Idaho's Senior Senator Says
True Test of Democracy Lies in Ability of People to Get Back to Previous Status

BY H. G. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—"While America is abroad, in the person of President Wilson, is working for world democracy, America at home, through congress, must work for a return to democratic democracy, unhampered by arbitrary methods and measures half necessary to a war," Senator William E. Borah.

In this statement is summarized the position behind the immediate "repeal by congress" of certain "war measures." This group of men, though not working under a concerted plan, strive for common aims, including: Protection of the right of free speech.

Represented by the American League of its right of free and open discussion of public men, public policies and national events.

Further democratization of congress.

Accepting this thought, Borah said today: "The war is over. The true test of democracy is whether when war ends, democracy can get back to purely democratic principles. Can it not be done by arbitrary methods and measures supposed by some to be essential to a war program? It should and it can do so, if the people so will."

WANTS OLD LAWS FORGOTTEN.

"I want in favor of wiping from the statute books every espionage measure and every imperious procedure of war. I only want to get them off the statute books, but I want them to be forgotten as precedents and to be eliminated from our political system. I shall offer more bills for repealing certain statutes just as fast as we can get to them, giving a reasonable time to clean up, pending war."

Borah's reference to more bills had to do with his bill repealing those portions of the espionage act which permit the postmaster general to say what mail and what cannot go through the mail.

He intends to follow this measure with a repeal of the whole espionage law on the ground that such a measure has no place in a democracy in time of peace.

World, Spokane State.

Senator Reed, another of the group, said today, "the slate should be sponged clean" of all laws, necessarily for which sprung from the war emergency. Johnson, of Washington, Fletcher, Washington, and others, joined Borah's views. They are the leading members of the group who are behind Borah.

With respect to democratization of congress, these senators and others are in accord with Senator Norris in his attack on the recent "law of necessity," which settled the chairmanship of every congressional committee. Norris expects soon to take action by the senate rules committee on his resolution to do away with some of the evils of this system.

Sergeant Wilson Replies With

of France in Sodl Trying
Days of Great War

PARIS, Dec. 16.—President Wilson was officially welcomed to France today as "the great European interlocutor." The expression was employed by Adrien MacThouard, president of the municipal council while addressing the president in behalf of the city and the nation. He was accepted as meaning that Wilson is regarded by Europe as the enigma around whom the interpretation of the various political issues will be centered.

MacThouard's speech was on occasion of the official reception of the president at the city hall. The French official paid a high compliment to Mr. Wilson for her decision to accompany the president.

Wilson, in a brief address, thanked Paris and France for the reception accorded him, and paid tribute to France's part in the war.

Wilson and their wives appeared on the balcony of the city hall. Thousands of persons, packed in the square, gave them an enthusiastic ovation. As the cheering continued, Mrs. Wilson threw down a bouquet. There was a great scramble for the pieces.

President Wilson's Speech

President Wilson, speaking at the Hotel de Ville today said:

Your greeting has raised many emotions within me. It is with no ordinary sympathy that the people of the United States, for whom I have the privilege of speaking, have viewed the sufferings of the peoples of France. Many of our own people have been themselves witnesses of those sufferings. We were the more deeply moved by the wrongs of the war because we knew the manner in which they were perpetrated.

America Is Sympathetic

"I beg that you will not suppose that because a wide ocean separated us in space, we were not in effect eye-witnesses of the shameful ruin that was wrought and the cruel and unnecessary suffering that were brought upon you. These sufferings have filled our hearts with indignation. We know what they were not only, but we know what they signified and our hearts were touched to the quick by them; our imaginations filled with the whole picture of what France and Belgium in particular had experienced. When the United States entered the war, therefore, they entered it not only because they were moved by a sense of justice, but also because they had a definite idea of the purpose of the central empires to get and must be resisted by nearly everyone who loves liberty and the right, but also because the ill-fated ambitions which they were entertained.

Paris Discovers Wilson's Smile

BY WILLIAM PHILLIP SIMMS
PARIS, Dec. 16.—Wilson has discovered the Wilson smile. Special writers are dwelling at great length upon it. One said:

"Each time he wrote his messages to the people his words were full of wisdom. Now appears in Paris the living man, smiling, smiling and all. Wilson has discovered Paris, and Paris has discovered Wilson."

"We pictured him as akin to Christ, Christ not consenting to 'Golgatha.' (The hill where Christ was crucified.) He is not at all that. Wilson is a man. He is correct, but amateur. And if he drinks now, he may water his laudable principles. But after all he is a member of the race and son of France, because he knows how to smile. We thought him phlegmatic; but he is not."

Evidence in Berger Case Deals
With Alleged Socialist
Anti-War Activity

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Some socialists called it "a war of profits," according to testimony to the Berger trial here today.

William F. Minarik, United States sailor, formerly a "Viper," identified this description of the world war as appeared in resolutions drafted by William F. Kruse, one of the five defendants. The resolutions, he said, called on workers not to join the fighting forces whether "drafted or not." Extracts from the Socialist St. Louis platform also appeared in the document.

LACKED EXPERIENCE BUT STRONG ON THE FIGHTING

German Colonel, Beaten by the Americans in the Argonne Gives His Impressions of Yanks' Scrapping Qualities—Declares Method of Capturing Machine Guns Was Hard on Morale of Hun Legions

By WEBB MILLER

CORLEONE, Dec. 16 (Night)—(By courier to Nancy.)—"The Americans lacked experience in the technicalities of modern warfare, but they knew how to go ahead—they knew too well." That is the opinion of Colonel Von Stiebel, chief of staff of the 12th division which fought and was beaten by the Americans in the Argonne.

Von Stiebel, who is attached to the German bridgeman commission, discussed freely with the United Press correspondent the phases of the Argonne battle breakthrough.

"The Americans were too reckless; they were too hasty; they did not know much of hurry to get things done," he said.

No Scientific Tactics

"For instance, in attacking our machine guns—which are the best in the world—they utilized no scientific means. It seemed to us that the only way they knew to eliminate a machine gun nest was to keep coming until they got it."

That was rather disheartening to the morale of our gunners. They knew that if they stayed long they would be killed or captured.

"We have no doubt that American intervention won the war," Von Stiebel said. "We could have beaten the other Allies, but the constant stream of Americans, young and enthusiastic, overwhelmed us."

Yanks Good Opponents

"The Americans are good opponents and are as勇敢 as any fighters."

Von Stiebel declared the German army could have held out for months under internal conditions had not external factors been so bad.

"The Germans were too reckless; they did not know much of hurry to get things done," he said.

No Scientific Tactics

"For instance, in attacking our machine guns—which are the best in the world—they utilized no scientific means. It seemed to us that the only way they knew to eliminate a machine gun nest was to keep coming until they got it."

He inquired eagerly about the effects of German artillery fire. He also wanted to know what the doughboys thought of the German soldiers' courage and ability.

The government has issued a proclamation calling for volunteers for a "people's army," it also has urged demobilized soldiers not to remain unemployed but to go to work in construction, agriculture, and other industries.

People supporting the present government want strong action against the Spartacus group and a quick peace.

The Workmen and Soldiers' council was scheduled to meet today.

BERLIN, Dec. 16.—Berlin is awaiting expectantly the outcome of the convention of the retarding party, its president, Konstantin Fehrenbach, in defiance of the Ebert-Haase government. The meeting was to be held today "somewhere in the Rhinegebiet."

The present government, which intended to summon the retarding later to give the ministry parliamentary support, has announced that any deputy attending the proposed insurrection session will be guilty of treason.

To Protect Session

Wild rumors are afoot concerning the significance of Fehrenbach's move. It is reported that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg will send troops to protect the meeting.

The Ebert-Haase government, which is sending the assembly through the election of delegates to the national workmen's and soldiers' council in which the Spartacus group failed to gain a single representative. Chancellor Ebert's majority socialists lead with seven workmen and four soldier delegates. Dr. Haase was next with five workmen and two soldiers.

WITH THE AMERICANS ACROSS
THE RHINE, MUNICH, (M. (By courier to Nancy.)—The first American women to reach the Rhine, in the line of march, have arrived here.

They numbered seventy-two and were attached to evacuation hospitals two and nine. Their arrival attracted considerable attention from townspeople. Some of the girls walked to the river, where columns of the first infantry regiments were crossing. The doughboys saluted and cheered them.

Included in the party are nine girls from the Presbyterian unit of Chicago, half a dozen from New York, city and state, and a number from Cleveland, Kansas City and other middlewestern cities.

Wounded Yanks Arrive

While the first was crossing the Rhine, ten wounded Americans, released from German hospitals, arrived on the east bank, opposite Coblenz. As they limped across they were greeted by yells of welcome from the doughboys.

All the wounded men said they were treated well by the Germans.

The first, second and thirty-second divisions are nearing the end of their 200-mile march. By Monday they will halt at the edge of the semi-circular bridge head. Under the new plan, the Americans will occupy the area north of the Ems river, and the French the remainder.

PRESIDENT IS VERY ANXIOUS TO COMMENCE

Public Opinion in France Said to Be Swinging Steadily in Direction of American Views As to Peace Objects

By ROBERT J. BENDER

PARIS, Dec. 16.—President Wilson has indicated to the Allied leaders his desire to get down to work as soon as possible.

The president and Premier Clemenceau exchanged ideas on the course of procedure to be followed. It is understood the American delegates are in favor of the preliminaries being conducted by Wilson and one representative each from France, Italy and Great Britain.

This body would formulate a series of proposals which would be submitted to open conference of the full delegations of all the entente belligerents for debate, prior to drafting the final treaty.

Sons of the entente representatives, it is reported, favor having the full delegation of America, Great Britain, France and Italy, and one representative of Japan, draw up the treaty and submit it to the other entente belligerents for signature.

Voting Powers a Problem

It is understood that the question of the voting powers of the respective nations will be one of the big problems for which no definite plan has yet been developed.

Wilson is continuing to work hard for a favorable vote. A long direct telephone line connects his room with Cabinet House's room.

In a conference yesterday in which House, Clemenceau, Henry, White and Herbert Hoover participated, arrangements were made for the fullest publicity throughout the world, concerning America's position.

American Views Popular

The conviction is growing that public opinion is swinging more and more into line behind American views. This conviction is borne out by press comment here and reports from other Allied and neutral countries.

At 2:30 this afternoon, President Wilson will be officially received at the Hotel De Ville, as a citizen of Paris.

The city is greatly impressed by the simplicity with which the president placed a wreath on Lafayette's tomb yesterday. He was accompanied only by Brigadier-General Haast, a French aide and a secret service man.

Attached to the wreath he wrote: "For the soul of Lafayette, we thank you, vestal of liberty."

A number of aged men, who happened to be in the cemetery, were greatly confused by Wilson's unbridled appearance. They were the only native witnesses of the simple ceremony.

The street celebrations, in Wilson's honor continued all day yesterday and last night.

May Investigate Official Delays

Pathetic Appeals From Soldiers' Dependents Stir Up Lawmakers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Scrapping congressional investigation of delay in forwarding "installments to soldiers' dependents, is in prospect. Stirred by pathetic appeals from dependents who in some cases are suffering hardships because of the failure to receive allowances, members of both houses declare some way must be found to remedy this condition immediately.

A resolution of inquiry has been framed for introduction in the Senate early next week. A machinery, combining with the Spanish influenza epidemic, was blamed for delay of nearly two months in payment of government allotments to soldiers' families by the war risk insurance bureau.

Proposed Session Declared Treason

ZURICH, Dec. 16.—President Fehrenbach of the reichstag has decided to convene that body somewhere in the Rhineeland and Field Marshal Von Hindenburg will dispatch troops to defend it, according to reports received here.

The German government has declared that deputies responding to Fehrenbach's call will be guilty of treason.

SLAVES AND ITALIAN SLAVES

ROME, Dec. 16.—Relations between Italians and Jugoslavs along the Austrian coast are growing tense, according to dispatches from Zara to the Giornale Italia. The presence of French warships, suddenly riding with the Jugoslavs, is increasing the danger of a clash. The American fleet, it is believed, will find an impartial zone.

ARMISTICE IS PROLONGED

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 16.—The Turkish armistice has been prolonged to Jan. 17, subject to further extension.

SOCIALISTS OF FRANCE GIVEN WILSON'S IDEA

Co-operation of Nations Along Fixed and Definite Lines Only Way to Make Sure of an Unbroken Peace

PARIS, Dec. 14 (By government wires).—Replying to the address of a socialist delegation, President Wilson today declared that to prevent a repetition of the wrongs suffered through that present, it will be necessary to have "an co-operation of the nations which shall have upon fixed and definite covenants, and which shall be made effective through the instrumentality of a league of nations." The speech follows:

"Gentlemen: I received with great interest the address which you have just read me. The war, through which we have just passed has illustrated in a way which can never be forgotten the extraordinary wrongs which can be perpetrated by arbitrary and irresponsible power."

"It is not possible to secure the happiness and prosperity of the world to establish an enduring peace unless the repetition of such wrongs is rendered impossible. We must therefore make a people's war. It has been waged against absolutism and militarism and these enemies of liberty from this time forth must be put out from the possibility of working their evil will upon mankind. In my judgment it is not sufficient to establish this principle. It is necessary that it should be supported by a co-operation of the nations which shall be based upon fixed and definite covenants and which shall make certain of effective action through the instrumentality of a league of nations."

France Will Agree.

"I believe this to be the conviction of all thoughtful and liberal men. I am confident that this is the thought of those who lead your own great nation and I am looking forward with particular pleasure to co-operating with them in securing guarantees of a living peace of justice and right mean, which shall justify the sacrifices of this war and cause men to look back upon these sacrifices as upon the dramatic and final processes of their emancipation."

He declared that the German publicity bureau in this country ordered Lutheran priests to preach sermons favorable to Germany before the United States entered the war. These men were delivered in German.

CHURCHES USED TO HELP WORK OF WAR LORDS

Apologists of Culture Sent to America During War Under Guse of Foreign Missionaries, Evidence Shows

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—How under the guise of foreign missions, Germany sent the United States apologist and cultural emissaries to the aid of the anti-war propagandists here.

Lester said some parsons of the German Lutheran churches were sent here from the Krupp Institute in Germany.

This is the theological seminary of the branch of the German Lutheran church, which is state church in parts of Germany.

He declared that the German publicity bureau in this country ordered Lutheran priests to preach sermons favorable to Germany before the United States entered the war. These men were delivered in German.

One Now in Prison.

"Some of them couldn't stop it when we entered the war," said Lester. "The greatest difficulty was caused by their work among soldiers in the training camps."

One pro-German preacher got appointed as a chaplain. He was caught and is serving 16 years. Others were imprisoned under the espionage laws.

"In fairness to the Lutheran church it must be said that the authorities of the church and the American element took and are taking the most vigorous steps to meet the situation and to combat to meet pro-Germans."

"They are also considering the elimination of German, as the language of their church services and parochial schools."

Lester said 1,000 individual cases of propaganda spread through Lutheran ministers had been investigated.

Lester submitted to the committee a confidential memorandum showing of forces of German propagandists to defeat Liberty loans, attacking the Red Cross and the policies of the government generally.

Let Draft Law Alone.

He declared that in case one person had been loyal—they did not attempt, except in isolated cases, to obstruct the draft law, he said.

Senator Sterling asked whether Lester had evidence showing efforts of German agents to influence senators and members of the house. Lester said he had a score of letters turned over to him by Senator Calder, New York, stating efforts to get him to vote for a declaration of war. Other evidences of similar character also had been gathered, Lester said.

A number of dispatches from William Bayard Hale's "Herald" correspondent in Berlin, were introduced in evidence.

"In a message regarding tolls, Hale's statement from Mr. Hearst would be widely printed here might have much influence."

Another message dated February 12, 1917, referred to Wilson's alleged information for England.

War Department Rules Soldiers Can Wear Clothes Had at Month One

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Secretary Baker informed Chairman Dent of the house military committee Friday that the war department had decided that all discharged soldiers may permanently retain the uniform and overcoat they wore when mustered out. ARISTOCRATS OF IDAHO HERDS TO COME HERE

Sales Manager Promises Sale of Pure Bred Sows in Twin Falls Will Be Banner Event for Idaho Swine Growers.

The Idaho State Swine Growers Association, in connection with the joint Institute of Agricultural, Livestock, and Marketing Association societies of Idaho and Boise Falls, will hold its annual sale on January 3-6 of pure bred sows which, according to Jess S. Richards of Virginia, Idaho, sales manager, the association intends making "the banner event ever held by the swine growers of Idaho."

"I expect many Utah breeders of pure bred swine to be in attendance," Mr. Richards says, and adds, "I can assure you that the sows sold will be the highest class ever gathered together in a western state. The thirty head will be contributed by about 18 of the best breeders of pure bred hogs in the state of Idaho. Every sow is being personally selected out of the pure bred stock of William Kerr, state swine specialist, and he is selecting the best individuals in each of the herds contributing."

BUREAU DOES MUCH TO REDUCE CHOLERA LOSSES

W. A. Sullivan Has Figures Presented at Chicago Meeting Show Three-fourths Saved.

As a result of co-operation of swine growers with the inspectors of the bureau of animal industry, the toll of hog cholera in the United States has been reduced from 10 per cent. in the last four years to 1.4 per cent. Dr. Sullivan, inspector in charge of the Bureau of Animal Industry hog cholera control investigations in Idaho since July, 1914, who returned Saturday from Chicago where he attended a meeting of several inspectors in charge of hog cholera control work throughout the United States with the chief of the bureau of animal industry.

While in Chicago, Dr. Sullivan also attended the International Livestock show and was gratified when the grand championship was won by a farrow of Hampshire swine presented by Knell and company of Peosta. These sheep were sold at auction for a Chicago price of $49.12 a pound.

E. P. Blodgett, field supervisor of the man for the state university extension department, attended the livestock show. Dr. Sullivan stated and later went to Zanesville and Madison, Wisconsin, where he purchased 100 purebred Holstein cattle for Idaho dairymen.

OH JOY, A WHITE CHRISTMAS!

Perhaps.

Lucky is the man who marries a widow whose first husband was mean to her—Chicago Evening Post.

Shedding Light:

There are persons whose very presence smell cheer and inspiration. There may be times when we can do nothing to help our friends, but we can do something to help them if we can offer our own lamp of faith and love burns clear.

Well Described:

A short time ago we were discussing a friend, who, while her/his hair had grown white with the years, had retained a youthful figure. A few days afterward Ruth, referring to her, said, "You know who I mean, Aunty—that lady who looks so young behind and in front"—Chicago Tribune.

Pulse in Animals:

The normal pulse beats per minute in the domestic animals are as follows: Horse, 35 to 42; cattle, 38 to 50; sheep, goats and hogs, 70 to 80; and dogs, 80 to 100. The pulse beats faster in young than in old animals. Excitement and a nervous temperament may cause a more rapid pulse. When exercising and immediately after, the rate is higher than when the animal is at rest.

Seek Healthy View Point.

If you desire to possess a broad healthy point of view, observe the hordes of rascals, unhappy men and women who have failed to find happiness through a worship of false gods and who find it only after having found a purpose that would effectively serve humanity. They will teach you a lesson in the fullness of striving after the things that serve no useful end. Get a healthy viewpoint upon life!

Object Lesson:

Stolid and serious Mary felt keenly responsible for the deportment of her younger sister, Margaret, who was entirely lacking in a sense of decorum. At a children's party one afternoon Mary was horrified to see her sister chewing gum with all the vigor and abandon of her nature, literally sweeping the offender into a corner. Mary pointed out a third little guest who was managing her stick of gum with commendable moderation and restraint. "Margaret," she said severely, "I want you to notice how a lady chews gum."

Became Masons During War.

The following are but a few of the Masons who became distinguished during the Civil War: McMillan, Hancock, Grant, Pleasants, McClellan, Albert Pike, Miles and Gen. John Connor, Smith of Illinois. This latter was noted as a Masonic writer and author, and served in the Civil War in every grade from private to brigadier general. Later he became lieutenant governor of Illinois and general grand master of the Grand Lodge of Illinois and grand master of Grand Encampment Knights Templars of America.

PRESIDENT IS VERY ANXIOUS TO COMMENCE

Public Opinion in France Said to Be Swinging Steadily in Direction of American Views As to Peace Objects

By ROBERT J. DENDER

PARIS, Dec. 16.—President Wilson has indicated to the Allied leaders his desire "to get down to work as soon as possible."

The president and Premier Clemenceau exchanged ideas on the course of procedure in a conference yesterday. It is understood the American delegates are in favor of the plenipotentiaries being conducted by Wilson and one representative each from France, Italy and Great Britain.

This body would formulate a series of proposals which would be submitted to open conference of the full delegations of all the entente belligerents for debate, prior to drafting the final treaty.

Some of the entente representatives, it is reported, favor having the full delegations of America, Great Britain, France and Italy, and one representative of Japan, draw up the terms and submit it to the other entente belligerents for signature.

Voting Power a Problem

It is understood that the question of the voting powers of the respective nations will be one of the big problems for which no definite plan has yet been developed.

Wilson is continuing to work hard, however fatigued. A private direct telephone links him to his room with Cabinet House's room.

In a conference yesterday in which House, Clemenceau, Henry White and Herbert Hoover participated, arrangements were made for the fullest publicity throughout the world concerning America's position.

American Votes Popular

The conviction is growing that public opinion is swinging more and more into line behind American views. This confidence is borne out by press comment here and reports from other Allied and neutral countries.

At 8:30 this afternoon, President Wilson will be officially received at the Hotel De Ville, as a citizen of Paris.

The city is greatly impressed by the simplicity with which the president placed a wreath on Lafayette's tomb yesterday. He was accompanied only by Brigadier-General Harris, a French aide, and a secret service man.

Attached to the wreath was his personal card, on which he wrote: "For the great Lafayette from a fellow servant of liberty."

A number of aged men who happened to be in the cemetery were greatly moved by Wilson's thoughtful appearance. They were the only native witnesses of the simple ceremony.

The street celebrations in Wilson's honor continued all day yesterday and last night.

May Investigate Official Delays

Pathetic Appeals From Soldiers' Dependents Stir Up Lawmakers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Gathering Congressmen for investigation of delay in forwarding to the War Department soldiers' dependents' claims. Gitterman, chairman of the committee, is in a quandary. Either he must be loyal—they did not attempt, except in isolated cases, to obstruct the draft law, he said.

Senator Sterling asked whether Lester had evidence showing efforts of German agents to influence senators and members of the house. Lester said he had a score of letters turned over to him by Senator Calfee, New York, showing efforts to get him to vote against a declaration of war. Other evidence of similar character also had been gathered, Lester said.

A number of dispatches from William Haywood, Hearst correspondent in Berlin, were introduced in evidence.

In a message regarding tolls, Hale made this statement: "Patricia wife's statement from Mr. Hearst would be widely printed here might have much influence."

Another message dated February 13, 1917, referred to Wilson's alleged admission for England.

The German government has declared that deputies responding to Perlman's call will be guilty of treason.

SOCIALISTS OF FRANCE GIVEN WILSON'S IDEA

Co-operation of Nations Along Fixed and Definite Lines Only Way to Make Sure of an Unbroken Peace

PARIS, Dec. 14 (By government wire)—Referring to the visit of a socialist delegation, President Wilson today declared that to prevent repetition of the wrongs suffered through the present war, it will be necessary to form a "co-operation of the nations which shall be based upon fixed and definite covenants, and which shall be made effective through the instrumentality of a league of nations." The speech follows:

"Gentlemen: I received with great interest the address which you have just read to me. The war, through which we have just passed has illustrated in a way which never can be forgotten the extraordinary wrongs which can be perpetrated by arbitrary and irresponsible power.

"It is not possible to secure the happiness and prosperity of the world to establish an enduring peace unless the repetition of such wrongs is rendered impossible. We must indeed make a people's war. It has been waged against absolutism and militarism and these enemies of liberty from this time forth must be put out from the possibility of working their cruel will upon mankind." In my judgment it is not sufficient to establish this principle. It is necessary that it should be supported by a co-operation of the nations which shall be based upon fixed and definite covenants and which shall be made certain of effective action through the instrumentality of a league of nations."

France Will Agree

"I believe this to be the conviction of all thoughtful and liberal men. I am confident that this is the thought of those who lead your own great nation and I am looking forward with pleasure to co-operating with them in securing guarantees of a living peace of justice and right mean, which shall justify the sacrifices of this war and cause men to look back upon these sacrifices as upon the dramatic and final processes of their emancipation."

MEN CAN RETAIN UNIFORMS

War Department Ended Soldier Can Keep Clothes Held at Master Out

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Secretary Baker informed Chairman Dent of the house committee Friday that the war department had decided that all discharged soldiers may permanently retain the uniforms and overcoat they were when mustered out. Mr. Dent prepared a bill embodying the necessary authority. Previously the department had planned to have the clothing returned to the government three months after a soldier's discharge.

In fairness to the Lutheran church it must be said that the authorities of the church and the American element took and are taking the most vigorous action to cast off Germans.

"They are also considering the elimination of German as the language of their church services and parochial schools," he said.

Lester said 1,800 individual cases of propaganda spread through Lutheran ministers had been investigated.

Lester submitted to the committee a confidential memorandum showing efforts of German propagandists to defeat Liberty loans, attacking the Red Cross and the policies of the government generally.

LET DRAFT LAW ALONE

He declared that in our respect even the pro-German Lutheran ministers had been loyal—they did not attempt, except in isolated cases, to obstruct the draft law, he said.

Senator Sterling asked whether Lester had evidence showing efforts of German agents to influence senators and members of the house. Lester said he had a score of letters turned over to him by Senator Calfee, New York, showing efforts to get him to vote against a declaration of war. Other evidence of similar character also had been gathered, Lester said.

It is interesting to note that in the old Lebanon Presbyterian church, near Alma, S. C., which church has gone down, a good church organ was allowed to remain in the church building and rot.

It has been very many years since any services were held in the building, while in its day was one of the best church buildings in this entire section.

The carpet still remains on the floor, the old Bible still stands on the stand and the organ was never claimed by any one. The building is almost rotten, the door having rotted and fallen down.

Theory Advanced Concerning Appearances in Walls of the Casa Grande Ruins in Arizona.

According to a National Park newspaper bulletin issued by the department of the interior, there is much speculation and concern on the part of tourists and archeologists over two pairs of holes in the walls of the Casa Grande ruins in Arizona. The holes are about an inch and a half in diameter and are bored through walls four feet thick. They occur in pairs, one pair on opposite sides of a great central room. The holes in each pair are in line with each other so that one standing in a dark first-story room below the center room may look through the innermost hole at the sky. One pair is at the ceiling, the other pair is about six inches from the ceiling angle.

"One can only assume that the tribe which built this most ancient of primitive temples were deeply religious people, and worshippers of the sun. An interesting theory was recently advanced to explain the holes. It is said that three holes form what might be called a seasonal clock. Twice a year, once at

ARISTOCRATS OF IDAHO HERDS TO COME HERE

Sales Manager Promises Sale of Pure Bred Sows in Twin Falls Will Be Banner Event for Idaho Swine Growers

The Idaho State Swine Growers association, in conjunction with the Agricultural Institute of Agriculture, Livestock, Engineering and Irrigation societies of Idaho in Twin Falls, January 13-16, will hold on January 16 a sale of pure bred sows which, according to Jess B. Bichards of Virgina, Idaho, sales manager, the association intends making "the banner event over held by the swine growers of Idaho."

"I expect many Utah breeders of pure bred swine to be in attendance," Mr. Bichards says, and adds, "I can assure you that the sows sold will be the highest class ever gathered together in a western state. The thirty head will be distributed by about 18 of the leading breeders of pure-bred hogs in the state of Idaho. The sows will be personally selected out of the pure-bred hogs by William Korn, state swine specialist, and he's selecting the best individual in each of the herds participating."

BUREAU DOES MUCH TO REDUCE CHOLERA LOSSES

Dr. W. A. Sullivan Says Figures Presented at Chicago Meeting Show Three-fourths Saved

As a result of co-operation of swine growers with the inspectors of the bureau of animal industry, the toll of hog cholera in the United States has been reduced 75 per cent in the last four years, says Dr. W. A. Sullivan, inspector in charge of hog cholera control in the bureau of animal industry. His cholera control investigations in Idaho since July, 1914, when he returned Saturday from Chicago where he attended a meeting of the several inspectors in charge of hog cholera control work throughout the United States with the chief of the bureau of animal industry.

While in Chicago, Dr. Sullivan also attended the International Livestock show and was gratified when the grand championship was won by a herd of Hampshire hams exhibited by the McAllister and company of Postville. These sheep were sold at auction to a Chicago packer for 49.13 cents a pound.

E. H. Hinckley, field animal husbandman for the state recently extended his vacation to the Nevada sheep show. Dr. Sullivan stated, and later went to Zanesville and Madison, Wisconsin, where he purchased 400 purebred Holstein cattle for Idaho dairy men.

Long Sentences for Two Idle Girls Get Results in Atlanta Work House

Atlanta, Ga.—"You can't make 'em work," declared Nellie Atkins and Ruth Ward, both seventeen years old, sentenced to work at the stockade. And they punctured their remarks by breaking out window panes. The girls again faced the recorder.

"Thirty days more," said Judge Johnson. "It is just possible that we can't make you work, but we can keep reviewing your sentence."

The girls thought it over. They are now industriously occupied in the stockade laundry.

An Old Man Fighting.
Kansas City, Mo.—For the third time in eight years John Blagg, an eighty-year-old man of Kansas City, Kan., was held up the other night. Two negroes attempted to rob him, but they were given the same lesson that their predecessors on the same mission had learned, that Blagg is some fighter. The extra highwayman was more than Blagg had been accustomed to contend with, and although he successfully defended his valuables Dr. H. L. Blagg was later called upon to give his treatment at police headquarters.

To Keep Off Evil Spirits.
Highland Park, Ill.—Togo Serikawa, a butler by profession, and a Japanese by instinct, was found recently one morning under the bed of Mrs. J. D. Purdy of this town. Mr. Purdy, disturbed by sounds uncanny, found him. Togo looked surprised when Purdy demanded an explanation.

"Sleep under the bed every night to keep evil spirits away," was his explanation, which strange to say, did not satisfy.

Whatever will contribute to its hastening, even to the giving of assistance required to the outlaw nation, will have the support of the American people, so long as essential justice is done.

BUHL INSTITUTES SEARCH FOR NEW WATER SUPPLY

Official Consideration Plans for Building Source at Antelope Springs or Clear Lake

BUHL—While the water supply of Buhl is sufficient for the present, it is very evident that if the city should increase in future to the extent that the Buhl River cannot make sufficient plant for securing a better and more substantial system for supplying water to the residents of this city.

The officers are now looking into the matter and a number of solutions have been offered which would relieve the situation, but of course they are all talk as yet, and as soon as anything definite can be learned it will be put before the public. One of the most plausible schemes so far is to pipe the water from Antelope Springs, 24 miles southwest of Buhl. This is splendid water at these springs and the flow is said to be sufficient to supply a city of 10,000 and it is not believed to cost much to pipe it into Buhl.

Another proposition has been advanced which would secure water from Clear Lake, but one of the great disadvantages of this would be the cost of pumping. There is no doubt that this is the best water in the state, but in order to get it into Buhl a pumping plant would have to be installed and to maintain it in the future would be one continual nightmare. The initial outlay in securing water from Antelope Springs would be the heaviest expense, and as this would be a gravity system, the upkeep would be very light. Engineers who have made a survey of this project seem to think it the most feasible plan. The water question is being freely discussed at present and some action may be taken in the near future. There is no doubt about the supply being behind the city at the rate of progress that is being made and something will have to be done sooner or later to relieve the situation.

WORK IN SHADOW OF DEATH

Lives of Those Engaged in Manufacture of Explosives Are of Necessary in Constant Danger.

Explosives are, almost or quite without exception, composed of substances which are endothermic in character, that is, heat is evolved when they are formed; and this heat is eliminated when they decompose. Hence, moreover, accelerants, all chemical changes. Hence, writes Henry P. Talbot in Atlantic Monthly: "If (even a very small) part of an explosive mass begins to break down from any cause the heat liberated promotes the rapidity of the change, and this, in turn, is communicated to neighboring portions, until the entire mass may be involved and destroyed."

So far as it is humanly possible to do, all exciting causes must be foreseen and forestalled, and the lack of stability during storage has necessitated the discarding of many materials otherwise of great promise, because of the hazard of external instability. The behavior of a substance is known, however, to be dependent upon nitrogen, iodine may be cited. This compound explodes with great violence. If touched with a feather—a literal instance of being "touched to death"—and often it is exploded by the mere friction of the air when moved from one spot to another. Such sensitiveness as this obviously places a substance outside the bounds of practical usefulness; but all explosives are, in the very nature of the case, unstable and their preservation involves the study of factors which differ from this case in degree rather than in kind.

WORTHY TO VEIL ROYALTY

Queen of Siam, the Possessor of Probably Most Magnificent Garment in the World.

The Queen of Siam owns a toilet article which is altogether calculated to fill the hearts of all other ladies of the kingdom with ardent desire and envy. For the Queen is the happy possessor of a veil capable of beautifying her face most wonderfully. This is a delicate tissue of the finest threads, but woven so as to have no mesh, no resistance.

Part of this three-inches-long veil is intended to conceal the face, while the remainder flows down over the figure, and closely nestles to the body. The veil, which is made of gold thread, is completely sewn over with diamonds, while the part in front is less dusted, so as not to impair the face and the organs of sense. The lowest ends of the veil are covered with brilliant.

The tissue of the veil is so prepared as to cause change in color when exposed to the sun. No sooner has the wearer stepped into the street than the veil assumes a delicate rose hue, which deepens and, as it were, becomes animate the longer it remains in the open. When the queen returns to her abode the hue passes away and the veil turns pale and dead as before.

The veil has been credited with possessing the most wonderful powers. For a century it has been in the possession of the queen of Siam, and although constantly used and exposed to all kinds of influences of the weather, it has not lost anything of its texture and beauty.

Courtesy a Business Asset

Courtesy is the life of trade.

To be sure you have the goods, but you have to sell them. A certain big establishment in which the chief business is to meet people and make them feel at home. He has a pleasant post a short distance from the door and it's business to see every one that comes in. He has a handshake and a smile for everybody.

When people come in that do not seem to know where they want to go he talks with them and learns their needs and sees that they get in touch with the proper clerks. The crowd buys there because it is made to feel that the store is interested in them; and they pay less for the goods, too, because they buy in such large quantity that the store can afford to sell at lower rates and still make money. That's the reason it sells more furniture, carpets and general furnishings than all the other stores combined in that town. Courtesy and service are the watchword and they find a room in it—Pennsylvania Girl.

big establishment in which the chief business is to meet people and make them feel at home. He has a pleasant post a short distance from the door and it's business to see every one that comes in. He has a handshake and a smile for everybody.

When people come in that do not seem to know where they want to go he talks with them and learns their needs and sees that they get in touch with the proper clerks. The crowd buys there because it is made to feel that the store is interested in them; and they pay less for the goods, too, because they buy in such large quantity that the store can afford to sell at lower rates and still make money. That's the reason it sells more furniture, carpets and general furnishings than all the other stores combined in that town. Courtesy and service are the watchword and they find a room in it—Pennsylvania Girl.

It is a pleasure to be sure, to be sure, and the goods, but you have to sell them. A

CANAL MANAGER TO LEAD TALK ON PLAN OF WORK

Twin Falls County Farm Bureau
Members to Determine Program and Elect Officers for Coming Year.

Following the report of the committee to suggest a program for the next year's work at the annual meeting of the members of the Twin Falls County farm bureau, to be held Saturday on Tuesday next, a discussion from the floor will be led by J. C. Wheeler, general manager of the Twin Falls Can company.

Sugared Fields.

Among the subjects that probably will be covered in the report and discussion are the following: Sugar beet crop and prices for 1919; wheat and the amount to be raised; pure bred Dickow wheat in the Twin Falls county; campaign of extermination against sparrows in February; getting tested peas and beans for garden planting; control of spuds, ground squirrels, rabbits and grasshoppers; marketing of hay, lambs and poultry products; more cattle and sheep on the farm; labor and threshing problems; legislation against sheep killing dogs; wheats, pensants and "anything else for the farmer's benefit."

Forenoon Session.

The meeting will be called to order at 10:30 o'clock by President W. E. Alworth, who will give a short talk on the farm bureau accomplishments of the past year.

Following an explanation for appointment of committees on program of work and nominations as given at the Burley conference, the chair will appoint, if the meeting is favorable, the members of these two committees and also of two other committees, one on suggested legislation and another on revision of the constitution and by-laws.

Reports will be given by the farm bureau treasurer, the boys' and girls' club leader, and the home demonstration agent, at the forenoon session.

County Agent to Report.

The afternoon session will be opened with the singing of "America." The county agent will make his report and suggestions. The reports of the several committees named in the forenoon session then will be received, and election of officers for the coming year will take place. The appointment of a permanent appropriation committee is the final order of business.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD

Following a business meeting at the Odd Fellows Hall, Wednesday, Dec. 18, will be a banquet and smoke. All men are invited.

E. F. PRATER, Clerk.

BLOOD SONNING

Basin's "In Glaze's Forest" went well.

How "lockjaw" and blood poisoning result from the neglect of a slight scratch or little cut! Hammarby's "A Cure" is a safe and effective first aid treatment. It is a powerful antiseptic and should be applied immediately to wounds of this kind to prevent danger of infection.

It is soothing and healing and quickly drives out pain and inflammation. It relieves the effects of acute burns, bites and stings. Just as reliable, too, for stiff neck, sore feet, cold sores, canker sores, carbuncles and toothache.

Cost of druggists for 30 cents. If not satisfied return the bottle and get your money back.

Ever constipated—or have sick headaches? Just try Wizard Liver Whips, pleasant little pink pills, 30 cents. Guaranteed.

Chrysanthemum is China's. There is a common belief that the chrysanthemum originated in Japan, but like many other good things, it was really borrowed from the Chinese. It is, however, the royal flower of Japan, appears on the seal of the emperor, and on the postage stamp of the country, while it has been the principal feature of an annual fest for 800 years. Adopted though it was, the Japanese have done so much with the chrysanthemum that they feel they have a right to call it their own.
