

PARIS IS ON VERGE OF PANIC

Civic Congestion Due to Constant Arrival of Peace Conference Visitors Threatens to Swamp City

By YREK S. FERGUSON
PARIS, Dec. 9.—The peace delegates of all the powers are expected to reach Paris by the end of this week. The date for opening the inter-Allied preliminary conferences, however, will not be set until after President Wilson arrives.

Paris is becoming more congested every hour. All hotels are filled to capacity and cots have been put up in bathrooms, corridors and storage rooms. Prices of everything are skyrocketing. The aspect of the entire city has changed, unlike a fortnight from now to peace. Every window is showing more civilian and less military apparel. New theatres are opening throughout the city. The surviving luxuries are at a premium, and the subway is constantly crowded.

During this great influx of people, the greatest in the city's history, Paris is almost on the verge of a panic.

The authorities are trying to untangle the worst cable congestion on record. The mechanical system of getting news of the peace conferences to America is stupendous. The housing of hundreds of correspondents and other Americans is also perplexing. It is likely that some buildings will be rented and cots put in to serve as sleeping quarters for them.

ARMED GUARD ORDERED OUT IN BERLIN

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 9.—Ten thousand members of the Republican guard were ordered under arms in Berlin last night to quell riots there, according to dispatches received from that city today.

The best Bolshevik organizers from Russia are arriving in Berlin to lead the Spartacus group. Among them is said to be "Levin." It is not known whether this is a pseudonym of President Lenin's name.

Ebert Government Rushing in Troops To Put Down Riots

Conditions in Berlin Give Rise to Gravest Anxiety—Street Fighting Continues

PARIS, Dec. 9.—Chancellor Ebert's government is bringing new troops into Berlin in an effort to crush the Spartacus movement, which has now spread throughout the northern suburbs, according to a Zurich dispatch, according to a London dispatch.

Fighting continues, the dispatch says, especially in the populous district.

One confusing dispatch received here from Berlin declares that "Ebert's government is bringing new troops into Berlin in an effort to crush the Spartacus movement, which has now spread throughout the northern suburbs, according to a Zurich dispatch, according to a London dispatch."

Another message says that Allied intervention in Prussia may save the government.

STREET FIGHTING IN BERLIN COSTS HEAVY LOSSES

Government Troops Clash With Adherents of Spartacus Group

BERLIN, Dec. 9 (Delayed).—Twenty-eight persons were killed and forty-eight wounded in street fighting here yesterday between government troops and followers of the Spartacus group. The latter were completely defeated.

The Spartacists, under Karl Liebknecht, planned a coup d'etat in which the police station and chancellery's palace were to be seized and the government ejected. Appeals were made to the workmen to call a general strike. Many of them responded and marched into the streets of the royal palace.

Spartacists placed machine guns before the retreating building. Liebknecht addressed the crowd from the roof of a motor bus, while the workmen shouted, "Long live the international republic!" The mob was finally incited to attack the public building, which was defeated after a sharp encounter in which machine guns were used on both sides.

Under the decree Mrs. Pinchot retains the custody of the 14 year old daughter, Raymond, and Pinchot is entrusted with the guardianship of the son, Clifford Pinchot, named after his uncle, Clifford Pinchot, who headed the bureau of forestry during the Roosevelt administration.

I. W. W. SET NEW STYLE IN TRIALS

Men Charged With Obstructing Military Program of America Will Have No Lawyers and Make No Argument

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Dec. 9.—The trial of sixty-one Industrial Workers of the World, charged with conspiracy to obstruct military machinery and war program of the United States, upon the entrance of this country into the world war, was called today by Federal Judge Rudolph C. Spokane.

Fire of the defendants will not be present, having died of Spanish influenza, contracted while in jail awaiting trial.

One of the defendants is a woman, Theodora Palotta, 38, with several others, is at liberty under $2,000 bonds. The charges include advocating murder.

Robert Duncan, attorney for the United States Department of Justice for Northern California, will prosecute the cases. The indictments cover about 100 typewritten pages and contain four counts, the last of which is violation of the espionage act.

"Make No Argument"

Not one word will be spoken by any of the forty-nine leaders among the defendants during the trial, said Mortimer Downing, their elected spokesman today.

"They have refused to have lawyers and you'll argue their own case. I shall read a statement prepared by me."

DISCOVER BODY WITH A BULLET THROUGH BRAIN

C. E. Holderman Meets Tragic End—Coroner's Jury Determines Case One of Suicide

With a bullet hole through his forehead, the body of Curtis E. Holderman, aged 37, holder of large land interests in Twin Falls county, and in Oklahoma, was found at 11:30 o'clock Sunday morning in a bedroom at his home on his ranch seven miles south of Kimberly. A 38 caliber revolver lay at his side and the bullet hole in his forehead was two inches wide. In the revolver there were two cartridges, one of which was exploded. There were powder marks on his forehead indicating that the weapon had been fired at close range.

Family Hears Shot

In an adjoining room members of his family held a night watch. Walter Holderman, junior, who was there to arrange for burying a farm implement, heard the shot fired. Holderman was dead when they entered the room.

According to the testimony of Howland at the inquest convened at 10:30 o'clock this morning by Coroner C. J. Crosby, Mrs. Holderman said when she

Holding Companies Exempt From Tax

Nineteen Hundred Thirteen Corporation Assessment Need Not Be Paid

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The supreme court today decided that holding companies need not pay the corporation tax passed by congress in 1913.

The decision was rendered in the suit of the Gulf Oil corporation against G. A. Lewellyn, collector.

The court held that the company's profit was in the nature of a bookkeeping valuation and that as a mere paper profit could not be taxed.

MEETINGS BROKEN UP

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 9.—Spartacists broke up non-socialist meetings in Munich, and compelled the police to promise removal of all national flags, according to a dispatch from that city today.

Former Crown Prince Won't See Visitors Without His Weapon

Imports German Cook and Prepares to Enjoy Life as an Interned Soldier

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 9.—The former crown prince has declined not to receive visitors, unless he is permitted by the Dutch authorities to carry a revolver. It was learned here today that Prince Erik Wilhelm, although he has abdicated, still regards himself as an interned soldier, is indicated by his refusal that he be allowed to wear mufti while visiting a sister in the city. It is understood the government has granted him permission to come here and will provide him with an escort but specified that he must wear a uniform.

A special German cook has arrived at Wieringen. The former crown prince is quoted as having said that he would die if he were forced to eat food "in a Dutch."

Railway Artillery Strongly Advised

Chief of Coast Defenses Tells of Needs in Way of Adequate Defenses for Coasts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Use of mounted railway artillery as a supplement to existing coast defenses is suggested in the annual report of General Cox, chief of coast artillery. This matter has been discussed by the War Department.

"Where headlands connected with the main line are suitable for emplacement of this class of armament, the use of railway mounts may be justified. It might enable such guns to be withdrawn for service with the mobile force or to reinforce points under actual attack."

Further, General Cox declared "guns of 24 inches, ranging to 40 miles may be realized, while longer ranges for special types are possible if directed."

He called attention to the need for protection against airplanes and suggested that the limit probably has not been reached in the size of caliber of guns which can be mounted on mobile mounts.

TENDENCY NOW IN DIRECTION OF RADICALISM

Little Chance of Bolshevism Gaining Foothold But Moderate Socialism of Ebert-Hasse Group Seriously Threatened

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The spread of disorder in Germany is beginning to menace the stability of the present coalition government. Bolshevism is not threatened, but a more radical policy on the part of the government is certain eventually to result.

The Ebert-Hasse group which now theoretically controls the affairs of government has in practice very little power, and has been able to accomplish practically nothing in the way of economic reform. The workers in German industries are still negotiating with their employers, who make promises one day and break them the next.

This situation cannot last. Yet, it is not impossible, for the Ebert-Hasse group to promulgate at present effective regulations on behalf of the workers, because the cabinet power exists in Germany for carrying out orders issued in Berlin.

The present status cannot be improved until the forthcoming constituent assembly.

To Provide Farmers With Better Deal

Kansas Law Regulating Middlemen Is Upheld By U. S. Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The supreme court today upheld the Kansas law licensing and regulating grain and produce commission men.

The law was passed primarily to control grain, concerning which there had been a complaint.

The law was fought on the ground that it imposed burdensome regulations on grain men, concerning whom there has been no complaint.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN PRUSSIA, Dec. 9.—The main force of the American army of occupation has reached the line of Ruppertsh, Roos, Capernich, Mayen, Grefmersburg, Simmern and Kellenback. In view of the revolutionary conditions, the Americans plan to deal with whatever party is in power. In only three towns have they found the workmen's and soldiers' council as the defacto government. They dealt with them the same as they have with the burgomasters. At Treves, the burgomaster was working in harmony with the workmen's and soldiers' council.

BERGER AND HIS ASSOCIATES IN PRISONER'S DOCK

Trial of Congressman-elect and Four Socialist Leaders Opens—Work of Securing Jury Well Under Way

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Congressman-elect Victor L. Berger and four other leaders of the Socialist party went to trial today on war obstruction charges.

Preliminary questioning of jurors before Judge K. M. Landis indicated the defense would be based on the constitutional right of free speech. Questions by the government indicated material from socialist publications and other documents would be used to prove charges of violation of the espionage act. Both sides expected the completion of a jury by Thursday noon.

With the exception of Victor L. Berger, congressman-elect from Wisconsin, the five defendants were youthful looking.

Berger, spokesman and of administrative position, was in constant conversation with the attorneys for the defense, headed by Seymour Steinhart, Adolph Gormer, huge and well tanned; Louis Egan, sleek, pompous and well dressed; William F. Kruse, of Socialist appearance; and Reverend Lewis St. John Tucker, with a clerical collar and a constant smile, were the remaining defendants.

Idea on Free Speech

"Under the guise of free speech you permit violation of the law," the government questioned by the prosecution. It generally brought the answer "no" from prospective jurors.

Quotations from the constitution regarding the right of free speech and the question "Don't you think people have a right to protest and agitate against a law even against constitution?" gave an inkling of the defense.

The first 12 men in the jury box ranged from 40 to 70. One was a city man.

FAMOUS GERMAN WRITER DECLARES KAISER SHOULD HAVE RUN CABARET

Facade of Chief War Lord an Impressive Spectacle But No One Ever Saw the Interior Says Maximilian Harden, Well Known Publisher

LONDON, Dec. 9.—"The Kaiser missed his vocation; he should have managed a cabaret," declared Maximilian Harden, in an interview with the Berlin correspondent of the London Express.

"The Kaiser had no personal part in the war. He was discredited and became a tool of the Junker. They thought him a coward and feared he would not sign the declaration of war, so they sent him to Norway. Forgers saw the Kaiser's facade, but never saw his interior."

"The armistice terms are hard. If they form the basis of the peace terms, Germany will be ruined. By losing possession of Alsace-Lorraine and Elesia, the Kaiser became an industrial country. Millions of Germans are sincere. The outside should treat them as men, not as militarists."

YANKS TRAINING FOR SECOND WAR ON FOREIGN SOIL

Big Service Tournament to Be Held in England Looked Forward to by Athletes of Both Army and Navy

CHICAGO, England, Dec. 9.—United States athletes to start their second foreign war. "It will begin this week, when the best representatives of the United States army and the United States navy, discharging bayonet and depth charges for the padded mitt, will try to slug their way to the boxing supremacy of the world."

Practically every Allied nation will be represented at the big service tournament, but the British are regarded as the only ones likely to give the Yankees any argument worthy of the name.

The army and navy athletes are training in separate camps here. They are working hard, eating their regular "chow" and "obeying" all military regulations. Ed Shave is handling the army athletes; Dan and Jack McAniff are training the doughboys.

Navy Well Represented

The navy has the larger representation, which includes: Joe Cox, of St. Louis and Jack Lein, (or Holben) of Pittsburgh, middleweight; Jack O'Keefe, welterweight; Nicky, of Chicago; Mike Walker, Joe Kanowski, of Chicago; Cal Davy, of Cleveland, and Billy Whalen, of St. Paul, lightweight; Young Cheney, of Baltimore, and Joe Wisler, of New York, featherweight; Pat Moore, of Memphis, bantamweight.

SCHEIDEMANN HINTS AT POSSIBLE TRIAL AT HOME FOR KAISER BILL

Says Government of Germany Now Discussing the Question of Legal Action Against Persons Responsible for Starting the War

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Phillip Scheidemann, member of the present German government, declared in an interview with the Berlin correspondent of a London newspaper that Germany will have six delegates at the peace conference, and that they will be backed by the national assembly.

"The government is discussing the question of the trial of persons responsible for the war."

Scheidemann said he was inclined toward the belief that Germany ultimately will form a republic.

WILSON WILL STAND PAT ON ORIGINAL VIEW

President to Urge His Own Interpretation of Freedom of Seas Upon Coming Peace Conference

By CARL D. GROAT.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—President Wilson plans to stand pat on his definition of freedom of the seas as given in his famous "peace without victory" message to the senate January 22, 1917.

In that speech he declared that "so far as practical, every great power now struggling toward a full development of its resources and of its power should be assured a direct outlet to the great highways of the sea." If this could not be accomplished by cessation of territory, he recommended that it be done by neutralization of direct rights of way.

He declared that "great preponderant armaments," if continued, would rob the world of a sense of safety and equality. These thoughts will constitute the backbone of the president's policy, it was learned definitely today.

He stressed then as he does now, this issue. The question of armament, whether on land or sea, is the most immediately and intrinsically practical question connected with the future of nations or mankind.

Necessary to World Peace
Freedom of the seas is absolutely necessary to world peace, he then held. There must be "free, constant, unobstructed intercourse."
Freedom of the seas, he regarded as closely connected "with a limitation of naval armament and the co-operation of the navies of the world" in keeping the seas free and safe for the free and unobstructed intercourse of all nations.

Questions Must be Faced
"Difficult and delicate as these questions are, they must be faced with the utmost candor and decided in a spirit of real accommodation, if a peace is to come to staying."

From this sketch of policy it was pointed out today that there may be a difference of opinion between President Wilson and the British peace representatives provided England maintains its recently announced intention of keeping her fleet supreme on the seas.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Samuel Untermyer, who was mentioned in the Blaski testimony in Washington yesterday, announced today that he is preparing a formal statement which he will issue this evening. In meantime Untermyer stated informally that he would be drawn into the conflict and consider a vituperative procedure to bring evidence a letter written by him regarding the possible purchase of a New York newspaper "fifteen months before the United States entered the war." He stated that this was probably true in view of the fact that the negotiations never progressed further than the preliminary stage, indicated that the letter, and that it never reached the point of discussing an option price.

BRITISH DAY IS TRIBUTE TO THE ENGLISH FORCES

Risks Assumed in Prosecution of War Rendered Decisive Results Possible for Democracy of the World

BY J. W. T. MASON
NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—British Day, celebrated throughout America Saturday, was a fitting tribute to the world-wide work the British empire has done in the war.

In all wars, the supreme commanders must take the biggest chance for the side that wins the most overwhelming victory. It succeeds at all. The two powers that took the largest chances in the present war are Germany and Great Britain. Germany lost and because the chances she risked were so great, her downfall is the most overwhelming.

Had Great Britain been less willing on her part to risk the world success of the Allies would not have been in any sense as complete as it is. Great Britain's chance was in dividing her forces and going after the enemy in all the seven seas. It is only because the chance was taken that German colonies have been conquered on the field of battle; that Turkey has been unconditionally defeated and that Mesopotamia and Palestine have been redeemed for civilization. It is due primarily to the chance Great Britain took that Germany's military Europe scheme of conquest was destroyed, with its resultant reaction against the Pan-German.

Blaked Spreading Forces

All these results Great Britain accomplished because she took the risk of not concentrating her entire military strength along the Western front in France and Belgium. That risk was a dangerous one, as all risks in warfare necessarily must be. It was undertaken before there was any reasonable assurance that the United States would be drawn into the conflict and it might have resulted in a permanent deadlock in the west. Had Great Britain, not trusted her instinct in the vital matter, she was certainly could not have won the war with the present complete triumph of democracy's world-wide triumph.

The celebration of British day, therefore, is an acknowledgment by America, not only of the manner in which the British fleet has safeguarded the seas for democracy, and of the prowess of Marshal Haig's armies, but it is also a tribute to the risk the British empire took in fighting Germany on a virtually imperial scale. Out of this risk has been born the greatest triumph of arms in civilization's history.

WILL LEAD IN RELIEF WORK

Captain McCracken Promises to Perfect Idaho Organization

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Ex-Congressman R. M. McCracken, formerly of Boise, now a captain in the United States army, is stationed at Camp Humphreys, Va., recently held a conference with the officials of the American Committee for Relief in the Near East (formerly the American Committee for Armenia) and Syrian Relief) at the national headquarters in New York.

Captain McCracken is planning to return to his native state immediately upon his discharge from the army, which he expects to receive before January 1, 1919. Immediately upon his return home he will perfect a state wide organization in order that Idaho may do her full share in the coming $30,000,000 national drive for funds which will be made January 15th-15th for the relief of the starving millions in the near east.

When asked if he expected any difficulty in raising Idaho's quota Captain McCracken said, "Idaho has responded more than 100 per cent to every appeal so far. When I return home I will do so with supreme confidence that she will continue to carry on. America undertook the biggest job in the history of the world, we have cleaned up everything except few corners. Idaho has done her full share, so far and will continue to do it until even, the last corner is thoroughly cleaned."

DERNBERG WAS WEAK MAN FOR GERMAN CAUSE

Bernstorff's Wires to Berlin Indicate Lack of Confidence in Several of His Assistants in America

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The state department Saturday made public additional messages between Bernstorff and Berlin which showed Bernstorff has declared the Lusitania case was harmful to the German cause in this country, and that he regarded the Der Dornberg propaganda as unworkable. A message of Nov. 1, 1918, showed he was studying peace proposals, intending to advise embassies, associations, individuals and the German university league.

A message of August, 1918, showed Bernstorff was using the New York agent of the Wolff press bureau to pass disguised messages for him to the foreign office.

He complained at this time that the Wolff agency was too one-sided and played too much upon anti-British propaganda.

He also declared it was difficult to get the proper propaganda, which fact with the Lusitania case, has stalled the efforts of the German propaganda of Herr Dernberg. The loss of Bernstorff's cable as depicted reads: "As you will have learned from my previous reports, we have since the Lusitania case endeavored to pound up all the so-called German propaganda and especially to get rid of all dubious individuals. Can now say with a good conscience that we are no longer compromised. Some of the old affairs still hang on, but are more or less settled. Although they will cause some further expenditure."

No Place for Secrets

"At the beginning of the war many things were undertaken by the Dornberg propaganda which would have been undertaken if we long, because in America can for long be kept secret in America."
"Since the Lusitania case, we have strictly confined ourselves to such propaganda as cannot hurt us if it becomes known. The sole exception is perhaps the peace propaganda, which has cost the largest amount but which also has been the most successful."
"Lately I have been using the embargo associations and some entirely reliable intermediaries. I have also made use of the German University League, founded since the war. This has done its best to take the plan of the German word undecipherable which has been of no use during the war on account of its management. The League has pub-

COBLENTZ NOW IN HANDS OF YANK TROOPS

Small Detachment Sent Ahead of Main Body at Request of German Military and Civil Authorities

By WEBB MILLER
WITH THE AMERICANS IN PRUSSIA, Dec. 8.—American troops are in Coblenz.

A small detachment at the request of the German authorities, went ahead of the main body of their third army for immediate occupation of the important Rhine city. It was traveling in a special train and was to arrive in Coblenz at noon.

Premature occupation of the center of the American bridgehead, resulted from a written request by the burgomaster and military commander, who advised that the American army had temporarily left its quarters of the German troops. No disorder was reported in that city, but the German officials declared that owing to unsettled conditions they wished to take no chances and wanted the Americans to arrive on the basis of German soldiers, who began evacuating yesterday afternoon.

Four Days Ahead of Schedule
The detachment dispatched to Coblenz was the second battalion of the thirty-sixth infantry, fourth division, comprising about a thousand men.

Arriving at the Americans at the Rhine is thus four days ahead of schedule. The remainder of the third army will come up as planned. The second battalion will declare martial law in Coblenz and guard public utilities.

Boise Project Manager Called to Washington for Meeting

This phase of the reclamation work is part of the ambitious program laid out by the secretary of the interior for immediate reclamation work. Mr. Cole does not expect to return until the latter part of January.

Algerian Flour Mills

Algeria, Dec. 9.—A report of 90 flour mills, scattered throughout the three departments of Algiers, Constantine and Oran. These mills have a total of 60,000 horsepower, employ about 100,000 and 150,000 workmen, and handle daily about 1,500,000 metric tons of hard and soft wheat, or approximately 200,000 metric tons per annum. There are also a large number of small, primitive establishments in Algeria, which tend to disappear in competition with modern equipment.

The American embassy association, which was nation-wide in its scope, received its inspiration at the hands of German propaganda. Papers introduced by Blaski tended to show that every effort was made to influence newspapers and prominent men in the United States, including many in public life. An elaborate postal card campaign, which covered the entire country, was one of the methods used to gain support.

CYCLOPS JOINING VAST ARRAY OF MISSING SHIPS

Name of Unfortunate Vessel Officially Stricken From War Department Records of American Boats

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Grouped with the great flotilla of missing ships that have put to sea and never reached port is the U. S. S. Cyclops, whose name has been stricken from the United States registry.

"There has been a more baffling mystery in the annals of the navy," says Secretary Daniels, in his annual report, referring to the disappearance of the vessel.

Probably not until the sea gives up its secrets will the fate of the Cyclops be known. For months of the search party—war writer opposite her name. During that time, all the resources of the United States and the Allied governments were drawn upon to find the vessel or learn her fate. The search ended in failure.

Unlike most of the vessels that the sea has swallowed and left no trace, the Cyclops was a modern steamship of 10,000 tons, equipped with wireless and every device known to save goods and ship and those on board. She was well offiiced and had a crew of 313. There were also 67 passengers. Not one has been heard from since the Cyclops steamed out of Bahadros, early in March.

A Norwegian engineer claims that he has discovered a process by which leather can be made two or three times as hard as it is normally, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. This is of very special importance in the case of black leather, which is used for pieces for footwear and other leather goods. While the leather can be made as hard as wood, it does not lose its elasticity, it is said, and also acquires greater resistance to both heat and moisture.

Cow Known as Great Mother

Long before the birth of the gods war was being prepared for the apotheosis of a cow. The life giving cow-amulet; one of primitive man's earliest deities of life, eventually became personified as the Great Mother. In course of time the cow's maternal function in supplying milk for human children brought about her identification with the Great Mother. The moon, also, as the controller of womanhood, was another of her forms.

THE ORPHEUM THEATRE Showing Today and Tomorrow--Monday and Tuesday--Matinee and Night The things which Ambassador Gerard saw and experienced in the country of the Hohenzollerns and which are reproduced on the screen in the photoplay "My Four Years in Germany" with great vividness would be past belief were they not attested to by a man who would not attach his name to fiction. The numerous characters, most of them not prominent in the news and history of the day, are carefully presented from Ambassador Gerard and the Kaiser down to the grandfatherly-appearing Von Tirpitz. It is a perfect reproduction of scenes of great import that were staged in Berlin and in the war zone after and even before the Germans had declared war by Ambassador Gerard and which have been described by him in his famous book: "My Four Years in Germany." Portraying, with a vividness impossible of attainment through any volume of written words, the inhumanity of the Prussian war program and the losing of a wave of barbaric terrorism, through which it was hoped to bring the civilized world to its knees. A picture record that will live for all time to come. A great production. Showing time approximately 2 hours. A 10 part production endorsed by the United States Government. You can't afford to miss it. Facts that seem strange and unbelievable. A mighty big picture. A picture record that so far has no equal. If you see this production you will truly say you were glad you came. Historical facts woven together that will stand as a record for future generations, deserving the highest praise. DOLAN HELD TO ANSWER CHARGE OF AN ASSAULT

Probate Judge Duvall Decides There is Cause for Holding Alleged Assailant of Fred W. Berger in Aftercare

Frank Dolan will answer in district court to a charge of having committed an assault October 21 with a deadly weapon upon Fred W. Berger of Berger, Nonpartisan candidate on the Democratic ticket for state representative, and owner of the farm property near Berger, held by Dolan as a tenant when the alleged assault was committed.

This is the decision of Probate Judge O. F. Duvall following the preliminary examination in the case Friday afternoon. Dolan is admitted to bond in the sum of $5,000.

Berger testified at the preliminary that Dolan had provoked his anger, that he had thrust at Dolan who was behind the steering wheel in a car, with a pitch fork which he was using in burning weeds. He testified further that he had changed his mind about attacking Dolan and that he retained his hold on the fork with the intention only of recovering it when Dolan "got him through the abdomen with a revolver." No testimony in behalf of Dolan was introduced at the preliminary examination, his attorney arguing that he was justified in using force to repel force and that he had no reason for believing that Berger had changed his mind.

High Cattle Prices

If the farmer cannot get enough for his live stock, he raises less, and the packer gets less raw material.

If the consumer has to pay too much for his meat, he eats less of it, and the packer finds his market decreased.

The packer wants the producer to get enough to make live-stock raising profitable, and he wants the price of meat so low that everyone will eat it.

But all he can do, and what he would have to do in any case, to stay in business, is to keep down the cost of processing the farmer's stock into meat so that the consumer pays for the meat and by-products only a little more than the farmer gets for his animals.

For example, last year Swift & Company paid for its cattle about 90 per cent of what it got for meat and by-products (such as hides, tallow, oils, etc.).

If cattle from the farm were turned miraculously into meat in the hands of retailers (without going through the expense of dressing, shipping and marketing), the farmer would get only about 1 1/2 cents per pound more for his cattle, or consumers would pay only about 2 1/2 cents per pound less for their beef!

Out of this cent or two per pound, Swift & Company pays for the operation of extensive plants, pays freight on meats, operates refrigerator cars, maintains branch houses, and in most cases, delivers to retailers all over the United States. The profit amounts to only a fraction of a cent, and a part of this profit goes to build more plants, to give better service, and to increase the company's usefulness to the country.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

RED CROSS IN TRIM TO MEET FUTURE NEED

Reports of Department Heads at Annual Meeting Set Out Splendid Record of Accomplishment

The Twin Falls County Red Cross chapter is not content to rest on its laurels won during the 18 months since it entered upon active work of relief in the world war. It will turn now its whole thought, energy and capability to assist in the work of reconstruction, involving demands not less heavy than have been incident to the war.

This was evident in the annual meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the Moose hall, when six directors of the organization for the ensuing year were elected and reports were submitted by the heads of the several departments and by branches and auxiliaries under the jurisdiction of the chapter.

Directors Elected

The new directors elected are the following: L. B. Beckenridge, Herbert B. Grant, Rev. L. B. Franck, Mrs. Kennedy Packard, Mrs. M. G. Mitchell, Mrs. T. H. Irwin. Those directors, with the heads of the several departments and the heads of the branches and auxiliaries, constitute the executive board which will shortly name the name of the new officers of the chapter.

Record of 6,000 Workers

The reports of all of the department heads and of the several branches and auxiliaries of the County Red Cross organization, amounting to 6,000 workers, were presented at the annual meeting. The report of the executive board which was presented at the meeting during the year past, had given indication of what is to be expected from it in the future.

Stay to Finish

The report of Mrs. W. F. Edwards, chapter chairman of the military relief department, was of most interest.

Wanted's Work Heavy

Mrs. Edwards, in her report stated that the advice from division headquarters was that the winter's work would be heavy and she stated that the chapter now has on hand and in transit materials for making 175 boys' suits, 425 convalescent's towels, 875 handkerchiefs, 600 washers, 1,200 pairs of socks, 100 bedside tables and as many placards as can be made from 1,000 yards of fabric.

Since October, 1917, there has been been under the direction of the military relief department, according to Mrs. Edwards' report, a great quantity of articles including the following: 1,505 sweaters, 4,238 pairs of socks, 254 layettes, 1,648 refugees garments, 78,550 surgical dressings, 23,034 hospital gowns.

The report of Treasurer J. G. Bradley from July 1 to date, showing receipts of $19,988.10 and disbursements of $19,961.08, gave the amount expended for materials for military relief as $10,153.62.

Helps in Homes

Special interest attached to the report of Mrs. E. L. Macvear, executive secretary for the chapter home service section, a phase of the Red Cross work which has been developed in the Twin Falls chapter since August, 1917, and upon which probably the greater burden of the work incident to reconstruction will devolve. This report showed that the home service section had been of assistance during the month of September to 10 families, in October to 10 families, and in November to over 100 families; 72 of which were within the jurisdiction of the Twin Falls branch. There had been expended on this account a total of $1,080.76, according to the report.

Children Be Their Bit

Approximately 5,500 members of the junior Red Cross organizations in 34 schools of the county, during the last school year contributed about $800 in money and made a great quantity of articles for the Red Cross, according to the report of H. B. Franck, junior Red Cross chairman. Among the articles made were 210 sweaters, 65 pairs of socks, 126,000 gun wips, 888 trench bandies besides a quantity of refugees and hospital supplies. A number of packing boxes for the shipment of articles made by the Red Cross organization, were made by boys in the manual training departments of the schools.

Shop Adds to Revenue

The Red Cross Shop during the five months since it was established here has paid into the chapter funds a total of $763.49, according to the report of Mrs. Kennedy Packard, to whom the charge of this institution was delegated.

LEUTENANT FOX DIES OF WOUNDS

Death of Young Officer in France Adds Star to Buhl's Service Flag

Official report of his death was received by his parents last Monday. Details as to circumstances surrounding his death are lacking.

As a member of the Buhl unit of the Second Idaho regiment, Lieutenant Fox served with that organization on the Mexican border in 1916 with the grade of sergeant. He won his commission as a lieutenant shortly before he embarked for service overseas.

Says the Buhl Herald regarding his death:

Lieutenant Fox was a splendid specimen of American manhood, and his willingness to answer the call of his country in the time of need proves that he died as he lived, fighting for his home and native land. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved relatives.

CONSIDERATION OF PEACE INSPIRATION FOR VERSE

Alex. W. Murray Expresses Sentiments on Role to Be Taken By United States at Conference

Alex. W. Murray, Twin Falls, is inspiring consideration of the role to be taken by the United States at the peace conference, to express his sentiments in the following verses:

They trust and have faith in thee, Uncle Sam,
To wisely complete what our brave boys have done;
They are stretching grateful hands across the sea,
And praising the worthy deeds you have done,
And pray that the wives of a Judas you'll be,
When the treaty of a world's peace is begun.

It is in no spirit of revenge they entreat you,
When securing forever the liberty of man,
But that justice be done, they beseech you,
That it can be, by mortal man,
The anguish of souls that have been riven
By the deeds of a fiendish hoard
Can only be assuaged in a life-like heaven,
And not by the thrust of a vindictive sword.

WAR COUNCIL BUILDING "Y" FOR UNIVERSITY

Carpenters at Work on Structure to Cost $9,000 on Campus of State Institution

MOBOW, Idaho.—Carpenters are already at work on a handsome type building of permanent character to be used for Y. M. C. purposes on the campus of the University of Idaho, says the University News-Letter. The structure will cost $9,000 and will be completed at the expense of the War Work Council.

This building will be a one and one-half story, in detail very similar to the hostess houses in the various camps. It is to be 60x120 feet, with an auditorium seating 350 persons. There will be a moving picture equipment, numerous committee and class rooms, a reading and writing room, billiard room, a shower, and an office for the Y. M. C. A. secretary.

This building will be a general social and recreation center and entirely non-sectarian in character. Being near the athletic field it can be used by house visiting athletic teams. It will supply a long-aging place—commonly such needed by the University.

ATTITUDE OF PRESIDENT IS STILL VAGUE

All Europe, Interested in His Views as to Extradition of Kaiser But Curiosity as Yet Unsatisfied

ABOARD THE U. S. S. GEORGE WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (Night)—(By Wireless to the United Press)—President Wilson has given no indication of his views concerning disposition of the former Kaiser but he is expected to be consulted by international law experts in this regard. In view of the fact that British officials favor placing Wilson on trial, the president's attitude will be most important.

The president today held his first conference with his advisors. Secretary Lansing and Ambassador White had a long talk with him concerning America's attitude toward specific problems of the peace conference.

William Howland Taft's speech in New York, favoring the league of nations was read with much official satisfaction. It is known the president regards formation of the league of nations as one of the fundamental objectives of the peace conference. He is expected to take the stand that this important matter shall not be clouded with minor issues.

Weather Improving
The weather is getting warmer and the seas smoother as the George Washington approaches the Azores, which are expected to be reached Tuesday.

NO SINKING OVERT AK MARKS OCCUPATION OF GERMAN TERRITORY

The weather is getting warmer and the seas smoother as the George Washington approaches the Azores, which are expected to be reached Tuesday.

Some officials hold the theory that the Germans are playing a shrewd propaganda game, thus trying to gain the sympathy of Americans, which they would claim to their account after peace is signed.

The latter is not regarded as likely, however, as the majority of the people make no attempt to force their views on the world. The fact that they are not glad about the American's presence. On the other hand, the Americans' rule so far has been extremely mild. With the exception of the requisition of public buildings, mines and forests, part use of the railways and telephones and the billeting of officers with civilian families, it has not affected the private life of the Germans in the slightest degree.

Impose Few Restrictions
The policy of America in charge of civil affairs has been to impose restrictions only as it is shown they are needed, but they are prepared to impose, and enforce, the most stringent and drastic laws, if necessary.

When the army completes its marches and takes the positions designated for the armistice, it is probable that a number of restrictions will be promulgated which are now held in abeyance because of difficulty of enforcement while the army is on the move.

Two March Together
Sometimes groups of German soldiers are encountered marching homeward alongside the American columns. They keep to their own side of the road, however.

Military police are guarding bridges and railways and patrolling the streets of the occupied cities and villages. The hotel lobbies, restaurants and movie are thronged with American officers. The people here seem to get accustomed to the sight of the khaki-clad columns flowing through their villages day after day. They appear to retain the bewilderment caused by the quick turn of events. Only a few months ago they were fleeing, reached wretched through these same villages to the front, then far away.

DUPONT INTERESTS NOT A TRUST

DESERPTION SHOWS GAIN
WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—During 1918, a total of 642 officers and 11,895 men underwent military trials, as against 127 officers and 7,712 men in 1917, according to the judge advocate general's annual report today. NAVY DEATH RATE LOW

Nation Without a Head
Germany is now a nation without a head and is in a condition of formal anarchy. That the usual anarchic conditions do not prevail is due to the single sense of obedience drilled for many generations into the German character, and also the fear of utter annihilation that might be Germany's lot if the conditions of Russia were to be duplicated.

The disorders now threatening Germany give evidence of being economic in origin rather than political and for that reason they can be quelled by an improvement in the material well-being of the German people. But any effective scheme of industrial development must wait upon the creation of a stable and authoritative government.

The Spartacus group who demand German sternness give an imposing example of a moderate reform control over Germany is able, therefore, to make political capital out of the general economic dissatisfaction. But if the Germans now withstand the Spartacus argument, present developments indicate a moderate reform administration will be established after the meeting of the constituent assembly.

CLARK ADVISES BIG REPORT IN SOUTH AMERICA

Clark said, "How are we to increase our trade with that marvelous South American land—much larger than North America?" he continued. "By establishing abundant steamship lines between their ports and ours, by establishing better banking facilities which fit in with their business habits, by packing our goods and merchandise in a manner and style to please their taste and above all by having a course of Spanish in all our universities colleges and business schools."

The necessity for seeking foreign trade lies in the fact that millions of men returning to this country from Europe now find employment and that factories now on war work must be given trade so that these men can be employed. Clark said, "The products of these plants must be found at once he said warning that other countries would slip in ahead of us unless we show haste."

Department of Justice Investigator Continues Testimony

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—German propaganda in this country raised $27,850,000 for carrying on their work here, A Bruce Bellaski told the senate investigation committee today. Bellaski said $15,500,000 of this was raised through loans from New York banks and $8,000,000 from the German Reich bank and other German banks.

Of this sum, Bellaski said, $1,000,000 was spent in the Bois Poudre affair; $1,700,000 in purchasing the New York Mail; four or five hundred thousand dollars on propaganda among Jews, and hundreds of thousands among the Irish.

The testimony of other witnesses was that Holderman had reported over his financial affairs. The difference between the two accounts was $10,000. Holderman stated that he was not a partner in the business.

Attorney Owen C. E. M. Wolfe, attorney for Holderman for four years past, testified that Holderman had expressed anxiety over his financial affairs. The attorney had not been inclined to believe that Holderman was so dependent as to attempt to take his own life. He expressed the opinion, however, that he had been wrong in his conclusions. He stated that Holderman had managed his finances in worse shape than he stated, and that he still retained considerable ability in his holdings.

Holderman was devoted to his family, the jurors stated, and his home was a happy one. That Curtis E. Holderman had come to his death through a self-inflicted gun shot wound was the verdict returned by the coroner's jury.

Members of the jury empaneled in the case were George D. Atkins, John McKay, George Bristol, J. E. Wood, W. O. Smith, C. E. Potter.

He leaves his widow and four children. His son, Theodore E. Holderman, is a member of the band of the One Hundred Forty-sixth artillery regiment in France. The daughters are Mrs. C. H. McFarland of Hollister, Mrs. Hilda Holderman and Miss Violet Holderman.

Mrs. Holderman was born December 5 1870.

More Camps to London
Both camps will go to London today. The army has no heavy weapons, exceptive and owing to Lenin's (Hitler's) illness, it is probable that Cox will be the only American in that class. Fisher and O'Keefe are also ill and may not be able to appear.

Children All Outraged
Adults glare but covertly, at the doughboys as the latter go quietly about their business, and only the children are unable to conceal their sentiments which usually take the form of curiosity. They follow each column that marches by, some clinging to the hands of good natured doughboys, despite the admonitions of their elders.
