CHARGES OF BAD FAITH FILED AGAINST ALLIES

Former Russian Premier Declares His Country Is Being Exploited for the Benefit of Powers of Europe—Unification of Russia Opposed by Allies to Choke Development of National Growth

LONDON, Dec. 11.—Alexander Kerensky, former Russian Premier, declared in an interview with the United Press today, that Great Britain and France are opposing the unification of Russia, because it would restore her to her former international position. He appealed to America to prevent the "exploitation" of Russia.

When the Russian people, despite the Brest-Litovsk treaty, were continuing their fight, they called upon the Allies for military aid. This help rapidly developed into an organized attempt to exploit Russia's wealth, and cut off Russia from Europe by a barrier of tiny quasi-independent states.

The peace conference ought to guarantee the integrity of Russian territory, as it was before Brest-Litovsk. It should also guarantee the right of Russia to a real solution of the problems. This could be brought about by the formation of a confederation, like America, of all the Russian states.

It is not an unfeasible dream. The Bolshevik control is a fourth of Russia proper and a sixth of Siberia, on the basis of population. The balance is composed of independent states, which have thrown off the Bolshevik authority.

It is possible to call a general election for a constituent assembly, to include delegates from every part of Russia. England and France oppose this, because it would restore Russia to her former international position. They opposed my going to America in September, because they did not want America to know the truth about Russia.

The victorious Allies are forgetting their idealistic aim. England and France already have agreed on the division of their spheres of influence in disintegrated Russia.

If three men are fighting a big and one of them is knocked out, the other two will continue to fight him, to help their comrade to his feet.

State Department Keeping Close Watch on Developments—Menace of Bolshevism is Not Serious

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—While the state department today declined to be specific as to its information concerning Germany it intimated that conditions in that nation are not as bad as is being reported.

This government is watching closely the developments within Germany as the time approaches for assembly of the national soviet congress. This body, as already pointed out, will not vote for election. It probably will also undertake to lay down some basis for the future of the nation.

Annual Report of Chief of Military Aeronautics Shows Consistent Progress in Flying and Plane Construction

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—American army aviators in the United States flew an estimated distance of 30,000,000 miles in a single June week, or 1,223 times the distance around the equator.

This is one of the interesting facts developed today in the annual report by Major-General William L. Kenley, chief of military aeronautics. He pointed out that aviators flew 407,000 hours in the fiscal year as against 745 hours in 1914, when the United States scarcely had an aerial establishment.

Kenley revealed that the Allies were urgent in their recommendations for an independent air service and that as a result came the appointment of Secretary Ryan and Kenley, as the first

HEARST WIRES SHED LIGHT ON HIS ATTITUDE

Publisher Says Uncle Sam Gold-bricked and Messages to Editors Instruct as to Editorial Policy

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Major E. Gregory Hume's late yesterday put into the hands of the editorial staff of the Hearst papers here the following telegrams:

"America is not only being starved for the benefit of warring Europe, but is being plundered of its wealth as well. Uncle Sam is being goldbricked. We don't why are we waiting our wealth? It is more than this war generation we could afford to go for the generation for the good and consolation of a worthy dead."

"But no, we are wasting our wealth to continue a carnival of murder to prolong an era of investigation, to encourage destruction of the white race, to tear down the achievements of civilization, which have taken ages to construct, to repudiate religion and violate all established standards of decency, morally and spiritually, to prostitute the progress of the world to the meanest and basest and vilest of purposes."

Wire Berlin Representative
A telegram from Hearst to Hale in Berlin, February 21, 1917: "I firmly believe that majority people of the United States are in sympathy with Germany. Also I believe people in Germany are equally, unreservedly in sympathy with the United States."

"The course of my papers has been fair to Germany, not because I am pro-German, morally and spiritually, but simply patriotically interested in influencing my country. Altruistically interested in progress of the world."

Another telegram in the collection was addressed to Garretts in New York and signed "Dexter." It was otherwise identical to the wire to Berlin. In referring to the Zimmerman note, the sender bitterly criticized American General Gregory and Postmaster General Harrison.

"The telegram reads: Agree with Francis Zimmerman note all probably absolute fact and forged, prepared by a very unscrupulous attorney general's department. Everybody knows the secret police and the most conscienceless manufacturers of forged evidence in the world."

No Use for Gregory
"Gregory's whole career in office as France showed in recent editorial has been spy, flander and plot concealer. He has not been bound by morals, facts or the constitution. He has employed the secret service to enforce England's will in Germany."

He is possibly violently pro-British. He is rarely violently pro-American. He is located where he can do the corporations the most good and he has been unwilling to be removed of their have been removed from his removed even for a position at the supreme bench. He and Harrison are House appointments and his has been a corporation lobbyist all his life.

Gregory and Harrison are so crooked that the United States has no one of them could lie in bed on top the Woolworth building and the other on the ground floor and look down on each other's windows and stare into each other's eyes and understand each other perfectly.

World's English Congress
"The object of the Zimmerman forgery was to frighten congress into giving the president power that he demanded and perhaps also into passing the espionage bill. When Wilson wanted to give away the rights of the United States to the German government, he pretended that he had private information of a dangerous international situation sufficient to justify his act. He has never revealed his private information and no one now believes that he had any."

"If we are to want to say all this editorially we can say part of it editorially, and get someone to stand for an interview as Hale used to do to bring all these points out, especially those about the money forgery of the note. We should develop the urgency phrase of the note for the Sunday papers if Francis and I seem to be right." (Signed) "Doctor."

FINANCE BILL REPORT DRAWS FIRE IN SENATE

Simmons Defends Majority Finding on the Ground That Bill in Present Form Is Best Obtainable

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The congressional battle royal over the country's reconstruction tax policy is today in its fiercest stage. The finance committee of the senate fiscal committee filed its formal report on the bill in the senate today. It was at once made the target for several minority reports.

The first one was signed by all republican members of the committee breathing unrelenting opposition to its filing in the bill taxes for 1920.

Senators Smoot and LaFollette also had individual reports dissenting from the majority view. Simmons presented the bill as "the fairest both to business and the great mass of taxpayers and from the government's point of view that it has been possible to arrive at."

In a word the bill proposes to raise about $4,000,000,000 from incomes, war and excess profits taxes for the fiscal year 1919 and $1,400,000,000 from other sources, a total of $5,400,000,000. For the fiscal year 1920 it will produce a little less than $3,000,000,000 from incomes, war and excess profits taxes, and about $1,000,000,000 from other sources, a total of $4,000,000,000.

Says Program Sound

"About the wisdom of such a program we have no serious doubts," said Senator Simmons. "It is imperative that profits and income realized in 1918 be heavily taxed. This is not only necessary to raise the needed revenue, but it is equitable and in accordance with sound public policy."

"The profits realized during 1918 are largely war profits; they are now in the pockets of the taxpayers. They should contribute heavily before they have been dissipated or reinvested. That it is equally important that these special taxes should be reduced as occasion, which legislation and judgment reaches into the past. Not to provide now for the reduction of the war profits tax after 1918's profits have been taxed, would be an unacceptable tax those profits."

Look for a Hard Job

Simmons and other democratic leaders admitted today that they will have a hard time getting any revenue legislation passed this session. With the help of the treasury department, however, they will bring the strongest pressure to bear. It was pointed out to congress that failure to enact a tax law soon will mean that more billions of bonds will have to be floated, with their coming peace, and no means of meeting the needs of the nation.

ENTER STRONG DENIAL OF ANY UNDUE ACTIVITY

Senator Hitchcock and Professor Hart of Harvard Say They Had No Connection With German Propaganda

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Senator Hitchcock, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee and Professor Albert Bushnell Hart, Harvard university, branded as false and unwarranted the efforts of German propagandists to connect them with German intrigue in the United States before the country entered the war. Hitchcock's denial was delivered to the senate while Hart's was before the senate committee referred to german propaganda.

Hitchcock referred to the letter dated July 22, 1915, sent to him by A. Hugo Blaskoff, of the department of justice, in which German Consul Reiszewitz, at Chicago, said that Hitchcock, among others, would aid in a movement to get an embargo on arms shipments to the allies. The letter was written to some unnamed "Excellency."

"If this alleged excellency or Reiszewitz himself had any intelligence either of both of them might have known that I was myself the author of the bill to prohibit the exportation of arms and ammunition, and that I had introduced in the senate more than eight months before the Reiszewitz letter was written," said Hitchcock.

Was Open Secret

"They must have known that I made a senate speech in 1915, and that it had been debated in the senate and discussed in the newspapers. They must have known that on February 27, 1915, I had offered my bill as an amendment to the shipping bill then pending in the senate. The bill was defeated by a vote of 38 to 51. My position, therefore, in favor of prohibiting the exportation of arms and ammunition had been independently and publicly taken, and was widely known months before the Reiszewitz letter had revealed it to his chief as a secret."

"The part I spoke during 1914 and 1915, in favor of prohibiting the export of arms and ammunition during our neutrality law, never had a subject of concealment or apology on my part. It became a campaign issue in 1916 when I ran for reelection, and the fact that I was re-elected by a comfortable majority indicates that my course and my motives were indicated, and approved by the people of Nebraska."

Stood for Neutrality

"My stand was taken in 1914, as an American, for neutrality. The Germans in America took their stand by 1915, as partisans of Germany. They were supporting my bill, and they went to the congresses, or meetings, though I was often invited to appear as a speaker. I made my only speech here in the senate or in defending my course later before my constituents. In those days, the country was under a pledge of neutrality, by virtue of the president's proclamation made when the war broke out. We should not doubt have remained neutral at least nominally and officially if Germany had not by a series of attacks on our attitude first difficult and then impossible."

"My attitude naturally changed with changing conditions. I stood first for a strict peaceful and impartial neutrality, even to the extent of refusing arms and ammunition and leading no money to either side."

Supported President's Request

"I supported the president's request that we authorize him to assert and to protect our neutrality by arming our merchant ships and I had charge in the senate of what was known as the armed neutrality resolution, which died so dramatically in the senate on March 4, 1917."

A month later, when the issue had changed from armed neutrality to war, which was briefly debated and passed by the senate April 19, 1917. And like other Americans I have passed from one phase of the situation to another—peaceful neutrality, armed neutrality, war. German conduct forced those changes, not only in the case of public men as individuals, but in the case of our country as a whole. This conduct was not wholly confined to the outrage perpetrated on the high seas and in the war are as in Europe, but it included the criminal folly of German agents who Mr. Blaskoff has been investigating. The latter examined American patients at home while German atrocities abroad was arousing American resentment.

Senator Sherman Tells Senate That Time for Women to Vote Is Now

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Citing the discharge of women street car conductors in Cleveland, and the special appeal of suffragists in Washington, Senator Sherman, Illinois, today demanded immediate senate approval of the woman suffrage amendment.

"If women were good enough to serve as conductors in Cleveland, when the country was in a time of stress, they are good enough to continue to serve until they voluntarily retire," said Sherman.

"If the women of Ohio had the vote they would not have been ousted from their jobs because the war labor board with the approval of the secretary of labor, any more than the women suffragettes would have been ejected when they tried to air the rights of peaceful assembly."

FAMINE STALKS THROUGH PERSIA

Toheran Has Lost Half Its Population in Year Through Starvation

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—People all over Persia are falling dead as fast as autumn leaves from the trees. One hundred and twenty thousand persons have died in the past year in Persia alone from starvation and the diseases which follow malnutrition. Unless help on a large scale is prompt, the entire country will be threatened, is the substance of a dispatch from the following investigation committee: Representatives Johnson, Kentucky; Harrison, Mississippi; Saunders, Virginia; Carraway, Arkansas; Healy, Nebraska; Towner, Iowa; and Davis, Massachusetts.

Now famine and plague threaten to wipe her out of existence. Dr. Khan was asked what part his country might take in the coming peace conference, but on this he only said: "That will be settled later. Now, however, my poor starving, plague-stricken country must be helped. As a consequence of the war, Persia's commerce has suffered seriously. The government and leading people have done their utmost to relieve the situation but without further aid, food and medical supplies the coming winter will cut off large sections of the surviving population."

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO

SEEDMEN WILL RECOGNIZE THE IRWIN FAMILY

Men Who Have Taken Lead in Development of Pure Strain of Dicklow, Wheat, Will Not Be Strangers at Convention

The name of Irwin of Twin Falls, is one that will be familiar to most of the farmers coming here next month to attend the sessions of the Idaho Pure Seed Growers' association. The Irwins, father and sons, are the men who have developed at Twin Falls, through years of careful work and selection, an improved strain of Dicklow wheat, that has yielded here as high as 107 bushels per acre.

Scientist Oliver History

That the Irwins are recognized as having been important factors in the history of this wheat is shown in a letter written October 10, 1918, by J. A. Clark, scientific assistant of the bureau of plant industry in charge of western wheat investigation, from which the following quotations are taken:

"According to our records, this wheat was obtained by Richard Low of Utah county, from Jim Holly, a neighbor. Mr. Low improved and distributed it as Dicklow, the name being derived from his name. The wheat was also called Jim Holly, but I think this name has largely gone out of use.

"The production of pure seed of the Dicklow wheat around Twin Falls, Idaho, dates from 1912 or 1913, when L. A. Breckenridge of the Twin Falls Milling and Elevator company, speaking at a local high school, advocated selecting this variety and growing it for seed. A young student named Irwin started to do this and was helped by Breckenridge. Irwin has developed a considerable strain in Dicklow wheat since that time.

"I wish to state that Dicklow wheat is very similar to a wheat grown many years ago in California but which has now largely gone out of use, namely California Gem. The Dicklow wheat could easily be a pure line of this variety. It differs in being slightly laxer and coarser and during its green stage more glaucous. In the state of Washington a similar wheat is called White Bonanza, while in Utah the same wheat is grown quite extensively under irrigation under the name of California Club."

SUFFRAGIST LEADER TO VISIT TWIN FALLS

Mrs. Brewer of New York in Idaho in interests of Constitutional Amendment, Expected Here

Mrs. Brewer of New York, who is in Idaho, in the interests of the Susan B. Anthony amendment to the equal suffrage amendment, which is now before the senate for passage, is planning to be in Twin Falls on Thursday. She will probably be at the Perkins. The plans will be more definitely stated later.

Mrs. Brewer represents the old school suffragist of which Carrie Chapman Catt is the present head. Mrs. Brewer is not in any way connected with that branch of suffragists represented in this state by Miss Wilson and whose leader is Miss Alice Paul of London. This is the group that picketed the White House grounds. Mrs. Brewer is endeavoring to bring influence to bear to cause ratification of the Susan B. Anthony amendment which it is brought before our legislature at each session. She is the subject of meeting all the women when she speaks whether they are in favor of the amendment or not. She is supported by the majority of the federated clubs membership in this state.

Growers Tell Story

Being a hybrid, Dicklow wheat, will tend to revert to the types of its parent plants with corresponding loss of vigor. The history of the Irwin's improvement of the Dicklow wheat is given briefly by them as follows:

"We selected 37 heads of the finest Dicklow we could find and planted each head in a separate plot. One of these heads contained 187 kernels of wheat and not one of them contained less than 50 kernels. At harvest time we examined each plot carefully for type, steeling, stiffness of straw and number of kernels per head and finally selected three plots out of the 37, and those were mixed and planted in a plot to themselves. From this plot we began our head selecting for another seed plot. Each year we have a large seed plot of head selected seed which furnishes us seed for our acreage the next year.

The Goal of Endeavor

"The type of Dicklow we are endeavoring to establish is a heavy, compact, club shaped head, ranging from ten to thirteen inches long with four to six kernels in a mesh, making eight to twelve kernels around the head. The method of selection is very similar to that of selecting corn, plucking the heads that are filled out and over the top. One hundred kernels to the head is very common."

FARM BUREAU'S PROGRAM TO BE MADE AT MEET

Annual Gathering of Members to Discuss Wide Range of Proposed Fields of Endeavor for Organization

An extensive outline of work as a tentative program for the Twin Falls county farm bureau during the coming year is to be submitted for the approval of the members at their annual meeting on Tuesday, December 17, in the Parish hall, Twin Falls. The election of officers, also will take place at this meeting.

In view of the importance of the meeting, it is anticipated that the attendance will be large. Provision will be made for serving basket lunches in the hall, while a number of the members have arranged for lunch at the Hogsgate cafe. Either alternative is open to all members. The sessions will begin at 10:30 o'clock.

Tentative Program

The following are some of the subjects to be discussed: Sugar beet crop and prices for 1919; wheat and the quantity to be raised; pure bred Dicklow wheat; methods of exterminating sparrows, through an organized campaign in February; securing tested pens and boxes for garden planting; control on fleas, rats, squirrels, rabbits and grasshoppers in 1919; marketing of hay, beans and poultry; more cattle and sheep on the farms; solution of labor and threshing problems; legislation against sheep-killing dogs, weasels, pheasants and anything else for the benefit of the farmer.

JUDGE LANDIS ENLIVEN'S BERGER TRIAL SESSION

J. Louis Engdahl Arrives an Hour Late and is Admonished in Characteristic Style

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—One juror had been selected late yesterday for the Berger trial here. The defense discarded one man after another in the first panel, using four of its ten preemptory challenges.

Federal Judge Landis momentarily enlivened the drab proceedings with a characteristic comment: "You get here on time," he instructed J. Louis Engdahl, one of the five defendants, "or you'll forfeit your bond and go to jail."

Engdahl, wandered into court an hour after it was supposed to open.

Mrs. Victor L. Berger, wife of the chief defendant, with Ethel Bevers Bloom, once socialist candidate for lieutenant governor of New York, were among visitors inside the railing. Sol Wick, insurance broker, was the lone jurymen selected. Examination of witnesses was along the lines of the trial last week, but showing particular interest in the tolerance of the jurors in political and pacifist affairs.

NEW CLUB PRESIDENT CAN'T SIT IN MEETING

National League Gathering Makes Drameatic Ruling on the Question of Eligibility

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Fred Mitchell, newly elected president of the Chicago Cubs, has been definitely denied the right to represent his club at the National league meeting here.

Mitchell also was refused permission to sit in the directors meetings, which preceded the regular session.

The directors decided to bar Mitchell after a stormy session at the Waldorf-Astoria lasting more than an hour. The ruling was made under the clause of the constitution which provides that a manager or player may not represent his club at a league meeting. When Mitchell arrived here last night he announced that his contract as manager had expired, and that he was here only in the capacity of president.

The clubs are represented as follows: Arthur Wise, Boston; Charles H. Bennett, Brooklyn; H. N. Hempstead, New York; William Baker, Philadelphia; Barney Dreyfuss, Pittsburgh; Gary Ylerrmann, Cincinnati; James J. Jones, St. Louis; and William Veck, Chicago.

Entered as second-class matter April 9, 1918, at the postoffice at Twin Falls, Idaho, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

A WORTH-WHILE MOVE

It is entirely unlikely that the people of Idaho can do better immediately and in the long run for themselves and for the State than they can accomplish by standing by their State senators and representatives in securing an appropriation from the State Legislature to match a similar appropriation of the National government under the Federal Aid Road act to provide for expenditure of some $5,000,000 for the construction of good roads in the State next year.

Under the terms of the Federal Aid Road act, before the Legislature of 1921 convenes, there will be available for use in highway construction in Idaho approximately $1,000,000, in addition to the amounts specifically allotted to contracts now under way.

These funds are not available, however, unless at least an equal amount of State and local money is applied in co-operative work.

All funds remaining from the million dollar bond issue of 1917 for State highway purposes are required to complete existing contracts, according to State Highway Engineer, H. C. Allen, who, by the way, is a duly elected member of the coming Legislature, and by whose recommendations in this respect the people, through their representatives, may well be guided.

The proposed constitutional amendment for raising the bonding limit of the State was defeated at the general election. Since the State is now bonded practically to the present limit of $2,000,000, the only method by means of which the State funds for highway construction can be provided is taxation.

The faith of the State of Idaho is pledged by act of the Legislature to provide funds sufficient to cooperate with all Federal Aid allotted to Idaho, and since bonds cannot be issued, taxation must be resorted to in order to keep faith with the National government.

Other States are loyally the State highway tax to provide funds for construction and maintenance, and the time for Idaho to fall in line seems to have arrived.

A recent statement by the Director of the United States Bureau of Public Roads in this respect is pertinent: "In view of the fact that restrictions on highway work have been removed by action of the War Industries Board, the Fuel Administration, the Railroad Administration and the United States Highway Council, a great revival of road building should result. In my judgment, no more effective means of insuring employment, particularly to unskilled labor, in the transition period from war to peace can be devised than the vigorous prosecution of all public work. I believe it would be better to go ahead with road work wherever it is needed, rather than to wait for a period of lower prices. The benefits of improved highways are immediate, by no means of the great desirability of having all labor employed and money active." This is a clear statement of the judgment and opinion of forward-looking people throughout the United States, and it applies especially to the Twin Falls country, which, probably stands in greater need of good roads and will reap greater benefits from them than any other district in the country.

MEAT PROVISION HINGES UPON WESTERN SUPPLY

Packers Assure Growers of Maintenance of Prices—Advise Against Closing Market

GODDEN, Dec. 11.—Maintenance of uniform prices throughout the winter and spring for hogs, with a definite minimum below which these prices will not fall, is being assured by the meat packers and livestock men, who are advising such collectors as are being made at the stock yards and packing plants but are advising, at the same time, that the farmers and livestock raisers do not flood the market and thus cause an absolutely unnecessary packing house.

Packing houses are able to handle about 15 per cent more hogs this year than a year ago, according to government reports. This is about the average, over the entire country, of the increased production from the farms and ranches. With deliveries made when hogs have been properly fattened, there will be no flooding of the market but instead a gradual sale that will help the packers and the livestock men stabilize the market.

On the output of the packing plants in America, including those in the west, depends the meat supply, not only for the United States but for foreign lands. It is a world-wide industry of sale, which is especially important in Great Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Sweden, Denmark, Germany and Austria. Shipments to the allies are being continued, shipments to neutral lands are being resumed and those that will be necessary shipments to central Europe.

GEORGE WASHINGTON ENTERS FRENCH ZONE

Naval Department Out of Touch With Presidential Ship for Brief Period

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The presidential steamer George Washington, appearing today to have passed beyond the efficient range of wireless communication with the United States and it was stated at the navy department that she is now entering the zone of communication with France.

Between four and five p. m. yesterday the navy department was out of touch with her and no direct messages had been received up to early this forenoon.

However, it was said that she was in communication with France and that messages would be relayed back from there.

REBUSSIONAL

The Kaiser was walking in the garden so very teddy came to him and thus he said to her: "If I had an army like yours is today, I'd lick the whole world by the middle of May."

Said the Kaiser: "My Fritzey and Hindy and Krupp, I go and I wipe all dein Frenchers right up; I pull all der teeth from der Chonny's and I make frightfulness of der rest of Urupp."

But Belgium fought to the very last man, And France at Verdun said, "Get by if you can!" England came up with a very large clan, And from Italy's soldiers the Austrian ran.

Uncle Sam said to Pershing, "You go and tell Foch, 'Don't stand any more of this nonsense 'o' hogs; We'll make wienersurst of that, doggedest bock!"

"I'll take every man from the town of Oshkosh!"

Now Kamerad, Kaiser is down on his knees, He has got Spanish 'flu' and is eating Dutch cheese. "I'll take every man from the town of Oshkosh!"

IMMUNIZATION OF PUPILS TO BEGIN FRIDAY

Superintendent Hal G. Blue Announces Definite Arrangements for Safeguarding Twin Falls School Children

Superintendent Hal G. Blue, of the Twin Falls schools this morning made the following announcement in respect to the immunization of school children against the influenza epidemic:

It has been definitely announced by the State Health Department that the use of immunizing the pupils of the Twin Falls schools will be here by Friday, December 13. The work of immunizing will begin at 1:00 o'clock Friday afternoon. It will be under the direction and supervision of Mrs. Arthur D. Thomas a graduate nurse. This is not in any way compulsory. The local board of education is simply doing this in order that no child in the district may be denied the benefits of the serum if he so desires. All children who desire to take the serum will go to the superintendent's office in the high school building at the hour designated above. The office will be open for this work every afternoon, except Sunday, for several days. There will be absolutely no charge to any child for the serum. Parents are kindly invited to go with their children.

INFATUATION LEADS TO TROUBLE SAYS GIRL WIFE

Mrs. Joe Torres Charges Husband of Few Days With Attempt to Kill Her ASTRAY

Under the decision of Probate Judge O. P. Duvall entered after a preliminary examination Tuesday, Joe Torres, Mexican, aged 27, is held, under $1,000 bond, to answer in district court to a charge of attempting to persuade his wife, Mildred Torres, aged 19, to lead an immoral life.

An acquaintance of two days formed in a local rooming house brought about an infatuation, Mr. Torres says, that resulted in the marriage to Torres on November 10. She had previously worked here as a domestic, and her parents reside in Filer. On the day of her marriage she was stricken with influenza and did not recover until attempts of Torres to lead her astray, she testified, began on the day following her release November 20 from the county jail, where she and one Steele were confined on a statutory charge.

The complaint was filed by Prosecuting Attorney Frank L. Stephen, and E. V. Larson appeared for the defendant.

COMPLICATIONS FOLLOW FRACTURE OF MAN'S LEG

Merle Doggett of Heyburn is Reported in Critical Condition at Hospital in Twin Falls

(Special to The News)
HEYBURN—Merle Doggett, whose leg was broken in a hay baler here last week, has undergone two operations for the amputation of the limb, at a Twin Falls hospital, according to word received here, and his condition is reported to be critical.

Miss Zella Still, who has been home visiting her parents for two weeks, left Tuesday night for Conrad, Montana, where she will resume her duties as nurse in the hospital. Miss Still accompanied Miss Still and will go in training for her nurse.

Martin & Bigg received a carload of shell corn Saturday which was hauled to the Bigg ranch where it will be fed to their cattle and hogs.

Mrs. Mrs. Lambeth returned to Heyburn last Saturday night from Twin Falls where they had been visiting Mrs. Lambeth's mother for several days.

Carl Meitz, who has been ill with influenza at his home in the country, is improving and friends soon hope to see him out again.

Miss Stella Hill is on the sick list. Mr. A. E. Campbell's sisters, Mrs. Morrison and Miss Campbell from Kansas arrived yesterday to pay a visit to the Campbell family.

TRAINING LITTLE CHILDREN

Unwise Reading, Story-Telling or Threats Will the Child With Fear; Often When a Child Lies It Is Because He Is Afraid of Being Misunderstood or Punished

By Mrs. Alice Barton Harris
The ideals which we wish to develop in our children are chiefly those of courage, truthfulness and usefulness. I believe that the normal child is born brave, physically and morally, and that out of badness or ignorance, the grown people put fear into his little consciousness. He isn't allowed to climb, for instance, because his mother is afraid he will fall, and his plastic mind is filled, through stories or threats, of evil punishment, with a sense of danger and evil with which he in his helplessness cannot cope.

Lying, of course, comes from the same source. The child lies because he is afraid, either of being misunderstood or punished. Therefore, says, "It takes two to speak the truth one to speak and one to listen." When the child lies, the burden of the lie too often rests upon the grown people who have him in charge.

Many persons believe that fear is inevitable to man, that it is a race memory, but I believe that fear of the dark, of solitude, or much more likely to come from mini-pictures of terrible things which "unwitting" elders have discussed in the child's presence, or as a result of unwise reading or story-telling in very early childhood. This is difficult to undo perhaps, but quite simply, if parents are willing to be sufficiently watchful. We magisterial trust with which a child thus guarded can face the world is a guarantee in itself of success in life.

Usefulness is one of the virtues which has to be cultivated, for we are not born useful. We have to be taught this virtue and of course, the greater teacher of all is love. I am inclined to think love is the only teacher. Henderson says: "To get children interested in important things is to make them unsearchably amiable. Solitary children, only sons and daughters, are as a rule extremely selfish, for the simple reason that their lives have been so overwhelmingly personal. The way out is through group activities on the part of the whole family, through play as well as through serious. If life is to be permanently successful, and happiness genuine and secure, the major interest must be impersonal, must have to do with something bigger than the little self, must concern itself with the abiding and universal things."

ATTENDANCE AT SCHOOL LIGHT ON OPENING DAY

Parents of Rock Creek Children Unwilling to Take Chance on Recurrence of Epidemic

(Special to The News)

ROCK CREEK—School reopened here Monday with a very light attendance. Most of the parents prefer to wait until all danger of a recurrence of the influenza epidemic is past before sending their children to school. No new cases of influenza are reported here, and there is only one case of sickness here now in which the symptoms resemble influenza.

The Canal company's work crew which has been repairing the canal, has finished its work and left for Twin Falls Sunday.

L. P. Larson has purchased the orchard tract belonging to the Hansen estate and will begin fencing it in short time. Some necessary measurements must be made to locate the boundaries of the lots. He expects to put into grain all tillable land he will use the rest for pasture.

Robert Bross is building a new fence around his yard. The base and posts will be of concrete. Herman Schurzer of Twin Falls and Otto Schurzer of Pleasant Valley are assisting in this work.

The girls of the Rock Creek Junior Red Cross have pledged $300.00 for W. S. B. and nearly all of the first payment has been earned and sent to Miss Wolfe. Macbeth Gray was appointed captain of the boys and took the influenza on the day after he received his supplies so was unable to secure the pledge.

A. J. Fuller of Dry Creek was here on business the first of the week. Mrs. Susan Gray, who has recently recovered from influenza, has had a relapse and is again confined to her bed. Our postmaster, Mrs. C. L. Dean, spent several days in Twin Falls on some business. Mrs. Gray had charge of the office during her absence.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Larson spent Monday on business at Twin Falls. Walter Welghall and Frank Erickson and Thelma Welghall spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Welghall's sister, Mrs. Wes Hyde. Thelma will remain with her mother a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Van Eaton and children went to Twin Falls Monday to receive their last vaccination for the influenza.

Mrs. Thomas Wallace is confined to her bed as the result of a fall several days ago. She was leaving the smoke house when she was seized with an attack of vertigo and fell. No bones were broken but she is painfully bruised.

SUNSHINE DISSIPATES HOPES OF ICE SKATERS

Farmers Resume Plowing in Hansen District With Return of Warmer Weather Since Thanksgiving

(Special to The News)

HANSEN—All prospects of good skating have vanished since Thanksgiving. The farmers have resumed plowing.

A. E. Mann reports a yield of 11 bushels of clover seed per acre on a 15 acre field. This is the record of this year. The average yield is about five bushels.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leighton are recuperating after a severe attack of the influenza.

B. W. Trout of Twin Falls is here this week upon attending the breeding of his red clover seed crop.

Petty thieving has been common in Hansen and vicinity. The latest is the theft of a number of chickens. Frank Hamack had a dozen of sacks of seed taken and Boyet Trout one of them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Felton have moved from town onto their ranch north of Hansen.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilsom are now "at home" in Twin Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jones, whose home near Murtagh was destroyed by fire, are temporarily living with relatives in Hansen.

Miss Ruth Paicost has returned from Pocatello to resume her duties in the Hansen school.

N. S. Provost has purchased a ranch one half mile west of Hansen and will become a tiller of the soil.

"Ed Taylor had the misfortune to have his left eye seriously injured by the explosion of a defective shotgun shell.

Mr. Geo. Fisher spent Saturday evening in Twin Falls.

Mrs. M. B. Provost entertained a number of little folks in honor of her daughter Mary's ninth birthday last Sunday.

Miss McGay is filling the vacancy in the Hansen school caused by the resignation of Mrs. Harris.

Judge Lawrence Hanson is visiting with relatives in Rock Creek.

Value of a High Altitude. A glorious aim reaches its gliding ministry upon the entire being. It is curative. A high holy aim is very helpful to the petty ailments of the mind, as it is also very destructive of the mean obsessions of the heart. And through a healthier mind and heart we give ourselves a chance of more exuberant physical health. Perhaps it is true in a larger way than we usually think that "He shall quicken your mortal bodies by his spirit that dwells in you."

Stone Ships Not Entirely New. While among ships, such as being made now for the government's use in the war, are considered quite a novelty, they really are not so new after all. Army back in 1840 a boat of concrete was launched by a Frenchman named Lambek. Since then there have been many experiments with this type of vessel, and many forms of concrete boats have been floated successfully. The Dutch and the Italians have been using concrete barges for a long time.

Pictures in the Home. A room without pictures is like a room without windows. Pictures are lighthouses of escape to the soul, leading to other scenes and other spheres. Pictures are, therefore, of loneliness; they are books, they are histories and sermons which we can read without the trouble of turning over the leaves.—Downing.

Daily Thought. No man can justify condemn or censure another, because, indeed, no man truly knows another.—St. Thomas Brown.

High Standard.
'If I hope I can support her in the style she is accustomed to.' 'Get wise to that style, though, before you marry her. I never saw any wife's people, but to hear her talk you'd think she was raised in a palace.'
Series of Choosings.
Life is one long series of choosings. This way or that? Shall we do or leave undone? The questions will every hour of every day, and by one wise or foolish answer we write our history.
Hard to Judge Character.
I have often observed that a thoroughly sounder is often one of the most merciful of men, and that the most compassionate people are frequently the most destitute of dignity of character.—George Sand.
Influence and Example.
The blessing cannot tell what becomes of its odor, and no man can tell what becomes of his influence and example, that roll away from him and go beyond his ken in their perilous mission.—Deecher.
Oriental Rugs.
Not only the design but the colors of the rugs woven in the Orient are full of significance. They represent national or individual traditions and stand for virtues, vices and social importance.
Under Many Influences.
Our judgments are no liable to be influenced by many considerations, which almost without our knowing it, are carried out in individual habits and stand for virtues, vices and social importance.
Some Turns.
The dial of a French clock is performed and behind it are numbered disks for both 12 and 24 hour time, either of which can be turned to show the figure through the opening.

SAYS GERMANY CANNOT EVEN PAY HER TAXES

Nation on Eve of Bankruptcy, Banks of Berlin Threatened With Failure Unless Action Is Taken

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 11.—The Cologne Zeitung wants a possible bankruptcy of Germany and declares that unless the financial situation is improved, the Germans will be unable to pay either their taxes or the indemnities expected to be demanded by the Allies.

"The present social anti-government with its continual demands for higher wages, while Germany is unable to produce or export, is bound to hasten bankruptcy," the newspaper says.

"German banks cannot hold out more than a few weeks under the present financial strain. If the situation continues, nobody in Germany will be able to pay taxes, not counting the indemnities."

The Zeitung suggests that the national assembly establish a strong financial program in which, contrary to the socialist views, taxation would be divided equitably among the whole population. Otherwise the newspaper predicts that will be the result of reaching financial catastrophe.

Must Provide For Returned Soldiers

Discharges of Camp Dodge Men Show That Large Number Want Jobs

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 11.—Out of 3,800 men discharged at Camp Dodge up to today approximately 700 have been discharged according to H. C. Pfund, examiner in charge of this office.

Pfund said that 40 per cent of the men needing jobs are Iowa men.

For men wishing farm work, Pfund thinks there will be no difficulty, but he expects some trouble in the cities.

Employers who can give a returned soldier a job are urged to send their names to the state and federal employment bureau in Des Moines.

Grants More Time To Fulfill Pledges

County Is Given Until End of Year to Make Good Its War Savings Quota

The Honor Week campaign to put Twin Falls county over the top in respect to its War Savings quota has been extended to January 1, 1919, according to the following announcement made this morning by County Director A. Gilbert.

In order to give a chance to those who have pledged more than War Savings Bonds for the time being to the end of the year. The parties who are earnestly urged to buy. They must not think that because the war is now over that the boys in France have not to be fed and paid for at least six months and brought back here. These things take lots of money and the W. S. B. help to do it.

Farmers of Iowa Have Record Year

Figures Show Substantial Increase in Crop Values Over Last Year

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 11.—Iowa farmers made $40,163,225 more this year than last from all crops, according to the annual report of U. C. Deed, Iowa crop and weather bureau chief.

The Iowa farmers' "pocketbook" this year is holding $62,218,117 against $22,051,291 in 1917.

Among the grain production and its value during 1918 was: Corn 359,677, 000 bushels, $438,712,740; oats 223,192, 000 bushels, $142,308,200; wheat (spring) 149,000 bushels, $21,055, 250; wheat (winter) 3,282,810 bushels, $7,290,036.

The state's fruit crop was valued at $6,000,000 and the garden truck brought $8,500,000.

Belovism probably will not pain the upper hand in Germany, it is felt, but the outgrowth of the present frustration is regarded as likely to be a very liberal socialization.

Up to London

It is doubtful that the peace conference will wait upon formation of a stabilized government in Germany before making its conclusions. If there is an organization which can conclude a peace, it will go ahead with the treaty according to the view here.

At Brussels it is said that there will be representative Russians at Paris, but not a national delegate, inasmuch as not even a definite regime exists in Russia to appoint delegates.

Introducing Lila Lee

LILA LEE, NEW STAR ONLY sixteen years old, Lila Lee, a child phenomenon in vaudeville, makes her debut in motion pictures as the star in "The Cruise of the Make-Believes," a Paramount picture, based upon the famous novel of the same name by Tom Gullon and to be shown at the Idaho Theatre two days, commencing today.

The toy wonder child of yesterday has suddenly dawned upon the motion picture world as the star of the first magnitude with a future radiance with the promise of brilliant artistic success. Her artistry, so often manifested in vaudeville, backed by her youth, beauty and magnetic charm, will find its finest expression, perhaps, in her new environment.

Her history offers little to the biographer to dwell upon, except that she was discovered by Gus Edwards when she was seven years old, playing in the streets of Union Hill, N. J. He instantly recognized the girl's genius and with the consent of her mother, engaged her for vaudeville work, in which she scored enormous success. Then Jesse L. Lasky, vice president of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation who was searching for a new girl star, saw her with the result that her engagement followed.

So it happens that Lila Lee is a Paramount star and if her work in her initial picture is a criterion, the millions of admirers of the best field of the silent drama have to offer, will welcome her entrance there, with open arms.

SPLENDID SUPPORT

MIS LEE is excellently supported in her initial picture. Her leading man is Harrison Ford, an actor of strong and engaging personality. Raymond Hatton, one of the best actors in the country, has a splendid role. Other notable screen players are—Spottiswoode, Aitken, Parks Jones, William Brunton, Bud Duncan, Mrs. Eunice Moore, Myram Kell, Nina Byron, J. W. Wray, William McLaughlin and John McKinley.

SHIPOARDS OF SOLDIERS ARE SAFF IN PORT

The Catalanes, an American ship, carried 14 officers and 1,473 men of the naval service. The vessel left Bordeaux on December 1.

The British transport Anconium, from Liverpool, had fourteen officers and 1,467 men and sick. Except for rough weather but they were completely covered with ice, having passed through a severe sleet storm outside the harbor.

The American transport Kroomland docked at Hoboken, carrying more than two thousand officers and men, mostly white and sick. Except for rough weather, the voyage was uneventful. A large number of troops aboard were from New England.

The transport Tomatoes from Boston was reported to be agitating the harbor with 488 men (no sick) cases not requiring special attention); 149 civilians and 500 cases of mail.

The former White Star liner Adriatic is due to arrive in port tonight with 2,208 troops aboard.

ALL FRANCE IS IN AGREEMENT WITH WILSON

Views of President Reflected in Attitude of People, Democracy of Two Nations is Almost Identical

BY JOHN DE GANDT PARIS, Dec. 11.—France is in entire agreement with President Wilson's principles, a high French official declared in an interview today. He added, however, that the American executive's interpretation of his fourteen points will make their application easier.

We are eagerly awaiting the arrival of President Wilson," the official said. "I desire to reiterate to the American people, that, despite all recent rumors, France entirely agrees with President Wilson's principles."

"Democratic democracy is Wilson's; America's ideals are those of France. If we do not talk about them, so much right now, it is because we are more impressed by what the Germans have done in violation of them."

"We must first deal with the material questions, which are vitally important. It is for President Wilson to interpret his fourteen points, after which their application will be rendered easier."

Must Pay For Damage

"We have already decided that Germany must pay in full for the damage she has wrought. The amount is indeterminate at present. Demand for more than reparation is the only possible subject for differences of opinion."

President Wilson is likely to ask the Allies to adopt measures enabling Germany to maintain her economic liberty, which the Allies will accept. But, concerning the league of nations, Germany should enter a period of probation before she is admitted to membership. The changes in German political conditions cannot be accepted as proof of her good faith. Time only will tell.

Freedom of Seas

"We felt a natural reserve regarding freedom of the seas, owing to Great Britain's intransigence and the scope of her dominions. But this should not be hard to settle."

"We shall not try to change any of President Wilson's views, so far as which, however, are so phrased as to give rise to variations in interpretation. These undoubtedly will be cleared up."

SENATE TAKES FIRST STEP TO HELP WORKERS

Wilson told the house rules committee there is no need for passage of the Clayton and Longworth resolutions for investigation of possible unemployment of returned soldiers by congressional committees.

Wilson declared there would be immediate reduction of wages and warms manufacturers may make any business advance by delaying resumption of normal activities.

Resumption of Activity

He advocated immediate resumption of municipal, state and federal projects, held up by the war, and the initiating of other public improvements which he said were needed as a temporary recourse for discharged soldiers.

The labor department has created a large central employment clearing house with branches throughout the country from which it gets weekly reports, Wilson said.

The last report showed a labor shortage in 23 cities, a surplus of labor in 7 and demand and supply running even in 75 others.

Employment of Men

For a year or more this country will have approximately a million men under arms, he said, adding that conditions to employ a half million more compared with a few thousand before the war. South American trade must be supplied, Northern France and other devastated regions must be built up, emigration, which gave us a net population increase of 400,000 annually before the war, will stay at practically zero and reserve stocks of goods in this country depleted for the last 18 months must be built up.

The department of agriculture, Wilson said, will shortly ask congress for funds for road building and this will take care of a number of men during the "interim period," while industry is getting back to a sound footing.

Situation Grows Worse

BERNE, Dec. 10.—(Night)—The situation in Berlin is growing worse, according to a White Bureau dispatch from that city today.

Workers are collecting machine guns and munitions in the suburbs.

The military commandant is concentrating troops but they are not permitted to the streets because of the danger of causing a conflict.

"Pep"

That's what wins in business—and right now—these December days—there's a "nip" in the air that surely puts "Pep" in a man—puts you right up on your toes—sends you after business in a way that puts it across.

And Here's Another Thing—

You want your clothes to be RIGHT—you want 'em to be well made—you want clothes that will be a proper setting for your personality—it's a man's personality that makes you remember only ONE out of about every TEN men you meet—the other nine you forget—that's why are worn by so many men of personality—they're made for men who know what good clothes should be and they've stood the test for many years. We've got a suit here that will fit you—and an overcoat, too—in the fabric and color you like—and there's dignity and "good business" tailored into every line.

Come in—slip into them and see what the glass tells you.

For Boys Also

We know the problem that the boy—the real live boy—one just like yours offers in clothing—and we have something that will surely "hold" him. Our boys' suits and overcoats will look well and wear well for a surprisingly long time—as ordinary clothes go there is no comparison—and prices are no higher—in fact are lower than in many instances.

GRAIN REVIEW

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Price changes were slight today in grain futures on the Chicago Board of Trade. The volume of business was small and trading was featureless. A little scattered buying was on the evidence at the start. Provisions were steady.

December oats, opening late at 72 1/4, unchanged, remained unchanged. January oats, unchanged at the opening 72 3/4, and not changed at noon. February oats, unchanged at 72; the opening, lost 1-8. March oats, gained 3-8. May oats, unchanged at 72 1-8, the opening gained 1/4.

and is wholly unable to remove the war. The most it could do would be to engage in extensive fighting or in useless guerrilla fighting.

German Not Halted

There is no evidence that the Germans are seriously conspiring to bring about any such sporadic protest against the allies' victory in the near future. Counter-revolts have been plotted during the past month both by the German bolsheviks and by supporters of the Hohenzollern family. But they have not accomplished any serious propaganda results, chiefly because that the great majority of the German people appear to be too convinced that their own future recovery depends wholly on the preservation of order and discipline during the present period of transition.

There is every prospect therefore that the allies can postpone the terms of the armistice without fear that a new situation strategically beneficial to Germany will result.

ASKS INVESTIGATION OF TWO DEPARTMENTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Senator Poinceter, Washington, today introduced a resolution for investigation of the ordinance and quartermaster departments by the senate military affairs committee.

"Hitting at questionable activities which he intimated might have delayed production of guns and shells for the army, Poinceter said that "if some traitors and spies had been executed in the early days of the war, the lives of better men might have been saved."

"I want to find out whether, reasonably activities have anything to do with delaying manufacture," said Poinceter. "It seems strange that if they could not have done better unless they were blocked by spies!"

Poinceter read published statements to the effect that no American shells larger than three-inch calibre had been shipped abroad, said that the supply of three inch shells was not large enough to provide an adequate reserve.

Regarding the quartermaster's corps Poinceter said he wanted to find out the quality and quantity of clothing and equipment on hand.

RECORD IN AIR GREAT CREDIT TO AMERICA

reorganization steps.

The Allied mission, backed by the French premier, called for 3,000 planes a month, a total of 5,000 pilots and 50,000 mechanics. This was the cornerstone of the original $100,000,000 appropriation by congress for aviation. Kenley pictured the nation as lamentably lacking in 1914 in airplane knowledge and facilities.

Great Strides Made

In the two years thereafter, the allies developed aviation remarkably, installing radio outfits, efficient photographic processes, made regular bombing planes and developed engine efficiency to 500 horse power.

The United States was without facilities at the outbreak of war, yet did a remarkable work in developing flying, mechanics and the equipment, the general indicated. As against a personnel of 60 officers and 1,200 men at the outset, there were November 3 in air service, 14,230 officers and 15,767 men.
