

LABOR SEETHING WITH TALK OF PROTEST STRIKE

Labor Leader Declares Not a Wheel Will Turn on Coast if California Takes Mooney's Life—Vote Big Strike

TRIAL JUDGE REQUESTS CONDITIONAL PARDON

Writes Governor Recommending Clemency—Sixty Thousand Seattle Workers Vote Unanimously to Quit Work

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Nov. 21.—Labor on the Pacific Coast is seething today with strike talk which may assume serious proportions.

Practically every union, before December 1 will vote on the proposed general strike. A protest against the execution of Thomas J. Mooney scheduled to be held December 13. Some labor leaders declared that "not a wheel will turn" throughout the coast if the state of California takes Mooney's life.

Further complications were presented by the dispute of shipyard workers over the Macy wage scale agreement, which the men declare has not been fulfilled by the employers. A demonstration already has taken place at the shipyard, unless some satisfactory settlement is forthcoming.

Unions in the big east Bay ship building district of Alameda and Oakland are halting today on the Mooney strike proposal. Mass meetings will be held Sunday at which Mooney's case will be discussed.

Seattle's central labor council has voted solidly to support the "Save Mooney's Life" strike.

Trial Judge Asks Pardon

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—Judge Franklin A. Griffin, before whom Thomas Mooney was convicted, today writes Governor Stephens asking the Governor to grant Mooney a conditional pardon, it was learned today.

Such a conditional pardon would insure a new trial of the man convicted of murder in connection with the San Francisco postoffice parade bombing July 25, 1917.

Mooney is sentenced to hang December 13. He has carried his appeal for a new trial to the United States Supreme Court, which refused to review the case.

Judge Griffin refused to comment on his letter today, other than to admit that it was written Tuesday. He said publicly on the matter should come from the governor's office.

"I will merely say," said Judge Griffin, "that I have not received from my mind that Mooney should have a new trial."

The Mooney case has aroused widespread interest because labor has made it an issue and because President Wilson has several times intervened in Mooney's behalf.

Seattle Workers Vote to Go Out

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 21.—A mass meeting of the utmost excitement, the central labor council, representing 60,000 Seattle workers, voted unanimously to endorse the "Save Mooney's Life" general strike movement that threatens to stop all industry on the Pacific coast and possibly throughout the country.

FIRST AND LARGEST INSTALLMENT IS TURNED OVER TO ALLIED FLEET

Cost of German Warships to Be Surrendered Estimated at $228,000,000—Enemy High Seas Fleet Meets Grand Fleet Off Scotland and Turns Over Ten Dreadnaughts, Battle Cruisers and Lighter Craft

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The German fleet has surrendered to the grand fleet, the British admiralty announced today. The American battle squadron and French cruiser and destroyers participated in the ceremony.

The admiralty made the following announcement: "The commander-in-chief of the Grand Fleet reported at 9:30 this morning that he had met the first and main installment of the German high seas fleet, which is surrendering for internment."

The cost of the German warships to be surrendered under the armistice provisions is estimated to be at least $228,000,000.

The German fleet followed the prescribed plan in surrendering, with the exception of one ship which is now en route.

The total number of ships which surrendered was not yet known as this was called.

The German high seas fleet, comprising 10 dreadnaughts, 6 battle cruisers, 10 light cruisers, and a number of destroyers, was to meet the allied fleet in the North Sea off the English coast, for the formal ceremony of surrender.

Four hundred allied vessels—the biggest fleet ever assembled—are reported to have met the Germans. The fleet included five American dreadnaughts.

The surrender is understood to have taken place at a point about sixty miles east of May Isle.

May Isle is just off the entrance to the Firth of Forth, on the Scottish coast.

According to plans, the German warships were to pass down a long lane of allied craft. The surrender was to be received personally by Admiral Beatty, commander of the British grand fleet, Admiral in the American command.

BODY OF MURDERED MAN TRAVELS ACROSS CONTINENT IN WINE KEG

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Nov. 21.—Quietly, the San Francisco police are trying to establish the identity of a man murdered here and shipped to New York in a fifty-gallon oak of wine.

Although the body was found in New York several days ago, nothing was known of the find until local detectives gave word of it here today.

How long the man may have been dead and what actuated the murderer in using so novel a means of disposing of the body are elements of the mystery. Records of the internal revenue department are being studied to learn who was responsible for the peculiar shipment of California wine.

These records show the G. Brown Wine company made two shipments of fifty-gallon wine casks in identical barrels. One of these may have contained the body.

One of these shipments went to Farnam Brothers and the other to G. Coast, both of New York.

AMERICAN ARMY ON THE SOIL OF FOUR NATIONS

France, Belgium, Luxembourg and German-Lorraine. All Hosts of Yankee Army of Occupation

By WEBB MILLER
WITH THE AMERICANS ADVANCING TOWARD THE RHINE, Nov. 25—The American army of occupation is now standing on the soil of four countries—France, Belgium, Luxembourg and German-Lorraine.

Today's advance resulted in the occupation of a score of villages and towns. We reached Fostoy and Vitry in Lorraine, the latter town being only ten miles north of Metz. Further to the left, Americans entered the neutral duchy of Luxembourg, passing through Esch—American troops now only a few miles from the city of Luxembourg. The capital is gallily decorated with flags; the people expectantly awaiting the entry of the Americans.

Mayor Visits Pressing
 The Mayor of Luxembourg crossed the lines in an automobile and paid his respects to General Pershing at Longuevois, which is now his headquarters. Michigan and Wisconsin troops, which led the way into Luxembourg, received an ovation along every foot of their march. They entered fifteen villages, every one decorated with homemade American flags. In German-Lorraine, the Americans were welcomed by the inhabitants of French extraction. Those of German descent looked on sulkily. The important towns of Aillon, in Belgium, remembering America's food and relief work throughout the war, gave our troops an extraordinary warm greeting. The townpeople stood beside the roads, cheering themselves hoarse. It was not uncommon to see doughboys carrying one or two children with chattering French or German girls and boys walking alongside.

Money Staff Officers Center
 The German staff officers' activity to army headquarters to arrange for handling over the material at Longuevois. This included thirty-nine locomotives, 300 guns and thousands of rifles. The roads near the Luxembourg frontier are lined with surrendered cannon.

FRENCH ARMIES ENTER LORRAINE

French and Germans Alike Welcome Occupation — Germans Intend to Stay

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
METZ, Nov. 25 (Night)—Poets and tradespeople were the loudest in their cheers when the French resumed control of Lorraine. The reason is that most of the working and middle classes and heartily pro-French constitute a strong majority of the population. Their children, usually speak French, although that language has been "Verboten" since 1914.

The mildest enthusiasm among office holders and professional men. These are mostly from Germany and had a monopoly on the jobs with fat salaries. Many of them intend to stay under French control, apparently. I talked with dozens of them and failed to find any who contemplated pulling out. They were generally philosophical and said they would learn to become French and would welcome the new liberty.

Germans Won't Leave
 Shortage of apples is confined mostly to Lorraine. Show made of that material are practically unobtainable, most of them being made of wood. Clothes are expensive but can be bought if one has the price. Bread is not particular scarce, but is of poor quality. There is plenty of meat and vegetables.

Three French newspapers, suppressed in 1914, resumed publication yesterday. They were combined temporarily both French and German newspapers welcomed French occupation.

The German population appears to be almost as friendly toward Americans as the French. It seemed that everybody had questions to ask concerning relatives in the United States. French-Germans will enter their city when the civil government takes control after ten days of semi-military occupation.

The French armies will enter Strasbourg on Sunday.

DESCRIBES SURRENDER OF GERMAN SUBMARINES

British Cruisers and Destroyers Prepared for Treachery—Surrender Takes Place Without Hitch—Causes Little Excitement in England—Movie Men Take Pictures

NORTH SEA, Nov. 25—One of the greatest chapters in the world's history was enacted today when a score of German submarines surrendered without a fight.

The four British cruisers and accompanying destroyers, which constituted the reception committee, had cleared their decks for action in case the Germans attempted any treachery. The gunners were at their stations, ready to fire at a second's notice when the U-boats began to appear singly through the fog.

Sighted Through Fog
 Harry Foster, a signal man, beside whom I was standing on the lower bridge of the Desala, sighted the leading submarine through his glasses, shouting, "There they are!"

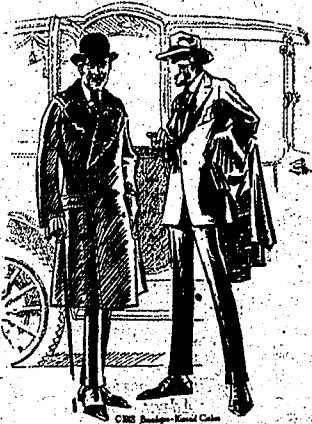

According to schedule, the rendezvous was to have occurred at 7:30 a. m. but the British reached the designated place ahead of time and passed beyond. After they had progressed about five miles—38 miles from Harwich—they encountered the U-boats. They did not hesitate proceeding according to instructions through a line of British destroyers toward the harbor. The only exchange of communications was when the cruiser Dragon signalled the submarines to carry out the formal surrender.

Movie on the Job
 Two American airplanes were included in the aerial escort. Small boats with movie photographers aboard drew alongside the submarines. The Germans laughed and waived their hats at the photographers, smiling slyly.

When the U-boats came to anchor the British transferred the German crews, together with their bread and potato rations aboard a merchantman on which they proceeded to Kiel the Dragon, securing them. The Dragon was to accompany the merchantman as far as this morning's rendezvous.

Causes No Excitement
 The surrender caused no excitement, the only thing in the way of celebration being a blowing of a siren in Harwich. The officers and men on the British ship were quiet, the general attitude being that the German surrender was so contemptible it was nothing to crow about.

It was fitting that the capture should be recorded by the man who was probably the U-boats' worst enemy, Rear Admiral Reginald Tyrwhitt, commander of the British destroyer force.

DISPOSITION OF CONSTANTINOPELE VEXING PROBLEM

Greece Wants City—Other Allies Interested Mainly in Opening Dardanelles to All Nations

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
WASHINGTON, Nov. 25—Disposition of Constantinople is being discussed informally by Allied statesmen and diplomats; it was learned today.

This question to be one of the most vexing problems confronting the peace conference.

President Wilson has expressed the belief that the Dardanelles, the Bosphorus, and the strategic heights dominating the water passages, should be internationalized. But some Allied statesmen express doubt as to whether the Turk will be driven from Constantinople.

Greeks Want Ancient City
 Greece, through Premier Venizelos, now in Paris, is demanding expulsion of the Turk from Europe. Many Hellenic statesmen and diplomats are pointing to the historic position of Constantinople as capital of the ancient Byzantine empire in proof of their contention that Greece receive this valued point.

The British view is that while much can be said for the ejection of the Turks from Constantinople, it must be considered that more than one-half of the population is Turkish. The British, it is officially stated, will go to the peace conference open-minded on this point. They will, however, insist on overthrow of the present tyrannical rulers of Turkey.

Main Point Is Dardanelles
 The Dardanelles and the Bosphorus must be absolutely free and Armenia must be cleared of Turkish oppression.

All British purposes include liberation of all subject races, including Jews, Arabs and Kurds.

It is possible that the waterways and the land heights dominating them might be internationalized, while the city of Constantinople will be left in whatever government is in control in Turkey. Diplomat point out that the civilian population of the city is a purely local matter and that it is possible that a zone will be carefully defined which would cut off strategic and harbor points from the remainder of the city.

May Be Joint Government
 Another plan is to form a joint government, consisting of representatives of the Allied powers, or a league of nations, with delegates from the local population. This is the best, it is said, to keep the Dardanelles open to all nations.

Cables declaring the Greek legislative body reached the admiral of the Greek navy said his flagship is with other Allied forces at Constantinople.

Uncle Eben
 "Too much of de gift of prophecy," said Uncle Eben, "is dangerous. Do man don't know in advance what hand his gunnister git in a poker game and it ain't no use."

NO YOUNG MEN LEFT IN VILLAGE

Battle Toll at Gallipoli Strips Potten End of Its Youth

VILLAGE OF POTTEN END, HERTFORDSHIRE, Eng., Nov. 25—A quiet country village is today just as quiet as a battlefield.

On the village green last night the countryfolk gathered at sundown as they have done for several centuries. They chucked up in the middle of the green the Red Lion (1000 years old) light in a bonfire on the south; the squat little church steeply just over the hedge on the north; and the heathery moor to the west—all were just as they were before the war, except.

There were no young men. They, who came together on the green were women, girls, children, old men and occasionally a man of 50. Two sober-faced young women were pushing baby carriages.

Old Men Remain
 A military man of 60, settled at the bar in Red Lion (the bar was perhaps four feet long in a room about 6 feet square). On the right was another brown-walled room with a bare table in the center. A dozen old men were sitting, sipping their gin.

At the head of the table sat a soldier, some on leave.

The innkeeper's daughter was banging a tinny piano in the tiny parlor. She played to an empty room and to a soldier's picture above the instrument.

The Inn is a squat little place, mostly grown to roof and many-barred chimneys (the kind you used to see in your Mother Goose book, with storks standing on them). The cracks between the brick shingles are stuffed with moss.

Lost at Gallipoli
 A wooden tablet nailed to the wall of the village church—by the door—displays the "Roll of Honor." Underneath a little wooden shelf are sprays of flowers left their story.

It was a Herfordshire Regiment, with its quota from Potten End, that was practically wiped out at Gallipoli.

From the common the morning one could see squads of Women's Land Army girls, in khaki, shoveling wheat in the hedge-framed fields.

Behind, the roofs and chimneys of the village, were just visible over the masses of trees, shrubs and hedges which form the bulk of every English landscape. In every one of those homes was 1, perhaps 2, or 4 empty chairs, many of which would never be filled.

YOUTHFUL FORGER TO RECEIVE HIS SENTENCE

George Stevenson, 18, is liable to five on term for violation of Paris.

Sentence is to be pronounced Friday by District Judge W. A. Babcock upon George Stevenson, aged 18, in whose case hearing was held Wednesday in district court here on a charge of violation of parole. Stevenson pleaded guilty in district court here February 7, 1918, to forging three checks in the total sum of $35, and was sentenced at that time to serve from one to 14 years in the state prison. On account of his youth he was paroled to V. H. Ormsby, then probation officer. Complaints subsequently that Stevenson had not fully failed to report regularly to the probation officer as required led to his order the parole but that he has repeated the offenses for which he was sentenced, resulted in his re-arrest on a bench warrant for violation of the parole. He has been in custody in the county jail here for about two months.

ROBINSONS The Time and Place to Buy

THERE seems to be an impression to the minds of some people that, with the war over, there will be a general drop in the retail price of merchandise. Facts, however, do not bear this out.

I have been carrying a heavy stock in proportion to the volume of my business, and most of this was purchased long before the present high levels were reached.

Aside from this consideration, however, my regular prices have been lower by a rule than most of the Special Sale offerings.

SHOES WHEN shoes were added to the stock of this store it was with the thought of supplying in a small way the requirements of my regular customers.

There are shoes here for the whole family, and to give you an idea as to how far I go in my efforts to carry what my customers want, I would mention the fact that there is in stock 25 different styles of shoes for infants and small children alone.

You will find the prices here on shoes are always right—consequently oftentimes less than the same quality can be purchased elsewhere.

Don't Mention Holdup Men to Officer Blackwell

PROCKLYN.—Policeman George Blackwell, snatching along Flatbush avenue, behind a crowd running and heard such shouts as: "They're holdup men!" "One's got a gun and the other a knife" Policeman Blackwell, being blessed with long legs, soon caught up with the pursuing throng and was informed that the "holdup men" had sought asylum in the cellar of an abandoned carpenter shop at Flatbush avenue and Chester street.

"Well," soliloquized the officer, "duty is duty." So, unflinching his gun, the officer crawled through. Shivering and quaking in a far corner of the cellar were the fugitives, the holdup men, Emanuel Eisen, eleven, of 313 Clinton street; Ray O'Carra, eleven, of Forty-second street, and Henry Coffey, eleven, of 354 Smith street.

None of the 100 Americans arriving knew of him. The mother continued waiting and watching.

THE DAY OF RETRIBUTION

CLOSING ORDER IS TO REMAIN IN EFFECT LOCALLY

County Board of Health Decides Against Lifting Restrictions Until Epidemic is Entirely Under Control

The order prohibiting public congregations at schools, churches, theaters and elsewhere imposed by the state board of health during the continuance of the influenza epidemic will remain in effect in Twin Falls county on Wednesday afternoon, it was decided by the county board of health, which will continue in effect here until the plague is safely under control.

This is the decision reached Wednesday afternoon at a session of the county board of health, which was presided over by Commissioner J. P. Weaver, county health officer, and Dr. C. G. McDaniel, who has been named to succeed Dr. Weaver in this capacity.

Physicians Give Views
The physicians' verdict was that while the epidemic seemed to be abating in this county, it would be unwise at this time to remove restrictions against gatherings at which the disease might be spread.

Chairman O. E. Carlson of the board of county commissioners, upon whom a great share of the work of caring for influenza patients in this county has devolved, stated Wednesday that there had been 16 new cases of influenza reported that day. This number, he said, was smaller than the average which ran for a time about 30 new cases daily. Six patients were discharged Wednesday from the emergency annex to the county general hospital for the treatment of influenza cases. Both are pronounced the annex for the care of 19 patients.

Other Bodies Act
The decision of the county board of health in respect to maintaining the closing order in effect here is in accord with the request made last week to the night board of health by officials of the city of Twin Falls, and the committee called by the county council of defense at its meeting Tuesday evening when it addressed a protest to the state board of health against the conditional lifting of the closing order and requesting more definite quarantine measures and means for their enforcement.

DISCERN SWING BACK TOWARD DAIRY INDUSTRY

Dr. G. D. Bishop, Inspector of Bureau of Animal Industry, Comments on High Prices for Cows

Milk cows are selling at remarkably high prices in the Twin Falls country, according to Dr. G. D. Bishop, an inspector of the Twin Falls station, bureau of animal industry, who has been visiting here and making a check on the district recently both as vendor and as a prospective purchaser of dairy cows.

"Almost any sort of milk cow will bring $100 at an auction here these days and from that price range up to $200," Dr. Bishop stated Wednesday.

He is of the opinion that the high price of milk cows here reflects a growing appreciation of the importance of the dairy industry and is commensurate with the prices well higher milkers than lower. He suggests that the importation of desirable milk cows at the present time should be a profitable enterprise.

THOUGHT COPS AWAY; IS NOW BEHIND BARS

E. M. Richmond of Twin Falls, Disappearance After Taking Advantage of Magistrate

E. M. Richmond of Twin Falls is a prisoner in the county jail here charged with violation of the liquor laws, because he entertained the mistaken idea, after taking advantage of the justices of the peace and abiding out last spring when the magistrate granted him liberty for a short time to secure a bond, that he would be safe in reappearing in jail Wednesday. Deputy Sheriff E. R. Sherman disabused him of the erroneous belief and led him in custody that afternoon to the county jail, where he is held to await trial in the district court. Richmond had two plates of whiskey in his possession; it is alleged, when he was arrested last spring at a party.

COUNTY SHORT AT CAMPAIGN CLOSE

Total Subscriptions $1,500 Under Minimum War Work Quota

Twin Falls county lacked about $1,500 of subscribing its minimum quota of $45,000 for the United War Work campaign, when the books at headquarters were closed Thursday night, County Campaign Manager W. R. Priddy announced this morning. Subscriptions continue to come in through the mail, and drives are continuing in some districts. Mr. Priddy stated, and he is hopeful that the county, although the "lag," may soon take its place among those which have subscribed their full quotas for the War Work fund.

Both the city of Twin Falls and Bohi "goes over the top" in this campaign with a margin of about $2,000 each to spare. Other communities are expected to oversubscribe their quotas before the close of the week.

WENDELL POLICEMAN WANTS HIS CAR BACK

Opens Negotiations With Twin Falls Sheriff Holding Auto in Boon Case

Police Officer C. C. Small of Wendell, whose Ford car, in possession of J. W. Briggs and Joe Hahn, transported here from Nevada on the night of November 11, was taken in custody in the Twin Falls county sheriff's office, has registered a protest against the retention of the machine by the officers here, and, at the same time, inquires the minimum probable cost at which he can regain it. Briggs and Hahn are serving sentences in the county jail here for illegal transportation of liquor. They declared to the officers when they were arrested that Small had loaned his car to them for the purpose of bringing back booze to Wendell.

Small in his letter of protest and inquiry to the sheriff's office, declares that he loaned his car to persons other than Briggs and Hahn and that the persons to whom it was loaned were instructed to go only to Filer.

The sheriff's office has decided to advertise the car for sale, under the provisions of the law, and advise that Small may regain the machine by bidding in at such sale.

Twin Falls Tonnage Journey to Capital to Try Irrigation Company's Case

J. R. Bothwell, E. A. Walters and E. M. Wolfe, of Twin Falls, attorneys respectively for the Twin Falls Canal company, the Twin Falls-North Side Land & Water company, and the Twin Falls-North Side Canal company, left here Wednesday evening to appear in the United States district court at Boise today in the case wherein the respective liability of the North Side Land & Water company and the North Side Canal company to make payment of approximately $16,000 to the Twin Falls Canal company on account of the charges in connection with the construction of a dam between the Milledale and Twin Falls and North Side projects.

The state land board has held that the charge is now growing out of cost of construction of the dam which serves to divert water from Snake river back to the Twin Falls and North Side projects.

The matter of the amount to be paid is not a controversy, but the question of whether the North Side Canal company or the Land & Water company should pay it is at issue.

Resolutions in Memory of Late F. F. Bracken Adopted By City Council and County Council of Defense

Resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Mayor Frank F. Bracken have been adopted both by the city council and the county council of defense, of which he was chairman.

Following are the resolutions adopted by the county council of defense: Resolutions of Council of Defense. In the midst of joy, there is sorrow; in the hour of victory, there is defeat; at the apex of life, we meet death, and at the time of the anticipation of the shortly happy home coming and unity once more of those whom we dearly love, there is a parting for all time.

Why it is that nature is seemingly harsh towards some and kind to others we know not, and will not judge, but we do realize, as we must, to a higher power.

The most important resource and asset of a nation, state, county, city, or a social, political or business organization is a man with a well poised mind, a man with a strong sense of justice, having an intellect capable of correctly judging between right and wrong and with the courage and industry to champion the cause of right in a just manner and in a kindly spirit.

Such a man was our late friend and preceding officer, Mr. F. F. Bracken. He never failed to rule and govern with a just hand, was always unpartisan in his mind; his intellect was capable at all times to discern what was right and what was wrong; no one can gainsay the fact that he had the courage and industry to always champion the cause of right and he always approached his task in a just manner and with a kindly intent and spirit.

Therefore, be it Resolved, That we keenly appreciate the loss suffered by the City of Twin Falls and community, and especially this Council of Defense, by the passing away of our friend and co-worker, Mr. F. F. Bracken. We solemnly mourn his loss and the absence of his kindly presence and we do hereby extend to his family, in this hour of their grief and bereavement our most sincere sympathy and condolences.

Be it Further Resolved, That these resolutions be spread at length upon the records of this Council and that a copy thereof be forwarded to his beloved widow and family.

CURE FOR BLUES NEAR THE CAMPS

Community Service Takes Place of Mother, Friends and Home for Soldiers.

Two young officers of the Student Army Training Corps of the University of Detroit recently applied for a furnished house and a housekeeper who would not be a servant, but, as one young officer expressed it, "the sort of woman to whom the boys can cast out 'Hello, mother!' when they come in the front door."

Homelessness is the malady for which the Camp Community Service supplies tolerable cures.

"We've got your number," says the W. C. C. S. to the homesick boy from camp with letters to spend in any one of the three hundred scattered over the country. While he's wondering what on earth he'll do with himself when he gets there, not knowing a soul in town and with a limited percentage of his belongings in his pocket, along comes a friendly printed card from the local branch of his own lodge announcing a reception that night especially for soldier members. By the same time the Methodist church has an announcement of all its meetings, addressed to him, with This Means You printed at the bottom. How did they know he was a Methodist?

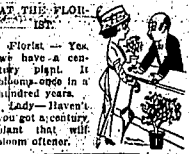

The good reports toward the "Front Line" he made out at the adjutant's request during his first day in camp when it was only one of the cadets in the round of dentists and doctors, and general confusion. The W. C. C. S. had only his number, but his name and address, his home town, the name of the school he had gone to and a good bit about the things he was fond of doing—each fact being checked with data on the card especially for it.

WOMEN OFFER THANKSGIVING SUGGESTIONS

Farm Bureau Home Department Gives Hints for Preparation of Conservation Meal in Keeping With Event.

Suggestions for the preparation of a home grown Thanksgiving meal, keeping with the importance of the great year when the world is celebrating victory and peace, are given by the women's department of the county farm bureau in the following bulletin, several of the suggestions being made by the housewives of the county.

Thanksgiving Day, 1918, will be the greatest in all history. This is memorable for events of victory and peace. Its celebration should be made appropriate by patriotic menus indifferently of thrift and Americanism. Let us not think that the end of the war will free us from the need of conservation. The call of more hungry persons than ever comes from overseas.

Let us prepare a simple but substantial home grown Thanksgiving meal.

Turkey is "Fragrant"

Turkey is best and cheapest, too. Instead of beef and pork needed for export; plenty of gravy; save butter for shipment; oysters in their native state; wild rabbit for those who are fortunate enough to have them; fruit with cream and filled deep with pie; an delightful cranberries sweetened with honey or syrup; turnips, squash or onions in place of vegetables out of season; sugary confections, native nuts for dessert.

Some Cranberry Uses

Cranberries are now in the market. They are always associated with Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners. This year the scarcity of sugar may cause many to hesitate to use them. Cranberries may be served without supplying your sugar bowl.

Because of the acid content of cranberries, sweeteners such as sorghum, cane, or corn syrup may be used even more successfully than with other fruits and they may be combined with other fruits which are sweet, such as apples, figs, and raisins. They are a valuable food because of the iron and acid they contain.

The recipes suggested use sugar as follows:

- Cranberry Sauce
Cranberries 1 qt.
Raisins or figs or cocoanut 1 cup.
Water 3 cups.
Sorghum or cane syrup 1-2 cup.
Inspect and wash cranberries. Prepare raisins, cut in small pieces, and add to cranberries and other ingredients, and cook until tender.
- Cranberry-Apple Jelly
Apple juice 1 pint.
Cranberry juice 1 pint.
Syrup 3-4 cup.
Sorghum or cane syrup 1-2 cup.
Prepare apple juice as for apple jelly. Add prepared cranberry juice and boil 5 minutes. Add sweetening; boil until it gives the jelly test.—Turn into glasses.
- A large proportion of cranberry may be used if desired.
- Cranberry and Apple Pudding
Rice 3-4 cup.
Water 3 cups.
Apples 3 large.
Cranberries 1 cup.

Fine Woman's Recipe

Here is a much nice recipe that makes a delicious mince pie as the County Agents can testify. This recipe is given us by Mrs. L. A. Small, of Filer.

Mock Mince

1 gal. green tomatoes,
1 gal. apples,
2 lb. brown sugar (or 1 qt. honey or sorghum),
1 lb. raisins (seedless),
1 lb. nuts.

Season with cinnamon, allspice and cloves.

Cut up the tomatoes in small pieces. Sprinkle with salt and let stand overnight. Drain and chop fine the tomatoes, apples and nuts. Then put all together and boil 3-4 of an hour. Seal in glass jars.

This recipe may be varied by the addition of chopped nuts and citron. And the proportions of tomatoes and apples may be varied.

When Eggs Are Scarce

The following eggless recipes are sent in by request by Mrs. C. H. Eldred of Twin Falls.

Eggless Fruit Cakes

1 1/2 cup sugar, and 2 1/2 cup butter

crushed together,

1 cup molasses or sorghum,
1 cup currants,
2 cup raisins,
1 1/2 lb. walnuts,
1 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon,
1 1/2 teaspoon cloves,
1 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg,
1 teaspoon soda,
1 cup coffee or water.

Heat to make stiff. Bake slowly till done.

Eggless Pumpkin Pie

2 cups sugar (scant),
1 tablespoon corn starch,
1 1/2 tablespoon ginger,
1 cup milk,
Cloves and cinnamon to taste.
Pumpkin to make thick. This will make two pies.

Conservation Hints

Now is the time for canning and drying pumpkin. For drying, cut in thin slices. Thread them on a string and hang over the kitchen stove, or place racks in the oven, being careful not to have the heat too high.

Most of us are very fond of bacon on fall pies. We may eat bacon in moderation, if we are careful not to let the surplus fat drip into the fire and be wasted.
