LIEBKNECHT CALLS FOR EBERT'S DEFEAT

Refusal of Permission to Attend National Meeting of Workmen and Soldiers' Council Results in Vicious Speech

By FRANK J. TAYLOR

BERLIN, Dec. 16 (1:30 p. m.)—Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg, Bolshevik leaders, today were refused permission to attend the national meeting of workmen and soldiers' councils. Radical members introduced a resolution demanding for Liebknecht and his aid the right to sit in the conference, but they were out-voted by a huge majority.

Nothing Now Verbotten

The bourgeoisie and the newspapers demand stronger action from Ebert and Haase, but probably would support any government capable of insuring peace, order and the necessary support of a revolution. The revolution seems to have eliminated the word "verbotten" from the German language. There is an atmosphere of lack of restraint wherever one goes. Every one is disposed to do just as he pleases.

Shooting Mostly Over

The recent disorders, in which Spartacus forces clashed with government troops, have entirely disappeared. There is still an occasional free-for-all between the rival factions, but there is no shooting and the damage usually is limited to a few black eyes and broken noses.

At least 50,000 persons gathered outside the Prussian parliament building during the altercation. When it became known that the Bolshevik leaders had been turned down, Liebknecht suddenly appeared on the roof of the parliament building and began to address the crowds. He was wildly cheered.

Down With Ebert

Although surrounded by government soldiers, Liebknecht spoke fearlessly. He led cries of "Down with Scheidemann!" "Down with Ebert!" "Down with Haase!" and "Down with the bourgeoisie!" He was sitting in the house within sound of his voice.

Liebknecht concluded his speech from the roof with an appeal for the proletariat en masse, to proclaim a social and political revolution.

RAIN PREVENTS DAY'S ACTIVITY

Presidential Trip to Marne Battlefield Cancelled Because of Weather

By ROBERT J. BENDER

PARIS, Dec. 17.—A heavy rain necessitated calling off President Wilson's projected trip to the Marne battlefield today. It also prevented the president and American dignitaries from playing golf at St. Cloud, which had been planned for six a. m.

The president arose later than usual and expected to spend most of the day indoors. This afternoon he will confer separately with Edwin Hurley, Marshal Foch and Italian Ambassador Celerio, the latter presumably about the details of the trip to Rome.

Tonight the Wilsons, Polonceau and about fifty distinguished Frenchmen and Americans will be the guests of Ambassador and Mrs. Sharp at dinner. A reception will follow.

Crew of Norwegian Bark Set Adrift After Sinking of Ship One Thousand Miles From Nearest Land

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The life of pirates suited the officers and crew of the U. K-152 so well that they were disappointed when the armistice was signed.

This statement was made by Lieutenant Julius H. Fuler, U. S. N., of Norfolk, Virginia, who has arrived here today on the Casar de Colon. He and Lieutenant Frank L. Muller, U. S. N., of Oakland, California, were prisoners aboard the U. K-152 when hostilities ceased.

Fuler and Muller were captured when the United States freighter Ticonderoga was sunk in mid-Atlantic September 20. Fuler said the submarine crew was usually well on the supplies they took from their victims. They were all enthusiastic Kaiserists and were bitterly opposed to the revolution.

Sea Crew Adrift

After the sinking of the Ticonderoga, U. K-152, which was a big submarine of the Deutschland type, came to the American coast. On October 11, the U. K-152 and other submarines in these waters were ordered down, while on their way back to sea. The Norwegian bark Skiffadale and set her crew adrift in open boats, 1,000 miles from shore.

LARGE AREA IN YANKEE HANDS

Nearly Five Thousand Square Miles of Germany Occupied By Americans

By WEBB MILLER

WITH THE AMERICANS ACROSS THE RHINE, Dec. 16.—(By courier, to Nancy)—The third army now occupies a strip of Germany containing more than 4,000 square miles. It is upon the administration of several hundred villages and operating hundreds of miles of railroads and street car lines.

The methodical taking over of this tremendous responsibility, with the multitudinous needs of hundreds of thousands of hostile people will be almost entirely accomplished within fifteen days.

No Precedent in History

There is not a precedent in history for this occupation, which is also remarkable in that it was finished without a single serious hostile demonstration by either inhabitants or troops.

An army of 250,000 men marched between 200 and 300 miles in a month, starting almost immediately after weeks of the hardest kind of fighting. In the last six weeks, men and officers have undergone probably the most severe physical test that any American army has ever experienced. Yet as they marched, the blues after weeks of a magnificent appearance despite their worn and mud-spattered uniforms. Many of the men were wearing the same uniforms they had in their last fighting.

They are in Bad Shape. The shoes of some were torn and worn out, but they limped along, refusing to fall out and insisting they would hang on and finish the job. Every phase of the occupation was completed in exact accordance with plans made weeks before the march began. Even the Germans admit they were surprised by the smoothness and directness of the method of occupation.

GERMAN NATION IS NOW BUSY IN RUNNING ITSELF

Entire People Gropping in Political Chaos—Leadership Hesitant and Future Wrapped in Mantle of Uncertainty

By FRANK J. TAYLOR

BERLIN, Dec. 14 (Delayed)—Germany is groping in a political sea. She can be compared to a huge industry from which the owners have been removed, leaving the workers in control. Every department is running without orders, seemingly from force of habit, while self-delegated leaders cautiously attempt to organize things. The greatest hopes are centered in the Reichstag, the assembly of the entire country, which meets in Weimar while the Reichstag will be convoked later in response to the call of its president, Konstantin Fehrenbach. The people hope and expect that both meetings will elect the unified government of the Ebert-Haase government, which is regarded as the leading factor for a socialist republic. Such support, it is believed, will enable the people's council to call a constituent assembly before the armistice expires on January 17.

Majority for Ebert

The public seems to be entirely behind the socialist-republican party, which includes the majority socialist under Chancellor Ebert and Friedrich Schulermann, combined with the national socialist under Adolf Ehrig, Haase, Wilhelm Dieckmann and Richard Bahr. The Junker party appears completely submerged. The general opinion is that the Junkers hope to retain enough land to provide an income that will enable them to retire, and that they are willing to give up participation in the government to accomplish this.

Spartacus Group Nip

The Spartacus group, led by Carl Liebknecht, represents an element that is important numerically, but is not a factor in the future. They favor setting up an entirely "social" government which would be practically Bolshevik in practice. Their ranks are being dangerously increased, however, from recruits from among the ranks of discharged soldiers, and the rapidly growing army of unemployed.

REPEAL OF DRAFT LAW FATHERED BY SEIDEL

Former Mayor of Wisconsin City Brought Into Limelight Through Revelations of Bureau Special Agent

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Socialist leaders on the war as expressed by prominent party members were read into records of the Berger trial last today. A meeting in Milwaukee, July 9, 1917, addressed by widely known socialist was described by Earl Dole, special agent of the department of justice.

"Workers will have to bear the expense of the war," Dole quoted Irving S. Tucker, defendant, as saying. Tucker criticized the conscription act, Dole said.

Against Draft Law

Dr. Mayer Seidel of Milwaukee was named by the witness as fathering a resolution urging repeal of the draft law and calling for a president Wilson to state peace terms. J. H. Maurer, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor was quoted as speaking at congress, and intimating that members of the body had large stockholdings in concerns that would profit from war.

Berger Offers Paper

Victor L. Berger's interest in the young people socialist league was the gist of testimony by P. Milroy, Aurora, Illinois. Milroy, representing the department of justice, obtained letters from William A. Kruse, secretary of the "Yipsels," to party leader. One of these notes from Kruse to Emil Wingenberger, Wisconsin state secretary, said Berger had offered his paper's aid in promoting "Yipsels" meetings and was willing to help build up the organization.

QUESTIONNAIRES NATIONAL ASSET

War Department Will Officially Seal and File Same as Historic Records

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—All questionnaires which have been filled out and returned to local draft boards, are to be kept as historical records in war department vaults here.

Practically every man in the United States between ages of 18 and 45 has filled out one of these blank forms, thereby placing himself at the service of the government in the past emergency. The only exceptions are the men near the age limit of 45, who were the last to receive questionnaires. Those which were filled out before the armistice was signed have been returned to the local draft board.

All questionnaires are to be sealed and kept for reference, it was stated today. Chief among the uses to which they will be put are:

1. Will be used in connection with the returned to local draft boards, are to be kept as historical records in war department vaults here.

TOLD EDITORS TO PLAY UP ALL GERMAN NEWS

Berger's Employes on Milwaukee Leader Tell of Policy Upon Which Congressman Conducted Paper

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Victor Berger, socialist congressman-elect, and one of the five defendants in the socialist trial here, gave instructions to his editors to "play up" Berlin and other German dispatches in his Milwaukee Leader, according to testimony at the Berger trial. The statement was made by Edward Harris, former managing editor of the Leader, and now an editor of the Milwaukee Journal.

"Berger's instructions to me were that Berlin dispatches were always to be used as leads to stories," Harris declared. "He told me to use nothing offensive to the reader, however," said Harris.

Head lines were built to bring out the Berlin phases of the news, Harris said.

Quit to Escape Trouble. Harris said that he and three other editors on the Leader, growing afraid that Berger's policy would cause them trouble, severed their connections with the paper. Before leaving the Leader, however, he said, the four prepared a protest, which they sent to Berger. He said they wrote Berger that the policy was "unreasonable, so near it that prosecution is likely to follow."

Berger replied, Harris said, "that he was the responsible head of the paper and that there would be no trouble, anyway."

On one occasion, Harris testified, Berger reprimanded him for printing a news dispatch which appeared to favor the allies. The policy of Berger in giving prominence to German news began soon after the war began, Harris declared.

SMOOT OPPOSES REVENUE BILL

Utah Senator Declares Measure Means Heavy Taxes for Years to Come

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Harshly criticizing the revenue bill in the present form, Senator Smoot, Utah, in advocating radical reforms, declared that the government would require more than $10,000,000,000 for the fiscal year 1920 and that "it would" will be obliged to "pay heavy taxes for years to come."

Smoot insisted that the revenue bill as written is unfair to business.

"Business men do not object paying necessary taxes, whether in peace or war," he said. "They do object to the form of the present bill which is the crimminality in it's character and unjust."

"Under the present bill some business men will be forced to pay four and five times as much as their competitors."

Smoot advocated a cut per cent tax on sales which, he said, would yield more than $1,000,000,000 a year. In committee this amendment of Smoot's was defeated.

The tariff should be made to yield instead of $250,000,000 and $400,000,000 instead of $160,000,000 as provided in the present bill, he added.

DOUBLE SERVICE HEATING SCHEME HELD UNFEASIBLE

Expert Declares Cost of Warming Twin-Falls Houses With Electricity Ten Times as Great as With Coal

The Twin Falls electric company is being heated comfortably during extremely cold weather, would require 10 times the expense for electrical heat than it would for coal heat, according to an expert given before the state public utility commission by W. W. Truesler, electrical engineer of the Idaho Power company, at a hearing, being conducted to determine the possibility of utilizing electric heat for heating houses in the state.

Commenting upon the enormous investment necessary to furnish electric heat Truesler showed that it would require 27,200 kilowatts to heat all the houses in Twin Falls by electricity, which nearly equals the total output of the Idaho Power company in all of its territory.

While the Bureau statistics quoted by Truesler show that the average population of 5,500 hours of a winter season in southern Idaho when artificial heating is required.

Quoting from Truesler's report J. H. Soaver, formerly manager of the Great Shoshone company, who was called to the stand by the commission testified that the cost of electricity was a story of the past.

He installed electric heat in 23 kilowatts, but that this service was found insufficient to comfortably heat his residence.

It was pointed out that Soaver had built up a power plant for irrigation purposes from the Great Shoshone plant, which would be devoted to electric heating at a time when power is in short supply.

The plan is not practical, he testified, but not practically to be used in the Twin Falls district.

He testified that the cost of electricity for heating is ten times that of coal.

POLICE ARRANGE TRYING ORDEAL

Will Take Murder Suspect to Victim's Grave in Hope of a Confession

MUSKOGON, Mich., Dec. 17.—Miss H. Fisher, insurance man, was to be taken today to the grave of Freda Weichman, whose police kept he would break down and confess to the charge of killing her.

Letters written by the victim show the mysterious "John H. Shelton," said by Fisher to have used his name in writing the girl to be a myth, according to Charles B. Morey, police chief. These letters, sent to relatives, tell of the honeymoon tour of the girl and her husband through the south.

According to the police, Fisher admitted the matter four with the girl and also went through Michigan with her. Morey charged that Fisher, after the girl was killed at the end of the honeymoon, traveled about under aliases to escape arrest.

Piper said his friend "John Shelton" married the girl. "He then gave her to me," he said, according to Morey.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

Progress by the congressional committee of its investigation of the National Security League will be watched by the country with interest...

There is a rather general inclination to view with favor the aims and purposes of the League in its undertaking during the last campaign to make voters familiar with the war records of the several members of congress.

For heathen heart that puts his trust In the captain and his men, All valiant dust that builds on dust, And guarding calls not to the east...

Too Much Thought of Self. "Sometimes," said Uncle Eben, "a man thinks so much about his own comfort that he makes himself pitifully unbearable."

Crisp Criticism of Gospel. Gospel is a sort of smoke that comes from the dirty tobacco-pipes of those who diffuse it; it proves nothing but the bad taste of the smoker.—George Elliot.

Pencocks in the Bible. Among the natural products of the land of Tarshish, which Solomon's fleet brought to Jerusalem, mention is made of pencocks (1 Kings 10:2 and 11 Chronicles 18:16).

Finest Mining Walk. The longest bridge in the world is the Lion Bridge, over an arm of the Yellow sea in China. It is five and a quarter miles long, and the roadway is 70 feet above water.

Quality of Truth. We can be generous and liberal in our views, without being loose and intonidarian. Truth is many-sided, and no dogmatic system contains it all.—Ryland.

Little Things That Count. A few more smiles of alert sympathy, a few more tender words, a little more restraint of temper, may make all the difference between happiness and half-happiness to those who live with—Stepford Brooke.

Begin With the Individual. To reform a world, to reform a nation, no wise man will undertake; and all but foolish men know that only the soul, though far slower reformation, is what such begin, and perfect on himself.—A. Carlyle.

Platinum in Spain. Platinum deposits in the south of Spain, in a mountainous region known as the Sierra de Ronda, are reported to be extensive. The 12 or 13 rivers of the district may probably be dredged for platinum gravel for some years to come.

Use for Turpentine. A few drops (seven or eight) of turpentine on sugar swallowed slowly twice a day will cure the most severe cough.

"And Bells on Their Toes." An Englishman on first coming to New York remarked: "How clean they keep their streets and their little children wear rings!"—World Outlook.

City of Restaurants. More than $700,000,000 are invested in the restaurant business in New York city, giving employment to approximately half a million persons. Subscribe now for the NEWS.

Still Hanging Around

LET US FORGET!

God of our fathers, known of old— Lord of our far-flung battlelines—

The tumult and the shouting dies— The captain and the crew depart—

For heathen heart that puts his trust In the captain and his men, All valiant dust that builds on dust,

For frantic boast and foolish word— Thy glory on Thy people—Lord!

—Byrdard Kipling.

THE REAL ALASKA. Rex Beach gives a vivid visualization of Alaska in his holiday in "Laughing Bill Hyde," his latest Gold Standard. It depicts the general belief that the Klondike was the mecca for thieves; that diggers for gold worked during the day and lost their possessions in barroom brawls at night and that a good woman was unknown in the territory in the days when fabulous fortunes were made. GO T BEST OF ARMY OFFICERS

Leader of Picketing Band Showing Himself Fully Capable of Dealing With Emergency.

An itinerant picketing band hailing from an orphan asylum in the South struck up lively airs in one of the streets and attracted attention, according to a Saratoga Springs correspondent of the New York Evening Post. The dourly little drum major, dressed in an imposing collection of colors, rested between airs and suggested to bystanders that they make contributions for the good of the cause.

The officers, of course, immediately came to salute and remained in that posture until his grating drum major brought down his binocular on the final note. The officer, however, was dressed in the face and proceeded along his way without attempting to "spoor" the band any further. They appeared to be making remarks sotto voce.

The Reward of Kindness.

The unusual feature of arimviduality of his office to his business partner to the exclusion of his children, and not preserving any will to devise in testament in the will of a Chicago citizen, which was admitted to probate recently. The testator, an elderly man, had a large estate. In explanation of his action the testament reads: "My reasons for this are that what worldly possessions I have are due entirely to the generosity of my partner and I feel that I only owe a debt of gratitude to him. Although it is somewhat of a pleasure to leave my children something in other circumstances as I am must be just. They are young and able." The petition accompanying the document stated, however, that the decedent, a Hebrew, had no estate.

How "Black Watch" Got Name.

In the old days the regiments of the British army were known by the color of their uniforms, as the White regiment, the Blue regiment, or the Red regiment, and so on. It is quite possible, therefore, that there was a Black regiment, from whence came the Black Watch. The Red regiment, incidentally, was Cromwell's. But the term "Black Watch" was also used for the Guard of the Dominicans or Black Friars and came to be applied also to the scullions in the kitchens of the great houses, whose business it was to look after their pots and pans.

Curious Coconut Craze.

The coconut craze of Christmas is laid claim to by the way it makes its living. Except for its annual visit to the sea, it lives in a hole in the ground lined with coconut fibers and climbs up the coconut trees to eat the nuts. According to a Dominican Forester, this "robber-craze" method of carrying coconuts is to strip them of their husks and then to bind the nut under some of its walking legs. As the nut rises, raised high on the lips of those legs not used for this purpose. After removing the husk from the coconuts the crab hammers on the round depressions at one end till entrance is effected.

Guests of Local Organization

Among those in attendance at this meeting will be the boys from each county who have made the best records in sugar beets, livestock and garden clubs, and the girls who have done the best work as members of the canning, sewing, knitting and other clubs.

The champions are coming here at the expense of the counties which they represent, and arrangements for their entertainment are in charge of the local organization.

County Stunt Features

The program provides for a contest to be given by the representatives from each county. This stunt may take the form of a program, a demonstration or any other activity which the visitors may elect. There will be also contests in sewing, rope-tying, and judging of wool, potatoes and eggs. Miss Ina Stevens, physical director at the state university, will attend the meeting to direct and assist in the various games provided for. She will be assisted by Miss Florence N. Strong, Jefferson county club leader, and others.

Prizes have been planned for the winners in the sugar factory, Shoshone Falls and Blue Lakes.

The champions are to arrive here on Monday, January 13. In the evening a banquet will be served, with a state champion will act as toast master and responses will be made by a representative from each county.

To Hear Prominent Men

On Tuesday morning, Miss Britton Wolfe, county superintendent of schools, will deliver an address of welcome to the champions followed by an address by Mrs. J. C. Porterfield.

On Thursday afternoon the club members will be addressed by Governor-elect D. W. Davis, President E. H. Lindley of the University of Idaho, and by W. T. McCall, secretary of the state.

The order in which the stunts will be given is as follows: Canyon, Tuesday morning; Ada, Tuesday afternoon; Gooding, Wednesday morning; Twin Falls, Wednesday afternoon; Hamlet, Thursday morning; Madison and Fremont, Thursday afternoon; Jefferson, Friday morning; Franklin, Friday afternoon.

Learn to Do Without.
One of the best ways to learn how to do without. Few of us have everything we consider desirable and if we scramble at every little deprivation we make ourselves miserable and our associates uncomfortable. To learn to do without and yet be cheerful and happy, goes far toward making life a success.

Masonry in the Revolution.

During the American Revolution craft lodges were found in America, and a number of them existed in the Continental army. There is a record of ten regularly constituted, active lodges in the Continental army. It is claimed that General Lafayette was made a Mason at Valley Forge during the American Revolution, but R. F. Gould states in his history of Masonry that Lafayette was raised by the American Union Lodge at Norristown, Pa. It was in the American Union Lodge that the first resolutions were passed urging the election of a general grand master for the United States. Jackson's Masonic Record. Gen. Jackson was a noted Mason of the War of 1812, and it is claimed that he received his Masonry in an army lodge. As a matter of fact, the absolute record has ever been found of when and where Andrew Jackson was made a Mason. He afterward became grand master of the Grand Lodge of Tennessee. It is believed that the records of a lodge in Tennessee which were burned years ago would show it.

Buhl Uses School As EMERGENCY HOSPITAL

Red Cross Chapter Takes Initiative in Providing Adequate Relief for Sufferers.

The Buhl Red Cross chapter has opened in the Broadway school here an emergency hospital for the care of influenza patients, according to H. W. Barry, one of the proprietors of the Buhl Herald, who with his partner Charles Garvin, was in Twin Falls on Monday, having lately returned from attendance at the students' army training camp at Moscow.

The emergency hospital is comfortably furnished to care for 20 patients. It is divided into wards for men, women, and for convalescents. CALLS MEETING OF ALL AGAINST GOVERNMENT

Felix Diaz Issues Manifesto Asking Support in Organized Effort to Overthrow Carranza

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 17.—A manifesto issued by Felix Diaz, inviting all parties opposing the Carranza government to co-operate toward its overthrow, was reported here today as the latest development in the projected coalition revolution. The Diaz appeal, according to the reports from interior Mexico reaching El Paso, was issued in Vera Cruz state, where Diazistas were barely thwarted from capturing Jalapa by prompt arrival of federal troops.

Remarquable transportation conditions in Mexico are reflected in reports that General Manager Felipe Presa, director of the national railways is one of several private operators charging high premiums for moving freight. The American Smelting and Refining company is reported to be running its own trains under concessions, due to destruction of equipment on the national railways.

Emiliano Zapata, rebel leader dominating the state of Morelos, has a council of his chiefs at Acapulcan, to prepare to meet an extermination campaign planned by Carranza General Pablo Gonzalez.

Fleert, Haase and Scheidemann occupied the tribunal beside the witness, President Birling Roese.

The scene in the parliament chamber was a striking one when the meeting was called to order. The room was filled with soldiers in field gray uniforms. Merging with them were workers in shabby clothes. The water in a few saloons. And this room formerly was tenanted only by legislators in the most formal and correct dress. There was one woman delegate and there were several women in the audience. They were the first ever to enter the chamber.

Red Plans on Rostrum

Half a dozen officers sat on the rostrum, which was draped with the red banners of socialism. The first business transacted was the election of officers. Major Lohner of Hannover, a former member of the Reichstag, and a supporter of the main, was chosen to preside. Three alternates were selected.

The session got under way with military precision. The strictest parliamentary order was maintained save for occasional outbursts of laughter.

Origin of One Proverb.

One obtains historical glimpses in proverbs. The familiar "robbing Peter to pay Paul" is said to derive its origin from the fact that in the reign of Edward VI the lands of St. Peter at Westminster were appropriated to raise money for the repair of St. Paul's.

The Parson's Reproof.

"Ordinarily I should 'bestirre' or 'criticize' one of my flock," said Parson Brown from the pulpit, as he glanced reproachfully at the 400-pound member in the front pew, who had suddenly wakened from his little nap with a snore. "But, in the language of the father to the beautiful parable of the prodigal son, I feel like saying, 'Bring hither the fatted calf and kill it.'"

ROLE OF PIRATES JUST SUICIDED TO U-BOAT COMPLAINTS

Two days later they fired eighty-three shots and a torpedo at a freighter, which fired back and forced them to submerge.

All submarines were called into Kiel on October 30. It was while rounding the north coast of Scotland that the U. K-152 listened in on wireless reports of the American congressional election, in which the officers and crew seemed greatly interested.

On November 6, news of the revolution was received. This set a blanket of gloom over the crew, which was suspicious when the armistice was signed.

Fulcher and Muller were taken to Kiel, where they remained until the German submarines were surrendered. They went to Harwich with a fleet of twenty-eight.

Among the other passengers on the Caronia was Captain Orrin G. Murfin, U. S. N., who had supervision of American mining operations in European waters.

Most of the sixty thousand mines which the Americans placed in the North Sea were assembled at a factory in Scotland, built by Americans and operated by 1,000 special workmen from the United States, Murfin said.

THEDA BARA AS THE QUEEN WHOSE LOVE MEANT DEATH

A Most Wonderful, Spectacular, 10-Part Production, Magnificent Beyond Comparison, one of the Most Dazzling, Realistic Reproductions of Cleopatra ever before attempted. The settings, scenery, the habits, dress and costumes of the Romans and Egyptians cannot be criticized, as same is perfectly in tune with that period being absolutely historically correct. The First Naval Battle in the History of the World Thrillingly Portrayed. The High Cost of Kissing the Modern Cleopatra is Cheap Compared with the Price Caesar Paid.

WHAT THE NEW YORK PAPERS SAY

The producers have recreated most realistically all the lavish surroundings that were built up for the pleasure and whim of this Queen. But they have not stopped here. The battle of Actium, the first great naval battle, and incidentally the undoing of Antony, is thrillingly portrayed, and this is followed by the storming of the Pharaoh's palace. The picture is remarkable for many qualities. Theda Bara demonstrated most satisfactorily just how the Siren of the Nile "got away" with everything accredited to her.—Evening World.

The pageantry is inspiring, the crowd scenes are handled with skill, and there is a thrilling reproduction of the world's first naval battle. A visit by Cleopatra and Pharon to one of the pyramids, the Queen's trip to Tarans and the scenes in Rome are triumphantly impressive. Miss Bara's impersonation of the title part is quite up to the expectations aroused by her work in other pictures.—Evening Mail.

The picture is so big that one is completely overwhelmed. It seems as if a fortune were spent in each scene, which appears on the screen, and the spectacle simply beggars description. The Fox production is flawless in its setting—magnificent beyond compare. The performance of the star is at all times vastly interesting. Never has Miss Bara looked so regally beautiful, and if the original Cleo were just half so lovely as her prototype we do not blame Antony for renouncing Rome.—Tribune.
