Lower Branch of Idaho Legislature Sets New Record in Passage of the Prohibition Amendment

(Special to The News)
BOISE, Jan. 7.—By unanimous vote, the house this morning passed the resolution ratifying the constitutional amendment for prohibition. Emmus Drake of New Plymouth introduced the resolution. Two members were absent. This gives Idaho the honor of being the second state in the union to ratify in one or both houses during the present legislative sessions. The senate failed to pass the amendment this morning, due to a technicality in the organization of that body. The matter will come up again tomorrow when it will probably be passed unanimously.

During the session, the matter of Idaho's indorsement of a league of nations made its appearance at the hands of C. E. Fickham of Canyon, a Democrat. The resolution was tabled but is expected to come up again within a day or two. W. L. Adamson temporary majority floor leader urged the passage of the amendment. A full discussion of the matter may be had.

Governor Davis delivered his message before a joint session of house and senate at 2 o'clock this afternoon. A number of appointments are scheduled to be made late this afternoon.

Adv. for Reorganization

Gov. D. W. Davis in his message to the legislature today urged a complete reorganization in the executive departments in the interest of coordination, elimination of wasteful effort, and duplication and cooperation. He advises adoption of the federal plan of organization, giving the chief executive large authority and advocates the almost total. He urges that English only be spoken at public assemblies and to be taught exclusively in the grade schools.

The message of Governor D. W. Davis, containing about 10,000 words, embodies a number of important recommendations.

He recommends the short ballot, transferring the responsibility of the management of the state affairs in the governor, permitting him to ap-

DEATH KNELL OF SECRET TREATY TO SOUND SOON

Formal Sessions of Peace Conference Expected to Begin Next Week with Many Subjects for Discussion

REPRESENTATIVES ARE ALREADY GATHERING

Extension of the Armistice Is First-Topic for Consideration—Great Care Must be Exercised

PARIS, Jan. 8.—The death knell of secret diplomacy is expected to be sounded when the formal peace negotiations of the associated powers open next week.

The feeling was growing among officials today that these sessions, which probably will start at Versailles on January 13 or 14, should be open to the press of the world. Inasmuch as the allied nations have agreed that secret diplomacy must be abolished, it is felt the American attitude that this is the time to put the principle into effect, should receive ready endorsement by other delegations.

LAST RITES FOR ROOSEVELT ARE BEING PREPARED

Simple Service Is the Wish of the Family at the Grave He Selected for Himself—Only "Ashes to Ashes,"

WORLD AFFAIRS MAY HALT IN HIS HONOR

Many Expressions of Sympathy and Regret Received at the House on Sagamore Hill—Town Mourns

OSVSTEB BAY, Jan. 7.—A few simple preparations were made today for Colonel Roosevelt's funeral with the idea of making it as plain and unemotional a ceremony as possible. The service will consist merely for a prayer and a eulogical eulogy. "Ashes to Ashes and Dust to Dust"—without hymns, without a sermon.

There was a hush over the village today. Some places were closed. A few mourners arrived, but for the most part there was no unusual stir, the town looked as it would on a Sunday. Roosevelt, the man of action, and strife, in his case, appeared as millions had planned. In a state with a military guard of honor, but like the most humble private citizen in the sorrowful calm of his own home, with none but his own home folks, to look upon his face.

Sagamore Hill looked rather desolate. The blinds were drawn in some of the windows; a bit of snow slipped in the wind. Leafless trees about the house and in the estate surrounding it added to the atmosphere of sadness. An occasional automobile drove slowly up to the side door, its motor making a noise that seemed rudely disturbing.

Arrangements Made

Rev. G. E. Talmage, who will conduct the services, indicated today that no change in arrangements had been made. The plan is to have a brief prayer at Sagamore Hill with a number of employees of the family will carry the casket out and walk beside the horse which bears it to Christ church. This service will be there. Admission is to be by card only and these cards were being issued only to relatives and close personal friends. After the short service there, the casket, followed by members of the immediate family, will be taken to Young's memorial cemetery at Oyster Bay Cove, where the former president will be laid in a grave dug at a spot selected by himself.

Women Join Ranks of Fighters

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 7.—Women supporters of both factions are participating in the street fighting in Berlin, according to a Berlin dispatch filed last night and received by the Politiken today.

Simple Service

The Episcopal ritual designated for the ceremony will be read there. Although Mrs. Roosevelt wants as little publicity as possible, it was certain to draw a considerable number of mourners would be on hand tomorrow to stand uncovered outside the little church during the services and to line the road from the church to the cemetery, paying their last respects to the dead ex-president. But, starting at eleven hour change, there will be none of the mournful pomp of muffled drums and reversed arms, so closely associated with final honors to a former president and commander-in-chief of the army and navy. The world's attention on a silver plate in the lack of color, a striking contrast to his spectacular career.

SPARTACUS IN CONTROL

The Spartacus then massed the 100th and 101st regiments of the 10th division in the city. The Spartacus then seized all telephone offices. Shops are said to be closed and business at a standstill.

The basic principles of the proceeding of the peace conference will be decided by the debate of the next few days in Paris. This means that the present week may become critical in its influence upon the world's future.

DEADWOOD, South Dakota, Jan. 7.—Captain Seth Bullock, soldier, cattleman and Rough Rider, today expressed regret that he was not present at the death of his friend and former commander.

"For more than thirty years I have known Theodore Roosevelt intimately, first as a cattlemen on the range of Dakota territory, when all was open range west of the Missouri; then as a hunter of big game, all service commissioner, assistant secretary of the navy, colonel of the Rough Riders, president of the United States and welcome guest of the people of the British empire in London. In all these positions he was the same as his cowboy days: clean minded, open hearted and unafraid."

"He fears nothing that walks the earth," was said of him when he was a special deputy sheriff in Dakota. This characteristic was his to the end.

STATES CLASH WITH FEDERAL ROAD CONTROL

Director General McAdoo Says Attempts to Change Intra-State Rates Will be Ignored by Administration

OVERRIDES RULINGS OF COURT AND COMMISSION

Points to Appeal of Interstate Commerce Board as Evidence Open for Belief—Outlines Purpose of Measure

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Attempts by state authorities to change intra-state railroad rates ordered by the railroad administration will be ignored, Director General McAdoo stated today. Such a division of authority would defeat the purpose of the federal control law, the director general held in an opinion made public today. The law, McAdoo holds, intends that during federal control, rates may be instituted to apply both to interstate and intrastate.

Regrets Raising of Issue

These conclusions are included in a statement issued at the railroad administration which said:

Director General McAdoo, when his attention was called today to the fact that several states have begun litigation drawing in question the validity of rates initiated by him under the federal control act so far as they apply to intrastate traffic said he regretted that the issue should be raised and a content precipitated between state and federal authority, but that he was acting under the law of congress as the president's representative and could not subject himself, in that capacity to the jurisdiction of courts or commissions beyond the provisions of the law.

Considering the purpose for which the statute was enacted, and the extent to which it was intended by a division of authority, as well as the terms of the statute itself, there can, in his opinion, be no reasonable doubt that the intention is that during the period of federal control, rates may be initiated to apply to both intrastate and interstate business and that compliance of such rates are exclusively within the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission, which can be relied upon to do justice to all interests.

The defendants, he declared, had attempted individually and collectively to hinder the efforts of the country, while every patriotic citizen was expected to co-operate with the government.

COLONEL'S LAST MESSAGE TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

Plea Was to Keep Up the Good Fight and Make the United States Home for Real Citizens—Room for One Flag

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Colonel Roosevelt's last message to the American people was a plea to continue the fight for Americanism. It was delivered at the All-American benefit concert, given by the American defense society in the Hippodrome last night. It was read by Henry C. Quimby, a trustee of the society, because of the Colonel's indisposition. "I cannot be with you and so all I can do is wish you 'God Speed', the message said. 'There is to be no giving back in the fight for Americanism, merely because the war is over. There are plenty of persons, who have already made assertions that they believe the American people have a short memory and that they intend to revive all the foreign associations which most directly interfere with the complete Americanization. Must Show Good Faith. "Our principle in this matter should be absolutely simple. In the first place we should insist that if the immigrant who comes here in good faith because an American and assimilates himself to us, he shall be treated on an exact equality with everyone else for it is an outrage to discriminate against any such American because of creed, birthplace or origin. "But this is predicated upon the man's becoming in fact an American and nothing but an American. But if he tries to keep segregated with men of his own origin and separate from the rest of America, then he isn't doing his part as an American. Only One American. "There can be no divided allegiance here. Any man who says he is an American, but something else also isn't an American at all. We have room for but one flag, the American flag, and this excludes the red flag, which symbolizes all wars against liberty and civilization just as much as it excludes any foreign flag of a nation to which we are hostile. "We have room for but one language here and that is the English language for we intend to see that the crucible

TO HIDE BEHIND WOMAN'S SKIRTS

J. Cyril Laird Alleged Murderer on Trial at Portland, Expected to Blame Paramour

PORTLAND, Jan. 7.—J. Cyril Laird, alleged murderer, trader, robber and blackmailer, was placed on trial in the circuit court here today on the charge of murdering Deputy Sheriff Frank Twombly the night of November 10. Laird, it is alleged, killed the deputy sheriff while speeding through East Portland following his act of robbing the gatekeeper at the interstate bridge. Twombly had no idea Laird was a robber, merely chasing him as a speeder. The gatekeeper at the bridge was relieved of $123. Augusta Carlson, who had posed as the wife of Laird for several months preceding his arrest, is said by the police to have confessed that Laird robbed the bridge gatekeeper and killed Twombly. The police say she declared she feared that if Laird was not arrested he would kill her because of her knowledge of his crimes. It is also said she implicated Laird in the hold-up of a Great Northern train near Seattle last September and in a blackmailing scheme against prominent citizens of Portland. The man who went on trial today faces the following charges: second-degree murder, highway robbery, train robbery, larceny of government bonds, larceny from the army and violation of his parole from the Walla Walla penitentiary. It is predicted that Laird's defense will be that Augusta Carlson "framed" the case against him to protect the real murderer whom she loves more than she does Laird, with whom she lived as his wife. It is believed the defense will attempt to stamp Miss Carlson as an adventuress who craved the life of luxury and used Laird as a cat's paw.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Thirty policewomen are wanted for Washington, D. C. Major Pullman, chief of police for the District of Columbia, has asked the United States employment service, department of labor, to obtain the required number of recruits for his force. His experience in employing Mrs. Leola N. King as traffic officer has proved a success, and now, wherever most needed, he will place other women in crowded streets to direct vehicles and safeguard life. And he has much other work for them to do. Mrs. King is the wife of Capt. E. H. King of the United States medical corps, and long has been interested in social problems. PRESIDENT TALKS AT MONUMENT OF ITALIAN PROPHET

Thinks It Only Natural That an American Should be a Citizen of Genoa—Brings America's Greetings to Famous Man

GENOA, Jan. 5 (Delayed).—President Wilson, speaking at the monument of Mazzini here today said: "I am very much moved, sir, to be in the presence of this monument. On the other side of the water we have studied the life of Mazzini with almost as much pride as if we shared in the glory of his history and I am very glad to acknowledge that this spirit has been handed down to us of a late generation on both sides of the water. It is delightful to me to feel that I am speaking some of the things which you are speaking of the ideals to which his life and thought were devoted. "It is with a spirit of veneration, sir, and with a spirit, I hope, of emulation that I stand in the presence of this monument and bring my greetings of America with our homage to the great Mazzini. "At the Municipal hall, President Wilson said:

At Columbus' Birthplace
"Mr. Mayor: It is with many feelings of a very deep sort that I find myself in Genoa. It is a natural shrine for Americans and our connections with Genoa are so many and so significant that there are some seasons in which it may be said that we draw our life and begin from this city. You can realize, therefore, sir, with what emotion I receive the honor which you have so generously conferred upon me and the citizenship of this great city. In a way, it seems natural for an American to be a citizen of Genoa and I shall always regard this as one of the most delightful occasions of my life that you should have conferred this honor upon me and in taking way this beautiful edition of the works of Mazzini, I hope that I shall derive inspiration from the volume as I have already derived guidance from the principles which Mazzini so eloquently expressed. America's Affection
"It is delightful to feel the voice of one people speaks to another, through the mouths of men who have, by some gift of God, been lifted above the common level and the light of humanity and therefore these words of your prophet and leader, will, I hope, be deeply planted in the hearts of my fellow countrymen. There is already planted in these hearts, sir, a very deep and genuine affection for the great Italian people and the thought of my own nation turn constantly, as we read our own history, to this beautiful and distinguished city. "May I not thank you, sir, for myself and for Mrs. Wilson and for my daughter, for the very gracious welcome you have accorded us and express my pride and pleasure."

"BABY SPECIALS" PROVE SUCCESSFUL INNOVATION

Traveling Motor Trucks Teach Proper Care of Children to the Country Mothers
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The recent employment of especially equipped motor trucks, sent out by the child welfare committee of the council of national defense, as aids in carrying out the children's year program of the children's bureau, United States department of labor, has proved a successful innovation. These "baby specials" as they are called, are placed in charge of a trained and qualified nurse and are completely equipped with the necessary appliances for the scientific weighing and measuring of children under six years of age. As a means of helping to give to the country baby the same chance for health betterment that is enjoyed by its little urban neighbor, and of bringing to the attention of mothers in widely separated communities the necessity for all hygienic precautions, the use of the motor trucks is expected to prove of great value.

THIRTY WOMEN ARE SOUGHT FOR POLICE FOGGIE

ling him to go forth and put all the bad men in jail. Our object is prevention rather than punishment, and it is because of the new appreciation of police ethics that the presence of women in police work is so necessary. To Segregate Charges
"It is the object of the woman's bureau to handle most of the crimes committed by women or against them and to investigate conditions that place the girls in danger. To this end the bureau has made a survey of conditions in Washington. In this survey have been included hotels, rooming places, boarding houses, rest rooms, automobile services, burlesque shows, dance halls, movies, parks and playgrounds. Working conditions also have been investigated. We are co-operating with all the existing agencies in Washington that are concerned with the rehabilitation of wayward girls. We have no file the record of every girl brought to our attention. The first time a girl commits larceny we are interested even more in the conditions that led to the commission of the crime than we are in the culprit, because it is only by making a study of these conditions that we can hope to prevent a similar offense. "We have a large detention house, which we expect to remodel so as to keep juvenile offenders apart from immoral girls. "Some of the things that I shall require of the thirty policewomen whom I am asking the United States employment service to secure are to discover conditions, needing correction, to supervise amusement places, to aid in locating runaway girls, to follow girls and warn them of danger, to caution girls whose home life does not afford protection of the right sort, and to do personal work with women and girls."

When a druggist finds that his customers all speak well of a certain preparation, he forms a good opinion of it and when in need of such a medicine is almost certain to use it himself and in his family. This is why so many druggists use and recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. J. B. Jones, a well known druggist of Cuyuna, Ky., says, "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for the past seven years, and have found it to be the best cough medicine I have ever known." EXPRESSIONS IN APPRECIATION OF NOBLE CAREER

Friends Declare Colonel's Sudden Death Causes a Vacancy Among Statesmen of World—Nation Feels Loss Keenly

Many expressions of the deepest sympathy and regret are being received by the family of the late Theodore Roosevelt from men who knew the Colonel and appreciated his loss. The home on Sagamore Hill is being flooded with these expressions of condolence. Lodge Expresses Grief
Senator Lodge, Massachusetts, "News of Theodore Roosevelt's death causes me great grief. I can say no more now."
Representative McCormick, Illinois, "The greatest American of all time is dead. I am grief stricken."
Senator Chamberlain: "I am pained to hear of Colonel Roosevelt's death. I never have had difficulty in finding out what was in his heart about anything that affected the welfare of the American people. He was courageous in all his thoughts and typically American. All admired him regardless of political views."
Senator Hiram Johnson, "I am grieved beyond all expression at the news of the death of Colonel Roosevelt. The great American of a generation has passed. He was our greatest citizen."
"Factor in History"
Secretary of War Baker, "Colonel Roosevelt was a great factor in our history. He lived a very full and vigorous life. His death is a great surprise and shock to me."
Representative Mann, Illinois, "Colonel Roosevelt's death will be a tremendous loss to the world. He probably was the strongest force and mind on earth. Those who were his political friends and enemies will join in honoring his memory because of his qualities."
Senator Knox, Pennsylvania, "Colonel Roosevelt was one of the greatest Americans and one of the greatest dynamic forces of the United States."
Former Speaker Cannon
"Colonel Roosevelt's place in history will be as one of the great presidents of the republic. While I occupied the speaker's chair and he the president's chair, I rarely, without conferences on his invitation, and contrary to the popular impression, he sought advice as often as he offered suggestions."
Vice-President Marshall
"The late President Roosevelt undoubtedly will leave a permanent impression on America alike. He was a fighting leader, with a courage and sincerity mourned by his many thousands of personal friends and regretted even by those who did not agree with him."
Secretary Lane
"He was a great man, a very great man, great in soul, great in his personality, great in his conception of America's place in the world, his responsibility, duty and opportunities and he had no fear of what life or death could bring."
Secretary of the Navy Daniels
"The death of ex-President Roosevelt removes one of the ablest dynamic forces this country has produced."
Acting Secretary of State Polk
"I am distressed indeed to hear of the death of Mr. Roosevelt. He was one of the most striking figures in the history of this country and in fact of his time."
Ex-President Taft
Former President William Howard Taft was deeply touched when he learned of Colonel Roosevelt's death. "I am fairly staggered by the news," he said. "Colonel Roosevelt was truly a great man. He did much for his country and for humanity. I am very sorry to hear that he is gone."
Charles E. Hughes
"Colonel Roosevelt's greatest service was in the last years," declared Chas. E. Hughes. "His death is an irreparable loss to the nation."
William H. Hays
Chairman Will H. Hays of the republican national committee, on his way from New York to the bedside of his son, Will H. Hays, Jr., was overwhelmed by the news of Colonel Roosevelt's death. He said:
"The strongest character of the world has died. No one can take Colonel Roosevelt's place. In the days of difficulty ahead, in all the readjustment at hand in this country, the loss of the brain, the heart and the hand of this man is incalculable. "The lesson of his patriotism which will live forever, is his monument."
Senator King, Utah
"It is a national loss. I am greatly shocked. Colonel Roosevelt was a vigorous, virile American, one of the strongest figures in national life. His activities resulted in a higher perception of all classes of duties and obligations of American citizenship."
Governor Brumbaugh
Governor Brumbaugh, whom Colonel Roosevelt once called a "Woolly Lamb," issued a statement in which he said that Roosevelt's death is a calamity. "The characteristic appraisal which

LONDON, Jan. 7.—"Tay Pay" O'Connor, famous Irish leader, commenting on Colonel Roosevelt's death, said:
"Colonel Roosevelt's death comes as one of the most painful shocks of my life. I had the honor to be in close touch with him for many years. He was a warm hearted, generous man and a true American to his innermost soul. He was a life-long and constant friend of the Irish race of whose blood in his veins he was always proud."
Sir Thomas Lipton, said
"Colonel Roosevelt was the personification of everything manly and strenuous in the American nation. His outspoken frankness and fearlessness when he thought it was necessary to criticize us, endeared him to everyone in Great Britain. The world loses a gallant figure by his untimely death."
Pall Mall Gazette
LONDON, Jan. 7.—Colonel Roosevelt has without doubt left his mark on the history of the world," the Pall Mall Gazette said today. "He was a great personality."
Words of Sympathy
OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Words of sympathy for Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and the bereaved Roosevelt family and expressions of sincere grief at the death of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, poured into the house on the hill today from all parts of the world. Four telegraph operators were swamped with the messages. Among them were the following:
President Wilson
"Pray, accept my heartfelt sympathy on the death of your distinguished husband, the news of which has shocked me very much."
Ex-President Taft
"I am shocked to hear the sad news. My heart goes out to you and yours in this great sorrow. The country can ill afford in this critical period of history to lose one who has done and could in the decade have done so much for it as a humanity. We have lost a great patriotic American, a great world figure, the most commanding personality in our public life since Lincoln. I mourn his going as a personal loss. Mrs. Taft and I tender you our sincere and deepest sympathy."
Queen Mother Alexandria of Great Britain
"I am indeed grieved to hear of the death of your distinguished husband for whom I had the highest and greatest regard. Please accept my deepest sympathy in the irreparable loss you have suffered."

MEN AND WARFARE

Among innumerable proposals that have been born out of consideration of the problem of establishing and maintaining a permanent peace throughout the history of the human race, one that strikes closest to the roots of the problem and one that is, at the same time, least possible of fulfillment is this: 'The one essential thing to do in order to abolish war is to devote to the making of men comfortable and happy the same efforts that we have heretofore wasted in preparing ourselves to slay each other.'

Obviously, the proposition is a joint product, resulting from the adoption to the philosophy of the professional idealist of the ideas of the materialistic philosophy which has been thoroughly and soundly discredited as a result of the war just closing.

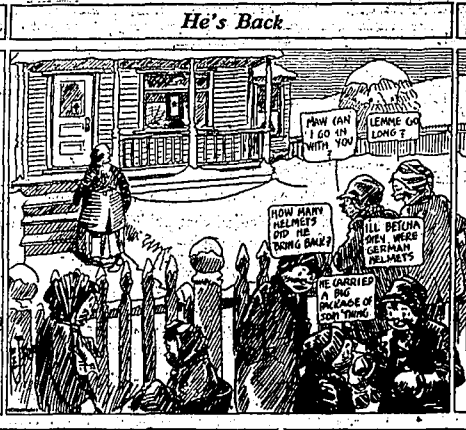

It is apparent that if all men were entirely comfortable, happy and contented there would be an end of strife and also, incidentally, an end of striving that makes for progress.

But granting for sake of the attainment of the highly desirable object of war's abolition, that man's comfort, happiness and contentment are the highest good, how are these qualities to be secured to men?

The materialist argues that economic independence, security from fear of poverty, will not only establish all of these qualities but will do away with temptation to transgress the moral code in any respect.

World peace, in the last analysis, can come only when mankind has learned charity, vicariousness and self-criticism. Whatever expenditure is made for the spreading of this knowledge is well spent; but, until the lesson is universally and well learned, expenditures to this end that would result in a diminution of defense means required until that consummation is reached, would be folly—and fatal.

MULTIPLYING WEST POINTS Since no one in his right mind seriously considers, even in the light of present bright prospects for the establishment and maintenance of world peace, the absolute abandonment of every means of military defense, the plan of the war department to continue military training in our colleges and universities and even in our high schools is one that will meet with general approval.

Professional soldier. As soon as hostilities were concluded they expressed the view that their work as soldiers was done and, significantly, they expressed at the same time the earnest desire to return and take up their civilian pursuits.

STATE IS UPHELD IN LIMITATION OF IRRIGATED LANDS

Judge G. S. Dietrich in Opinion in Twin Falls-Salmon River
Case Sustains Contentment of State Land Board

BOISE.—In a decision rendered by Judge G. S. Dietrich of the federal district court Saturday on the Twin Falls Salmon River Land & Water company, a corporation, versus M. Alexander, et al., W. F. Dabney, et al., C. W. Walters, et al., E. H. Redfield, et al., members of the state board of land commissioners of Idaho, and Salmon River Canal company, limited, a corporation, says the Idaho Statesman, Judge Dietrich found that the plaintiff company has not the right to oppose the state land board as defendant in a holding title that only 35,000 acres may be sold under the project instead of 60,000 acres as applied for, for the reason that the plaintiff company has only a lien on land to be reclaimed by it, and it is held by the court that, if 35,000 acres of land be sold, it cannot be adequately reclaimed under the water supply of the project the board can relinquish the balance of the segregation.

Company Granted Time
In the decision rendered, the plaintiff company was given time in which to make application to the new land board that will take office next week, to determine whether the works of the project have been completed, and if the board fails to act within the given seventy-five days time, the company may file a supplemental bill in court setting forth the failure of the board and obtain the relief sought in court to which it may be relief entitled.

In passing upon this point, which is given as the vital point of the suit, Judge Dietrich says: "It is" therefore, for the land board and not for the courts in the first instance to determine in just what particulars the contract work is unfinished, and to consider whether anything further will be required. With the date at hand, no reason is apparent why the matter could not be promptly disposed of. Having in mind the great delays which have already intervened both before the land-board and here, and taking notice that the defendants' term of office is about to expire, it is concluded to withhold the entry of a decree dismissing the bill in its entirety and to grant leave to plaintiff after the expiration of seventy-five days from the date hereof to file the necessary steps to have the defendants' suit heard in office suitable and to file a second supplemental bill exhibiting the proceedings which it may have taken in the meantime to procure a determination of the status of the constructed work and the action or the inaction as the case may be, of the land board in connection therewith.

Why Limit Is Fixed
"The time is limited to seventy-five days upon the assumption that the plaintiff will without delay present its application to the new board, and will furnish it with such reasonable data as it may desire. It will of course be understood, that any action which the constructed system and is waiting the present board may take in approving the conformance of work which could serve no useful purpose shall in no wise affect the question of the sufficiency of the water supply or prejudice any existing right, claim or defense which the land board or any interested party may have insofar as based upon or grows out of the inadequacy of the system in respect to water resources, and plaintiff's application should be so conditioned."

Settles Vital Point
This finding of the court covers the vital point of the case, as relief was asked of the court to order the board to declare itself as to the conformance of the works on the company's project. It was set forth in the complaint filed that through the board's failure to accept the work as finished, the company has been forced for the past ten years to carry an enormous bond that entails considerable expense in yearly premiums until the works are declared complete by the board, or items are pointed out wherein they are incomplete that the company may conform with such requests, and upon receiving the O. K. of the board, may be released from their bond.

NEW SUB-STATION UNDER WAY
MOSCOO, Idaho.—The agricultural experiment station has established a high altitude sub-station at Teton. This station is located in the northern part of Teton county at an elevation of about 6,000 feet. Experiments will be conducted on the best crops to grow and methods of feeding. W. A. Moss, a graduate of the Kansas agricultural college of the 1913 class, is now superintendent of this station. He has had many years of practical farm experience along with his college training. The new house at the farm is nearly completed and by spring the experimental work will be started.

How Roosevelt Faced War with the Kaiser and Won Is Recalled

German War Lord Loved American for Qualities Which Showed Him His Master
The crisis arose over Venezuela, which had come so near to precipitating war between the United States and England in 1895. Venezuela was now under the dictatorship of a shrewd and unscrupulous adventurer named Castro, who, secure, as he believed, in the protection of the United States under the Monroe Doctrine, was cheerfully defying half of Europe, Venezuelan citizens owed large sums of money to Germany, England and Italy.

COLONEL'S END
AS GREAT LOSS

Declares Roosevelt Was Fore-runner of America's Present Greatness—Was Always an Earnest Friend of France

PARIS, Jan. 7.—France is as deeply shocked at the death of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt as though he had just lost one of her own greatest statesmen. "The newspapers," says prominently displayed "eulogistic" articles regarding the great president.

"LA grand-frère of France is dead," said the Echo de Paris. "But he lived to see the event he so ardently wished—France's victory—to which America so gloriously contributed and for which the blood of his own son was shed."

The armistice is entirely a military matter, however, and will be subject to military consideration in spite of the growing threat of Bolshevism, the Americans are understood to be inclined toward modifying the blockade features of the armistice.

At the same time German statesmen have no hope of gaining the sympathy of the United States by carrying favor. Foreign Minister Brockdorff-Rantau's statement in which he announced his policy would be adherence to President Wilson's fourteen principles.

With conditions for the extension of the armistice disposed of, the league of nations will be the first problem in connection with the general peace settlement to be taken up.

The town is full of newspaper correspondents and photographers. The air is crowded with them. The first contingent of them arrived on a morning train from New York yesterday and alighted in swirls of snow that accentuated the lonely aspect of the landscape.

Upon adoption of the general plan for the league of nations, a committee comprised of representatives of the various powers will be appointed to work out the details.

Lower Branch of Idaho Legislature Settles New Record in Passage of the Prohibition Amendment

The governor proposes that the heads of the departments including the constitutionally elective officers shall constitute the governor's cabinet or council, thereby furnishing a vehicle through which all the departments of the state government can be co-ordinated and correlated in their functions.

After endorsing the principle of the short ballot saying, "Where elections are so frequent as in this state the administration can better be entrusted to the general manager and his alternate than to a six-headed committee."

IOWA SENATOR OUTLINES PLAN OF OPERATION

Wants Government Control and Sub-Lease—Combine Advantages of Federal Ownership and Private Initiative

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Governor Cummins' ownership of railroads to be leased to private operating companies, was advocated today by Senator Cummins, Iowa, Republican.

Cummins outlined his plan to the United Press, it provides for: 1.—Government ownership of railroads. 2.—Leasing of roads under strict terms to private concerns. 3.—Maintenance of a dozen or so competing lines to operate with unified terminals.

Under the Cummins' plan, the government would issue all securities—stocks and bonds—on the property value of the equipment at a guaranteed rate of interest of 4 per cent.
