FORCES NEVER CEASE ADVANCE

NINETEEN VILLAGES TAKEN FROM ENEMY

Steady Fighting for Two Days Results in Tremendous Gains in Ground of Wide Strategic Importance

LONDON, Nov. 2.—French and American troops, after carrying the heights between the Lys and the Scheldt rivers, are advancing on a front of nearly 10 miles along the latter stream, field Marshal Haig announced today. The Franco-Americans in two days fighting have advanced from five to 10 miles capturing 19 villages. Among the important towns occupied are Anserre, Deynze and Nazareth. "The enemy has been thrown back upon the Escaut (Scheldt) as far as Heillem," the statement said. "Amegom, Mingsel, Gester and Gester were captured and 900 prisoners taken. Make Big Advance

"Franco-Americans after carrying the heights between the Lys and the Escaut, advanced along the latter river between Melden and Zecke, on a front of 15 kilometers, making their total advance in two days from 8 to 16 kilometers.

Nineteen villages have been reconquered, including Deynze, Nazareth, Cruyshaout and Andersaerf.

"The Franco-Americans at the end of October had taken 1,000 prisoners and captured two complete batteries."

"To the northward, the Belgians, in minor operations improved their positions on the Derivation canal. French tanks rendered invaluable assistance."

TO CONCENTRATE FORCES AGAINST GERMAN NATION

Chief of Staff March Says Conditions are Shaping so as to Necessitate Formation of But Single Front

By CARL D. GROAT
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The complete debacle of Germany's outlying allies the past week has created a situation which is rapidly compelling concentration of enemy resistance in one main Germany.

Chief of Staff March said this general comment today in his weekly conference with correspondents, but refrained from any hint as to armistice proceedings.

As he pointed out when Bulgaria collapsed, Turkey was separated from direct communication with Germany, this compelled her surrender. Reverting to tactical situation, March said the American drive in the Argonne started yesterday, is making "good progress." The Americans have carried a pocket which threatens to compel retirement of the foe at that point. He is, however, making strong resistance, March said. Thirty-six hundred prisoners were reported captured in the last department report.

As for the Italian offensive, March characterized the situation between the Brenna and Adriatic as a rest of the Austrians. No Influenza Epizootic Steady progress is being made in American troop shipments, he added, which recently passed the $500,000. (Continued on page eight)

AUSTRIANS ARE GIVING GROUND IN MAD RETREAT

Trentino Army Is Being Rapidly Driven Northward Across the Mountains By Victorious Italian Army

By HENRY WOOD

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMIES IN THE FIELDS, Nov. 2.—The Italians, following collapse of the Gessappe defenses are steadily driving the Austrians Trentino army northward across the mountains toward the frontier. At the same time, the enemy's Piave army, completely cut off from the other Austrian forces, is being pursued across the Venetian plain, constantly under threat of encirclement from the north. Capture of Feltre, the Austrian central base, is of great importance, as it prevents the distribution of reserves either to the westward or southeastward.

The Italians now command the entrance to the Val Gessappe, leading into the Trentino. The city of Trent is only 30 miles distant. (The Val Suga lies north of the Asiago plateau, along the Brenna valley.)

Columns of cavalry and light infantry are skirting the entire southern foothills of the Alps, cutting off the possibility of the Austrians escaping northward from the Venetian plain. The retreat of General Diaz's various movements is further revealed by the fact that the Austrians have been forced to increase the length of their lines more than 70 kilometers (43 1/2 miles) while at the same time they have entered such heavy losses they cannot reorganize their positions or hold them.

DISASTER ENDS BIG TIE-UP ON NEW YORK LINE

Strike Breaking Motorman Be- lieved Responsible for Ter- rible Accident on Brighton Beach Interurban

OVER HUNDRED INJURED MANY KILLED OUTRIGHT

Scenes of Horror Follow When Cars Leave Track in Brook- lyn Tunnel—Screams of Vic- tims Unnerve Rescuers

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Thirty-eight bodies had been taken early today from the wreck of the Brighton Beach Interurban train which jumped the track in a tunnel in Brooklyn last night, during the hours of the strike. More than 100 were injured. Colonel T. S. Williams, president of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company and other officials appeared before District Attorney Harry H. Lewis today at an investigation which may lead to homicide indictments being filed.

Anthony Lewis, motorman of the train, was taken into custody at his home early this morning, having fled from the scene of the disaster. The police say he was working as a strike breaker and that he had practically no experience as a motorman.

The strike of motormen and switchmen of the B. R. T. lines was called off by the strikers after the wreck.

Work All Night

Work of recovering the bodies from the wreckage jammed in the tunnel, continued throughout the night. A number of injured were removed after having been caught under dead and dying fellow passengers, or pinned down by legs of the wooden splinters, for ten hours. It was believed that every person in the first car of the train died. This car was derailed at a sharp bend going into the tunnel, was thrown across the tracks and the other cars ploughed through it. The sides were ripped off the second and third cars and they scraped the wall of the tunnel and many were killed or crippled by being hurled against the concrete wall or dashed against steel pillars.

Train Overcrowded

The train was traveling at high speed and it was crowded to the platform gates with the 6 o'clock throng on its way home.

There was a weird scene in the tunnel when firemen and police began removing bodies from the tangle of debris. They only light was that given by flickering benches at regular intervals along the tracks. The shattered bodies of the victims were laid in rows and covered with sheets, as fast as it was possible to disentangle them from the wreckage.

Immediately after the crash, a confusion of screams and cries went up from the jumble of twisted and splintered cars. Several men died while trying to show rescuers how to extricate them from places where they were caught. It was fifteen minutes before any organized rescue work started. Long afterward, men and women, tramped beneath piles of wreckage and bodies could be heard moaning and crying for help. The injured were placed in improvised stretchers and hoisted out of the tunnel as rapidly as possible. The living climbed out by means of ladders. The work of removing corpses was still in progress this morning. Some were so mangled that identification was considered impossible.

All night an anxious crowd stood in the streets near the scene, held back by police lines. Many of those in the crowd were searching for members of their families who had failed to get home, and who, it was feared, were lying in the debris.

Every available ambulance in Brooklyn was pressed into use, and after the injured had all been taken away, the wagons were used to remove the dead.

Edohat baseball field, nearby, was taken open and used as a first aid dressing station.

Persons who had had narrow escapes in the wreck, some of them with torn clothes, wandered about the scene for hours. Some were hysterical, others seemed dazed and some told stories of narrow escapes and seeing friends killed before their eyes.

Green Hand Blamed

Mayor Haylan, Police Commissioner Enright and other city and borough officials participated in the investigation begun today. Unofficial opinion was that the wreck was due to the employment of a green hand to operate the train.

Motorman Lewis admitted he had never had any experience in train operating except switching in the yards. Survivors attribute the accident to the speed at which the train was running when it jumped the track. Some estimate the speed at from 60 to 70 miles an hour.

YANKEE ADVANCE DRIVES GERMANS STEADILY BACK

Four Miles Gained on Twenty Mile Front Between Aisne and Meuse—Important Posi- tions Captured

THREE THOUSAND HUNS TAKEN BY THE YANKEES

Intense Bombardment Precedes Attack—Enemy Response Is Feeble—Dense Fog Favors Attacking Units

By FRANK J. TAYLOR

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Nov. 2.—The Americans, with the French co-operating on their left, have advanced more than four miles in an attack on a twenty-mile front between the Aisne and the Meuse, launched yesterday morning.

A deep wedge has been driven into the German line, increasing the menace to the enemy's vital communications. More than 3,000 prisoners have been taken.

The villages of Bayville, Landres-St. Georges, St. Georges, Remonville, Chanery, Clerly Le Grand and Alceville have been occupied and important parts of the Frya-Stelling have been penetrated. The important Loges, north of Grandpre, was entirely cleared of the enemy.

The attack, which constituted the fourth phase of the Argonne drive, began at five o'clock yesterday morning, following two hours of record artillery preparation.

Enemy Artillery Weak

The German artillery response was feeble, but the machine guns and infantry put up a stiff resistance.

Cold, dry weather and a dense mist favored the attackers.

Alceville, Landres-St. Georges and St. Georges fell in the first rush. The American left wing encountered hard going in Loges, but finally drove the bucks out of their dense covering there. The center pushed out beyond Bayoville to within two miles of Buzancy, occupying Landreville, Remonville and Chanery.

The right wing took Clerly Le Grand and approached to within less than a mile of the important base of Dun-Sur-Meuse.

Pershing Reports Yank Successes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Capture by American forces of nine villages on the Verdun front, the attack continuing with French aid was reported by General Pershing today.

"The first American army continued the attack on the west bank of the Meuse in conjunction with the Fourth French army on its left," said Friday evening's communique.

"The perfect cooperation of all arms—infantry, artillery, airplanes and tanks—succeeded in overcoming and disorganizing the enemy's resistance and breaking up counter-attacks. Enemy divisions, rapidly brought up, were put with troops already in line and vain attempts made to stop our advance.

"Our victorious troops have already taken and passed beyond St. Georges, Landres-St. Georges, Imereux, Landreville, Chanery, Remonville, Remonville and Etanne (probably Andenne) and Clerly-Le-Grand.

"Up to the present 3,000 prisoners have been counted, of whom 151 are officers."

It costs more to live, so you must increase your earning power. Why not advertise for a better position?

AWARD MEDALS TO "OVER HERE" HEROES

Uncle Sam has told and told his stay-at-home war-workers that "their bit" here was every bit as important and heroic as front-line action, were it carried out faithfully day after day. Now he is going to prove it. Livingston Davis of Boston, special assistant in naval affairs, is the man appointed to make awards of service badges and distinguished conduct medals to workmen in war industries, the first public recognition ever given workers back of the fighting line.

GERMANY IS IN STATE OF CHAOS

Solution of Problem May Come As a Result of Internal Explosion

By ED. L. KEEN

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Germany is in a revolutionary state, and the remaining great question mark against the war's political background, as the result of the Austro-Hungarian capitulation.

From various neutral sources it is predicted that the solution, perhaps as the result of an internal explosion, is not far distant.

Stockholm dispatches say that conditions in Germany closely parallel those in Russia before the revolution. There is dissatisfaction throughout the country, even among the better classes.

Philip Scheidemann, majority Socialist leader, who was made a member of the new cabinet, is unpopular and there is no chance of the coalition ministry lasting.

Millions of revolutionary pamphlets are being distributed in the streets.

With Chain Throne

A dispatch from The Hague says the Leipziger Volks Zeitung announced that the Bavarian premier had notified Berlin that the Bavarian royal family will claim their throne in the event of the kaiser's abdication.

The poor classes in Berlin are desperate according to Copenhagen dispatches. Desertions from the army are rapidly growing. The streets are full of war cripples.

Many women who were formerly wealthy have been reduced to working as conductresses on the tramways.

A fine bluff! Just what I expected to happen at the eleventh hour when there was no time to go into Court before election and prove what I have said about Ray McKaig.

I told about McKaig's sentiment for Kate O'Hare and her Socialist doctrines and he took hook, sinker and line, not knowing that I was ready with the proof.

Ray McKaig sues for fifty thousand dollars!

His heart is bleeding because I told the truth about his expressing sympathy at the trials of Kate Richards O'Hare. You can't deceive the people by any such camouflage as this, Ray McKaig. You have repudiated Mann, you have denied that Arthur Le-Seuer is your executive secretary, and now you repudiate sympathizing with poor Kate Richards O'Hare. Read the telegrams and letters. There is plenty of proof to substantiate all that I have said. I have been careful in all of my statements. It has not been my intention to exaggerate the truth by even a hair's breadth. I have stated before that the courts are open and I welcome an opportunity to prove in open court all that I have said about you, Ray McKaig. Come on!

Somebody had to make this fight. I shall always feel, until the final call comes, that this has been the best fight of my life for American institutions and American citizenship. I regret that it has been necessary to make such a fight in Idaho, but if I have saved any young man or any young woman from embracing Socialism through my fight at this time, through what I believe to be the best educational campaign against a radical brand of Socialism that has been put on in America, then I am very thankful.

Again I want to say that I know some men who believe in Socialism who have high ideals, and I have a very high regard for them. It is hardly fair to brand Townley and his agents as Socialists because they belong to a radical branch of that party that believes in direct action, anarchy, revolution, and rebellion.

The story of Ray McKaig's outrageous attempt to force anarchy on Idaho has been but partly told.

The Nonpartisan League, directed by Ray McKaig, brought to Idaho dangerous agitators. Some of them were brought here through advertisements in the paper known as the Appeal to Reason, and I reprint what that infamous sheet said about the colors of the flag:

"The white of the American flag stands for the cowardice of the capitalist class; the red symbolizes the blood of those who have been martyred on the industrial altar; and the stars on the blue ground stand for the boundless ambition of John D. Rockefeller and his freebooters."

I can understand how any man would squirm and try to dodge when caught red-handed with the most dangerous agitator this country has ever produced. It is not strange that he should try to save himself in any way. Ray McKaig, you stand in your true light before the people of Idaho, for I have torn off the mask.

That McKaig Was Present at Kate O'Hare's Trial-- "Greeted Her Affectionately"

Minot, N. D., Oct. 15, 1918

Hon. Frank R. Gooding, Boise, Ida.

Dear Mr. Gooding:

I am watching with interest your fight against Townleyism. In order to introduce myself will state that I am the trustee of A. O. Townley, bankrupt, and have been connected with that estate for over one year and am having a stiff fight to investigate that fellow and bring him to paying his creditors. In this I have not had one penny assistance from a single soul.

Recently the judge has intimated that we will be given an opportunity to examine the books and records of the National Nonpartisan League to see if there are any assets there belonging to Townley. As trustee I expect to prove that he owns the whole thing and is responsible to no other person.

Personally I am not in politics.

But what I wished to write you about was that man McKaig. HE IS NO GOOD. Formerly I understand he was a minister and a wild cat in every respect.

The best thing about him was that during the trial of Kate O'Hare he returned to Bismarok to be at her trial and comfort and soothe her.

In open court he rushed up to her and lovingly placed his arm on her shoulder. He greeted her most affectionately and also said, "Massey sends his love." I understand this Massey was a Socialist working for the league in Idaho. Perhaps you know who he was. At any rate, he was an old friend of Kate Richards O'Hare, who was sentenced by Judge Wade to five years at Leavenworth.

Very truly yours,
E. B. MCGOUGHEN.

Organizer W. P. Walter Explores Work Among Young Men

W. P. Walter, formerly boys' secretary of the Astoria, Ore., Y. M. C. A. is here in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. county work program.

At the present time Mr. Walter is a special field secretary promoting county work for the Y. M. C. A. This is a new department of association work so far as the northwest is concerned, although hundreds of counties in the eastern and middle western states have long enjoyed its benefits.

Extends Sphere of Work "By means of its county work program the Y. M. C. A. hopes to do for the boys and young men in the smaller towns and rural communities what it is doing for the boys and young men of the larger and more favored cities," explains Mr. Walter.

"The county work is all inclusive in its scope, covering every form of activity in an effort to make for a well-balanced dealing with the religious, educational, social and physical activities of the community, and relies to a great extent upon a trained volunteer leadership in conducting these activities."

Program Organization "The county is financed by a budget raised by voluntary subscriptions. We estimate that $3,500 will cover the entire expense of a county organization for a year. The work in each county is supervised by a committee of farmers, business men and professional men who employ a secretary who gives his entire time to the work."

With Beloved Juliet Gone, Romeo Is a Sad Mule

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.—Two minds with but a single body, four heels that kicked as one, only feebly describes the perfect romance of a pair of loving Dutchess county mules, the details of which were aired in the supreme court here before Justice Morschauer in an action which Samuel Hoskin, owner of the mules and mayor of Beacon, has started to compel Frank Yardle of Ossining to recompense him for an accident which broke up his mule set.

Many in the courtroom were moved to tears, Justice Morschauer holding at times, as the attorney for Hoskin told of the devotion of Romeo and Juliet—the names under which the mules were listed in the Beacon directory—and in the terrible grief of Romeo, since a motortruck, owned by Mr. Yardle, won the decision over Juliet. Life no longer holds any charm for Romeo. He not only refuses to work, but positively declines to get up when the alarm goes off. The extra hour of daylight means absolutely nothing to Romeo. Efforts to interest him by having some of the bird feed heaped over in his vicinity have failed. He cannot be induced to kick. And he and Juliet hold the dust kicking record for Dutchess county. His bray, once of jolting power, has been reduced to a pathetic wail.

Romeo has been introduced to many aspiring mules, but he refuses to put on the old work act with a new partner. Because Romeo's usefulness as an industrial mule has been totally destroyed, the owner wants Mr. Yardle to pay him for the loss of both animals. Justice Morschauer makes no secret of the fact that he is puzzled by the case. At a late hour he was still searching for an authority in mule lore.

organizations, but rather seeks to cooperate with the home, the school and the church, and any organization working for the betterment of conditions in the community.

Columbia county in the northwestern part of Oregon has just been organized, the first county in the northwest to adopt the county work program. Columbia county in Oregon is a part of the Oregon-Idaho Inter-State Committee of the Y. M. C. A., with headquarters in Portland. Mr. Walter will have charge of the work in eastern Oregon and southern Idaho, and expects to locate permanently in some centrally located point in his territory.

FEDERAL COUNCIL GRANTS PERMIT ON HANSEN SPAN

Representative Addison T. Smith Advises Commission of Success Attending Effort to Secure Building Approval

The federal state highway council has approved the application of the Hansen bridge commission for permit to construct the suspension bridge to span the Snake river canyon from rimrock to rimrock north of Hansen.

This is the telegraphic advice received Friday afternoon by E. J. Black, secretary of the bridge commission, from Representative Addison T. Smith, who has been active in the interests of securing the permit since the refusal of the highway council at first to approve it.

The structure has been fabricated for the Midland Bridge company, contractors who are to construct it, and practically all of the material is on the ground waiting for the word to begin work.

Notifies Engineer

Secretary Finch, upon receipt of the advice from Representative Smith, telegraphed its contents immediately to R. M. Murray, consulting engineer, at Billings, Montana, who has been employed by the commission to supervise the construction of the span. Mr. Murray has spent some time in preliminary work here, and is expected to arrive here within the next few days to continue his work.

The structure is to be built at an approximate cost of $90,000. The state legislature at its last session appropriated $20,000 for this purpose and Twin Falls county and the Hilldale highway district, which will be joined by the span, each have voted and sold bonds to defray the balance of the expense jointly.

"When Fraud Controls Nominations, to Revolt Is Party Loyalty"

THE CONSPIRACY OF NUGENT AND BORAH

Senator Nugent and Senator Borah are in a conspiracy to perpetuate themselves in office at any cost of party principle or state interest.

Before Senator Nugent was appointed to his present position he was violently opposed to the Non-Partisan League. He frequently referred to its leaders and its members as Bolsheviki. He said they were not loyal and cited the secession of Townley and other league leaders.

But when the Non-Partisan league endorsed him he suddenly changed. Although pretending to be a Democrat, he has repudiated Democrats in return for that endorsement and is doing his best to secure the election of his fellow conspirator Borah, and the Non-Partisan league candidates who will their nominations by fraud. HE HAS NEVER UTTERED A WORD OF ENDORSEMENT, HOWEVER, FOR THE ONLY DEMOCRATS ON THE TICKET—FRANK L. MOORE AND ERNEST L. PARKER—BUT ON THE CONTRARY HAS LENT HIS ASSISTANCE TO THEIR DEFEAT BY THOSE WHO STOLE THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY OF IDAHO AND WHO WILL RETIRE TO OBLIVION IF THEY SHALL WIN ON NOVEMBER 5.

In this work of destroying the Democratic party of Idaho Nugent has had the active support of Fred T. Dubois, a former Republican, WHO HAS DECEIVED THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES as to the attitude of the Democrats of Idaho on Nugent and his Socialist, I. W. W. and Non-Partisan league affiliations.

SENATOR BORAH IS IN THE SAME CATEGORY. Because of the endorsement he secured from the Non-Partisan league leaders he has not uttered a word in support of the Republican ticket. Note the similarity in the course of both senators! But he lies, on the contrary, done everything possible to aid Nugent, RESORTING TO ALL SORTS OF SECRET BETRAYAL of his own party and its candidates—and it has at last leaked out.

Although the Non-Partisan league leaders—not the league members—have been proven to be disloyal; although Townley has never denied he is a Socialist, nor his right hand man, Arthur LeSeuer, who is running the Idaho campaign, that he is a leading I. W. W.—Nugent and Borah cling to them, yet by their silence admit the truthfulness of the charges. THESE SILENT PARTISANS OF DISLOYAL POLITICIANS WHO ARE TRYING TO TURN IDAHO OVER TO SOCIALISM, ARE SO UNGRATEFUL THEY EVEN DECLINE TO COME OPENLY TO THE DEFENSE OF THEIR NEW-FOUND FRIENDS, THE NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE LEADERS. STRANGE, IS IT NOT, THEY SHOULD BOTH—MEMBERS OF OPPOSITE PARTIES—"JUST HAPPENED" TO HAVE ADOPTED THAT POLICY!

One who is false in politics may be expected to be untrue to his trust in another direction. SENATOR BORAH DEFEATED THE EQUAL SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT, ALTHOUGH COMING FROM A STRONG EQUAL SUFFRAGE STATE. HE VOTED AGAINST THE ADAMSON EIGHT-HOUR BILL, ALTHOUGH EVERY LABORING MAN IN IDAHO WANTED IT. HE VOTED AGAINST A REASONABLE INCREASE IN PENSIONS FOR OUR OLD SOLDIERS, PROPOSED SO THEY COULD MEET THE INCREASED COST OF LIVING.

Senator Borah says he is supporting the President, but—

HE WORKED AND TALKED AGAINST CONSCRIPTION AND ESPIONAGE BILLS, WITHOUT WHICH WE COULD NOT HAVE SENT ADEQUATE FORCES TO FRANCE NOR PUNISHED TREASON AT HOME.

HE IS NOW VIGOROUSLY OPPOSING PRESIDENT WILSON'S PROGRAM FOR A LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

WE ARE LOYAL DEMOCRATS. We protest against this conspiracy that has resulted in the theft and prostitution of our party and against the misrepresentation of Idaho sentiment on vital questions. That is why, as Democrats, we intend to vote for—

FRANK L. MOORE, loyal Democrat, for United States Senator, long term;

ERNEST L. PARKER, loyal Democrat, for State Treasurer;

AND ALL THE REST REPUBLICANS ON STATE AND CONGRESSIONAL TICKET—CLEAR DOWN THE LINE.

That will be our answer to this conspiracy of Nugent and Borah to destroy honorable and useful political parties and to disgrace Idaho with SOCIALISM.

ALLIED TROOPS LOOKED FOR POLICE POWERS

Belief General That Austria and Possibly Germany Must Be Held in Leach By Rest of Europe After the War

Wild Scramble for Authority in Both Countries Opens Up Possibility of Reign of Chaos of Serious Import

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Allied troops will have to be held in Austria-Hungary and possibly Germany at the end of hostilities, is the view of leading Allied diplomats and military attaches here today.

They pointed to the provision for policing Austrian Vistula, in the Turkish armistice as indicating what would be necessary in the case of the central empire.

Restraint of food, provisions, oil and other necessities has begun in various parts of Austria, according to official dispatches here. Every indication is that rival factions will grab everything they can by their hands so that complete economic chaos will result—especially in Austria-Hungary.

Neutrals and Allied countries alike would suffer from a reign of anarchy in either Austria or Germany, diplomats say, and the necessity for intervention to restore order would be even greater than in the case of isolated Russia.

Year For All Europe
Some Allied diplomats have expressed fears that a reign of Bolshevism in the central empire would be carried over into allied countries and that an era of revolution throughout Europe would result.

End Drawing Near
Diplomats were optimistic today everywhere the feeling was expressed that the end of the war is at hand. In quarters where at least another year of fighting has been looked for, there has now changed and the end is seen as very near.

Don't Know Which
Swedish diplomats representing Austrian interests here are puzzled as to which of the many factions they will regard as its authentic successor.

Dispatches report Austrian troops fighting among themselves in numerous units of various races. It is believed that the armistice terms will include strict disarmament provisions so that these hordes of desperate soldiers cannot go home to spread terror and murder.

Armed diplomats here today expressed great concern over the danger of such disorders. Millions of innocents would be massacred if a wild scramble for food ends started they say. It would be a world tragedy which the Allies would be in honor bound to avert if humanly possible.

BARBARA'S REPLY

By MILDRED G. PEASE

"Which do you think would be prettier, mother," queried Barbara Stone, green with white stockings, or a gray and coral combination, or—
Both were poring over fashion sheets, and scarcely heard the sweet martial music which announced a big patrol-parade in the street below.

A military man was impatiently tapping his brown leather boot on "no stone steps, and upon being admitted quickly made known his errand.
A young soldier who had come on from one of Uncle Sam's training camps to participate in the parade had been thrown from his horse in such a manner as to render him unable to proceed farther, and would they please accommodate him until the parade was over?

"Why certainly, right this way"—and Barbara led the way to her mother's sitting room and turned down the divan bed. Her mother was equal to the occasion and started right away to make their unexpected guest comfortable.

The guest himself, a good-looking chap of about twenty-five, was very sorry to disturb them, so he said, but he mentally remarked that it was fate that played him one good turn when she picked a halcyon horse for him to ride, since it gave him the chance to meet the beautiful girl who had opened the door.

The doctor who had been summoned, on his arrival advised him not to move for a week, at least, as his foot had received a very bad sprain.
Having introduced himself as Jack Carter to Mrs. Stone and making a very good impression on that estimable lady, it was not surprising that her daughter should do all in her power to add to their visitor's comfort.

Being rather shy, she laid the tray down beside the bed and, thinking the young patient asleep, was tiptoeing out of the room when she was abruptly saying: "Oh, I saw, Miss Stone, would you spare a poor fellow a few minutes? It is rather dull, just looking up at the ceiling and watching the sun flicker up and down the wall."

She turned, hesitating, wondering whether or not to stay; but he did look so boyish and dreadfully lonesome that she decided to read him a bit. She picked up a magazine and was getting rather interested, when she felt a messenger which seemed to draw her eyes away from the book and look in the direction of her listener. What was that indescribable feeling that surged through her? (Nonsense! He was only a man among the many she had met; but still there was something different about him.)

She finally laid down the book, and he thanked her heartily. She then withdrew from the room, with a promise to continue later.
Each day for several reading or chatting, until one afternoon, about four weeks from the date of his arrival, Jack stood, suitcase-in-hand, bidding farewell to Barbara. Seeing that her eyes were downcast, he bade her look up at her mother, and upon closer view he discovered that her eyes were full of tears. "Oh, Barbara! Dear little girl; you are really sorry that I am going? Is a sorry, too, dear, that I am going—alone. Could you consent to my marriage, my leaving, if you will?"

"We do not know the answer, but suffice it to say that next day found Barbara and her mother busily addressing letters, white envelopes, and a beautiful solitaire on Barbara's left hand denoted her answer."

Physiologist.
"Man had his origin in an environment that subjected him to frequent, rapid and extreme changes from heat to cold, and from dryness to dampness," says Doctor James. "and from a study of his anatomy and physiology, as well as from the teaching of the law of Welsmann, we know that we modern men are equipped with the same bio device as were our Cromagnon predecessors. Welsmann's law is to the effect that acquired characters are not transmitted, and its corollary is equally true, that unsoared or abused characters are not lost, so that we can think of all congenital characteristics, whether good or bad, as being entailed, and, as far as the race is concerned, as being permanent."—Exchange.

Laid the "Ghost"
A young man recently came to a doctor and his complaint was a rather extraordinary one. He had seen a ghost. The doctor asked him where he had seen it and what it was like. "I saw it," said he, "the other night when I was passing a graveyard; it had a big mouth and long ears like a dokey." "Go home," said the doctor, "and say nothing about it. It was your own shadow you saw."

Idiosyncrasy Age.
"A scientist says the ant is a much overrated insect."
"Not an industrious and intelligent as we have been led to believe?"
"That's it. Some of those days a scientist will rise up and tell us that an ostrich cannot digest doorknobs."

RECORD OF HON. W. E. BORAH AS A UNITED STATES SENATOR

No One Can Read This Statement Without Experiencing a Feeling of Pride in the Part Idaho Has Taken in the Large Affairs of the Nation.

THE people are entitled to know the public record of any candidate who seeks re-election, and the Evening Capital News now presents a statement of bills and measures particularly advocated by Senator W. E. Borah while representing in part this state in the United States Senate. It includes only the more important matters.

No one can read this statement without feeling a genuine pride in the part Idaho has thus taken in the greater affairs of the country. The position of Senator Borah in our national councils is secure. His opinions and views are sought by the great newspapers of our country and are listened to abroad. He stands among the acknowledged leaders of American thought.

Moreover, the record clearly discloses that he has at all times consistently stood, not for any particular interest or class, but for the common good and welfare of all our people. Thus the farmer, the business man, and the laborer alike have in Senator Borah a powerful champion and advocate as well as a safe councillor.

An examination of the Senate records shows the following bills and measures of which Senator Borah has been the author or one of the principal advocates since he has been in the senate:

- 1. Author of the bill providing for twenty million dollars loan to the west.
- 2. Author of the bill providing for the state of Idaho under the enlarged homestead law which it had been previously excluded.
- 3. Author of the bill shortening the homestead period from five to three years and prescribing the amount of improvements.
- 4. Author of the bill providing for the issuance of patent to homesteaders and desert land entries on reclamation projects at the end of the residence period.
- 5. Author of the amendment leaving to the homesteader to determine for himself whether he will prove up under the old or the new law regardless of matter and election.
- 6. Author of the amendment providing for the incorporation of the literary title in the invention bill.
- 7. He reported the first amendment to the constitution for popular election of United States senators ever reported from a committee of the senate, an amendment which he managed on the floor of the senate and which was passed after some three years' consideration.
- 8. He introduced and had adopted the bill creating the Federal child labor bureau.
- 9. In 1913 he supported and voted for the incorporation of the literary title in the invention bill.
- 10. In 1913 he voted for compensation for injuries in the interest of employees engaged in interstate commerce.
- 11. In May, 1913, he introduced and took charge of the bill providing for an eight hour day on government work which was passed and became a law.
- 12. He introduced in the senate and had charge of the same in that body a bill creating a department of labor and having its head a member of the cabinet.
- 13. In August, 1912, he introduced and had reported to the committee a bill providing for eight hours for dressmakers.
- 14. He introduced the first resolution providing for an investigation of the conditions of labor in West Virginia coal fields and afterwards became a member of that investigating committee.
- 15. He was one of the advocates of the right of our government to arm neutral vessels and the right of neutral citizens to travel upon merchant vessels.
- 16. He was one of the signers of the protest which was entered of record against the so-called filibuster which prevented the passage of the bill to arm neutral vessels.
- 17. He voted for the declaration of war.
- 18. He stood vigorously against the bill providing for a war committee which it was believed would have the effect of hampering the president in the management of the war.
- 19. He reported which is known as the Overman bill which authorized the president to reorganize the departments for the more successful prosecution of the war. It was his vote which enabled the bill to be reported from the committee.
- 20. When the food administration bill was before the senate, he offered an amendment giving the president power to fix the price of steel, cotton, farm implements, etc., which amendment was adopted in substance but afterwards, after a long discussion reconsidered and defeated.
- 21. When the espionage bill first came before the senate it had a clause providing for an establishment of non-combatants of the press. Senator Borah took the position that this was in violation of the first amendment to the constitution of the United States and against the liberty of the press and the freedom of discussion. His amendment was introduced and ranged over a period of some three months but the clause was finally stricken out of the bill.
- 22. As a member of the foreign relations committee he has supported the foreign policy of the president as it has grown out of and developed in this war, consistently and vigorously. His amendment was introduced and ranged over a period of some three months but the clause was finally stricken out of the bill.
- 23. He was one of the twelve senators who in 1917 began a vigorous fight in the United States senate for the taxing of war profits to the extent of 80 per cent. Since that time this policy has been adopted as the policy of the government.
- 24. In 1917, he initiated the fight against profiteering and has followed it up from that time to this. He has introduced two resolutions which have brought a report from the federal trade commission and from the secretary of the treasury showing the extent of the profiteering in this country. Upon these reports are based the provisions now proposed in the revenue bill.
- 25. Arrowrock reservoir furnishes water to more than 100,000 acres of irrigated lands. If Senator Borah had done nothing else during his entire term than to provide the twenty million reclamation fund, he would be entitled to the undying gratitude of our people. It is not likely many will forget that it was the water from the Arrowrock reservoir that has made possible the irrigated fields and crops in Boise valley from total loss and destruction, and our people from an immeasurable calamity.

THE NEWS, THE FARMER AND THE WORKING MAN

"The News recognizes and has always recognized the fact that there has been too much of the speculator and the middleman in the relations existing between producer and consumer as well as the fact that monopolies in many lines of endeavor are receiving rewards far and away beyond the value of the service rendered. And it is for that reason that the paper has been striving to get to the bottom of these things straight and to correct evils of this character. The News will lend its support to those measures, and it has the same thing to say of the work of every other party in existence."

"Possibly our position may be better understood as with rather than for the farmers and laborers of Twin Falls county. With them in their endeavors to right recognized wrongs, to help them accomplish their object, and with them if wrong, to help them to recognize their error—and recognizing at all times the human possibility that we may be wrong ourselves."

which it believes to be right, and a complete absence of any endeavor at any time to trill its sails to the passing breeze or adapt its policies to what may appear for the moment to be the expedient thing to say or position to take.

"And above and in addition to this will remain as ever, fair and square to itself, and to everybody else."—From the News of July, 27th.

The News, on the eve of election, has nothing to add, nor anything to subtract from the above statement.

AUSTRIA
The end is in sight in Austria. That is to say, the end of the war, but there are indications that the end of warfare in Austria is not so far off as it looks.

Scientific power has come to the people at too rapid a rate; Austria stands in need of a balance wheel. She has had balance wheels in the past but, in the melee which has followed the events of the past few days, these have been swept aside.

The world has been treated to a terrible spectacle of democracy in the case of Russia. It is to be given a repetition of the Russian situation in Austria? It looks like it. There is no organized government in Austria today, nor, apparently, any man or group of men big enough to provide one.

But in the meantime it will mean woe to the people of Austria. The News, as before stated, hopes to see two women elected to office this year. Mrs. White as a member of the county legislative delegation and Mrs. Warren as county treasurer."

More and more the precedent is being established over the country of electing a woman as county treasurer. The duties of the office are such as to warrant the belief that a woman incumbent is just as well equipped for the work as the average man and if the right woman is subject of the results are just as satisfactory as could be the case with a man in the saddle. In addition to which there is something to be said in favor of the thought that there is plenty of work for the average man which a woman cannot undertake at all.

LET'S TRY HIM
In the person of W. W. Parish, the people of Twin Falls county have a candidate for office who should have the friendly co-operation of a large majority of the voters.

The direction of the American attack is now toward the Metz-Luxemburg railway, which has been recently under long distance bombardment of General Pershing's artillery. The movement is headed straight for Stenay, where the main Luxemburg high road crosses the Moselle. It is apparently General Pershing's intention not to concentrate his efforts on the assembly work of bumping the movement of supplies for the German armies in France, but to continue his attempts to cut off the German retreat from France by way of Luxemburg.

Best Maneuver Yet
The sudden lurch forward of the Americans toward Stenay is the most successful maneuver General Pershing has conducted since his first offensive north of Verdun several months ago.

Stenay is now directly between the two main advances which the Americans in the past 24 hours will be necessary to close the Stenay gap entirely. Thereafter, the Germans in eastern France will have no adequate room to conduct a retreat honoreur south of the Ardennes massif. They will have to file through the difficult mountain passes of the Ardennes, except for some fortunate units which may be able to squeeze into the western tip of Luxemburg by way of the twelve miles stretch between Stenay and the Ardennes.

Diplomatic Pressure
The strong repudiation of the American offer at this time to reach the Luxemburg border means that Marshall Pock is bringing to bear on the Germans the only argument about the allies' armistice terms that they can understand.

When the terms are presented to the Kaiser, the fact that Americans are still going ahead toward Luxemburg must exert a profound influence upon the decision of the German general staff. It is strictly in accord with the higher possibilities of the case that the enemy will be given no rest while unconditional surrender is being demanded of him.

My Indictment of Ray McKaig--Read It With Care

Ray McKaig, these remarks are especially addressed to you, the agent of Townley and Le Sueur and the rest of the leaders of the Nonpartisan League. For many days I have been directing at you questions of vital importance to all the people of this state. You have refused to answer. At the eleventh hour you have rushed into court, with no thought that you have a chance to prove your case, but merely for the purpose of camouflaging and having your agents over the state say on election day: "Ray McKaig has answered. He has brought suit against Gooding for $50,000. That settles it all."

Ray McKaig, the people are still waiting for your answer. There is yet time. I have charged you, sir, with being the agent of men who Theodore Roosevelt says are as great enemies to our government as Lenin and Trotsky are to Russia. Do you know what that means? Did you read a short time ago where the leaders of that Bolsheviki government in Russia held four thousand Russian officers in a prison, gave them plenty to eat but no water to drink, until they became mad? They died the most horrible death known in the annals of the world.

TRAITORS TO THEIR COUNTRY

I myself, sir, have branded your president and your executive secretary as traitors to their country, and I branded you as their agent. You have not answered. Arthur Le Sueur, your executive secretary, who signs himself "Yours for Revolution," is the man who advised Haywood, "We must now work to defeat spy bills," that they could continue their plants and placing infernal machines on transports that carry our boys across the waters. Your answer was that he was a great lawyer, and the legal adviser of the Nonpartisan League.

I have charged you, sir, as a party to the employment of Mann, who down in Gooding County said that the Bolsheviki government in Russia is the best government the world has ever known. You sent an attorney down to Shoshone to defend Mann. Mann was bound over to appear before the grand jury for seditious utterances.

I again charge you, sir, as a party to the employment of C. H. Davis, district manager in the ten northern counties of Idaho for the Nonpartisan League, arrested for saying to the farmers: "These bonds are nothing but graft. Let those who framed this war buy the bonds."

I charge you, sir, as a party to the employment of one R. W. Bognell, organizer for the Nonpartisan League in Idaho County, arrested for seditious utterances Oct. 20. Bognell says that bonds are nothing but graft. The dispatches say that Bognell was engaged for several days in posting the town in the interest of H. F. Samuels, Nonpartisan candidate for governor.

I now charge you, sir, as being a party to the employment of T. J. Gaston, Nonpartisan organizer for Latah County, arrested and bound over on Oct. 29 for seditious utterances in which he said that the Red Cross and the Liberty Loan Bonds were both damned grafts, while at work organizing the Nonpartisan League in Latah County.

YOUR ORGANIZER DRIVEN OUT

I now charge you, sir, with having sent to Custer County in July of this year, one Kitching as an organizer, a man who preached anarchy and sedition until he was driven out of that county by the County Council of Defense. Cummins, your nominee for attorney-general, nominated by your hand-picked convention, went into Custer County to defend Kitching, and stated while there that Roosevelt was an educated barbarian and the most dangerous citizen in America.

I now charge you, sir, with being a party to the employment of R. M. McFall, one of your state organizers, who stated to G. W. Hargreave here in Boise that "When we are properly organized in the United States, we will do more to the United States than the Bolsheviki are doing to Russia. We are organizing Idaho and when completed, we will do more to Idaho than the I. W. W.'s are doing to Oklahoma. This is the rich man's war, and the people of the United States are opposed to it."

FOR SHAME, RAY MCKAIG

I now charge you, Ray McKaig, that when you have been advised of the seditious utterances of your organizers in the different counties, instead of bringing it to the attention of the officials, you have sent the organizers to other counties to continue their work. I now charge that in all the arrests that have been made of your organizers, you have not condemned a single one. You have sent attorneys in some cases to defend them.

Neither you, sir, nor Scholtz, nor Samuels, your nominee for governor, who was nominated through the efforts of your 103 organizers preaching disunion among the farmers and carefully hiding their real purpose, have repudiated any one of the men that now stand before the people charged with the most heinous crime against their government. You talk about loyalty—you, who are employed by Townley and Arthur Le Sueur—you, the employer of a gang of men dangerous to this government. For many days I have made charges against you. You have not answered, but when I charge you with sympathizing with a poor, misguided woman who was fighting for her liberty, you rush into court at the eleventh hour, merely to continue your deception that you have practiced in Idaho until election is over. The farmers of Idaho have been waiting patiently for your answer, and you have not answered a single charge that I have made.

PEOPLE OF IDAHO THE JURORS

I am trying you before the people of Idaho. You want your case cut off and have it tried before twelve men—you never expect to bring it to trial. If you will read the telegrams from North Dakota, you will see that they have been in my possession for days. You are playing a desperate game. You know that your die is cast unless you can continue to fool the people a few days longer, but your mask is off and you stand before the people in your true light.

You are a past master in the art of deception, and your agents everywhere will be trying to fool the people on election day and telling them that you have answered me by your suit for fifty thousand dollars. They will say, "What more proof do you want than that?" Find proof, isn't it? They may be able to fool some poor devil whom you have prejudiced so much that he has not been willing to read the proofs that I have published; but ninety-five per cent of the farmers of this state are loyal and true to the government, and those who have had a chance to read what I have said about you, sir, will give you your Waterloo that you so well deserve in the coming election.

TO THE PEOPLE OF IDAHO:

I want to say that one of the most important elections ever held in any state in the Union since the Declaration of Independence was written, and the most important election ever held in Idaho will be held on the fifth of November. Let your answer be so strong that the boys will hear its echo in the first-line trenches in France, above the roar of the shot and shell, and they will applaud you when they come home. How in the name of God a mother, a father, a sister, a brother, a wife, or a sweetheart, can vote for the hand-picked ticket of Ray McKaig in Idaho is clear beyond my comprehension.

I can understand how many have been deceived—even the great Roosevelt said he was deceived at first—and unfortunately in Idaho none of the papers told the people the story they have had a clear field for months, for everyone was busy helping win the war, and not investigating, thought the movement was one that would help the farmers.

TO THE FARMERS OF IDAHO

Let me say that as a farmer I am making your fight. Ray McKaig boasts of taking from the farmers more than four hundred thousand dollars. Every one of the post-dated checks that he receives is sent to the Merchants' State Bank at Minneapolis, and then returned to Idaho by that bank for collection. I wonder if the farmers of Idaho know that there is no provision made in the constitution of the Nonpartisan League for the accounting of a single dollar that is collected by the agents of the League? I wonder if they know that much of this money goes out of the state and never returns. There can no longer be any doubt in any man's mind that the Nonpartisan League is a socialist, organization of the most radical form, an organization whose leaders believe in direct action.

To the farmers of Idaho, I want to say that if they succeed, your land values and every dollar's worth of property in this state will be worth less than fifty cents on the dollar after the fifth of November. I have met men who have told me that they left North Dakota when Townley got control, and that if Townley gets control in Idaho they will leave Idaho. Many millions and billions of dollars have been paid out for war essentials in this country and not a dollar of this money will come to this state if Socialism and anarchy are to rule.

To the farmers of this state, I want to say that this country is confronted with a great crisis, and it will take calm, clear thinkers to steer this country through a most serious period that will come after the war. Let us make no mistakes. Hear me in my appeal and ask yourselves what is right and then follow your own conscience. If you are not a Socialist, I know what you will do. There is no middle ground in this struggle—you will either be on one side or the other.

SEE CHANGES HERE

To the business men of Idaho, I want to say, you men who have pioneered in this state, you who have extended the credit system until a large number of those who have invested in the mercantile business in this state have been forced into bankruptcy, you men whom I know from it through investigation are not making on an average of more than 6 per cent on your investment, you have been the farmer's friend. You have pioneered Idaho with him for years—you have given him credit when he was entitled to it ninety-nine times out of a hundred. Townleyism will destroy you. In North Dakota where a similar condition has existed among the merchants of Idaho, they have walked some of the merchants out of the towns where they did a fair business, and they have had to begin again without a dollar in their pockets.

Two million dollars of the farmers' money has been invested in their store plan in North Dakota. They enter into a contract with the farmer, in which he advances a hundred dollars. This gives him the privilege of trading at their stores. Ten per cent profit is charged. The farmer furnishes all the money; they receive the right to take his stock at any time they please, each year his certificate of stock is reduced in value ten per cent, and at the end of ten years his interest in the store is wiped out.

TOWNLEYISM MEANS DISASTER

The success of Townleyism in Idaho only means the demoralization of all of our industries. Not only are the farmers and the merchants vitally interested, but the laboring man is just as much interested as any other citizen in the state of Idaho.

In closing my case, I want to say to the people of Idaho that I know I have made my case against the leaders of the Nonpartisan League in this state. I have fought these men before—not a pleasant duty. IT NOW REMAINS FOR THE PEOPLE TO DO THEIR PART AND GIVE TOWNLEY, LE SUEUR, MCKAIG, SCHOLTZ, AND THE REST OF THE GANG SUCH A CRUSHING DEFEAT THAT ANARCHY WILL NOT AGAIN TRY TO RULE IDAHO.

I have not forgotten the days when Mrs. Gooding could not walk down the streets of Boise but some yellow dog in the employ of Haywood's attorneys would say: "Steunhaegher got what was coming to him. Gooding will get his same day." That may be true, but when the end comes I shall be found fighting in the first-line trenches against treason, anarchy and rebellion. In this fight, I have not forgotten how nobly Mrs. Gooding stood by my side in the greatest murder trials the world has ever known. She has encouraged me in this fight, and again I want to say that to man never made a great fight without a woman by his side, or the picture of one in his heart.

In olden times it was said that to be a Roman was greater than to be a king, but when we realize the noble part that the womanhood of America has played in this great struggle for liberty, we know that to BE AN AMERICAN IS A HUNDRED TIMES GREATER THAN IT EVER WAS TO BE A ROMAN. IN THIS FIGHT I HAVE BEEN GIVING THE PEOPLE OF THIS STATE MY BEST EFFORTS AND THE BEST THERE IS IN ME. I AM LEAVING THE FIGHT IN THEIR HANDS WITH CONFIDENCE THAT CANNOT BE SHAKEN, KNOWING AND BELIEVING THAT TOWNLEY AND HIS GANG WILL BE GIVEN A WATERLOO IN IDAHO FROM WHICH THEY WILL NEVER RECOVER. FRANK R. GOODING.

Socialists, Nothing but Socialists

If there is any doubt that the Nonpartisan League leaders are socialists, and that the following is the joint committee of Democrats and Republicans of North Dakota. In that state those socialist Nonpartisan leaders are trying to elect Republicans. In Idaho they are trying to elect a mixture of Democrats and Republicans. In other words, a vote by any other name smells just as sweet.

SOCIALISM AND THE NONPARTISAN LEAGUE

If there is any doubt as to the Towneley movement, known as the Nonpartisan League, being camouflaged radical socialism, the following statement will settle it.

Extract from a letter written to one William Wood of Mitchell, South Dakota. The letter is signed "George" and is written on the stationery of a hotel in Mitchell. The letter reads as follows:

"Dear Comrade: The Farmers' Nonpartisan League is organizing in the great west, and the farmers are getting all over themselves to get into it. There have been several stayed here and I guess there is one in every county. (Evidently meaning an organizer.) Most every farmer falls for it and does not care how THEY ARE NOT ALLOWED TO MENTION SOCIALISM AT ALL AND ARE TO DENY ANY KNOWLEDGE OF IT ON ACCOUNT OF THE PREJUDICE AGAINST IT. BUT THEY HAVE THE SOCIALIST PLATFORM ALMOST VERBATIM AND EVERY ORGANIZER THAT I HAVE MET HAS SAID THAT IT IS A SOCIALIST IN GOOD STANDING. A rose by another name smells just as sweet, and we are perfectly willing to let them pull our chestnuts out of the fire while it is hard work, for after the war fragments of the League will be left all over the country and they can't complete their program without embracing socialism anyhow. All the organizers admit this, but the farmers have not realized it yet, thank the Lord, and I hope they will not until it is too late for them to turn back.

The authenticity of this letter is vouched for by the Sioux Falls Press, of Sioux Falls, S. Dak., and the Leader-Ville, S. Dak. Leader.

CATALOGUE OF LEADERS AND WORKERS

According to Towneley's own sworn statement, he absolutely controls the Nonpartisan League, hiring and firing employees at will. IF IT IS NOT TOWNLEY'S INTENTION TO ESTABLISH RADICAL SOCIALISM IN NORTH DAKOTA, WHY ARE ONLY RADICAL SOCIALISTS AND SOCIALIST AGITATORS OF LONG STANDING AND PROMINENCE PICKED FOR LEADERSHIP EVERYWHERE?

CHRONICLE MAKES FURTHER ATTACKS ON ASSESSOR WILCOX RECORDS DISCLOSE FALSITY OF ACCUSATION WILCOX EXPLAINS WHY TAXES ARE HIGHER THIS YEAR THAN LAST

Look at your Tax Notice! County Treasurer Goggins made special effort to get all tax notices out before election. You do not doubt received yours this week. Do not take the statements of politicians as to how you were treated, look at your Tax Notice and see, it will tell you. Your assessed value is no higher this year than last, yet your taxes are more—WHY?

The Chronicle would have you believe that I had reduced the assessed value on my own property, and at the same time raised the assessed value on others.

What the taxpayers want to know is, DID I, OR DID I NOT? The records show clearly that my ranch was assessed $300.00 higher this year than last, or before I became the owner or in any way interested in this ranch.

The Harlan Ranch

The Chronicle quotes the following facts: "The improvements on your ranch (Harlan Ranch) consists of a fine modern house with electric heat, also a good barn with water piped into it."

No Barn on Ranch at All

There is no barn of any kind on the ranch. There is a crude shed only, which is used for a stable and this does not have water piped into it.

Three of the most prominent business men in Twin Falls whose integrity will be vouched for by any of you have made the following affidavit regarding the George W. Wilcox, or Harlan Ranch.

STATE OF IDAHO,) J. S. KEEL, JOHN N. GLAAR and ARTHUR L. SWIM, being severally duly sworn, each for himself and not one for the other, depose and say: That we have made a recent personal inspection of the land and the improvements on the NW 1-4 of Sec. 28, Twp. 10 South of Range 18 E. B. M., being the land known as the George W. Wilcox ranch; that in consideration of the location of this land and its distance from town, together with the fact that it is out, diagonally across the entire ranch by a large Canal Company lateral, this land is assessed as high as other lands located the same distance from town; and that the improvements on said ranch are assessed far higher than improvements generally throughout the Twin Falls Tract.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 30th day of October, 1918.

EDWIN N. DAY, Notary Public for Idaho, Residing at Twin Falls.

Inconsistent Comparison

In the last issue of the Chronicle your special attention is called to the assessment of Glen Magel, a Soldier Boy, and you are asked to believe that I had unjustly discriminated against a Soldier Boy. The affidavit of W. F. Breckon, of Kimberly, given below will show how groundless is this statement.

STATE OF IDAHO,) W. F. BRECKON, being first duly sworn, deposes and says that I was appointed a deputy assessor by George W. Wilcox the duly and lawfully elected, qualified and acting assessor of Twin Falls County; that I have served for two years as such and that I personally assessed the N 1-2 of the SE 1-4 of Sec. 8, Twp. 10 South of Range 18 E. B. M., 80 acres known as the Glen Magel property on the 26th day of March, 1918, also I assessed the same property in the spring of 1917; that this property has been assessed at the same value for the past two years, and is no higher than other property in that locality, in fact the 80 acres south of this Magel property is assessed $600.00 higher; that in my assessing I made changes where in my estimation one piece of property was not on an equality with another.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 29th day of October, 1918.

EDWIN N. DAY, Notary Public for Idaho, Residing at Twin Falls.

Far be it from me to take advantage of any Soldier Boy. The boys in service can rest assured that I will safeguard any interest entrusted to me as I would my own.

The assessment on the Glen Magel land was made by Deputy Assessor W. F. Breckon on the 26th day of March, 1918, and the same value placed upon the land as had been used for assessing purposes for the three prior years, and which valuation is on a par with other lands in same locality and of similar character.

In the district in which the Magel land is located the total tax levy this year is 5 mills higher than it was in 1917, hence Mr. Magel pays $29.75 more taxes this year on the same assessed value.

A Strange Coincident

It appears to me as being very unusual that a stranger could come into a County the size of Twin Falls and within the brief space of three or four weeks so win the confidence of the taxpayers, that they would roll in their complaints to him "from all parts of the County" in such numbers that "would be impossible to recount in detail the instances of inequality disclosed," when the wisdom of our Legislators have provided a Board of Equalization in each County in the State to take care of such complaints. I believe that every thinking voter will readily conclude that no sane person would rush to a stranger to pour out their troubles and dissatisfactions, but would immediately appeal to the source wherein lies hope of adjustment and correction, don't you?

Home in Yeatman Addition
Mr. Wilcox owned Lot 13 Yeatman Addition which he had listed and offered for sale at $3800.00 without a buyer. Later on a trade was proposed and the values on both properties were somewhat inflated. The assessed valuation on this lot was on a par with the assessed value on the adjoining property in Yeatman Addition, and the records will bear me out.

Here Are Candidates on the Republican Ticket Who Ask Your Vote on the Grounds of Qualifications, Experience and Well-Known Personal Integrity

Eight of these candidates have had experience previously in the offices for which they are aspirants; six are candidates for re-election. They have made good, and they stand on their records. The other candidates have proven in private life and in their business experience, their qualifications to fill the offices for which they are aspirants. YOUR INTERESTS ARE SAFE WITH THEM.

T. E. MOORE
For County Commissioner

William W. Parish has been a resident of Twin Falls county for 14 years. He owns and operates successfully 340 acres of farm land in the vicinity of Twin Falls. He came here from Cisco, Illinois, where he was proprietor of a hardware and implement business, and a member of the county board. He taught school for five years in Illinois before entering business. He has served here as a member of the school board in the Maroa and Twin Falls districts, being selected a trustee in the Twin Falls district this year.

WILLIAM W. PARISH
For County Commissioner

The election of W. F. Brockton of Kimberly, as a commissioner, will place at the service of the county the benefit both of his business acumen and his wide personal familiarity with the county and its varied interests gained during his residence here since 1907 when he removed from Payette, where he farmed for 20 years. Mr. Brockton is a real estate dealer. He is a director of the county fair association. He was a member of the Kimberly school board for 7 1/2 years and was postmaster there for 3 1/2 years.

W. F. BROCKTON
For County Commissioner

Years of experience bringing thorough familiarity with the duties of the office for which he is an aspirant is the record upon which C. G. Higgins of Twin Falls bases his claim for election. He is a real estate dealer and a writer by trade. Mr. Higgins has been for 23 years a resident of Idaho. He was clerk of the district court in Thomas county, Kansas, for two years; chief deputy clerk in Ada county, Idaho, for two years; deputy sheriff in Ada county for 5 1/2 years, chief deputy clerk in Twin Falls county for two and one-half years, and during the past eight years he has been United States land commissioner.

C. G. HIGGINS
Clerk of the District Court and Ex-officio Auditor and Recorder.

On the basis alone of capability to discharge the duties of the office efficiently and economically, Mrs. Emma Longley Warren is a claimant for the office of county treasurer. Since being left a widow 14 years ago, Mrs. Warren has managed her own affairs, making the way not only for herself but raising to manhood her three sons, two of whom are now in the military service. During her residence of six years in Twin Falls, Mrs. Warren has been one of the most efficient teachers in the Twin Falls public schools. She is one woman whose election to the office of treasurer will place Twin Falls county most felicitously in line with 14 other Idaho counties which are served by women in this capacity.

MRS. EMMA LONGLEY WARREN
For County Treasurer

George W. Wilcox, candidate for re-election, is the first Twin Falls county assessor in whose assessment rolls for two successive years, no changes have been made by the state board of equalization. New and increased demands have been made upon the office since 1916. Collection of detailed agricultural data is required. Additional duties have entailed additional expense, but the office under Mr. Wilcox administration has been conducted permit. Mr. Wilcox is willing to leave it to the decision of the voters whether his training, experience and ability qualify him to serve as assessor for another two years.

GEORGE W. WILCOX
For County Assessor

A Delegation That Will Honor the County "Successful Farmers, Every One of Them"

The farmers of the nation are fulfilling a great trust devolving upon them in the winning of the war. It is certain that legislation in their interests will receive generous consideration at the hands of the next Idaho legislature. The Republican candidates for the legislature from Twin Falls county can be depended upon to support every measure for the interests of the farmer because they are their own interests.

Other measures will claim the attention of the next legislature. Twin Falls county especially is interested in legislation that must be enacted to secure the rehabilitation of one of its great irrigation enterprises.

Women are demanding and should have a larger voice in the shaping of the laws under which they live as citizens. It is right and proper that every interest should have representation in the law-making body. It is impossible that those representatives can be committed in advance to any program that will fulfill every contingency and give equal justice to all. In the Republican candidates for the legislature the voter of Twin Falls is presented with an opportunity to elect representatives who are truly representative of all of the interests of the county, who are not "hamstrung" and upon whom nobody holds strings, but who can be depended upon to acquire themselves as legislators in a manner in which the county can be proud. Their integrity and good business judgment is the best guarantee the voter can have.

JOSEPH H. SCAVER
For State Senator

Twin Falls county can do better in the selection of its senator than to elect Joseph H. Scaver of Castleton to that position. A native of Vermont, he has had representation in the legislature which he spent several years. Mr. Scaver came to Twin Falls in September, 1906, and was on a ranch one mile south of the city for one year. He entered the employ of the Great Shoshone & Twin Falls Water Power company in October, 1907, and was actively and continuously engaged in that institution until March, 1915, when he resigned to engage in farming at Castleton, where he is making a specialty of raising registered Hampshire sheep. He was director of the Canal board in 1906. During his connection with the Power company his work took him over southern Idaho and parts of Oregon and Utah, and he gained accurate first hand knowledge of general and local economic conditions. His information as to the power industry has been placed at the disposal of the public in his furtherance of plans to develop a mutually owned and operated power project in this county.

MRS. GARRIE HARPER WHITE
For Representative

Eminent among the leaders of thought and action in Twin Falls county is Mrs. Garrie Harper White of Twin Falls. The versatility of her capability and achievements appears in her record here while the wife of a farmer and the active manager of their 160 acre farm when her husband, Captain John E. White was called last January into active service in the army medical department. She has been president for three years of the Federation of Rural Women's clubs and of the Twin Falls Parent-Teachers association. She resigned as a director of the County Farm Bureau, which she took a prominent part in organizing, and as an official in her relief work to become a candidate for the legislature. She resided as a native of Cleveland, Ohio. Completing courses in art and decorative design in New York and Boston, she taught these subjects for three years in her native city, and was married in 1900 to Dr. White, later assisting him in the founding of the Modern Branch sanitarium. She also drew the plans for the Modern Woodman sanitarium at Colorado Springs and assisted Dr. White, the medical director, in the building and operation of the institution for three years.

JOSEPH R. CONOVER
For Representative

In the fall of 1875, after five successive crop failures, Joseph R. Conover at the age of 29 years, having served throughout the Civil war as a member of the 8th Illinois regiment of volunteers and losing his right arm as a result of a wound received in battle, was bankrupt. He owed $60,000 and had lost his farm. He was hindered to go into bankruptcy. He refused; secured more credit, and three years later had paid every dollar owed. Having cleared his financial record, Mr. Conover sold the farm which had regained and entered into the grain business with what was identified for 25 years. Prior to coming to Twin Falls in 1913, Mr. Conover was for 14 years owner of a 3600 acre farm in Illinois. With his two sons, Mr. Conover owns and operates 480 acres of land on the Twin Falls and Salmon River tracts. His experience as a public official has been limited to one term as treasurer of Mason county, Illinois, to which he was elected in 1899.

CARL J. MILLER
For Representative

Eight years ago Carl J. Miller came to Castleton from Walla Walla, Washington, where he had worked as a post-office clerk. He worked for two years at Castleton as a farm laborer; then invested in land on his own account. He is today the owner of 400 acres of well improved farm land. He is farming in addition to his own land, 300 acres more, and is counted among those who know him, as one of the most successful young farmers of the state. He has never before been an aspirant for public office, nor taken a prominent part in politics, although he has consistently taken an active interest in public affairs, more particularly in the affairs of the Canal company. His word is as good as his bond, and his opinion is one that bears great weight among those who have been associated with him.

O. P. DUVAL
For Probate Judge

"I am not here to secure a conviction but to see that justice is done," said Frank L. Stephan, Republican candidate for re-election as prosecuting attorney, appearing in the prosecution of a criminal case. That statement stands out as the distinguishing feature in his administration of the office. It is policy that has won for him in this campaign, the support of lawyers and citizens generally without regard to political affiliation. In his official capacity Mr. Stephan has developed strong capability as a trial lawyer. In addition to the duties heretofore incumbent upon the prosecuting attorney, this office in the past two years, he has been called upon to discharge many new and important functions, all of which have been performed efficiently by Mr. Stephan. He is a native of Indiana, a graduate of the University of Michigan, and has been a resident of the county for six years.

Recognition of the rights of boys and girls brought before him for violation of laws or as delinquents has been the outstanding feature in the administration of his office as judge of the juvenile court by Probate Judge O. P. Duvall, Republican candidate for re-election to that office. He is the first probate judge in Twin Falls county to enable the assistance of a woman assistant probation officer. In the discharge of the duties devolving upon the probate court, Judge Duvall has merited and won the approval of every attorney and of every citizen who has had business in his court. He is a native of Kansas, where he had his first experience in the work of the probate court. He has been a resident of Twin Falls county since 1911, when he came to Idaho and made his home in Hollister.

FRANK L. STEPHAN
For Prosecuting Attorney

That, if elected to the office of sheriff, he will render strict enforcement of existing laws and a business like administration of the office is the promise made by A. N. (Del) Sprague. Every one who has known him during his 24 years residence, a property owner and taxpayer in Twin Falls, knows that Del Sprague means just what he says in this promise. A native of Kansas, a farmer and stock raiser for 23 years and a druggist by profession, Mr. Sprague came to Idaho in 1900. Leaving Polcatello in 1904, he came to Twin Falls and was the pioneer druggist of this county. He served as president of the school board in Twin Falls in 1905 and 1906 and was one of the board which adopted the first rural centralized school system in Idaho. He served also as a member of the Twin Falls city council in 1907.

A. N. (DEL) SPRAGUE
For Sheriff

Unification of the work of the county schools to the end that the pupils in the rural districts may enjoy the same educational advantages as those in the city districts has been the aim and purpose as county superintendent of Miss Brittomart Wolfe, candidate for re-election. Under her administration of the office during the past two years, a system of records has been installed showing the status of every child enrolled in the schools in the county; the regular reports of each teacher and the financial standing of each district. Miss Wolfe is a graduate of the Fort Collins, Colorado, high school; private tutoring in university work, and a student of Held's Business College, Oakland, Cal. She holds an Idaho teacher's license certificate.

MISS BRITMOMART WOLFE
For County Superintendent of Public Instruction

The election of P. J. Grossman means that the county will be served in the important office of coroner by a competent official who is thoroughly familiar with the duties of the office. As a business associate of the late C. J. Walker, Mr. Grossman was a deputy coroner and was called upon frequently to serve in that capacity. A native of Indiana and a graduate of the Massachusetts College of Embalming at Boston, Mr. Grossman arrived here in 1905 and was the first embalmer to practice his profession in Twin Falls. In January, 1912, he entered business for himself. He also is secretary-in-charge of the Idaho Funeral Directors' association.

P. J. GROSSMAN
For Coroner

CHRISTIANITY IN EVERYDAY LIFE

Separated as we are on these Lord's Days and denied the privilege of being together in our churches let us avail ourselves of every opportunity of soul culture. Incidents are in abundance but every day by which we may be reminded of our obligation toward God and our fellow men. Let us not miss their lesson.

A tumble-wood of largest proportions rolled leisurely down Main street that windy Monday morning taking ten minutes to block a highway. It stopped at almost every merchant's door. During that ten minutes a hundred men passed the wood, some hurrying and jingling to prevent being a lodging post for the strange traveler of the sidewalk. No man offered to put Christianity into everyday life and serve the community in even so small a matter as in picking the wood in the street and dumping it. The wood held undisputed sway through the whole of the block. Why are we so slow to learn the lesson Jesus taught when he said, "I am among you as one that serveth."—Luka 22:27. In living the principles of Christianity we must render service to our community. Putting a tumble-wood off the sidewalk is a very small matter but after all is not life made up of small things? A successful life is simply doing many small things well in the name of Jesus Christ.

It was at the sale. Two hundred men were there—a few to buy, many to be entertained. The auctioneer, who is called upon to sell, is called upon to throw in just a little smut to liven the crowd a bit. It pleased a few—at least they laughed. The great majority was not pleased—they were silent. However, the auctioneer could not bear the silence and to this end, no doubt, he feels that he made himself popular by the use of smut. He is mistaken. Here are the texts—"Blessed are the pure in heart."—Matthew 5:8. "Keep thyself pure."—1 Timothy 6:20. "The words which are pleasant words."—Proverbs 15:24. Christianity in everyday life will lead men (and women) to pure thought and speech.

An old-timer saw this tract before the first snow had reached a gallon of water. Only eggs, brush, jack rabbits, sand, wind and sun were here. Now from one hundred dollars to seven hundred dollars worth of food stocks taken from a single acre. What a change. But do we gather the entire lesson? Is there a text from God's great book that comes to mind? Here is the text—"I am the bread of life; he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst. This is the bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: but that eateth of this bread shall live forever."—John 6:35. Truly he is the bread of life. He is the water of life. He is the water of the river that flows from the channel, and spread over our fields bring such abundant growth.

WORDS OF PRAISE FOR WILCOX

October 30th, 1918.
Mr. George W. Wilcox,
Twin Falls, Idaho.
Dear Sir:
It has come to my attention that there is an under current of criticism in this County to the effect that your administration as County Assessor has been inefficient. I feel that in fairness to you I am not going out of the way in addressing you in the matter, and assuring you that insofar as the Auditor's office is concerned, it is my opinion that your administration has been efficient. The rolls have been delivered to this office promptly and on the date required by statute. The rolls have been neatly written and uniformly accurate. The County Commissioners have gone over the rolls each year and the rolls have been open for the inspection of the public the full time as required by law. There have been fewer complaints on the assessment and fewer changes in the assessment made by the Board of County Commissioners in the past five years than in any other county. The employees in the Auditor's office have received courteous and prompt service in all business had with your office, and I have yet to hear the first word of criticism from any taxpayer on your conduct of the affairs of the office.
Very truly yours,
E. J. FINOHL,
Auditor.

so the life of Jesus Christ flowing through the barren waste of our lives gives to us and to the world the abundant life. As we observe great crops let us be reminded of him from whom all blessings flow.

Take another lesson from everyday life. The man with the Bible on the battle field observed the wounded man, perhaps nearing death, and said, "Sir, let me read to you from my book." The suffering soldier motioned him away and turned his head. What could be done? He must not be left thus to die. Remembering that a wound brings great thirst, the man who would lead others to a knowledge of his Lord and Saviour finds water and gently lifting the wounded man's head gives him to drink. The man is cold. The Christian wraps him in his own coat. He makes more comfortable the head that in such an hour is denied a pillow and a woman's tender touch to make it smooth. While trying to decide the next step the relieved soldier turned to the man who was learning to put his Christianity into his everyday life and said, "Now you may read to me from your book." Here are a few of the many texts—"Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and the widows in their afflictions and to keep himself unstained from the world."—James 1:27 "Even so faith if it hath not works, is dead, being alone. But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead. Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only."—James 2:17, 24. Have you had a kindness shown?

Pass it on.
"Twas not given for you alone—"
Pass it on.
Let it travel down the years, let it stop another's tears, till in heaven the seed appears,
Pass it on.
"Count that day lost whose low depending sun views from thy hand no gleam of light does show." The wise good copy for our childhood days but we fail to learn the lesson or have we forgotten?

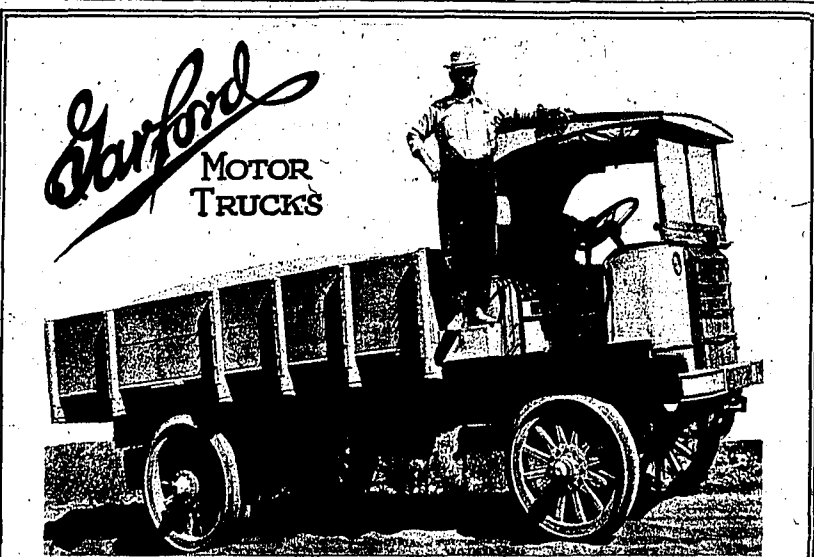

"Let me see your tongue," the physician said. Did you learn the lesson for Christianity in everyday life? From the tongue the physician learns the condition of the body and from the same instrument the student of human nature learns the condition of mind and heart. A common failure of life is in the right use of words—spoken or printed. "Sweet thou a man that is hasty in his words? There is more hope for a fool than for him."—Solomon. Like arrows are the words of the tongue. Loose them to their deadly work. Feathers are easily scattered over a field on a windy day; to gather them is the impossible task. That unkind word is easily released to the newspaper but how utterly impossible ever to get it back when once the paper is in circulation. Thoughts may be your own; not so with words. The tongue is indeed the best but also the worst part of man. It is a little member but how easily it kills full grown men and women. Remember that a superior man (or woman) puts Christianity into everyday life and is modest in speech. Here are some scriptures texts—"A soft answer turneth away wrath; but grievous words stir up anger."—Proverbs 15:1 "Out of bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, he put away from you, with all malice."—Eph. 4:31 "If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, he deceiveth his own soul; his religion is vain."—James 1:26. "Speak not evil one of another."—James 4:11.

ITALIANS AND YANKEES LAND ON AUSTRIAN SOIL

Pola is situated on the Adriatic, at the tip of the Istria peninsula, 100 miles south of Trieste and 45 miles south of Fiume. It has one of the finest harbors in Europe and was the chief naval base of Austria controlling the Adriatic coast and the headquarters of the admiralty. It is strongly fortified. It has a population of 50,000. Seizure of Pola will enable the Allies to overrun Istria, menace Trieste and Fiume and open the way for a real live battle with the Austrians retreating from Italy. It also gives the Allies a strong strategic position in the rear of the Austrian Balkan armies. Vienna is 250 miles northeast of Pola.

Whether any of the Austrian fleet remains at Pola is not definitely known. Conflicting reports have told of the fleet being moved to Fiume and of mutinous marines seizing the ships at Pola and turning them over to the Jugoslavs.

The Allied drive in Italy, according to dispatches received by the Italian embassy at Washington, has resulted in the trapping of a big Austrian army along the Tagliamento. The Trentino army has also cut off from retreat, except over the Alps. Fighting on the west front was being carried on with renewed intensity today.

"I am Glad I Bought a Garford"

—Henry Goll, Waterville, Wash.

In the modern business of farming, an outlet to transportation centers is fully as important as the product itself.

—And motor trucks have given the farmer the dependable outlet he needs. They form the connecting-link between farm and market.

Motor truck equipment often pays for itself again and again in reaching market in time to command the top price.

Partner-merchants appreciate this fact and are taking advantage of it. Motor trucks defeat congestion which might result in a total or partial loss in perishable produce amounting to many times the cost of motor truck equipment.

A letter from Henry Goll, a prosperous farmer, tells the story of Garford satisfaction.

"I am glad that I bought a 3 1-2 ton Garford truck.

"We hauled about 15,000 bushels of wheat and never had any trouble.

"We hauled 150 bushels to the load.

"The roads got bad—but the truck made it all right.

"All I can say is, if anybody thinks of buying a motor truck they had better see the Garford work."

That is true motor truck satisfaction. The kind Garfords are giving on farms, and in hundreds of differing classes of business over the country.

Good sound business points to Garfords, because they are built to give continuous and satisfactory service—the kind you need.

This means economy and dependability.

Unusual demands make it advisable to order now.

We will gladly make a study of your hauling needs and advise Garford equipment which will serve you with greatest economy and efficiency.

See us today. A call will have our immediate attention.

NOTE EARLY TO AVOID CONGESTION AT POLLS

The polls in the several precincts will be open at 8 o'clock in the morning and remain open until 7 o'clock in the evening on November 5. Every voter in the county who can conveniently do so should vote in the forenoon. If it is at all possible to vote in the forenoon, do not put it off until the afternoon. If it is absolutely impossible to vote in the forenoon, then vote as early in the afternoon as you can do so. There are from 700 to 800 voters registered in some of the precincts, and if the majority of the voters put off voting till the afternoon on election day, it will be a physical impossibility for all to vote in some of the precincts.

NOTE EARLY! Make that your slogan, and see that your friends follow it. NOTE EARLY!
