

NEW YORK PORTS CLOSED UP BY A GREAT STRIKE

Fifteen Thousand Members of the Marine Workers' Affiliation Stop, Practically Tying Up Harbors of Great City

FEDERAL BOATS EXEMPT FROM THE STRIKE ORDER

Unless Quick Action Is Taken, Serious Results Expected—No Indication of Violence but Many Are Out of Work

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Fifty-eight thousand boat men and water front laborers were idle here today and slipping was at a standstill. The strike of 15,000 tug boat employes and ferry hands, the 42,000 stevedores out of work, New York harbor and the rivers on both sides of Manhattan were empty save for police launches on guard duty. At all terminals goods were piled high, the streets blocked with loaded trucks.

Milk Permitted Across

Strike leaders permitted a limited number of boats to cross the bay with milk, which was urgently needed. Machinery for disposing of New York refuse was blocked when the garbage boat crews quit.

Four transports and twenty-four merchantmen are due. Naval troops were ready to dock the transports, but there was no way of handling the other steamers and they were at quarantine. The dispute is over working hours. The boat owners refused the government's award and the men want a strikers' It is feared that many more unions will join and that idleness of New York harbor will soon have a serious economic effect unless the government intervenes.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The port of New York was tied up today when 15,000 members of the Marine workers' affiliation struck at 6 a. m.

There were no ferries running to New Jersey or Staten Island. Persons living in the latter place were isolated. Trucks carried all Jersey residents traveling business in New York. The trains were taxed to capacity. The strike also cut off the railway terminal on the Jersey side of the Hudson river.

Thousands Idle

The strike was expected to spread rapidly to other marine workers. The International Longshoremen's association met early today to take steps in sympathy with the Marine workers' affiliation. It was estimated that unless some measure was taken within a short time, about 60,000 men would be idle. Serious fuel and food famine was threatened.

Supplies from the interior of the United States for export and from abroad were expected to be held up. Returning soldiers also faced the prospect of being unable to land from ships.

Government Boats Exempt

The only boats exempt from the strike order were those operated by the federal government carrying wounded and sick soldiers between hospitals and the port of debarkation at Hoboken.

The Pennsylvania railway company's boats were operating in a desultory manner.

The Fort Lee ferries, used by thousands of soldiers traveling between Camp Merritt and Manhattan Island, shut down at 6 a. m. The Central of New Jersey and other downtown ferries suspended at 6 a. m. Signs were posted of warning commuters.

Ocean Liners Affected

Ocean liners were affected by the order. Instructions were issued that no member of the union was to give a tow. The strike is the result of the refusal by employers to agree to an award made sometimes ago by the war labor board. An eight-hour day and increase in pay was granted the men. The board yesterday announced its inability to bring out an agreement and the strike order came shortly afterwards.

D. T. Delahanty, president of the Marine Workers' affiliation, said that 90 per cent of the workers had left their work at 9 o'clock, leaving their boats as they reached shore, tying them up, banking their fires and reporting on strike.

No Violence

Delahanty said there was no indication that there would be any violence but gathered around the ferry slips at the Manhattan and Staten Island terminals were long crowds of workmen. Delahanty declared the only way the strike can be settled is for a board to undertake arbitration with power to enforce its awards. The men, he said,

Wanted Kaiser to Give Up His Life on Battlefield

Dramatic Exit Planned for Wilhelm by Army Chiefs in Closing Days of War

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Dramatic capture of the Kaiser or possibly his death on the field of battle was avowed only by the intervention of General Ludendorff, it was learned today through authoritative diplomatic disclosures.

Wilhelm's arrival at German headquarters after his flight from Berlin was the signal for a revival of spirit of the discouraged German troops, according to the disclosures. Several high staff men suggested that the Kaiser go into the midst of the battle, it is stated, and the suggestion was taken up by the French generals and other staunch Tueton legions.

Ludendorff Opposes Plan

Ludendorff opposed the scheme, it is declared, on the ground that it would result in no military gain and would endanger the army's withdrawal. The advice also disclosed the fact that German general headquarters on August 15 admitted approaching defeat and recommended the Kaiser's abdication. Chancellor Von Hertling flatly refused to inform the reichstag and the press of the true military situation, it was declared. The following week Ludendorff suggested to Berlin that Hindenburg be requested to offer mediation to all combatants, the advice stated.

RAILROADS ASK NEW SECRETARY IN THE CABINET

Transportation Executives Offer New Plan for the Operation of Systems—Suggest Possible Duties of Office

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Railroad rates must go up, said a group of transportation executives today. DeWitt Cuyler, representing the railroad executives, told the interstate commerce committee today. "Higher rates will be necessary even under government control," said Cuyler. "I think the government will have to raise the rates today."

Senator Pomeren, Ohio, asked if the Interstate Commerce Commission had been liberal enough in its rate increases. "We have felt that they have not been," Cuyler said. "Bankers have also felt that the railroads have been badly treated."

Senator Smith, South Carolina, attacked the plan for a cabinet head in charge of the railroads.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Railroad interests today proposed that a secretary of transportation be added to the president's cabinet.

This secretary would be in charge of a department of transportation with powers to enforce unified operation of railroads, according to the plan outlined by D. DeWitt Cuyler, spokesman for railroad interests before the senate Interstate Commerce committee.

Private concerns, management and operation of the railroads should continue.

Socialist Faction Fight Each Other in Mad Excitement—Rumors of American Aid Are Afloat in Berlin

By JOHN GRAUDENZ BERLIN, Jan. 7 (Night).—Twenty persons were killed in the American embassy today, which was badly damaged by rioters. There is nothing in the cable to indicate that victims were Americans. The embassy is located in the heart of the city on a square where considerable fighting took place and it is believed the building may have been hit by shots going wild.

Military Governor Noke, who has been given full power to suppress the Spartacan revolt, has gone to Juterbog (twenty-seven miles south of Potsdam) to bring back reliable government troops.

America Aid Announced

Rumors were heard on every hand today that American troops would occupy the city to quell any rioting during the national election (January 16). The majority of the inhabitants would welcome them. Government officials would make no comment regarding the rumors.

The fighting today centered in the Wilhelmplatz in front of the American embassy.

Prince Leopold's palace is a veritable machine gun fortress. A hundred government soldiers, wearing trench helmets, were in the hall room, armed, as camped in the hall room.

The reichstag is guarded by an artillery. A pitched battle is expected hourly.

The Bourse has been closed by the government officials, who escaped with the key to the main vault when Spartacans seized the treasury yesterday.

Inter-Party Fight

While the original German revolution united the socialists of the old regime, the socialists are now fighting each other, the Independent socialists have joined the Spartacans in attempting to overthrow the government, which

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 9.—Business was paralyzed in Buenos Aires today as a result of a general strike called in sympathy with the walk-out of harbor employees. Several persons have been killed in the fighting between the strikers and the police. There were indications that the strike was spreading to the interior.

Strikers at the Vasena iron works, inside the city limits, have entrenched themselves and defied the police. Intense fighting is going there. All surface railways, subways and taxi lines are held up. Rate cuttings smashed the windows of subway cars and set fire to many.

SPARTACUS REVOLUTION IS SPREADING OVER GERMANY

ACTUAL WORK OF PEACE PUT OFF TILL NEXT WEEK

PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE HAS BEEN DETAINED AND POWERS WILL NOT BEGIN CONFERENCES UNTIL HIS ARRIVAL IN FRANCE

PARIS, Jan. 8.—The program for the formal conference of the Associated Powers is changing almost hourly. Official announcement by the French government yesterday that a preliminary meeting would be held in the presence of the British cabinet was premature, as another statement was issued today explaining that the meeting will be postponed until Premier Lloyd George arrives Saturday or Sunday.

Thus the program has reverted to its original plan.

BOHRA INSISTS REAL TRUTH IS BEING HELD UP

Idaho Senator Says Facts Concerning Bolshevik Operation in Russia Are Kept from the American People

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Charging that the truth about the Bolsheviks and the soviet government of Russia is being kept from the American people, Senator Borah, Idaho, in the senate today demanded that the United States and the allies "get out of Russia and let Russia settle her own affairs."

"If we have any further talk to perform in Russia," said Borah, "we have not enough troops there to lick them."

"Does anybody think we can lick Germany through Russia with 10,000 men and yet our soldiers are there, fighting and dying?"

Borah's demand for withdrawal from Russia followed a statement by Senator Hitchcock, chairman of the foreign relations committee, in which Hitchcock declared that American troops are in Russia simply to protect supplies and are remaining because our allies with who they are co-operating, consider it necessary to remain."

Not Military Problem

"You can't deal with Russian Bolsheviks with a military war," said Borah. "How are you going to tell which is a Russian and which is a Bolshevik? The trouble is that we can't get the real facts in the United States. People here these months have understood the facts are not permitted to tell the story."

Fighting was continuing in Berlin last night. Several hundred persons have been killed and hundreds more wounded. The Scheidemann government was reported overthrown. Twenty persons were killed in the American embassy in Berlin when the building was damaged during fighting in adjacent streets, Tuesday.

Rumors are afloat in Berlin that canton troops at the request of Chancellor Ebert, will occupy the city.

Other rumors were circulated that an American force would assume control in Berlin to quell possible riots during the national elections, January 16.

All work was reported to have ceased throughout Germany as a result of the revolution.

The railways were reported variously to be in the hands of the Spartacans and the government.

Glasses John Spartacans

The military classes of 1919 and 1920 were said to have joined the Spartacans.

Sailors from Kiel were reported to be rushing to Berlin to support the government.

BALKANS VIEWED AS BIG OBSTACLE IN LEAGUE'S WAY

Situation Presents One of Most Important Subjects of Peace Conference—Balkan Confederation Already Formed

PROVINCES CALLED THE HOTBED OF WORLD WAR

Greece Enters Without Any Apology for Her Late Support to League of Nations

By HENRY WOOD

(Copyright, 1919, by the United Press)
PARIS, Jan. 9.—The Balkans, which have been considered the world's greatest war menace—and where the spark that started the biggest war of all time was kindled—have anticipated the league of nations by establishment of a similar organization.

This league within a league, which was organized for the purpose of eliminating the Balkan war threat, will be known as the Balkan Confederation.

Foreign Minister Politis, head of the Greek peace delegation, who made these facts known today, said the confederation would in no way interfere with the league of nations. He declared it was a necessary arrangement for handling the internal affairs of their particular corner of the world.

Agreement Reached

Greece has reached a complete understanding with the Serbians, Rumanians, Jugos-Slavs and Czechoslovaks regarding future co-operation in the Balkans. Politis said.

"This will result eventually in perfection of the Balkan confederation, which has been a definite Greek policy since 1921, when it was the personal point in the program for which Greece waged its war of independence. Later it was espoused by the statesman Krykoupis. Since 1910 it has been adopted and maintained by Premier Venizelos.

The confederation's position toward Bulgaria is the same as Wilson's attitude toward Germany. A place in the Balkans within the confederation is given when she shows her capability and fitness for it. The reasons for Bulgaria's present exclusion are many. First she betrayed Krykoupis' confederation plans to Turkey. Then she treacherously attacked Greece and Serbia in 1913 and Serbia in 1915. All of these things prevented realization of the confederation heretofore. The attitude toward Bulgaria is not the policy of Venizelos alone, but of the entire Greek nation. Venizelos would not attempt to carry out this idea until it is actually established today in the successful establishment of the Balkan confederation.

"Greece is in the fullest accord with President Wilson's program for the league of nations. She attempted to contribute to this universal league by doing her part toward effecting perfect accord in the Balkans."

Cannibal Husband Makes His Annual Reversion to Type

South Sea Islander's Wife Is Victim of His Yearly Indulgence in Native Instinct

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—Reverting to his cannibal instincts, Solomon Kiami, South Sea Islander, was eating his wife today when police interfered. Mrs. Kiami's frantic cries were heard. The police rushed to the house. They found Kiami bending over his wife, who was lying on the floor with her arm badly chewed and part of her cheek gone.

Kiami resisted the intrusion. He turned a feroce face upon the police, his thick lips dripping blood. He rushed the police, who fled in terror. Later Kiami appeared in police court, gibbering Solomon, Island talk.

Defends Himself

Mrs. Kiami defended her husband, explaining that the spark of cannibalism made its appearance about once a year.

So amazed was Judge Sullivan that he could not decide what charge to lay against Kiami. The man was held for observation.

Mrs. Kiami is a woman of good education. Asked today why she had married him, she said:

"I am a full blooded Solomon Island native. So is my husband. Our race is fast dying out. I felt I must make a sacrifice to keep it alive. So I married him."

"My husband is a hard working, kindly man most of the time. He has been working at the Crockett Sugar refinery. Sometimes he is very kind and gentle. He works there, too, and make $35. My husband does not know the English language and merely copies the customs. So he has been fooled out of his money many times."

EXTREMISTS ARE SLOW CHANGING

Radical Bolsheviki Attempting to Form Coalition with the Mensheviki Moderates

BY J. T. W. MASON

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Bolsheviki, as a class warfare directed by Jews, irremediably extremists, is losing its end.

The reported acceptance by the Spartacists of Bolsheviki in Germany has done more to bring about a coalition with the Mensheviki moderates than any other event. The moderate socialist government of Chancellor Ebert is announced simultaneously with the news from Moscow that Premier Lenin has attempted to form a coalition with the Mensheviki. The Mensheviki in Russia represent a group of moderate socialists, according to the Ebert faction in Germany. The establishment of a working agreement between the extremists and the moderates, both in Russia and Germany, would mean the eliminating of the threat of terrorism, and the beginning of the creation of a new government.

Radicals on the Wane

The reported arrest of Lenin by Trotsky on a charge of treason may turn out to be the last major action of the Bolsheviki.

It is Lenin, far more than anybody else, who has supplied the brains to the Bolsheviki. Trotsky cannot serve as a substitute for Lenin. The very fact that Lenin has shown a desire to recognize the Mensheviki is in itself an indication of the way public sentiment is moving in Russia.

Lenin has given evidence of gradual leaning toward the moderate for some time. He has referred approvingly in his proclamations not only to the proletariat, who are exclusively workmen, but also to the "Semi-Proletariat," who are a new class, presumably one that does not rely on manual labor for its daily bread.

LONG LOST TRINKET IS FOUND IN CURIO SHOP

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—A same and pearl brooch of great value, formerly owned by Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, was back in the possession of Mrs. William Booth of Paducah, Kentucky.

COLORADO HAS NEW INNOVATION

BIG AUTHORITY OUTLINES PLAN WORLD LEAGUE

Would Admit Any Nation Who Is Clean Handed, Democratic and Honest—Germany Must Prove Sincerity

BY WILLIAM PHILLIP SIMMS

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The grand will of the world that there shall be no more wars will make the league of nations an integral part of the peace settlement. Leo Bourgeois, leader and sponsor of the plan, declared in an interview with the United Press today.

Bourgeois, who is the foremost French authority on the league of nations, was recently charged by Premier Clemenceau to confer with American, British and Italian league experts and draw up a plan to be submitted by the French delegation at the peace conference. He outlined this program today for the information of the American public.

Probation Membership

The principal variance of Bourgeois' plan from President Wilson's ideas is that the French desire to refuse Germany membership in the league until she fulfill all the conditions imposed on her by the peace treaty. Wilson, it is understood, would admit Germany on probation.

Bourgeois desires that the league of nations shall be created by the association of all the nations of the world and that Germany shall sign adherence to the league principles, simultaneously with the other terms of peace. After this the league would pass upon the applications of other nations, all of which would be eligible provided they are "clean handed, democratic and honest."

Germany could come in only after she had proven her sincerity by carrying out all the obligations imposed on her at Versailles.

Three Purposes

"The league of nations must do three things," Bourgeois said. "First, it must provide that arbitration shall be obligatory; second, it must limit armaments; third, it must create penalties for refractory nations."

Four Penalties

"There would be four penalties: diplomatic, judicial, economic and military. Most troubles could be settled by diplomatic and judicial ministers alone. And finally, if economic pressure were brought to bear, the sword need never be drawn, in nine cases out of ten. By withdrawing diplomatic representatives and permitting the entering nation no voice in the league and intolerable silence would close about the country which would soon set things to rights. If that failed, then denial of the use of the seas, the shutting off of raw materials and prevention of exportation of manufactured products, through peaceful blockade, would bring it to terms."

World Limit Armaments

"Naturally we would not use these measures save in the case of international necessity against a revolting state. If these steps were unaffordable, the international military force would step in. How this force is to be made up remains to be determined. Armaments must be limited on land and sea. The latter problem principally concerns Great Britain and the United States. The league would control armaments by limiting the output of the guns, shells, airplanes, warships, etc. Each nation would contribute proportionately to the international force.

"The league must be a permanent organization. It must be an international council. Its members, having sufficient powers, would constitute an international court. This would the just will of the league be enforced and guarantee the peace of the world."

GERMAN GOVERNMENT IS AT OLD TRICKS AGAIN

Reports Are That "Frightfulness" Will be Used Against the Bolsheviks in Berlin

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 9.—The Ebert government has decided to employ German "frightfulness" in suppressing the Spartacan revolt, according to Berlin dispatches received here today.

The Berlin correspondent of the Berlingske Tidende wired that the government, after deciding not to negotiate with the Spartacans yesterday, resolved to equip its troops with flame throwers.

The government, according to the correspondent has decided to crush the revolution. Liebknecht, who is reported to have narrowly escaped death several times during the fighting.

STRANGE PARTY DEMANDS TO SEE FORMER KAISER

Armed Automobiles Reach Castle in Night and Ask Immediate Audience With William Hohenzollern

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 9.—Two armed automobiles containing twelve persons arrived at Amroengen castle late Sunday night and a demand was made to see the former kaiser immediately, it was learned today.
The burgomaster became suspicious and gave orders that the occupants of the automobile be prevented from carrying out their demands.
One report circulated today was that the automobiles came from Germany and that it was a plot to aid Wilhelm to escape. Another report was that the automobiles were United States army cars from Belgium, and that the party consisted of newspaper correspondents who wanted an interview.
Occupants of the two automobiles, who were prevented by the burgomaster from seeing the former kaiser on Sunday night, said the American ambassador had sent them to speak to Wilhelm, according to an Agency dispatch from Amroengen today. The dispatch said rifles were carried in one of the cars.

ROOSEVELT

There can be no question of the extent of America's loss in the death of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. In fact, it is difficult just at this time to reach a definite conclusion as to where to look for the figure of a man to supply the void.

There were many outstanding characteristics of Theodore Roosevelt which the American people had learned to look for and to admire. Their admiration was not at all times untinged with criticism but the criticism of even his enemies rarely if ever extended to the matter of motives.

But perhaps the most prominent point in his philosophy as applied to his work and activities as a citizen of America was to be found in the fact that he believed in, and courted the fullest criticism of every act and every word of a public nature having to do with the interests of his country.

Nor were his criticisms silenced during the war, when a great majority of the public men of America were united in the belief that to stand squarely back of the administration meant literally that any note of criticism was wrong.

Few men now living could have occupied as successfully as did he a position which placed him repeatedly as the sole champion of a national cause. But even fewer could have fought his fights and still retained the respect of a nation.

Before long, probably, America will develop another Roosevelt, for the very excellent reason that America stands constantly in need of just such a man. The sharp clashes of opinion which he precipitated recanted unquestionably in good to the nation.

The extent of the country's debt to Roosevelt will become more and more apparent as time goes on. His position in American history is assured.

CLUB DINNER IS GREAT SUCCESS

Twin Falls Rotarians Entertain at Elaborate Affair at Hotel Rogerson

The dinner dance given by the members of the Rotary Club at the hotel, Robert last evening was one of the most elaborate affairs ever given in Twin Falls, as all the arrangements from decorations to entertainment were on an unusually attractive scale.

The guests entered the dining room to the strains of music furnished by Spaulding's orchestra, which broke in to the air of the national anthem as the guests reached their seats and every one joined in the singing. The tables were arranged in a circle with streamers of pink and white extending from the inner edge to a rotary wheel hung from the central chandelier, the whole giving the effect of a double wheel.

Judge Walters, president of the club, acted as master of ceremonies for the evening with results which lent an air of informality to the occasion and added considerably to the pleasure of the evening.

During the serving of a delicious eight course dinner the guests were entertained by Miss Marie Roberts of Twin Falls and Miss Evelyn of Salt Lake, who came especially for the occasion. Afterward dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

A happy feature of the evening was the distribution of handsome favors among the ladies. Present were Judge and Mrs. E. A. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Peavey, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Ostrander, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Swin, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. H. Blue, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Head, Mr. and Mrs. H. PROPOSES BEST BAND IN REGION FOR TWIN FALLS

Manager W. R. Priebe Outlines Plans for Making Local Organization of Musicians Factor in the Northwest

The best band in the northwest is what Manager W. R. Priebe proposes for Twin Falls. It is his idea that a band of that character can be developed here that will be called to play for fairs, festivals and other events between Salt Lake and Portland. With the membership of the present band as a nucleus, he expects to add to the organization from the ranks of the returning soldier musicians, whose long practice in the service, makes them at least semi-professional musicians, and from among the best talent wherever it is to be found.

Best Advertisement

In the statement of this object, Manager Priebe will shortly call upon Twin Falls citizens for a full measure of co-operation. A good hand is the best advertisement any town can have, he declares, and numerous Twin Falls people concur in his opinion. He has estimated that the maintenance of a band such as he has in mind will involve an expenditure of approximately $2,500 in addition to the appropriation made to it by the city administration. His plan provides for a paid director, and Librarian, addition to the supply of music, and payment of 25 cents per night to the members, for taking part in regular rehearsals.

Co-operation Needed

Donations of money will be insufficient to assure the success of the scheme, Mr. Priebe states, but there must be in addition co-operation with the band men in respect to the furnishing of members with employment here. Under these circumstances, he declares, there will be no difficulty in assembling here the necessary number of musicians possessing the required high standard of talent to make the proposed bigger and better band a reality.

Pupils at School Escape Influenza

Superintendent Hal G. Blue Says Reopening is Merited With No New Cases

Since the reopening of the Twin Falls public schools on December 30, there have been no cases of influenza among the pupils in attendance, according to the statement this morning of Superintendent Hal G. Blue. The enrollment is approximately 2,800. The opening day attendance was 87 per cent of the enrollment, and the attendance since has been increasing. Mrs. Austin D. Thomas, a trained nurse, is employed by the school board to make daily inspections of the pupils and their school surroundings. Whenever a pupil evidences symptoms of influenza it is promptly reported to the superintendent. What She Was Looking For.

One of the many excellent stories told by Lady Jenson in her "Notes of a Nomad" concerns her goldfisher. "He came often to our house," writes the authoress, "having an obvious admiration for the pretty young aunt who lived with us. One day he called on usual and I at once climbed on his knees and stared searchingly into his clear, brown eyes. 'What's the matter, child?' said he, 'and what are you looking at?' 'Mamma said to papa, 'quoth I, 'that you had a wife in your eyes and I'm looking to see if I can find her.'"

BIDS BOURBONS TO MEET HERE

President of Jefferson Club Endorses Suggestion of New Freedom Publisher.

Thomas M. Robertson, president of the Twin Falls County Jefferson Club, has expressed in a letter to Fred Flood, editor of the New Freedom, Boise, the readiness of the club to act as host to a proposed meeting of Democrats of the state to be held on or about the date of the anniversary of Jefferson's birthday, April 13.

The suggestion that the meeting be held was made by Mr. Flood through the columns of his paper. Mr. Robertson's letter is as follows: "I note with much pleasure and approval the suggestion contained in the current issue of the New Freedom that a meeting be held in some part of the state other than Boise for the purpose of untangling the party's troubles. I cannot assure you too strongly of my approval of this suggestion, especially coming at this time. It is too much the tendency of so many who are prominent in politics to think of the welfare of the party only at or about the time of election, and it is refreshing to see suggestions along constructive lines at this time.

"A president of the Twin Falls County Jefferson club, I would say that if your suggestion meets with the approval of the state organization and other true Democrats, the Jefferson club would be delighted to act as host to the Democrats of the state at such a meeting and at such time as they may elect to meet and the day suggested by you to wit—April 13, being the birthday of Jefferson, would be much approved except that the same falls on Sunday, which fact should be taken into consideration in deciding upon any given date.

"I would be very pleased to know what response you may receive from other parts of the state as to the suggestion you have so wisely put forth."

"WHERE AM I IN THE MIST OF THEM?"

Written for the Christian Science Monitor

A prime purpose of the church has always been to convey to men the fact that God is ever with them. To do this, the church must represent healing power, show forth the love that surpasses human affection, symbolize the light, warmth, knowledge, and inspiration that give courage, health, peace and uplift to mortals. The Christian ideal is not surpassed by any other, and the works of the founder of Christianity fully equal that ideal. In time of storm and stress this church must stand out the more prominently by very contrast.

A layman, hearing from all sides of the spread of a prevalent epidemic, and being filled with fear, thereby, might naturally conclude that this is peculiarly a time when he can find aid and comfort in the Christian church. But suppose he goes to church at the customary hour of service and the church is closed? Instead of the representation of spiritual power and presence, he sees the very symbol of powerlessness and lack; in the place of any expression of the Love that casts out fear he finds the churches filled only with fear. He remembers that in the Scriptures Christ Jesus said of his church, "The gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

To close Christian churches for fear of spreading contagious disease is to serve evil to a practical extent that outweighs nominal worship of God. To fear evil is to attribute greater and more extensive power to evil than to good, and that departs completely from the fundamental of Christianity. When fear of disease prevents avowed Christians from meeting in their churches, have they forgotten or have they failed to appreciate the assurance of the Christ: "Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them?"

Jesus' who ministry proved that sin, disease, and evil of every kind vanish before the recognition of the Christ, just as darkness disappears in the presence of light. The Gospels relate that in Nazareth, "He did not many mighty works there because of their unbelief." Where true appreciation of the Christ is lacking, the blessing and healing Jesus offered to humanity were not made use of; but whenever there was recognition of the divine character and power, sinners were reformed, the sick were made well, the lame, deaf, blind, were made whole, and the dead were raised up. Nothing has changed or can change the eternal law of God which Jesus fulfilled, and its application is exactly the same now as it was then.

On the basis of the teaching of Christ Jesus, which is logical and demonstrable, the same results always follow the same perception of the Christ and the same appreciation of Jesus' teaching and work. If the results do not follow, it must be because the realization of the Christ, the undertaking of Truth, is apparently lacking.

There might be room to question what is meant by gathering together, "in my name," if the Master had not stated plainly the practical and unswerving result, in the words, "There am I in the midst of them." This assurance is of the greatest practical value to his followers if it assures them to seek the evidence of the presence of the Christ, Truth. This evidence is the same as that which distinguished his ministry, for he declared that the signs that would identify his followers were casting out sin, speaking with inspiration, and healing disease, as he did. To those with eyes to see, the expression of spiritual healing and good is always at hand to testify to the eternity of the

HYDE DECLARES ALLEGED LIBEL IS THE TRUTH

Buhl Real Estate Dealer Files Answer in Action for Recovery of $10,000 Damages Brought by Competitor

Winfield Scott Hyde, real estate dealer of Buhl, not only wrote letters to a building and loan company in February, 1918, in which he said that the case of a competitor, America's Vantage Mounce, he understood, would be brought before the defense council; that Mounce was called the second knifer and that he did not shine in supporting the war in contributions to the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A., but in an answer filed Tuesday in district court to complaint filed by Mounce on May 10 asking for $10,000 damages, he declares that these statements are true.

Denial Verbal Attack

Hyde denies that on February 5 he made any verbal statements to the effect that Mounce was pro-German and that neither of the banks of Buhl would recommend him.

The answer was filed by Walters & Hodgins, attorneys for Hyde in this action.

Christ, Truth, but if proof of the divine presence seems to be lacking in the church or outside of it, then it is as true now as it was two thousands years ago that it is "because of their unbelief." If the fear of epidemic pervades the churches, then even faith in Christ is lacking to say nothing of the understanding of Christ, Truth, which overcomes contagion, as it does all other evil, and destroys disease as well as sin.

The mistake indicated is not so much one of church organization, as it is the failure of the individual Christian to utilize more of the practical import of Christ Jesus' teaching and to express it continually in daily experience. Not only did the Master assure his followers of the presence of the Christ, whenever and wherever they congregated, but he told humanity, individually and collectively, "I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." To know that the Saviour is over at hand lifts one above the fear that is expressed in an epidemic, while discipline results from persistence in that knowing until scientific knowledge of the Truth is attained. Then the premised reward to the disciple is that the truth shall make him free. Slavery to disease and materialistic cravities is one of the worst forms of human bondage today. Christian Science affords complete relief from this oppression by healing disease of every kind through its teaching and proof that God, divine Principle, actually is infinite and everpresent. WO MEN ARE HURT AS TRAIN SMASHES AUTO

Ben Brown and Frank Brown of Twin Falls are patients in hospital suffering from injuries received in accident

Ben Brown and Frank Brown, sons of F. D. Brown, associated with the Brown Brothers' Sheep company, Twin Falls, are patients in the Twin Falls county general hospital suffering from injuries received in an accident.

The accident occurred on the morning of Jan. 8, when the train was passing over the crossing near the west of Twin Falls and the auto east of Curry.

View is Obstructed

The accident victims were travelling on a train on the road north to the J. L. Desbrousseaux home, here Mrs. Frank Brown was spending the day with her parents and was returning with them.

The train stopped after striking the auto and brought the accident victims to Twin Falls.

dominated by majority socialists. The demonstrators in the Tiergarten said: "Workers and brothers, the moment has come for action. Don't return to the Berlin garrison with us. Ebert and Scheidemann must go. Your confidence and actions will bring us men and will prove that the Socialist public is not a lie, but a reality."

"The world knows the Socialist revolution has begun at last. It will influence the content and the whole world. Prepare for action, with rifles loaded. Do not rest until the goal is reached. The Ebert-Scheidemann government has been disgusting to the whole world. Long live the world revolution and international socialism."

Will Suppress With Arms At practically the same time Scheidemann was addressing a throng in front of the Reichstag building.

"This is most sad," he said. "We will not allow the minority to terrorize a majority any longer. The government will suppress the Spartacist movement with arms."

A voice from the crowd cried: "Give us the arms!" Scheidemann replied: "Weapons will be issued this afternoon."

The crowd which Liebknecht had addressed and the people who had followed to Scheidemann started to parade. The rival processions collided and the riot spread over the city.

GRAVE CHARGES MADE BY HEAD OF SECURITY LEAGUE

President of the Organization Makes Bold Assertions in Investigation of Expenditure of League Funds

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Quarries by Representative Johnson of Kentucky, chairman of the congressional committee investigating expenditures of the National Security league, today brought from S. Stanwood Menken, former president of the league, charges that congress had turned to "Pork Barrel" uses of money which should have been spent according to advice of military and naval experts.

"This country spent almost as much money as Germany on its army," Menken declared, "but it did not have one-fifth the military establishment." Pressed for further explanation of congressional expenditures, Menken declared:

"Log-rolling was a favorite practice in congress," explaining he meant by this that congressmen who were influenced, were able to procure appropriations from postoffices and other buildings for cities not deserving.

Ignorance Advised

"Go to Ber Harbor and look at the postoffice there if you want to know exactly what I mean," he replied to one question from Representative Johnson. He also declared investigations of naval expenditures made by the league had shown that the advice of General Wood, General Scott and the naval board had consistently been ignored, and that congress followed its own ideas with regard to increasing the military and naval power of the country. He asserted dry docks were built in some cases that could not be used by battleships because the water approaching the docks was too shallow for ships to enter.

Menken went over the history of the league's organization, naming many persons whom he had induced to join. He also described his resignation from the league after a letter of approval of William Randolph Hearst, had been published and repudiated.

In reply to a question Menken said his father-in-law was born in Prussia and came to this country when 3 years old. He told the committee he did not know whether members of the league were holders of Russian bonds.

MAY CHANGE LAW ON IMMIGRATION

Would Tighten Restrictions to Halt Rush of Foreigners to American Shores

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—An effort to tighten immigration restrictions will be made at this session of congress despite shortness of time before final adjournment.

Chairman Burnett of the house immigration committee today called his committee together to try to get an agreement on some measures that will halt a rush to American shores expected as soon as there is shipping space.

Two Measures Considered

There are two measures before Burnett's committee. One by Burnett himself would halt immigration for four years from the date of passage.

The other, by Representative Lufkin, would stop immigration for two years. The exceptions made in the two bills are government officials, skilled labor, and persons on religious missions and returning soldiers who are aliens. All those would be allowed admission on proof of status.

There is a demand for some check on immigration and it is coming from quarters which have favored the very tight restrictions, Burnett said today.

"One thing is sure, we cannot allow an influx of a million untrained workers a year during our readjustment period. We should allow the people we have now to get settled back into normal life before taking in more."

The shortness of time before adjournment may affect the situation some but not greatly. Foreign governments may make things very attractive for the people they want to keep and let us have the "dregs." If congress will recognize the true situation a bill can be passed before the end of this session.

Burnett also pointed out that immigration laws passed now would not interfere with any provisions that might be made in the peace treaty, because the treaty, being passed last, would override previous legislation.

Powerful Forces at Work Two powerful forces are working for immigration legislation. Labor wants it to safeguard wages during the year of high prices. The second force is one that wants to take preventative steps against any remote chance of a spread of Bolshevism here.

Non-Union Crews

At the office of the marine director for the United States Railroad administration, it was stated that Lackawanna railroad boats were running to Jersey under operation of non-union crews. These, it was stated, probably would be discontinued when Pennsylvania boats were resumed.

It was declared that no protection from troops or naval forces had been asked and it was deemed unlikely that it would be. The strikers controlled the situation with no trouble.

"There probably will be hell to pay very shortly," was the comment of the marine director's office.

RAILROADS ASK NEW SECRETS IN CABINET

tion, Cuyler said, but federal incorporation should be compulsory.

Possible Duties

Functions of the secretary of transportation as recommended would include: Recommendations as to rates; Determination of policies for improvement of transportation service; Power to re-route traffic over various lines to relieve congestion; Unification of terminals.

Direction during war or "serious emergency" of all railroads as one national unit. Control over all extensions and new construction of lines and terminal facilities. Executive and administrative powers of the Interstate Commerce commission would be given over to the transportation secretary. The commission would continue to act as a quasi judicial body and would be in charge of valuation and accounting.

Federal jurisdiction must be complete over both state and interstate rates, Cuyler stated. But he proposed a group of regional commissions, consisting of one member from each state in the various regions, those commissions to have jurisdiction over rates of representatives of the Interstate Commerce commission in hearing all complaints.

Executives Sponsor Plan

The railroad executives presented this plan as a preferable solution of the railroad problem to the five-year test period proposed by McAdoo and the various other suggestions for government operation, leasing of government owned railroads and for enlarged control by the Interstate Commerce commission.

Executives are strong in the belief that state regulation must go and that the railroad problem is strictly a federal one. The regional system would merely distribute the work of the interstate commerce commission and would not scatter any of the power exercised by federal agencies, it was pointed out.

"Power of regulation of the transportation of interstate commerce, including all rates, state and interstate, should be exclusively in the hands of the national government," the report submitted by Cuyler, outlining the railroad interests' plans, declared.

"A system of federal incorporation should be adopted for all railroads engaged in interstate and foreign commerce," Cuyler stated.

"Such systems should be compulsory and not elective. It should provide a plan of regulation and merger for corporations engaged in interstate or foreign commerce, with the necessary power of condemnation provided the secretary of transportation finds that such consolidation or merger is not contrary to the public interests and is for the benefit of the country."

Shippers and utilities commissions, the latter of whom would be faced with complete eclipse by the plans proposed, remain to be heard.

BOBAY DECLARES REAL TRUTH IS BEING HELD UP

ry. We do not know to what extent the soviet government represents the Russian people. I don't judge the Bolshevist movement by Lenin and Trotsky, who, in my opinion, are disloyal to every one on earth, except their German masters. I am convinced they went into Russia in the pay of Germany.

"But I dissociate them from the great mass of Russian people. I am not willing to judge the justice of Russia by their acceptance of the leadership of Lenin and Trotsky."

No Russian Policy

Borah declared neither the allies nor the United States has a Russian policy worthy of the name.

"The thing I am concerned about is not the guarding of supplies," he said: "If our troops are being kept there for that purpose, I have no criticism. But at this time there is being considered a program of going in and stabilizing Russia and setting up a government. That is something there is no justification for, in my opinion. We cannot, as a distinguished ex-president still living says, 'Shoot Bolshevism out of Russia.'"

RUSSIAN POLICY BEING EXPLAINED

Hitchcock Gives "Statement of Facts" Why American Army Is Kept in Siberia

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The primary and immediate task of American troops who were sent to Russia has been accomplished but they are being kept there by all the allies until their withdrawal will not mean re-opening the door to a German offensive.

This statement was made by the senate today by Senator Hitchcock, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, in response to criticisms of the government's Russian policy.

Important War Measure

There are 15,000 American troops in Russia. They were sent there as an important war measure, they have been received in friendly spirit by those with whom they went to cooperate.

Hitchcock, in answer to repeated requests for information concerning this government's policy in Russia, gave instead a statement of facts, but did not discuss questions of policy.

Administration Criticized

"Recently the administration has been the subject of attacks on account of its Russian policy," said Hitchcock. "On the one side it is criticized for failure to yield to the desires of Great Britain and France and send large forces into Russia for the purpose of the restoration of the old order of things. On the other, it has been criticized by the senator from California, Mr. Johnson, who on several occasions, has directed his remarks in the senate to the committee on foreign relations and demanded to know why our soldiers are in Russia, how many are there and why they fight the Russian Bolsheviki in the absence of any declaration of war on them by congress."

Attempts of Opposition to Declare Law Unconstitutional May Fail Yet

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—"Drys" in congress today were confident that "wet" attempts to have the courts declare the prohibition amendment to the federal constitution invalid, would fail.

They also declared that they were assured that the sufficient number of six states necessary to make the amendment operative, would be accomplished by the last of next week.

"We would have the necessary votes of state legislatures by the end of this week, if all of them could meet in time," said Representative Randall, California "dry."

Supreme court knocked out the principal wet contention last Tuesday when it decided that the law was not unconstitutional because it passed over the president's veto by a vote of two-thirds of the whole congress.

Under this decision which will stand as a precedent, the constitutional phases of the two-thirds and three-fourths vote will mean the passage of those present.

The other "wet" contention that the amendment is invalid because of a provision that it must be adopted within seven years, Randall declared, would not stand.

Process of Elimination Will Disappoint Several Aspirants for Places

(Special to The News)

BOISE, Jan. 9.—If Lieutenant Governor Moore and Speaker Riger gave every legislator the place he wanted, as chairman of a committee, there would be at least twenty-nine heads of the finance committee and more committees in the senate and about forty-five in the house. Then again, most of them feel there is much power and prestige in holding such positions—a condition which actually prevails.

Perhaps the largest job in the whole scheme of organization confronts those heads of the two houses in this important respect, as they are now doing Committee appointments have been made in only two instances. Early yesterday afternoon the printing and rules committees of the senate were definitely made up as follows: Printing, Mason, chairman; Yeaman, Davis, Rules, Thraikill, chairman; Whitcomb, Parzany.

Fisher Lands Position

Announcement was also made late yesterday afternoon from the office of Governor Davis that he had appointed George Fisher of Bennequin county as a member of the compensation board, a position which was again predicted for some time but not before announced. Two other members are to be selected.

A committee plan in the house likely to go to a man from southeastern Idaho is that of chairman of the irrigation committee, while reorganization is another matter having place.

Little was done in the legislature yesterday. The memorial services for former President Roosevelt occupied the afternoon hours and the gathering of the two lawmaking bodies in the morning was a mere matter of form.

"DRYS" BELIEVE VICTORY IS WON

Attempts of Opposition to Declare Law Unconstitutional May Fail Yet

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—"Drys" in congress today were confident that "wet" attempts to have the courts declare the prohibition amendment to the federal constitution invalid, would fail.

They also declared that they were assured that the sufficient number of six states necessary to make the amendment operative, would be accomplished by the last of next week.

"We would have the necessary votes of state legislatures by the end of this week, if all of them could meet in time," said Representative Randall, California "dry."

Supreme court knocked out the principal wet contention last Tuesday when it decided that the law was not unconstitutional because it passed over the president's veto by a vote of two-thirds of the whole congress.

Under this decision which will stand as a precedent, the constitutional phases of the two-thirds and three-fourths vote will mean the passage of those present.

The other "wet" contention that the amendment is invalid because of a provision that it must be adopted within seven years, Randall declared, would not stand.

The Comb Toter

Miss Myrtille says she might in time grow to love a man who totes a little comb around in his pocket to comb his mustache with in public, but she's not going to try it unless there's a law passed requiring her to.—Milcon Telegraph.
