Disciplinary Measures Applied to Overseas Fighters to Be Investigated

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 30.—Treatment and discipline accorded wounded overseas Yanks at the reconstruction hospital at Fort Des Moines will be investigated according to Congressman C. O. Dorell, who left last night for Washington to file charges against Major H. H. Frothingham, commandant at the hospital.

Dorell said that if the investigation substantiated charges made to him by returned Yanks, he will ask the removal of Frothingham from his post. Among charges Dorell will lay before the surgeon general of the army are:

1—Alleged discrimination and alleged slighting remarks about overseas men by high officers at Fort Des Moines.

2—Withholding of reasonable hours of absence privilege for men at the hospital.

3—Unusually severe discipline, such as ordering a man to bed for two weeks for minor infractions of rules.

SEVEN MONTHS IN HUN PRISON

Eight Yankee Doughboys Reach London After Terrible Experience

LONDON, Nov. 30.—After spending eight months in German prison camps, eight doughboys have arrived in London, clad in British uniforms, which they obtained in Rotterdam. Even of the ragged and prisoners are members of the 10th Infantry. They are corporals Thomas Barry and Jack Batgate and Private Frank Butler, all of New Haven, Private William O'Sullivan of Forestville, Conn., Private William Kelly of South Aspin, Conn., Private James Pritchard of Trenton, N. J., and Corporal Leroy Conquest of Philadelphia.

One corporal, Leo Whitehead of Jersey, Ky., is a member of the 50th machine gun company.

All except Whitehead were among 180 prisoners taken at Belgrade—the largest lot of Americans captured by the Germans.

HAUGHTY SPIRIT OF ENGLAND IS SPEECH SUBJECT

German Foreign Minister Solf Comments Feelingly on Public Attitude in the British Isles

LONDON, Nov. 30 (British wireless wire)—The German wireless of November 27 gives a condensed report of the session of the conference of the federal states at Berlin, outlining, of course, the attitude on Solf and Hergert. But it includes an account of Solf's speech, and this, on similar lines with the German spokesmen's customary efforts. He says among other things:

In England, a haughty spirit of victory prevails. Even Lord Lansdowne and Mr. Henderson have been accused, and Lord Cecil's resignation may presumably be attributed to his attitude toward the league of nations.

Whether it be haughty or not, Solf is certainly correct when he says the spirit of victory prevails in England. Every one, including Lord Lansdowne and Mr. Henderson, pointedly rejoices at the triumph of victory of right over might, which the Allied powers have secured for the world against the great German conspiracy.

NOT PARTY CHOICE BUT PRINCIPLE AT STAKE

NEW CASTLE, Eng., Nov. 28 (De la Haye).—The country is not choosing a party, but a principle, Premier Lloyd George declared in a campaign speech here today.

"We should not revert to the old party system until we are forced to, but to ask you to entrust the work to myself and my associates if another group is better able to carry out the reconstruction policy. But, in God's name, let us have a difference between Asquith's coalition and mine. He includes Lansdowne; mine does not!"

NOTED AUTHORITY DECLARES KAISER CAN BE EXTRADITED

Quotes Existing Treaties to Show That Former German Ruler Is at Mercy of America—Lusitania Sinking Alone Sufficient to Justify Application of International Principle Involved in Case

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 30.—Wilhelm Hohenzollern has signed a document, definitely renouncing the throne of German Prussia, as well as releasing all officials from their oath of allegiance, according to a Berlin dispatch today.

The former kaiser is reported to be ill with influenza and was unable to greet his wife when she arrived at the American station.

TO VINDICATE INSTINCTS OF HUMANITY TRIAL OF ARCH CRIMINAL MUST BE HELD

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—William Hohenzollern, the ex-kaiser, could be extradited to the United States and placed on trial for his crimes, in the opinion of Charles Thaddeus Terry, member of the executive committee of the American Red association.

The kaiser has been indicted in two western states, and under the treaty between United States and Holland, his extradition could be effected, Terry declared to the United Press today.

"To vindicate the highest instincts of the human conscience, to satisfy the requirements of universal law, to re-establish the rules and regulations of international law, the trial of William Hohenzollern must be held," said Terry.

"Whether it be held pursuant to the provisions of the extradition treaty between Holland and the United States, or similar extradition treaties between Holland and France and England, does not so much matter. The point is that the trial must be had."

On Reckoned Crime "In dealing with the question of extraditing William Hohenzollern from Holland, it is necessary to avoid technical definitions of specific crimes. We must place the emphasis upon these crimes which are recognized to be such by all mankind. Accordingly we must avoid the term 'piracy' and the term 'homicide' and deal only with 'willful murder' on the one hand, and that which, in our own treaty with Holland, is described as an extradition offense committed on the high seas, without designating the same by a specific or technical expression."

LABOR LEADERS PREPARING FOR GREAT STRIKE

New York Men Declare That Preparations for Moprey Demonstration Are Going Steadily Forward

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—New York labor leaders declared today that agitation for a nation-wide strike to be held December 9 as a demonstration against the failure of the California government to pardon Thomas J. Mooney, would begin at once.

W. B. Patterson, representative of the international workers' defense league, issued a statement calling upon the workers to rally to Mooney's defense and demand his liberation. He outlined plans for a nation wide campaign of agitation.

Three hundred thousand organized workers of the central federated union of Greater New York have pledged their support to Mooney and have forwarded a resolution to President Wilson asking that he be granted a new trial.

They also threaten to join in the nation-wide strike movement. Arrangements are being made for a Mooney demonstration here December 7. If proper police protection is assured, labor leaders say the parade will be held.

AMERICANS ARE ON THE MOSELLE

German Villages Almost Deserted—People in State of Panic

BY WEBB MILLER, LUXEMBURG, Nov. 29 (night).—American troops are patrolling along the Moselle and Sauer rivers, awaiting orders.

The German villages on the opposite bank appear to be almost deserted. It is reported that the civilians become panic stricken and attempted to flee but that the government ordered them back.

Officers and soldiers of the third army have been ordered to exercise the greatest possible self-control, and to use no force unless in an extremely, in the forthcoming occupation of Rhine Prussia.

America Wants Nothing Out of War—European Nations However Take Altogether Different View

By FRED FERGUSON, PARIS, Nov. 30.—The plan of international pooling of the German navy among the Allies is probably would not be received favorably by the United States which is not deviating from its course that it wants nothing out of the war.

At the same time the psychological effect on the world of such a division of the German fleet would be that it would be kept in being with the funds for which America fought. If the latter accepted a portion of the surrendered fleet.

Means Too Much Increase "The obvious object of the suggested division of the fleet, it is said, is to increase the combined bulk of the European navies to such an extent as veritably to dwarf the fleet of America, which is entitled to maintain equal power in the league of nations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Peru will seek protection of the United States under the Monroe doctrine in event of immediate hostilities against her on the part of Chile. It was learned in Latin-American diplomatic circles here.

West coast reports were that apprehension is increasing at Lima on account of Chile's military and naval and military superiority as well as the anti-Peruvian sentiment in the Chilean Congress.

Authoritative information was that Chile in executing her efforts toward closing the present breach in relations between the two countries, to avoid the possibility of the Tacna-Arica matter being brought up at the peace conference.

British Public Need Look For No Tenderness Towards War Lords

LONDON, Nov. 30.—There will be no "attitude of tenderness" toward Germany in the terms to be demanded by the British, Walter Long, secretary of state for the colonies, declared in a campaign speech at Bristol. He advocated solution of the German colonies' question by their inclusion in the British empire.

It could see no other solution than their inclusion in the British empire," Long said. "Where natives have been consulted they are overwhelmingly in favor of this."

"As a member of the committee appointed by the premier to consider the terms to be demanded of Germany," he can assure you that you have no need of any anxiety that any tenderness will be shown toward Germany."

LABOR LEADERS NOT SATISFIED WITH STEPHENS

Opinions Differ But All Agree That Particular Action Taken Does Not Cover the Entire Ground

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Nov. 30.—Labor leaders generally in the coast states express dissatisfaction with Governor Stephens' action commencing Thomas J. Mooney's death sentence to life imprisonment. As a rule these leaders demanded a new trial for Mooney.

There were exceptions, however, notably at Sacramento, where President Letter of the Sacramento building trades council declared, "We are not in sympathy with the Mooney crowd; Mooney never was a laboring man. He was always a 'fled'."

Otto Hartwig, president of the Oregon state federation of labor, said in Portland, "The governor's action was unexpected. It was not what we wanted, either."

Hartwig thought the strikes called to protest the Mooney hanging might be held off if government officials made the request.

Both Brown, president of the Los Angeles central labor council, declared a new trial is the next logical step for Mooney. San Francisco labor leaders were noncommittal.

PREPARING WAY FOR EXECUTIVE EUROPEAN TRIP

President Wilson Busy on Annual Message and in Clearing Up Details on Eve of Sailing

BY ROBERT J. BENDER—WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—President Wilson today held final conferences with his advisers before completing his annual message to congress. Besides the regular cabinet meeting this afternoon at which the president is expected to place his reconstruction message, the President planned to confer with Secretary McAdoo as to who shall be secretary of the treasury and director of railroads upon the latter's return to monogamy.

The President's forthcoming message promises to be one of the most important of his career. In it he is expected to voice his domestic policies. Whether he will embody in it his statement to the country on his peace mission and the precise position he expects to take with regard to his principles at the peace table was still in doubt.

If congress meets promptly so that he can address it Monday, the President will sail Tuesday.

Face Unsettled Opinion

As the hour for his departure draws nearer it becomes more evident that he will face a wide and interesting divergence of views at the peace table on his principle of "freedom of the seas". This subject with the League of Nations idea, promises to be the center of the international diplomatic struggle.

Thus far the President has indicated only broadly what he should include under "freedom of the seas". Apparently believing the question to be one in which there must be some "give and take" he has declined to commit himself specifically.

An official announcement of proposal of the American peace delegates was expected today. If any go beyond mentioned by the "United Press"—the President, Secretary of State Lansing, Colonel House and Dr. Anderson's plan, it was not indicated early today. Of the four mentioned the Pres-

Denmore Declines To Offer Comment

Has Nothing to Say as to Action of Governor Stephens in the Mooney Case

SEATTLE, Nov. 30.—John R. Denmore, director general of employment, who investigated the Mooney case for Secretary of Labor Wilson, refused today to comment upon Governor Stephens' action commencing Thomas J. Mooney's death sentence to life imprisonment.

Denmore's report to Wilson detailed Mooney was entitled to a new trial. Denmore said Secretary Wilson had advised him not to give a copy of his report to the San Francisco grand jury which was called to investigate charges made in the report and not to appear personally before that body.

Denmore said he had telegraphed Governor Stephens at Sacramento informing the governor that he had sent him a full copy of the report.

"I wish also to assure you of my hearty desire to cooperate with you in the event that I can be of any assistance as an official of the federal government in helping you to arrive at a decision in this most momentous matter," said Denmore's telegram.

Old Mail Rates Again in Force

Senate Finance Committee Makes New Changes in Existing War Laws

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The senate finance committee today adopted the Foran act child labor amendment to the revenue bill imposing a 10 per cent tax on the net profits of products of child labor.

This amendment, if retained in the bill, will take the place of child labor law recently declared unconstitutional by the supreme court.

The committee also eliminated the zone restriction on second class matter. The committee restored the old rate on first class mail and postcards. This goes away with the three cent rate on letters and two cent rate on postcards.

Bulgaria Declared Free of Bolshevism

Order Restored But the Need of Food is Growing Rapidly More Acute

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Bolshevism has been stamped out in Bulgaria, diplomatic advisers at the Bulgarian legation here stated today.

Order has been restored after a brief period of street demonstrations and Crown Prince Boris is established on the throne. Malloff heads the government with a coalition ministry. Theodoroff, of the national party, is foreign minister.

America has been asked to send 100,000 tons of wheat to relieve famine which is daily growing worse.

SAYS EPIDEMIC OUTBREAK FOLLOWED LIFTING OF BAN

Frayne McAtee, Here on Leave of Absence, Tells of Experience in Lexington, Missouri

Lifting of the closing order in Lexington, Missouri, was followed by a widespread outbreak of the influenza epidemic in which only 40 out of 600 students at the Wentworth military academy escaped, according to Frayne McAtee, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. P. McAtee, a student at the Wentworth academy, who returned here Wednesday on a thirty days' leave of absence. Prior to the lifting of the closing order, he says, the academy and the town had been under strict quarantine for seven weeks. Students were not permitted to leave the campus, and during that period there was no case of influenza among them reported.

SEA FREEDOM WILL INVOLVE CLOSE STUDY

Every Nation With Navy of Consequence Has Two Sets of Consequences to Work Out

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Franklin, in discussing freedom of the seas is difficult to secure because every nation has a powerful fleet and a set of interests to serve when it is a belligerent and another set when it is a neutral.

The widest meaning of freedom of the seas is that all blockades shall be abolished; that neutrals shall not be prevented in any way from trading with belligerent powers that have no ports. If this principle had been enforced during the present war, America and the allies could not have prevented Germany from getting whatever food supplies she desired from the South America and other neutral countries by direct trade. A less restrictive meaning of freedom of the seas is that while blockade of a belligerent nation is permissible, an interference shall be allowed with the ocean commerce of any country harboring the belligerent nation. This, this has been operative during the war. America and the allies could not have prevented Germany's agents and importing for Germany's use whatever foodstuffs Germany could buy in South America and elsewhere.

From Two Sides America has had the unique experience of having been a neutral and a belligerent in the present war and so has been able to consider the two viewpoints. As a neutral, the American government was opposed to any interference with the delivery of American traders to sell their products to Holland and Scandinavia. But, immediately the United States became a belligerent American people would not have permitted its government to recognize the freedom of the seas to the effect that the neutral world could have fed Germany through Dutch and Scandinavian ports.

Had this been done the war would doubtless have been prolonged to the destruction of America's manhood and strength.

Will Come Automatically Once war is abolished freedom of the seas will come automatically. Otherwise, freedom of the seas has this triple character:

It is always a splendid principle for nations with weak navies, like Germany, that cannot hope to blockade their enemies' coast; it is a handicap for nations with great navies like America and Great Britain when they are engaged in war with an enemy that possesses a coast line; it is financially advantageous to exporting nations like America and Great Britain when they are neutral while a great war is being fought.

The ultimate question is whether financial advantage during a period of neutrality outweighs the possibility of defeat when war comes home.

Lonnetivity Seems To Be a Trait of This Rabid Brute

Dog Baitists Shot and Blows in Mad Attempt to Attack Hunter

The head of a dog, believed to have been suffering from rabies, which was killed Thursday on the Franklin Street farm in Snake River county north of Thurston. Deputy County Assessor S. Chad Stewart, has been sent to the state bacteriologist at Boise for diagnosis. The animal which bore a striking resemblance to a coyote, was a stray and came to the Snakes ranch Wednesday afternoon. It displayed an unfriendly attitude toward children and animals on the place, but is not believed to have bitten them. It was killed by Mr. Stewart after it had run on a wire and determined flight to assail. Two young men had accompanied Mr. Stewart on a hunting trip that led from Cedar Draw to the Snakes ranch. Mr. Stewart first struck the dog with the butt of his gun and the charge of both barrels of his shotgun into its head at a distance of about six feet, struck it again with his gun breaking off at the stock, and finally finished it with a piece of pipe.

AERIAL SERVICE FOR COAST CITY Mail Service by Airplane May Be Extended to Western States

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Aerial mail service will shortly be extended to San Francisco and many of the large cities of the coast, it was known today.

Deaver, St. Louis, Indianapolis and Philadelphia are to be included in the air loop. Eventually practically every large city in the country will receive the benefits of the latest method of mail transportation.

A telegram from Postmaster General Burleson to Senator Shafroth, Colorado, gives the plans for extending the service to western cities. It reads: "Referring to conferences with you relative to extension aerial mail service to Colorado points, I have directed the extension immediately after the war of aerial mail service to Denver in connection with the transcontinental route from New York to San Francisco. I will take up the matter of further extension of your state upon your return to Washington."

It was also made known that several companies are to be utilized to mail service over the larger water ways of the country.

Situation Unchanged, Apology Offered Not Accepted Says Official Here

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The dispute between Chile and Peru has not been settled and an amicable agreement between the two countries is in sight, according to Dr. Carlos Castro Ruiz, the Chilean consul general in New York. He said, however, that both countries were quiet, according to his latest advices. Dr. Ruiz denied that he had given any statement that the controversy had been settled. He said that on November 26 he announced the receipt of a telegram from the Chilean foreign office stating that the Peruvian government had apologized, but the Chilean government had not accepted the apology.

Shoots Pheasants Once Too Often

Elmer Hough Pays Fine of $25 When Caught With Birds Protected by Law

Elmer Hough of Buhl, shot Oshes pheasants once too often. He was arrested on day this week by Deputy State Game warden Joe Fitzsimmons, and taken before Justice of the Peace L. C. Washburn, who assessed a fine of $25 and cost upon conviction of violation of the game laws.

The shooting of pheasants is quite common in the west and of the county where they are so numerous farmers say, as to cause considerable damage to crops. This fact, however, Warden Fitzsimmons says, cannot excuse shooting of the birds while the law protects them, and he purposes to prosecute violators of this law wherever they may be taken.

Good Will Given a New Impetus A statement of Dodge Brothers war activities is due the owners of their cars. Dodge Brothers refrained, during the progress of the war, from any reference to the performance of their car in Government service. It seems proper now, however, to disclose the facts, because they are creditable facts—intensifying that good will which owners of Dodge Brothers cars have always manifested. Dodge Brothers car was the only one of its class approved and adopted by the War Department. In a separate Ordnance Works, built especially for the purpose, costing millions of dollars and employing thousands of their skilled motor workmen, Dodge Brothers undertook an important duty designated by the War Department. Without the aid of their great motor organization, Dodge Brothers could not have fulfilled the heavy obligation which they were asked to assume by the Ordnance Department. The other service required of Dodge Brothers motor works, by the Government, was to continue to furnish their cars as they were needed. They were furnished, not in hundreds, but in thousands—both for the training camps here, and for service in Belgium, France and Italy. The record of those thousands of camp and army cars is one in which any owner may feel the utmost pride and satisfaction. Their performance justified the compliment implied in their selection by the Government. The great works in which nearly three hundred thousand of their cars have been produced in the past four years furnished a vast store-house of human energy and equipment for the ordnance work. Naturally, it will take time to adjust the motor works to its full accustomed activity. Gradually Dodge Brothers will resume the grateful task of continuing to deserve the good will of America—and indeed of the whole world. Dodge Brothers consider good will their most valuable possession. They will never knowingly do anything to lessen it. LIND AUTOMOBILE CO. DEALERS TWIN FALLS, IDAHO

FARMERS AND ORGANIZATION

While it remains not only the possibility, but the fact that within a distance of fifty miles, buyers of farm products are held there at a much higher figure than at the other end, there can be no possible question but that organization among the farmers is a vital necessity.

There may be divergence of opinion in respect to the form and manner of this organization, but, except among those who would profit unscrupulously at the farmer's expense, there can be only unanimity of agreement in respect to the purpose of the organization—that of protecting the farmer's interests and placing his business on a plane beyond the reach of tricksters and plunderers.

Legislation alone will not accomplish this result. Perhaps if the farmers were sufficiently imbued with the will to organize for the protection and advancement of their own interests, those interests might be served as well or better outside the paternalistic nurseries built by legislators for infant industries.

AUTO MANUFACTURERS WITHHOLD ALL COMMENT

Cheaper Fuel Than Gas Reported Several Times But Has Never Materialized

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 30.—Automobile manufacturers here are withholding expression on the reported discovery by army engineers of a "liberating fuel" said to be much cheaper than gasoline, until further details are supplied.

They say many discoveries of a similar nature have been announced in the past, but none has materialized. A cheaper fuel, however, would have radical effect on the industry, they said.

HE SPEAKS FOR AMERICA

It is a safe prediction that the name of John J. Garity will go down in history. Not because he was once commander of a regiment of United States infantry, nor because later he was a post office auditor, nor even because he was, and has been since November 25, chief of Chicago police, all of which is true; but because, in confronting a situation that faced him on the day he assumed the last named office, he gave utterance to a statement that deserves and will be treasured along with the key-note declarations of American heroes.

There won't be any red flag parades in Chicago while I am chief of police. The only flag anybody needs to fly in this city is the Stars and Stripes.

Spends Night of Terror Clutching Wall of Icy Cliff

Philip King, Caught in Perilous Situation, Extricates Self and Stops Search

Fearing to move hand or foot, Philip King, 15 year old son of Bert King, conductor on the Hogerton branch, stood for 13 hours Wednesday night on a narrow ledge of ice of rock in the Snake river canyon, between Shoshone falls and Pillar fall, the canyon wall rising sheer above him and the waters of Snake river rushing past at his feet.

Philip had gone with a boy companion named Woods Wednesday morning on a duck hunting trip to Pillar falls. It was late when they had filled their bags. They decided to take a short cut to the canyon. About half way up the wall, Woods gave the gun and came into King's keeping and went ahead to make the intervening distance. Having made it, he called back to King not to attempt it but to proceed along the water's edge up to Shoshone falls and take the trail out from there.

Woods' inquiry Thursday morning at the King home for Philip was the signal for the beginning of the search that ended when the boy himself returned.

Meets Death on Fifth Return to the Front Abe Forster of Twin Falls Learns of Sacrifice of Nephew

Having been wounded and sent to England to recover on four different occasions and returning each time to action on the western front, James Forster, native of Stratton, Illinois, and a member of the British army, was killed in action within four days of the termination of the war, according to word received Friday by his uncle, Abe Forster, a linotype operator for the Twin Falls News. Mr. Forster learned on the same day that his oldest son, Slaggy Forster of Boise, had arrived overseas with the American expeditionary force.

The death of his nephew leaves Mr. Forster with nine close relatives still in the service. Six nephews are serving with the British army, and two nephews and his son are in the American army.

The account of the death of James Forster is given by a Stratton newspaper in the following: Mr. and Mrs. George Forster of this city, received a telegram from their son's brother in England, stating that James, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Forster, former residents of this city, was killed in action in France on October 28. James was born in Stratton 28 years ago and left here at the age of two years with his parents for their former home in Durham, England.

When England entered this great war, James was one of the first to answer the call for volunteers. Since enlisting he had been wounded and sent to England on four different occasions. Finally within four days of the termination of the strife his young life was taken. He had a brother-in-law, the British army, now stationed in Italy. He also had a young cousin of the service in England, both of whom have been through some terrible experiences.

Today's Markets GRAIN REVIEW CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—With the exception of November corn, which was closed out at 138, much higher than the opening bids, the tendency on the Chicago Board of Trade today was lower. Favorable weather for shipping factored in the lower prices, affected also the dull trading. Provisions were steady to slightly higher.

November corn, opening late at 130 1/2, was closed out at 138, up 4 1/2. December corn opened at 127 1/2, down 1/2, and received another 1/2. January corn opened at the opening 132 1/4, lost 1/8 at the close. February corn, up 1/4 on the opening at 129 3/4, dropped 1/2 cents before the close. November oats opened at 77 1/4, up 1/4, and gained 1/2 during the short session. December oats was down 1/8 at the opening and dropped 1/2 further to 72 1/2 at the close. January oats opened down 1/8 at 72 5/8 and lost 7/8 thereafter. February oats, down 1/8 at the opening, 72 5/8, subsequently lost 3/4.

In a telegram to Boise last Saturday, Surgeon General Blue of the United States Health Bureau, in charge of influenza conditions for the government, says: "Boise's latest record of new cases does not justify the continuing closing of schools, churches, theatres, stores or other places of public assemblage." The record of Twin Falls is even better than the capital. Twin Falls is one of the healthiest communities in the world. "Let's all boost" that fact. HEALTH AUTHORITIES OPINIONS OF PUBLIC REOPENINGS The following telegrams were received by Herman J. Brown from the city health officers of the various cities involved: Herman J. Brown: Portland, November 22. No material increase in number of cases since town opened. DR. GEORGE PATRISH: Herman J. Brown: Chicago, November 22. Opening places of public amusement had no noticeable effect epidemic continues to decline. JOHN DILL ROBERTSON, Commissioner of Health. Herman J. Brown: Omaha, November 23. No detrimental effect noticed on reopening. DR. E. T. MANNING. Leading critics agree that influenza is not so dangerous if those who have it stay at home and take care of themselves. With the sick quarantined at home it's a cinch a well person can't give it to another person. THEATRES OPEN TODAY Matinee 1:30, evening show 6:30. HEALTH BOARD CONFIRMS RULE FOR RE-OPENING

Doctors Disagree on advisability of Lifting Ban But Are in Entire Accord on Necessity for Immunization

The advice of a majority of the physicians in attendance upon victims of influenza patients in this county, notified the county board of health on Friday afternoon in arriving at the decision that the lifting of the closing order in certain respects in this county should become effective as previously scheduled, conditionally.

Schools Stay Closed

Pursuant to this decision theatres are open today for the first time they were closed October 10, and services will be held tomorrow in the several churches of the county. The public schools of the county also are permitted to resume their sessions on Monday. The board of directors for the Twin Falls schools, however, has determined not to reopen the Twin Falls city schools until Monday, December 7, and has not stated definitely that they will be re-opened then.

All For Serum Treatment

There was a divergence of opinion among the physicians consulted by the board of health in respect to the advisability of lifting the closing order, but they were unanimous in their agreement that the universal immunization by the serum treatment of the several means of stamping out the epidemic. They are backed up in this opinion according to the statement of Dr. C. C. McGinnis, county health officer, by reports secured from the army and navy and other organizations which are using the serum that is being used here. Dr. McGinnis stated that while the epidemic seemed to have reached its crest in the city of Twin Falls, reports received by him showed it on the increase in other communities of the county, particularly in the rural districts.

No Let Up on Quarantine

The lifting of regulations of the closing order does not mean that vigilance is to relax in respect to the enforcement of strict quarantine regulations against individuals and buildings in which they are housed, members of the board of health stated. Rather, they declared, the present need is for more rigid enforcement of the quarantine regulations and special officers equipped with the health department to enforce these regulations to the extent of preventing violators.

Hospital Record

During the discussion antecedent to the decision reached at the meeting of the board of health Friday, Charles C. E. Galties, reported that out of 51 patients received at the emergency hospital to the county general hospital, exposed to care for influenza patients, there had been only seven fatalities, and that in case of the county general hospital, he said, the patient had been residing in a critical condition, suffering from pneumonia in an acute form.

City Co-operates

The board of health met Friday with Arthur L. Sevin, chairman of the city board of health, and acting mayor, and the active co-operation and support of the city administration to the county board in measures for stamping out the epidemic has been pledged. The present and taking part in the discussions were Hal G. Blue, superintendent of city schools, B. W. Maguire, manager of the Idaho theatre, and A. H. Anderson, manager of the city theatre, and Rev. James Grant Smith, pastor of the Methodist church.

VETERAN TELLS STORY OF HIS 18 DAYS IN ACTION

Private S. W. Cawlin of Rainbow Division, Bearing Honorable Discharge for Wounds Guest of Sister Here

Private S. W. Cawlin, a member of M. Company, First United States Infantry in Twin Falls, a guest at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. C. Hahn, at Jackson, after having served in France with the Rainbow division for a year and seven months. He was in action for 18 days. After the first 10 days he was sent back to rest camp for a fortnight and then was sent back to the front line of the line where he fought for eight days before being sent to Paris to recuperate from a wound in the leg and from the results of a gas attack.

Meets Twin Falls Girl Nurse With another soldier who had been wounded and who died on the return voyage, Cawlin was sent back to the United States under the care of Miss Della Ferguson, formerly of Twin Falls, who had been nursing in France for several months. He received his honorable discharge from the service at Camp Lewis. Cawlin declares that he did not know that he had been wounded until some 24 hours after the gas attack. The gas used by the Germans on this occasion was a combination of chlorine and phosgene. It is colorless. The man did not realize their danger, and some of them failed or neglected to put on their gas masks. Cawlin was one of the number. As first the effect was imperceptible, but the next day when he was in a bad cough fit all stations, he was overcome by its effects and did not regain consciousness, he says, until some weeks later in Paris. He says that he has not yet completely recovered although he has regained his memory and feels well. He was taken from the spot of the firing, which he describes, as a sound resembling the moaning of trees in a high wind.

Lost Battalions One of the interesting stories he relates is the experience of three battalions of Doughboys who were ordered advance at double time a distance of 60 paces. In executing the command, he says, the battalions were cut off from their support and were surrounded by the Germans. For three days and nights he says, they were without food and sleep. Finally under the command of a first sergeant they fought their way back under the fire of the allied artillery. Representatives of the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. were waiting for them with medical attention and food.

Praises Welfare Work Cawlin declares that ten which cannot be said in praise of the work of the Y. M. C. A., the Red Cross and the Salvation Army. Cawlin spent four years ago in the regular army and has seen service in Hawaii and in Mexico in addition to his experience in France.

Both inventions of Americans.
There is an English proverb which commends a cure "by the dog that bit you." And it is an interesting fact, though not a coincidence, that national inventiveness characteristics have borne in mind that one of the most deadly man-killing machines, which the world owes to the genius of one American, the late Sir Hiram Maxim, should have found its antidote—its "tank"—in a device directly inspired by the invention of a competitor, Mr. Benjamin Holt.
Tacking Out Ink Stains.
It may not be generally known that it's quite easy to take out ink stains with common soda. Dampen the stain with cold water and then cover it with soda. Leave it for about an hour, the stain completely disappears. It does not leave a mark either.

ANNUAL MESSAGE IS LOOKED FOR EARLY IN WEEK

President Wilson Due in Paris Dec. 14—Will Spend Interim in Attention to Last Minute Details

BY ROBERT J. BENDER. WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—President Wilson will begin his direct official conference with leaders of the allied nations about December 14.

Having announced the personal of the American delegation—Secretary Lansing, Colonel House, Henry White and General Bliss—the president's plans for leading the commission to France are now complete. Owing to the fact that it is not imperative that he be in Paris before December 14, however, there will be a rest about his leaving-taking next Tuesday—or exceptional speed in his trans-oceanic journey.

At the White House it was said that President Wilson probably will deliver his annual message to congress at one o'clock Monday afternoon.

Official announcement of America's peace commission carried only one surprise—the name of General Bliss. It had been expected by those well informed that if the delegation contained five members, Secretary Houston would be added to the group.

Secretary of War Baker will go to France in a month or six weeks to relieve President Wilson at the head of the delegation when Wilson leaves for home.

Women in Party

Among the women in the party will be Mrs. McMillan, daughter of Colonel House and the wives of several prominent American war-workers in France in addition to the state ladies board.

With the peace conference now drawing near, international lobbies for peace and war are getting very busy. In addition to the expected call of Mrs. Jane Addams for an international gathering of women in Holland to take up peace problems, the Zionists and anti-Zionists are sending delegations to London and Paris. Andrew Furuseth, marine labor leader, will meet the women of the peace conference, water-fall of the interests of American seamen and America's merchant marine and from across the water come reports that all of the little additionalities which have been under German domination are organizing labor for participation at the peace table.

Disappointed in Selection. Labor and congress were disappointed in President Wilson's selection of delegates.

Both hoped for representation at the peace table.

The Senate today gave signs of yielding its feelings regarding the delegates they consider a slight, they have been ignored both in their appointments of delegates and failing to take members into his confidence on his peace plan. The official announcement designated several to "assist" the president. This led to rival of appointments as a preliminary session to dispose of more pressing questions and a subsequent session in determining matters of less pressing importance.

Joseph Grow, formerly charge of the American embassy in London, will be secretary of the American peace delegation.

WOODEN SHIPS GREAT SUCCESS

Fletcher of Senate Committee Issues Strong Statement

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Chairman Fletcher of the senate commerce committee today issued a formal statement denying the reports of the failure of wooden ship program.

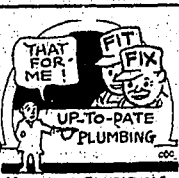

Fletcher reviewed the records of wooden ships and declared that since last June only three had been out port of commission out of a total of 70 put into service since November 20.

"Some of the reports about abandoned ramora have been put in circulation about wooden ships," said Fletcher. "A gentleman of high standing told me that he had been informed that 18 wooden ships were ashore on the Pacific coast and 14 were beached on the West Indies. This story is going the rounds and there is not a word of truth in it."

"What I complain of is the effort to settle or destroy an important industry in this country when there is no reason or cause in such a course."

Bossy With Lung Trouble Breaks In to Epidemic Class

Veterinarians Diagnose Fatal Malady Among Cattle and Administer Vaccine

The Twin Falls tract has added still another epidemic to its already full list—and this one is a lung trouble among the cattle.

Last week A. Hammons lost three cows from this disease. In the evening they were well and the next morning one cow and a calf demanded attention from the veterinarian, who being unable to ascertain the trouble definitely called Dr. W. Sullivan, inspector in charge of the bureau of animal industry hog cholera investigations in Idaho.

When they found the cows two were dead and upon an examination of the bodies the lungs were found to be much in the same condition that influenza leaves. The third cow showed the same results after a speedy death. The doctors immediately sent to the state headquarters for serum and new the cows are being vaccinated.

Mr. Irwin has his herd of fifty treated, since he lives not far from the animals that died. Several farmers have given it to the cattle and the authorities state that it is a wise precaution since in some parts of the country this epidemic has caused limitless damage, especially in this true in Iowa. Two years ago this tract had the same disease but it was successfully stamped out.

LESS GRAIN AND MORE CATTLE OR SHARP SHORTAGE

Secretary of International Livestock Show Makes Drastic Prediction on National Food Situation

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—More cattle, less grain—or a livestock famine, this sums up the views of B. H. Heise, secretary of the international livestock show here.

"I see a real danger to the nation in present conditions," he declared in an interview here today. The farmers throughout the country have been working to raise grain. They have neglected their cattle. Now they may pay the penalty.

"Europe is asking for meat, and will continue to do so for a considerable time. South America cattle raisers have lost stock through foot and mouth disease and drought. Argentina has also suffered from drought. A big demand for best products is approaching—and how will it be satisfied?"

Must Have More Cattle
"The only remedy is for farmers at once to turn their energies to raising more cattle. There is ample grain to feed them and transportation facilities will probably be adequate for all immediate needs."

"The same conditions apply, in a lesser degree, to the sheep industry. "Hogs, fortunately, present a better prospect. "There appears to be a sufficient supply for several years and if proper care is exercised there should be no shortages."

OUTLINES AFTER WAR PROGRAM OF THE RED CROSS

Mrs. R. H. Hunter, Division Field Representative, Confers Here With Leaders of Home Service Section

Conferring with Mrs. E. L. Macvicar, secretary of the Twin Falls county chapter home service section, Mrs. Hunter outlined the after-war work of the Red Cross, and with Hal G. Pine and Miss Britton, who, as leaders of the Junior Red Cross, Mrs. R. H. Hunter of Seattle, field representative of the Red Cross western division, is in Twin Falls today.

Has Confidence in Twin Falls
"We feel that the Red Cross has accomplished a big work in the past," Mrs. Hunter says, "but we consider that our biggest work is coming in the solution of the problems of and for the returning soldiers." The Twin Falls chapter home service section, which is considered at divided into two sections, a model organization, and which has a place with but few others on the honor roll at national headquarters in Washington, we are confident will carry a most efficient agency in meeting and solving these problems.

Mrs. Hunter states that soldiers are being discharged from each cantonment at the rate of 800 daily. It is the purpose of the home service section, she declares, to see to it that these returning soldiers are met upon their return, and where it is required, that employment is found for them.

As Information Bureau
Where men have been wounded and should receive special training to fit them for competency in civilian affairs, the home service section is to urge upon them the advisability of taking advantage of the government's plan for vocational training in such cases. Discharged soldiers who have contracted tuberculosis in the service will be urged to apply for compensation in every case, the decision being left to the war risk insurance board, and discharged soldiers will be urged to keep up their war risk insurance, and convert it into other forms of insurance as provided by the government plan.

The giving of advice and information in these matters will be met, if necessary, otherwise in the assistance of discharged soldiers to the home service section of the Red Cross, and the soldiers themselves have been instructed to apply for this information and assistance to the home service section.

JUAREZ AMERICANS CROSSING THE LINE

EL PASO, TEX., Nov. 30.—Feeling an attack on Juarez by Francisco Villa's band of outlaws, a number of women and children here crossed to the American side here. There was no sign of panic in the Mexican town yesterday, however, the garrison of 400 men and some artillery being generally regarded as adequate to cope with a bandit attack.

Only the recent gold snafu has forestalled an advance by Villa against Juarez, according to some authorities here. He is reported only sixty miles south of the border. Villa is reported to have formed a junction with Epifanio's band, holding Villa Ahumada.

GERMANS JOIN IN JOYFUL RIOTS

The food situation, which was extremely serious, here is a menu of a typical family, such as I often dined with: For breakfast—A substitute for bread, consisting of barley, etc., and loaf made of potato flour and raw dust. For luncheon—A soup made from substitutes for fats and potatoes or onions, alternating with cabbage. On Sundays, meat was allowed for dinner—bread and salt.

All Restaurants Closed
All restaurants were closed. The people had plenty of iron and paper money, but no gold, silver or copper. Anyway, they did not have anything to spend it for.

The factories were making only such necessities as war materials, household furniture, etc. Everything was expensive. I paid 15 marks (43.90) for a knife and fork. Laborers, who were mostly women, earned from 7 to 9 marks (19.28 to 23.10), a day.

Prisoners did all the farm work. Movies still move.

The country was fairly orderly but presented a very dilapidated appearance.
