British Proposal in Matter of Right of Russian Factions to Representation at Peace Session in Wilson's Hands

FRENCH FOREIGN MINISTER WAS DECLARED OPPOSED

Regards Movement as Designed to Lead to Situation Which is Not Compatible with the Views of the Government

By CARL D. GROAT
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The state department has forwarded to the American peace delegation the British proposal regarding cessation of Russian hostilities with subsequent Russian factional representation.

It will be up to President Wilson and the American delegates to decide whether they wish to have Bolshevik and other Slav agents present their views at Paris.

M. Pichon, French foreign minister, is reported to have rejected the British proposal, viewing it as a plan to have Bolshevik delegates in the peace conference.

Proposal not clear
This government has taken no position yet. Whether England meant that the English should actually sit in at the peace conference or present their views, is not clear.

The state department claimed it had no knowledge of a proposal to include delegates in the session. Subsequently acting Secretary Polk officially stated he received a British proposal dated January 8.

Questions put to him Saturday here only on Bolshevik representation and Polk explained that he was not aware of the Pichon rejection statement and did not consider that the question had any relation to the British note.

Forwarded to Paris
This note was forwarded Saturday to Paris for the American agents. Why it had not been delivered directly to the mission is unknown. It was suggested that as it was addressed to France and the United States it would not necessarily have to go direct to the delegates.

Thus far the United States government has taken no stand against the Bolshevik and some time ago actually asked the world to outlaw them.

Whether their agents and other Russian factions shall go to Paris is a question of policy resting largely with President Wilson.

Woman Who Killed So-Called Emperor May Never Be Tried

LeBaudy's Actions Proceeding Tragedy So Erratic as to Justify the Shooting

WESTBURY, N. Y., Jan. 13.—Mrs. Mario Augustine Le Baudy may never go to trial on a charge of killing her husband, Jacques Le Baudy, "Emperor of the Sahara," whom she shot Saturday night.

District Attorney Weeks today took her case before the grand jury. It was reported that Le Baudy's actions preceding the tragedy were so erratic that the grand jury, with all the evidence before it, might not indict the woman who killed him. She claims self-defense.

Relatives of Le Baudy were expected to make a fight for the fortune left by the dead man, for a statement made, by Le Baudy's counsel today was to the effect that Mrs. Le Baudy was a common-law wife. It was declared in fact that Le Baudy had hired Mrs. Le Baudy as housekeeper. Attorneys for Mrs. Le Baudy asserted they would have no trouble in proving a legal common-law marriage and would show the child, Jacqueline, is their legal daughter.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—With the formation of a labor party here an accomplished fact, John Fitzpatrick, its nominee for mayor, today announced only labor could help him.

"Contributions will be accepted only from those affiliated with labor," he said, in agreeing to make the race. The new party was born Sunday at an enthusiastic gathering of 400 labor men. Candidates for city clerk and treasurer also were named. They promised an aggressive campaign.

REPORT CAPTURE OF LEADERS OF SPARTACUSIAN MOVEMENT

Copenhagen Dispatch Declares Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg Have Been Arrested by Government Troops

SITUATION IS QUIETER BUT FIGHTING CONTINUES

Independent Socialists Lose Heavily in Men and Material—Russian Bolshevik Representatives Imprisoned

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 13.—Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg have been captured by German government troops, according to the Tagblat Bremen.

The Spartacus leaders, the newspaper said, were taken prisoner with 1,000 of their followers, including a son of the agitator, Lewin. A quantity of military material was also captured, consisting of 100 machine guns, 1,200 rifles and 100 bombs.

Spartacans attacked and shot into crowds which were attending government meetings in Berlin yesterday, according to the dispatch. This is believed to be final effort of the insurgent the dispatch said, as the government now practically controls the situation.

Another dispatch filed in Berlin yesterday said government troops had captured central police headquarters, the Tagblatt offices and the Boostow brewery, and that Karl Budek, Russian Bolshevik representative, had been arrested.

Leaders Forced to Cover
An early dispatch quoted the Deutsche Tages Zeitung as saying that Budek, Liebknecht and Police President Eichorn had taken refuge in the Boostow brewery, where they were protected by a heavy guard armed with machine guns. It is believed that Liebknecht and Eichorn must have escaped, else the government would have announced their capture as well as Budek's. No confirmation had been received from any source that Liebknecht was killed in street fighting Thursday.

Government troops have recaptured the Spandau arsenal, court-martialed and shooting the Spartacan commander, according to other Berlin reports. They also cleared the Spartacans from the Tagblatt. The Hellenes railway station is now in government hands.

Vorwärts Building Captured
The Vorwärts building, which was shattered by government artillery was stormed and captured by government troops Saturday. They found 125 dead in the building. George Ledebour, leader of the independent socialists, and 300 others, were reported to have been arrested in this encounter.

About 300 Spartacans were reported killed and 700 wounded in the latest fighting, raising the total of dead to at least 1,300.

Spartacans in Control
A socialist republic was said to have been proclaimed in Bremen. In Stuttgart, Spartacans occupied the town hall after several hours street fighting.

Fighting was reported in Hagen between minority socialists and citizens who had volunteered to fight for the government.

WORLD NEWS EVENTS

GENEVA, Jan. 13.—Ignace Jan Paderewski was slightly wounded when several shots were fired into his hotel room at Warsaw, a dispatch from that city reported today. Twenty Bolsheviks were said to have been arrested in connection with the shooting. Dispatches received several days ago reported that Paderewski narrowly escaped injury when shots which German soldiers fired at a parade of Polish citizens, including several children, went wild and penetrated his apartments.

METZ, Jan. 13.—Grand Duchess Marie of Luxembourg was reported today to be a refugee in a chateau near her capital, following a revolutionary outbreak Saturday. Unconfirmed dispatches received here said she had abdicated. A republic has been proclaimed in Luxembourg by revolutionists. The chamber of deputies held a tumultuous session, members of the clerical party withdrawing.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 13.—The Spartacans were reported to have admitted defeat and to have declared their readiness to accept the government conditions, providing election of the national assembly is postponed three months. This statement was credited to Herr Schultz, secretary to Chancellor Ebert, in a dispatch today from Berlin.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 13.—Belgian deputies returning from an official inspection of the battle fields, propose that Germany be forced to cede to Belgium a zone equal in area to the devastated regions. King Albert and his ministers have decided to appoint a special commission to supervise reconstruction work.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 13.—The thirteenth of January is the hoodoo flung by the "drys" at the "wets" in the legislature today. The dries propose before midnight to finish the assembly fight over the ratification of the Sheppard "dry" bill, which the senate ratified last week.

Cabinet Resigns Is Late Report

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The Hungarian cabinet has resigned according to dispatches received from Budapest today. The new cabinet, which has not yet been formed, probably will be socialist, it was reported.

The allied food mission has gone to Vienna, another dispatch stated.

CORRESPONDENT UNDER ARREST

Newspaper Man, Wounded by Hand Grenade, Has Interesting Experience.

By JOHN GRAUBENZ

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—While en route to the scene of the attack on the Vorwärts building today, I was arrested by government troops, but was later released.

Owing to the injury to my foot (traumatized) was wounded by a hand grenade Monday. I had to run a bare foot. A short distance from the Vorwärts my progress was blocked by government troops, who were personally commanded by Gustav Noake, military director of the city. I climbed on the roof to get a better view of the bombardment. Noake spotted me and gave an order. Ten officers, waving revolvers, rushed at me. I was placed under arrest, despite my special foreign pass.

Saved by Acquaintance
I was unable to walk and two officers, supporting me, started to lead me away. An artillery colonel whom I knew, was attracted by the commotion. He ordered my release and apologized profusely.

POLICE UNCOVER PLOT TO ESTABLISH BOLSHEVIC REGIME IN BUENOS AIRES

PRESIDENT, MINISTER OF WAR AND MINISTER OF POLICE OF FULL FLEDGED SOVIET GOVERNMENT PLACED UNDER ARREST—RINGLEADERS ALL RUSSIANS SENT INTO THE COUNTRY TO FOMENT UPRISINGS

By JAMES I. MILLER

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 13.—Police declared today they had discovered a soviet organization in Buenos Aires and arrested its president, his minister of war, and minister of police for this city and two other officials, all of whom are Russians. The names of these men as well as those on a list of 140, the police say they have, are being withheld.

Bicyclists, the police asserted, have been arrested as bomb plotters. These men, it was asserted, came to South America from Russia in October and November. They were plentifully supplied with funds and obtained considerable munitions. They were sent, it was declared, by Bolsheviks in Russia to foment Bolshevik uprisings in the important "South American Capitals."

Police were unable to explain where the munitions came from, but other arrests are expected in the roundup.

Kidnap Car Crew
Tramway service here came to a halt yesterday evening, when a group of suspected anarchists stopped a guarded car, kidnaping the motorman and conductor. Reports have been received that workers in central Argentina and sections of the Buenos Aires tramway workers voted to strike. Their demands have not been announced.

Port strikers have demanded a 20 per cent increase in pay. Lighter men wanted any overtime considered a full day's work. Other union workers, it was said, had been asked to join in a withdrawal of the strike. Police and strikers clashed yesterday on docks in the southern section. Several casualties were reported.

Whole City Nervous
Buenos Aires was still in a highly nervous condition. Every police station was closely guarded. Pedestrians were forced to detour several blocks to avoid passing these buildings. Bolshevik adherents several times attacked the stations but were driven off by machine gun fire. Vicious police turned their guns on shadow in some instances. They feared even unarmed pedestrians in daylight, refusing to approach them without leveling their rifles and ordering them to stand off.

Several teams were running with armed soldiers and sailors on the platform.

Antes of Armed Guards
Official automobiles rushed through the streets with engines roaring with unaffiliated exhausts. Each carried three to five armed guards. The police motored back and forth along the Avenida De Mayo, arresting persons suspected of agitation.

Police Search for Men Responsible for Rioting in Seattle

Demonstration by Alleged Bolshevik and Red Elements Culminates in Fighting

SEATTLE, Jan. 13.—Police were vigorously searching today for "marked" radicals who yesterday fought savagely, using fists and clubs, when the police broke up their parade.

More than 2000 alleged Bolshevik and "reds" formed the parade after their meeting had been ordered discontinued.

Police Captain Searing ordered one of the leaders, W. H. Stumpf, to discontinue the parade. Stumpf is said to have struck Searing in the face. Immediately the police captain became the center of a struggling group. The fight finally spread, affecting five thousand persons. The red flag was chased by many. Service men assisted the police, despite appeals to "join the movement against industrial slavery."

The meeting had as its primary object agitation against American forces in Russia.

BERLIN IS BLAMED FOR SPREAD OF BOLSHEVISM

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
VIENNA, Jan. 13 (Delayed).—Austrian and other German cities blame the Berlin government for permitting the spread of Bolshevism throughout the country, reports from various sources indicated today. They take the attitude that Chancellor Ebert's repressive measures were not severe enough at the outset of the Berlin revolt.

It is reported to be near a panic through fear of Bolshevik uprisings. Thousands of persons staged a demonstration in front of Kurt Eisner's headquarters. Incipient riots resulted in the death of four persons and the injury of seven others. Buns were started on the banks.

Communist under Spartacan leadership occurred the Volkes Zeitung plant of Dresden. They were dispersed by government troops who used hand grenades. Twenty were killed and many wounded. Stuttgart and other south German cities are fighting themselves while being aided from the Spartacan movement, and in Berlin the city officials are sending angry protests to the Berlin government against the latter's failure to keep the Bolshevik movement confined to the capital.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL GIVEN WARM DEFENSE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Government railroad control had its inning again today. Former Director-general McAde's proposal to continue government operation of railroads for five years to test its merits was warmly defended by Robert W. Woolley, Interstate Commerce Commissioner in the senate hearing.

He contended, however, that railroads face a stretch of rocky finances unless rigid government control over securities as well as rates and expenditures are kept up. "I am sure that our year's control of the railroads had not been an unequalled success," Woolley declared in a prepared statement filed with the committee, "but my mind the good accomplished far outweighs the shortcomings, and is a promise of better things for the future." The proposal to return railroads to private control, though widely discussed by railroad men, financiers and shippers, has not yet, as far as I am aware, been productive of any concerted plan which would carry the underlying safety over the breakers obviously ahead."

RUSSIAN SOVIET GOVERNMENT TO BE RECOGNIZED

Plan for Solving Apparently Hopeless Situation Originated in British Cabinet

By LOWELL MELLITT
PARIS, Jan. 11.—That the Russian soviet government is to receive some degree of recognition from the allied powers were forecast in certain official sources today. Such a step, it was pointed out, would have an all-important effect on the peace conference. It was believed the rapid spread of Bolshevism would be checked. This in turn, it was expected, would effectively defeat the radical movement in Germany and result in establishment of a stable government with which the allies could sign a durable peace.

Origination of Plan
Not less startling than the proposal itself, was the allegation that it originated in the British cabinet—in fact, through Premier Lloyd George. Inquiry at American headquarters revealed that the proposal had never been received there. But there is excellent reason to believe that the French government has been given to understand that the British are considering such a solution of the apparently hopeless Russian situation. There is good ground for believing that if the British reach a definite decision in this regard the other allies will quickly follow suit, including even the French, whose antipathy toward the soviet government was hitherto the most marked of all.

The keystone of the understanding, according to well defined reports, would be a guarantee by the soviet that it will re-assume all financial obligations of the old Russian government, as well as protect its foreign interests. This it was believed, would have the effect of standing off German commercial monopoly in Russia, which has been their threat since the collapse of the first Russian provisional government. The soviet are reported to have suggested a preliminary alliance with the allies in Russia, in order to prove their contention that they are not only in complete control, but that reports of atrocities committed by them are untrue. It is agreed among those seriously considering the idea that if the present Russian government is able to convince the allies of these things that one of the blackest clouds hanging over the peace conference will be removed.

On Approval
If the discussion is undertaken, the allied powers will probably send envoys to make good on its promise. Recognition probably would first take the form of a preliminary agreement, the closest examination of Russia's internal situation, which more than one high British official, who is familiar with the details, admit is a complete mystery. All information recently has been from bordering cities, which naturally are greatly alarmed at expected Bolshevist menaces.

Settlement of the Russian problem will have a great political effect in Great Britain and France, where recent preparations to undertake greater military operations against the soviet were with unmistakable disapproval from the reports. If Lloyd George is able to swing the British government on such a decision, he would undoubtedly receive the credit from the formidable opposition which is actively preparing to make Russia an important issue.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—Al. Tearney and T. J. Hickey, minor league bosses, were ready today to topple an avalanche onto the major leagues. The two will attend the major league meeting in New York this week in an effort to overturn existing draft rules.

The minor league bosses are asking that the number of men drafted, "We develop green material only to see it grabbed by the big boys," was Tearney's complaint.

Iowa Senator Will Present Entire New Outline Providing for Aid to Workers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—A concrete industrial welfare program will soon be submitted to congress, Senator Kenyon, Iowa, announced. It will consist of four bills, resulting from hearings Kenyon has been conducting on the subject. The bill provides for:

Further steps for legislation are to be obtained from the program mapped out by the American Federation of Labor to be submitted to the commission. At Saturday's hearing Frederick L. Olmstead, of the bureau of industrial housing, declared the government should devise some mechanism through which aid can be given workers in owning their homes.

"Divine Right" Is Now a Huge Joke

STRASSBURG, Dec. 17 (By Mail).—The Germans don't want to have anything to do with the former Kaiser. They are glad to see him off to the Dutch, and hope he will stay there, judging from what they say in Strassburg.

The United Press correspondent mentioned possibility of the Hohenzollern's return to a group of German officers, seeking an account of the war in Alsace.

"The ex-kaiser is 'kaput' and he'd better stay where he is. He will not keep his head long if he crosses the border into Germany again."

Alsations who have been in the German army felt that the Germans were seeking an account of the war in Alsace. The attitude toward the Hohenzollern family has changed materially in the last month.

General March Gives Figures on Discharges Granted Both in Army in This Country and Abroad

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The army stationed in this country to date has discharged 693,889 men and 7,028 officers. Chief of staff March announced this today supplementing it with the statement that 1,055,000 men are designated for discharge and that 90,000 have already returned from overseas, exclusive of sick and casuals.

The American demobilization system is working more rapidly than the British, for Great Britain on January 7 had discharged only 352,038 men and 3035 officers.

In addition to the 90,000 already returned from overseas there are about 40,000 others who have returned at one time or another from abroad since the war started.

SAYS INDUSTRY MUST PAY WAY OR IS DOOMED

Idaho Farm Bureau Executive Takes Part in Price Agreement Meeting of Utah Sugar Beet Growers and Makers

"The tempo of the nation is such that industries which cannot pay their way have got to go in the discard; if the sugar industry cannot yield a fair compensation both to the beet grower and the manufacturer it will fall and ought to. The sooner both grower and manufacturer come to an understanding of this condition, built on the foundation of sound business policy, the better it will be for all concerned."

Attends on Invitation
This is the statement made by W. F. Alworth of Twin Falls, president of the Idaho state farm bureau, at a meeting in Salt Lake last week of the sugar manufacturers and representative beet growers of Utah, to determine upon the terms of a contract for growing beets for the coming year. Alworth attended the meeting at the request of President McKay of the Utah farm bureau, representing the growers.

He returned to Twin Falls Saturday, leaving Salt Lake before the adjournment of the meeting. At the time of his departure, he stated the indication was that a contract would be adopted providing for payment of $10 per ton for beets with a clause giving an equal division between the grower and manufacturer of the profits on beets manufactured into sugar sold at more than $9 per hundred weight at seaboard, which is the current price.

Ratio Plan Turned Down

The proposition of paying for beets on a ratio of 1 to 1, giving the grower, for instance, $13 per ton for beets when the price of sugar was $10 per hundred weight, was discussed and voted down.

The Intermountain Beet Growers' association was not represented at this meeting, and its organizers, Peterson, Weathers and others, are believed to be in line favor both with the manufacturers and the growers represented. Mr. Alworth reports. This association has put forth a form of contract for growing beets which is said to have met with favor in Minidoka county, Idaho, and elsewhere, and is arguing against the acceptance of a flat rate payment for beets.

Idaho Beets Exceed

Statements of the manufacturers at the Utah meeting, Mr. Alworth reports, were to the effect that the Idaho beet exceeds the Utah beet in saccharine content. On this basis, it is possible, he considers, that a somewhat higher price agreement may be made by the manufacturers with the Idaho growers than with the Utah growers.

GIRL GIVES JOB BACK TO SOLDIER

Wallace Miss, Formerly of Twin Falls, Who Carried Mail, Says Plan Is Fair

WALLACE, Idaho, Jan. 12.—The first known case in this section of a soldier coming back from camp and claiming his old job and thereby displacing a woman worker, has occurred in the Wallace postoffice, says the Wallace Press-Times.

Phillip Pifer, who for about two years previous to his enlistment in the aviation service last June, was letter carrier in Wallace, was mustered out and returned to his home in four months absence. Pifer's return puts back on the waiting list Miss Dora Eldred, who has been carrying the mail for more than three months past.

"Miss Eldred gave splendid service and I certainly will be glad to put her on again should there be a place for her," said Postmaster Joseph P. Johnson. "It was understood that all employees going into the military service should have their places back on their return home and Miss Eldred took up the work with that understanding. The transfer was merely carrying out the regular plans."

"Of course I gladly gave up my work to a returning soldier," said Miss Eldred. "I liked the work and would certainly like to have a job like that all the time. But the boys who gave up the jobs are entitled to have them back, and there will probably be some more girls at the postoffice who will have to give up their places to the returning soldiers."

Miss Eldred said there might be some merit in the demand of the women of Sweden who, when displaced by the soldiers released from mobilization, demanded of the government either a job or a husband. "Only I would want to pick out the husband," Miss Eldred added.

Miss Dora Eldred is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Eldred of Twin Falls. She was employed here for some time as an operator in the local telephone exchange.

AMONG the three members of the board of Twin Falls county commissioners who took the oath of office this morning to serve for the ensuing two years, two have served previously as directors of county administrations.

T. E. Moore of Pifer, who was elected chairman, is entering upon his third term as commissioner of this county from the first district.

William W. Parish of Twin Falls, when he left Olco, Illinois, 14 years ago to come to Twin Falls, was serving there as a member of the county board.

W. F. Breckon of Kimberly, has never before served as a county commissioner, nor is his political record a long one. He has been a resident of Kimberly since 1907, when he came there from Payette, where he farmed for 20 years. He has served in Kimberly, however, for nearly six years as a member of the school board, and was postmaster there for three and one-half years.

All of the new commissioners are men of wide business experience. Mr. Moore, prior to coming to Idaho in 1905, was identified for a number of years with the manufacturing industry in Michigan, his native state, and as a private citizen he is president of the First National Bank at Pifer, and the owner of extensive farming interests in that district.

Mr. Parish entered the hardware and implement business in Illinois, after having taught school in that state for five years. He is one of the largest land owners and farmers of the county.

He Understood Advertising

A complaint was brought before the late Judge James Phelan once against a proprietor of a moving picture house who was alleged to have allowed children of very tender age to frequent his place unaccompanied by their parents or other older persons. The pictures shown, it was also stated, were not such as they should be. The complainant was a clergyman who was at that time quite prominent for his crusades against sin in various forms. At the hearing the defendant and his attorney pleaded for a continuance. Assistant Corporation Counsel Pennington argued against it, but the minister joined in the plea to continue the case and it was continued.

"Why did my complainant lay down on me?" Pennington asked the judge afterward.

"That is very simple," said Judge Phelan. "He is a wise man who knows that two days' advertising is better than one."

He Has a Memory

Attorney Thomas I. Pennington was discussing a man who used to run a downtown saloon but who has since become a well known theater manager. He was warm in his praise of the individual's kindness of heart and other human traits.

"Why are you so strong for this bird?" inquired one of the party. "He isn't so very well thought of."

"Perhaps not," replied Pennington meditatively. "But I remember that when I was attending law school and pinching along on means that were extremely inadequate this man used to turn his back whenever I started for the free lunch counter in his place."

Quitting a Winner.
"So you loved and lost, eh, old chap?"
"On the contrary, I came out a winner."

"How was that?"
"She returned my presents and accidentally put in some of the other fellows'."—Boston Transcript.

Women on Job to Stay, Is Radio Corps' Stand

Getting American women into public work during war time was not a hard task. But getting them out again is something else. This is proven by the activities of the women's radio corps, an organization that looks after the equipment in the big government branches in New York, Boston and Washington. Mrs. Herbert Sumner Owen (inserted photo), chairman of the corps, announces that the women's work will continue, and that it will prove one of the most popular vocations for women workers, even after peace comes. Many prominent girls enlisted in this branch, among them Miss Belle Baruch, daughter of Barney Baruch. The members of the corps shown here are Elizabeth Baker, Lorena Reed and Miss Owen.

And the Coets Still Rise.

Exchange Sociological plonicians, as for instance the starving and shivering thousands of babies in New York, have demonstrated our bent for the spectacular, even in philanthropy.

It does not carry with it the appeal or romance of a Belgium, or the heart-quickening supplication of an orphaned France. Our sufferers were not the victims of the war, God's ruthlessness of greed for world domination, of ambition for the rule of might over right.

Of course, in every community are good men and women who rise to the occasion and alleviate the misery and suffering, if only in a measure.

Another Cabinet Member Finds His Salary Too Small

Possibility of Attorney General Resigning Is Now Rumored in Official Circles

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The possibility of further resignations from President Wilson's cabinet for financial reasons was seen by some here today following Attorney General Gregory's resignation.

Following so closely upon retirement of Secretary McAdoo, who assigned Gregory the post of attorney general, as the cause, Gregory caused considerable stir here by announcing that he will leave the cabinet March 4.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION AUTHORIZED IN BRAZIL

Government Considers Restricting Exports to Cities to Alleviate Conditions Among Poor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Living costs in Brazil have reached a point where the government has been obliged to consider restricting exports, according to information received by the bureau of labor statistics, department of labor.

The president of Brazil has authorized a food administration, consisting of one commissioner and the necessary assistants, to investigate food supplies, costs of production and handling, selling prices and means for improving conditions through government control.

Actual government handling of the crops is possible if it becomes necessary. One of the plans of the administration is to assist workmen's cooperative organizations in every way.

Food prices have advanced greatly in Rio de Janeiro and the working classes have found great difficulty in getting enough to eat. Prices of domestic products have advanced just as have imported articles and in some instances the percentage of increase is almost as great.

CITY DISCLAIMS ANY LIABILITY

Answer in Suit of Publisher and His Wife for Damages is Filed

Alleging that proper precautions were taken against possible injury to pedestrians over a trench extending across the walk on Second street west, and that injury in the case could have resulted only through negligence on the part of the plaintiff, an answer in the case of George D. Wheeler and Amelia A. Wheeler, husband and wife, against the city of Twin Falls, to recover judgment in the sum of $10,000, was filed Saturday in district court here by City Attorney John E. Davies.

Claims Due Diligence

In the complaint in this case allegation is made that the trench which had been dug for the purpose of laying new water mains, was not covered or otherwise well safeguarded at the night of October 6, when Mrs. Wheeler fell into it sustaining serious injury. Answer is made that the trench was covered with a plank and that the crossing was sufficiently lighted.

Mr. Wheeler was formerly advertising manager for the Twin Falls News, and is now manager of the Wood River Pioneer-News-Paper, a publication at Hailay resulting from a consolidation of two newspaper establishments recently effected by himself and others.

The plaintiffs are represented in this action by Walters & Hodgins.

OPPOSITION TO CANAL BOARD IS SHOWING ITSELF

Incumbent of Office of Corporation Attorney Is Principal Issue Raised According to Rumor

On the eve of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Twin Falls Canal company to meet here Tuesday, political activities that have been going on for some time are beginning to make their appearance in the shape of rumors circulated on the streets and among those who habitually display the greatest interest in the affairs of the corporation.

In Race for Re-election.
In the absence of any public statement to the contrary, it has been supposed generally that all of the present members of the board of directors will be candidates for re-election. It is definitely known that Ivan G. Lincoln, W. O. Taylor and Claud Brown are in the race to succeed themselves, and it is stated that F. A. Kennedy is not averse to another term as director.
It has been persistently rumored throughout the west and that J. H. Barker will not be a candidate to succeed himself.
Use has been made of this rumor to further the candidacy of J. F. Detweiler of Filer, a prominent sheep grower, and one active member of the Non-partisan league. Detweiler has collected a number of proxies and on Saturday secured from the offices of the Canal company a list of the non-resident stockholders who, if represented at the meeting, would be represented by proxy.

Remior Deals in Names
Demand for this list was made before it was completed Thursday by Edw. Damman and Sam Pattulo, but they did not again ask for it after being assured that they would receive it when it was completed.

Rumor Saturday added to the list of candidates for directors next year for the names of Pattulo and of John Frain of Hansen. Pattulo owns land in the east end of the county. He has been associated for some time here with D. M. Denton in the real estate business. John Frain is a former manager of the Society of Equity at Hansen. He was a candidate last year for the company director on a "reform" platform put forth by Captain John E. White, then president of the county farm bureau.

Generally expressed satisfaction with the present board of directors, with its financial policies and with the distribution of the water during the past season had led to the presumption generally that there would be no opposition at the coming stockholder's meeting to the re-election of its members.

Might Name New Attorney
It is not argued in support of any of the other candidates that their election as members of the board would improve existing conditions, and the only issue which is raised in current gossip is that the election of the candidates so far presented outside of the members of the present board would result in the transfer of the office of attorney for the company from Judge James E. Baskin, who has held the position since the death of his former associate, the late Arthur M. Bowen, to Turner K. Hackman, of Twin Falls, until two years ago a Virginia Republican, who was active in the interests of the Non-partisan league during the last campaign.

A WILD RIDE

By DOROTHY M. MARSHALL
(Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Alice Hildreth came dancing into the room where her mother sat, wearing an open hair for the first time.
"Mother, mother," she exclaimed joyously, "Aunt Helen wants me to make her a visit while she is in the mountains! Please, dearest, say I can go," she pleaded. "I do so want to go through the mountains."
"But, Alice," remonstrated Mrs. Hildreth, "you are going to be a drelling and let me go."
"New mother," interrupted Alice, "you know you are going to be a drelling and let me go."
After many arguments and much teasing, Alice convinced her mother that she ought to be allowed to go. So, on the following Monday, wearing a gray roadster for her journey to Aunt Helen's.

Up hills and down she went, slowing up now and then to admire the beautiful scenery. "Everything was so new and marvellously beautiful to her that she wished she had a week to spend here."
She paused a while to admire the "Old Man of the Mountains," then speeded up in order to reach her destination before dark, and in her hurry she did not notice the "Danger" sign that gave warning of the dangerous "Three Mile Hill" that lay ahead. Suddenly, after making a sharp turn, she saw stretched before her the most dangerous descent in the mountains. She jammed on both brakes, but they only slowed the car up a trifle. The roads were all cut up from recent rains and were in a terrible condition, and poor Alice could not see herself and catch the wheel, thanking her lucky stars there was no one in the road.

She went over the last bump and down the final slope at an awful speed, when suddenly a young man in soldier's uniform came running out from the side of the road. Alice reached for the steering wheel, but it was wrenched from her other hand as the front wheels struck a rut. She felt herself going over, and then everything grew black.

When she came to, Alice found herself lying on her auto robe with a young man in a soldier's uniform on her. She did not know long to discover that she was miraculously unhurt, but the car was completely overturned. They stopped a passing farmer, and the young man, with his help, finally succeeded in righting the car again. And wonder of wonders—it was not long after much to her delight in the mud guard and a broken windshield.

Alice discovered that Donald Wane, for as such the young man introduced himself, was bound for the same town as she. So it was quite natural that she should invite him to go in her car. It does not take two young people long to get acquainted, and in the two happy weeks that followed they spent much of their time together. Just before Donald was called for service overseas he asked for and received Alice's promise that she would let him guide her car down the path of life as long as he promised not to tip her out "because," she declared, "the spill I gave myself was enough to last a lifetime."

When Alice told her mother of her experience after reaching home safely she also showed her a new ring that sparkled and gleamed on her left hand.
"Now, mother," she teased, "aren't you glad you let me go to see Aunt Helen? Because," she added, "even if I did have an awful scare, I never would have met Don if it hadn't been for that wild, wild ride!"

TRACING DURAZZO IN HISTORY

Originally Illyrian, the Romans Made a Powerful Naval and Maritime Port of the City.

Durazzo, originally an Illyrian city, the Romans founded on the Adriatic coast of the powerful naval and maritime port of Dyrrachium. On the heels of the Romans as their power declined came the Slavs. They called the city Drath. For a brief period it was the chief port of the great Bulgarian empire. The Serbo-Croatian race disputed mastery of the city with the Byzantines. When Byzantium fell before the Ottoman onslaught upon the world the town became Duris.

Thus, having passed through Illyrian, Greek, Roman, Slavic, Byzantine and Turkish hands, this ancient town became a pawn in the game of life and death between nations in 1912, when it was taken by the Serbians and evacuated by them at the behest of Austria-Hungary and Germany.

When Uncle Sam Was Young.
In view of the magnitude of the Liberty loans, it is a quaint and curious thing to remember that the United States set itself up in business by issuing a first Liberty bond, as it might fairly enough be called, for the day but comparatively tiny sum of $20,000. That was when Alexander Hamilton was secretary of the treasury, 129 years ago, and the youthful Uncle Sam was in such pressing need of cash that Hamilton went to the bank of New York for a loan without waiting for the approval of congress. The bank agreed to advance $200,000 in installments; Hamilton sent to it the first bond issued by the United States treasury; and Uncle Sam had $20,000 in cash, all at one time.

Steam Against Sails

Modern naval development may be said to have begun with the rapid increase in the size of ships which took place at the close of the fifteenth century; and medieval history finally closed with the battle of Lepanto in 1571, the last great action in which rowing galleys played an important part. From this time the sail-propelled man-of-war was gradually improved until early in the nineteenth century, when sail began to give way to steam.

Term "The Public"

What we understand today by the term "the public" did not exist during antiquity, as it presupposes a great number of simultaneous readers of one and the same writings, a condition that could not be realized before the invention of printing. The first book that may be said to have had a public in the sense as now understood was the printed Bible. The essential instrument, however, for the formation of "a public," journalism, did not appear before the French revolution.

Foundation for Success

Constant cheerfulness and singleness of purpose, holding ever in mind the goal to be attained, will carry farther on the road to success than any other method however strenuous, declares an educator. Purification of self, concentration for others, increasing effort and no backward turning—these are the fundamentals of success.

Take the Short Route

When you talk, observes an educator, whether in conversation or in meeting, use short words, of which there are more than there are of long ones, and take the most direct road to your meaning. Your meaning's the same.

SESSION ENDS RECORD WEEK ROUTINE WORK

Efficiency Characterizing First Day Is Carried Through the Succeeding Period Summarized

BOISE, Jan. 12.—With no particular accomplishment to its credit, except that it did more routine work during the period than any other preceding legislature, the first week's work of the fifteenth session is now history.

The first efficiency record was when the house and senate gathered Monday, both bodies were able to accomplish efficiently the complete selection of their governing officers and staff of employees.

There have been no bursts of oratory during the week except the speech of Mrs. Emma Drake, woman member from Fayette, who supported her prohibition resolution introduced to the house on the first day.

Expense Bill First In the house the first bill to pass was presented by Young of Ada, which provided for the payment of officers, members and employees and for the general expenses of the fifteenth session.

One of the interesting features of the week was a debate on the question of purchasing stamps for house members. It carried with it the sum of $75,000 and has an emergency clause attached.

A joint session was held Tuesday to listen to Governor Davis' message. Again on Wednesday the house and senate went into joint session to honor the memory of former President Theodore Roosevelt.

"Yes," echoed Muriel, "and her devotion to Horace is almost pathetic." "And did you ever see such fancy work as she is capable of doing?"

"I ought to know something in that line, for I spent three years as an apprentice. My very artificial flower making is my mildly Hortense echoed the jarring word.

"Well, it is scarcely a profession, is it?" stilled Netta sweetly. "You see, when your brother first met me I had become forewoman in a millinery shop."

"The reverse came. A shrewd, none too scrupulous grain buyer appeared as a rival in the field and Horace began to lose his business."

"In both the house and senate bills were introduced during the week to protect the civil rights, for one year from discharge, of all soldiers and sailors of the United States.

Two county division bills came up in the house during the period. One would create Clark county with Dubois as the county seat and Fremont county giving up the territory, while the other would create Caribou county with Soda Springs as the county seat.

By the action of the legislature, Idaho became the third state in the union to pass a resolution proposing a prohibition amendment to the federal constitution.

Governor Davis announced as his first official act the following staff appointments: Adjutant General, Albert H. Wilson; James B. Burns, State Engineer; Robert G. Hays, State Game Warden; James F. Hazzard, State Game Warden; Harold J. Jones, A. J. Priest, Thomas Neilson.

The following executive appointments have been made: State game warden, Otto M. Jones, Boise; warden of penitentiary, W. L. Cuddy, Boise; hereditary commissioner, J. H. Burt and director farm markets, Miles Cannon, Weiser.

FRANCHISE LIVING COSTS UP WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The typical French family, which spent about 1,000 francs, or $193, a year for food before the war, had to do with 1,400 francs ($448.88) for the same amount of food in the second quarter of 1918, according to figures obtained by the French minister of labor and published by the bureau of labor statistics of the U. S. department of labor.

The food purchased by this sum, supposed to be sufficient for a family of four, would include 1,540 pounds of bread, 440 pounds of meat, 44 pounds of bacon, 44 pounds of butter, 240 eggs, 66 gallons of milk, 44 pounds of cheese, 500 pounds of potatoes, 66 pounds of corn, 240 pounds of apples.

The figures given for the family budget also include oil, petroleum, and wood alcohol for the family use.

"BABY DOLL" By PERCIVAL MARSH.

When Horace Barn announced to his three splinter sisters that he had at last accumulated ten thousand dollars and that it was safe to bank, the soliciting complacency filled their souls that they would never have to starve.

"When one day he entered the house and slipped down on the table a package of legal looking documents, with glowing unctuous remarking, 'There are the title deeds to house and lot, and the deed to the land entitled with delight, for they knew that a permanent roof was assured.'

"Going to the city to buy an automobile," he announced somewhat later. "We're going to take all the good out of life we can get." About a week later there came a telegram from Horace.

"They were kindly of heart, though being no good notions in some respects. Horace had been a good brother and they hoped he had made a suitable choice of a helpmate."

"She is a baby doll," and that settled conviction seemed unanimous. "The elder sister, Netta, said later, 'Netta is no gadder. She loves him'."

PEACE DELEGATES DECLARE LEAGUE IS A NECESSITY All Agree It is Most Important Feature of Conference—Disagreement is Only Over Details to be Smoothed Out

By WILLIAM PHILLIP SIMS PARIS, Jan. 13.—The league of nations can now be considered as an established fact. Premier Clemenceau, Premier Lloyd George and Premier Orlando are pledged to support President Wilson's basis in this regard.

Peace delegates are agreed that the league is an absolute necessity, if future wars are to be prevented and that it must be given preference over all other business of the peace conference.

French Consider Industry Wilson's plan as a whole is unsatisfactory to the French because they believe it does not provide sufficient economic penalties for Germany.

Senator Bourgeois, who will head the French section of the in-called commission to draw up plans for the league—if the conference appoints such a body—made plain in a recent executive interview with the United Press at this point.

Would Admit Neutral Clemenceau is understood to favor a league composed of the victorious nations. Opposition to this plan centers on the belief that such a league would force an alliance of the vanquished powers and that it would result in another war.
