Italy Also Did Some Potter Palmering

ROME, Nov. 23.—Up to the time of the signing of the armistice over 900 properties belonging to enemy subjects had been sequestered in Italy by the government. Total value of these were estimated at $100,000,000. In addition, jewels and other personal valuables were sequestered to the extent of $250,000,000. The figures do not include stocks and bonds or current funds held by enemy subjects in safety deposit vaults in the banks of Italy. The directors of these banks assumed the responsibility of seeing to it that safety deposit boxes of enemy aliens were not opened except by the Italian authorities. It is estimated that property, stocks, bonds, jewels and personal effects belonging to enemy subjects in Italy totaled one billion dollars.

FORTY AERO SQUADRONS TO RETURN FROM ENGLAND: Yank Army of Occupation Has 70 Miles to Go—Will Reach Final Objective at Coblenz About December

By CARL D. GLOAT WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—More than 50,000 American soldiers died during the war. Nearly 180,000 men were wounded. These figures were given by Chief of Staff March today in his weekly conference, in which he indicated the following divisions are slated for an early return to the United States: Thirty-first, 30th, 20th, 16th, 94th, 60th, 47th, nine regiments of coast artillery and two field artillery brigades, besides aero squadrons from England (previously reported unofficially as numbering 18,000 men).

Forty-four thousand German prisoners were captured and 1,400 guns taken by the Americans, March said.

Demobilization Abroad Demobilizing our forces abroad has been carefully studied this week. As a result, March authorized General Pershing to send home to the extent of available transportation, such units as are not needed for the army of occupation.

These branches are railroad artillery, army artillery, gas, tank and air ser-vice, and the coast and certain divisions which have been in replacement.

Demobilization at Home Demobilization in this country has been going on steadily for a week. At Camp Dixon, Thursday, 200 discharged a day were being recorded and practically all men had just expressed a desire to go direct to their homes.

Units Homeward Bound March designated 40 or more aero squadrons to be returned from England, and said his only information as to their strength was contained in press reports, indicating 18,000. Some of these men are understood to have already sailed for home.

At the same time March designated for return nearly a score of construction units. Coblenz Yanks Objective Regarding movement of the American army of occupation March said it apparently was making for Coblenz. It had covered 50 miles between the 17th and 23rd, and the about 70 miles to the final position, which should be reached, he said, about December 1.

DEPARTMENT WILL NOT PUSH TRAINING PLANS

Country Waits on President Wilson for Leadership in Solution of After-War Military Problems

BY CARL GROAT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—That the war department will keep hands off in the matter of universal military training unless asked specifically for its views, was the opinion in general staff quarters today.

Indications are that the president directly, or through Secretary of War Baker, must sponsor the idea, else congress will have to ask the war department for its suggestions. It was said that indications now are that the military men themselves would not attempt to urge such training unless asked to do so by the president, secretary of war, or congress.

Staff Officers Profess Ignorance

Staff officers profess to be ignorant of what policy the administration will effect. The general staff has made a study of the subject and is ready to present very definite proposals if those are desired.

It is possible that Secretary Baker's annual report, soon forthcoming, will give an indication of the administration's attitude toward this subject. In his last message Baker sidetracked the problem because of the war situation. Since then, it has been supposed that the president will favor a modified plan of universal training which would not convert America into an armed camp, but which would give an adequate measure of preparedness.

March Has Concrete Scheme

Chief of Staff March will be called before the military committee when the military measure comes up. But more close to him indicated that he probably would not give any suggestions as to universal training, unless the committee specifically sought his ideas. In that case, he will be ready with concrete measures.

Thus far, there is little in the way of public sentiment to guide either administration officials or military men. The suddenness of readjustment problems has eclipsed this subject in the minds of the future. While the military men believe the nation should maintain such a system as a safeguard, much will depend upon the demands made of the league of nations for police protection.

Size of Army Question

The question of how large a standing army shall be maintained is likely to crystallize soon. Thus far, however, both Secretary Baker and Chief of Staff March have declined to give any audience as to their views on the subject of this question or the training matter.

Work Not to Be Dropped After Boys Come Home—France in Need

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—"Carry on" is the program of the American Red Cross after peace is signed, according to Mrs. August Belmont, member of the Women's National Advisory Council of the organization.

"I don't want there to be any demobilization of our organization after our boys come home," said Mrs. Belmont in an interview today. "If you who have stayed at home, could only see the awful and appalling conditions as they exist in France today, you would never consent to give up your work."

"We will need hundreds of Red Cross workers in France for at least a year after peace comes."

Mrs. Belmont said she believed one of the greatest benefits American boys have obtained from the war is its nationalization.

Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children Brings Them to Court

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A stir was caused in the Brooklyn supreme court when Justice Benedict said:

"I find the children take the stand." Leo and Simplicio Godwin started for the witness chair, the former walking naturally while the latter hunched along backward. They clambered into the chair, Leo facing the justice and Simplicio disinterestedly swinging his feet as he sat with his back to his brother. The reason for the queer actions is that the children were joined at the base of their spines when born. They were exhibited at a local amusement resort with the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children intervening, alleging that they are only 11 years old. Their father, Leonie Godwin, who accompanied them from the Philippines, maintains they are 16. Heure the court action. The judge Leo said he was anxious to take the boys back home. The case was continued until Monday.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Propaganda, having no basis in fact, is breaking out in some portions of the country to affect the families of soldiers. Stories of whole units being wiped out in the last days of the war are being circulated, but like the German lies of other days, those stories find no substantiation here.

At Toledo, Ohio and Camden, N. J., rumors of units having been wiped out lack verification here today. Chief of Staff March's office said today there was absolutely no support for the stories circulated, to the distress of many families in those cities.

The executive committee of the municipal council is planning the festivities. Miss Margaret Wilson, the president's daughter, paid her first visit to Paris last Wednesday night. # OLD HOME OR NEW IS QUESTION FOR ANZAC

Australians Who Have Taken Brides in England Find Dilemma Between Homes of Dilemma

LONDON, Nov. 23.—Many Australian soldiers now find themselves between the devil and the deep blue sea. It has been arranged that those who have been over here since the beginning of the war shall be granted 6 months leave to enable them to go home and see their folk over Christmas. A great number of them, during the past four years, have married English girls, and the question now arises as to whether they shall take their wives back home with them or leave them behind.

An Anzac may take his wife home with him if he pays the expense of the voyage, but few have been able to afford the expense. As an alternate he can take 75 days' furlough in England on full pay, with an additional allowance of 75 cents a day. Those who have long since returned to their homes to accept this privilege but others who are longing for sight of father, mother, and all the rest of the old folks at home, are sadly torn between their filial and conjugal loves.

PACKING COMPANIES ADOPT NEW BOOKKEEPING SYSTEM

Agree to Simplified System So Food Administration Can Keep Closer Supervision

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Packing companies, whose sales exceed $100,000, 000 a year, have agreed to adopt a new, simplified system of bookkeeping so that the food administration can keep closer supervision of their profits.

Such supervision continues under the federal trade commission despite the signing of the armistice and the consequent relief in the food situation.

The new regulations affect Swift, Armour Morris, Wilson and Cudahy Packing companies. Representatives of these concerns, including L. F. Swift, G. E. Swift, E. A. Cudahy, Edward Morris, Jr., and T. E. Wilson, attended the conference in Washington yesterday. The changes do not affect the percentage of profit the packers are permitted to make upon food.

Certain items of packers' products have been transferred to other government departments. Fertilizer is handled by the department of agriculture and hides by the war industries board.

RED HOT ROW IN CONGRESS IS CERTAINTY

Republicans Declare War on President's Program — Will Go the Limit to Make Their Ideals Preval

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP TO BE ONE STORM CENTER

Democrats Propose to Hurry Through Reconstruction Legislation While Still in Control—Opponents Will Balk

By L. C. MARTIN
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—One momentous session of congress-having just passed into history, the next one, likely to be even more important, holds the attention of official Washington.

Within 10 days the third and final session of the 65th congress will assemble. The paramount issue of that session is...

Small concrete capture from the executive branch of the government powers conferred under stress of war and assert to itself the authority to initiate and direct reconstruction policies or shall President Wilson keep those powers and exercise as an executive function the necessary reconstruction measures?

There are numerous offshoots from the main issue. One is the Republican demand of Democratic right to exact a tax law fixing the levies for 1920. This threatens to the up indefinitely a report by the senate finance committee on the tax bill and to postpone final enactment of the measure until next spring.

Another is the public ownership issue, which is so entangled with the general causes of dispute as to bring attention to both administration and Republican forces. Public ownership has a bi-partisan following in both houses. But public ownership of utilities taken over by the government during the war is condemned by the Republican "old guard" leaders as a Democratic plan to socialize the country. The issue on this question is expected to come on a bill giving the government permanent control of the wire systems of the country, which it is believed, the administration will back.

Upon such a bill a three-cornered fight will be made. One group composed both of Democrats and Republicans would oppose it out of hostility to public ownership of anything. Another would fight it because of a partisan political opposition to reconstruction.

Republicans will demand abrogation of all presidential war powers and handing of reconstruction problems largely by congress.

An effort may be made, it is said to hurry through the next session which ends March 5, 1919, all necessary reconstruction legislation with a view to providing an extra session March 4. That session, if called, will be controlled by Republicans. They assert that they will make an extra session imperative by delaying action on vital measures if such strong methods become necessary. Without hostilities the public leaders today say they will do anything if their power at the coming session to make their ideas and not those of President Wilson, prevail.

Democrats holding control, declare this is impossible and that the session will practically close up the reconstruction program which President Wilson wishes put through.

ITALY EARNED HER SHARE OF THE VICTORY

Mobilization Figures Surpass Those of Other Nations Involved in War, So Far as Present Records Show

By HENRY WOOD
ROME, Nov. 23.—With the end of the war, which renders no longer necessary secrecy regarding the mobilization efforts of the various allied countries, the fact has just been made public that Italy's total mobilization reached just 14 1/2 per cent of her entire population.

This figure it is believed will surpass that of any of the other allied nations. Of a total of 39,000,000 inhabitants, Italy called under arms over 5,600,000 men.

To do this it was necessary to call out not only all of her oldest classes but to send also her younger classes to the front in a greater proportion than any of the other allies. Italy's class of 1899, comprising the 10-year old boys of the nation, were at the front a year before hostilities ceased, while all of the more important elements of the 1900 class of 18-year old boy soldiers have been under arms for the last six months.

In addition to the 5,000,000 men under arms, Italy had engaged in her establishments for the manufacture of war material 900,000 men and 200,000 women and boys. In addition, France was supplied with over 70,000 Italian workmen for keeping up the civilian work of that country, besides thousands of auxiliary troops who were engaged in the construction of military defenses along the entire French front, making a total of war industrial mobilization of 1,000,000. Added to this was Italy's total mobilization, which reached a total of over 6,000,000.

Italy Will Rebuild Her Merchant Fleet

Nation Makes It Point of Pride to Reconstruct With All Own Resources

By HENRY WOOD
ROME, Nov. 23.—Italy is making it a point of national pride and honor that she will rebuild her merchant marine fleet entirely in her own yards and with her own resources.

A program to this effect is now meeting with the most remarkable nationwide support since cessation of hostilities.

To date there has been invested over 1,000,000,000 francs in installing 88 new ship-building yards, and the number before the end of the year will be increased to over 100.

Italy estimates she will need 4,000,000 tons of shipping with which to replace her boats lost during the war and bring her entire mercantile fleet up to the capacity necessary to handle the business that it is now certain will come.

GIVES HINTS ON AUTUMN WORK IN GARDEN MAKING

Suggestions Made By Club Leader to Boys and Girls Have Value for All Who Cultivate Soil

The current number of the weekly bulletin issued by the Twin Falls county farm bureau, in its department devoted to the boys' and girls' club work, contains the following suggestions in respect to fall work in the garden:

Go After Worms Now
It would not be difficult to find people in Idaho who were annoyed by cutworms in the garden last spring. One of the great blessings of life is that we are prone to forget our troubles as soon as they are past, but in garden work it is well to remember them sufficiently long to prevent their recurrence.

Now that "the frost is on the pumpkin, and the fuzzer's in the shock," or in other words, that the garden "season" has been gathered, all the dead vines and refuse material should either be gathered up and taken to the compost pile or burned on the ground. Give the garden a thorough cleaning-up. Many of the bugs that have been working overtime in the garden all summer will be hiding in the dead plant tops in the garden over winter. The cutworm moth-borer or laid her eggs during the latter part of summer around the various plants in the garden, and the young larvae are now eating the roots or liberating a short distance under the surface of the soil, waiting for the return of spring and the young garden plants.

If the arrangement makes it possible, the poultry may be turned into the garden. Disk or harrow the soil to expose insects that are hiding. Those that the alpheus find—and their number will be legion—will trouble us no more.

Provide for Fertility

After the closing up his beds for the fall is the best time to provide for the fertility of the garden for next year. Apply a good thick coat of stable manure, four-ton to the acre will not be too much, then plow the land three or four inches deep. This is the one case where the harrow should not

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Ford cars are important servants everywhere. They help the family enjoy life, bring the pleasures and advantages of the town within reach of the farmer and give practical service every day in country and town. They require a minimum of attention; any one can run the Ford and care for it, but it is better to have repairs and replacements taken care of by those who are familiar with the work and have the tools, the genuine materials, and skilled men to do the work promptly. We pledge Ford owners the reliable Ford service with real Ford parts and standard Ford prices.

DECKER & HUNT

THE SIGN OF THE BIG CLOCK

Immediately follow the plow. Leave the soil loose and rough. If this is done late in the season, just before the soil freezes: for the winter, the cutworm and grasshopper eggs, that the chickens have not consumed, will be exposed in loose soil to the freezing and thawing of winter, so that but few of them will be alive in the spring.

Save seed from your own garden if possible. A single ear of sweet corn will furnish enough seed for a small garden. Save your best ear for planting next spring.

If you buy seeds be sure and get acclimated seed. Should you need any assistance in securing seeds your Country Club leader will be glad to help you.

A MANIFEST DUTY.

It is from every standpoint, the manifest duty of every resident of Twin Falls county to be inoculated against the influenza epidemic.

The first law of nature, considerations of conservation and efficiency ingrained through the experience of the war, and a proper consideration for those upon whom the great burden of caring for patients afflicted with this preventable disease, all require that advantage be taken of this simple means of warding off danger, its consequences, economic loss and possibly death.

The serum inoculation is not an experiment. Experience in the inoculation of 1,200 persons here has shown that only three out of that number have subsequently contracted influenza, and it is the pneumonia that follows so frequently in the wake of the influenza, that kills.

Out of about 100 physicians normally in the county, only a few of the military services has not only seen, upon whom with an overcrowded corps of nurses, the great burden of attention upon the afflicted persons falls most heavily. Unless there is soon some diminution of the epidemic in this county, the strain on these physicians and nurses is going to prove too great, and this the measure of attention which is now available will be lacking.

ON WAY TO NOVEMBER.

The failure of the German revolutionaries to engage in emotional celebrations of their newly won popular rights continues its suspicious manifestation of sudden repentance against the democratic ideals of the world.

The Germans are not preparing to enter the peace conference as the representatives of a nation that has been released from the medieval 'blight' of the Hohenzollern rule. On the contrary, Germany is following a course of democratic inaction that will inevitably lead to her future isolation among free nations, unless a change of spirit overcomes the present attitude of the German people.

Germany is now a defeated nation, but if the democratic world had worked of its way through the mass, the people would not have even in defeat, this gruesome alliance in the presence of human liberties that never before have been theirs. The Germans exhibit every evidence of already beginning to plot for revenge. Their retirement from France and Belgium has been marked by final cruelties furiously perpetrated on the inhabitants. It is impossible to overlook the fact that some tie, stronger than the natural antipathy between democracy and reaction is holding together in this revolutionary Germany, ultra-radicals and ex-conservatives.

It is the desire of all German people, that is, the dominant trait in the German character. It would not exist if a true spirit of democracy had taken possession of Germany. What the future German democracy will be like, the world has yet to know it. It is certain that it will be different in many respects from the American democracy. It will probably gravitate toward a natural intimacy with the very originally just democracy of Russia.

Fritz Surely Picked Out a Good Old Irish Name

CHICAGO.—To wear a German nomenclature these days is not likely to help a business. That's why a new name Fritz Schultz changed his to Larry Mulligan. He declared that Schultz was a hoodoo to him, so he decided to become Irish. "So, I didn't consult the courts about changing my name," he said when asked about the matter. "I just changed it and let it go at that. That's all the courts would have done and it would have cost me a lot of money. The theory of them legal birds, I settled the matter out of court and now I'm Larry Mulligan. I give the thing a thought before I took the name, though. I talked the matter over with a couple of pals and they handed me a lot of bum advice. They says I might as well make a regular job out of it and take a good name while I'm about it."

"One of them says I ought to let myself Jack Dalton or Hal Chase, or something with a punch in it." Well, I figures that I'm the good old Irish name that gets a bloke furthest in this new-way game, so I took the Irish name. I could think of it, I considered Quincy and Murphy and McGowan, but I figured the name with a punch was Mulligan. And when you introduce the name of Mulligan with Larry—oh, boy!

"You see, I was all out of luck with the Fritz Schultz stuff tangle around after me. I was dazed, I wasn't even with my associates gave me the gate. (Gives they thought I was a hunk or something like that. Anyway, I decided to change my name and locally and here I am up-and-a-start a new life."

"Larry Mulligan" is a typical West side boy of sixteen. He was born in that section and so was his father.

HOGS UNDER WEIGHT TO BE THROWN OUT

Appeal to Farmers to Keep All Light Hogs Till They Reach Proper Weight

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The Food Administration announced today that all hogs weighing less than 150 pounds would be included in "throw out" from packers' drawers. Such hogs are too light for converting into meat suitable for export trade, it is asserted. Governor Stuart, chairman of the agricultural advisory committee, has agreed with the Food Administration on this program.

The question of how long this policy will be continued will be determined at a meeting of the advisory committee in Chicago, December 3. The Food Administration appeals to farmers to keep all light hogs on the farm until they reach the proper marketing weight. The importance of this, it is asserted, lies in the fact that all pork which can be produced in the next few months will be urgently needed to supply foreign trade demands.

DETROIT PHONE RECORDS MAY BE MOONEY. (Continued from Page 1) In Role of Prosecution. Denmore assumes the role of prosecutor rather than judge in his report. He interrogated it with violent charges against Fickert. At one point he declares: "I directed the strictest and most literal meaning of the word, 'anarchy,' to be placed in the office which is applied to be dedicated to law and order."

Another statement is: "Fickert is seen throughout that report as prostituting his profession as a lawyer in other cases, as he prostituted it in the bomb cases; as if there was previously any doubt as to whether a prisoner whom powerful interests desired to convict would receive a fair trial at the hands of Fickert, there is now no doubt about the matter whatsoever."

Introducing his evidence, Denmore sums up the history of Mooney cases. He declares "Fickert's testimony is a lie. The district attorney had the information following the fatal bombing of the 'Preparedness' parade on July 30, 1916, to charge it all against certain union labor leaders in an effort to discredit the strike movement."

Denmore rebuffs the attempts made to gain a new trial for Mooney after he had been sentenced to hang. He refers to the decision of the United States supreme court which refused to grant the Mooney case as a "decision" to the effect that it would not go outside the record in the case."

In other words, that judgment could not be set aside merely for the reason that it was predicated upon perjured testimony.

Charge Perjury. Atty. Warren Billings was found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment and Mooney had been found guilty upon the additional testimony of Frank C. Oxman, it was "demonstrated beyond a shadow of a doubt," according to testimony of Mrs. Egan. Mooney's perjured star witness, had attempted to turn perjury, and had thus in effect destroyed his own credibility.

The cases against the other defendants, including Mrs. Egan, Mooney, and Billings, were "collapsed. Oxman's testimony was not used again."

Denmore's dictation evidence attempts to provide the "atmosphere" surrounding Fickert's five or six affidavits. It refers continually to Fickert's attempts to get witnesses against Mooney and interposes this with legends of other cases not connected with Mooney, but in which, according to Denmore, Fickert had demonstrated a "consistent policy of conspiracy and corruption."

Oxlin Is Desperate Move. Fickert said the whole thing struck him "as a desperate attempt by the friends of Mooney to make a demonstration that will divert the public mind from the guilt of Fickert."

He said parts of the report showed the defense knew the prosecution had important new evidence involving other persons besides Mooney. He characterized the report as "such a jumble that no one could follow it if it had."

Promises Investigation. William H. McCarthy, former of the San Francisco Grand Jury, said if careful study of Denmore's report disclosed material corruption, he would have a grand jury investigation. He is going over the report before the President Judge Edmund Morgan.

W. F. Henshaw, former justice of the California Supreme Court, who was heard in the report as being the "brains" of the anti-labor element in the state and the "brains" of the anti-labor element in the state, said he would not be "intimidated, intimidated, or frightened."

Jerome Mourns Soldier WHO IS KILLED IN ACTION

Robert Worthington Loses His Life in Historic Campaign—In Service Just One Year

JEROME—On Monday, November 18, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Worthington, 87, of Jerome, received official notice from the war department that their son, Robert, was killed "in action" in France on October 3, 1918, says the North Side News.

Robert Worthington enlisted with other Jerome soldiers at Shoshone on October 1, 1917, and was assigned to Camp Lewis the next day, so his death occurred on the anniversary of his actual entry upon his military life.

Robert was a prime favorite in Jerome on account of his gentlemanly and ever-ready conduct. His smiling industry and above all, on account of his unselfish loyalty to his aged parents.

A younger brother, Paul, is also with the expeditionary force, having volunteered before the draft age, before Robert was called under the draft.

Three other brothers, William, John and Jesse, and two sisters, Mrs. Kate Archibald and Mrs. Marie Worthington, besides his aged parents, survive him.

CREDITORS ARE AGREED ON BASIS OF COMPROMISE

Affairs of Defunct Twin Falls Railway Company Given Into Hands of Trustee to Settle City Suit Dropped

Announcement of a compromise settlement reached by the bondholders and other creditors of the defunct Twin Falls Railway company was made this morning by W. C. Moore of New York, representative of the bondholders and J. C. Moore of Twin Falls, agent for the trustee appointed by the directorate of the defunct corporation.

Avoids Court Costs

Under this agreement, it was announced, court costs of between $9,000 and $10,000 incident to foreclosure proceedings if brought by the bondholders, will be avoided; all of the proceeds from the sale of the company's property will be applied to the payment of its obligations and the claims both of the bondholders and other creditors will be satisfied in part.

Continues Moving Rails

The work of moving the rails, begun recently by the trustee, is to continue without interruption. No rails, that is, investigating the activities of however will be removed this year from the parcel district in Twin Falls, on the south of the "impossibility" law could weather of repairing the pavement.

Trustee Has Placed in Twin Falls Bank & Trust Company

has been designated as custodian of funds under the compromise agreement, a check in the amount of $5,000 to be guaranteed to the city's repair of the pavement when the rails are removed and the suit for injunction brought this week by City Attorney John E. Davies in the name of the state of Idaho through violation of Frank L. Simpson, prosecuting attorney, against the company, has been dropped.

and some information about it what it will cost, there, it may be bought to best advantage through the ads.

WE'RE ALSO AFFIRM IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

but the American press association is, probably, the most powerful agency for influencing public opinion in the United States.

"One specific instance that I heard on publicly, was that of Mr. Hanover, this means to make McKinley the Republican nominee long before McKinley's nomination in 1896.

Booming A Candidate

"A certain writer was employed by Hanna to write editorials for the Democratic papers in the service of the American Press association. In these editorials, McKinley's stand on the tariff and the Republican nominee long before McKinley's nomination in 1896, and paved the way for his nomination and, in fact, practically insured it."

General Publicity Not Decried

General publicity among other lines was not decried, however, by the writer, the report shows.

"From the standpoint of publicity, it will be much better to offer a series of prizes for a solution of the saloon problem to a series of newspapers of a magnitude than it would be to simply have the convention, for a prize, it reads.

Another report on woman suffrage warned the brewers to be carefully guarded in their opposition.

"Nothing, it seems to me," the report reads, "can be more short-sighted than the policy of the brewers in some states in actively opposing and therefore arousing the hostility of what is undoubtedly the most fanatical of all groups in American politics today."

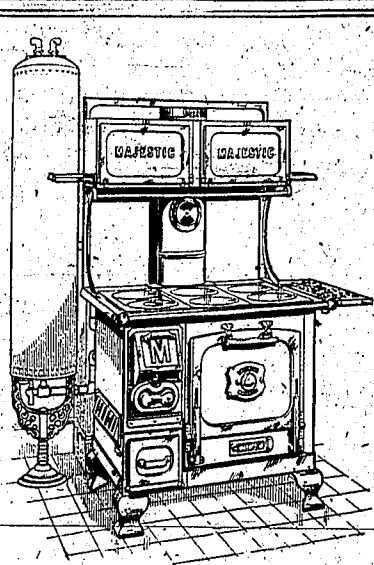

The senate judiciary subcommittee of the brewers, today expected to report, the Iowa hearings until congress meets early in December for the short session.

THE BARGAIN

—And It's Worth Your While!

Through special arrangements with the manufacturers, and during this Bargain Week only, a beautiful, useful and substantial set of Cooking Ware will be given with every Majestic Range sold. This ware is good ware (not cheap ware)—it's worth a lot to you. Come and see for yourself.

And Remember—

The price of a Majestic this week will not be increased, and there will hardly be a great reduction for years to come, if ever, but there may be an increase soon.

TWO NEW AND IMPORTANT FEATURES

The Wonderful Unseen Riveting—

Yes, it's rivet-tight, just like the old Majestic, but the rivets elude inside of milled parts, leaving nickel smooth on glass, and there are no big, bulky bolt-heads on the inside. And, remember, rivets hold tight; bolts with only one or two threads holding are bound to work loose and cause no end of trouble. The Majestic is smooth inside and outside—it's a striking beauty—more than skin deep.

Oh, Joy! Top Needs No Blacking—

A smooth, highly polished cooking top, burnished blue, not only adds to the beauty of the Majestic, but absolutely eliminates the work, dirt and worry of trying to keep the range looking nice—just an occasional thin coat of paraffine retains its beautiful velvet blue color.

If you haven't a MAJESTIC, avail yourself of this opportunity to get acquainted with this wonderful range—know the inside of ranges.

THE COMICAL AND THE SERIOUS SIDE

IF YOU have a crack in your lip, don't read this. A man and his wife were in the store one day recently, and the conversation turning to special sales, they told of having made a purchase here in town at a special price of $2.08, and on their arrival home found that the article was marked $2.50 in plain figures. This is comical.

The holding of special sales is apt to draw an unusual number together at one time with the result that infectious diseases such as Spanish influenza are apt to be communicated to others. This complaint has not been without instances of this very thing.

No matter what the reason, whether real or fancied, the holding of special sales at this time is unadvisable, constituting as it does a menace to public health; and when such sales are held and goods are not sold on the basis of generous reductions below actual value, it amounts to a double affront to the public.

Special prices should mean lower prices than the merchandise is usually sold for, but not a price that has been lowered from one that is higher than the same goods can be purchased for elsewhere in the regular way.

TO ILLUSTRATE

My price on R. M. O. Crocker Oatton has been more than 10 CENTS PER BALL, and it can still be purchased here at that price, either for a single ball or by the box.

We are selling a large size, good quality, colored border TURKISH TOWEL for 75 CENTS that compares favorably with the towel offered "special" at $1.00.

Large size, extra good quality WASH CLOTHES at 15 CENTS each.

THIS is a store where your dollar is good every day in the week and every week in the year. We have 365 days when it is worth more than it is worth any other day. None of this stock is marked to bring excessive profits—which is the thing that permits of special sales.

Lawrence Robinson

P. S.—Keeping up the reputation of this store for showing the newest and best in wares, a shipment has just been received that will be a delight to those interested.

BUHL CONSIDERS SELF LUCKY AS TO EPIDEMIC

City Finds Better Than Surrounding Towns—New Cases in Rural Districts

(Special to The News)

BUHL.—The cases of influenza in Buhl these last few weeks are reported to be increasing, although the country people seem to be afflicted with the disease more than the town. Up to this time, Buhl has fared better than the surrounding towns.

Mrs. Barnside and son, Donald Barnside of Shoshone, are guests at the home of their sister and aunt, Mrs. J. W. Fays, at their home in third street.

J. H. Allen, now Buhl school superintendent, arrived in Buhl this week to take the place of G. G. Manning, who left Thursday to take up T. M. O. A. work.

Miss Lillian Murray of Filer visited for a few days with Mary Bloomer at her home near Buhl this week.

Mrs. Daley Scott visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lou Heller of Castleford on Wednesday and Thursday. W. D. Walters of Buhl visited at the Ben Ray home in Castleford on Thursday.

Segal Hatcher of Burdette, Ia. is in Buhl this week, doing over some sheep business of the Hatcher Brothers. Mrs. S. A. Gillette and baby returned Friday from an extended visit with parents and relatives in Wyo., Colorado.

T. S. Flynn and family of Castleford, expect to leave Friday for their old home in Tennessee, where they will stay this coming year.

Billy Sunday Reads Riot Act to Wilhelm

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 23.—Belgian tears to drink the rest of his life and ceaseless dining into his face of his outraged honor.

That would be the punishment Billy Sunday would mete out to Kaiser Wilhelm, he said Sunday, favoring putting the Kaiser on the island of St. Helena. He would decree the same for the others of the Kaiser's clique.

EXTRA HOURS AROUSED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Extra hours of labor in the mechanical shops of railway lines were abolished in orders issued late today by Director General McAdoo. On November 25, a nine-hour day will prevail where a greater number is now being worked. On and after December 9, the basic eight-hour day will follow.

JAPAN ASPIRES TO BIG PLACE AS RESULT OF PEACE

fact that Japanese fully in harmony with the United States and the entire regarding the general world movement to lend assistance to weaker nations, and to build up the undeveloped sections along new and constructive lines. The Japanese are pointing to the recent studies toward fuller democracy in their own government and notably in the election of the popular leader Hirohito to the presidency, as evidence of the fitness of the Japanese to a natural and unhindered expansion to their own lands, as sought under clause seven above.

President Gives Assurance

Freedom of Schleswig-Holstein, wrested from Denmark by Germany in 1864, will be one of the specific demands of President Wilson at the peace table.

Answering the call of native Danes, both in Schleswig and in the United States, the president has assured those people that the wrong done them by Germany in 1864 shall be righted. The president's position was outlined in a letter made public today, replying to a petition recently presented by American citizens from Schleswig-Holstein, and others of Danish descent. The petition said:

"Speak, and speak soon, in order that those of our people who are less fortunate than we may be granted the simple elementary rights of self-determination and of self-government for the preservation of which we and our children are now working at home and fighting abroad."

President Directed Reply

The president directed his reply to Rev. K. O. Bollhof, of Barnev, Wisconsin, representative of Schleswig and leader in the fight of the Danish-Americans.

"I can but assure you that your appeal to America's sympathy and passion for justice will not go unheeded, for it finds itself widely upon the rights of men to rule themselves and to choose the manner in which that self-rule shall be exercised," wrote the president.

"Not America alone, but all the peoples now awakened to a new sense of the values of justice must join in the relief of a grievance whose continuance would traverse the principles for which more than a hero of nations gave his life."

The president's position on Schleswig-Holstein was determined upon by him, with this country's entrance into the war. About a year ago, the United States was authorized to state self-officially that the president was committed to four fundamental positions in the west:

Returns of Alsace-Lorraine.

Destruction of the Kaiser's power. The freedom of Schleswig-Holstein. Complete righting of the German wrongs done Belgium and northern France.

May Give Up Trip

There was considerable talk today about the possibility of the president giving up his trip to Europe as a result of Secretary McAdoo's resignation from the treasury and railroad administration and the general uncertainty of readjustment work within the government. The president's friends, however, said he knew of McAdoo's intention long ago and that there would be no alterations in his plans. Announcement of the American peace delegation is expected immediately.
