

AMERICAN PLAN INCLUDES MANY LABOR PROBLEMS

Wilson's League Program Is Found Very Acceptable to the Allies and Present Question Is That of Labor

By ROBERT J. BENDER
PARIS, Jan. 20.—With the American plan for the league of nations completed, President Wilson was rounding out his program for international labor legislation today.

The president's position is said to be that no peace is possible until the threat of economic competition which might destroy the advances of labor is ended. It was expected that he would make some public declaration of his views in this regard at the two speeches he was to make today. The addresses were to be delivered at a luncheon tendered him by the French senate and upon the occasion of his attending a session of the chamber of deputies.

Would Establish Many Reforms

The American program for labor legislation, it is understood, provides for incorporation of several principles in the peace treaty, including the international child labor law, protection for women workers, regulation of working conditions and an agreement on the hours of labor to constitute a universal work day. In his speeches in Italy, the president emphasized the importance of the labor question in the world opinion and made plain that he would be fully recognized in the peace negotiations.

The league of nations plan of the American delegation is based on careful study of its own and allied ideas.

League Program

Allied authorities familiar with this plan say it is the best yet promulgated. It embodies many of the features of the "General Smuts" program and includes many of the details of the British plan. The American plan, it is understood, provides that the present associated powers shall constitute the nucleus of the league and that every free nation shall have the right of membership. There is a provision for arbitration, with compulsory measures which would prevent the outbreak of a world war, and the league would afford every possible aid to both nations, the applicant feeling that peace would be useless with half of Europe aflame with the spirit of jealousy and revenge. Premier Lloyd George is said to be unreservedly in agreement with this principle.

After formation of the league there would be a meeting of special delegates to formulate a new international code. In view of the attitude of the allies it may be stated that the president feels the outlook is favorable for prompt consummation of the league.

Kaiser's Money Saved Holland from Invasion

Austrian Emperor and Kaiser Had Funds in Dutch Banks Transferred from London

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 20.—Holland was not invaded like Belgium because it had been made a depository for private funds of both the Kaiser and the Austrian emperor, the news has been revealed today.

The newspaper said that $5,000,000 of Wilhelm's and $25,000,000 of Franz Joseph's funds were transferred from London to Dutch banks in July, 1914, at the request of the Kaiser. The transfer was made by Prince Adolph of Schaumburg-Lippe, the Kaiser's late brother-in-law, who returned from London on July 17, 1914, in time for the Kaiser to prepare to attack France and Belgium.

RECLAMATION CONFERENCES FOCAL POINT

Prospect for Federal Development of Idaho Irrigation Projects Holds Deep Interest Throughout State

BOISE, Jan. 27.—Deep interest is being expressed here over a series of conferences being held between Secretary of the Interior Lane and the senators from Idaho at the national capital.

Three great irrigation projects which will need government aid are in the making. They are the Sunnyside project between Mountain Home and Nampan; the Dubois project along west of Dubois on the Sweet Sage flats; and the Brunson project between Twin Falls and Brunson. The latter is the largest and would reclaim more than half a million acres. In addition there is the Black Canyon project in the southwest part of Idaho.

Irrigation experts here agree that each proposition is entirely feasible and that water enough can be impounded to take care of these improvements and vastly increase the material wealth of the state.

IDAHO TO SPEND MUCH ON ROADS

Five Millions from Federal, State and County Treasuries Go Into Highways

BOISE—More than $4,650,000 will be spent for road improvement in Idaho during the next two years, if a program outlined by the state highway department calling for the raising of $1,850,000 as the state's share under a 3 mill levy is adopted by the legislature.

In addition to the state's share of $1,850,000, as recommended, $500,000 will be available from the federal government as post and forest road aid, and more than $2,000,000 is to be raised by counties.

State apportionments of the sum which the highway department proposes to raise by direct tax would be given on the various highways as follows:

North and south, $553,000; Idaho Pacific, $342,000; Yellowstone park, $71,000; Lewis and Clark, $159,000; Panhandle, $62,000; North Pacific, $45,000; Sawtooth park, $122,000; Idaho central, $5,000; Boise-Arrowrock, $40,000; Cassia, $7,000; Blaine-Shoshone, $35,000; Malad valley, $35,000; Idaho, $44,000; Idaho-Oregon, $27,000.

To this total of $1,614,000 the proposed tax would add $336,000 for additional expense.

Y. W. C. A. CAFETERIA IN PORTO RICO

Porto Rico has a cafeteria. It is the first one established on the island, and when it was opened in the Y. W. C. A. Hostess House at Camp Las Casas the natives crowded around, much amused at the innovation. They jostled upon being American dishes.

The house became very well known in a short time, and a group of women from San Juan volunteered to go out every week to mend socks and sew on buttons for the soldiers.

LEGISLATURE IS ON RECORD FOR ROAD BUILDING

Passage of Joint Memorial to Congress Identifies State for Program of Important Improvement Expenditures

BOISE, Jan. 27.—With the passage by both the house and senate of a joint memorial to congress by Representative McDonald of the Idaho legislature, the law making body of the state goes on record on one of the most important road measures ever before congress.

The federal bodies have before them the bank head and other bills which make a huge difference in the federal appropriations to Idaho for coast road building.

As is generally known the government has appropriated $600,000,000 to be available by July 1, 1924. Of this amount $75,000,000 is available by July 1 of this year. Idaho's share of this amount is $908,000 which must be used before July 1, 1922. The same amount is available next year and even more than this for the years following. According to the provisions of the federal aid act, as well as other, the state must appropriate and spend an equal amount with the federal government each year.

A difficulty hard to surmount is presented in this phase of the matter for in the sparsely settled states the burden of taxation would fall too heavily on a few to take complete advantage of the federal aid. It is pointed out that the state highway engineer in 1910 there were but four persons per square mile in Idaho. The memorial by Representative McDonald asks that the government's share be increased to the extent that but 26 per cent would be provided by local funds. This amounts to $100,000 per year for Idaho as against $908,000 annually which the law at present proposes.

It is to meet this problem of sparsely settled states that the Bankhead bill was submitted to congress and endorsement by the intermountain states will do much towards securing its passage it is believed here.

NEWSPAPER PHOTOGRAPH CAUSES MAN'S ARREST

DENVER, Jan. 20.—A newspaper photograph of Sergeant Walter B. Reel, illustrating the story of his war record, proved his undoing. Wearing three wound stripes on his sleeve, he is in jail here today facing the possibility of returning to Nebraska state penitentiary and finishing a sentence for murder.

Since his escape ten years ago, Reel has lived "straight," enlisting in the Canadian overseas force to atone for his past. ## SERVICE FAILS TO SECURE JOBS TO FIGHTING MEN

Government Agency in Idaho Falls Short of Fulfilling Plan Announced Through no Fault of Representative

LACK OF PLACES TO BE FILLED BIG HINDRANCE

As Against 29 Applications 12 Openings Are Offered With No Takers at Local Station in One Day

The United States employment service in this district is not measuring up to the capability in respect to the furnishing of employment to returning soldiers and sailors that the administration of the national organization announced some months ago was ready and able to discharge, and the fault does not lie with the district administration.

Why System Falls Flat

There are two principal reasons why the results are unsatisfactory. In the first place there are not enough jobs, and in the second place, returning service men are not sufficiently familiar with the service, or lack confidence in it, and do not present themselves in any great number to its representatives to avail themselves of the limited opportunities it can and does offer.

Offers Limited Choice

G. S. McGraw, district examiner for the United States employment service at his office here Saturday, had just 12 jobs to be filled, in the filling of which, according to instructions issued by the commissioner of the service, returned soldiers and sailors and those who had engaged in war work were to be given the preference.

Ten of those jobs were for teamsters and laborers to be employed under the reclamation service on the King Hill project. He had received instructions earlier in the week to send from the district 10 men daily up until Thursday next to fill these jobs. In the whole district on Friday there were only six men sent to take employment on the King Hill work, and on Saturday there were no applicants for these positions either in the Twin Falls, Pocatello or Caldwell. A bulletin posted by the examiner here attracted the inquiries of a number of service men, and it is regarded as likely that a number of them will leave this week to become teamsters and laborers on the King Hill work.

Must Pay Own Way

The requirements of men entering the employment on King Hill are that they shall pay their own transportation and furnish their own bed roll. He is to remain for three days at his own expense in a detention camp instituted as a precaution against the spread of influenza among the employes. His wages are to be $4.18 for a day of nine hours.

The other jobs open Saturday at the employment service station here were for a tinmith and for a plumber.

Applications Incomplete

On that day Examiner McGraw received and filed 29 applications for employment taken at several camps by representatives of the employment service from men in this district who were about to be discharged from the service and return home. Many of these applications were incompletely filled out, in some instances only the name of the man and of the town where he resided being given.

"Such records," Examiner McGraw stated, "are of little or no use to the employment service representatives at this end of the line. It is necessary, if we are to find jobs for the returning soldier, to know exactly where we can reach him, what he is especially qualified to do, and where possible, the name of his employer at the time he entered the service."

Makes Own Records

Examiner McGraw stated that of his own initiative, he had created these records in respect to drafted men in the counties of Twin Falls, Cassia and Lincoln. He has endeavored to secure them from the other counties within his district but has not succeeded up to the present time. When an application for work is received from a service man from one of these three counties, the examiner is able, by referring to his records, to determine the class of job for which the applicant is probably fitted, and probably also to learn where to find him, if the applicant is a drafted man. There are no records of this character available either for the men serving in the national guard units or those who enlisted as volunteers.

Local Aid Discouraged

With the purpose of attempting to assist in the securing of employment for service men a number of local men including C. D. Thomas and W. E. Friebe, of the county council of defense, soon after the signing of the Armistice, undertook the formation of a committee to seek and secure employment for returning soldiers and sailors of Twin Falls county. They enlisted in this undertaking the services of W. A. Minnick, who as city clerk is in charge of the municipal employment bureau,

Sensational Disclosures Promised in Connection With Investigation — Congressional Action Believed Assured

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—"Upon diplomacy" in the government here as well as the peace conference was demanded by senators at the packers' hearing here today.

Members of the senate committee believed the situation called for action. Kenyon, Harris and Green are especially anxious that effective legislation be put through at this session.

"Regulation by the food administration did not amount to anything so far as regulating packers' profits is concerned," Stuart Chase, federal trade commission investigator said at the hearing.

Distribution of water under the Twin Falls canal system during the year past and work undertaken and completed for the improvement of the system were the topics treated in detail by General Manager J. C. Whoolan in his report read to the stockholders of the company at their annual meeting here on Tuesday last.

Water diverted at Milner dam, to canal system, above all farm headings, and below waste gates for 202,000 acres:
April 118,000 acre ft.
May 294,000 acre ft.
June 211,000 acre ft.
July 200,500 acre ft.
August 200,500 acre ft.
September 171,400 acre ft.

Total 1,119,960 acre ft.
Estimating that 15 per cent of the water diverted at Milner dam during April, May and September was passed through the coulees and deep channels direct to the river, while awaiting the demand by the farmers, leaves the total for distribution at 961,060 acre ft., 4.71 acre ft. per acre.

Estimating the transmission loss at 28 per cent, the system delivered to the farm-headings, or measuring boxes 685,452 acre ft., 3.39 acre ft. per acre, or 40.68 acre inches per acre.
Estimating a loss of 10 per cent from the measuring box to the farm units, the system delivered to the farms 616,906 acre ft., 3.05 acre ft. per acre, or 36.0 acre inches per acre.

Of the 1,119,960 acre ft. diverted from the Snake river to this system there were 1,046,914 acre ft. of natural waters and 74,046 acre ft. of stored water from Jackson Lake reservoir, of 517 acre ft. per acre of natural waters, and 37 acre ft. per acre of stored waters.

Storing 12 per cent loss on the stored water for transmission in Snake River from the reservoir to the Milner dam, it was necessary to discharge 84,816 acre ft. of stored water from Jackson Lake reservoir for use of Twin Falls south side project.
The Jackson Lake reservoir is supposed to impound for this project 96,000 acre ft. per year; accordingly, the project has used 88 1/3 per cent of its stored waters, leaving 11 2/3 per cent or 11,200 acre ft. unused in the reservoir.

ft. flow, at the end of this line, so that the water can reach the desired service, 100 per cent of increased capacity is required.
In order to discover the weak places in this line, its behavior has been noted during the summer; it was found that a narrow channel in the rock cut at the outlet of the Cottonwood flume, caused their capacity at Rock Creek crossing, a high center of narrow section of channel—numerous small flume crossings and wagon bridges with supporting beams in the stream channel were the cause of congestion. For a distance of four miles below the forks, a series of mud bars or berms had been formed on the alternate banks of this circuitous district. These have been materially corrected during the fall work that they should carry the added amount of water.

Structures
The wooden check and diversion dams in Deep Creek and many of the large coulees are very narrow, and are fitted with partition posts that form serious obstruction to floating ice and other debris; a few of these have failed by decay, and are being replaced by concrete with a broad sill or cresting, free from posts or partitions, in the hope that as the old are finally replaced with new, much trouble from flooding on these streams will be overcome.

Many small wooden drops have been installed in laterals and are laid of high grades and have been cutting the soil to such extent as to seriously menace adjoining properties. It is our belief that no more wooden structures should be installed on this system; some fifteen or twenty of these small drops are being built this winter, in concrete, and by their use, the concrete headers for keeping the water and sand hot during filling of the forms, the concrete can be kept from freezing.

Cleaning of Laterals
The cleaning of mud and moss from canals and laterals has always been a serious problem, and its solution must be found in a method that will not interfere with the continued service during the irrigation season. A farm dismolded so as to permit its operation under water proved successful in removing the mud bars and berms in the high line, before the water was turned out, and we hope to make general use of this implement on this system, in cleaning the laterals in the summer, without interruption to the service.

Soilage
It should be very gratifying to the investors in the Twin Falls district, that after thirteen years of operation, the amount of seeped and water-logged lands have reached only one per cent of the lands under irrigation. While the area has been small, however, the problem of drainage has been beset by obstacles that are unusual in farm drainage but very much to the credit of our predecessors in this work; there are many of the seeped areas which are now returned to their former productivity.

Improvement on High Line
Some two years ago, the high line at the west end of the course was materially improved by widening and deepening the channel, and it has been advised that an expenditure of some $100,000 be made on the upper course of this line with a view of increasing the capacity to 125 per cent.
The amount of water required at the end of the high line is 263 sec. ft. flow; 125 per cent of this would require 329 sec. ft. flow. On July 20, during the current season, we discharged 259 sec. ft. flow, at the end of this line, so that the water can reach the desired service, 100 per cent of increased capacity is required.

BUHL LAUNCHES A NEW FIGHT TO DIVIDE COUNTY

Continued Effort on Part of the West End to Secure Creation of Buhl County Voted Unanimously, Says Herald

That Buhl has again taken up the fight to secure the division of Twin Falls county and the creation of Buhl county, is the word brought here during the week by visitors from the west end, and set out in detail in the following from the Buhl Herald.

A county division meeting was held in the Rugg & Schmidt hall on Wednesday evening, called for the purpose of determining if the effort would be continued by the west end to secure Buhl county, this year.
Vote is Unanimous

A rising vote was taken on the proposition, and every person there voted in favor of it. The sentiment expressed by the meeting was that Buhl county is created. Not a single vote was registered against it, and every one voted.
There were sixty-four enthusiastic farmers and business men at the meeting. The plan for carrying on the county division fight will be left to the executive committee consisting of E. R. Sherman, E. L. Van Ripper, N. O. Thompson, D. C. Weaver, Dr. J. H. Murphy, Ernest Molander, Fred Nihart, Ed. Kinyon, Jess Eastman and William Ringers. The executive committee contained five members, but was increased to ten on Tuesday evening. Five of them are farmers.

Sentiment Enthusiastic
No proposition has ever been proposed where the sentiment was so unanimous and so enthusiastic for county division. It was shown at the meeting that the west end is paying its share of the county taxes, which this year was large, while the west end gets no benefit from these taxes. The west end is building its own roads, making its own schools, and paying its automobile tax into the Twin Falls treasury and received in return for the police protection.

Figures were produced from the state auditor's report, which showed that in the Idaho counties have been created by the legislature, the amount of tax was decreased in every instance from 20 per cent to 200 per cent. The counties mentioned were Bonneville, Jefferson, Madison, Lincoln, Franklin and Power.

INFLUENZA IS ABATING THROUGH CASSIA COUNTY

Six Deaths Reported for Week as Against 15 Weeks Preceding—Quarantine Grows Trouble

BURLEY—The influenza is again abating throughout Cassia county, says the Burley Bulletin. Only six deaths are reported this week as against fifty-five in the weeks preceding. The number of cases has fallen off from fifty per day to less than ten.
The city of Burley is practically free from the disease at this time, as are a number of other communities, where it seems to have run its course. The question of opening up the schools in such communities is a serious one, and is being given consideration by the officials.

The matter of the quarantine now in effect in the county was discussed at the meeting of the board of health at Albion on Tuesday of this week, but no agreement as to changes could be reached at the time. The board will hold another meeting at Dr. Story's office in this city on Thursday, January 25, to further consider the matter. Meanwhile a mass meeting of the people of Burley will be held in order that the people here may come to an understanding as to what they desire the board of health to do.

EPIDEMIC SITUATION BETTER IN MINIDOKA

Fewer Cases Than in Previous Week, But Disease Continued Aggravated Form With Pneumonia

BURPERT—Physicians report the influenza is slowly abating in the county, about half as many new cases having developed this week as the week previous, says the Minidoka County News. However, the disease seems to be in a worse form, more cases of pneumonia resulting, and the death toll for the week has been the largest for a similar period, in the history of the county.

The hospital in the high school building is still added to its capacity, and 20 patients are being taken care of now. Local physicians believe that the situation is now under control, and the disease will be stamped out in a short time.

COMMERCIAL CLUB AT BUHL ELECTS OFFICERS

Discontinue Salaried Secretary Plan—Collect Dues for Celebration or Brunseau Opening
BUHL—At the annual meeting of the Buhl commercial club in the club rooms last Friday evening, says the Buhl Herald, officers were elected for the ensuing year, consisting of Jess O. Eastman, president; Harry Wilson, vice-president; and J. M. Shank, secretary. The members of the board of directors outside of the president and secretary are Dr. H. C. Coleman, L. J. Johnson and C. D. Boring.

It was decided at the meeting that the club would discontinue the services of a salaried secretary for the next few months, the correspondence and any other matters will be looked after by the officers of the club. Every member of the club is urged to keep up his dues, and others are invited to join.

It was pointed out that any money accumulated in the treasury in the meantime would be useful in putting on a celebration when all the boys get back from France, and to be used in case the Brunseau tract opens up.
Jake Shank has rented the Commercial club rooms, and as secretary, will take care of the club's correspondence. The telephone and the outer club room will be for the use of the members of the club. This arrangement will only be continued until the executive board of the club decide to employ a secretary and open the club rooms again.

A vote of thanks was extended to Len Coombs, who did not take a salary for his services for the months of September, October, November and December.

GOVERNMENT BUILDS HOMES

BURLEY—The United States reclamation service has started the erection of six new modern homes to be rented to employees of the reclamation service here, says the Burley Bulletin. The government recently purchased 12 lots in the east part of the city, on which the six homes are being erected. There will be three 3 room houses and three 4 room houses built all modern and up-to-date. It has been a serious matter for the government to overcome the obstacle. The homes will be rented to the employees at a rate that will pay the government ten per cent interest on the investment and that rate will make the rent moderate and will be of benefit to the employer as well as employee. This is one of the best moves that has been made in Burley for some time as it is next to impossible to rent a suitable home.

The petition asks that the state legislature amend the present game laws, so that an open season will be allowed on Chinese pheasants from October 15 to November 15, with a limit of two birds a day.
The petition also asks for an open season on quail and on sage hens. It also asks that a county game commission be created instead of a state game warden as at present.

- 2—Prompt meeting of the unemployment problem, followed by a scientific handling of the question of employment as a permanent government policy.
- 3—Severance of America's intimate relations with European affairs, as such, at the earliest possible moment.
- 4—Inauguration, as speedily as necessary, of care in legislation will permit of domestic policies designed to increase democracy in the United States.

Covers Many Questions
These four items cover a multitude of closely related questions, progressives say.

On the first point, the progressive idea is that the men who went overseas to give their lives, if need be, in defense of liberty, should receive maximum consideration from the nation.

On point two, Senator Kenyon has already made a stand by proposing an unemployment conference of governors to devise emergency action.

On point three, the progressive idea is that the men who went overseas to give their lives, if need be, in defense of liberty, should receive maximum consideration from the nation.

AMERICA LAYS ASIDE RIFLE FOR SHOVEL IN ROAD BUILDING

Work of Putting Nation's Highways in Order Is Started in All Parts of Country Since Signing of Armistice—Idaho Among Leading States in Forward Move

By G. A. Kiesel, President Kiesel Motor Car company.

We hear a great deal about the importance of putting the nation's highways in order of building more good roads—improving present highways, etc., to facilitate overland transportation of goods and supplies—tying up industrial centers—in fact connecting every important city, town and municipality in the country with a network of good roads.

If this all talk, or has the country really started this vital work? An investigation to get the facts has resulted in the following and I know it will prove interesting for not only the public but the business man and the automobile and motor truck manufacturers and owners.

The following facts prove that America is awake to the necessity of bettering her highways and byways. The rifle and hand grenade has been set aside for the pick and shovel.

The state of Alabama feels that there is no better way to serve the country than returning soldiers and her own best interests, than the earliest possible inauguration of road building on as extensive scale as country, state and federal resources permit.

Idaho Starts on Program
The state of Idaho has started its road-building program. On November 22, the Idaho state highway commission let contracts for the building of the biggest, and what is to be the most important construction work in northern Idaho, aggregating a cost of $24,000; brick and culvert work aggregating $19,000.

Announcement is made that additional federal aid money had been secured and that work will proceed through the winter months.

Shade for Louisiana Roads
The state of Louisiana has started road building of a total of 825 miles. The money is already in sight.

The cancellation of war-time priority orders, active work has been resumed in most every county.

That the state of Missouri realizes the importance of more good roads is shown by the fact that they have started more road projects for construction than the appropriations and appropriations will pay for.

The state of Mississippi will at once begin the construction of $4,000,000 of roads—$1,000,000 being immediately available and the remainder forthcoming.

Post Roads in Ohio
Highway construction interests in the state of Ohio point out the fact that parcel post progress, by means of motor trucks—will be dependent upon the condition of highway improvements.

Should the state exert itself to the utmost, it will gain a greater share of the highway postal route than if the highway program was allowed to lag.

The estimated cost of improvements probably will be exceeded $1,000,000 and every effort will be made to award as many contracts as is possible in 1919 so that the work may be finished in the same year.

Works With Autoists
To close up the gap in New York state and to bring about the construction of national roads, the New York State Motor Federation, at its convention held in Rochester recently took up the problem of national highway construction and resolved to send a delegation to Washington to work in conjunction with the American Automobile association.

Revival in Tennessee
A remarkable revival of road building activity is now on in full force in the state of Tennessee. It is unprecedented progress in the period of construction of new and better roads and the expansion and improvement of the old roads.

Before the war, contracts were outstanding in this state for $30,000,000 worth of road construction.

Texas to Spend $25,000,000
It is understood that Texas will expend more than $25,000,000 dollars in the building of roads in the next twelve months, according to the chairman of the state highway commission.

Offers Work to 11,000
In the state of West Virginia the fifty-nine counties have available about $18,000,000 for the construction of roads this year.

This amount is said to be only approximately, and covers all road projects in the several counties, bonds voted and issued only partly extended, and state and federal aid. Three-fifths of the amount will be spent for labor. As an average, about 200 laborers will be employed in each of the several counties, or at least 11,000 laborers in all.

The first steps that the county courts in West Virginia are taking, pending their share of the above $18,000,000, which will be available in the state for road-building in 1919, is that of making sure that their location will be where they are needed the most.

Locating New Roads
A. R. Williams, chairman of the state highway commission, sets forth the following procedure which should be taken in locating new roads:

1. The ground, which has a tendency to slip to be avoided if possible.
2. The road, if on slope should be placed where the dip of the strata leads the water from the road whenever conditions will permit.
3. Roads should be placed, when practical, on slopes which are exposed to the sun in the winter, so as to reduce the number of days the roads will be covered with ice.
4. Curvatures should be kept to the lowest degree possible so that the longest obtainable alignment may be had.
5. The roads should be located above high water when conditions will warrant.
6. The grades should be the best that topography will permit.
7. For horse-drawn vehicles, distance should be given to grade.
8. For motor vehicles, alignment and surface may take precedence over the grade, but grade must be considered.
9. Direction of the traffic and the kind of freight produced in the community should be considered.
10. The nature of the future development of the territory should also be noted.
11. The general bearing the improvement will have on the other sections of the state and nation should be studied and applied to the general plan.
12. In short, everything to make the road of the greatest service at the lowest cost should be done so far as possible and practicable.

The road improvement work in states other than those mentioned in the foregoing will be concluded in the next article of this series of special releases.
