JOBS FOR SOLDIERS

There are returned soldiers walking the streets of Twin Falls looking for work. Some have succeeded in obtaining work, others are apparently unable to secure employment of any kind.

All through the United States there has been talk for many months past on the willingness of the public generally to help the returned fighting men secure jobs upon their return.

As the months go on with the epidemic called 'influenza' continuing to scourge the land from east to west and north to south, the eyes and ears of a long suffering people have been vainly turned to the medical profession.

LOCAL MEN OFFER EXPRESSIONS ON SUBJECT OF COUNTY MEMORIAL

Proposition as to Form of Movement for Public Honor of Men Who Offered Themselves for War Service Brings Out Divergent Views—All Agree That Action of Some Sort Should be Taken in the Matter

E. L. MacVicar—Personally I favor the Y. M. C. A. but I want anything that will please the majority of the people.

W. F. Poirer, Palace Cafe—"I am in favor of a community house with a natatorium and gymnasium not connected with the Y. M. C. A."

A. J. Feevey, Twin Falls Title & Abstract—"I am heartily in favor of a Y. M. C. A. The boys need some place to gather. There is a strong organization behind it. It is just what the town needs."

A. B. Cowell, Majestic Pharmacy—"I really haven't thought about the matter, but some kind of a memorial should be built."

Samt Hart, Hart's Dry Goods—"I am in favor of anything for the good of the community."

G. C. Wiley, Skoels-Wiley Drug Company—"I am in favor of a community house like the Y. M. C. A. under a different name such as Soldiers and Sailors' club with gymnasium, natatorium and club rooms."

T. F. Murray, City Pharmacy—"I am in favor of a community house on the plan of the Y. M. C. A., but not connected with it. We can make more liberal rules with such an institution."

H. E. Barber, Model Store—"I think it a very proper thing. With a Y. M. C. A. here, members can get rooms during conventions, and it will help the hotel shortage here."

L. E. Sluday, Saladay Hardware Company—"I am not in favor of a Y. M. C. A. but a memorial of some kind, an arch, monument, etc., erected to the soldiers and sailors, in the park would be more suitable."

A. H. Corbett, Corbett Furniture Company—"I do not think the town large enough to support an institution like the Y. M. C. A. Experiences with institutions in other places of like size show a tendency to go down after a while and become unquainted."

Postmaster M. A. Stronk—"It is absolutely all right. I can see no reason for not building a Y. M. C. A. as a memorial."

C. W. Hart, Idaho Dept. Store—"Y. M. C. A. would be all right if plan could be worked out for its maintenance."

Paul Johnston, O. R. Barber Shop—"I am not in favor of the Y. M. C. A. I think a part of one of our highways with a small monument, or natatorium more appropriate."

THE WICKED FLU FROM WHICH NONE CAN FLEE

As the months go on with the epidemic called 'influenza' continuing to scourge the land from east to west and north to south, the eyes and ears of a long suffering people have been vainly turned to the medical profession.

At first, numerous physicians came gliding forward with a specified treatment, which if 'taken in time' was a certain cure; while others formulated a serum, injections of which would surely forestall and hold off either contagion or infection.

In some places, the reopening of the schools and theaters seemed to be attended by an increase of the disease; but in most cases this was not necessarily noticeable—such apparently being the case in Twin Falls, although there seems some difference of opinion in this regard.

As to the character of the disease and its cure and safe treatment, there is much less certainty than there was months ago. In fact, the best and latest concerted consensus of medical opinion comes mighty near a plea in avoidance.

As a precautionary measure, it is suggested that a person who has suffered from influenza cease to be capable of transmitting the disease to others.

FACE SESSION, FORMALLY OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Delegates Representing 26 Nations Gather for Discussion of Momentous Problems in History of the World

OPENING ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT POINCARÉ

First Sitting Is Devoted Largely to Organization and Arrangements - Newspaper Correspondents Present

PARIS, Jan. 18.—The peace conference convened for its first official session at 3 p. m. today.

Delegates representing 26 nations met in the famous "Clock Hall" of the Quai d'Orsay.

Many Questions to Settle

Formulations of a definite policy toward Russia, involving possible recognition of the Russian soviet government, industries, to be collected from Germany, final disposition of the German fleet, future of the German colonies, regulation of national boundaries, the demand of Greece for Constantinople, the disposition of the Holy Land, Ireland's demand for home rule under the principle of self-determination, adjustment of national boundaries along racial lines, freedom of the sea and reduction of armaments were among the important questions concerning the peace makers as they assembled.

League Comes First

DECLARE WAR ON ALFALEA WEEVIL

State Farm Bureau and Seed Growers Association Ask for Legislative Appropriation

The text of a committee recommendation adopted as a resolution by the State Farm Bureau and Seed Growers' association, asking for state appropriation for stamping out the alfalfa weevil in Idaho, is as follows:

Whereas, the alfalfa weevil which was first discovered in a small field of alfalfa near Salt Lake City, Utah, during the year of 1904 had during the following ten years spread from this field over a territory 200 miles in diameter, and

Whereas, the alfalfa weevil in the year of 1918, as stated in Farmers' Bulletin number 741, involved a loss of one-half the annual yield of alfalfa in the state of Utah, amounting to $3,000,000 annually, and

Whereas, alfalfa is the most valuable farm crop in the state of Idaho, having an approximate value of $15,000,000 in the year of 1917, which amount was approximately three-fourths of the total value of the eight next most valuable farm crops for the same year in the state of Idaho, and

Whereas, the livestock industry of the state of Idaho is almost entirely dependent upon alfalfa hay and alfalfa products in their various forms, and

Whereas, the establishment of the alfalfa weevil in the state of Idaho will jeopardize heavily every branch of agriculture and nearly every farm crop directly or indirectly, on account of the quantities of alfalfa which are, and which may be imposed by neighboring states and outside markets, affecting products exported from districts infested by the alfalfa weevil, and

Whereas, it seems entirely within the power of the state of Idaho to free five years from the present date the alfalfa weevil will become generally distributed throughout the whole alfalfa-growing area of southern Idaho, and

Be It Resolved, that the Idaho State Seed Show and the Idaho State Farm Bureau, in session this seventeenth day of January, of the year of 1919, do hereby request the legislature to appropriate the sum of $25,000 for the purpose of stamping out the alfalfa weevil from the state of Idaho, and

LETTERS SHOWN IN PROPAGANDA INVESTIGATION

Says Wilson Seemed Confident of the Hypenated Vote, Although Both Parties Were Anxious to Gain It

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Letters alleged to have been written by J. J. Dickinson, United States Vice Consul, were read into the record last evening when the Overman committee probing German propaganda resumed its sessions.

The letters were signed by Wingate. Dickinson admitted that he used that name in much of his correspondence with the Overman committee. The letters dealt with the political situation in the summer of 1918, and referred frequently to our foreign affairs.

Party Support Short

Another letter dated June 21 read: "Both sides want the hypena vote and both sides will make desperate efforts to get the vote. What attempt should be made strategically to harness this great nation up to England. I know from personal observation and research that England is dying."

Discusses Mexican Situation

Another letter dated June 23 sent to Wilson read: "I further evidence of my conviction of a shrewdly devised scheme laid in the propaganda started by the Wilson forces to place the blame for the existing advancing situation in Mexico upon Germany."

LABORITES WILL HOLD MEETING IN SWITZERLAND

Program is All Arranged for a Conference of Allied Representatives of Labor in the Near Future

By Lowell Mellett

PARIS, Jan. 18.—(delayed)—The war between democracy and terrorism will be largely decided at the International labor and social congress in Bern this month, declared Arthur Henderson, British labor leader, in an interview today.

Henderson explained this was the reason the program had tacitly approved the proposal of British labor that German and Russian delegates be admitted to the congress.

Program Now Ready

French and British labor representatives were engaged in final conferences with the associated peace delegates from the various countries for communicating the recommendations of the Bern congress to the peace conference.
